Crop Loans Being Made

Howard County Loan Committee Receives Applications Here

Field Supervisor E. D. F. Jay of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dallas, Texas said Monday that applications for emergency crop loans and feed loans are now being received by the Howard county loan committee, with offices located at Relief offices.

Any farmer who has the necessary security should apply to the production credit association first. If the association is unable to make him a loan in the amount needed the farmer will receive a statement to that effect and will be considered eligible to apply for a loan from the emergency fund.

Loans will be made only to applicants who are cooperating with the production control program of the agricultural adjustment administration.

As in the past, the security for an emergency crop or feed loan will consist of a first lien on the crop financed or on the livestock to be fed. A tenant must also give a first lien by getting the landowner to waive his claim in favor of the crop lien; but the landowner is in no way obligated for payment of his tenant's loan.

Checks in payment of approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency crop and Feed Loan office at Dallas, Texas; and not by the field supervisor or the loan committee.

Jake Morgan Leads Cosden Attack With Three Singles

By HANK HART
FORSAN, (Sp.)—The Cosden Pipeliners went wild in the third inning Sunday to score six runs and defeat the CCC Foresters 15-5 on the Forasan diamond.

Jake Morgan, youthful hot corner artist of the bymen, was the leader in the Cosdenite's attack with three singles, while Lois Madison contributed with a circuit smash.

Diddle Young, powerful all-around man of the local camp, came through with only one hit but that was a mighty home run which came in the first inning run which aboard.

The Foresters counted twice in the first two stanzas and once during the third, but could not stop the "murderer's row" of the Pipeliners once they began to find themselves.

The Cosdenites quieted down somewhat after the third inning attack but again went wild with a seven run attack in the seventh and eighth frames to sew up the game.

Shultz and Moody held the Foresters to four hits and settled down after the first three innings to pitch shutout ball.

Angels Lose Torrid Game

Dutch Moxley Raps Out Single To Give Cosden Win

By HANK HART
The Cosden Oilers overpowered Mellinger's Angels after 11 torrid innings Sunday, 11-10, when Dutch Moxley swept two men across the plate with a single into left field.

The Angels outlasted the Cosdenites, 20-19, and would have won the ball game had not fate taken a hand in the final frame. A strong wind carried the ball hit by Moxley out of reach of Jones, left fielder and he stood waiting for it in the left garden.

Led by "Jasper Jack" Smith, who collected three hits, the Oilers went into a second inning lead and kept it until the Angels suddenly became rebellious in the eighth. Seven hits and a fielder's choice in that stanza netted the Mellinger lads five runs and the lead.

The Oilers tied the count in their part of the eighth when Smith smashed a four baser into right field with Baker and Martin aboard.

The game eased along until the 11th when the Angels again went into the lead on bingles by Hart, Yates, and Townsend.

Smith a troublemaker for Triller Graves throughout the afternoon, singled to begin the Cosden half of the stanza and Harvey duplicated Smith's feat with a safe blow over the Mellinger infield. With only one away, Graves worked himself into a tight spot when he passed Middleton, filling the bases. Henninger lightened matters somewhat when he popped out to Townsend, but Moxley put an end to the duel with his base blow.

Freddie Townsend rapped out four singles to lead the Angel attack while Jones and Jack Wilson aided the cause with home runs.

Rickey Deduces Subtraction Is Baseball Virtue

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Simple subtraction is the life of a ball club. If you're listening to Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals and creator of the farm system of developing diamond talent.

"There are four phases of arithmetic," expounded the Cardinal king maker, "addition, multiplication, division and subtraction. Applied to baseball, subtraction is the most important."

"That is why I sold Pat Malone to the Yankees. Subtraction is a great thing. I have subtracted Malone from the Cardinal roster. He cannot lose any games. Ergo, the Cardinals are stronger. I might add that there will be more subtractions."

The world champions' mathematician did not elaborate on his future plans for deducting as regards the Cardinals, but he remained firm in his negative philosophy. "Ah, subtraction. That is the best of all arithmetic."

SECT. IKES PASSES THE BUCK TO THE LAWMAKERS OF TEXAS

There are vast reservoirs of natural gas in the Panhandle country. There is a proposal to spend $60,000,000 in building a pipeline from the Panhandle to Detroit and St. Louis. Detroit is one of the great industrial centers of America. It is the auto manufacturing city of America. It has a tremendous population. It is one of "the fast growing cities." As outlined in the beginning, the pipeline project would take natural gas to the millions of people and thousands of factories in the central industrial belt. This would put to work tens of thousands of idle hands now on the federal dole and shift them over into the self supporting class.

