Buffalo Trail Silver Jubilee Is Celebrated With Boy Scout Week

DESERT FADES INTO MOUNTAIN—Change from desert mescal and Spanish daggers into the high pines of the mountains is seen in this Davis Mountain scene, part of the 6,000-acre tract to be the site of the 15-county Buffalo Trail Council Scout Ranch. Outdoor life in camping areas such as this is the appeal which attracts boys to the moral, physical and mental program of the Boy Scouts.

Opening Of Permanent Campsite Is Announced On Anniversary

Boy Scouts of Big Spring and throughout the 15-county Buffalo Trail Council during the next six days will participate in various activities designed for celebration of three milestones in Scouting.

The week of Feb. 6-12 has been set aside formally for nation-wide observance of the 38th anniversary of Boy Scouts of America. However, the Buffalo Trail Council has two other features to add to the national celebration this year.

The council has been active for 25 years and the silver jubilee is being celebrated simultaneously with "Boy Scout Week."

At the same time, the Buffalo Trail organization is ready to announce its crowning achievement for the first 25 years of its history—the opening of a 6,000-acre tract in ideal West Texas territory for use as a permanent campsite.

The camping area is called the Buffalo Trail Council Scout Ranch, and its facilities will provide the Scouts of the council with their first campsite of their own.

Heretofore, local Scouts have been dependent entirely upon other organizations or individuals for camping arrangements.

As the council embarked upon the week of celebration, local unit leaders predicted vast expansion of Scout activities during future years. Acquisition of the Scout Ranch has solved the major, council-wide camping problem, they explained, and all units in the 15-county area will now be able to offer boys a program unsurpassed in attractiveness anywhere in the country.

The pinch of insufficient camping facilities was magnified in the Big Spring district last summer. Leaders were forced to make arrangements for camping areas owned by other organizations, and one local troop's camping plans were erased overnight due to unexpected cancellation of reservations made in advance by the Scoutmaster. Other units who arranged to camp elsewhere were confronted with confusion caused by hasty changes in dates imposed by owners of the camping areas involved and numerous other problems.

The new Scout Ranch not only will eliminate the arrangements difficulties, but it also will offer facilities far superior to others in the Southwest, Scouters have pointed out.

Work Is Keynote In Scout Program

No sooner does a Boy Scout enter the program than he is put to work—in fact, he must have been at work and have mastered tenderfoot requirements before he can become a full-fledged scout.

First of all, the scout must know how to tie eight useful knots; the history and respect due the United States flag; the significance of the scout badge and uniform; how to give the scout sign and hand-clasp, a knowledge of how the patrols and the troop function; a keen understanding of the meaning of the scout oath and law. So paying the registration fee doesn't make a Boy Scout—it's that first step of advancement.

Scouting World-Wide

Although Boy Scouts of America is by far the largest group in the World Scout Brotherhood, Scout organizations and Scout activity is by no means confined to this continent. There are some 2,300,000 Scouts and Scout leaders in 41 foreign countries.

CAMPING CHAIRMAN—C. S. Blomshield, Big Spring, is camping chairman for the Buffalo Trail Scout Council, which will open a campaign Monday to raise $200,000 needed to finance development of the Scout Ranch in the Davis mountains. Much of Blomshield's work in Scouting during recent years has been directed toward promotion of interest in acquiring a permanent campsite for the council.

Twenty-Seven Accept Fund Drive Posts

Twenty-seven men in Big Spring have accepted posts for the local phase of the Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scout Ranch campaign which Monday will begin solicitation in a campaign designed to raise $200,000 to finance development of the 6,000-acre tract in the Davis mountains.

Similar organizations have been effected in other communities throughout the 15-county council.

In Big Spring Dr. P. W. Malone is co-chairman of the big gifts division of the drive. Members of the local big gifts committee are Obie Bristow, J. B. Collins, Robert Currie, Dave Duncan, Sam Goldman, Ted O. Groebel, G. H. Hayward, A. V. Karcher, W. L. Mead, V. A. Merrick, R. T. Piner, J. Y. Robb, C. D. Wiley.

Champ Rainwater and John Fort are other division chairmen for the local campaign. Their team captains include J. D. Jones, C. Y. Clinkscales, Boone Horne, John Coffee, Walter Reed, Jack Roden, Fritz Wehner, Gene Hutchins, H. W. Whitney, R. B. Reeder, T. B. Atkins.

Councils Number 545

The Boy Scouts of America organization is divided into 545 Boy Scout Councils, which, in turn, embrace 68,500 units.

Council's Quest For Campsite Covers Long Period Of Time

The wanderings of Greek and Roman heroes had little on the Buffalo Trail council in its quest for a camp.

In Big Spring scouting, the search has been going on long before the council was organized, but now, after 36 years, prospects are bright for troops here and throughout the area to settle down to a picturesque and permanent home.

That place is Aguja canyon, a sort of Shangri La nestled in a now in-accessible section of the Davis Mountains, where, curiously enough, the Buffalo Trail council first turned a score years ago in its first effort to set up its own camp.

For more than a dozen years after troop No. 1 was chartered here, Boy Scouts went to the George McIntyre ranch on the upper reaches of the North Concho. Most of the time they walked, following a buckboard wagon. McIntyre commemorated the visits by driving an iron pipe, to which a metal plate bearing the scouts' names had been soldered, into the ground.

By the mid-twenties, troop No. 1 had moved downstream to the Johnson place nearer Sterling City, then migrated toward the end of the decade to the Rawlings ranch near Water Valley where the last and most successful of the pre-council troop camps were held. All the while, short-time camps in the area were utilized, among them Moss Springs.

First council camp was held near Carlsbad, Texas, still further down the North Concho, at Camp Connelley, then the Concho Valley's campsite. This was unsatisfactory and Buffalo Trail authorities turned to the Davis Mountains for their own camp.

In the vicinity of Phantom Lake and also accessible to San Solomon springs for special occasions, a camp was established. There were no improvements and it didn't work out as a permanent site.

From this point, the council turned to the Nueces canyon, leasing a scout camp on the Nueces river near Barksdale. Except that it was so far removed, it came more nearly meeting needs, but when a crystal-clear swimming pool filled in, the council was ready to move.

This time it was Camp Louis Farr, near Mertzon, the new Concho Valley council home. For several seasons this site was utilized, but longing for a home of its own dictated another move.

Under arrangements with the council at Roswell, N. M., the council leased Camp Wehenipahay at Weed, N. M. This had the advantage of timbered mountains, no mosquitoes and made such an impression on council leaders that they seriously considered buying a nearby canyon for development of a camp. But here again distance was a factor; moreover, the spring-fed water utterly stiffened would-be swimmers.

Then for a season or so, attempts were made to sectionalize the council—a camp at Lake Sweetwater, one at Big Spring, still another in the western area. These were fun, but not like a real council camp. So once more the council turned to the mountains—the mountains of northern New Mexico and Camp Philmont. So great was the distance that it proved impractical except for senior scouting purposes. Its extremely high altitude and program was a bit rigorous for the younger scouts.

Last year the council tried to ease into several sites, but schedules were such that constant confusion resulted. It was then that leaders agreed that if at all possible they would stop talking about the "lost canyon" in the Davis Mountains and swing into action. Today a campaign is underway to give the scouts of the council a permanent camp home.

Big Troop With Big Program; That's The Boast Of No. 5

One of the means of attracting boys into the movement of scouting is by program — or having the biggest show in town. By this measure, Arnold Seydler, scoutmaster of troop No. 5, stacks up well, for his troop roster contains names of 64 scouts.

This is twice the number recommended by national headquarters, but some of those on the list are boys who now are in college but who, through loyalty, still maintain membership with the troop. The big membership, however, reflects the need for more troops and more active programs.

Seydler has been scoutmaster of the troop for five years, drawing upon his own experience as a scout on its new hut at 23rd and Lancaster streets, also improving the grounds to show its appreciation to the sponsors for moving and converting the half barrack given by the City of Big Spring.

The troop has won many camping awards, has received some kind of advancement at every court of honor held and has taken eight out of a possible 12 honor court banners during the past of 1931 at the instigation of the late C. S. Holmes, father of scouting in Big Spring.

Assistant scoutmasters of the troop are Loy House, Jack Cecil and J. E. Green. Members of the troop committee are Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church and whose Brotherhood sponsors the troop, Roy Reeder, Joe Pickle, M. E. Boatman, Dr. C. E. Richardson, C. T. McDonald and Orville Bryant.

ARNOLD SEYDLER

Currently, the troop is working scout in the rank of Life. Under his direction the troop has made perhaps the most significant progress since it was chartered in May year. Thirty-two of the troop membership camped out at least six nights during the year and all the scouts who registered in advance of the new charter date of Oct. 1, 1947 have at least two nights camping to their credit. Many of the Scouts helped in the March of Dimes, collections at the theatres, assisted in Cub day camps. A highlight of the year will be the annual banquet given by the sponsors on Feb. 9 to scouts and parents.

Among boys who have attained rank of Eagle and who still are registered with the troop are Charles Seydler, Nathan Richardson, Charles Lovelace, Clarence Schaefer, Carl McDonald and George Worrell.

Gordon Myrick, Billy Richbourg, Ross Word, Grady Bolding, Ray Dabney, Lindsey Marchbanks, Gary Blalack, Freddie Blalack, James Tibbs, Frank House, Gene Reynolds, Wayne Smith, James Daniel, Jack Sparks, Rancy Hickman, Ralph Winterrowd.

Merit Badges Are A Major Factor In Advancement

Merit badges constitute a major portion of the field of advancement and training available to Boy Scouts.

These badges are presented, as the name would imply, for merit in specific fields of work. When a boy acquires five, he may become a Star Scout; 10 (with three required) he may become a Life Scout; 21 (with 13 required) he may become an Eagle scout, the highest honor which can come to a boy. Palms may be earned for the Eagle, but it is the highest rank.

Merit badges have one of several definite purposes, among them to encourage a boy to seek advanced skill in outdoor living, physical fitness, hobbies. In addition, they open up a field of vocational exploration—helping the boy to find himself. They also encourage him in public service.

Scout Executive To Be Speaker At C-C Banquet

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 7. — Paul Ireland, Boy Scout executive of the Chisholm Trail council with headquarters in Abilene, will deliver the main address for the 1948 version of the annual Colorado City chamber of commerce president's banquet.

The affair will be held Feb. 18, the place yet to be designated said L. A. Chapman, chamber manager.

Working with Chapman on banquet plans are State Senator Pat Bullock, chairman of the program committee who will act as master of ceremonies, Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, Bruce Hart, G. D. Foster, J. Ralph Lee, J. W. Randle, M. N. Caddell, Henry Bilberry, and George O. Witten. Jasper Wood was recently chosen new president. He succeeds W. H. Shelley, and will be honored, along with the organization's 21 directors and with the traditional banquet, entertainment, and after dinner speeches.

It is the youth of today that will be world leaders of tomorrow. So, on this 38th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts, we pay tribute to this great organization for the work it has done in the past — for the work it will do in the future as the Scouts of the World Build Together as "Citizens at Work."

Four Eagle Scouts On Roster Of Big Spring's Troop No. 2

Looking back on an enviable record in recent years and forward to expanded activities and a new home of its own, Boy Scout troop No. 2 is one of the most aggressive in the city.

Dating its history back to 1930 when the current continuity of charter was inaugurated, troop No. 2 is sponsored by the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church with Rev. C. A. Long as teacher and Walter Phillips as president. From the sponsoring institution has come the following troop committee:

M. N. Thorp, Sr., chairman; Royce Satterwhite, finance; D. R. Wiley, indoor activities; B. Freeman, outdoor activities; Charles Watson, advancement; W. D. Wilbanks, camping and quartermaster. The committee also serves as a board of review and some members as merit badge counselors.

Key men in the administration of the troop are Cecil (Cy) Nabors, scoutmaster, and Avery Falkner and Howard Thompson, assistant scoutmasters.

The troop has four Eagle scouts to its credit, including Tommy Underwood, Murphy Thorp, Jr., Charles Wilbanks, and Jack Sheffield. Three of these earned the highest rank during 1947 and prospects are four during 1948, reflecting an intense pace in advancement.

During war years, the troop carried on an active program, participating in scrap and paper campaigns, distributing war posters, etc., and forming itself into an emergency first aid unit.

Last year the unit scored the highest number of points at the Buffalo Trail council round up here for its program of camping, sanitation, and scoutcraft achievement. As a reward, the sponsors gave the boys a trip to Carlsbad Caverns.

With $200 in the bank and $650 in its building fund, the troop is sound financially. However, this reserve likely will be needed to utilize the gift of a half of a barracks from the City of Big Spring, which is to be located this week on five acres of land given by Carl Strom, plus three furnished under an arrangement with the school board, just east of the East Ward school. The terrain is especially adapted to promoting the scout program. Thorp, Satterwhite, Watson and Nabors are in charge of the development.

