

Thirty-Four Injured As Stands Collapse

Seat Section Folds During Football Game

Big Spring Woman Is Among Those Taken To Hospital

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—At least 34 persons were injured, some seriously, when temporary bleachers buckled and collapsed during the Texas A. & M.—Southern Methodist football game here today.

The stand folded in the center and gradually settled, tumbling 1,300 persons out of their seats and piling many of them on top of each other. Some were trapped when their legs were caught beneath the crumpling seats.

Ambulances screamed to the edge of the playing field and many of the injured, some of them on hastily improvised plank stretchers, were loaded in and taken to several different hospitals.

Policemen who abandoned a race with a group of youngsters who had crashed the gate to aid in untangling the mass of humanity and folded seats, said they did not believe any of the injuries would prove fatal, although several persons had back injuries.

Many were bruised when they were tossed from their seats, and others suffered broken legs.

So intent was the crowd on the ball game and on the chase between policemen and gate crashers, that many did not see the collapse. The crowd totaled 27,000. The game was halted temporarily when spectators surged from the scene of the collapse at the south end of the gridiron to the edge of the playing field. The bleachers caved in during the second period of the game.

Miss Lena Harcastle of Garland, who was slightly injured, said the stands seemed to settle and shiver before buckling beneath the weight of the hundreds of overflow spectators for the southwest's grid headlines of the day.

Miss Edith Goeppinger of Tulsa, Okla., said she "seemed to be floating through space."

"Of course I did not realize what was happening," she said. "At first I was intent on watching the game. I ended up beneath a pile of people."

The seats had been erected to care for the anticipated overflow crowd. Several years ago, there was a similar collapse at the S. M. U. stadium during a game with Texas A. & M. but no one was injured.

Persons treated at hospitals, some of whom were released after receiving first aid, included: Mrs. J. T. Corcoran, Big Spring; Mrs. Louie Lee Barnes, Rotan, Abrasions; Billie Cummings, El Paso, back sprain; Patsy Jordan and J. A. Jordan, Carlsbad, N. M. Mrs. Corcoran was reported to have suffered a leg fracture.

She was at Baylor hospital.

Mrs. J. Clayton, Amarillo, who suffered internal injuries, was removed to the Florence Nightingale maternity section of Baylor hospital.

Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of S.M.U., issued a statement on the accident, saying:

"The fall of some sections of the south end zone seats during the S.M.U.-A.M.M. game is a matter of deepest regret to everyone connected with Southern Methodist University.

"An investigation is already begun to determine the cause of the accident.

"All that can be said at the moment is that the athletic officials had these stands carefully inspected and approved three times by insurance company representatives, as well as by members of their own staff.

"In addition, 400 more seats were provided than sold so that there would not be overcrowding."

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

Seems kind of odd, doesn't it, that we should be observing Armistice Day while the world is engulfed in war? But we seldom see real religious until adversity strikes us in the face. Maybe we don't really appreciate peace until we see war, stark and real.

The election is over. Howard County can be thankful for the record vote that shattered even the wildest predictions. It's a wholesome sign for our way of things when 4,876 persons will come out and cast ballots.

On this election subject, Dorothy Thompson quoted Alf Landon in THE WEEK, Page 4, Column 4

THANKSGIVING PROCLAIMED FOR NOV. 21 BY PRES. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt today proclaimed Thursday, November 21 as Thanksgiving Day and declared that in these times of calamity and sorrow elsewhere in the world "may we give thanks for our preservation."

It was the second time the chief executive had set Thanksgiving a week earlier than the customary last Thursday in November, which this year falls on November 28. In 1939 he said it was done to benefit merchants by providing a longer interval between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Two-thirds of the states have signified they will observe the November 21 date this year. Governors of 16 states have announced adherence to the traditional date—November 28: Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Kansas, Iowa, Massachusetts, Maine, Nevada, Oklahoma, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee and Vermont.

In his proclamation the president included a prayer for the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer, the same he read to the nation election eve from his home in Hyde Park.

It was assumed that the date would be observed generally in Texas, since Governor O'Daniel previously said that he would make his Thanksgiving proclamation coincide with that of the president. Big Spring already has taken steps to consider Nov. 21 as the holiday date.

Move To Get Bond Proposal To People

Commission Asked To Get Estimates On Road Costs

Action looking toward getting complete facts surrounding a unique bond issue proposal before the people with complete facts was taken at an open road meeting Friday in the district court room.

The meeting was attended by a small crowd, fully half of the number of county persons who did not participate in voting on a motion made by Dr. P. W. Malone and seconded by R. L. Cook to effect the group present favored a means whereby bonds could be issued by the county and assumed by the state highway department if applied to state designated roads.

Crux of the motion, however, was for the commissioners court to get estimates on practical routes from the state highway department so there would be a basis for circulating petitions among the people of the county.

As outlined by Dorsey B. Hurdeman, state representative, who explained provisions of house bill 688, enacted for two years by the last legislature, bonds may be floated by counties, who in turn may make trades with the state highway department to take proceeds from bonds, build roads on state designated routes and the state highway department assume retirement of the bonds out of the diversion tax fund.

Bonds could be used only for the purpose so stated in the call for election, and officials would be thus bound to issue them only in event of a trade with the highway department to assume them as 100

Armistice Day Parade To Be Staged Here

Ex-Servicemen, Bands And Pep Squads To Be In Procession

Adding color to the observance of Armistice Day here Monday will be a parade through the downtown district with San Angelo and Big Spring high school bands and pep squads participating along with local veterans organizations.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of city schools, said that the San Angelo band and pep squad, accompanying the Bobcat team here for a classic clash with the Big Spring Steers, were expected to arrive around 10 a. m.

The parade will form immediately on their arrival at the city hall and will follow a nine-block route downtown.

J. B. Neill, post commander for the American Legion, told Blankenship that the post had not been successful in securing a mechanized unit from Fort Clark at Bracketville, but that the post members, as well as Veterans of Foreign Wars members, would march in the parade. The 40 and 8, with new regalia, will serve as marshals.

Blankenship urged the entire student body of the Big Spring high school to march in the procession. Route for the parade will be up Third to Runnels, north to E. 2nd, west to Main, south to Third, west to Gregg, south to W. 4th, east to Main, and north to center of the block.

With the parade ending in the center of the east side of the courthouse square, a big pep rally will be staged. Concluding this will be a brief ceremony in recognition of Armistice Day with the sounding of taps, followed by a minute of silence by a westward facing crowd.

Tickets for the ball game will be on sale at the stadium box office all Monday morning. The three center sections of the east stands have been reserved, Big Spring students occupying the north end of the stands and the Angelo students the south end. First plans were to leave end sections on the west stands unreserved, but if demands become too heavy, they may be reserved also.

Worst Quake Hits Rumania, Death Toll Feared Big

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 10 (Sunday) (AP)—Rumania was hit by the worst earthquake in its history at 3:30 a. m. today (7:30 p. m. Saturday, C.S.T.).

The quake, which lasted five minutes, sent a 10-story building containing 50 apartments crashing to earth in a mass of rubble in Bucharest.

Houses and buildings throughout the city were damaged and the death toll was expected to be high.

Exact epicenter of the quake was not known here immediately.

Rescue workers assembled under the direction of police and firemen started digging into the ruins of the apartment building—one of Bucharest's tallest structures—for trapped, injured or killed.

Jon Nicescu, a printer who was standing opposite the building when the tremor started, said the building seemed to crack at the first shock.

"For several seconds," he said, "I heard horrible screams and yells above the noise of falling plaster and debris. Then, suddenly, the whole building collapsed upon itself with a roar."

Soviet Foreign Minister To Confer With Nazi Officials

Guard Unit Takes Shape

With early interest giving grounds for optimism, Dr. Tom Clay said Saturday that the campaign to secure enlistments for a home national guard unit would be intensified this week.

Already more than 25 young men have signified that they wished to become a part of such a unit, thus availing themselves of the opportunity to put in their year of military training with a group of men enlisted from this and surrounding counties.

Dr. Clay, a captain in the national guard, announced that a meeting would be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the district courtroom for all who had signified interest in enlisting in the company.

Enlistment blanks were received Saturday and many have expressed a desire to sign them now, said Dr. Clay. He added that he was to have a conference in Abilene during the weekend with Col. Nat Perrine of the 142nd division concerning the local company. Meanwhile, all men between the ages of 18 and 35 who are interested in enlisting with the unit are urged to contact either Dr. Clay or the chamber of commerce for information.

Italy To Dispatch Ciano For Axis Discussions

BERLIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—Soviet Russia's Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov was expected tonight to arrive here next Tuesday upon invitation of the German government "to continue and broaden the constant exchange of opinions" between Germany and Russia.

It was considered certain that Adolf Hitler personally will receive the visiting minister, who never before has traveled outside Russia, and engage him in a broad discussion of the war and its repercussions since Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop visited Moscow in August, 1939, to sign the non-aggression pact between the two countries.

Observers believed these topics were on the agenda:

1. Effect of the triple military alliance recently signed by Germany, Italy and Japan.
2. Germany's position in Rumania where it has Nazi troops "guarding oil wells."
3. Italy's attempted drive into Greece.
4. Status of the Balkans and the Near East—both of which

Germans Bomb Jap Transport

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Bombing by German planes of the 26,032-ton liner Empress of Japan, a British transport, about 300 miles west of Ireland was reported today by a correspondent of Domei, Japanese news agency.

The correspondent told of the attack in a wireless message to his New York office from the Japanese liner Fushimi Maru. (No information was available in London or Ottawa.)

The Fushimi Maru had picked up an SOS from the Empress of Japan which said a direct hit had disabled her engine, the Domei correspondent said. The Japanese ship, carrying several hundred Japanese home from Britain, left Galway, Ireland, Nov. 7 for Japan by way of Bermuda and the Panama Canal.

Domei said the attack occurred in latitude 53.54 north, longitude 14.14 west, approximately the same area where the 42,348-ton Empress of Britain, flagship of the Canadian Pacific's Atlantic fleet, was crippled by German bombers Oct. 26 and sunk two days later by a Nazi submarine with a loss of 45 persons.

The Empress of Japan, former flagship of the Pacific fleet of the Canadian Pacific Steamship company, was built in 1930, cost $7,500,000 and had accommodations for 1,212 passengers.

She was converted into a troopship at Hongkong last April and in July arrived at Manila with 1,640 British women and children who had left Hongkong when the situation there became serious.

Elmer Dunham, East Fourth Baptist pastor, indicated earlier in the week that similar rallies will be held in every community before referendum time.

Centaur Unit Faces Death Or Surrender

Italian Group Totals 15,000 Picked Men; Lines Hold Firm

ATHENS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Greek soldiers fighting stubbornly on home ground have halted the most serious Italian thrust so far offered by the invaders—a move down the western coast—and have hopelessly trapped a famed Italian division of perhaps 15,000 men, it was reported here tonight.

Greeks said the Italian Centaur division, one of the best known units of the fascist forces, was surrounded in the Pindus mountains that its surrender was imminent and that hundreds of the division's men and its commanding general already had been captured.

It was reported the fascists were without food and their supply lines were cut.

Authoritative circles in Athens could give no details of the report that the Greeks have stopped the Italian drive down the west coast from Albania.

However, they said the Greeks actually were on the offensive on the remainder of the mountainous front and were pushing the Italians back at several points.

A high command communique said a local attack on the right wing, supported by artillery fire, was repulsed while 80 prisoners were captured in other local attacks.

The trapped column was made up of two infantry and one artillery regiments, and had howitzers and other guns, portable wireless transmitters, horses and mules and considerable equipment.

The Greeks said the Italians, in attempting to take a road leading southward to the strategic Greek town of Ioannina, had gone so deep into the mountains as to permit a break in their own communications.

Big Italian guns and much war material were said to have been dumped into a ravine to prevent their seizure.

All along the 100-mile front there was action today, and the heaviest fighting yet seen was reported from the Korizia sector, where the Greeks appeared to be slowly pushing back the invaders.

ANNIHILATED?

