The issue immediately before the Senate is this: Shall Congress forbid the segregation of whites and Negroes in regional universities which 15 southern states want to set up?

Morse thinks it should. He has proposed an anti-segregation amendment to a bill giving congressional approval to an interstate compact providing for such universities.

Court Over-Rules Church Segregation

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—The Supreme Court overturned 6-0 today an Ohio court decision which limited use of a church property in Columbus to white persons. This striking down of a "restrictive covenant" on use of property was in line with the court's decision of a week ago. By the same line-up, the justices then ruled that courts could not enforce real estate agreements which barred persons because of "race or color."

A parallel case was brought from California and by the same 6-0 finding returned for further considerations by the California Supreme Court. It involved use of houses purchased in Los Angeles by two persons of Chinese and Korean ancestry.

The high tribunal on May 3 declared state and federal courts may not enforce restrictive real estate agreements which bar persons from use of property because of race or color. Justices Reed, Jackson and Rutledge took no part in the May 3 decision. They also eliminated themselves from consideration of the two orders issued today.

The high tribunal action in the California cases was on appeals by Tom D. Amer, who said he is of Chinese ancestry, and by Yin Kim, who said he is descended from Koreans. They protested against enforcement of agreements which provide that persons, not of the Caucasian race may not occupy the premises involved, except in the capacity of servants.

The Supreme Court's May 3 ruling prevented enforcement of covenants on properties in St. Louis, Detroit and Washington, D. C.

GOP Leader Dies

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 11. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Lamade, 53, prominent Republican figure and wife of the president and general manager of the Williamsport Grift, died Sunday at her home after a long illness.

Socialists Start A New Campaign Led By Thomas

READING, Pa., May 11. (AP)—Lank, balding Norman Thomas undertook yesterday another campaign for presidency saying frankly he does not expect to come any closer to election than in his five previous tries as the Socialist nominee.

But, the 63-year-old New Yorker told a reporter in an interview: "I intend to campaign as vigorously and widely as possible; not alone in search of votes but in furtherance of our organization and the program we Socialists believe is right and best."

The 26th national convention of the Socialist Party, in its concluding session here Sunday, tendered Thomas its sixth consecutive nomination for the presidency. The unanimous nomination was without opposition among the 200 delegates, and he accepted with a pledge to campaign... the winning of peace."

Nominated as the vice-presidential candidate was Tucker P. Smith of Highland Park, Mich., professor of economics at Alivet College and a former International representative of the CIO United Auto Workers. Smith, 49, a husky, active man also has been a Socialist leader for years.

They will campaign on the convention-adopted platform which includes pledges to eliminate the veto in the United Nations; accept partition of Palestine as an accomplished fact and seek a permanent peaceful solution; work for international disarmament, and, on domestic affairs, repeal the Taft-Hartley law, provide aid for veterans, eliminate racial and religious discrimination and poll taxes and enact the fair employment practices bill.

Large Sunspot Group Discovered

LOS ANGELES, May 10. (AP)—The Griffith Observatory here in Los Angeles is seeing sun spots in front of its eyes, even if you aren't. Dr. Dinsmore Alter, director of the observatory, says a large group of sunspots, more than he has ever seen at one time, were photographed at 5:18 p. m. yesterday by Staff Photographer Paul Roques.

"This is one of the most spotted conditions in which the sun has ever been observed," Alter said. "The record was broken in March and April, 1947. I have no means of accurate measurement handy, but this may again break the record."

The photograph shows two exceptionally large spots or disturbances about midway between the North and South Poles. They are large enough to be seen with the naked eye when viewed through a shaded glass.

Grandmother Wins New Radio Jackpot

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 11. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Finerman, a 67-year-old grandmother, yesterday had $18,500 worth of prizes after naming correctly a song — "Army Duff" — in a nationally broadcast contest "Stop the Music."

Practically speechless when Bert Parks, master of ceremonies of the American Broadcasting Company program phoned her, the white-haired mother of six grown children almost fainted when, after correctly naming the song, Parks listed the prizes.

They include a cabin cruiser, a television set, automobile, diamond-studded watch, a $1,000 Persian lamb coat and the promise that Cab Calloway's orchestra will play especially for her.

DAY OF TRIUMPH

Loyal Louisianians Line Up To Escort Long Into Office

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11. (AP)—Louisianians formed up today for a solid mile to escort Earl K. Long into the governorship.

It was Long's day of triumph and his followers—delegations from all 64 Louisiana parishes (counties)—were out to make it look like one. They had the help of 35 bands, detachments from the armed services, veterans and other patriotic organizations and labor groups.

Baton Rouge, for all its factories and 100,000-plus population, looked like a big country town on the Fourth of July to the visiting crowds who early began munching picnic-style refreshments—200,000 hot dogs, washed down with 240,000 bottles of pop and 16,000 containers of buttermilk.

The picnic was on the governor's friends, and it was served in Louisiana State University's 48,000-seat stadium. For those who got thirsty on the way, 150 barrels kept full of ice water were spotted on the bunting-decked downtown streets.

The parade, headed by Governor-elect Long and his grand marshal, William C. Feazel, had a four-mile march to make.

For Earl Long, the day was the reward of nearly 30 years' political effort, solace for eight years of political disappointment while he and his faction were the underdogs. His only previous political success had a touch of the bitter—he was lieutenant governor in the years when the Louisiana scandals broke, succeeding to the governorship for a troubled 11 months after Gov. Richard Leche resigned in 1939.

But today Earl Long himself and the faction he heads were riding high on the greatest electoral sweep recorded in modern Louisiana. Only yesterday the new legislature showed its sentiments by naming the men of his choice to top positions in both houses.

The retiring governor, Jimmie H. Davis, accepted Long's invitation to ride in the parade.

