

Cal Boykin To Be Presented As C. Of C. President For 1939 At Annual Banquet Session This Evening

350 Reservations Already Made For Affair

As final arrangements were being completed for the organization's annual membership banquet this evening, directors of the Big Spring chamber of com-

7:30 Is The Time

Because a network broadcast must be started promptly at 9 o'clock, and because the serving of more than 350 people necessarily takes a great deal of time, chamber of commerce leaders stressed the fact this afternoon that tonight's banquet will be started promptly at 7:30. Everyone is urged to be on hand by that time.

DR. F. W. MALONE Outgoing President

Named as second vice president today was Ted Groehl, and Joe B. Harrison was elected treasurer. Five directors, appointed to complete the board by the 29 who were elected by the membership, are Harrison, J. L. LeBlanc, W. S. Crook, Jas. A. Davis and E.

M. Conley. All was in readiness for the banquet tonight, it was said. The affair will start at 7:30, in the Settles ballroom, and the big problem today was placing tables to accommodate the maximum number of people. Paid-in reservations at noon were beyond the 350 mark, and it was said 390 could be seated. Representatives will be here from 17 other towns. Principal speaker on the program, Elliott Roosevelt, son of the nation's president and president of the Texas State Network, is scheduled to arrive on the 6:45 p. m. American Airlines plane. He will be met at the airport by chamber of commerce directors, and city and county officials. A group of A. and M. execs in Big Spring plan a brief meeting with Mr. Roosevelt soon after his arrival, to honor him as a member of the college's board of directors. Mr. Roosevelt's associate in the TSN, Harry A. Hutchinson, general manager, arrived here Thursday morning.

The Roosevelt talk will go out over the 23-station network (including KBBT) from 9 to 9:25 p. m. Other items on tonight's program will be a review of the chamber of commerce work during 1938 by Dr. Malone; vocal numbers by the trio composed of Miss Ruby Bell, Mrs. R. E. Blount and Mrs. Willard Read, and vocal solos by Wm. R. Daves. Congressman George Mahon of Colorado will serve as master of ceremonies. He will serve for R. F. Schermerhorn, past president of the chamber of commerce, who has been called out of the city.

Interest Is Stirring In Liquor Vote

Issue Again Before County Electorate On Saturday

Signs of increasing interest was noted today in the Saturday county-wide referendum on liquor as opinion seemed sharply divided on the outcome of the vote.

Quiet Campaigns

Dry forces, apparently quiet, have been carrying on a steady campaign for the past week, centering around church meetings. A large per cent of ministers have made pointed references to the approaching election from pulpits and in several group meetings.

Whatever campaign the wets have been carrying on has been even quieter. Local political observers believed the strategy was to capitalize on what was said was a general feeling of dissatisfaction.

With ballot boxes delivered to most of the judges in the 14 boxes of the county, voting regulations were discussed by officials. The polls will be opened at 8 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. and persons having a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate may cast ballots.

L. E. Morris, district director for the state liquor control board said that it would not be necessary for beer and wine establishments to cease operations during the voting hours. This provision of the law, he said, applies only to primary and general elections.

Shutdowns Will Be Continued Until Next April 1

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—Texas oil men were under orders today to halt the flow of their wells on Saturdays and Sundays for three more months, or until next April 1. An exception was made of January 29, the fifth Sunday in that month.

The decree continuing eight day a month shutdowns was signed by Commissioners Ernest O. Thompson and Lon A. Smith, it seemingly answered in the affirmative the much-debated question of whether Texas will keep stringent restrictions on production after Jerry Sadler succeeds C. V. Terrell January 1 as the third member of the commission.

SAYS TEXAS MAY BUILD ITS OWN LABORATORY

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—The observation "Texas may ultimately have to build its own laboratory" came from Senator-elect George Moffett of Chillicothe today, following designation of New Orleans as the site of a federal agricultural research laboratory.

Moffett, a veteran of the house of representatives, said "deeply regretted" the federal government's action in overlooking Texas. "The laboratory should be closer to cotton farms than cotton exchanges," he said, "it is to be hoped that it experiments on upland cotton as well as Mississippi delta cotton."

STATE A VICTOR IN GAS CASE RULING

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore today sustained the state's general demurrer and 18 special exceptions to a petition of the Lone Star Gas company protesting payment of pipe line taxes.

Assistant Attorney General John McKay termed the action a "decisive victory" for the state. He said the gas company probably would appeal.

Olin Culbertson, veteran chief of the railroad commission's gas utilities division, who has waged a long and bitter fight to protect and expand the state's regulation over utilities, also expressed elation.

U. S. PROPOSES ALL-INCLUSIVE PEACE PLAN

Document Would Embrace All Existing Agreements Between South American Nations, Provides Few Changes

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15 (AP)—The United States laid before the Pan-American conference today a project for unifying all existing Pan-American peace, conciliation and arbitration agreements into one fundamental constitution of peace for the Western Hemisphere.

The proposal formed a 15-page document containing 23 exhaustive articles. It does not carry existing agreements any further and makes no fundamental changes except in regard to arbitration.

This followed disclosure by Argentine delegation leaders that Argentina had taken a dominant position in negotiations over a plan for continental solidarity and that the United States had abandoned all hopes for a pact against outside aggression in favor of a mere declaration of policy.

From the beginning of discussions before the conference of 21 nations opened December 9, Argentina had opposed a definite non-aggression pact, while the United States, although willing to compromise on the matter, hoped for something more precise than only a statement of policy.

Talks on the continental defense issue among delegates have shown that Brazil and Argentina were in opposite camps, with Brazil generally supporting the United States viewpoint favoring a treaty or convention.

In the face of Argentine opposition to flat commitments, the Brazilian delegation has made it clear that it would continue to favor a treaty providing for a continental defense organization based on the principle of equality of all American states.

Argentine leaders said the United States now accepted the principle of a mere declaration and that the document would probably be in the form of a statement of American unity against non-American aggressors. They added, however, that they hoped to widen the declaration to include attacks from within the Americas as well as from without.

Another problem developed over Mexican-Argentine proposals which in effect could involve manifold United States interests in the Americas.

Of marked importance in view of Mexican-United States controversies over Mexican expropriation of foreign oil and agricultural properties, the resolutions within limits would deprive foreigners of diplomatic protection from their home government and ban the collection of government debts through force.

While the 21 nations appeared proceeding toward full agreement on the need for common action against dangers of foreign incursion, no such easy course presented itself for the new resolutions.

Struck By Car, Man Injured

LeRoy Gardner, 500 Main, tank worker, was in the Big Spring hospital today suffering from injuries received when struck by a car at 1000 Scurry street Wednesday night.

