Shanghai's Red Peril Continues To Mount Today

Trains Reported Still Running To Hangchow
SHANGHAI, Sunday, May 1. (AP)— Shanghai's peril mounted Sunday, but indications that it was cut off by rail from the rest of China proved erroneous.

At the same time, the telecommunications administration announced that telephone service had ceased to Kunshan, about 35 miles west of Shanghai.

Other Communist forces were dallying along the westward approach to Shanghai about 35 miles away.

The Nationalist "gold" yuan had become so nearly worthless that there were not enough bank notes to pay salaries.

SOLONS CONSIDERING TRIP

Malmedy Probe May Shift To Europe

WASHINGTON, April 30. — Senators probing the Army's prosecution of Germans for the notorious Malmedy massacre may carry their investigation to Europe. Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.), chairman of an arm'd services subcommittee, told a reporter the trip is being considered, but there has been no decision yet. The group heard conflicting testimony yesterday about the trial and conviction of some of the Nazi storm troopers who lined up unarmed American prisoners in Belgium and mowed them down with machine guns and other weapons. Gordon Simpson, former Texas Supreme Court Justice who made a special trip to Europe to review the trials, testified that there is no doubt all those given death sentences for their part in the massacre "were present and participated." But the Dallas attorney said he and other investigators had recommended life terms instead of death because "I didn't want to see any body hung on a record that may have blemishes in it." Originally, 39 Germans were sentenced to die for their part in the massacre. That number was later cut to six, but the Army department said there will be no executions until the senators finish their investigation. Simpson, like other witnesses said Army investigators had used weird mock trials to try to gain confessions or evidence. But he insisted the commission found no proof of claims that German prisoners had been beaten, maimed by kicks in the groin, had suffered broken jaws and the loss of teeth, or had been starved or otherwise mistreated. "I did not find any proof of beatings and I looked for it," he said. Earlier in the day Simpson had listened as James J. Bailey, veteran court reporter from Pittsburgh, Pa., gave an eye witness account of "brutal, sadistic" treatment of the German prisoners. Bailey said he was overseas to take down "confessions or other so-called" evidence, but that methods used by investigating teams caused him to quit his job in disgust. Simpson told the committee Bailey's testimony was the first "proof" he had heard that there had been any mistreatment. Under questioning, Simpson conceded that he had talked to none of the prisoners, had not asked doctors or dentists to investigate claims of torture and injury and failed to follow up on one affidavit making such charges.

Soviet Frees Three Britons

BERLIN, April 30. — Three British military policemen seized in the Russian sector were released by Soviet authorities today after being detained for 24 hours. The soldiers had been taken into custody while they were investigating a raid by Communist police on a city-owned farm which straddles the British-Soviet sector border. The British immediately protested. Seven British soldiers in all were picked up this week and held in Russian-occupied territory. Four were taken into custody earlier while patrolling on the British zonal border in western Germany. They still are held. Release of the trio was negotiated on an open highway by Soviet Lt. Col. Suronov and British Lt. Col. J. F. Corbett. Suronov said the Britons were well behaved and gave no trouble but added that they were in Russian territory and therefore had to be arrested. Meanwhile, the British and the Russians reached a "friendly" agreement on another vexing incident of the week—the controversy over barge traffic. Brig. E. R. Benson returned from a conference with Gen. P. Kwashnin, Russian transport chief and announced: "We agreed that in the future there will be no interference with western sector watercraft operating in British sector waters."

Wallace Charges Administration With 'Selling Out' U. S. Labor

CHICAGO, April 30. — The Truman Administration is "selling out" labor, says Henry A. Wallace because under the North Atlantic Pact and the "cold war, the military men want control of labor." Wallace told a rally at the Chicago Coliseum last night that "the reactionaries know that if the administration wants an armed pact and an arms economy, it must demand the right to control labor the right to interfere with labor's rights." The 1948 Progressive Party presidential nominee said that the vote on repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law "is directly connected with the vote on the pact... the administration, the papers tell us, is willing to 'compromise' with reaction on Taft-Hartley. "Every time Truman makes a belligerent talk, we have a new national emergency—in his mind, at least. Every other compromise is a direct and open interference with the right of labor to run its own affairs—loyalty oaths, union financial statements, 'free speech' for employers which means freedom to attack unions—where do all these come from if not from the determination to interfere with labor's rights. "These are not compromises. In the plain words of labor, these are sell-outs. And the administration sells out labor because under the pact and the cold war the military men want control of labor. "When we sign the pact, we sign away our freedom. We don't need a military alliance that divides the world into armed camps, that destroys the united nations, that pre-

Yanks Told To Stay Indoors As Jap Reds Celebrate May Day

TOKYO, April 30. — General MacArthur's headquarters suggested today that Americans stay indoors tomorrow when Japan's Communists and Labor groups celebrate May Day. An announcement, first of its kind since the occupation began, said occupation personnel not on duty should stay out of the way of marchers to "avoid accidents." Communists predict 600,000 Japanese will turn out at the Imperial Plaza in downtown Tokyo for the celebration. In South Korea, U. S. Army authorities suggested that Americans avoid crowds. Seoul police arrested about 100 Koreans as a precaution against Communist-directed May Day violence.

CONGRESS EXPECTED TO AGREE

New Farm Program Slated For 'Trial Run' In Hog Market

WASHINGTON, April 30. — The Truman Administration hopes to give its new farm program a "trial run" in the hog market this year. By this it hopes to win congressional approval for the entire plan. Its leaders believe that both consumers and farmers will go for the program in a big way, once they have seen it in action. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan requested that he be allowed to apply the program's principle to the hog market soon. There are indications Congress may agree. In its broad outline, the new plan is in some ways similar to the present program. The major difference is in their method of assuring farmers prices designed to keep them fairly prosperous. The present program takes a part of the farm output off the market when prices fall below predetermined levels. The new plan would use a different method. The administration says, in effect, removal of supplies from the market is bad. Why? Because it takes away food that consumers need. Also because it makes the public pay through taxes to finance the farm program for food which it does not get. It should be explained that the new plan would not change the present method of supporting prices of storable crops—such as cotton, tobacco, wheat, corn, rice, other grains, peanuts, flaxseed, soybeans, dry beans and peas, and wool. Likewise, it would keep provisions of the present program designed to keep government purchases and reserve stocks from becoming excessively costly and large. Those provisions include planting allotments and marketing quotas, devices used to limit production to a desired level. But on perishables—pork, beef, lamb, milk, dairy products, eggs, poultry, and major fruits and veg-ables—a big change in price-support method is proposed. Under the existing program, the government must step into the market and buy a sufficient quantity of the perishables to keep producer prices from falling below a guaranteed level. Of course, there is no buying as long as prices remain above this level. Foods bought by the government seldom ever get back into the market. As far as the public is concerned, they were just not produced. The government sends them overseas, or diverts them into less desirable by-products. In some cases, it has been necessary to dump them. The administration plan would allow the whole production of perishables to move into the market. It would not interfere with prices. If they fell below the level which the government said the farmer should get, nothing would be done about it. The administration says, however, that the farmer would not suffer financially. It says he would get as much—and perhaps more—under the new plan as under the present one. If the free-moving price dropped below the return which the government said the farmer should receive for his particular product or products, the government would make up the difference in the form of a payment. That is, he would get the difference between the average market price for a marketing season and the guaranteed return—not the difference between the prices he actually got and the promised return. This provision for paying him on the basis of the average price is designed to encourage him to make the best possible deal. If he got more than the average market price, he would be just that much ahead. The consumer also benefits the way the administration figures it. In the first place, the whole supply moves to market. None is drained out of the supply into less desirable uses or stored to hold up prices. If the supply is too large to hold prices at the farmer's guaranteed return level, the consumer gets lower prices. Critics charge—and the administration denies—that the plan would "regiment" farmers with a far-reaching new control system, and its cost would be too high.

Western Nations Get Yugoslavian Apology

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 30. — Yugoslavia apologized Friday for discourtesies suffered by diplomats of five western nations. The United States, Britain, France, Belgium and Italy protested that their representatives were prevented from performing routine duties and subjected to discourteous treatment by militiamen last Sunday. The incidents occurred during a mass demonstration in honor of the memory of Djure Djakovich, Communist hero, slain 20 years ago for refusing to disclose party secrets.

'PRACTICALITY' URGED BY MORROW

Ask Prompt End To Row Over Tidelands

BY TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Prompt settlement of the long standing dispute between the states and the federal government over tidelands ownership was advocated today by Wright Morrow, of Houston, Democratic National Committeeman.

He withheld outright endorsement of a compromise plan which has been suggested by Rep. Lyle (D-Tex.), but said "We have to be practical" and reach a solution.

Under Lyle's proposal the States and the Federal Government would give each other 50 per cent of the proceeds from oil produced under coastal waters in the respective jurisdictions of each.

Morrow said he did not know if a mutually satisfactory compromise could be worked out, but added: "There is no question whatever in my mind as to the ownership. Texas has to its off shore coast land. The entire question of ownership is in dispute, however, and we have to be practical in facing the problem and getting the matter settled.

"I think that in view of the importance that oil development in the Gulf has to the national defense and to the propagation of the Texas school funds, it is a matter that should be disposed of as early as possible."

He observed that oil in the tidelands "does no one any good" if it is not developed.

Lyle plans to incorporate his views into legislation which he said he hopes to have ready soon.

Under his plan Texas, which claims title to land three leagues (approximately 10 miles) seaward, would give the government one-half of the royalties on oil produced in that area. The government would give Texas 50 per cent of the proceeds from oil produced from the three league line seaward to the limit of the continental shelf, a distance of about 180 miles.

In states other than Texas, which is in a unique position because of terms under which it joined the union, the state jurisdiction would extend only three miles seaward.

Rites For Coburn Set Wednesday At Fort Sam Houston

Reburial services for T-Sgt. Paul H. Coburn, who gave his life in action in a B-29 crash in China, will be held in the Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery, Fort Sam Houston, on Wednesday.

His mother, Mrs. P. H. Coburn Sr., 610 Nolan street, said that services would be set for 2 p. m.

Sgt. Coburn was a native of Big Spring and was graduated from the Big Spring High school, where he was an all-district grid player.

He died in a B-29 blast Oct. 25, 1944 in China, four years after he had entered the service. He had training at Fort Bliss and Salina, Kans. before going overseas to India.

Surviving him are his mother; two brothers, F. W. Coburn, Big Spring, and Maj. George C. Coburn, who currently is stationed in Yokohama, Japan, where his family recently joined him.

Mrs. Garnier Charged With Murdering Boss

RIVERSIDE, Calif., April 30. (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Garnier, 33, is under indictment today, charged with murdering her wealthy boss, John E. Owen, a friend of Actress Irene Rich.

Mrs. Garnier confidential secretary of the slain man, was not subpoenaed by the Riverside County grand jury. The only six witnesses called Friday were sheriff's investigators and employees of Owen's palatial ranch home, Owen, 68, president of the National Apartment House Owners Association was fatally shot there April 22.

Mrs. Garnier, who had remained calm and poised since her arrest, fell sobbing Friday into the arms of her son, Franklin Stephens of Lincoln, Neb., who tried to comfort her in her jail cell.

The grand jury's entry into the case came as a surprise both to Mrs. Garnier and her attorney, Sam Houston Allen.

"I understood there would be a preliminary hearing May 3," she said, "when I would have the opportunity to tell the whole story of what happened."

A N. said he was not notified of the grand jury investigation and learned about it through newspaper reports.

The grand jury heard testimony a little more than two hours and returned its true bill after brief deliberation. The indictment is returnable next Monday, when Mrs. Garnier will be arraigned.

Mrs. Garnier contends the shooting occurred accidentally during a scuffle while Owen was intoxicated.

In Los Angeles, meanwhile, Owen's brother, C. A. Owen, filed a petition for letters of administration of the Owen estate. The petition lists the value of the estate in California at $159,529. Owen also had ranch property in Arizona and Colorado.

Owen's will, if any, has not been located. Owen's widow, Florence, and two daughters, Mrs. Madeline Trippe and Mrs. Doris Jane Littleton, are listed in the petition as heirs at law.

Claimant To Fields Estate Says Mother Paid Hush-Money

LOS ANGELES, April 30. (AP)—William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims he is the son of the W. C. Fields and a former Folies girl, says that the late comedian once paid his mother $13,000 to hush up the birth.

Morris, 31, now a Dallas airline office manager, arrived here Friday to confer with attorneys before the Monday hearing on his suit for a son's share of Fields' estate.

He said that Fields paid his mother, Bessie Chatterton Peoly Morris, $13,000 for an affidavit denying that she had borne Fields a son, and added payments of $125 a month before her death after a New York night club party in 1928.

The claimant said he learned "Fields was my father" in 1937 and came to Hollywood to see the actor "but he gave me $100 and told me the best thing for me was to go back East." Later, Morris said, Fields refused him $100 to enter college in Texas.

The will Morris is fighting leaves most of a $771,428 estate to Fields' brother and sister and a secretary, Carlotta Monti.

Mother Kills Blind Three Year Old, Self

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—A shadow fell over the life of Mrs. Alice McGeough, 36, when her youngest child, Allen, was born blind.

Yesterday—three years later—she and the boy were found dead in a gas-filled cellar of their Queens home. Her arms still hugged his body.

A note left for the oldest of her other four children, Jackie, 16 said:

"Here's a dollar. Take care of the other children. You know I've been unhappy and sick. I'm taking the little fellow with me. I can't go on. Mom always loved you kids, but try to understand."

Another note said:

"I'm at the end of my rope. I know you will understand why I can't leave Duke."

"Duke" was the family's pet name for the blind child.

Mrs. McGeough's husband, John, said his wife had brooded ever since Duke was born blind. The husband was at work when the tragedy occurred.

TRUCE UNTIL TUESDAY DECLARED

Truman Dems Fight To Save Labor Bill In House

WASHINGTON, April 30. (P.) — Worried administration Democrats buckled down Saturday to the job of saving their labor bill from defeat in the House. They took a severe beating Friday. But they had three days more to round up votes against a substitute bill supported by a strong confident House bloc of Republicans and southern Democrats. After winding up their fourth stormy day of labor debate, leaders of both parties agreed to a truce until Tuesday. The House will take up other business Monday. On the record, both sides still predicted victory. Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the labor committee, sponsor of the administration bill declared House leaders have enough pledges, including some from Republicans, to fight off the substitute offered by

Rep. Wood (D-Ga.). Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.), a member of the GOP Policy Committee, told reporters the Wood bill will be passed next week. Privately, some administration lieutenants told reporters they believed they had lost ground during the last two days of debate. But they insisted that the ground could be regained over the week end. Their drive for votes got a big push from Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.). Rayburn, who seldom takes the floor for or against any measure, announced he will speak against the Wood bill next week. His brief speeches usually carry considerable weight with both Republicans and Democrats. The speaker refused, however, to comment on a report that he will state administration willingness to accept some amendments to the Lesinski bill. That measure would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and put in its place a revamped Wagner Act including some changes recommended by President Truman. During Friday's hectic debate the House refused, 275 to 37, to throw out the present law and reenact the original Wagner Act intact—just as it was on the books from 1935 to 1947. The Wood bill would repeal the present law, but then it would restore almost all its provisions. The administration was whipped on vote after vote Friday, although far from the full strength of the House was present at any time. The GOP-Dixie coalition put three amendments into the Wood bill, all designed to gain support for the measure. Each change would relax some provision of the Taft-Hartley law.

Guard Unit Will Hold Rifle Drill

Rifle and pistol practice is slated at 2 p. m. today for members of Battery B, 132nd Field Artillery, the Big Spring National Guard unit. Capt. T. A. Harris said that the session would be held on the range at the Big Spring Army Air base and suggested that hikers steer clear of the area just southeast of the airbase area. The session is for purposes of familiarization, and the men will fire 10 rounds each with carbine and pistol. Purpose is to acquaint them with weapons prior to departure for summer camp. He estimated 25 men would fire today. An advance detachment of 12 men will leave June 2 for North Camp Hood and that the remainder would leave on June 5. Camp dates are June 5-19, and a local re-guard detachment will return on June 22. The local battery meets weekly at 8 p. m. at the armory on the air base and Capt. Harris said that the present strength of 42 men could be about doubled before maximum strength is listed. Men interested in enlistment are urged to be at the armory any Monday evening for details.

Cotton Classing Rules Unchanged

Plans for handling the 1949 cotton classing and market news services available to farmers without cost under the Smith-Dooley Act were announced by Mr. H. J. Matejowsky, in charge of the Abilene office of the cotton branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which serves this area. "Farmers should apply for these services just as they did last year," Matejowsky said. To be eligible for the free cotton classing and market news services, he pointed out that farmers must meet these requirements: 1. belong to a group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton; 2. plant part of his acreage in the variety of cotton adopted by the group; 3. file an application as soon as the cotton is planted. Groups in this area should mail their application to U. S. Department of Agriculture, PMA, Cotton Branch, P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, Texas. "To make sure farmers secure all the benefits due them under this program, their group application should reach our office by July 1," Mr. Matejowsky said.

