COOKING VENISON

If you bagged a deer this season it is an excellent food source. Wild game can stretch the budget year 'round.

Deer meat—venison—is comparable to beef, except that it is low in fat. It provides protein needed for growth and repair of body tissue, muscles, blood, skin and hair.

Venison also provides iron, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin. It can furnish the two servings of meat needed daily, or a part of the servings in this group. Count two or three ounces of lean venison as a serving.

Venison dishes that are quick and easy to prepare are popular for camp cooking during the hunt. A favorite is backstrap and tenderloin—or "tenders," as campers call them—pan fried in an iron skillet, or a stew cooked in a Dutch oven while campers are on the hunt.

As soon as the liver and heart are "dressed," they are ready to cook, and will provide a quick meal for hungry hunters.

But because venison roasts, steaks, ground and chopped venison demand more elaborate preparation—more utensils, ingredients, or temperature, control—they are usually cooked at home.

The quality of dishes from venison will be only as good as the quality of the venison and other ingredients. The quality of the meat is affected by the age, sex, manner in which the animal was killed and the way it is dressed, temperature and the process used in aging the meat.

The male deer—the buck—family.

Carol Hall of Sayre, spent the week-end with her family, the Lester Halls.

Many from Allison were kept busy going to the High Schools Tournament in Mobeetie. The Allison teams played hard even though they didn't place anything. Better luck this week.

Vern, Susie and Suzanne Lohberger attended a Trailway Tourama, Saturday at the Civic Center in Amarillo. A meal was served and a film showing future tours of North America was shown. The Lohbergers enjoyed visiting with friends they had met on the past four tours they had been privileged to be on. Suzanne was the lucky winner of a doorprize.

According to Dr. Carl Fink in a recent article written by Ray Sasser in Texas Parks & Wildlife, "The thing that gives the objectionable flavor to venison is the fat. Fat provides much of the flavor in any meat and it can lend a strong, gamey taste to venison."

"Once the muscles are separated—the meat bones—Doc meticulously trims away all the fat, gristle and connective tissue he can possibly remove. Fortunately, venison doesn't marinate like domestic meats. The fat occurs on the outside of the muscle and can be trimmed away."

It's painstaking process but the result is excellent meat that has very little fat. It'll be delicious however you prefer your venison cooked.

Of course certain muscles of a deer lend themselves to be more tender, just as certain cuts of beef are better than other cuts," Dr. Fink explained. "The prime cuts of a deer are the tenderloins, the backstrap and the larger muscles of the hindquarters.

Doc, however, uses every bit of meat on the deer. The less choice shoulders become stew meat or the meat is ground for sausage of venison patties. The ribs are excellent if barbecued or the sparse meat can be trimmed from the ribcage and ground.

By trimming carefully, Doc leaves nothing but the bare bones and some of them are used for soup stock."

Tender cuts such as the loin and ribs can be pan fried or roasted. Round steak, meat from the leg and the less tender cuts are best when cooked by moist heat—braising, stewing and pot roasting.

Do not overcook venison. Its short fibers toughen quickly if over-cooked or cooked at too high a temperature. Plan to serve it medium—to well-done never rare or overcooked.

Use acid to tenderize. Vinegar, Tomato sauce and French dressing sauces are good for tenderizing venison. Cover slices or chunks of venison and allow to stand in the marinating sauces for at least 24 hours. Pan fry to medium-done.

Reduce the sugar in sauces recipes for venison. The natural flavor is sweeter than other meats. Reduce the sugar in sauces for domestic meats by one-fourth.

If you would like recipes for deer and other wild game, you may contact Linda Daughtry, P.O. Box 505, Wheeler, TX 79096, 826-5243 or come by the extension office at the County Courthouse.

Christmas trees can be a fire hazard if not cared for properly. Before setting up your tree, help "fireproof" it by cutting across the base diagonally. This will allow the tree to absorb more water and keep it from drying out too rapidly. When decorating your tree, check all tree lights for loose sockets or frayed wiring before placing them on the tree. And never use any lights that do not display the Underwriters' Laboratory seal. Caring for your Christmas tree properly can prevent a holiday tragedy.