Dr. C. H. Miller, driver of the car which collided with Gardner, stopped and gave all possible aid and had him taken to the hospital for treatment.

Gardner sustained a broken right leg and head injuries. It was feared he might possibly have suffered a skull fracture.

Reports by L. A. Coffey, city officer who investigated the mishap, listed it as an unavoidable accident. Gardner was walking up the street, according to the report, and was barely missed by one car when Dr. Miller's machine, close behind, suddenly came upon him.

Roper Resigns As Secretary Of Commerce

Second Cabinet Member Quitting Post December 23

DANIEL ROOPER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper effective December 23.

The president said in a letter, made public by the White House, that he knew the "impelling personal reasons" which prompted Roper to ask to be relieved of his duties and "I accept your resignation with very sincere regret."

Roper's resignation was the second among cabinet members within recent weeks. Attorney General Cummings has resigned to resume law practice.

Rumors of other changes in the cabinet have circulated ever since the Nov. 8 elections. Among those who have been mentioned in that connection are Secretary of War Woodring and Secretary of the Navy Swanson.

The White House announcement said that Roper wanted to return to private life in order to give needed attention to his personal affairs and which I have not been able to do while in public office."

Roper's letter of resignation disclosed that he had expressed to the president on several occasions since March 4, 1937, "my desire to return to private life in order to give needed attention to my personal affairs and which I have not been able to do while in public office."

20 More Tax Suits Filed

City, School District Go After Delinquents

Twenty additional tax suits were filed in 70th district court Thursday by Thomas J. Coffey, acting as special attorney for city and the Big Spring Independent School District.

Thirteen of the suits were filed on behalf of the City of Big Spring and seven for the school district. The cases brought the total to 91 filed within the past 12 months for collection of delinquent taxes.

City and school officials said that these and other similar suits were filed in cases where taxes against property were not paid and no disposition had been shown to pay them.

Listed in the suits filed on behalf of the city were Ross Harrison, et al; H. S. Faw, et al; Willie Sanders McCleister, et vir, et al; L. C. Thomas, et al; John A. Tucker, et al; Garland Sanders, et al; A. S. Smith, et al; V. F. Roberts, et al; B. G. Richardson, et al; W. H. Shirk, et al; W. J. Sessel, et al; H. T. Smith, et al; Frank Ford, et al; H. T. BOND PAYMENTS HIKE NATIONAL DEBT

Ford-O'Daniel Parley On Industrialization Followed By Worship

DETROIT, Dec. 15 (AP)—A few magnate whose fortune few can estimate and a songster who warbled his way into the governorship of the state of Texas knelt in worship today in the tiny Martha Mary chapel of suburban Greenfield Village.

Defense Costs Face Congress Army, Navy And Relief Needs First On The Calendar

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Administration requests for extra army and navy appropriations and for an additional relief fund which may run as high as $800,000,000 will be the first "big money" problems before the new congress.

Funds to operate the WPA until July 1 must be considered early in the session, because the current allotment may be exhausted by Feb. 15. The amount needed will depend on the size of relief rolls during the winter and spring, but WPA officials already are making preliminary estimates.

Congress also is expected to get an early start on the national defense program. Well-informed house members said today that the war department has submitted to the budget bureau an estimate "somewhere between $600,000,000 and $850,000,000" to run the army in the next fiscal year. This would be between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 above this year's total.

President Roosevelt has indicated he would ask for a $190,000,000 increase for the navy, which got $54,000,000 this year.

Approval of the increases would send the appropriations for the armed services to their highest peace-time level.

Discussion of the relief appropriation is expected to touch off a controversy over the best method of handling the WPA. A number of republicans and anti-administration democrats want state instead of federal control.

Seek An Extension Of Oil Compact

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 (AP)—The interstate compact commission today voted unanimously to seek, through congressional approval, a two-year extension of life and strongly indicated its intention of including non-member oil producing states to become members of the body.

The action was taken at the final session of a two-day meeting devoted to outlining the compact's future.

Jefferson Is Lauded By FD Speaks At Ground-Breaking Exercises For Memorial

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking at a ground-breaking exercises for a memorial to Thomas Jefferson, praised Jefferson today for "establishing the practical operation of the American government as a democracy and not an autocracy."

Standing on the south bank of the tidal basin, the site chosen for a $3,000,000 shrine to the third president, Mr. Roosevelt said that millions of Americans who visit the capital yearly will have in days to come a sense of gratitude that an adequate national memorial to Jefferson at last has been erected.

"For far more than 50 years," he said, "Thomas Jefferson, the third president of the United States, has been recognized by our citizens not only for the outstanding part which he took in the drafting of the declaration of independence, itself, not only for his authorship of the Virginia statute for religious freedom, but also for the services he rendered in establishing the practical operation of the American government as a democracy and not an autocracy."

"For very many years, it has seemed appropriate that with Washington and Lincoln, his services should be held in memory by the erection of a monument of equal dignity. We are breaking ground, today, for such a memorial."

The site was chosen after months of controversy, some of it revolving around the fact that a number of the famed Japanese cherry trees bordering the tidal basin must be removed.

Mr. Roosevelt selected the 147th anniversary of the adoption of the American bill of rights for the ground-breaking rites.

ICKES WON'T RUN AS CHICAGO MAYOR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Aides of Secretary Ickes said today he would reject the invitation of friends to run for mayor of Chicago next year on a liberal democratic ticket.

The secretary, these aides said, feels that he can not make the race for "a number of reasons." Chief among them, the aides added, was word from the White House that President Roosevelt wished Ickes to remain in the cabinet.

Average Now $303 A Person Unpaid War Debt Also At Peak; Only Finland Pays

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—The treasury's debt took a spectacular jump today to the unprecedented average of $303 for every man, woman and child in the country.

This was payment for investments on $750,000,000 of new bonds and notes sold by the treasury, boosting the debt to a new record of $33,400,000,000. If the treasury's indirect obligations on $3,000,000,000 worth of securities issued by government corporations were added in, the per capita debt would be $341.

The amount due and unpaid on war debts owed the United States by European nations also reached a new peak today. It passed the $2,000,000,000 mark as another installment became due, with only Finland waiting at the counter to pay.

On the direct national debt alone, the interest cost is now more than $1,000,000,000 a year, or almost equal to the combined cost of the army and navy.

Direct treasury obligations are about 50 per cent higher than at the war period peak of $26,596,701,648 on Aug. 31, 1919, and more than double the post-war low of $16,626,087,087 on Dec. 31, 1930.

