Citizens Respond: $899 Needed For Festival

CHOIR PIANIST—This young lady has her work cut out for her. She is pianist for the A Capella choir.

A $1,500 goal, set through the need of funds to send the award winning Mighty M Band and a Capella Choir to the Buccaneer Festival in Corpus Christi, is being reduced by contributions of Bailey County people.

Last Thursday, the plea went out for the lacking funds for this long-awaited trip, and at press time today $601.00 has been pledged toward the original goal.

Today, 150 students of Muleshoe high school look to you, John Q. Public, for the additional $899, to assure them of participating in this upcoming festival.

Members of the choir, under direction of Leasel Richardson and the Muleshoe Band members, directed by Bob Breckenridge, are capable of bringing home honors from this festival as they have from other events they have participated in this year and in years past.

Seventeen members of the band made All-Regional Band and played in the All-Region concert at Coronado High School only last Saturday.

The A Capella choir is hard to place in the "back seat" anywhere. They have taken their share of the honors, too.

If you have not had the opportunity to hear these two school groups during their many public performances, then slip into their practice rooms at Muleshoe high school and see and hear them as they prepare for this once-in-a-life time occasion.

The Fine Arts Boosters are planning activities to assist in this fund raising campaign.

COIN COLLECTORS

All coin collectors and interested persons are asked to attend the tournament to bid on a roll of Indian head pennies donated by Jerrell Ottwell of the Fine Arts Boosters to help raise the needed funds for band choir trip.

Every penny taken in at this tournament and auction will go into this fund, R.A. Bradley said today.

The students are very appreciative of those who have given thus far to this cause and feel that the additional funds needed will be raised.

Those making contributions are Kenneth Precure, E. C. Erickson, O. N. Jennings, Lester Howard, D. A. Marlow, T. R. White, Charles Lenu, Vernon Roming, Dr. Birdsong, KMUL, Francis Glass, Joe Em-KMUL, Francis Glass, Joe Embrury, M. D. Locker, Kerry Moore, Nova Darsey, M. F. Balckman, R. A. Bradley, W. H. Bradley, Carl Ellington, Good Luck Laundry, Howard Cox, L. B. Hall, Rev. J. Frank Peery, Maytag Laundry, Bill Jim St. Clair, Loyce Killingsworth, Carl Bamert and Dr. B. Z. Beaty.

Pledges may be made by calling Mrs. George Haskins, 272-4903, KMUL or Muleshoe Publishing Co.

Field Work Begins on City, County Industrial Survey

James R. Bradley, Head of the Industrial Economics Research Division, Texas A & M University was in Muleshoe January 19 and 20 to start the field work on the industrial survey of Muleshoe and Bailey County.

A meeting of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation was held Thursday, 3 p.m. at the community room of the First National Bank where Bradley outlined basic plans and explained some of the functions of the Texas A & M Industrial Economics Research Division to MAIF board members and other interested civic leaders in attendance.

Harmon Elliott, Chairman of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation stated that the Industrial Economics Research

Division was retained to do the industrial survey to help the members of the Foundation determine the industrial potential of Muleshoe.

Phase I of the survey will be the preparation of an Industrial Facts Book. This will consist of a detailed study of the social, economic and governmental elements of Muleshoe and Bailey County as they are related to its economic development and potential. The Industrial Facts Book will include specific information on Muleshoe and Bailey County as to the general description, living conditions, business and industry, utilities and communications, transportation, taxation and indebtedness, laws and regulations, markets, labor, raw materials, and industrial sites and buildings. This phase will require approximately three months for completion.

Phase II of the industrial survey will be the publication of an Industrial Development Plan for Muleshoe. This report will include problems areas of the community, a list of industries that are the best prospects for location in the area, an evaluation of the industrial location factors and an action program which gives guidelines for implementation of the overall program. This phase of the survey will be completed by July 1, 1967.

