Friends Seek To Force Way To Entombed Miners

MOHLEY, Mo., Aug. 20. (AP)—Guards were posted at an abandoned air duct today to keep friends of four entombed miners from entering. The group threatened to defy officials and force their way down into the shaft when attempts to reach the miners were abandoned because of bad air. Rescue crews were centering their efforts on the debris-locked mine shaft.

"We're going to stay on the job," declared State Mine Inspector Arnold Griffith. "If the men had survived."

Twice deadly black damp-gas that lurks in coal mines when air circulation is blocked.

A report late yesterday said another fire—similar to the one which preceded yesterday's collapse—had broken out beneath the surface, but Griffith said he believed the flames were under control.

"Dennie is a level-headed man," said Mrs. J. F. Sexton of her son, Dennie Sexton, 32, one of the victims. "If he just used that level-headedness in the excitement there is still hope."

The other trapped men were: A. W. McCann, 50; Edward Stonner, Jr., 36; and George T. Dameron, 27, a mule driver.

Big Parade Is Planned As A Rodeo Feature

All Business Houses Invited To Have Entries In Review Sept. 7

Plans were developing Thursday for staging a large and colorful parade as the opening feature of the third annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo in Big Spring on September 7, 8 and 9.

Joe Slaughter, president of the sponsoring organization, announced arrangements for the review, and was contacting business houses about participating in the event. The parade will be scheduled for 1 p. m. on September 7, Slaughter said, forming just south of the county jail, and being routed through the downtown section.

Rodeo performers and others will appear. Slaughter is seeking to enlist all merchants and organizations in the parade, and Thursday invited all business houses and organizations to prepare entries. "The parade is wide open to everyone," Slaughter said, "and the more entries we have, the more colorful it will be. We want every business interest in Big Spring represented in this opening feature."

Meanwhile, other preparations for the rodeo are going forward. Lighting system at the rodeo grounds has been revamped and tests this week showed it is greatly improved over last year.

Approximately 7,500 watts have been added in eight new lights and height of several poles has been extended. Result is that shadows have been removed from the center of the arena.

The repairs and changes are being effected at the rodeo grounds on E. 11th street in order to have the annual show which will open here Sept. 7 and continue for three days.

Big Increase Is Shown In U. S. Income

Total Internal Revenue Collections For July Up 30 Percent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—A jump of $66,728,908 in internal revenue collections for the first month of the fiscal year as compared with the same period last year was reported today by the treasury with some items showing increases of several hundred per cent.

The total rose from $221,597,633 in July last year to $288,326,539 in the same month this year, or almost 30 per cent. All the major categories of taxation registered gains, ranging from $12,752,211 for taxes on liquors to $396,931,477 for miscellaneous internal revenue.

Of Special Interest

The report was of special interest in view of the statement by Secretary Morgenthau last week, after a White House conference, that no new taxes would be asked at the next session of congress.

Morgenthau said at the time, however, that his estimate was based on future revenue prospects more than on actual tax collections so far this year.

The treasury report showed that corporation income taxes more than doubled, rising from $14,364,533 to $29,065,623. Individual income tax payments rose from $9,598,915 to $11,552,514. Excess profits tax collections gained from $174,319 to $1,049,371.

Estate taxes increased from $14,224,356 to $29,014,452, while gift taxes jumped from $96,768 to $327,212.

Liquor taxes were up from $47,266,198 to $90,018,409, establishing a new record. Distilled spirits jumped from $16,547,846 to $32,521,873. Taxes on beer and other malt liquors increased from $29,940,478 to $35,920,901. Wines and cordials, however, dropped from $77,878 to $575,643.

GROCER CHARGED IN SHOOTING AT WACO

WACO, Aug. 20. (AP)—J. W. Friedman, grocer, was charged today with assault to murder in connection with the shooting wounding last night of Policeman Jim Baskin, who was shot as he investigated an argument over a taxicab fare.

Baskin, who officers said was attempting to settle the argument, was in a critical condition.

Appeal For Support Of Law Agencies Is Presented

Figures showing the appalling crime record in the United States were cited by L. A. Eubanks in an address before the Kiwanis club Thursday noon, in which he appealed for wholehearted support of the general citizenship in a program of crime prevention and suppression.

In charge of the club's weekly luncheon program, Eubanks spoke from an address made by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the department of justice's bureau of investigation, before the recent Washington convention of Kiwanis International.

In that address, Hoover pointed out that major crimes are committed in the United States on the average of one every 20 seconds; that murders occur on the average of one every 45 minutes, and the national crime cost is equivalent to $10 per month for every person in the United States.

Local Figures

Eubanks located crime figures, showing that 5,533 persons had been put in the county jail here in the past seven and one-half years, and that in the past year 1,478 had been put in the city and county jails. His office—that of the Retail Merchants association—holds some $10,000 in worthless checks that have been passed to local merchants over a five-year period, Eubanks told the club.

He said the figures represented a challenge to the American citizenry to lend full support to law enforcement agencies in combatting crime, and to sponsor and promote agencies to train youth in the proper channels of citizenship.

Jury Service

Andrew Merrick, deputy sheriff, spoke briefly, outlining the need for public cooperation with law enforcement agencies. One of the chief duties of a citizen, he pointed out, is to respond to calls to jury service; since the conviction of criminals is as much a part of the crime war as apprehension. Merrick also cited the need for youth training as the basic means of crime prevention. The Boy Scout organization was lauded as an effective agency for youth character-building, and Kiwanians heard a scout, Tabor Rowe, repeat the scout's oath.

LONDON LEAVES ON CAMPAIGN JOURNEY

ESTES PARK, Colo., Aug. 20. (UP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon left today on perhaps the most important speaking tour of his campaign for the presidency—a cross-country dash into Pennsylvania and New York.

The careful planning, the constant revision of the three major speeches to be made by the republican nominee and arrangements for many political conferences en route, emphasized the significance of the journey in the eyes of the state's advisors and overshadowed tentative preparations already being made for Landon's second campaign tour—a trip into the midwestern farm states.

SENT TO WISCONSIN TO FACE CHARGES

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 20. (AP)—Laverne Marks, 19, was put on a train in custody of an officer at Pasco, Wash., today to face first degree murder charges at Shawano, Wis., in connection with the killing of Robert Bernstein, his hunting companion, near Shawano, in July. Marks is serving a 20-year term on conviction on a robbery charge at Tacoma.

Colorado Host Stevens Held To Old-Timers At Ft. Worth

Mitchell Co. Homecoming, Centennial Fete Is Under Way

COLORADO, Aug. 20.—Old-time residents of Colorado, many of them now living in far-off places, returned here today to participate in the city's homecoming and Centennial celebration.

The event got under way this morning, with registration of the crowds of visitors here. Formal start of the program, however, is this afternoon, when a mammoth parade will be staged. More than 5,000 people are expected to witness the pageant, Mitchell County Cavalcade of Progress, at Riddick park tonight.

Early arrivals this morning found the town gay with Centennial decorations and welcome signs in their honor. They found show windows and other places filled with pictures and mementoes of pioneer Colorado.

Registrations for the free barbecue which is to be given for all old-timers, both within the county and without, at Riddick park Friday evening are exceeding all expectations. Entries for the barbecue have been donated by Mitchell county cattlemen and are being prepared by the Colorado Lions club. Those in charge give assurance that there will be plenty for all qualifying as old-timers.

A special "amateur hour" program at the band shell will follow the barbecue. William McCarroll of Dallas, attorney general of Texas, is to speak.

ANOTHER MONKEY IS PURCHASED FOR ZOO

Masculinity will seek to muscle in on the domain of femininity at the city park as a result of the latest animal trade.

City Manager E. V. Spence Thursday bought a 2-year-old male monkey from A. N. Dudley and will soon place the creature in the monkey cage occupied by three year old monkeys of the opposite sex.

The new addition is of the same species as the three donated to the park by the ABC Club.

True Picture Of West Must Contain Reference To The Cunning Coyote

It is safe to say that no ballad of plains is complete without due mention of the cunning coyote.

West Texas, somehow, has come to consider the coyote her own, and while recognizing him as a nuisance and a bother, holds him somewhat in esteem.

11 Offices Involved On Howard County Ballot Saturday

Choices of Howard county democracy will be expressed Saturday in the second primary with 11 offices at stake. Of the number, only two are state offices. Four of them are for commissioners.

Interest, lagging until this week, seems to be quickening on the home stretch. Absentee balloting, delayed for more than a week while the state democratic committee waited to certify results of the first primary, finally passed the 200 mark Wednesday, last day for casting the ballots in person.

3600 Vote Expected

The total stood at 206 Thursday noon and more ballots were expected in the afternoon and evening mail.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. in 15 boxes of the county and will close at 7 p. m.

