

Liquor Test To Rest Upon Alleged Vote Irregularities As Hearing Recessed

Judge Indicates Commissioner's Order Valid After Morning Of Argument; Case To Be Resumed Next Week

Hearing on a contest suit of the Dec. 10 liquor election in which Howard county voted dry Thursday resolved itself into a point of irregularities surrounding the vote as Judge Charles L. Klapproth announced that hearing on amended arguments on two paragraphs in point of contestants' original petition would be resumed next week, likely around Wednesday.

Contestants had centered attack on the validity of action by the county commissioners court in rescinding an order for an election and issuing another, and through their counsel claimed this to be an undue exercise of authority by the commissioners court, an act which would cause the vote to be void.

Seek Identity Of Girl Hit By Auto

Fatally Injured On Highway South Of Big Spring

Local authorities enlisted aid of the public as they sought Thursday to establish identity of a young woman who was fatally injured on the highway 20 miles south of Big Spring Wednesday night. She died several hours after the mishap, which occurred about 10:15, in a local hospital, without regaining consciousness.

County officials who investigated the mishap said it apparently was unavoidable, but they were unable to explain presence of the victim on the highway. She was struck by a car being driven by Mrs. R. E. Willis of Wink, who was accompanied by her five-year-old daughter, and a friend, J. B. Grable, Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick said he learned the young woman stepped suddenly into the path of a car as the machine was being met by a truck, and that the driver had no time to avoid hitting her.

Occupants of the Wink car, with C. W. Via of Big Spring, brought the victim to the hospital.

At Filling Station
Investigating authorities said the young woman, who appeared to be about 25 or 26 years of age, appeared about an hour before the mishap at the Hollis filling station. There she warmed by the fire, purchased a piece of candy, and started out again. Officials said evidence showed the girl had been put out of a car a short time before.

She made the remark to the filling station proprietor that she was from San Saba, and was on her way there. The sheriff's office contacted authorities at San Saba Thursday morning, but could get no clues as to the girl's identity.

The body is being held at the Kinney Funeral home. Authorities requested assistance from anyone who might be able to throw any light on the case.

The girl was described as being five feet, eight inches tall, and having dark brown hair with a reddish tinge and hazel eyes. She was wearing a blue checked dress with a red pocket trimming, and a red scarf. She wore a dark, well-worn coat with a fur collar. No purse, letters or other type of article could be found at the scene of the mishap.

NONCOMBATANTS DIE IN BOMB ATTACKS

HANKOW, Jan. 6 (AP)—Fifty Chinese noncombatants were killed or wounded today when 30 Japanese bombing planes heavily bombed the airfields at Hankow and Wuchang, across the Yangtze. Chinese officers suggested the raid was in reprisal for yesterday's foray of Chinese bombing planes on the Japanese airbase at Wuhu where six Japanese planes were reported destroyed.

FARM, RELIEF ESTIMATES OPPOSED

BENNETT'S DAUGHTER WEDS

Capt. Donald S. Leonard of the Michigan state police announced in Detroit that Gertrude Bennett, missing daughter of Harry Bennett, Ford Motor company personnel director, and Russell Hughes had been married in Auburn, Ind. A search had been under way for the 17-year-old girl, shown left with her sister, Billie.

NAVY PLANE IS MISSING WITH SEVEN ABOARD

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 6 (AP)—Captain Alva D. Bernhard, chief of staff, navy aircraft scouting force, announced today a navy bombing plane with seven men aboard had been missing since yesterday.

Captain Bernhard revealed that the big patrol bomber had been missing since 5 p. m. yesterday, "when we lost radio contact with it."

"The plane was on a routine flight," he added. "I am not at liberty to say where it was bound or where it was believed to be when we lost contact."

"We believe the plane will be found," Capt. Bernhard said. "It is one of the flying boats capable of landing in any kind of sea."

Captain Bernhard said he could not release the names of those aboard at this time, "as they are from different parts of the United States and it would cause needless worry."

Planes and surface vessels of the fleet searched all night for the missing plane, it was learned. The search was being pressed with vigor today.

SCORES APPLY FOR JOBS ON PATROL

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—The rush is on again.

Scores of applications for jobs with the highway patrol and driver's license bureau stacked up today at public safety department headquarters, the result of an announcement the safety commission will consider employing 50 or 60 more officers.

Col. H. H. Carmichael, department director, said the commission will meet tomorrow to determine the number of recruits to be chosen.

ESTATE FOR WINDSOR?

SAN MATEO, Calif., Jan. 6 (AP)—Agents of the Duke of Windsor have been negotiating to lease the 50-acre estate of Leon F. Douglas, noted inventor and scientist, it was learned here today.

Bandits Make $25,000 Haul

GUTHRIE, Ky., Jan. 6 (AP)—Police kept a sharp vigil along the Kentucky-Tennessee border today for three masked bandits who fatally machine-gunned a negro post-office messenger, wounded Police Chief C. M. Sherrod, and sped away with a mail bag containing $25,000.

Felled by a bullet through the head as he reached for his pistol, the negro, Arthur Mimms, 62, died a few hours after the bold robbery late yesterday.

Sherrod, shot in both legs, was recovering today.

The bandits completed their coup at the depot here shortly before the mail bag was to have been placed aboard a train for the Louisville Federal Reserve bank.

The robbers swiftly selected the mail bag containing money, tossed it into their car, and dashed off, taking assistant Postmaster Guy Askew with them.

They forced Askew from the car after speeding a half mile.

Money Bill Slashed By Committee

Independent Agency Appropriation Over 118 Million Lower

PI—MONEY BILL 30 WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The house appropriations committee began an economy drive today by recommending appropriation of $1,414,818,515 to finance more than 30 independent governmental agencies for the coming fiscal year—a saving of $118,538,800 over the current year.

The measure, first of the regular annual supply bills, slashed $3,727,000 off the budget bureau's estimates, most of the cut being borne by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Rejecting the authority's request for $2,898,000 to start construction of the $112,000,000 flood control dam at Gilbertville, Ky., the committee allotted only $285,000 for "project investigations" on this undertaking. The bill carries a total of $7,087,000 for the TVA, plus a $4,000,000 contract authorization.

The bulk of the saving over this year's expenditures resulted from a $123,668,000 cut in funds for the Civilian Conservation Corps and reductions of $37,914,500 for the veterans' administration, and $23,845,077 for the railroad retirement board.

Increases of $70,559,322 for the social security board; $1,036,500 for the interstate commerce commission; $1,852,000 for the civil service retirement fund, and $386,000 for the national labor relations board, offset the economies.

In reporting the bill to the house the committee included a sharply worded criticism of governmental public expenditures, the primary purpose of which, it said, "is to build up a public demand for the services of the agency issuing the publicity."

The drastic cut in the CCC funds conformed directly to the budget bureau's recommendations, and would give the agency $226,981,000 for the next fiscal year in contrast to the $350,000,000 for the current year.

The committee said the slash would mean elimination of 412 CCC camps and reduction of enrollees from 315,000 to 250,000. Final decision has not been made, the report said, as to what camps will be abandoned.

The committee denied a labor relations board request for $20,000 to add 12 employees to its Washington staff, but approved an increase of $142,293 for 31 additional field employees, described as necessary because of the impetus given the agency's work by the supreme court's validation of the Wagner act.

An outlay of $93,000,000 for the veterans' administration won committee approval.

It includes $4,500,000 for construction of additional hospital facilities but no specific projects were listed.

GOOD YEAR AHEAD, KIWANIANS TOLD BY SPEAKERS

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and L. A. Eubanks, credit bureau head, looked upon good prospects for business in Big Spring during 1938 in a talk before the Kiwanis club Thursday.

Eubanks said that the upward trend in deposits (which showed a million dollar gain Dec. 31 over the date for the year preceding) indicated that 1938 should be as good or better business year even should payrolls show a decline.

Greene followed up on this point by predicting that payrolls would increase rather than decline by reason of the Couden refinery expansion, hospital and school construction.

HE'S NOT READY TO TAKE VOWS

PARIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—County Clerk Roy Weaver receives many a request from parent or guardian not to issue marriage licenses but the plea of a deadly-serious caller a few days ago gave him something to think about.

His caller explained honestly, "I came in to ask you not to issue a marriage license to a woman who's trying to marry me. I mean it, too. She threatened me with a knife and said she was coming to get a license."

EDUCATOR DIES

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Dr. Jeremiah Rhodes, 77, first assistant state superintendent of education, died here today.

The veteran educator was stricken last week and failed to recover from an operation performed Sunday, associates said.

Allred Gets Plenty Volunteers To Move Pike's Peak To Texas

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Ten fearless "mountain movers" have applied for the job of carting Pike's Peak from Colorado to Texas.

Governor James V. Allred revealed yesterday he had received the many applications for contracts to move the famed peak he won from Governor Teller Ammons of Colorado when Rice Institute vanquished the University of Colorado 28 to 14 in the Cotton Bowl football classic.

"Wouldn't Governor Ammons be surprised," he remarked, "if we took him up on his proposition to 'come and get it any time'?"

A petition from Alpine urged the peak be placed in the Chisos range of the Big Bend country. "If you put it anywhere else in Texas," said a letter accompanying the petition, "it would not have the proper playmates and would not be satisfied or happy." The communication also pointed out the project would relieve unemployment "for years to come."

A letter from Idaho moving the peak to the Lone Star state was not as impractical one and outlined a complicated plan for its accomplishment.

ON CHARITY — HAVE $10,000

These two sisters, Roberta (left) and Olivia Hale, both in their 90's, were charity patients in Gallinger hospital in Washington, unaware that in their rooms relief workers had found $10,000 in hoarded bills. For years a relief society had provided them with $50 a month.