An Old Story—With New Twist

SEATTLE, April 30. (P.) — It was one of those storybook scripts: The bases full, one out in the last of the ninth, the score tied, 3-all, and the count three and two on high school hitter Bob Stephenson. Then the script went haywire. It was raining hard, so Umpire Leo Taylor called the game.

GOP Seeking Five Per Cent Cut In Expenses

WASHINGTON, April 30. (P.) — The administration fought back today against a Republican-led drive to cut five per cent off the government's operating expenses. Senator Myers of Pennsylvania acting Democratic leader, told reporters an attempt will be made next week to restore a $11,440,000 slash in funds of the labor and federal security departments. This cut was ordered by the Senate by a 44 to 37 vote last Thursday which sent the $2,400 millions bill back to the Appropriations Committee. The five per cent cut proposed by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) would apply only to department operating funds, which make up but a small part of the bill carrying money for social security and other payments to states. Ferguson's latest attempt to apply a five per cent cut—this time to the $3,112 million treasury-post office money bill—was beaten in the Appropriations Committee yesterday by a 13 to 4 poll vote. Passage significantly, the poll was taken after Chairman McKellar (D-Tex.) and Senators Hayden (D-Ariz.) and Russell (D-Ga.) had conferred at the White House with President Truman. McKellar and Hayden denied the Republican Economy drive had been discussed. But the three Democrats later joined eight other members of their party and two Republicans—Senators Cordon of Oregon and Young of North Dakota—to vote down Ferguson's motion. Ferguson announced he will bring the proposal before the Senate.

Texas Dental Meet To Open Monday

HOUSTON, April 30. (P.) — The Texas State Dental Society and two affiliated organizations open state conventions here Monday with an anticipated attendance of 2,400. Meeting in conjunction with the sixty-ninth annual dental convention will be the women's auxiliary and the Texas State Dental Assistants Association. Business sessions of the three groups are to continue through Thursday. A public meeting will be held Monday night at the Shamrock Hotel, with Dr. Robert G. Kesel, Chicago, faculty member of the University of Illinois Dental School, as the principal speaker. He will discuss methods of controlling dental decay. The chiefs of the dental services of the Army, Navy, and Air Force will speak Tuesday night. They are Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Smith, Army; Rear Admiral Clem V. Bault, Navy; and Brig. Gen. George R. Kennebeck, Air Force.

Wool Judging Course Set Here Saturday

A special short course in wool and mohair judging, the first of its kind ever scheduled in Howard county, will be conducted next Saturday for 4-H club members, County Agent Durward Lewter has announced.

Jim Gray, San Angelo, will be visiting instructor. He plans to have available enough fleeces for 4-H club show building at the former Army Air Field during the club members to practice judging, and all of those attending will judge several classes of breeding sheep for practice. Visitors will be welcome at the 4-H club show building at the former Army Air Field during the club members to practice judging, class work.

Meet The "Seniors" of the COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 42nd of a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

M. H. BOATLER

A Big Springer all his life, and a Cosden associate throughout his working career — that's M. H. Boatler, another on the list of Cosden veterans-in-service

Boatler was born in Big Spring, was reared here, and attended the local schools.

After finishing school, he took his first job with Cosden, as a laborer, joining the company September 19, 1934. In 1936 he was made labor gang pusher, and in 1945 was advanced to maintenance foreman, the position he now holds.

Boatler was married to Miss Edith King, a Big Spring girl, in 1933, and they have one daughter, Wanda Lanell, six years old.

Boatler raises horses as a hobby.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING Contracts Let For Airport Terminal

Big aviation news of the week here was letting of contracts, totaling more than $40,000 for the construction of a new airport terminal building.

Noted Texas Builder Dies

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 30. —David William Quinn, Jr., 46, Fort Worth builder who attained national prominence in federal construction and housing activities, died Saturday.

Bible Club Meeting Thursday Will Be Combination Affair

Final meeting of the Bible club of the Big Spring high school will be combined with the traditional Bible night program in a presentation at the gymnasium Thursday at 8 p. m.

THE WEEK

That's just about as good as stockers get when the whole market was riding the crest.

Cordova shell limestone trim. It will be one of the most modern in the Southwest, and will be located immediately south of the Airport cafe site.

Jack Cook, Mury manager, has been in the air during the latter part of the week and it had nothing to do with mechanical aviation. Instead, one of the oldest fliers—the stork—was responsible.

After a booming day last Sunday, Navy traffic has eased off, but Air Force business, under the new AF contract granted the Mury, has spurred. The overall volume of traffic is about the same.

Other airline schedules (departure times) now are: Continental northbound 9:21 a. m., southbound 8:04 p. m.; Pioneer eastbound 10:02 a. m. and 11:30 a. m. west bound 7:30 p. m.

Andrew J. (Jack) Merrick, who recently soloed here, has passed his aviation cadet exams and will enter training at Goodfellow Field in San Angelo on May 9. He is scheduled to graduate from trainers to jet jobs.

Mowing of grass, stimulated by rains of the past two weeks, will begin Monday at the Mury port. Work also is underway there on the contact runway lighting system.

Mothers of children who will be starting to school for the first time in September are urged to attend a pre-school health program Monday at 3 p. m. in the YMCA headquarters.

Funeral services for Mrs. Miller will be held at 4 p. m. today at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Kyle Miller, Sr., who succumbed Thursday afternoon of heart attack at Brownfield.

17 4-H Clubbers Complete Course Here Saturday

Seventeen 4-H club members of Howard county completed a special course in tractor maintenance conducted Saturday at the club show building on the former Army Air Field site.

At the same time, seven other club members started courses which they plan to complete in the near future. All who complete the course will be eligible for the Howard county team in state contests this summer.

Those who finished the course were: Group No. 1, supervised by O. R. Crow—Ronnie Davidson, Billy Fryar, Woody Coffey, Darrell Robinson; group No. 2, supervised by Warner Robinson—Travis Fryar, Pat Lamb, David Newton, Bennett Moore, Donald Denton; group No. 3, supervised by Buster Shortes—James Fryar, Wayne White, Lewis Rice, Delbert Davidson, Bruce Parker; group No. 4, supervised by Repps Guitler and B. M. Newton—James Shortes, William Crow, Marilyn Guitler.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Miller To Be Held Today

Services will be held at 4 p. m. today at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Kyle Miller, Sr., who succumbed Thursday afternoon of heart attack at Brownfield.

First Rehearsal Of HCJC Religious Play Set Monday

First rehearsal is scheduled Monday evening at Howard County Junior college for "The Eternal Light," a religious production to be presented under sponsorship of the freshman class at the city auditorium May 12-13.

Mrs. Ruth Lewis, representing United Productions, Inc. of Kansas City, Mo. (successor to the Red-path-Horner chautauqua), arrived Saturday to supervise casting and direct the production.

Surplus Food Helps Feed School Children In Big Spring Area

The financial burden of feeding some 6,500 school children in an eight-county area has been lightened considerably during the 1948-49 school year by surplus commodities distributed free by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Walker Bailey, county school superintendent of Howard county, who made the distribution to school cafeterias of Howard, Glasscock, Dawson, Midland, Ector, Ward and Winkler counties, listed the following items as those which had been sent here for disposal under the subsidy program:

Tomato paste, 942 gallons; American cheese, 9510 pounds; concentrated orange juice, 3384 twelve-ounce cans; dried milk 8559 pounds; dried prunes, 9000 pounds; dried eggs, 4368 pounds; drig figs, 3900 pounds; and dried peaches, 6000 pounds.

CITY

required to make their decision pertaining to rental housing shortage at the actual time of the hearing.

No provision is made in the Housing and Rent Act for consideration of rental scales and other related factors at such hearings, it was pointed out.

Several owners of rental properties testified that they had rental units vacant and available for tenants and that vacant units often remained unoccupied over periods of several days, and in some cases weeks, during the past few months.

Statistics showing the number of residential building permits issued by the City of Big Spring from Jan. 1, 1948 to April 20, 1949, and clippings from the classified advertising section of The Daily Herald were presented as evidence for the Owners and Renters Association. T. C. Thomas, president of the association, took the stand and said he had investigated city building records and found permits had been issued for 1,099 dwellings during the above named period.

Anti-Reds Outside Iron Curtain To Counter May Day Propaganda

LONDON, April 30. — Anti-Communists outside the iron curtain plan some stiff competition to the high pressure propaganda blasts the Communists will let fly in Sunday's May Day celebrations.

In the Soviet orbit, where communism has the field to itself, the international labor holiday seemed headed for its old program of denunciations of the United States and Britain. Pravda, official Communist mouthpiece in Moscow, kicked off with a May Day editorial accusing "warmongers" in the U. S. and Britain of "mad plans" to rule the world—plans which it said "will not succeed."

HCJC Head Goes To Austin Monday

E. C. Dodd, president of Howard County Junior college, will be in Austin Monday, representing the legislative committee of the Texas Association of Junior Colleges.

Stock Demands Up Saturday

NEW YORK, April 30.—Demand for stocks picked up a trifle in Saturday's market and leading issues advanced fractions to around a point.

Buying was not aggressive but prices responded easily to small orders.

Turnover was slow even for a Saturday. Business was at the rate of about 300,000 shares for the two hours.

Richfield Oil, one of the few issues showing any signs of activity, moved up more than a point at one time to a new peak for the year. The best gain was later shaded a little.

Others higher included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Studebaker, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, Oliver Corp., American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, United Corp., General Electric, Dew Chemical, Radio Corp., Texas Co., and Twentieth Century-Fox. Declines were noted in Anaconda Copper, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, and Phelps-Dodge.

Others tending to hold back were

LOCAL OIL

Higher Zone Due Test At Vincent

Higher perforations have been made in the Mississippian at Magnolia No. 1-A Garter, wildcat prospect in that horizon in the Vincent area of extreme Northeast Howard county.

A bridging plug was set at 8,250 feet, shutting off perforations at 8,428-44 and 8,450-64 feet, which made considerable water. New perforations were shot in the section of pipe at 8,190-8,215 feet with four shots per foot.

Preparations were being made to swab and test that zone of the Mississippian. Plug-back depth is 8,490 feet. Total depth is 8,542 feet in barren Ellenburger. There were unofficial reports the venture returned about three-fourths of a barrel per hour.

This venture is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 67, block 20, LaVaca Navigation district survey.

Sinclair Prairie Oil company was drilling ahead with its deep wildcat in Northwest Borden county, 11 miles northwest of Gall, the company's No. 1 Sterling Williams was below 8,128 feet penetrating lime and shale.

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Four flankers to the Vealmoor field in Howard county were making hole toward 8,000 feet for tests of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian, regular pay of the pool.

Seaboard No. 2 Archie Hodnett, 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 29, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey was below 7,445 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

Seaboard No. 1 Long, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 33, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey had reached 5,048 feet and was continuing through lime.

Seaboard No. 5 H. N. Zant, 660 feet from east and 662.8 feet from north lines of southwest quarter of section 28, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey was preparing to drill plug on 16 1/4 inch casing set at 1,295 feet.

The other Vealmoor outpost, Seaboard No. 4 H. M. Zant, was shut-in, building tank battery.

It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 28, block 32, T-3-N, T&P Survey.

Seaboard No. 2 Good, west offset to the southwest Borden discovery, was at 2,485 feet in lime. It is in section 37-33-4n, T&P.

New Discovery Looms In Multi-Pay Benedum Area Of Upton County

MIDLAND, April 30.—Possibilities of a new discovery in the Benedum multi-pay area of East-Central Upton county have developed on a drillstem test now in process at Silk-Urachel Oil company and Plymuth Oil company No. 2 Alford, on the extreme east edge of the pool.

The show was on a test in the Fusselman section of the Surlin at 10,788-924 feet, using a 900-foot water blanket. In eight minutes after the tool was opened, the water blanket flowed at the surface.

It was followed immediately by gas and distillate, which blew out strongly for 30 minutes. The well then was shut in. On last report, drillpipe was being pulled.

This prospect is about two and one-half miles southeast of the nearest Fusselman production, Republic Natural Gas company No. 1-E A Barnett, completed as a discovery from that formation. The only other Fusselman well in the field is Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-B Barnett, which is approximately four miles northwest of the No. 2 Alford.

This latest development is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of lot 2, section 50 1/2, P. B. Scott survey.

More hole was being made at Seaboard Oil Company of Del-

Manolia Progresses On Midland Tests

Magnolia Petroleum company was drilling ahead with its two prospectors in Midland county.

In the east part of the county, 12 miles southeast of Midland, the concern's No. 1 Mary Turner, 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 46, block 37, T-2-S, Leonard Leech survey, set seven-inch casing at 7,850 feet.

Magnolia No. 2-30 Roy Glass, in South-Central Midland county, offsetting the same company's Ellenburger discovery to open the Pegasus field of North-Central Upton county, was below 7,756 feet in lime and sandy shale.

It is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Building, Real Estate Activity Slows Up Here

City building and real estate activity settled to a snail's pace during the past week, with five minor repair projects constituting the total for construction work. Estimated costs amounted to a mere $1,225. No warranty deeds were recorded in the county clerk's office. The current city building total for the year is $455,000, while real estate transactions to date have amounted to $582,794.

Bolestered somewhat by out-of-state placements for a group of transient agricultural workers, job referrals increased substantially at the local Texas Employment Commission office. The local office received 78 new job orders, made 163 referrals which resulted in 99 placements. Reception contacts during the week totaled 453, while 56 new work applications totaled 36 and 321 active applications were on file at the end of the week. The Big Spring TP office handled 63 claims actions for unemployment compensation during the week.

Crude Prices Cut As Demand Off

HOUSTON, April 30.—An economic cycle that began with declines in fuel oil demand has reached the producing oil well.

Posted purchase prices for heavy crude in various fields in Texas, Arkansas, and Mississippi have been reduced 25 cents a barrel by several companies.

The oil industry has been blanketed with a fear of tumbling crude prices since Jan. 1 when domestic production began to fall. No signs of alarm, however, have accompanied the adjustments in heavy crude prices which began several weeks ago in Pennsylvania and California.

Winter demand for heavy fuel oils was surprisingly low, leaving stocks at an unprecedented high level. The decline in fuel prices is believed to indicate a normal economic trend and was not unexpected. Reduction of posted crude prices completes the cycle of events which began with the market decline.

The only indication of serious concern this week came from the natural gas industry.

Gardiner Symonds, president of Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, says the reductions in fuel oil prices tend to put the product in direct competition with natural gas in Eastern markets. Soft competition, Symonds believes, must be kept in mind when interstate natural gas pipelines undertake expansion programs.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma and Kansas officials offer further evidence that domestic crude production is leveling off after a four-month decline.

Oklahoma's May allowable has been set at 387,290 barrels daily, unchanged from April. Kansas' May production will be 275,000 barrels daily, the same as the April rate.

Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the State Railroad Commission, says he believes Texas has "reached the bottom" in the crude production cutback trend.

Thompson now believes there may be an increase in production during the peak of summer-travel and tourist demand. The State's allowable has been cut some 800,000 barrels daily since December, including a 54,000 barrel daily cut-back for May.

FROM DEEP LIME

Flush Scurry Has More Oil Strikes

Oil-flush Scurry county continued to hold West Texas limelight this week with completion of another Canyon lime strike and the first Ellenburger producer.

Sunray (formerly Ryan, Jays & Burke and others) No. 1 R. B. Brown, Canyon lime discovery in Scurry county, completed for natural flow of 432 barrels of 44.2 gravity oil in 10 hours, a rate of 1,082 barrels daily. Production was through a half-inch choke from open hole at 6,535-644 feet, the total depth. Gas-oil ratio was 1.115-1. Location is 660 feet out of the north-west corner of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey, 2 1/2 miles south of the North Snyder (Canyon) field and six miles north of Snyder.

First completed Ellenburger producer in Scurry, 10 miles northwest of Snyder, Humble No. 1-B B. A. Moore pumped 47 barrels of 46.5 gravity oil in 24 hours. Casing perforations at 8,200-40 feet were acidized with 2,500 gallons. Ellenburger was topped at 8,202 feet, 5,412 feet below sea level. It is in C SW NE 482-87-H&TC, two miles west and half mile north of the North Snyder field.

Humble No. 1 Walter Huddleston, second producer in the Sharon Ridge Canyon field, finished with natural daily flowing potential of 1,050 barrels of 44.6 gravity oil with gas-oil ratio of 400-1. Gauged a quarter-inch choke, pay came from 6,636-743 feet. It is in the C SE SE 163-87-H&TC, a west offset to Humble No. 1 Richard Bishop, the discovery.

Extension of the Kelly (Canyon) pool 1 1/2 miles northwest from Magnolia No. 1 H. G. Moore, discovery and lone producer, was indicated by Magnolia No. 1 A. B. Eicker. It recovered 185 feet of heavily oil and gas-mud mud, 450 feet of 30.8 gravity oil, 135 feet of mud-cut oil and 6,500 feet of heavily oil and gas-mud mud on a two-hour drillstem test from 6,765-78 feet. Tentative top of Canyon reef lime was called at 6,767 feet.