Little more than 3,000 votes are expected to be cast although last minute interest may tend to boost the total to more than 70 per cent of the first primary vote.

Some confusion has resulted in the precinct balloting. Those in all boxes except Coahoma, R-Bar and Vincent will vote in the constable's race. Those for public weigher of precinct No. 2 will vote only in the Coahoma, R-Bar and Vincent.

In the county commissioners races, these boxes will vote for the following places:

No. 1—Moore, Knott, Soash, Highway and the No. 1.

No. 2—Coahoma, Forsan and No. 2.

No. 3—No. 3.

No. 4—Vincent, Center Point, R-Bar, Gay Hill, Morris and No. 4.

The ballot, cut from 94 to 22 names, will offer these choices to the voters:

Railroad commissioner—Ernest Thompson and Frank Morris.

Agriculture commissioner—J. E. McDonald and F. H. Terrell.

County judge—H. R. Debenport and Charlie Sullivan.

Electrical clerk—Hugh Dabberly and Mrs. N. W. McCleskey.

County treasurer—E. G. Towler and Mrs. J. L. Collins.

Public weigher precinct No. 2—G. L. Graham and S. R. Hagler.

Constable precinct No. 1—J. F. Crenshaw and Sam Stinson.

Commissioner precinct No. 1—J. Ed Brown and Frank Hodnett.

Commissioner precinct No. 2—A. W. Thompson and Pete Johnson.

Commissioner precinct No. 3—H. H. Rutherford and J. S. Winslow.

Commissioner precinct No. 4—W. M. Fletcher and Ed J. Carpenter.

Must Face Second Trial

FORT WORTH, Aug. 20. (AP)—O. D. Stevens, alleged leader of the gang held responsible for the Texas & Pacific mail robbery here in 1933, and also held for the slaying of three hand men, was secretly transferred from Alcatraz prison in San Francisco bay, to the Tarrant county jail, where he is now awaiting trial, September 14, on a murder charge in connection with the triple slaying.

Stevens will remain a federal prisoner while here and will be under the constant surveillance of two guards as he awaits trial. He was returned here from the island prison as a result of the decision of the court of criminal appeals in reversing Stevens' death penalty on Dec. 18, 1935. The prisoner was taken to Alcatraz in 1934 to begin serving a 27-year federal sentence for the $71,000 mail robbery.

Plans Kept Secret

Through the secrecy of a well-timed plan, the federal officers were able to transport the prisoner from California to Tarrant county jail with only a few men knowing the hour of arrival. Crowds that jammed the courthouse grounds when W. D. May was returned from Alcatraz a year ago were absent yesterday. Even local officers did not know what hour Marshal Wright would arrive May, the alleged companion of Stevens in the triple slaying, was returned here in July, 1935, and executed at the state penitentiary last September for his part in the slaying.

Entering one of the old death cells on the fourth floor of the jail, Stevens had a vivid memory of that eventful night of March 26, 1934, when he saw the same cell door from its hinges in a futile effort to escape. He gained access to the corridor, tried to use the door to pry loose the iron bars on the window but found the door was too heavy to drag to the window.

J. M. Morgan has returned from El Paso where he had been under medical treatment. The sight of his right eye has been completely lost.

TRASH FIRE

Fire originating from an open trash barrel fire Wednesday afternoon spread to a scrap lumber pile and then to a power line pole at 1500 Scurry street. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it could spread further.

SAYS PLOT WOULD HAVE MADE RUSSIA A FASCIST NATION

MOSCOW, Aug. 20. (AP)—Gregory Zinovieff, one of 16 accused of plotting against the Soviet government, testified at his trial today that the conspiracy, if successful, would have put Russia on the road to fascism.

He accepted full guilt for the conspiracy which allegedly included the assassination of Dictator Josef Stalin. Zinovieff's secretary committed suicide rather than carry out the death order.

It started this way, according to the story: A coyote boldly trotted down the main thoroughfare of Odessa one day, unencumbered with traffic and people. Suddenly a mongrel dog passed the coyote's path. The animal whirled, slashed the dog's throat, and scampered up an

Govt. Claims Rebel Forces Are In Flight

Germany Warns That Further Search Of Vessels Will Meet Resistance

(By the Associated Press)

Spanish government troops today established a new line of defense about 100 miles southwest of Madrid, claiming the rebel forces were in flight.

Meanwhile France and Great Britain, informed Paris sources said, may undertake mediation in an attempt to prevent the reported search by the Spanish government of a German ship from having international repercussions.

Nazi Ultimatum

The German government in an ultimatum to Madrid announced its warships would prevent a repetition of the reported incident with "all their means."

The government claimed a victory over the fascist at the walled city of Avila, about 60 miles west of the capital. It said 500 rebels were killed or captured and six big guns were seized.

Loyalists sources claimed capture of a gun powder factory near Gauda, in the south.

Three Slain At San Sebastian

Rebel planes renewed the onslaught against San Sebastian and Irun.

Three persons were killed and seven wounded under bombing of San Sebastian by three fascist planes while the rebel battleship Espana fired six shells into the war-weary city without apparent casualties.

Loyalist Leaders of the beleaguered city conceded its morale was near the breaking point after four weeks during which the inhabitants have ventured from cellars only for food and water.

Terrified loyalists feared Irun's streets would be turned into a battle field at any moment. Rebel forces battered their way in bloody hand-to-hand fighting within rifle shot of its gates.

The city was shelled by machine gun fire and a heavy barrage from a government torpedo boat.

Refugees struggled across the international bridge into France, many of them in pitiable condition, juggling their few remaining belongings and in want of food and money.

More Direct Aid Foreseen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (UP)—A sharp increase in federal work rolls because of drought and unemployment pointed today to a partial return of dole relief this winter.

Rising need indicated the administration may be forced to revert to direct money and food grants at least in the great plains area. Work-relief will be continued as a national policy.

Drouth Causing A Sharp Increase In Federal Work Rolls

Inability of federal finances to meet the whole situation with a job program was seen in two developments:

1. The works progress administration reported 2,335,522 persons currently assigned government-financed jobs compared to 2,240,085 on July 4, a gain of 90,437. The usual summer trend points down.

2. The American Federation of Labor counted 11,138,000 individuals out of work against 12,389,000 a year ago. The department of labor estimated 805,000 had been re-employed in the last year.

The drought will add 2,000,000 persons to relief rolls by winter if official predictions are correct. In addition, only half the county's unemployed now receive government aid, and their need increased as they exhaust personal resources.

TO DALLAS

Louis Stall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stall, is being honored at Dallas today along with ex-Texas rangers in ceremonies arranged to coincide with the world premiere of the motion picture, "Texas Rangers." Louis, a member of Boy Scout Troop No. 5, won an essay contest conducted among scouts of Texas on their impressions of the Texas rangers. He will be greeted by Fred McMurray, star of the picture, and King Vidor, director and native of Texas.

Funds Raised For Awards In Air Derby

$250 Needed For Prizes; More Sought For Entertaining Fliers

Raising of funds for lap prizes to be given to the winning participants in the Ruth Chatterton air derby got off to a good start here Thursday morning. By noon about $230 had been raised.

Besides $250 necessary for prize money, additional funds were being sought to finance a barbecue for the visiting pilots, most of them nationally famed.

Heading the finances group was Dr. C. K. Bivings and he was assisted in the campaign by Bob Schermerhorn, James Davis, Nat Shick, Ira Thurman, G. H. Hayward, Fox Stripling and Victor Melling.

The Chatterton derby, sponsored by Miss Ruth Chatterton, film actress, is scheduled to arrive here around noon on Sept. 1 and remain until 2 p. m.

Only those who have not flown aircraft for monetary gain within the past year and those who have planes with 85 miles or more cruising speed, and who have had more than 150 solo hours in the air are eligible to enter. The derby is based on safety and accuracy rather than speed.

Entry lists have not been completed, but it is estimated that more than 50 pilots will touch their wheels here on Sept. 1.

Welfare Expenses For July $1,603

Hospitalization, funerals and professional services accounted for more than half of the July expense incurred by the County-Wide Welfare association, a statement released by L. A. Deason, administrator, showed today.

Of the total expense of $1,603.14 for the month, $234.50 was required for hospitalization, $221.25 for funerals, and $137.50 for professional services. Next largest item was $283.60 for groceries and the other substantial disbursement was $299.90 for personal services.

Not shown on the report and distributed without cost to the association were food articles and clothing from the Texas Relief commission surplus commodities in the amount of $555.02 and $110.69, respectively.

ELECTION EXTRA

As in the first primary, The Herald will issue an ELECTION EXTRA Saturday night, giving returns in state, county and district races in the runoff primary.

