Park Jammed As Holiday Events Held

Swimming Pool Formally Dedicated By Mahon And Montgomery

49 GIRLS ARE GIVEN TRIPS TO CENTENNIAL

Water And Sports Carnival Draws Thousands Of People Here

Amid an atmosphere of festivity, Big Spring's new $32,000 municipal swimming pool and bath house were formally dedicated Saturday, and half a dozen other attractions drew such crowds that the first annual water and sports carnival was declared an unqualified success.

Thousands of people thronged the city and the park to witness the varied activities arranged to hold local people here for the Fourth and to attract hundreds of out-of-town visitors.

Traffic Jams In the park area traffic was congested from early morning until after the bathing revue when several hundred cars became enmeshed in the worst traffic jam in the history of the city.

A crowd estimated at more than 4,000 cheered as George Mahon, congressman from the 19th district, and Julian Montgomery, state PWA engineer, formally dedicated the pool, and crowded close to watch the parade of pulchritude in which almost a hundred junior and senior girls participated.

A tumultuous and surprise went up when it was announced that each of the 49 contestants in the senior division would be given a free trip to the Texas centennial where they will join in elimination contests for the title of "queen of the Texas centennial."

Mahon complimented the city upon the opening of the modern natatorium and declared it a monumental achievement. In it he saw not only pleasure and recreation for thousands of years to come, but the means by which scores of jobless men had been given timely aid.

Montgomery, explaining the scope of PWA in Texas, said that the Big Spring job was one of the largest completed in the state and added that it was among the most thorough.

While Garland Woodward introduced junior bathing revue entries, Bob Schermerhorn and Dr. P. W. Malone made sound pictures of the event and of the senior revue which followed.

During the day the park grounds were thronged by people who came out into the open for the Fourth. There was only a picnic table on bench vacant at noon time. Old timers turned out in surprisingly

Local Bank Deposits Up

Bankers Attribute Gain To General Better Business Trend

Statement of condition of Big Spring's banking institutions at the close of business June 30, 1936, as called for by the comptroller of the currency, shows total deposits of $3,553,202.67 as compared to $3,201,667.83 at the close of business March 4, 1935, a gain of $1,534,534.84.

Local bank officials report that while some of the bonus money has been deposited, they do not attribute gain in deposits to this source alone. Healthy business conditions, they state, is the chief cause of the boost in deposits locally.

Below figures for both banks are shown separately: Deposits, First National—$1,804,996.65; loans, $929,346.23; deposits, State National, $1,596,671.50; loans, $554,707.82. Condition given at close of business June 29, 1935, shows: Deposits, First National, $1,504,678.67; loans, $768,777.25. Deposits, State National, $1,386,674.78; loans, $678,906.26.

Allred Says Pension Laws Up To Solons

Governor Tells Crowd At Brady Texas System Most Liberal

BRADY, July 4. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred told an Independence Day crowd here that those seeking a change in the old age pension law must depend upon the legislature to make it and "not the men who are making so many reckless promises."

Candidates opposing Allred for re-election have directed much criticism at the governor for administration of the old age assistance act, under which initial payments were mailed July 1.

Allred said the law passed by the legislature to pay pensions only to the aged needy was being compiled with and until it was changed, "it will continue to be complied with." Under the act, the governor appointed the commissioners.

"If you want it changed," he said, "your legislature will have to change it, because neither I nor any of the men who are making so many reckless promises about what they are going to do for the old people of the state can change it."

"As it stands, it is one of the most liberal old age assistance laws in the union."

He said broadening liberality of 733.06; loans and discounts, $639, without jeopardizing federal aid "and without the definite certainty that a great deal more taxes will have to be raised from some source."

Negroes Kill Lufkin Man, Wound Sons

With Shots In Arm And Stomach, Son Slays Dad's Murderer

LUFKIN, July 4. (AP)—A white man was shot to death, his two sons seriously wounded and a negro was slain in a holiday gun fight in a small downtown taxi cab office here tonight.

Charles Newberry, 49, was fatally wounded, his two sons, J. B. Newberry, 21, of Jasper and Elmer Newberry, 26, of Houston, was in a serious condition from bullet wounds.

Officers sought a second negro after his companion was shot down and killed. Officers said he was chased two blocks and mortally wounded by J. B. Newberry, already shot in the stomach and arm.

Newberry's sons and their families were visiting the elder Newberry. The two sons were talking with him in the office when the negroes entered. An argument developed over hire of a car, officers said.

The negroes were said to have pulled pistols and started shooting. The father died of four bullet wounds in the side. Elmer Newberry was shot in the spine.

LUFKIN, July 4. (AP)—Ab Warren, father of Glenn Warren, who is to die in the electric chair in less than a week, was shot to death tonight at Zaballa near here.

M. H. Cansler, son of C. E. Cansler, Sr., for whose death the younger Warren is to be executed surrendered and was held in jail.

Battle For True Freedom Urged By FD

President Makes Talk From Virginia Home Of Jefferson

MONTICELLO, Va., July 4. (AP)—Standing at the portico of Thomas Jefferson's mountain home, President Roosevelt called on the nation today to renew that founding father's battle for "true freedom."

Mr. Roosevelt's Fourth of July address rang with praises of Jefferson as a "great gentleman" and a "great commoner" who was not satisfied with "things as they were" but concentrated on "things as they ought to be."

Passages in the address were reminiscent of the president's recent acceptance speech, in which he argued that while the revolutionary heroes overthrew political autocracy, the modern task was to win freedom from the "economic royalists" of big business.

After praising Jefferson as a man who used an extraordinary diversity of knowledge to "interpret and adapt" laws, habits and institutions "in order to better the lot of mankind," Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Democracy needs now, as it found then, men devoted to the limit of their capacity, through education, for ultimate responsibility. Emergencies and decisions in our individual and community and national lives are the stuff out of which national character is made. Preparation of the mind and spirit of our people for such

Forty-Nine Girls Place In Contest

Bathing Revue Entries To Get Free Centennial Trip

Forty-nine girls, representing 11 West Texas cities Saturday paraded before the eyes of the largest crowd that has ever been within the gates of the city park, lined up to be judged and have their picture taken, and earned themselves a trip to Dallas July 10 and the Texas Centennial where a beauty pageant will result in a girl going to Hollywood with a six months' contract with M-G-M.

The girls, plus several that could not be present for the local parade, will be the guests of the Chrysler De Soto Motor company. Parties leaving from San Angelo, Lubbock, Midland, and Big Spring will be taken to Sweetwater by Chrysler and De Soto dealers on the morning of July 9 where they will be entertained at the Blu-bonnet hotel with a mass luncheon and will continue to Dallas in the afternoon.

Upon arriving in the centennial city, the beauties will compete against each other for three places and the right to contest girls from three other zones in Texas.

The young women will be privileged to see the centennial if they so desire, passes being donated by the Chrysler people. They will probably remain in Dallas until the morning of July 11.

So great was the crowd around the natatorium that two highway patrolmen had to be called in to aid in directing the traffic. Cars were lined solidly from the clubhouse to the bridge parallel to the old golf house and the crowd could not be seated. Many stood at the end of the pool.

The smaller beauties around the pool, a loud speaker had been installed for the purpose of announcing each entry with Ted Smith on the broadcasting end.

The group of Big Spring girls was first with single entries from Sterling City and Wink bringing up the rear.

JUNCTION, July 4. (AP)—Harold DeFreest, 27, was instantly killed last night when the car which he was driving collided with a truck near Mountain Home.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK by Joe Pickle

If success is to be measured by numbers, the first annual water and sports carnival went over in a big way here Saturday. There was hardly a time Saturday from early morning until the lights were turned off when the park was not jammed with hundreds and hundreds of local people and out-of-town guests.

