Jon Jones Is Speaker At Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet

Britt, Sims And Brown Given Award

"Today's population is faced with the greatest challenge for advancement since the world's beginning, yet many of us are not availing ourselves of the opportunities in this country," Jon Jones, minister of the Pampa Church of Christ said Monday night.

Jones, who was speaking before 150 persons at the annual installation banquet of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce, explained that "we have to be dedicated to basic principles for successful living." The dinner meeting was held in the American Legion Building.

Jones explained that his definition of success is "progressive realization of a worthy ideal."

Harry Wofford, Wheeler County clerk, presented certificates to the man, woman and teenager who contributed most to the improvement of the Wheeler community during 1958. Outstanding man was Tom Britt, area rancher, and Outstanding woman was Mrs. A. E. Brown, wife of the Wheeler school superintendent, and Dean Sims, Wheeler High School senior was named Outstanding teenager.

Frank Wofford, owner of the Wheeler Drug Store, introduced guests from Amarillo, Briscoe, Canadian, Kelton, Mobeetie, Pampa, Shamrock and Wellington.

New chamber officers and directors were installed by Harry Wofford. Don Earney, publisher and editor of the Wheeler Times, is new president, succeeding Watson Burgess, Southwestern Public Service Co. manager in Wheeler.

James Verden, new vice president, succeeds George Hefley. Verden is Canadian Production Credit manager. Secretary-manager E. D. Guynes, who has resigned from his position effective February 1, does not have a successor named as yet.

Hold-over directors for 1959 are Wayne Edwards and C. C. Robinson. New directors are Burgess and Hefley.

Out-going president Burgess also presented a gift to Guynes for his services to the chamber in 1958. Earney listed as 1959 chamber projects an effort by the merchants committee to reorganize an annual city drawing, increase cooperation with other civic clubs in the area, a sharp increase in chamber membership, and new ideas for tourist promotion.

Jones listed three principles for success within his definition of the term. They are the ability to cultivate an art of appreciation of something of real value, the abolishment of past fears and mistakes in life, and a determination to seek true goals in life.

Jones used a Biblical reference "as a man thinketh in his heart so is he" in reference to the goals all men should have.

"Men who think in negative terms receive negative results," said Jones, "and those who think in positive terms get positive results."

"People don't use their minds today as much as they should. Certain university studies prove that people utilize only 10 per cent of their minds," he said.

Entertainment was provided by the Wheeler Men's Quartet; and Dr. Neely Joe Ellis of Pampa, accompanied by Miss Maxine Miller of Pampa; Miss Kitty Hillier of Wheeler High School played the organ for dinner music.

The invocation was brought by Percy Farmer, of Wheeler. Jones was introduced by E. M. Borden Jr. Wheeler Church of Christ minister.

WHERE TO LOOK IN THE BIBLE

When things look blue read Isaiah chapter 40.
When tempted to do wrong read the 139th Psalms.
If you are facing a crisis read the 46th Psalms.
When you are discouraged think over Psalms 23.
If you are bored read Psalms 103 or 104 or Job chapters 38 to 40.
When business is poor read Psalms 37.
When anxious for dear ones read Psalms 107.
When you plan your budget read St. Luke chapter 19.
To live successfully with your fellow man follow Romans chapter 12.
If you are sick or in pain read Psalms 91.
When you leave home for labor or travel carry Psalms 121 with you.
When you are weary seek St. Matthew 11, 28, 30 and Romans 8, 31, 39.
When everything seems to be going from bad to worse try 2nd Timothy.
The best investment is described in St. Matthew chapter 6.
Does God figure in our national life? Read Deuteronomy 8.
When your friends seem to go back on you hold fast to First Corinthians 13.
For an inward peace consider the 14th chapter of St. John's Gospel.
Have you been placed in a position of great responsibility? Read Joshua, chapter 1.
If you have been bereaved there is a message for you in First Corinthians 15 and Revelations 21.
For a stirring record of what trust in God can do, turn to the 11th chapter of Hebrews.
If you are satisfied with being "well to do" read chapters 15 and 16 of St. Luke's Gospel.
If you have suffered severe losses read the 8th chapter of Romans.
If you are having to put up a stiff fight there is a fine equipment listed at the end of Ephesians.
When you have sinned read First John 1 and St. John 3, 1, 21, Isaiah 53 and make Psalms 51 your prayer.