Moreover this benefit as outlined or planned stretches from the Texas-Panhandle to the Great Lakes as the fabrication of materials and actual construction of the giant project would get under way as planned.

Texas lawmakers are grinding. On May 7 the regular session will close and senate and house leaders are planning for a special session in the month June. The legislature this week is expected to get a bill to provide Texas' most far reaching public enterprise—the construction of a $60,000,000 interstate natural gas pipeline from the Panhandle to Detroit. The bill would create a public agency to build and operate the pipeline.

Secy. of the Interior Harold I. Ickes is the head and big ace of the PWA. He was interviewed: "As far as Secy. Ickes knows, Texas has done nothing more about the matter getting a $60,000,000 PWA loan for construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit. Gov. Alfred sent a lawyer up here to talk about it and I referred him to our legal staff. I have had no report since." Governor Alfred sent representatives to Washington. Texas Tax Commissioner E. B. Anderson and First Assistant Scott Gaines of the staff of the attorney general conferred on the legality of the proposed corporate set-up. They returned to Texas "under the impression the state legislature would pass a law creating the corporation as soon as PWA officials here approved." Now it is for the lawmakers of Texas to get quick action.

Owen P. White is a native Texan. He is a staff correspondent of Collier's Weekly and Collier's Weekly has covered the United States with lurid stories of the criminal waste of natural gas (having a value of billions of dollars) in the Panhandle and other oil fields of the Lone Star State. There has been waste, and the refreshing relief opens next Sunday afternoon and a gala occasion is in prospect. The dozen teams that comprise the league will all be out uniformed for picture taking and the opening celebration which in all likelihood will draw seven or eight hundred spectators—maybe more.

ONE OF THE LEAGUE OFFICIALS tells us that City Manager, E. V. Spence is to toss the first ball.

GLENN GUILKEY, HERALD twirler, is a liability rather than an asset. He broke two bats Sunday in one game. However, he was the winning pitcher.

COACH GRAVES OF ST. ROSS may send his charges against Tiny Reed's Eastern New Mexico Jr. college Greyhounds in a spring football bout at McCamey soon. McCamey officials, however, fear that the game will have no drawing power. Tiny is trying to high-pressure the boys for a good guarantee.

BUMOR HAS IT THAT ANOTHER baseball meeting is scheduled for tonight. We've been to about ten already this year and they all turned out to be hot air sessions and nothing was done.

senators and representatives representing the law-making branch of the government should crack down at once by the enactment of the needed legislation and see to it that the Texas storehouse of natural wealth should not only be placed in order but kept in order in the years to come. Why not the slogan: "Every fit man must work." Why not get in behind President Roosevelt "to carry forward the employment and public development side of recovery?"

You HEALTHY

the Year

'Round!

Not so many years ago the round, red fruit of a certain vine was called a "love-apple." A man in his right mind would no more eat it than he would go out and munch a toadstool. It was supposed to kill you at the very first bite! Then some hardy soul decided to 'bite and see!' And so the delicious tomato was introduced to a hungry world.

But news of the new tomato traveled very slowly. Your children might not be keeping healthy with it today if a grocer somewhere in an old-fashioned town hadn't been 'stuck' with a bushel or two. Faced with a loss if they rotted, he threw discretion to the winds and ran an ad in the paper.

'TOMATOES FOR SALE. This fine new fruit said to be excellent for the health and complexion. I have a choice few. Fifteen cents apiece." Mr. Grocer sold the lot, ordered more, sold those and presently was able to cut his price in half and then some while babies waxed fat on tomato juice.

CONVENIENCES GRANDMA NEVER DREAMED OF

As with tomatoes, so with vacuum cleaners, safety razors, oil burners and the latest hat from Paris. The merchants who advertise them to you have no burning desire to make this world a healthier, smarter, more leisurely place to live in. They want to sell vacuum cleaners, safety razors, oil burners and lovely hats—and advertising is the best way to do it. But their advertising has told you about a lot of things you'd hate to be without today. Their advertising has introduced you to comforts and conveniences your grandmother never even dreamed of! And—because all wise buyers read advertising—Mr. Merchant sells more advertised goods and can keep on lowering prices to you.

