

Bailey '67 Cotton Harvest Picks Up

NOT DAMAGED---This cotton on the Fred Beene farm will soon be in bales as the owner's busy stripping it to take to the gin. This field was not damaged, however, a field only a few yards away was damaged heavily during the early Spring. Beene expects this Paymaster variety to pay off to the tune of more than a bale per acre.

Cotton strippers have begun to move up and down the rows of area fields as the cotton reaches the full-open stage. Damp weather hampered the original start of harvest as gins over the area started reporting first bales more than two weeks ago.

Dryland cotton south of Muleshoe in the Goodland, Bala and Three Way areas is moving more rapidly with the harvest operation than the irrigated land to the north, east and west. Estimated yield from the approximately 40,000 planted acres is presently standing at around 3,500 bales. Much cotton in the area was damaged in an early stage from rain, hail and later high winds and sand. The Department of Agriculture reports that the South Plains cotton harvest has reached the 100,000 bale mark at the conclusion of the count Thursday.

Samples received at the classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa have reached a seasonal high of approximately 10,000 daily when the unfavorable weather conditions slowed the harvest.

Through November 8, the Lubbock office had classed 53,000 samples of this year's crop, the Brownfield office had classed 26,000 and the Lamesa brings the total for the season for the three offices to 86,000.

Last year, the three classing offices had classed 92,000 samples of the 1966 crop at this time.

Trading has increased in the new crop cotton on the Lubbock market and prices were $5 to $10 per bale higher.

Cotton prices paid South Plains farmers, as reported by the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA ranged from $10 per bale over the loan for high grade, short staple cotton to $65 per bale over the loan for high grade cotton which has a staple length of 1-3/32.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed ranged from $50 to $75 per ton.

STRIPPING---Fred Beene is pictured on his tractor as he made the second round stripping 1967 cotton in his field located one mile north and one-half east of Needmore. Beene planted the 202 Paymaster May 3 and expects it to make some over one bale per acre.

NEW SITE---Texas Highway Department equipment moves in on a plot of land on the south side of U. S. Highway 84 on the outskirts of Muleshoe and have begun preparing the ground for a new department facility to be constructed. Work on the buildings is expected to begin in two weeks.

Texas Highway Department Facility Construction Starting

An all-new Texas Highway Department facility is to be constructed on west Highway 84 just west of the Roadside Park. Groundwork began this week and graders, dirt hauling trucks, water trucks and packers began to level and prepare the ground for the construction which will begin in about two weeks.

The buildings will contain a new office, storage space, service station and maintenance shop along with a parking area for department equipment.

The contract has been let to the low bidder, Hunter Construction Co., Lubbock.

Dimensions of the building will be some 260 feet in length and 43 feet wide.

James W. King, district maintenance engineer for Hunter Construction is in charge of the construction of the local plant.

The old building, located at 611 West American Blvd. will be sold by bid at the completion of the new facility.

It is estimated that construction will require about three months and will be completed sometime in March.

NETS NEXT---Tom Jinks, high school principal; Superintendent Neal Dillman and school employees Bill Williams and Otis Blylock are pictured measuring and preparing to mark the newly constructed tennis courts south of Muleshoe high school. When the marks are painted on the concrete slab, nets will be put up and the court open for tennis players. All work has been completed with the exception of this phase.

Winter Is Almost Here

Fall is in the air. A drive around the countryside reveals that "Ole Man Winter" is actually just around the corner.

Pumpkins are piled on the turn rows and stubble still stands in many fields while it has been plowed under on some land creating a hap-hazard look with stubs protruding at random. Other land is clean as a whistle. All these methods are used by the farmer for a beneficial purpose to build and preserve the land during the winter months in accordance with their need for crops come spring.

Leaves have turned golden and brown and most of them have fallen from their summer place, gracing the limbs of numerous types of trees, playing their part to add beauty to the world and are now blowing about in the crisp fall breeze. Tumble weeds have turned loose from their moorings and have collected against a few remaining fences or lodged against farm buildings and machinery parked for the winter.

Some combines are yet in operation, putting the finishing touches to the harvesting of Grain Sorghum.

Slowly, cotton strippers are starting to move into fields with white cotton hanging from their hard, drying boll housing. This will conclude the harvesting operation on the Plains. As the major portion of the land settles for the winter without it's brilliant green cover, like a small ray of light shining in a dark pit, some greenery remains on the scene.

Winter wheat is above the ground and growing. Alfalfa is still in the green, but the production stage concluded October 31. Farmers are still watering the fields in order to carry it through the winter in a moisture stage. The perennial alfalfa then revives and will be ready for cutting in late April of next year.

Bill Vinson, manager of the National Alfalfa Dehydrating mill said they closed out the season October 31 after handling 73,037 tons of the crop. The plant handles the product in many forms and makes a compressed pellet for feeding.

Temperatures have dipped below freezing a few mornings. Frost has been noted and mother nature has just about finished winterizing the countryside. Entertainment for adults and children alike.

