

HE OUGHT TO PASS THE BUCK

If the secretary of a chamber of commerce could do all that the general public expects of him, he wouldn't be a secretary of a chamber of commerce. No one knows what he would be, but we would classify him as a wizard and a machine.

The average secretary of a chamber of commerce hasn't a bit of business trying to do all that the public expects him to do. He couldn't do it if he were to try. If he coordinates the work and gets others of the community to execute it he is doing all that can be expected of him.

Most of us feel that when we join the chamber of commerce or pay our part of the taxes for the support of the board of city development that we have arranged for all the community work that is necessary. We look over the list of names of those appointed to superintend the work and approve or disapprove of the individual appointments and then pass the buck to them to do all the things which we think should be done for our community.

The greatest buck passer in any community ought to be the secretary of the chamber of commerce. When something that is needed to be done arises he ought to pass the buck right on to some of the citizens, let them know what he knows about procedure and let them do the work. While they are working he ought to be doing more buck passing and getting another group working on something else.

On the occasion of the recent building of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce home, every detail was worked out perfectly. The big work was done by a group of citizens who have been repeatedly called upon to do community work. They injected their own personalities into the work and functioned.

That's just an example for us to follow in future community work. There are many persons who are willing to work if they but know where they are needed.

The secretary of the chamber of commerce puts in his full time on community work. Let's help him co-ordinate the whole and direct it and when we are called upon put our shoulders to the wheel and do our bit. We ought not to permit anyone, even our paid secretary of the chamber of commerce, to be more interested in our community than we are.

POTASH BILL APPROVED

Washington, May 3.—The house mining committee today approved the Winter bill to authorize an appropriation of $200,000 for research in the development of American potash resources.

THE POOREST CLASS NOT OVERPAID

Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, takes the wind out of the sails of those who have been boasting about huge American profits by saying: "The poorest class alone, comprising 75,000,000 people (65 per cent of the total) receive about 38.6 per cent of the national income, of $34,740,000,000—less than $460 per person. With only an estimated $117 of income per family above the minimum of comforts and necessities during a year that is often called the most prosperous ever known, this majority of the American people cannot yet be said to be in danger of having any too much income. Those in the lower income groups must surely be hard put to it to make ends meet."

The jury stood 20 for conviction and two for acquittal. The case was reset for trial May 22th.

EYES OF THE BUTTERFLY

Examination of the eyes of the butterfly under powerful microscope reveals the interesting fact that each eye has five thousand different lenses, with ten nerves attached to each lens. Experiments show that the butterfly is partial to purple, that it can see ultra-violet rays, and that it recognizes its acquaintances in the butterfly world at three and one-half feet distance.

FIVE THOUSAND ACRES IN LEGUMES

Choctaw County, Oklahoma, which lies just across Red river from Texas, and of which Hugo is the capital city, plans on having 5,000 acres of soy beans, cowpeas, alfalfa, sweet clover, and other legumes in 1928. The Better Soils and Safe Farming committee are conducting a campaign for legumes for the purpose of encouraging the production and feeding of livestock to the end that crop rotation will become established on a permanent basis and the soils be increased in fertility.

Farmers cannot afford to produce legumes on a large acreage and sell the product on the open market even though the soils are benefitted. Therefore it is of the utmost importance that the Safe Farming committee also provide some way for farmers to finance themselves in the securing of good cows, hogs, and feeder stock according to their individual needs. If the business men of Choctaw county will get in back of this livestock-legume movement and stay with it, they will eventually see most satisfying results.—Farm and Ranch.

NEBRASKA'S DESERT BEING RECLAIMED

Nebraska's desert is being reclaimed, in the northwestern part of this great state, there are ten million acres of sandhills, until now valueless. Now ten thousand acres of this waste have been planted in pine-trees, which in some places are thirty feet high, and growing rapidly. Planting on a very large scale will now be undertaken at once, and the complete recovery of this vast area is confidently anticipated.

MRS. J. L. MAULDIN HAS PEARS ON FRUIT TREES

Jack Frost nipped nibs of the fruit in the Big Spring country this spring, but he left the pear trees at the J. L. Mauldin place untouched. Mrs. Mauldin states that she has three pear trees that are filled with fruit, but other fruit trees in the yard were damaged by frost and are not bearing.

Mrs. Mauldin has been on the sick list for quite a while and she was unable to tend to her flowers and trees, for she always has a yard full of pretty flowers. She is now able to be up and about and was indeed happy to find that the pear trees were not injured by the frost.

Murdock says: "To hold to faith when all seems dark, to keep of good courage when failure follows failure, to cherish hope when its promise is faintly whispered, to bear without complaint the heavy burdens that must be borne, to be cheerful whatever comes, to pursue high ideals, to trust unflinchingly that well being follows waiting—this is the way of life. To be modest in desires, to enjoy simple pleasures, to be earnest, to be true, to be kindly to be considerate, to be at least just, to be helpful, to be loving, this is to walk therein." Can many reach that high ideal of life. Such a life cannot be reached in one day and at the end of life we all will be found waiting, but if we cannot become perfect as the angels, if we do our best that is all God can demand. May this lesson given by Murdock be impressed on all hearts.

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.

AN OVERFLOWING JAIL

It was almost necessary to provide side boards for our jail last Saturday night and Sunday to take care of the large number of vags, drunks and gamblers that were rounded up by our officers.

Of late our county is being invaded by a bunch of tough nuts from the Winkler oil field and the number is due to increase as more men are thrown out of employment by the prorating of oil output.

Our chain gang plan thinned out the vags for a time but they are becoming overly numerous and we should get the chain gang back on the job. Right now there are several prisoners in jail unable to pay fines who might just as well be put to work to help pay for their feed.

WORK ON VIADUCT TO START SOON

That work may be started on the viaduct over the T. & P. tracks on Gregg street within the next thirty days is quite probable.

A member of the engineering department of the T. & P. met with city and county officials last Saturday to discuss some minor points in the plans. The changes are to be made as suggested and the plans will soon be submitted for final action.

As soon as the plans are accepted by the City, County and Railway Company, bids for the construction of the viaduct will be called for.

WHAT IS AHEAD SHEEP MAN?

