BRITISH PLANES WHIP NAZI RAIDERS ATTACKING CONVOY

THREE GERMAN AIRSHIPS ARE SHOT DOWN

London Reports None Of Vessels Damaged

By EDWIN STOUT
LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—British fighting planes which raced today to answer the call of a ship convoy being attacked from the air were reported tonight to have defeated the German attacking squadron.

Vessels Not Damaged

Official accounts of the air battle over the North sea said three of the twelve German attackers were shot down and a fourth forced to alight at sea by fire from the planes and escort vessels of the convoy. The type of ships being convoyed and their destination was not given, but it was stated none was damaged.

Shortly after the encounter advice from a correspondent with the royal air force in France said that if German raids on British naval anchorages in Scotland continued, British planes might be ordered to attack military objectives in Germany.

In London Britain's war secretary, Leslie Hore-Belisha, declared that further eastward expansion of Germany had been blocked by Russia and Turkey and he warned that a mass attack by the Germans to break the western land and sea blockade would be a costly venture. Hore-Belisha indicated that the allies would use "waiting war" tactics to fight Germany. In addition to stating that "recent military experience shows that an offensive against prepared positions is unprofitable," which presumably would apply to the allies as well as Germany—the war secretary said that Germany for her part might "remain quiescent in the hope that we will prematurely take up the offensive against them."

The admiralty and air ministry communique on the air battle said "our aircraft sustained no casualties" and "no ship of the convoy or escort was damaged." The German raiding planes "were engaged by fighters and escort vessels," the communique said. "At least three enemy aircraft were brought down by our fighters. A fourth raider after receiving intensive fire from our aircraft was forced to land on the sea." Two unidentified airplanes were sighted off the east coast in the afternoon and air raid warning signals were sounded in the Hull and Grimsby areas.

MEET A $10,000 GRANDSON

This youngster, Michael Metzger, made his parents $10,000 richer by being Comedian Eddie Cantor's first grandson. Cantor promised that sum to the first of his five daughters to bear a son. Natalie Cantor, now Mrs. Joseph Metzger, won the prize. Nurse Harriett Aleshire is shown holding "Mike" in a Hollywood hospital.

Three Killed In Shanghai Outburst

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22 (Sunday) (AP)—Three Chinese, one of them a policeman, were killed and an unidentified number of men were wounded today in a miniature battle along the border of the international settlement.

The fighting stopped only when riot-helmeted Japanese police arrived and threw a cordon around the area. Engaged in the 30-minute fight were settlement police in an armored car and Chinese motorcyclists who had looted a half of rifle and machine gun fire and had thrown hand grenades. Two of the dead allegedly belonged to the private protection corps of Wang Ching-Wei, former premier of the Chinese central government now reported as having Japanese favor. The settlement police had attempted to halt the motorcyclists.

Garner Pushes For Final Vote On Neutrality

Thinks Limitation Should Be Put On Remainder Of Debate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Vice President Garner, impatient over long-drawn-out speechmaking on the administration neutrality bill, was reported today to be exerting his influence to secure a final vote next week.

Friends said that Garner, who has given wholehearted support to President Roosevelt's recommendation that the arms embargo be repealed, believed that the three weeks of debate had been ample and that opposition senators now should accept a limitation on future debate.

The vice president advised Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky), it was said, to ask the senate to agree to a restriction on debate. If that is not accepted, Garner was quoted as saying, then the leadership should call the senate into session at 10 a. m. each day and delay adjournment until 10 p. m. The chamber usually meets at noon and quits about 5 p. m.

Senator Nye (R-ND), an opposition leader, told reporters he would block any effort to limit debate by unanimous consent. Another oppositionist, Senator Johnson (R-Calif.), decried that there had been no effort to delay the bill and that a limitation on debate was not necessary.

Barkley suggested late today that the senate agree unanimously to limit future speeches on the bill to an hour and addresses on amendments to 30 minutes, but the proposal was blocked by Minority Leader McNary (R-Ore.). Barkley then called the chamber to meet at 11 a. m. Monday, an hour ahead of the usual session time.

McNary told Barkley he was sorry he could not agree to the proposed limitation, and that some restriction might be worked out Monday. He told the Kentucky senator that opposition senators were "deeply grateful" for the way the leadership had handled the debate thus far.

With the administration confident of a two-to-one majority in favor of the bill, Johnson asserted the senate debate "has accomplished one thing—it has brought an expiration date almost every minute that he will never vote to send our soldiers to France."

"Even though some of them may change their minds when the drums beat and the flags wave," Johnson continued, "the debate has done a lot of good." "It has gone out to the inarticulate mass and has helped to rekindle the feeling against war." While leaders made their speeches efforts to insure a vote on the neutrality legislation next week, the senate heard Senator Reynolds (D-NC) announce that he would oppose repeal of the arms embargo. Reynolds, whose position had not been known previously, said in a 10,000-word address that repeal of the embargo would be an "unwise and dangerous" step which might lead the United States into war.

Little Change In New Oil Allowable

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—November production of Texas oil will average 1,396,225 barrels daily on the basis of a statewide proration order announced today by Jerry Sadler, member of the railroad commission.

The average flow would be 47,770 barrels under the estimate of Texas demand made by the U. S. bureau of mines. Sadler added October average daily production would be 1,414,700 barrels or 30,000 below the bureau's estimate.

The new order does not differ essentially from October and calls for 11 shutdown days, four Saturdays, four Sundays and Nov. 1, 10 and 30.

Basic allowable for Texas pools would be 2,202,649 in November, compared with 2,015,712 for October, but shutdowns drag the actual daily output down to 1,396,225.

Music Appreciation Campaign Is Launched By The Daily Herald

"Believing that great numbers of its readers will want to have the joy and inspiration of hearing the world's finest music in their own homes, The Herald, in cooperation with other leading newspapers under the sponsorship of the National Committee for Music Appreciation, today announces the opening of a music appreciation campaign to make available an extraordinarily attractive series of some of the greatest symphonic works of the ages.

TURKEY MAY FACE ILL FATE, IS THE HINT FROM DICTATORSHIPS IN WAKE OF PACT

MOSCOW WILL KEEP EYE ON 'EVERYTHING'

Paper Says Turkey Drawn Into The 'Orbit Of War'

By WITT HANCOCK
MOSCOW, Oct. 21 (AP)—Russia served notice today that as "the greatest Black sea power" she "must keep a watchful eye on everything" related to the Turkey-controlled Dardanelles, despite the British-French-Turkish pact.

Treaty Attacked

The government newspaper Izvestia's bitter attacks on the tripartite treaty, terming it an unsuccessful attempt to drive a wedge between Germany and the U.S.S.R., made diplomats wonder what effect the pact would have on Finnish-Russian negotiations which resume Monday.

The newspaper said the pact with the allies "drew Turkey into the orbit of war" and attempted to "draw the U.S.S.R. into a combination which is chiefly directed against Germany and eventual enemies of England and France in the Mediterranean (presumably Italy)."

Some political observers thought the failure of Russian-Turkish negotiations might make Moscow adopt a moderate tone with Finland, while others pointed out that Russia, settled on the Turkish breakdown, might increase her demands. The Finnish delegation led by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi left Helsinki for Moscow tonight and is due here Monday.

FINLAND'S ANSWER

By Linn Heisterling
HELSINKI, Oct. 21 (AP)—With the melancholy "Song of Finland" echoing through Helsinki station, the Finnish delegation left tonight for Moscow to deliver a firm answer and counter-proposals to Soviet Russian demands for more power in the Baltic.

Trading the mission was former Premier Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, who had returned from Moscow just a week ago after the initial conferences.

The delegation, due in Moscow Monday morning, included Finance Minister Vainio Tanner, leader of the powerful social-democratic party which has thousands of Finnish workers as members, and president of the International Cooperative Alliance.

Tanner's inclusion was interpreted as a move to show Russia Finland's workmen were behind their government staunchly.

Informed quarters said a decision on the future of the negotiations might be reached by Tuesday.

Finland, meanwhile, went ahead with preparations for a possible emergency, announcing a defense loan of 500,000,000 markka (about $9,800,000) and a 20 per cent increase in income and property taxes expected to yield 100,000,000 markka (about $1,860,000).

LUFKIN TO HAVE TRAILER FACTORY

LUFKIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—Immediate construction of a $100,000 factory for the manufacture of heavy truck trailers was announced today by W. C. Trout, president of the Lufkin Foundry and Machine company.

The factory would begin production early next year.

Allies Extend Big Credit To Turkey

Plans Set For A New Poland

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Poland which Germany intends to rear on the wreckage of the conquered Polish republic according to informed sources probably will be characterized by these five features:

First, it will be made up of Poles only.

Second, it will be smaller than the Russian Poland of pre-1914 days.

Third, it will, however, retain Poland's religious-ethnic, Creole, chowa, and Patriot Center, Krakow.

Fourth, it will also likely contain a Jewish state within a state or reservation centering about Lublin between the Vistula and San rivers.

Fifth, it will be saddled from the beginning of its existence with a tremendous financial burden arising from the necessity of reimbursing all Poles crowded out of their former habitats in the parts annexed by Germany.

Officialdom declares that everything relating to Poland is still in a state of flux, yet Adolf Hitler's decree published on October 19, confirming annexation of parts of Poland, as well as private talks with men definitely in the know, reveal the picture as given above.

Hitler's decree annexed Pomerania, Posen and Polish Upper Silesia, which were German territory before the Versailles settlement.

Poles will be pushed from all sections annexed by the Reich. Gauleiter Forster, Nazi chief in Danzig, is the authority for the statement that this will be done "ruthlessly." In their places will settle Germans coming "home into the Reich" from Baltic states under Hitler's migration plan.

Gdynia, now Gotenhafen, already is being rapidly cleared of its 80,000 Poles. All Poles will be huddled together in what remains of Poland after Germany and Soviet Russia have helped themselves.

NATION MIGHT BE ANOTHER POLAND?

Berlin Indicates Turks Could Lose Independence

By Melvin K. Whiteloe
BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—Authorized officials held tonight that Turkey's step in allying herself with Great Britain and France might turn her into another Poland—meaning she would lose her independence.

Signs taken as ominous for the republic were seen as the press reproduced an article from Izvestia's Soviet Russian government newspaper in Moscow, which authoritative quarters interpreted as "a warning to Turkey."

Izvestia's article said the three-power mutual assistance pact "cannot be evaluated as an instrument of peace" but asserted the treaty could injure Russia, were "wrong." It also said Russia "has no ground to regret what has happened."

Authoritative sources said those passages "are a threat to Turkey." "Russia does not need to regret Turkey's new alliance," it was said, "because she is free now to occupy the Dardanelles if she desires. Before, with Turkey friendly toward Russia, it would have been harder."

There was a general German belief that Russia had made up her mind to deal roughly with Turkey. Dienst Aus Deutschland, informed news commentary close to the foreign office, said Russia's reaction to "the new situation"—as Izvestia called it—"its background and repercussions leave no room for the slightest doubt or misunderstanding."

(Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, returning to Turkey Friday from fruitless negotiations for a Turkish-Russian pact, declared he was convinced the British-French-Turkish treaty "will not have the slightest detrimental effect on the old and sincere Turkish-Soviet friendship.")

The Dardanelles is the strategic gateway to the Black sea. Commentators said that as long as Turkey had remained neutral, her control of the strait was satisfactory to Russia.

But Turkey's alliance with Britain, they asserted, gave the soviet union cause to assume mastery of the gateway and Turkey.

On the western front, the army high command acknowledged French troops still occupied two heights on German soil in the Warndt forest region west of Saarbruecken.

Mutual Aid Pact Followed Up With Finance Deal

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

ANKARA, Oct. 21 (AP)—Britain and France were reported in reliable quarters tonight to have followed up their mutual assistance pact with Turkey with a 60,000,000 pound credit (about $240,000,000).

The western powers, it was reported, would advance 25,000,000 pounds (about $100,000,000) of this sum in the form of arms and ammunition to enable Turkey immediately to strengthen her position as a guardian of the Dardanelles, gateway to the Black sea.

There was no confirmation of this report available tonight either from Turkish officials or from the British or French embassies.

But it was understood that Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander-in-chief of French forces in the eastern Mediterranean, and Lieut-Gen. Archibald P. Waveril, British mid-East command, had discussed the question of military equipment for Turkey in their talks with Turkish staff officers.

The conversations, which started Wednesday, ended tonight with a banquet at the French embassy. The French and British command-

Storm-Tossed Ship In Port, Scores Injured

Amazing Stories Of Sea's Fury Told By Passengers

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Battered by a hurricane in a bizarre voyage marked also by the rescue of the crew of a torpedoed British freighter and a front-row view of a blazing French oil tanker, another U-boat victim, the American liner President Harding made port today.

Aboard were 598 passengers, more than a score of them stretcher cases because of fractured bones and bruised and lacerated bodies.

Most of them were so shocked by the terrorizing 11-day trip they were unable to give a coherent account of what happened. But a roundup of the tales that were told pictured almost superhuman bravery against the lashing storm, and coolness on the part of passengers who feared the ship would never come up from a bowling-over administered by a mountainous wave.

This wave, striking at 9:36 p. m. October 17 and described by Capt. James Roberts as the fiercest sea he had seen in 48 years of seafaring.

Ginning Total Over 11,000

Warm, fair weather popped open more cotton last week as farmers hurried to gather the county's short 1939 crop.

Ginnings at four Big Spring and two Coahoma gins amounted to nearly 1,300 bales during the week and boosted their total for the season to 8,959 bales.

This was the basis for estimates that the total ginnings for the county, as of Saturday evening, stood at around 11,000 bales. However, possibly 500 bales of the amount was out-of-county cotton.

Ginners estimated there would be one more good week of operations, with a break definitely felt toward the end of this week. After that the number of bales rolling ginward will rapidly decrease except from spotted areas where some late cotton is still to open.

Price varied little during the week.

Wage-Hour Change To Bring New Burdens?

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

About the most important development of the week so far as Big Spring, a part of the great West Texas area, is concerned was the announcement by the railroad commission that differential freight rates would be lifted as of November 20. This can mean the saving of millions of dollars over a period of years, and more important, it can stimulate development. The West Texas chamber of commerce is due a big hand for this.

One day last week the county collector reported a record collection for a single day. Reason for this spurge in October, when normally little is paid, is the three per cent discount offered for payments during the month. This coupon has long contended that this policy is a wise one, and the response of taxpayers.

USCC Says 42-Hour Week Will Be Difficult

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce said today that the new wage-hour standards effective next week would increase "difficulties and hardships brought on by the law" and create particular problems for concerns which have attained a high rate of industrial production.

On Tuesday, the work week under the wage-hour act will be reduced from 44 to 42 hours and the minimum wage will be increased from 25 to 30 cents an hour. Although wage-hour officials have expressed the opinion that industry would make the change smoothly, the U. S. Chamber commented in its weekly business review:

"Plants now working eight hours a day and four hours on Saturday are faced with a two-hour Saturday, usually not feasible a continuance of the 44-hour week with overtime pay, or either a flat five-day week or a staggered

Contract will be let on Nov. 7 on the final portion of the amenatory project when bids will be opened on construction of a caretaker's cottage and concession house at the Moss Creek city lake. This will round out a waterworks improvement program begun and completed this year at a cost of around $548,000.

Storm At Sea

 ing was the principal cause of the injuries of passengers.
 It was particularly damaging in the smoking room where many passengers had congregated after dinner.
 A huge piano became a ripping, body-tearing thing, similar to the longing cannon described by Victor Hugo in his tale of the sea, as it splintered across the decks, striking down victim after victim. Other furniture flew about splintering like exploding bombs.
 Despite the viciousness of the storm, the 13,800-ton veteran liner suffered only one casualty.
 A cabin boy, Paul (Red) Johnson, of Stoughton, Wis., was swept overboard when he ventured on deck just before the gigantic wave struck the ship.
 Captain Roberts said Johnson was not on deck duty and that he was the victim of "too much curiosity."
 In all 73 passengers and crew members were injured, and today 26 of these had to be removed from the ship in ambulances. Only two of the cases were considered critical by Ship's Surgeon Thomas Elster of Allentown, Pa., who was assisted by a corps of passenger-physicians.
 Chief Butcher Frederick Stover of St. Albans, Long Island, termed himself the voyager with the worst luck. A pile of pots and pans knocked him to the floor just in time for a shower of boiling grease and water to spray him. He was burned severely.
 Before the storm, the rescue of 38 crew members of the British freighter Heronspool was the highlight of the trip. The Harding received an SOS from the French oil tanker Emile Miguet, largest merchant vessel loss of the current war, and was on the way to the rescue when the Heronspool crew was sighted through blinker signals from a German U-boat. Flashlight signals from two lifeboats brought the liner alongside.
 Several hours later the Harding, already 200 miles off her course, spotted the burning Emile Miguet and two British destroyers who reported there was no sign of the crew.

 chosen for distribution in this music appreciation plan were selected by Samuel Chotzinoff, one of America's most distinguished critics and writers on musical subjects, who is nationally famous as a commentator on symphonic radio programs.
 The Herald's music appreciation offer is the result of a three-sided cooperation—the purpose of which is to make the immortal music of the great masters available to the widest possible audience. America's foremost symphony orchestras and their eminent conductors have joined in this movement by generously waiving their royalties. One of the largest manufacturers of radio equipment has co-operated by foregoing the normal profit. There remained only the problem of distributing the music on a large scale. The Herald and a group of other newspapers are performing this necessary service.
 The first symphony to be offered is Franz Schubert's Symphony No. 8 in B Minor, the "Unfinished Symphony." It will be made available on or after Nov. 4th. The succeeding symphonies will be distributed thereafter at intervals of two weeks.
 Complete details of the offer, together with requirements for participating are explained in an announcement to be found in Section 2 on pages 4 and 5. Here is a list of compositions to be covered in the campaign:
 Schubert's Symphony No. 8 in B Minor (Unfinished)
 Mozart's G Minor Symphony
 Tchaikowsky's Fourth Symphony
 Haydn's Symphony No. 99 in E Flat Major
 Franck's Symphony in D Minor
 Wagner's "Meistersinger" and "Parsifal" Preludes
 Bach's Brandenburg Concertos Nos. 2 and 3
 Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun" and "Cloude" and "Festivals"
 Brahms' Symphony No. 2.
 For complete details of this music appreciation campaign, turn to Section 2 on pages 4 and 5 and listen this afternoon for The Herald's music program over station KBST.

 who were said to be in Wang's protection body.
 The machine guns of the police armored car answered the motorcyclists' fire. As the engagement was at its height, settlement police were joined by Italian marines, in whose defense sector the incident occurred.
 The clash was the latest development in what foreign observers regard as a drive against Great Britain by Japan. Specifically, it was reported, the struggle involved an attempt by the Japanese-supported Chinese administration of Shanghai to take from settlement council, in which Britain is heavily represented, authority over roads just outside of the settlement.
 Trouble in this area began Friday when a Chinese policeman was killed and a colleague, an Indian ally, was wounded by a group of men in Chinese civilian clothes.