Sutherland Successor Will Be Subjected To Close Scrutiny

Appointment Of Liberal Likely To Keep Court Bill In Background

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Senators commenting on the retirement from the supreme court of Justice George Sutherland emphasized two points today:

1. That President Roosevelt's nominee to fill the vacancy will be subjected to careful senatorial scrutiny.

2. That prospects of a definite "liberal" majority on the court showed into the background possibility of reviving the president's judicial reorganization bill.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) already has proposed that senate hearings be required on supreme court nominations, and was expected to seek approval of such a rule before a nomination is submitted.

Senator Copeland (D-NY), who first asserted Justice Hugo L. Black had been a Ku Klux Klansman, said any nominee would be "closely scrutinized."

"Liberal" Policy
Speculation over a successor to the 75-year-old Justice Sutherland, who asked to step down from the bench January 18 because of his age, found most senators in agreement that a "liberal" would be proposed. Four present justices—Brandeis, Stone, Cardozo and Black—have been so classified by administration officials.

Thus, senators argued, a majority of the court could be expected to favor Roosevelt legislation, nullifying any further demand of administration officials.

Almost immediately the respondent filed with the Detroit office of the board notice that it did not intend to comply with numerous provisions of the board's decision, including an order to rehire 29 persons allegedly dismissed for union activity.

The Ford company in its latest pleadings stated its position as follows:

"It is the intention of the respondent to obey in the future, as it has in the past, the provisions of the national labor relations act upon which the decision and order purport to be based."

The company contended it had not violated the act, that most of the charges made against it were "unjustified by the facts and unsupported by the evidence," and that the board exceeded both its constitutional and statutory authority in ordering the company to desist from certain activities connected with labor policy.

The NLRB announced in Washington it would go before the court of appeals for an order to enforce its decision.

TAX ASSESSMENT ON MELLON ESTATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The treasury filed a tax assessment of $4,388,627 today against the estate of Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh.

The claim involved the liquidation of the McCintic-Marshall and Union Construction companies.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT HONORED 19 YEARS AFTER HIS DEATH

COVE NECK, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—At the quiet end of the pilgrimage of a modern "Mr. Greatheart," Theodore Roosevelt died in his sleep 19 years ago, and today men and women who never have forgotten him gather at his grave here, as they have done on this day these last 18 years.

The shrine of the little band of his friends—a band now less by two since the last trip Joe Cove Neck in the death of William Loeb, Jr., long a Roosevelt secretary, and Fisher J. J. Curran—was the old fashioned, iron-fenced burial ground where lies the body of the 26th president.

Some Contend Bigger Sums Necessary

FD's Proposals For Economies, However, Generally Approved

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's budget estimates for relief and farm benefits encountered congressional opposition today despite favorable democratic reaction to his message as a whole.

Veto Power
Several influential senators, not yet ready to be quoted by name, also said they would oppose the president's request for power to veto individual items in appropriation bills. They characterized as an invasion of congressional authority over appropriations.

Complaints about the proposal to fix next year's relief expenditures at $1,000,000,000, compared to this year's total of $1,500,000,000, came from Senators La Follette (Prog-Wis) and Schwellenbach (D-Wash.).

The Washington senator contended that WPA officials were unable to meet the present relief burden under an amendment requiring them to make the $1,000,000,000 fund last until next June 30.

Some farm senators protested against holding 1939 soil conservation funds to $440,000,000—the amount allotted for this year—but Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee expressed pleasure the amount had not been cut below that figure.

Many legislators voiced approval of Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to cut $539,000,000 in total expenditures, even though some of them criticized specific curtailments.

Senator King (D-Utah), long a critic of heavy spending, commended "the temper in which the president admonished us to be rational in expenditures."

Republican Leader McNary of the senate said it was "regrettable" that the president found it impossible to balance the budget.

House leaders, with the budget before them, cleared the way for immediate consideration of the appropriations bills carrying out its provisions. They decided to consider the bill supplying funds for independent federal agencies, and expressed hope it would pass this week.

The senate, by an agreement reached during the special session, took up the controversial anti-lynching bill.

Planned Industry Scheme Gets A Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's suggestion for industrial production based on consumer demand estimated months in advance got a cold reception today from the head of one of the nation's biggest corporations.

The proposal was put directly to President William Knudsen of General Motors by Chairman Byrnes (D-SC) of the senate's special unemployment committee.

Knudsen recalled his company had laid off 30,000 men January 1. He said this was necessitated by a drop in sales during November and December.

Then he said: "I don't think there is a way in God's world to forecast a 50 per cent drop in business in three weeks, such as we had in December."

AIR MAIL GREETINGS BRING RESPONSE

Response to New Year greeting cards sent by the Big Spring chamber of commerce on the first scheduled west run of the American Airlines January 1 has been received from Los Angeles and San Francisco, J. H. Greene, chamber manager, said Thursday.

Both of the California city chambers complimented the local chamber on its novel method of advertising the new service.

Budget Has An Even Number Of Pages, And Balancing Is Easy

BY EDDIE GILMORE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Balancing the new budget is a cinch—you open it at Page 545, pound it a couple of times to break down resistance and there you are.

It's a wonder somebody hasn't thought of it before. The task is much easier this year, for the budget—or Uncle Sam's cold reckoning of how much it's going to cost to keep himself for the 12 months beginning July 1—has an even number of pages.

It hasn't been so lately. Last year's counted 895 pages; the year before, 839, and the year before that, 871.

Physically, the budget of the United States is one of the oldest and biggest documents printed in the English language. But it's no best seller. A pamphlet on "Diseases of the Horse" is in greater demand.

For attention to detail, however, the budget is in a class by itself. Consider these items: The estimated cost of shoeing five horses at the Washington zoo.

Eradication of barberries and phony-pench and peach Mosad.

Suppression of liquor traffic among the Indians.

McDowell Is Topic Of Junior Music Club Study

The life and works of Edward McDowell, famous American composer, was the topic of the study at a meeting of the Junior Music club Wednesday at the home of Miss Louise Berger.

Miss Janet Bankson led the discussion with a sketch of McDowell's life and work. Mrs. G. H. Wood, club sponsor, gave an outline of the piano-voice concert that is to be presented on January 19 under auspices of the Music Study club, and described the music to be played by the artists and told the stories of the songs to be sung by Miss Rose Paider.

During the business session over which Miss Rozelle Stephens, president, presided, Miss Sara Lamun gave a parliamentary drill and Miss Berger read minutes of the last meeting. Announcement of the Ninth District convention of Texas Music clubs to be held here on January 21 and 22 was made by Mrs. Wood.

Attending were Misses Mary Evelyn Lawrence, Louise Berger, Ruth Jane Thompson, Ruth Ann Dempsey, Sara Lamun, Rozelle Stephens, Wanda Neel, Janet Bankson, Maurine Rowe, Jane Hurly, Ralph Arnold, Betty Lee Eddy, a guest, and Mrs. G. H. Wood.

Employers Take Joker From Job Interview Deck

No Tricks Are Used To Baffle Nervous Job Applicant

Job questions, designed to throw applicants for jobs off their guard, aren't fair and are not used by the really modern employment director.

Marion Boyd, who has charge of interviewing as many as 3,000 applicants a day for a department store, says the joker questions may be "all right for criminologists but we just never fall back on them."

Try To Be At Ease

This is Miss Boyd's system: For the preliminary interview, each applicant faces an interviewer through a little window and is checked on size and general appearance. Information on whether the applicant wants part-time work or depends on the job for a livelihood is noted.

The final interview is called the "rail" interview because a railing separates the preliminary and final applicant groups. Every attempt is made here to put the applicant at ease.

"Yes, I do keep a mirror tilted down so I can get a look at the applicant as he or she comes in," admits Miss Boyd who often has been mistaken for Billie Burke. "That gives me a head-to-toe impression and tells me whether there's a flair for fashion—or the person is just neat and well-groomed."

"But it also gives the applicant a chance to look at her hair when she takes off her hat—and put stray strands into place."

Should Have "Sparkle"

Miss Boyd first chats with the applicant a minute or two—mentions the person who sent the applicant, perhaps. Or, if it's a former employee, she talks about the department that employe was in before.

"I notice, incidentally, how he walks and sits . . . whether he slumps or not . . . and how much vitality or 'sparkle' he has," Miss Boyd continues. "We use that term 'sparkle' a lot."

"I watch for mannerisms. Is he well-coordinated? Does he drop things? Is he ill at ease—or poised?"

Often applicants talk themselves out of jobs, she says. Because they find someone who'll listen to their story they go into it in great detail—wiping out their chances.

"Sometimes, too, voices eliminate them—rasping, coarse voices."

Two other sure-fire elimination factors are shifting eyes and complaints about "shot" nerves—as an excuse for leaving a former job.

Mrs. Van Gieson Is Highest Scorer At Justamere Party

Mrs. V. Van Gieson was highest scorer for members of the Justamere Bridge club Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. C. S. Blomsheld was hostess at her home.

Mrs. George Oldham was the only guest player.

Others present were Mrs. E. O. Ellington, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mrs. John Clarke, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Lee Hanson, Mrs. B. C. Strain, Mrs. H. W. Leeper, Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mrs. J. B. Young, and Mrs. J. Y. Robb.

Rester-Webb Marriage Is Announced Here

Friends here have received word of the marriage of Miss Polly Webb of Fort Worth to Roy Rester of Midland. The ceremony took place in Fort Worth on December 29.

Mrs. Rester is a former resident of Big Spring, having lived here for several years before making her home in Fort Worth.

The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Headland.

Mrs. Rester will join her husband in Midland after January 15 to make her home.

READING AND WRITING

"TALE OF BALL," by Vicki Baum (Doubleday, Dornas; $2.75).

This is Vicki Baum's good resolution: a novel which combines her obvious gift for narrative and characterization with a theme worthy of her skill. She calls the book "Tale of Ball," and inevitably it will be confused in the public mind with Miguel Cervantes' "Tale of Ball," which it resembles only in seriousness of purpose.

