MIAMI (Special) — There's no telling what will happen when the whoop-and-holler men and women start yodeling at the 14th annual National Cow Calling Contest and Pioneer Roundup, to be held Saturday at Thompson Grove, one mile east of Miami.

For that reason, farmers and ranchers who live out around Thompson Grove always move their cows far back from the popular picnic area so they won't have to mend broken fences and drive their cattle back home.

Saturday's program will begin with a gathering of old timers at the American Legion Hall. Registration will begin at 9 o'clock and last until 11:45 when everyone will go to Thompson Grove for a basket lunch. The only admission will be a well-filled basket of food.

The cow calling will get underway at 2 p.m., and is open to anyone in the world. There will be no entry fee and the winners will receive cash prizes through the courtesy of Miami merchants.

TWITTY NEWS

By J. Lloyd Rice

It was pleasant early this morning to listen to the rain gently pattering on the roof. I was just hoping the shower ranged on down to my pasture.

I just returned from a rather long trip from here to San Antonio, across to Minerals and back by way of Wichita Falls. Those Palo Pinto hills are the driest I ever remember seeing this time of the year.

My brother-in-law, Glenn Hensley, is the jailer at Palo Pinto. He keeps several dogs trained to track people. Some of them will not bite, and they are used to track lost children or anyone who might wander off in the woods on foot and get lost.

There are others that will bite, and they are used to track fugitives from the law who may take to their heels, and escaped prisoners.

Glenn took a trustee prisoner out to lay a trail so we could see the dogs work. He had the young man made a creek and circle around about a mile altogether before he climbed to a safe place to await the dogs.

It was really interesting to see those hounds search for the scent, then to pick up the trail and follow it to the water. After thorough search on the bank of the creek from which the prisoner entered the water, they decided to cross over and search the opposite bank.

On the opposite bank one old hound soon picked up the trail and let out a long howl. The others soon followed, and the race was on. Within a few minutes they were looking up at the man as he perched on the skeleton roof of an abandoned shed. I would not like to try to hide from those dogs.

I would like to announce again that I'll be doing the preaching for a meeting at the Shamrock Church of Christ June 3 to 10, 7:30 each evening.

No. 6006—Odsa Duncan vs Randall Duncan 5-25-62 Divorce

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander and children of White Deer visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Leonard Sunday.

