CWE CHAT WITH EDITOR

By Louis C. Stas

Spring moves in with a recorded 94 degrees for Wheeler on Tuesday. However at least one more return to winter is expected.

The North Wheeler County Volunteer Ambulance Service has 'first responders' located in the surrounding communities. These individuals render aid to the victim until the ambulance can arrive.

The Times received a 'Letter to the Editor' this week. The letter was not signed; therefore it cannot be run. If the writer requests, we will not publish the name, but the letters have to be signed for our file. We do reserve the right to refuse to publish any letter received.

Congratulations, Rocky Mendiola! Rocky participated in piano competition and placed first. Our headline gave him a 'I-Plus Rating'; The rest of the story is 'Rocky placed First'—He won.

Sheryle Lane of Allison helped with a head injury Saturday until the victim of a head injury could be transported.

Jimmy Selby in Mobeetie was once again on the scene Saturday to help with a youth injured in an accident with a 4-Wheeler.

The local ambulance service has a good response time, but a few minutes seems like hours to the victims and their families.

Remember to thank our volunteers—Ambulance, Fire Department, Meals on Wheels and many others scattered throughout the community. All help to make this the great community which it is.

The Wheeler Kiwanis Club was again entertained Monday by our local youth. Four students from the fourth grade at Wheeler I.S.D. read poetry, practice for their U.I.L. competition. Tristan Rose, Drew Emmert, Ben Howard and Kerri Marion each did a fantastic job.

The granddaughter, Jessica, had a good weekend. She participated in dance competition in Dallas and placed second in her solo competition. Keep up the 'good work' Jessica.

Spring break is now over and the students are back in school with the summer just around the corner.

Jennifer and C.B. took advantage of their break with a trip to San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Padre Island. Marcy and Mandy Smith were their hosts. The trip included a day on the river walk and Sea World, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

SWEETWATER NEWS
BY LOIS FLOWERS

Along with this beautiful weather, the kids have been enjoying Spring break. We didn't have a spring break when I was young. We had a fall break, six weeks of cotton picking vacation. I can remember sitting on my sack and praying for rain. Daddy was probably praying to get the bale out and the money to the bank or the grocery store.

Leroy and Faye Allen took Mildred Allen to the eye doctor Friday. Lanelle and Dennis Hayes were coming from Enid today to help her celebrate her birthday.

Visiting Birdie Whipkey this week were Irene Reed, Marie Stewart, and Leon Whipkey, Erick, Yvonne and Buck from Amarillo, Oscar and Lena Luman, Shamrock, Carl and Lois Whipkey of Borger, Troy and Joy Sites.

Eva Atkinson spent a couple of days at Taloga and took her mother, Faye Moore, to the doctor at OKC. Ray and Doris Smith saw doctors in OKC Tuesday and Wednesday.

Postmasters, Bonnie Rice, Sweetwater, Lucille Porter, Durham, Dawn Malson, Crawford, and Esther Essary, Texola, went together to the District Postmasters, convention at Duncan. Norma Lee Smotherman of Erick also attended.

We received sad news today. Our friend Doyle Richardson was killed instantly when a woman at Sayre ran a stop sign and hit his van broadside. Services are pending.

Services are Saturday at the Assembly of God Church for Clyde Dodd, 86, with burial at the Buffalo Cemetery. His wife was Ethel Mandrell. When I was about 3 years old, we went in the buggy over to Mandrells and they gave me a puppy. Ethel was about 12.

See where people are tickled to death to get to go over to Russia and adopt babies. Here the USA is legally killing over 4000 unborn babies a day! SAD!

We lived it up Wednesday. Went to Erick for groceries and had lunch at Cals. Visited with Ruth Gillum, Roy Swager, Bobby Holcomb, Pete Davis, Cal, and Tom Higley. In the afternoon, Clifford and Helen Jones, Elk, Johnny and Maudie Martin of Burns Flat came for a visit. Brought their song book and we had a singing.