If one could accurately foretell the future of the sheep industry, he would be worth millions to those engaged in producing our wool and mutton. For a number of years the sheep and goat industries have prospered while producers of other farm and range animals have suffered. The hog market travels around a cycle of short diameter. Unless one watches it carefully the market is down just about the time when the farmer is well stocked and ready to sell. By the time he unloads and decides to get out of the business, prices go up to the top. The market cycle of cattle is of greater diameter. Deflation brought about unusual rapidity of decline, but it took a long while to climb back. It is believed that the movement to lower levels will be gradual.

The sheep cycle usually of smaller circumference than that of cattle and greater than that of hogs, appears to have developed a greater diameter of late years, but there are some signs which would indicate increasing supplies and probably a lower price in the market. The number of sheep is increasing at a rapid rate in the United States. Texas now has 4,593,000 head, with 44,544,000 in the entire country. This increase is somewhat offset by the fact that during the past two years competition from Australia and South Africa was at its peak without materially affecting the American market. Ranges in those countries are overstocked and it is reported that a material reduction must be made.

There is also a slight increase in the demand for spring lambs and mutton, but not so great as producers would like or conditions justify. Americans never have acquired the mutton-eating habit, although mutton is rated as the most delicious of all our meats and the most easily digested. If producers could conduct a campaign of education on the use of mutton on the family table and in the restaurants and hotels, it would slow the decline and steady the price.

No matter what the price of mutton or wool, a few sheep on every farm are advisable. They more than pay their keep by keeping the pastures and fence corners clear of weeds.—Farm and Ranch.

I'm Getting Myself Talked About

Delco-Light people use a lot of space in big magazines to tell how Delco-Light sets up farm profits, increases egg production, cuts cost of hired help, ends fire hazards, etc., etc. Then they always end by saying, "See the Delco-Light man for particulars." Well, I'm the man they're talking about. And I've really got the facts to back every Delco-Light claim.

Let me explain this new, easy way to make extra money.

TO VOTE ON THE SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION

In response to a petition filed with the Commissioners' Court of Howard County asking that an election be held to decide on the proposition of consolidating the Center Point, Fairview and Richland school districts, the court set Saturday May 26th as the date for such election.

The three rural school districts cover an area of 63 sections, north and northeast of Big Spring in Howard county and the school enrollment is around 300. If the consolidation is voted it is planned to erect a High School building, employ 10 teachers and trucks are to be furnished to transport the children to and from school.

Getting publicity for our city is bringing a horde of beggars and unemployed to Big Spring. What to do with this class is a problem. The sick must be looked after and the hungry given something to eat.

Miss Alice Leeper left last Friday night for Little Rock Arkansas to attend the annual reunion of Confederate Veterans. Miss Leeper was paid of honor from General Miller's post at Abilene.

MOTHER'S DAY IS THE ONE NATIONAL HOLIDAY THAT EVERYBODY REMEMBERS WE HAVE SUITABLE GIFTS CUNNINGHAM & PHILIPS

At a meeting of the Luncheon club some weeks ago it was stated that a committee of citizens would be requested to meet with the members of the School Board before they let any contracts for a new school building, that may have been before the $150,000 bond election was held. Up to the present we have not learned of any citizens being asked to meet with the School Board to discuss the kind or cost of buildings which would best serve the needs of our schools.

BLESSED CHILDREN

"The Child a-hungred shall be fed, The sick child nursed and comforted, The backward child with patience led; The erring child be claimed from sin, The lonely child, bereft of kin, Unloved shall be taken in."

Perhaps in no other country in the world are children so loved and petted as they are in America; sometimes far too much indulged for their own good.

Parents should look well to the physical training of their young children; that they have a great deal of outdoor play. They should have a place where gymnastics could always be enjoyed, because on the growth and strengthening of the larger muscles depends the development of the smaller ones, which the child uses more as he grows older. Let them have "kiddie cars" and sand piles.

Above all see that they are properly nourished. "Malnutrition is a definite departure from health. The physical signs include underweight lines under the eyes, pallor, fatigue posture, flat chest, rigid spine, prominent abdomen, pronated or flat feet. By fatigue posture is meant an appearance similar to the stoop that results from the muscular weakness of old age." "No medicine is required in the nutrition program. The prescription deals almost entirely with hygiene and follows five general rules:

1. The removal of physical defects.
2. Sufficient home control to insure good food and good health habits.
3. Prevention of over fatigue.
4. Proper food at regular and sufficiently frequent intervals.
5. Fresh air by day and night.

EXPERTS AND COMMON SENSE

It appears that a number of persons were morally certain that the St. Francis dam was going to break and devastate the peaceful valley of the Little Santa Clara river and drown hundreds of its inhabitants. They had been leaking for some time and leaking noticeably. When water begins to boil from under a wall 205 feet high, holding back a young inland ocean it would seem common sense would say "Beat it!"

However, those dam experts couldn't see the danger. They inspected the leaking dam, and solemnly told the worried laymen not to worry. And thus the valley folk were lulled into a sense of false security, from which they awoke under 70 feet of raging water. Ordinary, everyday persons whose minds were not so confused with technicalities that their horse sense couldn't pull, knew that dam would give way; but the dam experts out talked them. So everyone stayed to perish.

There is one thing about the expert, so often he is so expert that he becomes mesmerized by his expertness. All he can see is some scientific application of some scientific principle. The truth of common sense is ousted by figures that lie. The builder of the St. Francis dam who saw it shortly before it went out and pronounced it safe, could only see that way he was sure; and that way he was sure was right; so necessarily the dam must be right regardless of the fact that the water was cutting under it, and that a hideously gigantic force was straining against it. But that dam builder couldn't see anything but his scientific dam knowledge which is often the unfortunate case with the expert.

Some surgeons get so obsessed with the science of surgery that all they can see is an operation; and many a life goes out. Some dentists become so mesmerized by scientific system that many a valuable tooth is needlessly extracted. The consciousness of many a lawyer is so wound around with the tape of legal intricacies that he cannot comprehend a plain, easy human way of setting a matter.

The specialist has his place and a highly important place. It is through the work of the specialists that science has made its great strides and the world been immeasurably benefited. But often the specialist lets simple good judgment become hypnotized, hamstrung, hog-tied by the formalities of his specialism.