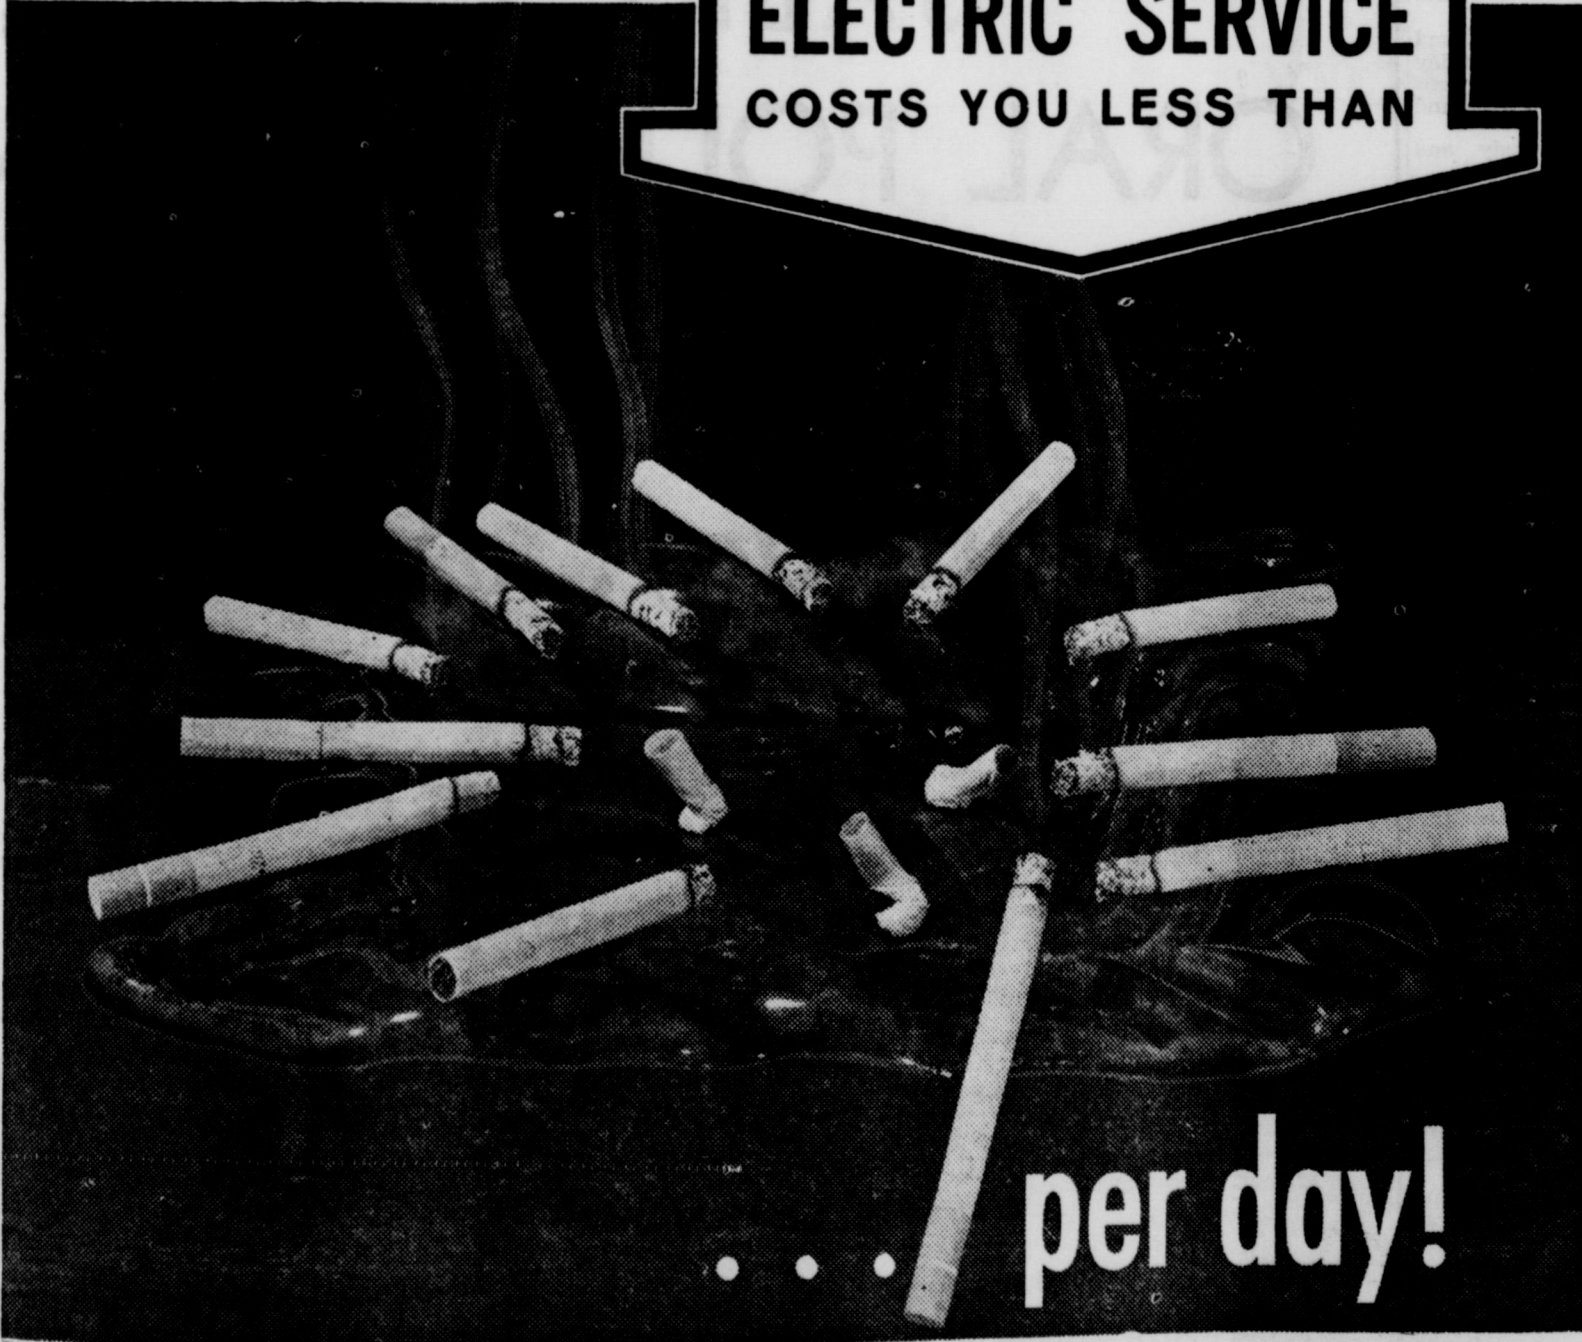

Cordin to the latest news the stock market is sort of took a slump. Guess lots of folks will be huntin a winter to jump out of if this dont pick up but if I wuz them I would wait a little dab and see what the outcome is.

We got one of the most confused system of advertisin I ever seen in my life. You can't find an item in the newspaper or the magazines that ain't the best there is and if you dont use the particular kind you are readin about, you are bound to wind up with no friends no money and no job. I've seen shoestring companies that would guarantee you would get a thousand miles more out of your feet just by wearin these particular kind of strings in your Brogans. Then there is Whiskey advertisers that have all the ball players drinkin their brand of hootch and doin a better job of ball playin. Now if I ain't mistaken that is what is happenin in the stock market, they are just tryin to shuffle some of that stock around to different owners by this spooky kind of advertisin.

IF YOU'RE AN "AVERAGE" HOMEOWNER—YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE COSTS YOU LESS THAN

... per day!

■ but the chances are you're not "average" ... you probably use more because you live a fuller life, electrically. Think of all the things electric service does around your home (count them, too). And next time you look at your electric service bill, compare it to other things you buy... sure is a bargain, isn't it!

It's true — my wages to serve all of my customers' homes averaged just 26 cents a day in 1961.

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

to recognize an accident producing situation far enough in advance to compensate for same by your own driving—being careful to commit no driving violations yourself.
 In other words, simply — drive ahead of yourself and be prepared for the other man's actions.
 One of the greatest faults of the American driver today is, he drives behind the false security of the fact: I have the right-of-way. In other words, just because you have the right-of-way does not necessarily mean that you will not have a traffic accident. So give the right-of-way, don't take it and you will greatly assist in the reduction of traffic accidents.

SPEED AND GREED