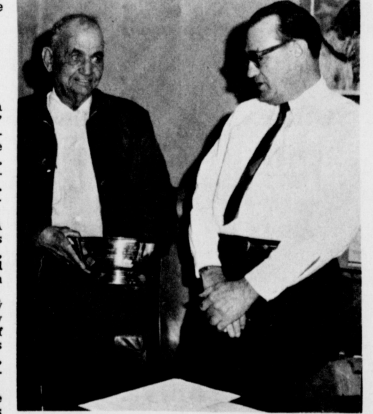

This will be one of several trips to the Muleshoe area by members of the Industrial Economics Research Division staff while conducting the survey.

The staff will be gathering information and interviewing business, civic and industrial leaders of the area during their visits to Muleshoe.

Two A & M staff members, Perry J. Shepard and Blake Worth will begin work here January 30.

22 members built a $250,000 Mental Health and Retardation Clinic, one of the finest in the nation, and of a town in Oregon that was divided into three parts with no common government. The young men formed themselves into a Jaycee organization, and with Ism, Asm, and Pazaz had an election called and consolidated the three communities into one strong, unified city. Echols concluded his address that if each person present would keep this friend in their pocket the impossible would become a matter of reality.

Following the address three annual awards were presented by Carl White, president; Ernest Martin, Bosses Night Chairman; and Franklin Mann, Jaycee Week Chairman. White recognized Ed Wuerflein as the recipient of the Jaycee of the Month Award for the month of December and presented the Outstanding Boss of the Year Award to Alex Williams, of Williams and Merriman Certified Public Accountants. The Boss of the Year is chosen by the Jaycees. Ernest Martin presented the Outstanding Young Citizen Award to Kenneth Henry, owner of Henry Insurance. This award is presented to a Young Citizen between the age of 21 and 35 that has been an outstanding servant in the Muleshoe Community. He is chosen by a panel of merchants and businessmen of Muleshoe. Franklin Mann awarded the Outstanding Merchant Award to Thurman White of White's Cashway Grocery. This award is presented by the Jaycees to a merchant that has improved his business in the last year either by expansion or by improving the appearance.

Should this deadline not be met and funds come in later, the cost of the trip would be raised due to a "deadhead" bus charter fee and adequate housing being taken up in good, but lower rate places. For example the bus "deadhead" fee from buses chartered in Lubbock would not be as much as it would should buses later have to come from the greater distance, Amarillo or even farther.

25 years and has seen it grow from 225 meters to more than 1,500 . . . From the small storage tank to storage capacity overhead of 250,000 gallons and a ground storage of 400,000 and presently maintains four pumping stations. In addition to keeping these stations going, the storage tanks full, Young also keeps a daily log of gallons of water used and is responsible for treating the city water properly. Young said bonds were voted for improvement in the Muleshoe water system in 1926, 1939, 1946, 1956 and 1960. "We started out here with some small, inadequate lines," Young said, "and had some trouble in earlier years keeping them in order until larger lines could be put in, but we managed, and I have seen almost all the city water lines go in." There wasn't too many water works here 25 years ago. Mayor Wilbur LeVeque said, "We are proud of Young and his record here with the Water system. His record here is one not often excelled."

I have never heard of the city being without water and never failed to have ample water for the firemen to fight fires. In addition to his being a good water superintendent, Young has been a good citizen of Muleshoe during the 32 years he has lived here." Asked about the water-fire situation Fire Chief Earl Ladd said "Young has always had the water there for us . . . not one single time has he failed. Not only that, but he has been very helpful to us in many other ways . . . I can truthfully say he has gone far beyond the call of duty in helping the fire department."

"Not only is Young to be highly commended for his 25 years of service, but Fire Chief Earl Ladd is another faithful city servant with his fire department ranking second in the entire state of Texas," Mayor LeVe-que continued. "To this comment, Young said, "The years I have worked with Ladd and his men has been a pleasure and they have done a fine job."

THE CLIMB

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

 The bridegrooms mother wore a rose two-piece knit suit with black corsage of white feathered carnations trimmed with pink net and satin.

COOKING TIPS

When you are cooking foods "en brochette," leave about 1/4-inch between each piece you insert on the skewers.
 In making Western Sandwiches, scrambled eggs are enriched with onion, green pepper and ham for the filling. But, if you like, you may use dried beef instead of the ham. Just saute the beef with the onion and green pepper before adding to the beaten eggs.