The paper will be on the streets probably around 6 o'clock, by which time county returns may be complete. The EXTRA also will have latest returns on the two state contests on important district races.

Around And About

The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley

CARL BLUMSHIELD, country club president, sends this very interesting note:

"Concerning grass greens for country club: I really prefer to play on good grass greens as they are cleaner and more refreshing. Regarding the country club: I would rather get the club completely out of debt before any additional money is spent. With a little careful management, this can be done by the first of the year."

"Second: I am not very enthusiastic about putting in grass greens, because any major change in a semi-public organization causes a lot of criticism and comment, and I do not care to be the 'Moses' for any 'non-kid' critics. However, I am a 'gangster' and willing to follow the gang."

THE JOE Louis-Jack Sharkey fight accomplished two things. It put the negro back at the top of the heavyweight heap and put Jack Sharkey out of the picture for keeps. But the situation is still in a mess. Max Schmeling has refused a return match with Louis and the battle scheduled between Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock and Schmeling has been postponed because of an injury to Braddock's hand.

HERE ARE the figures on the Sharkey-Louis scramble:
Attendance, 29,331.
Paid attendance, 27,380.
Gross receipts, $159,982.26.
Net receipts, $136,345.82.
Fighters' shares:
Louis, $40,908.74.
Sharkey, $34,084.45.

GETTING IN as many practice ticks as possible before the district softball tournament, the Settles Roadrunners and Cosden Lab will meet on the Mundy diamond next Monday night.

TWO PLAYERS on the Settles softball team, Leonard Morgan and Fred Koberg, were involved in a minor collision last night when both went after a fly ball. They ran together but escaped with a few bruises.

BUD MATHINA will bring his Colorado all-star softball team here tomorrow night to play the Cosden Oilers. Both clubs are scheduled to play in the district meet here later in the month.

Schoolboy Baseballers Are Signed By Majors

DETROIT, Aug. 20. (AP)—Two high school baseballers from Detroit have been signed by the majors. Bill Ebranyi, first baseman from Southwestern high's city championship team, goes to the Detroit Tigers. Bob Jenkins, all-city catcher from Southwestern, has signed with the Boston Red Sox.

START MAKING PLANS FOR ANNUAL C. C. TOURNEY

CHAMPION MORGAN TO PLAY AGAIN

Eddie Morgan, who rates as one of West Texas' most consistent and green golfers, will defend his country club championship here Sept. 5-7 in the sixth annual invitation tournament.

Although having played golf off and on since the age of 12, Eddie did not gain recognition in golfing circles until about three years ago. In 1934 he was runner-up in the local event, losing to J. J. Neal of Hobbs, N. M., 1 up. Last year he realized a long ambition by taking the championship with a fine 7 and 6 victory over J. C. Southworth of Sweetwater.

Eighty-five fairway fanners registered for the fifth annual tournament, but Tournament Chairman Obie Bristow expects a field of over one hundred this year with golfers from points as far away as El Paso and Hobbs.

A sixteen player championship flight will be used instead of the thirty-two player title bracket of last year, and golfers will be allowed to start qualifying on Aug. 31 to levitate the heavy influx of money on Sept. 5, regular qualifying day.

Out-of-town golfers, to be eligible for medal honors when qualifying before the regular day, must be accompanied by a member of the local club.

Traps are being cleaned and greens, country club pro and manager.

The first two tournaments were won by Charlie Qualls, Post postmaster. In 1931 he defeated hard-driving Obie Bristow, 2 up, and a year later he copped the title by outgolfing Bob Scott, southpaw Coloradoan, 1 up.

The third annual event was won by Shirley Robbins of Big Spring, popular West Texas sand green shotmaker. He won from E. C. Neal of Colorado, 3 and 2. J. J. Neal of Hobbs copped, the 1934 tournament.

Morgan was medalist last year with a 68, two under par. Twelve local golfers made the thirty-two player championship flight last year, but Bristow expects a faster and more interesting tournament this year with the sixteen player flight.

Morgan's qualifying card last year:

Par out... 434 544 364-86

Juniors Meet Abilene Team Tonight

All-Stars To Clash With Reporter-News Team

A softball team representing the Reporter-News of the Abilene league will meet a snappy team of youngsters tonight on the Mundy diamond. The game is ticketed for 8 o'clock.

Ellis Reed, who took over the managerial duties of the local junior circuit when Ben Daniels shifted headquarters to Abilene, will have an all-star line-up picked from the four-team circuit. Included in the line-up will be Bobby Savage, star pitcher.

Daniels, although accompanying the Abilene team here, will probably have a hand in directing the juniors. He organized the local circuit in June.

On the E-Spring squad will be Choc Smith, Bobby Savage, L. Bostick, Red Womack, Alton Bostick, Jimmy Meyers, H. C. Burrus, A. O. Weir, W. W. Wells, Hal Battle and John Miller.

HELEN "POPEYE" STEPHENS KEEPS UP CLASSROOM WORK

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Aug. 20. (UP)—The Missouri nickname for Helen Stephens, world's champion woman sprinter, that hasn't caught up with her nationally is "Popeye."

Classmates of Miss Stephens when she was a freshman in Fulton, Mo., high school began calling her "Popeye" because of her strength and athletic ability, according to Miss Georgia Richardson of Warrensburg, high school teacher and adviser of the famous girl.

Among other things that haven't been learned about Miss Stephens, according to her former teacher, is that the Fulton girl is an expert horsewoman.

"During her freshman year in high school, Helen rode a horse to school from the Stephens farm," Miss Richardson said. "Sometimes she didn't even trouble to saddle the horse. How she could ride!"

Family Hard Pressed
Because the depression curtailed the income from the Stephens farm, there was little money available for Helen's high school education. After commuting daily by horseback for a year and doing farm work after school, Helen moved to Fulton and rented a light housekeeping room that she occupied during her last three years. Every week-end she went home, and brought back provisions. She prepared her own meals.

"The rest of the students didn't take up with Helen immediately," Miss Richardson said. "It was because she was retiring, and because she was unable to live as the other students did."

"Something that the sports writers are overlooking is that Helen was a 'straight-E' student throughout high school, and that means her grades were perfect. Remember that these grades all came along before Helen became an athletic sensation.

Won Student Popularity
"I think probably the most remarkable thing about Helen is her intellectual ability. Long before she was famous she had become extremely popular among the students, and that is something, too."

"Helen is domestic. Her room always spotless while she was attending school. She likes keeping house."

"The girl has educated parents and she has been reared well. Her mother is a graduate of William Woods college at Fulton, which Helen now attends. Her father is a fine hard-working man."

First to discover the unusual ability of Miss Stephens was Bert Moore, athletic coach at Fulton high school, who noticed that the girl had no trouble excelling in physical education classes.

Success Achieved Quickly
During her senior year in high school, Miss Stephens competed in an A. A. U. meet in St. Louis, and easily defeated Stella Walsh, then the world record holder. World success has followed.

"I accompanied Coach and Mrs. Moore and Helen to Columbia, Mo., after Helen had beaten Stella Walsh," Miss Richardson said. "She hadn't changed a bit, and hadn't the last time I saw her."

"When Helen was graduated from high school, no money was available for college," Mrs. Richardson said. "The Fulton chamber of commerce made it possible for her to attend William Woods college last year, and also made possible her entry in the Olympics."

"They are fixing up the best room at the college dormitory for Helen next year," Miss Richardson said. "I think she deserves it."

HOTELMEN WIN FROM REFINERS

By HANK HART

Coming from behind with a three-run rally in the ninth frame, the Settles Roadrunners staved off a final outburst on the part of the Cosden Oilers to defeat the champions, 6-5, Wednesday night behind effective seven-hit pitching of little Bobby Savage.

Five straight hits on the part of the Hotelmen accounted for the runs in that final frame. Hart opened up with a line double into left field, Koberg sent him to third with a sharp single, and Morgan came through with his third base hit of the ninth to mark up the first run. Bryant and Hare followed with hard hit singles to put the second run across, and Fred Savage drove in what proved to be the winning tally with a drive through Ramsey at short.

After the Cosdenites had broken the ice by scoring a pair in the first, the Roadrunners closed in with a marker in the third when Fred Savage ambled across, and tied it up in the fourth when Pickle tallied.

A big sixth inning enabled the Oilers to pull away when Skipper Henninger's men put three runs on the board. Ramsey and Wallin went home on Martin's drive into left field and Pepper was safe on Smith's blow to right.

The Roadrunners got one run back in the seventh when Leonard J. Morgan scored, but had to wait until their final appearance at bat to open up their Big Bertha's.

Sharkey Fools Louis With Old Coin Trick

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. (UP)—Although beaten by Joe Louis in the prize ring Tuesday night, Jack Sharkey scored a moral victory when he fooled the Detroit negro with an old coin trick.