A friend of the writer had just bought a house. One of the chimneys wouldn't draw. A chimney specialist was sent for. The chimney expert made an expert diagnosis. The trouble was this, the trouble was that. The chimney wasn't built right. It couldn't possibly work. The only thing to do was tear it down and rebuild it. The chimney man was so taken up with his scientific calculations, observations and deductions, that he couldn't see that birds had built a home in the flue. The hired man discovered the nest, removed it and the chimney worked perfectly.

'A NIGHT IN SPAIN' TO BE SHOWN IN ABILENE MAY 30

"A Night in Spain" a big musical extravaganza with a cast of over 100 people will be presented in the City Auditorium at Abilene, Texas, on the night of May 30th. This is a musical show, extraordinary, and it isn't often that the people of this territory are offered such a treat. Crowds from all over West Texas will attend this presentation which is sponsored by the Dent Theaters, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Krumpel of Minneapolis, Minn., were here last Friday and Saturday to look after property holdings in this section.

Mrs. Jack Hodges, Mrs. John Hodges, and Mrs. R. C. Hatch were visitors in Dallas this week. They visited Jack Hodges, Jr., who is attending Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

AN ECLIPSE OR TWO

A total eclipse of the sun will occur May 19, but as the sun will be pretty far north and the moon pretty far south, as viewed from the earth on that date, eclipse will only be visible from Madagascar, Southern Africa, Southern South America and on to the South Pole, at which latter place the eclipse will be total; not very favorable to investigators. Total eclipse of moon that will occur on June 3 will be more favorable to study, but not so much in demand; this phenomena will be visible from Western North and South America as a partial eclipse about 4 a. m. May 3, too early for everyone to see.

40,000,000 TOURISTS DUE

Nomadic Americans, probably more than 40,000,000 of them will spin over the highways and byways this summer under the classification of "automobile tourists."

Before the summer is over this touring horde will doubtless have spent $3,500,000,000 for sardines and crackers, baked beans, automobile tires, gasoline, broken radius rods and other requisites of the rambling life.

"Possessed of a motor car pulled by the power of twenty or more horses the motorist's only handicap is that of poor roads of which there is still an all too plentiful supply. The tremendous tourist travel that now exists is due to the roads that have been improved. Further road betterment will place the great outdoors still closer to the city. The worker with but two short weeks' vacation may be enabled to visit his aunt 2,000 miles away with comfort.—Dallas News

you do drink a-bite-to-eat when you drink a Dr. Pepper and here's why

Yes Sir! there's something to this idea. 3-a-day does keep energy up. As a food chemist, I might tell you that the pure cane sugar syrup is compounded of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen. The sugar is "invert"; practically predigested and non-heating. It's the same thing as long distance swimmers and runners take to buoy them up for endurance.

The juices of limes, oranges and other fruits, essences and extracts, aid digestion by turning stomach acids into alkalies; almost a specific for acidosis and gastritis. The food value in 1 glass is equal to a bowl of tomato soup with rice, yet it's no tax on digestion at all. Sure enough, it is "a-bite-to-eat". 3-a-day is good for you... 10 a day can't hurt you.

TRY THIS ONE ON THE NEXT RATTLER

You have no doubt heard that one about the prairie dogs, rabbits owls and rattlesnakes all living in the same holes out on these wide prairies.

The Kenton cow puncher says that the rattlesnakes steal their homes from the prairie dogs, and that in retaliation it is the custom of the little dogs to fill up the hole while the snake is in it. It has been done for so many years that the snake seems to have developed an instinct to protect himself from this treatment.

Many have been disappointed upon the discovery of a big rattler and when a move was made to put him out of his misery to have him sneak down into a prairie dog hole and get away. The next time you let one get away from you that way, just sprinkle a little dirt down the hole. Do this several times but stand back for presently the snake will come out in a hurry. Then is your chance to get in the good work on him. The cow puncher claims that Mr. Snake just can't stand to stay down there with particles of dirt trickling down on him. His instinct tells him a prairie dog is filling the hole up on him, so he comes out in a hurry. Now, you let one.—Boise (Okla.) News.

COWBOY CARSON WILL RUN FOR LEGISLATURE

'Cowboy' Carson wants to return to the legislature. The former San Angelo representative formally announced Wednesday night that he is a candidate for re-election to the state legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. He is the first candidate to announce for the office.

The ninety-first Representative district, which the typical West Texan seeks to represent at Austin, is composed of half a dozen West Texas counties. They are Tom Green, Irion, Reagan, Glasscock, Howard and Sterling.

Though announcing no formal platform, the old-timer said he was strong for any kind of school aid, just as he was when he served in the thirty-eighth legislature, and that he believed all university land that the Pecos river should be put on the market for sale.

With a broad-brimmed hat tilted to one side of his head 'Cowboy' Carson's real name is William Joseph Carson—strode into the Standard-Times office Wednesday night, walking heavily with a West Texas peculiarity, and threw the big brown hat into the political ring.

Knows Only Texas. The Cowboy is getting up in years, but one would never know it. He'll soon reach his sixty-fifth year of living in Texas, and he knows nothing but Texas. He was born on a ranch in Blanco county May 15, 1860 and lived on a ranch most of his life. For this reason he says he knows what the West Texas ranchman needs—and promises, if elected, that he will serve the mass efficiently as he can.

For West Texas first, last and all the time," and began calling on the boys, passing cigars and talking politics. He was elected by a two-to-one majority.

Typical Westerner. There could hardly be a more typical westerner of the old school—rugged, courageous and of firm convictions that he is not afraid to hide to under a bush when asked to express his views. He is a bachelor in comfortable circumstances, and has no desire to switch this late in life from single harness to tandem. This, however, is not so much from choice as of necessity, for his mother died when he was 13 and since most of his life was spent on the range he has had no opportunity to mix with the opposite sex.

Common 'horse sense' without the clever flow from the tongue of a trained politician, was the reliance of Carson in his first legislative adventure. Carson is classed among the trail blazers of West Texas. The only school he ever attended was in a little log house on the banks of the Blanco river. In March 1883 at the age of 17 young Carson left home with a cousin to follow the old McKenzie trail up past old Runnels City, then the county seat of Runnels county, on to Fort Chadbourne thence to Colorado City, and then the plains to the panhandle. His first job was in West Texas out on Hackberry creek, twenty-five miles southwest of Colorado City. Buffalo were still seen on the prairies at that time, and antelope inhabited this section by the thousands.

and after ten years together 'Cowboy' Carson bought a place on Dove and Spring creeks in Irion county. He was one of the organizers, in 1907 of the First State Bank at Sherwood, the first bank in Irion county, becoming its vice president and director. He sold his ranch in 1910 and assisted in organizing the First National bank at Mertzon.