LONDON, Nov. 10. (Sunday) (AP)—Italy's crack Centaur division of 15,000 men trapped by Greek troops in the Pindus mountains were reported annihilated, a Reuters British news agency dispatch from Athens said today.

A great number of the trapped men were reported to have been drowned in a flooded mountain gorge swollen by heavy rains, while others perished from hunger and cold, the dispatch said.

Heavy Greek forces seeking the destruction of the Italian division scaled 6,000-foot mountain ridges. Women from neighboring villages aided them in hauling their armament up the mountain sides the Athens report said.

Market Bullish As Election Forgotten

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The country's business men this week turned backs on the national elections and eyes forward to the huge arms program, while Wall Street staged a buying drive in securities and key commodities that added billions of dollars to quoted values.

With the bitter political contest out of the way, and the country in a mood in which industrial and bankers joined politicians in a call to national unity, the business community appeared to visualize clearly for the first time, the implications of the tremendous sums of money borrowed which will go into the defense effort in coming months.

The great farm crops, wheat, livestock; the industrial staples, rubber, lead and the like, joined with stocks and bonds in an upsurge late in the week, after a day of hesitation following the election.

Most points of development in their effects on markets, were the secretary's announcement that he would recommend to Congress an increase in the federal debt limit by $15,000,000,000 or more; that he would ask for higher taxes; and that he would again seek to have eliminated the tax exemption feature of future federal, state and municipal bonds.

With the possibility that the present supply of tax-exempt government loans might possibly be the last with that advantage to the investors, banks and industrial concerns leaped ahead to buy them.

The result was a spectacular rise in prices by U. S. loans to the highest levels in the nation's history. Municipal bonds went up with them.

The result was a rush to buy common shares, especially those calculated to feel the full force of the purchasing power inherent in a big borrowing program for arms. On Thursday, and again on Saturday, the shares of many of the country's leading industrial concerns leaped ahead under some of the greatest buying since the European war began.

Armistice Day Event Planned At Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 9 (Sp1)—This city will close Monday in observance of Armistice Day and will further recognize the occasion with a parade, program and luncheon for Gold Star mothers.

Given a prominent part in the day's activities will be registrants with the Dawson county draft board. The parade is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. with veterans of all wars—the Civil, Spanish-American and World War—to march along side many of those registered with the draft board under the selective service act. The American Legion is sponsoring the affair and merchants are cooperating by entering floats. Boy Scouts, the fire department, elementary schools and others will take part.

Depending on the weather, a program will be held either on the courthouse lawn or in the district courtroom after the parade, and here registrants will be honored. Fred Sanders, chairman of the county draft board, will speak as will District Judge Louis B. Reed, chairman of the draft advisory committee of the district. Carl Rountree, Lamesa attorney, will bring the chief talk, speaking on the theme of patriotism.

At noon Gold Star mothers will be honored at a luncheon in the Legion hut. Lamesa is observing the occasion as a complete holiday, and many people are expected to witness the Big Spring-San Angelo game in the afternoon.

Thank God For Peace

Men die. They die of old age and of accidents and of sickness and disease. They die of hunger and privation and cold. Some die in war.

Today, more than ever, we are reminded of the futility of war. That those who died in that other war shall not have lost their lives in vain, let their memory serve as a perpetual warning against ever again subjecting our boys and our nation to the horror that is war. And let their memory make us conscious of Peace.

Thank God for Peace. It is the most treasured heritage we have. Thank God for an America that preserves Peace and that values it as priceless. On this Armistice Day let us all pledge ourselves sincerely and completely to do all we can to keep Peace with ourselves and with our neighbors. Thank God for Peace!

Conservation Unit Finishes Basic Plans

Water conservation and wind erosion constitute the backbone of the program submitted this week by the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard county soil conservation district for approval by the state board.

By singling out water conservation, the board felt that it was not only making a frontal attack on the most pressing production problem in this area, but was also accomplishing the added chore of soil conservation. This latter purpose was further scotched by proposals for curbing wind erosion damage.

On range land, practices suggested included contour furrows, ridges, spreader dams and diversion terraces. Included, too, were recommendations for pasture management, rotation of grazing, selected grazing, distribution of livestock over pastures by water and salt spread, and a good cover of grass at all times.

Plan of work is pending approval of the proposed program, but in event it comes through, it is conceded that planning probably will be on a watershed basis.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Military losses in Europe's war are insignificant compared to World War figures, but civilian casualties may do more to reshape world destiny and restrain the war urge of all national leaders in the future than battles by armies, navies or airplanes.

A day of grim reckoning with public opinion must come with an ever mounting and already appalling toll of non-combatant loss of life and limb being paid as the price of this war. More than 21 million soldiers were killed or maimed in the World War, but its civilian casualties were not great. There are as yet no authentic comparable figures for this war.

The full story of non-combatant dead—men, women and children—may never be written in cold statistics. None now knows what the toll has been in China, Poland, Scandinavia the low countries, or in France.

Only from England has come grim official word. Prime Minister Churchill has kept Britain and a shocked world advised. And his most recent recapitulation emphasized that it is helpless bystanders, not soldiers, who are bearing the brunt of the battle of Britain.

"Fourteen thousand civilians (in England) have been killed and 20,000 wounded," Churchill told parliament November 5. "As against those, 300 soldiers have been killed and 500 wounded."

Those figures are appalling. Yet dire predictions of still greater death tolls for Britain thundered out this weekend. Hitler, in his Munich speech, said the British wanted "to destroy Germany with an air war. I will now show them who will be destroyed."

To Churchill's mind, revelation of British casualties will only stiffen British public determination to carry on and stir American public opinion to increasing indignation.

By contrast, both in Germany and Italy there is no such revelation. That raises the question whether Hitler and Mussolini dare risk German or Italian public reaction. They cannot indefinitely keep the facts from their peoples. Only a quick and conclusive victory over Britain by the axis mates could have averted ultimate realization in both Germany and Italy that he who would live by the sword will die by the sword. A quick victory for the axis powers is no longer in the cards.

If Britain reaches air equality with her foe, as she hopes to do in another six months, the reverse side of the total war medal will be visible, beyond any propagandist concealment, to the German and Italian people.

CAROLINA MAN STILL HAS 40 CENT COTTON

HONEA PATH, S. C., Nov. 9. (AP)—Charlie Banister is still holding some "forty cent cotton." Banister has more than 800 bales stored on his farm, 80 bales of which could have been sold in 1916 when rated at 40 cents a pound. Cotton now is bringing less than 10 cents.

Banister says he came along when "everyone was taught to save" and that he just never has changed.

ENGLISHMAN POINTS TO LETTER AS GEM OF CURRENT WAR

Erie Williams, whose former home is in England, was in town briefly Thursday and had in his possession an article reprinted from the Times, June 18, 1940 concerning a letter from an RAF flyer, who is believed missing or killed, to his mother.

by believes that evil things are sent into the world to try us; they are sent deliberately by our Creator to test our mettle because He knows what is good for us. The Bible is out has been discarded for moral full of cases where the easy way principles.

"I count myself fortunate in that I have seen the whole country and known men of every calling. But with the final test of war, I consider by character fully developed. Thus at my early age my earthly mission is already fulfilled as I am prepared to die with just one regret—that I could not devote myself to making your destinies years more happy by being with you."

Williams, who is a former pilot in the first World War, pointed out that such examples of fortitude and bravery were common among the RAF flyers.

All Right—why DO we buy Automobiles?

THIS is just between you and us and this newspaper, so we can be both frank and honest.

Don't you really buy a car for what it can do?

Doesn't the big kick come from being first off the mark and winging up hills as though they weren't there?

There's only one place in the world you can get such things—from a power plant that's up to its job.

But here's the interesting thing the new Buick proves: With enough power, you can have that flashing action—and economy too!

Our FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion let us use a standard high gear that has the same economical result as so-called gas-saving devices.

They step up mileage as much as 10% or 15%, wing you down the road at 50 on a 30-mile fuel diet.

They even make driving easier, since they give so much reserve power that you'll have less need for shifting gears, whether it's to top a hill or pick up quickly in slow-moving traffic.

We're not saying style and comfort and size don't count. We wouldn't have worked out "mass-stream" styling, BuiCoil Springing and Buick's new roominess if they didn't.

But when you can get these and pace-setter performance too—hadn't you better at least drive a Buick to find out about it?

Frogs Edged Out By Detroit, 3-0

DETROIT, Nov. 9 (AP)—Ted Pavelec, 208-pound tackle, made good one of three field goal attempts to provide the University of Detroit Titans with a 3 to 0 victory in their intersectional clash with Texas Christian University today.

The big lineman's placement boot sailed high and true through the crossbars from the 25-yard line with six minutes of play remaining in the final period after the Titans had bobbled numerous scoring opportunities.

Only a few seconds before, Detroit had driven deep into Texas Christian territory and Pavelec, with fourth down and eight yards to go, unsuccessfully attempted to break the deadlock with a placement from the 23-yard line.

The Titans, dropped from the unbeaten ranks last week by Tulsa university, outplayed the Horned Frogs in all but passing, but had to rely on a break to pull the game out of the fire.

That came midway of the final period when Harry Groth, sub halfback, recovered an enemy fumble on the TCU 20-yard line. Three plays, interspersed by a penalty, set Detroit back to the 25 and Pavelec came out of the line to try his specialty once more.

His kick was low, but officials ruled both teams offside and he tried again. This time he was successful and the Titans went ahead to stay as they kept Texas Christian in its own backyard the rest of the way despite the latter's last-minute aerial offensive.

Before the final period the Titans were in TCU territory a half dozen times, once getting as far as the 16-yard line only to have a fourth down pass fall incomplete in the end zone.

In the third period Al Goodrich, sub fullback, ran 46 yards to TCU's goal line but the Titans were penalized for holding and lost the gain.

The southerners' biggest touchdown threat came in the second period when a drive that began with an intercepted pass carried to the Detroit 18. It ended with a fourth down pass falling incomplete.

Gophers Trip Mich., 7-6, In One Blow

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Michigan's citadel of football crashed in the mud and rain of Memorial Stadium today—leveled by mighty Minnesota on one sudden, stormy 80-yard charge by a great Gopher back, Bruce Smith. Minnesota, racing on toward the Western conference title and a shot at national honors, won the battle 7 to 6 before 63,894 rained and nerve wracked spectators.

And to win, the Gophers had to come from behind—doing just that on Smith's brilliant 80-yard touchdown sprint in the second period after Michigan had taken a six point lead on a touchdown pass by Tom Harmon earlier in the quarter.

The Gophers, seconds after halting a Michigan touchdown bid, had possession on their own 20. On the first play Smith flashed off left tackle, swung toward the side lines and was away for the touchdown which gave Minnesota its sixth straight win of the season and its seventh straight win over Michigan in this famed "Little Brown Jug" series.

Substitute Joe Mernik, whose toe beat Northwestern last Saturday, calmly kicked the point after touchdown—and that was the game.

The Gophers kicked out and seconds later Harmon returned the boot, the ball going out on the Minnesota six yard marker. On the first play Bill Daley fumbled, Bob Westfall recovering for Michigan on the Minnesota 5. After two plays had gained two yards, Harmon jaunted to his left, then fired a perfect pass to Evashevski, who took the touchdown toss in the end-zone corner. And a minute later Harmon, who had successfully made 12 after touchdown points previously this season, missed this time, the ball fading to the left of the uprights.

Pitt Scrapes By Carnegie, 6-0 PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9 (AP)—Highly favored Pitt barely eked out a 6-0 win over Carnegie Tech today in the 27th renewal of their backyard grid rivalry.

The Panthers took advantage of two costly Tartan injuries in the third stanza and marched 72 yards for their counter. Edgar Jones skirted end for eight yards and a touchdown after alternating with big George Kracum in lugging the ball down the field. Mike Sekela's kick for extra point went wide.

Soon after the second period opened the crowded temporary bleachers collapsed, spilling hundreds of fans in the mud behind the south goal line. Play was stopped while fans surged on the field and ambulances drove to the sidelines. Many were carried out.