The two met in 20th Century Sporting club headquarters when they called for their checks today. Joe was sitting at a desk playing with a typewriter when the Boston tavern-keeper walked up and laid three pennies on the desk.

"How many pennies do you see?" he asked.

"Three," replied Louis.

"I say there's four," insisted Sharkey.

"Well, I only see three," Joe answered.

"I say there's four, and will you buy me a new car if I'm wrong?"

"Now, I won't buy you no car."

"Well, will you buy me a drink if I'm wrong?" Sharkey insisted.

"Yeah, a drink."

"Okay sucker, I'm wrong—there are only three pennies."

Everybody, Louis included, got a big laugh out of the joke.

Joe didn't carry a mark from last night's battle. Sharkey was in a rare good humor despite a puffed and gashed right eye, a mouse under the left orb, and a half dozen glove marks on his face.

Comparing Louis to Jack Dempsey, Sharkey said when he fought him Dempsey hit harder than Louis but Joe hurts more because he hits so much faster," he said.

"Louis hurts more because he is wilder, and before you know what's happening, you're on the floor. I don't remember much after I was floored by that right in the second round."

When he has enough time off, the Dizzy Dean likes to visit a good baseball game.

ROUGH AND READY McSHAIN BLOWS INTO TOWN TUESDAY

Danny McShain, who'll stop at nothing to win a wrestling match, will make his first appearance in the Big Spring arena next Tuesday in a main event match with Cyclone Mackey. Manager Herman Fuhrer, in promising that next week's match would be the roughest and toughest ever staged here, said he would have at least one man for each bout, and has already requested additional police protection. Said to be the toughest man in the business to knock-out, Danny proved it last year in a match at Abilene. Struck with a black jack, wild-eyed McShain turned and threw his assailant out of the ring. He's fought more speculators than all of the other boys put together, and will battle in or out of the ring.

Mackey, older than McShain, likes 'em tough but indicated he was not very anxious to fight Danny. "Buck Lipscomb is a slusky compared to McShain," Mackey remarked.

Lipscomb, Tex Watkins and Ace Abbot are to be on the same card.

Yankees Have Good Defense

Outer Gardens Of New York Team Well Patroled

EDITOR'S NOTE: Last of a series on the Yankees.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. (AP)—The power at the plate of the New York Yankees' "Murderers' Row" and the airtight infield of the coddling New Yorkers tell only part of the story of the team's amazing rise.

Part of the story is the defense in the outer gardens.

Man for man, in every position, in the infield, and in the outfield, the 1936 Yankees are getting around with the best of them on the diamond.

During the Ruthian run, the Yanks had one of the heaviest hitting outfield combinations in baseball history. Yet that trio of Ruth, Bob Meusel and Earl Combs didn't measure up to the present bunch in fielding.

Di Maggio Covers Wide Area
Joe Di Maggio, the rookie whose big bat has been the talk of the major leagues, also has an arm that can whip a ball from any part of center field like a rifle shot. He covers as much ground as Combs did in his best days. But that arm of his is what makes him better, because Combs, good as he was, was short on whip strength. It was a favorite saying around the stadium in those days that Earl couldn't peg a ball from short center to second base. Of course, that was an exaggeration, but not by many yards.

Meusel, a great hitter, was notoriously lazy in left field. That's where Jake Powell, Myril Hoag and Roy Johnson have topped him in their alternate tours of duty there this season. They go after the tough ones harder than they do the easy ones—and they get them.

In right field, Ruth's long-time stamping ground, George Selkirk is the head man today. Now Ruth was a grand fielder, had an arm that could peg a ball like a bullet, but he didn't cover the territory a less-corpulent Selkirk does.

A Great Double-Play Team
As a team, the Yanks are at or near the top in nearly every department of defensive play. Their fielding average is about .972. They worked 100 double plays in 100 games.

The pitching wasn't so bright from a Yankee standpoint up to mid-season, but since then, the New York hurling staff has improved considerably. As a result two of the pitchers, Bump Hadley and Pat Malone, just about top the league, while Monte Pearson and Charley Ruffing aren't far behind. Johnny Broaca, a disappointment in the early months, has come around and is one of the mainstays now. The relief hurling job is being handled in a top-flight manner by Old Tubber Malone, who has paid heavy dividends for Manager Joe McCarthy's faith in him, by saving games every week.

Owens Suggested For The Sullivan Award
By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 20. (UP)—There is but one sensible nominee for the James Sullivan memorial award for 1936 and that one is Jesse Owens, the "midnight flyer" from Ohio.

He stands so far ahead of all other American athletes in the way of achievement for the year that there is no second. And there can not be a question as to his sportsmanship or character. No winner of the award—and the list includes Bobby Jones, Barney Berlinger, Jim Baush, Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bontrouth and Lawson Little—ever dominated his field more cleanly or wore his laurels more modestly than the colored Ohio sprinter.

His superb performance in the Olympics—the "Owens Olympics" as the Germans termed it—made him a natural selection for the highest award in American sport.

His four gold medals would be enough to earn him a unanimous vote, but Owens did more than that. Even more important than his feat of tying or breaking an Olympic record in 13 of his 16 appearances on the track or at the jumping pit, was the manner in which he completely won over to his side the crowd which at the start of the games resented even his appearance in the stadium.

"What a Money-Saver Dodge Is!"

See MRS. MARY RANSON SMITH, Pelham, New York.

I'm delighted with our new Dodge! In the first place it's such a gorgeous-looking car. I doubt whether we could find greater riding comfort in any other car...

...It handles like a dream...so easy to steer and shift gears...and the brakes are marvelous...and what a money-saver it is...

We haven't had to add any oil between regular changes... What's more, our Dodge is giving us at least 7 more miles to the gallon of gas than our old car. No wonder they call it the Money-Saving Dodge!

Texas' Young Fighters To Battle In Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 20.—The youthful fighters of Texas' state realm will be crowned at the Texas Centennial Exposition Friday and Saturday. At least four score youthful boxers, selected through elimination tournaments as the best in their sections of the state, will battle in the Cotton Bowl at the Centennial Exposition under the direction of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation in what is characterized as one of the most action-packed fight programs in the history of southwest amateur battling. From 10 district centers will come young boxers ready for the battles of their lives. It will be the spotlight for the first time for many of them. Districts sending boxing teams to the tournament are: Lubbock, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Laredo and Galveston. One of the state's outstanding heavyweights, Tom Beaupre of Dallas, will aid in conducting the tournament, and will serve as a second for unattended young fighters.

INJURY SERIOUS
NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (UP)—Hopes that heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock would be able to defend his title against Max Schmeling next month faded today when Dr. Fred H. Albee reported that an injury on Braddock's left hand would prevent him from fighting before late October.

DALLAS, Aug. 20.—The Chicago Bears, most colorful football eleven in the National professional league, played football 15 years before their management would agree to take them away from their home gridiron for one of their early season inter-sectional clashes. Then Texas took the limelight with its Centennial Exposition. Thus on September 7 the Bears will meet an All-American eleven in the Centennial Exposition's Cotton Bowl in what is expected to be one of the most sensational gridiron battles ever played on a southwestern grid.

AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—Sales by Texas department stores during July were well above those of the like month last year and the seasonal decline from June to July was less than the average of the past several years, the University of Texas bureau of business research has reported. Records from 89 representative Texas establishments show an increase in July sales of 21.6 per cent over a year ago and a decline of 21.3 per cent from the preceding month. For the first seven months aggregate sales of these stores exceeded those of the corresponding period last year by 16.1 per cent. A better showing than the average for the state in comparison with July, 1935, was made in the following cities: Beaumont, Corsicana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, San Antonio and Temple. "There was practically no change in the percentage of credit sales in relation to net sales, but the percentage of outstanding credit accounts collected during July was greater than it was in the corresponding month last year," the bureau's report said.

TEXAS BARS LOUIS
AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (UP)—Joe Louis, starting his comeback ring career, will not be permitted to fight in Texas unless his opponent is a negro. As none of the race is known as a serious contender against Louis, State Boxing Commissioner Fred E. Nichols saw no prospect of Louis fighting in Texas.

The law prohibits fights between negroes and whites, Nichols said.

Mrs. Lee Hubby has returned from Dallas where she attended the Centennial with friends from Mulshoe. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy have returned from El Paso and from a visit to the Carlsbad Caverns.

rabies epidemic was on. But the story does not end here. One cold and moonless night the following December, Lucian Self, his son, Casey, and a nephew, Clyde Stringfield, were sitting around the little bachelor stove in an old camp house on the old Pool place. They had finished supper and were sitting huddled around the stove while the long winter evening came on. The old man suddenly became attentive. He had heard a noise on the front porch above the crackle of the stove. At 11 o'clock on a cold night, several miles from a neighbor, any noise would bear investigation.