Tommy Manville A-Wooing Again; Charters Plane To Bring His Newest Gal Across Continent

TOMMY MANVILLE had an other prospective wife No. 5 when this picture was made. This one was Nina Pierson, who has been replaced by Elinor Troy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Tommy Manville, the asbestos heir who up to this time had preferred blondes and old brandy, entered a new phase of his tempestuous career today by toasting in champagne his new love—raven-haired Elinor Troy, the beauty whose fists once ruffled the handsome playboy of Jack Doyle, the Irish thrush.
 There were great doings in the Manville suite on the 57th floor of the Waldorf-Astoria whether the squire of bon repous had brought his new love after she arrived at Newark airport from California in a chartered plane that cost Tommy $3,000—not to mention the money he spent on orchids, champagne, automobiles, tips and long-distance telephone calls.
 Tommy, having spent a sleepless night by a telephone waiting for his love to call—she will be his fifth wife, Tommy said today, reversing himself overnight—had become somewhat philosophical. He was thinking of the pastoral life and heirs for the asbestos heir.
 Yesterday he had denied they would be married.
 It was time, he remarked today, for the stork to visit him at his New Rochelle, N. Y., home.
 Elinor, too, he suggested would like the pastoral life.
 "Oh, sure," agreed the 23-year-old lovely. "Only I want to do my hiding out in the Stork club."
 This all began a couple of months ago when the lovers quarreled and Elinor went out to Hollywood to play minor roles in a couple of movies and live with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Edmonston, formerly of Washington, D. C., where Elinor was born.
 For several nights Tommy had been buring up the long distance wires, trying to get Elinor. Last night he called his fourth ex-wife, Mrs. Marcelle Edwards Manville Carlisle who was in Hollywood, and asked for Elinor's phone number. Then called Elinor's home. She was at a movie. Tommy called the movie and had her page.
 "Sweetheart," he said, "you gotta come back to old Pappy Manville. I'm chartering a plane. You'll have champagne and orchids for breakfast."
 So Elinor, alone, except for the crew, in the 25-passenger ship, flew out of the west to her Lochinvar, but he had a tough time waiting at Newark for the plane which was overdue because Elinor had wanted to stop at Washington to put on some make-up.

The Week

 ers tend to bear out that conclusion.
 Hats off to young Wayne Ingram, Gay Hill 4-H club boy who won first place with his cotton exhibit in the club division at the state fair in Dallas. Incidentally, the cotton was bred locally, coming from the Von Roeder farms just over in Borden county. Three communities in this county use the breed almost exclusively.
 Let's all hold our breath. This should be the week when a work order will be issued on the Highway No. 9 south project. For the past six years something has always come up to prevent the community from realizing on this needed improvement, and certainly obstacles have appeared this time. But it looks like it is in the bag now.
 A concerted drive is to be made this week to raise funds to carry on the Boy Scout program in this district and council during the week. Support in this direction may well be contributions from the men who are to the men who will be.
 Possibly no cooks will be made overnight through The Herald cooking school this week, but women can pick up a world of new ideas. It's getting out of a rut that counts in cooking and everything else.
 When Jackie Vaughn, star Lamea back, scooped up a punt and slipped past the entire Big Spring team, Jimmie (Twelve Points) Eason groaned: "That guy just ran me out of a deer hunt." Johnnie Miller ran him back into the expedition a moment later.
 They whisper this one in the corridors at the city hall. An official in the police department showed up unexpectedly one night and gave the radio dispatcher a good lecture. When he left, the operator turned to the mike and said: "Attention Car Seven, Officer So-and-So is around with his stinger out." But alas, Officer So-and-So had just crawled into the patrol car with two other police when the call came in over the car radio.
 The lull expected after the short cotton crop is harvested may not materialize here. For one thing the oil business has shown a noticeable tendency to revive. For another, the city is starting and will start within the next 30 days around $46,000 in work. Other construction is due to increase.

 New maize, moving in a greater volume, leveled off at $12 a ton with some of the better grain going at $13. These prices generally were quoted at the farm, but some farmers laid the feed down at the figures. Bundle stuff was offered at three cents per bag and some came at 2 1/2 cents. PERU TO ELECT A NEW PRESIDENT

LLMA, Peru, Oct. 21 (AP)—Peru will choose a new president tomorrow in an election without outstanding issues.
 Both candidates, Manuel Prado and Jose Quesada, are considered conservatives.

Prado, engineer and a business man, is backed by a conservative coalition and has the support of many businessmen. His opponents say he is the "official" candidate of retiring President R. Benavides. Quesada, a lawyer who represents the extreme right, is backed by a coalition called the patriotic front.

 ers were scheduled to fly back to their posts tomorrow.
 Meanwhile, high Turkish officials went into a diplomatic huddle which may have a far-reaching effect on the fate of southeastern Europe in the war.
 Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu, returning from Moscow after three weeks of unsuccessful negotiations for a Turkish-Soviet Russian pact, reported to President Ismet Inonu and the Turkish cabinet. He gave them, unofficial sources said, details of Russia's demand that the Dardanelles be closed to British warships, which was reported to have caused the breakdown of negotiations.
 Diplomatic observers anxiously awaited revelation of more details of the conversations.
 Saracoglu also was able to give the cabinet first-hand information of soviet diplomacy in dealing with Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Finland.
 Diplomatic observers believed the action now to be taken by the Turkish government depended upon:
 (1) Whether Russia agrees to resume negotiations on the basis of the original formula by which it was hoped a Turkish-Russian pact could be concluded;
 (2) Whether Russia, under German pressure, makes a new effort to force a wedge between Turkey, Britain and France despite the signing of the mutual assistance pact.
 (3) Whether the soviet extends its aggressive diplomacy into the Balkans by making demands on Rumania for the return of Bessarabia;
 (4) Whether Turkey will renew her efforts to organize a neutral Balkan entente without Russian approval or with Italy assuming the sponsorship in Rome.

 for use in her demonstrations
From Our "House Furnishing" Dept.
 "McCrorry's house furnishings department is certainly worth 'exploring,'" says Mrs. French. . . This section of the store is filled with more failure-proof aluminumware and time-saving kitchen gadgets than I've seen in a single display in a long time. . . Equally as attractive are the exceptionally low prices.
 We take this occasion to invite you to visit McCrorry's after the "school" sessions each afternoon. You'll find all the pieces you'd like to add to your kitchen at much less than you would expect to pay.

KEEP YOUR RED CROSS READY

JOIN
 THIS striking painting of a Red Cross nurse keeping the symbol of mercy flying is the keynote of the 1939 appeal for membership in the American Red Cross. Faced with the need for strengthening daily Red Cross services in 3,700 Chapters, and with its chartered obligation to aid in some measure in meeting the distress of the men, women and children refugees in war-torn countries across the sea, the Red Cross asks every man and woman in the nation, able to do so, to join as a member this year and support America's official voluntary relief agency.
 Ruskin Williams, a distinguished artist, is creator of this ideal conception of the nurse heroine.
 The roll call for members will be held November 11 to 20—join through your local Chapter. Help your Red Cross help others by becoming one of the millions who will add their names to the roll of mercy.

French Shell German Area

PARIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Military observers tonight reported French heavy artillery had methodically shelled an area of 20 square miles on the extreme northern sector of the western front, hoping to drop a big shell on German general headquarters.

A communique described the fire as "harassing."

From military information made public in Paris, it appeared that German gun positions formed a rectangle bounded on the southwest by heights at Neanning and Sins (five miles within German territory) and on northeast by heights at Wincheringen and Saarbourg.

Within this rectangle lies the Castle Thorn, where French aerial observers have reported the constant coming and going of officers and staff cars, leading to the belief that German headquarters have been established there.

French reports indicated the Germans had concentrated field guns of 105 millimeters (about 4.5 inches) at Neanning and Sins and six miles behind them batteries of heavier guns.

A night communique said German artillery had begun answering French fire. The German batteries have been quiet for the past few days and were apparently provoked into entering a duel by the continued French shelling.

At the end of the seventh week of the war, the western front situation was little changed from the beginning of the conflict when the French first began occupation of

IT WAS 'MOCK' WARFARE BUT THE MUD IS REAL—Faint echoes of war strategy in Poland are heard at Fort Meade, Md., where tactical exercises resembling the Polish campaigns are being staged. Horse cavalry and infantry will try to defend the fort against mechanized troops armed with up-to-date weapons. Even the mud, ankle-deep at this spot, figured in the maneuvers. Uncle Sam's interest in mechanized military strength was evidenced in a recent army order for 329 high speed 13-ton tanks.

German territory—from which they later withdrew.

The French withdrew to positions running from the Moselle river to the Rhine which were first outlined 125 years ago during the Napoleonic wars by the French General De Moutreuil.

CAME LOVE—After three attempts to sail his two-master from Vineyard Haven, Mass., to Fairhaven, Capt. Zebulon Tilton, 72, finally reached the mainland, joining there Mrs. Grace McDonald, 62, a widow whom he plans to wed. The captain explained: "The wind was dead against me." When objection to the wedding was hinted, he said "No one would try to break up a real love."

HITLER TO RETURN SLOVAKIAN LANDS

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—Adolf Hitler today promised Slovakia the return of territory she lost to Poland in 1920, 1924 and 1938.

He made the assurance to Slovak Minister Cernak. Details will be worked out through a treaty between Germany and the little state standing under the reich's protection.

Return of the land, known as the Teschen area, was regarded in diplomatic circles as Slovakia's reward for fighting with Germany against Poland.

FISH WITH WATCH

ST. CLOUD, Fla., Oct. 21 (AP)—Now comes the story of a fish that carried a watch.

GREEN FELT BLUE

CLEVELAND, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP) City Judge James F. Corn described his court session as routine, but colorful.

A patrolman named Green cited a motorist named Green for passing a red light. Motorist Green admitted he felt blue as he paid a $2 fine.

FOR LARGER TYPE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—City Alderman, who wears glasses, introduced a bill urging the telephone company to use larger type in the directory.

Twelve of the aldermen who voted "aye" wear glasses.

Two dissenting votes came from men who don't wear glasses.

SIDEWALK CHECKERS

WESTERN GROVE, Ark., Oct. 21 (AP)—Sidewalks in this hamlet of 100 population are now used for something besides pedestrian traffic.

They've painted checker boards on them. The game can be played or kibitzed from the curb. Soft drink bottle tops are used for checkers.

World's Greatest Music Questions and Answers

Question: How many different units or groups of records are included in this offer?

Answer: There are eight units of three records each; one unit of four records and two units of five records each, making a total of eleven units. There are thirty-eight double-faced individual records in these eleven groups.

Question: How much do I have to pay for each unit?

Answer: For each three or four-record unit you remit $1.49; for each five-record unit you remit $1.98. There is also a limited number of De Luxe edition Philharmonic Transcription records at a slightly higher price. Each symphony unit of De Luxe records comes to you in a specially designed album.

Question: When will these symphonies be available?

Answer: The first symphony may be obtained on and after November 4th. A new symphony will be released every two weeks. The complete library cannot be obtained in advance but only as released (every two weeks).

Question: How may I obtain the electric record player?

Answer: When you have obtained the complete library of 10 symphonies (38 records), you may secure the electric record player on payment of only $3, which is below the actual cost of manufacture. A Symphonic De Luxe Record Player enclosed in a handsome walnut finish cabinet is also available at a special price.

Question: Can I secure the record player in advance?

Answer: Yes, at any time on or after November 4th by paying $5. When you have obtained the complete library of 10 symphonies, $3 will be returned to you.

Question: What orchestras and conductors made these recordings?

Answer: Leading American Philharmonic and Symphony Orchestras under the direction of outstanding conductors. Their co-operation was obtained only on condition that their names be not used in publicity or advertising.

Question: Who is the manufacturer of the records and record players?

Answer: One of the largest makers of records and radio equipment. No finer recordings are available at any price.

Question: How can you sell these complete symphonies at such a low price?

Answer: Our offer is part of a nation-wide campaign for the appreciation of symphonic music. Leading orchestras and conductors have generously waived all royalties and the manufacturer has foregone his normal profit in order to make this price possible.

Question: Are these new recordings?

Answer: Yes, these recordings have been made especially for this purpose by leading American Philharmonic Orchestras.

Question: Where can I see and hear these records?

Answer: At the demonstration booth in the lobby of the Big Spring Herald, 210 East Third St., any day, except Sunday, between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Question: Can I have the records mailed or delivered to me?

Answer: Yes—if you pay for packing and postage; full details will be sent to you in reply to your reservation.

Question: Will the record player attach to any radio, regardless of age?

Answer: Yes, through a special switch which can be installed, any radio can be converted into a radio phonograph with this record player. The record player operates on AC current. The special switch is furnished free with the record player.

Question: What is the difference between the regular style records and the De Luxe Philharmonic Transcriptions?

Answer: Both styles of records are made from the same original recordings. However, the De Luxe Philharmonic Transcription records are the first pressings from the master mold. The De Luxe records are distinguishable by a decorative label bearing a life-like portrait of the composer and come to you in a handsome album. There is a specially designed individual album for each group of Philharmonic Transcription records which make up a complete symphony.

Question: Do I have to take all the symphonies?

Answer: No . . . you may secure only as many as you desire.

Question: Where can I obtain additional symphonies of a particular composer?

Answer: At any music dealer or department store. Only one symphonic masterpiece of each of ten composers is available in our music appreciation offer.

Question: How were the ten compositions offered by the Big Spring Herald selected?

Answer: The ten compositions were selected by leading music authorities as a basis for a library of musical recordings for the home.

Question: Will the record player play any make of record?

Answer: Yes, it will play any record, large or small, popular or classical.

Tennessee Powerhouse Overwhelms Alabama, 21 To 0

Vols Gain 17th Straight Win Before 40,000

Butler Dashes 56 Yards For An Early Score

By KENNETH GREGORY KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP)—The golden-shirt Volunteers of Tennessee, displaying the precision and power of a great football machine, overwhelmed Alabama's Crimson Tide 21 to 0 today (AP)—The golden-hirted to 40,000.

It was Tennessee's 17th consecutive gridiron triumph. Few were accomplished with such an exhibition of power and speed as that which blasted a robust Alabama team that had removed Fordham from the national spotlight.

A great share of the glory was handed to a mite of a substitute halfback, sophomore Johnny Butler, who broke up a duel of punts to race 56 yards for the first touchdown.

That great second quarter run of the 160-pound "neat" back broke the ice and then the Volunteers, defending champions of the Southeastern Conference, roared on to a pair of touchdowns in the final period.

Tennessee made an sustained drives for its scores. After But-

Longhorns Surge In Final Period To Conquer Lamesa Tornadoes

Miller Dashes 58 Yards For A Score

Scores Three Times; Vaughn Shines For Invading Eleven

By HANK HART The Big Spring high school grid eleven for three quarters pounded ruthlessly at a stubborn defensive bulwark the Lamesa Tornadoes threw up and finally battered a gap in the armor to blaze through for three touchdowns in the final 15 minute and gain a 40-14 triumph here Friday evening before 2,500 fans.

The invaders, with their scintillating Jackie Vaughn a constant threat, hung on courageously throughout a magnificent fourth period line buck by Johnny Miller that netted 58 yards and a touchdown broke their hearts.

The Lamesans were within striking distance up to that time, Vaughn having churned his way 43 yards to a touchdown on a punt return midway in the third period for a second Lamesa score, but Miller's maddening, terrific rhythm with his dash and turned the debate into a riot.

Early Lead Miller had given the Bovines a six-point lead early in the game when he pierced the Lamesa forward wall for four yards to the double stripe only to have the Lamesans surge back and tie the count soon after the quarter was terminated when Vaughn crashed the line from the one, Bob Savage of the locals and Vaughn each made successful conversions to deadlock the count at seven-all.