Mallouf started firing after a kick exchange. From the Aggie 33 he cut loose with an archer that Jim Thomson batted high into the air. Stumbling across the goal line, Reserve back Bobby Brown fell onto the wild ball, snuggled it close for a touchdown.

Missouri Rolls Colorado, 21-6 BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 9 (AP)—"Dr." Paul Christianman, a specialist in the art of throwing a football in the mountain country today and made Colorado foot the bill: Missouri 21, Colorado 6.

The crowd of 10,000 saw a 7-6 ball game until the third period and watched Colorado's Big Seven champions get a touchdown jump on the Big Six team.

Cadet Power Beats Back Pony Thrusts

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Irrepressible John Alec Kimbrough and the marauding Texas Aggies blew through the mud, the rain and Southern Methodist today to nail down their eighteenth successive football triumph, 19-7.

The Methodists, unbeaten themselves until this afternoon's spectacular scrap, didn't give in until the final four minutes when the Cadets wrapped up their ball game with a sorely-needed third touchdown.

Old No. 39, the runaway All-America fullback, and a spindly-legged kid named Bill Conatser, best back the Methodists. First it was Kimbrough, then it was Conatser as the Aggies inched on towards football immortality before 27,000 fans.

Twenty two times this giant from the West Texas cattle country burrowed through the Methodist line, gaining 103 yards and personally accounting for the Aggies' second touchdown with a one-man assault of 30 yards on eight consecutive carries.

Conatser's incredible kicking of a dripping ball, his punt returns and a burst through the Methodist line for the first Cadet touchdown filled in when Kimbrough wasn't on center stage.

Power was the weapon the Aggies used. Only five times did they pass, and only two of them were complete for 22 yards. It was the 171 yards by ground that hurt.

Ray Mallouf, from Oklahoma, was the Methodist manace, throwing 33 passes that netted 166 yards. Out in front, 13-7, but being threatened continuously, the Aggies settled everything on two breathless breaks in the last four minutes.

End Bill Buchanan spilled the ball from Mallouf's hands on the S. M. U., 26. End Jim Sterling recovered on the S. M. U. 14. Kimbrough drove to the Methodist one on three slashes and then fumbled—Mallouf recovering.

On the kickoff, Jim Thomson, the Aggies' great line-backer and blocker, dived at Mallouf's swinging foot, blocked the kick and End Jim Sterling dived six feet through the air on the loose ball in the end zone for a touchdown. Marion Pugh missed the point.

Four minutes after the opening kickoff the Aggies had splashed for a touchdown—a touchdown set up by Conatser's marvelous 61 yard kick that slid out on the Methodist one-yard line.

Preston Johnston wobbled his return kickoff on the Methodist 38. Marion Pugh flipped a 17-yard pass to End Bill Buchanan on the Methodist 16. Jim Thomson made it to the Methodist eight, Kimbrough powered on to the two and Conatser feited over right tackle for the touchdown.

Pugh made good on his tenth consecutive conversion point of the season.

Arkansas Is Floored By The Rice Owls, 14 To 7

Porkers Get Bad Breaks Throughout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 9 (AP)—Up and coming Rice Institute floored the Arkansas Razorbacks today, 14 to 7 in a homecoming game witnessed by 7,000 spectators.

The second Rice touchdown was scored by Halfback Bob Brumley from the Arkansas 20, after Little Gene Keel started a midfield drive with a 13-yard gallop, followed by a 12 yard pass he fired into the arms of Ray Zimmerman, a substitute wingman. A fifteen yard penalty for unnecessary roughness against Arkansas put the ball on the Porker five, where Brumley pounded over in four tries.

Brumley added the Rice extra point from placement.

Arkansas scored on a fumble on the Rice 16. Halfback Harold Hamberg shot a 22-yard pass to End Howard Hickey, who was in the end zone. Strington converted for the extra point from placement.

Arkansas passed 23 times and completed five for 85 yards. Rice tossed ten times and completed one for 12 yards, but the one good aerial merely won the ball game.

Okla. Aggies Swamp Washburn STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 9 (AP) The Oklahoma Aggies beat off the persistent challenge of a game Washburn team on a muddy field today to win 33 to 14 and the Tulsa University for the lead in the Missouri Valley conference football title race.

Trailing 13 to 7 at the half, the Aggies, playing their final game as a Missouri Valley member, fought doggedly but superior team strength on the Oklahoma side helped to tell and the Aggies began to roll in the fashion with which they began the season.

Jimmy Reynolds, the nation's leading ground gainer this week, returned to the game in the third after being held fairly well in check in the first, and sparked the Cowboys to two touchdowns that built the score to 27-7.

Meanwhile other unbeaten teams were having their troubles. At Michigan and Southern Methodist alone were beaten. Penn State was tied and Cornell, Boston College, Lafayette and Notre Dame were none too impressive in victory.

Its passing attack pretty well checked, Cornell had to fight every inch of the way in beating Yale, 21-0. Boston College found the going tough in winning from Boston University by the same score; Notre Dame had to come from behind to whip Navy, 13-7, 63,000; and Lafayette won only by the margin of an extra point from Rutgers, 7-6. Syracuse held Penn State to a 13-13 draw, the second draw these two have played in as many years. Alone of the eastern powers, Georgetown performed up to expectations, running up a 41-0 count on Maryland.

Two New York teams, Fordham and Columbia, turned back Western conference opposition. Fordham won a dull game from Purdue, 13-7, while Columbia nipped Wisconsin, 7-6, on a fourth quarter touchdown run by Joe Siegel after a kick had been blocked. Manhattan won a marathon scoring duel from Marquette, 45-41, but Holy Cross was soundly trounced by Mississippi, 34-7.

Harvard sprang a big upset before 50,000 at Philadelphia, holding Penn to a 10-10 draw. A fourth quarter pass, Dave Allerdic to Larry Naylor, gave Princeton a 14-9 decision over Dartmouth. Army, after its great showing against Notre Dame, was beaten by Brown, 13-9. Pitt just did make the grade against Carnegie Tech, 6-4, while Temple trounced Villanova, 28-0. Northwestern, beaten a week ago by Minnesota, 13-12, moved back into the winning column with a great fourth quarter drive that buried Illinois, 32-14.

Tex. Aggies, Cornell And Gophers Hurdle Tough Opposition In The Push For Gridiron Championships

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Minnesota, Texas A. and M. and Stanford hurdled formidable opposition in their sweep toward sectional football championships today but other unbeaten leaders, particularly in the east, suffered severe losses in prestige.

Minnesota, clashing with Michigan in a struggle of unbeaten, untied giants before a record crowd of 63,894 at Minneapolis, hammered out a 7-6 victory and virtually clinched the Western conference championship. Texas A. and M. met its most dangerous Southwest conference rival, Southern Methodist, and won 19-7. Stanford, intercollegiate football's most amazing outfit this season, overcame Washington's 10-0 lead and tripped the Huskies, 20-10, to gain an apparent stranglehold on the Pacific Coast title and a berth in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Indiana, paced by Hal Hursh, walloped Michigan State, 20-0, but Iowa's Hawkeyes were beaten by Nebraska, heirs-apparent to the Big Six title, 14-0. Oklahoma took a Big Six conference decision from Kansas 14-0. Missouri knocked over Colorado, 20-6. Detroit earned a 3-0 victory over Texas Christian on a fourth quarter field goal by Ted Pavelec. Tulsa stopped Catholic, 12-6.

Jimmy Nelson's kicking paved the way for Alabama's 13-6 victory over Tulane as other Southeastern conference engagements saw Florida upset Georgia, 18-13; Kentucky trounce Georgia Tech, 26-7; Mississippi State turn back Louisiana State, 27-7. Tennessee unbeaten and untied, ran up a 40-0 count on Northwestern of Memphis.

Davidson held Duke to a 13-13 score for one half and then succumbed, 46-13. Wake Forest rallied to whip North Carolina State, 20-14.

Surprises marked the far west program as Oregon trounced U. C. L. A., 18-0 and California overturned Southern California, 20-7. Oregon State ran up a 21-0 count on Washington State.

Utah buried Wyoming, 34-7; Denver walloped Brigham Young, 9-0, and Colorado State nipped Utah State, 13-12, in Big Seven contests.

Irish Down Navy, 13-7 In Hot Finish BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Navy's anti-aircraft guns jammed late in the fourth quarter today and the fighting Irish of Notre Dame continued their victorious march with a 13 to 7 victory in a game which for the final 15 minutes kept 63,000 spectators in a pop-eyed frenzy.

The Middies had come from behind midway in the final quarter to take a 7 to 6 lead on a 30-yard touchdown sprint by Wes Eberst, followed by a successful conversion by Bob Leonard, and the nearly 2,600 blue-costed Midshipmen went wild.

Then it happened, and a dazed, befuddled Navy team still is rubbing incredulous eyes.

Starting on their 22, the Irish opened up their air attack. First it would be Steve Jurwik passing to Saggau, then Saggau passing to Steve Jurwik, then Saggau passing to Bob Hargrave, or Ray Elbi.

They reached the Navy's four, then saw their drive suddenly bog before a Navy team which knew not when to quit. Fourth down found the Irish back on their seven, but the expected pass failed to materialize. Instead Saggau slipped wide around his right end and crossed the goal standing up. Milt Piepl place-kicked the goal which ended all Navy hopes.

N'Western Blasts Illinois, 32-14 EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 9 (AP)—The upset game of the Western conference football season was in the making for 45 thrilling minutes today before Northwestern exploded its dynamite in the final period to come from behind and defeat Illinois, 32 to 14.

Trailing 14-13 at the start of the last period, the Wildcats struck with terrific force on the ground to register three touchdowns, wear down the tiring Illini and turn the game into a rout. The fifth victory of the season for Northwestern was witnessed by 25,000 spectators.

Bruin Line Slashed By Layden

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—On the line-slashing drives of Fullback Pete Layden, who scored both touchdowns the University of Texas Longhorns battled to a 13-0 triumph over a stubborn Baylor University team here today.

The victory was the Steers' second to two defeats in Southwest conference play.

Able assisted by Jack Crain who got off several spine-tingling runs in spite of slippery footing, Layden crashed through the tough Baylor line for Texas' touchdowns in the first and final periods.

A crowd of 15,000 watched Malcolm Kutner, rangy Texas end, block a Baylor punt to spark the Longhorns' first drive. Vernon Martin, sub back, recovered on the Bear 18.

Layden passed to Kutner who was nailed on the Bruin 11, then plowed through for four and finally crashed through right tackle to score standing up. Crain kicked the extra point.

Shortly after the last period started, Layden raced wide for 27 and Noble Doss plunged twice to place the ball on the Bear 42. A Steer penalty cost 15 but Crain worked it back to the Baylor 47.

Then Layden shot a long one sideways to Doss who was downed on the Bear 29. Crain cracked left tackle for 13, a pass lost ground and it was Layden again who ripped over guard to the Bruin 7 and first down.

It took him two tries to plunge over for the marker. Crain's placement for point was blocked by Center Bob Nelson who turned in a great game for the losers.

Texas gained 145 yards, rushing to the Bruin's 115 and 69 by the pass route to their opponents 44. Baylor tried 18 aerials and completed four to 25 and six for the Longhorns. The Bruins returned kicks for an aggregate of 99 yards while the Steers got 77.

End Jack Lummus and Guard Pat Mickler were shining lights in a hard fighting Baylor line while Wingman Jesse Hawthorne and Tackle Stanley Mauldin starred along Longhorn forwards.

JONES LEADS ACC TO WIN OVER BILLIES ABILENE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Thurmon (Tugboat) Jones, high scoring fullback, and his teammate Johnny Owen combined to give Abilene Christian college a 20-0 victory over Daniel Baker here today in a homecoming grid game.

Third among the nation's scorers after last week, Jones added eight points to boost his season's total to 71 points.

Owen scored two of the ACC touchdowns.