Already membership is increasing—four new ones in 1948—and troop officials said there was room for more. The troop meets currently in the basement of the First Methodist church from 7:30 p. m. to 9:15 p. m., and any lad 12 years or older is welcome to attend.

The roster of Troop No. 2: Joe Bailey, Bobby Joe Blum, John Richard Coffee, Kenneth Cannon, John Forte, Dick Forte, Bobby Mohertz, Wayne Horne, J. O. Haynie, Clarence Long, Fritz Smith, Tommy Thigpen, Murph Thorp, Jr. Billy Bob Watson, Charles Wilbanks, Woody Wood.

Two others, Warren and Don Anderson, have applied for registration, and they will be enrolled as soon as tenderfoot requirements are met. Twelve boys who have not re-registered are expected to be on the rolls within the next few days.

First Class Rating Figurative Diploma

Like a high school diploma, the figurative dividing line in Boy Scout work is that of first class scout.

Sixty days must have elapsed from the time a boy earned his second class badge before he can qualify for his first class award. In addition, he has to demonstrate ability to swim 50 yards and still be able to continue; to have evidence of continuing thrift; to maintain satisfactory speed in use of the semaphore or Morse code; to be able to do advanced cooking, judge with reasonable accuracy, to use the axe or perform handicraft, to make and read maps, to learn of nature. He must also have testimonial of scout like conduct.

Cockroaches are nocturnal in habit.

SHERMAN HART

Colorado City Troop 20 Has Fine Record

One of the youngest, yet most active troops in this district of the Buffalo Trail council is No. 20 at Colorado City.

Although it was chartered only in 1944, the troop has a good record behind it, particularly in the field for service. For instance, during last Christmas, the boys personally donated food valued at $25 for distribution to a needy family.

Soon, the troop is to put on a collection of old clothing in Colorado City, making the serviceable garments available to needy persons in that community.

Active in other fields, the scouts like an outdoor program, and last year 10 of the membership took in the council camp at Mertzon.

Sponsor of the troop is the First Methodist church of Colorado City and scoutmaster is Sherman L. Hart, who has held that post since 1946. He was once a scout himself, having attained the rank of Life scout. Assisting him are Roy Davis Coles, Ed Williams and R. E. Post on the troop committee.

Members of his troop are Hubert Ratliff, John M. Worrell, Bill Post, John Chapman, Carroll Chapman, Merrill Cobb, James Grantland, Michael Cooper, Phil Orman, Russell Reed, James Shelley, Dick Thomas, Bill Worrell, James Barber, Jay Douglas McCollum, Clarence Lark, Antone Truan, Paul Crenshaw, David Bridgetford, David Kinard, Donna Miller, James Heathering.

Fort Marion, built by the Spaniards at St. Augustine, Fla., is said to have required 120 years to build.

ON SCOUT RANCH SITE—Looking off a high pasture on the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains, Scouts on a pioneer exploration trip from 15 West Texas counties saw this mountain backdrop. Scout supporters of the Buffalo Trail Council, embracing counties from Pecos to Sweetwater, are endeavoring to raise $200,000 to build necessary facilities for an all-year-round camping area for their boys. Every resident of the 15 counties will be asked to contribute.

Hermit On Horseback Goes To The Dogs

KHARTOUM (AP)—A strange story from Merowe, in the Sudan, tells of a hermit who lived among the Kuru pyramids, devoted to dogs, gathering around him twenty or more. They accompanied him everywhere.

One day the hermit grew tired of life, borrowed a horse and rode through the villages of Kuru and Elzuma, bidding the villagers farewell.

Soon afterwards he was seen galloping madly away followed by his wildly barking pack of dogs, until all finally plunged over a high bank into deep water. Horse and dogs managed to swim to the opposite bank but the hermit was drowned.

Leaders In Scouting

The Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council's professional staff includes a Scout executive, an assistant executive, and three field executives. P. V. Thorson, Midland is executive, while H. D. Norris, Big Spring serves as assistant executive. Field executives are Jim Polk, Sweetwater, Stuart Painter, Odessa, and Rex Palmer, Pecos.

New Sponsorship Puts Life In Forsan Scout Activities

Now little more than a decade old, Troop No. 11 of Forsan is now active and with prospects of a sustained program.

One of the difficulties has been sponsorship, but last year, with organization of the Forsan Service club, the troop was taken over by the new civic organization.

Three months ago Wayne Monroney was chosen as scoutmaster with Grady Hale as assistant scoutmaster. Fortunately, the troop has its own scout hut in which to meet.

The troop originally was chartered in 1936. Prior to that time boys in that area were usually attached to one of the Big Spring troops, usually by patrols.

Troop committeemen at Forsan are Jack Lamb, chairman, G. L. Monroney, Delbert Bardwell, Lewis Heuval, Jeff English and Luther Moore.

Among the activities slated for the year is a Court of Honor session set for Feb. 12.

Those registered with the troop are:

First class — Lloyd Claxton, Charles Howard; second Class — Bobby Calley, Richard Gilmore, Hood Parker, Jr., Rodney Roberts; tenderfoot—J. L. Claxton, Kenneth Baker, Bob Creelman, Jerry Fuller, Terry Fullen, Kenneth Gressett, Lloyd Hale, Dan Hayhurst, Billy Overton, Lewis Overton, Carlos Porter, Jimmie Shultz, James Suttles, Ewing Thorpe, Arlen White and David Wise.

Ranking member of the troop is Theibert Camp, who is a Star scout.

Army Offers Opportunities For Veterans

The U.S. Army today offers four enlistment opportunities to veterans of any of the Armed Forces, according to Lt. O. L. McFadin, local recruiting officer.

These opportunities are:

1. Former servicemen with overseas experience can enlist directly in one of eight Army units now stationed in the U.S. and be guaranteed three years of service with that unit. Veterans who join these units, Lt. McFadin said, will help build up the defensive strength of the Army within the Zone of Interior and will help train new recruits.

2. Veterans without overseas service can enlist directly for service in the European Theater or can choose any one of six divisions now stationed in Japan and Korea. These units, which won combat laurels during World War II, are the 6th, 7th, 24th and 25th Infantry divisions, 11th Airborne and First cavalry divisions.

3. Because the Army is an army of technicians, men with technical experience can enlist in a non-commissioned grade based upon their former specialty, length of service and the grade acquired. More than 200 different skills and trades are employed by the Army.

4. Veterans who are high school graduates or who can pass an equivalent examination may choose their own type of training and work in the Army. Prior to enlisting, they may select any one of 60 or more technical courses and then be guaranteed assignment to one of the schools teaching these courses.

When the United States adopted a flag with thirteen stars in 1777, it also had 13 stripes, but when the first two stars were added, two stripes were also added, two stripes were also added in 1795 to make the present 15.

Morrison Has A Long Record Of Association With Scouting

The only man who got his initial training under the first scoutmaster in Big Spring and who has, perhaps, a greater continuity of association with the Boy Scout movement than any other person active in the program here now, heads the Big Spring district committee.

He is Walton S. Morrison, who learned his first lessons in scouting under the late C. S. Holmes, who organized troop No. 1 here only a year after the movement was chartered nationally. Morrison has held about every office in that troop and the district committee in the three decades he has been associated with scouting. For years he kept troop No. 1 going, stepping in during periods when there was no scoutmaster.

Another long-time scout worker, Charles Watson, assists Morrison as vice-chairman of the district. Other officers include A. V. Karcher, Big Spring, and Poe Wood-

Hardy, a past district chairman and vice-chairman of the council, is an ex-officio member of the district board.

BSA Cornerstone Is Oath And Law

Cornerstone of all the Boy Scout program is the scout oath and law. All activities are designed to inculcate the oath and law into the being of the young members.

This is the oath: "On my honor, I will do my best — 1. To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; 2. To help other people at all times; 3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

The law has 12 points, each one explained explicitly, and which pledge the Scout to be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

Swimming Is A Specialty Of Troop No. 3

Troop No. 3 of Big Spring has come to exercise a near monopoly on swimming honors in the Buffalo Trail council.

For several years now, the troop under the leadership of W. D. Berry, scoutmaster, has captured council championship in the annual meet at Midland, and in some years has all but swept the field.

In the early days of the event, there usually was hot competition between Troop No. 1 of Big Spring, those at Sweetwater and Midland, with No. 3 of Big Spring an also-ran. That has all been changed now.

As its number would imply, Troop No. 3 is the third oldest in the city, and has consistently been one of the most active in its years of service. Sponsored by the Kiwanis club, the organization has never lacked for financial or other support.

Its record in the annual Round-up stacks up well, particularly in the scoutercraft and athletic events.

The troop also has a good record of troop camping, though it has slipped some on its district record. Advancement has been steady, and several of the Eagle scouts to be produced in Big Spring have come out of No. 3.

These Great Truths

These great truths, my son, have come to us from ages past—a harvest of mankind's experience of happiness and sorrow. In them you will find guidance, hope and courage as you grow to manhood and face life's problems.

Not by accident have we inherited the writings of men who searched for and discovered the ways of God. Thousands gave their lives to establish and defend our right to possess these truths.

Life, my son, is like the games boys love! You learn to give and take. There are rules—and sometimes penalties. And when the game is over . . . you've either won or lost.

This Bible has been treasured for centuries, in Church and in home, because it contains the rules of life. Its great truths enable us to play the game and win! Read it carefully, son—and remember, all through your life the Church will help you apply its truths.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

BOY SCOUT HOMES — At least three Big Spring troops now have permanent homes for meeting places. Two, shown at left, are in process of completion. Top is that of No. 5, sponsored by the First Baptist church Brotherhood, located on extreme south Lancaster street. George Melear, chairman of the building committee, is shown with the building, which, like the one below, is a gift from the City of Big Spring from its surplus army buildings. The second building is for Troop No. 8, sponsored by the Wesley Methodist church to which it is being attached. Elra Phillips, scoutmaster, is in the foreground. To the right is the rock-vener hut erected several years ago by East Fourth Baptist Brotherhood members for its Troop No. 4. Troops No. 1 and No. 2 also are preparing for new homes. (Jack M. Scout Court Will Highlight Local Observance Of Week

A special Court of Honor in the district court room Tuesday night will highlight local observance of "National Boy Scout" week, which also will commemorate two other major attainments in the Buffalo Trail Council, Scout officials announced Saturday.

In addition to celebrating Boy Scouts of America's 38th anniversary, Scouts, adult leaders and parents here are observing the Buffalo Trail Council's silver jubilee and the formal opening of the new Scout Ranch in the Davis mountains.

The Court of Honor was listed on the regular calendar for Feb. 3, but officials elected to postpone the event to conform to "National Boy Scout Week" plans.

Other activity will include programs by Scouts and Cubs at service club luncheons during the week, and several features planned by individual troops. Sponsoring organizations also will join their respective troops in celebration.

Arrangements are expected to be completed within the next day or two for public demonstrations by Cubs.

On Friday, the closing day of official "Boy Scout Week" observance, a group of local Scouts will depart for a three-day exploration trip to the new Scout Ranch. Arrangements have been made for two members of each troop to make the excursion.

Celebrations were launched on a council-wide scope Friday afternoon with a radio broadcast transmitted by eight stations in the council. Scouts from various communities in the council participated on the program, which was highlighted by a five-minute transcribed message from Gov. Beauford H. Jester. Gilbert Sawtelle, a senior Scout from Troop No. 1, represented the Big Spring district on the program. He repeated the Scout citizenship pledge on the broadcast.

Provides Fun

One of the secrets of the Boy Scout program is to regard it as a game. That doesn't mean scouting is all play, for indeed scouts have a definite plan of work to be followed in advancement. But the program is so designed that it never ceases to be fun for the boy. Scouting gets a grip on him because it is a glorious, continuing adventure.

Many ancient structures of Europe have copper roofs hundreds of years old.

Fifteen Counties Make Up Council

The fifteen counties in the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council are Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Ward, Ector, Andrews, Midland, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Fisher, Kent and Stonewall.

There were about 180,000 Negro soldiers in the Union armies during the Civil War in the United States. Extracting the fangs does not make a poisonous snake harmless since a number of replacement fangs in various stages of development usually are present.

'Newcomer' Troop No. 9 Known As One Of Most Active Groups

Scout Troop No. 9, a mere "newcomer" in comparison with some other units in the 25-year-old Buffalo Trail Council has proved to be one of the most active groups in the Big Spring district during its entire seven-year history.

Success of this unit is attributed by veteran Scout leaders to an attractive, energetic program for boys, primary objective of Scouting, administered by capable adult leaders.

Troop No. 9 was organized in December, 1940 by Cecil Nabors and Elra Phillips, and these two Scouters are the only Scoutmasters to serve as head of the group, with Phillips serving in that capacity at present. Troop No. 9 also has the distinction of being the first unit organized in the district after H. D. Norris assumed the duties of field executive.

Nabors served as Scoutmaster for the unit until 1945 when the reigns were turned over to Phillips, who had left Troop No. 9 two years earlier to organize a troop in the airport section. Phillips holds the eagle rank.