Deregulation of your telephone ...how will it affect you

Deregulation. What does it mean to the nation's telephone industry — and the customers it serves? All of the hows, whys and maybes are not determined, but here are answers to some often-asked questions.

Q. What is deregulation?

A. Simply, it's the process of removing state and federal controls from many services provided by the telecommunications industry. It means customers can select equipment and services in a competitive market without regulation by a regulatory commission.

Q. When does it happen?

A. Deregulation isn't new. Federal Communications Commission rulings over the past three decades have allowed some competition in terminal equipment (telephones, multi-line systems, etc.) and in long-distance services. But deregulation surfaced as a major public issue when the FCC mandated total deregulation of new terminal equipment, effective January 1, 1983.

Q. Why does the FCC want the telephone industry to be deregulated?

A. The FCC believes competitive markets are most efficient. Deregulation — and competition — will encourage new services and open more options to customers.

Actually, the FCC is but one of the driving forces behind deregulation. Congress, the Justice Department and the Reagan Administration (like others before it) all are eager to deregulate the American telephone business.

Q. What is GTE's position regarding deregulation?

A. GTE feels that deregulation ultimately will benefit all concerned. Competition is the American way and GTE expects to compete aggressively.

Q. Just what services will continue under regulation?

A. After January 1, the basic local and long-distance switching networks will continue to be regulated. So will all in-place equipment on customer premises. New equipment will be excluded from regulation, as will "enhanced" services, which combine basic service with computer processing to provide additional, different or restructured information.

Q. How does this affect customers?

A. The big change is in lease and purchase arrangements for telephones, multi-line systems and other equipment in a customer's home or business.

After January 1, existing customers may continue to lease their phones from General Telephone. In addition, they have the option of purchasing phones — either from General Telephone or another supplier.

New customers also will be able to buy phones anywhere they choose (including General Telephone). Cost of equipment purchased by customers will be determined by the marketplace — not regulatory commissions. Lease options also will be available to new customers, but again will be determined by the marketplace — not the regulators.

There's another important point. By definition, anyone who alters existing service will be classified as a new customer. People who move from one residence to another — even though both are served by General Telephone — would be considered new customers under deregulation guidelines.

Q. Will all customers be affected by deregulation?

A. No. The FCC's order applies only to single-line service. Customers on multi-party lines may continue to lease phones from General Telephone with all the traditional services. For a period after deregulation begins, party line customers may have some options that will not be available after January 1, 1983 to single-line customers.

Q. Will it affect the cost of telephone service?

A. Deregulation will have an impact on virtually every aspect of the telephone industry — including cost. It should result in lower prices for some services and higher prices for others. The net effect of deregulation — and the competition it creates — is that each product or service provided by General Telephone must pay its own way, without subsidies from other segments of the business.

For example, revenues from various optional services have traditionally subsidized the cost of providing basic local service. That ensured basic telephone service was affordable to nearly everyone. But competition will force prices to more closely reflect the true cost of any service. Local rates probably will rise; others may decrease. Either way, customers will be asked to pay for the cost of the services they use.

Q. So what are the benefits to the consumer?

A. With deregulation comes competition. With competition comes the suppliers' desire to provide customers with what they want, when they want it, resulting in many options, introduction of new technology and keeping costs at the lowest possible level.

Q. Won't there be a lot of people who will be unable to afford a telephone?

A. GTE expects to help customers meet increases in telephone rates by phasing in certain options for flat rate pricing, including Usage Sensitive Service (USS) which is a measured service.

Mrs. Joe Flowers
Sleigh bells ringing and Santa on every corner. Don't know how he gets around so fast. Found the most wonderful bell about the size of a juice glass. Played Christmas carols, one after another. But it was $10.95 plus the battery. Decided to come home and let Joe play carols on his fiddle.

The Baptist Church gave the devotional service last week at the Erick Home. Little Missy Blevins from Sayre did a special number "He."

Tots Coffey visited Wednesday with the Johnny Reeds on her way home from Wheeler. He'd be doing pretty well if this Sweetwater Lake wasn't worrying him. Going to put his new house under water if it comes thru.

Ch. 8 is off the air today and all those folk without an antenna are TV less. These's a man at Sayre who will put up antennas. There's 4 stations on the Delhi translator now. And it only costs $54 a year.