Heard from Betty Brothers. She's been setting out rose bushes. Linda Kahoa wrote about her birds. We had a wren in our new feeder today. Gwen Edler, Elk Home, called to see how we were and when the Kitchen Band was about to get together again.

Listened to what we should have ready in case of dire emergency. One of the top items was a hand can opener. Took me two days to locate mine.

Shannon Parker, Cheyenne sophomore won a $1,000 scholarship for being the top student from Roger Mills County. In the first round of competition sponsored by the Oklahoma Heritage Association.

Jarren Kindsfather of Erick won the honor in Beckham County. K.C. Perryman, Association director, says the scholarships were made possible by the Security State Bank of Cheyenne.

Carl Garrett, Juanita and Irvin Godwin, were here for the funeral of their sister Blanche. The Godwins and Pauline Roberts went down to Memphis, Tx to see their sister Ruth Fowler.

They, Lynn and Anne Wingfield and Dawn went to OKC where they attended the wedding of Pauline's grandson, Royce Dale and Anna Waits. Gene and Wanda Kuykendall have been here attending to things.

Virginia Tabor, Carter reporter, quoted Argus Hamilton in her column. I am a fan of his too. His grandfather used to be the minister at the Erick Methodist Church long ago.

Our Sweetwater Juniors won the Northfork Basketball conference with a 6/0 record. Andy Davis and Lana Keathley were on the All Star teams. Les Pyeatt, also from Sweetwater who has been going to Reydon was voted MVP.

A lot of folks are getting real nervous about all these drive by shooting and such. TV told today that you can have your car bullet proofed for about $40 to $60 thousand dollars.

Keith Miller and son Bill have been up to see his mother Iona Miller. Iona is finally able to get out a little.

Saw a letter in the paper saying that truckers are driving 75 to 85 miles an hour and wanting the highway patrol to start stopping them. I couldn't say about their speed but I do know if you just drive the speed limit, the only one you'll pass are those stopped by the wayside.

CARE CENTER COMMENTS

We would like to welcome Cecil Richerson back to WCC. We would like to wish Mrs. McDaniels good luck as she went home.

We still have 3 residents in the hospital. They are Janie Keelin, Maybell Childress, and Gertie Cornell.

Monday, I read the paper in the lobby to the residents. Next I did manicures for the residents. I did room visits down the halls with the residents. Frances Hefley served juice to the residents. We worked on arts and crafts in the lobby.

Tuesday, Barbara read the paper in the lobby with the residents. Next we had Family Alter in the dining room. Kerry Moore filled in for Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt. After lunch we had our monthly birthday party hosted by the Church of Christ. Our hostesses were Mary Ann Maxwell, Katie Finsterwald, Joyce Martin, and Ruby Jones. Cake and punch was served to the residents. We sang Happy Birthday to the residents that had birthdays. The birthday residents were Clarence Teeters, Della Jenkins, Ora Cates, Neol Bowen, and Vera Baker.

Wednesday, Barbara read the paper to the residents in the lobby. Janice Sparlin came and had Sunday School with the residents.

Barbara and I had exercises in the lobby with the residents in the lobby. After lunch we played bingo and Irene Dunnam was the blackout winner. Our bingo helpers were Katherine Eadds and Ruth Kenney. Evelyn Meek served juice to the residents.

Thursday, Barbara read the paper to the residents in the lobby. Next we had church in the dining room with Fern Young, Ila Collins, and Rozena Zybach. After lunch we worked on arts and crafts in the lobby, we got so busy working on arts and crafts that we forgot all about popcorn. That evening Herb Smith from Pampa came down with his group and they played the guitar and sang gospel songs for the residents. We all had a good time and enjoyed the singing. After the singing we served cookies and punch.

Friday, Barbara read the paper in the lobby to the residents. We passed out Shamrocks to the residents to wear to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. Next we worked in the beauty shop and fixed hair all morning and most of the afternoon. We had a St. Patrick's Day Party in the lobby, we served punch and cookies to the residents and we visited. That evening we had a baked potato bar. We decorated the dining room in green and white and we served baked potatoes with all the trimmings.