Of the subsequent $23,775,000,000 debt increase, $4,900,000,000 was added during the last two years and two months of Herbert Hoover's administration, and $18,475,000,000 since the start of the Roosevelt administration in March, 1933.

This fiscal year, the government is spending $2,000,000,000 and expects to collect only $600,000,000, leaving a deficit of $4,000,000,000. This deficit must be raised by borrowing except for $1,200,000,000 obtained through the cashing in of sterilized gold and a smaller amount of cash on hand.

As for the war debts, the Finnish government advised the state department its check for $232,935,500 would be paid at the federal Reserve Bank in New York.

No other money was expected, nor was any promise anticipated from the 12 other debtor countries to pay in the future or to propose any plan for settlement.

JEWIS PAY FIRST INSTALLMENT OF GERMAN TRIBUTE

BERLIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—The first of the four installment days on which German Jews must pay $400,000,000 tributes for the slaying of Ernst vom Rath, Paris legation secretary, was a drab, matter-of-fact affair entirely lacking in drama.

Berlin banks had comparatively little to do with today's $100,000,000 as the Jews had taken pains to arrange all details so the payments would strike no snags.

There were no special guards at any of the finance ministry's offices where the fines were payable, nor were there any signs of disturbance.

Jews and gentiles paying fines, taxes or other bills approached tellers' windows with no attempts being made by officials to separate the Jews from the gentiles.

Britain's Wealth Is Termed Big Curb On Nazi War Dreams

LONDON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, in a new, outspoken reference to Germany, told a luncheon audience today that Britain's financial power was a curb on Nazi war dreams when they thought of war.

The prime minister said: "We may take it that when German statesmen—I will not say the German people—reflect on the possible consequences of a conflict, if ever a conflict should arise between our two countries, they think not only of our armaments but of our great financial resources, which in a war of long duration might well prove to be a deciding factor."

"It is this sense which is always with us and which I am sure is in itself a very great influence in preserving peace of the world."

Chamberlain's brief reference to Germany seemed to indicate a somewhat stronger line toward the Nazi leadership since the German ambassador and other Nazi representatives boycotted his Tuesday night speech in which he rebuked the German press for its attack on Earl Baldwin, former prime minister.

Observers were quick to notice that today Chamberlain differentiated between German statesmen and people. In his Tuesday speech he reiterated his belief that the German and British people never wished to go to war again—the main point of the declaration he and Adolf Hitler signed at Munich Sept. 30.

Chamberlain spoke today at a luncheon at the house of commons to celebrate the recent elevation to the peerage of Lord Bicester, formerly Vivian Hugh Smith, partner in Morgan, Grenfell and company.

The German statesman probably most aware of Britain's financial power, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, was not among the guests, although he is a visitor in London.

The German financier spent considerable time today at the Bank of England, with whose governor, Montagu Norman, he came to London to confer.

Speaking in the house of commons Chamberlain declared the British government had complete faith in the ability of the empire to cling together despite crisis and adversity.

Patient Slain In Hospital

Victim Had Knife In Earlier Fight And Gun Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15 (AP)—A young man invaded a ward of the San Francisco hospital today, shot and killed a patient and critically wounded a policeman.

Inspector Jerome Smith said the youth gave his name as George Dally, 21. He was captured in a corridor.

The victim was Morris Cornprop, 24, who was being guarded as the result of a spectacular knife and gun fight on November 30, when he was wounded.

Policeman Walter Salisbury, 46, who was guarding Cornprop, hurried to the door with drawn gun when he heard a commotion.

He was shot down, wounded so critically that blood donors were sought immediately for a transfusion.

In the fight November 30, Cornprop, a teamster, was shot in the abdomen. Mrs. Ann Dally, 65, suffered lacerations and a stab wound in the abdomen; her daughter, Betty, 23, was cut on the face and chest.

Inspector Smith said Cornprop had entered the Dally home and fought with Mrs. Dally for some undetermined reason, and that Dally's sister, Sue, shot Cornprop when he attempted to flee.

He said the girl waited in an automobile outside the hospital while her brother went to Cornprop's room today.

The slayer fired five bullets into Cornprop's body. Officer Salisbury was shot once.

Interesting Ways To Prepare Veal For The Holidays Are Listed

By MARTHA LOGAN
The French and Italian cuisines have long been famous for the variety of interesting uses of veal. This delicacy meat appears on menus with intriguing names like "cotelettes de veau" and many others.

Many families in this country seldom use veal and when they do it is served only as broiled veal. 'Tis true that tender juicy veal chops, well coated with a crusty brown covering, are very delicious but so too are veal roasts. Veal usually is lacking in fat. This deficiency, however, is readily supplied to a veal roast by laying strips of bacon, salt pork or back fat over the top surface. During the long, slow roasting period the fat melts and seeps into the tissues enhancing the juiciness and richness.

For Best Results
The cuts of veal best suited for roasting are the loin, leg and shoulder. A boned and rolled rump of veal also makes an excellently flavored roast that is easily carved.

The vegetables served with this delicately flavored meat should be the less strongly flavored ones—potatoes, celery, peas, carrots, snips or squash. Frequent and tart sauces make good complementary flavors. For this reason tomatoes in some form are one of the natural choices. So, too, lemon, orange, and other fruit flavors blend in well and add a note of variety and interest.

Veal, just as beef, pork, and lamb should be roasted in a moderately slow oven at about 325 degrees F. A four- to five-pound roast is a good size because smaller cuts dry out too much and leftover roast of veal is very adaptable to use in such dishes as meat pies, meat loaf, croquettes, scalloped combinations, as well as for a cold meat platter.

The shoulder of veal is often boned and stuffed with well-seasoned bread dressing, then roasted. This is an economical budget saver that is sure to please.

What Is Roasting?
True roasting is cooking without water in an uncovered pan in the oven. Some people, however, prefer to use a cover over a veal roast during the first part of the cooking period. If a generous layer of fat is placed over the roast, an open pan gives excellent results. Of course, veal is always served well done but this does not mean that there should be any lack of juiciness.

The weight of a roast will give an indication of the minutes per pound needed for roasting. However, the shape and the amount of bone greatly influence the rate at which the oven heat penetrates the roast. The only sure way to judge the doneness of a roast is to use a meat thermometer. There are several good makes on the market so reasonably priced that ap-

SNELL WOULD LIKE MINORITY LEADER'S POSITION AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Rep. Bertrand Snell of New York, retiring house republican leader, cast a longing glance today at figures showing that the strength of the minority party in the next Congress will be nearly doubled. "You know, it would be great to be the leader of a minority of that size," he said. "With 170 republicans, we'll have enough fellows to do some real good." Then the gray-haired, ruddy-faced veteran who came to congress in 1913, looked out a window and said with a chuckle: "And I'd have a lot of fun with Sam Rayburn, too." Rep. Rayburn of Texas was the democratic floor leader last year and presumably will be chosen again for that post.