Christmas Parade To Be Held December 2

All service, civic and church groups are invited to enter a float in the contest as well as school groups. Anyone in the Muleshoe area is urged to participate in this event. It is hoped that at least 35 floats will be entered.

It will only be with the help of area people that this parade will be a success.

As in the past, two theme divisions will be judged. One division will be fantasy and the other religion. Prizes will be given for the three best floats in each of the two divisions.

A parade of this type is designed to entertain the children of our entire area.

R. A. Bradley, chairman of the Christmas parade said, "Prizes will total $350 or more and will be presented to the winners immediately following the parade. We believe that a parade of this type which is being desired will provide en-

Canyon Eagles Swoop Over Mules

Fumbles, interceptions and penalties for a total of 85 yards helped the Canyon Eagles defeat the Muleshoe Mules in the next-to-last football game of the 1967 season, with the final tally at 14-6.

Before a small but enthusiastic crowd of Muleshoe and Canyon football fans, all but engulfed by the huge, nearly empty stands of Buffalo stadium, the Eagles defeated the Mules.

The first quarter of the contest was a see-saw game with neither team seeing the crucial goal line any closer than the 20-yard line.

Both the Mules and the Eagles found the defensive actions of the other team almost impossible to penetrate and brick-wall like lines were set up to prevent either team from being able to move more than a few yards with each carry of the ball.

The first quarter had gone by scoreless and five minutes and fifty two seconds had been played in the second when David Thompson plunged over the goal on a one-yard run for Canyon's first tally of the game.

Quarterback Lon Conner faked a pass and scooted around to his right and into the end zone to add two more points and put the score of 8-0 on the board.

Near the end of the second quarter, with the clock steadily clicking off the seconds, the Mules had steadily marched downfield toward the goal line. Quarterback Ronnie Barrett sailed a pass over the heads of the Eagles' defensive team and it sailed neatly right into the arms of quarterback Johnny Embry. On the next play, Barrett stepped back and let go of the pigskin and David Dillman was waiting just over the end zone to reach up and snatch it right out of the air, the scoreboard clock stopped with 42 seconds left in the first half of the tilt.

An attempted pass for extra point tipped off the fingers of Charles Beamon and the conversion attempt failed.

In the third quarter, with a narrow margin of 8-6 the Mules were deep in Eagle territory when a pass attempt by Ronnie Barrett was intercepted by linebacker Jim McBroom who stepped in front of intended receiver Johnny Embry ending the scoring threat of the Mules.

In the fourth quarter, fullback Phil Swatzell scampered downfield on a 45 yard run that put the Eagles five yards away from their second touchdown of the game. With almost half the fourth quarter ticked off on the clock David Thompson stumbled over into the end zone to score for the Eagles. A pass attempt by quarterback Lon Conner for extra point failed, leaving a score of 14-6.

One of the more spectacular plays in the game was in the fourth quarter when quarterback Ronnie Barrett sailed a high straight pass into the arms of Bobby Julian for a gain of 42 yards. Quarterback Barrett, a sophomore, has shown marked improvement in passing since the beginning of the season.

In the next play after the long pass, the Mules received a 30 yard penalty that all but nullified the yard gainage on the pass. A check before press time with Coach Dick Stafford did not explain the unusual 30-yard penalty.

Coach Stafford explained that there is no penalty over 15 yards and as yet, the 30-yard penalty the Mules received in the last minute of the game has not been explained.

Next Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. the Mules will meet Perryton in the home stadium for the final game of the season, and this is the homecoming game for Muleshoe.

Japan Largest Cash Customer For U. S. Grain Sorghum Export

"Japan is the largest single cash customer that the United States has for its grain sorghum," said Frank M. Pharris, executive vice president and general manager of Producers Grain Corporation in a statement released by Pharris.

In this statement, Pharris announced the departure of a cooperative feed grain promotion team composed of Bob Boothe, director of field service, Producers Grain Corporation, Amarillo; Ralph Crawford, executive vice president and general manager of Producers Export Company, New York City and Bruce Cotter, general manager, Farmers Export Company, Kansas City, Mo.

Pharris stated that the farmers of the Southwest have a large stake in the grain sorghum export market and particularly the cash customers of United States grain sorghum such as Japan. This year Japan will use in excess of two million tons of milo. Producers Grain Corporation has been working for the past several years to establish a direct tie with the largest single user of feed grain in the world, Japan, through its member cooperative accounts for nearly 35 percent of all the mixed feed manufactured in Japan. Within the past few months, P. G. C. through Producers Export Company has entered into a contract to furnish Zenokoren a portion of a year's supply of grain sorghum.

"Of our knowledge," continued Pharris, "this is the first such direct trade agreement between large regional cooperatives. In view of the fact that we are a cooperative, we have the best interest of the Japanese cooperative farmer at heart and will do our best to supply him with the highest quality feed grains at the best prices."

The primary objective of Boothe and the other team members will be to acquaint the officials of Zenokoren with Producers Grain Corporation, Producers Export Company and Farmers Export Company and the services that can be rendered by these three cooperatives and to promote the use of United States grain sorghum.