COTTON FASHION SHOW

The Department of Clothing and Textiles of Texas Tech at Lubbock is providing a premiere showing in the fashion world - exhibiting new fabrics (all cotton) even ahead of the first showing of many of these lovely materials at the buyers' New York market.

Through the cooperation of the National Cotton Council of America, and our own South Plains Cotton Promotion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, we have secured dress lengths of new fabrics practically as they roll out of the mills from all over the United States. You will want to see the exciting colors and textures in cotton for the coming seasons.

Advance, also, are the new designs furnished by Vogue Pattern Service from which the forty garments for the show are being cut, draped, and made. Some of these designs are so new that the students are constructing garments from designers' sketches while others have patterns, but no instruction sheets.

Enhancing the charm and beauty of the garments will be the latest styles in accessories - shoes, gloves, hats, hose, hair styles, etc. Adding interest to the entire program will be original

SWEETWATER PHILOSOPHER SAYS IF RUSSIAN POLITICIAN STOPS BY HIS PLACE, HE WANTS THE CASH

(Editor's Note: The Sweetwater Creek Philosopher on his shinnery farm on Sweetwater Creek is off on a weighty topic this week.)

Dear Editor:

I noticed in the papers that another Russian visitor, a man by the name of Mikoyan, second in command over there, has been touring the United States and I read in a copy of a newspaper which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mailbox in the interest of furthering the good neighbor policy and will return if he acts unreasonable about it that Mr. Mikoyan says one trouble with U. S. - Russian relationships is that we don't trust Russia enough.

What puzzles me about this is why should it puzzle Mr. Mikoyan? He knows the Russians better than we do and I doubt if he can trust his home folks enough to be 100 per cent sure he'll have his own job when he gets back home.

As I understand Russian politics, over there, you don't get elected for any definite term, you just stay in office until you get to trusting your assistants too much, at which time you wake up on a train to Siberia and one of your assistants is occupying your office.

Probably what Mr. Mikoyan meant was we ought to trust him since nobody at home would.

As everybody knows, whenever there's a change in office over in Russia, the number of funerals picks up. This is because the Russian politicians have found it's hard to get a man you've just kicked in the teeth to trust you to any extent you can depend on.

I guess maybe it sounds reasonable for the Russians to tell us to trust them when they say they won't build any more hydrogen bombs and wouldn't think of using the ones they've got, but I sure prefer to keep some lying around handy on our side just in case.

I don't know how I got off on this weighty subject, when actually I ought to be thinking about a new crop year for 1959. In the meantime, if Mr. Mikoyan happens by my place out here and wants to buy a dozen eggs, I'd just as soon he paid cash.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

WHEELER COUNTY N. D. CLUBS STUDY HOME FURNISHINGS

The Wheeler County Home Demonstration Club women are having programs this month on Home Furnishings, particularly floor coverings and home accessories, according to County Agent, Elizabeth Litsch. Useful accessories include such things as pillows, lamps, books, mirrors, ash trays, clocks waste baskets, candlesticks, desk supplies and flower holders. Choose and use an accessory because it is useful and beautiful and blends in color, texture and design with the furnishings in your room.

Learn to appreciate simple objects with good structural design. Simplicity is the keynote to good design Mrs. Litsch said. Accessories add spice and charm to a room. They can improve a room as seasoning improves food. Just as you can ruin food with too much seasoning, you can clutter a room with too many accessories. Use a few well chosen articles to make the room look lived-in, and to express your personality and interests. Accessories can make a room look distinctive or ordinary. Choose important, handsome ones that are pleasing in design. Many small insignificant pieces become dust catchers. Consider the time and effort required to care for accessories when you are selecting them. Articles which are ornate, fragile, and those which soil easily are usually impractical. Look at the accessories you now have with a very critical eye and keep only those which serve a purpose and have pleasing lines, shape, proportion and color.

In selecting home furnishings that have a fabric covering, be sure these have been treated by the manufacturer for spot and stain-resistant finishes. The home-maker can apply special sprays, but it is best to buy a treated fabric, since home applications are not always as satisfactory.

Practically all treated materials are labeled to tell the type of soil resistant treatment it has received. A folder describes its advantages and gives tips on methods of care. Fabrics sold by the yard usually have the information printed on the selvage or on accompanying tag.

These finishes resist all water and oil-borne stains. Any spills can be blotted and will not penetrate the surface. Soil remains on the surface where it can be dusted off or removed with the vacuum cleaner. If necessary some surfaces, such as vinyl, can be sponged off with warm water and a mild detergent, Mrs. Litsch concluded.

