Sweetwater Creek Dam Contract Discussed

Representatives of Wheeler County Water Supply District met with representatives of Red River Authority in Dallas, Thursday, July 5, 1984, in an effort to develop a satisfactory contractual agreement relative to construction, operation and maintenance of the proposed Sweetwater Creek Dam and Reservoir Project.

Supply District board members appointed by President O.B. Burton to represent Wheeler County at this meeting were Kent Sims of Wheeler and W.A. Sims of Shamrock.

Also in attendance at the meeting were Bert Hooper, Austin attorney working with the district board, and representatives of McCall, Parkhurst and Horton, bond attorneys of Dallas.

Prior to the meeting, both the District Board of Directors and Red River Authority had submitted "discussion drafts" of a proposed contract for consideration by the boards of directors of both bodies.

The meeting was for the purpose of attempting to arrive at an agreement acceptable to both parties.

The discussion drafts were discussed, paragraph by paragraph, and differences were reconciled to the satisfaction of those present.

The revised contract will now be submitted to the Board of Directors of Red River Authority and the Board of Directors of Wheeler County Water Supply District for approval of rejection.

The Board of Red River Authority will meet Thurs. morning in Wichita Falls.

Falls and the Board of the Wheeler County Water Supply District will meet in Wheeler Thursday afternoon, July 12, 1984.

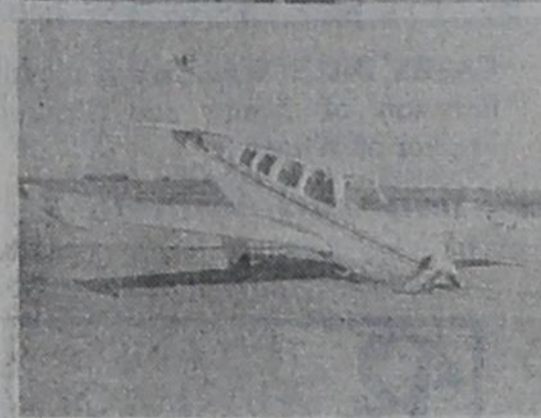

The Board of Directors of the Authority will notify the Water District Board of its decision by telephone prior to, or during, the afternoon meeting in Wheeler.

If both boards approve the contract, an election will be ordered for August 11, 1984, at which time the voters of Wheeler County will be given an opportunity to approve the contract and to authorize the levy of a maintenance tax in an amount not to exceed four and one-half cents on one hundred dollars of valuation.

When Wheeler County voters went to the polls on August 13, 1983, to vote on the creation of a water supply district, they thought they were casting a vote to protect local water from outside interests. In fact, they were paving the way for construction of a reservoir which, if built, will be owned and operated by the Red River Authority, a powerful agency based in Wichita Falls.

The election was only one step in a well-planned campaign to subject the tax base of the entire county to a costly

A plane traveling from California to St. Louis decided to set down on the strip after a door came open in flight. The plane carried a pilot and two passengers.

Information Being Sought

The authorities are investigating the circumstances surrounding the discovery of a body in the Pakan community, Wednesday, July 4. The body has been identified as that of Elam Hall, 46, of Clinton, Okla; she disappeared early June 28 from a Clinton convenience store where she worked.

Individuals who use the Farm-to-Market road are being asked to remember back to the morning of Thursday, June 28. Do you remember any suspicious or unusual activity, the vehicle involved could possibly be a Chevrolet Nova, silver grey or blue. Information is also being sought concerning an individual, possibly a black with a short afro. If you have any information which might be of help to this investigation, you are being asked to notify the local Sheriff's office at 826-5537.

The body was discovered Wednesday afternoon in a grove of trees near a dirt road by a ranch hand. An autopsy was performed and determined the woman had been shot to death several hours before being left in the local isolated area.

Deposition of James R. Nichols

1. Both of the engineers who designed this proposed project, Larry Eads and Marvin Nichols, are dead.

2. Mr. James Nichols is not familiar with any work that the engineers did with respect to site selection.

3. Mr. James Nichols had no input in updating the proposed project in 1975.

4. A quote from Mr. James Nichols—"I think what they were referring to was my relationship with the Red River Authority and, of course, my representing the firm to the Red River Authority and meeting with the people in Shamrock and Wheeler and then more recently, the District. I don't think the implication there was that I had actually performed any of the detailed engineering work that's contained in this."

5. A question asked by Steve Dalrymple and answered by Mr. Nichols—Question: So with respect to any of the other elements of the report with respect say to quality of water, the dam project itself, reservoir conflicts, flood routings, anything of this nature, the pump stations and items of this nature, those basically are the same items as — they are basically similar in nature to the report dated back in 1960?

Answer: The dam and the reservoir are essentially the same as stated back in the late '60's and early '70's.

6. No one has done any study on updating ground water production. Deposition of Robert A. Thompson, III

1. Mr. Thompson had nothing to do with the actual dam; quality of water; reservoir yield and studies; or water treatment plant.