"Boothe will be visiting with the officials of Zenokoren at all levels, managers of cooperative feed mills, managers of cooperative poultry and livestock feeding operations, and cooperative farmers throughout the country of Japan."

John Tower

We hear a great deal about youngsters gone wrong these days. There is concern about drastic increases in the rate of crime by teenagers. Just a few weeks ago we had a bunch of ill-clad, ill-groomed and ill-mannered hippies dancing around the Washington monument right here in the nation's capital.

Nevertheless, we are quite often reminded that such youngsters are not representative of American young men and women. And that certainly is correct where young Texans are concerned.

Two such Texans are visiting me today as a part of the American Legion's "Top Teens" program.

The first is Alan Keyes of San Antonio. Alan, it's a pleasure to have you here.

Keyes--Thank you. The other is Richard Clardy of Odessa. Welcome to Washington, Dick. Clardy--Thank you. I also have with me today Ray Larsen of Northbrook, Illinois, who is the American Legion Baseball Player of the Year.

Ray, glad to have you. Larsen--Thank you. Tower--Alan Keyes is the American Legion Boys' National President and its National Oratorical Champion.

Alan, I am a Legionnaire myself. I'm very proud that a Texan has achieved those honors. He is the son of U. S. Army Sergeant-John Allison Keyes who is serving in Vietnam. Alan, I think the Texans listening would be interested in your views on Southeast Asia.

Keyes--Well, it all depends on what aspect. Tower--Well, what do you think of our effort over there? Do you think we are doing the right thing in opposing communism?

Keyes--In opposing communism, I think we definitely are taking a correct step in doing that. It all depends upon the means whereby we are doing it. I might have, on occasion, a dispute with that particular phase or area of it. For instance, for the particular effort in Vietnam and all over the world, I think, in a lot of cases, I think we are allowing ourselves to utilize this time and place whether it's to our advantage or not. I believe we have done that in Vietnam and I believe it has been a mistake there in this particular case.

However, now that we are there and fighting, I believe we should do all we honorably can to seek a just and lasting peace there, but I feel that since we are there fighting, we have to stay there until we find an honorable settlement.

Tower--Alan, I think that's a very perceptive comment and one of my colleagues sometime in the past contacted the Chamber of Commerce of Dallas and I'll be going to Vietnam again in a few days and I hope I see you dad over there.

Tower--Dick Clardy is the Federal criminal cases especially in the Nation's capital where all crimes are within the jurisdiction of the Federal courts.

National Crime Rate Disgrace
"The nation's spiraling crime rate is a disgrace," Representative Bob Price said in Washington Thursday in calling for speed passage of a bill intended to unclench the backlog of criminal cases.

Price, a member of the House Republican Task Force on Crime, blamed part of the crime problem on the failure "to dispense swift, sure justice."

The proposal, according to Price, would replace U. S. Commissioners with a new position of U. S. Magistrates, and expand the qualifications and duties of the office.

"The significant feature of the legislation," Price said, "is that Federal judges would be freed from less important procedural tasks and enabled to devote more time to matters of substance in the administration of justice."

"If enacted," the Panhandle Congressman said, "the bill would promote swifter justice."

However, you must undergo a VA medical examination to determine the degree and nature of your disability and the amount of compensation to which you are entitled. You can make arrangements for that examination through your nearest Veterans Administration office.

Water, Inc. Group Plan Project Tour

A three-day tour of California's water development projects by Water, Inc. Directors, members and other interested individuals has been confirmed by the water organization.

President, John J. Kendrick stated that as of Thursday, November 9, confirmed reservations had climbed to 16, with several others expressing intentions to join the tour and others had their checks in the mail. He said, "A conservative estimate would be approximately 38 making the tour."

The Water, Inc. group will depart for California on Sunday December 10, and return Wednesday night, December 13. Cost of the tour is $250 for each person, and includes transportation and accommodations.

Kendrick also said that reservations must be made by November 15 with the Water, Inc. office in Lubbock. He added that all interested farmers and businessmen are invited and urged to participate.

son of Mrs. Dortha M. Clardy. He's the representative here today of more than 4,000 Boy Scout troops which are sponsored by American Legion Posts all over the nation, Dick, I understand the Scouting program has been considerably modernized and changed since the time when I was a Boy Scout almost 30 years ago. So maybe you'd like to tell us some of the things the Scouts are doing these days and what's going on in Scouting.

Clardy--Well, this past summer I was privileged to attend the Twelfth National World Jambooree in Idaho. And, of course, we saw Scouts from all over the world and these boys were actually the "cream of the crop" in the world. I think the Scouting program nowadays is utilizing every effort to make each boy an opportunity to attain his goals.

Of course, the effort is trying to be modernized but I think the original thing that it was started for is still being used, the outdoor adventure camping.

Tower--Well, that's good. I'm delighted to hear that report on Scouting. Ray Larsen of Illinois is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Larsen. Ray is the American Legion top teen-aged baseball player.

Ray, what are some of the things you all have been doing in Washington?