This is an artist's sketch of Southwestern Public Service Company's twelfth electric generating station, now under construction north of Amarillo. With a generating capability of 150,000 horsepower, the new station is part of the company's five year construction program which will see an investment of approximately $90,000,000 in new equipment and facilities.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE TO BUILD GENERATING STATION

The Southwestern Public Service Company will spend more than $14,000,000 in 1959 for new equipment and extensions and additions to their electric system. A. R. "Lon" Watson, executive vice president and general manager of the electric light and power company, announced today.

Watson also revealed that because of the continued growth in the company's 45,000 square mile service area, a long range construction program has been proposed which would see a total of approximately $90,000,000 invested in the territory in the next five years.

"The public utility business is different than any other, in that we have no direct control over our own growth. We grow as the territory we are privileged to serve grows. Every economic consideration indicates that this country is going to continue its progress, and we are planning now, as we must to keep up with this growth, the expansion that we will undertake in the next five years," Watson said.

Earlier this year, Southwestern Public Service Company announced it was building a 12th electric generating station to be located northwest of Amarillo. Continued work on this project in 1959, is a major item in the construction budget for the new year. The new generating station, which will have a capability of 150,000 horsepower, will be completed in 1961.

"How this territory has grown, and how much more use for electric service the people of our area have found, is probably best illustrated by our increase in generating capability," Watson said. "Ten years ago, the capability of our generating stations was 358,000 horsepower, today it is 1,080,000, with the additional 150,000 under construction. Electricity is unlike any other service or commodity, in that you can't store it, and must create it at the very moment that the customers demand it. Thus, new generation and transmission equipment must be planned from 2 to 3 years ahead of the time it is needed."

Still another project in the company's 1959 construction program which indicates increased demand is the transmission line program. Two years ago, Southwestern Public Service Company began a program which is designed to double the carrying capacity of the company's 115,000 volt "backbone" transmission line which runs from Borger to Roswell, New Mexico. The first step in this project was a new line from Hereford to Plant X, near Earth, which was designed for 230,000 volts. In 1959, another segment of this line, from Hereford to Amarillo, will get underway.

In 10 years, Southwestern Public Service Company's investment in equipment to serve its customers has grown from $84,000,000 to $227,000,000. During this same period, in the face of rising costs on all hands, the cost of electric service to residential customers has gone down some 20% in the average cost of a residential kilowatt-hour. The company's average residential customer pays 23 cents a day for electric service.

In summarizing the growth of our local electric company, Watson revealed some statistics on the nation-wide growth of business-managed, taxpaying electric companies, reporting that in the last 8 years these companies have invested $22-Billion Dollars in equipment to serve their customers at the same time that they had paid more than $11-Billion Dollars in taxes.

"We in the electric light and power industry, labor and management alike, are many times confused that our industry, in the face of continuing efforts to serve our customers efficiently and economically, with a record that shows a lower unit cost to the customer for our service, should be the target of so many critics who advocate government ownership, despite the fact that government in business has always cost the taxpayer money", Watson concluded.

PHILOSOPHER AS HE SEES THE NEW YEAR

(Editor's note: The Sweetwater Creek Philosopher on his shinnery farm on Sweetwater Creek takes another look at the new year this week. Can't tell what he sees.)

Dear Editor: During the first week in January of this new year I have been reading predictions from the experts and have come to the conclusion they all make one serious mistake that undercuts the value of their prophecies.

It's easy for example to predict that man will conquer space, that he'll perfect a guided missile so powerful it'll circle the earth and hit him in the back of the head if he doesn't duck, that he'll perfect an automobile that doesn't need oiling and a frying pan that doesn't require grease, and such similar mechanical things. In fact there's probably not a single thing mechanical that man can't finally figure out, except maybe the need for plowing or maybe perpetual motion, although the latter may be around, at least the earth keeps moving in orbit without any visible engine, but where the experts make a mistake is in trying to predict a solution for people. There's not any.

You take Sec. Dulles. The more he flies, and the faster he gets there the more problems he runs into without any solutions. The world isn't any worse today than it was 50 years ago, it's just better reported. You can see what alert journalism has led us into. There were just as many problems 100 years ago as there are now, and if we'd known about them we'd have thrown our hands in the face of them just as fast as we do now.