Double Ring Vows Unite Couple In Wedlock

A sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and white mums flanked by emerald trees and candelabra holding white wedding tapers formed the setting for the wedding of Linda Cheryl Kelm, Portales, and Horace Williams Coffman, Milnesand, N.M.
 Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Felix Kelm, Portales, and Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Coffman, Farwell.
 The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Henry L. Schaefer in the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Clovis January 1.
 The central arrangement of the church was an arch candelabra covered with magnolia foliage holding white tapers. Focal point of the setting was a white kneeling bench enwined with magnolia foliage.
 Candles were lighted by Mack Lockwood and Nani Noach, both of Clovis. John Sullivan, organist, played appropriate nuptial selections and also accompanied Sheila House, soloist, cousin of the bride. She sang, "I'll Walk Beside You," prior to the entrance of the wedding party. Ralph Davis, soloist, sang, "The Lord's Prayer," a benediction as the bride and groom knelt.

 Mike Camp, Lubbock, former classmate of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman were Larry Gregory, Bob Chadwick, Ricky Fletcher, Farwell, Bruce McCuan, Farwell, and Jim Rackley, Portales.
 Ringbearers were Richard Kelm, brother of the bride, Portales, and Gaye Coffman, sister of the groom, Farwell.
 Karen Kelm, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Teri Blackeley and Susie Buckel, Portales and Sydney Bell, Farwell, April Coffman, sister of the groom, was flower girl.
 Attendants were attired in identical floor length dresses of medium blue satin designed with empire waistlines accented by bows; and elbow length sleeves finished with satin and lace ruffles. Their minute veils of blue tulle were held by a circle of electric blue satin. Each attendant carried a cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations accented by electric blue streamers.

 The flower girl was attired identically to the other attendants except that her dress had a white bow and streamers at the waist. She carried a minute basket of white filled with feathered carnations. The basket was accented by streamers of blue. The ring-bearer was attired identically to the flower girl.
 The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of brocade pearl do sole designed with an empire waist and wrist length fitted sleeves. The chapel train was accented to the dress at the shoulder. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held by a pearl crown. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis accented by ivy garlands and white lace streamers, carried atop a white satin covered Bible.

 Following tradition, the bride chose for something old and borrowed a handdrawn lace handkerchief, an heirloom over 100 years old which Mr. Kelm had carried at her wedding; blue was served with punch or coffee, mints and nuts. The bride and groom used a silver cake knife, a gift from Sheila House, to cut the cake. Napkins bearing the names "Cheryl and Hobbie" and crystal appointments completed the table decor.
 Presiding at the serving table were Diana Luck and Beverly Webb. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Bert House, aunt of the bride, and Miss Linda Haley. For a wedding trip to La Junta Guest Ranch, Ruidoso, N.M. the bride wore a twopiece suit with white accessories. A corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet completed the ensemble.
 Mrs. Coffman is a 1966 graduate of Portales High School and is a freshman at Eastern New Mexico University. The groom is a 1966 graduate of Farwell High School and is presently employed on the N.D. Ainsworth ranch at Milnesand.

An Ancestor Speaks

(EDITORS NOTE: The following was written by John Guiley a Muleshoe High School Junior. John attended last year's Texas Youth Conference and is deeply interested in patriotism.)

by John Guiley

Out of the velvet-like royal blue past, a tall, straight figure emerges. His apparel is a curious, yet seemingly appropriate combination of historical American clothing. His hair is snowy white. His eyes are sad and purposeful. He has a courageous face with rough weathered cheeks. He stops several yards away.

I stand dumbfounded before him, surrounded in a vast, dark emptiness. The only light is now upon his face. I have no inkling of who this strange man is or why he is here, but somehow he looks vaguely familiar.

1809! Now I remember! There is an old painting with 1809 marked on it in faded brown numerals in our attic bearing a remarkable resemblance to this man. I was told that was the date my great-great-grandfather died. . . this was the man in the painting.