When you are exceeding the speed limits, or traveling too fast for conditions, you are displaying greed of the most dangerous kind. "Just how do you mean?" someone might ask. First of all, it must be explained by saying that speed laws are determined by traffic engineers with one major thought in mind: Safety! The speed limit posted on highways, freeways, streets and in school zones is the maximum safe speed under favorable conditions a motorist can travel on these thoroughfares.
 Greed, as we usually know it, was demonstrated clearly during World War II when many persons hoarded certain hard-to-get items. Hoarding, of course, resulted in smaller shares for those conforming with rationing laws. This was bad enough, however this kind of hoarding did not usually impair life or limb.
 Greed, as demonstrated in traffic, is another matter. Here when a motorist hoards time by exceeding speed limits, or driving too fast for conditions, he steals time not lawfully his and disregards the safety of others.
 His usual practice is to leave late for engagements, then try to make up time by exceeding speed limits or going too fast for conditions. His greed is transferred to the pedal under pressure, and all law-abiding motorists and pedestrians in his path are in danger of serious injury or death.
 Hoarding time by speeding is a deadly business where innocent and guilty alike may suffer for the sake of a few minutes or seconds. Let us take an example of the hoarding driver traveling down the road at 60 MPH, 50 feet behind another car traveling 60 MPH. The minimum safe following distance under ideal conditions is 120 feet. The accepted guide in determining this minimum following distance is to double the speed in miles per hour of the vehicle you are following to determine your following distance. All this hoarding driver can gain is to get to his destination 70 feet earlier than if he were following 120 feet. At 60 MPH this gain amounts to eight-tenths of one second.

Soil Stewardship Week

Stewardship Week will be locally during the period May 3, according to Wheeler, Chairman, Wheeler Conservation District. Conservation Districts are national organizations which observe and urge rural and urban conservation, to recognize the source of the God-given and related natural resources as good stewards to themselves to the conservation of these resources. This year's theme is "Stream of Life."

"It is the universal liquid of life and part of our very being. It is everywhere around us, in the air and earth. Without it we could not survive, nor could any plant, animal, or other living thing. It is a final necessity, for which man has devised no substitute."