The Bovines methodically went back to work for another score and made connections when their great climax runner, Lefty Bethell, skirted left end for 17 yards to pay dirt. Bethell exhibited a terrific hand in reaching the end zones, outracing A. B. Furlow to the flag. Bobby Martin made the situation all the more comfortable a few moments later when he tossed a 14-yard touchdown pass to D. R. Gartman to give the Herd a 19-7 lead but the Lamesans refused to surrender.

Vaughn broke into the clear on an off-tackle smash on his own 43-yard set-pieces after the kickoff but he lost his equilibrium and stumbled. He didn't get a chance to move into the clear again during that period but was afforded the opening in the third and made good.

The Lamesans backed the locals to their six-yard stripe in bidding for a new deal in the third and Bethell was forced to punt. Vaughn gathered it in on the Herd's 43 and, picking up speed quickly, outstepped the Big Spring charges and broke free.

But that outbreak was as close as the invaders came to climbing back into the game. Vaughn saw line play after line play smeared by the suddenly aroused Big Spring forwards and the Lamesans finally went back to playing defensive ball.

Break Loose Both offenses were mired until the Longhorns took possession in the fourth. Then, like a bolt from the blue, Miller broke loose, gliding from his own 42 straight through a gaping hole in the center of the line and free. Savage's boot for the extra point was good and the Herd was in front, 26-14.

The Bovines were not to be denied after Miller's dash. Bethell went skipping through the dew on a 21-yard punt return to mid field to inaugurate another drive and Miller leaped free for 25 yards to set the stage for a Bethell-to-Savage pass that netted 18 yards and carried to the foe's eight-yard line. After an unsuccessful try at the line Bethell faded back and shot a pass to Miller who gathered it in in the end zones. Savage's successful boot gave the Steers a 33-14 advantage.

Owen Brummett added the final tally when he galloped 16 yards to climax a 45-yard drive. Miller took a pass from Bethell for the extra point that ran the score to 40-14.

Elis Triumph In Thriller

By BILL BONI NEW HAVEN, Oct. 21 (AP)—A searching party went out looking for the kitchen sink today after the Yale football team had beaten Army, 20-15, in a harrowing, hair-graying ball game that had everything in it but that valuable piece of home furnishings.

There were so many pass interceptions that it looked like a play the boys had practiced beforehand. There were blocked kicks, a voluntary safety, an Army passing attack that let loose 34 scrolls and an Army running "attack" that was held to a net gain of 33 yards.

But emerging from the confusion was, chiefly, the picture of a Yale team better than it had been given credit for and an Army team without punch or cohesion. The Cadets could make gains only through the air and, when their passes were broken up in vital spots, they were left helpless against the charge of a stout Yale line.

A crowd of 60,000 saw Army recover a Yale fumble on the Elis' 18-yard line early in the second quarter and go over from there in eight plays.

From then until the fast-fading minutes of the last period they watched Yale hold the Cadets to only three advances beyond midfield, while the Elis themselves were going over for three touchdowns, each by a different route.

RAIDERS WIN, 19-7 LUBBOCK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Texas Tech piled up a two touchdown lead late in the first and early in the second period, and struck back shortly in the fourth to defeat its traditional foe, University of New Mexico, 19 to 7, here tonight before a crowd of 9,000.

UCLAN HUMBLE MONTANA LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP)—The University of California at Los Angeles rolled over a hapless Montana eleven today, winning 20 to 6, with Kenny Washington, star negro halfback, scoring all three UCLAN touchdowns.

and gained a grand total of 404 yards. The Lamesans had 12 renewals and completed 177 yards with a combined ground and aerial game.

The center of the Steer line, with Hal Battle, Ralph Stewart and Bill Fletcher coordinating, played a Trojan role in stopping Vaughn and company. Savage started slow but was in top shape by half time.

MISSING TRUCKER APPEARS, UNHARMED

ROSEBUD, Oct. 21 (AP)—Concern for the safety of George Lemon, Fortis, Kas, trucker, was dispelled today when he showed up at Hillsboro. He did not know that relatives feared he had met with foul play until a news story was called to his attention.

Lemon's companion, La Verne St. Clair, also of Fortis, was found unconscious on a highway near Rosebud Thursday. Lemon said he missed St. Clair at Cameron and doubtless he would not find him.

St. Clair went to sleep in the back of the truck near Chilton. Investigators theorized that he possibly fell out of the truck while asleep. He was recovering in a hospital here from head bruises.

A statement of policy regarding prices

That woolen prices have already been considerably advanced is common knowledge.

But—and we want to make this point as emphatic as we possibly can—this store does not intend to raise its prices on merchandise now in stock or on merchandise which was bought before this advance occurred.

We have always prided ourselves on keeping faith with our customers. One of the basic policies on which this business is built, has been to pass along directly to our customers every advantage, every saving in price which we have been able to make by wise and timely buying.

When it becomes necessary for us to pay higher prices for merchandise to replenish our present stocks—then, and then only will we consider the possibility of reflecting these advances in the prices at which this merchandise will be offered to you.

This in brief is our policy. And, as it affects our present stocks, represents savings in price that are worthy of your serious consideration.

Britain Sends Men And Tanks To The Front

By DREW MIDDLETON WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN FRANCE, Oct. 21 (AP)—(Passed by Field Censor)—Britain's war efforts began to take shape today as thousands of tanks rolled and rumbled over cobblestone roads in northern France.

The number of British troops on French soil rose slowly but steadily toward a quarter of a million and defenses which looked skimpy and undermanned not long ago bristled with guns and men.

Battle lines were "fully manned," one officer told me, and satisfaction over men and materials has replaced conjecture of ten days ago on whether the defenses would be strong enough to hold advancing Germans.

The artillery has been augmented in the last week. "Heavy stuff" rolls daily along roads and gunners feel they have enough ammunition to break up any attacks.

Defenses grow stronger and every day chances of attack grow less. The opinion is that only the severest pressure from Adolf Hitler will start a German attack rolling this way although staff officers point out, as have newspapers, that three large German concentrations are formed and apparently ready to move.

These concentrations are said to be on the Belgian frontier, south of Aachen and on the Swiss frontier. But German pressure on the French front apparently has taken, for the moment, most German military resources and obviated the chance of attacks elsewhere.

The first sentence of death imposed by a federal court in the United States was passed in New Bern, N. C., in 1783, when four sailors were hanged for mutiny at Ocracoke Island, N. C.

New Friend With Barbara On Her Ocean Voyage

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Countess Barbara Hutton Haughwitz-Reventlow, the petite, peripatetic 5-and-10 heiress, is back in the United States, her matrimonial status "all very uh..."

That ambiguous explanatory phrase was coined by the new tall, dark and handsome mystery man in her life—who came back from Europe on the liner Conte de Savoia with her—as he scampered off the pier alone.

He is Robert Sweeney, 28, an American who has lived with his parents in London for many years, and who has made periodic trips to the United States where he and Barbara have been seen occasionally in night spots. He is wealthy from indeterminate investment interests, and a prominent amateur golfer, the winner of the 1937 British championship.

The 26-year-old heiress had nothing to say about whether she intended, during an indefinite stay here, to re-embrace American citizenship.

She brought along her three and a half year old son, Lance.

That American farmers are using more machinery is indicated by figures showing that farm machinery sales were 50 per cent higher in 1938 than at the bottom of the depression.

Italy To Keep Her Interests In Balkans

ROME, Oct. 21 (AP)—Italy's determination to maintain her interests in the Balkans in spite of the new situation created by the Turkish-British-French mutual aid treaty was authoritatively asserted tonight.

"Nothing may be attempted or done in the Balkans without Italy," wrote Virginio Gayda, the editor who often expresses the views of the fascist regime.

Italy also moved to eliminate a possible source of friction with her axis partner by concluding a pact with Germany for the transfer of 200,000 German-speaking residents of the Italian Tyrol—won from Austria in the World war—to the reich. Gayda, writing in his newspaper, Il Giornale d'Italia, said that Italy has vital interests in the Balkans which "obviously are not solely economic."

Neutral observers interpreted the Italian insistence on a voice in the Balkans' future as due to a desire to prevent the war spreading to that zone or the Mediterranean. Gayda's remarks were in reply to the British view the new pact would enable Turkey to use her influence for mediation and stabilization of the Balkan countries.

Gayda said it remained to be seen what Soviet Russia's attitude would be toward the tripartite agreement.

Foreign circles represented Italy as not entirely displeased with the pact. These sources took the view that Italy had been apprehensive that Russia would attempt to spread her influence into the Balkans.

Italy still will keep a close watch to see if the treaty functions do actually deter Russia, the commentators declared.

CUNNINGHAM & PHILLIPS

Drama, Action Promised In Ritz Film Offering, 'The Real Glory'

Gary Cooper, David Niven, Andrea Leeds Starred

Fast-moving action, suspenseful drama and red-blooded romance are in store for moviegoers when they witness the showing of Samuel Goldwyn's "The Real Glory," which co-stars Gary Cooper, Andrea Leeds and David Niven, and which plays today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. Cooper plays the type of outdoor role which has made him one of the screen's top-notch stars, portraying a doctor who has joined the army and come to work in the Philippines to sharpen his experience.

Opposite Cooper, Miss Leeds and David Niven turn in capital performances, the brunette beauty as a visiting American, and Niven as one of Cooper's buddies. Other portrayals are handled by such outstanding players as Reginald Owen, Broderick Crawford, Kay Johnson, Vladimir Sokoloff, Russell Hicks and Henry Kolker. Brilliant sets and excellent photography mark the production throughout.

Directed by Henry Hathaway, "The Real Glory" unfolds the story of the Philippine Scouts the unsung heroes who restored law and order in the Philippines back in 1906 when the Moro tribesmen went on the rampage and the native constabulary, led by American officers, put down the uprising.

"The Real Glory" was filmed from the screenplay written by Jo Swerling, who turned in a story packed with thrills, drama, action, color and romance from the first shot to the final fadeout. Samuel Goldwyn gave the production his usual lavish and expensive treatment, so that the picture throughout is beautifully mounted, exhibiting brilliant shots of a native tropic village, a typical army post, the wild jungles of the Sulu kingdom where the Moros practiced their weird religious rites, and Fort Myszang where most of the shooting took place and where the picture reaches its smash climax.

Stocks End Week With Price Uptrend

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Selective strength, with a war-time tinge, returned to the stock market today and enabled the list to emerge from the week with prices generally pointing upward.

Motor trucks, lately quiet performers, came to life and led the recovery with gains of one to more than two points. There were one or two wider advances elsewhere. Aside from the favorites, though, improvement was mainly in fractions.

The list got off to a quiet start, but volume broadened in later dealings. While the most popular stocks finished at the day's tops, many issues closed somewhat under the peak.

Transfers totalled 535,940 shares against last Saturday's turnover of 245,800 which was the smallest since August 5.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 4.4 of a point at 53.4 and, for the week, showed a net gain of 1.4 points, for any similar period since the one ending September 5.

Lincoln, Cleveland and Wilson counties in North Carolina were not named for presidents. The first two were Revolutionary patriots and the last was a general in the Mexican war.

BACK TO THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Gary Cooper returns to a staunch outdoors role in "The Real Glory," playing today and Monday at the Ritz, with Andrea Leeds and David Niven as other featured players. A dramatic story replete with action, "The Real Glory" tells of the Philippine Scouts to restore order in the islands after Moro tribesmen went on a rampage in 1906.

Singing Star Appears In A New Type Role

Movita At The Queen Today And Monday In 'Girl From Rio'

Movita, the beautiful singing star seen hitherto in "native girl" roles, gets a chance at a starring role in "Girl From Rio," playing today and Monday at the Queen, and discards her sarong for lovely clothes.

"Girl From Rio" is a modern musical which tells the story of Marquita, musical star who throws her career to the winds to rush from South America to New York because her brother has been accused of murder, and she must clear him. Steven, Marquita's manager, who loves her, follows the girl, and it is through him that the singing star is able to work in the night-club owned by murder suspect number one.

Lavish musical numbers are interspersed with thrills in "Girl From Rio," and there is a tense climax as Marquita, singing the lovely "Romance in Rio" before night-club patrons and to a radio audience, is made aware that as soon as she finishes her number she will meet her death.

"Girl From Rio" is the first film in which Movita is able to display her beauty in modern, non-costume story. She wears the very latest fashions and at the same time delivers a fine dramatic performance in a role which requires much more than the mere ability to dance and sing, both of which Movita does excellently.

Others in the cast are Warren Hull, Clay Clement, Adele Pearce and Alan Baldwin.

IN MUSICAL COMEDY AT LYRIC

Lana Turner, Artie Shaw and Ann Rutherford contribute music, dancing and gaiety to the Lyric theatre's Sunday-Monday feature, "Dancing Co-Ed." Miss Turner is a sensational newcomer to pictures who is an expert dancer; Shaw is known to all jitterbugs as one of the best of band swingers; Miss Rutherford is remembered for her roles in the Hardy Family pictures.

British Officer Decorates His Own Grave

By DREW MIDDLETON

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCES IN FRANCE, Oct. 21 (Passes by Field Officer) (AP)—One of the strangest ceremonies of this strange war took place today in a peaceful graveyard for British troops when an officer on whose chest was the full red ribbon of the Victoria Cross put flowers on his own grave.

He is a high officer in the British forces. In the last months of the World War he completed valuable reconnaissance work after fighting over German squads and suffering severe machine-gun wounds in one leg, which was amputated.

For this exploit he won the Victoria Cross.

He remained in the army and despite his handicap reached high rank. He landed in France a month ago and to his surprise learned that in the confusion after the last battles of the World War his leg had been buried in a grave with the notation that it was all that had been found of him.

So this morning with subalterns eyeing him suspiciously he marched into a forest of little white crosses after a journey of many miles and placed flowers below the marking of his name and regiment on the grave.

"Dashed good leg, that," he said.

Musicomedy Featured At The Lyric

Lana Turner, Richard Carlson, Artie Shaw In 'Dancing Co-Ed'

"Dancing Co-Ed," which plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre, brings Artie Shaw, idol of the jitterbug world, to the screen for the first time in his sensational singing career. Featured with Lana Turner and Richard Carlson, Shaw and his famous band contribute to a madcap story that sweeps from Hollywood to college and back in what is said to be one riotous round of swing rhythm and dance.

"Dancing Co-Ed" is based on Albert Treynor's magazine story of the same name and revolves around the plan of a Hollywood press agent to plant a pretty vaudeville hooper in college in order to win a national contest to discover the best dancing co-ed, with the idea of her playing the lead in a motion picture and thereby getting plenty of publicity for the production. Certain that the "ringer" will win, the press agent hires Artie Shaw and his band and the story is off in a whirl of excitement. When the vaudeville dancer falls in love with a college editor, he finds that she is a ringer and has her kidnaped, and the whole scheme is knocked into a cocked hat. A studio secretary, who accompanies the hooper to college to see that she passes the exams, wins the contest and becomes a star and the hooper goes in for higher education and romance.

Lana Turner plays the hooper, Richard Carlson is the college editor. Ann Rutherford plays the comedy cast as Roscoe Karns as the press agent, Lee Bowman, Thurston Hall, Leon Errol, Mary Field, Walter Kingford, Mary Beth Hughes, June Preisler and Monty Woolley.

Two hundred jitterbugs, personally selected by Artie Shaw, appear in the dance sequences. Lana Turner does three exciting dance specialties and Ann Rutherford, better known as Andy Hardy's girl friend, makes her bow as a terpsichorean whirlwind. Shaw and his swingsters play 19 tunes, including two written especially for the picture, "Stealing Apples" and "Racket Rhythm."

Neutrals Keep Eye On Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The small neutral states of Europe are watching the senate debate on neutrality perhaps as closely as the large belligerents.

Their interest centers on two main points—the arms embargo and shipping restrictions.

The northern neutrals like Norway, Denmark, Holland, Sweden, Belgium and Finland, together with Switzerland, already have an embargo on the shipment of arms to belligerents. Two, Sweden and Denmark, are in proportion to their size, important arms manufacturers. The neutrals' embargoes arise not from legislative action but from the fact that export licenses are required for arms shipments and such licenses are not now being granted for shipments to belligerents.

If the United States lifts her embargo, will the small European neutrals do likewise? They are not in the happy situation of the United States, 3,000 miles from the belligerents.

In the World War, the United States permitted British and French armed merchantmen to come into American ports, but little Holland barred them from her ports. She had a frontier contiguous to Germany and feared reprisals from her powerful neighbor.

There is every likelihood that the small neutrals will continue to keep their arms at home, no matter what the United States does.

Although the weather in Puerto Rico is too warm for football, thousands of fans there are interested in a sport they never see. Games in the U. S. are closely followed via radio and newspapers.

Services will be conducted at 3 p. m. today in the laughter chapel in Abilene for Burl A. Riggs, 45, for a number of years associated with the Yellow Cab company here.

Briggs succumbed Friday afternoon in an Abilene hospital.

A native of Ellis county where he was born March 14, 1894, Briggs moved to a place near Abilene in 1900 and lived there until he moved his family to Big Spring several years ago. In 1912 he was married to Pearl Grooms. Briggs had been a member of the Baptist church since he was 10 years old.

Survivors include his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Juanita Harv; Big Spring; two grandchildren; five brothers and three sisters. Burial was to be in the Abilene cemetery.

Large Crowds Greet Autry

Gene Autry was winging his way back to Hollywood Saturday night, after a two-day personal appearance engagement in Big Spring that netted him many new and more enthusiastic followers.