Miss Baum proceeds, her book with a brief chapter in which she tells of the Ballroom Ball has had for her since, in 1913, she was given a set of photographs of the place and its people. She says that when, in 1920, she at last was able to visit the island, those photographs had been with her so long they had become torn and stained, and also a part of herself in the peculiar way of things which get into our dreams.

On Ball she met the man who had taken the photographs, Dr. Fabius. When a little later the doctor died she inherited a trunk full of manuscript; the novel she is about to begin is a greatly modified version of a story written by the doctor—a kind of epic of island life, and of the Ballroom struggle with the Dutch. Whether or not this is meant as a literal fact, the approach is effective.

So is the book. It is perhaps wrong to call it a novel, for it is much more than merely a good story properly backgrounded. It is a fictional expression of the Ballroom life in the same way that a good historical novel is a fictional reflection of a historical personage or epoch—indeed Miss Baum's book is a historical novel which, however, deals with history remote from our western experience.

The story is too involved to be summarized here, and the characters are too numerous for description. There may be some (like Philip Guedalia) who will prefer their history and their anthropology straight. But there probably will be sugar-coating the facts, Miss Baum has done her readers a considerable service. At any rate, the novel is definitely a labor of love.

Says AFL Accepted As 'The Lesser Of Two Evils'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Chairman Madden of the national labor relations board told congress today some employers "who six months ago would not tolerate any union now select the American Federation of Labor as the lesser of two evils."

He denied, in testimony a house appropriations subcommittee made public today, that the board favors either the A. F. of L. or the Committee for Industrial Organization.

"We take our cases as they come to us," he said.

"As a matter of fact, the A. F. of L. being the older and more conservative organization, they may be a preference, in consequence, on the part of the employers."

Madden submitted statistics showing that there were more strikes in the first eight months of this year—3,314—than in any year since 1920. Of the 3,314 disputes, 56 per cent involved union organization, 32 per cent wages and hours and 12 per cent miscellaneous causes.

Exports To Japan Lower, Trade With China Increases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—United States merchandise exports to Japan fell off sharply in November, but shipments to China apparently increased, the commerce department reported today.

The department said shipments to Japan totaled $18,133,000 in November, compared with $24,100,000 in the same month 1936. Shipments to China were shown as $2,595,000, compared with $3,227,000 a year ago.

The apparent decline in exports to China was more than offset by an increase from $643,000 in November, 1936, to $3,958,000 in November, 1937. Shipments to the British port of Hongkong, through which much Chinese trade has been routed since the Japanese captured Shanghai.

TO GET UNDERPASS

TEMPLE, Tex., Jan. 6 (AP)—Temple's long-desired concrete overpass on highway 2 over the Santa Fe tracks here opened assured today. The state highway department said construction would start as soon as the city obtained right-of-way, and steps in that direction have been taken.

"I've bought 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco at auctions in the past ten years," says Mr. Valentine, independent buyer of Westfield, N. C., "and my bread and butter depends on making the right bids. That's why I have to know tobacco values."

"Now I've smoked Luckies ever since 1918, and the reason is, they suit my taste to a 'T'. Nobody knows better than we tobacco men that Luckies are made of the finest center-leaf tobacco."

Yes—and that isn't all...Luckies' exclusive process, "It's Toasted" takes out certain irritants naturally present in all tobacco—even the finest! The result is that you will find Luckies not only taste good but are easy on your throat.

Surely, independent experts like Mr. Valentine make good judges of cigarettes... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined!

duty in setting aside the first order and calling another on the new liquor control act wording for the ballot.

Lawrence, declaring that "our attack is on the acts of the commissioners court," argued that the court had submitted two orders on the same issue within the prohibited space of a year, that the "changing of the wording of the ballot did not change the issue."

Not Identical
Counsel for contestees, however, argued that the first order which was for an election on for or against "prohibiting the sale of all liquors," and the second order which was on for or against "prohibiting the sale of all alcoholic beverages" were not on identical issues.

Not "Held"
Morrison pointed that the new statutes set out that no election shall be "held" on the same issue within a year, but that in fact no election was actually "held" on the first order, but only on the second one; that the court was acting in its legislative function in disregarding the first order and issuing a second in response to a petition.

hear all matters of contest or charges of illegality surrounding the contested election, petitions and orders.

Petition Invalid?
It was further argued by Lawrence that the election order for the Dec. 10 vote was based on an invalid petition because neither the petition nor the order for election set out that the petition was signed by 10 per cent of the qualified voters, and that the petition did not give jurisdiction to the commissioners court to issue an order of election.

"The whole thing is this," said Lawrence, "that when the court acted on the petition and entered an order of election its authority had closed and that it had no further authority until time to canvass returns of the (first ordered) election." Lawrence further excepted to the court order which said it met in "regular" session to call the second election, when it was a "special" session, according to counsel's argument.

These arguments, however, seemed beside the point when the court indicated that the contestee's general demurrer would be sustained except for two paragraphs alleging irregularities in the conduct of the election. The court declared that he would "hear anything concerning irregularities as to the holding of the election by judges," and gave Lawrence and Taylor an opportunity to amend and make more specific their allegations in point.

SAYS THERE'S A 'RACKET' IN STATE LAND VACANCY AFFAIRS

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 6 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred made public today a letter from H. L. Mills of Houston stating investigations by the Texas State Teachers association indicated a racket in land vacancy matters and advocating a state board to supervise leasing of public lands.

Hint of a special session of the legislature to consider revision of land laws was contained in the correspondence between Mills, who is chairman of the permanent school land committee of the association, a member of the state teachers' retirement board and business manager of the Houston independent school district, and the governor.

Expressing concern over some school land transactions, Mills said it was evident the public school fund was loser of $1,250,000 at the present time, that is money that could have been in the fund if leases had been made on the basis of the highest cash offer with a one-eighth royalty retained.

He said many leases had been awarded to the low cash bidder with the one-eighth royalty and with provision for additional royalties after production of a certain amount of oil.

"Our investigations have led us to believe there has been more or less of a racket sometimes in the question of vacancies," he wrote. "We are finding a sentiment growing in the country which we fear is going to react against all land laws."

KINDLY GUNMEN WASTE $2 TIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (AP)—Modern conveniences and the solicitude of two gunmen eased the plight of 14 persons locked in a vault during a robbery yesterday. The gunmen took $1,456 from the cash drawers at the Tower Finance company and forced eight men and six girl employees into the vault. Fearing their victims would suffocate, the robbers flipped a negro clerk $2 to call the police.

The tip was wasted. A ventilating system eliminated the danger of suffocation. A hidden telephone provided communication.

PATROLMAN SLAIN

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Patrolman Frank Zaccor, 38, was shot to death today in a gun fight with three young bandits surprised during a restaurant holdup on West 31st street.

Before he fell the patrolman critically wounded one of the bandits who identified himself as Thomas Kerwin.

ors, making "an honest effort to locate vacancies," the situation would be different. "Indeed this is a serious situation, and many of us are disturbed about it as I know you must be." Mills also said nothing could be done "unless there was a special session of the legislature." In his reply Governor Alfred said he was deeply disturbed and was giving the matter careful study.

Confidence Is Held As Need For Business

More Assurance Is Required, General Motors Chief Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—President William S. Knudsen of General Motors, appearing before the senate's special unemployment committee, said today his "one hope" for immediate stabilization of work was that "the people generally will feel a little more confidence in the future."

"We need more assurance all the way down the line about this year and the year after," said the president of the corporation which laid off 30,000 men January 1 because of a sales decline during November and December.

Knudsen declared the decline was the severest in his company's history. He blamed it not on car prices but on a view held by the "average man" that "work is going to be slack."

"Even if he has the means," the motor magnate continued, "the average man won't permit himself a car under such circumstances." On the stand Knudsen declined to approve, as far as its effect on the automotive industry was concerned, Mr. Roosevelt's current suggestion for planned industrial production as a way of keeping the level of employment reasonably steady. The General Motors chief said he knew no way to forecast a sudden drop such as that of November and December.

El Paso Editor And Justice Trade Blows

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 6 (AP)—At liberty on bond after a fisty clash with a Justice of the Peace, E. M. Pooley, El Paso newspaper editor, said today "there was nothing else for me to do but hit him."

Pooley exchanged blows yesterday in the course of an investigation with Justice C. M. Wilcher, then into purported vice conditions, asked Pooley how much an alleged gambler "paid you for covering him up."

"The man, taking advantage of his position as justice of the peace, insulted me in the vilest manner," declared Pooley. "There was nothing else for me to do but hit him."

The editor was ordered to jail for contempt and fined $100, which Pooley refused to pay. Later released on $200 bond, he filed a habeas corpus appeal which will be heard before District Judge C. R. Price Saturday.

Meanwhile, the vice inquiry was suspended until Tuesday. The Herald-Post (Scraps-Howard) newspaper of which Pooley is editor, supported the investigation, but urged that it be conducted on a comprehensive basis and not directed solely at the administration of Mayor M. A. Harlan.

Harlan, Pooley and others were called to testify if there had been a "pay-off" in the operation of the restricted district, and also if there had been gambling in other parts of the city.

Funds Listed For Additions To Vets' Facilities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The house appropriations committee recommended today expenditure of $4,500,000 for additions to veterans' administration facilities.

Brig.-Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' affairs administrator, told the committee he hoped to have under way eventually a facility expansion program estimated to cost $8,000,000.

Allocations would include $300,000 each to the facilities at Waco, Texas, and Los Angeles for the addition of 104 beds at each institution. Hines told the committee he had asked the budget bureau for $5,000,000 to initiate the building program and for authority to incur contractual obligations totaling an additional $6,222,000. The bureau, he said, recommended only $4,500,000 and refused authority for the additional obligations.

He said in view of the reduced recommendation, priority of projects which the administration can launch must be determined later.

HOUSTON MERCHANT CLAIMED BY DEATH

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—W. C. Munn, 74, one time sewing machine salesman who became owner of one of Houston's largest department stores, died unexpectedly today at his home.