Long chose a hometown associate District Judge Cass Moss, Sr., of Winnfield, to administer the oath of office on a decorated temporary stage in the stadium.

Music included "Louisiana, My Home Sweet Home," written at Huey Long's request by Castro Carazo, a close associate of the late senator, but never before played publicly.

Just before the swearing in, the Rev. M. E. Dodd of Shreveport was to give the invocation. After the new governor assumed office, W. J. "Bill" Dodd was to be sworn in as lieutenant governor, and Rabbi David Lefkowitz, Jr., of Shreveport was to offer a prayer. After the inaugural address, Msgr. Carl Shuten of New Orleans was to close the formal ceremonies with benediction.

But entertainment still was planned for the crowds in Baton Rouge—a baseball game between Louisiana State and Southwestern Louisiana Institute, concerts by the Northwestern State College, Esso Refinery, McNeese Junior School bands, an exhibition by the College and Plaquemine High LSU swimming team and a variety show of university talent.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and flat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas drugstore at the new REDUCED price.

Marshall And His Thoughts

Some of the things Secretary of State George C. Marshall had to say before the House foreign affairs committee in reference to the United Nations are worth serious study.

Among other things, he observed that "the United Nations was specifically designed to preserve the peace and not to make the peace. . . . The United Nations can assist in this task (making the peace), but the improvement of the United Nations machinery would not in itself solve the problem."

He went on to say that the major powers were charged with responsibility for working out peace settlements, and that it was assumed they would complete their task promptly and effectively; that critical postwar conditions in the economic and political fields would be brought to an end as speedily as possible; and that the cooperation among the great powers pledged during the war and reflected in the Charter would be continuing.

Secretary Marshall said that "it is a misconception to suppose that domination of the world by a single system is inevitable. It is a misconception to suppose that differing systems cannot live side by side in peace under the basic rules of international conduct prescribed by the charter of the United Nations. These rules are obligatory upon all members."

"What is needed for achievement of a world order based on law and dedicated to peace and progress is a widespread improvement in the material and social well-being of the peoples of the world. The responsibility for such improvement will always rest primarily upon the peoples and governments themselves."

"The factor of military strength is of immediate and major importance in the present world situation, but it is not the element which will be paramount in the long run. The emphasis often placed solely on the military aspects of world affairs does a disservice to the cause of peace. The more that present differences are talked about and treated exclusively as a military problem, the more they tend to become so."

"The suggestion that a x x x some form of world government should be achieved without those nations unwilling to join . . . would result (in) a dispersal of the community of nations, followed by the formation of rival military alliances and isolated groups of states. When the substance of the world situation improves, the United Nations will be able to function with full effectiveness."

This is not all of the statement, but enough to set us to some thinking about exclusive dependence on force and might.

Pappy Crosses Observers

Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel may be getting ready to toss his hat into the Senate race, or to retire in a haze of philosophy which will confound all constituents.

One of his latest proposals, which might have gone unnoticed, is to draft industry in time of war. He calls it a 100 per cent excess profits tax. There may be a wide disparity of opinion on the mechanism which the senator envisions, but even some of his consistent critics might be more inclined to go along on this than his business support. Drafting business may be dangerous, but rights of business ought not to be any more sacred than rights of men.

Affairs Of The World—

Jews Have Advantage

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The crisis in the war-torn Holy Land will reach the peak this coming week end, for at midnight Friday the British abandon their mandate and the lid will be off for the threatened Arab invasion. It's a tense moment, since invasion at the least will mean the horror of further bloodshed and the destruction of ancient relics which are cherished by the followers of three great religions—Christianity, Judaism and Mohammedanism. At the worst it might produce holy war—Moslem against Jew.

The legions of neighboring Arab states are reported drawn up against the frontiers of Palestine, waiting for the fateful hour of midnight which signals the arrival of May 15. Will the invading force be so overwhelming that the defenders can't stand up against it, or can the Jewish army hold its own? Probably only the actual test at arms will answer that question.

However, the Jewish position isn't without its advantages. In the first place the strength of the Jewish Agency militia, Haganah, is unofficially estimated at 53,000 men, who are said to be well-equipped with small arms. In addition the Stern Group and the underground Haganah Zvai Leumi together are credited with totaling from 2,500 to 7,000 fighting men. Then, too, with the lifting of the embargo against the importation of war materiel, the Jews undoubtedly will be able to secure considerable supplies.

Perhaps even more impressive from the Jewish standpoint are the defenses which nature has supplied against invasion. The frontiers with Syria and Lebanon are mountainous and difficult for military operations. Facing the other frontiers are great stretches of terrain which contain many desert tracts.

This doesn't mean the natural obstacles are so great that Palestine can't be invaded. It does mean that they would impede armies in numerous places and, even more important, would vastly increase the difficulties of the invaders in maintaining their lines of supply.

Some of the desert country in the Middle East is Hades on wheels.

The Nation Today—

Rail Fight Complicated

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, May 11. (U.P.)—Here are some main points to keep in mind in the railroad disagreement.

A dispute between a union and a railroad is no simple thing. It's not as simple, for example, as arguing for a raise for an office worker.

That's because running a railroad has special problems you may never have thought of.

For instance: In addition to a flat pay raise, how much extra pay should an engineer get for time spent waiting around between trains?

Before looking at the problems in this case, here are some basic facts.

There are 22 railroad unions, often called brotherhoods, with about 1,350,000 members, ranging from engineers to conductors and yardmen.

They have contracts with all the big railroads. So a strike by a couple of key brotherhoods can shut down the railroads nationwide.

In 1947 all 22 brotherhoods asked for higher pay. By late 1947 all but three had settled for 15½ cents an hour, or $1.24 more for an eight-hour day.