Sunday, The Nazarene Church had afternoon services with the residents in the dining room. I was told they had a good time.

Congregational Concerns:
Gene White has been released from the Cancer Treatment Center in Tulsa and is resting at his home in Mobeetie. He may return to the Cancer Treatment Center for more treatments in a few weeks.
Marie Wright has been transferred from the local hospital to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Sympathy must be expressed to Becky Johnson upon the recent death of her aunt and uncle. Their funeral was held last Friday on Dumas.

From The Minister's Desk:
Like many other people, I have been deeply concerned about the rapidly increasing cost of health insurance. For this reason, I was very intrigued by a newsletter that I recently received that was entitled, "Caring and Sharing".

This newsletter outlined an alternative to health insurance for disciples of Jesus. Rather than pay costly premiums for health insurance, disciples of Jesus can subscribe to the "Caring and Sharing" newsletter which monthly lists the medical expenses of its subscribers. Then the subscribers who have not had any medical expenses for the month can mail an assigned amount of money to the subscribers who have.

While I was intrigued by this newsletter and its suggested alternative for health insurance, I was a little confused by the qualification that subscribers had to meet. The newsletter said that subscriber had to be "faithful Christians who do not forsake the assembling of themselves with other saints, who abstain from the use of alcohol, tobacco, illegal drugs, and who do not engage in immoral sexual practices."

As I thought about this qualification, I concluded that its concept of faithfulness was too limited. The Bible teaches that there are some other characteristics that faithful disciples of Jesus must not have. For example, I John 2:15-16 says: "Do not love the world, nor the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes and the boastful pride of life, is not from the Father, but is from the world."

Notice carefully verse 16. This verse lists three general characteristics that faithful disciples of Jesus must not have. These three characteristics are:

1. "The lust of the flesh—." This characteristic consists of such sins as adultery, drunkenness, fornication, and homosexuality. These highly visible sins are clear-cut violations of the will of God and disciples of Jesus who wish to faithfully serve God will not commit these sins.
2. "The lust of the eyes—." This characteristic consists of such sins as greed, materialism, love of money, and covetousness. These sins are not as visible as the sins that compose "the lust of the flesh—", but they are clear-cut violations of the will of God. Therefore, disciples of Jesus who wish to faithfully serve God will also not commit these sins. But while the Bible does not make a distinction between the sins that compose "the lust of the flesh—" and the sins that compose "the lust of the eyes—", some disciples of Jesus apparently do. For example, these disciples of Jesus will loudly warn about the danger of alcohol, but they will be strangely silent about the danger of materialism. Perhaps their silence is caused by their materialistic lifestyle.
To faithfully serve God, disciples of Jesus must not be characterized by the "—lust of the flesh—" or "—the lust of the eyes—."

3. "The boastful pride of life—." This characteristic consists of such sins as conceit, pride, self-righteousness, and arrogance. These sins are clear-cut violations of the will of God and disciples of Jesus who wish to faithfully serve will not commit them.
It is these sins that has caused my concern about the "religious furor" that has recently swept across this community. From my perspective, this "religious furor" has produced in some people an attitude that says: "I am better than you because I do not commit the sins that you commit"; "I am more spiritual than you because I have had some religious experiences that you have not had."