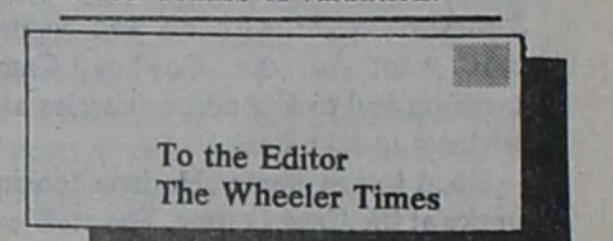

2. Mr. Thompson states that the proposed project would just be allowed to silt in over the life of the project.

3. No one in the office of Freese and Nichols, Inc. has done a study on reservoir conflicts.

Deposition of Anthony Reid

1. Mr. Reid is Project manager for the proposed Sweetwater Creek Dam Project. He has been Project Manager for two years and according to his deposition he is not very familiar with

Here & There

By Laura Guthrie
 Typical July weather. We need not complain, for this weather for our area. Maybe we should be very grateful for our weather. It could be very much more uncomfortable or drastic.

This is the time of year for vacations and visits from relatives. My neighbor Hestell Killingsworth has visiting relatives who are also on vacation. Her daughter, Edwanda and her husband John Gille from Denver, Colorado are here this week. They will visit Edwanda's brother, Virgil Simmons and his family also.

Darla and Punk Childress and Kari have been here on vacation, visiting with the Arian Risners and the Y.J. Childress in the Briscoe-Allison community. They left Tuesday for their home in Wyoming.

On Sunday Frances and Stuart Dixon of Matador visited with her sister, Dorothy Risner, her husband Adrian and the Childress family from Wyoming.

Gary Brotherton and his College room mate, Tim Adcock spent the weekend with Gary's parents, Maurine and C.B. Brotherton. Tim's parents, from Iowa Park were also guests in the Brotherton home. Tim was guest pianist at the Baptist Church Sunday morning. Gary presented special music.

Sylvia Lee and her family are visiting in Waco this week with her relatives there.

Lawrence and Virginia Lancaster with their daughter and granddaughter, made a trip to Tulsa last week. They visited interesting locations and tourist attractions, including the Amphitheatre where "Oklahoma" was being played.

Hestell visited in Amarillo with her sister-in-laws last Monday. They spent a very pleasant day visitinge shopping, etc.

I've had a note from Judy Wolcott, who until recently worked at the Times Office. She and her family are now living in Pampa. Her husband Jon has a position in a school in Pampa and she is his secretary. The older boys have a job, and they are all looking forward to a trip to Ohio and Michigan. That is home to them, so I know they are all getting excited.

I won't mention the Stas family in my column, but I'm looking forward to reading in the Times about the big celebration they had on the weekend.

I almost forgot, but didn't our 6 column paper look swell?

Monday, July 2, it got pretty warm around her today. Claude and Mable Parker visited us this afternoon.

Approximately 20,000 stray animals are picked up each year in Amarillo. Cliff Ogle visited us Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday morning 4th July, now we moved here in 1934. I think we had one more June like this June, with rain and showers, this was a wonderful June, we are went this morning don't know how wet, but it is nice on all but wheat harvesters.

I am getting pretty old, to just now learned to play old sol. I tried it once there was no way he could beat me, so I never tried again till lately. One night Colie was sick out on porch room, I went out setting with him I thought I was going to have to take him to Dr. I began to play old Sol. Colie started saying you can't do that and you don't do this, well he showed me how to play old sol. When I get so many jobs staring at me or worried, I get a pencil and write or read my Bible. So now if you have so many troubles you want to blow your brains out just get the dominoes and start playing old Sol. Ha try it — it helps.

Colie and I visited George and Avis Parker in Allison community Thursday night, they have the prettiest garden I have seen in a long time.

Word just came to me that a womans body was found in a Wheeler tree row, she was found due to the smell, she was a Clinton woman that had been kidnapped. Now Wheeler is getting pretty close to home, how sad. Word is she was working in a 7 to 11 store late at night.

Colie and I attended Lee Parker and Tammie Halls wedding ceremony Friday night at the Baptist Church in Wheeler. Tammie wore a beautiful white dress, Lee was also dressed in white suit, Sue Ann Parker was matron of honor, Ted Reeves was bestman, minister Jerry Parker was the preacher. I did not check to see if she was kin to us. Kenneth James Daughterty, some of Tammy's folks were candle lighters, Michie and Judy Richardson son, Bob and (Bo) and Martha Markhams boy were ushers, Harold Loyde Lee's wife played piano. Jeff Parker brother to Lee was the photographer, some helped out in wedding I did not know.

I don't know who made the 3 or 4 tier cake, but it beautiful. When Tammie was giving Lee a bite of cake she mashed it on his face, got some in his eye. Leroy, Dad to Lee from Amarillo was there; Zetha Dougherty, Pampa, Nelson and Gaye Parker and Chrissy also attended. There was a nice size crowd. Now this Tammie is Bobby Halls girl, grand-daughter to Irene and Buster Keys of Allison. There is another Tammie Hall, Lee and Sheron Halls girl of Allison. Tammie is from Samnorwood think or Shamrock. Lee and Tammie will make their home in Shamrock. Lee rough-necks at the gas well going north of Mrs. Durham place on the Puryear sisters land. There were a lot of grand parents and great grandparent there. We wish for them a long and happy prosperous life here on earth and heaven when they die. Tammie likes one year of high school we hope she finished some way. She will never regret it. I should not write so much they will probably have a write up in the paper.

Lori Purcell went with Melody Goad to Vici, Okla. to a barrel race. Ja'nae and Travis stayed with the Mac Purcells.

Mac and Gaye Purcell visited Donny and Dorene Purcell for ice cream, hot dog and fireworks the 4th in Canadian. Correction, there are 2 lift of the brother and sisters of Roy Edwards. They are Pearl Williams of Wheeler, Robert Edwards of Bend, Oregon, sorry Robert was left out.