Four years later he moved to San Angelo, bought a confectionery and successfully operated it until 1920. It was known as the 'Cowboy's Confectionery.' Disposing of this establishment the 'Cowboy' virtually took his feet out of the stirrups of active life and retired, going to the legislature in 1922. He sought re-election to the twenty-ninth legislature, but in a three-cornered race was defeated. 'But I want to go back,' he says. —San Angelo Standard.

LONG STEP TAKEN

The dairy interests in the Southwest (Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico) are faced with problems in common and peculiar to this section of the United States. The promotion of the industry, sometimes by those who have something to sell and in many cases, by enthusiasts who are not well informed, constitutes only one phase of the development bringing with it many important problems. There are other questions of equal concern which the industry must answer correctly before it can be firmly established on a sane and prosperous basis.

Because of these problems and because of the similarity of conditions found in all the States of the Southwest, leaders in the industry gathered in Dallas, April 7, and organized the Southwestern Dairy Association. This association has for its object the development of the various phases of the industry along some sane and logical lines. It will be educational and, as an incident of this program, it will hold an annual Southwestern Dairy Show during the State Fair of Texas at the fair grounds. In addition, it will cooperate and work with the National Show and with other organizations in putting on shows in other States in its territory.

The State Fair of Texas was selected for the annual show for several reasons. A most excellent dairy show has always been held at the fair and will be held every year whether or not any organization of dairy interests participates. Dallas is centrally located and easily accessible from any section of the Southwest. The fair draws an attendance of 700,000 to 1,000,000 people, and this is an advantage breeders and dairymen cannot overlook. It is also an advantage to manufacturers of dairy products and dairy equipment. The directors of the State Fair of Texas have promised the Southwestern Dairy Association a new dairy building and sufficient other space and equipment to put on the show to an advantage, and will also offer premiums of attractive proportions that will make it worth while for breeders and owners of dairy cattle to exhibit. The furnishing of facilities and providing the premiums is the limit of what the State Fair Association is expected to do. The show will be put on by the association, an organization entirely independent of any other are concerned.

Since the first announcement of the organization of the Southwestern Dairy Association, it has become necessary to correct the impression that the new association will come in direct competition with the National Show. The Southwestern Dairy Association desires to cooperate with the National organization, and in 1928 will release exhibitors in time to show at the National at Memphis if they so desire. A large number of the members of the Southwestern will attend the National—Farm and Ranch.

USE CAR IN BUYING INSECTICIDES

Man's fight against insects has succeeded only in isolated cases where an overwhelming force has been brought to bear upon some pest that was just making a start. By the use of poisons we have been able to stay the progress of some kinds of insects, and thus far we have only this weapon to depend upon.

The increasing demand for poisons and other insecticides has opened up a profitable field for manufacturers and distributors of dishonest products. Therefore it behooves the users of sprays and dusts to exercise the utmost caution in making purchases. Buy only such poisons as you know are manufactured and distributed by reliable concerns. Do not buy on price alone, but consider quality first, for a cheap product—cheap because it is either old or lacking in quality—is just so much money thrown away. Not only do users of poor-quality poisons lose the purchase price, but they are likely to lose their crops.

The man who knowingly sells farmers poison that is below the necessary strength and quality to perform the services for which it was intended is of the same caliber as the man who enters your house in your absence and carries away your valuables. The man who knowingly sells the housewife an inefficient insecticide with which to combat household pests and disease is a potential murderer. If there is any business that requires honesty more than another it is the manufacturing of products essential to combating crop pests in the fields and insect disease carriers in the homes.—Farm and Ranch.

It is stated that a big supply of fresh water has been encountered in the Roxana Petroleum Company's test well, southwest of Garden City. A fifty foot water sand was encountered at 175 feet and it has been impossible to lower the water which rose to a high level. A five barrel bailer was used in an effort to lower the water but without avail. Some estimate this well good for 5000 barrels of water per day as it stands at present.

CHINA AND JAPAN AT WAR
While there has been no declaration of war China and Japan are virtually at war. Warring factions in China have ordered hostilities to cease so they can unite to fight the invaders, as they term the Japanese.

$350,000,000 ROAD BOND PLANNED

R. S. Sterling chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, proposes a $350,000,000 bond issue to develop a connected system of state highways to be financed by the gasoline tax.

This plan is being favorably considered in all portions of Texas.

Wrecking automobiles is a costly game, yet many auto owners seem to enjoy this sport.

U. S. SHOULD MEDDLE IN CHINA

A State of war exists between Japan and Nationalist China.

There have been many killed and wounded in the fighting at Tainanfu. It is estimated that 15,000 Japanese troops are already in the province of Shantung, front of the Nationalist drive on Peking and another crack division, numbering between 15,000 and 13,000 is on the way.

Japanese warships and aircraft carriers are hurrying to the scene and airplanes are assembling while in China feeling against Japan is at fever pitch. The die may be cast by a major battle between Chinese and Japanese any day.

Alone, or in conjunction with other great powers friendly on both sides, the United States should take energetic action to safeguard peace of the Far East, now beyond all question in peril.

Whether it was the Chinese or the Japanese who began the trouble at Tsinanfu should make little difference at this time. The thing is to prevent a war between China and Japan. Should such a war get under way other nations might easily become involved before it is finished.

In Washington on Feb. 6, 1922, eight powers, among them the United States and Japan, signed a treaty solemnly pledging themselves not to take advantage of China's admittedly abnormal condition, but to the contrary, "to provide the fullest and most un-embarrassed opportunity to China to develop and maintain for herself an effective and stable government."

Today China is fighting toward that goal. While she is doing so it would seem that the powers signatories to the above treaty should at least not hinder by getting in the way of her armies; then threatening war because somebody gets hurt.

It is the duty of the United States and other treaty powers to use their good offices to stop further bloodshed between China and Japan.