The tower is down on the Ford well. Lots of trucks running up and down the road. Maybe things are picking up.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mears, Gary, Janet of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Stokes and Heather of Pampa, June and Kimberley Mattox of Houston, and their guest Claudia, an exchange student from France, spent Thanksgiving with the Howard Dickeyes. Dr. Ken Mattox was in Saudi-Arabia and missed the party.

Bess, Imo, and Iris LeGrand visited the Dickeyes on Friday.

We all had a high old time while the juice was off. Some had to go back to bed to keep warm, go to the cafe to eat, sit in the dark. One of my neighbors wore himself out carrying water from the windmill for 10 guests. Now he was nicer than me. I'd have handed each one a bucket and told them, no bathroom unless they brought their own pail of water.

Do you know that Russian scientists (and ours too) have been working about 10 years on an EMP project-electromagnetic pulse. The idea is if the Russians could explode a certain kind of nuclear weapon 200 miles above the United States, it would knock out all the electrical power instantaneously.

This little flurry of ice we had is enough to show that we need to be working on a deterrent for that in a big way.

Also our trouble was Mother Nature but Cheyenne and neighboring communities were off because some one shot out the lines and insulators. People like that should be made to pay for the damage they do. If they don't have the money, they can work it out.

This sending everyone to prison is for the birds. Make them work it out.

Our Sweetwater Karen has got herself in a real pickle on One Life. I can hardly believe one of our girls would act so. Just as things were in such dire straits, they pre-empted it with a ball game from some unknown place. Might as well have stayed in town Xmas shopping.

All the towns are saying trade at home. Well, we live 30 miles from anywhere, so are free to trade where we like. My daddy always said people traded with a store because they liked it or because the prices were lower. If you can't match the prices, try a little charm. We've been to all the towns around and there are some stores where they don't even look up and speak when you go in. They are going to go broke and it won't be because of the economy.

Can't help but wonder if Mr. Reagan knows which end his goal post is on. Came in going to cut unnecessary expense, lower taxes, etc. We had a $50 billion deficit. Bulo 40 years ago and was R.D. Perryman then.

I know exactly what is wrong with Social Security. They were so sure everyone would die in a year or two when they quit work, that they didn't bother to put the SS taxes in a separate fund. Just there in the general fund.

People fooled them. They weren't that work happy. Instead they flourished. I have a dozen dear friends who are over 90 and I don't know how many in their 80s.

Mr. and Mrs. E.N. Carlson of Elk and the Milton-Englands of Guymon had Thanksgiving with the Gene Carlsons.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Wherefore, my judgment is, that we trouble not them that from among the Gentiles tury to God; but that we write unto them that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from what is strangled, and from blood. (Acts 15:19;20)

In the beginning of Acts 15 we find certain men coming from Jerusalem to Antioch to Syria and teaching that, except the Gentiles accept circumcision and keep the law of Moses, they cannot be saved. Paul and Barnabas, who had just returned from preaching among the Gentiles, disputed this very hotly. The issue was taken to the apostles and elders of the church at Jerusalem.

After a private meeting with the elders and the apostles, the moment came to announce a decision on this matter. Peter stood up and reminded them that God had chosen him to be the first to preach the gospel to a Gentile. (Acts 15:7) And he demonstrated quite forcefully that he made no distinction between Jew and Gentile. Both their hearts were cleansed by faith.

Next, Paul and Barnabas rehearsed all that God had done among the Gentiles through their ministry. (v. 12)

Last came James, an elder at Jerusalem whom some believe was also the brother of our Lord, Jesus. His are the words that are written at the beginning of this article.

The point is this: Many of the Jewish believers still believed and wanted to bind elements of the old law upon Christians. But Christ demonstrated that this cannot be done. If this be the case with a former covenant that God himself has made; what do you think he thinks about various attempts by men to insert and substitute our own ideas for his instructions concerning how to become and to live a Christian life? Think about it. Study your Bible. Eternity depends upon your reaching the right answer!

BRYANT-GRISWOLD VOWS ARE EXCHANGED NOV. 20, 1982

On Saturday, November 20, 1982, at 7:00 P.M. Brenda Carole Bryant and Richard Aubrey Griswold were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Kelton, Texas.

Brenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Bryant of Kelton and Richard is the son of Mrs. Mabel Methvin Griswold of Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Rev. James Conner, Pastor of First Baptist Church of Kelton performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with a half moon candelabra and spiral candelabra on each side. Pink gladiolas and white daisies enhanced the half moon candelabra which held pink candles. The candelabra's were tied with pink and white bows. The bridal path was marked with eight hurricane lamps holding pink candles surrounded with greenery and pink and white bows.

Brent Gibson, cousin of the bride played the piano for the guests while they arrived the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

Teri and Bobby Price accompanied themselves as they sang "Time for Joy", "Author of Love," With this Ring," and "Me and My House."

Brenda and Richard repeated a Bible verse they would like to achieve in their marriage. It was Phillipians 2:3, "Let nothing be done through strife or vain glory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves." They knelt at the altar as both prayed.

After they exchanged rings, Teri and Bobby sang "With this Ring." As they lighted the Unity Candle, Teri and Bobby sang "Me and My House."

Elaine Bryant, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Leslie Smith of Amarillo, Anita Bryant and Elaine Martin from Abilene. They were attired in pink floor length chiffon over taffeta gowns with fitted waists. The gathered skirts ended in two ruffles. The top ruffle was shirred on one side, pulled up into a drape effect with a pink bow. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline with sheer puffed sleeves beneath tiny ruffles at the shoulders. Their bouquets were white daisies and pink carnations and small fern held together with pink and white ribbon. On their heads they wore halos made of white daisies, pink miniature carnations and babies breath. Pink and white streamers flowed from the halo with a little daisy and carnation attached to the end of the streamer.

Amy Gumphry, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She was attired similar to the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of petals to drop in the aisle.

Greg and Gary Bryant, nephews of the bride were the ring bearers.

Robert Griswold served his brother as best man. Grooms-men were Marty Reid, Pete Gilkey and Larry Ferguson. They attend Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth.

The ushers were Mike Bryant and David Bryant, brothers of the bride.

Mike and David also lighted the candles before the bridal party entered the church.

Marion A. Bryant, father of the bride escorted the bride to the altar.

The bride's dress was white bridal satin. It had a fitted waist and flared skirt with a chapel train. The bodice had a high neckline with tulle yoke accented with alencon lace and seed pearls over the bodice. The sleeves were long and straight with alencon lace and tulle over the satin. The chapel train was decorated with alencon lace and cutwork of tulle and lace. Alencon lace surrounded the hemline of the skirt. She wore a fingertip length veil attached to a small lace cap. The lower part of the double veil was decorated with seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was made of pink sweetheart roses, pink miniature carnations, white daisies and babies breath with pink and white streamers. The bouquet was attached to the white Bible that her mother carried on her wedding day. She borrowed a diamond necklace from her mother and wore a blue garter and a penny in her shoe.

The bride's mother wore a formal length dusty rose shirtwaist dress of georgette over taffeta. It had a shawl collar and long sheer sleeves gathered at the wrists and attached to buttoned cuffs. The flared skirt had a fluted hemline.

The bridegroom's mother wore a green printed street length polyester dress fashioned with a high round neckline and long sleeves. Their corsages were orchids.

Mrs. M.H. Bryant, grandmother of the bride was attired in a purple chiffon street length dress with sheer sleeves and ruffled neckline. She also had an orchid corsage.

Becky Thomas of Shamrock registered the guests at a table covered with a pink cloth and topped with a white lace cloth. A beautiful arrangement of white daisies and pink carnations enhanced the table.

The bride's parents gave a reception following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

The brides table was covered with white cloth bordered with white lace. The centerpiece was the brides bouquet. On each side of the bouquet were silver candelabra's holding pink roses and white scalloped around the cake. On the top of the layers were miniature bells. The top of the cake was decorated with two satin wedding bells and white doves. A fountain flowed beneath the layers and was surrounded with greenery.

Beverly Bryant, sister-in-law of the bride served the bride's cake and Rhonda Bentley served the pink punch to the guests.