Rising slowly, he walked quietly to the front door and opened it. Seeing nothing outside, he struck a match, and holding it above his head, peered into the darkness. He saw nothing, but as the wind flicked out the flame, something struck his hand, high above his head, and jerked the flesh before he could jerk it away. The groping fingers of his other hand touched soft fur. Hearing his sharp cry of pain, the two boys jumped to his side, and after hastily examining the wounds, decided to rush him to a doctor. They had no guns in the house, but the boys armed with heavy clubs, walked on each side of the old man who carried a lantern in his empty hand.

Boy Attacked
As they turned the corner of the house, on the way to the place where the car was sitting, the old man came between the light and his nephew. Out of the darkness the wolf attacked the boy, sinking his teeth deep in the lad's thigh.

Feeling a hasty retreat to the safety of the house, they realized their desperate predicament. For a long time they heard nothing. The unarmed boy opened the door a few inches and peered out of the crack. The wolf, eyes gleaming and fangs bared, charged the opening, foam blowing from his frothing jaws. So furious was his fight that he almost forced the door open before the other boy could come to the aid of his companion by poking the beast back with a club.

Grimly they barred all entrances and resigned themselves to the cruel cold of the night. Their wood supply was gone and they dared not try to get to the pile for more. Neither could they sleep. Shaking, they sat numbly until just before dawn.

Poisoned
The nephew's face brightened as if thawing. He had remembered that strychnine was kept on the place. He arose stiffly from his chair and applied a liberal dose to a piece of salt pork and flung it out the door.

Every minute after that seemed hours. Finally the three could stand it no longer. They, as if by common consent, hobbled slowly to a door. Opening it ever so cautiously, they looked out. Their enemy of the night was nowhere to be seen. A hundred yards or more from the house, in a little sandy ditch just under the fence, they found their terrorist, stretched out stiff and cold on the ground, his tongue thick and swollen between slobber-caked teeth, and his glassy eyes staring miserably. Here lay their assailant, just another grey and many coyote carcass.

The animal's head was sent to Austin where it reacted positively to the rabies test. The two victims underwent the rabies treatment.

It was the news stories of the incident which provoked the state and federal governments to action in stamping out the rabies curse in Beto county.

Today, the sand hills of the county have their coyotes, but most of them are the reticent, cunning creatures which West Texas suffers with a sort of secret pride in something which adds a completing touch to the regional picture.

Others Seek Home Loans

Two Additional Applications Mailed To FHA Headquarters

Two more applications were prepared for mailing to the FHA state headquarters in Fort Worth today by R. E. Sikes, field representative of the federal housing administration, who is maintaining offices here for the remainder of the week in room 204, Petroleum building.

Sikes estimated that 12 to 15 prospective home owners were having plans and specifications prepared in anticipation of securing FHA insured mortgage loans. E. P. Stearns and Vernie Hostick, district director and staff valuator out of the Fort Worth office, were here Wednesday inspecting localities and making a survey of the city as an appraisal basis in recommending loans. In Midland today, they were expected to return here tonight.

Several persons who have inquired about the program have been in doubt as to whether lots can be considered as part of the 20 per cent necessary before a loan will be granted.

An individual with $500 cash or a clear title lot worth that amount would be eligible to borrow $2,000, said Sikes, for the cash or lot would represent the 20 per cent required equity in the completed property.

Local Man To Teach In Lockhart

Seth H. Parsons Takes Up Duties In New School Field

Seth H. Parsons, formerly with the science department of the Big Spring high school, left Big Spring Thursday morning to take up his duties as co-ordinator of part-time co-operative education at Lockhart. This is a new field of activity in educational circles. Pascal Buckner introduced it into the Big Spring school system last year, the work being known then as diversified occupations. The change in titles was made during the past summer at A & M college by the state department.

The work of a co-ordinator is to train boys and girls of high school age for practical living, by giving them instruction in school part of the day and by arranging for them to work for the remainder of the day. Hence the term, part-time. The system in use in Texas was worked out by Buckner and his associates at Georgetown and is known the United States over as the Georgetown system. Special training was given to co-ordinators and prospective co-ordinators during the first six weeks at A & M this summer. Parsons and Buckner both attended classes there.

Parsons went to Lockhart the latter part of July to arrange for the introduction of the new educational course in the Lockhart schools. He motored to Camp Mary

Safety Campaign Linked In Program Of State Departments

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (UP)—Plans for a joint campaign for child health and safety were announced today by the state health department and the state motor patrol. Meetings will be held in various parts of the state. First will be at Waco, August 26 and 27. Hillsboro, Marlin, Seymour, Paris, Texarkana, Mineral Wells, Eastland, Sherman, Greenville, Marshall and Longview have been scheduled for later sessions.

The maternal and child health division of the state health department will conduct the health section of the meetings. The safety section will be handled by the motor patrol. Special emphasis will be given to the development of school safety patrols. Captains of 12 state highway patrol divisions will have charge of that part of the work and will use a sound car and loud speaker equipment.

Dr. Calvin Hannah, Dallas, president-elect of the state medical association, will conduct a post-graduate course in obstetrics for physicians at the Waco meeting, and Dr. H. Leslie Moore, Dallas, will lecture on child health. Exhibits of model home preparations for maternity have been prepared by the health department for use in the conferences.

The Final Hour' Is Featured At Ritz

"The Final Hour," featuring Ralph Bellamy and Marguerite Churchill, heads the screen program at the Ritz theatre Thursday. The picture relates the experiences of a once powerful, prosperous lawyer who hits the dogs after a series of marital difficulties.

Best on suicide the lawyer, played by Bellamy, meets a girl (Miss Churchill) who gives him a new strength and a new ambition to battle his way back. To help Bellamy, the girl enlists the aid of her employer, an ex-gangster, played by John Galloway. Bellamy grows to love the girl but trouble ensues when Galloway is murdered by a former mobster pal. The girl is accused of the murder and for the first time in his career, Bellamy is hopelessly unable to best the law.

Others Get Notice Of Pension Grants

Seventy-five additional notices of grant to applicants for old age assistance in this district were received Thursday by George White, district supervisor for the state commission. Receipt of the new block of notices ran the total given assistance in this 13-county district to 950. Denials have been mailed to 60 others, bringing the total number of applications acted upon to 1,010, or about half the number applying. Other grants and denials are expected to be received as fast as the state office can check investigations of the district staff.

Average grant for the district is little less than $18. Most of the denials have been made on the basis of lack of need by the applicants while a few have been denied on grounds of not meeting citizenship or residence requirements.

Monday four investigators attached to the office here will go to Abilene to join investigators of that district in taking civil service examinations required by the assistance commission. Those who will go from this district are Kin Barnett, Big Spring; C. B. Jones, Stanton; Pete Flannigan, Midland, and Carter Thompson, Tahoka.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, said Thursday that 5,561 new text books for rural schools have been received by her office. The books, she added, have been assorted and are ready for distribution as schools open.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bryant have returned from a 15-day trip to Colorado, Oregon and Utah.

Local Government Units Most Costly To Texas Taxpayer

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (UP)—Local units of government cost the Texas taxpayer about four times as much as state government, a report furnished to the governor by the state auditor on June 15, and released today revealed.

For the fiscal year ended Sept. 1, 1935, local units collected $107,271,189 in taxes and the state $26,157,960. Total burden to the Texas taxpayer was $133,429,149. City taxes totaled $33,330,019; county taxes, $29,995,274; independent school districts, $28,549,930. Other taxes all were under $7,000,000.

Total outstanding indebtedness of counties, cities and districts in bonds and time and current warrants was $700,896,845. Delinquent taxes were reported at $143,095,807, but with the notation that the amount probably is inaccurate as many counties failed to report delinquencies.

Crocheted Yoke That Might Be Collar

By RUTH OHR
Pattern No. 345

A neighbor made this little yoke for one of her children. It's really a clever idea. She had the pattern of a plain little frock and sewed it together. Then she applied the crocheted yoke, whipped it down carefully and cut the material away from beneath it. And you'll find it as simple as that. Instead of applying it to a frock, you might turn it around to form a collar. The best part of it is that the directions are written in inches instead of a specific number of stitches. We are particularly partial to that type of pattern, because it can be made to fit an older child, or a wee tottler of two or so, or even an infant. Not only that, you may use whatever thread you like. We worked this yoke in

No. 60 mercerized crocheted cotton, for a frock made of dotted Swiss, but if you were using a fine batiste or organdie, you might choose to make it of 70 or 80, while No. 20 or 30 would be better on a heavier material.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what crocheted hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 245 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Dept., P. O. Box 200, Station D, New York, N. Y.