Humble No. 1 Luther Edmondson, wildcat in the northeast corner of section 437-37-H&TC, 1 1/2 miles northwest of the North Snyder field, was abandoned 5,405 after a drillstem test from 8,321 returned sulphur water in Ellenburger.

Standard Oil company of Texas is beginning by May 4 on another exploration in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county, 10 miles north of Snyder.

It will be the concern's No. 3-6 Mr. Jessie Brown, staked 1,980 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

With rotary tools, it is scheduled to make 7,000 feet of hole to test into the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

Dallas Bishop Honored

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 30.—Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas Saturday was elected president of the south central jurisdiction of the Methodist Church.

The election was at the annual Council of Methodist Bishops.

After developing water in a deep lime formation thought to be Ellenburger, Lone Star Producing Company has reduced hole at its No. 1 Maule, Northwest Scurry county wildcat, and made a test which also resulted in water.

Bottomed at 8,297 feet in lime, the project spotted a 30-sack cement plug at 7,300-7,130 feet and drillstem tested with packer at 6,742 feet.

The tool was open one hour and 15 minutes. Recover, was 230 feet of drilling mud with the bottom 90 feet heavily cut with salt water. It is three miles east of the town of Dermott and 660 feet from the south-east east lines of section 451-87-H&TC.

Prompt Filing Of Social Security Claims Is Urged

Knowledge of the old-age and survivors insurance program and that there is a need for filing promptly can save beneficiaries considerable money, George C. Clark, San Angelo, district Social Security manager, contends.

Clark said in recent weeks nine persons had lost 90 monthly payments because they filed claims late. Their combined losses totaled $1,350.

Various reasons were given for filing late. One had not heard of the program; another thought it was based on need; two thought they had to retire permanently; four were unaware the filing date made any difference.

Clark said that wage-earners in commerce and industry should know these facts:

That he is covered by the old-age and survivors benefit system; that he or his survivors must file a claim to collect it; that the claims must be filed promptly, for payments cannot be started earlier than three months before the month in which the claim is filed; that at age 65 he (or she) should take his social security card to the social security field office and apply for retirement benefits; that the family should do likewise in order to collect for survivors benefits.

Questions about the system can be answered by communicating with the San Angelo field office.

Tom Green Well Due To Complete For Canyon Pay

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, April 30.—Plymouth found Canyon production the second pay in the Susan Peak field in southeastern Tom Green county, in its No. 3-A John Robertson, north offset to the Strawn discovery and a failure in that formation. The well was preparing for completion on the pump. It swabbed four barrels of oil and one-half barrel of oil hourly through casing perforations at 4,210-40 feet and two barrels of oil and two barrels water hourly through perforations at 4,360-4,600 feet. Both zones had been acidized. Location is near C NE NE 193-11-SPRR.

J. K. Wadley, R. T. Adams Drilling Co. and Louis Burns No. 1 J. Wiley Green, wildcat in the northwest corner of section 195-11-SPRR, one mile east of the Susan Peak field, was testing prospective pay in a higher section of the Strawn. The pay was through casing perforations at 4,676-4,700 and 4,713-23 feet. The zone yielded free oil on a drillstem test.

Hiawatha spotted No. 1 Robert Currie Jones, C NW NW 190-11-SPRR, four miles west of the south end of the Susan Peak field. Contract is to 5,500 feet if necessary to explore the Ellenburger.

In Runnels county, George W. Strake No. 1 Mattie Smith, east offset to Strake No. 1 B. A. Jacob, discovery producer from the Gunsite sand of the Cisco four miles northwest of Winters, appeared to be the second well in the making. It recovered oil on two drillstem tests between 2,820-41 feet. It may continue to the Ellenburger.

A north offset to No. 1 Jacob, Strake No. 2 J. D. Smith, Jr., was coring below 2,821 feet for the pay sand. All operations are in J. Hensley survey 83.

Humble staked location for No. 1 Sallie Odum and others, a proposed 6,000-foot, rotary wildcat six miles southeast of Blackwell. It is 785 from the northeast and 660 feet from the southeast line of the Felix Sosa survey 302.

H. B. Hunt and Richard King, Jr., No. 1 Mrs. Daisy Barr, wildcat one-half mile west of Millersview, showed some oil in swabbing after acidizing the Marble Falls with 1,000 gallons. Acidization was through casing perforations at 3,150-3,200 feet. The Marble Falls was topped at 3,140 feet, 1,518 feet below sea level. Ellenburger, topped at 3,210 feet, as barren in drilling to 3,540 feet. Five and one-half inch casing was cemented at 3,250 feet. No. 1 Barr is in the Texas Trunk Ry. Co. survey 11.

The umbrella bird of South America is so named because a large crest, resembling an umbrella, falls forward so far it almost conceals the bird's bill.

Great Britain Goes Into Gas Business

LONDON, April 30.—Britain's billion-dollar gas industry passes into the hands of the government Sunday, socialism's internationalist May Day holiday.

It is the seventh major industry nationalized by the Labor Party since it came to power in 1945. The others were coal, electricity, inland transport, cable and wireless airways, and the Bank of England.

Cub Scout Leaders Enthusiastic Over Training Program

Cubbing leaders received their first of a series of training programs enthusiastically. D. M. McKinney, chairman for Cubbing Pow-Wows in the Buffalo Trail council, said Saturday.

The all-day session, held Thursday at Howard County Junior College, was the first in the council area. Similar ones are set for other districts, and the local district is due to have two or three others during the year.

At the session here, Jimmy Hale, scout field executive, led the discussion on pack administration; Mrs. Lucien Jones that on ceremonies; Frank Medley, handicraft; Mrs. Jones, games; Buri Haynie, organization and extension; Mrs. H. P. Wooten, dramatization of a den meeting.

McKinney summed the session with a panel discussion. Participating in the pow-wow were Mrs. Tom McAdams, Mrs. Ray McMaher, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. W. R. Griffin, Mrs. Truett Thomas, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Mrs. C. L. Guess, Mrs. W. N. Wood, Mrs. H. P. Wooten, den mothers; W. E. Lovelady, Cubbing commissioner; L. C. McNabb, Frank Medley, Cub masters; Rafael Garcia, assistant Cubmaster; Buri Haynie, organization and extension; McKinney and Hale.

Barris And Riedel To Barnstorm U. S.

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif., April 30.—Bill Barris and Dick Riedel plan to take the monoplane Sunkist Lady, in which they broke the world endurance flight mark on a barnstorming tour of the country.

HOUSE PASSES G-A SCHOOL BILLS

Legislature Behind Schedule, Despite All Accomplishments

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP)—The Legislature took several strides toward final adjournment this week, but it would need seven-league boots to get there on time May 10.

Top accomplishment of the week was final House passage of the Gilmer-Aikin school bills. That doesn't mean they are over the hill because the Senate must concur in House amendments and that could take weeks.

The finance issue was still in mid-air. A House amendment to the Foundation School Fund bill gives priority to money demands for rural roads over the schools, and one of the big unanswered questions was how much the G-A program will cost.

The major appropriations bills and many one-purpose money measures are still tied up in the Senate Finance Committee. The House Appropriations Committee sent the $50 million departmental bill to the calendar for action, but the college fund bill remained to be acted on in committee.

Economy forces were still trying to figure out some way to finance state services during the next two years without a new tax bill. The House Revenue and Taxation Committee did not get around to a pending omnibus tax measure, but scheduled a hearing on it for Monday night.

The most optimistic guesses on when the 51st session would finish its work and go home put the date around May 24—two weeks after expiration of the constitutionally-suggested 120 days for a general session. Gloomier forecasts had it around June 15.

On May 11 lawmakers' pay drops from $10 to $5 a day. That plus hot weather often needles legislators into calling it a job.

Major developments last week in essence:

Gov. Beauford H. Jester signed the basic science and chiropractor bills, the citrus commission bill, and another prison reform measure making it a crime to escape from the penitentiary. This completed enactment of the measures into law.

Both branches finished work on the session's first proposed constitutional amendment. It would provide for annual sessions of the Legislature and annual pay for lawmakers if adopted by the people in an election Sept. 24.

Bills changing the names of state eleemosynary institutions to state hospitals went to the governor's desk.

Action was furious in the House which passed and sent to the Senate a bill creating a Youth Development Council, completely overhauling the system of handling juvenile delinquents.

Adopted a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement. The measure is now in a conference committee to adjust differences between House and Senate versions.

Sent the Senate a secret ballot bill. The Senate also has one pending.

Amended a Senate proposition for a commission to rewrite the surface water laws, returning it to the upper house for concurrence or rejection. This seemed headed for a conference committee.

Sent the Senate a proposal for a 15-member commission to remodel the state's code of criminal laws. Approved and sent the Senate a bill providing for creation of underground water districts.

Passed a measure requiring loyalty affidavits in colleges. It goes to the Senate where quick action was in prospect.

Okayed an appropriation of $6 million for two new state office buildings.

Here's what the Senate did:

Approved 63 local and uncontested bills.

Passed and sent the House the oil unitization bill, which was recommended for passage by the House Oil and Gas Committee.

Failed by two votes to set up a $200 million fund for development of state water resources.

Sent to the House bills setting up a State Budget Board and providing for a between-sessions council to study legislative problems.

TEXAS POLL

Texas Men Change Minds On Women

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll
AUSTIN, April 30 — Ladies, the men have changed their minds.

Before the war, the weight of opinion among Texas men was that women should not serve on juries. Now two out of every three think it is all right.

The Texas Poll measured public opinion on this question once before the war, in March 1941, and twice after the war. Here is how comparable cross sections of adults—men and women combined—voted each time:

"Do you think Texas should or should not allow women to serve on juries?"

	1941	1947	Now
Should	50	65	64
Should not	42	27	28
No opinion	8	8	8

In each survey, about two-thirds of the women voted in favor of jury service for themselves. Only in recent years, however, have the men come around. In 1941, less than half of the men approved of the idea. In 1947, men voted 64 per cent in favor. In the latest survey, they have given their greatest approval to date—65 per cent.

Texas is now one of seventeen states that do not permit women on juries. A change in the State Constitution to remove the disqualification has been proposed by the Texas Senate. If adopted by the House, the proposal will be voted on by the people.

There is evidence that public opinion on jury service for women has been shifting in other states besides Texas. In 1941, a total of twenty-three states disqualified women from juries.

Analysis of The Texas Poll results indicates that the highest approval comes from the younger age brackets, the upper educational levels, and the upper socio-economic groups.

A&M Chemist Will Speak At Soil Meet At Knott May 9

M. K. Thornton, agriculture chemist with the Extension Service, College Station, will be principal speaker at a soil conservation meeting scheduled for May 9 at the Knott school, County Agent Durward Lewter announced Saturday.

The meeting may well be one of the most important of its kind ever held in this area, according to local agriculture authorities, and farmers, ranchers, business men and 4-H club members have been invited to attend.

Professional workers of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, the Extension Service and

TIME-TABLE FOR WORRIERS LATEST DEVELOPMENT IN U. S. PSYCHOLOGY

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—If you're a worrier, here's a time-table which may come in handy.

Four psychologists at the Illinois Institute of Technology compiled it from answers to questionnaires by 103 other psychologists in the "older" age group. They were asked what they worried about at various ages.

The composite worry time scale was presented to the Midwestern Psychological Association today at its 21st annual meeting by Harry L. Newman of Chicago, advanced psychology student at the institute.

The ages and their primary worry subject are: 18, idealism and personal development; 20, personal appearance; 23, sexual morality; making a good impression on people; 30, pay and cost of living; 33, personal business success; 33, job security; 38, health; 41, political convictions; 42, marital difficulties; 45, giving up ambitions; over 45 the prime worry is health.

Newman pointed out that there was much overlapping of worries shown in the quiz answers. For instance health wrapped up at a number of stages, and idealism was a strange contender for first place throughout the 19 to 25 age group.

Big Spring junior chamber of commerce are cooperating in the arrangements and all will be represented at the session.

Several picture slides will be shown, emphasizing the advantages and disadvantages of certain practices.

At the same time a district supervisor for Zone No. 2 of the Martin-Howard SCS district will be elected to fill the post vacated recently when L. H. Thomas resigned.

Such topics as district programs, farm plans, group work, 4-H club work, land use, crop rotation, contour farming, terracing and pastures will be discussed at the session.

The most common belief among savage peoples is that some particular kind of animal is the guardian or protector of each clan or group.

Pfc. Jackson's Body Due Here Tuesday For Reburial Rites

Remains of Pfc. James L. Jackson, who was killed in action Aug. 31, 1945 in the Pacific theatre, will arrive here Tuesday morning for final interment.

Services have been set for 3 p.m. Thursday at the Church of God in Christ with the pastor, the Rev. T. O. McGee, officiating.

Pfc. Jackson was, so far as records immediately available are concerned, the first Negro soldier from Howard county to die in action in World War II. He was the son of Mrs. Dell Jackson Wright, Big Spring. Detailed arrangements will be completed when the remains arrive with military escort here Tuesday.

PIANO TEAM—Mrs. Bill Griese, Music Club president-elect, and Helen Duley, who will appear on the club program this afternoon, are a popular program number. They are featured on many special presentations and received with pleasure. Mrs. Griese will sing with the club chorus. Helen will be featured in a piano-organ number.

BARBER SHOP HARMONY—Big Springers, who like to sing for pleasure, still have an opportunity to become members of the now popular Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America. Local singers of this type include: (left to right) Dan Conley, Stanley Peurifoy, David Elrod and S. K. Waaley.

MOTHER AND SON—Omar Pitman, Jr., violinist, and his mother, Mrs. Omar Pitman, Sr., organist, do not need to go out of their own home for a pleasant evening of music, they can create their own interpretations. Mrs. Pitman, a member of the Music Club, will furnish the organ accompaniment for several numbers on the afternoon program.

TIME OUT—Luan Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Phillips, is a piano student. She is shown (below) as she relaxes a few moments during one of her lessons on a warm Spring afternoon. Luan is one of many children in Big Spring who are finding the study of music a pleasant task.

WHISTLER—Roy Hickman, Big Spring high school student, (below) is not only a French horn player, but is a favorite program feature when it comes to whistling. Roy appears on many programs and does varied bird calls. One of his favorite numbers is "Listen To The Mocking Bird." Roy will be moving from Big Spring soon.

VOCALIST—Mary Jane Hamilton, high school choral director, will be featured in two numbers when the Music Club program is presented at the First Baptist Church at 5 p. m. today. Strains of music are something like lovely flowers and Miss Hamilton combines the two as she relaxes in her office at the high school.

VIOLINIST—Mrs. J. E. Hardesty will be featured in two numbers on the Music Club program this afternoon. One of the selections is "Meditation" by George Mietzke and she will be featured with Mrs. Omar Pitman, organ, and Elsie Willis, pianist. Mrs. Hardesty's musical talent also include the piano.

(All Photos By Jack M. Haynes)

HE'S GOT RHYTHM—Roy Rogan hasn't always been a city electrician. He used to play clarinet with a dance orchestra and still enjoys playing and listening to good music. Local programs which are presented in the municipal auditorium are lighted by Rogan, who seems to enjoy the musical presentations best of all.

PIANIST—"Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8" by Liszt, will be the selection when Elsie Willis, local piano teacher, takes over at the annual Music Club program. She will also play the piano accompaniment for Miss Hamilton and will be featured in a piano-organ-violin number, "Meditation."

MUSIC WEEK

"The man that hath no music in himself . . . Let no such man be trusted." Shakespeare was a trifle harsh in judging monotones and tuneless souls, but he might have been right at that. For even the drabest monotone enjoys listening.

Because of the powerful influence which music has over people of all ages, races, colors, and creeds, National Music Week has become an annual observance in our land. Beginning on the first day of May this year, the week will continue through Mother's Day on May 8. This national observance seeks to widen acquaintance with, and cultivate, the love of music among an ever increasing number of our own people here in the United States and among the other peoples of the world in the belief that music offers a bond of common interest and a medium of communication, which brings them a little closer together, and by its very nature and the response it invokes, generates friendliness.

There is scarcely a youngster who attends school who does not leave that institution with a good foundation for a lifetime of musical enjoyment. There are few who have not actually played a musical instrument. Music has become a part of our very lives. It appeals to us to joy or sorrow, in work or play, in study or worship. It has been described as the only universal language.

Mitchell HD Women Show Achievements

COLORADO CITY, April 29. (Sp.)—Mitchell county Home Demonstration club members have mapped an extensive program for observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 1-7.

Working on the publicity committees for reports to the county through newspapers, radios, and downtown exhibits are Mrs. Luther Hamrick of the Looney club, chairman of the HD Expansion Education committee; Mrs. Hestand Redwine, also of Looney, Mrs. Virgil Moser and Mrs. Henry Vaught, both of the Fairview club, Mrs. Paris Yarborough of Fairview, and Mrs. Willis Taylor of Loraine.