Larsen--Well, briefly, we arrived here on Sunday night and yesterday we had the opportunity to meet J. Edgar Hoover and visit the FBI and took a tour. We met with Senator Yarborough, your colleague from Texas, and met with Senator Dirksen and today are meeting with you. We'll be in town this afternoon.

Tower--Well, that's good. I hope you're enjoying your visit to the nation's Capitol. Thank you boys for being here today.

PRIME MINISTER YOSHIDA

It was my privilege the first of this week to be a member of the official United States delegation to the funeral in Tokyo of Japan's former Prime Minister Yoshida.

Not very many Americans today remember Prime Minister Yoshida, and many of them may well wonder why his funeral was a matter of such major importance to both Japan and the United States.

And, I must admit, that even though my World War II naval service was in Asian waters, and even though I have since been a member of the Senate particularly interested in and concerned about Asian affairs, I, too, had forgotten a great many of the accomplishments of Prime Minister Yoshida.

I was, therefore, glad to have the opportunity to accompany Senator John Sparkman of Alabama and General Matthew Ridgway to Tokyo as representatives of President Johnson at the funeral.

Although I have been in Japan as recently as a year ago, this trip served to reaffirm for me the facts of Japan's amazing and total recovery from the trials and destruction of World War II and her emergence as the most stable and prosperous of today's Asian nations.

This recovery came about for Japan in much the same way Germany's recovery developed under Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He and General Douglas MacArthur worked long and hard together to build a Japanese nation that would survive and prosper in an atmosphere of democratic freedom.

Their success was due in large part to Yoshida's talent and determination.

Yoshida served his country as Prime Minister throughout the postwar occupation period. He signed the ultimate Peace Treaty of 1951 which restored normal relations between Japan and the United States. He then led Japan until 1954 and was in her parliament until 1952 by which time she had emerged as a strong, free-world power allied formally with the United States.

After his retirement from government leadership, Yoshida continued to exert considerable influence both in Japan and internationally as what the Japanese call a "genro" or elder statesman. He assumed much the same position as former presidents Eisenhower and Truman hold here and was venerated by the Japanese.

panese culture. The subsequent Prime Ministers of Japan have each been Yoshida proteges.

Yoshida was trained as a lawyer and served as a Japanese diplomat before World War II. He had retired from diplomatic service before Pearl Harbor and was one of the few prominent Japanese who was completely divorced from the wartime governments. He was even jailed for a time near the end of the war when he advocated the seeking of peace talks.

Immediately after the war ended in 1945 he became Foreign Minister, and within a year had risen to Prime Minister. He had last visited the United States in 1944 when he was here to attend the funeral of General MacArthur.

It was curious to those of us in Tokyo this week that the funeral of Yoshida was a time of great national mourning for the Japanese people. And yet, it was that special sort of mourning which nations have reserved for the passing of other great leaders of the war-and-post-war era such as Adenauer and Churchill. The Japanese people are a more free, more prosperous, more happy, and more advanced people than they were when Yoshida first assumed their leadership. They know that, and they appreciate it.

They know, too, that the nation-building accomplished by Yoshida and MacArthur was possible only because an understanding and generous American people wanted a strong, free nation to rise from the ashes of war, and helped it happen.

Japan is today an ally of the United States. It is a showcase for Asian freedom. It is providing foreign aid of its own to other more needy nations in Asia. Its progress is a bulwark against adventure-some Asian communism.

Another net covered table bore a facsimile of a large gold wedding ring as the centerpiece.

An unusual conversation piece was a charcoal etching of the Traynor home place, complete with the old oak tree by the vine-covered dwelling. The tree depicted a family tree, bearing on its branches the faces taken from snapshots of all family members, going back to great-grandparents.

Each child had made something special for his parents, Mike, a son, hand-crafted a road sign for the turn-off the highway to their ranch home.

Their youngest daughter composed a tribute of love in words to them and their eldest daughter had provided the charcoal etching of their home.

The club will meet on December 5 with Judy Roming for the annual Christmas party.

WRAPPING DITTY BAGS---Pauletta Crawford, Don Chah, local Red Cross chairman, Dorothy Turner and Hazel Gilbreath are in the process of wrapping Ditty Bags for our servicemen overseas. To date 102 ditty bags have been mailed.

Ditty Bags Mailed to Servicemen

For many years local Chapters of the American Red Cross have been remembering our servicemen stationed in remote areas of the world in peace time and during armed conflict. This year 102 ditty bags have been mailed to approximately 27 area servicemen now stationed in southeast Asia.

Each of these ditty bags contained such items as hard candy, canned nuts, Jello, pens and writing materials, shaving cream, soap, tooth paste, gum, nail clippers, tweezers, white socks and foot powder. One of the most unusual items sent this year was pre-sweetened kool-aid, which is used to sweeten drinking water after adding the tablets necessary for purification.

This year ditty bags were prepared and filled by the following organizations, and individuals.

Ladies of the Circleback Baptist Church, Circleback; YI Methodist Youth; Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church, Progress Home Demonstration Club, Intermediate Girls' Sunday School Classes of the First Baptist Church, Muleshoe Hobby Club, Mrs. Darrell Patty, Mrs. Neida Merriott and Shawnda Turner.