KEEP AFTER POST-OFFICE OFFICIALS

When asked for best method to secure a Federal building the Republican dictator of Texas gave the citizens of the neighboring town the following tip:

"I would suggest to you that your mayor, chamber of commerce and others get in touch at once with the Joint Committee or write direct to the Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury, calling attention to the fact that this tentative allowance was made out of the first $100,000,000, urge the importance and necessity of early action, and ask what his present status is.

"These matters inevitably take time, but those who are most active in pressing their claims usually get first consideration, and I suggest that your local chamber of commerce and other officials press the matter at Washington as actively as they can."

FRANK DAVENPORT OPENS FIG AND CALF BARBECUE PIT

Frank Davenport on Thursday morning opened a Fig and Calf Barbecue stand located on the Bankhead highway, next to the Dillard and Merrick Oldsmobile Agency. This lunch stand is housed in a new stucco building and it is attractively finished on the interior. New furniture and fixtures have also been installed.

Besides serving barbecued pig and calf, at all times, light lunches and bottled cold drinks may also be obtained. Counts and table service will be taken care of in the shop and curb service will be a specialty.

Mr. Davenport is experienced in this line of work, having formerly been manager of the T. & P. Eating House in this city. He assures his customers the very best eats in this line and always prompt and courteous service. He invites old friends and new to come down and eat with him and try some of the barbecued pig and calf.

Mr. Davenport has recently been in the transportation department of the Mariand Oil Company, but he resigned this position to go in business for himself.

BACK TO NATURE

He was only twelve, but the badge upon his new uniform showed that the little scout was advancing rapidly. I watched him as he picked up a piece of flint from among the stones on the edge of the river, and followed him to the bank where he had the "makins" of a cooking fire.

Rasp! Rasp! went the flint on a piece of broken file. At the third rasp a spark glowed on his tinder and was quickly blown into flame. Sticks crackled and the scout looked up with a smile.

"Old Indian stuff," he explained proudly. "Why use matches? A little piece of file, some cedar bark, a piece of flint, and flint. That's all we need. Stick around, mister and I'll show you how to make a meal without pots and pans too."

And it did it—for this is part of this new thing called scouting which is taking up so much of the time of almost half of the boys who ultimately go to college.

Merl Stewart of San Angelo spent the week end in the city visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Stewart and family.

THE DEFEAT OF SELF

A May Editorial by Richard Bond

How we love to boast about our prowess! We can beat Germany, Japan, England—the World—but over in England there are thirty million people who utter the same boast except that "America" is substituted for "England" and in Germany and Japan there are other millions with similar ideas.

We can whip the Democrats or Republicans as the case may be. We can hammer the daylight out of the whites, the blacks or the yellow race—as the case may be. We can smash the Irish, batter the Jews, butcher the Indians and slaughter the Chinese.

And so we boast, even those of us who could not beat an egg, whip cream, thresh wheat, mash potatoes, or even lick a postage stamp.

All we do is "blah" and make more enemies instead of friends. We can defeat others, but we prove by our boasting that we have not yet defeated the inner self that needs defeat so badly.

Defeat yourself—and you will find that those who remain are friends that need no defeat.

GOING WITHOUT HATS

Women have been going without hats in summer time for years. Men have long wanted to brave the sneers and jeers of their friends by doing the same, but fear conquered them. At last the college boy led the way. The high school boy followed. The working boy who sported a collegiate suit for evening wear, toddled along in the van. Now older men are taking up the habit—not fast, mind you, but habit.

Why wear a hat in warm weather? You have to take it off every few minutes to wipe your brow, and many feel that more colds are picked up on account of this perspiring brow of ours, than would be were we to go without a hat. True, the makers of hats will urge us to wear them, but if we are really brave, we will discard this needless top piece during warm weather, and some day we'll even throw away that hard piece of linen that an ancient dandy first thrust upon a style-crazed world under the name of "collar."

Steve Calverly of Garden City was a business visitor in Big Spring Wednesday.

GOODRICH SILVERTOWNS

THE PLATE GLASS TEST. By pressing this glass against the Goodrich Silvertown, we show how its tread looks when pressing against the road. Read the facts below, and see what this test means in mileage.

This one minute test Shows how you can get months of extra service from your next tires!

Balloon tires are soft. They yield. Their tread flattens against the road. The center compresses, letting the shoulders of the tread come down to the ground. Simple facts—but what a tremendous effect they can have on mileage!

Suppose the center had bulky masses of rubber where it should be flexible. Then pressure would crowd the tread out of shape—distorting the shoulder rubber—and uneven, choppy wear would shorten the life of the tire. But Goodrich Silvertowns are molded to the shape of the famous hinge-center tread design. To be sure of extra months of service from your tires—and cheerful service from your dealer—see us when you need new tires.

SORE

Should Not Rest

A. H. Nichols, who lives at 2111 Elm Tree Lane, Lexington, Ky., says:

"Some few years ago, my back was bad. I had very sharp pains in my side. My legs were in a terrible condition. I could not rest. The lower part of my body was very sore. I did not feel anything, and did not sleep at all at nights. I was almost of mine recomended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. It did not until I felt strong again."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found her back in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui," she adds, "and it worked wonderfully. It is a mild, medicinal made from purely vegetable ingredients."

CARDUI
OVER 50 YEARS

SAVE A LIFE CAMPAIGN

A statewide effort to prevent accidents and save lives is to be made.

Governor Dan Moody of the State of Texas, issued a proclamation on Sunday May 6, in the interest of "Save-a-Life." A copy of the proclamation is attached and is self-explanatory.

Automobile and automotive associations' membership and their employes are lending good support to the campaign, and all officially appointed Automobile Dealers and Garages make the inspection (as described in the Governor's Proclamation) free of charge to the car owners.

Naturally we have been in sympathy with any effort of resulting legislation, calculated to reduce highway accidents.

Prevention of motor car accidents, and reduction of resulting casualties, is a duty incumbent on every man, in all walks of life, and particularly those in the automotive industry and those who drive cars.

It is manifestly unfair to demand or expect that all this burden be placed on the shoulders of State officials of Police Departments. The mounting death rate of men, women and children, especially children, whose lives are crushed out annually, or the maimed and crippled permanently—should arrest the attention of every one to the performance of his duty in assisting to alleviate this condition.