Among the special features planned are radio interviews over the local branch of KXOX, using outstanding club members. One member to be featured is Mrs. Willis Cornutt, Landers club, the mother of eight children. Mrs. Cornutt's experiences at simplifying house work for the large farm family, will be broadcast under direction of Mrs. Drummond and of Doris Randle, KXOX manager, here.

Downtown exhibits in Loraine and in Colorado City will highlight home work simplification, home management, and handicraft.

During 1949, Mitchell HD women have concentrated on two major projects—orchards for farm homes and home management. Among their studies this year have been the planning and planting of small home orchards with emphasis on varieties of fruits suitable to this county's climate, soil, and weather problems; care of orchards and insect control; planning a fruit supply for the family; the serving and the buying of fruits.

Orchard demonstrators for the season are Mrs. Louis Rees, Carr club, who has 85 fruit trees of various varieties; Mrs. J. L. Jones, Landers club, who raising peaches, plums, figs, and berries; Mrs. A. J. Hooks, Buford club, who is grape vineyard demonstrator, trying out 17 varieties of grapes at her farm home, and who also is busy with an old and a young orchard.

Mrs. Sheron Adams, North Loraine club, is specializing in peaches and in berries, including strawberries which Mitchell county women have found will grow and produce in this county, given proper care; Mrs. Joe Martin, Looney, another demonstrator on small fruits and berries; and Mrs. Graydon Howells, Plainview, who is proud of the 90-growth fruit trees she and her husband have, doing well, in their home orchard.

For the second phase of their major projects—home management—the women have experimented with simplification of home work. They have even counted steps taken in the kitchen, making beds, and doing general cleaning, then studied feasible ways of correcting the problem of wasted steps and energy. Round-table discussions have been held.

In addition to home management, Mitchell HD women have gone in this year for general home improvement and remodeling. A number of women are carrying on demonstrations on outdoor living rooms. Studies coming up, on that particular demonstration, include the making of walks and drives; outdoor fireplaces; outdoor furniture which ranges from simple rustic chairs to tile-topped tables, glass stencils (for trays etc.) and metalcraft. Several of the women are making their own glass-topped tea carts for outdoor family meals and parties.

Their current landscaping projects for outdoor living rooms led to their decision to stress landscaping as one of their major aims in 1950. Newly landscaped homes, for 1949, are those of Mrs. Loyd Brame, Loraine, and Mrs. B. B. Lee, of the Baumann club. The first demonstration of landscaping was done by Mrs. A. J. Hooks. Her demonstration, including windbreaks, is now well-established.

Also notable is the demonstration done by Mrs. Ross Hargrove of Spade, Mrs. J. L. Jones, Landers, Mrs. Hestand Redwine, Looney, all engrossed in getting windbreaks and shrubs to grow. Outstanding city lot landscaping has been done at the home of Mrs. R. D. Lefevre, Loraine.

Among the demonstrators now remodeling or building new homes in rural areas are Mrs. Louis Rees, Mrs. William Tartt of the Baumann club, Mrs. Donald Henderson, Carr community, Mrs. Graydon Howell, Mrs. B. B. Howell of Plainview, and Mrs. B. B. Lee, Mrs. Tom Ellett is one of the more active work, simplification demonstrators. She lives at Carr.

Both Mrs. Hestand Redwine and Mrs. Luther Redwine turned carpenter and built their own kitchen cabinet fixtures, after a special course in carpentry for which 21 women enrolled to learn the use of hammer, saw, plane, and paint brush. Many of the women built coffee tables, stools, and other pieces of simple furniture, also.

Ruth Class Luncheon Hears Guest Speaker

Mrs. A. C. Kloven, Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. Harold Hornum were hostesses to a luncheon meeting of the First Baptist Ruth Class. Helen McCullough, missionary to China, was a special guest and gave the devotional.

After a business session was held by the teacher and officers of the class, chair covers were made by the members.

Those attending were: Mrs. Tip Anderson, Mrs. M. E. Anderson, Mrs. Tom Cantrell, Mrs. Allison B. Muneke, Mrs. Lee Jenkins, Mrs. G. G. Morehead, Mrs. Dick Lane, Mrs. W. B. Younger, Mrs. Roy Cornelson, Mrs. T. Dunagan, Mrs. J. F. Jones, the hostesses, and guests, Helen McCullough and Inez Lewis.

TSCW Modern Dancers To Appear At Auditorium On Thursday Night

Big Spring's unit of the American Association of University Women will present the Modern Dance Group of the Texas State College for Women, Denton, in a public program at the municipal auditorium Thursday at 8 p. m.

Composed of 14 members including Bessie Akagi, Betty Akagi, Nancy Helen Ball, Joan Collard, Betty Hill, Ruth Helen Knoepfl, Peggy Lawler, Helen Troy Martin, Patti McDaniel, Marion Nicoll, Lynette Pool, Jeanette Schlottmann, Kathryn Sonntag and Claire Williams, the group is directed by Anne Schley Duggan, assisted by Jeanette Schlottmann. Mary Campbell is the accompanist and composer. Della Brennan assists Miss Campbell as a percussion accompanist for costumes. Betsy Cunningham, the vocalist for Negro Spiritual Suite, is a pupil of Stella Owsley, professor of music, Texas State College for Women.

The Big Spring program will open with the Negro Spiritual Suite, which is composed of a group of spirituals which were developed after a study of the Negro temperament and religious feeling, and an attempt has been made to present the mood of the negro in his work, play and worship. Selections will include: "Little David, Play On Your Harp" and "Walk Together Children," arranged by Rosemond Johnson. William Arms Fisher's arrangements of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," featuring Marion Nicoll, soloist, "Steal Away," danced by Patti McDaniel, and "Let My People Go" will be featured. "De Gospel Trail" arranged by Henry Thacker Burleigh, will also be presented.

In the presentation of each specific color in "Color Suite" by Miss Campbell, the dancers have attempted to suggest the basic qualities of the given color through movement expressive of its sensations. Red, vibrant, tangible, dramatic, intense, will be danced by Peggy Lawler, Helen Troy Martin and Marion Nicoll. Blue, controlled, intangible, vast, cool will be interpreted by Bessie Akagi, Nancy Ball, Joan Collard, Ruth Helen Knoepfl, Patti McDaniel and Jeanette Schlottmann. Yellow, bouncing, bright, scintillating, exuberant, will be danced by Betty Hill, Helen Troy Martin, Kathryn Sonntag, and Claire Williams.

Patti McDaniel will dance purple, mysterious, deep, majestic and fervent. Green, fresh, lucid, vital and cool, will be interpreted by Jeanette Schlottmann.

Peggy Lawler, Marion Nicoll and Claire Williams will be featured in a presentation of orange, hot, pulsating, palpable, bold.

Following intermission, the group will present Campbell's "Heritage of the Southwest." The ensemble will take on the spirit of "Our roots lie in the past—The present reflects our heritage." Personal characteristics of swiftness, expansiveness of spirit, abandon, cruelty, stealth and steadfastness as well as characteristics which make for communal life of Indians will be characterized. Influence of the Spanish conquest showing the indomitable spirit of the military forces, the enduring message of the clergy and the gaiety and color of the fiesta will be portrayed. Qualities of ruggedness, sturdiness and courage in extending frontiers as well as activities of discovering new lands, tilling the soil, building, worshipping in thankfulness for new blessings, and playing during well-earned leisure will be featured in the pioneer scene. In the cowboy scene such activities as putting a horse through paces, bronco-busting, round-up and quieter leisure activities of whittling, rope-spinning and singing will be represented.

Betsy Cunningham will be the vocalist in Stephens "The Nightingale."

"Suite of dances for the Theater" by Tchaikowsky is a group selected from the "Nutcracker Suite" and developed in a style suitable for light theatre entertainment.

"O Patria Mia" from "Aida" by Verdi; "Sheeps and Lambs" and "Auld Daddy Darkness" by Homer; and "Little Polly Flinders" by Diack, with apologies to Mozart; will also be featured.

"March," which features King Nutcracker presenting his subjects who will dance, includes the ensemble. Peggy Lawler will do "Dance of the Candy Fairy." "Trepak," based on traditional Russian steps, will be given by the ensemble. Patti McDaniel will be featured in "Arabian Dance," a young Arabian girl dreams of her native land.

A young Chinese girl is picking flowers in the garden. A wrinkled old man makes love to her; she laughs at his folly and runs away. This is the story of "Chinese Dance" which will be given by Claire Williams as the maiden, and Helen Troy Martin as the old man. Following this presentation, Marion Nicoll will be featured in "Dance of the Reed Flutes," the capricious play of a woodland creature.

Concluding the program, Peggy Lawler and Marion Nicoll, soloists, and the ensemble will present "Waltz of the Flowers."

WALTZ OF THE FLOWERS — Pictured in their presentation of a selection from the "Nutcracker Suite" are members of the Modern Dance Club, Texas State College For Women, Denton.

Lillian Hurt Named Honoree At Gift Party

Lillian Hurt, bride-elect of J. H. Rockwood, was honored with a gift tea Friday evening in the home of Ima Deason, 410 Aylford. Co-hostesses were Mrs. S. M. Sain, Wanda Richardson, and Mrs. Arnold E. O'Neil.

Guests were greeted and received by Miss Deason, Mrs. O'Neil, the honoree, Miss Hurt, and her mother, Mrs. J. C. Hurt. The registry table, presided over by Dorothy Purser, was lighted by a tall white candle ornamented with an old-fashioned nosegay of sweet peas and fern against pink maline. Floral arrangements of roses and pansies were used throughout the party rooms. Mrs. Sain and Miss Richardson presided over the displayed gifts.

On the serving table, graduated white tapers formed a background for a quaint old-fashioned bouquet of sweetpeas and fern, which showered pastel blossoms over an heirloom cloth of crocheted. White and silver napkins were printed with the names "Lillian and Joe". Gertrude McIntyre and Mrs. C. C. Coffee, Edith Hatchett and Mrs. W. B. Miller alternated in serving during the evening. All members of the houseparty wore pastel nosegay corsages.

Approximately 85 guests called during the evening.

Mrs. Fitzhugh Resigns Abstract Firm Post

GARDEN CITY, April 30—Mrs. Max Fitzhugh has resigned her post as manager of the Elliott & Waldron Abstract office here.

The 1949 El Rodeo's, the high Deffie Merworth and Howard school annual, were issued this week. Congratulations to Jane Stripling and her staff on their fine work. The annuals are really up to par this year. The yearbook is dedicated to Mrs. Erma Stewart, journalism teacher.

The high school band and girls' chorus left Friday to attend the University Interscholastic League Music Competition-Festival to be held in San Angelo. Some 42 members of the Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Mary Jane Hamilton, participated in the festival. They were judged in concert singing on three selections, "The Cradle, Beautiful Savior, God is the Light of the World." In addition to concert singing, the chorus sight-read two selections for rating. Piano accompaniments for the Girls' chorus were played by Jackie Marchant.

Seen at the Junior-Senior prom were: Jane Stripling and Chubby Jones, Betty Lou Hewett and Jack Ewing, Rose Nelle Parks and Kelley Lawrence, Sue Caroline Wasson and Billy Satterwhite, Jovieta Whittington and Ariess Davis, Carolyn Mills and Jackie Jennings, Jean Pearce and Jimmie Jennings.

The T.S.C.W. modern dance group will be here Thursday for a performance in the Municipal auditorium. The group will give the student body a rare treat by giving a special assembly program Thursday morning.

The student body will be afforded an opportunity next week to see candidates for next school term try leaders in action. Candidates trying out are: Luan Miller, Rita Wright, Mackey Dee Younger, Luan Creighton, Dolores Frank-in, Peggy Lamb, Pearl Mae Clanton, Darlene Sneed, Wanda Lou Petty, Ann Crocker, Martha Ann Johnson, Jess Wood and Barbara Greer, Billie Ruth Freeman, Mary Frances Wyatt, Alma Crittenden, Dot Crittenden, Mary Frances Norman, Robert Merworth, Shirley Riddle, June Grey Jacqueline McCoy, Mary Moore, Mozelle Carter, Larry Cooper, Jr. Graham, Lynell Martin and Rosemary Lawson.

Student directories go on sale next week in B.S.H.S. The book is sponsored by the student council and it will be among prize collections of this year's events.

Seen at the show lately are: Jane Brookshier and Bill Blalock, Charlene Perkins and Howard Shanks, Mary Bailey and Aature Shanks, Bobbie Beach and Jack Johnston, Jan Masters and Floyd Martin, Jovieta Whittington and Ariess Davis.

AT PENNEY'S

Big Spring Garden Club To Sponsor Two-Day Flower Judging School

Big Spring women who are interested in learning more about flower arranging and judging will have an opportunity to attend a flower judging and arrangement school to be held in the Settles Hotel May 3-4. Class sessions will be from 8:30 a. m.-11 a. m. and 2 p. m.-5:30 p. m.

The first day of the school will be devoted to the growing of plants and the selection of plants for showing. During the second day, Mrs. Inez Adrian Hamilton will instruct class members in methods of flower arranging. Mrs. C. E. Beavers, Fort Worth, will be the flower judging instructor. Class members will be given the opportunity to take examinations if they wish to qualify for flower judges, but the examination is not compulsory. Club officials have also announced that anyone who finds it impossible to attend but one day of the school will find that each day is complete within itself.

An interesting and effective speaker, Mrs. Hamilton imparts a contagious enthusiasm to all her listeners, and, therefore, has achieved popularity as a lecturer. She offers a series of eight demonstration-addresses with such interesting titles as "Making the Most of Flower Color," "Flower Arrangements for the Busy Woman," "Flower Arrangements as Decorative Accessories" and "What Every Flower Arranger Should Know."

The florist works on the theory that "flower arranging is the most easily mastered of the fine arts and can be learned by anyone." She proceeds to prove that statement by building various types of flower arrangements for her audiences, explaining each step clearly and simply in the accompanying lecture. Thus, her pupils learn how to cut, clean and condition floral material, how to analyze blossoms and foliage for the most suitable container, and how to plan the most appropriate design for the chosen room and location. In addition to this, they also learn a "fool proof" method of placing foliage in a container.

In her special Short Course for Beginners, the lecture is followed by a practice session during which the pupils apply their new knowledge in making flower arrangements themselves. Invariably, students have been heard to boast of a greatly clarified idea of design and color as applied to flower arrangement. Many also give immediate evidence of an increased confidence in their ability to create more beautiful floral compositions for home, Garden Club or flower show.

Now serving as president of the garden club in Wichita Falls, Mrs. Hamilton is an ardent gardener who has won many blue ribbons for her horticultural specimen and artistic entries in flower shows.

Mrs. C. E. Beavers is one of the past presidents of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. She is now program chairman of Texas Garden Club Inc. and chairman of awards for the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. She is a National judge and has won many awards with her exhibits in flower shows.

Mrs. Beavers will teach horticulture in the judging school and will discuss the necessary steps to grow plants well and how to select specimens for flower shows.

Much in demand for teaching horticulture and flower show procedure, Mrs. Beavers will instruct the group concerning the giving of flower shows, the committees, their work and the awards.

Press Awards Climax El Paso Meet Of TIPA

EL PASO, April 30—Presentation of awards for contest entries furnished the climax of the annual convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association at the final general meeting and banquet from 7 to 9 p. m. Saturday in Cortez Hotel.

Awards were made for entries in 15 divisions of the annual journalistic contest sponsored by the association to encourage improvement in collegiate publications.

Saturday sessions closed the three-day meet which brought 200 delegates to the College of Mines from colleges all over Texas.

Several group discussions were held at Saturday morning from 8 to 9 a. m. followed by a general assembly in the ballroom of the Mines Student Union Building.

Karl O. Wyler, owner of KTSM; William I. Latham, managing editor of The El Paso Times and Carl Herzog, typography expert, were speakers for the Saturday morning session.

New officers of the association were elected at a business meeting from 10:30 a. m. to noon, also in the ballroom. At that time constitutional changes were considered by the group. Charles (Lucky) Leverett, TIPA president, was in charge.

No TIPA sessions were scheduled for Saturday afternoon so that delegates could attend the formal inauguration of Dr. W. H. Elkins as president of the College of Mines at 2:30 p. m.

K. C. Ingram, assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, was the main speaker for the ward banquet. Chris P. Fox, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the master of ceremonies. The event which was highlighted by the introduction of the new officers of

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By MILDRED YOUNG
Like most people we know, we have always done our share of fussing and discussing an innocent little instrument known as the telephone. We've noticed a number of articles lately concerning the phone situation and not claiming to be unique, we'll present our two cents worth.