Serving at the groom's table was Becky Thomas and Starr Sanders of Abilene. The round table was laid with a burgandy floor length cloth topped with a white lace cloth. The centerpiece was silver candelabra holding burgandy candles, burgandy carnations and white daisies. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. The groom's cake was a chocolate cake topped with an open Bible decorated with burgandy roses. On the top of the Bible was written "As for me and my house we will serve the Lord." Joshua 24:15

Rice bags were distributed by Greg and Gary Bryant.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to Hawaii, the bride was wearing an ivory two pieced dress of georgette. It was fashioned with a victorian neckline, and a large yoke of alencon lace trimmed with a pleated ruffle. The long sleeves were gathered to alencon lace cuffs. Her corsage was pink daisies, pink sweetheart roses and babies' breath.

The bride graduated from H.S.U. in Abilene with a degree in management. She is now attending Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth and is employed by Corrigan's Jewelry as a bookkeeper at North Hills Mall.

The groom graduated from Gardner Webb University in North Carolina and will graduate from Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in May. He is employed by an Independent Construction firm in Ft. Worth. After graduation he will be a minister.

The couple will be home at 2127 Jacocks Lane in Ft. Worth after November 30.

Church Group Hears Review

On Tuesday the 30th, the First Baptist Church of Mobeetie was privileged to hear a great book review. "Blanche Groves of China—Indomitable Lady" by Jean Faulkner Bond, was given by Gazelle Patterson. Mrs. Patterson knew Miss Groves before she became a missionary to China. She was once a school teacher near Wellington in the Pan Fork Association.

The W.M.U. ladies were glad that such a good number of the church came to hear about the Foreign Mission. This Indomitable Lady is 93 and presently resides in Bridgeport, Texas.

National Home Care Week

(Editor's Note: This article was intended for last week, but space did not permit us to run it at that time. We salute the program and the people responsible for its success.)

PANHANDLE HOME HEALTH AGENCY JOINS IN THE CELEBRATION

The Panhandle Home Health Agency of Wheeler, Texas, today announced that it plans to join in the national celebration of home care week. The week has been set aside to pay tribute to the dedicated individuals throughout the country whose efforts allow some four million elderly, infirm or disabled individuals to receive the health and social services they need in the comforting surroundings of their own homes.

Ms. Juannell Brooks, Administrator of the Panhandle Home Health Agency said: "We are deeply honored that the Congress and the President have chosen to honor our profession by declaring National Home Care Week. We do our best to serve the elderly and the infirm of our nation. We shall continue to provide them with the highest quality of service."

President Reagan signed into law the joint Senate and House Resolution creating National Home Care Week on October 14, 1982. The primary sponsors of the resolution were senators David Pryor and Orrin Hatch and Congressman Claude Pepper and Leon Panetta. Senator Roger Jepsen captured the spirit of the resolution when he said: "There are thousands of families who are caring for elderly or disabled relatives who deserve this recognition. We in the Congress should take this opportunity to praise these hardworking individuals. In addition, we should take a moment to thank the thousands of health care professionals who provide the support services so essential to enabling families to remain together. Without this cooperative effort, many elderly and disabled individuals would be needlessly forced into a nursing home or hospital."

Statistics from the US General Accounting Office indicate that nearly 1.2 million people over the age of 65 currently reside in nursing homes and other institutions, at an annual cost of $10 billion. GAO suggest that fully 25% of these people could be equally well cared for in their homes at substantial savings. Estimates are that home care costs about one-quarter of institutional care.

Home care, however, is a great deal more than a cost effective form of treatment. As Congressman Claude Pepper noted recently in an address to the members of the National Association for Home Care, the providers of home care services place "dignity and the meaning of human life, and human health and happiness, as their primary goals."

Home Care has become an increasing force in the United States health care system since the enactment several years ago of legislation providing for Medicare and Medicaid coverage for many home care services. Today home care agencies number nearly 5,000.

In Wheeler County, one agency provides home care services to approximately 300 residents each year. These services range from daily nursing care to physical therapy to general home health aide support services such as personal grooming and assistance in the practice of self-help techniques for the home bound patient.

Panhandle Home Health Agency provides a good example of the kinds of services offered to local residents. FACTS ABOUT HOME CARE
What is Home Care? Home care is any or all of a full range of health care and social services offered to patients in their homes. Home care is for the ill, infirm or disabled who elect to be treated at home rather than in a nursing home or hospital.