When I see these people, I am always reminded of the parable that Jesus told to the people who "—trusted in themselves that they were righteous and viewed others with contempt—" (Luke 18:9) In this parable, Jesus said: "Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee, and the other a tax-gatherer. The Pharisee stood and was praying thus to himself, God, I thank Thee that I am not like other people: swindlers, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax-gatherer. I fast twice a week; I pay tithes of all that I get. But the tax-gatherer, standing some distance away, was even unwilling to lift up his eyes to heaven, but was beating his breast, saying, God be merciful to me the sinner." (Verses 11-14)

Did you notice that Jesus did not indicate that the Pharisee's claims of righteousness were exaggeration? The Pharisee was apparently an extremely righteous man, but it was the tax-gatherer, the penitent sinner, who was justified. The righteousness of the Pharisee was nullified by "—the boastful pride of life—"

Disciples of Jesus who wish to faithfully serve God will not have the attitude of the Pharisee. They will always guard against "—the boastful pride of life—", knowing that pride can nullify their righteous and godly lives.
I John 2:15-17 lists the characteristics that disciples of Jesus must not have if they wish to faithfully serve God. When these characteristics are compared with the qualification that subscribers to "Caring and Sharing" newsletter must have, an interesting observation can be made. This observation is that disciples of Jesus cannot faithfully serve God if they are characterized by the sins that compose "—the lust of the flesh—" and they cannot subscribe to the "Caring and Sharing" newsletter. However, they can subscribe to the "Caring and Sharing" newsletter if they are characterized by the sins that compose "—the lust of the eyes—" and "—the boastful pride of life—", but they cannot faithfully serve God.

Alliance for Mentally Ill Plans 12 Week Course

A spouse is in and out of mental hospitals suffering from schizophrenia. A grown child returns home to live with his parents because his manic depression, or bi-polar disorder, does not allow him to function in society. A young daughter is diagnosed as suffering from major depression.

Where do family members turn when they are faced with the problems and heartaches that come from dealing with mental illness on a daily basis?

The Panhandle Alliance for the Mentally Ill and Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority are offering a family education course beginning Tuesday, April 4, to help parents, spouses, siblings, friends and significant others deal with the issues of living with a loved one who has been diagnosed with one of the three major mental illnesses; schizophrenia, bi-polar disorder, and major depression.

The free 12-week course, Journey of Hope, will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Northwest Texas Hospital Cafeteria, Dining Room #3, under the direction of Carol Ann Vaughn and Greta Byars. Ms. Vaughn is the current president of Panhandle Alliance for the Mentally Ill and Ms. Byars is an active member and past president.

Joyce Burland, Ph.D., family education program director of AMI-Vermont, developed the curriculum. Because she lives with mental illness in her own family, she knows well the need for family sponsored and directed educational programs. Ms. Vaughn and Ms. Byars recently completed her "training the trainer" course.

Information about the family education course being offered in Amarillo is available by calling Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority at (806) 353-3699 or 1-800-299-3699.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK: Steven Kephart was the student of the week at Fort Elliott Elementary for the week of March 6-10, 1995. Steven is in the Second Grade and the son of Jim and Patricia Kephart of Mobeetie, Texas.

Nat'l Agriculture Week Is Observe March 14-20

This week America honors the men and women who provide us with bountiful food and fiber during National Agriculture Week (Monday, March 14 to Sunday, March 20, 1994) and National Agriculture Day (March 20, 1994).

"American agriculture deserves special recognition for its incredible achievements in feeding, clothing and sheltering our country. We in the agriculture industry are constantly changing to meet the changing needs of our ultimate customers—American consumers," said Elroy Webster, chairman of the Agriculture Council of America.

With less than two percent of Americans living on farms these days, National Agriculture Day reminds people of the important role American food and agriculture play in daily life. Yet corn, wheat, soybeans and other crops are more than just food and fiber; they have become staples for consumer products like biodegradable plastic, cosmetics and ink. In many instances, agriculture products directly replace non-renewable resources and are much more environment-friendly.

"The economic and environmental benefits of these new uses for agricultural products are astounding and provide promise for developing rural communities. Now many crops can be produced and processed all in the same community, and that means jobs," said Bob J. Nash, USDA undersecretary for rural development.

"American producers are truly 'growing better everyday', and new uses are an important part of that growth." National Ag Day helps bridge the gap between consumers and producers through two-way communication. By listening and responding to consumers' needs, agriculture will continue to improve. New uses are a response to consumers' environmental and economic concerns."