Driving out to the park in mid-afternoon, we counted 51 cars bound for town from the time we passed the city limits until we reached the park. On the way back, a few minutes later, we counted 103 cars bound for the park. And that was about an average for the entire day, for traffic was so heavy that cars were forced to creep along between 10 and 20 miles an hour for the most part. One remarkable thing was that only one serious crash resulted from the congested parade of cars—and none were injured in that smash.

About two of every cars we counted bore out-of-county license plates. Bleachers, constructed around the swimming pool were packed while aquatic contests were in progress and score upon score of visitors took a free plunge into the pool. Someone remarked that the city should "make a killing during the day." Maybe, but the city's killing will come later from having efficiently publicized its beautiful park and enticing swimming pool, its recreational facilities and unrestricted hospitality. Those people will come back to see more of Big Spring. And in this fact the real success of the carnival rests.

Pity the poor candidate. He is in the modern conterminous from which countless money blessings are poured out upon rural communities of the county. He is the gentleman who makes possible, to some extent, trips of home demonstration women and club boys and girls to extension service short courses. He must plank down for ple suppers, cake walks, three-act dramatic attempts, school curtain ads, and space on light weight church fairs. The late J. I. Pritchard, for years dean of local politics, used to sagely remark that it took the profits of the first year of a two-year term in office to pay for the last campaign. Latest outrage is the encore meetings proposed by some communities. Candidates, to speak bluntly, are worse suckers than they were meant to be if they submit to a milking twice in the same place. But let us except Vincent from the group which has engaged in the time honored custom. That place makes it a point to show candidates and friends a big time—free, gratis, Vincent did just this last week.

Holiday Death Toll 127, Eleven Die Near Houston

Flood Areas Are Cleared In So. Texas

Disaster Is Averted From Mexicans Taken From Settlement

VICTORIA, July 4. (AP)—Rescue parties cleared the Guadalupe flood area today in a desperate effort to avert more deaths before the rain flooded river dumps its menacing load into the gulf.

The list of known fatalities was held at 26 by prompt action of boatmen who moved a number of Mexican families from a federal resettlement project in the inundated region 11 miles south of Victoria.

New rains upstream added to the burden early today of the death-dealing, destructive Guadalupe river as it rose to a record height at Victoria and surged onward toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Fresh downpours of more than three inches flowed into the flood-burdened stream in the already-devastated Gonzales region.

Meanwhile, the crest of the treacherous river's flood passed Victoria after forcing 200 families from their lowland homes and flooding thousands of acres of fertile farm lands.

The death toll remained at 26 after four days of torrential rainfall and floods in a wide area extending as far north as Kyle, a few miles from the state capital at Austin.

The Red Cross, national guard units and officials united in efforts to aid the 200 families forced out of their homes. They were sheltered in tents.

Rescue workers believed the greatest danger to life and property passed with the crest of the flood at Victoria.

The South Texas latest flood apparently cleared a fadout farm-livestock owners, business men and ordinary citizens ruefully reckoned up a damage conservatively estimated at $3,500,000.

The death list increased to 26 yesterday with the drowning of Jack Mumphord, a negro living in the Victoria section.

The crest of the flood should reach the sea by tonight.

Goodyear And Two Navy Bags Are Still Up Over Colorado

DENVER, July 4. (AP)—The army was burned out of the national balloon race tonight, another balloon was down near Arcon, Colo., and three apparently still sailed somewhere to the eastward.

The two navy entries and the Goodyear, Tenth, apparently were still in the race—seeking the honor of representing this country in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race in Poland this year.

POSTMASTER BREAKS GROUND FOR NEW FEDERAL BUILDING

Postmaster Nat Shick Friday evening turned the first shovel of dirt for the construction of a new federal building which will be erected here at a cost in excess of $100,000.

Actual construction will start Monday morning when Templeton and Cannon, contractors move in equipment for excavation work. They have 240 working days in which to complete the job.

James Little, local attorney, paid a tribute to the spirit and progressiveness of the community and declared that the new building would stand as a monument to civic leaders who never gave up the fight for a federal building over a period of six years.

Mayor C. E. Talbot reviewed the history of the plot of ground at Fourth and Scurry streets where the new building will rise. He recalled that it has always been devoted to public interest since it was originally set aside for school buildings.

The building was looked upon by W. T. Strange, Jr., chamber of commerce manager, as a symbol of service to the city and as a fulfillment of a great need for the city.

Prior to the ground breaking ceremony, the high school band under the direction of Dan Conley gave a brief concert. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Shick recounted how as a member of the old Wednesday luncheon club he had joined with others in a demand for a federal building for the city. Little did he dream at that time, he said, that he would be called upon as postmaster to turn the first shovel of dirt.

M. F. Templeton, member of the contracting firm, outlined plans for the building and said that work could be pushed steadily forward since it was a straight treasury relief job. While not required to use local men, it will be the policy of the contractors to use local men in every instance where qualified, he declared.

Ira Powell conducted a sing-song service and led the crowd in "Happy Days Are Here Again" as Shick W. T. Strange, Jr., chamber of commerce manager, as a symbol of service to the city and as a fulfillment of a great need for the city.

Traffic And Water Chief Death Causes

Auto Accidents Claim 87 Victims While 32 Are Drowned

HEAD-ON COLLISION IS FATAL TO FIVE

Total Casualties Are Below Figures Of A Year Ago

(By The Associated Press) The nation, bent on celebrating Independence Day, passed Saturday night to count 127 dead.

While death rode along highways, the holiday toll was held in check and fell far short of the 214 fatalities last year.

Traffic accidents accounted for 87 dead while 32 deaths were reported from drowning. Only two were reported dead as the result of fireworks mishaps.

Nowhere was violence more pronounced than in the Houston area where eleven persons were killed over the week-end. There were several fatal or near fatal traffic accidents in other sections of the state.

Five Die In Crash

A head-on collision between two cars going at high speed wiped out the lives of five persons on the San Antonio highway about four miles west of the South Main underpass in Houston Saturday afternoon.

Charles M. Womack, 31, Eagle Lake, James Monroe Spoons, Sr. and son, James Monroe, Jr., of Wichita Falls, and Sammy Lee and Herman Shepherd, negroes were victims.

The senior Spoons, president and general manager of a drug store in Wichita Falls, was visiting his son at Houston. His wife was enroute to California on a vacation and was not notified of his death immediately.

Womack was lying half in and half out of the car. Spoons, Jr. was pinned between the dash and front seat. His legs were buckled beneath him, crushed against the seat by the motor.

Three Snuffed Out Near Humble V. O. Smith, Houston, was killed as were Andrew and Annie Mae Anderson, negroes, in another head on collision. Another negro was killed in a crash near Beaumont.

Nine young people were injured, none seriously, in a smash-up involving four automobiles at the intersection of Meadowbrook drive and the Fort Worth-Dallas pike early Saturday. Only one of them, Miss Ellen O'Brien, 19, Dallas, remained in a hospital with a fractured ankle.

Mrs. C. W. Keys, 58, Houston, was killed and five others injured near Palestine when the automobile in which they rode overturned on the highway. They were enroute to Tyler.

The injured, none of them believed in serious condition, were Mrs. Sam E. Sorrell, daughter of Mrs. Keys, and her son, Roy F. Keys, her son-in-law, Sam E. Sorrell, Laura Alice Sorrell, and Miss Mary Ellen Dibrell, all of Houston.