Mark and Annette Meek and Kaleb ate dinner with Evelyn and Sandra Meek for supper they went saw fire works had weiner roast at Canadian.

Last weekend Mark and Annette and Kaleb, Ida Lou Smith, Joan and Lee White, Jimmy and Joann Helton and children, Charley and Bradley Carr, Cloid and Teresa Helton and children met over at their mother Helens house.

Jeff Parker visited us Saturday ate dinner with us, also spent Sat. night and went to church with us Sunday morning.

Sunday night, now July had been really hot, hope it don't get hotter. Mrs. Andra Grady said it was 106 in Granit yesterday, Sat. 7th.

Georgie and Avis Parker was at Claude and Mable Parkers Sunday night visiting also Cliff and Dorathy Ogle.

Minister Truman Tell preached at Church of Christ Sun. morning he is from Dill City OK. Joe Dukes preached Sunday night, we had Kyndel Murrys father and mother, grand-mother and a aunt for visitors Sunday night, we had Beverly (Elmore) Bowers Sunday morn as visitor.

Colie heard this womans body was found in the Paken community north west of Shamrock you can hear anything.

Sweetwater News
Mrs. Joe Flowers

Happy Friday the 13th to all of you. Better fly right or you'll wish you'd stayed in bed. 105 degrees and no rain. Everything is about to fall on its face.

This has been the year of the Apricot. Can't give them away even when you offer to take squash or beans in return. Gardens are just gorgeous despite the drought. Our cantelopes are usually sort of blah. I've done everything I know for them. If they taste like corncobs this year, I'm quitting and let Mr. United raise mine.

Donna LeGrand tells me she and Alec have a new little grandson born Father's Day- Trevin John born at Seiling. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank White. He is welcomed by sister Mika. Other grandmother is Mrs. Otis White. One great grandmother is Bess LeGrand of our community.

Funeral services were Monday at the Assembly of God Church for Tom Lehw who was found dead at his home. Burial was at Mulberry.

Been a lot of excitement past week. Two homecomings and a big celebration at Cheyenne that I guess you could call a homecoming. Isn't that a nice word? No matter how far we roam- we all remember Home.

Sweetwater had their parties on June 30. With a large crowd present. Missy Blevins (Mike's girl) entertained the group. Clarence Blevins passed the job of president to Inabel Bryan and Joy Cox was elected secretary.

The class of '34 met with Al and Edith Hildebrand for the day and went to Cal's for lunch. Those present were Nolan Roberts from Reno, Nev., Ruthie Pea and her husband Vaughn Peterson of Wl. D.C. and Juanita Terry McCarty of Skellytown, Katie Finsterwald of Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Coffey of Albuquerque. Other gusets were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garber of Ohio, Juanita Godwin of CA, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Griffey of KA.

The class of '54 met at the Elk Holiday Inn for a day of fun and visiting. Those attending were Dolores Cardin McKay of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Thompson, of Erick, Faye Whitaker Ervin of Lamont, CA., Joe and Olets Reams, Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Tucher, OKC, June Mattox, Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thompson of Amarillo, Royce Coffey, Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Y.C. Fuchs, Lyndon Moss, Amarillo, Laverne Miller Lewis of Hollis.

The Class of '39 met in the Home-ed Room for a big time. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bryan, Dovie Wilson, Leldon and Norma Reed from here. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, and Sherrill from Wanette, L.V. and Edna Hogue of Chattanooga, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Coffey, Payson, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Ivy, Roy and Kathryn Matlock all of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams near Buffalo lost their home last week in a fire.

We, Jay French of Sayre, J.M. and

Eunice Gamble, of Erick, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jordon of Clinton cloned ourselves and took in the festivities at Cheyenne and Erick. Saturday enjoyed the party at the bank, parade, and barbeque at the Males celebration. Thought they'd pass out samples of their wares at the State Security. Sure enough, we got wooden nickels with our punch and cookies.

Most everyone was in the parade from fine antique cars to the decorated bicycles, acrobatic kids to the Mule Train. My favorite cowboy Neil Schmidt was twirling a rope from aboard his duo of horses. Even saw a mama dog who'd left her puppies to go marching.

We rested a while and went over to convene with Erick. Saw a lot of friends and enjoyed the fireworks. Set down by a couple. Found out they were kinfolks from Del City. J.B. and Jaunell Norgan. Told us J.B.'s mother is now in the Good Samaritan Nursing Home. Send her a card, Mae Morgan, Hobart.

some other folks we saw from a far were Jo Rasor, Atlanta, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jenkins of CA. Curtis Page of Ariz. Gene Howard, Wy. Samye Steward, Flagstaff, Jean Foster, Lubbock.

I want to say thank you to all who came up to say hello. Made my day.

B.V. Brady and Hortence Madden went to OKC on Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brady. Their children and grands were there for a reunion.

I sure hate to have a machine that is smarter than me but my stove is, it is supposed to be set and come on and go off as you will, took the men who installed it half a day to get it to where it would stay on, make no mistake, I don't want my stove cooking when I'm gone.

The other day, I punched the wrong button, now it goes and comes at it pleases. We've done everything the book says, and several times, but it still is just as apt to be off as on. Goes off when the pie is half done. I come along to see how things are, there it sets smirking at me, cold as a frog.

Katie Finsterwald and Mary Ann Maxwell have made donations to the Salem Cemetery in honor of the Topper and Myers families. Mary Bollen made arrangements to show at the Center from plants. She sold these and gave the money to the cemetery.