Seven of the charter members served overseas during the war, and two, Cecil Drake and Doyle Dunbar are now in the armed service in Italy and Germany, respectively.

Eddie Hickson, who now serves as junior assistant Scoutmaster, last summer became the first Scout in the district and the second in the council to receive the God and Country Award.

W. A. Hale and Weldon Lowe are assistant Scoutmasters. Lowe is a charter member of the troop, and is continuing his interest in Scouting by serving in a leadership role.

The troop is sponsored by the church. Heretofore, regular meetings have been held in the church building, but a new Scout hut, constructed from a surplus Army building contributed by the city, is nearing completion. When the construction work is finished activities are expected to expand.

Troop No. 9 committee members are T. L. Lovelace, J. E. Duggan, J. D. Lowe, Johnnie Garrison, W. D. Lovelace, L. C. Coleman and J. M. Saunders. Eagle

Scouts affiliated with the unit are Preston Dunbar, Doyle Dunbar and Cecil Drake.

Others on the roster are Jimmy Wilkerson, David Wilkerson, Gary Gray, Johnnie Garrison, Sammy Kersh, Alvin Moore, C. L. Girdner, Joe Parker, Ronald Farquhar, Edwin Walton, Haley Hodnett, J. E. Big Spring Host For Two Annual Council Features

Big Spring is host each year for two annual events of the Buffalo Trail Scout Council which usually brings hundreds of visitors to the city from virtually all communities in the 15-county area.

Largest gathering on the calendar is the annual Roundup, a three-day event that was instituted in Big Spring. Normal attendance at the Roundup ranges from 750 to more than 1,000 Scouts and adult leaders.

The program features a mass encampment at the Roundup grounds south of town and units from throughout the council participate in competitive events designed to stimulate interest in all phases of Scouting.

Dates for the annual Roundup of 1948 are April 22-23-24.

The council's annual business meeting and banquet also are held in Big Spring each year. Some 250 adult leaders usually attend. They elect council officers and map yearly programs of work for the council organization.

CANYON'S MOUTH—Here is the windmill of a small ranch house at the mouth of Aguja Canyon, where Boy Scout supporters in 15 West Texas counties are planning to build roads and facilities for an all-year-round camp. A $200,000 Buffalo Trail Council Ranch Fund Campaign to improve a 6,000-acre tract will begin Feb. 9.

Gang For Good

Many an oldster shudders when the word "gang" is used in connection with boys. The Boy Scouts of America, however, is thankful for the gang, for it takes this natural, small, congenial unit of boys and moulds it into a patrol. Usually four patrols are banded together to make a troop. Leaders give the patrols something constructive to do and the gang is made a great force for good.

In the past seven years, about 12 million telephones have been added to the world total, 10,800,000 of them in the United States.

Roads To Be Built For New Scout Ranch

One of the largest expenditures which must be met in development of the Buffalo Trail Council's Scout Ranch involves construction of roads. Although all but a very small portion of the 6,000-acre tract will be left in its natural state, passable roads must be provided to connect permanent facilities and buildings with the outside world.

Television Gains Around London

LONDON — Britain's television audience has increased by 66 per cent in the last six months, reports the British Post Office, which issues radio and television licenses. The total now is 31,250, the report said. Television reception is limited to a circle around London, in which the country's only transmitter is located.

More Than Two Million Youths To Join In Scout Anniversary

The week of Feb. 6-12 marks formal observance of Young America's largest birthday celebration, as more than 2,120,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America participate in activities denoting the 38th anniversary of the organization.

The anniversary is being celebrated in every city and town and in most villages and hamlets through the nation and its possessions.

The theme of Boy Scout week this year is, "The Scout Citizen at Work. . . in his home. . . in his community. . . in his nation. . . in his world." Scouting activities for the year, beginning with the birthday celebration, will be related to this theme.

The nation's Boy Scouts are engaged in the program of saving and producing food to alleviate the world's food shortage. As a part of the service program this year, each Boy Scout will be encouraged to "save a bushel, grow a bushel, share a bushel" of food.

Each Cub pack, Boy Scout troop, Senior Scout Unit, will share in a "Report to the Nation" that will tell of community services, last year and the program for this year. The report will be made to the President of the United States, to Congress and to the United Nations.

In addition to conserving food and natural resources, the Boy Scouts will emphasize safety and fire prevention, home repairs and personal health. Through their World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts the Scouts have sent more than 3,000 tons of supplies to help Scout organizations overseas to rebuild. This aid is to be continued throughout 1948.

Leaders Throughout World Send Greetings To Scouts

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, February 8, 1948

Boy Scout officials from throughout the world have forwarded messages of greeting to millions of men and boys who have been associated with the organization in America since it was formed in 1910.

Foremost among the comments, of course, is the message from Amory Houghton, Corning, N. Y., president of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"In greeting past and present members of Scouting on this 38th birthday," Houghton said, "I would like to announce a program which will help us realize to the utmost the possibilities of Scouting for the general good of our nation and of the world during these uncertain times. The program is: 'The Scout citizen at Work . . . in his home . . . in his community . . . in his nation . . . in his world.' In the name of the national council, I salute all those volunteer leaders who give devoted service to boys all year round. They are a strength to Scouting and the nation."

The Boy Scouts of America, chartered by Congress, considers its Scouts as "real boy citizens of this republic," says Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive. "As citizens," he continues, "They have not only rights and privileges but duties and responsibilities."

The boys of the nation are urged to "understand and care about other people and to be tolerant and respect the rights of others. This is the advice of Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America, who for a third of a century was highest administrative officer of the organization.

"It is fairly universally recognized, in my judgment," Dr. West said, "That the Scout, by his special experience and training, has definite and distinct citizenship advantages. He has accepted his personal responsibility to plan his daily life and actions so as to keep himself physically strong, straight."

Calling Scouting "a pattern of living that strengthens the nation" Dr. George J. Fisher, National Scout Commissioner, pays tribute to the movement's efforts to enrich home life.

"The home is the nation's most important social unit. It should be kept intact and strong," Dr. Fisher declared.

"Understanding and goodwill cannot be confined to a selected few who think as we do, but must be extended to those whose ideas may seem even opposed to our own," said Col. John Skinner Wilson, director of the Boy Scouts International Bureau in London. He characterized the extension of understanding and goodwill to Scouts of former enemy countries "a hard job, but one well worth doing."

Major-General Daniel C. Spry, Chief Executive commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association in Canada, has called for a "wider citizenship that embraces not only national patriotism, but loyalty to the ideal of a better world."

The Boy Scout creed of service to others has been responsible for many former members rising to positions of leadership throughout the work, Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire, pointed out.

Juan Laine, Chief Scout of Mexico and president of the Inter-American Boy Scout Advisory committee, made a plea for closer relationships among all Scouting organizations of the western hemisphere. In his message for Boy Scout Week, Laine expressed admiration of Scout organizations throughout the Americas during the past 38 years.

Troop 4 Proud Of Its Record Over A Decade

Arthur Leonard, with one of the longest records as scoutmaster, heads a troop, No. 4, with one of the longest records of service in Big Spring.

Troop No. 4 is sponsored by the East Fourth Baptist church, and has been since its inception nearly a decade ago. Until recently, it was the only troop which had been furnished a scout hut by its sponsors. The meeting place, exclusively for use of the boys, was erected several years ago.

Leonard, who attained the rank of Star scout when he was in the ranks himself, works with a troop committee composed of the Rev. James Parks, pastor, Roy Williams, Buck Tyree, Denver Yates, Walter Grice, Keats Watts and Alvin Smith. The scoutmaster has been serving in that capacity for six years.

Members active in Troop No. 4 now include Marshall Burrus, Loy Carroll, Dickey Cooper, Raymond Gilstrap, Billy King, Delano Knox, Bobby Leonard, Jack Little, Don Logan, Glen Perkins, Ray Whitley, Donald Wren, Chester Cluck, Jimmie Harper, Buster Crabbe, Dub Day and Cecil James.

City's First Troop Soon Will Observe Its 37th Anniversary

Only a year and a half younger than the Boy Scout movement in the United States, troop No. 1 of Big Spring is pointing to its 37th birthday this autumn.

And by that time its leaders hope that the embattled unit which has maintained continuous registration since its first charter was granted on Oct. 6, 1911, will be in full stride once more.

During its little less than two score years, troop N. 1 has faced its difficulties, being sponsored at one time or another by the old railroad YMCA, private citizens, churches, and for several years now the Rotary club.

Naturally, it has had its valleys and mountains in scouting experience and activity, yet it has never allowed a charter to lapse. Now in the process of reorganization after one of its dips, No. 1 has a new scoutmaster — Gene Anderson, who is to be assisted by Jack Cook. Anderson, incidentally, attained the rank of life scout as a former member of the troop.

When the troop is reactivated, it will meet in its own home — the first it has had in its 36 years of history. The Rotary has been given a half barrack building by the city and is installing it on land loaned by the schools near the College Heights plant.

During its years of service to boys of Big Spring, No. 1 has earned many local district and council awards, has produced many leaders for scouting, including the present district chairman, W. S. Morrison.

The troop was organized by the late C. S. Holmes; father of scouting in West Texas, with the help of Mrs. B. Reagan and other interested mothers who had read of the new boys' program. Holmes was succeeded by the late J. M. Manuel, and these two rank as perhaps the outstanding scouters in local history of the movement.

Among those registered with the troop are Jim Bill Little, Pete Fuglaar, Bobby Fox, Gib Sawtelle, James Holley, W. C. Blankenship, Jr., Edward McClinton, Dewey Phelan, Roy Lee Pool, D. A. Miller, Glen Lee Jones, Tommy Hubbard, Dale Pritchett, Billy Cunningham, Bobby Bradford, Eddie Houser, Carroll Cannon, Dickie Cloud, Ikey Skiles, Bill Sewell, Kimbell Guthrie, Jack Ewing, Harold Rosson.

Scouting Having Revived In Many War-Torn Lands

Scouting is having a rebirth in many countries which were ravaged by war, according to a report from the Boy Scouts International Bureau in London which shows a world membership of 4,409,780 boys and leaders in 42 countries.

World peace and mutual understanding is an objective of Scouting, high officials have emphasized, and through World Scouting Jamborees and the resultant expanding interest in friendships, understanding and personal relationships through correspondence, these aims are increasingly being met. The Sixth World Jamboree last summer brought 30,000 Boy Scouts and leaders together in France from 38 nations.

The Boy Scouts of America is the largest group in the World Scout Brotherhood. Its 2,120,000 Scouts and leaders are members of 68,500 units. They, in turn, come under jurisdiction of 545 local Boy Scout Councils which provide camping experiences, leadership training, Scoutcraft activities and Courts of Honor to mark individual growth through the grades of the various programs.

'Be Prepared'

"Be Prepared." This is the Boy Scout motto and few mottoes of any organization are better known. The entire program of scouting is designed to prepare boys to meet any emergency or situation for themselves, and to be prepared to be better citizens through stronger characters.

Boys Encouraged To Advance Rank

Once into the program of scouting, boys are encouraged to advance. The second step is that of second class scout.

To attain this rank a Boy Scout must have served at least one month as a tenderfoot, he must know elemental first aid, know how to signal the alphabet and conventional signs by morse or semaphore, know how to follow tracking signs.

He must be able to use the scout pace properly, to use the knife and hatchet efficiently and effectively, to build a fire and use no more than two matches, to do some basic cooking, give proof of thrift, know the points on a compass and how to use it and to practice the rules of safety. Finally, he must give proof of having lived up to the scout oath and law.

Learn By Doing

Learn by doing. That is one of the cardinal principles involved in Boy Scout progress. The boy learns to do with both his hands, his body and his mind. As he learns, he is examined to see how well he has learned, then is given awards and recognized for his achievement.

Scouts' Sign

Boy Scouts have a sign, which identifies them with the program. The first three fingers are extended upward while the little finger and thumb are clasped across the palm. The three fingers signify the three points of the scout oath—duty to God and country, duty to others, duty to self. The sign is used in the clasp, made with the left hand.

Eisenhower Sounds Farewell To Troops

Army Reins Turned Over To Bradley

Brief Ceremony Is Performed Without Fanfare

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, turning over command of the army to Gen. Omar N. Bradley, sounded his farewell to America's fighting men today: "I'm not going to tell any stuffy goodbye to the troops. "I'll just tell them, By God, you've done a great job."

DWIGHT EISENHOWER ... steps out

OMAR BRADLEY ... takes over

TAFT PREDICTION

Agreement Is Seen On Aid Cost Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio), predicted today that those Republicans who favor a European recovery program in some form or another will reach agreement soon on its cost.

Mr. Truman was there, along with cabinet officers, members of Congress, and roomful of star-glittering generals and gold braided admirals. Mr. Truman told Eisenhower that he read an editorial this morning, captioned "Marshall-to-Eisenhower-to-Bradley" thought that fitted the occasion today.

Another decoration went on to the long list of Eisenhower's medals before he bowed out of office. Mr. Truman pinned on his blouse a third oak leaf cluster for the distinguished service medal signifying the fourth award of that high honor.