Bains Dampen Celebrations Rain ranging from three to five inches washed out celebrations in Central Texas at Belton and Cameron. Portions of South Central Texas were still inundated from the flooded Guadalupe river.

LABOR GROUPS LINE UP FOR UNION BATTLE

Struggle May Determine Whether AF of L To Be Split

WASHINGTON, July 4. (AP)—Two giant rallies will signal tomorrow the start of what may be an epic campaign to unionize the vast steel industry—a campaign which may help determine whether the American Federation of Labor will be welded into one binding unit or split into two.

Spurred on by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, labor leaders at Homestead, Pa., and Chicago made final plans today for the meetings where they will launch the long awaited drive to bring all steel workers—half a million—into one big union. But the big question of whether the steel industries determination to retain the open shop will knit all federation unions into a cohesive unit will not be determined until next week's meeting of the federation's executive council.

Until the steel industry vowed this week to keep the open shop in the face of Lewis' drive the two factions have been moving toward a final split that would leave the A. F. of L. with less than two-thirds of its present membership.

A new screen romantic pair is brought to the Ritz today and Monday in the Fox release, "Private Number," starring Robert Taylor and Loretta Young.

"Private Number" is a story of a young man with too many millions who falls in love with his mother's maid.

Irrespressible Bob Taylor opens the show by mistaking Loretta Young, his mother's maid, by refusing to let her explain.

While on a lake cruise, he declares his love for Loretta, but she tries to tell him that it wouldn't work out because of his family. Nevertheless, he wins his point and they are secretly wed since he has one year in college and she insists to finish school.

Butler Repulsed
Basil Rathbone, as the butler, has ideas about Loretta and is furious when he is repulsed. Playing a loathsome part superbly, he finds that she is to have a baby and communicates the news to Robert's mother, Patsy Kelly, another maid, burlesque on the startling revelation that Bob and Loretta are married.

Determined to have his revenge, Rathbone convinces the family that Loretta is a gold-digger and the heart-broken girl flees from the house.

Returning from college, Robert finds his wife gone. The butler convinces him that she left deliberately and is trying to extract money from the family. Besides being embittered against his folks, Taylor loses faith in his wife.

The drama comes to a romantic climax when they are again brought together and Robert looks proudly upon his son for the first time.

Injecting a delightfully roughish bit of humor into the otherwise rather serious play, Patsy Kelly

Queen Cinema Scores Small Town Bigotry

Pat O'Brien Starred With Josephine Hutchinson In Show

Hidebound bigotry and intolerance of small town people are scored in the Queen attraction, "I Married a Doctor," showing today, Monday and Tuesday.

The story is based on one written by Sinclair Lewis, noted author or renowned for his caustic tirades against rural narrow-mindedness.

It centers around a lovely and brilliant lady, Josephine Hutchinson, who is married to a jovial country doctor, Pat O'Brien. A city bred woman with fine ways, she is first taken in by the men because of her ready wit and smart dress. Soon she is regarded as too radical for the town and is shunned from society. She turns her attention to a young farmer lad with artistic notions with the view of helping him.

People misinterpret this and when she finds he is infatuated with her, she sends him away. When he is killed in a car crash, the townsfolk blame her and in desperation, she flees. In the end she is reconciled with her husband who stands with her against the crowd.

Others in the cast are Guy Kibbee, Olin Howland, Thomas Pogue, Frank Rhodes and Harry Hayden.

"SIR BOSS" GETS ATTENTION

Hundreds of local movie fans will not soon forget the immortal story of a "Connecticut Yankee," the Mark Twain comedy re-released upon popular demand. The lamented Will Rogers has the role of the homespun Yankee who visions himself in the court of King Arthur, legendary king of Britain. Myrna Loy has the feminine lead.

Will Rogers' Hit Is Reshown Here

'Connecticut Yankee' At Lyric For Two Day Stand

What many of the countless fans of the late Will Rogers counted as his greatest film, "A Connecticut Yankee," opens today at the Lyric for a three-day stand. By popular demand Fox has released the delightful story in which the lamented comedian stars as the inimitable Sir Boss, a Connecticut yankee who wakes up to find himself in the midst of King Arthur's court.

Featured with Rogers are Myrna Loy and Maureen O'Sullivan. Mark Twain's delicious satire has been modernized in the film version to permit the inclusion of speeches and actions that enabled Rogers to display his fine, natural talent.

How the whimsical yankee revolutionizes the business of knighthood, installs bathtubs in medieval England and astounds them all with magic is unfolded in the film. As an exciting climax, Rogers is captured by a wicked queen (Myrna Loy) who has been infatuated with him. However, his modernized troops bombard her castle and rescue him.

A cast of five thousand souls was used in supporting the stars. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Groehl spent the Fourth of July at a family reunion at Hamilton.

Women Take To Sports For Relief From Summer Heat

Big Spring's sports minded maids and matrons find the cool shade at the City park an ideal place to rest after a fast game of tennis, a round of golf, a swim or a horseback ride. In the pictures today are Misses Alta Taylor, Alta Mary Stalcup and Lula Ashley who are resting after a swim. (Upper left.) Misses Roberta Lee Hanson and Caroline McCleskey, tennis enthusiasts are looking cool and comfortable after a set. (Upper right.) Taking a few practice swings is Mrs. Eddie Burke who has recently moved back to Big Spring from Russellville, Ky. to make her home. (Lower left.) The lady on the horse is Miss Evelyn Merrill who is one of the most ardent admirers of horses in the city. (Lower right.)

All Day Activities Attract Old Timers

Music Liven Day For Pioneers and Scores Of Picnickers

Yarns were swapped and old acquaintances renewed when the old timers got together at the city park Saturday. Out of the county oldsters equalled the number of Howard county old timers who were together again for the first time since last year's annual old settlers' reunion. In charge in the old timers was Will Hayden who came here in 1895. Mrs. M. E. Barrett, who started calling Big Spring her home in January of 1881 when there wasn't anything to really call Big Spring, was registered early in the forenoon. Mrs. S. E. Deats was listed among the guests. The Deats family started making their home here in '84. Missing among those registered was W. T. Roberts, who has until this year attended all reunions. Having come here in 1878 Roberts is believed to be the oldest native of Big Spring. His absence Saturday was due to feeble health. Comedy Team The crowd that gathered was entertained during the morning by the antics of Hiram and Mandy, comedy team from New York. Children were especially attentive to Hiram who was dressed as a hayseed farmer and entertained them by standing on his head, whistling catchy tunes and flirting with the three-year-olds. Using his audience as his stooges he kept informal chatter and joking alive throughout the hours before the noon lunch. The Center Point Serenaders' string band was very popular with the crowd as they rendered any request for tunes from the audience. Traffic Jams Oldsters and youngsters alike were enjoying the cool shade furnished by the trees and the thick smooth grass carpet on which they could sit and talk or run and play, as their ages permitted. Gnarled traffic gave proof of the tremendous crowd that assembled for the Independence Day celebration. Cars of every description and age were parked on the parking lots using every available space. A merciless sun beat down on the celebrators but failed to dampen the ardor of the festivity lovers, consequently the park was a humming hive of activity throughout the day. The afternoon was made lively with a fiddlers contest which brought forth 10 or 12 of the best known fiddlers in the surrounding territory. Also interesting events were the awarding of the prizes for the oldest old timers, the newest newcomer, the owner of the oldest car and the largest family present. In the evening a string band furnished music for the dance lovers who square danced, waltzed and schottisched until a late hour.

REVUE ENTRIES COMPLIMENTED WITH LUNCHEON AT SETTLES

Summer fashions were on display at noon Saturday when twenty-nine charming and beautiful young ladies were luncheon guests of the chamber of commerce at the Settles. The honored guests were the entries of the Fourth of July revue and the sponsoring automobile dealers.