The cowboy boarded the night American Airlines plane for California, where soon he will start work on a new picture. A big crowd—including many children—was on hand to bid him farewell.

Autry made personal appearances at the Ritz Friday and Saturday afternoon, playing to stand-up crowds at practically every show. He had a short talk, then sang a couple of numbers to guitar accompaniment at each show. He made a visit to the J. C. Penney store Saturday morning, and was welcomed by a great turnout there.

Saturday afternoon he called at the Big Spring Garden club's flower show. In fact, he complied with every request made of him during the stay, and won admirers by his graciousness.

Autry's appearance was a climactic event of the local R&R the atres' observance of their 30th anniversary of operation.

Legion Will Open Club Rooms With A Smoker Monday

New, air-conditioned, redecorated club rooms for the local American Legion post will be formally opened Monday night when members and their guests have a smoker, beginning at 8 o'clock. All Legionnaires are urged to attend.

The new club rooms are in the basement of the Settles hotel, quarters formerly occupied by the Bachelor club. An air conditioning unit was installed, and a considerable sum was spent in redecorating and furnishing the rooms. They will provide a meeting and recreational place for the ex-service men. Members of a house committee which arranged for the space are Frank Pope, Grover Dunham and J. Y. Robb.

Legionnaires also are making plans for another function this week, a dance at the Settles Friday night following the Big Spring-Midland football game. The Legion is sponsoring the affair, and Jack Free's orchestra will furnish the music.

REP. COLQUITT IN GUILTY PLEA ON DRIVING CHARGE

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 21 (AP)—State Representative Rawlins Colquitt of Dallas, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated and was given a one-year suspended prison sentence today.

The charge against the legislator was filed in 1938 after an automobile collision on the highway between Weatherford and Mineral Wells.

The guilty plea today came as a surprise. The case had been set for trial next week.

Discussion On 'War Profits' Is Scheduled Over KBST; All-State 'Church Of The Air' Resumed

Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma and Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire will discuss "War Profits" on the next session of Mutual's "American Forum of the Air" to be heard at 7 p. m. Sunday on Station KBST and the Texas State Network.

The round-table panel which will follow the Lee-Bridges discussion includes Senator Chandler Gurney of South Dakota, Judge John Guentz, president of the National Lawyers Guild, Congressman H. Jerry Voorhis of California and Forest Harness of Indiana.

"The American Forum of the Air" originates in the studios of the department of interior building in Washington and comes to the Mutual network as a joint contribution of Stations WOL, Washington and WOR, Newark.

SINGIN' SAM

Those who listen regularly to the program of "Refreshment Time" will be just as happy as Singin' Sam himself on Wednesday when he presents one of everybody's favorites—the Bert Williams number "Dat's Harmony." Sam's complete programs for the week are:

Monday, Oct. 23—"Where's My Sweetie Hiding," "I've Got My Eye On You," "And the Green Grass Grew All Around," and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

Tuesday, Oct. 24—"When My Baby Smiles At Me," "When I Climb Down From My Saddle," "I May Be Gone for a Long, Long Time," and "Gariand of Old Fashioned Roses."

Wednesday, Oct. 25—"After You've Come," "Have You the Time," "Dat's Harmony," and "Uncle Ned."

Thursday, Oct. 26—"Make Believe," "It's All Over Town," "Any Little Girl That's a Nice Little Girl," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Friday, Oct. 27—"Why Do I Love You," "It Must Have Been Two Other People," "Chinatown, My Chinatown," and "Just a Wearyin' for You."

"Refreshment Time with Singin' Sam" is heard daily, Mondays through Fridays, over Station KBST at 12 noon.

PIANO PROGRAM

Masenne's famous "Elegie" and a western composition by a Texas composer will be played by Marlon Roberts, talented young pianist, on his regular Texas State Network program at 9:30 a. m. Sunday. The program will be heard here over KBST, the local TSN station.

The western composition to be played is "The Prairie Dog" from Western Sketches by Jeannette Tillitt, Fort Worth composer. Other selections on this week's program will be "Whims" from Schumann's "Fantasia Pieces"; "Nocturne in E Flat" by Chopin and "Scaissors Grinder" by David Gulon.

ANNIVERSARY

The ever-popular "Missouri Waltz" will be played on the "Texas Hall of Fame" program over the Texas State Network Sunday in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the tune.

The "Hall of Fame" is heard locally over KBST, the TSN station here, and is on the air at 1:30 p. m. each Sunday.

Another popular musical composition, Paderewski's "Minuet," will be heard also on the program, this selection to be played by Zelman Brownoff, one of the foremost violinists of the state.

"CHURCH OF THE AIR"

The "All-State Church of the Air" broadcast in Texas last year, will return to the air Sunday to be heard each week over the Texas State Network.

Unique among religious programs on the air today, the entire service of the "All-State Church of the Air" is broadcast anonymously. Neither the church, the choir, the musical director nor the pastor is ever identified. Nor is the city from which the program originates ever mentioned.

The program is entirely non-denominational. On the air from 5 to 5:30 p. m. each Sunday, the broadcast will be heard locally over KBST, the TSN station here.

Medical Auxiliary Has Monthly Meet In Midland

For a program given by Mary Elder of Midland, who returned from Europe just three hours ahead of the Athena, members of the Six-County Medical auxiliary met Friday in Midland.

A 1 o'clock luncheon was served and business transacted. Miss Elder told of some of the experiences she had had on the boat during the war scare.

The next meeting is to be held in Odessa and attending from Big Spring were Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Mrs. P. W. Malone, Mrs. George McMahon, Mrs. Preston R. Sanders, Mrs. M. H. Bennett.

From Midland were Mrs. L. A. Absher, Mrs. T. C. Bobb, Mrs. J. H. Chappell, Mrs. L. W. Leggett, Mrs. R. H. Jones, and Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse.

War On Seas Is Resumed; 4 Ships Sunk

By the Associated Press

The war on the seas, after a two-day lull, was renewed suddenly and furiously Saturday as four ships were reported sunk by torpedoes, mines and unexplained explosions and German planes attacked a British North sea convoy.

The sinkings sent the known loss of ships of all nations to 81 and the gross tonnage to $49,083.

The 701-ton Esté, a German coast guard vessel, struck three naval mines near the Island of Moen, Denmark, sending the ship to the bottom with a loss of 71 lives. Danish officials said one of their naval planes rescued four sailors and recovered one body.

The Esté casualties and an official report that 67 died when the British steamer City of Mandalay and Yorkshire were torpedoed in the Atlantic last Tuesday sent the known death toll in the sea warfare to 1,732.

Rumania's first loss came with the unexplained sinking of the 6,394-ton oil tanker Ottenia near Gibraltar as she was carrying Rumanian oil to England. The fate of her crew was undetermined.

The Rumanian report indicated that a German U-boat was to blame.

The English-Rumanian oil trade was struck also by the destruction of the Norwegian oil tanker Deodatta, 3,295 gross tons. Her sinking by an "explosion" was disclosed when 23 crew members arrived in England on a British steamer. It was neutral Norway's eighth loss in the war.

The Swedish freighter Gustaf Adolph, 925 tons, was torpedoed north of the Shetland Islands. Her crew of 19 was rescued by the Norwegian steamer Elica. This sent neutral losses to 27.

The known toll of other nations: Britain—38, Germany—10; France—6.

The British announced that an armed English merchant ship had fired a critical shot into a U-boat which was destroyed later by a British warship.

A holly tree nearly 100 feet tall in Granville county, N. C., is believed to be the largest on record.

Blockade Checking Oil Shipments From Rumania To Germany; Texans Would Aid In Wrecking Wells

By EDWARD KENNEDY

BUCHAREST, Oct. 21 (AP)—Germany's plans for drawing on Rumania's rich oil fields to supply fuel for her highly mechanized army have been hampered seriously—chiefly by the British blockade—and Texans will help Rumania if Germany makes a grab for the crude.

The blockade has cut off the sea route from Constanza to Hamburg by which the bulk of Rumanian oil was carried to Germany before the European war began.

Rumanian oil shipments to Germany, which averaged almost 4,500 tons daily before the outbreak of war in September, have declined steadily since hostilities started and now average but slightly more than 2,000 tons daily.

Germany historically has sought Rumanian oil. In the World war one of the reasons for the German march into Rumania was to get oil. While she achieved a military victory she got little oil, for the wells were so thoroughly sabotaged that it was not until after the war that many of them were operating again.

In case the present war should bring Germany into Rumania, the country is well prepared for similar sabotage. A group of oil well wrecking specialists from Texas is being held in readiness for such an eventuality.

At the same time shipments to Germany are on the decline. Rumanian oil exports to Great Britain, France and neutrals total 3,000 tons daily and there are indications that Britain and France are making plans to increase their purchases.

Two British tankers were being loaded today at Constanza and negotiations are under way to have Greek tankers carry Rumanian oil to England.

Another reason for the decline in exports to Germany is that companies operating in Rumania are financed by British, French, American and Dutch capital and while these firms are still selling oil to Germany, they are demanding cash payment.

The Rumanian government, though desirous of giving no open offense to Germany, is bringing no strong pressure on oil companies. One reason advanced for her attitude is that the government's share in oil revenues is pledged to pay off a French loan.

A German trade delegation made strenuous efforts here in September to get more Rumanian oil on credit but it does not appear to have been very successful.

With the sea route cut off and no pipeline between Rumania and Germany, two channels remain open—by rail and by barge through the Danube.

Rail shipments are expensive and handicapped by a shortage of tank cars. Rumania and other Balkan countries are reluctant to send tank cars into Germany and though the reich is operating its own tank cars regularly, the total oil thus shipped is not large.

QUAIL COVERS TO BE ERECTED ON RANCH

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 21—In a move to restore game birds, a series of quail covers are to be erected soon on the ranch of "Little" Joe Calverley.

Pat Close, San Angelo, state game warden, has been conferring with V. G. Young, Glasscock county agent, concerning plans for the covers. The work is being done under an appropriation to restore wildlife and is on a cooperative basis with the ranch owner paying 25 per cent of the costs.

Right in Your Own Home, Whenever You Wish, HEAR THE WORLD'S GREATEST MUSIC

The Daily Herald Music Appreciation Offer

Think of it! The sublime masterpieces of the greatest composers the world has ever known! Ten COMPLETE symphonies, and an electric Record Player that enables you to hear these symphonies right in your own home, whenever you desire! Ten glorious compositions played by the top-ranking orchestras—directed by outstanding conductors!

This priceless library of recordings was selected for you from the entire realm of symphonic music by Samuel Chotzinoff, celebrated in musical circles as one of America's distinguished critics and writers on musical subjects—nationally famous as a commentator on Symphony and Philharmonic radio programs.

It was Mr. Chotzinoff who, acting in behalf of the Radio Corporation of America and the National Broadcasting Company, persuaded the famous maestro, Arturo Toscanini, to return to America and present the now historical series of symphonic concerts over the radio.

And what a magnificent choice Mr. Chotzinoff has made! Whatever your mood—whatever TYPE of music you wish to hear—you'll find it in this great symphonic collection! Beethoven! Bach! Wagner! Schubert! Haydn! Brahms! Tchaikowsky! Debussy! Franck! Names that are emblazoned in letters of gold in the archives of great music! Composers whose masterpieces will live as long as time endures!

Today, from coast to coast, through the tireless efforts of the National Committee for Music Appreciation, every man, woman and child in our country may enjoy the educational and cultural benefits—the inspiration and entertainment that come with everyday association with the great works of the great masters.

HOW THIS GREAT OFFER IS POSSIBLE

This Music Appreciation Offer is the result of a three-sided co-operation—the purpose of which is to make the immortal music of the great masters available to the widest possible audience. America's foremost symphony orchestras and their eminent conductors have joined in this movement by generously waiving their royalties. One of the largest manufacturers of radio equipment has co-operated by foregoing the normal profit. There remained only the problem of distributing the music on a large scale. The Daily Herald and a group of other newspapers are performing this necessary service.

Read every word on this page and the next and then ACT to bring the World's Greatest Music into your home.

Here Are the 10 Symphonic Masterpieces You Will Receive Through the Daily Herald

- | | |
|---|--|
| FRANK SCHUBERT'S
Symphony No. 8 in B Minor
(Unfinished) During the century that has passed since Franz Schubert composed his "Unfinished" symphony, it has never failed to enthrall his listeners. Inexpressibly beautiful strains explore the innermost regions of the heart and soul. In the entire concert repertoire, few symphonies can match the appeal of this exquisite masterpiece. | CLAUDE DEBUSSY'S
"Afternoon of a Faun"
"Cloude" and "Festivals" Debussy subconsciously freed his art from musical tradition and opened a new way for the symphony in the 20th century school in music. His "Afternoon of a Faun" is a remarkable story of conventional composition. "Cloude" and "Festivals" are like the ever-charming color of beautiful sunset, and stir the listener to delightful reverie. |
| LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN'S
Symphony No. 5 in C Minor Probably more than any other music in existence, Beethoven's Fifth Symphony speaks forthrightly, powerfully to human nature. Few human beings can avoid coming under the spell of this mighty work, an inspiring revelation of most of the meanings of life. | FRANK JOSEF HAYDN'S
Symphony No. 99 in E Flat Major Startlingly new and original, masterly in structure and feeling, Haydn's Symphony No. 99 thrilled its listeners of a century ago, and thrills them even today. Its melody is animated, tranquil and winsome, this exquisite musical work invariably charms every concert audience. |
| MOZART'S
Symphony No. 40 in G Minor A blending of poetry and art, a serene beauty that reaches perfection in symphonic construction, Mozart's Symphony in G Minor is considered by many the greatest and most beautiful symphony ever written. | TCHAIKOWSKY'S
Symphony No. 4 in F Minor A superbly vital musical interpretation of the human condition, Tchaikowsky's Fourth Symphony is a masterpiece of challenge and despair. Its melody is so full of pathos, that it can surpass the glories of any other symphony of Tchaikowsky's Fourth Symphony. |
Prelude to "Die Meistersinger"
Prelude to "Parsifal" In Wagner's Prelude to "Die Meistersinger" powerful beauty combines with dramatic intensity to thrill the listener. Wagner's Prelude to "Parsifal" embodies what every music critic claims to be "some of the most subtle music ever penned by mortal hand." | JOHANNES BRAHMS'S

RULES AND CONDITIONS GOVERNING THIS OFFER

Please Read Below Carefully

To obtain the 10 symphonies and symphonic masterpieces and the electric Record Player to be distributed by THE DAILY HERALD in its Music Appreciation Plan, proceed as follows:

First, fill in and mail the Reservation Form printed in the lower right corner of this page. The purpose of this form is not to obligate you in any way, but to enable us to estimate the quantity of records and Record Players to have on hand to meet the demand.

Each day during this music appreciation offer, we will publish a reminder coupon setting forth the date on which each symphony will be ready. You can get your first symphony (Franz Schubert's No. 8 in B minor) on or after November 4th. Subsequent symphonies will be released one every two weeks thereafter. Watch the reminder coupon which will be published daily. It is not necessary for you to clip the coupons in order to get your records or Record Player.

You obtain each symphony, which consists of three or four double-faced 12-inch records, for a payment of $1.49. This payment is not for each record, but for all THREE or FOUR records. Symphonies which consist of FIVE double-faced 12-inch records require a payment of $1.98 for the entire symphony of all FIVE records. The Cesar Franck Symphony in B Minor, on account of its great length, is divided into two units, each unit consisting of three double-faced 12-inch records, and the cost of each unit is $1.49, the same as for any other three-record group.

A quantity of deluxe records, known as Philharmonic Transcriptions, enclosed in beautiful record albums which have been designed individually for each particular symphony, are available at a slightly higher price. After you have obtained all ten of the symphonies, you can secure the Electric Record Player for a payment of only $3. If you want to get your Record Player earlier, you can do so—you can get it with your first group of records, your second, third, or any other group, merely by making a deposit of $5. After you have obtained all of the 10 symphonies, $2 will be returned to you. Thus, whether you get your Record Player before or after you have obtained all of the symphonies, the cost to you is only $3. For those who want a more elaborate Record Player, a Symphonic De Luxe Model, enclosed in a walnut case, is available at a higher price.

First, mail the Reservation Form to assist us in our distribution problems. Please check whether or not you want the Record Player reserved. We will acknowledge your reservation by mail. Filling in and mailing the reservation entails no obligation whatever on your part.

Character Building

"Building boys is better than mending men." Leaders seeking financial support of the Boy Scout organization here this week have this bit of logic as a slogan.

Perhaps this might be a point for "hard-hearted" business and professional men to consider in deciding on their contribution to the movement.

Appropriately, the nation observes first prevention week each year because the nation has become conscious of the needless loss created by uncontrolled fires.

Not so with people, and particularly youth. Rebuilding human lives, "mending men" if you please, is always a tedious and often uncertain task.

This business of character is peculiar in that it is always attained at a cost, either in the making or in the attempted repairing. It works a great deal like a see-saw.

It becomes largely a question of where is the best place to put the money to accomplish the desired end. Surely there can be no argument there, for it is not only cheaper to train boys for upright manhood and citizenship, it is the only way for a progressive people.

The Boy Scouts of America has as its prime purpose the two-fold objective of Character Building and Citizenship Training. Whatever the side attractions and complex routes sometimes followed, the stress is invariably laid in this direction.