He established his store in the heart of Houston's business area in 1906 and the store expanded with the years.

Munn was born in Montgomery county in 1863. He began his career as a sewing machine salesman at Weimar and later opened his first store there.

Cooler Weather In Wake Of Rains

By The Associated Press
A mass of cold air made its way southeastward across Texas today nudging aside cloudy, drizzly skies as it moved.

Near-freezing temperatures almost to San Antonio were in prospect overnight. Amarillo's low this morning was 26, the Dallas weather bureau said.

Dallas expected 32 degrees and clear weather tomorrow morning. Mercuries, hung in the high forties today.

Clearing skies were forecast for most of the state.

MORE JOBLESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The social security board has estimated for congress that the number of claims filed for old-age and death-benefit payments would increase from an average of 650 a day on last November 30 to 1,000 a day at the end of this year.

In submitting data for use of a house appropriations subcommittee in drafting the independent offices supply bill, made public today, the board reported that through November 30, it had set up 26,000,000 employe records and expected to add 10,000,000 more in the next fiscal year.

BENEFIT CLAIMS TO REACH 1,000 A DAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The social security board has estimated for congress that the number of claims filed for old-age and death-benefit payments would increase from an average of 650 a day on last November 30 to 1,000 a day at the end of this year.

TO RENEW HEARING ON GREEN ESTATE

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Attorney General William McCaw will leave tomorrow for Washington to resume efforts to obtain for Texas a share in inheritance taxes on the estate of Col. E. H. R. Green.

Accompanied by Madden Hill and Llewellyn Duke, assistants, McCaw will go first to Washington for a conference with Special Masters John S. Finney of the U. S. supreme court and representatives of other states seeking to collect the taxes, and then to New York and New Bedford, Mass., where further hearings will be held.

HOLC FORECLOSES LESS THAN TEN PCT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Home Owners' Loan corporation told congress today its foreclosures for the current fiscal year would be less than 10 per cent of the value of total loans outstanding. A year ago the HOLC estimated foreclosures would be about 15 per cent.

Charles A. Jones, general manager of the corporation, said borrowers are in "infinitely better" position now to make payments on their loans. The information was given to a house sub-committee considering the HOLC's 1933 appropriation.

ROBBERS SOUGHT

UNION CITY, Okla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Search spread through the bottomlands northwest of here today for two gunmen who fled the bank of Union with $302 in cash after striking the woman cashier and imprisoning five persons in the bank vault yesterday.

A grey-colored automobile in which the robbers fled was found four miles north of here. Officers said it was taken from an Oklahoma City street two or three hours before the raid.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those giving, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or rheumatism caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's "sieve" way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 5 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste settles in the blood. These poisons may start rheumatism, rheumatic pains, loss of eyesight, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes wash out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Southerners Open Campaign Against Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Southern senators banded together today for a prolonged fight against the anti-lynching bill in the hope it would be shelved to make way for President Roosevelt's legislative program.

They chose a westerner—Senator Borah (R-Idaho)—to begin debate this afternoon against the measure. Senator Connally (D-Tex.), leader of the opponents, said debate would last "at least a week, or 10 days," but declined to forecast how much longer it might continue.

Republican Leader McNary, who favors the proposal, said he understood the southern group hoped to continue talking until pressure for the administration's program became so strong that the anti-lynching measure would be dropped. He asserted a filibuster might prolong the congressional session considerably beyond its scheduled May adjournment.

Supporters of the bill expressed the hope any filibuster would fizzle quickly.

A NEW FIGURE IN PASSPORT AFFAIR

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Federal agents delving into the mystery of the "Donald L. Robinsons," who disappeared in Moscow in December, today identified an employe of the Egyptian consulate here as "an office boy" who made arrangements for the fraudulent passports used by the missing couple.

U. S. Attorney Lester C. Donegan named the man as Aaron Sharfin, a resident of the Bronx, New York, and described him as a secretary to the Egyptian consul.

A. Dahab, vice consul now in charge of the office, said Sharfin was "an office boy" who had been in their employ for about five years.

Beyond identifying Sharfin, who previously had been described as a "Louis Epstein," Donegan was non-committal. He said Sharfin was an American citizen of Russian descent.

NEGRO ON JURY

MARION, Ark., Jan. 6 (AP)—Sectional precedent was shattered today when a negro was chosen as a juror to try two other negroes charged with raping an 18-year-old white girl. The juror was John Claybrook, 66-year-old planter and timber operator.

There were no disorders as the trial of Theo Thomas, 25, and Frank Carter, 26, opened before Judge Neil Kilgough but deputies guarded the entrances to the courthouse and state troopers mingled with the crowd.

Claybrook is virtual owner of the tiny hamlet of Topaz, which he founded.

SINGER GUARDED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—District attorney's investigators are providing constant protection for Ruth Etting, stage and screen singer, who reported to a man telephoned her from New York that he planned to fly here, kill her, and then commit suicide.

Miss Etting gave authorities the man's name, which they withheld, and the district attorney in New York was asked to ascertain the man's whereabouts and question him.

Solar Radiation Advanced As A New Fuel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Congress learned today that pioneering in the field of solar radiation by Dr. C. G. Abbot, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, probably would make plenty of cheap power available after exhaustion of the nation's coal and oil resources.

In testimony on the independent office appropriation bill, made public today by a house appropriations sub-committee, the scientist said he had developed a "small model solar flash boiler in which steam could be raised in from three to five minutes."

He said it was automatic in operation and that steam development in that way would appear to cost about one-half cent-per horsepower hour—about the cost of generation from coal or hydro-electric power.

YOUNG PRINCE HAS TO CHANGE SHIP DURING STORM

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Jan. 6 (AP)—Crown Prince Mihai, safe but badly frightened, landed today at Constantza after transferring to the liner Dacla from a crippled Rumanian destroyer during a Black Sea blizzard.

The 16-year-old prince, on his way to Athens as Rumania's representative at the wedding of Crown Prince Paul of Greece and Princess Fredericka Lulse of Brunswick, had shivered in freezing darkness for 26 hours before changing ships in the storm.

The destroyer was towed in by the Dacla. None of the royal party and crew, about 80 in all, was injured.

SAYS CANADA WILL NEED DEFENSES

OTTAWA, Jan. 6 (Canadian Press)—Canada may some day regret her unfortified coastline and lack of a navy, says China's new consul-general for Canada, Dr. C. L. Chen.

"You will rue the day you neglected your western defenses," Dr. Chen predicted in an address before the Gyro club last night.

"If you think you remain secure by folding your arms and depending on the English and the Monroe doctrine you will be in the position of China which relied on the Kellogg pact."

Albert Fall, Bitter Toward Life, Says He's Paid Debt To Society

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 6 (AP)—Albert B. Fall, gaunt of face and hair bleached a snowy white, gazed upon the new year today with a bitter resignation toward life.

"I'll never get out of bed—I haven't long to live," he said in one of his rare interviews at the William Beaumont general hospital.

A lot of water has gone under the bridge since the October day of 1924 when the United States supreme court, setting aside his lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, branded him "a faithless public servant."

Since then there have been prison, illness and trouble. The former secretary of the interior enters 1938 actually in better health than he has experienced in several years.

FORESEES A BASIC EXPANSION OF AMERICA'S NAVAL FLEET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy said today President Roosevelt's forthcoming message on naval policy was "apt to be" a call for basic expansion of the fleet—the fifth shipbuilding program undertaken since the World war.

This would be in addition to a call for funds to begin work immediately on one group of new warships, added Leahy, who was among naval officials discussing the message with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday.

This government's existing policy is embodied in the 1934 Vinson-Trammell act, authorizing orderly construction to provide by 1942 a fleet of full strength permitted by treaties that now have lapsed.

Under this act one aircraft carrier, two battleships, 48 destroyers and 22 submarines have been built or are under construction.

As soon as the 1930 London treaty expired a year ago, Great Britain and Japan—which rank with the United States as the greatest sea powers—started to build warships beyond the treaty limits. This country, however, voluntarily remained bound by the old limits.

While decrying talk of a "naval race," naval officials now contend it is time for America to follow suit lest this country be hopelessly outstripped by Great Britain and overtaken by Japan. They have stressed the maxim that "a navy can not be improvised" in time of need.

From Admiral Leahy came a hint the navy wants two more aircraft carriers and several light cruisers, and they can not be built unless congress alters the present statute.

Any new construction proposed by President Roosevelt would be in addition to the two battleships and 20 smaller vessels provided for in the 1939 budget.

The United States forest service has increased its use of portable short wave radio sets from 200 to 2,300 in the past five years.

FOLLOWS HIS FATHER

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Young Bob Wagner stepped carefully into the first political footprint of his father today and hoped that the foot he put forward was his right one.

Assemblyman Wagner, son of the junior United States senator from New York, wasted no time at his first legislative session, introducing a bill that would insure against wage losses due to illness and extend preventative medicines to those in the lower income classes.

Leftovers, If Treated Kindly, Will Help You On Your Budget

GOOD WHEN SAUCY

That old-fashioned bread pudding, is among the tastiest of

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE The post holiday season brings a lull in our activities. That is true nowhere as much as in the kitchen. The housewife who has been trying to excel her own efforts in preparing holiday meals for augmented families is likely to sit back and serve the folks just anything that comes to her mind.

For some reason, it is a season of leftovers, too. Well, we can't throw away everything we don't eat, but it is worth our while to make our leftover dishes tempting. It makes it more pleasurable to pare the food budget when we do.

Put Times in Solitary Most families are finicky about heated-up foods, but here are some disguises you can use.

In the first place, leftovers will be more palatable if you are careful when clearing up after a meal. Be sure to transfer leftovers to small, individual containers before putting them into the refrigerator. It helps them to retain flavor. Cover them with waxed papers, secured by rubber bands. This will prevent shrinkage and drying.