Seated about flower bedecked tables the guests were welcomed and introduced by Master of Ceremonies W. T. Strange, Jr.

Reception Committee At the speaker's table were members of the reception committee most of whom were attired in summer sports dress. Only a few chose more formal attire. Mrs. Ben Carter was charmingly dressed in gray with navy blue hat; Mrs. Harvey Williamson chose a white satin suit with which she wore a purple blouse and white hat; Mrs. W. T. Strange was particularly striking in a yellow silk sports dress and yellow banded white hat; powder blue accessories were worn by Mrs. R. Homer McNew with a rose triple sheer. Mrs. M. H. Bennett's aqua blue dress was a contrast to a large brimmed hat of brown straw and Mrs. C. S. Blomsheld who sat next to her wore a pink sport dress and hat. Mrs. G. C. Dunham was lovely in a purple lace with which she wore a small black straw mace colorful with a matching purple corsage. Mrs. M. K. House was dressed in a navy blue dress and hat with white collar. Miss Lula Ashley wore beige and brown with a Panama hat. Miss Caroline McCleskey chose a navy and white dotted sheer with contrasting green patent leather belt and a small white hat while Miss Alta Mary Stalcup wore navy with a bright red straw sailor. Mrs. Gordon Phillips chose a yellow sports dress trimmed with brown and a matching yellow sailor. Guest List Attending from Midland were Misses Helen Troy Allen, Alice Barron, Corinne Pate, Frances George, Thelma Jones, May Beth Judkins, Mary Adella Kendrick, Louise Pate, Grande Says and La Moine Sindorf. Miss Lottie Allison was San Angelo's only guest. Seagraves was represented by Armand Anderson, Dona Lita Cooksey, Marion Hearne and Jewel Friddy. Stanton representatives were Carrie Bell Bussett and Eula Fay Whitson. Archie Mae Garrett and Johnnie Bea Reed were there from Sterling City while Margarite Pife and Mary Mae Madison came from Sweetwater. Local entries present were Misses Justine Dow, Charlene Fallon, Jane Lee Hannah, Marge Harrison, Emma Hord, Margaret Kelding, Nadine Lane and Mary Alice McNew. Out of town dealers and their wives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Hudson of Seagraves, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cramer from Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scruggs of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Allen of San Angelo and Mr. Emory of Sterling City. TEX "SAILOR" Watkins, one of the wrestling boys, is a card. Watkins dresses in cowboy regalia and always likes to impress upon you how tough he is.

SWEETWATER is attempting to establish itself as a sports and recreation center. Folders are being distributed in Big Spring and here's what they advertise:

SWIMMING—One of the most modern and approved sanitary concrete plunges in all Texas is located in the city park.

BOATING—Lake Sweetwater is located 5 miles southeast of the city, reached over a paved road. It is ideal for power, sail and row boating.

GOLF—Undoubtedly the municipally owned and operated 9-hole grass greens course at Lake Sweetwater is among the sportiest in West Texas.

TENNIS—Two hard surfaced courts at the high school and two hard courts at junior high, plus two to four planned by the city, afford tennis players unusual facilities.

ROQUE—This outgrowth of the old lawn croquet game is rapidly becoming one of the most popular recreations in this sports-minded city.

FISHING—Anglers experience many thrills at Lake Sweetwater and Lake Trammel, both municipally owned and operated.

CAMPING—More than 50 cottages dot the shores of Lake Sweetwater. The picnicer is taken care of by native stone and concrete picnic sites at the city park.

SAIL BOATING—With its more than 22 miles of shore line, completely encircled by a gravelled road, Lake Sweetwater attracts thousands of people each day, especially during the summer months.

HAROLD HARVEY, one of the managers of the invitation tennis tournament, which turned out to be a huge success, says he received wonderful cooperation from city officials and chamber of commerce manager W. T. Strange.

THE MASKED Marvel visited here last night with Dutch Mantel. The Mask has been in England for some time, and returned to this country on the Normandie.

MORGAN AND JONES IN MUNY GOLF FINAL

TWO LOCAL PLAYERS IN FINAL

Eddie Morgan, youthful medalist of the first annual Municipal course invitation golf tournament here, will play a scheduled thirty-six hole championship flight match today with Douglass Jones, who has been a regular tournament player this year.

Morgan had his opponents well under control with sub-par golf. He defeated Dr. T. B. Hoover in the semi-final, 4-3, and Hoover was even par when taken out on the fifteenth hole.

Jones, who ranked as a strong player in the first round, defeated Oble Bristow in the semi-finals, 4-3. Bristow was troubled with a misbehaving putter.

In championship flight quarter-final matches, Hoover won from Frank Morgan, 1 up, Jones defeated Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, 6 and 4, and Bristow won from Bennett by default.

Pat Riley of Midland plays in the first flight finals today with the winner of the Hancock-Stephens match.

In the second flight finals, Val Lattson meets M. K. House. Madison won from Jim Brigham Saturday in second flight consolation.

Plan To Improve Sand Racing Beach DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., July 4. (UP)—Engineering units of the United States government have tackled the stupendous problem of preventing destruction of Ocean Speedway, where automobile speed history has been written for more than a quarter of a century.

By using all apparatus available to modern science, the engineers hope to obtain sufficient data which, after an indefinite period of study, will reveal some method to halt the destructive and powerful forces of erosion that are working slowly and surely to wear away the famous speedway.

The field of operation covers almost 50 miles along the Atlantic seaboard, with Daytona Beach as the center.

NEW YORK, July 4. (AP)—The pace-setting pressure began to tell on Rookie Stu Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals during the past week, and the youngster lost both his National League hitting lead and 20 points from his hitherto fat batting average.

PLAYER OPTIONED

FORT WORTH, July 4. (UP)—Danny Shoffner, Fort Worth Cat pitcher, was optioned to Jacksonville of the East Texas league last night.

Shoffner was released to make room on the 17-player roster for Jim Moore, veteran right hander.

Shoffner had lost his effectiveness due, he says, to a change in style urged by former Manager Harry McCurdy of the Cats.

Business Manager Cecil Coombs said he released Shoffner to enable him to get back in shape by a steady diet of pitching in the minor league.

GEORGE VAROFF SOARS TO NEW WORLD POLE VAULT RECORD

PRINCETON, N. J., July 4. (UP)—America's foremost track and field stars girded themselves for coming Olympic battle by waging a spectacular fight today for national A. A. U. senior championships before twenty thousand holiday spectators.

George Varoff, young janitor, soared to a new world's record of fourteen feet, six and one-half inches in the pole vault.

Jesse Owens, famed Ohio State negro, outran Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette university negro, in the one hundred meters, equaling the meet record of 10.4 seconds.

Owens also jumped twenty-six feet three inches in the broad jump to lead the field.

Don Lash removed all doubt about being America's premier distance runner by scoring a record-breaking triumph at five thousand meters.

Cosden Lab Wins Tourney

The Cosden Chemists, although not listed among the favorites, had championship timber and won the invitation softball tournament here Saturday night, defeating Don Legg's San Angelo Culwell Packers, 3-1.

Conoco of McCamey walloped the Big Spring Cosden Oilers 6-3, for third place.

McBower of San Angelo was awarded a trophy as the best all-around player, and Miller Harris of Big Spring took a home run trophy with three circuit smashes.

Lipscomb Rough With Dick Trout

Six big ring huskies slam-banged each other around at the Big Spring Athletic club's big July Fourth and growl attraction Saturday night. It was a brief but rough and tumble "russle royal" that paired the boys for the pre-lim, semi-final, and main event.