In this day when nations—many nations—are without the fibre of moral character, America can and ought to stand out as a beacon light of democracy, immune from inhuman and unjust isms, free under God to speak and worship according to individual conscience.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Leaving through faded old clippings in the library, clippings that tell dim tales of an older New York... A tale of the Hawk tavern, in the Street of the Grunting Pig... There was once a street in New York by that name... All streets had sobriquets... The Street of the Horse and Carriage... The Street of the Witches Brew... This last one must have been a cutie... It derived its name from the wild spirits the sailors and adventurers drank there in taverns, along the waterfront.

In the Street of the Witches Brew one night came Captain Hammer, a two-fisted, grog-loving master of an English ship... He had the bar-maids fetch him cup after cup... and finally he rested his head on the table and went to sleep... The maid tried not to waken him... There was much smoke in the tavern, and the candles were burning low... About daybreak, after Captain Hammer had sat bowed over his table for several hours, she approached him timidly... She knew he should be aboard his ship... She placed her hand gently on his shoulder... Then she leaped back, and screamed... For Captain Hammer was dead... A knife had been driven between his shoulder blades, up to the hilt... No one ever knew who did it, or how.

If you wander over to the east side, say about 60th street, you will come to the site of the old Dove Tavern... It isn't there any more... As best I can figure it out, the tavern was where a great New York church is today... But the Dove has a place in history... That was where Captain Andre, the British spy, was hanged... Papers incriminating Benedict Arnold and himself were found in his boots... Then there is Rose street, scene of a grisly murder as New York has ever known... A Portuguese, in the year 1817, sawed off his fiancée's head with a knife, and fled to West Virginia, or rather that section of Virginia which is now West Virginia... But they caught him, and hanged him here in the city... Once attempted to explore the scene of that crime... I think the number on Rose street was 98... But I couldn't find it.

But it was Pine street that provided the police with one of its most baffling mysteries, back there in the early days of this country... A boarding house which was run by a Welchman and his wife became the home of a young Colonial officer and his bride... They were out in front of the house, watching the pigs root through the muddy street one afternoon when a man on horseback galloped up and flung himself off his pattering nag... He handed the officer a package of papers... The officer read one of the papers and turned to the dispatch bearer, but that man was already on his way down the street.

Heavily looking around, the officer grabbed his bride's hand and drew her into the house... They returned to their room, and shortly after that a pistol shot brought other members of the household banging on the door... There was no answer... When the door was battered down they found nearly a thousand dollars in gold on the bed, which was covered with blood... Was there any no bodies... The office on this side had apparently disappeared in this way, so that we see how one has ever learned what happened to them.

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

Chapter 11 TWELVE ON A CHAIN There was no uncertainty about Duncan's winning. It was Bunney's dozen of hearts that decided in their favor.

"I suppose, partner," said Mrs. McBain, in her deep slow voice, "there was nothing we could have done?"

Devoe smiled with a droop of those amorous lids. "One can do nothing without cards," he replied.

Duncan's cold voice cut the air. He looked straight at Devoe. Something obviously had annoyed him. Angered him. "That," he said, "is where you're dead wrong. One can."

It was an ultimatum. It was while Mrs. Deane was gathering score cards and making preparations to serve supper that Michael wandered out into the veranda and found Dr. McBain sitting there alone smoking.

"Have a seat," McBain said hospitably, pushing forth a wicker chair. "I found myself rather in the way, there in the house."

"And I lovely night." They smoked in silence. "How are you liking it out here?" McBain asked after a moment.

"Great. It's like the country. Wish we could stay here all the time." "It's not so good in winter. The University doesn't keep these back roads open, and we have to walk everywhere—pretty cold. Cut off from human society once we get home from the Buildings."

"And I suppose there are disadvantages in living in one another's pockets out here?" "McBain emptied his pipe. "Can't complain," he said.

"I shouldn't think Mr. Deane was so easy to live with. He wasn't always pleasant in class." "He doesn't mean any harm. He's been here so long he thinks he owns the place, and if things don't go exactly as he wishes he gets fussy. His nerves aren't any too good—although I don't like that term. Perhaps I should say his control is weakening. He's getting on, you know."

"He must be. And Devoe—Devoe is practically a stranger, isn't he?" "Yes. Only been here a year or two. Don't know him. Don't have much to do with him. Different departments."

"Duncan Murchison is Chemistry, isn't he? He seems a decent chap." "He is. Clever lad too. He's got a future ahead of him. Brains and ambition. He's a good head in the lab."

"His brother works with you, doesn't he, Dr. McBain? What's he like?" "There was a moment's pause. McBain smoked steadily. Then "He's very clever too, Edgar Murchison is. One of the best physiologists we've ever had here."

"Takes short cuts and gets ahead of the old fogies every time. Our research is going ahead by leaps and bounds. We'll have something there to be proud of, one of these days."

"Scandal-mongers." "He gets a lot of criticism for his methods." Michael threw a deliberate rock into the pool.

It struck a mark. McBain pointed his pipe angrily on the wall. "You, he does. It's ridiculous. You hear any more rumors, refer the person who starts them to me. Will you, Forrester? I can't have a respectable colleague's character set upon like that. And, it's damned bad for the University."

High And Low Mrs. Deane's voice broke in upon them. "Won't you gentlemen come to supper, please? It's almost ready." She held the door open invitingly.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Right now prospects for peace seem only moderate. Yet some persons see a possibility that President Roosevelt, by good diplomatic headwork, could score a grand slam by bringing peace not only to Europe but also to Asia.

Washington did not respond immediately to Berlin's unofficial suggestion that the U. S. mediate. But that opportunity promises to remain open. It is a "developing" situation.

Wholly overshadowed by the European war, is the dawdling conflict in the Orient. Persons here with wide diplomatic contacts, especially with Far Eastern figures, say the time already has arrived when the U. S. could put an end to the Japanese-Chinese affair with one warm gesture.

The hitch lies in the fact that the warm gesture would have to be made toward Japan. That would take considerable public "preparation." Americans lately have become soured on the Japanese. Americans are disposed to call for hard treatment—not for warm gestures.

WE ARE JAPAN'S SILK STOCKING DISTRICT

But that Japan is more amenable to U. S. influence just now is clear. She has asked to revive the trade treaty denounced by the U. S. last July. She can't afford to lose her major source of international spending money—her large sale of silk to America.

The U. S. could use that situation to press upon Japan for improved conditions in the Orient.

A more important aspect is Japan's need for an international "big brother" among the western nations, as she once had in England. That relationship ended in 1922, when the U. S., as a condition of naval disarmament, insisted that the British-Japanese alliance be dissolved.

Prior to the dissolution of that treaty, British diplomatic influence had kept Japan from such blunders as her new Chinese policy.

JAPAN COULD SELL GUNS TO EUROPE

The exact course for U. S. mediation to follow in the Orient isn't fully charted even in the minds of those now advocating it. Roughly, the idea is this: The U. S. would prepare for mediation under circumstances which would permit Japan to "save face" in the Orient in her withdrawal from her present policy of pacification by conquest.

It might be possible for Japan to say, as has Germany in the case of Poland, that she has accomplished her purpose in China. Diplomacy can readily handle such matters.

One suggestion was that the U. S. invite Japan, as a prelude, into an informal group of neutral nations, including the Americas, Japan and Italy. The central idea would be to discuss keeping out of the European squabble.

From an economic standpoint that could be tremendously inviting to Japan. The munitions and airplanes she now is using against China could be sold in Europe. Japan might recover part of the terrific losses she has suffered.

The thing has real possibilities, as seen by observers here. It could be worked independently of the European business, so that U. S. influence could be credited with some accomplishment toward peace.

There is time in which to work. The trade treaty denounced by the United States does not die until January, time enough for diplomacy to turn the trick.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—European plots and counterplots have played neat with many a movie writer's work, but so far the geni of the scripts have shown little facility in skirting the perils of a topsyturvy geography and time.

In the first week of war abroad, you could hear writers lamenting over completed scripts with Paris or London settings. The stories were written against the background of what at least passed for peace.

Characters took passage on trans-Atlantic steamers, made love on the Eiffel Tower, strolled the parks and streets with a nonchalance that would be obviously "dated" in a war-conscious Europe. A Paris or London so pictured, minus sandbags and anti-aircraft guns and air raid shelters, would not be up-to-the-minute. Writers moaned, especially if their stories could not be adapted to war conditions, could not have happened under war conditions.

"Ninotchka," the Ernst Lubitsch-Greta Garbo comedy, was already filmed—with its definite Paris setting, when war broke. It was finished, in fact, before Germany and Soviet Russia began biling and cooling, which is important because Garbo plays a Soviet emissary on official business in Paris.

The apparent "dating" of the story, however, is deftly twisted into an asset. An introductory subtitle, such as they used in the old silent films, sets the gay mood of the piece, describing it as a tale of Paris "in the good old days when a siren was a brunette and not an alarm," and when "a Frenchman turned out the lights it didn't mean a raid."

One hilarious scene in the film, a commentary on the old Soviet-Nazi hatred, is "dated"—but to the picture's advantage as it is even funnier now. Three Soviet emissaries meet a train bearing a commissar come to supervise them. They do not know the man, pick on a pompous bearded one as the only possibility. As they rush to greet him, the passenger greets a woman who exchanges with him fervent Hell Hitler, and the Soviet trio draw back in horror.

"Raffles," the David Niven starrer, is proceeding blithely just as if there weren't any war. The only change made in the traditional story is not warranted. The London of this "Raffles" won't be foggy—simply because Raffles is a cricketer, and London's fogs aren't supposed to be heavy in cricket season.

"Vigil in the Night," as written by A. J. Cronin had no war; the scripters brought the story up to date, during production, by bringing in evacuation of English hospitals, in one of which the doctor hero and nurse heroine are stationed.

"Career Man," a pre-war propaganda piece, underwent week-to-week changes and re-takes to keep up with the headlines, emerging finally as the ultramilitaristic "Espionage Agent."

"Remember" had a minor problem—but they solved it with a simple script change. Robert Taylor isn't going to Europe for a vacation—the character goes to South America instead.

There's a boner in the Marx Brothers' "A Day at the Circus," but a minor one. One of the characters aboard an ocean steamer carries on a ship-to-shore telephone conversation—a pastime not indulged in wartime.

And the projected "Safari," the script of which called for characters to leave South Africa for the new European war, was held up pending outcome of these uncertain first months of strife. The makers wanted to be sure, before going ahead, that the war wasn't called off in the meantime.

Workers Are Lined Up For Red Cross

With the launching of an extensive campaign little more than two weeks away, workers were volunteering Saturday for service in the Red Cross roll call here November 7.

J. H. Greene, roll call chairman, said that 30 people had signified their willingness to join in the drive for more than 2,000 memberships in Howard and Glasscock county.

He issued an appeal for more to volunteer since upward to 250 are needed to adequately stage the drive plan outlined for the roll call.

Among those who had agreed to join in the work were Nell Hatch, Mrs. Edith Mae Williamson, Albert Fisher, Monroe Johnson, Merle Stewart, D. D. Douglas, Dan Hudson, J. P. Kenney, Mrs. J. R. Creath, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Marvin Louise Davis, Mrs. Charles Dunn, Mrs. E. E. Fahnestamp, Mrs. J. L. Hudson, Mattie Hafley, Mrs. Charles Kobert, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Mrs. C. A. Murdoch, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, Mrs. Shine Phillips, Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, Mrs. H. N. Robinson, Pauline Schubert, Mrs. A. B. Wade, Mrs. H. H. Hurt, Jeanette Barnett, G. C. Dunham.

At Forsan Ben LeFevre had accepted, also had George Boswell at Coahoma and Herschel Summerlin at Midway.

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

every sentence, every smile, was questioned closely and remembered. And just as supper was over Mrs. Deane's rambling tongue touched upon the most surprising thing of all.

She looked across the table at Mrs. Murchison, at the moment sparkling up at Michael, and said calmly, "I do wish you'd worn your necklace, Mrs. Murchison. I do think it's so beautiful."

There was something in that dark face that reminded Tuck of the episode of the pipe.

"My necklace?"

"Yes, the lovely diamonds you wore on Christmas Eve, at the faculty dance. I don't suppose you would wear it at an informal party but—" her voice went on and on. Tuck's eyes went quickly to every face around the table. Duncan Murchison was "tony, immovable. The McBains, sitting next him, were untroubled and went on eating calmly. Jared Devoe was smiling at his cousin, Old Mrs. Devoe sat unwinkingly, her fork poised in her hand. But Miss Lissey was staring at her plate, her eyes shielded against the light.

Mrs. Deane finished.

"Oh," Mrs. Murchison said without excitement. "Those weren't diamonds, Mrs. Deane. Only brilliants, they are. I could not think what you were meaning. Surely, if you liked it, I will wear it again."

Mr. Deane coughed behind his hand. "They were very fine brilliants," he said. "My wife called my attention to them. Twelve of them, was it not? On a chain?"

"Yes, I believe that is right." She put her hand to her throat suddenly. "I got them in Paris a year or two ago."

"Lovely, lovely brilliants," Mrs.

Deane sighed. "Lovely. Twelve of them—on a fine chain."

Continued tomorrow.

Just Ten Years Ago--The Market Went Smash

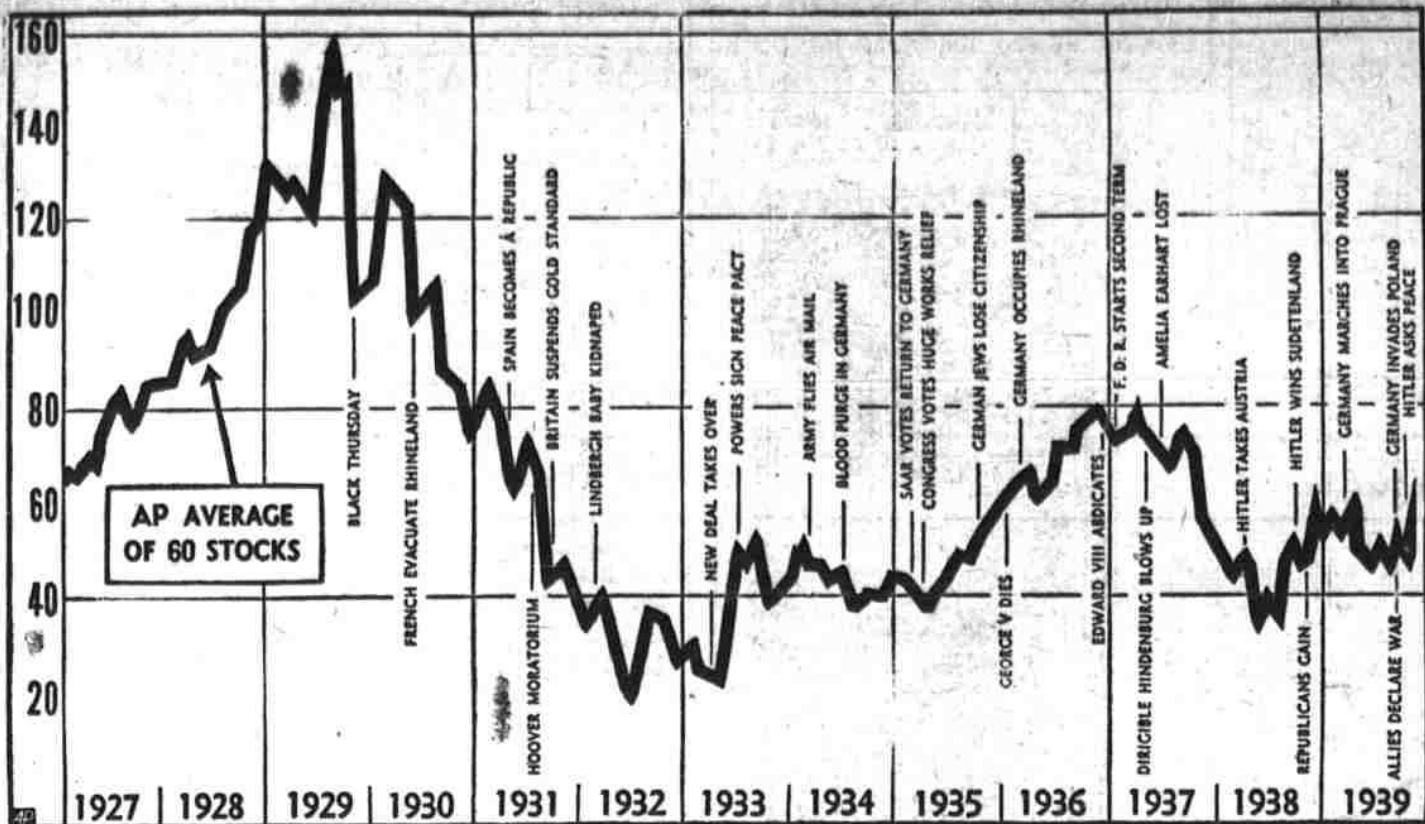

'Black Thursday' Was A Midpoint Between 2 Wars

By FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK—Wall street quotation tickers, registering the pulse beats of the vast organism of business, have clocked off a decade of market response to a swiftly changing world since stocks collapsed on "black Thursday" in the autumn of 1929.

It was on October 24, ten years ago, that the stock market—most sensitive recorder of the mass feelings known as "business sentiment"—shuddered as if in apprehension of coming events, then plunged toward the abyss of depression.

In five hours of the most frantic selling Wall Street had seen in a century and a half of trading, a towering peak of speculative values toppled in ruins. Vanished in the dust of deflated paper profits and sold-out margin accounts were the golden dreams of a great army of little traders who had been attracted to the market by a five-year advance in share prices.