In cooperation with the Bailey County Chapter of the American Red Cross, a United Fund Organization, the bags were wrapped and mailed to the men in southeast Asia recently. According to those preparing the bags it is hoped that the ditty bags will in some little happier for these servicemen.

Go To Church Every Sunday

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE HARVEST

"While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease."

Genesis 8:22

The harvest each year should remind us of God's great promise to man. This promise was made right after the great flood, from which only Noah and his Ark survived. Just prior to the flood, all men lived so evilly that it grieved the Lord that he had made man of the earth.

Today the churches stand as a bulwark against evil. Attend church regularly so that never again would man grieve the Lord as before.

Abstract Showing in Art Room Worth Public Viewing

By Mart Francis and Winn Watson

Art II is showing abstract art works in the library for the next few weeks. These abstract sculptures are made from wire and covered with string to emphasize planes on the wire. They have been sprayed in gold and copper. Students in this class have gone to lots of trouble in preparing this display. Make it worth your time to observe them.

Schraffeta is another project taking place in Art II. Different colors ranging from cadmium red to zinc yellow and yellow ochre are used in an undercoat. Burnt umber is lacquered on after the paint dries. Leaves, acorns, and other objects are then drawn within the drawing is then taken off with cardboard, scraping it leaves veins, shadows and other interesting effects.

Art I has been busy creating portraits. They have drawn two portraits of their own creation and now they are doing pictures of their friends and even some of their enemies.

Honor Society Breakfast Held

By Kerry Beddingfield

The National Honor Society had a breakfast last Thursday, November 9, at the Corral Drive-In. Several matters of business were discussed. It was decided that every month the Society would sponsor a teacher of the month selected by the members. The Society is already sponsoring the honor students of the month. They are a girl or a boy from each of the classes and selected by the teachers.

Team Support Spirit Club Asks

By Harriet Glaze and Vicki Stout

The Spirit Club urges everyone to come and support the Mules at the homecoming game against Perryton at 2 p.m. Saturday, November 18.

The Spirit Club wants to say that they will also be supporting the Mules and Mulettes during their games this year.

We would like to congratulate the Mulettes for the two wins over Farwell. The score for the "B" team was 34-12 and varsity game was 43-35.

All students are asked to support the teams by decorating the halls during homecoming week for the hall decoration contest.

DE Students Learn How to Remember Names

By Winn Watson

Have you ever heard of remembering someone's name or an item by simply remembering "baby's rubber pants?" This is exactly what the Distributive Education Club is doing. We are having a memory course and our teacher is Fred Mardis.

We have memorized 25 words and everytime we meet someone new, we associate them with one of these words; thus, remembering the person's name becomes easier. The funnier the association, the easier it is to remember.

Mardis, our sponsor, has worked with many people to devise this theory and method of a memory course.

The DE club also has a mirror in their room which catches your eye. The saying around the mirror is "Are YOU ready for work today?" The mirror is placed in the room to help us as DE students see what we

Students Have Hall Decoration

By Diane Bryant

Next Saturday, November 18, marks the date set for Homecoming. During this week the Student Council will be sponsoring a hall decorating contest. Each class is given a certain amount of space in the halls of MHS and are to be decorated by their class.

The contest will be judged by teachers of the school system on Thursday or Friday.

Another project on the Student Council list is a Faculty Talent Show. This show will be presented to the students of MHS sometime before the Thanksgiving holidays. Most of the teachers have consented to participate in this and to them we are very thankful.

Saturday, November 11, several members of the Student Council are to attend the District Convention in Floydada. We will try to give a report on this at a later date and describe the events which we observed.

need to do for ourselves to get ready for work on that particular day.

It is packaged in attractive 40 pound boxes and will be sold to you at $5 per box. We will be able to start deliveries to you after December 18.

We think this fruit would be a perfect item with which you could show your appreciation to a friend or customer.

If you are not contacted by one of our members then phone the Muleshoe Vocational Agriculture Department at 272-3619 between 8:45 a. m. and 3:45 p.m. and let us know that you are interested.

All proceeds from the sale will help support the local FFA activities.

Seniors Elect Class Favorites

By Pajah Michael Abdallah Rajama

Val Moore and Bobby Julian have been elected as class favorites of the 1967-68 class of Muleshoe High School.

The group met Monday in high school auditorium to make the selection from among the candidates.

Girls nominated were Susan Camp, Diane Bryant, Val Moore, Sharron Hutton and Gail Phipps.

Faculty Members Contribute Talent

Muleshoe High's faculty members made talented contributions to the recently performed "Womanless Wedding."

After searching frantically for weeks, Mrs. Mardis was able to find a fashionable "nightie" for Fred Mardis, which proved to be a rather exotic costume.

Kerry Moore, the well-known and notorious speech director of MHS made his grand entrance looking like something in between "Hedda Hopper" and "Mae West." The face-lifting he received during his pre-show treatment was almost as effective as plastic surgery.

