Until someone tells them otherwise, the Wheeler Mustangs believe they posted the best record of any football team in Texas this past season. The tiny Panhandle town never lost a game, averaged more than 400 yards Windthorst. offense, finished with a glittering 13-0 record and capped it all off with the school's first state title in any sport. "Unless we hear from someone who tells us differently, I think we were the only 11-man football team in Texas to go undefeated or untied this season," proud Mustang coach Preston Smith beams. "That's high school, college or pro."

our players knew they could win it all. We started analyzing which teams we thought we'd be facing in the playoffs."

True to form, Smith and his staff did go on to win district and the Mustangs soundly defeated Ropes, 24-6, in bidistrict action. A 29-20 whipping of Jayton the following week kept their state title hopes alive and set up a crucial confrontation with heavily-favored

"I'm still not convinced Windthorst was not the best team we played." Smith admits. "They had some excellent players, really a fine all-around team. A lot of coaches told me Windthorst was as good as several Class AA schools. But our game with them was probably our best of the season. We beat them, 15-8, and it was exciting right down to the final seconds. People have told us it was a classic football game.

"But then I believe any of those three times we played up to that time -Windthorst, Jayton or Ropes-were capable of winning the state championship," Smith adds. "It was a pretty Sallie Harris attended the Annual Book and Author Dinner Saturday, January 28 at 7 p.m. at the Y. W.C.A in Amarillo. The event honored the authors of the Texas Panhandle who had published books in 1977.

> of the playoffs," Smith notes. "Lone Oak had beaten Valley Mills, rated the top Class B school most of the year. Since we knew Valley Mills was good, we thought Lone Oak would be super and we had to prepare our players that way. I mean, we were scared to death of Lone Oak. But our players did prepare themselves well, too," he laughs. "By the end of the game, they were ready to take on Notre Dame.'

> The Mustangs' sparkling 13-0 record was all the more impressive considering the fragile condition of Guthrie at quarterback. Injured even before the season started in a scrimmage workout, Guthrie played all 13 games with a broken bone in his throwing hand.

Also playing a key part in Wheeler's winning ways was linebacker Mike Lee, called by Smith "a truly vicious hitter for his small (160 pounds) size. He had 29 tackles against Groom and 26 against Windthorst." Lineman Tim Patterson, a college prospect at 6-3 and 220, made the big play on defense and opened up huge holes on the offensive line. "He was the most impressive lineman I saw all year," Smith says. "He dominated the line in every game we played this season and he also kicked our field goals and extra points. An exceptional player." Just how did the Mustangs manage that unblemished record? Smith himself isn't sure. "I know there was a lot of luck involved," he explains. "For one thing, we didn't have very many injuries. We had both of our running backs healthy all year, which is a big factor. We were a ground-oriented team which could pass effectively when necessary. "But I was confident all along we'd be pretty good. A state title is something you can never predict. We were fortunate to score a lot of points this season but yet we never tried to run it up. If we had kept our starters in most of the time, we would have set some scoring records, I'm sure. A million things just seemed to go our way."

"I think we had just about as good a team last season as we did this year," Smith observes. "With a little luck, we could have gone on to the state playoffs last season, too. We only lost five players from that team and I think our kids were all the more determined to make the playoffs this time around." His Mustangs certainly started off the season that way. Wheeler opened with a sound 28-0 whipping of Shamrock, beat Follett, 53-28, and then Lefors, 56-0. A 27-7 win over Groom the following week paved the way for the Mustangs to enter the playoffs.

"We knew we had to beat Groom for the district championship. They were a semifinalist a year ago and that was a key game for us," Smith recalls. "We had a super game against them, one of our best. After we beat Groom, I think evenly matched year for Class B schools."

The Windthorst win propelled Wheeler into the state title game for the first time, pitting the Mustangs against Lone Oak. Playing in Iowa Park, the Mustangs had little trouble in capturing the state crown, 35-14. Three touchdowns by running back Marvin Grimes of 11, 15, and 3 yards and a 17-yard score by back Dell Ford pushed the Mustangs out front to stay and a 15-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bob Guthrie to split end Myron Jolley, who caught five touchdown passes in the playoff games, sealed the Mustangs' undefeated season.

In the game, Wheeler had 405 yards rushing, most of that provided by Grimes, with 190 yards, and Ford, with 180. Both were 1,000-yard runners this season.

Clothing For Winter Warmth out using more energy.

clothing or trapped in a fuzzy fabric acts as insulation and helps retain body heat. The body heats the trapped air and generates warmth.

Several loose layers trap more air and are warmer than one tight layer, regardless of its thickness. The number of layers needed for comfortable warmth depends on personal activity. An active person generates more heat so fewer layers are needed.

Trap heat by clothing desing, too.

Normal garment openings such as necklines and sleeve openings should fit close to the body to prevent heat from escaping.

Cuffs, elasticized wristbands, Uturtle-necks, and cowl-collars are all warmer than open necks and open sleeves.

Remember, bulky socks and fleecy boots are warmer than slippers.

Camisoles or under-shirts provide an extra layer over the major portion of the body-and when the body is warm, excess heat goes to the hands and feet, making them warmer.

Coats are an essential part of winter warmth. They can also be a great addition to a wardrobe. One of the versatile winter coats is the reversible wrap. Special styles, fabrics and seams can make homesewn winter "wraps" reversible.

Coats with the "big look" are especially suitable for an easy reversible style. They side-step the need for lining and difficult tailoring or fitting.

Club Hostess

The Progressive Study Club met with Irma Kirk, January 19 for an Education Program on "Heroes of the Skies". The meeting was called to order by the president, Novella Vanpool and the Club Collect was read in unison. The president welcomed two new members, Mary Walker and Pat Chance.

Minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved. The treasurer gave a report on club funds.

A note of resignation from the club by Lucille Walser was read and was regretfully granted. Club members signed a "Cheer Up" card to be sent to her. The following list of names and offices for club years 78-79-79-80 was presented and elected. President, Ruby Lee Sandifer, Vice President, Mildred Porter, Secretary, Leola Farris, Corr. Secretary, Pauline Hefley, Treasurer, Doraeen Owen, Historian, Irma Kirk, Pianist, Amelia Sims, Song Leader, Curtis Moore and Parlimentarian, Willie Mae Stevens. Roll Call answered by recalling facts of a great American stateman.

Zennie Bailey gave an interesting report on Richard E. Byrds flight over the north pole.

The accomplishments of Charles H. Lindbergh in the air and in : other areas was given by Novella Vanpool.

Willie Mae Stevens gave interesting facts about Amelia Earhart's flying career which ended tragically in her disappearance over the ocean in 1937.