But those three—engineers, firemen and switchmen—held out for a 30 per cent increase, with a minimum raise of $3 a day.

Those three brotherhoods, with about 150,000 members, are key unions. A strike by them means the railroads stop running.

The argument between the railroads and those three brotherhoods has been going on since last summer.

Months ago President Truman appointed a board of fact-finders to look into their case.

The board heard both sides for weeks, took 6,825 pages of testimony, and recommended this: That those three brotherhoods do what the other 19 had done: accept a pay raise of 15 1/2 cents an hour.

The three said "No." They argued that the 15 1/2 cents an hour would not cover the rise in living costs in the last year or so.

The railroads argued they couldn't give those three unions more than 15 1/2 cents an hour because they had given the other 19 only that much.

But the three brotherhoods wanted more than just a flat increase of $3 a day for every member of their unions.

They also wanted 26 changes in the rules, or working conditions, meaning extra pay for certain kinds of work, in addition to $3 a day more for everyone.

A contract between a union and a railroad covers not only flat pay increases but special pay for special kinds of work. Those special situations are called rules.

"TROUBLE WITH RUSSIA, IT WANTS TO EXPAND TOO MUCH"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Truman Is Touchy On Renomination

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON.—President Truman has become so touchy about his own renomination that it even enters into job appointments pertaining to the distant islands of the South Pacific.

Some time ago the State Department selected two men to serve as U. S. representatives on the new South Pacific Commission and to work with Australia, France, England and other countries in helping the war-torn Pacific islanders. The two men were Paul Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, a Republican; and Richard Wells, New York attorney, a Democrat. Both were able, conscientious citizens, Smith having fought all over the South Pacific.

The State Department thought it had made a good selection. However, it reckoned without President Truman and his friend, the ebullient Ed Pauley.

When Pauley heard that Paul Smith was to be appointed to the South Pacific commission, he called on Truman, told him that Smith's San Francisco Chronicle had opposed his, Pauley's, appointment to be undersecretary of the Navy, and demanded that Smith be vetoed.

Simultaneously the State Department began to get intimations from the White House that Truman did not like the Democratic commissioner, Richard Wells.

THE TOUCHY WHITE HOUSE
At the State Department's suggestion, Wells had played down the fact that he had such rock-bottom Democratic behind him as Congressmen Carl Vinson of Georgia and Pat Dreyfus of Virginia. Instead he listed as his chief backer a former assistant secretary of state, Adolf Berle. Berle, once a strong Truman man, more recently joined the Roosevelt boys and a few million other people in hoping Truman would not run for reelection.

Suddenly, therefore the State Department phoned Wells, asked whether he shared Berle's views about Truman. Was he likely to come out against Truman? And what were his exact relations with Berle? The White House, it was explained, was touchy on the subject.

Wells, who is not an intimate of Berle's, answered all this to the satisfaction of the State Department, and was told to get his passport, typhoid inoculation and be ready to leave San Francisco for Sydney, Australia, on May 8.

Meanwhile a strange silence settled over the White House. The State Department could get no commissions of appointment for either Wells or Smith. Appointment to the South Pacific Commission pays no salary. To serve is an act of pure patriotism. Yet the state department could not get Mr. Truman's OK.

FRIENDSHIP AND SOUTH PACIFIC
Finally, Undersecretary Lovett went to the White House, reminded the President that the two commissioners had to be in Australia by May 11.

Next day a luncheon guest at the White House was Judge Sam Rosenman, now acting as Truman's unofficial brain-truster. Testily, Truman remarked that he had the papers on his desk making Paul Smith and Richard Wells South Pacific commissioners. Smith, he said, was out because he was a friend of Ed Pauley's. Wells, he added, was a friend of Adolf Berle's.

Then the President proceeded to launch into a tirade against that so-and-so Berle. "I am not," he declared, "going to throw any bones to the Berle boys." And he asked Sam if he knew a good man to serve on the South Pacific commission instead.

Rosenman replied that at the moment he didn't, but later submitted the name of his law partner, Milton Shalleck. Milton had been appointed Judge Rosenman's law clerk at the instance of Jimmy Hines, the jailed Tammany leader who had given Rosenman his start as bill-drafting commissioner in the New York legislature.

So Milton Shalleck is now en route to the South Pacific. With him as co-commissioner, is Felix Keesing, an anthropology professor of Stanford University. Anthropology doesn't happen to enter into the economic and social problems of the South Pacific. But much more important is the fact that Keesing is a friend of Pauley's.

Queried by the New York Times just after his appointment, Shalleck said he had never been to the Pacific, knew nothing about the Pacific, had no interest in the Pacific. However, he is for the renomination of Harry Truman.

Furthermore, the Supreme Court of Mississippi recently leaned over backward to give a fair trial to a Negro, Sandy Magee, accused of killing a white man. Three times the court reversed a lower court's decision which gave Magee the death sentence.

In view of the above, it is only fair to correct my previous mistaken impression about the treatment of Negroes in Mississippi which I am delighted herewith to do.

MERRY-GO-ROUND
U. S. Circuit Judge Homer Bone recently told a group of West Coast lawyers: "We are led by a group of men who don't know what to do." . . . Bone served a good many years in the Senate with Harry Truman . . . Republicans figured they had a good campaign issue in Truman's back porch—until Congressman Beall of Maryland introduced a bill to revamp George Washington's canal. Beall now wants $40,000 to revamp the first surveying job George Washington ever did and make the Chesapeake and Ohio canal into a modern boulevard—with hot-dog stands and filling stations. . . . Democrats now say that if it's all right for Harry Truman to revamp the founding father's architectural designs of the White House . . . it was George Washington who laid the cornerstone of the White House.