One of the main battle cries of Big Springers in recent months has been dial telephones. Our personal opinion has always been that such a system definitely has its advantages and we have been more than pleased with the service we received while living in a nearby city which has the dial system.
Knowing a few local operators, we have also heard their side of the question. We will agree with their feeling that we should "let well enough alone." They remind us of the old argument of individuals over machines when they tell us that if the dial system were installed in Big Spring that a large percentage of the present operators would be dismissed and that their dismissal would be somewhat harmful to local merchants. They remind us that salaries for the operators are not high, but that most of the women do spend nearly every cent of their

Ralph David Grantham Given Birthday Party

Ralph David Grantham, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Grantham, was honored with a birthday party on his ninth birthday Friday afternoon at his home, 1908 Scurry.
Attending were: George Peacock, Donald Cannon, Jerry Graham, Dickie Halbrook, Randall Halbrook, Robert Stripling, Jr., Allen Glacier, Larry Rupp, Bobby Dillon, Wesley Phillips, Lanny Hamby, Bill Norred, Nancy Thompson, Butch Thompson, Shirley McCrary, James Ray Grantham, Johnny Carl Grantham, Mrs. Grady McCrary, Mrs. Burt Thompson, and the honoree.

Income right here in Big Spring. Personally, we would be very happy to live in a city which has the dial system, but we do think that the operator's viewpoint might well be considered.
While we're on the subject of telephones and operators, we like to remind ourselves and others that a lot of the poor service we receive is due to our own impatience. This is true regardless of whether we have the highly favored dial system or whether we're speaking of telephone or some other public service.

Program Today Begins National Music Week

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the week beginning May 1 and ending May 8, has been designated as National Music Week; and
WHEREAS, music makes an important contribution to national morale and to inter-American understanding and appreciation; and
WHEREAS, music speaks a universal language and through its common enjoyment the citizens of every nation may be brought closer together in amity and accord.
NOW THEREFORE, I, G. W. Dabney, mayor of the city of Big Spring, urge the people of Big Spring to observe the week of May 1st to 8th as National Music Week and to emphasize the value of music as a personal resource and a unifying influence in our society.
G. W. Dabney, Mayor
City of Big Spring

Big Springers will have an opportunity to observe this week, not only by attending the annual musical program sponsored by the Music Study Club at the First Baptist Church at 5 p. m. today, but by the music they hear and create at various club meetings and gatherings throughout the week and as they work and play in their own homes.

Opening the annual musical Mrs. J. F. Neel, Mrs. C. C. Jones and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, accompanied by Mrs. Omar Pittman, organist, will present "Blessing."
Helen Duley, organist, and Roberta Gay, pianist, will present their combined talents in an interpretation of "Fantasia" by Debussy.

Mrs. J. E. Hardesty will present the violin obligato, Mrs. Bill Griese, the piano accompaniment, for two vocal numbers by Mrs. Homer Willoughby, contraalto. Mrs. Willoughby's selections include: "O Dry Those Tears" by Del Rio; and "Sorta Miss You" by Clay Smith.

"Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8" by Liszt will be Elsie Willis' contribution to the program.
"Kol Nidri, O Day of God" by Max Busch will be offered by Mrs. J. A. Jolly, piano.
Mary Jane Hamilton, soprano, will sing "Air du Lia, L'Enfant Prodigue" by Debussy; and "At The Well" by Hageman. Elsie Willis will be the accompanist.
Elsie Willis, piano. Mrs. Omar Pittman, organ, and Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, violin, will give George Metzke's "Meditation."

Concluding the program, Mrs. W. K. Edwards, Jr., Mrs. J. F. Neel, Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Mrs. Cooper Brown, Mrs. Bill Griese, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. H. G. Keaton, Mrs. Homer Willoughby, accompanied by Mrs. Omar Pittman, organ, will sing the "Collect" by Sieberling, Rohrer.

Music Study Clubs are found throughout our nation and the local club is headed by Mrs. H. G. Keaton. Mrs. Bill Griese is the president-elect. Working for the advancement of music in the communities of the nation, the Federation of Music Clubs have as their collect:

"We praise and thank thee, Father, for the gift of Music. Through us as channels of Thy grace may this blessed legacy be shared with all mankind.

Grant that we may exemplify in our lives the harmony of Thy great purpose for us.

Give us magnitude of soul and such understanding hearts that we who make music, may be as players upon rightly tuned instruments responding to Thy leading.

Let us, with renewed consecration, dedicate ourselves to the purpose of our Federation to bring the spiritualizing force of Music to the inner life of our Nation. Open our minds that divine knowledge and wisdom may teach us how best to execute our pledge."

RENTER SHOULD HAVE KEPT MUM

CALGARY, Alta., April 30. (AP)—Boyd Johnson probably is sorry he brought the matter up at all.

Johnson filed claim in court for ownership, under squatters' rights, of the house of Olaf Olsen, which he said he had occupied rent-free since August, 1938. He said Olsen had disappeared, but the court located him. Olsen filed counter-claim yesterday for 126 months' back rent.

In 1920, the United States had a population of 10 million persons.

The gas industry has more than $70,000 miles of pipe to gather, transmit and distribute gas to consumers.

HAS HAD COLORFUL CAREER

Montreal's Mayor Rates With La Guardia As A 'Character'

MONTREAL, April 30 (AP)—Montreal is Canada's biggest and gayest city. Its Mayor Chamellien Houde is well, its mayor.

A product of the city's poorest French Canadian slums, he is stout and homely. But he is charming. He is witty and indiscreet. But he is also profound and sagacious. He is raucous and tough. But he is very sentimental.

Houde has survived far more political and economic trouble than is normal for one man. He has weathered wartime internment and abrupt loss of power. Every time he bounces back, stronger than ever.

Now he is riding high with new authority and cautious hopes about the future. He may even run for Parliament soon to extend his influence to national affairs.

"I am like a woman," says Houde. "Men cannot get along with me, yet they cannot get along without me!"

Five feet seven inches tall, Houde weighs around 270 pounds. His head is egg-shaped, big and covered sparsely with black hair. His nose is immense, his eyes pop, his mouth is broad and his chin is jutting.

But his features are mobile, his smile a shining rainbow. He is probably this continent's greatest political showman since New York's late Fiorello LaGuardia.

Houde pronounces his name as if it were spelled "Ood" or Hood without the "H."

Son of a millworker, Houde was born in 1889 on a Montreal street so poor it didn't even have a name. When his father died he went to work at 11, in a butcher shop. He put himself through school and at 26 was made branch manager for a Montreal bank.

He still wasn't satisfied. He joined a local stage society and spent his free time studying elocution, diction and dramatics.

Houde's first wife died after bearing him two daughters and he married again. He tried the business of importing wine. But he was not successful and there was a third daughter. He started to dabble in ward politics as a conservative.

He did well, backed by his father-in-law, a respected party member. One day he found himself in the Quebec provincial legislative assembly.

At first, Houde had little to say, but he was learning. Near the end of the 1927 session, he rose to speak about labor problems. Quebec's then Prime Minister Louis Alexander Tachereau, member of one of the province's most aristocratic old families, commented bitingly about Houde's apparent lack of culture.

Houde's reply is a Quebec classic. "I may not have everything which was given to the honorable prime minister. But we did not start from the same place nor did we follow the same course. If the honorable prime minister had started where I started he would assuredly not be where he is today, nor would he even be where I am today. I am the beginning, he the end of the race."

But Houde had made enemies in his own party and he lost his legislative seat that very year.

Nothing daunted, he speedily charmed a Montreal newspaper publisher into supporting him for mayor. At 38 he became mayor of Canada's largest city. That was in 1928. For the next 10 years he fought many bitter battles of municipal and provincial politics. Sometimes he won. Sometimes he lost. When he lost it usually was his temper that defeated him.

Serving his fourth term as mayor in 1940, he suddenly was stripped of all power by the Quebec Municipal Commission. He was reduced to handshaking, greeting.

That year, too, in the midst of World War II, Mayor Houde refused to comply with Canada's national registration act. He urged fellow Montrealers to follow his example. He was promptly interned by the Canadian government. It surprised him.

Released in 1944, he was unabashed. Within three months of his return from what he called his "pilgrimage," he was re-elected mayor of Montreal—still without much power.

Then, in early 1948, Houde, sworn political foe of Quebec's present autocratic Premier Maurice Duplessis, shook his old enemy's hand. Duplessis' Rightist, Nationalistic Union Nationale Party swept the provincial elections last July. In mid-March this year Duplessis returned the favor. His party forced through a bill which makes the mayor of Montreal ex-officio member of the executive committee and gives him the right of superintendence and control over all city departments.

Houde's constituents love him. Montrealers call him a real character. "An original."

Car Production, Sales Continuing At High Levels

DETROIT, April 30. (AP)—Auto production and sales are continuing at high levels but the market is extremely sensitive.

That's the way some leading car makers appraise the industry outlook as production marks continued to fall. They say the retail new car market is susceptible to more influences than it has been since pre-war days.

Yet they insist there is more money available for car buying than there was a year ago. They profess to see no probability of a decline in buying power at any time this year.

The industry heads aren't worried about demand folding up. But they want to see it converted into orders on their dealers' books.

The auto makers are counting heavily on a big accumulation of over-age cars to bolster their market in the latter half of 1949. There are many millions of cars 10 and 12 years old still on the highways. They represent a growing expense to their owners.

They cannot all be replaced at once; the market they represent right now would keep the assembly lines busy for from three to four years at high level output.

The surest thing the car makers know is that they have not built enough cars since the war to meet the demand accumulating since the end of 1941. (No passenger cars were made for civilian use during the war years.)

In round figures the industry has built only about 10,500,000 passenger cars for the domestic market since the war.

Some of the best informed sources picture the industry moving back into a normal market. They visualize some companies as better positioned than others with respect to unfilled orders, but all facing competitive battles before the year ends.

McGee Gets Death In Fatal Shooting

LUBBOCK, April 30. (AP)—Richard W. McGee, 24, faces death in the electric chair for the fatal shooting of R. L. Alston, a Lubbock grocery executive.

A 72nd District Court jury Friday night returned a verdict of guilty at 8:25 p.m.

The case had gone to the jury at 5:33 p.m. Friday night after eleven days of testimony.

McGee was judged sane at the time of the July 7 slaying and sane now.

His plea had been not guilty by reason of insanity.

The jury's verdict called for the maximum penalty.

SHERMAN, April 30. (AP)—An agreement between the city transit lines and bus drivers on wages and hours has averted a threatened city bus strike here. Settlement terms were not revealed.

Alathan Class Meets Friday For Business-Social

The Alathan Class of the First Baptist church met Friday night for a monthly business session with Mrs. Relece Jones, president, in charge.

The meeting opened with the singing of the class song, "Our Best" and "There Shall Be Showers of Blessings" and was followed by a prayer by Mrs. Loy House. Mrs. Billy T. Smith brought the devotional on "Blessings We Receive Daily."

Reports were given by the officers and the meeting was brought to a close by each member offering sentence prayers.

Games were conducted by Mrs. C. W. Mahoney and refreshments were served by group one to: Mrs. Tracy Smith, Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. J. T. Grantham, Mrs. Grady Stevens, Mrs. Ruby Creighton, Mrs. Elza Johnston, Mrs. T. F. Horton, Mrs. Kelly Brown, Mrs. Billy T. Smith, Mrs. Loy House, Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, and Mrs. Relece Jones.

Firemen Auxiliary Has Regular Meet

The Firemen Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. J. D. Jenkins, 407 Bennett. Sewing was entertainment and Mrs. H. V. Crocker was the birthday honoree.

Those present were: Mrs. A. D. Meador, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. Alvie Harrison, Mrs. H. A. Moore, Mrs. R. T. Hale, Mrs. Riley Knightstep, Mrs. S. E. Smith, Mrs. John Waddill, Mrs. R. R. Fields, and visitors, Mrs. L. C. Gibbs and Bobbie Fields.

The next meeting will be May 27 with Mrs. Alvie Harrison, 2203 Runnels, as hostess.

Maurine Farmer, Dallas, is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Alton Lewis, and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Creel, Lamesa.

We Wish Wistfully That The Old "Spin" Might Be Revived

A time honored custom of another generation was the practice of taking a "spin."

Today's children wouldn't know anything about that, but those who grew up in the day when the horseless carriage had definitely established itself as a replacement for the horse and surrey with fringed top know full well the meaning of the term.

It was all-inclusive as far as the family was concerned. Mama seated the brood (sometimes cramming them, for families were families in those days) into the bulky confines of the family automobile while Papa fixed the ignition, the gas and spark just so, and hurried around to take the crank out of its leather cradle.

After a few quick jerks or a round of healthy turns, the motor came to life and the family was off for high adventure. Just being able to ride in an automobile was something, not to mention the thrill at waving at friends or others who were out for their "spins."

And what high adventure those excursions uncovered! The stately carriage chugged laboriously to familiar scenes, but Papa always knew some interesting incident about the place or had something new to mention.

The tours circled over the county, down meagre cow-trails, from windmill to windmill with a phenomenal number of stops for gate openings and an occasional flat fixing. At the proper moment, it was not improbable that the entourage pulled up under a hackberry grove and Mama produced a basket so filled with that incomparable cooking that it required the two huskiest boys to lift from the car.

Two things these trips accomplished—the family got to know the surrounding country well, and each other better.

Times have changed. This is truly a mechanized age. The automobile is now just a car. When the starter doesn't work, pushing and not cranking accomplishes the result. One or two members of the family jump in hurry off to some pressing appointment. Somebody comes by for another member of the family and possibly one or two are left at home.

Thinking back over those times brings wistful memories, and we go to thinking what a fine thing it would be if somehow the "spin" with all its modern trimmings, could be brought back as a family life. It seems almost hopeless to keep everyone at home; so why not keep the family together occasionally with a "spin."

It's The Principle Of The Thing As Churchill And Connally See It

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

This week we were enthralled by the performances of a couple of Elizabethan Victorians whom we have admired through out our manhood.

We were not let down. They were magnificent.

They performed simultaneously on stages as widely separated in space as London and Washington, and as closely knit in time and culture as Main Street and East Avenue A.

One held the boards in the House of Commons in London, the angel-witted Cockney-hearted aristocratic demurist eclypt Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill. Mr. C's indignation knew no bounds. Out of his emperpured face issued sounds of fury and outraged dignity. Chinese Communists had dared to fire upon some of His Majesty's loyal subjects.

Therefore, there was nothing to do but give the heathen—excuse it, please—unshirtd hell. Rush more warships to the scene, and give the beggars a dose of British shot and shell. Teach them that to lay violent hands on an Englishman, no matter how humble, is to court the wrath of the Almighty. Duty demands it. Living up to the obligations of the White Man's Burden demands it. Why tarry we here? Up anchors, and away!

The scene in Washington at the same moment, unrehearsed, and as unprepared as a n'April showers, was almost an exact duplicate.

This time it was Long Tawn Connally, the silver-tongued orator from the falls of the Brazos, a speaker quite as persuasive and pervasive as the redoubtable leader of the King's Loyal Opposition himself.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was quite as indignant, and as eloquent. The Chinese Communist, forgetting their manners, had invaded the U. S. Embassy in Nanking and routed from sleep, as one would arouse a lodgekeeper. His Excellency, the U. S. Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, the Hon. J. Leighton Stuart. In the dead of night, mind you.

"It's a serious affront," said Long Tawn, with deadly underemphasis, forgetting his cow-country upbringing, which calls for a shot from the hip and a court of inquiry later. "They've got to learn to respect United States rights and property. I think the State Department should make representations and ram them down their throats."

Just a couple of old sticks-in-the-mud, refusing to recognize Progress, and persisting in living in a world of chivalry and good manners. Fifty years behind the time, at least, and obviously candidates for enshrinement and oblivion.

All the same, we have a sneaking notion they're right. The British Empire endured for 300 years because it thought nothing of sending a man-o'-war 5,500 miles to shell into rubble a village whose chief presumed to dine off British missionary haunch. And Long Tawn Connally's grandpa and his ilk would trail 4 hor-thief 2,000 miles to recover a spavined mustang and mete out frontier justice to the upstart who dared lay hands on a citizen's beast of burden. It wasn't the property, involved, it was the principle of the thing.

It is still the principle of the thing in a world of decency and order, and as far as we're concerned we'd follow old Winnie and Old Tawn to the jumping off place without raising a questioning eyebrow.

Nation Today—James Marlow

Senate Bill Would Give States $35 Million For Child Health

WASHINGTON, APRIL 29 (AP)—WHAT about the health of the 29 million children between the ages of 5 and 17 in this country?

If they have physical defects that are found and treated they can grow into healthy men and women. Otherwise, their lives are marred.

The Senate today tackles, and is expected to approve, a bill giving the states $35 million to help them set up child health programs.

This won't become law, of course, unless the House also approves it at some later date in this session.

But this is the thinking of the senators—a number of Democrats and Republicans—who have combined to push the bill:

They figure in this country there are perhaps 7 1/2 million children with bad tonsils or adenoids; 4 million with eye defects; one million with ear defects; 500,000 with rheumatic fever; 200,000 with epilepsy; and 300,000 with other ailments.

IN MAKING A REPORT ON THE BILL, the senators say it has been estimated that 75 per cent of all school children need some dental care.

Periodic health examinations are needed to discover their ills and get them treatment so their trouble can be cured or checked.

About 36 of the 48 states now provide medical examination or inspections of their school children.

In some of the states there are examinations every year, in some only every three or four years.

The health services for school children vary widely in thoroughness and effectiveness. Why?