Did you see Venita Van Caspel's picture in last week's TV Guide, page 43a. She's the daughter of Leonard and Ella Walker—a niece of our uncle France Jarnagin. She's a financial wizard and hostess to the show Money-makers III.

Robert (Sandy's boy) is visiting his grandmothers, Norma Zellman and Ollie Anderson.

Jim and Shirley Anderson took their horses and went to Robber's Cave where they met his brother and wife Billy and Louise from Tahlequah. They made camp, then on Thursday rode 15 miles thru the Sans Bois Mts. Friday they went over to Cedar Lake near Heavener. They spent the weekend there riding in the Ouachita Mountains. Rode about 70 miles in all along the Talihiina Trail. Sunday they took th Talihiina Drive in the car. Highlight was seeing 6 boys hang-gliding off the Three Stick Mountain. Came home tired from a fabulous vacation.

Saw myself in the funnies twice last week. Once was the woman who lost 4 lbs. when she emptied her purse. The other time was Ribbons. the rabbits were lined up in front of the garden. One big rabbit was saying "Please wait to be seated." Rabbits were dining sumptuously.

Speaking of Ewings, I have my 1980 J.R. for President sticker, he still might be the best choice—seeing who is running. I wish Mr. Reagan would stay home and president. This is no time to be campaigning for every Tom, Dick, and Harry.

Had a note from Glenna McMullan of Dalhart, seems 32 years ago when she was a teenager, I gave her the address of a girl in England, they have corresponded all these years, in June, Glenna, Debbie Fuchs, and Beverly Raney went to Europe, while there, they visited the English girl Ann Light Brenton, I've had my English penpal some 35 years. Haven't been to see her tho.

The Kitchen Band sure had a ball at Hensleys last week, with 15 present Betty Brothers and Alene Maddoux came up to help Kertha and Joe, they told us Mary Mayfield was having her 96th birthday.

WIN A PALOMINO TICKETS ARE ON SALE

Wheeler County 4-H Club members are now selling tickets for a drawing for a yearling palomino Quarter Horse filly to be given away August 4 during the Wheeler County 4-H Junior rodeo. Proceeds from the ticket sales are going to the Eleanor Freeman Memorial Scholarship Fund. The annual college scholarship will go to the first place winner in the senior division of the District 1 4-H horse project record book competition. Mrs. Freeman served Wheeler County as a 4-H horse project leader from 1959 until her death in February 1984. During her 25 years of service she worked with many young people in Wheeler and across the Panhandle.

She also worked on the state level to get drill team and precision riding established in the State 4-H Horse Show. The filly that is being given away was donated by the Freeman estate and was bred by Mrs. Freeman. A second filly that was donated to the 4-H Club will be sold in the sale at the State 4-H Horse Show in Waco July 23-28. Anyone interested in this Three Bars bred filly is welcome to attend the sale in Waco on July 26 or send a bid on the horse. For more information on either of the fillies contact Don King, County Extension Agent.

Theme for the 1984 Texas 4-H Congress, set for July 17-19 in Brownsville, will be "4-H - Fiesta International," says Linda Daughtry, County Extension Agent, Texas A & M University System. More than 500 4-H delegates, their agent advisors, and members of the Texas 4-H Council which assists with the operation of 4-H Congress, are expected to take part in the activity, to be headquartered at the Fort Brown Motel Hotel. Representing Wheeler County in the 4-H educational activities will be Gail Lantz of Shamrock 4-H. ## Appraisal District Hearings

The appraisal review board (ARB) for Wheeler County Appraisal District begins hearing taxpayer appeals on Real Estate and Personal Property July 20, 1984 at 9:00 AM. Property owners may protest some aspect of their property appraisals at any time prior to the date the ARB approves the appraisal records. The ARB is a group of citizens of the appraisal district who have been appointed by the district directors to equalize property values and consider claims for exemption and agricultural value. With the implementation of the central appraisal district, taxpayers are able to address a single equalization board instead of one for each taxing unit in which their property is located. According to Marilyn Copeland, Chief Appraiser for the Wheeler County Appraisal District, a property owner may protest any of seven specific actions of the appraisal office, as well as any other action that applies to the owner and adversely affects him.

- The seven protests are:
  - the appraised or agricultural value of the property;
  - unequal appraisal of the taxpayer's property in comparison to the weighted average level of appraisals of other property in the appraisal district;
  - inclusion of the property on the appraisal records;
  - denial of agricultural-use, open-space or timber valuation;
  - identification of the taxpayer unit or units in which the property is located;
  - determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property.
- A property owner who wishes to lodge a protest based on one or more of these actions must file a written "notice of protest" with the review board, Copeland said.
- Official forms are available at the appraisal office, she noted. However, the Chief Appraiser added that a letter from the taxpayer will also be acceptable as a notice of protest, as long as it identifies the property owner, the property that is the subject of the protest and indicates dissatisfaction with some determination of the appraisal district office.

A hearing will be scheduled after the notice is filed and the property owner will be informed of the time, date and place at least 15 days before the date of the hearing, or as soon thereafter as possible if the protest is not received prior to 15 days before the scheduled hearing and a waiver of the 15 day notice is received with the notice of protest.

The property owner filing the protest is then entitled to appear in person before the ARB to offer evidence to support their claim. He may also offer his evidence by affidavit without appearing personally. In the event that the property owner wishes to proceed with the protest by district that this is his intention when he files his protest.

