Whitaker Sentence Is Again Appealed

AUSTIN (AP)—Attorney Clifford Brown told the Court of Criminal Appeals yesterday it had made an assumption not warranted by the evidence in upholding the death sentence of Walter E. Whitaker Jr.

Whitaker was convicted of murder in the strangulation slaying of Joyce Fern White of Lubbock on the night of Jan. 8, 1953.

In sustaining the trial court judgment, the appellate court said in an opinion last month it could "be safely said that the appellant choked the girl to death with a cotton cord around her neck."

"The court should not decide cases on what can be 'safely said' but on the evidence," Brown said in a brief oral argument asking the court to reconsider the case.

Brown said the state had relied on Whitaker's oral statements for "99.9 per cent of this case," and "never once did he testify that he put the cord around her neck."

Brown said a second point of error lay in the state's having stood upon the contention that a legal autopsy was held.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army disclosed today that it now has 30 of its giant 280mm. atomic cannons in Germany.

off turbulent weather predictions. The Weather Bureau issued a warning of possible tornadoes in a diagonal line across Oklahoma for noon to 6 p.m.

No warnings had been issued for Texas, but the bureau said thundershowers probably would start west of Wichita Falls, extending northeastward across Oklahoma and move southeastward.

At mid-morning, Dalhart in the upper Panhandle, reported seeing a bank of dust moving in from the northwest.

Temperature drops of 15 to 20 degrees were predicted as the cold fronts moved into North Texas. A low in the middle 30s was predicted for the Panhandle Thursday night.

Cold fronts were moving in from the north and west. The western one was deep in the Texas Panhandle at mid-morning. The northern one was in southeastern Colorado and southwestern Kansas.

Waiting for them in Texas was a massive bulk of warm, humid air.

Weather forecasters said such conditions spawn turbulent weather.

Thursday was the third day in a row for tornado threats in Texas. Temperatures, meanwhile, were mostly in the 70s across the state and ranged from 50 at Dalhart, back of the front, to 74 at Laredo, Houston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

At the same time, East Texas was generally cloudy and West Texas was clear to partly cloudy. There was no rain.

Highway patrolmen tracked two twisters until they broke up near West, 19 miles north of Waco without touching the ground. Residents in the China Springs and Coyote communities in Waco's vicinity reported seeing tornado funnels aloft.

While Waco had only a hard shower, rain and heavy hail pounded Valley Mills, while China Springs, Coyote and Whitney had hard rains. All are in the Waco area.

Forecasters called for thunderstorm and thundershower activity in every part of Texas except the western portion. Some rain was expected in the Panhandle Friday.

Seismographs Have Tremor Recordings

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Two "strong" earthquakes, apparently centered off the west coast of Mexico, were recorded early today on American seismographs.

Assistant seismologist Don Tocher of the University of California located the center in the Gulf of California, perhaps off Guaymas or Mazatlan.

The first shock, recorded in Berkeley at 5:52.18 a.m. (EST) was "very strong," Tocher said, and the second "even stronger."

The second recording, intertwined with the first, began at 6:37.22 a.m. (EST). The recordings lasted for four hours.

There was no immediate report from Mexico.

IN KOREA Aussie Tells Meet Troops Must Stay

By EDDY GILMORE
GENEVA (AP)—Richard G. Casey, foreign minister of Australia, told the United Nations conference today that United Nations forces may have to remain in Korea until that divided peninsula has been united under a democratic government.

Casey's declaration to the 19-nation conference preceded a scheduled major policy speech on Korea by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, his first since the parity opened Monday.

Outside the conference hall, a French source reported talks between Russia and France for a truce at Dien Bien Phu to permit evacuation of French Union wounded have virtually collapsed.

Informants said Molotov and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault exchanged heated words at a dinner last night, with the Soviet diplomat expressing surprise that Bidault had injected the truce question into a discussion of what parties should participate in settlement of the Indochinese question.

Bidault replied that he was just as surprised that the Russians had violated confidences by disclosing his request without notifying the French beforehand. Molotov said he did so to counteract what he called tendentious articles in the world press. The Russians repeated that a truce should be arranged here; the French said it should be done by field commanders in Indochina; neither side would budge and there the matter rests, with no further meetings on schedule.

The Australian diplomat said the dangers of an "over-hasty withdrawal" from Korea for a divided peninsula has been demonstrated. He added that the heavy sacrifices that this has involved must surely preclude the United Nations from agreeing to withdrawals before United Nations interests and objectives are properly safeguarded.

"It may be," Casey declared, "that some United Nations forces will be needed in Korea until a unified and independent government has been democratically established."

With other winners in the annual competition sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, they will receive their prizes at the annual awards dinner tomorrow night.

Miller, a farmer who has become known as a militant disciple of soil conservation in his area, was the entry of the Brazoria-Galveston Soil Conservation District in the outstanding conservation farmer or rancher competition. He wins $500.

The Dalworth District will receive $1,000 prize money for the top cash award in the program.

The State Champion soil conservation group is the Ruckers Creek Community group of near Granbury in the Hood-Parker Soil Conservation District. Another $500 winner is Clinton Harbers of West Point, near LaGrange in the Bastrop-Fayette Soil Conservation District. He's the champion 1954 comeback farmer, a man who battled erosion and water losses until his 167-acre farm became a show place.

The 1954 essay contest champion is 17-year-old Bobby Burnett of Lamesa High School. He competed with approximately 30,000 other students to win an expense-paid vacation trip to Colorado.

Mrs. John Raley of Route 1, Carthage, is to wear the crown of Texas Homemaker for 1954. Her story is a record of 32 years of working not only for the betterment of her own household but for her community as well. Mrs. Raley will receive a silver tray.

J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, agricultural director of the First National Bank, wins the championship.

Vaughan and Martin waived extradition in Pecos, Tex., yesterday. Vaughan was arraigned on a charge of unlawful flight and his bond set at $100,000. He also was arraigned before a Pecos justice for theft of a new car, taken Tuesday from a Pecos dealer's showroom.

Vaughan is charged with murder in the death of an unemployed lumberjack from Phoenix, Ariz., Amos Burgess, 49. Vaughan's pregnant wife, charged with him in the slaying near Lordsburg, N.M., in February, is awaiting birth of her child in San Diego, Calif.

Meanwhile, a jail trustee who pleaded guilty with providing the escape was sentenced yesterday to three to four years in the state prison. He is Manuel Bustamonte, now held in the Silver City jail.

Still another trustee, accused of aiding the trio escape, is Albert Luna who has pleaded innocent. Bustamonte was charged with furnishing the trio with the tools with which they removed a toilet and tunneled through the jail walls.

Sheriff Slim Mathews was to bring Vaughan and Martin back here today from Pecos.

Eisenhower Says Curb On Troop Use Harmful

Street Lighting Plan For Fourth Gets City Okay

City commissioners last night approved the installation of mercury vapor lights along 4th Street, discussed drainage and paving problems, and okayed the topping of Westover Road.

The plan for installing vapor lights at each intersection and alley along 4th was submitted by Texas Electric Service Company. Officials of the firm want to get materials ready so that the lights can be put up before highway construction.

Installation of traffic lights on 4th was also discussed, commissioners pointing out that signs should be posted at city limits giving the rate of speed for which the lights are set.

Approval was given to a paving extension on Westover Road, which means the street will be topped from Pennsylvania Avenue to Marcy Drive. Money was posted for the paving by Merle Stewart, administrator of the Edwards Estate.

Sam Goldman again appeared before the commissioners to request some type of pavement on Ryan Street behind the Veterans Hospital. He said homeowners on the street would be willing to pay their present assessment for a cheaper type pavement if the city would approve a one or two-shot penetration top.

Commissioners told Goldman they would wet down the street for two or three weeks while further attempts are being made with the Federal government for the Veterans Administration to pay part of the paving costs. Cost of cheaper paving will also be investigated, Goldman was assured.

City Manager H. W. Whitney was instructed to figure the cost of paving the alley between Johnson and Nolan from 9th to 11th Streets. This alley is believed to cause the drainage problem on Johnson, as dirt and trash from the alley washes to the paved street.

A discussion was held on the possibilities of the city purchasing equipment to pave streets a block or two at a time.

Commissioners decided against police officers in uniform patrolling the area around the dance hall now being constructed on the Snyder Highway. The officers would have to be deputized before they could have any authority outside the city limits, and the legality of a double commission is now being studied.

It was also decided last night that the city building on Highway 80 which was formerly the air base terminal will be rented for legitimate business operation. A 60-day termination lease would have to be drawn up in case it is rented, it was pointed out.

Two Caught From New Mexico Jail

SILVER CITY, N.M. (AP)—Two men who escaped the Grant County, N.M., jail Monday night were to be placed back in the same jail today.

But a third member of the escape team still is at large. Officers theorized still-free Charles Caldwell, 22, headed west while the two caught—Marvin Vaughan, 33, and Carl F. Martin, 27—headed east into Texas.

Vaughan and Martin waived extradition in Pecos, Tex., yesterday. Vaughan was arraigned on a charge of unlawful flight and his bond set at $100,000. He also was arraigned before a Pecos justice for theft of a new car, taken Tuesday from a Pecos dealer's showroom.

Conference Set On Right-Of-Way

County commissioners were to confer this afternoon with Clarence Rea, highway engineer, and Mrs. Otis Chalk and Mrs. Doris Cole, property owners, concerning right-of-way for the Chalk-to-Highway 80 farm road.

Mrs. Chalk and Mrs. Cole have asked that routing of the proposed road be changed so that it will not cross an area occupied by stock pens.

Commissioners must secure approximately a mile and a half of right-of-way from Mrs. Chalk and about four miles of roadway from Mrs. D. H. Snyder before the highway department can commence road construction. All other right-of-way for the approximately 12 miles of farm road has been secured.

Completion of the new road will provide a paved highway from a point on Highway 80 east of Coahoma to a connection with Highway 87 near Forzan.

RALPH YARBOROUGH

Yarborough To Face Shivers In Governor's Race

AUSTIN (AP)—Ralph Yarborough, unsuccessful candidate against Gov. Allan Shivers two years ago, announced today he will seek the governorship again.