"Water can be so abundant as to invite waste and neglect. It can be so scarce as to set man in earnest contest for its vital uses."

"It demands understanding and respect. It has the power under direction to turn the mighty turbines of Grand Coulee. Unmanaged, it can strike in the angry form and force of floods."

"It can produce crops, trees, and grass—or the ugliness of raw gullies cut into an unprotected countryside."

"Water provides the drama of Old Faithful, the majesty of the Mississippi, and the grandeur of Niagara Falls. In its infinite variety it is a thirst-quenching drink for the children of Atlanta, a cooling accessory for the steel mills of Ohio, and vital irrigation for the sunward fields of Arizona."

"It appears as soaking rain on Olympia's forest, the fleecy hush of a Vermont snowfall, and the quick excitement of a Kentucky Thunderstorm."

"It is the miraculous gift of God given to us for our refreshment and endless uses. But our neglect can waste it; our misuse can turn it into offensive sewers of pollution."

"Water tests our sense of responsibility to God and man. It asks for care, requires our self-discipline, and responds to management."

"This priceless water has been here before and by God's plan will be returned again and again for us to use according to our maturity, either with wisdom or with shameful neglect."

"Consider our water. Consider it well."

Members of the local District Board of Supervision in addition to Mr. Pakan are: Clarence Jeybach, B. A. Schlegel, Farmer Jolley and H. J. Finsterwald.

Those from Wheeler who attended the funeral services for Chester Morgan were: Rev. Frank Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Williams, Mr. & Mrs. Boyce Farris and Carolyn, Mrs. T. L. Gunter, Mrs. J. B. Oglesby, Mrs. Taylor Patterson, Mrs. Ebb Farmer and Mrs. H. H. Herd.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Killingsworth and Russell have been vacationing in Oklahoma the past week.

Tillie Jamison from Amarillo is visiting friends and relatives over the memorial holiday.

Spraying Advised To Further Control

Periodic spraying of livestock with Co-Ral or ronnel (Korlan) will aid greatly in the prevention of screwworm infestations, County Agent, Bryan Swain, emphasized today. Swain said there has been no confirmed cases past Fort Worth as of this date.

Stockmen are urged to spray their livestock regularly to prevent as many cases as possible. Every screwworm case which is prevented or controlled by chemical treatment will also aid greatly the effectiveness of the overall screwworm eradication program.

Although several insecticides will effectively control screwworms, County Agent, Bryan Swain, said sprays of Co-Ral or ronnel (Korlan) give better protection from screwworm attack.

These sprays also will give good control of most other external parasites such as horn flies, lice and ticks.

Stockmen also are urged to inspect all livestock regularly and treat all wounds promptly. Ten or more worms should be collected from deep in each wound and taken to your local county agricultural agent or mailed to Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program, Box 963, Mission, Texas.

Ben F. Hooker Services Held in California

Funeral services were conducted this week for Ben F. Hooker, Norwalk, Calif., brother of J. W. Hooker, who died May 6 following a heart attack.

GO TO COLLEGE...

... Or Get A Job

Which Is Right Choice For High School Grad?

ABOUT GOING TO COLLEGE

Question: Should I go to college?

Answer: Yes—if your high school grades were good enough; if you can pass an entrance examination; if you can afford it.

Question: Why should I go to college?

Answer: To continue your education and place yourself in a better position in your chosen field.

Question: Will a college degree guarantee me a job and a high income?

Answer: A college degree certifies that you have completed a specified course of education. You still have to get out and get yourself a job, just as a high school graduate does. And you have to "earn" your way to the top.

Question: Then, why shouldn't I go ahead and get a job right now?

Answer: You can get a job right now—but a job that requires no more than a high school education will not pay as much as a job which sets a college degree as a requirement. As we said earlier, a college degree puts you into a position to realize a higher salary for your services.

Question: If I start now, with some good company, isn't it possible I might receive several promotions in four years, and by then have a good start on a career?

Answer: It's possible. It's also possible that four years from now you will discover that a co-worker, with a similar salary and similar pay, is fresh out of college—and you must compete with him for future promotions.

Question: Is a college education really so important in getting a "good" job and is it such a factor in company promotions?