Year Has Brought A Steady Decline In Food Costs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Labor department statisticians reported today a steady decline in retail food costs which began in January continued through Nov. 15 with a decrease of 7.3 per cent for the period.

Their report said retail costs of all food averaged a .04 per cent drop from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15 of this year, the sharpest decline being 1.8 per cent in meat costs.

The department said the November index for all foods was 77.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average, 7.0 per cent lower than a year ago and 27.1 per cent below November, 1929.

The percentages of increase or decrease in retail costs of all foods in principal cities between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15 included: (all percentages are decreases unless otherwise designated):

Dallas, 1.4; Houston, 0.2, and El Paso, 1.1 increase.

Oil Industry Keeps Eye On Compact Meet

Prospects Good For Heavier Consumption During 1939

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 15 (AP)—Oil men sat on the edge of their chairs today awaiting developments at the oil compact commission meeting at Fort Worth.

Hope of a definite program to relieve the industry's uncertainty was seen as the struggle for favorable balance between consumption and production went on with processing the vital third side of the triangle.

An expressed desire of the independent producer and refiner to be given the power to "work out their own problems" emerged as the Independent Petroleum association of America committee of 35 met just ahead of the compact group.

The Texas railroad commission hearing the same day, drawing an unusual representation of major oil executives, prompted reports by the industry's chiefs of good prospects for heavier consumption of oil products in 1939.

They said, as they had before, that the industry's statistical position was firm but crude production should not be increased until perhaps April 1, when the winter slack in gasoline consumption usually ends.

Last week's crude flow for the nation curved upward 21,450 barrels daily to 3,245,100 barrels, the institute estimated, as against 3,214,450 barrels a year ago.

A down-dip in refining continued with runs-to-stills totaling 3,150,000 barrels a day as compared with 3,175,000 barrels the week before and 3,173,000 a year ago, the institute reported. A dip of 668,000 barrels in stocks of finished and unfinished gasolines resulted.

Adverse weather allowed some field operations. Completions last week numbered 25,278 as against a comparable 1937 total of 29,976, the Oil & Gas Journal reported. Illinois finished 84 wells, Texas 182 and Oklahoma and California each 29 of the week's total of 532 in the nation, 18 more than the week before.

Dunham Again Will Serve As Chairman Of Birthday Ball

Fifty per cent of the funds raised through the forthcoming President's Birthday Celebrations will be held in trust for the counties in which they were raised, William L. Clayton of Houston, chairman for the event, has announced in appointing G. C. Dunham of Big Spring as chairman for Howard county.

These trusted funds will be turned over to the permanent chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to be organized in each county immediately following the birthday celebrations on January 30, Clayton added. The remainder of the money will go to the National foundation, to be used for scientific research, much of which will be done in recognized hospitals throughout the country.

A meeting of committee members for this county will be held as soon as they are selected, the county chairman said, and definite plans will shortly be announced for the celebration events here.

Georgia is the leading state in the production of improved varieties of pecans, accounting for 43 per cent of the nation's total.

Bill Of Rights 100 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—One hundred forty-seven years ago today a breathless courier spurred his mount to the capital with news that Virginia had ratified the 13 proposed amendments to the federal constitution.

The bill of rights, a familiar term in Anglo-Saxon history, owes its origin to an historic scene at Runnymede, England, when a group of English barons forced their king to subscribe to Magna Charta at the point of their swords. In American jurisprudence it is applied to the first 10 amendments to the constitution.

PLAN NEW HOTEL BUILDING IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Austin Statesman said today Jerry Sadler, railroad commissioner-elect and a group of oil men planned to construct in the capital a 22-story hotel costing approximately $2,500,000.

It said Sadler told a reporter he "decided Austin needed a new first class hotel after seeing 'Hibbilly' this and 'Hibbilly' that on the menus every time I went in a hotel restaurant here."

Roller Towel Gave Him The Basic Idea For New Air Conditioner

An idea that grew out of a roller towel promises to develop into another manufacturing unit for Big Spring. M. Wentz, inventor of a new mechanism employing an old principle, has finished his original air conditioning unit which he says will reduce temperatures lower by 10 degrees than any machine based on a similar law of operation.

He demonstrated this unit before chamber of commerce directors in their regular monthly meeting this week showing temperature reductions and giving estimates on cost of operation.

Because of its nature, he said that the conditioner would be a hand made proposition. With a patent applied for, Wentz is ready to enter into the phase of organization for production, he said.

Wentz got his idea last summer when S. B. Stone, owner of the Stone Motor Co., wanted an air conditioner. Wentz began to rig up a contraption and finally hit on the idea of a roller towel, continuously dipping into a pan of water, for his evaporating unit.

IMMEDIATE FILING OF MEXICAN CLAIMS IS SUGGESTED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—The state department today advised all Americans whose agrarian property in Mexico has been expropriated on hand before summer when a selling campaign would be launched.

of since August 25, 1933, to file their claims against the Mexican government with the state department immediately.

The action follows the recent agrarian claims agreement where-by Mexico agreed to submit all American land claims to a joint two-man commission. The commission began work in Mexico Dec. 1.

Claims filed with the commission must be accompanied by a sworn statement of the value of the lands have been taken.

O'Daniel

Today Ford called for O'Daniel at the bar and the two attended church services at the chapel, which is part of a collection of early Americana Ford has assembled in his historic Greenfield Village.

O'Daniel was enthusiastic about yesterday's conference. "I think I convinced Mr. Ford that we have everything in Texas to build a vast industrial empire," he asserted. "You can't talk to Henry Ford without learning something," he added.

After the conference had been under way for an hour, Ford was joined by his son, Edsel, president of the Ford Motor Co. O'Daniel said he explained to them both that Texas needed manufacturing plants to process the "vast products" of Texas.

"Mr. Ford was exceptionally interested in the state's metal deposits and asked me to send him some ore samples," the governor-elect said.

He said he told Ford that Texas produces more than 90 per cent of the world's wool but has no wool processing plant.

Texas, he pointed out to newsmen, has abundant cheap fuel. "Why," he added, "Nebraska boasts of its cheap fuel to bring industries into the state, but its fuel is piped from Texas."

Labor problems, he said, were discussed, but he declined to say what he told Ford on the subject. He told reporters, however, that "we have no labor trouble in Texas. Texans are easy-going folks and all a Texan wants is a job."