Yarborough, 51, said he made the decision to run because "as a Democrat, I will not stand idly by while the Democratic party is again betrayed."

"Hundreds and hundreds of people have phoned, wired, and written me, and thousands of others have petitioned me, to enter the race for governor, in order to stop the governorship of Texas from going by default to a power-mad political machine," Yarborough said in a prepared announcement of his candidacy.

Calling the coming campaign the "highest call to duty I have ever had," Yarborough said he will "represent the plain people of Texas in this campaign."

Yarborough, who was generally identified with the Democratic faction which remained loyal to the national party and supported Adlai Stevenson for President in 1952, lost to Shivers in the first primary that year.

The vote in 1952 was 833,861 for Shivers to 488,345 for Yarborough.

Asserts Proposal Would Hurt U.S.

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today his flexibility in handling the Indochinese problem would be hampered by any requirement that he get prior approval from Congress on sending troops there.

At the same time, Eisenhower told his news conference, the United States will not become involved in war except by constitutional processes. And he noted that the Constitution says only Congress can declare war.

Several members of Congress have been outspoken against any idea of sending U.S. forces to help the French fight Communists in Indochina.

Rep. Coudert (R-N.Y.) has proposed an amendment to the Defense Department appropriation bill which would prohibit the use of any of its funds to send U.S. troops into combat without congressional approval, except to uphold treaty obligations or in self-defense.

This amendment, if adopted, would have the force of law; also Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) prepared for introduction in the House a resolution which would advise the President that Congress opposes sending troops to Indochina without prior approval by Congress.

Eisenhower said the prohibition in the Coudert amendment could not fail to damage the President's flexibility in taking actions for the best interests of the country.

He said, however, this government will go only so far as Congress has authorized in the matter of providing aid and equipment to the anti-Communist forces in Indochina.

He declined to be led into any detailed discussion of further American action in the Southeast Asia conflict. He said that it would be inappropriate for him to speculate at a time when the big powers are in conference at Geneva.

Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.) proposed earlier today that the United States supply the French with atomic bombs for use in Indochina to "get the war won so we won't have to send American boys there."

The A-bomb matter did not come up at Eisenhower's news conference, however.

"We have all kinds and all sizes of A-bombs that have never been tested in conventional warfare,"

Sikes said in an interview. "Let me see if they work."

He said the Indochinese war, in which French and native troops have been fighting Communist-led forces for more than seven years, "is becoming serious enough so that we had better use every weapon we've got to win it."

Sikes, a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles Army funds, said he opposes sending American forces to Indochina without prior congressional approval but would back maximum material aid to the French.

Bennett said in a statement he was offering his resolution because "events of the last few weeks make it appear that the pattern of Korea may very well be re-

Memo Backs McCarthy Suspension Delay Claim

Conference Set On Right-Of-Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens testified today he was apprehensive the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., commander was moving too fast against alleged security risks last October. He said it was "entirely possible" the commander, Maj. Gen. Kirke G. Lawton, had been asked to withdraw some suspensions.

Stevens had been confronted at the McCarthy-Army hearings by a statement by Lawton that Army Counselor John G. Adams telephoned him early in November urging him to "dismiss certain security cases" at the Army radar research center.

In a dramatic development, Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, produced the memorandum, "not two hours old," saying Lawton had dictated it in Jenkins' presence.

The memo was handwritten in ink. Jenkins said Capt. Joseph E. Corr Jr., aide to Lawton, had taken down the general's statement.

Jenkins termed the memo of vital importance to the contention by Sen. McCarthy—denied by Stevens—that Stevens sought to stop the senator's investigation of alleged subversive activities at Monmouth.

The special counsel conducted such a hammering cross-examination of Stevens that Joseph N. Welch, special counsel to the secretary, protested Jenkins was going at it as if it were a "murder trial."

Stevens swore that he had no recollection of the purported telephone conversation between Adams and Lawton.

But Stevens said it could be "entirely possible"—that it was "conceivable"—he had told Adams he had better call Gen. Lawton.

Stevens said he did recall that last Oct. 31, he had talked to Gen. George I. Back, chief signal officer, and told him he wanted the Army's commanding generals to exercise "careful and good judgment" in carrying out the government's program to weed out security risks.

The secretary said he told Back he did not want the removal of employees at Ft. Monmouth to be done so rapidly that people would be suspended without sufficient evidence to support the action.

And, Stevens said, he told Back he was "apprehensive that Gen. Lawton might be moving in that direction." He added he was afraid that unfair suspensions would take place.

If there were any doubt about employees, Stevens said, he wanted them out, but he said he emphasized that he wanted the security program conducted in a fair way and not just on the basis of "meager or almost non-existent information."

The secretary said that, with that background in mind, he might have talked with Adams and had him call Lawton, but he reiterated that he did not recall such a conversation.

Stevens testified that between January and March of this year, the Army had "weeded out" 170 individuals as security risks where there has been a "loyalty connotation."

When McCarthy's turn came, there was a flare-up from Stevens at one point. The secretary said he "objected violently" to an implication by McCarthy that McCarthy's investigation of alleged subversive activities at Ft. Monmouth would have had security risks.

Jenkins quoted Lawton as replying: "I will not let the secretary take the responsibility."

Stevens, asked if Adams had reported this matter to him, said he had no "recollection" of it.

This sixth day of the hearings into the McCarthy-Army row revolved about Lawton from the outset.

Welch pressed Mundt to agree to have Back take the witness stand promptly, and Mundt said that would be done. No time was filed, however.

About 150 piano pupils are expected to play in the auditions which are designed to bring about an unprejudiced opinion of the progress of each student and the improvement needed by each.

Names of students participating will be announced each day in the Herald during the adjudication.

Dem's Chairman Finds Schine Case Probe 'Fascinating'

CANTON, Ohio (U.S.)—Stephen A. Mitchell, national Democratic party chairman, says he finds the Army-McCarthy hearings "fascinating, watching all this on TV, wondering what is the secret of Schine's success, and wondering which Republican or Republicans will turn out to be the liar, or liars."
"We know," he said, "somebody lied and it was not a Democrat."
Contending Republicans are "playing politics" with the nation's foreign affairs, he said.
"To our friends abroad, America does not appear as a calm, serene land sure of our strength and confident in our leadership. Instead it appears as a quarrelsome, suspicious, divided nation with Republican energies being spent in charging Democrats with treason and, when they run out of Democrats, saying the same things about one another."

Sexual Stimulant Brings Two Deaths

LONDON (U.S.)—Scotland Yard experts say two pretty office girls who died Tuesday were poisoned by a sexual stimulant called cantharides—Spanish fly.
Arthur Ford, 45, the manager of the drug-making firm where the girls worked, is in the hospital with symptoms of the same type of poisoning. All three became ill after eating chocolate coconut sherbert bought at a shop near their office.
The girls, June Malins, 19, and Betty Grant, 27, died at the office before they could be taken to a hospital.
Detectives said possibly the substance had been put in the confection as a practical joke by someone not aware it was lethal in anything but minute quantities.

Missing Officer Is Found In Motel

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—An Army colonel missing for eight days was found last night in a motel two miles west of Williamsburg, Va.
The Army had asked for public help in locating Col. John O. Beckner, operations officer of the military district of Washington.
An Army spokesman said last night that Beckner, believed to be seriously ill and suffering from amnesia, was taken to the Ft. Eustis, Va., Army hospital.
He said a woman at the hotel recognized him from a newspaper photograph and notified his wife.
Officials said Beckner has an excellent Army record. He is married and has one child.

Brownell Slates Plans To Probe Carmaker Firms

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. says the Justice Department is starting a probe of the auto industry for possible antitrust violations because of a "developing pattern of concentration."

Speaking last night before the Economic Club of New York, Brownell said:

"We know well that increasing concentration in an important industry contains dangerous potentialities."

"We do not know what is the explanation of the developing pattern of concentration in the automobile industry. We want to find out whether this pattern is nothing more than the consequence of competitive forces at work, or whether any one or more of the facts which amount to collusion or the suppression of competition has been at work."

Recently the Antitrust Division of the Justice Department disclosed it was looking into four specific phases of the auto field. The phases were not enumerated.

Last month, Rep. Shepard J. Crumpacker Jr. (R-Ind) introduced a resolution charging that independent car producers suffered from what he termed high pressure competitive practices by Ford and General Motors.

Congress has taken no action on Crumpacker's proposal.

Crumpacker also asked the Federal Trade Commission to investigate whether Ford and GM were trying to monopolize the auto industry and whether their battle for sales leadership had violated any antitrust laws.

General Motors and Ford both denied their companies were engaged in a race for business or were trying to monopolize the market.

So far this year, Ford and GM have accounted for slightly less than 84 per cent of the automotive market. Chrysler has around 12 per cent, while the small independents share the remaining 4 per cent.

A General Motors spokesman says the company is basing production only on market requirements. Ford and GM further maintain that their production merely reflects public demand for their products and deny Crumpacker's assertion the two companies were forcing cars on dealers "through overproduction."

Speaking generally, Brownell said:

"The Department of Justice does not assume that any given number of competitors in an industry is the proper number, or that any question of concentration can be considered without regard to the forces of the market place."

"Where it appears, however, that there may be danger of a serious shrinkage in the number of competitors engaged in a basic industry the department believes that the causes are worth examination."

"For it is the American philosophy that freedom and progress are best served by multiple centers of activity rather than by undue concentrations of power."

In Detroit, there was no immediate comment from automobile firms.

Narcotics Official Asks For Film Ban

PHILADELPHIA (U.S.)—Joseph M. Bransky, district supervisor of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, has asked that the Pennsylvania Board of Censors ban on the film "She Shoulda Said No" be sustained.

Bransky testified yesterday before Judge Edwin O. Lewis during a hearing on an appeal from the ban by the film's producers, Hallmark Productions, Inc.

Bransky characterized the film as "insidious propaganda" that would teach juveniles methods of using narcotics. He said the movie shows methods of smoking marijuana that are not generally known to the public. Methods for selling narcotics, as shown in the film, should not be made public, he testified.