There was no fanfare, ruffle of drums, review of troops or running up of the colors to mark the change in command. Three minutes sufficed for the job. Bradley spoke only two words, "I do," when Eisenhower administered the oath. He grinned and declared: "With those words you have a job for the first time since the war began, Eisenhower could forget his worries — and he showed it. But the time between now, when he goes on leave preparatory to becoming resident of Columbia University, will not be a vacation."

He explained that to a farewell news conference, saying he would spend most of time in getting together his memoirs for a book, with perhaps a few days off "to do a little bone fishing down in Florida."

Gandhi Death Probe Reaches High Places

Administration Is Surprised In Alwar State

NEW DELHI, Feb. 7. (AP) The investigation of the assassination of Mohandas Gandhi began reaching into high places today.

The government of India suppressed the administration of the small state of Alwar and summoned its prince and prime minister to New Delhi for a preliminary inquiry.

An announcement said this drastic step was necessary to pursue without any obstruction an investigation into the administration's alleged "support or connivance" in activities of the outlawed RSS (National Volunteer Corps), and "its possible complicity in the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi and other serious crimes."

The 37-year-old maharajah who claims descent from Kush, eldest son of Rama, favorite deity of Gandhi, acquiesced in the government's action in a written direction to the civil and military services of Alwar to cooperate fully with the Indian administration.

He was given personal notification of the action by V. P. Menon, secretary of the Indian ministry of states, in the presence of Governor General Earl Mountbatten, and Home Minister Sardar Vallabhai Patel.

All available members of the negotiating committee representing India's princely state in the constituent assembly were consulted before the action was taken. They were reported to have concurred in the view that there were prima facie grounds for taking the step.

At Austin, Committeeman, Jerome Sneed said that while the President's recommendations were "incomprehensible," there should be no heated action.

Sneed is the committee member from the 20th district. He was Gov. Beauford H. Jester's Travis county campaign manager, is considered as being very close to the governor. He carried the ball for Jester recently when the state committee threatened to withhold Texas support for the national party's affairs if the party did not help Texas in its tidelands fight.

Committeeman Neville Penrose of Fort Worth also had something to say on the money question. "For sometime past there has been a strong feeling among Texas Democrats that monies being sent from Texas to the national committee in Washington were being used against the interests of the party in the South," he said.

Racial Ultimatum Sounded In South

Governors Threaten To Bolt Demo Party

WAKULLA SPRINGS, Fla., 7. (AP)—The conference of southern governors gave the Democratic national administration an ultimatum today to cease attacks on "white supremacy" or face full-fledged revolt in the South.

The conference adopted unanimously a resolution by Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, setting 40 days as the limit for a new meeting of governors to review developments.

The conference rejected an alternative proposal by Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, which would have called for a meeting of southern Democrats March 1 to consider a bolt from the Democratic party. The resolution failed for lack of a second.

Texas Cool Toward Any Demo Bolt

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—The threatened revolt of southern Democrats apparently is not making much headway with the folks now running the party in Texas.

Most members of the executive committee seemed to have taken a cue from Chairman Robert W. Calvert, who urged calm in face of the storm of protests from some other southern states over President Truman's civil rights proposals.

At Austin, Committeeman, Jerome Sneed said that while the President's recommendations were "incomprehensible," there should be no heated action.

Sneed is the committee member from the 20th district. He was Gov. Beauford H. Jester's Travis county campaign manager, is considered as being very close to the governor. BASCOM GILES ... no compromise

Giles Lashes Compromise Tidelands Plan

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—Another Texan shouted today to Federal proposals to share oil income from tidelands with the states.

He was Bascom Giles, land commissioner, who bluntly said the plan was a "subterfuge."

"It would sound the death knell for this state's permanent free school fund," Giles growled.

He was commenting on the proposal by Interior Secretary Krug that the Federal government channel 90 percent of tidelands income back to the states. Attorney General Price Daniel yesterday said Texas did not intend to give up "one dime" of its school income.

Daniels, Giles and Gov. Beauford H. Jester are spearheading a fight for legislation giving the states full title to their tidelands. This follows the U. S. Supreme Court's decision in the California case.

"The Federal plan is pure subterfuge and an effort to fool the public into believing that the Federal government would only take ten percent of the money," said Giles.

Deadline Near For Polio Drive

If you haven't done your part in the 1948 March of Dimes, you have only Monday to make a contribution to the fund which finances the campaign against infantile paralysis.

Howard County Polio Chairman C. S. Blomshield said Saturday that the special coin boxes and bottles throughout the city will be gathered up Tuesday morning, for a final accounting of local funds. He urged that donations be made Monday, either in these receptacles, or by turning funds to Ira Thurman or to the chamber of commerce office.

The local solicitation, directed by Mrs. Stella Womack, has a goal of $4,000, of which amount one-half will be retained here to assist local polio cases while the remainder goes to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Special donations which have been accounted for to date represent about one-half the goal. In addition to previously acknowledged sums, the following have come in: Girls' Athletic association special booth solicitation, $304; Toots Mansfield, $10; Brooks & Williams, $2; Mrs. T. E. Jordan, $5; Mrs. Gertrude DeVries, $10; and C. C. Jones, $5. The aggregate acknowledged is $1,990.38.

Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle

Button up your overcoats — for here we go again. With a generally disagreeable January behind, we should have been due a warmer, brighter February. The sun has scarcely shown itself during the first week, precious few drops of moisture have visited our thirsty fields and pastures, and Saturday that icy breath was going down our backs once more.

At the moment it has cooled the clamor about dogs. However, the city has announced a part time service in rounding up wandering dogs once warmer weather strikes the sparks of spring in canine hearts. A tag, incidentally, is no insurance against the catcher. City authorities reason an uncontrolled licensed dog can run a panny bed as effectively as an unlicensed one.

Across the board, a January stacked up statistically strong here in comparison to a year ago. Postal receipts were up 20 per cent, building 65 per cent. The latter figure still wasn't in the category with some of our neighbors. Warranty deeds continue high, reflecting a quicker pulse in real estate trading.

The speed with which McKee and company put up a pre-fabricated tool and storage house in one day last week caused some wistful thoughts on the housing situation. However, there were some encouraging signs in the long range picture with announcement of FHA approval for 15 homes in southeast Big Spring and the possibility of 20 smaller units being erected on the southern outskirts. Conversion of barracks, etc. still is adding some small homes.

Predictions of a minimum voting strength of 8,500 last week have been borne out by later tabulations of poll taxes and exemptions. Polls totaled 6,785, exemptions 1,165. Possibly 500 exemptions outside the city limits are not required to secure certificates. In proportion to our claimed population, our percentage registration is above average.

SELF HELP

LONDON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Several European countries indicated progress today toward integration of their economies in line with the self-help ideas of the Marshall Plan.

The French cabinet approved tentative plans for a customs union with Italy for the free exchange of goods between the two countries. The approval was on condition that the system be established in a series of steps. It will not be effective before a year or more. Italian experts have recommended the plan to their government.

Mishap On Plane Kills Crewman

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7. (AP)—With one member of its crew dead and several persons injured, an Eastern Air Lines Constellation which had reported itself afloat and being "ditched" flew in from the sea to safety today.

Twenty-six persons were aboard the Boston-Miami airliner, which was flown by Capt. W. E. Johnson, of Miami.

Johnson reported by telephone to EAL at Miami that his plane had an engine failure over the Atlantic. The Coast Guard gave the position of the plane at the time of the distress as 80 miles off Jacksonville, Fla.

West Ward To Get Relief

Some relief for crowded conditions at West Ward school was in prospect for this week.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said Saturday that a three-room unit was ready for use at the bombardier school area and that first classes would be held in it Tuesday.

First, second and third grades will be taught in the building, formerly used for bombardier cadet class work. All electric, heating, water and toilet connections have been installed.

Children in the Ellis Homes, Settles Heights, Wrights and Airport additions will be served by the additional unit said Blankenship. They will, however, report to regular classes Monday, when notice will be given to those who will transfer.

The shift will enable West Ward to make adjustments which will eliminate double-day sessions including and above the fourth grade.

Youth Shaken Up In Traffic Mishap

Johnny Coffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Coffee, was shaken up considerably Saturday afternoon when the motorbike he was riding was involved in a collision with an automobile.

Police reported that the boy apparently suffered no serious injuries and proceeded home via automobile after the accident. The motorbike apparently went out of control, officers said.

Education Group Holds Hearing To Learn Views

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—The Gilmer-Aikin committee made its first direct approach to the people of Texas today, seeking to build up support and cooperation for its program to improve public education.

The response of some 125 representatives of citizens groups throughout the state was enthusiastic. Kiwanians, Lions, the Congress of Parents and Teachers, the League of Women Voters, representatives of city school boards, and other service groups were on hand to learn the plans of the Gilmer-Aikin committee on education.

He is one of the statewide advisory committee on state organization. Frank Jackson, Tom Green county superintendent, is another West Texan on the committee.

Gilbert Webb, San Angelo newspaperman and Ed Williams, Colorado City superintendent, are among those on the statewide advisory committee on local administrative units. R. L. Williams, Beaumont, formerly of Sweetwater, is on the statewide advisory committee on textbooks, curriculum, and certification.

SLUMP CHIPS FEW CENTS OFF GROCERY COSTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Plunging grain prices ran into their first stubborn resistance in four days today, but the sharp slump in values already has chipped a few cents off the retail cost of groceries.

At least four important staples in the American diet — bread, flour, lard and some pork cuts — will cost less Monday in some of the nation's chain stores as a direct result of skidding grain prices. The possibility of generally lower retail prices in the near future has been brightened by declining hog prices and a backup of supplies in the wholesale levels, caused by consumer resistance to high prices.

CO-OPERATION HELPS POLICE

City police figure their work would be considerably simpler if all law violators would be considerate enough to notify them as one man did Friday.

A party telephoned headquarters and reported that he had been attacked by "four or five" drunks at a certain location. Officers proceeded to the spot without delay and sure enough, they sighted some half a dozen men in the vicinity. However, only one of the group appeared to be under the influence of intoxicants, and he proved to be the man who placed the call.

A $15 fine assessed in corporation court Saturday morning, for which he lacked sufficient funds, provided him enough time in the city jail to regain his bearings.

WEEKLY OIL

Texans Declare Fair Prices, More Steel Can Lick Shortage

HOUSTON, Feb. 7. (U)—Two Texans, one a state official and the other an independent oil operator, have advised Congress that fair prices and adequate steel supplies and not governmental price control are the answers needed for solving the nation's unprecedented demand for petroleum products.

The Senate committee, headed by Senator Charles W. Tobey, (R-NH), is considering a number of rationing and price control proposals. Thompson continued: "As to rationing, I feel certain that long before we could institute rationing the winter would be over and you would have a costly and unnecessary agency on your hands."

C-C To Accept Reservations On Thursday

Details of a seating plan and arrangements for tickets will be completed Saturday morning at a meeting of the banquet committee which is headed by Doug Orms.

Expensive Home Building Shows A Sudden Spurt

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (U)—There was a sudden spurt in building expensive homes in Texas last week. Along with it came a decline in homes costing less than $7,000, the Texas Contractor reported today.

Contracts for homes costing less than $7,000 last week numbered 293, compared with 910 the week before. There was no explanation offered for the changes.

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

O'Donnell Editor Anxious To Have Old Stage Routes Marked

Ben Moore, editor of the O'Donnell newspaper and West Texas historian, is anxious to mark the routes followed by old stage hacks which operated through the area some 50 years ago.

West Texans today cannot be blamed for lack of familiarity with early-day rigors encountered in settling and developing the section, he observed, for there has been little recorded history. Moore is an advocate of capturing this epoch on paper for posterity, and his campaign for retracing old stage routes is in this direction.

Contracts for homes costing less than $7,000 last week numbered 293, compared with 910 the week before. There was no explanation offered for the changes.

West Texas Oilmen Keep Eye On Argument Over Trucking

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Feb. 7. — The oil industry, particularly in West Texas, has an unusual interest in the outcome of a knotty trucking problem now pending before the Attorney General. Attorney General Price Daniel has heard oral arguments on the question and has given the interested attorneys until February 16th to file additional argument and information on the question.

Involved is the operation primarily of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company, one of the largest in the business. A few years ago, Texas allowed only a 7,000-pound truck load on Texas highways. This low restriction was gradually lifted until today a 48,000-pound load is allowed, with numerous and intricate provisions about distribution of weight, dimensions of the load and other factors.

According to Joe Parris, attorney for the company, this restriction on the load limit was acceptable at the time it was enacted into law. Subsequently, however, oil men drilled deeper and deeper for oil; and the supply companies such as Halliburton developed more efficient methods to help in this type of oil exploration.

Halliburton developed a mechanism carried by truck and trailer whereby the cement necessary to cement in one of these deep wells, is loaded into a sealed compartment at a railroad siding in the vicinity of the well. Into the cement as it is loaded from the railroad to the truck-mechanism, is mixed the proper chemical compounds — to make the cement more or less retentive to moisture, as indicated. The overall weight of wheels plus the load of cement may run 40,000 pounds for the load, or more. Four or five such trucks, held at the scene of the drilling, can give the driller a fast cement job.