MARKETS

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Profiting taking snapped the vigor of another stock market rally today and early gains running to 2 or more points were substantially reduced or cancelled in many cases at the close.
Overnight buying orders were heavy enough to swamp the ticker tape for an interval after the opening, but traders soon began to cash in on Wednesday's sharp upswing and the pace slowed appreciably. While numerous plus signs were in evidence when the final gong sounded, moderate losers were also plentiful. Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares.

STATE'S LARGEST TURKEY MARKET ENDS SEASON

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Brownwood turkey market, the state's largest, closed today. Thirty carloads of dressed turkeys will be shipped out tonight to Christmas markets.
Forty two carloads went out on the Thanksgiving market. Prices dropped to 15 cents a pound in last-minute selling from a season's high of 17 cents. Growers of this area received more than $220,000 for their birds this year.

Common Sense About Constipation

If you knew that your constipation was caused by something left out of your food, wouldn't it be just common sense to put that something back?
Your trouble may be caused by nothing more than this. For the most common kind of constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the bowels—you need some food that passes on through the stomach without being digested. Kellogg's All-Bran supplies this. It gives the bowels the bulky mass they need to work properly. And All-Bran also gives them the intestinal-tonsils, vitamin B, which helps restore their tone.
But All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Monopoly Probe Wanting Facts, Not Victims

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—One of the toughest jobs the federal monopoly committee has run into is the daily task of trying to convince witnesses that it is after facts, not victims.
Day after day, witnesses come before the microphone set down in the middle of a million dollar marble office building to relate facts about their business, the way it is run, how it affects the national economy.
A mild-mannered justice department attorney bends forward and asks the questions in a friendly tone. Members of the committee sit back of the long mahogany table and listen politely, twiddle their thumbs, draw doo-dads on their tablets, or doze.
Some witnesses give the appearance of telling all they know, unavailingly and pleasantly. Many of them speak very frankly of the way their business works. Others squirm in their chair, get red in the face, find their words bogging down into a mess of syllables, and start all over again.

ARMY-NAVY game next year will find Kankakee, Ill., fans divided as to their allegiance, now that navy has elected Allen Bergner (above) as 1938 navy football captain. Like Bergner, the army's captain-elect Harry Stella is from Kankakee.

SKIN GRAFTING OPERATION IS A SUCCESS

BROCKTON, Mass., Dec. 15 (AP)—Doctors pronounced successful today an operation in which Mrs. Vera Stankus, 26, gave 18 pieces of skin from her thigh for grafting on the abdomen and legs of her five-year-old daughter Lorraine.
Lorraine's mind was on Christmas and her return to play with other girls, a pleasure denied her since lighted matches ignited her clothing and she suffered third-degree burns last Sept. 10.
"For Christmas I want some overhaos and an umbrella," she said. "Santa brought new sk's and I know he'll bring those, to make me think I will play again like other girls."
Doctors said she probably would remain in the hospital two more months.
Neither Mrs. Stankus nor Lorraine received anesthetics for the operation.
Once Lorraine asked, "Are they hurting you, Mummy?"
Mrs. Stankus forced a smile and replied, "Not hurting a bit."
An hour after the surgery the mother went home, to care for Lorraine's nine-month-old sister and a six-year-old brother.

SEARCH UNDERWAY FOR MISSING FLIER

HONOLULU, Dec. 15 (AP)—Army planes and surface craft searched the ocean off the northern tip of Oahu island today for traces of First Lieut. Watson M. Frutchey and his single-seated pursuit plane, missing since yesterday.
Sugar plantation workers at Kahuku reported seeing an army plane trailing smoke and flames nose-dive into the ocean 35 miles after Frutchey took off from Wheeler field on a gunnery mission.
Major T. E. Roderick of the army intelligence service said an oil slick had been sighted three miles offshore and he expressed the opinion it might have been left as the plane struck the water.

FIREMEN REPAIRING TOYS FOR XMAS

City firemen started Thursday on their annual task of repairing and rebuilding a quantity of old toys to be used for Christmas gifts to children in needy families.
Ole Cordill, fire chief, estimated that the task would be completed by the end of the week unless there is an influx of more toys. Bulk of the playthings came from a benefit toy matinee given at the Ritz theatre recently.
Persons having old toys which they will give so that they may be renovated and used in gift parcels on Christmas day are urged to bring them to the fire station before the end of this week.

LONGSHOREMAN HELD IN SLAYING CASE

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—An unemployed longshoreman accused of killing a seaman friend by throwing searing acid in his face was held on a homicide charge today.
Assistant District Attorney Leonard Rulsi said that the longshoreman, Harry Hinz, 24, admitted dashing the acid on Harold Johnson, 36, yesterday because Johnson and his wife "wouldn't tell me where the girl I loved had moved."
Johnson, severely burned when she came to her husband's aid, was quoted by Rulsi as saying that Hinz blamed Mrs. Johnson because the woman had refused to continue seeing him and had moved to a new address.
Johnson, sprayed by a pint of the acid as he opened his front door, died in agony in a Brooklyn hospital. Physicians said his eyes and windpipe had been destroyed.

PLANT DESTROYED BY 'SUSPICIOUS' FIRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Fire described by firemen as "suspicious" in origin destroyed a three-story brick plant of the strike-harassed Armour Packing company in Brooklyn today.
The plant was one of 60 packing company concerns picketed since the United Meat Workers (CIO) ousted out 1,000 meat packers Monday in a citywide strike.
Refusing to estimate the loss, Deputy Fire Chief George McAleer reported the fire to police as "suspicious" after a patrolman told him, he said, that the flames were preceded by an explosion. The fire was discovered shortly before 2 a. m.
Members of an AFL union in the Wilson Packing company joined the CIO meat handlers' strike yesterday, as John L. Conner, U. S. department of labor conciliator, arrived from Washington in an attempt to arbitrate the dispute.

Rebel Attack Revives War In Spain

Heavy Artillery Bombardments Mark New Drives

HENDAYE, France, (At the Spanish Frontier), Dec. 15 (AP)—Spanish insurgent forces launched simultaneous attacks today against government lines in northern and western Spain accompanied by heavy artillery bombardments.
Artillery batteries in the mountains near Tresp and Sor, in western Catalonia, began raining shells on government fortifications in the Seo de Urgel sector.
The area is important as a source of hydro-electric power for Barcelona, chief city of government Spain and center of its war industries.
At the same time insurgent infantry opened an offensive in the far western part of Spain near Valsequillo, about 30 miles west of Pozoblanco.
The cannonading in the northern region was so loud that French residents on the other side of the frontier could hear the bursting shells.
Spanish government military reports said the insurgents' immediate objective appeared to be the border town of Fulgorda, a government-held gateway to France.
Insurgent aviation was grounded on the Catalan front by high winds and rain.
On the Pozoblanco front, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces launched their offensive with a tank attack followed swiftly by waves of infantrymen.
Government reports said that the charge failed when defense troops, also behind lines of tanks, stopped the Franco charge and counter-attacked.
Despite insurgent aviation, these reports said, government troops pursued retreating insurgents in the south, inflicting heavy losses.