Reads like a romance, doesn't it? But you can prove it for yourself. As you check through the ads in The Daily Herald today just count the number of things that make life pleasant which you might never have heard about if you hadn't "seen them in the ads." And count the number of things you'd like to buy but couldn't afford (like tomatoes at fifteen cents apiece) if advertising hadn't made them so cheap and plentiful.

Perhaps you'll agree—we COULD get along without advertising—along with tomatoes and fountain pens and electric fans and swell silk stockings at 69c. But, honest—wouldn't it be a tiresome old world?

AD-SHOPPING MAKES YOUR BUYING DOLLAR GO MUCH FARTHER!

Ever play the game of ad-shopping? It's a great pastime and a grand time-and-money saver. Just make a list of what you want and need. Then check your list against the things you see advertised in The Daily Herald. Compare prices to your heart's content. Make note of anything you see advertised that you may have overlooked in planning your shopping list. Now you're ready to go—without wasting the day tramping endlessly from one store to another. You'll come home fresh as a daisy.

Oh, but wait! Just add up the prices of the advertised items you are going to buy. Good deal less than you thought it would be, isn't it? That's what puts the biggest thrill in ad-shopping! You usually have enough money left over to buy something extra-nice and personal for yourself!

'Is It Nothing To You?' Subject By Rev. Henckell At Episcopal Church

"Is It Nothing To You?" was the subject by Rev. P. Walter Henckell at the morning service at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday, April 7th. His subject was: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"

In Washington, D. C. there is a large crucifix on the front of St. James' church. Thousands of people pass by. Under it are these words: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"

This is called Passion Sunday in our Prayer Book. It is the day when we stress the suffering of our Lord. On this day Christ begins His journey toward the Cross. He sees it clearly before Him, and He speaks of it to the disciples.

We are apt to look upon the cross as being something of the past, something that happened once for all and was done with. Yet the cross is always here. It is a present fact. There has always been a cross in the heart of God and it is still there, being enacted eternally while there is sin in the world. The sins of men are still playing the Lamb of God, still nailing Him to the tree. And in the presence of this great sacrifice the name of men slays its leaders, and who even slays about their business as though nothing were happening. That dark thing which happened on Calvary is happening still. The Son of Man is never off the cross. And from the height of that cross there comes to us today the agonizing cry: "It is nothing to you, all ye that pass by!"

And multitudes upon multitudes of decent ordinary people virtually answer, "Nothing at all." They do not give the answer with their lips. They make no sound. But they go on thoughtlessly about the routine trivialities of life and never pause to listen to the cry of the Crucified. And when the trivialities, the little things, shut out from us the great issues of life and death, then we had better pause and consider.

The great tragedy of the world today is not so much that men are wicked but that most men are thoughtless, and indifferent. They say: "What have I to do with it? It is no concern of mine. Let me go on eating and drinking. Just leave me alone. Let me continue with my pleasures and money-making." The hardest person to deal with is the indifferent one. He is the most hopeless of God's creatures. God would much prefer to have an out-and-out sinner rather than an indifferent soul. There is hope for the sinner, but for the indifferent there is none, because it is impossible to make a contact. God can take a Saul or Tar-zis, who persecutes the church and who even slays its leaders, and He can make a saint, a St. Paul. But for men like Pilate and the Roman soldiers God could do nothing. What could God do with a soul who is as indifferent as to exclaim, "What is truth?"

Or again, when He delivered Christ to be crucified, "Take Him yourselves and crucify Him for I find no fault in Him." It did not matter with Pilate.

What could God do for the soldiers as indifferent as they were? Not because they were soldiers but because they were the kind of men they were. As Christ was hanging on the cross they divided the victim's clothes among themselves and cast lots for His seamless robe. They were simply doing as they had always done. It was their share of the spoils, and they were disposing of it in their usual way. They stand out as the classic type of indifference, of coldness. There in the presence of the greatest tragedy of the world's history they could shut all out and throw dice for garments. It was "these things the soldiers did."

No one is as far from God as the man or woman who is indifferent. There were crucified with Christ two thieves, the one on the left and one on the right. They joined with the arrogant warriors below, and with the soldiers, in their mocking of Christ who made no answer to their cruel scorn. But as time dragged on, one of them grew ashamed. He began to

Example—
 New York is unimpressed by the plan to have the RFC liquidate the Public Utility Securities Corporation—of which it recently acquired control—to show how painlessly it can be done.