First Methodist Church Pays Tribute To Mother Zinn At Wednesday Evening Service

The regular Wednesday evening Bible services of the First Methodist church were devoted to paying tribute to the only living charter member of the church—Mrs. R. B. Zinn—who celebrated her 90th birthday Wednesday. The affair was a complete surprise to the honoree.

The meeting opened with the singing of old hymns such as the church sang 83 years ago when Mrs. Zinn attended its first meeting.

The pastor, the Rev. C. A. Bickley, gave the devotional, then paid a tribute to many other older members of the church who are still active in its work.

Mrs. Bickley made the talk of the evening on the subject, "The Value of Ripened Experience of Elder People to Themselves and Others." Her scripture reading was: "At eventime there shall be light." She spoke of the accumulation of experiences that in the end became a light not only to guide the feet of the old but of those who walked the way along with them.

Following her beautiful speech and her tribute to the honor guest of the evening, Mrs. Fox Stripling, teacher of the Coffee Memorial Sunday school class of which Mrs. Zinn is a member, brought in a huge birthday cake. On it were 90 lighted candles.

Members of the class made many wishes for Mrs. Zinn and the meeting closed with a talk by Mrs. Zinn in which she thanked the group and told them of her deep love for the church.

Rebekahs Postpone Re-Instatement Meet

The Rebekahs met Tuesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall with Fern Burleson, nobel grand, presiding. Although this date was set as re-instatement night the group decided to postpone the re-instatement ceremony until next Tuesday in order to do more work.

It was announced that several local members were planning to attend the Dallas Centennial on Odd Fellow Day, August 26. Plans were made for entertaining the local Odd Fellows on September 1.

Those present were: Misses Burleson, Ora Martin, Nora Guiley, Velma Cain, Lee Anderson, Thelma Randolph, Ella Lloyd, Mary Kinman, Willie Stringfellow, Amanda Hughes, Sallie Kinard, Marie Griffin, Lottie Lykins, Maggie Richardson, Eula Robinson, Myrtle Morrow; Powell Martin, Ben Miller, J. W. C. T. U. Hears Of National Convention

The W. C. T. U. met at the First Baptist church Wednesday for a business session. Mrs. G. B. Richbrough talked to those present on the work of the organization and the duties of the members.

The group raised money for local child welfare work and also for a shut-in member.

Mrs. C. B. Holmes gave the highlights of the national W. C. T. U. convention.

Others present were: Misses D. F. Painter, J. A. Boykin, W. R. Settles and R. E. Gay.

Speaking Personally

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Smith are back from Fort Worth and Dallas where they attended the Centennial attractions. Accompanying them as far as Dallas were Mrs. W. R. Ray of Indianola, Miss, and Mrs. G. G. DeMont of Memphis, Tenn., both house guests of Mrs. Smith for the past ten days.

Miss Alta Mae Gage, accompanied by her brother Tommy, went to Abilene Thursday to attend the commencement exercises at McMurry college where her friend, Howard Butler received his degree.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morgan returned home Wednesday night from El Paso where Morgan has been in the hospital. He is much better now. Driving them to Big Spring was a nephew, Joe Grady, who will remain for a visit.

Mrs. Kin Barnett and son, Bill Alfred, left Tuesday morning with Mrs. Milburn Barnett and her two children, Joan Rink and Milburn Carroll to visit in Fort Worth and Dallas for about two weeks.

The three daughters of Mrs. Kathleen Williams, who have spent the summer in Kansas City, Mo., with their father, have returned home. They are Kathleen, Mary Margaret and Rose Eleanor.

Mrs. F. P. Hickson and children have returned from a three-weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Dallas and Hugo, Okla. While in Dallas they attended the Centennial exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Farr left Thursday for San Antonio.

Democrats From 7 States To Attend Reunion At Charlotte, N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 20 (UP)—Southern Democratic supporters of the Roosevelt administration will give their 1936 election campaign a send-off at a seven state rally here Sept. 10.

An afternoon address by President Roosevelt will be the focal point of the entire meeting program.

This opportunity to participate in a gigantic political "family reunion" probably will bring 50,000 Democrats from tobacco and cotton fields; from the mountains and dozens of Southern cities and towns. Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia, Alabama and Tennessee will be represented.

Attendance May Reach 100,000

Hawood Robbins, young lawyer in charge of arrangements, is preparing this municipality of 90,000 persons for a possible influx of 100,000 visitors.

Object of the meeting is, essentially, to weld the "solid South" in-range in action will be uncovered in an elaborate public ceremony in front of the big log ranger cabin. Accommodations for thousands of people who wish to attend it have been made.

The unveiling will be one of the two major events of the annual convention of the Texas Ex-Rangers association Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The public will be welcomed also at the old time ranger ball in Cheyenne Joe's Night on the Yukon dancing place on the Centennial Midway, which will close the convention.

Flying with Vidor from Hollywood to participate in the public unveiling ceremony will be Fred MacMurray, Jean Parker, Jack Oakie and other Paramount stars. An elaborate military guard of honor, including two bands, will escort Senator Sheppard and the motion picture notables.

to an even stronger New Deal camp.

In the rear of Charlotte's little armory-auditorium, WPA workers are bolting down seats and adding final touches to a new concrete stadium. The meeting will serve as its inauguration.

An estimated 20,000 persons will crowd into the stadium proper. Temporary stands around the rim and on the central field will place another 20,000 to 30,000 in sight of the speakers' platform. Loudspeakers will carry the speeches to those unable to enter the stadium, and the program will be broadcast.

City to Be Bedecked

A display of bunting and flags unprecedented locally will line the president's route to the stadium. At least 25 bands will join in a street procession.

Tentative plans call for the festivities to start shortly after noon, and end by nightfall.

National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, and Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper are expected. Senators likely to attend are Hugo Black, Alabama; Walter George, Georgia; James Byrnes, South Carolina; Harry Byrd, Virginia; Josiah Bailey and Robert Reynolds, both of North Carolina.

Other outstanding guests probably will include Gov. J. C. B. Ehringhaus of North Carolina; Gov. Olin Johnston of South Carolina; Rep. Robert L. Doughton, N. C., and Clark Howell, Atlanta publisher.

The late King George V of England and Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany were first cousins.

Will Attend Music School

Director, Band Members Here Go To Abilene Training Session

D. W. Conley, director of the Big Spring high school municipal band, and four band members—Charles Sikes, Billie Holderness, Hubert Holderness and J. C. Deaglas—will go to Abilene for the opening, Friday, of a two weeks course of study in band music sponsored by Hardin-Simmons university. Conley will be accompanied by Mrs. Conley and their daughter, Conductor of the training session, called a Music Recreation Camp, are from the nationally known Vandercreek School of Music in Chicago. The teaching staff will be composed of H. A. Vandercreek, a composer of note and a pioneer in teaching of school music; H. E. Nutt, Hoe Olivadoti, Guy E. Holmes and Robert Buggert. Vandercreek's instruction will include methods of teaching and interpretation, and Conley will study under him. Other teachers will give instruction in various types of instruments.

SATURDAY'S VOTE

Estimates from Austin are that the state vote in Saturday's second primary will total no more than 650,000. Local observers are saying that the Howard county poll will probably approximate 3,000. Those estimated figures compare with July primary totals of more than a million in the state and about 4,200 in the county.

In other words, the anticipated turnout of voters Saturday will be from 65 to 70 per cent of that in July. This can be explained in the fact that there are fewer candidates to bring out supporters and fewer races to attract interest—but it shouldn't be explained that way.

The July primary was only the preliminary decision. Voters still must deliver the final decree on a number of important offices. There should be no shirking of a duty which is just as important—or more so—this month than it was last month.

LIVELY SPEAKERSHIP RACE

Definite entry of R. W. Calvert into the speakership race assures a spirited contest for this office when the legislature convenes in January.

Each of the three principal sections of Texas are represented by the candidates so far in: Homer L. Leonard from Southwest Texas; Calvert from North Texas, and R. Emmett Morse from Southeast Texas. Calvert's candidacy was launched at a meeting of his colleagues and supporters in Waco recently. The other aspirants have been busy for about a year. Calvert has the experience of one previous try for this office, when he ran Speaker Coke Stevenson, seeking re-election, a hard race.

Other house members are being discussed as possible candidates, and the final field will not be known until after the general election; but so far the three now entered—all three young men—assure the proverbial fireworks and traditional campaigning for the showdown.