Answer: Simply stated, the best jobs go to college graduates because employers believe the college graduate is better qualified to accept a position of responsibility. If a high school graduate has outstanding qualifications, he may do well in any field; but another individual, with equal qualifications, plus the added recommendation of a college diploma, is certain to do better. As to the matter of promotions in business, put yourself in an employer's position: If you had two men of equal ability and talents, except that one had a college education, which man would you promote?

Question: Should I go on to college even though I have not yet chosen a career?

Answer: Certainly. The college of your choice will appoint an advisor to chart a course of general study and lend counsel to guide you to the choice of a career for which you are suited.

GETTING A JOB NOW

Question: I don't want to go to college. I want to get a job right away. How do I go about it?

Answer: Decide the type of job you would like to have... factory work, office work, selling, etc. Once you have chosen the type of work you wish to do, make a list of the companies in your community which might hire you. Visit the personnel office of each and fill out an application for employment.

Question: Is that all there is to it? I just go around and make an application?

Answer: That is the beginning. When you make application for employment, you let a prospective employer know that you are available. He may not need you today or tomorrow. Next week, however, an opening may arise and he will be looking through the job applications filed with the personnel office to see if a likely candidate for the job is available.

Question: Then, if I am suited for the job, they call me and tell me when to report to work?

Answer: Not exactly. The job application that you fill out at a company personnel office does not always tell an employer all that he would like to know about you. The job application provides general information. If you are considered for employment, you will be asked to come in for a job interview at which time more specific questions will be asked.

Question: What preparations should I make for a job interview?

Answer: You should be prepared to "sell" yourself—to convince your interviewer that you are "the man for the job."

Employers want neat, intelligent, and efficient employees.

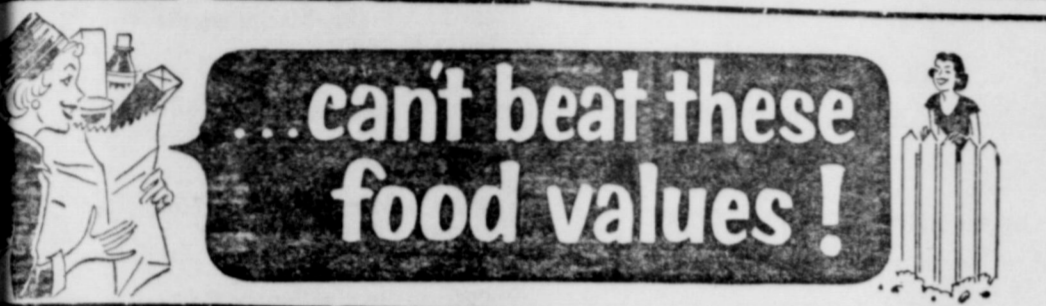

The first impression you make is through appearance. Dress neatly, be well manicured and polished, but don't overdo it. If your clothes are flashy, you might be considered too flashy for the job.

An interviewer will judge intelligence not by how much you say but rather by what you say and how you say it. Don't be afraid to talk about yourself, your hobbies, your achievements, whatever they may be, but don't drag it out.

How can you display efficiency during a one-time interview? Simply by showing that you have given some advance thought to the interview. Bring with you a folder containing documents that will be of interest to your prospective employer—your birth certificate, high school credits, a certificate of health, and a brief resume, or personal history. You might even prepare a scrapbook, using information about yourself from your school yearbook, local newspaper, including two or three character recommendations from responsible adults. Your interviewer might give this only a casual glance, but he will be impressed—and he will know that you are sincerely trying to "sell" yourself and show that you are capable of handling the job which you seek.

Question: What if I can't find an opening in the field of my choice? What do I do then?

Answer: Get a job—doing whatever you like "second best," or doing something you don't like to do, if this becomes necessary. Look for a "second choice" job that will give you some free time to continue looking for the kind of a job that you really want. It's always easier to get a new job if you are working, rather than unemployed.

$2 MILLION SPENT CLEANING UP, MAKING DAMAGE REPAIRS

AUSTIN (Special)—Almost two million dollars—funds that could have built 72 miles of farm to market roads or 24 miles of two-lane primary highways—had to be spent by Texas Highway Department to remove litter from the highways and repair vandalism damage last year.

This is much like a man throwing trash in his yard and then putting someone to pick it up for Texas motorists are covering the "cost yards" of their state with a trail of trash and then "hooking the bill" to have it cleaned up.