Luther Southeast Project Has Oil Flow; Another Due Pugging

One project in the Luther Southeast area of Howard County kicked off to flow oil today, and another was being prepared for plugging and abandonment. Recovery of 1,224 feet of 39.8 gravity oil was reported on a drillstem test of still another venture in the area.

Clean oil was recovered from the Canyon Reef line on a test of Phillips No. 1-B Clayton, wildcat in Borden County about 12 miles southwest of Gall. And Cities Service No. 1-B Brown, stepout to the discovery well of the Welch Southeast pool of Dawson, had oil shows on a test of the Spraberry.

Completions were logged in the Howard-Glasscock field, and locations were spotted in the Moore, Sharon Ridge 1700, and South Gall pools.

Project kicking off to flow was Lone Star No. 1 Boyles, and the clean oil was made on test of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-Hanson. To be plugged is Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-D Spencer, which had no oil shows in the Siluro-Devonian (also called Fusselman).

Falcon, Seaboard, Green and McSpadden No. 1-A Clayton and Johnson, C NW NW, 5-32-4n, T&P survey, swabbed 12 hours and averaged five barrels of fluid per hour. The shutout was 15 to 18 per cent water and the rest was oil. Operator is now testing to clean.

A wildcat location in the South Gall area has been spotted by Sam D. Area of Lubbock. It will be his No. 1 Dennis, 900 from south and 330 from east lines, 4-30-5n, T&P survey. Location is nine miles south of Gall in the South Gall pool area.

Project was completed in the Howard-Glasscock field for a 24-hour pumping potential of 4.5 barrels of oil. Gravity is 33.1. Total depth is 1,350 feet, and the seven inch casing goes to 1,313 feet. Top of pay is 1,332 and production is from open hole.

Swaine Robertson No. 14 E. W. Douthitt, 330 from north and 2,040 from west lines, south half, north-west quarter, 123-29-W&NW survey, has been completed for pumping potential of 18.08 barrels of oil. In the Howard-Glasscock field, the project has total depth of 2,330 feet and pay top of 2,230 feet. The 5 1/2 inch string goes to 2,225. Gravity of oil is 28 degrees, and the open hole was acidized with 500 gallons of mud acid and 6,000 gallons of sanfrax.

Carl Westlund spotted his No. 1 Boyles in the Moore Field about five miles west of Big Spring. It is scheduled for depth of 3,950 feet and operations are to start at once. Drillite is 330 from north and west lines, 5-33-1n, T&P survey.

Phillips No. 1-B Clayton, C NW SE, 17-32-4n, T&P survey, recovered 330 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 120 feet of clean oil on a drillstem test of the Canyon Reef line. The test, for two hours, was from 8,233 to 8,251 feet. Gas surfaced in 30 minutes at the rate of 6,300 cubic feet per day. Flowing pressure was 315 pounds, and the 15-minute shutin pressure was 3,750. Operator is now waiting on orders. This wildcat is about 12 miles southwest of Gall.

Brahany No. 1 A Costa, 330 from south and west lines, northwest 1/4 sec. 8-33-3n, T&P survey, is plugging off Pennsylvanian perforations because of large water recovery. Operator intends to test the Dean sand and possibly the Spraberry. This wildcat is about three miles northeast of Ackerly in Southwest Borden.

Rowan No. 1 A. J. Long, C NW NW, 36-30-4n, T&P survey, bored down to 8,351 feet in lime. Texas Crude No. 1-44 Brown, C NW NE, 44-33-4n, T&P survey, Row-

Lone Star No. 1 Boyles, 467 from south and west lines, east third of south 3/4 sec. 15-32-2n, T&P survey, swabbed perforations between 9,920 and 9,930 feet three times today after acidizing with 500 gallons. The project kicked off and started flowing. Operator turned flow to tanks and is now testing to clean out and complete.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Hanson, C SW SW, 2-32-2n, T&P survey, had recovery of 1,224 feet of clean oil on a drillstem test from 9,905 to 9,924 feet. Gas surfaced in seven minutes and oil came to the top in 32 minutes. Flow to the pits was for five minutes with no gauges. Gravity of oil was 39.8 degrees. Flowing pressure was between 725 and 1,675 pounds, and the bottom hole shutin pressure was 4,400 pounds. Operator is now preparing electric logs at total depth of 9,974 feet. A drillstem test has not been made between 9,924 and 9,974.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-D Spencer, northeast outpost to the Luther Southeast area, is being prepared for plugging and abandonment. A drillstem test in-

Speed On Bases Helping Cards

By BEN PHELAGAR
AP Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are stealing their way back into the National League pennant picture. Running bases with an abandon no Redbird team has shown since the last St. Louis flag winner in 1946. Manager Eddie Stanky's club has moved from dead last at the start to within a game of the top.

In 12 games the Cards have swiped 12 bases. They need only half a dozen more to equal their total for the entire 1953 season.

Winning Cardinal teams almost always have been running teams. One of the greatest was the 1931 aggregation. That was the year Frankie Frisch, the Fordham Flash, led the club with 28 steals, and Pepper Martin virtually stole the World Series away from the Philadelphia Athletics with his head-first belly slides.

The 1931 Cardinals stole 114 bases. The 1946 pennant winners, last National League team to win the World Series, stole 58. But look at the totals for some of the least years — 28 in 1947, 24 in 1948, only 17 in 1949, 23 in 1950, 30 in 1951 and 33 in 1952. In every instance these figures placed St. Louis last or next to last in the league in bases stolen.

Stanky claims there is no radical difference between the base-running tactics of the 1954 outfit and last year's club.

"We're just trying a few things and they're working," he said.

Nevertheless, the figures are doubly interesting in that 10 different players on the team have stolen bases, including one pitcher — Harvey Haddix.

A steal figured directly in the result of yesterday's Cardinal game when the Redbirds edged Brooklyn, 6-5, in 10 innings. Bonus baby Dick Schofield, running for Ray Jablonski, who had walked with two out, stole second on pitcher Jim Hughes and rode home on Steve Bilko's single, the second

Schultz Is Again In Prexy Doghouse

FORT WORTH (AP)—Tulsa Oiler Mgr. Joe Schultz was back in the Texas League doghouse today, only a week after being suspended indefinitely by league President John Reeves.

Schultz's latest brush with umpires—a lengthy protest on a called strike last Sunday in Houston—cost him $35. He was also thumbed out of the game for gestures and raking his foot across the plate.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Never let it be said a baseball player can't win an argument from an umpire.

Pepper Martin, the local manager, set up a howl on a play at third base, after Juan Mejido had been called out on an attempted steal of third base in the first game of the recent Midland series here.

After the Indians had retired to the dugout Martin pleaded his case with the plate umpire, Al Sample, who happened to see the Midland third sacker drop the ball.

Sample overruled the verdict of his sidekick, Robert Cook, as he had every right to do and sent the Warriors back to the field, but not before Rudy Briner, foreman of the visitors, had exhausted his vocabulary on the two men-in-blue.

The latest official Texas League batting averages showed Witty Quintana, the former Big Springer, hitting only .306 for San Antonio but the Cuban shortstop was one of only eight batters in the league who had driven in a dozen runs or more.

Quintana's big night against Oklahoma City, when he powered home five runs, came after the averages had been compiled, too.

The Longhorn League is saving money in its bookkeeping department this year.

Bill Weiss of San Mateo, Calif., offered to take the job for $500 less annually that it paid last year. He can do it because of his volume of business. He's a statistician for seven different leagues. The Pacific Coast League, one of his clients, says he's the best man with figures they've ever had.

Carlsbad suffered a blow when Merv Connors, the heavy-hitting first sacker, decided not to report. Connors banged Longhorn League pitching around for 34 home runs in 1953.

Remember Bobby Brown, a real baseball hotshot when he was performing for the Lubbock High School team?

He's back with Plainview in the WT-NM League, having been optioned there by Oklahoma City. He hit .381 for the Ponies last year. Defensively, he's a shortstop.

Leon Brinkopf, the ex-Odessa infielder who went all the way to the big leagues, may have to quit the game entirely.

He underwent an operation on his spine and stayed out of baseball a year but it's still troubling him.

The Chicago Cubs had been counting heavily upon him.

Sen. Ed Johnson of Colorado, who mixes baseball with politics (he's president of the Western League), has come up with another idea to speed up the game.

He has issued an edict to the effect that a pitcher must be in the batter's circle just prior to his turn at bat.

Johnson also has ruled that if a pitcher is left on base he must go directly to the mound instead of retiring to the dugout.

Where, oh where, is Organized baseball going to find a place for all its veteran ball players. Perhaps the rule making them clemens after three years of competition should be re-written.

Seems to me baseball owes something to the people who have given so much time to it.

SC Is Favored In Track Meet This Weekend

DALLAS (AP)—Southern California is expected to win a quadrangular meet with Texas, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist here Saturday night by a whopping margin but the best chance of bettering world's records is accorded the Southwest athletes.

Texas, with its great sprint brigade—the finest in college track—might again snap the world mark in the 440-yard relay. The Longhorns did 40.3 at the Kansas Relays, which is two-tenths of a second under the record, but have often been under 41 seconds and are considered capable of 40 seconds flat if conditions are perfect.

Den Smith, the Texas sprinter, has run 100 yards in 9.4 and several watches caught him at 9.3, which equals the world's record. He was helped by a strong wind, however, and it could not be recognized.

Ernie Shelton is the best bet of Southern California for a world's record. He has high jumped 6 feet 9 1/2 inches, and the world's record is 6-11 1/2. Shelton is considered capable of reaching the magical seven-foot mark.

The mile relay should be its most blistering in Southwestern history. Southern Methodist has run 3:12.1, Texas 3:13.9, Southern Cal 3:15.1 and Texas A&M 3:16.0.

Southern California boasts superiority in the 440-yard dash, where Jim Lea has run 47.0, the mile where Marty Montgomery has run a 4:15.9, the two-mile where Fernando Ledesma has been timed in 9:23.5, the broad jump where John Arnett has leaped 2 feet 11 1/2 inches, the pole vault where Walt Lewick has soared 14 feet 4 1/2 inch, the discus throw where Des Koch has hurled the platter 177 feet 5 1/2 inches and Leon Patterson has done 175-3, the javelin throw where Koch has tossed the spear 213 feet and the high jump, where Will Wright has run the high hurdles in 14.5, the same time as Harley Hartung of Texas A&M.