France Proposes Big Arms Budget

PARIS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Premier Daladier's national defense cabinet, warning Italy and Germany that France would fight to protect her empire, presented to parliament today the greatest arms budget since the World war.
Debates on the subject, scheduled to begin immediately, was expected to provide Daladier's opposition with a new opportunity to attack his policies and to open the way for a new test of his strength in parliament.
The portion of the budget earmarked for arms, munitions and men for the French war machine was tagged with a flat "do not touch" sign.
A total of nearly 40,000,000,000 francs (about $20,000,000,000) for the nation's armaments forces was distributed in various parts of the ordinary and extraordinary budgets.

GRAND JURY PROBES POLITICAL CHARGES

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 15 (AP)—A grand jury assembled in Dauphin county's century old courthouse today to begin an investigation of political campaign charges filed seven months ago against 14 men high in Pennsylvania's new deal leadership and the democratic party.
The jurors—13 republicans and 11 democrats—were concerned with a charge by District Attorney Carl B. Shelley that Governor George H. Earle and 13 associates engaged in a "system of crime" in the administration of the state government during the past three and a half years.
Shelley, a republican, said he was prepared to present evidence he claimed would support charges that Governor Earle, with Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence and others, "conspired to cheat and defraud the people of Pennsylvania."

State Health Dept. Wants More Funds

Adequate Program Requires Larger Sum, Cox Points Out

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Texas legislature convening in January will have ample opportunity to deal in high sounding figures.

When it comes to the health department appropriation for the next two years things will be reduced to cents.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, pointed out that if the lawmakers will appropriate 12 cents more annually for each Texan he can set up a public health program which in five years will boost Texas from near the bottom to the first bracket of states.

The added 12 cents, of course, figures up to $1,141,000 annually compared to the present $310,000 spent on public health.

Dr. Cox speaking:

"In public health work—as in building highways—you get no more out of it than you put into it. It's a financial matter. You can't develop an adequate program without paying for it."

The expenditure in Texas is now 4.9 cents for each man, woman and child. That compares with the national average of 17 cents.

Two Million Too Much

"The appropriation I am seeking is exactly what I think we need for an orderly development of the program and the increase would be spent in expanding service facilities, not in loading up the central administrative office with more employees," Dr. Cox said.

"As a matter of fact I can say frankly I could not spend $2,000,000 efficiently in one year. This is the sort of work that has to be developed carefully."

He stressed the need for more and better trained personnel in the field, citing a dozen or more department technicians and physicians now receiving specialized training at Harvard, Vanderbilt, and Johns Hopkins universities.

Specifically, here is what he will ask the legislature to provide:

$701,000 for expanding the general-aid work of the department.

$150,000 for cooperative county health work whereby the state and federal governments could match local funds for cooperative county units. The state now provides $5,000 for this.

For Venereal Disease $150,000 for venereal disease control. The state now provides nothing for this work although Texas has received $128,000 from the federal government to match with local funds for clinic operation.

No. 1538

Notice is hereby given, to whom concerned, that the City of Big Spring, Texas, the postoffice address of which is Big Spring, Texas, did on the 2nd day of November, A.D. 1938, file its application in the office of the Board of Water Engineers for the State of Texas, in which it applies for a permit to appropriate of the unappropriated waters of the State of Texas, from the Moss Creek, a tributary of the Colorado River in Howard County, Texas, not to exceed six hundred (600) acre-feet of water per annum, said water to be impounded in a reservoir created by the construction of a dam, said dam to be located at a point which bears North 42 degrees, 20 minutes East (11 degrees, 30 minutes declination) 5,150 feet from the S. WITH AN 'AMERICAN HOLIDAY SPIRIT' do the Duke and Duchess of Windsor (above) plan to celebrate their Christmas on the French Riviera, and not—as had been rumored—with England's royal family. 'SISSY STUFF' to his friends, crocheting is a pleasure and relaxation to Gilbert Jordan, a rural mail carrier from Englefield, Ill. He won a prize in New York with this bedspread which took him 15 months. His wife doesn't crochet.

There are prospects for a $253,000 federal allotment next year which with a state appropriation would greatly expand the scope and number of community clinics.

$15,000 for pneumonia typing clinic. There are 32 types of the disease and physicians by submitting sputum samples to state clinics would learn very quickly what method of treatment was indicated. The United States public health service has promised Texas $7,500 to aid in establishing such clinic.

$15,000 for malaria therapy and general malaria control.

$50,000 for mental hygiene, a rapidly expanding science by which mentally defective children could be guided into a full enjoyment of life.

In addition Dr. Cox wants the sanitary code, allegedly ancient and obsolete, rewritten and given sufficient teeth to insure protection of the public, and a new food and drug law modeled after the recently enacted federal statute.

READING AND WRITING

'HEROD AND MARIAMNE,' by Clemence Dane, and some other plays.

The dust cover of the published version of "Herod and Mariamne," Clemence Dane's new play, bears the following sentence:

"Clemence Dane's new play, with Katharine Cornell in the magnificent role of Mariamne, is certain to be one of the outstanding theatrical events of this season."

Yet a few days before this was written a terse telegram arrived from Pittsburgh, or some other city, which said that Miss Cornell still thought the play was not ready for New York. It may never be ready, such being the condition of theatrical affairs these days.

So you had better read the play if you are interested. It's about Herod of Judea, his Maccabean wife Mariamne, the latter's mother and a lot of others. They entangle themselves in plots and counterplots, and Miss Cornell has to express a succession of emotions that would baffle seven actresses. The climax is the appearance of a star over Bethlehem heralding an event which remade the western world.

"The publishers think Miss Dane's play "in that great tradition which is honored by the names of Shakespeare, Marlowe, Corneille and Racine." This may be a little optimistic. (Doubleday, Doran: $1.75.)

The publishers of "Oscar Wilde" had better luck. This play by Leslie and Sewall Stokes is an often witty, sometimes tragic picture of the author of "Dorian Gray" which strangely enough is one of the big box office hits of the season in New York. (Random: $2.)