Last year the Highway Department had to spend $1,344,000 to remove this unsightly and unsanitary mess from the roadsides.

In addition, sign vandalism accounted for another $228,000. Other vandalism totaled $70,000 bringing the total of these removal and vandalism to $1,700,000.

Analysts, according to the Highway Department classification, covers such items as damaging and destroying signs and sign supports, marking on structures and damaging safety road signs (roadside signs).

Litter includes beer cans, wasteballs, sticks, bottles, wrappers, newspapers, milk cartons and cigarette packages.

The litter problem is more or less limited to certain sections of highways along the more heavily traveled routes and the urban areas. It is believed that people are more likely to throw trash from their cars when they travel the same route every day.

Also, much littering from "once-through" vehicles, especially those with heavy handloading of cans and bottles.

At the present time, well-traveled federal and state highways are closed about three or four times a year, from 30 to 60 days in the urban areas require much more cleaning and cleaning.

Highway engineers are constantly looking for methods or machines that will be to remove the mess from our highways, but so far the only satisfactory method has proved to be the man with the stick.

Many concerned citizens and highway engineers feel that an adequate program and strict law enforcement of the anti-litter law are necessary to stop the littering. Strict law enforcement helps to

Career In Selling To Or For Farmers

Young high school and college graduates with actual farm experience never had greater opportunity to make money than they do today.

How? By selling to—or for—farmers.

Job and career possibilities in agricultural selling are many, and their number grows all the time, according to a report by Sales and Marketing Executives—International, which has hundreds of affiliated clubs throughout the farming regions of the country.

"Because he understands farming, farmers and their needs, who is better qualified to sell to or for farmers than the farm boy himself?" the report states. "Purchase more, who should a farm boy throw away all his farm experience and head for some totally unrelated occupation, when men are needed in many farm-related industries?"

In recognition of this situation, Sales and Marketing Executives—International has developed a program—"Careers in Agricultural Selling." Colleges and universities (Cornell University is a notable example) have been encouraged to establish courses in salesmanship oriented to agriculture. Cooperatives, through S.M.E.'s own Youth Education Sponsorship program, provide funds to promote selling as a career among young people in farming communities. The same funds also provide for the placement of college graduates with farm experience in sales positions while giving undergraduates and boys generally part-time employment to help with their education.

Sales and Marketing Executives—International is a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancement of sales and marketing techniques and methods at all levels. Its 30,000 business executive members are organized in 250 clubs in 23 countries of the Free World. Marketing executives of most of the major corporations in the United States are included in its membership.

4-H Contest June 6

At Texas A&M

A Wheeler County 4-H Club team will serve as an alternate in the statewide Farm and Ranch Management Contest at the annual 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M College on June 6.

The county team is composed of Vivian Newsome, 14, and Mike Aderholt, 15. Mrs. Gerald Aderholt is team coach.

The area entry will be a team from Gray County, but the Wheeler youths will serve as an alternate to the winning district teams.

The state contest, expected to attract 23 teams from throughout the 12 state 4-H districts, is sponsored by the Production Credit Associations of Texas. Representatives of the agricultural credit organizations will present awards to winners of the state competition as well as to district representatives following the state contest at College Station.

Erbin L. Crowell of Canadian, general manager of the Canadian Production Credit Association which serves Wheeler and Gray Counties, said: "It is a great pleasure for our association to participate in this worthwhile competition for these outstanding 4-H Club members."

The Canadian Association, serving a six-county area of the north-east Texas Panhandle, is one of 36 home-owned and operated associations providing agricultural credit for more than 30,000 farmers and ranchers throughout the state.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Dewese and grandson, Steve of Houston are visiting in the home of Mrs. John Tubery and other relatives this week.

DRY HOLE DRILLED AT SIX FLAGS

Motorists driving along the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike may have been wondering about the old-time wooden oil derrick that has just been constructed in the Six Flags tourist attraction.

SIX FLAGS Over Texas

Master plans in the projected expansion of SIX FLAGS included the construction of an oil boom town, and the oil derrick is the initial structure. Following its policy of striving to attain authenticity in the Park, scouts from SIX FLAGS boarded the SIX FLAGS helicopter and headed for Breckenridge, Texas. They had heard that an old wooden derrick, complete with rigging was located somewhere in the area.