Put garnishes, vegetable borders and stuffings in small dishes. Rinse vegetables to free them of sauce or seasoning that might not be so tasty when warmed over.

Wrap leftover breads in waxed paper before putting it into the ding, topped with some hard desserts.

bread box. They can be put to many uses. Rolls, biscuits and muffins can be reheated five minutes in paper sack or covered pan, in a moderate oven.

These breads, split and toasted, are good with creamed foods, or as accompaniments to soups and salads. Hollowed out, buttered and toasted, they make crumbs for creamed foods — really a party dish.

Bread Puddings People are inclined to frown on bread pudding, but they shouldn't. It can be varied in several ways.

all of them as tasty as any pudding should be. Elsewhere in this story is a fine recipe; here are four pleasant variations:

CARAMEL — Melt butter, add sugar, cook very slowly, stirring until sugar is brown. Add milk, eggs, salt and vanilla. Pour over bread and bake.

RAISIN — Add one-half cup raisins and one-fourth cup chopped nuts.

PRUNE — Add one-half cup cooked prunes, pitted and cut in halves, one tablespoon lemon juice or one tablespoon orange juice and one teaspoon grated orange rind.

BUTTERSCOTCH — Use three-fourths cup brown sugar instead of one-half cup white sugar. Follow directions for caramel bread pudding.

The Interesting Potato Potatoes can be put to many interesting uses. Regular browned ones are reheated, hashed browned, or added to gravy or sauce.

They are good in meat pie or hash combinations.

When reheating mashed potatoes, add a little egg yolk, hot milk or cream, or gravy to make them fluffy. Heat slowly and stir constantly until well blended.

Mashed potatoes make a covering for meats, fish, fowl or vegetable pie. Or when combined with a thick, savory sauce they can be made into cakes or croquettes.

For a different leftover try a mashed potato surprise. Line a buttered baking dish with mashed potatoes, fill it with creamed turkey and stuffing, creamed mushrooms, hard cooked eggs and gravy or carrots and peas. Cover with more mashed potatoes and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Sweet potatoes can be used the same way as white ones.

The Royal Bird Now for leftover turkey. It is so good, cold, sliced for sandwiches or when diced it can be used in sandwich, salad and canape mixtures. Combined with vegetables, gavy and stuffing it develops into a pie, or added to creamed and a king mixture it makes a real festive food to be served on crackers, toast or in pastry shells.

For soup, place the turkey carcass, celery leaves, leftover vegetables and some pronounced flavor foods in a kettle, cover with four inches of cold water. Cover the kettle and simmer the mixture two hours. Strain and you have the last of the royal bird.

BREAD PUDDING

2 tablespoons butter
3 eggs slightly beaten
1-2 cup sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 quart milk

3 1/2 cups bread cut in cubes
Melt butter and combine with beaten eggs, sugar, salt, vanilla and milk. Mix and pour over bread cubes. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 45 to 50 minutes. If the bread is dry, heat it in the milk before adding other ingredients.

HARD SAUCE

1-3 cup butter
1-2 cups confectioners sugar
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
Nutmeg
Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually and continue beating until the mixture is light and fluffy. Pile it in a serving dish—sprinkle top with nutmeg and chill until firm.

Fat Girl Laughs and Grows Slim

Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland. Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks — and Marmole's Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking.

So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Marmole's. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

Jobless Tax To State Is Due By January 31st

AUSTIN, Jan. 6—Employers delinquent in paying their state payroll contributions for unemployment compensation on Jan. 31 will be liable for double taxation, Orville B. Carpenter, chairman-director, said today.

Under the law, the state collects payroll taxes monthly and the federal government collects them yearly. If an employer pays his state taxes before the federal taxes are due, then he is permitted to deduct the amount of tax paid the state of Texas from the federal tax. This deduction or credit is allowed, however, only where the state tax has been paid before Jan. 31. If the state tax is not paid before this date, then the employer must pay the full amount to both the state and federal government. Federal returns are due on Jan. 31 for the year 1937. The final 1937 state tax—that for December—is due on Jan. 23. Chairman Carpenter stressed the importance of employers including all salaries up to and including December 31 and bonuses applicable for the year 1937 in this final report.

C. Broughton, Mary Petty, Lovella Rutledge, Callie Wheeler, Margaret Wheeler. Due to an error on the part of the correspondent last month, Gertrude Hill's name was left off the first grade honor roll.

Johnnie Ray Broughton is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. M. L. Rowland underwent an operation in the Big Spring hospital last Sunday.

Christmas guests of Mrs. G. R. Brown and children were Mr. and Mrs. Hamner Gent and children from Snyder.

Mrs. Ada Jones of Midland visited her step-daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Goodman and family during the holidays.

Charles Adkins suffered a broken arm in an attempt to crank his car last Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Phillips of Shreveport, La., visited relatives here and in Big Spring during the holidays.

Due to adverse weather conditions, the attendance at the regular meeting of the Moore Parent-Teacher association Monday night was less than usual. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Malone of Big Spring were present. Mrs. Malone was scheduled to speak on recreation work, but his speech was postponed until the next meeting, which will be announced at a later date.

Those from this community who went to Comhoma Friday night to see the House of David basketball team play in a game there were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adkins, Rawleigh McCullough, Delbert Shultz, Miss Geneva Brown, Bud Ward, Misses Arah Phillips, Anna Smith and Twila Lomax.

The Moore school and P. T. A. are recipients of a very beautiful gift from Mrs. Thomas Head of San Angelo. Mrs. Head was the district P. T. A. president in 1935-36. The gift is a copy of "The Boy With the Tora Hat" by Sully. It is done in pastel. Mrs. Head's own personal work. Mrs. Head visited the school in the interest of the P. T. A. work during her tenure of office.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips and W. J. Rodgers, R. V. Fryar and Morris Gay motored to Dallas for the Rice-Colorado football game on New Year's day.

The school enrollment has reached the 102 mark, with several other prospective students to enroll soon. The seventh grade leads all classes in enrollment to date, with 22 students. New pupils this week are:

Check Up On Your Pronunciation; Maybe You're Too Conceited

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—If your pronunciation is bad, maybe it's because you're conceited.

If you say, for instance, "govment" for "government," "probity" for "probably," and "ciddy" for "city."

Dr. Joseph Vandenberg, chairman of the board of examiners of school teachers, declared in a report today:

"The real difficulty in most cases of unsatisfactory speech lies in the stamp of approval the person himself has given to his own speech with no other authority than that of his own dulled hearing."

People make "the comforting but false assumption," he said, "that because one's speech is not criticized, it must necessarily be above criticism."

New Yorkers have distorted old mother English into "New Yorkese" to the point of "menace," he said.

He listed as speech sin No. 1 the substitution of one consonant for another — "dese," "dem," "dose," etc.

Sin No. 2 is distorting vowels—"eri bolner" for oil burner, and "tolme" for time.

Sin No. 3 is too speedy pronunciation, causing slurring, like "govment," "probly" and "fifts" for "fifts."

BAN PHOTOS, MAPS OF DEFENSE BASES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—A bill to forbid the making of photographs, sketches and maps of military and naval defenses of the United States and its possessions received house approval today.

It went back to the senate for action on minor amendments.

TASTELESS COAL TAR LAXATIVES CAUSE ALBUMINURIA

Say some authorities. Be safe. Use vegetable laxatives such as may-apple, gentian and dandelion roots, sassafras bark, etc. You can get the extracts of these roots and bitters in yellow coated tablets, pleasant to take. Just say Mayets to any druggist. The effect is decisive, pleasant and more lasting. You don't have to take them every night. Feel your liver go into action. The bile wakes up. Help clear the skin. You'll be "rarin to go" and feel like a "million dollars." 29 for 25c at Cunningham & Phillips, Druggists—adv.

Morris Clanton, Joe Lusk, Horace Tubb Have Best Records

A record of a bale and a third to an acre placed Morris Clanton, Luther, at the head of the 4-H club cotton growing program participants, the county agent's records show.

Morris had a record yield of 687 pounds per acre and realized return of $61.32 per acre on his investment. In the contest he scored 100 out of the same number of possible points.

J. T. Wood was next with a 583-pound per acre yield and a return of $41.28. Reuben Billiot ranked third with 575 pounds per acre and a return of $32.90.

The rankings are subject to verification of records by two witnesses, according to rules of the contest.

An average daily gain of 2.19 pounds and a resultant profit of $23.97 won the 4-H club pig contest for Joe Lusk, records released by the county agent showed Thursday.

Pushing him closely for average daily gain was Gariand Findley who showed 2.10 pounds per day. However, Gariand only realized a $11.87 margin of profit from his feeding.

Thomas Tubb was third with an average daily gain of 1.90 pounds and a $12.77 profit margin. Two boys, showing a pound and a pound and a half daily gain, failed to realize any profit on their investment.

Horace Tubb stands at the head of the 4-H club poultry rankings, records showed Thursday. Scoring the maximum number of points in competition, he realized a return of $35.75 from 80 pullets.

Hollis Sandridge, raising 19 out of 25 chickens, realized $10.40 returns, and Sam Haney realized $7.65 returns from 22 of 30 chickens for third place.

THE SPORTS PARADE BY HANK HART

Wallace Figlar, Coahoma's baseball manager of last season who failed to see the House of David basketball team last week in the Coahoma gym, recalls the original Bearded Beauty team.

In 1925 he was active in the sport at Quincy, La., and sent his team out against what he termed one of the greatest basketball teams in the history of the game.

His was a touring railroad team that played all the way up the Mississippi river and they were privileged to meet the New York Celtics as well as the Davids and both were about the same "caliber," according to the left-hander.

One of the members of that Celtic team wanted to wager $1,000 during the game, played at Chattanooga, Tenn., that the rail-rollers could not even touch the ball in actual play for 20 minutes. No one took him up but the test was made anyway and the Celtics held possession of the ball for 27 minutes, passing it without dribbling, before the Louisianans could even get their hands on the ball.