Tex "Sailor" Watkins, who still claims to be the toughest man alive despite the fact that he was the first to leave the ring, went to a draw with Ernie Arthur, who did some classy wrestling in holding the rowdy sailor.

Jack Hagen, who is still not very friendly with Buck Lipscomb, won from Prince Omar in the semi-final with a series of headlocks.

Lipscomb's rough tactics were too much for Dick Trout, who was defeated two straight falls in the main go. Trout hurt himself early in the match when he tried to apply a Japanese crab hold.

The Masked Marvel, who came as a spectator with Referee Dutch Mantell, expects to be booked here within the next few weeks. He grapples in Phoenix, Ariz., this week.

DATES SET FOR COACH SCHOOL

The school is expected to attract its usual annual attendance of more than 125 coaches and athletes from over the state.

Designed primarily for the high school coach or athlete, the Aggie coaching school will offer instruction in every phase of athletics current in the state's high school. Members of the Texas Aggie staff will be assisted in football classes by Coach Blair Cherry, of the Amarillo Sandies, who will teach the double wingback attack, and Coach Jack Sisco, of the North Texas Eagles, who will teach the single wingback. Cherry's Sandies won the state interscholastic grid crown the past two years and Sisco's Eagles tied the past fall with East Texas and Stephen F. Austin for the Lone Star conference championship.

Among courses offered during the school will be Football, Coaching, Blair Cherry; Jack Sisco and Homer Norton; basketball, Coach H. R. (Hub) McQuillan; baseball, Coach J. V. ## Terrapins And Toads From Howard County To Parade In Tenn.

Howard county terrapins and horned toads will put on a show at the state convention of Tennessee postmasters at Memphis July 7 and 8.

H. C. McKellar, postmaster at Memphis, wrote Nat Shick, local postmaster, requesting him to send a gilded terrapin and several saddled toads as a special stunt to advertise air mail during the convention.

When Shick pulled a similar trick at the Texas convention in Galveston last year, high postal officials seized upon the creature and sent them to the four assistant postmasters general.

Negro Man Confesses To Slaying Of Texan

TEKARRANA, Ark., July 4. (UP)—Officers said today a negro man about 40 years old had confessed to the slaying of W. J. "Bill" Adcock, 47, last Tuesday on Adcock's plantation near Doddridge, Miller county.

They said the negro told of hitting Adcock with a club, then shooting him twice.

The reported statement was made after officers had grilled the negro and a negro woman all night. They said the woman was a witness to the killing.

Robbery was believed to be the motive for the slaying. Police recovered Adcock's pocketbook containing his deputy sheriff's commission, and the pistol used in the shooting. Cash which had been in the wallet was missing.

GIRL FLYER DIES

OMAHA, Neb., July 4. (UP)—The flaming airplane death of Mrs. Ruth Barron Nason, 25, noted aviatrix of Rochester, N. Y., was investigated today by government inspectors.

The small racing craft piloted by the woman flyer burst into flames, and crashed late yesterday near the municipal airport.

Miss Barron's body was so charred that tentative identification had to be made from salvaged pictures and papers. But later investigators said information from Rochester that the plane involved was one in which the aviatrix left there Wednesday convinced them the victim was Miss Barron.

She was enroute to Denver, Colo., to compete in air races in conjunction with the national balloon race.

Omaha fliers said the ship circled over the field about 800 feet up. Suddenly the motor sputtered and died and flames enveloped the craft as it nose dived to earth.

Hindenburg Presses On Toward Eastern Goal

Seventy men and officers of the armored car section from Fort Bliss arrived yesterday to work with the cavalry in maneuvers. Planes were sent from Hensley Field, Dallas, to participate.

Officers said camp routine would be followed Sunday and intensive maneuvers would begin Monday.

MUST BE RETURNED

Texas, with some of the other southern states, has a duty that should not be neglected when the primaries are held—to return to the congress men who are known to be level-headed, safe and sane on the basic principles of this government.

While the Lemke-Coughlin-Townsend-et al third party will elect no presidential electors it may, and probably will, elect some congress members. That northwestern country that sends to Washington such so-called liberals as Lemke, such crackpots as Zioncheck, and puts into places of power men like Langer and others of his persuasion, will likely send to the house some men so liberal that they will propose and support schemes so wild that not even the communists and socialists have suggested them.

It will be up to the sane and sensible southern states to make sure that such members as Morris Sheppard, George Mahon, Ewing Thomason, Tom Blanton, Sam Rayburn, Hutton Summers and others whose record is clear and whose judgment is sound, are returned to Washington, to prevent the wild-eyed liberals from taking possession of the government. The democratic platform is as liberal as this country needs, the president is as broad gauged as the situation calls for, but there are many who demand even greater liberalism, which in the last analysis is nothing more than license.

Under ordinary conditions these men, and others like them, should be sent back to Washington. Under present conditions it is imperative that they be returned. The people will be doing themselves a far greater injustice and injury than they will be doing these candidates should they be misled by the claims of the men who are trying to unseat them.

Send them back by all means, and Texas and the nation will be well served in the future as in the past.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Dexter Fellows, famed press-agent of circuses, recalls the night several winters ago when several lions escaped from their cages in a Connecticut midway.

Hastily welding the available roustabouts into an impromptu safari, the party set off through the freezing temperature in search of the wayward cats. Finally one fellow hauled a flask of "moon" out of his pocket. "This'll warm you up," he declared, taking a deep pull and passing the flask around.

After everybody had a snort, the flask was handed to Fellows. "No, thank you," declared the P. A., "liquor gives me entirely too much courage."

Which reminds me of the time one of those celebrity-chasing dowagers invited Pablo Casals, the 'celloist, to a party.

"It's going to be a lovely party," she cooed, "and there'll be plenty to drink. Bring your 'cello."

"No, thanks," replied Casals, "my cello doesn't drink."

What seemed a tragic incident became a break for Libby Holman when she first became famous on Broadway. In those days the dusky torch was strictly a dancer and was rehearsing as such for a new musical extravaganza when she slipped and sprained her ankle.

Heart-broken, the girl waited for her understudy to replace her, but the producer asked her if she could sing. "You won't have to move about," he replied, "just stand still and warble."

That was her beginning as a "Give Me Something to Remember You By" gas, and Broadway hasn't seen her dance since.

The most startling and eye-widening character this courier can remember in any play was Mother Goddam in "The Shanghai Gesture."

One of the complaints against New York by foreigners is that, despite its abundance of fine restaurants, New Yorkers seldom make a ceremony of dining. As Paul Morand points out, "New Yorkers rarely dine—they swallow."

Another complaint, chiefly by French writers (who probably are subject to attacks of claustrophobia), is that New York's skyscrapers are always "threatening the sky like a forest of violently upthrust fists, of trampling the earth like a herd of mastodons." The architects who planned those towering constructions should be pleased.

The genteel, well-bred atmosphere which so long has characterized Fifth avenue is on the wane. . . Its aloofness for years was an effective barrier (that and the high tariffs) against the on-rushing tide of shoe-string shops which have inundated Broadway and the Times Square area, but of late the dikes are leaking. This sad commentary (Brother, can you spare a handkerchief?) was never more forcibly born out than in the appearance of that sign in front of a new shop: "Pants Pressed—10c per leg."

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte is said to be the best backgammon player in the "400." . . They also say it makes her angry to lose.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW FRASER and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—A good many congressmen are mourning privately over the lamentable fiasco which the Townsend investigation turned out to be. Some of them will have tough opposition in their districts as a result.