The load limit law also provides that the highway department may issue a special permit, costing $5 per trip, or a special 90-day permit over the same route, for overweight trucks.

That's the background of the problem. The present fact situation is this:

In Attorney General Grover Sellers' term, an opinion was written holding that in the case of the overweight trucks (if trucks be the right name for them) they could be registered at the manufacturer's rated capacity — and the amount of the license is determined by the capacity, meaning the vehicles carried a high license fee rate. Then at the discretion of the highway department, special permits could be issued for the operation of these trucks.

Then just before Sellers' term ended, another opinion was written, completely reversing the earlier opinion under which Halliburton and others so situated had been operating. It said in substance that a truck could not be registered for more than 48,000 pounds — either the weight of the truck, or the carrying capacity.

Now the Highway Commission has asked for a reconsideration of that opinion.

Several representatives of trucking companies want the last opinion to continue. Their position briefly is that whenever they have an overweight load, they can haul it by paying the special permit; and they do not want to be compelled to register for overweight loads which are the exception with them rather than the rule.

New Vehicle Deliveries Rise Here

The past week produced brisk business activity in Big Spring, based on the three major yard sticks, with delivery of new motor vehicles occupying the top spot in local activity. Largest increase was noted in new passenger automobile sales, with a total of 36 licenses issued at the county tax-assessor-collector's office. This figure represents a gain of 16 over the previous week. At the same time nine new trucks and two new motorcycles were registered.

Warranty deeds filed in the county clerk's office indicated continued liveliness in the real estate field. A total of 28 instruments were filed, recording transactions aggregating $81,203. The dollar volume is a decrease from the previous week, but it kept 1948 figures well ahead of those a year ago. The total for the year now amounts to $348,169.

By the end of the week more than $100,000 in construction work had been contracted in the city since the first of the year. Eighteen permits issued during the week involved chiefly residential projects and repair work. Estimated cost figures for the week totalled $20,375, increasing the 1948 total to $106,735.

Grimes Running For Constable

The hat of M. H. (Shorty) Grimes was in the ring Saturday for the office of constable of precinct No. 1. Grimes announced subject to action of the democratic primaries. Grimes said that in asking for the office, he pledged "to be available for service 24 hours a day if need be, to handle the duties of the office promptly, impartially and courteously."

This type of work is not new to him, for Grimes has had peace officer experience, having been a member of the police force here. He said he resigned in 1942 to enter essential war work and then went into the army. Following his discharge he returned to essential war work before coming back to Big Spring.

He has been a resident of Big Spring and Howard county for 15 years and is married. Grimes said that many friends had encouraged him to make the race, and that he would make every effort to wage an active campaign for the office.

SIX ARRESTED

FBI Nips Plot To Use Navy Planes In Venezuela Revolt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—The FBI today announced six arrests in the transporting of two surplus Navy planes to Nicaragua "to be used in a bombing mission" against a Latin American country. Venezuela last week complained that two planes were flown from the United States with the presumed intention of attacking Caracas, Venezuela's capital. The FBI announcement said the six were charged with violating the Neutrality Act, which prohibits export of certain items including aircraft without a state department license. Those arrested were listed as: Edward Browder, Jr., Harry A. Snow, Charles E. Pavlicek, Kenneth J. Newcomer, Henry K. Baker and Capt. Olin D. Mason. Browder, a native of Amarillo was said by the FBI to have recruited the group to fly the planes to Central America, while he remained in the United States. The two big PBV (B-24) bombers were flown from Bush Field, Ga., to Puerto Carezas, Nicaragua, on Jan. 26. The Nicaraguan embassy announced Tuesday that two planes had been taken into custody. This followed a protest from President Betancourt of Venezuela to Nicaragua that the planes had left the United States. Betancourt spoke of a "foreign plot" to prevent the inauguration of president-elect Calles on Feb. 15. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the planes in the case "were to be used in a bombing mission as a part of a revolutionary plot against the present government of a Latin American country." The FBI said the pilots "were to get $30,000 each for the flight and were to fly to Nicaragua and other central American points, refuel and return to the United States through Texas." Hoover said that Mason and Snow, the latter described as a former RAF pilot from Amarillo and a member of the air reserve, were pilots of the two planes. Browder was arrested at Miami, Fla., while Snow, Pavlicek, Newcomer and Baker were taken into custody at New Orleans. The FBI said that Mason is from Vernon and has been absent without leave from Oliver General hospital, Augusta, Ga. He is being returned to the United States by way of Panama by military authorities. Coffman is added to HCJC Staff. Payne Coffman, 29, has been added to the staff of the Howard County Vocational School, an adjunct of the junior college, E. C. Dodd, co-ordinator, announced Saturday. Coffman holds his bachelor's degree from Texas A. & M. college and has six years of teaching experience. He comes here from Evant in Coryell county. Dodd said that the vocational school was seeking to ascertain interest in a full time auto mechanics school. Those interested in such a course, he said, should get in touch with him at the college. The class would be on a five-hour per day basis.

"PLEASE COME BACK"

Night Clerk Sees Many People, Situations In 20 Years Work

By LEATRICE ROSS

Twenty-five years ago Ernest S. Dorsett got fired, changed occupations and was rehired on the same day by the same employer. He has never changed vocations since, and employers only once. Last week he rounded out 20 years of service as night clerk for the Crawford Hotel in Big Spring. Back in 1918 at Gorman, Texas, he was happy as a hotel chef, never fretting about guests. Five years later, a surplus of cooks occurred and he was dismissed. That evening, however, the night clerk quit and the hotel manager gave Dorsett a few words of instruction, departed and left his new clerk to figure things out for himself. Dorsett soon got accustomed to the irregularity of a night worker—breakfast at 6 p. m., lunch at mid-night, dinner at 7 a. m. And the reversed routine took hold—he was at the desk nights from then on. In 1928, Dorsett heard from some of his hotel's guests of the erection of modern Hotel Crawford in Big Spring, and six months after its opening he was here applying for clerk's place under Manager Calvin Boykin. Dorsett could remember the town from a visit in 1917 in a covered wagon. "Jack of all trades, good at none," says Dorsett of himself in connection with his 25 years behind the desk. He recalls a time in the late 20's when he was clerk, switchboard man, porter, cook and housekeeper for a 44-room hotel. Desk clerk duties appealed to Dorsett from the very outset. He enjoys work in night auditing, finds interesting the hundreds of guests. In the past two decades Dorsett has registered many of Texas' governors, and screen stars Mickey Rooney, Clark Gable, Smiley Burnette—who sang a ditty for Dorsett one eve in the hotel lobby—and, more recently, Robert Mitch-

um. A genial, soft spoken man, Dorsett has gained a reputation among those with whom he has worked for constant and genuine courtesy. A tourist to him has always been as a personal guest. Only once in his years of service, he recalls, has he failed to bid farewell to anyone with his simple, "Thank you, sir. Come back again." That was one evening some years ago when the guest wielded a pistol instead of luggage—and even then he considered inviting the man back. The money bag which the culprit made away with had been a gift from fellow employees. Mr. Dorsett possesses an uncanny memory for faces. A guest jected to the irregularity of her husband's business hours. On his evenings off, the Dorsetts usually take in a movie. Dorsett once made the remark that if he completed 20 years with the desk he would be satisfied to retire and pilot an elevator. But 20 years have gone—and the elevator will have to wait another two decades, he has decided. AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—Associate Justice Few Brewster today announced he would seek election to a full six-year term on the State Supreme Court. Brewster advanced to an associate justiceship from the commission of appeals when the constitutional amendment enlarging membership of the court to nine was adopted in 1945.

Heavier production than the opener of the Jordan 4500 (Clear Fork) pool in northwestern Crane, to which it is a northwest offset, was indicated by Texaco No. 31 McKnight. It swabbed and flowed 206 barrels of fluid—80 per cent oil and 20 per cent basic sediment—in six hours following acidizing of open hole from 4,748-75 feet with 1,500 gallons. Location is 2,640 from the north, 660 feet from the east line of section 30-B16-psl.

The Shafter Lake Devonian field in Andrews county was extended one-half mile south and a quarter mile west by Frankel Bros. No. 1-C University, C NE SW 25-15-U, flowing 23.8 barrels of oil in one hour on a drillstem test from 9,500-9,785 feet.

A record oil flow from the Silurian in the Dollarhide, most southwesterly field in Andrews county, 75 barrels in 10 minutes, a rate of 450 barrels hourly, was made by Pure-Humble No. 3-E-A E. P. Cowden on a drillstem test of a cavernous section from 8,532-40 feet. Originally projected to the Ellenburger, it will be dually completed from the Silurian and Devonian.

Texaco No. 1-U University wildcat three miles south of Barnhart, swabbed an estimated two barrels of oil hourly after acidizing with 1,500 gallons through casing perforations at 8,670-8,750 feet. A Lane wells survey showed the base of the black shale 8,680 and the top of the Ellenburger 8,706 feet, 6,041 feet below sea level. The pipe was being perforated from 8,780-8,865. Location is near the C NW NW 22-40-U.

No. 1-C University became Hunt Oil Co. and Moore Exploration Co.'s third southern Reagan county wildcat to show oil in the San Andres and was to be shot from 2,365 to 2,420 feet, the total depth. It is 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 23-12-U.

Barnaby Seeks County Post

Neel Barnaby announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for the democratic nomination as county commissioner from precinct No. 3.

He pointed to a varied experience rather than to a long residence as a basis of qualification for the office and invited support of voters in the precinct as well as influence of friends interested in the precinct and county.

Born in Dublin, Barnaby is a graduate of Waco high school and has been a resident of Big Spring for 20 years and an employee of Cosden Petroleum Corp. since April 1929. He is married and he and Mrs. Barnaby have five children; is a Methodist, member of the I.O.O.F., American Legion, V.F.W., Lions, Country Club, and Navy reserve. He also has been active in Red Cross work as a first aider.

Barnaby served three years with the U.S.N. Civil Engineer Corps and was with the Seabees 22 months in the south and west Pacific.

Although he was twice selected as chairman of the Midway common school district board of trustees, this is the first time Barnaby has asked for public office.

"I feel that my engineering qualifications along with my acquaintance with the needs of the county and precinct and the desires of the people will help me to sincerely try to perform the duties of county commissioner," he said. "It is my personal ambition to see Howard county prosper and to see all of its potential resources developed and utilized. It is my desire to cooperate fully with organizations devoted to that common goal." Barnaby added that he would seek to present his candidacy in person to all the voters.

THIRSTY OR NOT

...it's delicious!

Everyone knows where this one's going

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power—and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflo Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

Truman Tax Plans Appeal To Texans

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. — President Truman's tax proposals to the current session of Congress have a lot of political appeal in Texas. In its latest statewide survey, The Texas Poll finds a large majority of the eligible voters favor reduction of taxes for the little fellow. At the same time, weight of opinion is for a raise in taxes on corporation profits.

Texas Poll interviewers throughout the state first asked a representative cross-section of eligible voters this question: "If you were a member of Congress, would you vote for or against a bill lowering taxes on corporation profits?"

With a challenge to live up to a reputation for service, 27 members were initiated into 20-30 International at a charter night affair in the Settles Saturday night.

Mayor G. W. Dabney told the group he was happy that young men felt the urge for civic service and J. H. Greene, who made the feature address, placed great store on the resources of youth and told young men they had an obligation of service to their community. Joe Bonfield, Clovis, N. M., master of ceremonies, affirmed these thoughts and told members here they should emphasize friendship and service to club and community.

District Governor Red Sanders, El Paso, installed Bill Merrick as president, Bob Hatcher as vice-president, Bob Hill as secretary and Cecil Ivey as treasurer. With Bill Vesuchamp and Don Burnam, they will be the directors.

Bill Lippman, Monahans, initiated new members, and charter was presented by Marion Bell, Carlsbad, N. M., international trustee, Bill Frank, Sacramento, Calif., field representative who organized the local club, gave his appreciation and charge to the club. Twenty-two out-of-town guests attended.

City Sewage Plant Awarded State Trophy

The City of Big Spring will receive a trophy for having the most attractive sewage plant in the state, Mayor G. W. Dabney was notified Saturday.

He was told of the award in a letter from Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, who said it would be presented at the annual water and sewage short course at Texas A. & M. college Feb. 8-12.

Roy Hester, superintendent of production for the city water department and who will be attending the course, will receive the award on behalf of the city, H. W. Whitney, city manager, said Saturday.

The loving cup signifying the accomplishment carries the inscription: "The most attractive appearing sewage treatment plant in the state." In addition to a neat layout on the modern treatment units, the plant also has been landscaped with grass, shrubs, rose bushes and trees.

This is the third time the plant has won special commendation. The first year of its operation it was selected as the most outstanding improvement of its kind in the state, and subsequently was given first place in making best use of effluent, part of which is taken by Cosden for industrial purposes.