What is the Profile of the Home Care Patient? Home care services are available to those patients who are confined to home under the supervision of a physician. The patient may need either temporary or long term care.

What Services are Offered Through Home Care Agencies? There are basically two types of services offered: health services and home health aide services.

Home Health Services: Home health services are comprehensive, involving nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, dietary guidance, medical social services. Normally, a home health nurse will design a plan of treatment with a physician based on the patient's needs and lifestyles. We will help assemble a team of the above professionals based on each case.

Homemaker-Home Health Aide Services: These services provide the kinds of personal care and assistance that are often required in addition to nursing and therapy. Activities can include bathing and personal grooming needs helping practice of self-help skills, general housekeeping services required to keep the patient's environment safe. These aides work with the home care nurse and implement her design for care.

How Many Home Care Agencies are There in the Country? It is estimated that there are about 5,000 home health agencies and 5,000 homemaker/home health aide agencies in the United States. The number of agencies has grown rapidly over the past several years as a result of government legislation, initially introduced by Utah Senator Frank Moss, which allow Medicare and Medicaid coverage for home health services.

How are Home Care Services Paid For? In many cases, most home care services are paid by Medicare, Medicaid, the Veterans Administration or other third party payers such as commercial insurers. A home care agency can be more specific about coverage for each individual case. The Agency most often handles billings and paperwork, sparing the patient the burden.

How Many People are Served by Home Care Each Year? It is estimated that an average of four million people are served by home care each year.

How Do Home Care Costs Compare to Costs for Comparable Care in Nursing Homes and Hospitals? Home care costs about one quarter as much as comparable care in a nursing home. An example is illustrative; a retired man received services over a three year period. He got counseling once a month, three housekeeping services a month, occasional nursing services and two home delivered meals every day, seven days a week. The total home care costs were $10,000. Placement in a nursing home for the same care would have cost $40,000 for the same period.

Is Home Care the Right Choice for Everyone? No, not everyone can be effectively treated at home. Some people need the kind of constant attention that can only be provided in an institution. However, home care is the overwhelming choice for people who are not in need of acute care, and it can often prevent or postpone institutionalization of the patient.

In addition, the US General Accounting Office has reported that up to 25% of the 1.2 million elderly now in nursing homes are receiving care excessive to their needs. They could live better and for much less at home with home care services.

Who Represents the Home Care Industry? The industry is represented by several trade associations. The largest and fastest growing is the National Association for Home Care located at 311 Massachusetts Avenue, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20002 look and see the new universe". Bob was most (more than half) filled with the wonderment that God has been so able when he had so many medical problems leaving him, yet, a young man, with one left lung plus a very serious disease called diabetes to even dream one day the same God kept filling him with a fierce, but faithful, deep seated desire that one day he would become the parts manager for his late, great mentor, Mr. Archie L. Hibler and "always lovely" wife Lila.

Warning tho! This birthday will not be an ordinary one. It will be called "A License to Let off Steam"! Come dressed for comfort and laughing. Can cause irritation instantly, proves a source of agony, while calming you down and bringing you happiness. Sounds like the soaps? Guess again! Note carefully, everywhere there is a useful word. Not one to the four winds. Bob has equally enjoyed his working relationship with Mr. Lee Hibler with his always young quick-witted and well-informed position that will not let him bend or buckle under. Lee, as you already know, I've always doubted the love affair with Mr. Reagan and S.S. and poor Bob. The first two are but names to me, but Bob is mine with or without funds. It was at this low ebb in our marriage I stopped counting pennies and counted the blessings. The hero time will have the final word. P.S. Bob claims he has $2,500.00 friends. What fun we shall have opening up cards!

Here & There

Laura Guthrie

Goodness gracious! I don't need a mechanical calendar to tick off the days. It seems they just take wings and fly away. Only 17 days until Christmas! Goodness gracious again. It's been only about 17 weeks since last Christmas!

Well, so be it. I'm never ready for Christmas anyway. So what difference does it make?

We are not through talking about Thanksgiving yet.