Stocks had been going down for several weeks, but on the morning of October 24 the decline became a rout.

Best Shares Crash
Selling orders, coming in large part from distressed margin traders, swamped brokers. The ticker fell hopelessly behind the market. Some of the best-rated shares on the board crashed $10 and $20 and $30 before the worst of the selling panic passed.

Frightened by the spectacle, some brokers started agitation to close the exchange. In midst of this atmosphere of unreasoning fright came news that a group of Wall Street's leading bankers had assembled at J. P. Morgan & Co. to discuss the situation. The word went out of the conference that there was no need for drastic action.

Fear relaxed its hold, prices rallied somewhat, the market took a more orderly line of retreat.

Dealings surpassed all previous records, totaling 12,994,650 shares. It was hours after the closing gong when the last quotation was registered. Subsequently, before the autumn crash fully exhausted its self, volume surpassed the "Black Thursday" total but it never attained again the drama of that day.

Industrial barometers, virtually at the peak of post-war prosperity when the market hit the skids, began to waver, then descend. The market tried a comeback in the spring of 1930. It flopped because business did not follow. Another severe spill took place in the autumn of 1930. Then followed a series of declines, culminating at mid-year in 1932, when only the badly battered stump of the 1929 price list remained.

The whole world felt the cold grip of depression. In 1931 the central European financial crisis shook the international credit system to its roots. The British pound sterling, long regarded as the rock of money security in world finance, fell from its gold standard pedestal.

Reform
Political change came swift in train of spreading economic disorder. New governments took over, dedicated to reform or aimed to tighten centralized control. Big guns thundered at Shanghai as Japan seized advantage of the economic breakdown to begin its conquest of China. The Nazis took over in Germany. The New Deal swept into power in Washington.

Among the first reform measures pushed by the New Dealers was legislation aimed at preventing another "Black Thursday." Banking laws were overhauled to give federal authorities stronger control over credit and, incidentally, over margin speculation in the stock market. The federal reserve board got power to say how much

Only The Beginning
In retrospect, October 24, 1929, stands out as a starting point. A few faint warning signals of the impending collapse of the post-war order had sounded in the spring and summer of 1929. For the average ear they were unrecognizable. But the message of "Black Thursday" was heard far and wide.

A chill settled over the land, despite assurance from business and political leaders that everything was "fundamentally" sound.

COMBINATION PRICE TO SINCLAIR-IZE YOUR CAR FOR WINTER

Here's a safety tip. Have your car prepared for winter driving now. It will help prevent repairs and perhaps even a serious accident. Our special Sinclair-ize for Winter service follows your car manufacturer's recommendations to make winter driving safer. Take advantage of our combination price by having your car Sinclair-ized today. Here's what is done:

- DIFFERENTIAL is drained, flushed and refilled with correct winter lubricant. This helps to prevent wear on gears.
- TRANSMISSION is drained and flushed to get rid of all the old summer lubricant. Then we refill with fresh winter lubricant. This makes gear shifting easier and promotes smooth, silent power.
- CRANKCASE is drained and cleaned with special flushing oil and refilled with Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. This motor oil flows freely at low temperatures because it is not only de-waxed but also de-jelled. It makes starting easier. (If you want Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil there is an additional charge of 50 per quart.)
- FRONT WHEELS are pulled and lubricated, as your
- car manufacturer recommends. This is a service designed to help prevent bearing failures and possible serious accidents.
- RADIATOR is flushed to remove rust and sludge, and hose connections are checked. We can also supply Sinclair Anti-Freeze if requested.
- CHASSIS is lubricated in accordance with our Sinclair Indexed Lubrication charts. This kind of lubrication prevents squeaks and unnecessary wear.
- BATTERY is tested and re-filled to proper level. This is important because even a fully charged battery loses power when the temperature drops. We also clean and adjust spark plugs. Dirty plugs waste gas, so this is a real money saver.

Manipulation was outlawed, including pools, which were accused of luring the little fellow into the market by devious methods. The SEC set out to make the market a "gold fish bowl" instead of the place of mystery it was reputed to be in the years when the titans of rugged individualism battled there while swarms of little followers, attracted by high prices, operated more or less in the dark.

measures, government spending for relief and public works, and huge re-armorment programs primed the disabled pumps of industry. Business recovery was uneven, regarded with suspicion by orthodox economists. In Germany and other countries where the shift to a war economy was most rapid, heavy industry revived rapidly.

So the cycle of time and events came back to war. "Black Thursday," many economic students argued, really was the heritage of the World War, the Wall Street echo of a tipsy post-war order. But a decade later the armies of Germany and the Allies again are massed on the western front.

Rules Listed As Helps In Cake-Baking

Knowing that baking powder leaves cake it is natural to assume that adding an extra half-teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. However, that is not true, and the best plan to follow is to use the amount recommended on your baking powder can.

Because of the increased efficiency of K C and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 80 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to insure successful bakings.

The following rules will be helpful in bringing about desired results:

First, always use the amount specified on your baking powder can. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type. With K C, one level teaspoonful to a cup of sifted flour is sufficient for most recipes.

Second, measure carefully — remember that an excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

K C baking powder, the brand used in the cooking school, is one of the most economical and efficient products entering the kitchen. Properly used it will produce for you, the finest of baking goods. You will be convinced of this by giving it a fair trial and observing results obtained.

You can get additional helpful information and a number of practical, tested recipes by sending for the K C Cook's Book. A copy will be mailed, postage paid, if you will send your request together with the slip taken from a can of K C baking powder, to Jaques Manufacturing Company, Chicago, Ill.

Model The Last Word In Cooking Efficiency

Once again Empire Southern Service is offering as the leading award of The Herald's free cooking school one of the finest gifts imaginable by any housewife — a new model Magic Chef gas range.

On the concluding day of the school this costly gift, representing the culmination of skill and research in gas cooking, will be given to some person who attends the event.

Whoever receives it will have a gas range which has won the right to carry the CP seal by compliance with rigid points of performance. CP, in fact, means simply "certified performance."

In general, these are a few of the standards the Magic Chef range, which will be given away, has included: Quality in performance to the extent that the same amount of cooking can be done with one-third less gas; fast broilers which out pre-heating time by one-fourth; improved oven insulation and higher efficiency in slow temperature cooking; and automatic lighting on all burners.

Temperature Variations The non-rust top burners, which may be cleaned easily, offer flexible temperature variations from simmer to high speed. This makes waterless cooking easier than under former methods, and on the other hand the fastest, most economical cooking known.

Besides the improvements in broiler burners and insulation, it has one-third greater broiler area than in other comparable models and carries a perfected smokeless broiler to eliminate possibility of grease fires and smoke.

Fast oven cuts the pre-heating time in half and saves fuel. New low temperature oven cookery now eliminates excess meat shrinkage. Heavier, scientific insulation holds heat in, giving a cooler kitchen and more efficient oven. Automatic oven heat control takes guesswork out of the oven. The Magic Chef range is a model of efficiency and economy in gas cooking. It is the most advanced in its class and is the only one that has won the CP seal by compliance with rigid points of performance.

Lecturer Will Devote Time To Questions

Do you have some particular problem in cookery or kitchen management? Some special little worry on which you would like expert advice?

If so, you will be accommodated at The Herald's free cooking school the first three days of this week.

Mrs. Arreva D. French, able lecturer and demonstrator, presents her topics so fully and completely that most ordinary culinary problems are answered during the instruction periods. But to be sure that each individual is served, a question box will be available at the municipal auditorium, where the lectures are to be held.

All women who have a question to ask, concerning kitchen economy or any associated subject, are invited to write out their questions, drop the slip in the box. Mrs. French will endeavor to answer all these.

And, if time and conditions permit, she will hold personal conferences with women at the conclusion of her lectures each day. It is the aim of the cooking school to give housewives of Big Spring and this area complete information on the many complexities of kitchen management.

HOSIERY TESTER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP) — Uncle Sam donated a new patent today to the cause of preventing runs in women's stockings.

The patent, taken out in the name of the government by bureau of standards inventors and made available to the hosiery industry without charge, is for a machine to test how and why stockings run.

When hosiery mills have the machine, officials said, they will be able to make better stockings.

Women Urged To Register Each Day

Representatives of The Herald and other firms co-operating in the free cooking school are urging that all women who attend the lecture-demonstrations Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday register at the entrance of the municipal auditorium, where the school will be held.

It is important that all in attendance sign cards which will be provided each day, it was said. Those who attend all three days will be asked to register each day.

There will be tables in the lobby of the auditorium, cards and writing materials available there, and attendants to assist in the registration.

The programs start each day at 2 o'clock, and women are urged to come early so there will be sufficient time for registration.

Husbands Are Welcome, Too

Few indeed are the male members of the household who do not, on occasion, feel the urge to get back in the kitchen and show the little woman a thing or two about efficient operation of the culinary department. Perhaps the urge is resisted because Hubby knows his knowledge of actual cookery doesn't go far beyond the coffee-and-bacon-and-eggs stage.

Well, if he wants to learn more, he is perfectly welcome to attend the free cooking school at the municipal auditorium, the first three days of this week.

Mrs. Arreva D. French can give him pointers in efficient, economical kitchen management, and recite and demonstrate recipes which he can adopt for his own use.

Mrs. French stresses efficiency and economy in the kitchen. Her lectures are not on "party" dishes. Her practical instruction on kitchen operation will appeal to the man of the house as well as the woman.

LECTURER DUE IN CITY TODAY

Mrs. Arreva D. French, outstanding home economist, was scheduled to arrive in Big Spring today to conduct the Happy Kitchen Cooking school which will be held at the municipal auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock. Mrs. French conducted the school last year, and was greeted so favorably by local women that her services were obtained again this year. Recognized as an able lecturer and demonstrator on the simplifying of kitchen management, Mrs. French has presented her talks to thousands of women all over the country.

FIRST OF LECTURES SLATED MONDAY AT CITY AUDITORIUM

Entire Three-Day Program Free To Everyone; Famed Food Economist Due To Attract Record Crowds

As final arrangements were being completed Saturday for The Herald's annual Happy Kitchen cooking school, indications were that the three-day affair—brought to women of Big Spring and its territory at no cost—will attract crowds surpassing those of last year, when nearly 2,500 attended.

Mrs. Arreva D. French, noted home economist and lecturer who won such popularity last year, will return this year to bring lectures on food planning and economy, and no item of home management and the creation of the "happy kitchen" attitude toward housework will be overlooked in her series of talks. All of her talks are of practical, constructive nature and usable recipes will be given and demonstrated with each day's lecture.

The school will be at the municipal auditorium, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. French was scheduled to arrive here Sunday to complete last-minute details in connection with the event.

Many free prizes have been contributed, by cooperating business firms. The awards run in value into hundreds of dollars. There will be daily gifts, in addition to the grand prizes on the concluding day.

A number of displays have been arranged by various merchants and national manufacturers. Various products and informational literature will be distributed each day along with printed recipes of the day's demonstrations.

Sessions will be begun each afternoon at 2 o'clock and in order to avoid the rush and crowding, those planning to attend are urged by the instructor to make plans for an early attendance. A public address system will be used.

The merchants of Big Spring have cooperated to the fullest with this paper and the instructor, Mrs. French, and the cooking school is expected to turn out to be one of the most helpful and beneficial enterprises offered to housewives that has been sponsored in this city for a number of years. The economist will be equipped with the latest and most economical devices for cookery and many other kitchen accessories will be on display in accordance with those used in preparing the daily recipes. A model kitchen which includes necessary kitchen arrangements may be seen along with a dining room suite, the table set with the latest word in silver and china service. These exhibits are planned and arranged by merchants who with the paper have been instrumental in bringing the famous lecturer to Big Spring. Montgomery Ward and Empire Southern Service are providing the kitchen display; the dining room suite is from Barrow's and Omar Pitman is showing the silver and china. The main points to be stressed by Mrs. French are efficiency and economy. The school is not intended merely as the means of demonstrating a few expensive recipes for unusual dishes, but as the means of showing in a practical way how the busy house manager can lighten her kitchen work, have more fun and more leisure, and yet at the same time feed her family better and save money while doing so.

ELECTROLUX TO BE SHOWN AT COOKING SCHOOL BY SHERROD

Mrs. Arreva D. French, home economist conducting The Herald's cooking school this week, has chosen the Electrolux gas refrigerator for use during her lectures and demonstrations, and several new models of the refrigerator will be displayed at the auditorium by Sherrod Bros., distributors and dealers.

Management of Sherrods is anxious that those attending the cooking school see the refrigerator which "has no moving parts" and has such outstanding advantages as permanent silence and economical operation. Electrolux is also distinctive in that it can be operated by natural gas, butane gas, or kerosene. In the absence of natural gas connection, Electrolux has models equipped with kerosene burners which do just as effective a job as the natural gas.

Butane gas, increasingly popular in the farm home, is also readily used by the Electrolux because it does such an effective job in maintenance of even temperatures.

The freezing unit in Servel Electrolux works off of a tiny flame. There are no moving parts. The flame merely goes up or down, due to thermostatic control, according to needs of the box.

When Electrolux claims that it "is a silent nature's silent freer," it's no idle boast because the process is absolutely silent. It is a constant process that never snaps on or off, being governed by the size of a tiny, silent gas or kerosene flame.

Consequently, there is no need for a moving part in the Electrolux freezing system. The whole process of furnishing ice-cubes and maintaining a constant temperature is done without noise, without wear. You are invited to see these models at the cooking school Tuesday.

Cake Bakers May Compete For Awards

"Calling all cake bakers!" This is an invitation to enter Mrs. Tucker's cake baking contest in connection with The Herald's Cooking School which is featuring Mrs. Tucker's shortening and other well known products. Mrs. Tucker is offering a $4 cash prize for the best cake and $2 in cash for the second best cake entered in this contest.

Any kind of cake may be entered and the only requirement is that Mrs. Tucker's shortening be used in making the cake. But this requirement is a joy, according to the many cooking experts who are using Mrs. Tucker's shortening exclusively in their schools. These experts who tested Mrs. Tucker's in over 200 cooking schools last year recommend this shortening especially for cake making because it is so creamy smooth and easy to use.

First to feature "triple-creamed" shortening, Mrs. Tucker has improved her process by "multi-creaming" the product over and over again. Every pound of Mrs. Tucker's is whipped, aerated, and creamed many times so that it reaches kitchens velvety-smooth for easy creaming and mixing with other ingredients. Housewives everywhere say that Mrs. Tucker's shortening is so creamy at all temperatures that other ingredients may be quickly stirred in without tire-some creaming. Mrs. Tucker is so proud of such compliments she is staging this cake baking contest to prove to all housewives in this section the pleasure of making cakes with her creamy shortening. Complete details of the contest and the day of judging will be announced from the stage at the school.

Mrs. Tucker's shortening will also be featured in the cooking school as the cellophane-sealed shortening made from choice vegetable oil. Mrs. Tucker pioneered and developed the famous inner-seal of

TO SERVE AS HOSTESSES FOR COOKING SCHOOL

MRS. W. J. MADAMS

MRS. R. E. BLOUNT

MRS. JAS. T. BROOKS

Three Big Spring women have consented to assist in supervision of the free cooking school this week, acting as hostesses to introduce Mrs. Arreva D. French, the lecturer, and to assist in registration. Monday's hostesses will be Mrs. W. J. Madams, Mrs. R. E. Blount will serve on Tuesday, and Mrs. J. T. Brooks will be Wednesday's hostess.

cellophane for shortening cartons, and these airtight containers are responsible for the factory-freshness of the product. Made exclusively from fine vegetable oil, Mrs. Tucker's digests quickly and easily for better health in the families that depend on this brand which has been a favorite with good cooks for over a quarter of a century.

Two other important qualities of this pure vegetable shortening will be demonstrated. As it contains no moisture it does not pop nor spatter when used for frying tasty and digestible foods. And its economy will be proved for frying because, not absorbing odors or flavors, Mrs. Tucker's can be used over and over; and for baking because it goes further in recipes that usually call for more fat.

A new Mrs. Tucker's product is to be introduced to those who attend this school. It is Mrs. Tucker's salad oil, a pure vegetable product that is fresh, neutral in flavor and easy to digest. Mrs. Tucker's smiling face on the tall cans means as fine a salad oil as her kindly face has always meant on shortening, according to the cooking school experts, and it is highly recommended for making delicious and digestible mayonnaise and salad dressings.

Space Reserved At Auditorium For Domestic Help

As a service to those housewives of Big Spring who would like their domestic help—either Mexican or negro—to share in the instruction at The Herald's free cooking school this week a special section is being reserved for those employees.

The lectures and demonstrations of Mrs. Arreva D. French, kitchen economist in charge of the school, are on practical, workable lines which make them valuable to anyone who desires culinary work. It is believed that the classes would be of benefit to the negro and Mexican workers.

They will have a special section of seats in the balcony of the city auditorium. Housewives are invited to send their domestics to the school.

DATES ARE FIXED FOR CHEST DRIVE

GALVESTON (AP)—Galveston's 1939 community chest drive will start November 18 and end November 17 during which time a goal of $71,133.30 will be sought. The total this year is an increase of $1,113.30 over last year.

G. S. McCarter, insurance man, has been named executive chairman of the campaign.

Recipes Will Be Printed

Recipes which Mrs. Arreva D. French employs in her cooking demonstrations at the municipal auditorium will be made available to all women attending—as well as all other readers of The Herald—so that they can be adapted at home exactly as the lecturer uses them in the free school.

