Cof C Meets; Membership, Budget, Landscape Discussed

The March Meeting of the Wheeler Chamber Commerce was held Tuesday, March 16, at Dyers Cafe. The meeting was called to order by Chamber President, David Cross. The evening was devoted to business at hand. A budget for the year was presented by Laura Guthrie. The budget calls for an expenditure of $3,000 for an expenditure of $3,000. Included in the budget are those projects which require donations through the year. A report by Membership Chairman, Charles Brown, indicated the drive is underway. An effort will be made to contact everyone and collect dues. However, it is very easy to overlook someone. Dues have been set at $15.00 for an individual membership. Membership is not limited to city dwellers. The chamber needs the ideas and support of each individual interested in the future growth of the county. Checks may be sent to Charles Brown, % First National Bank of Wheeler. Harry Wofford expressed thanks for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Agriculture and Livestock Committee. Through Mr. Wofford, the group expressed thanks to Wheeler firms, clubs and individuals who supported the Top O Texas Livestock Show. Those from Wheeler who financially supported the show through the sale were: Lee Hardware & Furniture, Wheeler Kiwanis Club, Wheeler County Farm Bureau, First National Bank, Mrs. Earnest Lee, Wheeler Chamber of Commerce, Lancaster Department Store, Thomas Daugherty, Harry Wofford, & Harold Lloyd Lee. Dorman Thomas, Wheeler School superintendent, and Joe Weatherly, vice president of the Board of Trustees, presented to the Chamber a plan for the landscaping of the Wheeler School grounds. The Chamber gave its endorsement of the plan and offered its support of the project.

Wheeler Band Rated Excellent

The Wheeler High School Band came out of last Friday's contest at Borger with a (II) in concert and a (II) in sightreading. These are the highest rating the Band has made at Borger in the past few years. The top rating that any band can receive is a (I) and one of the judges gave us a (I) while another of the three judges gave us a (II) with a note saying that he was tempted to give us a one but we needed to polish our performance a little more. Year before last Wheeler made a (V) in concert and a (IV) in sightreading; last year a (III) in concert and a (III) in sight reading. The only bands that made a (I) in concert all day were Borger and Canyon. Class A Ratings were: Wheeler II, Clarendon III, Gruver II, Sanford-Fritch III, Groom II, Sunray IV, Memphis II.

Across the Fence

By Max W. Hatter, CAA

We just completed several spring livestock shows in our area. Last Friday, the Mobeetie Community had their 4-H and FFA show. Last Saturday the Wheeler County Show and sale was held and last Monday, 4-H and FFA members from our county showed their steers pigs at the Top O' Texas Livestock Show and Sale in Pampa. My, the quality of our livestock is increasing. The 4-H and FFA members got every pig in the sale at Pampa, with nearly everyone placing right close to the top. We have been real fortunate to have a lot of support from people in our county in the county sale and Pampa sale. The 4-H and FFA members certainly appreciate the support of our communities in our shows and sales.

Population—if you had five neighbors ten years ago neighbors ten years ago, you'd only have four today. In the past ten years, the Bureau of the Census said that 1 out of every 5 people left the county. Our official count for 1970 was 6,434 compared to 7,947 in 1960. That's a total loss of 20%. The bigger cities have absorbed over 73% of Texas' population growth.

One of these days, winter will be over and spring will be here to stay, and then gardening fever will be on the rise.

Raising your own vegetable garden not only can save on the grocery bill but can assure an abundance of nutritious foods for your family.

Selecting adapted vegetable varieties is a major step in successful gardening. Just as much time is involved, plus labor and an expense, to produce a crop using poorly adapted varieties as it does with proved ones. Plants cost little or more for the varieties that will do best in our area.

Vegetable seed left over from the previous year may or may not be satisfactory for planting. It depends upon the kind of seed and how it was stored. Most unused seed should be stored cool and dry. It's usually cheaper to get seed each year from a reliable seed company.

Soil moisture at planting time is an important factor in getting a good stand. It may be necessary to soak the seedbeds before planting if soil moisture is short. Planting seed should also be treated with the recommended materials to help insure stands of vigorous growing plants. Purchasing healthy plants already growing that can be set directly in the garden is a practice catching on rapidly.

Once the plants are growing good management will insure a longer producing season and vegetables the like of which are hard to find in the grocery stores.

Grasshopper Alert—A survey made last fall showed more than 2.3 million acres of crop and rangeland, mostly on the High and Rolling Plains of Texas, could suffer severe infestations of grasshoppers this spring. Reed Green, Extension survey entomologist, advises farmers and ranchers in the area to keep a close watch on the situation, especially if weather conditions are favorable for a good hatch and survival during the hopper hatching season—April-June.

Texas Cattle Numbers Continue Up—For the sixth consecutive year, the number of cattle in Texas on January 1, 1971 was up, this time by three percent. At the same time, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service released figures on the 1970 calf and lamb crops. For the first time since 1961 lamb and sheep numbers were up by two percent. The calf crop was estimated at 5.4 million head in 1970. Texas cattle on feed on Feb. 1 numbered 1.6 million head, 12 percent above a year earlier.

Peach Disease Common—Regardless of whether peaches are in commercial orchards or in the backyard, they are all subject to several common diseases. We have available information on the diseases and recommendations for their control. It's time to start control programs in our area when blooming gets underway.