The old man began to speak in a low, quiet voice. "I have come to reveal to you some things your ancestors have decided you must be told. We have observed the progression of our country. I say our country because I am your ancestor. I see you already have realized that. I won't waste your time, because when I finish, you will have a great deal to do. I want you to know . . . I am ashamed of you. I'm ashamed that one of my descendants could be so mediocre, so nonchalant about his country. I'm ashamed to see many of my descendants protesting the efforts of our government in trying to spread the freedoms that you enjoy to all parts of the world. How can you be so selfish? My brother, your great-great-uncle, was killed in the Revolution to give you every freedom you possess today."

"My son, your great-grandfather, was crippled in the War of 1812. He sat in a wheelchair the rest of his life so you could vote, change or quit jobs, fight city hall, and support yourself according to your ability and initiative. In the past, over half a million ancestors of the present generation have poured forth an ocean of blood to wash back the forces of tyranny. They gave their lives for the simple rights you take for granted."

"Why did so many go to fight in support of their country? Because they wanted to maintain their freedom. Since the passing of my life of this earth, the United States has enjoyed the privilege of world leadership. Since that time, the following generations have felt they have nothing to worry about, but that is not true. My generation built this country, you must maintain it. America must always be the number one country. It will never slip to number two or three; it will go straight to the bottom. This country was not built to be anything but the best."

And even now you're lowering your guard. You think America is so great that it could never fail, because you've never been without success. If you don't defend your country at all times you will lose it. My brother and my son gave their utmost to keep America alive and you can't give up now! You can't! If you do, my brother and son will have given themselves in vain. You can't give up so easily. You can't be a mediocre American. In the name of the half of a million Americans who paid with their lives the price of freedom, I ask you to support your country. After so much suffering in your behalf, you must carry on the tradition and duty so that your descendants may enjoy your privileges."

The light on his face lessened as his eyes glistened with pride of his heritage and mine. The chills in his back and mine must have been simultaneous, for at that instant, he turned and walked quickly back into the past. Even as he turned he was blurred by the reappearing blue mist, and by my tears.

THE VICOUNTS—Tootie Middlebrooks, chairman of the adult board of the Muleshoe Youth Center, announces that the Vicounts have been engaged to play for the January 28 dance at American Legion Hall. Middlebrooks said this was one of the top name bands in the area and although engaging them costs more, prices of $1 for members and $1.75 for non-members would remain the same due to the good attendance at the dances lately.

Rose and Rosebud Chapter Planning February Banquet

The Rose and Rosebud Chapters of F. H. A. are already thinking about their banquet on February 12, 1967. As is the custom, the Rose Chapter chooses the theme and the Rosebud Chapter decorates accordingly. The theme this year is "Mother Goose and Medieval Castle". The Rosebud officers have already met, chosen jobs, and sought help. Plans are still shaky, but with the help of Mrs. Newsom, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Black, F. H. A. parents and numerous other people, maybe, just maybe, the banquet will come off in grand style.

Chapters Hold Joint Party

The Muleshoe Chapters of F. H. A. and F. F. A. had a joint Christmas party on December 16. Each F. H. A. member brought six sandwiches. The F. F. A. Chapter furnished the cokes. Everyone had a lot of fun playing ping-pong, volleyball, shuffle board, cards, basketball, and posing for pictures.

Class Favorites

Ann Phelps and Benny Bruns were elected 'Class Favorites' by the Senior class January 18. The class also discussed the Senior gift to the school. A committee was appointed to receive suggestions from the students and to check on the prospects of purchasing them. A step toward graduation was taken as the Seniors excitedly ordered their graduation announcements. January 19.

School Students Have Opportunity For Recognition

High school students in this area will again have the opportunity to receive public recognition for their achievement in art through the Northwest Texas Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition to be held in Amarillo.

White & Kirk will serve as regional sponsor of the 1967 Scholastic Art Awards, conducted nationally by Scholastic Magazines. The rules book announces that work may be entered in 19 classifications in the fields of printing, drawing, printmaking, design, sculpture, crafts, and photography. Teachers will select the best work done in their classes, and send it to the regional sponsor to be judged by artists and art educators recommended by the Advisory Committee.

Work selected by the judges will go on display at White & Kirk from February 18 until March 4. Entries must be submitted during the week of January 30 through February 4. Gold achievement keys and certificates of merit will be awarded for the outstanding work.