The property owner should attempt to clear any problems beforehand and therefore possibly eliminate the need to appear on the hearing date by contacting the appraisal district office, or by calling the telephone number that appears on the Notice of Appraised Value that he has received.

It should be noted that the governing body of each taxing unit that the property is located in decides whether or not taxes on property will increase and the appraisal district only determines the value of the property. If the taxpayer objects to increasing taxes and government expenditures, he should complain to the governing bodies of these taxing units. Only complaints about value should be presented to the appraisal office and the appraisal review board.

The 1984 estimated tax rates indicated for the taxing units on the Notice of Appraised Value are estimates only, based on the tax rates for 1983 tax rolls. Each one of the taxing units may not adopt a tax rate that will increase tax revenues for operating purposes from properties taxed in 1983 without publishing notice in a newspaper that it is considering a tax increase and holding a hearing for taxpayers to discuss the tax increase.

The property owner and Chief Appraiser will be notified by certified mail of the ARB's decision on properly filed protests. Copeland said that protest hearings will be held for one day for Real Estate and Personal Property on July 20, 1984.

For more information contact Marilyn Copeland, Chief Appraiser at the Wheeler County Appraisal District at Wheeler, Texas, 826-5900.

RURAL ELECTRIC FINANCING

A bill now making its way through Congress would have Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., pay slightly higher interest rates on loans from Rural Electrification Administration (REA) in order to maintain a major source of financing for the 1,000 rural electric systems in the United States. The aim of the "Self-Sufficiency Act" is to preserve the 11-year-old REA Revolving Fund while making as few changes as possible in the nation's rural electric program. "Rural electrification works and we want to keep it that way," says David Pruitt, General Manager. "The bill will correct an imbalance in the system so that the program can continue into the next century. Without it, we would have a very hard time serving heavier electric loads and new residents in the area."

The U.S. House of Representatives passed the bill by an overwhelming vote of 283-111 on March 1. The legislation has 46 Senate cosponsors, and is awaiting full Senate consideration.

The REA Revolving Fund is a government account that was set up in 1973 to replace a 38-year-old program of rural electric loans that were appropriated from the U.S. Treasury. The fund loans money at 5 percent interest to co-ops such as Greenbelt EC to finance 70 percent of rural electric projects to extend and upgrade electric lines and repair, replace and improve equipment. The other 30 percent must come from non-government sources, currently the REA approves $850 million a year in electric loans from the Revolving Fund.

The fund is essentially self-contained, replenishing itself through loan repayments. But in the late 1970's record inflation and high interest rates put unexpected strains on the Revolving Fund. As a result, the interest expenses of the fund began to exceed interest income, setting it on a course toward

Why Use Pressure Canner?

Canning is not really difficult - but it must be done properly to avoid food poisoning.

Canning depends on the combined effect of time and high temperature to kill the microorganisms that cause spoilage. Acidity of food is the major factor that determines the time and temperature necessary for processing. The more acid the food, the easier spoilage organisms can be destroyed by heat.

Acid foods like tomatoes, fruits and pickled vegetables can be safely processed at 212 degrees F. in a boiling water bath canner. These acid foods will not allow the growth of the bacteria which is responsible for botulism.

But low-acid foods such as meats, fish, poultry and all vegetables except tomatoes will allow the growth of bacteria. Because low-acid foods require a more severe heat treatment, the only safe way to can them is in a steam-pressure canner.

A pressure canner will process low-acid foods at a temperature of 240 degrees F. This temperature is necessary to destroy botulinum bacteria. If this bacteria is not killed, it can produce the most deadly toxin known to man.

Open-kettle, oven, microwave and boiling water bath canning methods may not produce enough heat to kill the botulinum bacteria in low-acid foods.

PROCESSING TIME: HOW LONG IS ENOUGH?

It's vitally important that home canners follow recommended processing times. The coldest section of the jar needs to get to the proper temperature for the right amount of time to kill the bacteria that can cause food spoilage or botulism.

Processing tables are developed experimentally for a certain fruit or vegetable packed in a certain size jar. The time it takes to process different meats, fruits or vegetables varies because their physical properties are different and that affects the time it takes for the food to reach a proper internal temperature.

SEALING CANNED FOODS

Improper sealing causes about one-fourth to one-half of all spoilage in canned goods. Use this simple three-step method to insure your canned goods are sealed correctly.

First, cool the jars for 12-24 hours before storing them. The cooling period is important because the sealing occurs during this time.

Second, remove the screw bands from the jars. If you don't remove screw bands, they could rust and be hard to remove later. Also, rust can deform screw bands so that they don't function correctly to hold down jar lids when you use them again. This can lead to a seal failure.

Third, test the seal on each jar. Tap the metal disk with a spoon or fork. If the seal is good, you will hear a clear, ringing sound. If the seal is poor, there will be a dull thud. Look at the seal. If the lid is curved down, the jar is sealed. Then press the center of the lid. If it is down and will not move, the jar is sealed.

If you find a jar that is not properly sealed, store it in the refrigerator and use the food within a short period of time.

LOW-SALT CANNING

Salt and spices added to canned foods in recommended amounts do not significantly alter processing time. Salt may slightly lower the heat resistance of some microorganisms but not enough to make a difference in canning requirements. This means that omitting salt from home-canned foods will not create a problem. So home-canning can be an alternative to the low-salt foods sold in stores for those on low-sodium diets.