Mary Wofford flew to Jackson, Florida a couple of weeks ago to visit with her sister Josephine and her husband, Bill Sides. She helped celebrate Jo's birthday, as well as the Holidays. People who were around a few years back will remember Jo Noah and Bill Sides. I'd say they graduated from Wheeler High about 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Brown of Norman, Oklahoma, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burley Mann for a few days last week. With the Mann's they visited with the George Hefleys of Shamrock and the Winfred Buckinghams. Mr. Brown was at one time Superintendent of Wheeler High School.

Mona Quin has been on the sick list. She is better this week. I don't know if her illness or her recovery is due to an overload of company she had during Thanksgiving. At her mother's house, Mrs. Nettie Luttrell, there were 40 people for Thanksgiving dinner. All Monas children and grandchildren, and her brother Dan Luttrell and his family were all there. Well, aren't Holidays for family gatherings?

Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Forrester spent last weekend at Duncan, Oklahoma. There they had a family gathering of Mrs. Forrester's family. They had to hurry home so they can attend two or three more family gatherings before, and at Christmas.

Jerry Collins of Canadian visited with my Steve Saturday night and Sunday.

The Louis Stas family gathered at Sherman, Tex, over the weekend. Louis, Barbara and Jennifer accompanied Cathi and Greg Christner to Sherman to visit Ronal Wayne, Jaunita and Ronal, Jr., Stas. The travelers stopped in Del City, Okla. on their return trip Sunday to say "Hello" to the Gene Arnolds.

D. McIlhany Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Grainger McIlhany was hostess for the members of the Wednesday Study Club in Nov. The members assembled at the Wheeler Public Library where they browsed for a time. Then they were seated and Wanda King discussed the latest Library Services. She then presented each member with a book bag which held a pencil, book marks and other objects relating to the Library. Mrs. Harold Nash gave a Federation Report and the meeting closed with a Thanksgiving Prayer by Mrs. Harold Hill.

The members then went to the Parlor of the United Methodist Church where lovely refreshments were served by the hostess. In addition to those named above, those present were Mesdames David Britt, R. Wm. Brown, F.H. Davidson, Lee Guthrie, W.D. Mitchell, Shelby Pettit, Nelson Porter, Harry Wofford and Lewis Wright.

Jane Thomas, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, handed envelopes containing $50 to Tana Stoy, Ruth Haggard and Anita Reeves.

The big winner for the day was Mary Gibson who claimed the $100 worth of script.

The script which is handed out each year will spend like money in any of the businesses which help sponsor the drawing. The bills are all $5 denomination.

Shoppers are reminded of the rule for claiming the envelopes. Husband and wife may claim each other's envelopes, but children cannot claim their parents' envelopes nor the parents the children's winnings.

Remember, Saturday, December 11, will be the second drawing and $400 will be given divided 13 ways and handed out to those present when their name is called.

UNITED STATES IN PROPHECY

This country is tremendously blessed by God. It is no accident that this country has been a very prosperous country compared to other countries. True American history proves that God had a special plan in the forming of this nation. And in spite of the problems we face today because of humanism, atheism, apathy, and liberalism, this is a great nation, and God's grace and blessing is upon it. How can I say this? Here's why.

II Chronicles 7:14—God's people have begun praying and consecrating themselves to God. Since the mass prayer meeting in Washington D.C. in April of 1980, this country has not been the same. The tide has been turning. Good things have begun taking place. It will continue as long as God's people are here and praying.

Matthew 5:9—America has played the role of peacemaker again and again. God's Word says these type of people would be called the children of God.

Genesis 12:3—The strong remain as long as we remain true to Israel.

Mark 16:15—No country in the world has ever published and spread the gospel like this country does.

These are 4 reasons why this country is not doomed. Four good Scriptural reasons why we have hope as Americans. Of course, as Christians we believers are winners anyway, but it is nice to know that we are citizens of such a blessed place as this land of America. This country is special to God, and no Antichrist (or beast as he is called in Rev. 13) will ever set foot on American soil. Zechariah 14:16 and Matthew 31-40 tell us that some nations will continue on and on. If our country continues to do the 4 things mentioned above, this blessed land will be one of those continuing. Because I love America, that makes me happy.