Coach Washington, portraying "Mary Pickford" in a fit of benevolence had 7,000 pinups of himself sent to bootcamp trainees.

The three football coaches of MHS confused everyone with the strange scent which they seemed to emit. It seemed to be a cross between Chanel No. 5 and Athletic Analgesic Balm.

SPIRIT CLUB---In position, as they have been during the football season thusfar, all members of the MHS Spirit Club are on the bleachers ready to back the football boys and the basketball teams.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights

AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex.--It's election week once more all over Texas.

Voters in 254 counties will decide Saturday (Nov. 11) whether they want six more amendments to the State's constitution. According to Secretary of State John Hill, voters in five areas of Texas will choose legislators to fill vacancies created by death or resignation. There are six vacant seats in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate.

A light-to-moderate vote is predicted. November 11 is opening day of the deer and turkey hunting season in most counties. This means a lot of hunters will be in the field instead of the voting booth. However, election day also is Veterans Day, and backers of the proposed amendment to revive the veterans land program are staging an active get-out-the-vote campaign. So are supporters of two other amendments -- the one authorizing the state to issue bonds to finance expansion of the Texas parks system and that permitting state officials and employees to hold more than one office.

Seventy candidates, including 14 Republicans, are running for legislative places. Republicans hope to improve their position. Presently they have only three representatives in the 150-member House and one senator in the 31-member Senate.

There are two representative races in Harris County; another in Cameron County; one in Matagorda and Wharton Counties; one in Travis County; and another in Bailey, Cochran, Terry and Yoakum Counties. Twenty Dallas candidates are running for the Senate seat of the late George Parkhouse.

Six constitutional amendments are on the ballot in the following order:

1. To authorize counties to place all their tax revenues in a single general fund, rather than separate, special-purpose funds.
2. To let local political subdivisions which have hospital districts spend tax money for mental health and mental retardation services.

#3. To revive the veterans land program through an additional $200,000,000 bond issue, permitting war veterans, including those of the Vietnam conflict, to purchase land on low-interest, 40-year-payback loans.

#4. To permit counties to pay medical benefits for their law enforcement officers injured in the line of duty.

#5. To authorize a $75,000,000 state bond issue (supported by an admission fee at selected parks) for park land buying and development.

#6. To permit non-elective state officials and employees to serve on state and federal boards and commissions if there is no conflict of duties. This is the first general election in Texas since the "scratch out" method of voting was eliminated. Now an "X" indicates your choice.

TAX PICTURE BRIGHTENING--Top legislative budget planners took a new, slightly brighter reading on the tax outlook last week. But taxpayers still won't be exactly overjoyed.

Legislative Budget Board staff members trimmed their unofficial estimate of revenue needs in 1968 from $192,900,000 to $149,000,000. However, the latter calls for rigid budget economies which lawmakers will find hard to effect in the face of rising costs, growing population and increasing demands for better services.

LBB staffers estimated 1969 general fund spending at $455,800,000. This is just $3,000,000 above the 1968 level. Figure does not include $258,500,000 in automatic foundation school fund transfers and $1,500,000 in water development fund allocations.

Governor's budget office, pointing to an error in general revenue income estimates by the comptroller's office, said it appears that the 1968 tax bill, which legislators must pass in their special session, probably will be in the $130,000,000 to $150,000,000 range. Executive office earlier insisted that $100,000,000 to $130,000,000 would be adequate.

COURTS SPEAK---Third Court of Civil Appeals held an "arbitrary and capricious" the state agency's denial of an application to open a Fort Worth branch office of Oak Cliff Savings and Loan Association, Former State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst denied the application in January of 1966.

Same court upheld a $75,000 condemnation award for the purchase of downtown San Marcos land by the city's Urban Renewal Agency. Agency appealed the jury award of the Hays County court for 8,445 square-feet of property as excessive.

UNEMPLOYMENT TAX CUT Forty percent of Texas employers will pay lower unemployment compensation payroll taxes next year -- and save about $15,000,000.

Reduction was made possible because the program trust fund exceeded $300,000,000 on October 1. Under the law, tax is cut one-tenth of one percent for each $5,000,000 or portion thereof by which the fund passes $300,000,000. Balance now is $319,000,000. Cut is four percent for employers affected.

Fifty-four percent of the employers already have earned a minimum statutory rate of one percent. Another six percent are "excess cost employers" with earned experience rates of 3.1 percent or more. Neither of these groups will be affected by the reduction.

PARKS WORK SPEEDIED---Sixty-one existing state parks will reach the ultimate usage and development by 1971, according to Deputy Director Robert G. Mauermann of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Major construction projects slated for this biennium include Bentzen - Rio Grande, Lake Brownwood, Caddo Lake, Palmetto, Goliad, Cleburne and Goose Island. Developed from scratch, during the past five years were the following: Falcon, Whitney and Martin Dies Jr. Bastrop, Davis Mountains, Old Fort Parker and Kerrville parks received major improvements.

Mauermann estimated $12,500,000 will be spent in improving state parks in three years. He said construction projects totaling $5,700,000 already have been completed, and $2,200,000 worth are in progress.