In Hollywood—
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Garry Moore, the bright, brush-haired young comic chosen to replace Tom Breneman, faces his new job with trepidation.

"I was really on the spot when I accepted the job," he says. "I could imagine everyone saying: 'You stupid jerk, what do you mean' by trying to imitate Breneman?"

"I'm not another Breneman. I couldn't be. The essence of Tom was sympathy and sentiment. I'm a comic and I'll have to build the show that way."

Unlike his late predecessor, Garry will not give away orchids, nor will he don ladies' hats. But he wants to keep what he considers the great appeal of the show—the feeling that it belongs to the people.

"The M. C. should be just the figure that keeps the show rolling," he remarked. "When he becomes the star, the human quality is lost. The people become mere stooges."

Garry is an unwilling convert to the ranks of radio C. C.'s. He started as a radio writer in his home town, Baltimore, and was placed before a mike to fill in for a sick performer. His glib style caught on, but when he moved to St. Louis, he again tried to stick to writing. They wouldn't let him.

The new-found comic became a star of Chicago's club matinee show and then zoomed to Hollywood to co-star as Jimmy Durante's "boy." When the pair split up last year, some of the trade said Garry was foolish to desert the great Schnoz. But the brash Baltimore boy has been doing all right since.

He inherited Phil Baker's spot on "Take It or Leave It" and now Breneman's show. He'll try to avoid the killing pace of the early morning show, by recording it at 9:30 a. m. for broadcast the following day. That will get him out of the hay at 7:30.

V-E Brings No Relief

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, May 11. (U.P.)—The third anniversary of victory in Europe made scarcely a ripple on the world scene.

The winners of World War II saw little to cheer about. The losers certainly saw even less. Most veterans I knew had even forgotten the date. When reminded it was the anniversary of V-E Day, they said: "Is it?"

There was no enthusiasm in their voices. There was little enthusiasm anywhere. For—three years after the firing phase ended—the world is still technically at war.

And the fear remains that it is only in a state of armistice, an armistice that may be shorter than the one that lasted from 1918 to 1939.

The world erupted in spontaneous joy on V-E Day three years ago.

The three years have been mixed and momentous for a world moved by an ancient impulse toward freedom. Some of the changes:

Vast China, worn deeper into poverty by endless civil war, saw the value of its yuan, worth fifty cents ten years ago, fall to 1,200,000 to $1.

Vast India, at the price of frightful bloodshed, divided into two free nations within the pattern of the British commonwealth.

Vast Russia withdrew deeper into its own suspicions as it expanded its control of countries around its perimeter and made bold but fruitless bids to bring France and Italy into its orbit.

Britain took a historic step into socialism and began relinquishing its old role of world policeman to Uncle Sam.

Little Greece, birthplace of Democracy, was torn anew by civil war and held hundreds of its own people for execution.

Little Palestine again became a battlefield as world Jewry, after 2,000 years of wandering, made a bloody bid for a bigger stake in the old homeland.

The human debris of the war—displaced persons—remained unwanted and unwelcome in beaten Germany, which developed into the major fulcrum between East and West. Korea became a second fulcrum.

The United Nations, founded to implement a peace, became a sounding board for rival fears and clashing ideologies.

Until these things change the anniversary of V-E Day cannot stir the world to celebration of evils past. It can only remind of an old terror that may come visiting again.

Home Science Stands Still To Three Suns

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
An eager beaver home planner is bound to feel disappointed when he views the National Home Show now in progress at State Fair Auditorium, Dallas.

He lays 40 cents on the line for a ticket and what does he see but the same old stuff. The refrigerators may hold a few more oranges, the ranges may have an added burner and a better broiler but these are just old models streamlined.

We took in 175 exhibits and never saw anything exciting. After all, the American public has been viewing such things as air conditioners, electric dishwashers, and modern kitchens a decade or so.

One company should receive mention—a firm which specializes in birthday parties for children. For $11.95 this company will deliver to your door a complete birthday party for 12 children. It includes a birthday cake decorated with the child's name; candies, favors, a bright table cover, napkins, gingerbread man cookies, party hats, souvenir boxes of candy for each child, paper plates, balloons, ice cream, colored whistles and a prize for the guest of honor.

That was the only ingenuity we found at the show and we ask a question: If the Army scientists can bring forth a new type rocket every seven days, why can't the home industry scientists find something new every seven years?

How about some barometrically-controlled windows that will close automatically when a storm approaches? Or some flameproof sheets for people who never heed the danger of smoking in bed? Where is the electric eye that will warn housewives of an approaching magazine salesman? What family with children couldn't use crayolas that would mark only on a chemically-treated blackboard?

We'd like to see an ash-tray and lighter combination on rollers that could be scooted across the living room to your wife with one push of the foot, a radio that would turn off during singing commercials, a super electronic oven with too much sense to burn biscuits.

When the home scientists get these things worked out, we'll have a few more jobs ready.

Sayings That Fit Everyday Life

"Your Actions Speak Louder than Your Words." This oft-repeated saying has more truth than poetry to it, in my way of thinking.

Not long ago I wrote on the sayings that I thought were so much hot air, but this is one saying that I consider to have a true ring.

How many times have you heard someone get up to address an audience, especially a club member, who has been in a position of honor or an office? After the introduction, if which the introducer says all the nice things he or she can think to say regarding the person and the work, the person thus honored then arises and mumbles something about not having done as much as he would like to do.

We are all human and can only do so much and should be content to let our works speak for us. If we have done a good job of it, why belittle it with words that only signify that we would like a little more praise? If we haven't done a good job, the less said about it the better.

Of course, almost everyone aspires and plans to do more than he could ever do. The best way to get anything done is to place the goals high above what you expect to do.