Local football coaches will probably attend the Texas high school coaching school at Lubbock which convenes during the summer. Dates have been set for August 1-6.

The meeting, which features an all-star high school game, was held at Waco last season. Among instructors due to be on hand for the occasion are Lynn Waldorf, head mentor at North-western; Harry Stuhldeher, Wisconsin; and "Ox" DeGross of the Philadelphia Eagles, National league pro team.

Leaders haven't sent out their invitations to play yet but Weldon Elgony, local captain of the 1937 season, may get a chance to play in the game. Other Oil Belt stars who will see action in the fracas are Derace Moser, Stephenville, the best back in the entire state last year; Zolus Motley and Lilius Virden of Abilene and John Hogan of Breckenridge.

Southern Methodist eagles, touring the East, lost their encounter with Long Island university last night in Madison Square Garden, 40-29.

A report from the major league baseball front comes that Phil Cavaratta will replace Rip Collins as the regular Chicago Cub first sacker next season. Something that surprised us, however, is the report that the 21-year-old Chicago product batted 11 points better than did the Ripper and, at that, lacked 15 points of hitting within the charmed "300" circle.

Collins can do better than that, however. Cavaratta did not play in as many games, go to bat as many times or get as many hits. Collins came up with a total of 115 hits whereas the youngster hit safely only 94 times. He had 149 total bases to 139 for Collins. Cavaratta is a left-handed swinger while Collins hits them from either side of the plate.

Due to the many requests over the past two weeks, Promoter Herman Fuhrer will feature another main event with four men in the ring at the same time next week. Andy Tremaine, one of the greatest leg artists in the game, will also be on hand.

Into Quarterfinals

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP)—The favorites headed into the quarter-finals of the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament here today with Blitsy Grant of Atlanta facing Gardner Mulloy, University of Miami star.

Mulloy yesterday disposed of Bernie Frank of Miami, 6-1, 6-4. Grant beat Bob Decker of Miami, 6-2, 6-2. Top-seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago, victor over Dick McKee of Miami Beach, 6-4, 8-6, yesterday, had more tough opposition in Martin Buxby of Miami, seeded sixth. Buxby reached the quarter-finals with a 6-1, 6-2 decision over George Pero of Miami.

COAHOMA TO PLAY LAMESA IN COLORADO CAGE TOURNAMENT

COAHOMA, Jan. 6—Coahoma's Bulldogs will represent Howard county in the Colorado invitational basketball tournament this weekend, beginning Friday at noon by playing Lamesa in the opening round.

Coach Devan's forces will be seriously handicapped due to illness of several star members of the team. Marshall has been sitting with a bad cold and Hunter and Little may not be able to play.

GALENTO IS NEW CONTENDER Disposes Of Massera In 3 Rounds

By GAYLE TALBOT—FRANCE, N. J., Jan. 6 (AP)—The gallant Tony Galento sleeps soundly today, surfeited with the cheers of his adoring townsmen and loaded with good Galento beer.

Last night the gallant Galento leapt forward nimbly as a sperm whale, swished his mighty left onto the beckoning jaw of Charley Massera of Pittsburgh, and the crowd of 6,500 was half way out of the armory before they brought Charley around.

Seldom was there a much bigger night in Orange, take it as a whole. The knockout of Massera in the third round was almost incidental. Everybody knew Tony was going to do that as soon as he shook down his afternoon load of spaghetti. The real excitement was afterward, when two-ton Tony held open house.

It took Tony and four fast assistants behind the bar to keep up with the beer trade, while Mrs. Tony and all the Galento relatives labored out the spaghetti in the back room. It was an amazing night and a lucrative one for the Galentos.

"Could Do Better" "I wasn't myself tonight," volunteered Tony as he paused a moment to see for himself that the beer he was dispensing was up to the Galento standard. "Maybe I ain't been eating enough spaghetti, or maybe even I ought to cut down on the beer. But I couldn't get going against that Massera for a couple of rounds.

"I ain't myself against a second-rate, anyway. Now, against a pretty good boy like Joe Louis I box good. You know, move around and use my head, and I don't mean butting with it. But I gotta fight a good man before I show anything."

Tony's first battle in his hometown in six years left his followers more convinced than ever that he's the uncrowned champ. A New York sports writer nearly got himself a shiner some time this morning because he suggested mildly that Louis or Schmeling might possibly be able to step around the gallant Galento and dust him off.

Massera, the latest to sample Tony's punch, certainly did nothing to dispel the Galento legend. For two rounds the Pittsburgh veteran pounded away at Tony's large, moist middle without making a noticeable impression.

Tony didn't seem to notice. He just waddled on in, now and then swinging his left hopefully. Massera looked discouraged, and when one of the Galento boys finally connected he appeared to go down without a regret.

Owens Asks AAU To Lift Suspension

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (AP)—Jesse Owens, hero of the 1936 Olympic games, who has done all right for himself financially since reaching a parting of the ways with the Amateur Athletic union, may run and jump for medals and glory again.

He is going to ask the A.A.U. to restore his amateur standing by lifting his suspension imposed after he declined to visit Sweden for a post-Olympic exhibition trip two summers ago. He hopes out loud that his application will be granted in time for a crack at earning a place on the team which will represent Uncle Sam in the 1940 games scheduled for Japan.

MAKO IS VICTOR

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 6 (AP)—Gene Mako of California defeated Heinrich Henkel of Germany today, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0, in a rainy exhibition tennis match. Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany beat John Bromwich of Australia, 6-2, 7-5.

Owen To Have Competition On Sox Club Dykes, Himself, Will Try Once More At Infielding Job

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—James Joseph Dykes (the fellow hiding behind that big black cigar) is going to give those 41-year-old legs of his one more chance to hang onto third base.

For 20 years, those legs of James Joseph have been doing a lot of third-basing in the American league. For season after season, he was generally regarded as the best at the job in the junior circuit.

In the last few years, however, Old Pop Time and an injured leg ligitament have been cutting down on Jimmy's workable days for the Chicago White Sox, whom he manages. But Jimmy couldn't quit, simply because the Sox didn't have another third sacker worth the price of a worn out batbag.

Over this winter, however, all that was changed. Although Jimmy won't admit it, he just about took the eye-teeth from his old pal Mickey Cochrane, in a deal in which the Sox acquired Marv Owen, who's a pretty good third baseman, himself, even though he usually can't hit his way out of a tissue paper wrapping.

But now that he has someone to take over the job, Jimmy said to the eye that he isn't at all sure that he's ready to hang up his glove. "I'm going to give these legs of mine a chance to see what they can do in spring training," he admitted. "I won't make any decision about my playing next season until I find out what they can do. That leg injury feels okay now, although it may come back. If I feel after the spring workout that these legs can keep going, I'll be back in there."

Cooper, although playing fine golf and favored to repeat, on the basis of recent form, will have to beat out such top ranking stars as Sam Snead, Horton Smith, Ky Laffoon, Craig Wood, Henry Picard, Paul Runyan, Jimmy Hines, Leo Diegel and Jimmy Thomson.

BILLIES PLAY WAYLAND IN TWO GAMES GARNER, Jan. 6—Wayland Jr. college's basketball team, Plisview, which has one of the better records in junior college circles of that section of the country, will dip down into Howard county Friday night where it is scheduled to play the first of a two game series with Coach Floyd Burnett's Garner Hill Billies.

The Billies, with full strength, will supply a serious threat of the team from the great plains. They have lost but two games this season and were weakened in each battle. Froman, ace guard, was on the sidelines due to ineptibility. The defensive star has taken part in the last three games, however, and will start the battle Friday.

He will be assisted by the Thomas brothers, R. V. and R. C. Brown and Jones and Brown.

GG Entry List Continues To Grow Batting Practice Is Winter Sport For York, Rival Of Joe DiMaggio

ATCO, Ga., Jan. 6 (AP)—Rudolph Preston York, 24-year-old rookie sensation of 1937, is so glad to have a good job he works on it the year round. He'll begin batting a ball over a month before the call for spring training. He's signed his 1938 contract, and he's already down to his playing weight of 212 pounds.

To complete the thoroughness of his preparations for the '38 big-league baseball season, he's giving his bats a unique treatment to make them weapons of magic.

York is spending the winter here with his wife and two children and with Lavis York, a brother who plays first base and will get a Detroit tryout next spring.

Look In The Garage Rudy's Exhibit A is in his garage. Hanging on the walls are two catchers' mitts, a first-baseman's mitt, and a Detroit uniform.

"See," York smiles. "When it starts warming up I'll get down to work into condition.

York's Biggest Thrill Game August 31

ATCO, Ga., Jan. 6 (AP)—The biggest thrill Rudy York has had in baseball came when he broke Babe Ruth's one-month home-run record.

Last August he smashed out 18 home runs, which shattered the Babe's all-time mark of 17.

The record-breaking blow was his second hit of the day on August 31 and was made off Pete Appleton, Washington right hander. In addition to hitting two circuit blows, York that day collected two singles and drove in seven runs.

"It was a little afraid I'd tighten up," he said. "After I hit the first one I got adjusted and had a good day. I could hardly believe it, though, when I connected for that second homer—the one that beat the record."

en a workout on the first good day.

York's Exhibit B is a big wooden box. It contains bats packed in compost.

"It makes 'em lighter," Rudy says, "and they last longer. I've got some of Gehring's sticks in here. Some belong to Marv Owen.

Bufs To Play Wilson Friday

FORAN, Dec. 6—Foran's Buffaloes leave here Friday morning for Wilson, Lynn county, where Friday night they will play the first of a two-game basketball series with the Wilson Huns.

Both the boys' and girls' teams will make the trip for the Howard county team.

The two boys' quintets divided a two-game series when they met in Foran last month but the Foran girls swept both games from their opponents.