Associations, Manufacturers, Automobile dealers, clubs, schools, civic organizations, Chambers of Commerce and all City Officials should put their shoulder to the wheel in an unbiased, unprejudiced effort to assist in reducing accidents, a real humanitarian act, "Save a Life."

Remember the dates, May 19th to June 9th, inclusive 1928.

"From Governor's Office, State Capitol, Austin, Texas:
Official Proclamation by Honorable Dan Moody, Governor of Texas:

"Whereas, experience has demonstrated that a considerable portion of the accidents involved in motor vehicles is directly chargeable to defective mechanism or equipment; and

"Whereas, these accidents leave in their wake untold suffering and loss of human life and limb, entirely aside from wanton waste of and damage to property; and

Whereas, a feasible plan has been worked out to aid Highway Departments and State Officials and ably aided by the automotive industry and the garages and service stations, has arranged for such inspection, free of charge, to include examination of brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism and mufflers during the period of May 19th to June 9, 1928:

"Now, therefore, I, Dan Moody, Governor of the State of Texas, do proclaim the period May 19th to and including June 9 next, as a Save-a-Life period.

"And I earnestly urge that all owners of motor vehicles avail themselves of this opportunity of free inspection of such vehicles and the elimination of all defects.

"Respectfully commend to the Mayor of each city, town and village that they make similar proclamation to their townspeople that Presidents of Chambers of Commerce, luncheon and motor clubs, and civic organizations, stress the significance of this safety movement, and I further recommend the subject of public safety as an appropriate theme for Clergymen and public speakers during the public safety period, to the end that greater success will attend the effort to reduce car accident hazard.

"Dan Moody, Governor."

GASOLINE PURCHASERS BEING SWINDLED

Inspectors of the division of weights and measures of the State Agriculture Department have been making investigations by the purchase method to learn how many filling stations are giving short measures to purchasers of gasoline and their findings prove that the motorists are being robbed out of millions of dollars by unscrupulous dealers.

Here's the result of their investigations:

From Jan. 11 to April 28 they tested 374 gasoline pumps; found 324 giving short measure and 50 giving over-measure. Only 50 were giving the correct amount.

The average gross shortage was 3.05 per cent; the net shortage 2.91 per cent. From March 1927 to March 1928, 607,437,583 gallons of gasoline were sold in Texas.

At the rate the buyers of gasoline are swindled out of at least 17682,260 gallons of gasoline which at 18 cents per gallon would mean a loss of $3,182,000.

The investigations were made in Ft. Worth, Dallas, Austin, Taylor, Waco, Houston, Galveston and Beaumont.

These important facts were supplied us by J. A. Kinard, one of the representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, who assisted in making the above investigation.

WANTS TRAIT TO FORCE WILL-ON OTHERS IS CONDEMNED

From the Dallas News That national trait which finds expression in small groups trying to fix their will, their morals, and their standards upon the majority was emphatically condemned Monday by Federal Judge William H. Atwell in his charge to the new Federal grand jury which will serve throughout the May term of Federal Court here.

"So far," he said, "have blocks, cliques, groups and classes gone in America, that it is not an unusual sight to witness a law-making body unable to function as disinterested and constitutional as may be such a proceeding."

"We find societies organized in which some citizens gather together for the purpose of proscribing others, for persecuting those who differ in politics or religion or belief of origin—forgetting that America is a home for all and that the soul of its fundamental law is the protection of all."

"House Divided Apparent" "So far has this habit progressed with us that some of us are wondering whether the old adage of a house divided against itself can not stand should not again be called to the attention of Americans."

Judge Atwell scored jurors who passed upon the guilt or innocence of defendants charged with breaking the national prohibition laws, when they themselves broke the law.

John R. Atkins, Dallas cafe owner, was named foreman of the jury. Other members are J. P. Bailey, Dallas County; J. R. English, Navarro County; F. M. Kleber, Dallas County; W. Pyates, Kaufman County; Neal Warren, Johnson County; O. M. Woodruff, Navarro County; C. W. Hood, Dallas County; J. E. Perry, Dallas County; George H. Clark, Johnson County; W. W. Moore, Dallas County; W. T. Russell, Johnson County; J. P. Fisher, Dallas County; Walter Peel Kaufman County; Ben P. Walker, Navarro County; C. F. Grubbs, Kaufman County; Z. L. Higginbotham, Johnson County; P. H. Lindsey, Dallas County; M. R. Brooks, Kaufman County; John R. Atkins, Dallas County; and C. D. Hughes, Johnson County.

The Judge's charge included instructions concerning the prohibition law, the interstate commerce law, the Dyer act, the Mann act, postal laws, narcotic laws and the banking laws.

Interest Kept Out "It may not be amiss for us," Judge Atwell concluded, "to bear in mind that this court and similar courts are the only places in America where interest does not persuade or influence. The great body of the people even our legislatures and Congress and churches are given to the promotion of groups, blocks, classes and societies."

"In the industrial realm those who labor are divided into the union and non-union groups. Those who make and those who produce are divided into free trade and protectionist groups. All of commerce is dominated by the spirit of competition. Even in the highest legislative branch of the nation those who raise from the soil are in the death struggle with those who produce the finished products from the raw material; those who may be called liberals or progressives with other copies affairs, are at loggerheads with those who would be conservative about that which does not concern them."

Watch Flowers Fly

Have you ever—had of course you have—raced down in a too swift trip from Cherbourg to Paris, through the French countryside on a spring afternoon when all the apple trees in Normandy are in full bloom? And through the trees you catch a glimpse of little old farmhouses that have stood there in the midst of their flowering orchards for centuries? Enchanting, these little houses; but according to modern standards hardly comfortable, says Arts and Decorations. Once inside, we should find the rooms too small and crowded; the windows too small to admit of proper ventilation; the kitchen antiquated, and the work done there made doubly difficult because of lack of equipment. No, these little houses are lovely to look at; on a walking trip, if it might come on too quickly, one might enjoy staying over night, perhaps, sharing a French supper with the farmer's household, en famille, gathered about the kitchen table; sleeping in one of the little rooms under the thatched roof, listening to the sleeping chirp of birds in the long soft twilight. But to live in one of these houses—impossible. It remains for our own young country to combine much of the charm of these old Normandy farmhouses with Twentieth century comfort.