Progress Made on Thunder Junction Park

Yesterday's Children has reached an agreement with a private investment group from England to build Thunder Junction, the Western heritage park and entertainment center planned as a source of supplemental funding for senior citizen programs in the Panhandle.

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at 2:00 p.m. Friday, March 24, 1995, at the site near Clarendon and Greenbelt Lake. The public is invited to attend. At the intersection of State Highway 70 and U.S. 287, visitors can take the Greenbelt Lake exit and go 3/4 mile north on 70. The site is on the east side of the highway.

"A private investor developed an interest in this project and its potential after visiting the Bar H Working Dude Ranch at Clarendon," said Pat Kaiser, President of Yesterday's Children.

"After negotiations and visits over several months, we have come to an agreement that we believe will be beneficial both to the senior citizens of our area and the private investors as well," she added. "The public/private partnership we have worked toward has come together, and it's an exciting development that will also benefit the Panhandle economy!"

The park will be built in four phases. The first, which investors hope to have ready for this year's summer season, will be the first phase of a water park and lazy river, along with a go-kart track and miniature golf course. The New Braunfel's General Store (NBGS), which has produced the Schlitterbahn water parks, is designing and building the components for Thunder Junction's water park.

Phase II plans include four large slides for the water park; Phase III, a train ride and Family Master Blaster ride, and Phase IV will begin the completion of the Western heritage park.

The agreement was reached on March 7—subject to completion of the land agreement—by officials of Yesterday's Children, Inc., the non-profit group that initiated and developed the project; Thunder Junction, Inc., the private, for-profit corporation formed to develop funding for the project; and Westwood GMW Limited, the United Kingdom corporation headed by David Williams.

"Thunder Junction will be built, owned and operated by Westwood," said Stan McClendon of Wellington, a vice-president of Thunder Junction. "The legal agreement specifies several provisions that protect Yesterday's Children's investment and the integrity of its goals for Thunder Junction."

Westwood has agreed to provide a minimum annual royalty or a certain percentage of the gross park receipts—whichever is greater—to Yesterday's Children, Kaiser said. Distribution of funds to help provide senior citizen services throughout the 26 counties of Panhandle will be handled by a volunteer board.

The location has been moved from a site owned by the Greenbelt Water Authority to a 67-acre site nearby in order to tie into a sewage system already in place. Yesterday's Children conferred with Don Stewart of Economic Consulting Services, who conducted its feasibility studies, before the location change was made. A lease agreement has been made with property owner Dale Robinson.

ELECTRIC SHOCK TREATMENT UNDER FIRE

Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (MHMR) was charged with misinforming law makers on the subject of electric shock treatments in a complaint filed with the MHMR Board of Directors, and the Senate Health and Human Services Committee on Monday.

The complaint was brought by the World Association of Electro Shock Survivors (WAESS) and the Citizens Commission on Human Rights of Texas (CCHRT), who claim that MHMR violated a 1993 law requiring annual reporting of the use of electric shock treatment by psychiatric facilities in Texas.

Electric shock is a controversial psychiatric procedure in which electricity is passed through the brain causing a convulsion similar to an epileptic fit. Psychiatrists claim the convulsion is therapeutic, and assists certain individuals in overcoming severe depression. However, critics of the procedure note that most treatments employ a greater electrical charge than is necessary to induce a convulsion, and claim that any effect achieved is the result of damage to the brain, similar to head injury in a car crash. In fact, the primary complaint about electric shock by recipients is that they experience memory loss, an adverse event commonly associated with neurological damage or injury.

The complaint alleges that MHMR did not provide Texas lawmakers with autopsy reports on individuals who died within 14 days of the treatment, did not provide a breakdown of electric shock usage by facility, and did not provide a breakdown of electric shock recipients by age, and that all these items were required by the new law.

The complaint also points out that in none of the categories in the 1994 annual report do the number of recipients match the total number of recipients for the year. Further, the two groups allege that they received two annual reports for 1994, and that one report showed 6 deaths for the year, but the official report of Texas lawmakers showed only 5 deaths for the year. The groups are demanding better accountability from MHMR.