After the show, the "blue ribbon" finalists selected from the key-winning pieces will be forwarded to national headquarters in New York City. There they will be judged along with finalists from other regions for national awards.

National judges will select winners of 425 gold medals mounted on plaques with winner's name engraved, and 82 tuition scholarships to art schools and colleges. Special cash awards will be the Hallmark Honor Prizes of $100 each for the best painting or drawing from each region, and the Strathmore Awards of $50 each for the best piece in each of the two-dimensional art classifications. In addition, the photography division offers 269 cash awards in black-and-white and color photography, as well as a scholarship grant of $1000.

LEARN TO DRIVE SANTA FE—A Santa Fe youth apparently had barely in mind, but he overlooked one important result: He didn't know how to drive.

City police said the youth happened into a parked convertible at a church parking lot, backed into one car and rained another.

Frustrated, he fled on foot, leaving the damaged cars behind.

Teachers Attend Math Workshop

Seventeen elementary teachers attended a Science Research Associates (SRA) Math workshop, Tuesday, January 17, from 5:30 - 8:00 p.m., at South Elementary School in Dimmitt. Mrs. Helen Fremyer, S. R. A. consultant, demonstrated many unique approaches to the teaching of the modern math program. Mrs. Fremyer stressed letting the child discover and teaching him to think. Too many times we tell the child the answer thus resulting in memorization without understanding, she added. A display of all kinds of manipulative materials was shown.

The SRA Math Series is used in grades one and two in Mary DeShazo and Richland Hills Schools.

Those attending were: Eloise Wilson, Mabel Wolfe, Owetha Finley, Norma Jo Prather, Loyce Killingsworth, Mary Mardis, Katherine Sanders, W. F. (Bill) Taylor, Elizabeth Watson, Edith Fox, Pauline Bennefield, Lois Witherspoon, Hattie Golling, Edna Willoughby, Mildred Tanner, Elsie Kendall, and Estelle Fox.

The Bombing

While all Americans would welcome an end to the bombing of civilian communities in Vietnam and an end to the war there, most probably feel the North Vietnamese should make appropriate deescalation concessions if the U. S. orders a halt to the bombings.

Since the North Vietnamese in the past have offered no such cooperation, the bombings have not been stopped. On the one occasion when they were stopped, in the hope that a gesture would be forthcoming from the Communists, no such gesture was made.

Yet the squawks from the Communist side grow louder and louder, and could mean several things. First, of course, the Communists hope to gain much propaganda value from the humanitarianism of the world in painting a repulsive picture of U. S. bombing. And they have recently gained ground in this field.

Another reason for the howls might be that the bombings are beginning to hurt—that bombings of Hanoi are beginning to cause stirrings among the population, to affect morale. It is easy to reach such a conclusion and our experience in Germany in World War II does not indicate aerial bombing necessarily breaks civilian morale. In Vietnam, however, there has been fighting for about twenty years and the population may be restive under the siege from the air, or showing signs of becoming accented by the assault.

WASHINGTON NOTES

COMPUTERS AND TAXES

For the first time all tax returns will get a complete check by electronic means—the automatic data-processing system. Computers verifying mathematics alone turned up about $19.1 in its annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30th.

INDUSTRY GROWTH IN 1967

The Commerce Department has predicted continued expansion by most of American industry during 1967. While most industries will grow, the forecasts are that the volume of construction will drop moderately this year.

GI DIVIDEND

Veterans with GI life insurance will receive their share of the $211-million 1967 dividend on the anniversary date of their policies. There are 4,222,000 World War II veterans who have retained their GI insurance.

ON FILIBUSTERS

Several Senators—Democrats and Republicans—have launched a move to facilitate ending Senate filibusters. They are seeking a change in Senate Rule 22 which now requires a two-thirds majority of senators voting to cut off debate.

ON SCHOOL LUNCHES

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman says the school lunch program will get more Government-donated food during the second half of the current school year. About 229,000,000 pounds of food which cost the Government $62,800,000 will be delivered to the schools.