Steers Risk District 3-AA Hopes On Grid Monday

Fair Weather Predicted For Angelo Tilt

Big Spring high school's hopes for a championship in district 3-AA will be put to the first crucial test since the Steers moved into first place position when San Angelo comes over for a bit of play. Provided the Longhorns take this tilt, there are only two more hurdles between them and the title, namely Sweetwater and Abilene.

At the present writing skies are clear, the air has a snap to it, and prospects for a proper showing of Big Spring's gridiron might be looking good for Monday afternoon, when San Angelo's Bobcats attempt to knock the Steers out of the front seat at Steer stadium. Monday afternoon.

Coach Pat Murphy will be sending his gridsters into a game that could be considered a cinch to end tickets for the San Angelo-Big Spring football game will be on sale at the school tax office Monday morning. Reserved seat ducaats will be sold for $0.75.

Programs will be offered to the fans for five cents. All proceeds from the program sales will go into a fund for a camera and projector recently bought by the athletic department.

favorably for them if the opponent was any other team beside San Angelo. So far this year, the Felles have shown anything but a scoring punch. But, for some reason, maybe the color of the Big Spring uniforms or just their general attitude, the lads from the banks of the Concho are on the record as being the crew that gives the Murphys the most trouble.

Coach Harry Taylor's Cats are just about even-step in regard to weight but appear to lack the drive that has been a feature of Big Spring's attack. Both clubs are shy on consistent passing ability, although Big Spring took its most crucial game so far this season with a thrust through the air, shelling Midland with a hurl that won, 6 to 0.

Fullback Hill, 182-pound San Angelo, has been carrying a large share of the powerhouse chores against the opposition. Another man that can be considered a threat from any sector of the field is San Angelo Captain Chase, 164-pound quarter.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Jack Douglas

A source known to this department reports considerable fire among Lamesa fans in regard to officiating during the Lamesa-Midland tilt. We were in the midst of seeing Garner do something, of which we are still in the dark, to Westbrook, therefore did not see the point in question.

"This man's town is plenty sore," our informant relates. "The game was a referee steal. In the first place, the 15-yard clipping penalty of a passer is very unusual. . . . Never in my life have I gripped about an official of a ball game, but the one today stunk to high heaven. . . . Not a single time today did he even let Lamesa have the ball at the farthest point of advance, but if the ball-carrier was rushed back the ball was placed at that point. If your paper publishes the truth in news, it will let it be known that the game today was a steal. . . . The game today was strangely reminiscent of the game at Midland last year when a long fourth quarter enabled the Midland Bulldogs to win. Today it was too much referee."

Personally, we have only seen one case in which we felt there was a flagrant abuse of an official's authority, and that was in a college game some years ago.

Big Spring will go into Monday's game with San Angelo's footballers with everything in their favor and is, regardless of worries about her hex, overconfidence, injuries and teams out hunting scalps, to be considered the favored one. But, upsets do happen and the Armistice Day game is an exception. We don't know exactly what has happened to the Bobcats, but they stand a mighty good chance of shaking off what ever ails them when they prance out on Steer stadium.

Maybe we're wrong, but it is Sweetwater over Odessa and Big Spring over San Angelo in tomorrow's conference games for our money.

Texas ranks sixth in the United States for duck hunting, according to figures released by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Last year, a total of 63,460 migratory waterfowl stamps were sold, 1,111,560 hunters purchased the $1 duck stamps which must be carried by all waterfowl hunters over sixteen years of age. The stamp must be in the hunters' possession when they are in the field.

Deer season for Texas will open the morning of November 16. Already prospective hunters of the buck are getting their gear in trim for the yearly business of outsmarting a touchy, leery deer. And, a large number of almonds are forced to come back with the realization that just because a thing wears a tall and sprouts horns is no sure sign that it can't out-think a man.

Stanton Edged By Seagraves' Gridders, 12-7

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 9 (Sp) — Stanton footballers bowed to Seagraves, 12 to 7, Friday night in a game at Seagraves that ended in an outbreak of hostilities between fans and players of both towns.

Stanton drew first blood in the gridiron department of the night's festivities when Guard Carol Coates intercepted a Seagraves pass and raced sixty yards for the marker. Seagraves pushed over for scores in the third and fourth frames. Belcher, Seagraves back, plowed through for the first touchdown for the hosts after a 40-yard drive put them in position. Second tally for Seagraves came when Fullback Coates drove across the line to pick up two yards and the score after a long range aerial thrust had advanced the ball 35 yards.

Due to playing on a rain-drenched field, fumbles punctuated the conflict throughout. Power drives accounted for scoring, passers being unable to handle the ball with any degree of efficiency.

Friday night's game gave Stanton the first points made thus far in conference play, although the Bisons have marked two wins, over Seminola and a game with Seagraves earlier in the season, on the basis of penetrations.

Fans became irred by officiating near the close of the duel and entered into the spirit of the occasion with a wild display of flat throwing which involved all concerned. The sheriff and his deputies were conceded a victory in this phase of the engagement.

OFFICERS SEEK PAIR OF YOUTHFUL BANDITS

GRAPELAND, Nov. 9 (Sp) — Officers searched tonight for a small gray coupe carrying two youthful bandits in a maze of country roads northeast of here today.

The unmasked youths held up the cashier of a gasoline corporation at a loading rack two miles north of here about 4 a. m. and fled with some $300 in cash and several hundred dollars worth of checks.

Midland Ties Lamesa In Last Minute Surge

LAMESA, Nov. 9. (Sp) — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes have done it again—outplayed a heavier, more highly rated team. Midland had to come from behind at Lamesa Friday afternoon to eke out a 6 to 6 tie with a fighting crew of Lamesans.

For three quarters of a game played on a soggy field and under overcast skies, Lamesa took the lead in maneuvering over an aggregation of Midland Bulldogs. The Tornadoes' marker came in the third canto on a pass from Futrell. Lamesa quarter, to Fullback Gus White, who scampered 15 yards for yardage.

Midland's pass failed to get loose for a scoring run until the closing minutes of the conflict. A combination of completed passes and penalties assessed against the Lamesans, plus one plunge at the line, gave Midland the points that tied up the ball game.

Lamesa drew more penalties in this engagement than has been its lot throughout the other games this season. The first half was a scoreless affair, featuring long distance punting by Lamesa and quick kicking by Midland. In the first quarter Barnard, regular quarterback, was injured and for the first time this season was removed from the field.

At the end of the initial period, Lamesa had received the ball on its own 35, from where White broke loose around his own left end and picked up 34 yards. Attempts to hit into Midland's end zone failed to give results and the second quarter ended with Midland stopping the Lamesans for four downs on the 2-yard line.

Early in the third period White kicked from his own 40 to Midland's 6, where the ball was killed. After two strikes at the line failed, Midland's White kicked out to Lamesa's 40. Lamesa's White booted the ball out of bounds on Midland's 2. Midland again kicked out of the danger zone to the 45, where Gus White took the ball and raced up the field and placed the ball once more on Midland's 2. White attempted to plow through the Bulldog line but lost 10 yards for his efforts. Futrell then slipped one to White on the 4-yard stripe and the Lamesans romped over for the score. White's pass Meyer for the extra point was incomplete.

Until Midland scored, the game settled down to a punting duel from there on out. Gus White twice kicked out on Midland's 2-yard line. Leading ground-gainer of the performance was Gus White, with jaunts of 43, 34, 28, 19, 11, and 10 yards.

Starting lineups: Lamesa—Blair and Meyers, ends; Morgan and McBride, tackles; Roberts and Oswald, guards; Carmichael, center; Barnard, quarterback; Cates and White, halves; Calhoun, fullback.

Midland—Lester and Bratton, ends; Buffington and Cocks, tackles; Hall and Edison, guards; Rehders, center; Williams, quarterback; White and Bigham, halves; Kelly, fullback.

Substitutions: Lamesa, Futrell; Midland, Green, Anderson, I. Hall. Score by periods: Lamesa 0 0 0 6-6 Midland 0 0 0 0-0

ONE FOR THE BOOK—GARNER BLANKS WESTBROOK, 91-0

GARNER, Nov. 9 — Something for the book took place at Garner Friday afternoon when the Garner six-man football team engaged Westbrook's aggregation, leaders in district 12 of six-man football—the leaders were trampled in the mud, walloped, stunned, etc. by a Garner bunch that went wild and piled up a score of 91 to 0. And, let us repeat, Westbrook is the conference pace-maker and was rated favorite in the game.

To add to the screwiness of an exceptionally peculiar game, Garner made 202 yards from scrimmage with rushes and passes, excluding yardage made on touch-down sprints and races with intercepted passes, and Westbrook made 138 yards. Furthermore, Garner made only five first downs to the visitors' 3. Judging from these two sets of statistics, the Westbrook sextet was not too heavily outclassed. But, that one little item, the score, makes this a standout game for anybody's record book.

Just to make it a bit more confusing; majority of tallies made by Garner came as the result of the offensive playing and running ability of the center, Daugherty, of all things.

Garner is not yet at the top of the league standings, a sadly surprised Westbrook crew still holds the lead, but there seems to be a rather strong indication that the Garner crew is something with which to reckon.

Frank Oglesby, the boy who ran wild against Forsan last week, was unable to turn in the style of game usually delivered because of an injury to his foot received in last week's engagement.

Westbrook's biggest threat against Garner came in the forefront of the game when they were crowding the Garnerites with a series of passes and rushes. A pass across the goal was snagged by Garner's chapman, ending Westbrook's advance.

The visitors started a desperate attempt to stay out of the blanketed row in the fourth period, but the move was brought to a standstill when Garner Coach Turner put his first team back in and turned the tide.

Quarterback Chapman and Daugherty were standout performers for the roundelay. Starting lineups: Garner—Chapman, Alfred, Morris, Daugherty, Smith, and Long. Westbrook — Kite, Anderson, Moore, Lambert, Phillips, and Jackson.

Players scoring touchdowns: Daugherty, 5; Chapman, 3; Long, 2; Alfred, 2; Morris, 1; Smith, 1.

GARDEN CITY TAGS STERLING CITY, 19-8

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 9 — Earl Baker got warmed up after the half here Friday afternoon and Garden City steamed away to a 19-8 victory over Sterling City in a district 12 six-man football game. After a pass play had carried for 50 yards, F. Mitchell skirted end for the Sterling City score and then kicked goal for the extra points. It was a quick thrust that gave Sterling the lead although Garden City camped in the enemy's territory most of the time.

Striking in the third, Earl Baker took a pass from Ellis Daves and scampered 40 yards for the tally. Shortly thereafter, Baker broke through the line and was away for another 35-yard scoring run. In the fourth canto, Earl Baker tossed one to Daves in the end zone and then heaved one to Tommy Cook for the extra point to wind up the scoring.

Starting lineups: Garden City Position Sterling City Chaney Abernathy

Fullback Sharp Garden City sub, Bedell; Sterling City, Dawson and Dearing.

ARMISTICE DAY

In Flanders' Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row . . .

Straight lines of them . . . one in back of another. Aisles of them . . . side by side . . . stretching, reaching, climbing back over the curved brow of the hill. Hundreds of them . . . thousands . . . neat and white. Uniform. Crosses—each the same—each one a tabulator: one man dead . . . And in a tomb at Arlington sleeps another—unknown

" . . . That these dead shall not have died in vain . . ." We remember that. " . . . If ye break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep . . ." We remember that, too. And we keep faith . . . we keep faith with those who die — with those who sleep—row on row in Flanders' Fields, with the one who sleeps alone at Arlington.

West Texans Save On Early Tax Payments

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Nov. 9 — West Texas property owners saved almost $60,000 last year by paying their state taxes early.

A report by State Comptroller George H. Sheppard today showed that discounts on state taxes in 52 West Texas counties totaled $58,808.41. The total did not include discounts on tax payments this year or savings on county taxes.

Under terms of legislation approved by the last legislature, state taxes paid during October are discounted three per cent; November, two per cent; and December, one per cent. The same discounts are allowed by 147 counties in the state.