Odessa Parley Slated Friday

ODESSA (SC) — A special invitation is being sent to managers and sponsors of sandlot baseball teams in Big Spring and Coahoma to attend an organizational meeting of an amateur league, which will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office here at 8 p.m. Friday.

The invitation was extended by Eddie Hammond, acting on behalf of the National Baseball Congress. Hammond, former Big Spring resident, is organizing the circuit.

At a preliminary meeting held here last night, seven teams were represented and all showed interest in the circuit, which would limit play to Sundays only.

The communities represented were Andrews, Monahan, Midland, Odessa, Seagraves, Pecos and Lamesa.

Hammond said the league would be called the Lone Star League.

Hammond added two Big Spring teams had shown interest in such a league. They are managed by Ynez Yanes and Blas Ballon, he added.

Jayhawks Finish Second In Lubbock Track Meet

LUBBOCK (SC) — Six records went by the boards as Amarillo College won team honors in the 1954 West Zone track and field meet here Wednesday afternoon.

Amarillo scored a total of 65 1/2 points to 47 1/2 for HCJC of Big Spring and 35 for Odessa. The Badgers had 20 athletes in the meet. HCJC was represented by nine.

Robert Weiszbrod of Amarillo was the meet's high point man with 16 1/2 points. HCJC's Carl Preston was second with 10 1/2, followed by Jack Williams of HCJC with 10 and Jimmy Holmes of Amarillo, with 9 1/2. In addition to Preston and Williams, Ben Hitt scored 7 1/2 points for the Jayhawks, Jackie Gilbert, 7 1/2; Doyle Scott, 6; Ronald Anderson, 2 1/2; Rex Auten, 2 1/2; John Brown, 1; and Arlen White, 1/2.

New Faces Are Due In Winner's Circle

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Down here in this horse-loving country, where arguments on the outcome of the 80th Kentucky Derby often rage hot and heavy, they are betting there will be new faces in the winner's circle after the 20-or-so 3-year-olds complete the mile-and-a-quarter journey late Saturday afternoon.

Not in many years has America's premier horse race been so jammed with owners, trainers and jockeys who never have felt the thrill of walking into Churchill Downs' flower-bordered circle to receive the huge gold cup and see their victorious horse bedecked with a stole of roses.

Eddie Arcaro, who rode in the Derby for the first time in 1935 and finished fourth with Nellie Flag, will be up Saturday on Goyamo, the 7-to-2 second choice from Royce G. Martin's Woodvale Farm.

Three other jockeys—Bill Boland, Steve Brooks and Hank Moreno—have been in the circle once each. Boland was the second apprentice to win the big race when he rode Middleground in 1950. He will ride the Woodley Lane Farm's lanky Red Haggan, an outsider, Saturday.

Brooks, winner with Ponder in 1949, is slated to pilot Allied of A. E. Reuben's Hasty House Farm. And Moreho, whose first appearance in the Derby was last year when he got Dark Star home a nose in front of Native Dancer, will throw a leg over Sea O Erin. Both Allied and Sea O Erin are running mates for two of the favorites—Determine and Hasty Road, respectively.

The owners and trainers no where near match the riders in the number of Derby winners. Only Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, New York beautician and owner of the Maine Chance Farm, ever has had a Derby by champion. She won with Jet Pilot in 1947 and this Saturday will depend on lightly-regarded Black Metal.

Many of the other owners and the majority of the trainers never have even had a Derby starter. So if one of them sends out the winner, don't be surprised if they look a little strange when they take that long stroll across the track to the winner's circle before over 100,000 fans and others who'll watch the presentation ceremonies on their television sets.

The race, scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. (CST) will be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System from 3 to 3:45 p.m. and broadcast by the same company from 3:15 to 3:45.

STEERETTES AND PAMPA TANGLE IN REGIONAL

The Big Spring Steerettes have a chance to wind up their volleyball season in crowning glory Saturday morning, at which time they meet Pampa for the Region I-AA championship in a game at Lubbock.

The two teams clash in the Texas Tech Gymnasium at 9:30 a.m.

Big Spring is favored but the Pampa sextet has improved by leaps and bounds in recent weeks and should be able to give the Steerettes a real test.

Championships will also be decided in I-A and I-B regions.

Four teams are entered in the Class A bracket while nine sextets are in the running for the B crown.

First round pairings in the A bracket send Phillips against Levelland at 12 noon and Panhandle against Paducah at 12:30 p.m. Winners meet for the title at 3 p.m.

Seven of the teams in Class B drew first round byes. Kress and Idalou clash at 9 a.m. in the only first round game.

In second round games, Pep opposes Claude at 10 a.m., Sunray takes on the winner of the Kress-Idalou contest at 11:30 a.m.; Bovina clashes with Allison at 10:30 a.m. and McAdoo opposes Meadow at 11 a.m.

Semi-final games in that bracket will be played at 1:30 and 2 p.m. and the finals at 4 p.m.

Winners will be decided in the best two-of-three game series. The first team scoring 15 points will be declared winner of a game.

Rockets, Pots Neck And Neck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roswell and Carlsbad, with twin 6-3 records, were neck and neck Thursday in the Longhorn League lead.

Roswell defeated San Angelo, 10-8, Wednesday night while Carlsbad was beating Odessa, 5-4. The league's eight teams were still bunched closely after nine nights of baseball warfare with Midland, San Angelo, and Artesia just a game off the first-place pace.

In the other two games, Midland best Big Spring, 6-5, and Wichita Falls nudged Artesia, 5-3 in 11 innings.

Carlsbad used home-run power to beat Odessa's Oilers, clubbing four round-trippers off starter Evilio Ortega for their fifth straight victory. Don Fomal, who survived a shaky start, went the route for the Potashers and struck out nine while walking three. He was superior in the clutch.

At Roswell the Rockets had to stave off a late San Angelo rally after the league leaders grabbed an 8-2 lead in six innings. The Colts knocked southpaw Tom Sawyer from the box with a four-run uprising in the ninth. But Ollie Ortiz cooled them off in a relief role, getting pinch-hitter Joe Baril to force Merv Christenson at third.

Panthers Take Over Top Spot In Loop Again

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

See-sawing Shreveport and Fort Worth had exchanged places in the Texas League standings again Thursday.

The Sports relinquished their half-game lead to the Cats Wednesday night as Fort Worth's right-hander Ralph Butler pitched a brilliant two-hitter.

The Cats won, 10-1, and took over first place by a half-game margin with their 11-hit attack.

In other games, Beaumont's heavy-hitting Exporters won their second in a row over Dallas, 7-3, San Antonio broke a three-game losing streak, 11-4, over the Tulsa Oilers and Oklahoma City whipped Houston, 5-4.

Shreveport's lone run against Catman Butler was unearned. It came in the sixth when Joe Koppe's line-drive triple scored a runner who got on base when Cat first sacker Bill Gabler dropped a pop fly.

A seventh-inning double by Jim Ackerter was the only other hit off Butler. For the Cats, Gabler, Glenn Corbous, Ken Staples, and Jack Lindsey knocked home runs. Beaumont's consistent, heavy hitting garnered three tallies in the second frame and four in the sixth to clinch great relief pitching by the old Dallas nemesis, Vern Kennedy, the night's winner. Howie Anderson absorbed the loss.

Oklahoma City rallied for four runs in the ninth to defeat Houston's seventh-place Buifs. Earl York's two-run homer, his second of the night, featured the ninth inning uprising. The loss ended a five-game winning streak for Houston and evened the Buff-Indian series at one each.

San Antonio got back in the win column with spren of power hitting. The Missions' 11 hits included home runs by Jim Pisoni, Jerry Jacobs, and Frank Kellert. Jacobs' came in the third with the bases loaded.

They play in the same park again Thursday night, Dallas at Beaumont, Fort Worth at Shreveport, Oklahoma City at Houston, and Tulsa at San Antonio.

Hawks, Wranglers In Double Bill

Howard County Junior College's Jayhawks will conclude their baseball season in Odessa Friday afternoon, at which time they tangle with the Odessa JC Wranglers in a West Zone twin bill. Starting time of the first game is 1 p.m.

One of the games was to have been played here Tuesday but was postponed due to rain.

Coach Harold Davis of HCJC indicated he will pitch Tommy Randolph in the opener against Odessa but said all three Hawk hurlers—Randolph, Oakie Hagood and Jim Knotts—were also sure to see action.

In three practice starts against Odessa this year, the HC team has emerged victorious once.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

To this date, I never have seen a close comparison of the parts of atoms and the parts of our solar system. Many times I have read about atoms being like little solar systems, but I never have found a comparison of the parts in both.

With our new knowledge of atoms, close figures can be given about the weights of the parts. A proton (which is a part of the core, or nucleus of an atom) weighs about 1,800 times as much as an electron.

Besides protons, the core contains neutrons which are roughly the same weight as the protons. There are, however, more neutrons than protons in most atoms.

According to late information, the core of an atom weighs, on the average, about 4,000 times as much as all the electrons which go around it.

Astronomers have learned the weights of the sun and planets fairly closely. By adding the weights of the planets, I have obtained a total figure. When we divide the weight of the sun by the total weight of the planets, we find that the sun weighs about 745 times as much as all the planets.

The proportions fall to agree, but the general picture is the same. The sun is vastly heavier than all the planets together, and the core of an atom is vastly heavier than all the electrons.

Only during the present century have men been able to split the cores of atoms. On the other hand, electrons have been escaping from atoms for time untold. This happens, for example, when rays are sent out by radium or uranium.

During the latter part of the past century, a British scientist, Sir William Crookes, tested an electric current in a vacuum tube. Electrons were sent through the vacuum and made the tube glow. These electrons were given the name of "cathode rays." The instrument used is called the Crookes tube, in honor of the scientist.

Independence Party Leads In Belize Vote

By JACK RUTLEDGE

BELIZE, British Honduras (PUP) chairman, 1,800; Lionel Francis (pro-British National party), 200; Fred Wesby (Independent), 150.

Belize, South—Philip Goldson (PUP) 978; Herbert Fuller, (National party) 877.