I am as guilty as everyone of saying, on those rare occasions when I might be complimented for something I have done, "Well, I really meant to do more, but just haven't had the time." Right there I am guilty of indulging in a process that wastes more time than anything else. Few people are interested in the time-worn conjecture-alibi of "what might have been." They usually don't expect a person to do more than that for which he has capacity.

But another thought along the idea of our works—maybe we wouldn't be so busy if we didn't think so much about what we had to do, how busy we stayed, etc. Most of us like to think we go at such a rapid speed that we cannot relax and enjoy ourselves if we are not going at full speed. So we stay busy. And we love to talk about it, too, never letting ourselves forget it for a minute. We might not be so flattered with this patter if we realized that "actions do speak louder than words."

As a child, I was confused by another saying: "If the shoe fits; wear it." I learned soon that if the broad statement hurt my feelings, it was because the answer I got from my conscience was disconcerting, and if it didn't, then it wasn't applicable to me in the first place.

I really have no special love for sayings, but there are some that fit into our everyday life. These are a couple that fall into that category, at least, as I said, in my way of thinking.—BILLIE BURRELL

Red Orbit Is Believed Ready To Recognize Jewish Nation

LAKE SUCCESS, May 11. (AP)—A high-ranking United Nations delegate said today that Russia and her satellites plan to recognize the new Jewish nation in Palestine.

The delegate told the Associated Press that it is not certain yet whether such diplomatic recognition will be extended immediately upon proclamation of an independent country by the Zionists. He said the decision would be timed with developments and that some Latin-American republics would join in the move.

The Zionists have announced they will proclaim a new nation under their section of the Holy Land under the United Nations partition decision. The move is expected simultaneously with a British announcement of the end of the old League of Nations mandate at midnight Friday.

The delegate, who represents an Eastern European country, said that regardless of any delay in full recognition the Soviet bloc immediately will grant belligerent rights to the Jewish nation.

This would give Zionist troops the rights of war. Weapons could be legally shipped into the country, Jewish land, sea and air forces would be recognized in international law.

Guatemala and Uruguay, strong supporters of partition, are believed here to be the most likely of the Latin-American group to accord recognition.

The Zionists are creating their country under terms of the UN Assembly's 1947 decision to split Palestine into independent Jewish and Arab states. The Arabs, bitter foes of the partition scheme, have indicated they may declare one independent country covering all of Palestine.

The current special session of the assembly has been meeting nearly a month without affirming or reversing the partition decision. The delegates were called together at the insistence of the United States to reconsider the Holy Land problem.

Jorge Garcia Granados of Guatemala told a 12-nation subcommittee yesterday that the best answer would be to go back to partition. The United States said it is still interested in an interim trusteeship.

With four days left before Palestine loses its formal government, the assembly still has no formal proposal on the table. The dozen delegates in the subcommittee are debating a vague plan for a six-man emergency shadow regime.

The six-man temporary control commission would have no police powers or means of enforcing rulings. Arab and Jewish cooperation would be necessary.

The United States opposes the control commission plan on the grounds that it has no legal basis.

Texas Keeps Up Orange Output

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—The Agriculture Department figures the 1947-1948 orange crop dropped below last year's record of 113,980,000 boxes—but through no fault of Texas.

Figures released yesterday by the department showed Texas with an estimated crop of 5,800,000 boxes this year and five million last.

The national crop was estimated at 19,960,000 boxes, well above the 1936-1945 average of 83,488,000, although below the record.

One of the two leading orange states—California—showed a slight decline from 53,760,000 boxes of oranges a year ago to 47,100,000 boxes this year. On the other hand, Florida had a production upswing from 53,700,000 boxes last year to 56 million for this crop year.

As to the outlook for the new crop, the Agriculture Department said:

"Florida weather during April was mostly favorable for citrus crops. Texas citrus trees and fruit were in satisfactory condition on May 1, but growers were faced with the possibility of an acute moisture shortage."

California's prospects were called "generally favorable."

North Dakota has gone into hybrid corn production on a big scale. In 1946, nearly half of the total acreage was planted to hybrids.

CCC Plans Pool Of '47 Cotton

The Department of Agriculture has announced that all 1947 crop cotton still under loan August 1, 1948 will be pooled by the Commodity Credit Corporation on that date. These loans mature July 31, 1948. There are approximately 125,000 bales still under loan at this time.

Producers should give serious consideration to marketing their loan cotton rather than leaving it pooled, M. Weaver, of the local AAA office said today. However, PMA officials do not advise whether or not farmers should market their cotton or sell their equities.

Farmers may order cotton notes sent to local banks and pay the notes off, thus regaining full title to the cotton, or they may sell their equities. If neither of these actions is taken the cotton will be pooled as stated above. For further information, farmers can see or phone Weaver at the AAA office or Willis Winters, Vincent.

Archeologist Hits Man-Made Lakes

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Man-made lakes threaten to blot out important links with America's prehistoric culture.

Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts Jr., of the Smithsonian Institution said so yesterday. He told the National Park Service Advisory Board swift action must be taken to prevent the nation's system of river basin developments from destroying important archeological sites.

The threat is especially serious in five areas, Roberts said. One—Bugs Island in the Roanoke River between Virginia and North Carolina—is the only known site in the eastern part of the United States of the Folsom type of culture which extends an estimated 10,000 years into the past. This is the earliest known form of man on the north American continent.

"Eighty percent of the prehistoric men lived in the river valleys where land was fertile and water transportation was available, even as people do today," Roberts said.

"The sites constitute the Library of Archeology. Their contents must be saved."

Some 7,000,000 tourists, an all-time high, are expected to visit New Mexico this year, according to state tourist bureau.