What caused the errors were two bad errors by the investigating committee. First, the committee's counsel, James R. Sullivan, bungled the evidence, did not score hits even when he had the material fed to him.

Second, Townsend was given the pummeling that should have been saved for his lieutenants. The aged doctor staged his walk-out, and carried with him the crowd's sympathy.

Result: Townsend is as strong as ever, and helping operate a third party. Congressional investigations sometimes boomerang that way.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Car
Mrs. Roosevelt was driving to her pet homestead project at Reidsville, W. Va., when her car was stopped by West Virginia state police. They explained that they were giving cars brake, light and safety tests. Then, suddenly discovering that it was a White House machine, they apologized and told the chauffeur to drive on.

"Not at all," said Mrs. Roosevelt. "I believe in these safety tests and am very much interested in them. Why should I be treated any differently than anyone else?"

So she insisted that the police proceed with the tests, remaining in the car as an interested spectator.

"Backwoods Lawyer"
The closing arguments before the U. S. board of tax appeals in the government's $3,000,000 tax evasion suit against Andrew W. Mellon were marked by some vitriolic word-throwing.

Defending the multi-millionaire Mellon was the barbed-tongued agile Frank J. Hogan. Opposing him was youthful Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson, one of the most brilliant lawyers in the government service.

Listening was a crowd of swank socialites, officials, and thrill-seekers.

In the course of his long, fierce attack on the government, Hogan hurled frequent personal brickbats at Jackson. One of these was a caustic reference to him as a "backwoods lawyer." Jackson comes from Jamestown, N. Y.

When Jackson's turn came, he quickly remarked:

"All lawyers, even those who practice law in the backwoods—for which Mr. Hogan has expressed his contempt—understand that when you have a hard case against the government it is advisable to try the prosecutor. There is always a temptation to reply in kind, especially where there is so much material available."

"But we have learned in the backwoods to turn to the Philadelphia lawyer as a model, and our position, therefore, will follow the precedent set by a distinguished Philadelphia lawyer, borrow his words:

"You have heard for five hours and more an argument in which, I am sorry to say, there are a great deal of charges of unfairness against me and my colleagues, and a good deal of vituperation. But I will not stop to reply to it because, ladies and gentlemen, my function here is not to abuse anybody."

"That statement, Your Honors," continued Jackson quietly, "was made by Justice Owen J. Roberts when he began his argument as the government's attorney in the Teapot Dome prosecutions. Mr. Hogan was the opposing counsel."

Alice And Eleanor
Said Alice Roosevelt Longworth at the Philadelphia convention:

"I can understand some of the gush that the nominators got off about Franklin, but I can't understand Fanny Perkins getting up and saying that the women of the country mention the name 'Eleanor Roosevelt' with a choke in their voices."

"What she meant, I suppose," concluded Alice, "was that they gagged on it."

Campaign Glossary
Great American political battles have developed campaign slogans which have made history. Whence: "mugwump," "Grand Old Party," "bloody shirt," "cross of gold," "full dinner pail," "peace at any price," "he kept us out of war," "return to normalcy," "two chickens in every pot," "sons of the wild jackass," "grass in the streets."

The present campaign promises to add several more to the American language. Here are some of them:

New Deal—The Roosevelt administration as distinct from the democratic party. Coined by Professor Mokey.

Nine Old Men—The supreme court. Coined by Merry-Go-Round.

Liberty—Used by both new dealers and foes to denote what the other is allegedly impeding.

Brain Trust—Attached to every previous president, but never before publicized. So named by a newspaperman.

Abundant Life—The president's description of his new deal goal.

Tory—Supporter of King George III. Now hurled at new deal opponents.

Schechtered—"Finished" — What the supreme court did to the NRA and other new deal legislation.

Horse-and-buggy-days—The president's description of the economic viewpoint of the supreme court.

Regimentation—Republican adjective for almost any new deal policy.

Class Hated—Herbert Hoover's characterization of new deal speeches.

Fareyize—To grab patronage. American Way—Republican description of their viewpoint as distinguished from the inferentially un-American theories of the new deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Addison of Huntville, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Richardson and Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Day, Big Spring, and their grandson, Robert Groves, Ponca City, Okla., returned Saturday from a trip to Carlsbad, N. M.

Three Long Years—Senator Stewer's description of the new deal.
Behind Sen. Royal S. Copeland's recent threat to join Al Smith in "taking a walk" was really a little patronage, not principle.

What irked the carnation-wearing senator was just this: In the 1935 session he introduced a bill to create two new federal judgeships in the southern district of New York. The senate passed the measure, but it was shelved in the house.

Nearly a year passed, and suddenly Copeland decided he didn't want the bill passed after all. He had discovered that Jim Farley and Roosevelt intended appointing two judges who were not his men. So Copeland tried to kill the bill.

But the administration passed it anyway, appointed its own judges, and the next morning Copeland "took a walk."

Of Love For R. James

LOS ANGELES, July 4 (AP)—Robert S. James laughed loudly and slapped his attorney on the back in a jovial manner while a pretty witness, Mrs. Madge Reed, testified he made love to her one week after the death of his seventh wife, Mary.

This was the picture of the defendant carried today by the superior court jury which is trying James on charges he murdered Mary James by drowning her in a bath tub after exposing her to a rattlesnake's fangs.

The trial is in adjournment until next Monday.

Mrs. Reed, one of the witnesses the state has placed on the stand to portray the defendant as blue-beard who slew his wives for their insurance money, testified James told her he didn't believe in mourning.

"He said as soon as he buried his wife and collected the insurance money he wanted me to marry him and go north," she said.

Mrs. Reed testified that James discussed his wife's death with her and tried to enlist her as an alibi witness in the event he were charged with murder.

"He told me to say that she was lying on the swing and complained of not feeling well."

Mrs. Reed testified that James said to her: "above all, don't mention that she had a sore on her leg." An autopsy on the body of Mary James disclosed a wound on her leg which a toxicologist testified was caused by a rattlesnake bite.

Chapter 40 BAD NEWS

The boy went on haltingly, "Tell her, will you? Tell her I was going back. Tell her I'm sorry for everything. She'll understand. You'll be good to her... won't you?"

"Yes," said Dirk. "I'll be good to her." He added, "There was something you wanted me to do."

"Of course, I want you to do it," she said. "I want you to go back to her. She sent me some money when she... sent back. It's in my clothes. Take care of the doctor... will you... and whatever else... There's about... ninety dollars. I was going to use it to go home."

"I'll look after everything," Dirk said.

"And you won't... You see, downstairs they think... They think my name's something else. I forget what. But... let it go at that. I don't want... her... Names slipped from him. "I don't want my sister... mixed in this. She's... She's in a high place... a safe place... with you."

"I understand. Is there anything more?"

"There's... with an effort. There's a... box here. A little... metal... box. In her bureau. Nothing much. Pictures of home... and the folks. We've torn up... everything else. She'll want that. And my watch."

"You know, with you sitting there... (Dirk's hand still lay on his) "Knowing you're real... I'm feeling... better." He smiled.

"Why shouldn't I... get well? Why shouldn't I...?"

"Why not?" Dirk asked gently.

"If I could sleep... I haven't slept... real sleep... since it happened. I feel sleepy now... and easy. Stay here, will you... till I go to sleep."

"I'll stay," said Dirk.

The house was dark when he came from the room at last. Mrs. Turner's door stood open. She said, when Dirk had told her.

"He lasted longer than the doctor said he would. The doctor said he'd be gone by midnight."