LIFE WITHOUT SCREEN-DOORS

By Reda Mae Turner

I guess screendoors hadn't been invented when I was very small. I don't remember seeing one until I was six or seven years old. No screendoors, yet everyone left their doors open in hot weather. Those were days when folks spread a saddle blanket on the ground at night to sleep on. If they were in rattlesnake country they just put a rope on the ground around their blanket and got a good night's sleep. A rattlesnake wasn't supposed to crawl over a rope most folk believed. No one gave the doors being open a second thought. It was a way of life. Let come in what may.

I think Mom and Dad lived in a log house when this happened. They had gone to church in the wagon on Sunday night leaving the doors open as usual. There first child was a baby when this took place. When they arrived home Dad stopped the team in front of the house, to carry the baby in and light the lamp for Mom before taking the team to the barn and unharnessing them. Mom was a step or two behind Dad with the baby when they reached the door. Suddenly they heard something come tearing through the house, the dogs were right behind it. Dad jumped back, knocking Mom flat, just as a calf came streaking out the front door with the two dogs after it. It had wandered in the back door. They could see the funny side of this, twenty years later when they told me about it.

I was born in the little town of Fargo, Texas, and Daddy was the town blacksmith. We lived across the road from the country Doctor and his family. They had a house full of children, seven I think. The adults were the best of friends, and we children were always together. Sometime in our yard sometime theirs or at times in the road or street between. Nothing but wagons, buggies or saddle horses then, so it wasn't dangerous. I can remember at least one thing perfect that happened while I lived there.

The Doctor was nearly always gone in his buggy to tend the sick in the small town of surrounding farming community. Dad worked long hours at the shop. Mom was crippled with rheumatism in her legs and could hardly get around. So Mrs. Doc was at our house a lot of the time. I can remember her and Mom finding so much to laugh about. Life was so pleasant here. The doors were always open in both houses except in winter time. One morning Mom saw a strange dog coming down the road. She was always afraid of dogs. She got us kids all in the house and pushed the door to. As it came closer she could see white slobbers were foaming from its mouth and its jaws were snapping open and shut continually. It fairly reeled from one side of the road to the other. "I think that is a mad dog", she told us. "I wish your Daddy was here, we will watch and see where it goes."

When it got even with the house it turned down the path to our house then changed its mind turned and headed for the Doctors. Mrs. Doc hadn't noticed the strange dog. When the older children playing in the yard ran in the house, never thinking to close the door, in came the dog following their voices. When Mrs. Doc entered the room and saw the mad beast among her babies, she told us later, all she could think of was to protect her children. The oldest, all of nine years of age. She grabbed the broom as she screamed for the children to get on the bed, to get the smaller ones to the backside of the bed. She courageously attacked the mad dog with her broom. She beat and pushed at the terrifying ugly mad beast with her broom until she got it out then she shut the door, and sat in the floor and cried. She said she was so weak she couldn't stand after the danger was over.

We saw the dog go in the house across the street. Mom let my older sister, a child of about eight years of age out the door and told her to run like the wind. The rest of us watched the dog as it reeled out of the house across the road in front of Mrs. Doc's broom. Back across the road and up the path to our house again. It finally got so close to the house we couldn't see it from the window. We watched the dog fearfully scared for Dad and Sis to return. Finally we did see them coming. Mom raised the window a few inches and told Dad the dog was somewhere close to our house now. Dad stayed a safe distance as he circled the house. He worked his way closer as he didn't see it anywhere. Suddenly we heard something bumping around under the house. Mom called to Dad again and told him we could hear it under the house. There wasn't much crawl space under the house and he knew it couldn't move very fast under it, so he got the gun and knelt down till he could see and shot it. It gave one small yelp as the bullet found its mark. It was in its last stages of rabies. Dad rushed over to the Doctors house, Mom and us kids trailed along behind. Mom hobbled across the road determined to get to her friend. No one knew what we would find when we got there. Mrs. Doc was still sitting in the floor crying, and all the kids were still on the bed also crying. The folks finally learned no one was bit or hurt in any way, they were just scared. They always teased Mrs. Doc about attacking the mad dog with her broom, but everyone in town admired her for her courage in protecting her children from such a deadly foe.

I think the Doctor and family moved from the small town before we did. I don't remember how long after the mad dog scared till we left town and moved to the farm.

Our farm house was quite a large one for those days and the oldest in the county. It had three outside doors which were always left open in warm weather.

I had a little pet pig here, it was right by my side. It would come with me to the door, then squeal and squeal cause it couldn't get on the doorstep to come in the house with me. One day after trying and trying to get on the doorstep it succeeded and came right in after me. I think Mom learned her lesson well from Mrs. Doc, she grabbed her broom and swept little piggie right back out the door. He learned quickly he wasn't allowed in the house, and was soon content to wait by the doorstep till I came outside again.

We all went to the fields in the spring to chop cotton. One day when we came back to the house for lunch, Dad and Mom were a long ways ahead of us kids, they would have the noon meal ready when we got there. Dad was ahead and started in the living room to hang his hat up, he started through the middle door he suddenly stopped and put his arm out to stop Mom, "don't go in there," he told her. She stopped as he went in the bedroom and returned with his gun, then he entered the living room. "What is it?" Mom asked fearfully as she peeked around the door facing. "It was stretched out right here in the middle of the floor. I don't see it now. It couldn't be gotten out." For once the front door was closed. He cast an anxious glance around the room. The only place it could hide was in the bottom dresser drawer. He knew it was empty and that the drawer didn't go all the way back to the back of the dresser. He cautiously tried to open the drawer, it was so heavy he knew he had guessed right. He yanked it open with his left hand, the gun was ready in his right as the drawer opened the snake raised its head and he shot it. It completely filled the dresser drawer. They could tell at a glance it had been using the drawer for a den or home for a long time. The back of the drawer was worn slick and shiny from it crawling over it so much.