Baylor-Kansas Basketball Film Set For Banquet

Action pictures of the Baylor University-Kansas State basketball game, which resulted in a 60-52 victory for the Southwest conference team and earned them the NCAA Western Zone championship, will be shown at the Kiwanis club basketball banquet at the Settles hotel Tuesday night.

The films are being brought here by Bill Henderson, Baylor coach, who will deliver the principal address at the function.

Members of the high school basketball team and coaches will be honor guests at the dinner.

Tickets for the program are being proffered the public at $1.50 a copy.

O. K. Doak Named For Mustang Star

DALLAS, May 10. (AP)—And now Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's All-America football player, has a horse named after him.

It's O. K. Doak and it's a two-year-old owned by John T. Withers, Dallas sporting goods store operator.

The horse, named after both Walker and Doak Roberts, Dallas skeetshooter and fisherman will race at the Lincoln Fields meet in Chicago soon.

"If he can run like Doak Walker plus football and like Doak Roberts catches fish," Withers says, "he'll be sure winner."

'GARDEN NEEDED' Polio Vaccine Is Being Developed

MINNEAPOLIS, May 11. (AP)—A New York bacteriologist said today science now has the means of developing good "seeds" for a vaccine against infantile paralysis—but lacks a proper "garden" in which to grow them.

Dr. Herald Cox of the Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Co., Pearl River, N. Y., said that a technique is in hand for purifying strains of infantile paralysis virus to the point where they could conceivably be used to produce a protective vaccine—but no satisfactory laboratory means has yet been found to grow the viruses in quantity.

He said monkeys offered the best bet to date for growing "polio" virus, but that the quantities produced were relatively small compared with those of influenza virus produced in fluids within a hatching hen's egg. So far, it has been impossible to grow polio virus in a hatching egg.

"Our solution to polio will come," he told a reporter, "when we can grow the polio virus in sufficient quantity in animals other than the monkey—possibly in the chick embryo within the hatching egg."

"If we could grow infantile paralysis virus, in its various strains, in a readily-available material like the chick embryo, we'd really have something practical in the way of a vaccine material."

"Monkeys not only produce relatively small quantities of virus, but they are expensive and sometimes difficult to procure and maintain for research."

(The principle of any vaccine is to inject either a dose of living, modified active virus or a dose of completely killed virus so that the body will build up resistance against a subsequent attack of the usual form of the disease.)

Scientists Make Diabetes Cases

PHILADELPHIA, May 11. (AP)—Diabetes has been produced in animals by means of prolonged injections of sugar. University of Pennsylvania researchers announced.

The Penn scientists said that the experiments marked "the first time in medical history" that experimental diabetes has been produced by means other than surgical removal of the pancreas, or the destruction of the pancreatic cells by a drug, or by injections of the pituitary gland.

The university said that in the experiments, Penn scientists succeeded "in damaging the insulin-producing cells of the pancreas and producing permanent diabetes in cats by prolonged injections of large amounts of the kind of sugar known as glucose."

Dr. Francis D. W. Lukens, who directed the experiment, said

"These animal experiments with glucose, known also as dextrose and grape sugar, point up the need for persons diabetically-inclined to watch their weight more closely."

Eclipse Photos May Aid Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Guided missiles in any future war may find their marks more precisely because of findings from the week end eclipse of the sun. The National Geographic Society has steered clear of any such interpretation as "thoroughly worthwhile" the results of its carefully planned study over a 5320-mile arc stretching from Burma to the Aleutians. But a prime objective was to turn up data to check world maps—for both navigation and aviation. One thing bothering guided missile experts is the inaccuracies they fear may exist in some of their charts. For instance, a previous eclipse showed Capetown, South Africa, to have been mislocated by a full mile. Weather blotted out Saturday's eclipse at five of the seven observation sites arranged by the National Geographic. But the other two—at Bangkok, Siam, and Reun Jima, off the northwest tip of Japan, reported good luck. Expeditions at Wu-tang, China; Tenan, Korea, and Mt. # Broncs Register 11-5 Win Behind Viadora's Slants

Grapplers Are Disqualified

There's little way of knowing what the result of a finish match between Ray Clements and the Masked Marvel would be. Every time the boys get together here, they seem to do most of the scrapping outside the ring.

The two goilths met again last night and once more it was the referee who called a halt to the proceedings. The arbiter, who happened to be Yaqui Joe, was moved to such action when the lads refused to stop their game of tag beyond the ropes and crawl back into the squared circle.

The week before, Clements had been disqualified for playfully tossing the hooded one over the ropes. Prior to the end last night, each gladiator had won a fall.

In the program's opener, Billy Hickson captured the odd fall from Ace Abbott to continue his successful campaign here.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Great trackmen have come few and far between at Big Spring high school. Regrettably, the sport isn't emphasized here as it is in other sections of the state. Only in recent years have the efforts of Coach Mule Stockton paid off in top-flighters.

Last Saturday, Leon Lepard captured the richest plum of them all, a state championship. Running in the 880-yard event, Leon ran the event like he did in all previous meets — by getting out in front and staying there.

To the knowledge of this writer, Lepard's victory was the first state title ever won by a Big Spring athlete. Other standout tracksters such as Cy Reed and Buren Edwards have participated in the Austin show but none has come through. (Reed did capture third place in the mile one year).

Leon's victory not only was a credit to himself and the school in general, it bids fair to add to interest in the spring sport, inspire others to come out who ordinarily would pass up the grueling business.

LOSS MIGHT HAVE BEEN BLESSING IN DISGUISE

The Steers' defeat in the mile relay race in the Regional IAAA meet at Abilene a couple of weeks ago might have been a blessing in disguise.

Lepard runs anchor on that team and entry in both the 880 and that event, in such a class field, might have lessened his effectiveness in the half mile.