Device Said to Be Superior to X-Ray

Dr. Andre Tours, a Frenchman, has discovered a means of making the human body transparent, so that all the organs will be seen working as in a mirror. The doctor has refused all financial assistance, and also an offer to go to the United States. He is determined that the first data shall be given to medical men of France.

If flesh can be made transparent so that the bones can be seen clearly by surgeons and osteopaths, X-rays will be dispensed with in locating internal troubles. The doctor in future will be able to see the trouble at once without diagnosing blindly. In cases of consumption and cancer the transparency of flesh will be an enormous boon to medical men.

Doctor Tours claims that his discovery will assist experts in tracing the cause of death where murder is suspected. The presence of poison will be easily detected, and in the case of shooting the exact course of a bullet will be traced.

Explained

The newly appointed pastor of a negro church faced a packed audience when he arose to deliver a sermon on the burning question: "Is There a Hell?"

"Brethren," he said, "de Lord made the world round like a ball. 'Amen!' agreed the congregation.

"And the Lord made two axles for de world to go round on, one axle at de North pole and one axle at de South pole.

"And de Lord put a lot of oil and grease in de center of de world, so as to keep de axles well greased and oiled."

"Amen!" said the congregation. "And then a lot of sinners dug wells in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and Mexico and Russia, and steal de Lord's oil and grease.

"And some day dey will have all of de Lord's oil and grease, and dem axles is gonna git hot. And den, dat will be hell, brethren, dat will be hell."—Prairie Farmer.

Timber Loss by Insects

The standing timber of the country suffers a serious loss by reason of the operations of various insects which either destroy the wood or damage it to such an extent that it must be placed in a lower grade by the dealer. The government agents have recently given this matter some investigation and an elaborate report has been prepared advising growers and handlers how to cut down this loss. The principal damage comes under two types of defects, designated as wormholes, with no living worms or decay, and powder post. Powder post occurs only in the seasoned sapwood or heartwood. This type of injury is dangerous, since the grubs continue their destructive work in the wood and also infect other timber nearby.

False Alarm

Mr. Linkins, the junior member of the firm, had a peculiarly irritating sneeze. It began with an elaborate and terrifying series of facial convulsions, and ended with a most tame and impotent paroxysm that always disappointed the expectant observer.

"Your sneeze," volunteered Mr. Jenkins, senior partner, after watching him through one of his performances, "is a regular circus."

"A circus?" questioned Mr. Linkins. "Yes," was the rejoinder. The performance never comes up to the advance notices."

Symbol of Good and Evil

Bats are found in all parts of the world, and, as might be expected from their powers of flight, inhabit many remote islands, such as Bermuda and New Zealand. They are absent, however, from the coldest parts of the world and are most numerous in eastern tropics. In Chinese art the bat signifies happiness; as the Chinese character Fu, meaning bat, is identical in sound with the character Fu, meaning blessing. Among Bicolos and other Malays the bat is the messenger of Asuang, "God of Evil."

Had one of our women murdered her husband, run off with the policeman, had twins or sent us some neighborhood news, everything would have been all right.
In fact, we don't care whether you read this item or not.
Something had to go into this space and this is it.
We don't think much of it ourselves—but who wants to see white space?
THE EDITOR.

If things are quiet in Big Spring where we have oil development, a big industrial pay root, busy conditions in the agricultural section, a dozen or more big building projects under construction, paving and waterworks improvements, many new homes under construction, just imagine what it is in places which haven't all these things to fall back on. We may be inclined to grumble, but we have no reason for so doing.

QUESTION BOX

ON HEALTH subjects Edited by STATE DEPARTMENT of HEALTH
J. C. Anderson, M.D. State H.O.

THIS column will be given to discussion of matters pertaining to public health. Any questions regarding public health administration, prevention of diseases, child care, sanitation, etc., will be answered in succeeding issues of this paper. Questions in regard to cure of diseases will not be answered, as the scope of this Department includes only disease prevention. Address Question Box, State Department of Health, Austin.

1. My mother suffers from a moist condition of her skin on her hands and feet; it occurs about this time of the year and lasts during the summer months; it is so moist that her stockings are often quite wet and then her limbs get scaly. Some say she has Eczema. Can you suggest a course of treatment we might try? (Mrs. Mary Martin-Merard.)
2. I read so much about sex novels as taught in the schools and as my young daughter is in the high school where sex problems of marriage and eugenics are sometimes brought up, I want to ask if you would advocate the teaching of "Sex" in high schools? (Mrs. J. M. P. McKinney.)
3. This very question is causing debate over the world and we read that in Japan, Dr. Miyake, a medical expert, has talked on the scientific side of the question, urging parents and teachers to gain and accurate and wide-knowledge regarding sex matters in order that many tragedies of marriage may be avoided. It has been advised that text books should be compiled with ideas on eugenics; teachers should possess scientific knowledge of sex; sex education should be taught in connection with ethics, domestic science and physiology and hygiene; instruction preferably should be given in groups rather than by individual tutelage.
4. Many of these cases of eczema of the hands and feet are ringworm infection. A very few are due to yeast. These ringworm (tinea) eczemas of the hands and feet are the commonest affections of these parts that the dermatologist sees. The condition described in the works on dermatology under ringworm of the hands and feet, eczematoid ringworm. It is only within recent years, however, that the very common role of tinea in causing eczema of these parts has been recognized. In acute cases do not fail to consult a physician.
5. Afflicted With Corns
6. Please, please tell me some remedy for soft corns with which I am so afflicted that I can scarcely attend to my household duties. (Mrs. Anna Shaw Gollard.)
7. All pressure should be removed from a too tight or mis-shapen shoe, all inequalities of heels be rectified. Soft corns should not remain moist but be dried with a good powder, such as boric acid powder. Feet must be kept clean and dry!