Not enough money in some states to do a good or better job. This is true in most of the states, the senators report. They say:

In many areas and particularly those with low incomes and large numbers of children, the "prevailing school health programs, if any, are grossly inadequate."

WELL, WHAT CAN BE DONE ABOUT IT? The senators want the states to develop programs to give examinations in all schools, public and parochial, where it can be done at reasonable cost.

And, further they want the states to provide treatment for free for mental and physical ills whenever the parents can't afford to pay.

(In World War II, selective service records show, about five million men—about 30 per cent of all those examined—were physically, mentally or emotionally unable to meet the standards of the armed forces.)

How would the money be spent?

To get the full $35 million provided for under this bill, the states would have to put up at least $25 million of their own money.

Not all states would receive the same amount of government help.

The richer ones, better able to afford good health programs, would receive a smaller percentage of government money than the poor ones.

For example: The richest states would have to match the government money given them dollar for dollar. This would be a 50-50 arrangement.

But the federal government would put up $3 for every $1 in the poorest states. This would be a 75-25 arrangement.

After finishing this child health bill, the Senate expects to consider and pass a bill giving $300 million a year of government money to help the states do a better job of educating their children.

Insufficient funds keep husbands close to the fire and the loved ones.

The problem is not what you'd like to eat, but what you can afford to eat.

Everything tastes delicious to a person who's slenderizing.

Government Position May Be Used As Springboard To Industrial Job

WASHINGTON — One of the worst Washington lobbying rackets is to get a job with the government, then use it as a springboard to secure a lush-paying job in private industry. Sometimes a government official almost seems to be working for the private company with which he wants a job even before he gets the job.

Recently the Waltham Watch Company received a $6 million loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. At the very same time it received the loan, Waltham hired one of the chief RFC officials who helped arrange the loan—John Hagerty, head of the RFC's Boston office.

Hagerty knows nothing about the intricate problem of watch-making or selling. It is a political protegee of ex-Sen. Dave Walsh. But he handled the preliminary work for the Waltham loan, recommending it to the RFC in Washington. He was then getting a government salary of $10,000. But the minute Waltham got the loan, Hagerty left the RFC and went to work for Waltham at a salary of $30,000.

Query: Did Waltham offer the lush salary to Hagerty because he deserved it, or as a reward for helping swing the RFC loan?

ANOTHER RFC LOAN

Again, the RFC has given a $3 million loan to the Plywood Plastics Corp., of Hampton, S. C., one of the RFC officials who helped arrange it was Sterling Foster.

And now Foster has notified the RFC that he intends to go to work soon for the Plywood Plastics, the same company which borrowed $3 million. Foster will just about double his salary, getting $8,000 the first year, and $22,000 by the third year.

Again query: Was this a reward for help in arranging the loan?

The Treasury's Internal Revenue Bureau long ago got around this problem by refusing to let any of its retired personnel practice before the bureau until two years after resigning. But other government departments are lax, especially the Army and Navy.

One of the worst scandals in Washington is the number of high-ranking Army and Navy officers now working for private industry in order to handle procurement contracts with the Army and Navy. Many of them still draw pensions from the U. S. government, plus income-tax cut-offs, in addition to their lush private industry salaries.

NEW JUDGE BALDWIN

Sen. Ray Baldwin's acceptance of a Supreme Court judgeship in Connecticut illustrates a point that many people don't realize—the wear and tear to which we subject our public servants.

Sen. Baldwin has been active in Connecticut politics for 29 years—a long time in any man's life. During that period he was subjected to the expense and the physical drain of running for statewide office in five elections in 10 years. In other words, he ran for governor or senator an average of every two years.

During his 29 years in public office a quirk of fate made it such that no Republican governor was ever in office at the right time to appoint him to the state Supreme Court—long Baldwin's chief ambition. Either Baldwin was ambitious and couldn't appoint himself, or a Democrat was governor and wouldn't appoint him.

So, the other day, Gov. Chester Bowles, hearing of Baldwin's lifelong ambition, offered him appointment to the Supreme Court, and the senator naturally accepted. He will not take office until December by which time most major legislative matters will have been decided.

NOTE — Several years ago, Herbert Hoover, sizing up Republican presidential timber, described Baldwin as the ablest governor in Republican ranks. As a senator he has also lived up to this appraisal.

AID TO EDUCATION

Federal aid to education, which was blocked in the 80th Congress, is now pretty well set to roll through Congress—provided the Catholic Church gives its blessing.

In the past, the Catholics have put up a fight because religious schools are not included in the program. But Senate Labor Chairman Elbert Thomas of Utah has taken quiet steps to obtain Catholic co-operation, and thus assure smooth sailing for the bill.

Thomas's first move was to invite two Catholics—Senators Howard McGrath of Rhode Island and James Murray of Montana—to join in sponsoring the bill. They warned, however, that if the Catholic hierarchy took a stand against the bill, they would have to reverse themselves.

Although Thomas did not include parochial schools in the bill because of the constitutional divorce of church and state, he tried to woo Catholic support by proposing that parochial schools be included in a federal health program for school children.

Senators Brien McMahon of Connecticut and Ed Johnson of Colorado promptly offered an amendment which would make health benefits available to parochial schools as part of the aid-to-education bill. But Thomas, wary of linking church schools with the education bill in any way, proposed a separate bill instead. This would authorize $35 million for health benefits for both public and parochial schools.

Thomas now hopes to push both bills through Congress at the same time, appeasing the Catholics with the health bill and those against federal aid to parochial schools with the other bill.

New York's Loyalty Day parade today, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, should do more than certain witch-hunts to stimulate thinking about the good old U. S. A. . . . Look Magazine takes a certain look at city across the river this week . . . South Dakota Democrats have found a candidate they believe can beat Sen. Chan Gurney in 1950—Huron's new mayor, Dr. John S. Tachtler. The doctor has been chief of staff at the Catholic Hospital in Huron—though he, himself, is a Lutheran . . . President Truman has asked his council of economic advisers for an up-to-date memorandum of the U. S. economic condition no later than May 15.

Actor Says Girls Have Edge In Clothes Item

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For years we've been hearing the complaints of female film stars about getting up at dawn to look glamorous at nine, and so forth. Here's Robert Cummings on the plight of the male star.

"The girls have it easy," said the Joplin, Mo., actor. "Everything they wear in pictures is supplied by the studio—their dress, stockings, shoes, underwear, jewelry, hair, even their falsies. They could arrive at the studio naked, if they cared to.

"But the actor has to pay for everything himself. He even has to bring his own toupee, if he wears one." (Cummings doesn't.)

His complaint is that none of an actor's wardrobe—theoretical part of the tools of his job—is tax deductible.

"Every year I used to take my clothes and still photos from my pictures to the post office buildings in Hollywood. I would explain to the income tax people how I used which suit in which picture. This year they decided clothes weren't deductible, even though I have to dress well in my job."

The clothes item may sound like small potatoes to you and me, but it comes to quite a tally for Cummings. "I figure producers are paying me a lot of money and I ought to dress well," he remarked.

Dressing well amounts to $250 per suit, and he's got at least 40 of them. He has about 45 hats, costing up to $40 per copy. Ties are $15 a piece and he buys two of each, in case he spills gravy on one during a picture. His shirts run $18 and they are usually expended during a picture, since they have to be laundered every day.

Organizations Do Not Always Match High-Sounding Titles

No credit to our depth of thinking, but I wonder if a lot of people in this part of the country don't shrug off many of the alarms about communist infiltration. I know that, in my own case, the communist agitation frequently seems so remote as to be almost unreal.

Those officials in the highest offices of this country don't shrug off these things, though, and many agencies, including the Justice Department, the FBI and the military services seem to be constantly on the alert against subversive influences. They are not successful in every case, but the mere act of exposing some "pinko" organization is sometimes enough to scuttle that organization's effectiveness.

The insidious thing about a lot of the communist-tinged organizations is that they cloak themselves in a title of high patriotism, and put up a front for "democracy" and "civil rights." It's a well-known fact that Americans are confirmed joiners of any association they think has "do-good" purposes, and they can be deceived by outward aspects.

There has reached my desk a list of organizations which officially have been designated as totalitarian, fascist, communist, or downright subversive. You probably are acquainted with those listed as subversive, since they include the Communist Party, U.S.A., the Communist Political Association, the German-American Bund, the Socialist Workers Party, the Workers Party, and the Young Communist League.

What probably is more dangerous is the list—and it includes no less than 87 organizational names—of organizations specified as communist, because of their guise of respectability.

Just look at the titles of some of these groups:

American League for Peace and Democracy, American Peace Mobilization, American Youth Congress, American Youth for Democracy, Council for Pan-American Democracy, National Committee to Win the Peace, National Federation of Constitutional Liberties, People's Educational Association, Washington Committee for Democratic Action, and so on.

Well, on the surface, one might think that the "American League for Peace and Democracy" would be a worthy organization. Americans want peace, and certainly they upheld the democratic system of government. The catch is to determine just what this particular organization would want to do to maintain peace, or just what it means by "democracy." The "National Committee to Win the Peace" sounds good on paper, but if winning the peace means yielding completely to totalitarian foes, then it's something we want to stay shy of. "People's Educational Association" takes on the appearance of being something the average American would favor, but it has to be determined first just what kind of "educational" processes the organization is promoting. Perhaps these processes are for overthrow of our government.

It is apparent that a great many conscientious, patriotic people get "taken in" by these titles. The organizers are usually pretty adept at getting "big names" on an honorary board of directors and on letterheads. Then, when the mail goes out to the common herd, it has more appeal than ever.

It's difficult for the average person to separate the wheat from the chaff, in these instances. About the only thing I know to do is, when you get mail, or a personal solicitation from some outfit that wants to sign you up in a "democratic" or "educational" cause, is to check and double-check before you take the membership. If you want to query on the status of such organization, I imagine any public official would refer you to the FBI. If there are 87 active organizations already known to be of communist influence, there must be others not yet exposed. It's everybody's job to see that they are exposed.—BOB WHIPKEY

British Commonwealth Saved By Simple Juggling Of Words

THE HISTORIC AGREEMENT WHEREBY India can become a republic and still remain a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, without recognition of the king's sovereignty, constitutes one of the striking developments of these amazing days in which we live.

By a simple juggling of words this great commonwealth has been saved from the disastrous loss of India's membership, and the possible withdrawal of other members later. Not only that, but the new commonwealth (which abandons the designation of "British") bids fair to be far stronger than ever.

The weakening of the commonwealth at this crucial juncture in the cold-war between the Communist and the anti-Communist blocs would have been a serious blow to the latter. This would be especially true as regards India, for this great nation of 300 million people may easily become the keystone of the defense against Bolshevism in Asia.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, IT'S A FAIR guess that the aspect of the situation was constantly in the minds of the London conferees. They scarcely could ignore that angle in view of the steam-roller offensive of the Chinese Communist armies against Central and Southern China. India and China, lie side by side in the Asiatic theatre in which the war of the isms may eventually be decided.

The change in the commonwealth relations perhaps couldn't have been achieved but for the extraordinary circumstance that Britain has no written constitution to hamper the re-framing. The constitution just grew up through precedent. The same is true of many laws, which are based on custom and common-sense interpretation.

Thus freed from constitutional barriers, the commonwealth conference in a few sessions figured out a way to get around the kingly sovereignty to which India objects so fiercely. As things now stand the king is accepted "as a symbol of free association tion" of the independent members, "and as such, the head of the commonwealth."

ONE CAN'T PASS ON WITHOUT REFERRING to Winston Churchill's comment on the commonwealth agreement. He hailed it as a possible step towards merging the United States with a united Europe. He said such an association might bring to "a harassed and struggling humanity real security and freedom for hearts and home."

It might seem somewhat strange that India should be the one to object to further recognition of the king's sovereignty. Throughout the long reign of the British throne, India, with her hundreds of Arabian nights princes, was the scene of a regal splendor rarely equaled in history. The imperial Durbar, with the bejeweled maharajahs and their appanaged elephants, were story book dreams.

Probably no other emperor had such homage paid to him as was tendered by these powerful rulers whose wealth was so vast they couldn't compute it. Even the emperor's representative, the viceroy, maintained an atmosphere which was more regal than that in London.

So it's given to wonder why India should be the one to refuse recognition of regal sovereignty now. Still, having seen much of that country at first hand in the imperial days, I incline to the thought that after all it may be in part because of those times that India shuns imperialism now.

THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE princes loved the glitter of imperialism. So did many of the Indian aristocracy. But the blaze of the jewels only served to spotlight the tragedy of hungry millions who forced a bare existence from the soil.

Furthermore the Indians are a liberty-loving people, and they are proud. They bow to nobody these days, since they won their independence under such leaders as Prime Minister Nehru and the great Gandhi, who was Nehru's friend and teacher,

Growing To Sense Of Money Is Not Easy Process For Children

philosopher says:

An adult has a sense of money. But a child has to grow up to it.

Money isn't as many to a child as it sometimes can be to a grownup, with a sense of perspective.

Before he went to bed each evening a friend of mine had a habit of putting the change in his pocket on the bureau top. Then he would joke:

"That's what they paid daddy today."

One day his daughter said to him: "Don't we ever make more than five bucks a day?"

It was only then that he learned his daughter had joined a social class above his own.

ANOTHER FRIEND OF MINE HAS A timid son whom he is trying to make into a rugged citizen.

When he complained he had been beaten up by his schoolmates, his father said: "The next time you throw the first fist."

A few days later the boy, who was in the third grade, came home and told his father he had thrown the first fist when attacked.

The proud father wanted to know what happened.

"Well, it was a second-grader," his son said.

His disappointed father, hoping the boy's adversary was at least bigger than he, then asked, "What happened?"

"Well," his son replied, "she said mean

Grade School Pupils Present One-Act Play

GARDEN CITY, April 30.—"Rainbow's End," a one-act play, was presented by Mrs. Benable's third grade pupils at the elementary school assembly Friday morning.

Participating in the play were Camillo Tovas, Doyleene Little, Jimmie Davis, Donald Baker, Mary Ruth Asbill, Loyd Van Jones, Retha Lee Huggins, E. A. Trumble, Jo Ann Hirt, Alta Fay Morris, Juannell Overton, Orle Bautista, Barbara Ann Byerley, Kenneth Robinson, Billy Bowden, Eddy Lynn Shipman, Thelbert Asbill, Kenneth Smith, Valentine Tovas and Kenneth Baker.

Last of the series of grade school plays will be given May 17 at 10 a. m. and Mrs. Alton Cook and Gracia Ross will be in charge.

Colored School Children Gardens Planned By Colorado Kiwanians

COLORADO CITY, April 30.—Two rural areas. Community and home gardens for colored school children of Mitchell county have been made one of the current projects of the Colorado City Kiwanis club.

With Sims Palmer, Noble Walker, and Joe Cowan (county agent) as the organization's agriculture committee for this year, two large community gardens have been planted. Sixty home gardens, for children of Negro share-croppers and farm laborers, are also part of the project.

The two community project gardens are in widely separated sections of the county. One is at the Thompson Colored School, near the Morgan creek dam site. Charles C. Thompson, large-scale farmer-rancher on whose land most of the pupils live, has given 10 acres of fertile land in the Morgan creek area for the 30 colored children participating in their club garden.

Enough seed corn of the new G-7-11 variety was given each boy for his home garden and was also planted in the community plot. Kiwanians also bought onion sets and various leafy vegetable seeds for the colored youngsters of the

Father Sentenced In Killing Of Rapicker He Believed Rapist

PITTSBURGH, April 30. (AP)—A father who killed an aged rapicker he believed had raped his five-year-old daughter, was sentenced to 4 1/2 to nine years in the Allegheny County Workhouse.

Nicholas Antico was convicted last month of second degree murder in the shooting of 75-year-old William Moore. Antico, 37, had pleaded innocent to a general charge of murder in the slaying last Nov. 5.

Police testified they arrested Moore after he took Antico's daughter, Betty, to his room and kissed her. They said the father thought his daughter had been raped. He came to the police station, went to the cell block and shot Moore to death.

Booklet Of Household Hints Available Here

New ideas on room decoration, hints on house painting, suggestions for refurbishing furniture are packed with many other useful bits on information in a guide on home decoration available here.

Called the "Home Decorator," the guide is a 44-page booklet prepared for the Sherwin-Williams company by some of the country's leading color-stylists, decorators and planners. A. A. Cooper, local manager, said that the guide incorporates some of the newest developments in color.

It is replete with color illustrations to show the effects to be obtained through treatment of walls, woodwork, floor coverings, draperies and furnishings. Similarly, some of the varied stylings possible in bedrooms are depicted.

Besides furnishing a list of tips on how to paint for best results, the booklet contains a check list of things for which to look when exterior is painted. Timesavers in keeping floors, woodwork, furniture looking bright also are contained. Copies are available, said Cooper, for the asking.

Packing Company's Plant Destroyed

PORT ARTHUR, April 30. (AP)—A $60,000 fire swept the Grant Packing Company plant here today, destroying the building, refrigeration equipment and stored meats.