And the reason there's not any solution to people is that they're too much like you and me. We keep changing. A man's problem can be solved today, and it may last a week, or a month, or a year, but that doesn't mean it's solved forever. As long as there are people in the world there are going to be problems without any answers at hand, as anybody who ever was a member of a family knows. Most people expect nations to get along better than families.

I know also that there are people who say it's problems that make life interesting, and that's right, except that there are some problems that make life a whole lot more interesting than others, but lots of times there aren't enough of these kinds to go around. Just because a man's got problems, it doesn't mean he's drunk with happiness.

Consequently, I predict that in 1959, regardless of how many problems man solves, the supply of unsolved ones will still be about the same. But I don't blame him for seeking new problems. I've got some old ones myself I haven't been able to figure out, and had just as soon change the subject.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

One time a friend of mine told me about his Aunt's cat that lived to a ripe old age of 20. I wasn't too interested in cats and wasn't paying too much attention to any of the details and a few days later I was telling a fellow about my friend's mother's cat that was still alive at the age of 22 and was expecting kittens in the very near future. About a month later a feller from way off down Nubbin Ridge happened to be visiting here and we got to Chewing the Fat about things in general and he told me he had heard about some old Indian woman up here that was expecting twins and she was 102 years old. He said he understood that he name was Aunt Minnie Catts. Of course I knew he was wrong and told him I was sure that he was refering to the ole lady that lived here that had an ole cat that just had 20 kittens, who ever heard of a person that old of havin, well maybe it could be possible for a person, I' be durned wouldn't that be something. Reoon I better go home and see if Mama has got some of our kids baby clothes, you know a woman that old ain't drawin much penshun and needs help with a new arrival . . . . .

the air conditioners newly installed in the Legislative chambers. Many have suggested the 56th will have to have one or more special sessions before it can solve all its pressing problems. Certainly before they can leave, the lawmakers will have to perform the thankless task of levying many more millions in state taxes. Additionally, they'll be beset on all sides for new spending programs which would call for even more taxes. After several months of this, outer space may look invitingly calm compared to the Texas Capitol.

GOSSIP is like muddy water... It settles down when we stop stirring it up.

WELL, THIS ISSUE begins another year in Wheeler for yours truly. We published our first paper in Wheeler on January 10, 1958. We hope this next year is good for our town, the county and the world. There will be lots of problems and troubles but as long as they are settled short of war we probably will be able to consider it a good year.

Looking back for a moment we intercept some personal comment to the extent that we think some concrete improvements have been made in the Wheeler Times. We believe the contents have been improved and we hope the readers are enjoying it more. We know our circulation has almost doubled during the past year and we are hoping for a sizable gain in 1959.

It has been fun editing the Times and we are looking forward to more of the same. So, figuratively speaking, we will spit on our hands, take a firm grip and get on with the show.

IN ORBIT?

The cost of living's tied to a kite. 'Twill turn, we hope To a satellite.

Bill: "Where have you been for the past two days, Tom?"

Tom: "Been picking chickens."

Bill: "Isn't two days a long time to spend picking chickens?"

Tom: "Well, Dad was wearing his long handles during the cold spell and there was a noise in the henhouse the other night. Dad went out with his shotgun to investigate. Along came old Tige with his cold nose. We've been picking chickens ever since."

AND NOW come the New Year. Every American boy born in 1959 will be given a couple of years of foreign travel after he graduates from high school. (This also applies to those born in the past twenty years or so and those to come in future years.) His Uncle Sam will pick up the tab and the lad may have the choice of uniform he will wear, that of the air force, the navy or the army. We've recently been informed that there is every reason to believe that far many years to come our armed forces will be stationed in many of the troubled spots of the world; it is not possible, according to good authority, to name any date when this won't be necessary.

Many old timers can remember that when a boy finished high school he either went to college or went to work, maybe learned a trade. Now he can look forward to putting on a uniform and learning how to use a gun or how to set off a bomb that could wipe a city off the face of the earth with its entire population. Americans were happy years ago that our youngsters did not have to serve a hitch in the army as did the young fellows in practically every civilized country in the world. But not any more. It seems very evident that some years back our political leaders started something that they couldn't finish. But like always, when politics goof, somebody else has to pick up the tab. Now we must defend ourselves with guns and money, and Uncle Sams sees to it that none of us shirk our duty. The young ones must fight, the old ones must pay and pay, and from now on.

Teacher: "Dean, name two documents that have contributed heavily to our government."
Dean Sims: "Form 1040 and Form 1040A."