A VIET 'WALL'

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has called for a defensive barrier across Vietnam which would reduce Communist infiltration more than bombing the north. It is reported the Pentagon has studied the possibilities of establishing a defense zone at the 17th Parallel.

MORE PILOTS

The Air Force has announced plans to increase its pilot training program by at least 15 per cent. A new undergraduate pilot training facility is being opened at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas. The aim is to train out 3,247 pilots a year.

FARMERS OPTIMISTIC

On a whole, the nation's farmers believe 1967 will be a good income year. With the government boosting production goals, the farmer is asking for more credit—especially short-term and intermediate loans—despite higher interest charges.

Ask Amy

WHERE DO YOU BURY A DOG?

Dear Amy: If you or your readers find my letter humorous, I'm sorry for you. I am an adult male and my problem concerns my dog who has been my friend and "confidant" for many years. No human being could mean as much to me as my "Sparky." Now he is old and probably will not live for too many more years.

Where to bury my friend has been bothering me for some time as I own no property where a grave would be suitable. I am quite serious and hope you have a suggestion for me which I will find satisfying.

Dear Mr. Rainey: The one best place to bury a pet is in the heart of its master. But since you feel its final resting place must be more tangible, please write to Pegen Fitzgerald, President, Anti-Vivisection Society of New York, 220 East 57th Street, New York, New York 10022.

Dear Amy: There is no other way than through your column that I can thank the kind and thoughtful people who had heart enough to contribute to the thousands of packages and Christmas cards that were air-freighted to Viet Nam. My son was the recipient of many cards and a few "care" packages from a family he doesn't even know who had compassion enough to share their Christmas with him.

I am sincerely grateful... Mrs. J. R. Stone

Dear Amy: My problem is my Mom. I am 12 years old and she hasn't ever mentioned anything to me about menstruation. All of my girlfriends have told me that their moms have told them about it. Why doesn't my mom? Is it up to me to ask her or should she tell me herself? I've read some about it, but my curiosity still isn't satisfied. What can I do? I've gotten into terrible fights with her because I get so mad all of a sudden that she hasn't mentioned it to me and I sass her back. I am still hoping that sometime my Mom will tell me, but actually I've given up all hope. When I say something to her about it, she just shuts me up. Am I abnormal?

Dear Untold: Abnormal? Not it's time you were told what every young girl should know. Some mothers put off or need help in explaining the "facts of life" to their children. There are booklets designed for this purpose that are inexpensive and easily obtained from the American Medical Assn. Ask mother to drop me a note and I'll be happy to supply her with the name and address of same.

Dear Amy: I'm almost 19 years of age and I have a problem which has been bothering me for some time. The problem is I'm just plain scared of the feminine sex. I have had no dates—the last one being approximately eight months ago. A friend of mine in another town introduced me around to several girls and tried to get me to date them. My excuse was that I was too tired from the trip. What's up? It seems as though I should be more interested than I was at twelve or so, but I'm not. Do you think I should see a psychiatrist, or a psychologist, or see the family doctor and get his advice? I don't usually ask for anything, but I feel that it's about time I found out what's wrong.

Dear R.C.: Yes, it is about time that you found out what's wrong. Your family doctor would be the best place to seek advice. Good luck, son!

JUST DON'T USE A BUDGET

PEMBROKE, Ontario, Canada — A couple here has managed to raise 11 adopted children on an income of $65 a week by simply not worrying about money problems. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jansen find it isn't easy but it's fun. "We keep no budget," Mrs. Jansen says. "What would be the use? We'd only worry from week to week." Mrs. Jansen bakes all her own bread and cake and makes most of the children's clothes. She buys half a cow at a time, flour in a 100-pound bag and provides pork by purchasing a whole pig.

END OF THE TRAIL

Use Your Mind

Can you listen carefully to many people and conclude they're really trying to think through things and make intelligent comments?

In other words, when we discuss issues or topics of the day, do we attempt to understand both sides and look into the facts—even if that takes an effort—or do we just jump to a conclusion or say something that will be popular or provoke a laugh?

The freedom to dissent, to think for oneself, is a heritage dear to all of us. We were not in the beginning a nation of sheep; we are not today. This is because there have always been Americans who think for themselves, who use their minds independently, which helps keep this nation strong and prevents corruption and despotism.