Origin of the blaze was not immediately determined. Fire Chief Dave Rachal made the estimate on the damage.

NAVY WORRIES OVER BAD ERROR OF FOUR ONE-THOUSANDTHS OF SECOND

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) — The U. S. Naval Observatory trying to keep your watch accurate has set up a station in Florida to correct that error—which you probably noticed—of four one thousandths of a second a day. This was a pretty bad error.

Garden City Lions Hear Colorado Man

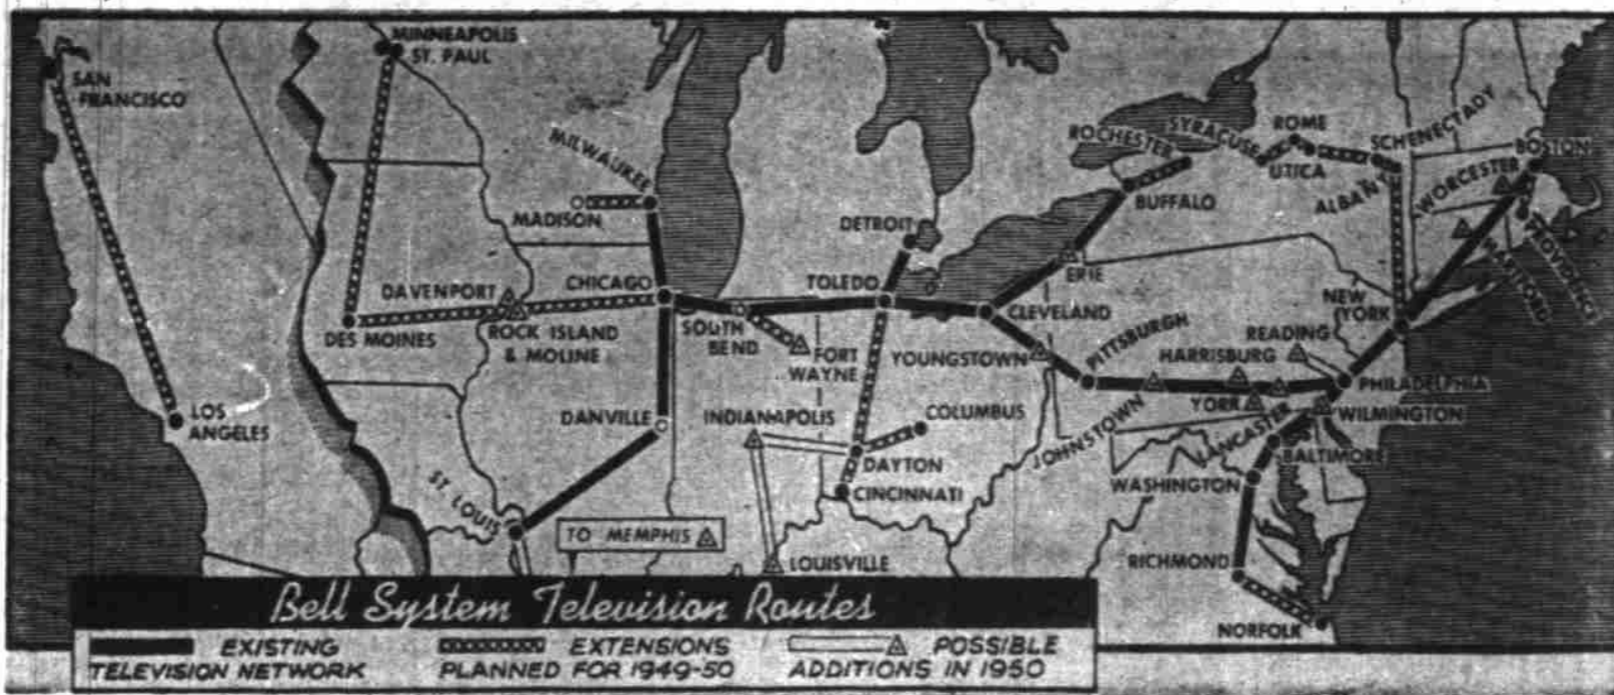

GARDEN CITY, April 30.—Rosa Lahr, a Coloradoan, was guest speaker when the Lions club met in the music room of the high school Thursday evening. J. W. Cox, Walter Teele and C. G. Parsons were named as a nominating committee. Attending were Judge Carr, R. W. Spencer, Neill Honeycutt, H. L. Lovell, D. W. Parker, H. A. Haynes, Max Fitzhugh, Dan Houston, C. G. Parsons, J. W. Cox, Jay Booth, Walter Teele, Rev. A. C. Durrant, and Rev. A. T. Mason.

scientists told the American Physical Society today.

It amounted to a change of some three or four seconds a century. The observatory is located in Washington. But the new station at Richmond, Fla., because it has better weather, promises to cut the error to one one-thousandth of a second daily, or one complete second every 300 years.

The mistake results from the fact that the earth, like all aging things, is slowing down. Scientists measure time by checking the earth's rotation against the stars. And if the earth's rotation varies from year to year, which it does, that throws the measurements off and makes your watch wrong.

The Navy telescope at Richmond, where visibility is clearer than it is in Washington, will be in a better position to keep track of the change.

TELEVISION NETWORK — Map above shows existing Bell System television network, extensions planned for 1949-50, and possible addition in 1950. Bell officials point out it's next to impossible to forecast network extensions more than a year ahead on anything like a time table basis. First there has to be a demand for service. Then construction plans have to be fitted in with the telephone expansion program of each area, for telephone service has precedence. (AP Photos).

Movie-Making Facilities Are Fast Turning To Television

HOLLYWOOD, April 30. (AP) — A new kind of movie-making is springing up fast. It produces films for television.

Its handful of eager pioneers see themselves as the D. W. Griffiths and Cecil B. DeMilles of their new field. They work with astonishing speed and economy.

Half-hour pictures are shot in two days. They cost about $10,000. The Epic you see in a theatre, may cost a million dollars, maybe more. Filming it may take two months or longer.

Television-film pioneers think that in five or 10 years they'll be producing perhaps 10 times as many films as all Hollywood now turns out for theatres.

Not as lavish or as long films, to be sure. They won't cost $2 million or star $5,000-a-week players—no sponsor can afford such outlays. But one insider says:

"Television films will do away with the 'B' pictures. Why will people pay $5 for parking, baby sitter, and admission to see a 'B' picture when they can stay home and see a picture every bit as good, maybe better? 'A' pictures will stay in the theatres, but Hollywood will have to improve the quality of its pictures."

That 10-times estimate is forcefully argued. Fifty per cent of television programming — some say more — will be on film. Film is comparable, in television, to radio's records and transcriptions. On film, fluffs are eliminated.

Hal Roach, Jr., president of the Television Film Producers' Association says:

"All of Hollywood now turns out 27 hours of motion picture entertainment a week. An estimate of 10 times that much for television could easily come true. Some day, television will operate 24 hours a day. I think 80 or 85 per cent of it will be on film."

Major studios haven't entered the field for several reasons. There's still no money in it, except, possibly, for makers of one-minute commercials. The big studios feel that their job is to serve the theatres. Television is regarded as a competitor.

The pioneers, meanwhile, are establishing themselves as television-film producers. They're swallowing losses until there are enough television stations and viewers so they can charge profitable rates. There are 59 stations in the United States now. Next year there are expected to be 100. Films used once now can be re-sold again.

The pioneers work with great efficiency. Every scene and camera angle is carefully planned in advance. Takes are longer—and there are fewer repeats.

Sets are small and compact. Stagehands assemble one room while players rehearse on another and cameramen light a third.

Television films already made offer everything from "Puddle Patch Club," like Hal Roach's old "Our Gang" comedies, to crime-detective dramas and slapstick.

Only one series is sponsored nationally. Grant-Realm's "Your Show Time," 26 weekly installments of drama based on classic fiction appears on 35 stations for American Tobacco Company. A deal was recently announced whereby Apex Pictures will make 52 weekly "Lone Ranger" films, under sponsorship of General Mills, for $520,000.

Television players have included Arthur Shields, Jeanne Cagney, Reginald Denny, Hurd Hatfield, John Howard and Beulah Bondi. They work for the Screen Actors' Guild minimum for speaking parts—$55 a day.

The players want to see what the new medium is like—and possible get in on its ground floor. Television-film producers think their stars eventually will be better known than the Gables and Colberts. Home viewers will see their

Cabinet Member To Address Meet Of Demos Saturday At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, April 30. The largest gathering of Democrats in Texas is expected here Saturday, May 7, for the Democratic $10-a-plate barbecue at which Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan will be principal speaker.

"The barbecue will be the third of the party's fund-raising events to be staged in Texas, $25-a-plate dinners having been previously staged at Austin and Corpus Christi.

"It's going to be a typical West Texas affair and we want everybody to come out here prepared for a big time in country picnic style," says Arch S. Underwood, West Texas Compress and Warehouse owner, who is chairman of the barbecue. Underwood has long been a leader in party politics.

Members of the local arrangements committee are planning for an attendance of 1,000 or more persons. The barbecue will be served by the Lubbock Lions Club in the beautiful Aggie Grove on the campus of Texas Technological College.

Tickets are now being offered by chairmen throughout West Texas with various towns and communities pledged to send good delegations.

As Secretary Brannan's new national farm program was only recently introduced in Washington, his talk here is expected to attract widespread interest because it will be centered on an explanation of the farm program.

In addition to Sec. Brannan, at least five and maybe seven Texas Congressmen will come here for the barbecue. Congressmen who have already accepted invitations are: Geo. Mahon, Colorado City; Bob Poase, Waco; Gene Worley, Shamrock; Ken Reagan, Midland and Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth; will be L. B. Glidden of Dallas.

Seiberling Head Scheduled To Be Here For Meet

Big Spring will be honored Wednesday by the presence of the head of one of the nation's major tire manufacturers.

He is J. P. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, who will be here for a district meeting of Seiberling independent tire dealers from Big Spring and surrounding area.

This will be the rubber executive's first Texas visit in several months. He has been president of the company since 1938, when he succeeded his father, F. A. Seiberling, 85-year-old "dean" of the rubber industry and founder of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the Seiberling Rubber company. The elder Seiberling is chairman of the board of the latter company.

Charles Crelighton, host dealer said that Jack R. Lotze, Akron, merchandising manager for the company, and H. J. Bobbitt, Dallas district manager, would accompany the concern's chief executive here for the meeting, which is scheduled for 2 p. m. in the Settles.

Road Crews Moving To Gail Road

With base work completed on more than four miles of the Lomax road, state highway department crews are moving in on the Gail road extension.

County Judge J. E. Brown said that the department workers had shifted locale to concentrate on widening and preparation of base for about eight miles on the Gail road.

This will not only include a major extension on the north end, which will put it within about a mile of the Borden county line, but also will connect it on the south with the new Snyder road, about one mile east of where the Snyder highway leaves the present Gail road north of the cemetery.

Topping of the Lomax sector, which gives the people of that southwestern Howard county area an all weather connection with U. S. 80 west of Morita, is scheduled during May, Judge Brown said the state highway department had informed him.

The work is being carried on in cooperation with the state under the 75-25 program—the county furnishing 75 per cent of the cost and roadway, the state 25 per cent of the cost plus engineering, construction and maintenance.

Grocers To Have Picnic Monday Eve

Independent grocers of the city and their families are to gather for a picnic at the city park Monday evening. The affair has been set for 8 o'clock, and all grocers and their families have been invited to attend.

The get-together is sponsored by the Big Spring Independent Retail Grocers association, in cooperation with wholesale houses.

The first use of the American flag occurred in a military ceremony on Aug. 2, 1777, the flag having been made from crude clothing material found in a fort under siege by the British.

Last Rites For Ben M. Schafer Set For Today

PVT. B. M. SCHAFER, JR.

The remains of Pvt. Ben M. Schafer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Schafer, Big Spring, will be laid to final rest today at Garden City, where he was reared.

Services have been set for 2 p. m. at the Eberley chapel, where the remains were taken upon arrival here Saturday morning. The Rev. R. O. Browdes, Rochester, former pastor of the young soldier, will officiate.

Schafer gave his life on Luzon on April 5, 1945 when leading an attack on a position on the Villa Verde trail. An artillery shell exploded nearby and he was struck by shrapnel.

Entering service June 11, 1944, Pvt. Schafer trained at Camp Wolters and went overseas in November to Dutch, New Guinea and entered combat the following February. He was 19 years of age at the time of his death.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Dora Lee Schafer; two brothers, Charlie Jo Schafer and Leonard Schafer; and his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Carter, Garden City.

Burial will be beside the graves of a brother, Clyde, who died in 1941, and a sister, Pansy, who died in January 1942 from injuries when fire consumed the family home at Garden City.

Bureau May Aid Farm Labor Camp

Some arrangement may be worked to make facilities of the Howard County Migratory labor camp, one of the finest of its type in the Southwest, available for use here this year.

While the county has no budgetary provision for its operation other than for utilities, and fixed charges, County Judge J. E. Brown is hopeful that a program similar to last autumn can be worked.

At that time the Howard county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation stepped into the breach and helped make the modern facilities of use in housing migratory workers and to serve as a headquarters for placement. Judge Brown said he understood the Bureau had the matter under advisement.

The camp here is of brick and tile construction and represents an investment of approximately $15,000. Constructed in an L shape, each wing contains rooms capable of housing families of migratory farm workers briefly. There are gas and electrical outlets. The corner of the L contains bath and toilet facilities, and clothesline space is provided in the courtyard.

The Saturday Evening Post once carried a colored picture of the camp in connection with a story on what was being done to make the lot of the migratory farm worker more tenable.

At the time of its construction, placement of farm labor was being handled under the extension service. Since that time it has been transferred back to the Texas Employment Commission, but economies cut down on the number of persons in this field of work. This eliminated regular supervision and at one time threatened to keep the camp closed. The Bureau, however, helped get around this last year.

Pallbearers will be R. C. Schafer, Gene Schafer, Robert Lawson of Garden City, Clarence Eckert, San Angelo, Garland Eastman, Andrews, and D. W. Graham, Stanton. The American Legion will be in charge at the grounds.

Old Trader Ignores All Rules, And Is Getting Along Nicely

HUGO, Okla., April 30. (U) — The sign on the outside of the store reads: "Everything To Sell From A Chigger To An Elephant."

On the inside is 60-year-old Smith Lipscomb Luton, one of the best horse traders in the old Choctaw nation, which is now Southeastern Oklahoma.

Luton's "Indian Territory Trading Post" is known for its assortment of odds and ends to end all odds and ends.

If you dusted off a random stack of articles, you could find a collar button, coffin, horsecollar, wooden lemon squeezer and embossed powder horn.

There are hundreds of such items piled in the store, but Luton finds there always is a buyer, no matter how useless an article may appear.

Although his store is far from the nation's crossroads, there is a well beaten path to his door. Luton doesn't want publicity. Another crude, homemade sign in his store reads: "I made a living when Hugo was in the Indian Territory. I don't worry then whether you bought or not. In fact, you wasn't here. I got along O. K. and am still doing it."

It's getting so people dare Luton to buy things from them because of his reputation to turn everything into a profit. A well-dressed stranger once appeared at the trading post and declared:

"I have something here you won't buy!"

Luton took a look. Without even a grimace he plunked down 15 cents and bought a glass eye.

It didn't gather dust long. Luton found a customer and sold it for $1.65.

He once purchased some old-fashioned caskets from an out of state company. Folks here thought he would get stuck for sure that time.

But not old Luton. He sold them around the county as "nice for quilt boxes."

It's nothing unusual for him to resell used false teeth. Only recently he received a letter from a Bartlesville, Okla., woman. She wrote:

"I got me a set of dentures, which I have never had in my mouth. The teeth are very pretty in the set, and I thought I'd write and see if you would buy them and what price you will pay."

Luton ignores all orthodox selling methods and practices. Everything is piled high in his one-story brick building. One sign reads: "Warning—don't get the dust off my merchandise. That's the reason it's cheap. Rub it off and I will have to go up 50 per cent." He tells the world his philosophy in another sign: "Stop. Get acquainted with people. I run my business and don't let it run me. I don't mind getting down to work in the morning because it's play!"

And then there's this one: "After all is said and done, what difference does it make if you are a king or a horse trader, as long as you are right?"

Void In Chinese Religion Is Challenge, Says Missionary

Wherever an individual Christian stronghold is made stronger, that additional strength automatically has an effect throughout the world, says Helen McCullough of Houston, a returned missionary to China, who visited in Big Spring this past week.

Miss McCullough's mission here, was to inform people concerning the work of the mission field, its problems and successes. She appeared here as part of the local observance of mission emphasis week in several churches in this area.

Miss McCullough arrived in the states from her post in Shanghai on December 23. A teacher in a Baptist high school for boys, she has not made any plans concerning her return. She will be in the states for, at least, a year.

Heils and to do something about them. Miss McCullough who serves with the Southern Baptists, says that church work in China is carried on in much the same way as it is in America. There are many Chinese pastors and religious workers, including many women. Miss McCullough says that in Shanghai, women have advanced in many ways and that they now hold all types of professional and business positions.