Even if the RFC succeeds the informed insist it won't prove anything. They point out two important differences between the RFC's position and that of holding companies under the Wheeler-Rayburn bill. One is that the federal agency is bound by no time limit. It can dicker at any length for favorable terms. The other is that there's no compulsion behind the sale of the subsidiary properties. If no one comes through with an adequate bid the RFC can call the whole thing off.

Experts say that as an example it's like a man in a racing car showing a man on foot how easy it is to make 100 miles an hour.

Cooperation—
 Export circles are linked at the case with which Brazil obtained a loan in England after drawing a flat turnaround here. The loan provides that the money, shall be spent in England. They figure this will put what's left of their Brazilian business on the skids and call it a fair sample of why Britain is able to lick us in South America in spite of our natural advantages.

The significant angle is that the British government took a direct hand in arranging the credit—not only encouraging their banks to make the loan but helping them work out the terms.

"It amounts to $30,000,000 worth of business we could have had but will never get. It Washington would occasionally give us that kind of a hit instead of fooling around with futile trade treaties we wouldn't have to sit by and watch John Bull swipe our most promising markets."

Costs—
 Financial circles are busy dopping out where the social security bill will hit hardest if enacted. They figure that industries with a small proportion of labor cost—such as cigarettes, oil, smelting, sugar refining and canning—will get off easy. At the other end of the scale are the groups in which wages are the chief cost ingredient—such as office machinery and equipment, agricultural implements and cotton and silk textiles. Assessments for old age pensions and unemployment insurance would have a marked effect on their earnings.

Fair—
 One reason why the Pacific Gas and Southern California Edison bond issues are well received in the West is because the California Public Service commission shares with those of Maine and Massachusetts the reputation of being the fairest of state regulatory bodies toward investors and consumers alike.

Shudders—
 The presence of J. C. Winant of in 1914, when Christ was crucified in the boys who were slain, who paid with their lives the awful price of the wickedness of men. Some would have us go through the same thing again. It is nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"

It will avail you little to say that you did not do it. "What then did you do?" "I did nothing, I went on with my business, looking after my own interests." These things the soldiers did. The sin of those standing by consenting, doing nothing to prevent it, is no less than the sin of those who do the thing. You may not have lifted a hand to crucify Christ, but as you did not lift a hand to stay the deed, His blood is upon your head. Indifference is just as bad as actual guilt.

St. John knew something about it. He was called the beloved Disciple. So often he told people "to love one another" yet listen to his message to the church in London when their indifference provoked him; "thou art neither hot nor cold. So because thou art lukewarm... I will spew thee out of my mouth."

Studdert Kennedy, one of our English clergymen and a most interesting character, knew something about indifference. I quote one of his poems. In it he refers to Birmingham, but we may substitute any modern town in its stead. And with it I close.

When Jesus came to Golgotha they hanged Him on a tree,
 They drove great nails through His hands and feet, and made a Calvary;
 They crowned Him with a crown of thorns, red were His wounds and deep.

For those were crude and cruel days and human flesh was cheap.
 When Jesus came to Birmingham, they simply passed Him by.
 They never hurt a hair of Him, they only let Him die;

For men had grown more tender, and they would not give Him pain.
 They only passed down the street, and let Him in the rain.

Still Jesus cried, "Forgive them for they know not what they do."
 And still it rained the winter rain that drenched Him through and through.
 The crowds went home and left the streets without a soul to see,
 And Jesus crouched against a wall and cried for Calvary.

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SREAGER

AUSTIN (UP)—In the gallery of the Texas house of representatives this week, a man sat listening at entively. He was Major W. D. Cope of Childress. Twenty-five years ago, Cope as floor leader for the drys was directing such a battle as the one he witnessed this week.

Cops heard many of the same arguments. He saw many familiar moves as the leaders jockeyed for advantage. He missed much of the incentive of the earlier days. Then the drys pictured antics as agents of Satan. Antis called the drys "witchburners."

Two youths, too young to have personal knowledge of saloon days, took active part in this year's debate. Neither was six years old when Texas became legally "dry" in 1919.

They took opposite sides in the battle over prohibition repeal. Representative Herman Jones of Decatur argued for a state monopoly system of liquor sales. Representative Roy Hofheins of Houston opposed "blotting out the constitution of the state with details of regulation."

Sterilization of insane persons was another old topic debated before the legislature this week. Years ago it evoked bitter discussions. Minister-members took rival sides. The Bible was quoted freely and man was warned not to interfere "with divine providence."