Capt. Hillis Parker will not be able to make the trip with Coach Brady Nix and the team with the mentor will have plenty of replacements. Among those who will go along are Fleetwood, McKinnon, Creelman, Hale, Whetzel, McDonald and Roberts.

The rest are mine. There are three dozen of 'em.

The Bad Old Days

It's all because he's so thankful to have a regular job, and he's so anxious to keep it, York explains. He admits he was ready to give up when he was ordered to take over the catching job for Detroit last season.

"I'd just missed being shipped to Toledo," he recalls. "Then Coach-rane told me I should catch. I didn't like the idea. They had used me at third and I hadn't clicked. It looked like I was through. I told Cochrane how I felt.

"Later our coach, Cy Perkins, told me I had all the makings of a catcher—that I ought to try it seriously. I got back there that day with all the trappings on."

Most everybody remembers what happened. York stayed back there. He hammered out 18 home runs in August, breaking Babe Ruth's all-time mar kof 17 in one month.

He had a better home-run average than Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankee star, who led the majors with 46. York went to bat 375 times and hit a total of 35 circuit blows—an average of one for every 10.7 appearances. DiMag had an average of one for every 13.5 times in 612 trips to the plate.

Oilers Win In Coahoma Game

COAHOMA, Jan. 6—The ever-present "12" gripped a Magnolia Coahoma game again here Wednesday night, the Foran Oilers winning a game from the All-Stars for the third time in three starts this season by 12 points. The score ended, 31-19.

The charges of Berl Cramer, paced by Tommy Hutto, who tallied 18 points, led from the start and were never pushed for the decision.

Maxie Beard was high for Coahoma with three field goals.

The Forsanites were in front, 15-8, at half time and increased their margin soon after the third period opened.

Hutto, with his deadly accuracy in firing at the basket, rang up eight field goals while Rayford Liles was the only other Oiler to account for more than one two-pointer. He ran down three.

Box score:

Club To Open Training In BSAC

Nine Local Boys Join Others, More Due To Follow

Nine entrants, the majority of them Big Spring high school students, filed notice Wednesday afternoon that they would enter The Herald-Cosden Golden Gloves boxing tournament, scheduled for the latter part of the month.

Most of the boys who filed out their slips and forwarded them to The Herald G.O. editor are either writers or lightweights. There has not yet been a heavyweight who has entered the field.

Welterweights who posted notice and have gone into training are Gerald "Dopey" Anderson, Owen Brummett, Alton Hostick and Willie Harrell. Only Harrell has had experience in actual competition.

Others who officially entered were George Beard, middleweight; Robert Winslow, feather; Ollie Deal, feather; James Skalsky, light; and O'Dell "Red" Whelack, bantam.

Most of the boys were expected to band together at Herman Fuhrer's athletic arena at First and Gollad streets this afternoon to go through their first real tests. Bad weather has handicapped their training periods during the first week of the new year but the break in temperatures are expected to produce plenty of action.

Meyer To Stay In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6 (AP)—Leo (Dutch) Meyer will remain as head football coach at Texas Christian university, it has been announced by Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the T. C. U. athletic committee of the board of trustees.

It was understood that a five-year contract was being prepared with a substantial raise in salary over the amount in the three-year contract Meyer signed last year.

Meyer, whose teams have placed second in the Southwest conference race for three straight years, recently was approached by representatives of the University of Mississippi as a prospect for the "ole Miss" coaching job.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann
 (Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald—Editor's Note).

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

There is nothing sensational in the president's message because he has reserved for discussion in a subsequent message the questions about which Mr. Jackson and Mr. Ickes have been talking. So we cannot know what the sudden excitement was all about, whether it portends a genuine development of administration policy or was merely some kind of political fanfare to celebrate the New Year.

Lippmann's president's reserve on the very matter about which his lieutenants have spoken so loudly, he gives the effect of rather more than ordinary calm and judiciousness of mind.

But except for the fact that the president wants a farm bill and a wage and hours bill, it is difficult to find anything of importance in the message. The most significant statement in it is, I suppose, the sentence in which the president says that "we have raised the nation's income from 38 billion dollars in the year 1922 to about 68 billion dollars in the year 1937. Our goal, our objective, is to raise it to 90 or 100 billion dollars."

To raise the nation's income about 50 per cent over what it has been this year is, if you stop to think about it, an enormous objective. If it could be done, the prosperity of the American nation would be greater than that of any people at any time in any place. An income of one hundred billion, measured in present prices, would mean the virtual abolition of poverty.

And then, one looks to see how the president proposes to make three blades of grass grow where two grow now, what he proposes to do in order that the country may have half again as much income as it has had this year. But one looks in vain, or rather, one looks and finds an argument that one can hardly believe can mean what it seems to say.

For the president seems to say that the way to bring about this vast increase of material things is to control farm surpluses and fix minimum wages. Apparently he does not think of these measures only as forms of assistance to certain farmers and certain workers, as measures which are socially desirable, as measures which, though expensive, are just; he thinks of them also as measures which increase the national income. He seems to think that if farmers are less in order that prices may be higher, if workers are prevented by law from working longer for small pay, then the net effect is to increase the national income.

Yet that must be a delusion. For it is really possible that more wealth is produced by producing less wealth, or that higher prices for a smaller quantity of goods and services will result somehow in a greater quantity of goods and services? Surely the president is confusing now as he has for five years, a different distribution of the national income with an increase of the total national income.

Yet as a result of that confusion the only specific proposals to produce a national income of 100 billions are these two measures—the farm bill and the wages and hours bill. Not even in a phrase does the president recognize that to produce an income of 100 billions it would be necessary to expand factories, install machines, and train skilled workers on a scale beyond anything in our previous experience. Never for an instant does he seem to realize that such an "objective" is totally unobtainable except through the saving and the investment of stupendous sums of capital. Never once does the president seem to realize that he cannot come within sight of his "goal" if he does not find ways to encourage saving and to promote investment.

A national income of 100 billions would be simply magnificent. But to suppose it will be produced by farm bills and wages and hours bills is astounding.

Thus while the message displays no such general animus as did the certain-raisers last week, it does disclose a very great indifference about the actual process by which wealth is produced in a capitalist economy. Yet in view of the fact that the president looks to capitalism to abolish poverty in the fairly near future he might well devote a little of his spare time to studying the process by which wealth is in fact produced.

Mr. Barber and his two sons were cutting ice on a pond and said they found the lilies in full bloom under a 15-inch coating of ice.

How To Torture Your Wife

Hollywood + Daily Crossword Puzzle +

Sights and Sounds By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is afraid of fantasy on the screen. A young fellow works as a laborer, professional wrestler, poolroom attendant—and finally, after hard work, gets a break in pictures. He's a lead in "College Swing" and his money worries are over. And then on the set he gets a telegram. His father's estate hadn't vanished in his depression after all. (His name is John Payne, and his wife's name is Anne Shirley.)

Mutual Promotion Society
 A cowboy star can put over a song and place it in the "leading ten"—when the song "You're the One Rose in My Heart" was written 10 years ago by Loni McIntyre, who then was working for another cowboy star, Hoot Gibson. (Gene Autry used it.)

The same Autry, using songs in all his pictures, can go to see Sam Ruloff, also of the westerns, vocalize "Echoes of the Trail," a song Autry wrote and sold years ago—and a song he might have used now if he hadn't sold it. (But he got screen credit, anyway.)

A group of young unknowns—with contracts—organize a club. Sole purpose: publicity. George Shirley, Frances Gifford, Cynthia Westlake, Ida Volmar, Marie Marks, Alan Bruce are the pioneers in this new frankness movement. (Many old-timers are driven to marriage for the same end—and this club sets its members back only $18 for each entry into the public eye. That's the limit each may spend in a night spot.)

Summer Football
 Valets are "trainers" and vice versa; serials are "chapter plays," and stooges are "secretaries."

Thousands of dollars are spent exploiting a film title, which is changed before the picture reaches the public.

Football pictures are made in summer, and circus pictures in winter—both for the reason that principals in each of these more or less professional activities are free from active duty and ready for picture fill-in jobs.

Nobody takes an "engagement" seriously until after the marriage—and not always then.

There are practically as many ice cream parlors as cocktail bars (if you count the drug stores), and a good job for an idle day is to count the photographers' studios in any given mile. (Twenty-three in one mile is not the average, but gives an idea.)

And people hire press agents to shout about what they've done, even when they haven't done anything.

But Hollywood is still "afraid" of fantasy on the screen.

Bank Deposits Are Much Higher Than A Year Ago

By The Associated Press
 Texans had for more money in the bank at the year end than they did Dec. 31, 1936.

Responses to state and national bank calls, issued yesterday, showed that banks in the larger Texas cities had aggregate deposits generally in excess of those 15 months ago.

Corpus Christi's $18,177,436 in deposits, heaviest in the state's list,

LABOR AMENDMENTS
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Chairman Coppeland (D-N.Y.) said today the senate commerce committee hoped to "reestablish discipline on merchant ships" by labor amendments to the merchant marine act.

DARE TO DREAM

Chapter 28
A TERRIBLE FIGHT
 "Pack some duds, lady," Reck commanded Nelda. "Mother and I are driving over to Hollywood, and we're taking you with us."
 "Oh, Reck, I can't leave now— with the harvest on."
 He made a gesture of extreme impatience toward the lettuce field. "You don't have to stay here to watch Nelda, you're my fiancée—the future Mrs. Earl Reckman, and I can't have you missing around like this all the time!"
 "But, Reck, dear, I've got to do it! I've told you, and told you that pulling a living out of the soil is not my last horizon."
 "I know, but—"
 "I wish you could see my side of it, Reck."
 "And I wish you could see my side of it! Here you have two lunks of brothers, yet you have to take all the responsibility of this damn ranch!"
 She bowed her head.
 "You're right, Reck. But when things are that way, there's nothing I can do but go on as I am."
 "I'll be glad when this farce is ended."
 "So shall I."
 "I'm sorry to disappoint you, Reck, but there are many reasons why I should stay here," Nelda continued.
 "Name one," he challenged.
 "Jack might run into trouble and—"
 "I don't think you love me as you should," he interrupted.
 "Don't be silly!"
 "You're always putting me off. If you were crazy about me, you'd let college go hang."
 "Well, why do you love me then?" she demanded.
 "I wish I knew."
 They parted on that note. He had to dash home to get ready for his trip.
 As Nelda watched Reck's roadster going down the lane she realized that Jack should have been back an hour or more ago. Could he have encountered some militant pickets?