By the time we got to the house Dad had dragged the snake outside. I can still see him holding it by the tail, standing on tiptoes and holding as high as he could reach. The head, what was left of it, was still laying on the ground with several inches of its body. They figured it somewhere between six and seven feet long.

We children had complained several times earlier to the folks that something heavy was on our beds at night. They had even felt something on theirs, but by the time the light was lit it had gotten out of sight. We never felt it again after Dad killed the snake. They were sure after it was killed it had been crawling around on top of us on our beds at night. I'm sure glad I didn't wake up in the moonlight face to face with that thing, even though it wasn't a poisonous snake.

Flies, bees and birds came flying in our open doors and windows. One time a bird, I think it was a morning dove came flying in the door and right into the lamp globe, breaking it. After that if a bird flew in someone always ran and guarded the lamp. They always flew in the daylight so the lamp wasn't lit.

Chickens were always coming in and making themselves right at home. One little brown leghorn hen came in most every day and went in the bedroom, hopped up in themiddle of the bed and laid an egg. After a lot of proud crackling she marched out and didn't come back until the next day.

Mom got a new sewing machine about this time. She was so proud of that new machine, she loved to sew. She kept it waxed and polished where we could almost see ourselves in it. She threatened us kids within an inch of our lives if we dared get a scratch on it. One day while we were at the dinner table, we heard an old hen singing and scratching away as she sang. She left scratch marks all over the top of the machine. Mom had tears in her eyes as she went back to the kitchen. I'm sure that old hen found her way to the stew pot, for a few days later we had a delicious pot of chicken and dumplings.

A few farm families in our community were getting screen doors and window screens by then. We talked about how nice it would be. Dad couldn't afford to buy them and the landlord would not, so we struggled on without them. We didn't miss them. You don't miss something you've never had.

The next spring an act of nature helped acquire screens for the windows and screendoors for all the outside doors.

One afternoon a terrible cloud was gathering in the Northwest. It was such a bad looking cloud all the farmers around unhitched their teams, even tho it was just the middle of the afternoon and the busiest time of the year. They all got their teams to their barns and themselves in the houses before the storm struck. The cloud was fairly green and we could hear it roaring before it hit.

Hail, the awfulest hail storm I've ever seen. When it was over the ground was all white, covered with baseball size hail stones. We had eighteen window panes beaten out of our house. After that the landlord bought screens along with the window panes. Dad had a hard days work getting the glasses all replaced and the screens up, but were we proud of them.

Life was so much more pleasant with no flies of bees, of farm animals wandering around in the house, not to mention snakes or skunks and such.

If you can't remember a time without screendoors, you were just born sixty years to late.

TEXAS GARDENER

Although summer officially arrived only June 21 and spring gardens are still going strong, it's already time for Texans to start thinking about their fall gardens.

It's true that having a fall garden means planting during the summer here, but more and more gardeners are finding the benefits of having fresh produce in the fall and winter months are well worth the effort.

And with proper planning, fall gardening can be relatively easy and very productive. To help gardeners with this task TEXAS GARDENER magazine, in its July/August edition, has outlined a comprehensive checklist for fall gardening success.

According to the article, fall is the time to plant vegetables that don't do well in the spring such as broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower. But you can also replant or carry over many of your favorite spring crops, even tomatoes and squash.

In addition to providing a list of vegetable varieties particularly suited to Texas fall gardens, the magazine tells you how to get the jump on summer afflictions such as heat and drought. Simple step-by-step instructions on how to shade, water and mulch fall gardens are provided.

Spinach lovers will be particularly happy to learn that this leafy, green vegetable "grows better in a fall Texas garden than any other place in the world." In a separate, detailed article, experts outline all you need to know about growing spinach—from choosing the right variety to preparing the soil to harvesting.

For flower enthusiasts, "Growing Louisiana Irises" tells you how to plant this little known, but extremely beautiful flower that is adaptable to all parts of Texas.

Finally, if there was any doubt that computers have a place everywhere in today's world, read "The Personal Computer: A Useful Gardening Tool," which outlines how you can use your home computer to increase gardening efficiency and productivity.

PROTECTING YOUR CHILDREN

Each year over 50,000 children are either kidnapped or simply wander off by themselves. National efforts are being made to help parents become more alert to how this occurs.

A nonprofit agency called Child Find has been established to locate missing children. Child Find estimates that only 5,000 of these missing children are found alive and reunited with their families each year. Many are murdered or are never found.

Parents need to be alert to possible situations that could lead to a kidnapping. Here are some suggestions for parents:

• Do not leave your child alone in a car, store or other public places. Know where your child is at all times.

• Teach your children how to use the telephone and make sure they know your number, including the area code. Children should also know how to dial the police for an emergency.

• Fingerprint your child and keep was eager to help and an appreciation supper was planned for all the church at Keith and Ann Boydston's. They enjoyed playing volleyball and having ice cream and supper outside. Fireworks were set off after dark.

The prints for identification purposes.