The Week

brought good prices at Fort Worth Friday. Perry Walker's reserve champion of the entire show drew $2 a pound and Vernon Wolf's grand champion club calf got $1.50 per pound. Perry sold another 815 lb. animal for 47 1-2 cents and James Cagle an 875-lb. calf for 45 1-2 cents. It is interesting to note the average in the Howard county show was a cent above Fort Worth.

Completion of the Seaboard No. 1-B Caldwell in northern Howard county for 200 barrels of 43 gravity oil last week is significant. Next important step is to define the pool, and should it spread well, its effect will be tremendous. Much time and money are consumed in drilling holes 8,000 feet deep, so we won't know day after tomorrow about the extent of the pool.

Next livestock event here is on Feb. 21 when Howard County Hereford Breeders hold their fourth annual auction. Effect of better breeding as exemplified in the herds of members is showing up in cattle in the area. Animals on exhibit won't be rolling fat like club calves, but they'll have plenty of points for judges of stock.

International Air Parcel Post Slated

A new international air parcel post service to 32 countries through an arrangement completed by the government and three major overseas carriers is to go into effect March 1. Preston Hopkins, terminal manager for Continental Air Lines, said Saturday.

Proposed rates for the new parcel post plan will be based on the costs of air shipping between any city in the U. S. and the foreign country, plus expenses of postoffice handling at home and abroad. A typical example will be $8.79 for a five pound package personally delivered to any point in England.

Condition Critical

Condition of S. H. Morrison, attorney here for more than half a century, was critical Saturday. Earlier in the week he had rallied but he reportedly had lost strength since that time. He is in a local hospital.

Use vegetables to stretch eggs. Potatoes, added to an omelet, make a hearty dish. Beat potatoes until they are lump-free and fluffy. Then add to the egg mixture and cook as usual.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (U) — Dr. G. Cole Herndon, 36, San Antonio physician, was killed instantly at 9 p. m. Friday when his automobile and a truck collided here. Dr. Herndon was the city's second traffic fatality of the year. Traffic investigator J. L. Kinsel listed Hersel Ed Rice, 33, as driver of the truck. Rice escaped injury.

Men, Regain Youthful Vigor

Here is a Vital Message to Men of 40, 60 or Older Men Who Feel That The Years Have Let Them Down

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Why not try to regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed; why be discouraged? Regain the verve and zest of a much younger man. Just ask your druggist for Caltron stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. There is nothing harmful in Caltron tablets. Take as long as you feel you need them. Added years may no longer deprive you of desired enjoyment. Why be the victim of the "older years?"

Don't Be Discouraged
 Goethe finished Faust at 82; Connie Mack is still managing the Athletics at 85; Tiltan painted masterpieces between 80 and 90; Clara Barton was an active president of the Red Cross at 89; Verdi was composing, Victor Hugo was writing, Corot was painting long after 80.
 So don't let the added years set you down. Why not try Caltron tablets today? Available at all druggists.

PONTIAC

A FINE CAR MADE EVEN FINER!

GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional on all models!

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends.

Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—now offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal.

Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawn mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say—

—here is, by far, the most beautiful Pontiac ever built
 —here is the most luxurious Pontiac ever built
 —here is the most dependable Pontiac ever built —and it is now available with GM Hydra-Matic Drive—optional at additional cost.

We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

Sam Snead Is Ahead In Texas Open Meet

Metz In Second Place As Halfway Mark Is Reached

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7. (AP) — Slammin' Sammy Snead, the reticent man from Virginia, ripped Brackenridge park's soggy three-plus miles for a six-under-par 65 today to grab the lead by a stroke at the half-way mark of the $10,000 Texas open.

The Slammer romped in for a 36-hole total 131 as the field was cut to the low 60 scorers and ties for tomorrow's 36-hole finals.

Within shooting distance of the leaders were Jim Ferrier, the burly San Francisco pro; Cary Middlecoff, of Memphis, Tenn.; Bobby Locke, the star from Johannesburg, South Africa; Al Smith, Little-known pro from Winston-Salem, N. C., and Norman Von Nida of Sydney, Australia, one of yesterday's leaders. Each had 134.

Ferrier, who was tied with Von Nida, Eric Monti of Santa Monica, Calif., and Ky Laffoon of St. Andrews, Ill., at the end of yesterday's first round, each with a 65, slipped to a 69 today.

Tied at 135 were Demaret, Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., E. J. Harrison of Little Rock and R. E. McCreary of Houston, the only amateur to crack the top 20. McCreary had a fine 66 today to go with his 69 of yesterday.

West Texas Softball Leaders Meet Here

Softball leaders from eight or ten West Texas cities will descend upon Big Spring this afternoon to further plans for the formation of a West Texas softball league. The parley will begin at 3 p. m. at the Settles hotel.

The mushball enthusiasts met here two weeks ago and entered at length into discussion for such a function. The circuit definitely takes shape today, however.

Ralph Bumpass, Lubbock, is acting as temporary chairman of the circuit. He will represent Lubbock along with several other parties. Other cities which will have delegates on hand are San Angelo, Midland, Abilene, Odessa, Stamford, Crane and Big Spring.

Efforts will be made here to field a team in the league despite the fact that the city has no closed-in park. L. D. Cunningham and Leon Glenn Bredemeyer will represent Big Spring at the parley. All others interested in such a venture can attend.

The league teams will play twice a week, according to present plans. Some cities will have two teams in the circuit, guaranteeing home games each week.

HAS 241 POINTS

Houser Nears Scoring Record

A 12-point average through the Big Spring high school Steers' first 20 games has enabled Capt. Eddie Houser to close in on the scoring record he set last year. Eddie's point total to date is 241, which leaves him just four shy of his aggregate for the entire 1946-47 season.

Houser has missed on 34 occasions from the penalty line but has collected 45 points on gratis pitches to lead in that department, as well.

With four district games and at least two contests in the district tournament ahead of him, Houser has a good chance to hit the 300 mark for the year.

In their 20 games, 15 of which they have won, the Longhorns have averaged 35 1-2 points compared to 27 1-2 for the opposition. In all, they've scored a total of 711 points compared to 555 for the foe. The locals ran up their biggest score against Pecos in the Odessa tournament when they hit the bucket for 56 points. Their worst showing was against Lubbock early in the season, when they could manage only 16 points.

Delmar Turner, tall center, is coming along after a slow start. His point total is 122 points, the only player on the team, outside of Houser, to get more than a hundred points.

SALVADOR FLORES ... In Preliminary

FENTON BACK

Funk Opposes Flores At AC Monday Night

Dory Funk, that nice young fellow from Hammond, Indiana, returns to the Big Spring Athletic club Monday evening to engage in a catch-as-catch-can match with Salvador Flores, the Mexican jumping bean.

The two boys come to grips in the 8:15 o'clock preliminary and an excellent grapple duel is in prospect for the customers, who have been getting used to a series of small riots of late.

Funk is a crowd pleaser. Flores won a lot of friends in his stand against Leon Kirilenko, the Mad Russian, last week. Virtue triumphed in the end in that one when Sal was awarded the match by Referee Billy McEun, who ordered Kirilenko to go stand in a corner after he refused to ease up on the rough stuff.

Kirilenko gets a fresh start in the main event Monday, meeting Rod Fenton of Montreal, Canada, in a setto that could well be the saltiest thing ever staged at the muscle-head manor.

Fenton is quite an article. Those of the grappling fraternity who have worked against him give him credit for being a lot rougher than he appears to be from fourth row center. He tries his villainy almost casually.

Even though he is a meanie, the BSAC throng may be in his corner. Kirilenko is vicious in an obnoxious sort of way. To his way of thinking, the onlookers can like it or lump it. He won't reform.

Conclave To Be Held Feb. 22

Directors of the Longhorn baseball league will convene at Abilene Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22, to adopt a schedule for the 1948 season.

Schedules for both six and eight club leagues are being brought to the session. League President Howard Green has notified the directors, though an eighth club has not yet been chosen for the circuit.

The circuit teams will play a 140-game program, according to present plans, starting April 21 and ending Sept. 6.

Chances for an eight-club league appear dim at the present time. Childress citizens recently turned thumbs down on a bond issue that would have provided funds for the election of a park. Altus, Okla., apparently is out, as far as the league is concerned. From all indications, only six clubs will break the barrier in April.

Pat Stasey and Claude McAden will represent Big Spring at the Abilene meeting.

Courtney Beaten By Buffs, 27-25

FORSAN, Feb. 8.—Forsan's Buffaloes upset the Courtney Eagles in an exciting District 21B basketball game here Friday night, 27-25. The Bisons have one more game on their regular schedule. They are booked to meet Coahoma in Coahoma Tuesday night.

For a quick and delicious snack, English muffins may be split, toasted and buttered, then spread with yellow cheese and Italian tomato paste and given another moment or two under the broiler.

About 40,000 people can crowd into the cathedral at Milan, Italy.

District 21B Cage Title To Be Decided This Week

Sterling Flock Early Favorite

Basketball championship of District 21B goes on the line in Sterling City next weekend with at least four teams afforded a good chance to knock off the favorite, Sterling.

Sterling was sailing along without a blemish on its record until last Thursday night when the Courtney Eagles shocked George Tillerson's team with a six-pointlicking.

Tillerson's gang is still leading the parade by a full game but the defeat took a lot of starch out of the Eagles.

Stanton, despite the fact that it has twice been clipped by Sterling, is given the best chance to cool off the Flock. Both of Sterling's wins over Stanton were by narrow margins.

The luck of the draw is in Stanton's favor, too. The Buffs drew a first round bye and plays the winner of the Garden City-Courtney game Saturday afternoon to get to the finals.

Garden City and Courtney play at 7 p. m. Friday in the only upper bracket first round game. Lower bracket contests pit Knott against Sterling at 8 p. m. Friday and Forsan against Coahoma at 9 p. m. Friday.

Besides Stanton, Courtney, Forsan and Knott are all given good chances to get to the throne room. Semifinal games will be played at 3:00 and 4:00 p. m. Saturday while the finals are booked for 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Steer Diamond Drills Begin February 16

Conn Isaacs, Big Spring high school baseball coach, announced Saturday that Steer baseball drills will begin at Steer park Monday, Feb. 16.

The District 3AA diamond schedule will not be drawn up, Isaacs said, until both the Longhorn and WT-NM professional leagues have announced their schedules.

The Steers will have seven lettermen, including Harold Berry, righthanded twirler, returning to the fold. Those who will report to Isaacs are Sam Thurman, catcher; Donnie Carter, hard hitting first sacker; Ray Walker, second baseman; Eddie Kohanek, outfielder; and D. A. Miller, short stop.

In addition, Howard Washburn, who won a reserve numeral in 1947, will return. Washburn is a second baseman.

Abilene's Eagles won the 3AA championship last spring.

The ringer tournament started the first of the year at the Big Spring country club will be continued through February, Pro Shirley Robbins announced Saturday. Original plans were to terminate the meet Jan. 31 but bad weather throughout the month limited the number of entries.

At the present time, Bill Crook and Jake Morgan are tied for the lead in the meet. Each has shot a five-under-par 31.

Good Business Calls For Good Accounting

A well-known economist has said: "Once a business becomes too big for one brain to handle personally, accounting takes over the job."

American business could not have grown to its present size without accounting.

Advising business, big and small, on management problems involving accounting is an important part of the work of many Certified Public Accountants. They help management keep expenses in line with income ... pay the right taxes (not too much or too little) ... cut overall costs.

A CPA's work can help business efficiency and economy — which in turn may result in lower costs and lower prices.

Sheppard Sees Equipment Need

With completion of the building program of the Salvation Army youth center in sight, Capt. Olvy Sheppard said Saturday that the need for equipment was being multiplied.

The last half of a barracks building to be used on the project is due to be moved in during the week, he said.

Plans are to organize approximately eight groups, half of them for boys and the remainder for girls, based on age and interest in programs.

Among items of equipment which Capt. Sheppard hopes will be donated are: Any type of old piano, musical instruments, small games such as dominoes, checkers, chess, monopoly, miscellaneous athletic equipment, benches or chairs.

Jig or hand-saws, miscellaneous tools for hobby shop, used 16 mm movie film, any used popular recordings for use on the PA system, books for youngsters, toys which may be repaired, a cast off type-writer capable of repair, game tables, and two desks of any kind.