HAULERS HEARING---Nine truck lines, which currently carry motion picture film and several other specific commodities, seek authority from the Texas Railroad Commission to include any shipments up to 100 pounds.

Applications were opposed by haulers and other trucking companies which felt the additional service was not necessary.

Hearing required 17 weeks for 600 witnesses.

Commission is studying a 250-page summary of testimonial.

POLLUTION RULES HIT---Texas Air Control Board heard complaints from industry representatives concerning proposed regulations for controlling pollution due to smoke and flying particles, outdoor burning, sulphur compounds and motor vehicle exhaust.

Board announced its plans following an extended hearing to adopt a version of the new rules within six weeks. Objections centered on a proposal to permit the burning of waste outside a defined standard metropolitan statistical area.

Petitions bearing signatures of 5,112 Harris County citizens were handed the Board. Demand was for legal action against Houston ship channel industrial plants allegedly in violation of pollution control rules effective last June 1. Requested regulation governing smoke and particulate matter if local governments do not.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED---Gov. John Connally named former State Rep. Raleigh Brown of Abilene as 42nd

District Judge (Taylor and Callahan Counties). He succeeds Judge J. R. Black who resigned.

LL. Gov. Preston Smith appointed three Senators to serve on the Interim Committee on Uninsured Motorists Coverage. Named were Sens. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, Jim Wade of Dallas and Murray Watson Jr. of Waco.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named a Water Study Committee composed of Reps. Bill Clayton of Springlake, chairman; Menon Murray of Harlingen; Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon; Bill Swanson of Houston.

Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. appointed Dudley Shafer of Houston and Walter Brubaker of Ingleside as vice chairmen of GOP policy-making task forces on job opportunities and economic growth and modernization of state and local government.

SHORT SHORTS---Three minor political parties have notified Secretary of State John Hill that next year they intend to nominate candidates in convention. They are Conservative, Socialist Workers and American parties -- the latter organized to get former Alabama Gov. George Wallace on the presidential ballot.

Securities sales totaled $462,200,000 last year, a new all-time high.

Nearly 150 Texas cities with 6,000,000 population will vote on a local sales tax before the end of the year, according to Texas Municipal League forecasts.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announces acquisition of two leased helicopters to be used for statewide law enforcement and rescue work.

Agriculture Commissioner John White designated November as "Texas Agricultural Products Month."

LUBBOCK--The November 1 estimate of 1967-68 cotton production on the High Plains, jointly compiled by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and covering the 23 counties represented by PCG, comes to 1,247,000 bales.

This compares with final production last year of 1,205,000 bales and is up 16,500 bales from the estimate compiled a month ago. Standing acreage in the 23 counties is now estimated at about 1,256,000.

Harvest of the crop is rapidly getting underway. As of November 3 classing offices at Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock had binned just under 50,000 bales, with receipts averaging upwards of 5,000 per day.

This pace, weather permitting, will pick up quickly now that the entire area has had frost-producing temperatures. Stripping operations are expected to be going full blast in most counties by mid-November, with the peak harvest period probably falling between November 20 and December 20.

Prices for this year's crop so far are ranging from 100 to 300 points over loan values for the shorter stapled to 1300 or more over the loan for some of the longer staples grown in this area.

Trade sources to date report that no weakness in prices has developed in either category, and there's some indication of additional strength in the longer staple market.

PCG's first quality report, issued November 1 and covering 23,099 bales classed through October 26, shows the longest staple average, highest strength and best micronaire ever recorded. Grades, too, were above previous years.

But it has to be noted that most of these early-season gin-nings were varieties commanding sufficient market premiums to warrant hand pulling or harvest by selective, spindle-type pickers. And this virtually invalidates any direct comparison with quality factors shown on the first quality report from previous years.

The first quality report of 1966, for example, covered 115,000 bales and was not issued until November 17. It naturally included a much higher percentage of the shorter stapled varieties harvested all most exclusively by roller or brush-type strippers. Nevertheless, it is obvious that the additional acreage of improved varieties on the Plains this year will help average as the season progresses. Some 34 percent of the area's acreage this year was planted to cottons with the genetic potential to produce staples an inch or longer.

Of this year's first 23,099 bales, 82.8 percent stapled an inch or more and the average staple came to just over 1 3/32 inches. Micronaire average was 3.9 with over 86 percent above the 3.5 tenderable limit. Pressley, or fiber strength, measured in pounds per square inch, averaged 89,100, and 92.3 percent measured above 75,000 pounds.

PCG compiles a comprehensive semi-monthly report on the grade, staple, micronaire, pressley and elongation of High Plains cotton. The report is furnished free of charge to members of the cotton trade, textile industry and others.

Cooperating with PCG in this joint marketing and quality improvement effort are the three area cotton classing offices, the Textile Research Laboratories at Texas Tech and Tech's Computer Center.

The next report is due to be published on November 15. Most men, if asked for a general definition of "Women's Clubs," would probably come up with something like "groups of women who hold meetings and deal in matters which are none of our business."