The house elects its speaker as almost the first order of business at each regular session. The 45th legislature will choose between three young, clean-cut, forceful men, all with past experience in legislative business, and each with substantial groups of warm friends among the re-elected members, and apparently each with an even break to appeal to the newcomers.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

Gadabouts who recall the twisting, deceptive streets of Paris, Shanghai and Cincinnati sigh with relief when they return to Manhattan. Of all major cities, this is the least confusing to get around. The avenues are numbered and run up and down. The streets are numbered and run crosswise. There are, however, a few exceptions, and it is here that you find many amusing paradoxes.

Park avenue is supposed to be the most polite and genteel street in New York, and the Bowery the roughest and toughest. Yet the Bowery and Park avenue are the same street. As it climbs uptown, the Bowery becomes Fourth avenue, and then just before it reaches Grand Central it becomes Park avenue.

The most erratic street of all changes its name at least a dozen times before it winds its way through the island. This is Greenwich street where Bruno Richard Hauptmann was taken when he was first apprehended. Later it becomes Ninth avenue, then Columbus avenue, then Morning-side avenue, then St. Nicholas avenue, then Jewel place, where the old Jumel mansion still stands, and finally Laurel Hill Terrace. Later it knifes across High Bridge park, spans the Harlem river, becomes Ninth avenue again, and then merges into Broadway, which runs all the way to Albany.

Many street changes face as they glide uptown. For instance, Twelfth avenue becomes Riverside drive at 72nd street. Eleventh avenue decides to call itself West End avenue after it reaches 60th street. And at 59th street, where Gertrude Ederle used to live, Tenth avenue becomes Amsterdam. The metamorphosis continues with Eighth avenue dissolving into Central Park West at 59th, and Sixth avenue becoming Lenox avenue when it reaches Harlem.

The island of Manhattan is really 252 blocks long, yet the last numbered street uptown is 220th street. The very first street, geographically, is Prince street, although there are others named below it, such as Avenue A, Avenue B and First street.

Still another amusing fact is that West street parallels North river while South street skirts East river. Rose street, one of the very oldest, is a gnarled, crooked little passageway that disappears under the second arch of the Brooklyn bridge. A sensational murder took place just where the arch stands today, but this was nearly 100 years ago. It seems a Pietro somebody had a girl, and she fell in love with a rival. So he eliminated said cavalier with a butcher knife. Yes, they hanged him.

There is one private thoroughfare in New York, an alley that connects 44th street with 45th. Here is the heart of the theatrical sector, and the alley supplies a short cut to a dozen nearby theatres. The man who really controls this narrow artery is Lee Shubert, the producer. His limousine is the only car permitted to park there.

Finally, the avenues here are supposed to run parallel to

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Big Jim Farley's chickens are coming home to roost in Nebraska, with the result that the state which went for Roosevelt in 1932 looks like an almost sure bet for Landon in 1936.

The White House has become so alarmed over the situation that the president is giving it his private and personal attention.

The gloomy state of affairs is due entirely to Big Jim's penchant for playing machine politics. His love-feast with the two old guard democratic bosses of Nebraska has not only split the party wide open there but has alienated the liberal republicans whose voters Roosevelt must win to carry the state.

The Nebraska democratic organization is dominated by Arthur Mullen, former national committeeman, and Sen. Edward R. Burke, Mullen's henchman and successor to his place on the national committee. And while playing ball with Jim Farley on one hand, these two have amareed the administration in practical everything they have said or done.

Religious Issue
Nebraska only has four big patronage plums—a federal judge, U. S. attorney, collector of internal revenue and U. S. marshal. Despite vehement protests from liberals and democrats, Farley has backed up Mullen and Burke in filling every one of these places with Catholics.

That the religious issue should be made a factor in a campaign is extremely unfortunate. It is un-American and bigoted. But the fact remains that in Nebraska it has been made an issue against the administration because of Mullen-Burke-Farley ineptitude.

Burke has capped this covert sabotage by harpooning the new deal openly. In the senate he lined up against the president on every major administration measure. And on the stump he has been vigorously denouncing the administration for criticizing the supreme court. His speeches would do justice to a Liberty Leaguer.

Political Only Hope
Political Only Hope have reported to the White House that Sen. George Norris, Nebraska's great liberal, is the only hope for saving the state for Roosevelt.

If Norris can be persuaded to run for re-election as a pro-Roosevelt independent, he might rally sufficient liberal support to put the president over.

Norris is for Roosevelt. But he is indifferent about seeking a fifth term. For the last two months he has been quietly vacationing in the Wisconsin lake country, with no indication as to whether he will accept the "call."

It has been suggested that Roosevelt make a personal appeal to Norris to enter the race. But Mullen and Burke are energetically prodding Farley to dissuade the president. Whether they succeed remains to be seen.

Oklahoma Oratory
Senator Gore, Oklahoma's blind democrat, recently defeated for re-nomination by Rep. Josh Lee, is telling this story on his successful new deal rival.

Lee was formerly a teacher of public speaking, and, during his senatorial campaign, toured the state regaling crowds with classic orations.

According to Gore, a murderer was about to be hanged and just before he adjusted the noose the sheriff asked the condemned man if he had anything to say. The prisoner said he had not.

Whereupon Lee stepped up and said: "If the prisoner doesn't care to speak I would like to make a use of his time to say a few words."

"I object, sheriff," protested the prisoner, "I've heard Lee's speech three times and I'll be damned if I want to hear it again. I want to die in peace."

Movie Magnate Tugwell
Without saying anything about it, Rex Tugwell is going in for movies in a big way. His Resettlement administration is now laying plans for producing another picture to succeed the highly successful three-reeler, "The Plow That Broke the Plains."

That cinema saga of the great plains has weathered the opposition of Hollywood film moguls and become one of the most discussed shorts of the season.

In fact, it rode to success largely on the tide of publicity created by the Hollywood opposition to "government propaganda." That opposition peaked its high with the statement, "We wouldn't even distribute 'Ben Hur' if it were a government picture."

Tugwell's publicity boys made the most of the opposition and up to September 1 have booked "The Plow" in 2,500 independent theatres.

The new Resettlement film is now in scenario form, prepared by Pare Lorentz, who created "The Plow." Subject will be the Mississippi river. But the title will not be "Old Man River."

Communist WPA?
The liberal leanings of Harry Hopkins have put him in a hot spot with some of the worker organizations within WPA.

His orders say in effect that a communist has as much right to a WPA job as an arch conservative. Result has been a sharp cleavage between worker groups, and the formation of rival unions within the projects. Each union clamors for better treatment of its own members, as against the rivals.

Greatest hotbeds of controversy

each other, but Twelfth avenue runs north and south while Thirteenth avenue is northwest by southeast."

Among important changes in caste is Madison avenue's growing affluence and 52nd street's Broadway complex. Much of the nightlife now takes place on 52nd. There are nine nightclubs in one block, including "21," Leon & Eddie's and the long famous Tony's.

Girl Serves As US Deputy Marshal

HOUSTON, Aug. 20. (UP)—Mrs. Kathryn Mounser Huff, 26, held distinction today as one of the youngest chief deputy U. S. marshals in the nation.

She was appointed yesterday by U. S. Marshal M. Frank Hammond to succeed J. E. Myers, 32, who was killed accidentally here last week.

"My deputies all are good workers," Hammond said, "but I decided that on the merit system Mrs. Huff deserved the job. The fact that she is a woman should not, I believe, and did not keep her from being considered on an equal basis with the men."

Mrs. Huff, appointed deputy under former U. S. Marshal H. E. L. Toombs in 1931, has worked in the office on accounts, vouchers and general bookkeeping.

The pleasant, pretty young woman said she would not carry a gun or make arrests in her new post, but will serve chiefly as an

Natural Gas Survey Started In Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 20. (UP)—Employees of the state railroad commission have begun work on a comprehensive survey of natural gas conditions, which the commission's petroleum engineer, V. E. Cottingham, expects will be completed by the end of this year.

Ratio of gas used per barrel for oil production will be shown for all parts of the state.

Natural gas demands for September will be slightly under the demand for August, despite the cooler weather expected in much of the country before the end of September. Total demand as indicated by purchasers' nominations is 1,306,663,000 cubic feet daily. This is four per cent of the estimated potential production, compared with nominations for 4.5 per cent of the potential in August.

Broken up nominations are: For sweet gas—East Texas Panhandle field, 128,434,000 cubic feet daily; West Panhandle, 406,740,000; outside Panhandle, 299,800,000 cubic feet.

For sour gas—Panhandle area, 511,454,000 cubic feet; outside Panhandle, 20,105,000.

CENTENNIAL CHECKS
THREE MILLIONTH
VISITOR IN 75 DAYS
DALLAS, Aug. 20. (UP)—The Texas Centennial exposition checked its 3,000,000th visitor through the turnstiles yesterday afternoon—9-year-old and blonde Mary Twitty, daughter of Brice Twitty, superintendent of Baylor Hospital here.