Jayhawks Drop Rough Tilt To Cisco, 62 To 54

Rankin Scores 25 Points To Lead Offense

CISCO, Feb. 7. — Cisco Junior college's basketball team turned on the steam in a rough and tumble second half to decision the Howard County Junior college Jayhawks 62-54 here Saturday night. The count was knotted at 17-17 at the end of the first half, but the spirit of the fray zoomed upward during the second period. The roughness developed gradually after Jackie Barron of the Hawks and Mosely of Cisco were banished from the game by officials when they became involved in a ruckus. Coach Harold Davis of HCJC said the two officials disagreed on sending Barron out of the game with one contending that the Cisco player instigated the ruckus. The other man in

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Isn't it about time the Big Spring school board did something about naming a successor to Pat Murphy as head football coach? . . . Who ever takes the job will have a tough enough row to hoe as it is . . . Dick Bassi, who played pro football for the Chicago Bears some years back, is one of the few men ever associated with the game who could boast of Swiss ancestry . . . Matty Bell, a visitor in Our Town several weeks back, was the principal speaker at Odessa high school's grid banquet last night . . . The Clarence Weikel channeling athletic news to the papers for Texas A & M college is the same fellow who umpired in the Longhorn baseball league late last summer . . . The injury Don Clark suffered in the HCJC-TWC basketball game in Fort Worth Friday night was his fourth mishap of the season . . . Don could be called the Pete Reiser of the hardwoods . . . He takes chances where other players would hesitate . . . One of the newest additions to the Jayhawk squad is Pete Cook, a whale of a football player for Big Spring high school a few years ago . . . Red Stidger, who helped Amarillo's Golden Sandies defeat the Big Spring Steers in that historical state quarter-final grid classic at Lubbock in 1934, is now officiating high school basketball games in deep East Texas . . . Stidger went to SMU from Amarillo along with John Harlow . . . Henry Stollenwerck, the sensational Waxahachie back, may be lined up to attend Texas university but he was an honor guest at a banquet for the Southern Methodist team in Dallas several days ago . . . At least two members of the Odessa grid team are lined up to go to Oklahoma university.

George Gentry, Jr., who grew up here, will report to spring football drills at the University of Texas Monday. . . Young George, whose Pop is now associated with the schools in Goose Creek, won a freshman letter at Texas last fall . . . The American Business Club may shoulder the job of staging the Big Spring Relays, which annually launches the track and field season in West Texas. . . The Relays have become too much of an institution to be dropped. . . Amarillo won the team title here last year, nosing out the Odessa Broncs. . . Pat O'Dowdy, Our Town's grapple promoter who wrestles on the road about three times weekly, washes his face in salt water nightly to toughen the skin. . . Jarrell Price, the Brownfield lineman who is going to Texas Tech, played tremendous ball the two times the Big Springers played the Cubs. . . The Brownfield forward wall looked like a college line and Price was one of the big reasons the primary was deep in quality. . . Al Jordan, the Soil Conservation Service expert, has refereed many a basketball game in his time but admits he's a bit rusty on his rules. . . He's a former coach. . . Tex Richard, who is going to have a suitable monument placed on his grave if the New York State Athletic commission can find the place where he was interred, took a $200,000 beating on the Gene Tunney-Tom Heene fight back in 1928. . . Tunney had been guaranteed $525,000, Heene $100,000. . . The latest report said Rickard's grave had been "lost". He is buried somewhere in the Texas Valley. It wouldn't have done for big John King, the almost legendary baseball figure who was the subject of a recent story in the Saturday Evening Post, to have come in contact with Louis Janicek, the famed screwball of the Big Spring WT-NM league club back around 1928. . . Janicek was a left-hander all the way. . . As a matter of fact, he was often accused of thinking that way. . . He was always good for a chuckle, however. . . Once in a desperate moment against the Lubbock Hubbers with the mighty Hack Miller at bat and the count at '3 and 2', Lefty Louie stopped the game, ankled over to the third base line and carefully picked up a pebble that must have been invisible from the pitcher's mound. . . Miller almost blew a fuse. . . The time Janicek had thrown away the stone and returned to the hill, Hack was quaking in rage. . . The wrong-hander then showed a strike past him. . . One of the best authorities on John King lore is Our Town's Sammy Sain.

Second Teachers Class Organized

A second class composed of teachers was organized Saturday at the Howard County Junior college for a course in science. Members of the class were from Howard, Martin and Dawson county schools. A week ago a similar class in education was organized among Howard and Martin teachers. Monday evening additional enrollment in an industrial education class of applied mechanics will be received at the college, said E. C. Dodd, president. Several, including Latin, American veterans have signed for the course.

Three Sisters Die In Basement Fire

WAUKEGAN, Ill. Feb. 7. (U.P.)—Three young sisters perished and three of their brothers suffered burns, one severe, in a fire in the basement of their home in nearby Round Lake Beach last night as they celebrated a birthday party for one of the victims. The dead were Doris Elaine Jones, 9, who was guest of honor at the party, and her sisters, Victoria, 2, and Rebecca, 14.

Williams Play Is Modernized

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7. (U.P.)—Instead of a "Streetcar Named Desire," it soon will be a "Bus Named Desire." The old-time trolley which was brought to fame by Tennessee Williams' Broadway play will be supplanted soon by a modern bus. Approval of the change was given yesterday by the city commission. Twenty-seven members of the young people's organization of the First Christian church attended from here, together with Mrs. Cliff and Mrs. Harry Lees. Joy Williams and Don Williams of Big Spring were in charge of the closing consecration service.

Eaglets Hurdle HCJC Quintet Friday, 66-40

DENTON, Feb. 7. — North Texas State Teachers college's Eaglets used an advantage in height and an abundance of reserves to defeat the Howard County Junior college Jayhawks, 66-40, in a basketball exhibition played here Friday night.

The Eaglets led all the way but the Hawks made it interesting for the home club in the first half and were trailing but only eight points at half time. HCJC made only 11 field goals during the evening but were pleasantly busy with shots from the foul line, sinking 18 attempts from that spot. The Eaglets showed a marked superiority in most phases of the game but could not stop Horace Rankin, who enjoyed his most torrid evening of the season. He collected eight field goals and five gratis pitches for 21 points, nearly twice as many as any one else on the court was able to compile.

U. S. Attains Second Place In Olympics

Bobsled Race Won By Yanks

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 7. — Arguments and snow failed to stop the Americans today as they pulled into second place in the Winter Olympic games with a championship in the four-man bobsled race. It was the United States' No. 2 team, piloted by Francis Tyler of Lake Placid, N. Y., that streaked four times down the mile of sheer ice in the total time of five minutes, 20.1 seconds to add more gold medals and points to the American aggregate.

Only last night Tyler threatened to withdraw. Officials had ruled that all second runs yesterday were not to be counted because some of the teams had not been able to compete when a water main burst and flooded the tunnel of ice. He still was angry this morning. The U. S. No. 1 team, guided by James Bickford of Saranac Lake, N. Y., was third.

Biggest feat of the day, however, was the somer sauit taken by the International Olympic committee which restored hockey to the Olympic program but added the U. S. Amateur association team would not be awarded diplomas of competition. The Swiss had insisted all along that hockey was a part of the Olympics even though the IOC ruled it out in the squabble over U. S. representation.

In addition to Tyler's championship, other titles decided were: Figure skating by pairs—won by Melhine Lannoy and Pierre Baugniet of Belgium. Yvonne Sherman and Robert Swenning of New York, were fourth and the Kennedy children, Karol and Peter, of Seattle, Wash., were sixth. Ski jumping—won by Peter Hugsted of Norway. Gordon Wren of Winter Park, Colo., took fifth place—the first time an American male ever scored a point in an Olympic ski event.

With only the hockey championship to be settled—Czechoslovakia is the leader followed by Canada, Switzerland and the United States—the Associated Press scorecard, based on basis of 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the six places shows: Sweden 73 points, United States 71 1/2, Switzerland 73, Norway 69 1/2, Austria 51, Finland 49, France 39, Italy 25, Belgium 18, Canada 14 1/2, Great Britain 13, Hungary 10, Holland 6, Czechoslovakia 5. Only 14 of the 28 competing nations have scored in the competition that ends tomorrow.

Overall, this is the strongest showing the United States ever has made in the winter olympics. The Americans won at Lake Placid, N. Y., in 1932 but it was a hollow victory because the depression and travel distances cut sharply into European entries. "A magnificent showing. It is beyond our fondest hopes," said J. Lyman Bingham of Chicago, boss of the team.

SETS NEW FIELD MARK

EAST LANSING, Mich. Feb. 7. (U.P.)—Charles Fonville, powerful U. of Michigan weight star, tossed the 15-pound shot 56 feet 5 1/4 inches in the Michigan state relays here tonight, a record six inches beyond the American college record set by Georgetown's Al Blozis in the 1940 NCAA meet at Minneapolis. Blozis' mark was 56 feet 1-2 inch.

Cling To Bonds

NASHVILLE, Ind. (U.P.)—No-body knows whether it was patriotism or thrift, but the fact remains that Brown County, Indiana, was the only one of the 92 Hoosier counties in which no government savings bonds were cashed in 1947. Brown residents bought more than $106,000 in Series E, F and G bonds during 1947.

Steers Roll To Eighth Straight League Win At Lamesa, 43 To 27

LAMESA, Feb. 8. — Turning on the heat in the final two periods, the Big Spring high school basketball Steers rolled to their eighth consecutive District 3AA victory by trouncing the Lamesa Tornados, 41-27, here Friday night. The Tornados put up a fight for a half and the two teams were tied, 14-14, at intermission time. However, the home club was able to collect but five points in Round Three and by the fourth quarter the Lamesa craft had begun to list badly.

Jim Bill Little, who had been held to four points in the first half, banged in five two-pointers in the last two quarters and came up with high scoring laurels with 14 points.

Eddie Houser wasn't far behind with an even dozen while Harold Berry had eight. B. B. Lees did a tremendous job of guarding Gerald Berry, who several nights previously had bagged 19 points in a game against Sweetwater. Gerald managed only two points, that coming on a field goal in the second inning. The victory enabled the Steers to go two up on the field, second-place Abilene having lost to San Angelo Friday.

Big Spring's reserves, with Howard Jones in the starring role, also scored a victory, defeating the Lamesa Bees, 38-34, in a preliminary game. Jones tossed in 21 points.

Valentine Day

HOW MUCH IS CANDY? — Julius Baird, at left, watches Brother Stevie as he counts the coins to see if they make enough to buy that fancy Valentine box of candy to give to mother, Mrs. Julian T. Baird, next Saturday, Valentine Day. The boys are grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baird.

SCHOOL PRODUCTION — The making of Valentines is an interesting activity in the classrooms as February 14 draws near. At right above are sixth grade pupils at West ward, making the red hearts to fit the fancy lace frames. LaVelle Harrison is in the foreground, Johnnie Bryant is behind her and across the aisle is Patsy Hale.

FOR THAT SPECIAL ONE — At the left, Marilyn McCrary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, deposits her Valentines for friends in the third grade room's box at College Heights school. Everyone, of course, remembers that special someone with the most beautiful Valentine on February 14.

HE "CLAIMS" HER — Dan Cupid, always a potent little fellow, reigns supreme on Valentine Day. A young couple here come under Cupid's spell in the age-old way, by surrounding their initials with arrow-pierced heart. The children are Jacqueline Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, and Benny Compton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Escol Compton.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Karn, 208 N. 12th St., McAllen, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds as I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite drug store today.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, uneasy, flatulent, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

What Do You Want Of Your Servants?

This is a year in which almost everything a public official does will be attributed by a few or many to "politics." This same term will be applied to the various movements and proposals which will spring up outside of officialdom.

It is a happy smear word. Under the veil of "politics," some public servants will seek to dismiss criticism or to ignore pointed questions. It will be used along with "persecution" for any intelligent demands for accounting in office.

On the other hand, there will be some of those who are "outs" and who simply want in who will want that every attempt at service by any one in office is done with political intentions and with regard to the number of votes it will bring.

There is no particular level to which this smoke-screen will be confined. Certainly it will be thicker on the national scene, and a general portion of it will waft to state levels and a few wisps to even the remotest and smallest local areas.

Unless the voter keeps his head, there will be great confusion. After all the voter must decide. Although it is some time yet before the first elections of the year come up and certainly months before the primaries roll around, it is not too early for consideration to be given to a criterion for support of candidates and issues.

Well, what do you want? Good government? Or do you want your back scratched? A lot can depend on the answer to these questions.

Do you want some one who is intelligible in expressing your frustrations and prejudices — or do you want some one you honestly believe to be the best qualified for an office?

Do you want some one who will favor legislation that will benefit or maintain benefits for your particular field of business, or do you want a man who will vote for what he believes is best for all the people?

Do you want a man who will harangue and obstruct to protect some special privilege or to forestall the possibility of losing a subsidy, a competitive advantage or an undeserved immunity — or do you want a man who will shun the appeals of democracy for conscientious devotion to the public good?

Do you want a man who will keep you or your friends in office, who will use the power of his position to perform exclusive or special services — or do you want a man who will vote and act as seems right and without regard as to whether he is ever returned to office?

Yes, just what do you want in your public servants?

Make up your mind on these matters, and let the cries of "politics" heave and seethe. You need not be confused or taken in often; you'll come nearer getting what you want. If enough people want servants who will give unselfish consecration to the most good for the most people, we shall get good government in all the widening circles of our democracy.

Fancy Weather Quotes

NEW YORK (P)—This has been such a bitter winter that the old-timers are running out of other winters to compare it with.