Sheppard's report showed that in West Texas, property owners of Pecos county saved $8,646.95 by paying their state taxes early to lead that region of the state. Second was Ward county, where property owners received discounts on state ad valorem taxes totaling $3,609.26; third was Winkler county, with discounts amounting to $3,108.55.

Other discounts by counties included:

Dawson	$ 562.02
Ector	2,708.18
Glasscock	428.89
Howard	2,231.81
Martin	225.47
Midland	843.72
Mitchell	728.45
Sterling	280.95

Most of the West Texas counties also allowed discounts on county ad valorem taxes, but no figures are available in the comptroller's office to show the amount of saving on county taxes.

Cotton Factor Down But Acreage Same

Howard county's cotton factor with 655 extra acres distributed over farms of the county, now stands at 37.53 per cent of crop land.

The acreage total is 64,411, which is off only about 211 acres as compared to the factor being down by nearly one per cent. Induction of new acreage was believed to be responsible for the reduction of the acreage factor while the total acreage remained almost static.

Librarian's Red Barrel Restocks Shelves Quickly

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)
 Library officials felt that many persons neglected to return overdue books because they were embarrassed in having kept them so long. So, they placed a little red barrel on the library steps and announced that delinquents could return the books at night, without being seen, without paying a fine, and no questions asked.

In two weeks $120 worth of books, some of them taken out more than eight years ago, were dropped into the barrel. One book was "borrowed" in 1919.

Rocky Mountain Park Draws Record Crowds

ESTES PARK, Colo. (UP)—Officials of Rocky Mountain National Park have announced that 827,847 tourists from 48 states visited the park before early October this year. The total registration in 1939—previous high year—was 609,000.

Automobile traffic through the park gates was 183,658 cars. Park officials attributed part of the increase to the European war.

Cotton Futures Up To Season's High

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures weathered heavy selling today and advanced to the highest price for the season, closing up 5 to 8 points.

Demand from trade and mill interests reflected heavy turnover of cotton textiles and a desire by short sellers to cover.

Southern and leading spot houses bombarded the ring with selling orders.

Worth Street cloth brokers estimated the week's business in print cloths ran to more than 200 per cent of current output.

Exports Friday 16,940 bales; season so far 413,544. Port receipts 12,727. Port stocks 3,050,666.

Parents To Visit Schools During Education Week

Annual observance of American Education week will begin Sunday, lasting throughout the week and during this time the schools will report to the people in concert regarding their aims, achievements and needs.

The national week was begun in 1921 after the World war draft found 25 per cent of the men examined to be illiterate. Members of the newly formed American Legion wished to help correct these conditions and saw in this situation an opportunity to serve their country after the war. They consulted with the officers of the National Education association and the United States Office of Education who sponsored the week with the Legion. In 1938 the National Congress of Parents and Teachers became the fourth official national sponsor.

From a small beginning, it is estimated that 8 million parents and other citizens visit their schools each November during this week and learn about modern school practices and consult with teachers concerning progress of their children. Better schools, better understood, are the result.

Locally the P. T. A. Council will offer a prize for the school having the largest number of visitors in relation to the number of families represented by the school. There will also be special programs before each of the four service clubs during the week.

Each day during the observance, reports will be made through The Herald on the number of visitors to each school, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, pointed out.

The dates for Book Week this year coincided with Education Week and will also be observed.

With no other agency more vital to the well being of American democracy, no other cause is more deserving of special consideration by the American people once a year, educators point out.

The specific objectives are to increase public understanding and appreciation of the schools; to encourage parents to visit schools at least once annually; to secure participation of the people in improving the schools; to give pupils an appreciation of what the schools are doing; to encourage civic groups to give consideration to education; and to provide an annual period of special emphasis in all-year programs of educational interpretation.

General Staff Preps For Brownwood Move

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 9 (AP)—Major General Claude V. Birkhead, commander of the 36th division, said tonight members of the general staff would go on duty in San Antonio Tuesday to prepare for removal of the division to Brownwood's Camp Bowie.

The 11th quartermaster regiment will leave Austin on Nov. 28 and division headquarters will move here Dec. 2, the commanding officer said.

Advance detachments and the supply companies of each regiment will leave their home stations on Dec. 1 and the main body of troops will leave their home stations on Dec. 4.

A total of 12,000 men will begin complete training on Dec. 9. This total will be increased to 18,000 men by volunteers, General Birkhead said.

In addition to Texas national guardsmen, 7,500 regular army troops and the 113th cavalry of the Iowa national guard will be quartered here.

Sixty per cent of the adults of Korea are illiterate.

Centers For Army Camps Suggested

HOUSTON, Nov. 9—Recommendation for an expanded program to meet the challenge of changed and changing world conditions arising from the world war will be presented when messengers representing Texas' 750,000 Baptists meet here in the denomination's 55th annual convention Nov. 12-15.

What steps to be taken by Texas Baptists to take advantage of the "unprecedented opportunity and obligation" of the times will be recommended by Dr. R. C. Campbell of Dallas, executive mission secretary, in his annual report to the convention.

An appropriation of $25,000 to be used in establishing and maintaining religious centers near army training camps in Texas will be among the proposals made to the convention, which will be urged also to become increasingly aware of world-wide opportunities for Christian service to peoples crushed by the circumstances of war.

Emphasis will be placed also on mission opportunities to be realized immediately in Central and South America, and on home missions in the United States and its possessions.

An enlarged budget will be proposed. A committee of 150 headed by Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, is expected to propose that $1,200,000 be raised in 1941 and increased annually for five years until an annual budget of $1,600,000 a year is reached.

Perfects Carburetor That Runs On Water

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Perfection of a carburetor that enables an ordinary engine to operate on gasses produced from water was announced here today by inventor Henry (Dad) Garrett, retired chief of Dallas' signal and fire alarm system.

After testing his carburetor on a truck here for a few weeks Garrett said he will attempt a non-stop trip to New York City "on a tankful of water." He explained that chemical reaction breaks the water up into component parts of hydrogen and oxygen, causing the motor to operate on the explosion of gasses in the cylinders.

Lamesa To Open Red Cross Call

LAMESA, Nov. 9. (Sp.)—Dawson county chapter of the American Red Cross will launch its 24th annual Red Cross roll call Thursday with a breakfast session for workers.

Boy Scout troops have been busy this week cooperating with Red Cross by distributing placards and literature through all the business district. Local churches will have special mention of Red Cross in services Sunday.

Fifty Lamesa women are to make the drive in the city Thursday with Mrs. C. E. Cameron in charge. Organization details have been completed with these listed at workers in various places: Henry Norris, courthouse; Blaine Wiggins, city hall; G. M. Roberts, primary and elementary schools; V. Z. Rogers, high school; Owen Taylor, postoffice; C. L. Schmidt and M. E. Barron, banks; Dr. J. C. Lovell, Dr. N. H. Price, Dr. Sam Z. Frasier, Dr. W. H. Dunn, Dr. O. L. McIlroy, and Dr. Hall Cutler, hospitals and clinics; P. A. Norris, oil mill; J. H. Harp, compress; Bill White and Bub McDonald, gas.

Quota for the chapter is $550, and for the past three years Lamesa has met the quota. W. L. Marr, mayor, is chapter chairman; Raymond Lee Johns, publicly chairman; Vernon Bryant, accident prevention; James Sumpter, first aid; Leslie Pratt, life-saving; Mrs. Eddie Guynes, junior Red Cross; and Carl Baldwin, disaster.

COMMISSION GRANTS HEATING OIL BIDS

AUSTIN, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today took cognizance of cold weather in granting a request for more heating oil crude.

Chairman Lon A. Smith and Member Ernest O. Thompson signed an order allowing operators in the Eureka field, yielding crude of heavy heating content, to produce their wells through the remaining shutdown days in November.

Earlier, Smith added his signature to an order exempting the Cayuga field in Anderson county from the shutdowns since the field's output was furnishing national defense projects in Florida and North Carolina with asphalt.

Farmers Advised To Go Slow On Wheat Planting

Farmers were warned Saturday by M. Weaver, county administrative assistant for the AAA, to go slow on planting wheat until they are sure about allotments.

By planting wheat when there is no allotment the producer may endanger his entire chances for complying with the federal farm program in 1941, he said.

Only those who have wheat allotments are safe in going ahead by planting wheat, either for harvest or pasturage. Others likely would be thrown out of compliance.

Those who desire to plant cover crops or crops for winter pasture were advised to plant a 50-50 mixture of wheat and some other small grain, all going into the ground on the same day. If the mixture is harvested it can count as general acreage, and if unharvested it counts as conservation acreage.

The same arrangement holds for pure plantings of barley, oats, or rye—general acreage if harvested and conservation acreage if grazed and unharvested or left for cover crop.

Only 54 farms in the county have wheat allotments totaling 2,981.4 acres. Weaver made his announcements since slow rains have raised the possibility of small grain plantings. Those in doubt should contact his office, he said.

PEACE

...in America

22 YEARS OLD

Just a good draft age!

Not a pleasant thought, is it? This thing that we fought to get—this peace—is growing up.

Peace, you see, is a very real thing. And—thank Heaven—it lives at our house. It sits down at the table with us and it sleeps with us at night. And when we lay our paper down or turn off our radio, we constantly realize that it is good to know that Peace is in the room.

Life would not be the same without this silent partner to our living. We know this. We know, too, that—while it is our strongest support—its very existence depends upon us.

Peace came to live with us around 1900, at the end of the Spanish-American War, and the world of our living was blessed by his presence; but he was barely 18 before we allowed the world to occupy us so much with its bickerings that we had no time for him and he left us to suffer for our sins.

Will we make this same mistake again? Will we drive this young Peace out of our house? Or will we realize that throughout each and all of the 22 years we have enjoyed his presence, we have also been striving to bring it to full-fledged manhood with a future before it and the strength to carry on... and that now is when it needs us most?

Peace is a harried child. Perhaps that is why we love it. For our household is composed of the persecuted from all the lands of the earth and we know that Peace is one of us. Upon it we may freely lavish our love.

And as it reaches its 22nd birthday, this Armistice Day, let us resolve to turn our backs upon that which is foreign to Peace and to us and set about the most monumental and glorious task ever undertaken in the history of humanity... the task of keeping and protecting Peace long enough—for once in the history of man—to give it a chance to demonstrate to all humanity what Peace can do for the world.

Let's All Give Thanks For Peace This Armistice

Hundreds Search For Missing 2-Year-Old

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Nov. 9 (AP)—Commissioner Lon Sullivan of the state highway patrol ordered "look-out" notices broadcast tonight when hundreds of woodmen and CCC boys failed to find two-year-old Murray Uphaw, Jr., missing since yesterday noon.

Sullivan said state police were put on watch "just in case it should be a kidnapping." He added that circumstances in the case were such as to discount that theory.

The child vanished a few minutes before noon yesterday. With him was a small white dog, Nickie. Both had been playing in the backyard of their farm home 13 miles north of here.

Mentors Like 12-Man Football Playing

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9 (AP)—"Like it? You're darned right I like it!" enthusiastically affirmed Coach Os Doenges of Oklahoma City university after his team's "12-man" football game experiment with Coach Moss Simms' St. Mary's university footballers at Alamo stadium Saturday afternoon, ending in a 4-6 tie. "Why, we made more yardage in the first half than we have been able to make in any full game all year," Doenges went on, practically bubbling over.

Coach Moss Simms of the Rattlers was also in accord with the idea, but believed that it should be worked in gradually, rather than at one jump. "You know as well as I do that the rules committee wouldn't hop on anything like that all of a sudden."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—John Hamilton resigned today as executive director of the republican national committee, a post he has held since Joseph W. Martin became national chairman last July.

ROME, Nov. 9 (AP)—Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano is expected to go to Berlin within the next few days, foreign circles reported tonight, to attend three-way discussions among Germany, Italy and Soviet Russia.

The Italian press cited threats of a "tremendous air bombardment of England and its allies."

Both Bulgaria and Russia are watched closely as of importance in the fascist campaign against Greece.