AZIAPAZU DEVELOPED BACK ACHE IN SWEETWATER

Justo Azipazu, the Big Spring baseball Broncs' brilliant first sacker, sat out the game with San Angelo Sunday because he had misery in the back.

Azipazu suffered a strain in the Saturday night game with Sweetwater. That night, he slept with the fan in his room going full blast. That was a mistake. He could hardly get out of bed the next morning.

PILOT DECIDED TO GO ALONG WITH RIGHT HANDER

Ray Vasquez, the short fielder who recently put in his appearance, was idle Sunday because Manager Pat Stasey elected to use a right handed hitter (George Lopez) against San Angelo's left handed flinger.

Lopez's work fell short of Stasey's expectations and his future as a Bronc is far from rosy.

Stasey seems well satisfied with Vasquez but the pitchers who accompanied the short stop here, Mike Albaron and Al Matos, must improve more than a little bit if they expect to hang around.

According to reports, Matos wore a blister on his throwing hand while warming up prior to Sunday's game.

NELSON, BOATMAN SOLD BY ODESSA TO DEL RIO TEAM

Lloyd Nelson, who spent the 1947 campaign with Odessa, has been sold by that team's front office to Del Rio along with James Boatman, another flinger.

Nelson sang his swan song when he was shelled from the mound by Big Spring here last week.

Bill Davis, the Odessa skipper, has also returned James Wilson, a southpaw hurler, to Saginaw.

OSSIE KOLWE MAY RETURN TO WEBB'S INDIANS

Don't be surprised if Harold Webb, the Midland skipper, returns from his scouting trip with Ossie Kolwe, the pitcher who beat Big Spring so often last year.

Webb was dickering for Kolwe some time ago and was optimistic that he could obtain his contract.

Humberto Baez Bangs Homer

DEL RIO, May 11.—Roland Viadora chalked up his second pitching victory of the 1948 Longhorn league season here Monday night as the Big Spring Broncs trumped Del Rio, 11-5.

The triumph snapped a two-game losing streak for the Hosses and enabled them to protect their half-game lead over the Odessa Oilers, who also won.

Manager Pat Stasey did not play. His substitute, Bert Baez, proved an able substitute in the clout department, banging out a third inning home run that came with the sacks deserted.

Jake McClain paced the visitors with the hickory, collected a double and two singles. Joe Arencibia and Bobby Fernandez each had three basers.

A four run uprising in the seventh inning put the game on ice for Big Spring.

The win was the fourth in a row for the Steeds over Del Rio. The teams play here again tonight and Wednesday.

Manager Bill Lacy of the home club was injured and had to leave the game.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: W. E. Miller and the unknown heirs of C. W. Slink, deceased, their heirs and legal representatives.

GREETING:
You are hereby commanded to appear before the District Court of Howard County, Texas, in the Court House of Howard County, Texas, in the City of Big Spring, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a. m. on the first Monday after the expiration of thirty-two (32) days from the date of issuance of this citation, that is, at or before 10 o'clock a. m. on Monday, the 28th day of June, 1948, then and there to answer the petition filed in said Court on the 20th day of April, 1948, in suit numbered 6688 on the docket of said Court wherein Inger Slink, a widow; Thelma Slink Ingram, joined by her husband, R. D. Ingram; Marguerite Slink Billingsly, joined by her husband, J. J. Billingsly; Johnnie May Slink Weatherford, joined by her husband, Pete Weatherford; and Lucille Slink Foster, joined by her husband, Jim Foster, are Plaintiffs, and the above named parties to whom this citation is made, are Defendants, and the nature of which suit is as follows:

Plaintiffs allege that ownership of Tracts Nos. 1 and 2 below described is as follows:

TRACT NO. 1 - Hereinafter described, was acquired by C. W. Slink on August 6, 1925, and was the community property of C. W. Slink and the late Inger Slink, one of the plaintiffs herein. That C. W. Slink during the month of January, 1926, left his home and family in Howard County, Texas, and disappeared, and it is alleged that he never returned, and that he is presumed to be dead. That C. W. Slink was married only once, being to Inger Slink, who is his surviving widow and the Plaintiff, Thelma Slink Ingram, Marguerite Slink Billingsly, Johnnie May Slink Weatherford and Lucille Slink Foster are all of the children born to the marriage of C. W. Slink and Inger Slink, and are all of his heirs at law; that no children were ever adopted by C. W. Slink. That Plaintiffs are the owners of the following described lands and premises situated in Howard County, Texas, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1 - All of the Southeast quarter (SE-4) and all of the East half (E-2) of the Southeast Quarter (SW-4) of Section No. 26, Block No. 33, Township 33 North, Range 10 East, Co. Survey, Howard County, Texas, containing 257.1 acres, more or less.

TRACT NO. 2 - Hereinafter described, is the separate property of the Plaintiff, Inger Slink, subject to an outstanding mineral royalty interest, same being an undivided one-eighth (1/8th) free royalty interest in the gross production of all minerals as reserved by the grantor in a certain deed, dated April 4, 1926, executed by Lena Star Land Company, Inc., in favor of Inger Slink, a widow, recorded in Volume 75, Page 349, Deed Records of Howard County, Texas, and subject to a right-of-way for a public road twenty feet in width off the West and South sides of said Tract No. 2. That Plaintiff Inger Slink is the owner of the following described lands and premises situated in Howard County, Texas, subject to the mineral royalty interest and the public road purposes hereinabove described, to-wit:

Such a suit is brought in trespass to try title brought by Plaintiffs for title and possession of their respective tracts of land above described. Plaintiffs allege that both record title and title in themselves through bona fide purchase and adverse possession under the ten (10) year Statute of Limitation.