Generally, they might be closer to right than wrong. But in the case of the Women's Cotton Clubs being put together on the High Plains, they couldn't be more mistaken. To our knowledge six such clubs have been organized in five Plains counties since February, 1965. The first was in Crosby County, and there are now two in Lubbock County and one each in Hale, Lynn and Yoakum counties.

Their meetings and what they are doing is very much "our business," because they are aiming "with considerable success" at larger stocks of cotton in this area's retail stores, greater public awareness of cotton, more widespread knowledge of cotton's problems and cotton's importance to the economy.

They describe themselves as non-social, non-political and non-profit groups with but one purpose -- to promote our own product and to be of service to our cotton industry. The programs at their meetings feature slide shows, movies and displays that show why cotton and cotton consumption are so vitally important to farmers, businessmen and the whole economy of West Texas.

They are sponsoring Sew It With Cotton contests, County Cotton Queen contests with the winner going on to stage competition, and all-cotton style shows.

They are working on automobile window stickers boosting cotton and a central newsletter containing cotton information to be promoted to members of other clubs. She has worked tirelessly and spent so much of her own money to keep the movement going.

The Crosby County club started with 86 members, now has about 500.

Mrs. Kenneth Gray of Lorenzo is now President of the Crosby County group, but Mrs. McDowell continues to be the moving force behind the organization of women in other counties and even in other states.

She has spoken to groups in both New Mexico and Arizona and was highly praised in both places for her work. She has a standing offer of free help to the women of any county who are interested in working for cotton.

Mrs. McDowell believes, as do the women of all the clubs, that thousands of organized, well informed women promoting, asking for and buying cotton will bring substantial and lasting benefits to the cotton industry.

We at Plains Cotton Growers think so too, and we're behind them all the way.

Washington Report

from Congress
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1223 JOHNSON POST OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 725-2708

President Johnson last week lambasted Congress for its failure to approve his proposed tax increase and a deeply slashing of the Administration's rent subsidies and model cities programs.

The next day the left-wingish WASHINGTON POST, the Capital's only daily newspaper, threw a few rocks of its own in an editorial titled "Our Limping Congress."

The editorial lamented that "At the end of the fourth week in October, four months after the beginning of the new fiscal year, only 10 of the 14 regular appropriations bills had been passed. The foreign aid and poverty programs were in deep trouble. The two houses had cleared only seven of the 25 major bills on its 1967 agenda."

The editorial was critical of which it said, "to date is a pathetic one." Undoubtedly in the myopic eyes of the WASHINGTON POST, this is so. Its editors can find little comfort in the recent restraint on Federal spending applied by a recalcitrant House of Representatives led by Republicans and joined by conservative Democrats including the highly respected Democratic Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas.

But Rep. Mills looked at it another way in commenting on his committee's refusal to approve the President's proposed 10 percent surtax.

He said, "We are trying to get this message across: we want to pause in this headlong rush toward ever bigger government..."

"Spending cuts in this fiscal year or in 1969, welcome as they would be, are not really the central objective. . . . Our focus, properly, is on controlling the growth of Federal claims on the nation's productive capability over the years and on making sure that the kinds of things the Federal government does -- the nature of its claims on the economy -- conform with the nation's changing preferences."

Another prominent Democrat more than two years ago suggested that the huge legislative tonnage passed by the first session of the 2-1 Democratic 89th Congress should undergo some analysis. Senator Mike Mansfield, Majority Leader of the Senate, proposed that the 2nd Session of the 89th Congress "spend less time on new legislation and more time correcting oversights in legislation we have just passed."

Senator Mansfield said he proposed to submit his proposal to a Democratic Senate Conference before adjournment. "We

Q - I have a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance Policy. I would like to preserve the proceeds of this policy to provide a college education for my children in the event of my death before they reach college age. Can I make some arrangement with the Veterans Administration under which they will hold the money until the children are ready for college?
A - If you have an endowment policy, you might like to consider changing it to a life plan. In this case you would receive the difference in reserves in cash at the time you make the change and, in addition, at the time of your death the face value of the policy would still be payable to your beneficiary. You may name a trustee as beneficiary and make provisions in the trust agreement for the proceeds to be used to educate your children. The matter of a trust agreement should be discussed with your attorney or bank officer. The VA cannot be responsible for seeing that the provisions of a trust agreement are carried out.

Q - I entered active duty last year under the Six-Month Reserve training program and I served 182 days during this tour. Am I eligible for schooling under the G. I. bill?
A - No. The fact that you had the required minimum of 181 days in service does not apply in your case. Veterans who enlisted under the Six-Month Reserve program do not qualify under the G. I. bill.

Q - I am receiving a pension as a widow of a veteran and for our two children. I am considering marrying again. If I marry, will I lose this pension?
A - Your pension will be terminated but your children will continue to receive benefits if neither has an unearned income exceeding $1,800 per year. Children do not lose their rights to a pension when the widow remarries or dies. They will continue to receive a pension until they reach age 18 or, if they remain in school, until age 23. The rate for two children together is $56 per month. Where there is only one child the rate is $40.