• Develop a secret code or secret word that only you and your child can use, especially in case of emergency of danger.

• Tell you child never to go with a stranger.

• Encourage you neighbors to participate in a neighborhood self-help program. Establish a safe home where children can go for help if they are pursued by a stranger while playing outdoors or going to school.

Parents can take preventative measures by teaching their children to be aware of dangerous situations and to say "NO". If more parents take the time to help their children understand that possible dangers exist, perhaps the alarming number of missing children can be reduced.

2. No one under the supervision of the Project Manager, Mr. Reid, has done any undated maintenance cost estimates.

Deposition of Robert S. Gooch

1. Mr. Gooch states that he has never seen the site or location of the Creek. The only thing he is basing his studies and up-dates on are the materials contained in old reports done in the 60's by the two deceased engineers.

Please, remember that these four men work for Freese and Nichols, Inc., the engineering firm that has drawn and planned the proposed Sweetwater Creek Dam Project for a fee of over 5 1/2 million dollars. Dollars that we, as tax payers of Wheeler County, are going to pay, plus interest, if the bond issue for $18,000,000 is called and passed on August 11, 1984. Please also remember that according to the engineers, no ground water studies have been done.

Next, I would like to look at some questions raised by the Deposition of Frank J. Medanich of Banking Southwest Company, Mercantile Dallas Building, Suite 728, Dallas, Texas. Mr. Medanich has been Financial Advisor to Red River Authority since 1965.

Deposition of Frank J. Medanich

1. Mr. Medanich states that the estimated taxable assessed valuation is $1,142,562,991 in Wheeler County and the total cost of the proposed project is $28,102,700.

2. Mr. Medanich states that at tax rate of 20 cents per hundred dollars valuation would be needed to pay off the first $18,000,000 bond dollars. He further states that if Wheeler County does not get the loan from the State and has to sell the full $28,000,000 on the open bond market, you're talking about 31 cents per hundred dollars valuation.

You will notice below two repayment schedules that came from Mr. Medanich's deposition. One is for an $18,000,000 bond issue; the other is for repayment to the State figured at 6.5% on $10,000,000 for a 25 year loan.

I went by the appraisal office this morning, July 9, 1984, and found out that Wheeler County's total appraised value is approximately $955,000,000. This means that our county value has dropped some $187,562,991 in almost one year. If Wheeler County values continue to decline, what will happen in 5 or 6 years when our county's value is $500,000,000 and we still owe 14 or 15 years on a bond debt? We, the tax payers, could be forced to pay 5 or 6 times more than the 20 cents with which we started.

The depositions from which I have taken this information will be available at the Wheeler and Shamrock Public Libraries for you to read in their entirety.

Being a tax payer of Wheeler County and after reading the above information, knowing that no thorough investigation of our ground water supplies has been made on a county level, I wonder about spending over $87,000,000 Wheeler County tax dollars. I wonder about spending over $87,000,000 Wheeler County tax dollars on a lake that will silt in. I wonder about spending over $87,000,000 Wheeler County tax dollars on a lake when there are no current flow studies to determine if it will fill up, or if it will stay full. I wonder about spending over $87,000,000 Wheeler County tax dollars on a lake that we may not need, which will in turn put us in competition with our schools and hospitals for tax revenue. I read an article in the Amarillo Globe News last week about the closing of Carbon Black east of Shamrock stating that the City of Shamrock lost revenue of over $100,000 a year in "water sales" alone when Carbon Black shut down. I would like to know what the City of Shamrock is doing with the millions of gallons of water from that plant.

I have lived and worked in Wheeler County most of my life and Wheeler County has always seemed to be supported by the farmers, ranchers, and local businesses. The oil business, it appears, has come and gone, and again the well-being of our county will rest upon the farmers, ranchers, and local businesses. The last three of four issues of the ShamrockTexan and the Wheeler Times have shown a resolution signed by the Board of Directors of both the Wheeler and Shamrock Chambers of Commerce in favor of the proposed Sweetwater Creek Dam Project. It appears they favor the construction of this proposed project regardless of cost or tax burden.

I urge you to VOTE NO on August 11, 1984. There are too many question left "unanswered" to commit ourselves and our county to this tremendous burden of over 87 million Wheeler County tax dollars.

On the project with no notice to the opposition. They dominated the local news media and set the time schedule. Possibly with another week or two, the opposition might have circulated correct information, revealed the true motive for the election, and eliminated many of the fears and misconceptions.

Throughout the entire history of the proposed reservoir, the opposition has recognized and respected the right of their neighbors to take the opposite point of view. Throughout the conflict they have demanded facts rather than fantasy concerning feasibility and cost. In the most recent confrontation they attempted to dispel rumor and fear with hard factual evidence.

There was a state of emergency in the election on August 13th; but it was not the fictitious one the voters heard about. Based on the events of the past 20 years, and the past few weeks in particular, I question whether the voters of Wheeler County really intended to be in the position of bank-rolling the Red River Authority.

Reading Program

We have completed our second Monday of our reading program. It is all very exciting. We have had such good attendance. Thanks to all of you Mothers for putting out the effort. Without the Young Homemakers and the girls in FHA all of this would not have been possible. Our community owes a lot to these young Mothers. They are hard workers and have really made the Reading Program a success. We are enjoying Carol Staggs. She is our new employee, working on a JTPA summer youth program. Come join us next Monday July 16th from 3-4 when we will be having our next session of the Reading program. Come and bring a friend. See you then.