About four miles North of Breckenridge the old wooden structure was spotted and pilot Clifford Place settled the whirlybird down nearby.

The owner of the property on which the well is located came out to investigate and purchase agent Roy Day made arrangements on the spot to buy the derrick. However, some of the old mechanical equipment was not intact, and the SIX FLAGS group went into Breckenridge to visit an oil well equipment supplier.

The supplier, G. T. McAllen, was asked if he had any old rig "iron," or a complete unit that was for sale. McAllen replied by asking if the Six Flags group had seen the old Crowley Number One well, out North of town. Day answered by saying, "Yes, we just came from there, and bought the thing." McAllen replied, "Oh, yeah," and explained that he had just made a deal with the man that owns the property, McAllen, equipped, "That's funny, I thought I owned it."

It seems that when the property was sold, McAllen had retained rights to the well, of which the current owner was unaware. After some complicated dealing, the derrick finally became the property of SIX FLAGS Over Texas, along with a complete 1920 vintage "cable tool" rig. When SIX FLAGS construction supervisors and mechanics trickled to Breckenridge to move the installation, they found the derrick was too old and rotten to either tear down and re-assemble, or to move intact.

Then, the Park hired Charlie Fox, an old-time oil rigging expert who had built many wooden derricks in the past. As a consultant, Fox took measurements of the old derrick and secured a quantity of number two rough pine, and began building the replica in the SIX FLAGS Park.

The floor of the old derrick was good enough to use in the new 85' high derrick, and was moved complete from Breckenridge, along with all the drilling equipment. This includes gears, a valve-side reel, a backside reel, a ball wheel, sand reel, calf wheel, hand wheel and pitman.

The original Crowley Number One well was a producer oil well in the Breckenridge area, and was constructed and drilled in the year 1920. It was 3,500 feet in depth—an extremely deep well for those days.

At SIX FLAGS Over Texas the "old-time" rig will actually operate, as wheels turn and cables roll over pulleys.

The derrick and the rig in operation can be seen at SIX FLAGS from two rides that depart every hour: Crowley Number One was pumping in 250 gallons a day. One is the Chaparral, Antique Car ride, where guests drive 6, scale models of 2111 antique cars. Another is the narrow-gauge steam engine train that circles the Park. Drivers of miniature sports cars on the Hummel Happy 160cc miniature "Freeway" will also be able to view the derrick.

The derrick will also be seen by the sports car. And, of course, the rig and derrick will be seen by every rider of the "Annie" cars that soar 50 feet in the air over the road. It took searching, ingenuity, labor and time to get it, but now SIX FLAGS Over Texas has its own dry hole, complete with a derrick and pumpjack that will see oilmen get a new lease on life.

Small Institutions Rank Favorably In Liberal Arts Field

Should the high school graduate who plans to teach give up the idea of attending the school of his choice because it is "too big"—or is primarily known as an "engineering" or a "business" school?

Not necessarily. According to a recent study, "the very large institutions... emerge as the heaviest producers even when size of the undergraduate enrollment is taken into consideration."

Actually, according to the study conducted by Dr. Frank Kille, former dean of Carleton College, sixteen colleges and universities produce one-fourth of the nation's college teachers. These include California: Harvard, (Chicago), Columbia, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan, Washington State University of Iowa, Texas, Northwestern, Oberlin College, Ohio State, Missouri and Cornell.

When the study is broken down to include only those teaching in liberal arts or education, smaller institutions rank more favorably. Leaders in this category are Woodstock College, University of Chicago, George Meade College for Teachers, Reed College, Western Greenville (Ill.), Swarthmore, Bowdoin, Southwestern University (Tex.), Haverford College, Transylvania, Carleton, Amherst, Cornell, Hamilton (N.Y.) and Lawrence (Wisc.).

A Good Secretary Is Often The Key To Top Production

It seems to get high school graduates. If you are good without a typewriter, you can be of help in the research room with a typewriter. In the opinion of one expert, who says that "one good secretary is worth at least two good accountants."

Robert Sommer of the Saskatchewan Hospital, Regina, Canada, observes in an internal journal of the University of Michigan and Department of Psychology: "The economic fact is that an individual who is a secretary can give the job with one secretary as much as a secretary can give the job with two secretaries as much as a secretary can give the job with three secretaries."

The fact with one secretary and two secretaries can mean an increase in productivity and a decrease in cost.