Sofia is believed to be the key point, with the axis powers perhaps ready to give Bulgaria some such alliance as their recent pact with Japan, which could serve as a warning to Turkey against entering the war.

Observers expressed belief that an understanding with Russia might also be in prospect—if not in fact already reached—to keep Turkey out.

Criminal Cases Are Set In 70th Dist. Court This Week

Seventieth district court will go into its second week Monday with at least two criminal cases set for trial.

Tuesday one of the cases against W. S. Garnett, former pastor here, will be called. It was continued from last term. Thursday the robbery-by-firearms charge against B. C. Klennert is due to be heard.

Judge Cecil Collins set two other cases for Nov. 21, a forgery complaint against J. B. Blake and a similar indictment against E. M. Calahan.

The case of J. B. McKinney vs. J. J. Bruce, damages, was postponed due to illness of the plaintiff. Lou Ella Saunders' divorce petition against Leo C. Saunders was dismissed, and the court gave attorneys to Nov. 18 to submit briefs on arguments before the court in the case of Illinois Oil Co. versus A. A. Heubert, suit on contract and for title.

per cent participation in state aid roads.

The entire matter, however, would hinge on re-enactment of the house bill which sets up the procedure. Several counties in this area have called bond elections in an attempt to qualify for roads in this event.

Charles Sullivan, county judge, who presided at the meeting, made it clear that neither he nor anyone else was attempting to project a bond issue upon the people, but rather give them command of full facts so the people could make a decision.

The opinion was voiced by several speakers that this was the only chance counties would have for getting new roads other than national defense ones for several years.

Tulsa Trims Cath. U, 12-6

TULSA, Nov. 9 (AP)—With N. A. Keithley's slippery skipping the light of a gray and soggy day, the Tulsa university Hurricanes overpowered Catholic University 12 to 6 today.

Keithley brought the 5,400 customers to their feet time and again as he twisted and slashed his way down the field. In the fourth period he counted the winning touchdown for the Hurricanes, thrice over Catholic's left tackle to score from the 11.

In the third period, Tulsa staged a 67-yard march from the kickoff to score. Starting at the 34, little Jimmy Vickers snaked his way to the Cardinals' 45. Dobbs started his passes working, adding a smash of his own through tackle for good measure, and Tulsa rolled up to the Catholic 9.

Vickers spun around on a reverse to the 2 and big Dobbs smacked over.

The Cardinals and the Hurricanes swapped punts after the kickoff and then the Red squad began its paydirt drive. "Pistol Pete" rifled a 25-yard pass to Hank Brostek standing on Tulsa's 3. Brostek, after two mates failed to make it through right tackle to score.

The Hurricane blocked a punt in the fourth period to set up its second touchdown. Johnny Swals got in the way of Sachon's boot and then recovered it on Catholic's 11. Keithley went the distance in three tries. Keithley's attempt to convert with a pass failed.

PHYSICIAN CLAIMS TO BE ONLY PERSON WHO "BOUNCED" HITLER

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (AP)—A visiting eastern physician today claimed to be probably the only living man who ever "bounced" Adolph Hitler and got away with it.

He is Dr. John Gelbert of New York, naturalized German-born physician, who said he was Hitler's personal medical attendant from 1924 to 1927.

While practicing medicine in 1923, Gelbert explained, dead and wounded from a nearby riot were brought to his quarters. Hitler, then comparatively unknown, rushed through the door, shouted "hell Hitler," and demanded to know the nature of the riot victims' last words.

"He made so much noise and got so much in the way that I shoved him out the door on the seat of his pants," the doctor recounted.

Sharp Reduction In Personnel Urged As Mexican Oil Cure

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 9 (AP)—A government commission of three experts proposed dismissal of 4,000 of 18,000 operating expenses of Mexico's debt-ridden oil industry. It was learned tonight.

The move would trim the operating cost annually 22,000,000 pesos ($4,000,000 U. S.).

President Cardenas, it was reported, may use the commission's proposal as a basis for a decree reorganizing the industry before he leaves office on Nov. 30.

They said the industry, if revamped according to their plan, would be able to balance its budget on domestic sales alone. Last year domestic sales totalled 172,000,000 pesos ($34,400,000 U. S.) and were expected to be higher this year.

in this gem: "The world must see us at our work, and know that in the heat of the campaign we toss epithets about, but grin and go back to work when the campaign is over, citizens all of a great nation." And then she adds, "we need to say to the opposition, 'Cheer up, you're among friends.' And prove it."

Important was the road parley Friday night, for out of it may come the avenue for more and needed roads here. In a nutshell, it was an explanation of how the state will assume county bonds to build roads. None need get the idea that a bond issue is being foisted upon them. Nobody is trying to push anybody. Just trying to get at the facts.

Young men contemplating a year of military training under the selective service act would do well to contact the chamber of commerce or Dr. Tom Clay about the national guard unit being organized here. It's a chance to train with men from the same area—with home folks.

Coming up this week in Washington is an important CAA hearing which will determine who, if any one, will give West Texas north-south airmail service. Of course we hope to win a stop on some line, but least of all we can get somebody straight on our business figures down here. The "experts" have us down almost in the village class.

Dig down in your jeans this week and come up with a dollar for the Red Cross. With a 2,500 quota, it's going to take everybody doing his part to put it over.

For an unsung but vitally important piece of work, we nominate the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard county soil conservation district for public praise. Those men are mapping out a program, which, if reasonably followed, will eventually mean much to this section.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Fair Harvard's sons won glory without victory today by tying powerful Pennsylvania 10 to 10 in a see-saw battle before 50,000 surprised spectators at Franklin field.

Winner only over Amherst this football season, Coach Dick Harlow's spunky team stopped a high scoring Pennsylvania machine which has bowed only to Michigan. The deadlock ruined Penn's hopes for a clean sweep of the "Big Three" in the Ivy league.

Final Count Gives Kansas Demo Gain

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 9 (AP)—Most of Kansas' 105 counties completed their official canvasses of last Tuesday's election vote today without materially changing the close governorship race.

The lead of W. H. Burke, democrat, over Gov. Payne Ratner, republican, was boosted by more than 500 votes in official returns from nine counties late today, putting him more than 2,500 ahead.

State totals, including official votes from 95 counties and unofficial from the rest of the 105 were: Burke, 419,576; Ratner 417,007.

Week Of Prayer Observed

Wesley Memorial Methodist women observed the Week of Prayer with an all-day session at the church Friday and meetings were divided into three sections.

Songs, prayer and scripture readings were given throughout the morning and early afternoon.

Mrs. J. C. Pittard played organ melodies and Mrs. J. A. English had the call to worship and the prayer. Mrs. H. D. Drake gave the scripture reading.

Mrs. English also talked on the purpose and value of quiet song and testimony. Mrs. J. L. Low gave the scripture in the second session and Mrs. E. R. Cawthron talked on "The Light of the World." Mrs. W. D. Lovelace directed the meditation and Mrs. English had the prayer.

A thirty minute intermission was held and Mrs. English opened the last section of the meetings with the call to worship. Mrs. Cecil Nabors had the scripture and Mrs. J. D. Stembbridge talked on "Scarritt Built for the Future." Mrs. English gave the prayer and followed with music preludes. Mrs. J. C. Pittard had the invocation.

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

Just in case the "boys" believe that nobody ever thinks they look nice or at least no one ever compliments them, the stroller donned mustache and false face and began peering in the men's emporium to see what is what.

We never did find out because the little things like tucks and belts, etc., always escaped our notice even when they were pointed out.

So, we decided, this year's suit or last, it made no difference. You men look o.k. to us. Some we saw were A. Swartz, who had on a blue and white mixed tweed suit and wore blue tie and shirt.

W. D. Scott, whose preference is to be called Scotty instead of W. D., has been looking spruce these days in a brown tweed suit and wears with it one of those fuzzy hats with a bright band that really looks nice.

W. H. Summerlin is wearing a brown suit these winterish afternoons with a brown felt snap brim hat. He brightens up this suit with a green shirt and tie.

Caught a glimpse of Albert Fisher, Jr., who had on a black and white tweedish looking suit.

We were doing fine when the sun came out and the men took off their coats and hats. And what is there left to say about just a pair of pants and a shirt?

Quitting in favor of the weather, we promise more later.

Hyperion Club To Present Noted Speaker At Seated Tea Saturday

Mrs. Dingus To Speak Of Her Travels

Members of the Hyperion club are presenting Mrs. William Dingus of the department of foreign languages, Texas Technological college, Lubbock, in a travolugue Saturday at 3 o'clock at the Settles hotel. The affair will be a seated tea. Members of the study clubs of the town will be the guests.

Mrs. Dingus is one of the best known women speakers in West Texas. She has addressed club women in state and district conventions and served on the executive board of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, when Mrs. Volney Taylor was state president.

In the summer of 1939 Mrs. Dingus traveled extensively in Europe and spoke at several international meetings there, including a luncheon held by the International Federation of University Women in Stockholm, Sweden. Her talk before this group dealt with the effect of the depression on adult education in the United States.

The Hyperion club has asked Mrs. Dingus to give a lecture that deals with her European travels more than with the war. Since she was in Europe shortly before Denmark and Norway were invaded by Germany she had been called upon to speak all over West Texas regarding the situation in that part of the world, as she saw it. The war scene is now such a sad one, she said, that she preferred to bring the brighter aspects of her travel experience to present-day audiences.

Arlen, Devine Are Teamed In Queen Film

Action And Comedy Promised In 'The Leather Pushers'

The comic aspects of the first film developed in the offering for today and Monday at the Queen theatre, "The Leather Pushers."

In principal roles are Richard Arlen and Andy Devine, who have been teamed successfully in a number of pictures. Astrid Allwyn is the girl in the story, providing, with Arlen, the romantic element, while gravel-voiced Andy pinches hits in the laugh sequences.

Arlen has the part of a fighter, Devine appears as his trainer and second, and there's drama, action and comedy blended generously to make an entertaining story.

Myrna Loy, Melvyn Douglas Star In Comedy Romance At The Ritz

SUCCESSFUL COMEDIANS are Melvyn Douglas and Myrna Loy, who merge their talents in a new film piece of gaiety which plays today and Monday at the Ritz. Called "Third Finger, Left Hand," the story tells about a business girl who invents a mythical husband for business reasons, only to have a claimant to the title show up.

Myrna Loy, perfect wife of Melvyn Douglas, who made Garbo laugh in "Ninotchka," team for the first time in "Third Finger, Left Hand," hilarious adventures in romance, headlining the Ritz program for today and Monday. Miss Loy proves far from a perfect wife, and keeps Douglas in more trouble than she did William Powell in "I Love You Again."

The picture deals with the troubles arising when Miss Loy, for business reasons, invents a fictitious husband, Douglas, landscape painter and son of her suitors, learns of it, and arrives at her home to impersonate the imaginary spouse to the dismay of Miss Loy who can't expose her deception.

She takes it out by getting him into every scrape she can think of and embarrasses him by scandalizing his home-town folks with assumed vulgarity after their Niagara Falls marriage. She had to marry him in order to obtain a legal divorce. Her attorney, Lee Bowman, conspires to get her divorced so that he can marry her himself. The three head West on the same train, Melvyn for his Ohio home, and Myrna and Lee for Reno, but all ends happily when Myrna and Melvyn find out they were really in love with each other all along.

These farcical situations in Loinel Houser's story give opportunity for a succession of delightful episodes. Miss Loy plays her role to the hilt, alternated with bits of impersonation such as the accent and gum-snapping. She also wears some stunning costumes. Douglas, the man who made Garbo laugh, plays his role with gay abandon.

Donald Meek, as an eccentric art dealer, is as funny as in his "Bee Man" characterizations in the Nick Carter series, and Felix Bressart, the elegant commissioner of "Ninotchka," provides other side-splitting moments. Bonita Granville, in her first sub-deb role as Miss Loy's active young sister, is a piquant figure. Raymond Walburn as the father, Halliwell Hobbes, Ann Morris and others are exceptionally well cast.