Plaintiffs pray said petition for recovery of title and possession to and of their respective tracts of land above described be granted, and further for such findings of fact as the Court deems proper, for costs of suit and for further relief, general and special, at law or in equity.

If this citation is not served within ninety (90) days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. Issued this 11th day of May, 1948.

Jester Asks South, West Demo Bloc

AUSTIN, May 11. (AP)—Texas Gov. Beauford H. Jester today suggested a coalition of Southern and Western Democrats to give these regions a louder voice in party affairs. But he made it clear the bloc would be formed "within the Democratic Party."

Jester said he has already obtained tentative approval of the plan from Gov. William Lee Knous of Colorado, Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma and Gov. Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton J. Anderson has also shown interest in the idea, Jester said at his press conference today. He has written to all southern governors about the matter.

Asked if he had figured up the possible national convention vote that might result from such combination of Southern and Western forces, Jester said he did not have accurate figures, but that "it would be close."

Officials

per cent of the residents in the affected territory so petition, he said.

Moves are afoot to amend Texas law so that corporate courts, in cities functioning under general law, can have equal jurisdiction on cases with charter cities, that is cases involving up to $200 fine instead of $100, McAdams said.

Any incorporated city, McAdams said, may operate its own court if it desires. He also touched on parking meters as sources of revenue, observing that most cities put these back into improving traffic conditions.

Discussions also were had on controlling peddlers and solicitors, which can be done completely and constitutionally in residential areas according to H. A. Thomason, Midland, city manager. Street sales, from trucks also can be controlled, and in limited cases occupation taxes may be applied, particularly on itinerant merchants. Techniques for assessing motor vehicles in cities and rules on citation by publication on delinquent tax suits were also discussed.

Among those attending were Malvern McDonald, Odessa, president of the city attorney's association of Texas, Joseph B. Graves, El Paso, past president of the city assessor-collectors. Welcome was extended to the officials by G. W. Dabney, mayor of Big Spring. All members of the Big Spring commission attended. Officials were here from Brownfield, Colorado City, Stanton, Post, El Paso, Austin, Marfa, San Angelo, Spur, Midland, Abilene, Alpine, Kermit, Littlefield, Big Lake, Slaton, Lamesa, Lubbock, Crosbyton, Rotan and Odessa.

Plot Is Rumored Against Elizabeth

PARIS, May 11. (AP)—Published rumors of a Jewish underground plot to assassinate or kidnap Princess Elizabeth during her visit to Paris this week are reported under French police study today.

A British spokesman described the reports as highly improbable. He said rumors that Iron Zvai Heud extremists might make an attempt against the Princess "seem to spring from the assumption that Paris is the headquarters for the activity of this gang."

French police said security agents will maintain a close guard over Elizabeth and Prince Philip during their four-day sojourn in the French capital. They are due here Friday.

His home is in Masonton, West Virginia, but he had been working as an itinerant painter during the past few weeks in Kermit and Wickit.

He was treated at San Pedro Emergency Hospital for chest injuries.

Pictures will be projected by Lee Milling of the YMCA and later, if there is a demand, adult education classes will be organized for men in whatever field their interest lies. Mrs. Sawtelle said that other programs for women and girls, too, might grow out of the program if the people wish them.

Modest Bachelor Gives University Million Dollars

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 11. (AP)—University of Michigan students—present and future—are the recipients of more than $1 million left them by a modest 79-year-old bachelor. They have seen him strolling around the campus for 11 years. Most of them knew only that his name was Mr. Smith and that he lived in a small room in the Michigan Union, center of campus activities. The donor was C. C. Smith, once a prominent Detroit attorney, who died March 4, leaving more than $1 million in cash and securities. University President Alexander Ruthven and the Ann Arbor Trust Co. were named co-administrators of the estate under terms of the will revealed yesterday. Smith specified that his fortune be used by the Michigan Board of Regents to establish a fund—with-out name—"for gifts, loans, scholarships and rewards of merit for University of Michigan students." He suggested that deserving students should not be chosen by examinations, but should be picked after private inquiry and close observation. The wealthy attorney arranged to move into his campus room in 1937, saying he was tired of living in the "big city" and wished to spend his later years among students at the school from which he graduated in 1896.

Javelin Kills Midshipman

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 11. (AP)—A javelin hurled by a classmate yesterday killed Midshipman George J. Eliopolus, Naval Academy athlete. Capt. E. B. Taylor, Navy athletic director, said the 23-year-old victim "was struck in the neck by a javelin that slipped from the hands of Midshipman George B. Stone." Eliopolus pulled the spear from his own neck, but collapsed and died within four minutes. Taylor said Stone was "hospitalized suffering from shock." The two boys had been working out together at the Thompson stadium when the mishap occurred. Trainer Billy Fallon and others rushed to Eliopolus' aid at once and medical officers arrived within four minutes, Taylor said. He estimated the spear traveled not more than 15 feet. Eliopolus, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Eliopolus of Rawlins, Wyo., was a track and varsity basketball player. He came here about three years ago from the University of Wyoming. Stone's home is in Kingsport, Tenn.

Housing Problem Kills Separation

LOS ANGELES, May 11. (AP)—Movie Actor George Stone must not annoy or molest his blonde wife, Marjorie, pending trial of her divorce. Mrs. Stone, who is living in the same twin-bed single apartment with her husband, must leave him alone, too. That was the domestic relations court ruling yesterday on their squabble which arose when the Mrs. tried to have Stone evicted, and he asked the court to oust her. They'll just stay on, housing conditions being what they are, and Stone must pay his wife $40 weekly alimony, meanwhile. Her lawyer says she has heart trouble and cannot follow her career as a model. Stone's lawyer told the court that the actor, too, has heart trouble and shingles. Mrs. Stone alleges her husband has been cruel to her.