It was well after midnight when Dirk, lifting his hand from Roddie's head, had gone to the telephone downstairs and talked with Miss Andrews. She was to tell Mrs. Joris that everything was all right, that he would be home soon. He had returned to the room then, had sat awhile longer. He wanted to be sure that Roddie was asleep.

"Did he tell you who did it?"

Mrs. Turner was agitated and curious. Her face looked bloated, as if she had had a few moments' nervous sleep.

"No," said Dirk. "He only wanted me to look after his things. His money and his clothes. And to pay the doctor."

"Well... I wondered about that. And who's to claim him?"

She was following Dirk down the hall. Dirk reassured her. "I'm to look after everything," he said.

Hope took the news stoically. He saw the light burning in her room and went in.

"He was going home," she repeated softly. "He told you he was going back home."

"Shall I wire them, Hope, dear?"

"No. I'll write. A letter's better. I'll write today."

"And Roddie... Do you want him to go... home?"

"He was going back," she said, "because he needed to. But now..."

"She looked up at Dirk. "Is there room for him here?"

The question touched him. He thought how large was that plot where Rupert lay, and in the spring how green and filled with flowers.

"There's room," he said.

And she,

"You are tired. You must go to bed."

The dawn was whitening over a white world. They parted silently. Neither knew that it was Christmas Eve.

Hope was showing Dirk the contents of the metal box. They had dinner together in the little boudoir of the south room. Old Timothy had placed the table in the circle of the bay-window with its cushioned window-seat. They had watched the moon come up, silver-white over the white snow.

"We lived on the ranch at first," Hope said. "The Guadalupe Ranch, because it's in the Guadalupe mountains, this side of the Rio Grande. Here they are, the mountains. El Paso's a little to the west of you. Roddie and I were born on the ranch. We loved it. Life was wonderful there. But Mother never got used to it, never liked it."

"She'd met Father one winter in El Paso. He was a cowboy. He must have been fine-looking. He hasn't any picture of him then, but Mother says that he was."

"After Father became a preacher," you smile at that, but it wasn't such a far cry for him. He had always wanted to preach, and after one brother had gone to Congress, and another become a district-attorney, he made up his mind.

"He used to study at night, with Mother helping him. And after awhile they went away together, leaving Roddie and me at the ranch. When they came back we moved into El Paso, and Father had his own church. People loved him. He's a good preacher. But strict. Strict in his own family, that is, strict with Roddie and me."

"It was something of an opportunist. I did what he said. Sometimes I only pretended to do it, and it served just as well. But Roddie couldn't do either. Roddie was a rebel."

"We don't look alike, do we?" She showed Dirk a little picture of her and Roddie as children. Black head, yellow hair.

"I was the oldest... the oldest twin. The strongest I didn't want to be. I hated for people to say, "Your little brother. I was glad when old Pablo began to teach us to ride, when Roddie began to get stronger and stronger. Pretty soon he was as brown as old Pablo, and grew and grew. He could ride anything."

"And then Pablo got Bowie for us. Bowie was the horse you saw ADD-SUNDA YSTORY... the black horse. He was a Spanish pony, a blue blood. He was just a little colt when Pablo got him in a trade. He grew up with us. He knew everything... understood every move we made to a split second."

"But of course we had to go to school. We had to learn things. Mother had taught us, whenever she could catch us. Bowie and Pablo taught us considerably often. Father hadn't begun to take a

Glasscock Co. Wildcat Test Is Spudded In

Lease Play Quickens In Garza As Richards Well Completed

Spudding of the Floyd C. Dodson, E. A. Duffey No. 1 J. G. Carter estate wildcat in the southeast corner of section 8, block 33, T-3-A, T&P survey marked the most interesting development in oil activities of this area during the past week.

The test, 17 miles north of Garden City, is a mile and a half northwest of the Glasscock county Fleet-born No. 1 Dodson wildcat which created brisk lease play when it missed the salt and had several oil and gas shows before encountering sulphur water.

Builest spout on the local oil map centered again in the east Howard pool where Ennisbrook pushed work on two tests and Sinclair-Prairie went ahead on three others. Ennisbrook No. 8 Texas Land & Mortgage Co. in section 4, block 70, T-1-N, T&P survey was rigging up for pumping. Their No. 10 Texas Land & Mortgage Co. in the same section is drilling below 2,300 feet in lime.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 2 Texas Land & Mortgage Co. in section 4, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey is drilling below 650 while their No. 3 Texas Land & Mortgage Co. is below 1,200 feet.

New Locations

New locations in the east Howard pool included Hershchback Pet. Corp. No. 4-A Davis in section 2, block 30, T-1-S, T&P survey, Iron Mountain No. 10 C. D. Read in section 46, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey, and Sinclair-Prairie Oil Co.

No. 6-B Demman in section 10, block 30, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Garza county activities were looking up at the close of the week with the completion of the M. L. Richards No. 1 Post estate in section 6, block 5, K. A. Cox survey for 78 barrels a day at 2,920 feet in lime. The test has an elevation of 2,328 feet and topped salt at 1,040 feet.

The Richards No. 2 Post estate in the northwest quarter of section 12, block 5, K. A. Cox survey ran high 50 feet in topping salt at 1,205 feet and is drilling past 1,900 feet. Elevation is 2,732 feet.

Garza Lease Play

Grisom-Hunter No. 1 Post estate offset in section 3, block 5, K. A. Cox survey to the Richards No. 1 Post completion set 8 1-4-inch casing and was drilling at 2,330 feet in lime with water shut off.

Lease play quickened during the week with Honolulu Oil Co. organizing a block of more than 20 acres northwest of the production just west of Post City. Magnolia has checker-boarded approximately 20 quarter sections in and around the production area. Obie Bristow, Big Spring oilman, has a tract blocked to the northwest of the Richards No. 1 Post.

where. I could see that Roddie had been terrible, drinking and gambling, and disgracing us generally.

"I felt I had to find him, and bring him back. Father said no. Father had said some pretty hard things to Roddie. But Mother said I should go. She reminded Father of how Roddie had always listened to me; said that if anybody could make him see the light it would be Laeca. Friends had seen him, by now. We knew he was somewhere along the border.

"In the end they gave me money to go—money they had saved—and made me promise that when I found him I would come back quickly, either with Roddie or alone. Mother was crying when I left.

"I went on Bowie because I wanted to save the money. I knew wherever Roddie was, he needed it. This was no time to look for work."

"I found him, too, over in Mexico. In a little town on the river. That was the first time I saw Torrobin.

"Torrobin had been selling liquor into Texas. Repeal had come, and he wasn't doing so well. I hated Torrobin for what he had done to Roddie."

emergencies and decisions is the best available insurance for the security and development of our democratic institutions.

From a nearby country club where he spent the night, Mr. Roosevelt had motored up a winding mountain road to the famous brick mansion Monticello, which Jefferson spent almost his entire lifetime building and expanding.

"More than any other historic home in America, Monticello appeals to me as an expression of the personality of its builder," Mr. Roosevelt said. "In the design, not alone of the whole but of every room and every part thereof, in the very furnishings which Jefferson devised on his own drawing board and made in his own shop there speaks ready capacity for detail and, above all, creative genius."

"It was symbolic," the president asserted, "that Thomas Jefferson should live on this mountain top of Monticello. On a mountain top all paths unite, and Jefferson was a meeting point of all the vital forces of his day."

Notables including numerous leaders of the democratic party, came to hear the president's address.

Eastern States Attractive To Local People

Trading a Western wind for a possible Eastern breeze, many Big Spring people are vacationing in the rising sun country this summer. One Big Spring lady, is especially thrilled over her trip, mainly because it has been hanging fire for so many years. Mrs. R. C. Fyeatt's mother planned for her three daughters to have an automobile trip together several years ago but so many things came up each year that the trip was postponed time and again.