BLONDIE PLAYS CUPID

Blondie Has A Fling In Cupid's Role

Bumstead Family's Newest Adventures Presented At Lyric

Bachelors in town will have to be doubly careful this weekend for "Blondie Plays Cupid" in the latest hectic adventure of the Bumsteads, Chic Young's famous comic strip characters. The latest hit in the popular Columbia series plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre with Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Baby Dumpling and Daisy again featured in the leading roles.

In this newest "Blondie" adventure, the family goes to the country, fully expecting to spend a safe and sane Fourth of July holiday. In true Bumstead fashion they soon find themselves involved in a number of hilarious situations, all developing from Blondie's attempts to help a young couple elope. Some of the more amusing highlights include Dagwood's hectic battle with the bride's father, Baby Dumpling's adventures with a stick of dynamite and the accidental discovery of an oil well.

Generally hailed as the most entertaining of all the "Blondie" hits, this seventh edition of the series also includes Glenn Ford, Danny Mummert, Jonathan Hale, Irving Bacon and Spencer Charters in its talented cast. Like its predecessors, "Blondie Plays Cupid" was directed by Frank R. Strayer. The story was written by Richard Flournoy and Karen DeWolf.

Army Mobilization May End U. S. Bean Surplus

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UP)—Michigan bean growers, who this year produced a crop estimated at 3,500,000 bags, are planning increased plantings next year on the strength of the expansion of the United States Army.

Beans, traditional staple of fighting men, are listed as one of the principal components of the Army's field rations. With the enlargement of the army after the draft and mounting enlistments, a much greater market will be available, according to A. B. Love, extension specialist in agricultural economics at Michigan state college.

Approximately 1,000 carloads of Michigan beans were taken last year by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation in an effort to stabilize the market. The agricultural experts expect the army to consume any potential surplus in the next two years.

Bill Elliott Makes Personal Appearance

Wild Bill Hickok, in the flesh, stepped off the American Airlines plane here Friday evening for a personal appearance assignment.

At least, the kiddies knew it was Wild Bill. The adults, not so wise on their westerns, had the clean-cut young star down as Bill Elliott, which is legally correct. But Bill Elliott got his start in the movies as Wild Bill Hickok, and to this day, the kiddies won't have it any other way. For purposes of sentiment, that's all right with Bill, too.

Met at the plane by a welcoming committee and a large number of admirers, including a swarm of youngsters, the star posed for photographs and then gave autographs till his fingers cramped.

Following a brief reception at his Settles hotel headquarters, he was honored with a dinner at the Steak House. Saturday morning he made a tour of all the playgrounds in the city, where most of the children came to see this man, "Wild Bill." Throughout the day he appeared at a local show.

Elliott is a native of Missouri, and from the earliest time he knew nothing he would rather do than to get on a horse and ride. His father, in the livestock commission business moved to Saint Joe, but young Elliott took every opportunity to punch cattle.

He got an idea he wanted to do westerns, so he headed out for California. Acting experience is what they insisted he needed, so Bill, who was then known as Gordon, joined up with a stock company.

Western parts? No sir, he didn't look the part, so they said to this man who had done nothing else but ride and herd cows. Accordingly, Gordon Elliott wound up in "stuffed-shirt" parts and played heavy roles with the stocks.

While chaffing under this pill in the name of experience, he got his chance. Columbia was doing a serial called "Wild Bill Hickok," and Gordon was called in for an interview. With an air of independence, he "managed" to come to terms on salary—and Gordon Elliott became Bill Elliott and was off to success.

Maybe Bill knows why his pictures are going over these days. He had a little formula, anyhow, which he applies to insure success.

"You never find me doing the impossible in one of my shows," he says. "No sir, I'll balk at that kind of thing. Why the kids know when you get a spur on 'crooked and when you don't get on a horse just so—o."

And besides this, Bill had rather be doing westerns than anything else. "They're good food for thought," he adds.

With him here were Earl Hanson, Los Angeles, and Walter Penn, Dallas. Hanson is making advance arrangements for a series of personal appearances for Elliott at San Angelo, Colorado City, Sweetwater and a number of other cities. The jaunt continues until Nov. 23 at San Antonio. Then maybe Bill will have to hustle back to Hollywood for another picture.

Brighten Up That Plain Coat With Splashes Of Color In Accessories

AP Feature Service
A "good cloth coat," wise choice of the girl on a budget, is a challenge to one's ingenuity. It can be a very plain costume indeed. If a girl is so unimaginative as to team it up with nothing more exciting than a decent black hat, black gloves, black bag.
But if she'll dip her hand into color, she can make her cloth coat costume something very special.
An inexpensive and entertaining road to color is through I-made-them-myself accessories.

Shown here is an accessory trio in bright plaid wool which would lend personality to a mouse. Turban, scarf, and capacious muff bag—all are easy to make from a few yards of wool.
Also sketched are a belt-and-mittens set of bright velveteen embroidered in vibrant-colored wool flowers. These, too, you can make yourself, from a half-yard of velveteen and wear as a badge of individuality against your dark cloth coat.

Annual Series Of HD Tours Is Launched

Home demonstration club women launched their annual series of tours Friday with a tour through the northern part of the county, and prepared to resume the function for a visit to clubs to the south.

The view inspected a miscellaneous exhibit at the home of Mrs. Edward Simpson in the Vealmoor club, seeing a pantry of home canned products and a display of kitchen and bedroom articles. After a program of games, songs and readings, the group moved to the home of Mrs. K. N. Adams of the Knott club to view a kitchen demonstration featuring linoleum, refinished walls and woodwork, new window curtains, a new cabinet, with sink and drain board of enamel and an ice box built into the pantry and opening on the kitchen. In addition she had a completely improved bathroom. The women had a covered dish lunch at the Knott church.

She had 348 containers of 25 varieties of home canned foods, still has part to kill for the winner, supplied home needs with dairy and poultry products, and surplus cream and eggs brought almost as much as other food cost. The pantry was organized and arranged according to extension service requirements.

Lauds Hospitality Of Big Spring

The Herald has received the following communication from H. H. Thompson, Santa Monica, Calif.
"It has been my misfortune to have a serious accident near the border of your city. But I would like to say that I have never been accorded more hospitable treatment than in this city. There is an air of friendliness which makes a heart, heavy laden, beat a little more freely. Your state police, hospital, garages, hotels, telephone operators and the citizens in the street have all been friendly and offered their services in any way they might be of help.
"If Big Spring was as big as the hearts of its citizens, it would be the biggest city in the world. I am sure that I express the feeling of appreciation of my parents and Mrs. (James) H. Thompson.
"Trusting that the future of this city may always be prosperous and that it will never lose its friendliness, I remain—H. H. Thompson."

KEEPS WHITE HOUSES WHITER

Painters, home owners praise this new DuPont House Paint
It's brilliantly white... tough... durable! Du Pont House Paint keeps houses beautiful because it stays moist! Here's why—
Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder washed away by heavy rains, carries the dirt with it, and exposing a soft white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the film are not abnormally affected. Its economy lies in the fact that it retards the time between paintings. Remember: Du Pont House Paint costs less than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!

Editorial

The very fact that we are in the midst of a rapidly changing world lends double significance to the observance in the next six days of National Education Week.

We in America are justly proud of our public school system, for there never before has been anything comparable to it on the face of the globe. It is one of the bulwarks of our democracy, based as it is on a free and informed people.

We in America should be concerned about our schools, for to them are entrusted the young minds to whom—however trite the saying may be—must be entrusted the charge of preserving our democracy.

The task is one which educators have met with admirable fortitude and ability. Yet the schools belong to the people, and it is the solemn duty of the people to examine their schools, to see if they are moving wholly in the right direction, if they are carrying out a program of education with maximum effectiveness.

It is no little thing that we have succeeded largely in overcoming illiteracy, but there should be no sense of false security in this accomplishment, for mere literacy is not education. It is the stepping stone to real education. The presence of so many fine educational plants the length and breadth of this nation is a splendid testimonial to the faith of the country in its school systems, yet education is a process of the mind and soul and not alone in raising beautiful buildings. They are only conducive of learning.

Yes, we have come far in developing our educational facilities, and in the actual program itself. But many problems are yet unsolved. Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of the University of Texas, cited one the other day in saying that the greatest challenge to American schools in the national defense programs is providing means to bridge the gap between school and a job, of impressing "our schools with the need of providing the training that youth needs in industry."

This week we should visit our schools, familiarize ourselves with their mechanics and objectives, and appraise them. We should go in with open minds, well aware that the schools are an instrument of the people, and that our school must educate legions for many things. We should seriously study the process and then make honest suggestions to those we have in charge. This is the way we can really insure the effectiveness of our schools. School administrators, thirsting for evidence of public interest, will welcome us.

The Herald's Serial Story

Chapter 27
RESCUE PARTY
The sun was setting behind the western hills before the three were missed from the monastery. The gates had been closed for the night and the old abbot had sent to inquire if the child were in the visitors' apartment.

Temu and Chan, just returning, discovered the girl's absence. Temu noticed they had worn their wraps and taken the binoculars from the shelf. Nothing else was missing. "Run away!" asked Chan. Temu shook his head. "Gone scouting."

As they went into the courtyard, others appeared looking for the child. Then a serving monk remembered seeing him, the Tami, and the red-headed one walk up the narrow alley between the houses to the north gate. Bula, who had been hanging around the stables all day, appeared and told of noticing the trio on the hill back of the monastery early in the afternoon. No one had seen them return.

The tremulous old abbot began to weep lest he had lost his elder brother by death a second time. Temu ordered Bula to saddle horses and follow him while he and one of the monks hastened toward the north gate.

In the fading light they climbed the hill to the spot where Lynn, attempting to return, had been intercepted. Bula, riding one horse and leading two others, overtook them.

Possibly more significant, however, than all these purely strategic reasons for the attack on Greece, is what appears to be the axis plan to keep Russia out of the war. Before the war, Germany offered Russia better trade arrangements than the British, in return for non-aggression. Russia broke off with Britain, signed with Germany.

Germany attacked and subdued Poland, after first guaranteeing Russia a generous slice of the spoils. Germany occupied or dominated Norway, Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, France and Spain. Russia kept hands off. The Germans kept hands off while Russia dominated or occupied Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Hesse-Rubia, Bukovina. Germany won 400,000 square miles, 75,000,000 people. Russia got 185,000 square miles, 22,000,000 people.

Then came Rumania. All Russia got out of German occupation there was an agreement to share control of the strategic mouth of the Danube.

way from the south to strengthen the garrison at Tustin, had bivouached for the night. They were rather a sorry lot of conscripts; half in uniform and the others wearing their workaday blue.

The commander had already dropped into his customary opium stupor. His aide, Major Tain, an alert and soldierly young fellow, saluted Temu and walked with him among the men squatted about their tiny fires. Few had new and decent weapons, although they had brought along an ancient cannon, but no ammunition.

Temu presented credentials to Major Tain and spoke crisply. "I shall take command of your men for the time being. They are to make a forced march west to the Mohammedan stronghold of Kiah-yu. We'll leave a guard about your commander's tent."

The major spoke doubtfully. "These men are untrained. None of their ancestors, when called upon to bear arms, were ever expected to march or fight at night." "They'll obey me."

At a second quick scrutiny of Temu's face the major seemed inclined to agree. There were men who could mould circumstances; Temu Darin was one of these men.

The next instant the company of Mongols and Tibetans from the lamassery in cavalry formation broke from the mouth of the canyon and came cantering across the plain in warlike array. They had thrown aside their religious robes and taken up gay banners, swords, and rifles hastily blessed in the temple.

At sight of them the Chinese soldiers seized their weapons and began to huddle. Temu jumped to a commanding position on the cannon carriage and spoke swiftly in Chinese.

There was no muttering, no delay—only the temporary confusion of a timid people hastening to obey the commands of one they recognized as a leader. A detachment of horsemen took charge of the cannon. Another was detailed to stop at the monastery for whatever could be used as ammunition for the weapons.

Temu gave the command and the soldiers began their forced march with lama outriders surrounding them.