Balloting yesterday was for nine seats in the colony's new 13-member Legislature. Previously the governor had appointed over half the Council members. In the new body, he will name three and three others will be officials of the colonial government.

Richardson in a victory statement said his faction, which generally is considered anti-British, is prepared to cooperate with the present administration in developing the country along progressive lines. He said he would "work toward internal and external control of the country's affairs by constitutional means."

The balloting, which State Department observers said was as "free as any in the United States," was carried off without disturbance. Seventy-six per cent of the colony's 21,000 registered voters went to the polls.

A British government investigator who recently held hearings here charged the PUP had been aided by the Leftist government of neighboring Guatemala. The PUP was not accused of being communistic but the British oppose links with Guatemala, which long has claimed British Honduras.

C-C Planning Essay Contest

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will sponsor two essay contests during the coming week—one for high school students and the other for Chamber members.

The contests are being held in connection with the annual "Chamber of Commerce Week," slated this year May 2-8. High school students will write on "Why One Should Belong to the Chamber of Commerce," and members will write on "Why I Am a Member of the Chamber of Commerce."

Prizes for students will be $25, $15, and $10, with honorable mention going to the next 10 contestants. Members will receive prizes of $15, $10, and $5 for the three best essays.

The essays must be written during Chamber of Commerce Week, it was announced by J. H. Greene, local Chamber manager. The compositions must be in the Chamber office not later than Thursday, May 13.

Essays should not exceed 300 words. Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chamber president.

Letters will be sent to the principals of all high schools in the county this week concerning the contest. Direction sheets will also be mimeographed for distribution to students wishing to compete.

The essays should justify membership by both business men and professional men and by city and rural residents. The benefits accruing to both the community and individual by Chamber of Commerce should also be cited.

Wholesale Food Prices Still High

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index declined slightly this week but remained near the all-time high of 87.42 recorded four weeks ago.

At 87.39, the index compared with 87.41 the previous week and showed a gain of 15.1 per cent over the year-ago figure of 76.42.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in common use. Up this week were flour, corn, barley, bellies, cocoa, eggs and prunes.

Down were wheat, rye, oats, hams, lard, raisins, currants, steers, hogs and lambs.

Abandoned Tunnel Atomic-Age Haven

FELTON, Calif. (AP)—An abandoned railroad tunnel piercing a mountain near here opens for business Sunday as a king-sized haven for valuables and documents in the atomic age.

Western States Atomic Vaults, Inc., the operator, predicts the tunnel and its contents will safely weather any superbomb.

The tunnel vault is described as 242 feet long, 25 feet high, air-conditioned and waterproof. It's about 70 miles south of San Francisco.

Mrs. Roosevelt Claims Scheming

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. James Roosevelt has accused her estranged husband of political scheming in suing her for separate maintenance. She says he sought to avoid the publicity of a divorce because he is running for Congress in the 28th District.

The wife, Romelle, who also seeks separate maintenance, made her latest charges in the domestic controversy yesterday when she answered Roosevelt's petition to amend his complaint.

Roosevelt now wants a divorce instead of separate maintenance, and he wants the court to rule out of evidence a letter, signed by him, admitting infidelities. He has since denied any indiscretions.

Mrs. Roosevelt and her counsel said his "scheme constitutes the ultimate in bad faith."

"Apparently feeling that a divorce action would prove unpalatable to the voters," her statement said, "he seized upon the following plan: he would ask in his complaint that he be permitted to live separate and apart from the defendant; that he would later claim he was forced to ask for a divorce by reason of circumstances beyond his control."

A hearing on the petition to amend Roosevelt's complaint, and on Mrs. Roosevelt's answer, is scheduled for tomorrow. Roosevelt's attorney, Samuel B. Picon, has offered to submit his case on the documents already filed.

Funds Asked For Trinity Watershed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fritz G. Lanham, former Fort Worth congressman, asked a Senate appropriations subcommittee yesterday to approve a 10 million dollar fund for soil and water conservation improvements on the Trinity River watershed in Texas.

Estimated federal cost of the Trinity program is $64,943,540. Since its initiation, it has received Agriculture Department allocations amounting to 12 per cent of this figure, Lanham said.

Estimates Show Red Air Power Increased

Wives Hope To End Montana Building Strike Themselves

Price Really 'Shaved'

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—You can get clipped in Osaka for a dime. Shave and shampoo free. Osaka barbers in a price war shaved the cost of the combo job from 40 cents.

much of Russia's 20,000-plane force to modern jet planes.

The views were given out at the time of these events in Washington and elsewhere.

The diplomatic officials, who may not be named, yesterday made available an over-all summary of Communist military strength—six million men under arms in Russia, Eastern Germany and the satellite countries.

New types of medium and heavy bombers, including jet models, have been observed. (These presumably would include at least two new designs of long-range planes, one four-engine, another six-engine, powered with propellers driven by jet engines. The six-engine bomber obviously is intended to counter the U.S. Air Force B36.)

He said that even though present Russian planes could not make a two-way flight to bomb the United States they might try one-way suicidal missions.

IT'S ALL CHARASHO

Soviet Artists Touring In Canada Avoid Trouble

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—A troupe of six Soviet concert artists currently touring this country find things in Canada "charasho"—very nice—and so is everything in Russia.

Thus the group cautiously avoids all controversial issues that might raise a howl in Canada or get the artists in trouble back home.

The stars include a violinist with a state-supplied Stradivarius, two ballet dancers, a soprano, a tenor and a pianist. They have been drawing capacity crowds in civic and school auditoriums across Canada since they arrived April 15 under the sponsorship of the Soviet Embassy in Canada and the Soviet Friendship Society.

Violin virtuoso Leonid Kogan, 29, who boasted the Soviet Union had financed his entire training and even gave him the 1730 Stradivarius he was playing, refused to be drawn out on differences between Canadian and Russian audiences.

declared to interviewers through the nonmusical interpreter attached to the tour.

A questioner in Edmonton last Sunday asked Kogan if he would like to stay in Canada. The violinist, who has a wife and a 2-year-old son back in Moscow, replied: "Such a question makes me smile. It takes only a month and I'm homesick."

This was the general tone of the remarks by the other members of the troupe—38-year-old ballerina Sophie Golovkina; ballet soloist Leonid Zhdanov; soprano Elizabeta Chavdar; tenor Arturs Frindbergs; and pianist Pavel Serebryakov.

The coolness of the Canadian reception was reflected in Fort William. There the Moscow stars had to settle for a high school auditorium because the sponsors had difficulty renting a more elaborate concert hall.

The tour's Canadian manager, John Boyd of Toronto, said the Russians had to cancel plans for two performances in Quebec because auditorium owners feared Red-hating Provincial Premier Maurice Duplessis would padlock their places.

"Dirty Communist propaganda as usual," Duplessis retorted. Solicitor General Antoine Rivard said the government hadn't been approached about the tour.

Curiously is part of the reason for the big turnouts to hear the Russians, since the Reds seldom have sent concert stars to the Western Hemisphere.

New U. S. Chamber Head Is Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Business activity this year will be "good by any standards, except possibly 1953," Clem D. Johnston, new president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, predicted today.

Johnston, a 57-year-old Roanoke, Va., warehouseman and cattle raiser, was chosen to head the organization representing 1,100,000 businessmen at the close of its 42nd annual meeting last night.

Researchers Make Study Of State Hospital Here

This autumn, the Texas Research Bureau will release findings from an exhaustive study of state hospitals and special schools.

Some of the ingredients of that report doubtless will stem from the work of a team of researchers at the Big Spring State Hospital this week.

Under the direction of Aris A. Mallas Jr., project director, five men are combing in specific fields to discover problems of the hospital.

"We have never found two with exactly the same problems," said Mallas. He ought to know. This is the 23rd such study, leaving the McKnight Tuberculosis Sanatorium the only institution to be surveyed. Yet there are certain things that seem basic, and many problems fit into patterns.

The current study of the Texas Research League is the most ambitious and thorough ever undertaken in this field in Texas. At the request of the Texas board for state hospitals and special schools, the analysis has been in progress for more than a year. What was budgeted originally as a $65,000 project now looks to cost three times that amount before it is completed.

Why all this time and money into a fine-tooth combing of the state special schools and hospitals?

"Not to dig up dirt or get someone fired," explained Mallas. "You could hire a few private detectives for a fraction of the investment in time and money."

governmental affairs, to undertake the study, months of planning followed.

Four Youths Going To Alaska In Hearse

NORWOOD, Mass. (AP)—Four youths are leaving here tomorrow in a 1940 hearse—1937 model—for Alaska.

By July 15 the bureau hopes to have work completed on this monumental undertaking. Then will follow the difficult task of sifting wheat from the chaff and of getting the residue into concrete, understandable form. The picture should be clear enough then, in the minds of researchers, for some pointed recommendations.

These could come in handy as Texas turns to dealing with the care of its physical and mental unfortunate.

Roy And Dale Find English Are 'Wacky For Westerns'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cheerio and head them off at the crossroads! Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, just back from the British Isles, report that the English are wacky for Westerns.

"I must say we were highly gratified," says Roy, who is billed as "the King of the Cowboys."

"We played in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Liverpool, Birmingham, Belfast, Dublin and a week in London with Billy Graham. All the seats were filled at every performance."

"And as much standing room as the fire departments would allow," adds Dale Evans, "the Queen of the West."

"In Glasgow, the manager said we could have played for a month and still sold out. We were there for a week."

"It was the first time we had been to the British Isles," says Roy, "and the people couldn't have been nicer. They love Westerns over there."

"And do they love horses!" remarks Dale. "I don't believe there is any other country that loves horses so much."

I sat down to lunch with the horse opera duo in between recordings of their new radio show. Roy looked as youthful as ever, despite his 10 years in the saddle as the top moneymaking cowpoke of films. Dale was trim and pretty in a pink bonnet and dress. Both spoke glowingly of the work their friend, evangelist Graham, is doing in England.

"The English sort of scoffed when they heard he was coming over there," said Dale. "They thought American revivalists were pretty wild."

"He's a real man of God," said Roy. "Since he has been over there, he has changed his delivery entirely. He no longer has the rattling, Winchell delivery. Instead, he's slower, more restrained. He's doing a terrific job."