People also are exhausting their slim store of conversational remarks on the weather.

The only famous remark the average man can quote from Mark Twain is the observation that "everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

And, of course, Mark Twain never said it. Charles Dudley Warner made that wisecrack in an editorial in the Hartford Courant in 1890.

What Mark Twain said in 1876 was:

"There is a sumptuous variety about New England weather that compels the stranger's admiration—and regret. In the spring I have counted one hundred and thirty-six different kinds of weather inside of twenty-four hours."

But you don't have to limit yourself to Charles Dudley Warner or Mark Twain in discussing the climate. Nor need you merely dully mutter "Hum-um" the next time someone commencing in from the great outdoors and says, "Some snow, eh?"

Pep up your weather talk! Don't reply lamely: "Yeh, it's great for ducks, but who wants to be a duck!"

Bowl 'em right off their feet with this comeback: "Oh, what a blamed uncertain thing this pesky weather is! It blew and snowed and then it thawed."

And now, by sing, it's friz! That was a gush named Philander Johnson.

Maybe you just want to be tolerant and folksy about the whole business. Okay, whang this one on your nasal harp—right out of James Whitcomb Riley: "It hain't no use to grumble and complain. It's jest as easy to rejoice; When God sorts out the weather and sends rain, Why rain's my choice."

To cheer up a friend with a heavy cold, remind him that John Ray said in 1670: "A green winter makes a fat churchyard."

Shakespeare said so many things about winter he must have spent most of his life yearning for a hot water bottle, but he summed it all up thusly: "Winter lames man, woman and beast."

For those who like a leer—even about the weather—Bill Nye bequeathed this: "Winter lingered so long in the lap of spring, that it occasioned a great deal of talk."

Wars May Show How To Avoid Another

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

It is anybody's guess just how grave a crisis would be required to shake the universal military training bill loose from Congressional committees and bring it out for action. It has been months now since the Armed Services Committee approved the measure, but it is nevertheless still immured in another committee's pigeonhole.

The attitude seems to be, Oh, there's plenty of time; let's get this election over with, and then we'll see.

Any hope that anything short of a major calamity could force action on UMT is vain. There was crisis after crisis after Hitler attacked Poland in 1938, yet many important items of national defense were blocked time after time by the isolationists. Ten months before Pearl Harbor Senator Taft denounced as "fantastic" any notion that Japan contemplated an attack upon us. Draft extension squeaked through the House by a single vote in August preceding Pearl Harbor. Funds for the improvement of the defenses of Corregidor which had been sought repeatedly did not finally become available until a few weeks before the Japanese struck.

Senator Taft and many another so-called former isolationist are opposed to UMT. So are all the country's pacifistic groups who opposed every movement to arm the country after World War II began, and right up to Pearl Harbor. So, for that matter, are the communist "fronts" which wish to keep this country weak and defenseless.

The writer, Adela Rogers St. Johns makes a moving plea for UMT action in the current Cosmopolitan Magazine. Mrs. St. Johns, like thousands of other bereaved by World War II, certainly has a valid right to speak. Her brother fell on the sand at Rabaul. Her son was lost in action with the RAF, leaving behind a letter to his mother saying: "I'm doing what I know had to be done. Make it come; that's all we ask."

Like many other American parents, Mrs. St. Johns believes UMT is a necessary ingredient not only in making the country safe from attack, but in keeping it at peace with the world.

"Had we possessed a trained citizen Army, a powerful Air Force, and a Navy manned to match our envied place in the seething world of 1939," she writes, Hitler would have decided not to strike for world conquest. "It was not our courage, our integrity, our honor, our ideals, our genius for production or our character that Hitler discredited," she continues. "It was our unpreparedness." The Kaiser did the same thing 25 years before Hitler.

Her conclusion is that since we learned nothing between two wars, the danger is that we've learned nothing yet.

Universal military training can be justified on one ground only: national defense. Our voluntary services are starved for manpower now, and will be even more dangerously short-handed this fall when more two-year enlistments expire.

The idea of UMT is to create and maintain large numbers of reserves capable of quick transition into competent soldiers. If war comes, they would have at least partial training, therefore a better chance of survival. The very presence of four or five million reserves would prove a powerful deterrent to aggression against this country or against the world.

Since universal training can be justified only as necessary to national defense, all young men subject to it should concentrate all their time and energies for the duration of their service on learning as much as they can about being soldiers. Even at that, a year's time will be all too short, but it would be a lot better than no time at all spent on these endeavors.

A well-armed, powerful U. S. backed with plenty of reserve manpower would be the most effective instrument for peace imaginable. To be prepared is to avoid war; to be unprepared is to invite and incur it.

States Haven't Stopped Lynching

WASHINGTON (P)—Lynching is murder. President Truman this week asked Congress to pass a law to stop it.

The House may pass such a bill. But if it reaches the Senate, the southerners there are just about sure to talk the whole idea to death with a filibuster.

But why a Federal law—since lynching is murder and every state has a law against that? Can't states stop lynchings? States haven't.

In spite of state laws against murder, almost no one ever is convicted or punished for a lynching.

Almost always it's a Negro who's lynched. Almost all lynchings are in the South. Almost all lynchings are done by mobs.

When anyone is tried for lynch-murder by white fellow-townsmen or neighbors almost always say "not guilty."

Yet, the 14th Amendment to the Constitution says: No state shall deprive a man of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

So a man is entitled to a fair trial before a state can take away his property, or his life by executing.

Isn't lynching, then, a violation of the Constitution? Can the Federal government then step in, hunt the lynchers, and try them?

It's not so simple. The Constitution says a "state" must give a man due process of law.

If a mob lynches a man before a state has a chance to arrest him, it's the mob, not the state, that's acting. Lynching itself is not a Federal crime.

But the government—the FBI—can move in and bring charges if a state officer, like a sheriff, in any way conspires with a lynch-mob.

That's because Federal laws, backing up the Constitution, make it a crime for:

A state official of any kind to conspire with anyone to deprive a man of his rights under the Constitution.

The penalties, under these Federal laws, run from 1 to 10 years in jail and fines of $1,000 to $5,000.

The anti-lynching bills now in Congress, if they became law, would go further:

They'd make anyone who took part in a lynching or helped it—whether he was a lyncher or a sheriff who helped him—subject to jail and fine.

If one of those bills became

Thomas' Career In Stock Market

WASHINGTON.—Memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan: Believing in your sincere desire to get to the bottom of Senator Thomas and his use of the Senate for private speculation, I am sending you the results of my own investigation. These may furnish you with additional leads for your own probe.

I think you will find that during most of Senator Thomas' career in the U. S. Senate, he has been active in the stock market and has not hesitated to use his position of trust to influence the market. I suggest that first you look into 128 shares of Cities Service stock held by the senator around 1928.

Following this, I suggest that you examine the Senator's dealing in silver and cotton in 1933. At around this time his son Wilfred was employed by the old stock-brokerage firm of Fenner and Beane at its Oklahoma City office, while the Senator traded through the firm's Washington office.

During the summer of 1933

you will find that Thomas was active in the silver market. In fact had bought a considerable quantity of silver on margin and when the silver bubble burst in July, Thomas was caught short. John Mothershead, then manager of Fenner and Beane's Washington office, called on him for more collateral which the Senator did not put up. Accordingly, he was sold out, at a heavy loss.

I think you will find that the next day, July 19, 1933, Senator Thomas then sent two blistering telegrams to the presidents of the New York stock exchange and the Chicago board of trade demanding stricter regulation. The two telegrams read in part: "Today's activity in your exchange demonstrates absolute necessity for immediate adoption of a rule limiting the amount of loss on any stock during any one session."

It is interesting that the Senator did not reveal that he himself was caught short. He put his protest on the high moral plane of protecting the investing

Truman Doctrine May Reach Climax

It would be more than passing strange if pure coincidence accounted for the way Greece, Turkey and Iran (Persia) are sticking out their chests simultaneously to Russia, with apparent encouragement from the U. S. A.

These are three areas which Russia seeks to dominate in order to make herself a Mediterranean power and give her control of the Dardanelles strait (now under Turkey) to give her access to the Mediterranean from the land-locked Black Sea. From the military standpoint the Dardanelles is one of the most important strategic waterways in the world.

Greece fits into the picture mainly because she guards the flank of the Dardanelles, although there also are political considerations. Iran, which adjoins Russia, not only is possessed of rich oil fields but gives access to the Persian gulf and is a mighty buttress on the oriental side of the Middle East.

What has happened in the past couple of days is this: Turkish Foreign Minister Necmeddin Sadak has declared that his country intends to stand firm against all Russian demands. He also has spoken of Turkey's "ever increasing friendly relations with England and the feeling of gratitude in Turkey for the American aid program." At the same time it became known that Turkey had recalled her ambassador from Moscow in retaliation for Russia's withdrawal of the Soviet envoy to Turkey, though this action doesn't mean a break of diplomatic relations.

Over in Greece it was reliably stated that Greek airfields were being strengthened with anti-aircraft guns and searchlights, and America was said to have delivered a number of reconnaissance planes to bolster the Greek air force. This, of course, is to aid Greece in her fight against communist-led guerrillas seeking to establish a Soviet Greek state in the north, close to Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania—which the Athens government charges are aiding the Red rebellion.

In Tehran Premier Ibrahim Hakimi Al Molk has rejected a Soviet protest about American activities in Iran as "absolutely baseless and void of truth." The Russians had charged that the actions of a U. S. military mission in Iran constituted a threat to the Soviet border—a charge which U. S. Ambassador George V. Allen characterized as "an improper interference in the internal affairs of Iran." Furthermore, the Tehran government has accused Russia of giving refuge to Iranian rebels.

In short, it's clear that these three countries still are determined not to let Russia "get away" with that they regard as "rough stuff." And of course all this is tremendously important when we consider that control of the Mediterranean area is involved.

It is doubly significant in that this whole situation would seem to be working toward a climax. The American attitude of course continues to represent the Truman Doctrine of providing aid to weak countries to resist communist aggression. There has been no apparent change in that, but the question does arise as to what extent this program shall be continued. The funds for this program will run out June 30 when Congress must decide whether the aid already given is sufficient to maintain the Truman policy or whether new funds shall be provided.

Thus the developments of the next few months in this struggle may be momentous.

Prize Novel Comes To Ritz Starring Turner And Heflin

Winner of M-G-M's $200,000 prize novel contest, Elizabeth Goudge's best-seller novel, "Green Dolphin Street," now comes to the Ritz theatre screen in the film version starring Lana Turner, Van Heflin, Donna Reed and Richard Hart. Miss Turner forsakes her blond tresses to become a brunette for her new film role.

mand on materials and manpower, two years went into the preparation of "Green Dolphin Street" as a screenplay, starting on August 16, 1944, the day three judges chose it from ninety-nine manuscripts entered in M-G-M's contest.

Months went into research alone into the story's backgrounds, including the Channel Islands off England in the mid-19th century, and early-day New Zealand on the opposite side of the world. Because of the many scenes, involving between 200 and 500 players, approximately 5,000 people appear in the completed picture.

The film's wardrobe, including thirty-two gowns for Lana Turner and twenty-eight for Donna Reed, was the largest for any period picture since "Marie Antoinette."

It's spectacular earthquake sequence, was filmed on a sixty-seven acre location near the studio. Tons of earth were split into two huge fissures, while water and mud geysers shot as high as sixty-five feet into the sky.

The Maori scenes, in which the natives, rising against the white settlers in New Zealand, take Lana Turner prisoner, were filmed on another location in the virgin wilderness bordering the Klamath River in Northern California.

"Green Dolphin Street" was directed by Victor Saville and was produced by Carey Wilson. The supporting cast features Frank Morgan, Edmund Owen, Dame May Whitty, Reginald Glenn and Gladys Cooper.

DISAPPOINTING

TEXAS WITHOUT ANY COWS IS A MILD SURPRISE TO HOLLANDERS

Texas was a surprise—if not a mild disappointment—to a family of Hollanders, who paused here briefly Friday.

Dick Paap, who with his wife and two daughters stopped at the Ranch Inn for a few hours while en route from Florida to California, had been told that herds of cattle roamed constantly across the highways in Texas. After several days in Texas, he hadn't seen a cow!

A native of Amsterdam, Holland, Paap has been employed for the past two and one-half years with Shell Oil's huge refining corporation in Curacao, Dutch Guinea, South America. The Paaps have been to Miami, Fla., and New York City, N. Y. on direct company flights from Curacao; this is their first motor trip through the states.

Paap has been granted a six weeks' vacation by his firm and he and Mrs. Paap are making real a long-felt desire to visit California, about which they had heard so much.

Paap speaks a beautiful, precise English, while dark-eyed Mrs. Paap, though not easily distinguished from an American woman, speaks in a heavier accent. Both expressed delight over the courtesy and interest shown them by Americans.

Making the trip in a new automobile, Paap plans to take the car back to Europe with him in March, when his vacation ends. Paap expressed doubt that he would have an opportunity to see the states again.