This year all excuses and calamities didn't stop the three and Wednesday Mrs. Fyeatt left by automobile for Oklahoma, where she met her sisters, one of whom has just finished her work at Columbia. After excitement of the reunion the women have started on their long delayed trip.

First place the three will drive to is their old home in Louisville, Kentucky. Here they will visit a host of relatives and friends. After a short stay here they will drive through West Virginia to Washington, D. C. They plan a short stay here before continuing on to their point of greatest interest—New York City. After getting their eyes full of the scenic wonders and resting up a bit, they plan to shop—window and otherwise. And then of course they'll do the things that all visitors do in New York—go to shows—hoping to catch some extra good ones so they can write the folks back home and say "having a swell time, wish you were" and all those things that make them unpopular with the township, but very envied ladies.

The plans for the rest of the jaunt are rather indefinite. Maybe they will go to the Great Lakes with a short stop at Chicago and then they may be so tired of galavantin' they may just come home—but when the month is over they are sure of one thing—they will have had a grand trip and a world of fun.

Record

large numbers and made the occasion a regular reunion.

Much interest was manifested in the softball tournament which was won by Condon Lab Saturday night by a score of 3-1 over Cuiwall Pack of San Angelo. To Joe Davis, Big Spring, went the tennis singles honors while W. B. Clinton and J. Pettus, San Angelo, took the doubles championship.

Sports Events

In the swimming and diving contests, Jim Angelo finished first with 44 points, two ahead of Big Spring. Lamesa was third with 20 points and Sweetwater was two points behind for fourth.

Big Spring humbled the San Angelo Shepherders in a baseball game during the afternoon, 14-5. Despite the fact that the crowd was concentrated at the park, main streets in the downtown portion held a steady stream of traffic all day. It was the biggest Fourth of July Big Spring has had in more than a decade.

Rudy Kling Sets New Air Speed Records

DENVER, July 4 (AP)—Rudy A. Kling of Le Mont, Ill., drove his tiny blue airplane over a 100-kilometer course at an average of 228.072 miles an hour here today to better the international speed record for Class C aircraft in the mile-high air races.

The recognized record of 222.863 miles an hour for Class C planes (544 cubic inches displacement), was set by Arthur C. Chester of Glenview, Ill., at Miami, Fla., Jan. 9, 1935.

The little craft, with a wing spread of 12 feet, covered the 100 kilometer (62.137 miles) course in 16 minutes, 22 seconds. That time was 22 seconds faster than Chester's mark.

Earlier, Col. Roscoe Turner failed in an attempt to better the international 100-kilometer record for planes of unlimited class when his powerful motor developed oil trouble.

George Mortensen To Be Sent To Ogden, Utah

LOS ANGELES, July 4 (AP)—Utterly resigned to his fate, George Mortensen, 37-year-old salesman, today awaited removal to Ogden, Utah, where, he was quoted by police as confessing, he bludgeoned three persons to death with a pick handle.

Mortensen was arrested here yesterday, four days after his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Snyder, and Mrs. Snyder's 80-year-old mother, Mrs. Emma Scott Rose, were slain.

His wife, Grace, is in a hospital recovering from injuries. She named her husband as her attacker and slayer of her relatives.

Detective Lieutenant John Erickson, who arrested Mortensen in a downtown rooming house here, quoted Mortensen as confessing

Others To Go

Another who will be writing those evasive wish you were here notes from New York will be Mrs. Violet Cox who left Saturday night. She will visit her parents in Elpore for several days before going on to Washington D. C., for a short stay and then on to New York where she will spend the remainder of her two weeks with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher plan a trip to the Big City the latter part of the summer and will combine pleasure with business as Mr. Fisher will do some buying for his store.

Getting Over It

Mrs. M. K. House is about to get over the excitement of the long, long trip she took with her sister, Mrs. Bernard Hanks of Abilene. They also visited in New York and spent the greater part of the time there.

FAST TIME MADE IN RODEO ATTRACTION

HOPE TO UNIONIZE

WASHINGTON, July 4 (AP)—Labor leaders moved on two fronts today in their drive to unionize the 600,000 steel workers of the nation.

Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America and director of the organizing campaign, made last minute preparations for a rally tomorrow at Homestead, Pa.—scene of

Zioncheck Spouts Off After Seattle Arrival

SEATTLE, July 4 (AP)—While Washington's rollicking representative Marion A. Zioncheck posed as Napoleon—with a beard—and predicted "before I get through a lot of heads will be hammered down," his bride observed: "If he's crazy on any subject, it's about me."

The 33-year old capering congressman, who arrived home yesterday, resolved to spend a quiet, "safe and sane" Fourth with his wife and mother, after his hectic, headline experiences which reached a climax last Sunday when he jumped over a fence and escaped from a Maryland institution for mental patients.

Such episodes, he declared, were "water-under-the-bridge, or rather Ziny-over-the-fence."

Whereupon he doffed his shirt, donned a false black beard, arranged his hat crosswise on his head, put his right hand in a Napoleon-like gesture across his chest, and posed for photographers, explaining it was a disguise he would assume while on the trail of his political enemies.

THIEVES LOOT STORE

BEAUMONT, July 4 (AP)—Thieves looted the Calder-ABC stores' safe here last night of approximately $6,000 in cash.

Police said the robbers took advantage of a severe electrical storm which struck the city about midnight and interrupted light service in a portion of town.

Officers said they had the license number of the automobile used by the thieves. Two suspects were named.

The Week

board agents mean business. Those who follow the news will recall an unusually large number of arrests within the past three weeks with charges filed for selling hard liquor on beer premises or selling whiskey at the wrong time, i. e., on Sunday. There is no denying that it is a happy arrangement to have the side men located here. So far they have managed to handle the liquor traffic as it was meant to be handled under the law. They devote their entire time to the work and are more satisfactory in the enforcement of liquor statutes than local officers.

The fellow who goes in for bootleg cigarettes is also in for a more miserable life than he knows. He might be interested to know that every time a load of untaxed fags are unloaded to buyers here, a local agent of the comptroller knows who sold and who bought. Collections of several score dollars in this district daily lend a measure of convincing proof to this.

To oldsters of this district went 566 checks last week. About one-fourth, or around 200 of these checks were for Big Spring and Howard county applicants. Assuming that they averaged around $30, this means that something like $4,000 was placed in hands which will spend it within the month. That amount is intended as assistance to old people but it will also be of some assistance to business.

A little good publicity for Big Spring may result from the designation of Big Spring as a control point for the air derby sponsored by Miss Ruth Chatterton, movie actress and aviation enthusiast. News flashes of progress of the derby under a local date line have the beneficial effect of putting the town on the map so that tourists remember it when coming this way.

Most encouraging reports since the depression shattered the boom of the late twenties were released on the close of the first half of this year. Building permits were almost as high as for entire total of last year and postal receipts were up more than seven per cent. New car registrations were 78 ahead of the same period a year ago and appeared on the way to challenge the all-time high of 1929. One West Texas business man who has been through several revolutions of the business cycle said here last week that this section is on the brink of another boom era.

This better business has had a beneficial effect on tax payments, according to the statement from Tax Collector John Wolcott. He reported an 88 per cent collection on the current roll and said only $22,000 was owing the county, state and schools for 1935. He also disclosed that automobile registrations have brought in $72,000 the first half of the year, ten thousand more than for the same period a year ago. The county gets the first $50,000 of this for the road fund and a cut in the balance. Consequently, county finances are very sound.