"We were there a week, and they had to turn the crowds away," commented Dale. "Every night we had 10,500 people present. We gave our Christian testimony and sang some songs, then Billy took over."

"The results were amazing," said Roy. "At one meeting no less than 534 persons came forward to be saved. That's an amazing demonstration for the British, who are inclined to be reserved. And a friend told me that he noticed they didn't come forward hunched over and sad-faced, the way most folks do at such meetings. They were square-shouldered and proud to accept God's will."

The Rogers did some spreading of the gospel on their own during their vaudeville tour. At every show, she sang some hymns and told of finding God.

"At first the audiences were shocked," said Roy. "They had never heard anything religious from a variety stage. But the reaction was all favorable. We had many people compliment us for what we were trying to do."

LOST 43 POUNDS

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Not one in a hundred overweight people have a thyroid condition. But don't make the mistake of going on a protracted starvation diet to fight the "battle of the bulge." A strenuous diet can do a great deal of harm.

Why not try the sensible Barcenate way? Nothing harmful—no dieting and if the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Just ask your druggist for four ounces of Barcenate—now just $1.69. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label and take according to directions. That's all there is to it.

Mrs. Gladys Sue Mangan, Route 2, Crockett, Texas, wrote us as follows: "I weighed 171 pounds when I commenced to take Barcenate. I am now down to 128, a loss of 43 pounds. I feel so much better after using this wonderful product."

FOUNDED IN 1904

Back in 1904, C. W. Furr, now deceased—founder of Furr's Super Markets, set up a grocery business in Kirkland, Texas, a small town near Childress.

He had dreams of a worldly enterprise, for it was not long until his wooden grocery store, cracker barrel and all, became a brick structure to include groceries, hardware and clothing departments. The business retained the original name, The Kirkland Mercantile Co.

In 1925, Mr. Furr moved to Amarillo. Here he founded the Furr Food Stores, and son Roy Furr became a key figure in the operation.

Four years later, in 1929, Roy Furr moved to Lubbock where he purchased the M-System stores, six units: three in Lubbock and one each in Littlefield, Idalou and Shallowater. Key Furr, a brother, took over where Roy Furr left off in Amarillo, as No. 1 aide to C. W. Furr.

In 1934, the M-System stores became the Furr Food Stores. At that time three units were in Lubbock and six others in Slaton, Tahoka, Hale Center, Littlefield, Clovis and Hobbs, a total of nine stores.

Today, fifty years later, Roy Furr, as president of Furr's, Inc. (Furr's Super Markets) operates a group of 31 super markets in West Texas and New Mexico. The Amarillo unit has some 29 stores, giving an overall total of 60. From the start of 25 personnel in his six stores, the Furr's group now has more than 1,000 persons on the payroll. In addition to the 31 stores in the Lubbock division, Furr's operates a packing plant, creamery, bakery, egg department, a wholesale house and five warehouses.

Stores are located in Childress, Plainview, Brownfield, Levelland, Lamesa, Littlefield, Snyder, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa (2), Monahans, El Paso (9), Lubbock (7), Hobbs, Roswell and Albuquerque.

DR. LOUISE ANN BENNETT

Young Doctor Still Favors Chocolate Cake

Even though Louise Ann Bennett is a full fledged medical doctor now doing her residence work in pediatrics, she still goes for the chocolate cake that her mother, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, makes.

Louise is at home now on a visit but will soon return to Texas Children's Medical Center in Dallas to continue her work in pediatrics.

The young physician finished medical school at Tulane in 1932 and will complete her residency in July of 1955.

It's almost a sure thing that Louise will return to Big Spring and go in practice with her dad. At least her mother is counting on it.

It's no wonder Louise likes the delicious home-made cake that Mrs. Bennett makes from the following recipe:

MRS. BENNETT'S CHOCOLATE CAKE

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup butter (bring to room temperature)
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 cup buttermilk (room temperature)
 1 1/2 cups cake flour
 2 heaping tablespoons cocoa
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Method:
 Cream the butter, sugar and egg at medium speed. Sift together all dry ingredients. Now add the buttermilk and egg alternately in small quantities to the creamed mixture, mixing each addition thoroughly. Last addition should be the dry mixture. Then add flavoring. It bakes well in a 7 1/2 "x11" pan at 350F for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Bennett leaves the cake in the pan and spreads top with chocolate icing.

Every Fish Can Now Have A Silver Lining

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

Seal-baking fish is our latest discovery. You arrange fish steaks on aluminum foil, wrap them with a tight seal and put them into the oven. Result: no pan to scrub when dishwashing time comes around. That's why we say every fish can have a silver lining these days!

At serving time, the fish in its foil may be transferred from the oven to your platter, and not a whiff of fish odor will linger on the serving dish.

And here's another cheerful point about baking in foil. Sealing the fish in its silver package, along with seasonings, lets none of the goodness of the food escape. For instance, in today's recipe, the halibut is moist and tender and the mushrooms used with it have a concentrated flavor that's delightful. Open the package right at the table, after it comes out of the oven, using a scissors or a small sharp knife. Your family will oh! and ah! at the wonderful aroma that comes from the seal-baking.

You can also use aluminum foil to advantage when you store fish in the refrigerator before cooking. Just remove the fish from its wrappings and package it tightly in the foil; store the package in the coldest place in the refrigerator. Even if you put it right next to other foods there will be no danger of fish odor spreading.

When we tried the good oven recipe we are giving you, we baked potatoes along with the fish. We also had stewed tomatoes and a green salad. While we were fixing the tomatoes, a friend of ours from the South came into the kitchen and asked us how we were going to "tighten" them. When we looked amused, she told us that when she worked as a dietician at Vanderbilt University Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., every time she put stewed tomatoes on the menu, the head chef would come and say, "What sort of tighten' you want in these tomatoes? Bread crumbs or flour?" We used neither — just topped the heated seasoned canned tomatoes with butter-browned croutons and served them in sauce dishes.

Our fish recipe calls for halibut steaks; we chose fresh ones, but if you can't get these, buy the widely

Spring Brings Vegetables And Good Green Salads

Spring salads wouldn't be complete without a wilted lettuce recipe.

WILTED LETTUCE SALAD
 2 large bunches leaf lettuce
 Salt and pepper
 2 teaspoons sugar
 2 green onions, chopped
 4 slices bacon, chopped
 1/4 cup vinegar
 2 tablespoons water
 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped.
 Shred lettuce into hot bowl; add seasonings and onions. Fry bacon until crisp; add vinegar and water; heat and pour over lettuce. Toss until wilted and sprinkle egg over top. Or place shredded lettuce in frying pan and toss until wilted. Cucumbers will soon be budding on their vines. For a special salad, they are added to greens.

CUCUMBER SALAD
 2 cups torn mixed salad greens
 2-3 cup sliced halved cucumber
 1-3 cup short strips Swiss cheese
 6 large black olives
 2 or 3 tablespoons French dressing
 Salt and pepper

Escarole, chicory and romaine make a particularly good combination of greens for this salad; wash, dry thoroughly, and tear into mouth-size pieces; in measuring pack down lightly. Put greens, cucumber, and Swiss cheese into salad bowl. Cut olives from pits into large pieces and add with 2 tablespoons French dressing. Mix carefully but thoroughly with spoon and fork, taste and add extra French dressing and salt and pepper if desired.

Chicken A Real Economy These Days

Have you checked on how little it costs to get the makings for a fried chicken dinner these days? The Department of Agriculture has chicken on its "Best Food Buys" list. Grocers and markets are offering broilers and fryers at the lowest prices in a long time.

It's a good time to serve your family a big platter of fried chicken and save money and a wonderful time to stock up the freezer with fryers for summer picnics. Here are some facts about the modern broiler and fryer you may not have realized:

1. Chicken is a low-calorie, high-protein food. If you're watching your weight, fried chicken offers you proteins without fat. It's all lean meat.
2. Today's commercial broilers and fryers are a lot better birds than those grandmother served. The modern chicken is the result of careful breeding to produce more meat and smaller bones. You get more meat for your money these days.
3. Today's commercial broiler is raised in confinement. It isn't allowed to roam the range and toughen up drumsticks and thighs. And it goes to market when less than ten weeks old. It's young and tender.
4. Modern birds are fed special feeds to give them tastiness, meatiness and fine flavor.
5. Many stores offer you a variety of ways to buy chicken. You can buy packages of all white meat, all drumsticks, thighs, wings or, of course, whole chickens and halves. This makes it easy to serve the family just what they like.

Casserole Gratin Is Hearty Dish

This is a combination vegetable-and-cheese dish that's simple to make yet hearty and tasty. If you can't get celery root use sliced celery instead.

1 large celery root, to be thinly sliced
 1 1/2 pounds potatoes, to be thinly sliced
 1 cup grated Swiss cheese (1/4 pound)
 1/4 pound bulk sausage
 1 1/2 cup beef or chicken broth
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Set oven at 325 degrees F. (moderately slow). Grease a 1 1/2-quart casserole that has a cover. Slice celery root and potatoes. Put celery root, potatoes and cheese in the casserole. Crumble sausage over top; add broth and salt. Cover and bake 25 minutes; uncover and bake 45 minutes. Serves 4.

Leftovers Can Make Hearty Main Salads

Hearty, main-dish salads can utilize leftovers.

LIMA HAM SALAD
 2 cups cooked lima beans
 1/2 cup diced celery
 2 tablespoons sliced green onion
 1/4 cup chopped sweet pickle
 1/4 cup diced cooked ham
 1-3 cup mayonnaise
 2 teaspoons vinegar
 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Letuce
 Drain and cool limas. Combine with celery, green onion, pickle and ham. Mix mayonnaise, vinegar and mustard. Pour over salad mixture and toss slightly. Season with salt. Serve on crisp lettuce. Serves 4 or 5.

Bacon And Tomato Muffins Use Cereal

A muffin made with cereal is bacon and tomato muffins. These muffins are made with the flake type cereal.