The surprised little girl was greeted by Fred F. Florence, president of the exposition, and Harry Olmstead, general manager. After posing for a photograph on "Texas", the big horse of Capt. Leonard Pack, exposition police chief, Mary was conducted on a tour of the grounds and showered with honors.

Merit System Is Extended

Indiana First To Establish New Program Of Naming Employees

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 20. (UP)—Within a month Indiana will become the first state in the nation to establish a merit system for selecting and maintaining the personnel of its social security divisions.

The system may become a model for other states participating in the nation's social security program.

Boards administering the public welfare and unemployment compensation acts passed by a special session of the Indiana legislature this year have approved the merit system. The merit system provides that persons applying for employment will be required to take examinations before being placed on the list of those eligible for appointment.

Year's Residence Required
Applicants must be citizens of the United States and must be residents of the state for at least one year, except in special cases.

A joint committee, comprised of the personnel directors of the public welfare and unemployment compensation divisions, and another member to be appointed by directors of both divisions, will conduct the examinations. When a new employee is needed for a position within the division the personnel supervisor will submit to the appointing officer the names of those with highest examination ratings.

Persons now employed in the two divisions will be required to take examinations to determine whether they are qualified to retain their positions.

Probationary Period Set
New employees will be hired for a probationary period of six months, during which they may be dismissed without the right to a hearing. After the six-month period has passed, however, any employee facing dismissal may demand a closed or public hearing before the board governing his department.

The personnel supervisor will keep merit ratings on the work done by all employees, which may be used to determine salary increases, dismissals or demotions, and may be a factor in promotion tests.

Employees, under the system, are prohibited from participating in political activity other than to "express freely their views as citizens and to cast their votes."

Farm laborers in Hawaii are enthusiastic patrons of airplanes for short joyrides.

and presents by various concessions.

Florence and Olmstead were elated at the attendance mark attained on the 75th day since the exposition opened.

MURDER TONIGHT

Chapter 23
ADVICE TO DALE
Hylton nodded and rose to his feet.

"Don't forget you're still under suspicion. If your story doesn't check up, you're in for trouble. Oh and by the way," he turned at the door to add his last words, "I suppose it has never entered your head to let a decent girl get hold of you and try to make something worth while out of you, has it?"

"What do you mean?" asked Dale.

"If any girl had done for me what Miss Featherstone did for you today, Shipley, I'd go down on my knees to thank her; but you're no damned egotistical you're blind."

Hylton slammed the door behind him.

"I think you are a frightfully good sort."

good sort."

Kingsley Hylton smiled and went towards the front door.

"Good evening, Inspector."

Even in his own mentally agitated state, it was on the tip of Hylton's tongue to cry out "Good Lord, what's the matter with your wife?" Alice White was standing in a corner of the room, looking straight at the wall and looking as white as death.

"I went to the Hoops as you told me," Sergeant White said.

"Yes—I say, I'm sorry I wasn't there, as a matter of fact I've had rather an extraordinary day."

"Yes?"

The man's voice was so entirely him and left a surprised and crest-fallen young man in the drawing room.

Nancy was waiting in the hall.

"Mr. Hylton," she said quickly, as he came towards her, "I want to apologize for what I did. Please don't think I'm running away from it, I'm only speaking personally now."

"Miss Featherstone," he said gently, "I've been cursed with a most curious memory. Do you know, I am beginning to think that I can forget all about what happened today—on one condition."

"On one condition?"

"Yes. That you go, now, into the room, and tell Dale Shipley what you did and why you did it."

Nancy Featherstone stared at him; then she turned from white to brick red. At length she managed to blurt out:

"I—I think you are a frightfully

Renewal Of Repeal Fight Is Foreseen

Wet Leader Finds Drys Active, Wants To Line Up Own Forces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (UP)—Come fall, the public may find the old wet-dry battle revived.

That white-haired veteran of the repeal fight, William H. Stayton, is laying plans to reorganize the anti-prohibitionists against this fall under the name of "Repeal Associates."

Looking over surveys he has made, he thinks the time has come for reorganization. The figures tell him dry organizations are again successfully active. And before they ask for prohibition again on a national scale, as he fears they may, he wants to be certain that the wet know what is going on.

Stayton walked out of his dollar-a-year war-time job here on Armistice day and opened an office, on the door of which he had painted, "The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment." In 1918 that meant he had to endure a great many raised eyebrows, but he has stayed with the fight.

Group Stays Together

His association was dissolved on Dec. 5, 1933, when the 36th state ratified the repeal amendment. But at the final meeting the members asked the executive committee to keep together in order to acquaint former members of any new handwriting on the wall.

Stayton has found that the drys are conducting a constant march ahead in local communities, helping to pass local option dry laws. There are, he says: 20 dry counties in Florida; 128 dry towns in Massachusetts; 28 dry counties in Minnesota; 67 dry counties in Missouri; 37 dry towns in New York; 66 dry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (UP)—Secretary Wallace announced today revision of the pink bollworm quarantine regulations to add four Texas counties to the lightly infested area.

The counties added were Cameron, Starr, Hidalgo, and Wilbacy. The addition of the counties, it was said, resulted from the recent finding of the pink bollworm in gin trash at Brownsville and San Benito in Cameron county.

Argentina To Get Benefits From Drouth

Nation Helped By Short World Crops, Bringing Higher Prices

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 20. (UP)—For the third consecutive year, Argentina expects to benefit by the drouth which has dealt American farmers heavy blows, although the weather has dealt a lot of punishment in this country, too.

Argentina this year has one of the smallest wheat surpluses for export in a decade, and its maize harvest has been retarded and considerably reduced by prolonged and excessive rainfall, yet higher world prices as a result of the North American drouths may alleviate what looked like a poor business year for this country.

Drouths in the United States and Canada have been a dominant factor in pulling Argentina out of the depression trough. This country's worst year was 1933.

May Counteract Slip

Improved grain prices in 1934 and 1935, coupled with American drouths and good Argentine crops resulting in heavy exports, including much maize to the United States itself, gave Argentina tremendous trade boosts in those years.

This year signs of a slip were evident. The 1935-36 wheat crop, recently estimated at 3,900,000 tons, as one of the smallest in a decade, as a result of dry weather in the Argentine growing season. Newspapers estimate that Argentina has only 600,000 or 700,000 tons of wheat left for export until her new crop comes up late this year. But better prices, influenced by the American drouths, will offset to some extent the lack of quantity.

Argentina's maize surplus for export has not been fixed, because of six weeks of almost continuous rain which has held back the harvest.

Before the abnormal wet weather set in, predictions were for one of the heaviest maize crops on record, but new calculations must await knowledge of the amount of standing corn rotted by rain.

Grand American Handicap Is Tops To Gun-Shooters

VANDALLA, O., Aug. 20. (UP)—The most uncertain and unpredictable event on the year's sports calendar—that is, the reputation the Grand American Handicap has acquired.

Recognized as the top-ranked event in the trapshooting world, the "Grand," which will be shot for the 37th time during the American Trapshooting Association's annual tournament here on Aug. 24-28, is an event on which there isn't a "form sheet."

Most of the 36 gunners who have taken the blue ribbon classic have risen from obscurity to gain the prized crown and then after their day as a "king" have faded back into oblivion.

The meticulous system of handicapping which places gunners on ranges ranging from 16 to 25 yards and the pressure of shooting for a crown, which brings rich reward in glory and gold account for the surprises unfolded almost annually in the event.

One magazine says the wardrobe for yachswomen should include an oil-silk suit for stormy weather, a "rob" suit for action, a pajama suit for lounging, and a shirred taffeta latex suit for swimming.

27 HERDS INSPECTED IN SCABIES PROGRAM DURING PAST MONTH

Twenty-seven herds, including 20,796 sheep or cattle, were inspected or dipped during the past month in the anti-scabies campaign issued by the Texas livestock sanitary commission. No animals were classed as exposed or infected.

Sam Preston of Midland is in charge of scabies eradication work in this district and will continue the program in an effort to protect livestock from imported infection and to afford necessary scabies certificates demanded by other states on livestock moving from Texas.

Hope To Ship Beef

The American drouths may result in above-normal shipments of canned Argentine meat to the United States again this year, and Argentine papers are expressing a faint hope that sanitary restrictions against fresh beef will be removed.

The United States embargo against Argentine chilled beef has prevailed for years because of hoof and mouth disease in this country. A sanitary convention signed in 1933 would change the flat embargo to one permitting shipment of meat from disease-free zones, which would free Patagonia, in southern Argentina, from the restrictions. And Patagonia is a sheep, not a beef producer.

The faint but persistent Argentine hope that it may one day export chilled meat to the United States is coupled with British pro-