They Beat Me Up!
 Another hour dragged by. Still there was no sign of him. She went out and asked the other truck drivers if they'd seen Jack in town. None of them had.
 "Believe me, I don't stop for nothin' in town," one of the men said, "I skip by them pickets fast as I can."
 "There was a big fight along the highway," another driver spoke up, "but I don't know whether your brother was in that or not. I never stop my truck for anything."
 Nelda got into her roadster and started to town. On the way she passed a spot that gave mute testimony of a fierce battle. Smashed crates, lettuce trampled into the ground, under trees was a pathetic-looking little dog, obviously waiting for some one.
 "Poochie!" Nelda cried wildly. "Where's Jack?"
 The dog limped toward her, emitting low whines, as if he wanted to tell her something.
 "Oh, Poochie," she wailed, "your eyes say so much. Why can't your tongue speak?" She lifted the dog into her car and continued into town at great speed.

She had to pass several packing sheds before she came to the one with which she was dealing. In front of each were a dozen or more pickets.
 "Your brother hasn't been here at all today," she was told by a man who knew Jack.
 "The kid probably ran into trouble," another man said. "We had plenty of it right here this morning. A load of lettuce came in about seven and with it came hell."
 "I bet your brother was in that big fight down the highway," the other man chimed in.
 Nelda was panic-stricken. Oh, why had she wasted time coming here? Jack might be lying wounded somewhere. He might even be dead.
 She went to the main street and made inquiries of various people in the stores and on the sidewalks. That there had been a terrible fight and some young fellow had been hurt was the gist of what she found out. Finally she appealed to the police and was told that Jack was in the hospital.
 At the hospital a nurse in a white uniform directed her to Jack's room, and cautioned, "Don't stay long."
 Nelda almost ran down the corridor. Her hands were sticky with the perspiration of fear and her heart seemed to have lodged in her throat.
 It was a miserable, incensed Jack, swathed in bandages, that lay in the narrow bed. Only his mouth and right eye were visible.
 "Pulled... me off... truck," he said thickly. "Beat me... cause I... talked back."
 "Don't try to talk now, Buddy," Nelda urged tenderly, a husky note in her voice.
 "Cut... ropes... on crates... broke 'em... stamped on... lettuce... failure that's mine."
 "No! No, Buddy! You did your best. Everybody's having trouble with the strikers."
 Nelda's Decision
 "Bill... brought me here... doctors all busy... hours 'tors one came."
 A nurse entered and motioned for Nelda not to let Jack talk any Where was Jack? He might be lying wounded somewhere, even dead!

 time I did. I took Jack to the hospital.
 "Have you done anything for your eye?"
 "It's just a scratch. I'd have been here before this, but I was chasing around after a doctor. Every doctor in town was engaged in some way or another."
 "Was the truck damaged?" she inquired.
 "Not enough to keep it from running. It's a shame that it is left without a driver. I tried to get a man in town, but they're all too scared—"
 "Who says I'm left without anyone to run my truck?" she demanded.
 "What do you mean?"
 "I'm going to drive it myself!" (Copyright, 1937, Alice Marie Dodge)
 Tomorrow, Nelda drives her truck to battle.

BRITAIN'S JOBLESS
 LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—A ministry of labor survey issued today listed 1,658,407 persons out of work in Great Britain, a 21 per cent increase in four months.

Frick Looks Toward '39

Stresses Value Of New Ball To Natl. League

BY FORD FRICK

President of the National League NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—There's a wider range of vision than usual for a baseball man standing at the annual crossroads. Looking forward, beyond 1933, is baseball's centennial year and when you turn around there's a century of baseball history stretching all the way back to the summer of 1839 and a village green in upstate New York.

In baseball, there's a new pennant every year. Normally that makes your baseball outlook that way too—a one-year look—and it's always the year just ahead of you.

But because 1939 is centennial year, the whole baseball world will grow more and more 1939 conscious as 1938 moves along. The appropriation of $100,000 by the major leagues started the ball rolling for a memorable centennial celebration.

But in looking beyond 1938 don't think I'm overlooking it. I'm expecting and predicting a great year for baseball as a whole, as well as the National league.

We are going to use a new official baseball, one that is changed only slightly, but, we think, very wisely. A square-hit ball will travel just as far in 1939 as in 1938. The purpose of the slightly thickened cover and heavier seam is to give the pitchers a "break," restore some of the balance between offense and defense and eliminate the "cheap" extra base hit.

I can sum up what we're trying to do this way: In 1938 it will be just as possible as in 1937 for the winning hit of a National league game to be a home run with the bases filled; but we hope it also will be possible for the pitcher to depend on something more than a prayer.

The game will really look just as hot, just as snappy, just as exciting, as in 1937.

CHAS. RUHRUP DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Charles A. Ruhrup, retired Texas & Pacific engineer, who left the service several years ago, and later moved to Los Angeles, died on December 29th in Los Angeles, according to advices received here by friends. Mr. Ruhrup formerly resided in Big Spring, where he lived on Runnels street. Interment was made in Los Angeles.

Besides his wife, Ruhrup is survived by one son and two daughters.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRITTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Extra!...The Pirates have topped and passed the Cubs in the bidding for Van Mungo...The Giants definitely are out of the running...That snappy coaching job "Little Sleepy" Glenn is turning in down at West Virginia has the high school stars in that state looking toward Morgantown instead of flocking to Pitt and other big time eastern schools... (For which Mr. Glenn rates a raise and a new contract in this book).

Bing! Bing! Bing!!! Bing!!!!... Mrs. Bing Crosby has just presented the well known crooner and race horse owner with his fourth son... Daniel Boone Savage, the bearded wrestler who says he is from Kentucky and who goes around in swank vestments wearing boots and blue overalls, was barred from the Stork club the other night.

Governor General Blanton Win-

ship of Puerto Rico is due today to close for a Sixto Escobar-Harry Jeffra bantamweight title fight down there next month... Al Schacht, the baseball clown, is considering an offer to accompany the Pirates to California next spring to entertain the fans on the exhibition game tours.

Moore Berg, educated catcher of the Red Sox, is considered a bit screwy by a lot of major leaguers because he often eats breakfast backwards, starting with pie and finishing up with cantaloupe... Moore has the last laugh for he has an income of $300 per week from a paper factory of which he is half owner... New York baseball and boxing writers have passed resolutions of tribute to Eddie Neil and the boxing writers will take steps to set up a permanent memorial for the crack AP reporter who was killed in Spain.

R. L. Price, who has been confined to his home on Main street following a heart attack several weeks ago, is able to be up and about. He was down town Thursday morning for a short while.

Seal Sale Is $80 Short Of Goal

Association Asks Response To Put Drive 'Over Top'

An appeal is being made by members of the Howard County Tuberculosis association for $80 to put the annual seal sale "over the top." Their goal of $500 will be reached if 80 persons will mail in a dollar apiece sometime during the month of January. Mrs. C. L. Wasson is chairman; Mrs. J. C. Douglas is treasurer, and Mrs. C. W. Dickerson is secretary of the local association, and any of these will be pleased to call for the money, if it isn't convenient to mail same to Mrs. Douglas, the treasurer.

A health program, far advanced by those of former years, has been outlined by the local Tuberculosis association for 1933, including tuberculin skin tests in the local schools. They plan to start these early in the spring. A milk fund has been set aside to furnish milk for babies in homes where there are cases of tuberculosis, or to undernourished, underfed children. Groceries, medical supplies, and other necessities for the welfare of tuberculosis sufferers are furnished from funds derived from the annual seal sale, and the association gets many calls weekly.

The most recent case handled by the Howard County Tuberculosis association was that of a 19 year old Mexican girl, who was admitted to the sanatorium in Carlsbad during the Christmas holidays. The association assisted her in getting clothing and other necessary equipment needed to enter the sanatorium for treatment.

"Perhaps some of you have forgotten to mail in your money for seals; you have intended to, but kept putting it off, and think it is now too late. Send it in, just as soon as you can. $80 is needed, and every dollar that we get will put us that much nearer our goal," Mrs. Douglas urged in appealing for money to finish up the campaign.

Mrs. Elmer Potter left today for Roosevelt, N. M., to take her son, Elmer, Jr., who will continue his studies at New Mexico Military academy.

Three Games Open Conference Race

By the Associated Press

Three games, two marking the debut of the University of Arkansas' comeback team, open the Southwest conference basketball schedule on Friday and Saturday.

To meet the challenge of Arkansas down at College Station Texas A. and M. sends out a mystery outfit. Its own coach Doubts will scratch the win column in the conference chase. Friday and Saturday night games are billed between the clubs.

Saturday night at Austin a revived University of Texas quintet, aided by the addition of a couple of nimble sophomores in Tom Nelms and Bob Moore, goes into its opener against Texas Christian favored to jump off on the right foot. The Christians, clarifies the past three seasons, haven't looked bad in their early games but the temporary loss of the sophomore point-getter, Ben Abney, injured in an auto accident, promised to slow them down.

Mrs. C. A. Branton of Dallas who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. C. W. Floyd, and family for the past week was to have returned to her home today.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the many friends to their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy as freely extended when our beloved husband and brother was called to his Heavenly Home. Only those who have lived to part with loved ones can appreciate how a word of sympathy or a friendly touch of the hand is appreciated at a time like this. We especially wish to thank Mr. B.