GIFTS TO BRIDESMAIDS
Dear Sue:
Patsy's gift to her bridesmaids came today, and I am so enthusiastic about it I thought I would write you at once in case you want to pass the idea on to your soon-to-be-married Cora. It is a perfectly set of costume jewelry in turquoise, set in gold, necklace bracelet, girle brooch and large-stoned ring. Nothing can be more appropriate for our bridesmaids' costumes of chiffon, shading from rose tulle to pale pink, petal shaped hems, could it? The mistress of honor, or her married sister, whose dress is all one shade of turquoise blue received the same kind of a set—only in pretty topaz—you see the colors contrasting. These sets of jewelry are now the fashion of course, as gifts to bridal attendants specially chosen for each costume, and if a bride chooses your costume she must also select your jewelry. We had wondered why Patsy had remained silent on this important point, and here is her answer in a fine set of hand-made ornaments, coming from a well-known jeweler. A gift we will cherish for years to come. But that is like our dear, socially-correct Pat to confine her economy to bridesmaids (there are only four of us) and not to their gifts.

STRAIGHT THINKING
The Rev. L. O. Vermillion is to be congratulated upon his attitude on the Democratic primary pledge. It is a tribute both to his comprehension of right and wrong as a minister and to his political attitude as a citizen and Democrat.
Dr. Vermillion is a life long Democrat but this year he is not sure that he will be a Democrat in November. Consequently he refrains from taking a moral obligation which would bind him to support the nominee of the party, because he figures that under certain conditions, he would not be able to abide by that pledge.
There have been and are various reverend gentlemen who are able to persuade their consciences that they have a clear moral right to enter a party primary, promise to abide by its results and then, if their own pet candidate does not happen to be successful, to ignore the pledge on the plea that their consciences will not let them keep it. Apparently their consciences raise no objections to violation of the pledge.
Dr. Vermillion has a clearer view. He does not believe the pledge should be imposed. In other words he should have the right to bolt. They base their attitude on the theory that if a man participates in party matters, he should remain a component part of the organization. Our system of party government would not last long if every man who differed with party action, started a party of his own.
Dr. Vermillion legally could have signed that pledge and then in case of Gov. Smith's nomination, voted the Republican ticket but he couldn't have done it morally and defended his course. His decision upon the question should help various others to see just where their moral obligations rest.—El Paso Times.

A LITTLE CARD MEANS MUCH
Do you remember your wife, mother, sister, or daughter on her birthday, on Easter, or on some other anniversary. Some men do, but others are so filled with thoughts of business, golf, fishing or the ball game that these days which mean so much to women, slip by unnoticed.
Mother appreciates a little birthday card, even though she may be eighty years of age. No wife wants her anniversary to slip by without a greeting of some kind from husband, son or daughter.
Presents are always appreciated, but with or without a present, an attractive little greeting card containing a sentiment suitable for the occasion may be sent by anyone. It is inexpensive, but oh how it is appreciated by the recipient.
Mail your "special days" ahead of time so that they may be thus taken care of.

The NASH ADVANCED SIX COUPE with Rumble Seat $1775 f.o.b.

One of the most popular Coupes of the NASH Styled-NASH Price
When you buy the Nash Advanced Six Coupe you buy style and individuality as distinctive and original as the creations of the most expensive custom body builders.
But because this Coupe is produced in a factory where great volume prevails, you do not pay a custom price.
Listen to the favorable comment you hear on all sides, concerning this smartly turned out car. Then drive it and learn that its performance also matches the ability of higher-priced cars.
Notice the smoothness and quietness and extra power of the precision-balanced, 7-bearing, in-head Nash motor.

Steering ease is another attribute Nash is noticeably easier on than that steer and park the car.
And there's no getting away from the fact that Nash 2-speed brakes provide extra safety and require less care than the single-speed brakes on other cars.
You get more than you pay for, you buy a Nash. It's finer motor at a lower price. We have the car on display. Come in and see it.

ed the most "suggestive" of poets that is, he gives the key-word, makes a dash, and leaves the rest to the imagination of the reader.

"He places his people before us with a few pen strokes, and proceeds to delve down into their inmost souls and portrays their deepest emotions, reveals their thoughts and uncovers their sins and brings them to light, as in one of our texts today, "Lippo Lippi" the unregenerate monk.

"Most of his poems are too learned and require too much study to make easy reading, and are hampered by his scholarship. He did not seem to be able, or take the pains, to make himself plain like Shakespeare, so that the simplest could understand.

"Browning was a man of high ideals and of a spotless life. No shame or shadow ever touched him, or his life, as did that of Byron, Burns and Shelley. As a lover he did not write "woeful ballads to his mistress' eye brows," nor sing of "voluptuous beauties," and of fond maids who had loved him, "not wisely but too well," and of all the Maries up in Heaven" who had died of love for him, as did Burns. He was a true marriage, and in soul they were never apart. He wrote the "Ring and the Book" as a memorial to his wife, which is fit to make any woman thrill with pride that one of her sex should inspire such lofty devotion. Browning has been contrasted with Tennyson and although they were two great lights of the same period, and wrote poetry for 60 years, yet they had little in common.

"Tennyson was thoroughly English and found his themes in his own land and among the English classes. Browning was a man of the world, and found subjects for his poems in every clime and among various people. Tennyson's verse was a smooth and musical ripple. Browning's is condensed and rugged, and often coined words for his purpose.

Tennyson sang sadly of his loss by the people at once, and only in recent years has Browning become widely appreciated, as is known by the many "Browning clubs."

"Baylor has a 'Browning Room,' and in it there are thousands of poems in his praise, written in nineteen different languages. His words have been recently counted, and it was found he used nearly 30,000 different words. Tennyson and Shakespeare used less than 20,000 words.

"It is believed by some critics that Browning wrote "Nearer My God to Thee." Tennyson wrote "Crossing the Bar." These songs are often used at funerals, and breathe the lofty faith of all they wrote."

Mrs. Pat Buchanan has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

TO THE LIMIT
Arson is often called the "crime of crimes" and there is good justification for such a title. It is responsible for more than 50 per cent of the lives of firemen lost in all fires. On arson fire is said to cost more than a dozen accidental fires.

Many fires where arson cannot be proved and which are listed in the "unknown" or "miscellaneous" column, are caused by arson. It is estimated that 20 per cent of all fires are incendiary.

Arson is a crime committed against society not just against insurance companies. Arson is committed by the lowest type of criminal—one who does not hesitate to endanger the lives of innocent people.

Arson is being combated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, working with leading states and cities. A model arson law is being urged in various states. Many suspicious fires today are being investigated by arson detectives and increased convictions are resulting. No leniency should be shown the arsonist.