BACON AND TOMATO MUFFINS
 1 cup whole wheat flakes
 2-3 cup tomato juice
 1 cup sifted flour
 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 egg
 2 tablespoons soft shortening
 4 slices cooked bacon, crumbled
 Combine whole wheat flakes and tomato juice in mixing bowl. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into same bowl. Add sugar, egg, shortening and one-half of the bacon. Stir only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and sprinkle tops with remaining bacon. Bake in heated moderately hot oven (400 degrees F) about 25 minutes.

Breakfast Protein

Ever serve fish for Sunday brunch? Fried fish cakes, creamed fish on toast and a flaked fish omelette are all appropriate.

Don't Worry About Tot's Eating Habits

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

No two children are exactly alike in their eating habits. Even the twins who look as much alike as two peas in a pod, eat differently. Perhaps one of them spoons in food with his left hand, while the other operates steadily with his right! So watch out for your own youngster's particular quirks. Give him nutritious food but don't worry if, once in a while, he shows some temperament about eating.

Is he ready to feed himself? Even though his spoon seems to hit his ear often than it goes into his mouth, it's best to let a child feed himself when the urge to do so comes upon him. If you are patient, uncritical and casual, he'll soon learn to use those eating utensils easily and well. And he'll get a lot of satisfaction out of his self-reliance, too.

Does he go on a food jag occasionally? Has he been eating all his cereal and junior fruits but leaving his milk? Then be versatile! Put a few drops of red food coloring in his milk; he might like it pink! Or maybe he would like to sip it through a colored straw? Or have it served in that special mug with the picture on the bottom that Grandma brought him.

Help your youngster learn to chew by gradually, but regularly, adding foods that require chewing to his meals. Continue to add new foods so he can learn to like variety—and don't get discouraged if he only eats a bite or two the first time. He'll do better by and by.

When we suggest that you respect your child's personality, you are not suggesting that you go to any lengths to persuade him to eat. Don't offer him rewards for downing that vegetable. All that will teach him is to expect a reward for eating; it won't help him to appreciate good food.

In other words, don't coax him. Don't ask him to take a bit of carrot "for Cinderella" and a spoonful of spinach "for Little Jack Horner!" All he learns from coaxing is that he can get special attention from you when he doesn't eat.

If your youngsters are to be healthy, they need foods from these groups: milk and milk products; eggs; meat, poultry, fish; fruits and vegetables; bread and cereals; butter. In addition, they need fish liver oil or some other source of vitamin D. There are lots of foods in these categories, so don't do battle. Johnny refusing his liver? Try another meat.

A main dish most youngsters

Give Meal The Italian Treatment

Since spaghetti is traditionally thought of as an Italian food, give it a real Italian treatment next time you serve it. This tasty version of veal scaloppine is a good Italian salami, anchovies, ripe olives, onion rings and radishes served on a lazy susan or in small bowls. That rich Italian desert, spumoni, would be a good ending.

VEAL SCALOPPINE ON SPAGHETTI
 2 pounds boned veal shoulder, sliced thin
 1-3 cup all-purpose flour
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1-3 cup butter or margarine
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/4 cup minced onion
 1 three-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained
 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
 1 tablespoon salt
 1 teaspoon sugar
 3 quarts boiling water
 8 ounces spaghetti

Have meatman flatten veal for scaloppine. Dredge veal in flour combined with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. In a skillet, melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add veal; saute until lightly browned. Remove veal from skillet. Add garlic and onion to butter or margarine; cook until onion is tender. Gradually add mushrooms, tomatoes, sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and browned veal. Cover and cook over low heat, or until veal is tender.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in cold water. Serve veal scaloppine over cooked spaghetti.

Photography In Courtrooms Is A Current Subject For Debate

Should the newsman now be permitted to use a camera as well as a pencil in reporting news from the courtroom?

Is the general public—in its historic right to know what takes place in the courts—entitled to a photographic as well as a verbal account?

Or does picture taking interfere with the court's dignity and deprive the defendant of a fair trial—a trial free from undue distractions and influence?

These questions are being answered in different ways these days by courts and newspapers. They don't always see eye to eye, and the disagreement is bringing some notable showdowns.

Closely allied with the newspapers are radio and television interests, which are pretty much in the same boat concerning court coverage.

And as this new aspect of court coverage has come to the fore of late, older problems have continued to occupy the press.

It has never ceased to battle with one of the profession's oldest problems—that of obtaining and publishing the fullest account possible of all matters of public business.

There has been a great deal of progress on this front, including passage of laws forcing boards of municipal and state commissions to hold open meetings.

As for courtroom photography, broadcasts and television, the focal point is what is known as Canon 35 of the Code of Judicial Ethics of the American Bar Assn.

The canon was agreed upon back in pre-TV 1937 by the membership of the association, with which most lawyers are affiliated.

Specifically, the canon stated that the taking of photographs in courtrooms, either during court sessions or while the court is in recess, should not be permitted.

Broadcasts from the courtroom likewise were opposed. The bar association expressed belief that such activities "detract from the essential dignity of the proceedings, degrade the court and create misconceptions with respect thereto in the minds of the public."

Two years ago, as a result of the growth of television, it too was included in the ban with radio and photographs.

The bar association itself has no legal connection with the courts of this country and its canons are in no way binding upon them.

However, it is in general the guiding light for court conduct, since its views are formulated and approved only after long and careful study by leading jurists.

Some judges have gone even further, barring news photographers from any part of courthouse premises.

In contrast, an Oklahoma City TV station got permission to make sound films during some trials.

Between these two extremes, courts in recent months have defined in various ways what may and may not be done.

Meanwhile, the general ban on courtroom photography itself has been drawing more and more opposition, including test incidents designed to show that pictures can be made without disturbance to the courts.

One noteworthy case occurred recently in Cleveland.

Last August, Cleveland press photographer James Thomas took a picture in Common Pleas Court at the arraignment of a former probate judge on embezzlement charges.

The common pleas judge, Joseph H. Silbert, cited the photographer for contempt along with City Editor Louis Clifford, who had ordered the picture taken, and reporter Sam Gialmo.

The city editor was sentenced to one hour in the custody of the sheriff and fined $500. The reporter was given a $100 fine, and the photographer got a suspended sentence.

When the matter was carried to the Court of Appeals, it upheld the sentences.

It ruled that Judge Silbert was well within his rights in prohibiting pictures. It said one of a judge's duties is to insure that there are no untoward distractions, even in a routine judicial proceeding not taking place before a jury.

The press then announced it would take the case to the Ohio Supreme Court. Said Editor Louis B. Seltzer:

"It is our basic argument . . . that photographic science has made picture taking in a courtroom . . . essentially no different than a reporter covering a trial with his pad and pencil."

An extreme application of Canon 35 took place at Greensburg, Pa. County judges there banned photographers from any part of the courthouse premises during the murder trial of John Wesley Wable, accused of bizarre slayings on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Newspaper and photographers' associations protested without success. The Greensburg Tribune-Review took the matter to higher courts in a test subsequently joined by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

A federal judge modified the ban to permit pictures in courthouse corridors with permission of the subjects. This proved of little help, and so far there has been no decision settling the basic question.

Meanwhile in Colorado, a combined newspaper-radio attack on Canon 35 has produced a long and lively series of incidents.

The Denver Post reported that Denver newspapers were making considerable headway with a local pictures-in-court program, demonstrating that they could be taken unnoticed.

However, bar association opposition finally led Denver judges to adopt the rule against pictures and broadcasts.

The next day, a challenge came from radio station KGMC of suburban Englewood.

R. B. McAlister, co-owner of the station, and an engineer made a tape recording in Denver District Court as Judge Edward C. Day sentenced a murderer to be executed.

McAlister held the microphone in a courtroom doorway. The tape recorder itself was in the hallway outside. The judge was unaware of what was taking place.

Shortly afterward, the recording was broadcast by the radio station, and the bar association announced it would seek to have the station cited for contempt.

Later, however, the bar group recommended to Judge Day that no action be taken.

The newspaper campaign will be continued, though the next move has not been determined.

Said Ed Dooley, managing editor of the Post: "Modern courtroom photography with concealed cameras is an extension of the reporter and his pencil in fulfilling the people's right to know what is going on in their courts."

The Oklahoma City case appeared to represent the widest latitude yet given courtroom photography.

WKY-TV was permitted to install a motion picture camera in an enclosed booth in the courtroom. The lens poked through a small opening and no special lighting was used. Microphones were placed so as not to disturb proceedings.

Judge A. P. Van Meter expressed this view: "Too often what is said or shown about courts is not a true portrayal. If television can present courts as they actually function, this should be a real public service."

Other recent actions around the country:

Washington, D. C.—The Justice Department told U. S. marshals not to interfere with cameramen photographing prisoners anywhere outside federal courthouses. Inside, they will abide by any rules laid down by the federal judges presiding in each place.

Illinois—Chicago radio and TV men have been fighting for rights to broadcast and televise Chicago City Council sessions. Thus far the council has agreed only to decide cases as they come up.

New York—A picture ban imposed by a state commission probing harness racing scandals was ignored by Newsday, a newspaper published in suburban Garden City. The paper felt the ban was illegal.

For two days a Newsday photographer snapped away with a small camera concealed in a book, and no one knew it until another photographer tipped off the commission.

The commission then ejected the photographer and impounded his camera.

But the newspaper already had a number of pictures, which it published. It later served a writ of replevin to recover the camera.

Utah—The Utah District Judges' Assn. adopted a resolution recommending that the Utah State Bar and Supreme Court re-examine the codes prohibiting pictures in court.

Washington—The State Continuing Study Committee of the Associated Press newspapers is working on the problem. Further moves will be mapped May 13 and 14 at the annual seminar of the University of Washington and Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington.

Ohio—In January, the State Supreme Court adopted the canon prohibiting courtroom photography and broadcasting during court sessions. It placed no restrictions on other times.

Adoption of the canon had been advocated by the State Bar Assn. and opposed by some press representatives. Later, some papers editorially expressed views that the court decision was a wise one, saying the dignity of the court was protected while full news coverage still was permitted.

Minnesota—A press-radio committee is working with committees from the state judges' and bar associations in an effort to modify Canon 35.