And we must tolerate opposing views and the opinions of those who differ with us. Real thinkers are valuable assets to a community but are rare. It's easy to slip into the habit of loose talk and loose thinking, or lazy thinking. The individual who trains himself to hold his tongue, and

by—Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas House of Representatives is operating under far-reaching new rules. And a cooling-off period has been called in a controversy over whether both houses should revise joint procedures.

House of Representatives voted 145-0 for a modernized rulebook.

Key changed reduce the number of House committees from 43 to 25, after this session; inaugurate a modified seniority system; and set up a calendar system to determine the priority rights of bills ready for consideration.

Three days deep in the 60th Legislative session the House also approved 145-0 a proposed set of joint rules to govern matters involving both houses. This included Speaker Ben Barnes' proposal to limit conference committees to adjusting differences in bills passed by the two houses, rather than writing new legislation.

Another major provision calls for joint committees to form some nousekeeping functions.

Still another would require that conference committee meetings be open to the press and the public.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith turned a cold shoulder to the conference committee restriction, long advocated by Barnes. Smith said the Legislature has too many more important things to do than squabble over rules.

According to some House lieutenants, Barnes feels that a majority of the Senators favor his proposals. Smith pointed out that rules can be approved or amended only by a two-thirds vote.

So, the House version on joint rules is expected to spend an extended cooling-off period in a Senate committee.

If the House recommendations are not accepted, Barnes made it clear that he will regard his own conference committee appointees as duty bound to adjust differences only. If Senate conferees are not so restricted, he readily admitted an impasse may be reached when the first controversial piece of legislation goes to a conference committee.

LEGISLATIVE MEASURES—READY—Major legislation now in the hopper includes:

A constitutional amendment by Rep. Traivs Peeler of Corpus Christi to permit revision of the state constitution by sections, on submission by the Legislature.

Authority for cities to levy local option one-per-cent sales taxes by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin.

A minimum wage bill ($1.25 an hour) with Sen. Joe Bernas of San Antonio and Rep. Lauro Cruz of Houston as main sponsors.

Legalization of mixed drinks by Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

Abolishing the death penalty for crimes by Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi.

AMENDMENT VOIDED—Austin District Judge Herman Jones has held invalid the November 3 vote on a constitutional amendment of require annual voter registration.

Jones said the amendment's purpose was not properly described on the ballot which carried only the proposition to or not to "repeal the poll tax as a voting requirement." It was misleading, according to Judge Jones, because it failed to say that approval of the amendment would institute annual registration.

He pointed out that bills are unconstitutional if the Legislature does not give a clear statement in the title indicating what the bill does rule and this also applies to constitutional amendments.

Opponents of the amendment, the AFL/CIO, wanted to replace the poll tax with permanent voter registration.

Jones' ruling will be appealed to a higher court, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Soil Chemists Say Fertilizer Short in Spring

Increased wheat and feed grain acreages indicate a potential shortage of fertilizer in the spring of 1967, notes C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University. Such a situation could develop as national corn acreage is expected to be up 20 percent, and 45 percent of the total fertilizer used in the United States goes to this crop, Welch says. The lack of transportation and distribution facilities to deliver the needed fertilizer could make it difficult for farmers to obtain fertilizer at the time needed for planting. This could mean inadequate fertilization and less than potential production, Welch points out. Application of fertilizer in the late fall or early winter will enable the individual farmer to avoid the difficulty of obtaining fertilizer for 1967. Phosphorus, potassium, and nitrogen should be applied in the late fall or early winter if these conditions are met:

1. Soil temperature below 55 degrees F.
2. Have soils high in clay.
3. Put fertilizer in the soil.

The major concern over fall fertilization involves potential nitrogen losses. Should the nitrogen remain in the ammonium form during the winter period, the chances of loss are at a minimum. Nitrification of ammonium is low under 55 degrees F., therefore, farmers should consider fall or winter fertilization. In many instances where fertilizer has been early, a small amount of nitrogen and phosphorus applied with or near the seed at planting, will give good results and maintain the advantages of fertilization at or near planting, Welch explains.
