Open Letter of Appreciation

In conjunction with the observance of National Hospital Week, May 9-16, the Federated Women's Club of Wheeler would like to express their combined appreciation for our local hospital facilities and staff.

We are extremely proud of our new hospital plant with its modern equipment, peaceful atmosphere and convenience. However, regardless of how good the facilities the quality of patient care is largely dependent on the doctors, nurses and hospital staff. In this regard we are extremely fortunate.

We fail, too often, to express appreciation for the sacrificial dedication of our physicians, nurses, and other employees. Their dedication to duty, concern for all patients, disrupted nights of sleep, their quiet, never-failing efficiency too often go unnoticed.

We the Federated Club women ask you to join us as we express our appreciation for our medical facilities and workers who are so fortunate in having available to us.

May God bless you as you continue to serve.

The Federated Women's Clubs, Wheeler, Tex.

Reaves Super't of Tulso-Midway

The Tulso-Midway school board promoted acting superintendent, L.R. Reaves to the superintendency and gave him a three-year contract.

M.B. Kattmann, board president, said that the trustees feel that Reaves "knows our system and people better than anyone else we could have employed. We have some excellent applicants but they would have been complete strangers out here."

Reaves was named acting superintendent Nov. 1 of last year to replace Noah Cunningham who was fired Oct. 18. The district is buying up Cunningham's contract on a monthly basis.

Kattmann said Reaves will be paid $13,900 annually the least minimum allowed by the Texas Education Agency. Reaves salary is based on base pay as a teacher plus 30 per cent.

Six members attended the meeting. Kattmann said He, Mrs. Blossom Reed, R.R. Lewis, T.W. Ammerman and Tonnie Smethers voted for the Contract. E.W. Heinrich abstained. M.A. Epps was unable to attend the meeting but had earlier told the board that he approved of the action.

Reaves' new contract was made retroactive to Jan. 1 and will end in 1969.

Reaves joined the Tulso-Midway system in 1960. He was a teacher and assistant high school principal before being named as acting superintendent.

Beauty Habits for Everyone

by Vivian Warminski
Last week's article touched on teenage grooming. Now let's add some topping of additional beauty habits for everyone.

Beauty is you and beauty starts with you as "you" are right now. Beauty doesn't come out of a bottle or a jar as many people think.

Your basic assets are your hair, your coloring, your skin and your vitality. We all have these same basic assets but it is what we do with them that counts. If you really want to be prettier than you are, you can be. Just follow this pretty pattern to a prettier you.

STAND LIKE A QUEEN, NOT LIKE A DUCK! It's easy if you act like a model. Put your feet parallel to each other, toes pointing straight ahead. Relax your knees.

Tuck your hips under; stretch your midriff span so that between the top of your rib cage and the top of your hipbone you are long and flat. Shoulder back; ching parallel to the floor. Try it.

WALK LIKE A PRINCESS, NOT LIKE A COW! You all know Mary Bounce, she's the one who flops as she walks. And little Jennie Jiggle, the back and forth swiveler. But you can be the girl with the graceful walk. Stand like a queen, glide as you walk swining your arms slightly.

Exercise is an essential part of life and a downright necessity for beauty. It tones muscles, relieves tensions, firms flabby tissues and perfects co-ordination.

What you eat and how much you eat is the most important of all beauty habits. To get started on the right kind of diet, here are everyday food essentials: Two glasses of milk or the equivalent; two or more servings of meat; two or more servings of fruit; two or more servings of vegetables; some enriched bread; moderate amounts of butter; moderate amounts of sugar and lots and lots of water.

If you want to lose weight, here are several DIETING TRICKS:

*Broil or boil meats and drain off any fat.

*Skip gravies, cream sauces.

*Forget about rich desserts, fried foods, carbonated beverages and peanuts.

*Eat your orange once in a while instead of drinking the juice.

*Use a smaller plate than you normally would to make your portion seem larger. Good psychological trick.

*Remember when you eat a piece of chocolate cake with chocolate frosting, its the calorie equivalent of 6 oranges or 9 grapefruit halves.

Now is the time of the year we like to get out in the sun. To prevent sunburn, mix 10 drops of glycerine and two ounces of water with a little perfume. Apply before going into the sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Helton and baby of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Bradstreet and children and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brown spent Sunday with Mrs. Eula Bradstreet.

SHINNERY POISONING

By Charles David Jackson
Shinnery Poisoning: Each year Wheeler County ranchers are confronted with the problem of shinnery poisoning. The hardest decision to make is when to turn in on shinnery so that cattle will not become poisoned.

Cattle, sheep, goats rabbits and guinea pigs have been poisoned by oak. The buds, small leaves, flowers and stems are palatable and poisonous. As the leaves mature they become less palatable, and animals usually stop eating them by the time they leaves are three-fourths grown. After leaves become older, animals again will eat them, but seldom in the quantity that they eat the young growth. Acorns, when eaten in quantity produce signs and lesions similar to oak bud or leaf poisoning.

Due to the severity of the losses from shin oak poisoning cattle are usually penned and fed for 3 to 4 weeks when the oak first buds in the spring. Even then, some of them later will eat sufficient oak to be poisoning. Many feed supplements have been used on the range and may reduce losses, but on ranges where sand shin oak grows, feed supplement alone fails to prevent losses from occurring.

Calcium hydroxide, (hydrated lime) is an efficient antidote to prevent poisoning by the tannic acid. Supplemental feed containing 9 percent hydrated lime have reduced losses in cattle in experimental feeding trails.

"Lister below is the formula for the Shinnery Poisoning Antidote that has been used successfully in the Andrews Area. It is recommended to help prevent losses from the poisoning."

1040 lbs. Cottonseed meal
600 lbs. dehydrated alfalfa meal
200 lbs. hydrated lime
160 lbs. vegetable oil

The above feed analyses is 26.4 percent protein and needs to be fed at the rate of six pounds per head per day to be effective. It is very difficult to mix due to the lumps. This feed can be obtained from a mill in Marfa, Texas and its cost is $90 per ton F.O.B. Marfa. Pecan Varieties for Wheeler County:

We have received several requests recently for pecan varieties recommended for our area. Due to our short growing season we must use early maturing varieties. We suggest the Wichita, which is a new U.S.D.A. variety and the Western Schley which is an old standard variety. We also recommend the Perique, which is a Northern pecan variety. It is extremely early in maturity and is a good quality pecan. The Perique would be recommended on a trial basis. For nurseries that handle these varieties we would suggest the Womack Nursery, De Leon, Texas; and the O.S. Gray Nursery, Arlington, Texas. Gray is the only Texas nursery that handles the perique.

WHEELER SCHOOLS

Arling Cordell, Supt.
We are very proud of our students who represented us in the track and Field and Speech events. When you consider that they won 1 first, 3 seconds, one fourth and one fifth place against such competition as a state meet, this makes us happy.

The remainder of this week and next week brings us to the end of a very exciting school year. Are your children ready for this testing time? Intensive study and constant review before the finals will improve their marks greatly.

We are sorry to lose from our faculty, Mr. Gene Pike who is going to a principals job at Northwest High school near Fort Worth. Mr. Pike has done a fine job for us during his 2 years with us and we will miss him and his family from our community. We wish for their success in the new job.

Mark these dates - Baccalaureate on May 15, 8th grade commencement on May 17 and Senior Commencement on May 20 all at 9:00 p.m. in the gym.

Have you looked at the new construction? The Contractors are making great progress. Very soon now the walls will begin to go up. We are hoping to occupy it by January 15, 1967.