Mrs. French prepares many different kinds of dishes daily, giving the recipes; but it will not be necessary to copy her instructions, since all recipes she uses will be published in The Herald. Recipes introduced at Monday's session will appear in Monday afternoon's edition of this paper, and copies of it will be distributed free to all those at the cooking school. Thus, on one page of the paper, will be listed all instructions as given by Mrs. French. The same procedure will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The recipes give full instructions as to measurement and preparation. They will be handy recipes on dishes that most housewives will want to try, after they see the results obtained by the demonstrator. The listings, as they appear in The Herald, will be suitable for filing away for use at any time.

Electric Washer Has Been Factor In Modernization Of The Home

Allen Cox, manager of Sherrod Bros. Hardware store here, Saturday called attention to the fact that this week is to be observed nationally by home appliance dealers as "Washer-Ironer Week."

"Coming at this time, the washer-ironer observance makes a fitting follow-up for us to Big Spring's three decades of progress week," Cox said, "for if any single item in the appliance line has played a great part in home modernization it is the electric washer. From the standpoint of pioneering in this line, a comparative picture of the wash day of yester-years with the modern Maytag of today presents interesting changes in this part of American home life."

"Years ago in most homes the first day of the week meant splitting fire wood, hauling water to tubs located on a rickety wash bench, filling the black cast iron 'wash pot,' and a dozen other inconveniences that took most of the day for the entire job. It is believed that the term 'blue Monday' originated with these first of the week wash days," Cox commented.

Today, he said, Maytag washing machines have eliminated all this extra work for the housekeeper. The family wash is turned out in quick fashion more efficiently than ever before. Clothes are placed in the container, it is flooded instantly with the necessary amount of water, the top is closed, a switch is flipped, and the wash is forgotten until time to remove the contents—all bright and clean with no scrubbing and breaking of fabrics whatever. The Maytag gravity drain empties the tub completely and the job is over.

According to Cox, special Maytag displays and demonstrations will be featured at Sherrod Bros. throughout this week, with the large center window showing one of the units of this line and the oldtime "wash pot" system.

SELF-EDUCATION URGED IN READING WAR DISPATCHES

AUSTIN, (AP)—Self-education in winning propaganda from actual news of the European war has been urged on Texas readers by D. C. Reddick, University of Texas associate professor of journalism.

Reddick, who recently completed a scientific study of American newspaper's treatment of the Ruhr following the World war, says the job was well-done with remarkable accuracy.

While pleading for intelligent reading and interpretation of war news, Reddick, in his treatise, suggests definite labeling by newspapers of sources of stories to provide readers with full information—such as "German war office," "Polish military headquarters," "eye-witness account" and "unconfirmed rumor."

Gold Chain Flour To Be Used In Baking

Gold Chain flour, called the "ideal all-purpose blend," and considered an outstanding product by Mrs. Arreva D. French, has been chosen by that food authority for use in demonstrations at The Herald free cooking school at the municipal auditorium this week. Gold Chain will be used exclusively in all Mrs. French's recipes calling for flour.

"Gold Chain flour has a rich flavor and produces a velvet-smooth texture," Mrs. French says. "It is an all-purpose family flour, as fine as modern science can mill."

"Gold Chain, I have found, has an individual flavor. It is a superb blend of choicest wheats to serve all baking purposes. Breads, rolls, biscuits, cakes, pies, pastries, doughnuts—all have an excellent taste. Gold Chain produces a fine texture that is smooth, light and inviting. And it is an economical flour."

"I can recommend this brand because of its rich individual flavor, its smooth texture, and its all-purpose baking excellence."

out of cooking and virtually eliminates baking failures.

In addition to being the ultimate in performance, the new Magic Chef range is a thing of beauty. It is compact, well arranged, yet has plenty of room and embodies space where it is most needed. All drawers and oven racks are on roller bearings and carry new type stops, which prevent spillage.

The finish is spotless and can be kept clean easily because of the easily removable grates and burner protectors. Too, the new oven vent keeps food vapors away from the wall and stove and makes for an all around cleaner kitchen.

SP INCOME GAINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Southern Pacific company reported today net operating income in September jumped to $4,471,131 from $2,565,124 in September, 1938. The figures were before fixed charges and other income. Gross income for the month increased to $20,853,174 from $18,111,885 a year ago.

MEAD'S fine BREAD

Mrs. Arreva D. French
Cooking School Instructor

Each night men in white, especially trained to perfectly prepare one of the most essential items in any diet, take their places in various departments of this plant . . . and, with full realization of their responsibilities—the better health of this entire community—their work is started with but one desire: to give Big Spring and this trade area "a better loaf tomorrow than yesterday's". And, with new developments being perfected constantly and added to MEAD'S health formulas, an improved loaf is left at your grocer's EVERY DAY. That's what makes MEAD'S fine BREAD the popular loaf that it is today . . . that's why people praise its goodness and health-giving qualities — because each new loaf is better than the last!

Mrs. Arreva D. French

in charge of The Herald's FREE Cooking School, will tell you just what makes MEAD'S fine BREAD "fine" . . . at Municipal Auditorium—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Demonstrator

And when such a noted authority as Mrs. French offers this advice, she must know the benefits of winter's greatest indoor sport.

"On my visit here last fall the Casadana plant had just been completed and I urged the women of this section to become regular bowlers. I told in Casadana's advertisement and from the auditorium stage this grand game is NOT for 'mere' man alone; it is a sport for men, women and even children. In fact, the earlier in life the game is started the sooner you'll realize its splendid health-giving qualities . . . Whether it was my suggestion that Big Spring women take up this game or their own discovery of bowling as a pleasant way to keep a neat, trim figure the year 'round, I am happy to note that Big Spring boasts the greatest number of women bowling enthusiasts of any town its size I've visited since last year's cooking school," says Mrs. French.

FIRING A BULL'S TAIL IS CRUELTY

LACLEDE, Mo., Oct. 21 (AP)—Marin Woods, a negro farmer, was fined $18 by Judge Libby for setting fire to a bull's tail to get him out of a field. Woods was charged with cruelty to animals after Elmer King, owner of the bull, complained to authorities. King said the bull never recovered from the injury.

FLOOD CONTROL TO BE STARTED IN HOUSTON AREA

HOUSTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Construction will start within 30 days on a county drainage and flood control program involving a total expenditure of $2,798,721, and providing employment for 1,000 workers during a two year period, Jack Rafferty, county drainage engineer, announced today upon receipt of word that President Roosevelt has approved a WPA grant on the project. The WPA will contribute $2,027,175 of the cost.

STATE'S DEFICIT AT ALL-TIME HIGH

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The deficit in the state's general revenue fund, announced as $22,342,211 by Treasurer Charley Lockhart, reached a new, all-time high today, shattering the previous record of $21,486,594 set December 17 last year. The treasurer said general revenue warrants outstanding amounted to $23,062,269 with cash on hand to pay them totaling $720,058. Lockhart called in general revenue warrants issued up to and including last February 2. The amount was listed as $40,366 and the new call number announced as 104,414.

Employee Relationship Factor In Growth Of Duncan Coffee Co.

A most successful year in every respect for the Duncan Coffee company was reported at the recent annual sales meeting which marked the celebration of that company's 21st anniversary, according to H. M. Duncan, founder and president. This meeting, held in Houston, brought together salesmen from the widespread territory covered by the Duncan Coffee company, in which its two well-known brands, Administration and Bright & Early, are the leading sellers. The Duncan products are chosen by Mrs. Arreva D. French for use in The Herald's cooking school. In commenting on the success which the company has enjoyed during its 21 years, Duncan laid stress upon the important part played by employees of the company in that success. "The whole-hearted cooperation which every Duncan employe has shown throughout the history of our company is most gratifying," he said. "Since the Duncan Coffee company was organized in August 1918," Duncan continued, "it has been an unchangeable part of our operating policy to take the company employes into consideration in formulating any change of plans. After all, the interests of the company are equal to the interests of the employe; and if a business is to be successful, that success must have its foundation in harmonious internal relations. "During the depression years, when loss of employment was causing misery and a lowering of living standards, we tried to prevent this in our own organization. When we signed the NRA agreement in 1933, we discarded all of the machinery possible in our plants and added men and women to our payroll to do the work that had been done by these machines. Duncan employes have never had their wages cut or their working hours increased. "Time has proved to us that this procedure was to the best interests of all concerned. Our business has constantly improved and our employes are satisfied. That, we think, is success. "Very nearly 400 people are in the

H. M. DUNCAN

Duncan employ at the present time. This number has grown from the original six with which the company began business in 1918. In those 21 years, Administration and Bright & Early coffees have grown from unknown brands to the leading coffees sold in the Southwest. Each salesman of the Duncan Coffee company is a resident of the territory which he serves. The salesmen are active citizens of their communities, showing keen interest in local affairs. Many of them own their own homes, all of them bank locally, and they operate directly under the supervision of the Houston office. They sell direct to the retailer, making deliveries from distribution points served by fast, over-night truck delivery from the roasting plants.

Silver, China Arrangement To Be Shown In Auditorium Displays With Special Dining Suite

Exquisitely set luncheon, breakfast and "bride's" tables by Onna Pitman Jewelry will be on display at the free cooking school at the municipal auditorium this week. Barrow Furniture company also is participating in this display, showing a handsome dining room suite. The suite will be a modern adaptation of 18th Century mode, of five-piece mahogany. It consists of a china cabinet, buffet, a 10-leg table, two arm chairs and four side chairs. The buffet and china cabinet are distinctive in their hardware treatment, the trimming following a cane effect which harmonizes with cane panels in the backs of the chairs. The chairs are upholstered in blue tapestry. The suite, an extremely attractive one, though moderately priced, is one of the nationally-advertised "Fashion Flow" line. In the Pitman display, Spode china will be featured throughout. Settings will be changed each day of the cooking school, and each will be authentic for its particular occasion. The first day luncheon table will be typically feminine with flowers in Balbeck containers and dancing figures of Dresden china as place settings, and dillies of Chantilly lace. The breakfast table, to be shown on Tuesday, will show an unusual combination of fruit and flowers. Colored linen place mats will be used. The bride's table will be in all white, as a bride's table should be, with crystal spergne of white tapers and bridal wreath. The place flowers will be satin boxes of wedding cake—all on a lace bridal cloth. Here are the silver and china lines to be shown: Bride's table: China—Spode; Jewel; silver—Rose Point by Wallace; crystal—Rose Point by Cambridge. Breakfast table: china—Spode; Blue Tower; silver—Marlborough by Reed and Burton; crystal—Victoria, by Dolly Madison. Luncheon table: china—Spode; Buttercup; silver—Broadmore by Watson; crystal—Broadmore by Cambridge.

CO-EDS TO LEAD TEXAS U. BAND

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The 46-year-old tradition of an all-male University of Texas Longhorn band will be shattered here Sunday when two co-ed drum majors will be selected. Recently the band membership voted "no" but the band committee overruled that last night and the girl drum majors will be chosen in a contest Sunday.

Many From Howard County Enrolled In Hardin-Simmons

Hardin-Simmons university, of Abilene, pioneer West Texas educational institution, founded in 1891, recently inaugurated its 48th year with increased enrollment. Dr. J. D. Sandefer, dean of senior college and university heads in Texas, began at the same time his 31st year as president at Hardin-Simmons. H-SU's beloved "prexy" however, is critically ill, and Dr. R. N. Richardson, executive vice president, is administrative head of the school. The Hardin-Simmons student body this year included undergraduates from 11 Texas counties, 13 states, and two foreign countries, Mexico and China. Taylor county, with Abilene as county seat, leads with 234 students. Enumerated by classes, students at H-SU this year from Howard county include Ray McCullough, a sophomore; Dale Puckett, son of W. R. Puckett, a sophomore; Woodrow Coots, son of J. H. Coots, a sophomore; H. C. Burrus, son of H. C. Burrus, a sophomore; Christine Shannon, daughter of Lena Shannon, a freshman; Harold Toran Warren, son of J. M. Warren, a freshman; Quentin Martin, son of Mrs. Coren Martin, a sophomore; Erma Lee Wooten, daughter of J. W. Wooten, a sophomore; Joyce Mason, daughter of E. E. Mason, a freshman; and Clarice Hambrick, daughter of L. C. Hambrick, a junior, all of Big Spring. Others are Bettye Sue Pitta, daughter of N. W. Pitta, a sophomore from Coahoma; Rosel Newcomer, daughter of E. G. Newcomer, a junior from Knott; Dora Jane Thompson, daughter of J. E. Thompson, a freshman; Earl William Rucker, son of W. E. Rucker, a freshman; Ruth Irene Brown, daughter of R. M. Brown, a freshman; and Edna Annet Bee, daughter of L. L. Bee, a freshman, all of Forsan.

UNUSUAL SERIES OF ADS SCHEDULED BY CHESTERFIELD

One of the most interesting and compelling series of newspaper advertisements ever to run in behalf of a leading American cigarette has just been released by Chesterfield. Dealer sales that are sure to result will be assisted by colorful store displays and national billboard showings. The first newspaper advertisement will appear during the week of October 23rd, the start of a schedule that continues through December. Famous personalities from many fields are featured in the series. The sports world is represented by such figures as Grantland Rice and Frank Fuller, Bendix Air race champion. Outstanding Hollywood stars, such as Bette Davis, Loretta Young, Errol Flynn, and David Niven play a large part in the Chesterfield campaign, while the glamour and beauty of the American girl is typified by Miss Phill Offer who was chosen "Cotton Queen of 1939." However, the most unusual and striking advertisement in this new Chesterfield series are the three all-text announcements that every smoker will be keenly interested in reading. The advertisements are entitled "Tobacco opens doors to fields where people live, work and achieve," "There's no great mystery about cigarette tobaccos," and "It was hit or miss in grandfather's day." Not only are they fine examples of clear writing, original layout and good typography—they also contain new and interesting information about cigarette manufacture. FEDERAL DEBT GOES TO A RECORD HIGH WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The federal debt has jumped to a record high of $40,969,392,881, as the treasury resumed borrowing to pay for its deficit. The debt jumped $58,000,000 in one day, principally because of the treasury's sale of $150,000,000 worth of 31-day discount bills this week when only approximately $100,000,000 worth of similar obligations came due and needed replacement.

Larger Demand For Crude Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The bureau of mines today estimated the November daily average domestic demand for crude oil at 3,630,000 barrels, or a total of 308,600,000 barrels for the month.

This was 29,700 barrels a day more than the estimated demand for October and 5.7 per cent more than the actual demand last November.

The bureau estimated the November domestic demand for motor fuel at 46,700,000, or about 8 per cent more than the actual demand in November, 1938, when demand, officials said, was abnormally high. It estimated November motor fuel exports at 2,900,000 barrels, or 200,000 barrels more than the actual exports the previous November.

Officials said the daily average crude oil production and runs to stills during the five weeks from September 2 to October 7 were 3,492,000 barrels and 3,497,000 barrels, respectively. During this time, they said, total crude oil stocks declined 3,274,000 barrels, 296,000 of which were foreign stocks, leaving a net decline in domestic crude oil of 3,028,000 barrels or 145,000 barrels daily.

RECIPE FOR KC MARBLE CAKE

Part No. 1
1-2 cup shortening or butter.
1-4 cupfuls sugar.
2 whole eggs.
1-2 cup milk.
2 cupful flour.
2 teaspoonfuls KC baking powder.
1-8 teaspoon salt.
1-3 teaspoon vanilla.

Part No. 2
1-2 cup shortening or butter.
1-2 cupfuls sugar.
2 squares unweetened chocolate.
3 whole eggs.
2-4 cupfuls flour.
3-4 cup milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Part 1—Method
Cream shortening, add sugar very slowly, salt, add eggs one at the time—beating one minute after the addition of each egg, add flour and milk alternately, always adding flour first and flour last. Add extract to milk and sift flour and measure. Then sift flour and KC baking powder, three times.

Part 2—Method
Use same method in mixing Part 2 as in Part 1. Cream shortening, add sugar, melted and cooled chocolate and add eggs, flour and KC baking powder sifted together, add vanilla to milk, add flour and milk alternately.

Four white mixture into chocolate mixture—give two swirls. Bake in stem pan one hour at 350 degrees F.

TO DISTRIBUTE ANTELOPE OVER WESTERN TEXAS

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A resumption of its antelope distribution program is being planned for October by the Texas game commission. Drives were suspended last spring because of the fawning season.

Despite the fawning season, those antelope which were trapped on the T. G. Brennan ranch near Starling City by a party of game wardens and cowboys, under the direction of Dr. Lee Fisher of Alpin, were moved to other ranches and have a good record of survival.

Lester Foster, Starling ranchman who received some of the 33 animals trapped last spring, says the animals on his ranch have raised four fawns. Propagation marks are expected to be improved on ranches receiving antelope after the fall roundup.

In the new distribution program larger ranches, providing adequate rolling open range will receive most of the antelope. Investigation reveals that antelope and sheep do not get along well together, but antelope range well with cattle.

In countries like Italy, Japan, Russia and certain of the Balkan states the number of persons of working age is growing so rapidly as to constitute a serious problem from the point of view of employment, says a study of "Population and Peace" issued by the Columbia University Press.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death." (Hosea 13:14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If it is true that man lives, this fact can never change in Science to the opposite belief that man dies. Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representative" (page 427).

$390 MINIMUM FOR ATTENDING TEX. U.