"Missouri Legend" is another unlikely subject which has been turned into pay dirt. This play is about Jesse James, the man who still is regarded by some Missourians as a hero, by others as a villain, but who did manage to hold up a good many banks and trains nevertheless. (Random: $2.)

There are also two volumes of Federal Theater plays, each introduced by Halls Flanagan. One contains: "Triple-A Ploughed Under," by "the staff"; "Power," by Arthur Arent, and "Sprochete" by Arnold Sundgaard. The other: "One-Third of a Nation," by Arent and others; "Prologue to Glory" by E. P. Conkie, and "Haiti" by William DuBois. (Random; each volume: $2.)

ACCENT ON YOUTH marks inauguration of Herman B. Wells (above), 36, as president of Indiana university at Bloomington. He shares the spotlight with Robert Hutchins, 39, who's been president of Chicago university since 1929.

DEATH BETTER THAN LIFE AS CRIPPLE?

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—A decision that death was better than the life of a cripple was reached today by William Lewis in determining the fate of his cancer-stricken daughter, Dorothy, 9.

Inundated by letters from all over the country, citing pro and con arguments by those who had read of the little Brooklyn cripple's plight, the distraught father made his choice—

"She will live or die on both legs."

Surgeons have told him the daughter, afflicted with sarcoma, or cancer of the thigh bone, must die within eight or 10 months unless her leg is amputated.

On the other hand, an operation would give her one chance in 10 of living—healthy, but a cripple.

"I have made up my mind," Lewis said. "I have gone through torture, but in the end I knew I could not consign the child to a cripple's life."

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OPENS CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 15 (AP)—Back in the city where a quarter of a century ago it launched its campaign for the eighteenth amendment, the Anti-Saloon League of America opened its 30th national convention today.

Leaders said the league would form new legislative plans and draft an education program designed to stop "political domination by wets in areas opposed to repeal."

GERMAN SUBJECT SENTENCED ON A MAIL CHARGE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Joseph Hahn-Korff, a German subject who described himself as secretary of the local league for the Restoration of Aryan Supremacy in America, today was convicted by a federal court jury here on a charge of sending "scurrilous and defamatory" matter through the mails.

Hahn-Korff was convicted on the first two of six counts of a federal indictment returned in connection with alleged threats sent to professors at Tulane university, demonstrators and others in regard to the Jewish racial question in New Orleans.

G. Wray Gill, court-appointed counsel for the defendant, asked for mercy of the court on the ground that Hahn-Korff was a foreigner and was "possibly not acquainted with the standards in America."

No patent can be granted on a mere idea or suggestion.

THE SPORTS PARADE

by HANK HART

Apparently headed toward the country basketball title again this season are the Foran Buffs, who have made such a habit of winning that honor in the past that Foran fans get only mildly excited when they do, would be truly amazed if they did not. The Buffs seemingly dominate the situation at all times and, if they're not overwhelming choices, at least are always counted upon as the outstanding contenders.

Reason for the Bisons' outstanding success, undoubtedly, is Brady Nix, the former Stephenville and John Tarleton regular, who has really put Foran on the map since he took up coaching duties at the south Howard county school. Early season successes of his present aggregation clearly show that he does not expect to be denied this time.

Leader of his team is Captain Hollis Parker, the same lad who scored 128 points during the Buffs' past football season. Parker is playing his fourth year as a member of Foran club and hopes to cap off his career by leading the club into the state race. He has valuable assistance from Tommy McDonald, who has developed from an ordinary to a great offensive player in one season; Fred

Thieme, another youngster who was buried among the reserves a year ago, and Orville Creelman and Carleton LaBeff, a pair of guards whom Nix thinks are as competent as any in this sector.

Nix, of course, is expecting trouble from Coahoma and Garden where the respective coaches, Lloyd Devan and Floyd Burnet, are preparing for the onslaughts and possibly at Moore, where Miss Arsh Phillips has developed

ADOPTING UNIFORM BALL—MAJORS CLOSE NY SESSION TODAY

Benny Chapman Is Traded To Cleveland

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Having adopted a uniform ball, finally admitted the inevitability of night baseball and accomplished some scattered trades, the big league magnates wind up their mid-winter get-together today in a joint appearance before Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

For the past two days the "old Judge" has been in seclusion here, practicing his famous frown in preparation for today's session, when he will ask the boys to get down to cases and tell him if they actually have accomplished anything, no fooling.

Assuming that deals were the design of many of the attendees at this week's confab, the American league saved itself from a virtual shutout last night in a midnight maneuver which sent Ben Chapman, Boston's hard-hitting outfielder, to Cleveland for Pitcher Dennis Galehouse and Rookie Infielder Tommy Irwin.

No cash was involved. The exchange was a hasty concoction by which the Red Sox hope to reinforce their pitching staff and the Indians to solve the wobbly outfield problem with a walling outfielder.

Hefty Hitter

Chapman hit .340 last season, sufficient to rank him among the leaders even in the hard-hitting American league. But he will be 30 years old come Christmas Day and has spent nine years in the big show.

Galehouse came up to Cleveland five years ago as a promising right-hander, he is still promising. Last year he won 7 and lost 8 in 26 starts which leaves him safe for the Red Sox if he has a payoff in his system.

Beyond this transaction, the owners and players, the old slicer of the daggers, much have done toward shaving the embarrassing superiority of the New York Yankees. Although not admitting as much, this must have been an aim of the other owners.

Yet at this semi-final accounting, about all they have done is compromise on a uniform ball. This will be viewed as an effort to stem the Yankees' power, because the raised seams were found last season to give the National league pitchers better control and to lend wider sweep to their curves. However, demonstrations have proved the ball travels just as far as the old lively sphere when hit solidly.

Aid To Pitchers

Owner Clark Griffith of Washington apparently has shoved through an amendment to the rules that will help some of the pitchers. It provides that the hurler need have only one foot on the rubber at the start of his wind-up. The other foot (the left one in the case of a right-hand hurler) may be well back. This gives the pitcher a longer sweep with his free leg, as Griff, an old pitcher, himself, demonstrated.

Night baseball broke down the final barrier when the American leagues granted Cleveland and Philadelphia permission to play seven nocturnal games each next season. The National league accepted the lights two years ago, and it had to come in the American. Though they haven't said so officially, the Yankees have indicated willingness to play one night game each in Cleveland and Philadelphia this season.

If the rules committee agrees today, the present infield fly rule will be extended to cover outfield flies in certain circumstances, smart outfielders have got in the habit of dropping balls purposely when men are on base then pegging in quickly for a double play. Escalante has had seven or eight such plays a season. Under the new rule, the umpire simply will yell "out" on short flies, and the runners automatically will hold their bases.