Morning saw the Mohammedan fortress surrounded by a reinforcement of foot soldiers and patrolled by mounted men, the one piece of artillery trained on the great iron-studded wooden gate in the south wall.

Temu gave the command to fire. The rumble of falling brick and the shriek of splintering wood followed the dull roar of the cannon. An upper corner of the gate disappeared in a jagged hole and a part of the tower wall fell away.

Surprised defenders armed with ancient flintlocks swarmed the walls dismayed at the sight. Dismayed not at the sight of foot soldiers backed by mounted men completely surrounding the stronghold, but at the one piece of artillery that would rip out the strong-studded wooden gate and shatter brick walls.

Temu raised a flag of truce. The simple but civilized Chinese understood this kind of warfare despite the strain of fanaticism. Turkoman blood in their veins. The leaders met in the roadway before the gate and arranged the terms of surrender. Major Tain, with a small detail of soldiers would take control of the town.

The people had never known such a peace. There was no demand that their chiefs be executed or property be confiscated. The hungry would be fed, the naked clothed. Disarmed, the inhabitants might retain their homes and go about their business. Followed by a picked guard of mounted men, Temu rode into the town.

At the sound of the cannon that morning there had been a fight between dissenting factions. One group desired the prisoners killed at once in a frantic, senseless feeling of revenge. Another wished to keep them for bargaining purposes. The latter won in the scuffle that followed and managed to conduct the captives inside the courtyard and to secure the gate against the mob crying for their death.

Peggy began weeping afresh at the sight of Temu, but the strange, set silence in Lynn's face really frightened him. He put an affectionate arm around the little Buddha and patted Peggy's shoulder, assuring her that everything was all right now, though his eyes were all for Lynn. He led them to a room in the magistrate's house and had servants bring water for bathing, clean clothing, and food.

Later Lynn set the breakfast table, garbed in a rich, blue satin gown from the wardrobe of the magistrate's number-one wife, Peggy in green, and little Tsong in yellow, had somewhat recovered their spirits. Peggy begged Temu to annihilate the village. "These people are worse than beasts!" she cried vehemently. "They're not fit to live!"

Lynn quietly toyed with her food, her blue eyes shadowed, her face colorless, the chill of an infinite desolation in her bones. Watching her, Temu explained to the other:

"I am a soldier, and in this age, the work of a soldier is to preserve life and protect the people. I grant you they are beasts—poor, starving beasts at bay—but you were protected by powers you do not comprehend."

Peggy sniffed. "That's being sentimental. One would think you didn't have courage to kill them."

"Courage?" he inquired absently. "There are two kinds of courage. I hope I have either as the occasion may require." He smiled and touched Lynn's arm to attract her attention, wishing to draw her interest away from that inner obsession that seemed to possess her. "Lynn," he asked, "haven't you seen me display both the courage of violence and the courage of perseverance?"

"Yes, Temu," she answered passively. "Then, defend me with Peggy." She smiled vaguely and said nothing. He rose and sent the others away to rest and ordered the table removed. Then he came and sat on the edge of the kang beside Lynn.

"What is it?" he asked gently. She raised her eyelids as if they were leaden and gave him a half-blind, trance-like stare. "Those pitiful folk," she murmured. "Eating grass and the soil of the hills. Clavering and fighting."

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—The Italian attack on Greece has the double purpose of (1) opening the battle of the Mediterranean and (2) walling off Russia from the war once again.

That's the opinion of experts here. Greece was chosen as the curtain raiser for the battle of the Mediterranean for four reasons: 1. Direct Italian thrusts at Egypt thus far have failed to loosen the British grip on the Suez gateway. (Hitler was at Mussolini's side when the newest plan was launched.)

2. The struggle for Greece diverts British strength from both Gibraltar and Suez, making easier a German sally at Gibraltar and a continuing Italian drive at Egypt and the Suez. That's an adaptation of the familiar German plan, to dart at the enemy's center, then envelop him.

3. If the Greeks are worsted, the Germans and Italians can button up the last button on the Balkans—the Salonika gateway. That's the only gap left open for a future British effort to rescue the Balkans from the axis.

4. A victorious Italy might acquire hundreds of Aegean islands which, up to now, have been ideal bases of operations for the British East Mediterranean fleet. These islands would be stepping stones to Suez for the Italian fleet. (And so would be Syria, by the way, if France agrees to let the axis use her colonies as bases.)

Possibly more significant, however, than all these purely strategic reasons for the attack on Greece, is what appears to be the axis plan to keep Russia out of the war.

Before the war, Germany offered Russia better trade arrangements than the British, in return for non-aggression. Russia broke off with Britain, signed with Germany.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—When Kay Kyser was in Hollywood making his 2nd motion picture, "You'll Find Out," he ran into a little apparatus called the sonovox. He brought it to New York with him and every night now at the Waldorf his fans are given an unusual show.

The sonovox is a gadget that transfers the human voice to a musical instrument. A singer holds a couple of black, globe like objects against his throat and goes through the motion of singing—but silently. At the same time, the sax player toots a tune. Wires connect the globes to the sax and out of it comes the actual singing words of the vocalist but in the saxophone's own voice. It produces a most unusual effect.

You probably are saturated with patriotic songs by this time (the music publishers are, even if you are not. They have had literally thousands of manuscripts submitted to them). But here comes the first "crowd" song that has made the grade. It is a number called "There Must Be An Easier Way to Make a Living," and it tells the story of Private Buck McGinnis, a former rich man's son who is facing the hard logic of the blistered heel in the government army camps.

This is one of those things with endless verses, designed for men to sing a la "Mile From Gay Paree."

Harry Link of the Feist Company thought such a thing would be a good idea in view of new draftees taking off for various camps throughout the country, and he told Harry Woods, Charlie Tobias, and Sam H. Stept to see what they could do. It's a peach.

Here's the way it goes:
"Private Buck McGinnis, who used to sleep 'til three . . . now gets up at dawn—when they blow Reveille. . . They march him and they drill him, 'til he's completely out. . . When he hits the bunk, you'll hear him shout. . . Oh. . . There must be an easier way to make a living, there must be an easier way to get along. . . I'm in the army now, and I'm learning fast, and how. . . There must be an easier way to make a living."

Note: No good for solos. . . It's designed strictly for gobs of marching men.

Helen Hayes will wear jodhpurs in "Twelfth Night." . . "Suzanna and the Elders" is a comedy about communal centers, with plural marriages its central theme. . . Leopold Stokowski, who recently returned from South America, has made a symphonic arrangement of a simple rumba. . . When his friend Enric Madriguera heard of this he said, "I know exactly how he feels. . . You ought to hear my conga arrangement of Orchi Chornia." . . The son of a former president of a South American republic (later assassinated) is a dancer in New York. . . He has been here for six weeks.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—They like Franchot Tone on the set of "Trail of the Vigilantes."

They haven't given him an ice-water shower, as Mischa Auer received when the script specified merely a shower, but they don't spare him otherwise. Those fun-loving Rover Boys—Brod Crawford and Andy Devine—let their "ribs" fall where they may, and Director Allan Dwan, after Franchot has finished a scene, clucks with mock admiration: "Isn't he wonderful!"

To all of which our Franchot smiles, untroubled, and joins in.

This is worth recording only because, on this set, few had been prepared to like Franchot. This shows how players can get themselves placed in a hearsay niche. Franchot's, in advance, was the niche reserved for the aloof, the slightly superior, the I-don't-like-Hollywood type, the humorless actor. How players get assigned to these niches is another matter, with its roots in gossip and rumor which are the soil of Hollywood. It'd like to give you today's Franchot, back on the sets after a year and a half on the stage. He's between scenes in his canvas dressing room, still in his cowboy clothes, and sprawling lankily in a sitting-stretching position across the studio couch.

"No," he said, "I'm not going back to the stage—unless I get a haljuva good play. But most of the good playwrights are writing pictures, and most plays can be done better on the screen. I think it's good for actors to get back once in a while. Freshens 'em up, just as a change is good for everybody in any field. I needed to get back, myself, to appreciate picture-making more. The stage isn't hard—24 hours a week at best, but it's confining. Here you do something new every day, you can find laughs on the set. You can find gags on the stage, too, but it had better be of stage, and in whispers. Here they help you cry—with menthol. You can cry on the stage, too, with a mentholated handkerchief. It's the same business—there you do it all together, here you do it piecemeal, and they're both all right. Stage and screen both have their screwball side—like the whole entertainment business."

As if bearing him out, an assistant poked his head in the door: "Franchot, we need the back of your right ear."

"Then I'll comb just the right side of my hair," said Franchot, and so doing, went to do his bit. Afterward he resumed:

"Generally I find movies easier. The parts I've been doing on the stage have been pretty much a nervous strain. Emotional stuff. Great parts, but they wore me down. In 'Fifth Column' I had a long final speech. Kept trying to top myself and came up finally with strained vocal cords. On the other hand, there are tough days in pictures. . . ."

In other words, Franchot is glad, very glad, to be back.

and walling, lest they lose their pitiful lives."
"Go on," he said.
"Assailed by misery and haunted by visions of madness and death." She looked down at her cold hands folded on her lap. "I joined them last night; ate with them, felt their sorrow, their despair. And somehow, I've lost the will to live. Something strange has happened to me. I can't come back."
A spasm of fear crossed Temu's face. He took one of her hands in his strong, warm clasp.
"Listen to me, Lynn. Life and I claim you. We call you back. You are tired; you've come through emotional experiences that would try people calloused and accustomed to them. Last night you identified yourself too closely with these suffering humans and let the spirit of despair take hold of you. Now it is morning; the sun is shining and I am here to feed them and protect you. I call you back."
Seeing his words made no impression, he gripped her arms and cried, "You must come out of this, Lynn! Would it do any good if I shook you—if I beat you?"
Two tears rolled down her cheeks to the corners of her mouth. "I am beaten, Temu."
"The not," he said, and took her in his arms, kissing her eyes, her mouth, her throat. He drew her back against the cushions and held her close to his strong, warm body, cupping her back to life with tender words and caresses.
To be continued.

WPA Finds Out Why Our Forebears Didn't Shave
DERRFIELD, Mass. (UP)—The high cost of shaves may account for the number of beards worn in 1706.
A barber's bill found by the WPA historical records survey charges John Crosby two pounds (about $10) for 20 shaves. And it cost him nine pounds (about $45) for a "wigg for your Lady."

WE MUST KEEP FAITH WITH HIM

TODAY belongs to America's Unknown Soldier who died to preserve our liberties. His was the victory of the battlefield. But the shot and shell he braved are only final weapons in the vast new arsenal of war. The first invasion of a nation no longer summons men to battle. It strikes them in silence in their homes.

This invisible attack—designed to undermine our national defense by shattering the unity of our civilian forces—calls for safeguards against Fifth Column propaganda. J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, declares:

"When acts of sabotage are discovered we can take steps to frustrate such plots. But the Fifth Column conspirators realize that the unity of civilian forces is as important as unified armed forces. So these traders in treachery are at work not only in military and naval circles, but in every sphere of our civic and social life.... Using bigotry and prejudice as weapons of internal destruction, they are trying to divide and destroy American loyalties by setting

America's Unknown Soldier died to preserve our heritage of freedom. Today we must re-consecrate ourselves to those ideals by service, not only in military defense, but also in combating the alien propaganda which seeks to weaken our nation by dividing the people.

neighbor against neighbor, class against class, religion against religion...."

"First, they fool unsuspecting individuals, telling them all their troubles are caused by some particular group or class.

"Second, those who are fooled pass this misinformation to their friends in a whispering campaign of vicious untruths and cruel slander.

"Third, by creating discord and confusion they hope to tear America apart with the same class and religious antagonisms that have destroyed other countries."

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S.—America's overseas veterans—believe this total attack requires a total defense and that all patriotic citizens must be alert to Fifth Column propaganda invented to shatter our unity. In maintaining this phase of our national defense we are defending the fundamental spirit of Americanism against its enemies. We are making our main line of defense impregnable. We are keeping faith with our honored dead.