This year there was little talk. The bible was quoted once, briefly.

The Texas legislature is doing openly this year what Texas legislators have done for many years under various aliases and disguises—filibustering against particular bills.

So generally is this recognized that there was no protest when Representative W. E. Jones of Jourdantown stated it on the floor of the house. As a result of filibustering, Jones said, most bills will not come up for action.

The house decision to end the regular session on May 7 failed of senate agreement. When a motion was made in the house to reconsider, it was tabled. Just to show how final the action was, Speaker Cokes Stevenson thus announced the resulting vote:

"Eighty-three ayes and 48 noes. The resolution is reconsidered, tabled, sauced and blowed."
 A cup of coffee, in forks of the creek language, is ready for drinking when it is "sauced and blowed." The senate postponed action on the resolution until May 1.

Advice as to the proper conversation to hold with a lobbyist was given to the house of representatives by Representative Kenneth McCalla, Houston. He thinks any legislator who can be overwhelmed by a lobbyist should not be in the legislature.

"The first time a lobbyist tells you how to vote, tell him 'no,'" McCalla advised. "The next time, 'Hell, no!' If he persists, make the language as strong as the occasion requires."

"Believe it or not," one Texas official resigned rather than accept an increase in salary. But a member said. It was John H. Hagan, member of the Confederate States cabinet and later an official in Texas.

Representative J. C. McConnell of Palo Pinto told legislators about it this week. "Would that we could return to those days of patriots," sighed McConnell.

Representative A. M. Alben Jr. of Paris was moved by similar thoughts as he scanned the appropriation bills with 10 per cent salary increases.

"We should change the name of the House of representatives to 'House of appropriations,'" Alben said. He keeps a close watch on expenditures—closet, some fellow members say, when rural school appropriations are not being made.

Representative Virgil Lemaux of Rainbow, scanned the appropriation for the attorney general's department and concluded the attorney general was a good figure or conjurer as well as a distinguished lawyer. Lemaux said he found that the state makes appropriations for 17 assistant attorneys general, but that the department ledger carries 26 names.

Solution: "Investigators and part time employes are listed."

Porter, Anderson Midway Trustees

Unofficial returns from Saturday's trustee elections showed J. J. Porter and Oscar Anderson winners in the Midway district.

Porter pulled 25 votes to 18 for Anderson. W. H. Sides came next with 17 votes and Les Ashley was fourth with 12 votes.

250,000 Killed or Maimed
 SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Traffic accidents in California in the last six years have claimed 250,000 persons killed or maimed—enough to populate the city of Oakland, the California Traffic Safety Council estimated. From 1929 to 1933 there were 14,794 persons killed.

Winter Burned In Effigy

EISENACH, Germany, (UP) — This city, famed to visitors for Wartburg Castle, where Luther retired under the pseudonym of "Junker Georg" to translate the Bible into German, celebrates the coming of Spring with a vengeance. After welcoming the new season with a procession, the citizens end their fele by burning an effigy of Winter.

Four Wells In Howard Shot; One Finished

Dorn-Hall No. 1 T-P Extension Shows Biggest Gain

Four wells in Howard county, including one that had just drilled two weeks ago, were shot last week while Dorn Oil Corporation No. 5 Dorn well, shot earlier, was completed at 2645 feet for 528 barrels daily, flowing. It topped pay at 2520 feet and was shot with 600 quarts from 2520 to 2635 feet. Location is 1800 feet from the north line and 690 feet from the east line of section 30, block 30, township 1 south, T&P Ry Co. survey.

The largest increase registered by any of the wells shot was by Stacy B. Dorn and Dr. G. T. Hall's No. 1 T-P Land Trust, one mile northwest of the corner of the Dodge-Denman pool. It swabbed 12 barrels of oil hourly before shooting Thursday afternoon with 550 quarts from 2570 to 2790 feet, the total depth. Flowing through a bridge, it placed 184 barrels in storage in about five hours and was estimated good for 750 to 1,000 barrels daily. Cleaning out was under way. The well is 230 feet out of the southeast corner of section 45, block 30, township 1 north, T&P Ry. Co. survey. Iron Mountain No. 6 Reed, 680 feet east of the Dorn-Hall well and 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 46, block 30, was spudded Thursday.