An English and music teacher with some 21 years of service in China, the Christian worker says that although there are many devout followers of the various religions of China, a large percent of the Chinese people are "more or less nothing." She says that the traditional religions have failed to stand modern tests and that the people seem to be gradually discarding the old beliefs, but they are failing to find something which will take their place. It is the duty of Christians everywhere to help those without faith to find something in which they can believe, declared the missionary. She did not comment on the international situation and its effect on China, but expressed her belief that missions have been helpful in the promotion of peace and that their work will continue.

BRITONS SHOCKED BY VOLLEY OF PROFANITY IN DINNER BROADCAST

LONDON, April 30. (U-P) — Britons tuned to the staid BBC were shocked to hear oaths and curses suddenly come hurtling out of the ether Thursday night.

The occasion? A broadcast of the first dinner of the Royal Academy since the war—an event expected to be as sedate as a temperance tea. But the diners — who included Winston Churchill, the Archbishop of Canterbury and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery—got involved in an argument on modern art. Retiring President Sir Alfred Munnings, 69, said modern painters were daubers who "cannot paint a tree to look like a tree." He went on to make alighting cracks about French Modernists Pablo Picasso and Henri Matisse. Outraged supporters of the modern painters shouted, banged on tables and yelled language which is banned from the air all over the world.

The BBC said later some 40 listeners called to protest but 14 others said they were "delighted."

Sir Alfred, to emphasize his distaste for Picasso, told of walking one day with Mr. Churchill: "Mr. Churchill said to me 'Alfred, if we saw Picasso coming down this street towards us, would you join me in kicking hard a certain part of him?'" "I said 'By god, Winston, I would.'"

O'Mahoney Hits GOP Political Tag On Advisers

WASHINGTON, April 30. (U-P) — A "political" tag aimed by Republicans to President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers was hurled back at the GOP Friday by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

O'Mahoney heads the Senate-House Economic Committee, whose Democratic members last month issued a report which in general approved President Truman's 10-point anti-inflation program.

Thursday night the Republicans on the committee released their own report, disputing the majority's findings and denying "any serious danger of inflation."

The committee Republicans drew up an eight-point program of their own, part of it frankly "anti-deflationary," and charged that Mr. Truman's proposals and the council report which went with them were tinged with "political propaganda."

That drew a heated retort from O'Mahoney. The GOP program itself is "political," he said, as well as "vague and ill-defined." He declared the inflationary hazard is almost as great as ever—that recent drops are "a mere wiggle at the top of the chart."

"The economy is under tremendous strain, and it will be as long as we continue to spend tremendous sums for national defense and foreign aid," he told a reporter.

The GOP report urged that the budget be balanced through cuts in government spending—not tax boosts, as the President recommended. The major threats to prosperity, the report said, are the "constantly increasing" tax load and a shortage of investment capital.

The Federal Reserve Board added a footnote to the squabble yesterday. It lowered the amount of money which its 7,000 member banks must hold in reserve by $1,200,000,000, to leave more bank funds free for lending. The order takes effect next week.

College Freshman Freed In Shooting Of His Classmate

TROY, N. Y., April 30. (U-P) — A 19-year-old Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute freshman was free Friday of a second degree manslaughter charge in the shooting of a classmate.

The charge against Richard Perry was dismissed in state supreme court Thursday. Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward J. Pojand said a grand jury had decided not to indict the former Dallas, Tex., youth.

However, Perry was fined $500 for illegal possession of the gun police said killed Manfred Lowen, 23.

Dist. Atty. Earle J. Wiley quoted Perry as saying his gun discharged accidentally while he was examining it and the bullet went through the wall of his room.

GOP Seeking More Savings

WASHINGTON, April 30. (U-P) — Republican senators, encouraged by an upset victory, Friday drove to slim down President Truman's multi-billion dollar spending program all along the line.

They thus hope to kill off any federal tax increases this year.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) spearheaded the successful economy campaign which late Thursday sent a $2,500,000,000 money bill back to the Senate Appropriations Committee with instructions to cut it.

A solid bloc of 36 Republicans got unexpected aid from eight Democrats to turn that trick and bowl over a long-standing Senate tradition not to send appropriation bills back to committee.

Most senators thought they were voting for a cutback of about $13 million. But experts on Senate rules say the slash actually may include well over $200 million previously added to the bill but chopped off by its return to committee.

The bill, first money measure to reach the Senate this session, carries funds for labor and federal security agencies.

SHE TAKES FAST FREIGHT TO RENO

LOS ANGELES, April 30. (U-P) — Their marriage was derailed by toy trains, says Film Actress Beverlee Mitchell.

She won a divorce from William F. Crane Thursday testifying:

"He was so intent on his hobby he refused to kiss me for six of the 10 months of our married life or even take me out to a movie. Why, he even spent $700 on electric trains when we had no money to pay the rent or the doctor."

Once, pouted Miss Mitchell, 23 and red-haired, when she asked Crane, 28, to kiss her, he answered:

"Leave me alone. I want to play with my train."

Women's Meet Ends

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., April 30. (U-P) — The General Federation of Women's Clubs closed its 58th national convention Friday with an address by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on "Human Rights."

'Snake Pit' Termed Sympathetic Story Of Mental Problem

A motion picture hailed as one of Hollywood's more mature efforts, for its forthright approach to a major human problem, is "The Snake Pit," a Darryl F. Zanuck production which is the Ritz theatre's headliner for today and Monday.

Based on Mary Jane Ward's best-selling novel by the same name, the film deals with mental ailments and what is (or is not) being done toward their cure and toward care for victims.

"The Snake Pit" might be described as a psychological problem drama, but it also carries a compelling romantic story, and develops high emotional sequences. It has been called by critics as having pathos, sympathy, understanding and emotion.

Olivia de Havilland is the star of the story, and for her work was a ranking contender for the most recent Academy Award.

Under the direction of Anatole Litvak, the story moves through a series of flashbacks to tell the compelling story of Virginia Cunningham. Tracing the insidious forces which lead to her breakdown, the film accurately pictures Virginia inside a hospital where a successful attempt is made to restore her to her normal place in society.

Miss de Havilland's portrayal of Virginia has been termed the climax to her acting career.

Leo Genn is cast as the kindly and idealistic Dr. Kirk, while Mark Stevens contributes ably as Miss de Havilland's understanding husband, Celeste Horn appears as a friend of Olivia, and Glenn Langan is another of the principals in the cast. Other players are Helen Craig, Leif Erickson, Beulah Bondi, Lee Patrick, Howard Freeman, Natalie Schafer, Ruth Donnelly, Katherine Locke, Frank Controy and Minna Gombel.

The United States flag did not get its finishing touches until 1912 when the last two stars, representing Arizona and New Mexico, were added.

PSYCHOLOGICAL DRAMA — Mark Stevens and Olivia de Havilland are featured players in "The Snake Pit," featured attraction at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. An adaptation from a popular book, the film deals with insanity problems, has received wide attention. Miss de Havilland was a strong contender for Academy award honors with her roles.

WITH US AGAIN — Being re-released around the nation is one of the outstanding spectacle dramas of a few years back, "San Francisco," in which Clark Gable and Jeannette MacDonald (above) are starred. The picture, dealing with the tempestuous days of San Francisco before the great quake and fire, is at the State theatre today and Monday.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Charles Laughton On Guild's Show

The distinguished film stars Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Charles Laughton are heard in John Galsworthy's piercing examination of human character, "The Skin Game" on "Theatre Guild on the Air," this evening at 8:30 over KBST. Laughton portrays the ruthless pushing commoner, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke is heard as a worthy representative of the British aristocracy. Marjorie Hunt and Valerie White are featured.

"The Skin Game," perhaps the best example of Galsworthy's incisive sense of character, was an outstanding stage success on both sides of the Atlantic. Brought to New York after its London run, it was included in the Burns Mantle selection of the Ten Best Plays of the season.

"GREATEST STORY" "Seventy Were Sent Forth," to be presented on "The Greatest Story Ever Told," over KBST this afternoon at 5:30 is a dramatization of the Biblical lesson contained in the New Testament, St. Luke chapter 10, verses one to 20.

NEW PROGRAM A new program to be heard each Saturday morning on KBST, from 9 until 10 a. m. is "Johnny Olsen Get Together." Western Railroad Strike May 11 Seen As Peace Move Rejected

CHICAGO, April 30. (AP)—A strike on May 11 by some 25,000 railroad engineers against 15 western carriers appeared possible Friday.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers paved the way for the walkout Thursday by rejecting a presidential fact finding board's recommendation. The board on April 11 denied the union's demand for a second engineer on multiple unit diesel locomotives.

Under terms of the National Railway Labor Act the engineers can strike on May 11, although a union official said "a strike is not the only alternative." He indicated the union might be agreeable to further negotiations with the railroads.

James P. Shields, assistant grand engineer of the BLE, said a report on the rejection of the board's recommendations by the union's general chairman was sent to President Truman. He added that if Mr. Truman recommended further negotiations it would not be mandatory, "but such a recommendation would have some influence."

"It would hardly be proper to state what we plan to do until after the expiration of the 30-day limit (May 11)," Shields said.

The union had authorized a strike against the 15 western carriers and crew is an engineer and a fireman. The carriers claimed an extra engineer would be unnecessary and would be "made work."

The fact finding board reported that the union's demand had no "reasonable or logical basis."

Railroads which are threatened by the strike are the Illinois Central; Santa Fe; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific; Chicago and North Western; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Great Northern; Missouri Pacific; Texas and Pacific; Northern Pacific; Union Pacific; Southern Pacific; Western Pacific; St. Louis and San Francisco and the Chicago Great Western.

set Jan. 31 for the walkout. However, naming the fact finding board by President Truman delayed the strike. The Railway Labor Act also provide a "cooling off" period of 30 days after the board's report to the President before a strike can start.

The union had claimed a second engineer is necessary on multiple-unit diesel electric locomotives for safety and efficiency. The present

Use Of Stimulants Universal, Goes Back Thousands Of Years

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—Each smoke, cocktail, or drink of coffee, tea or cocoa is a little "flight from reality," says Norman Taylor in a new book by that name.

Marihuana and opium are powerful, dangerous wings for the same kind of flight from boredom. One odd thing about the drugs and stimulants that man uses this way is that they can be found anywhere in the world, he says. In every land, there's some plant that man employs as a stimulant or narcotic.

"Flight From Reality," (Duell, Sloan & Peatee), describes both common and strange ones. Taylor, director of the Cinchona Products Institute here, was formerly a staff member of the New York Botanical Gardens and curator at the Brooklyn Botanic Garden.

Hemp supplies some of the oldest narcotics. It has been known for 5,000 years, and used by the Greeks, Persians, Arabs, Hindus and Chinese. From it comes marihuana and hashish. The potent drug is a resin in the female flowers of hemp.

Marihuana, also known as bang, is a smoking mixture from the cut tops of uncultivated female plants, Taylor explains. A higher grade smoke is called ganja, and is made from a specially cultivated grade of hemp. Charas or hashish is the pure, unadulterated resin from the tops of the finest plants. It is most dangerous.

Opium comes only from the air-dried, coagulated milky juice of the unripe pod of one kind of poppy. Only in the unripe pod is there any danger.

Today, Taylor says, "well over 900 million people are apt to use either opium or hemp products." Opium is worse than marihuana and "it is difficult to exaggerate the tragedy that opium has brought to humanity. Its undeniable terrors and dangers have never stopped its use. Its hold upon its addicts is adamant."

Morphine and heroin, derived from opium, are even more dangerous than opium itself. They are taken by injection.

In Mexico, one narcotic is olluqui, a drink prepared from the bitter seeds of a vine that looks somewhat like the morning glory. It produces hallucinations and finally a kind of hypnotic sleep or coma. Peyoti, one form of cactus, also is used and has similar effects. America was the first home of tobacco. And "judging by the incomparable collection of tobacco pipe-ecologists have excavated, the habit stretched back before the first Spaniard put foot on the new world."

The use of alcohol dates far back over many parts of the world. There is record, Taylor says, of a brewery believed to have been operating in Egypt in 3700 B. C.

Coca leaves, the source of cocaine, are chewed today by more than 15 million persons. The habit was started by the Incas. It has a tremendous effect in overcoming fatigue. The Spaniards gave it to their Inca slaves sweating in the fabulous gold mines of Potosi.

In Australia there is pituri, a desert shrub. It contains some dangerous narcotic alkaloids, including the drug scopolamine. Australian natives chewed the leaves, mixed with alkali, to kill fatigue and hunger pangs. No other natives having used it, and its use is dwindling now, Taylor adds.

In Tahiti, Samoa, Fiji, Guam, and other islands of Oceania, natives drink kava, a tea-like brew made from the vines of certain shrubs. It has a narcotic effect, and is also a crude alcohol. In small doses it is harmless, bringing a sense of well-being and mild elation, Taylor writes.

Safer, and more widely used by far, are coffee, chocolate and tea. All are harmless in sensible amounts, but "when taken in sufficient quantity they can even be tagged as causes of addiction."

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—A small magnifying glass helps to put better fillings in teeth says Charles A. Levinson, of Brookline. He uses one, set like a dentist's mirror. With it he says he sees bits of decay and weaknesses due to thinness in walls made by the dental drills. He says the magnifier is important to dentists over 40 because their eyes do not see as well. Dr. Levinson uses a magnifying glass also to show his patients what he wants them to see.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Two new weed killers have been announced, for special kinds of jobs. One, for brush control, is from the Agricultural Chemicals Division of the Sherwin-Williams Co. It is said to have a highly lethal effect against poison ivy, poison oak, poison sumac, and nearly 60 other types of woody plants. It is expected to be helpful in reclaiming grazing land, along telephone and electric utility lines, railroad beds, roadsides and airports.

The other, announced by the DuPont Company is said to be effective against such weed pests as Johnson, Bermuda, and quack grasses, and prickly pear cactus. It is offered as an aid to industries, railroads, government agencies, ranchmen and agriculturalists.

NEW YORK, (AP)—A fact-finding program to learn how many people are affected by multiple sclerosis is announced by the national Multiple Sclerosis Society. One survey of this disabling disease, which often affects young adults, has been completed in New Orleans. Similar studies are underway in the San Francisco and Denver areas and are planned for Minneapolis and Boston.

Facts on the case rate, influence of climate, age, sex, and race all research seeking the cause and control of the disease, said Dr. Cornelius H. Traeger, medical director of the society.

State House Condemns Reds

AUSTIN, April 30. (AP)—The House of Representatives condemned Russia Friday, called for a European federation and asked that federal employees admitting Communism be fired.

It also called for the government of the United States to "take immediate steps to prevent Stalin from controlling China and should cease to throw away all that was won for us by our men who fought and died in the Pacific."

The ultimatums were made in a resolution adopted unanimously by the House. The resolution must go to the Senate for concurrence.

Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth was principal author of the resolution. Rep. R. E. (Peppy) Blount of Big Spring was co-author with Willis.

Called Meeting Held At AAA Office Here

All members of the county and community committees were present for a called meeting at the AAA office Thursday afternoon, purpose of which was to incorporate information on farm acreage requested by the government.

Vic Dviesas, district field officer, and M. Weaver, county AAA administrator, led the discussions. Also attending were Willis Winters, Roy D. Anderson, Ross G. Hill, Sam F. Buchanan, B. M. Newton, P. E. Little, Alvin Walker, Tom C. Spencer and Dale Puckett.

In 1948, the American League pennant-winning Cleveland Indians infield drove in 432 runs while the third place Yankees' infield sent only 187 across the plate.

WILL AID ECONOMY

Easier Loans Are Slated Next Week

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—Effective next week, the 7,000 banks of the Federal Reserve System will have an extra $1,200,000,000 available for lending. Financial experts said Friday that is enough to give the lagging economy a powerful "shot in the arm"—provided bankers and potential borrowers want to take risks.

A Federal Reserve Board order was responsible. It empowers the banks to lend the money by cutting $1,200,000,000 off the amount they were required to have in non-lendable reserves.

The motive of making lending easier was made plain. The board itself, in announcing the order last night, stressed that loans by these banks have dropped $1,500,000,000 since the start of this year.

An increase in loans—notably loans to business, which have fallen farther and faster in 1949 than any year on record—would counter recent deflationary effects reflected in lower prices, production, sales and employment.

The availability of the extra funds—more than double the total lendable funds on hand at these banks as of Wednesday—is expected to give lenders a "psychological" lift, affording them a bigger cash margin and an incentive to get a return on the money.

Nevertheless, there was no certainty about the ultimate effects of the action because business decisions on whether to borrow depend finally on prospects for profits.

West Red River Oil Fields About Done

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP)—The Bureau of Mines said Thursday the West Red River oil fields it operates are almost exhausted. The fields, whose 81 wells produced about 7 million barrels, is in the Red River bed between Texas and Oklahoma. The states disputed ownership after discovery of the field in 1919 and federal agencies have supervised it since under a receivership.

Ban Mixed Marriages
