Ware finished off a carreer day as he scored two of his touchdowns in the fourth guarter to move the Wheeler Mustangs to the next round of the playoffs facing Springlake-Earth. It was an exciting game from the beginning. Wheeler jumped out to a 13-0 first quarter lead when Ware scored his first two touchdowns. Zay McCasland and Andrew Coomer led the way crushing the Mustangs from Claude on the ground. Coomer ended up with 154 yards rushing and Mc Casland add sixty tough yards mostly on short yardage for big first downs. Ware rushed for 94 yards on the night. The game turned out to be Wheeler's rushing game versus Claude's passing game.

Claude climbed back into the

Melvin was born in Curtis, Oklahoma, on August 25,1929. He held multiple jobs in the Oklahoma/Texas Panhandle areas beginning his professional career at the age of 14. He had to guit school and support the family because his father had died from receiving mustard gas in the war. Melvin (Red) and wife Bettye, ("Kewpie" to those in Texas), fell in love with the Buena Vista area when they visited there on their honeymoon in 1950. They moved to Buena Vista in 1961 and have raised six sons there. Red and Bettye spent many years taking photographs, camping, hunting big game and fishing together. Camping with the family was one Onthis greatest enjoyments. Red had a 'can-do' attitude and never was heard to say, "I don't know how to do that." He and his family built their own five-bedroom house in Buena Vista with Red's direction. Having learned from their father, their six sons are also proud of their individual abilities. Red was considered a master welder at his job at Climax where he retired in 1981. If you needed a bridge built, he would build you a bridge, a trailer, repair a truck frame, build you a road or a new garage. There seemed no end to the list of things he could do. The words "I can't" never crossed his lips Survivors include his beloved wife of 62 years, Bettye Sue (Gilmer) Stinnett; brothers, Wrgil and wife, Jean, and Billyall of Dumas, Texas; and Donald and wife, Patsy of Buena Vista, Colorado. They had a good size table in their dining room, which was adequate for the seven in their family. When all our kinfolks got together, the number could rise to more than twenty. With a crowd like that, we couldn't all eat at once. The grown-ups, usually ate first, which is logical, when you think about it from the parents' viewpoint. After we added the ice and salt, we'd fold up a towel and put it on top of the freezer. One kid would sit on the towel, while another would turn the crank. We'd usually have two freezers going at the same time, and were never short of volunteers to help. We didn't have ice year, so we'd have been willing to stand on our heads, if that's what