Herschbach 3-B Shot Twice

Herschbach Petroleum Corp. No. 3-B Davis, in section 2, block 30, deepened to 2792 feet in time, was shot on April 2 with 100 quarts from 2752-52 feet, and on April 3 with 500 quarts from 2713-53 feet. Cleaning out was in progress. The California Co. No. 2 Dodge, in the southwest corner of section 1, block 30 had drilled to 1220 feet in red beds. Susta Oil Co. No. 1 Dodge, in section 2, block 30, struck three barrels of water in eight hours from

First Rural Work Center Is Completed

San Isidro, Starr County, Project Finished Under Relief Commission

AUSTIN—Completion and formal opening of the first rural work center in connection with the Texas Relief Commission's program of rural rehabilitation at San Isidro, Starr county, has been announced by C. T. Watson, assistant director of the rural program.

The San Isidro center, located in the northeast end of the county near the community school campus, offers facilities whereby the community's citizens and rehabilitation families may come together and work cooperatively in providing commodities to supply their needs.

Two buildings have been constructed at San Isidro. One houses the canning plant, sewing room and recreational center in its main portion while an addition at the rear contains a light and power plant, leather working and rope making room and storage space for canning plant equipment and supplies.

A second building provides facilities for farm shop blacksmithing, tin and woodwork and hide tanning. Workers also will have access to a home economics building to be remodeled by the community and used for a cooking laboratory. The community also will build a four-room house for the manager and will erect a small store and trading post.

Activity in the center includes a schedule to process 5,000 cans of meat and a variety of fruits and vegetables. Relief officials said some grapefruit juice is being canned at this time. The canning plant will have a capacity of 1,000 cans per eight-hour day.

Only 5 Counties Have Less Than 5 Pct. On Relief

AUSTIN—Only five Texas counties could boast a record of less than five per cent of their residents on relief rolls as of March 1, statistics compiled by the Texas Relief Commission reveal. These counties are Crockett, Kennedy, Lavaca, Reagan and Winkler.

Fourteen others, Hudspeth, Terrell, Upton, Parmer, Hutchinson, Carson, Hidalgo, Cameron, Nueces, Bee, Karnes, Gonzales, Fayette and Fort Bend, were in the respectable class in the eyes of state relief officials with not more than from 5 to 10 per cent of their residents receiving aid. Twelve counties had more than 40 per cent of their inhabitants on the relief rolls as follows:

Loving, Yoakum, Cochran, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, King, Cottle, Titus, Cass, Llano and Zapata.

"These high case loads have got to come down at once," said Adam R. Johnson, state relief director, as preparations were being made to send out funds for April.

"Federal authorities have cut our applications drastically and this means we must reduce our case load or the individual budgets of clients. We want to issue adequate relief to those in dire need and administrators have been instructed to examine the relief rolls closely and close out all cases where the need for aid is not clearly established."

A further reduction in the number of cases is hoped for in May as the peak will be reached for seasonal farm employment.

Miss Frances Trainer of the Scott and White's Nurses school, Temple, spent the week-end in Big Spring with relatives.

Many Church Workers Attend Houston Meet

Several Big Spring people went to Houston, leaving early Monday morning to attend the Baptist state Sunday school convention held there this week.

From the East Fourth Street church were: Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Garrett, Misses V. Phillips, Ben Carpenter and Philip Jenkins and Mr. Alvin Smith.

From the First church were: Mrs. J. C. Douglass, F. F. Gary and Rev. J. W. Ray. Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First church was on the program but his recent illness made it impossible for him to attend.

West Side Baptist Revival In Progress

The revival campaign started Friday by the West Side Baptist church is now creating much interest with H. B. Naylor, Lorain Baptist pastor, bringing two messages daily.

One of the most outstanding services led by Rev. Naylor was on "Prayer Life."

Mounting numbers are attending the services which will be concluded Sunday. Morning services are held at 10 o'clock, prayer service and 7:30 p. m. and evening service half an hour later.

Potato Shipments Up

GRANTSBURG, Wis., (UP)—Potato shipments from this region have shown an increase of 5,000 bushels over last year's shipments covering a corresponding period. Forty-one freight cars have carried 25,000 bushels out of Grantsburg to date this season. In former years before drying largely supplanted potato raising, yields of 200,000 bushels and more were not uncommon.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarettes...

I mean simply this—it actually takes about three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, called tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine begins to get in its good work and as the plants grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are cut and sent to the drying barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction warehouse where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are milder and that Chesterfields taste better.

For two years or more the mild ripe Chesterfield tobaccos are stored in wooden hogheads to age.