AUSTIN (AP)—Rock-bottom cost of attending University of Texas one year has been estimated by officials to be about $390.

The costs were analyzed as follows: (maximum) in fees for two semesters; between $15 and $40 in books; $200 and $400 in room and board, and about $100 for incidentals.

The officials pointed out, however, that a large number of the 10,000-odd students manage to obtain jobs and pay part or even all their expenses in that manner.

"Friendship" Church at Plover, N. C., is so called because the original sign on the church was so misapprehended and the congregation adopted the name rather than correct the sign.

Boy Scout Fund Campaign To Get Under Way Monday

Workers Out To Raise A $3,500 Quota

Seeking to make possible the expansion of the Boy Scout program in the Big Spring district and acting in the belief that "Building Boys Is Better Than Mending Men," a corps of workers will launch a drive Monday at 7:30 a. m. to raise a $3,500 quota toward the Buffalo Trail council program.

Carl Strom, chairman of the district finance committee, has organized the campaign with general chairmen and workers listed in more than two score separate business and professional classifications.

The membership enrollment this year is being launched earlier than in previous seasons for the reason that the council fiscal year has been changed to date from Oct. 1 instead of Jan. 1. This change, said Strom, makes possible a better balanced program for the year, building up finances in advance of the spring and summer season when bulk of the scouting activity is normally accomplished.

Quota for the Big Spring district has increased for the reason that much expansion is anticipated here and in adjacent territory during the ensuing 12-month period. At least two additional troops are planned for Big Spring, several cub packs, and a few rural troops in Howard county communities.

Strom said that the campaign would get underway following a breakfast session at 7:30 a. m. in the Crawford hotel when the program would be outlined to classification chairmen and their co-workers.

The chairman said he hoped that the work would be completed rapidly, possibly by the middle of the week.

It Takes Man-Power To Keep The Boy Scout Movement Functioning

Boy Scout work is a program for boys, but it takes man-power to keep it in operation.

In the Big Spring district, this heads up with the district committee, composed of leaders for several important divisions of the work. At the helm is C. S. Blomsheld, district chairman. Serving under him as chairmen of the various committees are:

Nat Shick, organization and extension; Ted Graebel, training; Dr. P. W. Malone, health and safety; Albert Darby, camping; Carl Strom, finance; W. C. Blankenship, advancement; Dr. Frank Boyle, cubbing; Dr. W. E. Hardy, senior scouting; Dr. Lee O. Rogers, civic service; and W. S. Morrison, district commissioner.

In closer association with the various troops of the district are these men, serving as troop commanders, Jr., and Ludwig Grau.

Troop No. 8, Coahoma—A. C. Hale, chairman, R. D. Cramer and A. W. Thompson.

Troop No. 9, Valley View—L. G. Fuller, chairman, E. W. Castleberry and C. G. Standifer.

Troop No. 10, Lenora—A. C. Fleming, chairman, C. D. Willingham and Paul Fourman.

Troop No. 11, Merrick—G. Tunnell, chairman, Gerald Liberty, Claude Miller and R. J. Hayworth.

Troop No. 14, Stanton—E. Thornton, chairman, W. M. Hittson and Harold Haley.

All of these men serve without pay and engage in other phases of the scouting program as a direct contribution to the boys of the area.

Troop No. 1, Big Spring—T. W. Ashley, chairman, Roy Cornelison, and W. C. Blankenship.

Troop No. 2, Big Spring—King Sides, chairman, Hayes Stripling, and C. L. Rowe.

Troop No. 3, Big Spring—Dr. W. E. Hardy, chairman, C. S. Blomsheld, Dr. R. E. G. Cowper, and H. W. Smith.

Troop No. 4, Big Spring—D. Y. Yates, chairman, L. L. Telford, George O'Brien, Jack Wilson and W. M. Patterson.

Troop No. 5, Big Spring—George Melear, chairman, John A. Coffey, Chester O'Brien and Walter P. Wilson.

Troop No. 7, Big Spring—O. R. Bollinger, chairman, Charles Lan-

262 Enrolled In Troops Of This Area

Scouting is coming to some 262 boys in the Big Spring district of the Buffalo Trail council, scout officials declare.

This figure does not include those involved in cubbing work at Coahoma and Big Spring, nor does it make allowance for troops and cub packs in the process of organization. It is considered possible that the number by the end of the year may approximate 350.

Most of the boys are enrolled in Big Spring where six active troops report a combined current enrollment of 183 boys. Largest troop of the group is No. 1, boasting a membership of 51.

Troops at Coahoma, Stanton, Valley View, Lenora, and Merrick have an aggregate of about 80 members.

In addition, a cub pack at Coahoma and one at Big Spring add to the total. Two more packs are now being organized in Big Spring. An inactive troop at Forsan is being revived and there are hopes of launching another troop in Big Spring. Rural troops in Howard county may be attempted during the year.

Canvassing For Scout Funds To Be On Business Classification Basis

An innovation in canvassing for memberships in the Buffalo Trail council in support of the Boy Scout movement will be put into effect here Monday when workers under Carl Strom take to the field to raise a $3,500 quota.

Instead of assigning workers to areas, lists, districts, etc., general chairmen have been named to supervise the contact work in business and professional classifications.

Chairmen and classifications follow:

Grover Dunham, restaurants; Dan Hudson, hotels; W. P. Wilson, insurance; Burke Summers, furniture dealers; Charlie Frost, druggists; Marvin Wood, automobile repairing; Albert Darby, bakers; Dr. G. H. Wood, dentists; W. C. Blankenship, schools; R. L. Cook, real estate; Dr. Lee O. Rogers, physicians and surgeons; Bill Crook, lumber companies; Elmo Wasson, retail clothing; Roy Cornelison, cleaners

Program For Younger Boys

Perhaps the most radical development in the Boy Scout movement in its nearly 80 years in the United States has been the inclusion of the Cubbing program.

Although a separate division from scouting, Cubbing is nevertheless a part of the general movement. It was conceived and planned to fit boys of pre-scout age.

It is open to boys between the ages of 9 and 12 years, the latter age being the earliest when any boy may become a Boy Scout.

The Cubbing program centers around neighborhood groups and is subject to home supervision. Its objectives are cooperation, fair play and unselfishness—all looking toward better preparing the boy for his scouting adventure when he becomes 12 years of age.

Cubbing, like the Boy Scout movement, makes constructive use of the boys' leisure time. In this way boys, who will do something be it good or bad, have their energies guided in the right channels.

and dyers; R. R. McEwen, attorneys and courthouse; G. W. Hall, automobile wreckers; Hayes Stripling, wholesale and retail groceries; E. R. Gross, creameries; Harry Nail, beverage retailers; Tom Ashley, automobile service stations; C. L. Rowe, wholesale oils and lubricants; G. H. Hayward, individual donors; R. J. Hoover, printers; Elton Taylor, miscellaneous groups; Mrs. Lois Eason, beauty shops; V. A. Merrick, automobile dealers and distributors; Jack Roden, bottling companies; C. S. Blomsheld, refineries, utilities and appliance dealers; Dave Duncan, drilling contractors; Byron Moore, communication and transportation; Robert Stripling, banks and loan companies; E. M. Conley, florists, photographers and morticians; Bob Kootz, oil well supply; Frank Pope, places of amusement; L. E. Coleman, tourist camps; Bob Winn, barbers; W. S. Satterwhite, agricultural field.

Scouting Program Has Progressed Steadily During 29 Years In U. S.

The Boy Scout movement, which originated at the hands of Lord Baden Powell in England, came to the United States in 1910 because of the good turn of an unknown English scout.

However, despite its comparative youth as organizations go, the scouting program has experienced steady and phenomenal growth in its 29 years on these shores.

During the almost three decades scouting has been fostered in America, approximately 8,000,000 boys have been served directly by it.

Today there are nearly a million and a half engaged in the "great game of scouting."

There have been many additions and refinements added to the program since it was first introduced in this country, but its basic aims of citizenship training and character building have stood like Gibraltar.

From the very beginning the oath and law, the foundation of scouting's success, have remained unchanged.

In 1910 a boy, in order to become a scout, had to promise "On my honor I will do my best: 1) To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the scout law; 2) To help other people at all times; 3) To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight." In the law he had to subscribe to the qualities of being "trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent."

Today a boy engaged in scouting must take that identical pledge, just as eight million others have subscribed to it.

WESTEX RANCH SOLD

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Purchase of the Heise ranch from Pat and Wren Jackson of San Angelo by Mrs. Camille Bird, widow of the late George Bird, San Angelo banker, was announced here.

Price for the slightly more than 12 sections, around 7,800 acres, was $21.50 per acre, or $89,700. Located in southern Tom Green county the ranch is one of the best in West Texas.

The Jacksons operate ranches in Tom Green, Lampasas, Schleicher, Pecos and Fisher counties with headquarters here.

Talks Slated Over Radio

Not only will the campaign for raising the Big Spring district quota in the Buffalo Trail council receive ample publicity in the press during this week when workers are attacking the problem under the direction of Carl Strom, finance chairman, but the radio also will be brought into play to keep the matter before the public.

Radio station KBST has allotted seven programs of five minutes each from Monday through Wednesday. Speakers will touch on the various ramifications of the Boy Scout program, its training, purposes, objectives of citizenship and character building, and the need for support in raising funds to continue to build the scouting program in Big Spring and surrounding area.

Strom will lead off the discussions in a five minute program beginning Monday at 1:15 p. m.

Other speakers and the starting time for their five minute talks will be: Carl Blomsheld, Monday 7 p. m.; W. W. "Bill" Inkman, Tuesday 11:05 a. m.; Joe Pickle, Tuesday 12:45 p. m.; W. C. Blankenship, Tuesday 8:30 p. m.; Grover B. Cunningham, Wednesday 11:30 a. m. and Jack Hodges, Wednesday 1:15 p. m.

Seminole Pool Extended To Northwest

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 21—Gaines county attracted most attention in West Texas oil development this week with completion of a quarter-mile northwest extension to the north part of the Seminole field, gauging of one location north extension to the most northerly production in the same pool and staking of two tests in the Rayner area, one a wildcat.

Pecos was next with locations staked for two Ordovician tests, one in the Apco Ordovician field, the other a wildcat eight miles northwest of that area.

Locations dropped to 29 for field tests and two for wildcats, with three old wells scheduled to deepen, in 10 counties from locations the week before for 59 field tests, three wildcats and three old tests deepening in 11 counties. Thirty-three new producers were finished, three old wells recompleted after deepening and two failures plugged in nine counties compared with 23 new wells finished, nine recompletions after deepening and four failures abandoned in 15 counties during the preceding week.

163 Barrels Per Hour
Onaga Drilling Co. No. 1 Shell-Craig, quarter-mile northwest of Adams & Bradley No. 1 Craig, a producer four miles north of the first Seminole pool production in Gaines county, was completed at 5,820 feet on Yates gas lift for 103 barrels of oil in 24 hours. It was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. Location is 1,320 feet from the north, 165 feet from the west line of section 216-G-WTRR.

Amersda No. 1 A. E. Auten, extending the most northerly Seminole production one location north, was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid, with the total 5,315 feet, flowed 406 barrels of oil in 24 hours and was shut in. It is 900 feet out of the southeast corner of section 267-G-WTRR.

Stanolind staked No. 1 Thom. S. Riley 660 from the south, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 11, block H, D&W Ry. Co. survey, three miles north and 1-2 miles east of its No. 1 Rayner on the east edge of Cedar Lake in northeastern Gaines county, opener of West Texas' latest pool. Stanolind also staked No. 1 Mrs. Edith Johnson, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 6H-D&W, south offset to its No. 1 American Warehouse Co.,

New Well Is Finished In Snyder Pool

Completion of one well in Howard county's Snyder pool and the near completion of two in Scurry county were highlights of oil activities in this area during the past week.

J. F. Postelle, et al No. 1 D. H. Snyder, a northeast outpost of the Snyder pool in Southeastern Howard county, pumped 128 barrels in 24 hours. The test was shot with 800 quarts from pay top at 2,680 to 2,855 feet, bottom of the hole. The production graded 30 gravity. Location is 330 feet from the south and 1,800 feet from the west line of section 27-30-1a, T&P.

Another important development in that area was the showing of the F. H. E. No. 2 Snyder, 330 feet from the south and 1,850 feet from the east line of section 21-30-1a, T&P. The test was shot with 600 quarts with 32 yards gravel ramp from 2,672-2,854 feet and was virtually cleaned out at the end of the week. On swabbing runs, the well, an important northern outpost, filled 1,500 feet in three hours.

Wildcat Drilling
M. L. Richards, et al No. 1 Read, wildcat test three miles north of production in the East Howard pool, drilled ahead to 2,822 feet in line. No significant shows were heard, but no trouble had been experienced from water shut off at 1,664 feet.

Scurry county was cheered by the response of the Pat Moran No. 1 W. E. Sorrella shallow well in the old Ira pool to a shot. The test flowed by heads following a 200-quart jolt from 1,665 to 1,776 feet. Production was estimated at around 100 barrels. Location is in the southeast quarter of section 101-97, H&TC. The shallow test is on a block Shell has for a deep test.

Seven miles northwest of this well, the Ordovician Oil Co., No. 4 W. P. Thompson, 920 feet west of the company's No. 2 well and in the north half of the southwest quarter of section 123, headed repeatedly after a 700-quart shot from 2,340-2,450 feet and was indicated as one of the pool's best producers.

Parten Drilling Co., shot its well, originally the Bristol & Cantrell No. 1 S. G. Tomlinson, with 640 quarts from 2,840-3,067 feet. The test was previously bottomed at 3,069 feet and responded well to the shot. It is located 2,310 feet from the south and east lines of section 122-97, H&TC, almost midway between the Ira and Sharon Ridge pools.

Other tests drilling in the area included the Magnolia No. 2 R. O. McCure which cemented oil string at 2,220 feet and shifted from rotary to standard for drilling in. Ten-inch string was cemented at 625 feet in the Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Reiter test, located 330 feet from the south and west lines of section 115, D. & R. No. 3 R. O. McCure likewise set 10-inch string.

Field Executive In Scout Work Is Stationed Here

One of three professional workers in the Boy Scout program in the 15-county Buffalo Trail council is stationed at Big Spring.

He is Jack Penrose, field scout executive, now rounding out his first year with the council.

Other executives maintained by the council are S. F. Gaskin, Sweetwater, area executive in charge of all council activities and supervisor for the scouting program in the Sweetwater district; and Stanley A. Mate, Odessa, field executive for the Pecos and Midland districts.

Penrose has charge of scouting in the Big Spring and the Mitchell and Scurry county districts.

All of the executives are experienced men and have undergone extensive training in specialties conducted by the national of the Boy Scouts of America.

P. O. Receipts At Seagraves Up 500 Pct.

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 21—That this former dormant West Texas cow and farm community is taking on new life looking to phenomenal progress is reflected in statement made public here today by Postmaster M. T. Cain.

For the quarter ending a year ago, the statement shows, receipts at the postoffice totaled $14,000. For the same period ending a few days ago the figure had climbed to $73,500, an increase of more than five hundred per cent.

A few months ago the postoffice was moved into a larger building and additional facilities, including lock boxes, installed to meet demand of the public. The postmaster stated Friday that plans for building an addition onto the building and installing 240 additional boxes had been approved. All of the 700 boxes at the office are rented to patrons and a long list of applicants for this mail service is on file.

Deposits at the First State bank are approaching the quarter million figure, Cashier M. E. Patterson announced Friday. A year ago the figure stood at $151,000.

Cedar Lake, Texas, newest oil field town, has been staked in vicinity of Stanolind Oil & Gas company's No. 1 Rayner, discovery well in the pool carrying that name east of Seagraves. Stanolind announces staking of four additional locations on their holdings in that area. Extensive development there is anticipated here.

Included in the North Gaines county highway project, bonds for which were voted in the sum of $250,000 recently, will be a thoroughfare connecting Seagraves with Cedar Lake.

Freight Rate Order Lauded

ABILENE, Oct. 21—Action of the Texas railroad commission in ordering removal of differential rates in far West Texas was highly commended today in a statement by J. M. Willson of Floydada, president of the Freight Rate Equality Federation.

As head of the statewide federation, sponsored by the West Texas chamber of commerce, Willson also urged the railroad commission to issue an additional order equating the entire level of Texas rates with that of the North and East.

The commission's order of October 16 will reduce rates from 10 to 20 per cent in 70 West and South Texas counties. This penalty against this area has existed for more than 50 years and the West Texas chamber of commerce has long sought its removal, Willson pointed out.

Removal of the differential rates was one of two things sought by the WTCC and the FREF in testimony at the railroad commission's hearing on freight rates in Austin last June. The other thing sought was equalization of all Texas rates with those in the favored zones of the North and East.

"The removal of differentials, of course, is important and abolishes a 50-year-old barrier existing in our Texas freight rate structure, but the level of all Texas and southwestern rates still is around 65 per cent greater for a 500-mile haul than the level in northern and eastern zones. The major battle, then, lies ahead, and will not be won until our rates are equalized and this 65 per cent penalty against our Texas producers, consumers and shippers is removed," Willson declared.

Willson pointed out that the commission in its recent order stated that due to the tremendous volume of testimony taken at its June hearing the question of reasonableness of the entire freight rate structure is held open for later disposition.

"We hope the order on this question will be to equalize our rates with other zones. That will be the greatest day in Texas since San Jacinto," Willson said.