Cuts Can Damage Morale And Thus Can Penalize Quality Of Service

The House Appropriations Committee this week recommended a cash budget of $28,680,706.500 for the Defense Department. Of this sum the Committee earmarked $7,615,523,000 to finance "the greatest Army ever maintained by this nation in a full year basis in the absence of actual warfare."

It isn't so much the size of a military establishment that counts in perilous times. The matter of morale is all-important. And you cannot cut the ruts out of the Army, Air Force and Navy and expect to maintain morale.

Here's Opportunity For Groups To Give Satisfying Assistance

From time to time, organizations have taken on single-shot projects at the Big Spring State Hospital by giving an item of recreational equipment, or sponsoring a social or seasonal party. Recently, a woman's auxiliary (to the Elks) undertook one of these entertainments for patients and found the experience so satisfying that plans were launched to put the program on a continuing basis.

Yet, the undeniable fact is that the prime responsibility is upon the people of Big Spring and Howard County. We are well aware of the proper feeling that patients are ill and not objects of curiosity; yet we need to bend back the other way in contacting hospital authorities to see what we can do. It is all too easy for the mentally ill to become the forgotten folk, but we have no moral right to let that happen here because we are the home for the State Hospital.

Pixies Say No Time Is Best For Humphrey To Float Bonds

"Please, please don't distract me," said Alice. "I'm on a special project for Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. I'm sorting time."

nothing, which some of her enemies say she says even when she talks. Alice continued: "Burgess said we were in a boom. Therefore, it was a good time to put out a long-term bond issue and sop up the extra supply of money. That would check inflation. Promptly government bonds went down in price. Some people criticized Secretary Humphrey. His first bond issue was a flop. They said he picked a poor time. That's why I've been called in."

"That's time to Secretary Humphrey?" "Everything," replied Alice. "That's why he takes the time to care for it. Look..." Alice threw open the door to an adjacent room. There, marking time on huge wall calendars, were the Walrus, the Carpenter and the March Hare. "We're deciding," said Alice, "when it's a good time, a poor time, and no time to float a long-term Treasury bond issue. As you see most time is no time."

"That's entirely wrong," said Alice. "Then interest rates are high, and you're criticized for being too generous to the insurance companies and savings banks. Besides, if the boom stops, you're blamed for the recession." "Well," persisted the White Queen gently, "Why wouldn't it be a good time to put out a long-term bond issue now? Bond prices are high. Interest rates are low. The 3½s are selling nine points above par. The government's credit never was better."

Army Stenographer John G. Lucas Jr. Didn't Enjoy His Session With Solons

WASHINGTON, B.P.—John G. Lucas Jr. hoped for years that someday he would own a music store. He is now 42 and has given up the idea of having his store, loaded with phonograph records. Astronomer Thinks A Trip To Moon Could Come In 10 Years

That long-discussed trip to the moon is within grasp, says Dr. H. Percy Wilkins of London, director of the British Astronomical Association. He claims the trip could be made within 10 years. Both the United States and the United Kingdom already have the "know-how" to construct a rocket capable of journeying to the moon, says Dr. Wilkins.

Practical problems involved in the navigation of the rocket. Otherwise, it might miss the moon. An artificial satellite to the earth—a space platform—probably will have to be constructed as a take-off place for the rocket, Dr. Wilkins says. The engineering problems connected with a space platform still must be worked out in detail, but it is considered entirely feasible.

Legislative Ship Sailing On, But Helmsman Appears Erratic

WASHINGTON — The Administration's Senate Leader, Senator Knowland (Calif.) took the trouble to explain that the current Senator McCarthy-Army investigation is not delaying any legislation in Congress. That he felt constrained to point that out illuminates the problem before him and other party leaders, including the President.

diminishes public attention and public interest could be said to have an adverse effect in an indirect way. Senator Knowland issued his assurances about the legislative program not being delayed when he was at the White House the first of this week for the usual conference of Congressional party leaders with the President. At that session, prospects of measures immediately before Congress were discussed; but the conference also took a look forward. The long look ahead is becoming vague and confused, with time passing and important measures far from ready for final action.

Kings Had Way Of Controlling Scientists In The Days Of Old

In days of old when knights were bold, kings and potentates had a sure-fire way of dealing with the local Merlins or scientists when the latter stirred up a mess of magic considered, by the kings, too potent for public consumption. In such cases the ruler simply called in the Lord High Executioner and told him to proceed. There was none of this nicey and nonsense about building a blank wall around any particular Merlin, lest the secrets of his magic fall into hostile hands, either advertently or inadvertently.

reach man's dream of transmuting sunlight directly into electricity. In fact, the solar battery—weak as it now is—still generates 1,000,000 times as much power as an atomic battery, recently announced. Obviously, this solar stuff is dynamite compared with that old-fashioned commodity, atomic energy. These scientists over at the Bell Laboratories may not want to set the world on fire, but they are playing with cosmic matches. Oh, sure, the battery looks innocent on the face of it. But so did Mme. Curie's experiments at the turn of the century. There was a play on Broadway this season, an English import, called "The Burning Glass," which dealt with a scientist who began solar experiments as innocently as those at the Bell Lab.

Trellis Mae's Clubwomen Stay Confused As Usual

"Of course, silly. Everybody knows him." "Well, Adm. Schine is fighting under Sen. Stevens for McCarthy's services. This Day In Texas

Though predominantly Republican, the Texas Legislature on this day in 1874 passed an act designed to undo some of the damage done the citizens of Limestone and Walker counties by Governor E. J. Davis and his State Police. The carpetbag administration had assessed a penalty of $50,000 against the two counties following an assault upon a company of Negro state troopers by the citizens of Groesbeck. The ruckus started when a policeman named Mitchell Cotton shot down one D. C. Applewhite in a saloon.

Texas Farmers Rush To Plant

AUSTIN (U)—Texas farmers rushed sorghum, cotton and peanut seed into the ground while moisture for germination was still available, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Midweek showers in the trans-Pecos range country and the western plateau will be a material help to range feed, the USDA found in its review of farm and ranch conditions last week.

Weekend showers in the northern High Plains gave wheat prospects on surviving acreage a boost. Small grains in North Texas continued to make satisfactory development.

A wide strip across the state from the southwest into the northeast still needed rain at the weekend. The report did not take into account any rains since Sunday.

Cotton planting was pushed in the eastern third of the state.

Commercial vegetable prospects improved over nearly all the state. Tomato plants are starting to grow in South Texas, although the stand is irregular because of earlier adverse weather. North Texas onions have plenty of moisture and are making good growth.

Midweek rains over the plateau and north High Plains will keep earlier-started grass growing for livestock feed in those regions. Much more rain is needed over most of the state.

Pacific Northwest Area Is Continuing To Expand

By SAM DAWSON

SEATTLE (U)—Growth is still the key word in the Pacific Northwest. So, it dismisses as "just temporary" certain economic factors—production, trade, jobs, prices—that today slant a little toward the downside.

Expansion plans continue. The region is still building. It's a little scornful of recession nerves back East.

By the Pacific Northwest people here mean Washington, Oregon, Idaho and the part of Montana—a region tied together by the Columbia River and its tributaries, but split in climate and economy by the Cascade Mountains paralleling the coast. To the west of them there's lots of rain. To the east there's little.

The prosperity of its wheat, pea and fruit growers.

Reclamation policy, as much as the weather, determines the production outlook for its water power and aluminum industries, and for its steadily expanding irrigated farming sections.

The ruckus in Indochina is closer to the Northwest and to its economy than it is to some other parts of the land.

Northwest bankers say the business slip was worrisome early this year. Unemployment reached a peak in February. Both Washington and Oregon report that it's been dropping now for several weeks, although still above the year-ago mark.

Home building this March in 10 key cities in the four states topped that of a year ago. East mortgage terms are the chief lure now.

Industrial expansion continues too. Oil and natural gas are prime factors. Oil is being piped in from Canadian fields. Natural gas is coming—whether from Canada or from the American Southwest is soon to be decided.

Shell Oil Co. will build a 75-million-dollar oil refinery at Anacortes, Wash. General Petroleum has a 35-million-dollar one under way at Ferndale, Wash., near the Canadian border. There's talk of a 10-million-dollar refinery at Tacoma for the Washington Processing Co.

The atomic plant at Hanford, Wash., still grows, although some think that late 1954 may see the end of expansion.

Naval yards stay fairly busy, with the Indochina tension giving impetus, along with the refitting of ships for the new atomic and jet warfare age.

Retail trade lagged in the early part of the year, as it did rather markedly all along the Pacific Coast. Easter gave a fillip, however.

Seattle merchants put their faith in continued work schedules at the two Boeing Airplane Co. plants in the area. Boeing hires 37,500 workers, a postwar peak, and the area's biggest payroll.

Boeing executives say their government orders look pretty stable for some time to come.

But the apple of their eye right now is the huge jet air transport they expect to put in the air in about two months. First one built in America, it may beat the British De Havilland Co.'s Comet III to the runways. Boeing hopes so.

Boeing is staking a large sum in building it. The company hopes to sell its jet transports later to the military for troop or supply carriers or for refueling tankers, and to commercial airlines for speedier transoceanic and trans-country flights.

Texas Wheat Stock Reported At High Mark On April 1

AUSTIN (U)—Texas wheat holdings were estimated at 94,874,000 bushels April 1, a record high for that time of year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

The total reflected a disappearance of only 10 million bushels from record high stocks of 105 million bushels on Jan. 1. Stocks in all positions are still a little over four times the Texas 1953 crop of 23,035,000 bushels.

Stocks of feed grains in all positions, excluding farm stocks of grain sorghums, in Texas April 1 were estimated at 46,371,000 bushels compared with 27,140,000 bushels a year ago and 76,177,000 bushels on hand Jan. 1.

Stocks of feed grains in commercial storage totaled 1,237,000 bushels of corn, 1,303,000 of oats, 99,000 of barley and 26,514,000 of grain sorghums. Farm stocks: corn 7,896,000 bushels; oats 9,004,000; and barley, 228,000.

Upon Senate confirmation Swing succeeded Argyle R. Mackey, who steps down from commissioner to deputy.

Atty. Gen. Brownell, under whom the immigration and naturalization service operates, announced that he had asked Mackey to stay on as deputy and Mackey had agreed.