The groups found that whereas the 1993 Statute called for MHMR to keep track of patient's reports of memory loss, the department instead issued the Annual report with the psychiatrist's determination of level of memory impairment. The groups complain that it is equally interesting that psychiatrists are responding instead of patients on whether their memory has been damaged.

In addition, the complaint alleges that in 1993, some psychiatrists were reporting the use of "regressive" electric shock treatments, a procedure in which the individual is reduced through a series of shocks to an infantile state, unable to control his bodily functions. The groups claim that MHMR changed the definition of regressive electric shock in order to eliminate the reports of its use. They cite a letter from Dr. William Reid, the Medical Director of MHMR to Texas psychiatrists dated January 25th, 1994, in which he states he had difficulty believing that "regressive" or "deprogramming" electric shock treatments were being administered.

Neurologist John Friedberg, a long-standing critic of the treatment, stated, "What I am struck by is that fifty percent of the recipients are over age 65, which is a trend that has been going on for many years now. The elderly are being increasingly targeted. The elderly have much more fragile blood vessels, much more susceptible to the hypertensive effect of shock treatment. Older people are going to be more susceptible to the memory problems induced by electric shock, and less capable of convincing doctors of their memory problems from shock treatment. This memory loss is not psychological, it is organic. It is itself an indication of brain trauma, or brain injury."

"The deaths reported have to be detailed in terms of where they occurred, and in terms of autopsy where possible," continued Dr. Friedberg. "This is one of the failings of the reporting system currently."

Senior Texas House member, Representative Senfronia Thompson of Houston expressed her disapproval of the MHMR report. "The annual report suggests that within the group of institutional mental patients, women and the elderly are targeted for a treatment that we aren't even certain is safe. That is not right." Representative Thompson's statements referred in part to the fact that the FDA has kept electric shock devices in the pre-market approval stage, categorizing them with experimental and hazardous devices. A recent court ruling in her district, by State District Judge Scott Link ordered a hold on experimentation on psychiatric patients in the Harris County Psychiatric Center. Reports indicated drug experimentation had been carried out on in-patients.

The World Association of Electro Shock Survivors and the Citizens Commission on Human Rights of Texas claimed a combined victory in 1993, with the passage of Senate Bill 205. The bill outlawed the use of electric shock treatments on children 16 or under, and required an informed consent form be signed by each recipient prior to receiving treatment. It also required that MHMR turn in an annual report to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Speaker of the House of Representatives on various facts involved in the use of electric shock by State or private psychiatric facilities. The Bill was sponsored by Senators Mike Moncrief, Judith Zaffirini, and Chris Harris. Leading up to the passage of the bill, the Senate Health and Human Services Committee had heard many hours of testimony from past recipients of electric shock who claimed it had damaged their memory or their brain functions.

The president of the World Association of Electro Shock Survivors is Diann A Loper, a lobbyist who had worked for six years with lawmakers before "coming out" in 1993 as a Shock Survivor. "I have never told any of the Legislators I worked with that I had been a victim of electric shock when I was a child. Because of the treatments, as verified by neurologists, I now have epilepsy, and have had to work twice as hard to overcome my treatment induced impairment to be successful in my line of work. Last session, when I came out and told the Senators at a Committee hearing that I had received electric shocks and been damaged by them, the legislators responded as if one of their own had been abused. I was very proud to see that they took up the cause with me and the rest of the World Association of Electro Shock Survivors, and passed the strict regulations on this damaging procedure."

Jerry Boswell, the director of the Citizens Commission on Human Rights of Texas, said "I am very concerned that the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation is not complying with law on this reporting system. Electric shock treatment is the most damaging treatment I am aware of. Deaths, redefinitions of types of treatments, these things are uncalled for and must cease. This looks like an attempt to whitewash the treatment to the legislature."