Cincinnati, home of the first professional ball club, has bid for both the minor and major leagues this season, that a third round game to Iran in the Rankin tournament last weekend.

Coch Nix will probably have gets under way.

McDonald and Thieme at forwards, Parker at center and LaBeff and Creelman to start the game while Mentor Devan is expected to open with Collins and Hull at forwards, Graham at center and Neel and Reed in the back courts.

The junior boys' teams of the two schools will also clash in a game immediately before the feature game over Stanton, Sterling City and Lomax in succession.

Mrs. Moody, Jim Foxx Lead In Comeback

Frisco Tennis Star Noses Out Sox First Sacker In Poll

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Hereinafter the outstanding sports comeback of 1938 is Helen Willis Moody. The talented San Francisco tennis player earned the No. 1 bracket in a close race with Jimmie Foxx, clotting first baseman on the Boston Red Sox.

Twenty-four of the 70 sports critics participating in the eighth annual Associated Press poll cast their first-place ballots for Mrs. Moody and her achievement in winning the Wimbledon championship after a three-year lapse. Twenty-four other first-place votes went to Foxx for recapturing the American league crown for the first time since 1935—and that after a poor season in 1937. But second and third place support swung the decision to Mrs. Moody, who rolled up 113 1-2 points against 97 for Foxx.

Points were awarded on a 3-2-1 basis with each expert naming three comebacks in the order of his choice.

The result marked the second time in four years that Mrs. Moody figured prominently in the "comeback" section of the poll. In 1935, when she emerged from a two-year retirement to defeat Helen Jacobs for the Wimbledon title, Mrs. Moody finished second to Jimmy Braddock in the annual poll.

Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, who followed a late-season comeback with a well-pitched, though losing, game in the world series, took third place in the final standings.

The tabulated results:

Individual	1st Pt.
Helen Willis Moody, Wimbledon champion	113 1/2
Jimmie Foxx, Boston Red Sox first baseman	97
Dizzy Dean, Chicago Cubs' pitcher	26 1/2
Joe Louis, heavyweight champion	25
Solly Krieger, New York middleweight	24
Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tigers first baseman	18
Lefty Grove, Boston Red Sox pitcher	11
Howard Jones, Southern Calif. football coach	11
Vernon Gomez, New York Yankees' pitcher	7
Paul Derringer, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher	6
Five and one-half points: Alice Marble, U. S. tennis champion.

Five points each: Paul Runyan, Professional Golfers' association champion; Paul Dean, pitcher recalled by St. Louis Cardinals from Houston.

FORSAN AND COAHOMA CAGE TEAMS CLASH AT FORSAN
FORSAN, Dec. 15—Lloyd Devan brings his Coahoma Bulldogs here to clash with the Foran high school cagers this evening in Buff gym.

The Coahomans rank as decided underdogs in their clash with the powerful south Howard county team but are expected to put up a good showing. They have been improving steadily with each game and almost upon strong Courtney Tuesday evening.

The Forsanites gave evidence that they had lost none of their early season strength by trouncing Westbrook Tuesday in a whirlwind battle, 19-17, in the Wolves' own gym. Thus far the charges of Brady Nix have lost but one game this season, that a third round game to Iran in the Rankin tournament last weekend.

Coch Nix will probably have gets under way.

JOHN LONGDEN APPARENT TOP '38 JOCKEY
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15 (AP)—A couple of dead heats at Tanforan race track yesterday virtually clinched this year's national riding honors for Jockey Johnny Longden of Canada.

By participating in both dead heats Longden increased his lead to 16 over his nearest rival and the defending champion, Johnny Adams of Iowa, Kan. Adams had mounts in seven races yesterday, but didn't boot-home a winner. Longden's total for the season is 228 victories and there are only nine days of racing left on the coast this year.

Farr To Quit If He Loses To Lou Nova

Welshman In Grand Shape For Friday Heavy Bout

By DREW MIDDLETON
POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP)—It would be a pleasure to write that the years have mellowed Thomas George Paul Farr. They have not. He still is hard, penurious and tremendously assured. He thinks he will beat Lou Nova, the promising California heavyweight, Friday night. If he does not he will quit the ring.

The willing Welsh heavyweight, no Dale Carnegie at best, is as easy to get along with as a wildcat with a toothache these days. He is training out here and it does not improve his temper. He will, however, talk your arm off at the drop of a sparring partner.

"If I am badly beaten I will quit? Why not? I will know I have come as far as I can in the ring. I have a little money, not much by American standards, but man, when I think of the days I didn't have a bob to my name it's like millions."

"But I do not expect to be beaten. I am entirely confident I can win. Despite the fact I lost my three fights in this country, I did go the distance with 'Looie'; I believe I beat Jim Braddock, although the judges thought different, and I gave Max Baer a good thumping. Why, he told me if I had hit him a couple more in the belly he would have quit."

OWLS WIN OVER LOST HOOPERS

HOUSTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Rice Institute and Louisiana State university cagers meet again tonight with the Owls holding a 34-32 decision in the opening game of the series.

Bozeman of L.S.U. roped in 12 points to lead the scoring, but Frank Carwell responded for the Owl quintet with 10 and Rice's ability to sink 14 out of 19 free throws against the visitors' six out of 15 proved the winning margin.

JOHN LONGDEN APPARENT TOP '38 JOCKEY
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15 (AP)—A couple of dead heats at Tanforan race track yesterday virtually clinched this year's national riding honors for Jockey Johnny Longden of Canada.

By participating in both dead heats Longden increased his lead to 16 over his nearest rival and the defending champion, Johnny Adams of Iowa, Kan. Adams had mounts in seven races yesterday, but didn't boot-home a winner. Longden's total for the season is 228 victories and there are only nine days of racing left on the coast this year.

FORSAN AND COAHOMA CAGE TEAMS CLASH AT FORSAN
FORSAN, Dec. 15—Lloyd Devan brings his Coahoma Bulldogs here to clash with the Foran high school cagers this evening in Buff gym.

The Coahomans rank as decided underdogs in their clash with the powerful south Howard county team but are expected to put up a good showing. They have been improving steadily with each game and almost upon strong Courtney Tuesday evening.

The Forsanites gave evidence that they had lost none of their early season strength by trouncing Westbrook Tuesday in a whirlwind battle, 19-17, in the Wolves' own gym. Thus far the charges of Brady Nix have lost but one game this season, that a third round game to Iran in the Rankin tournament last weekend.

Coch Nix will probably have gets under way.

McDonald and Thieme at forwards, Parker at center and LaBeff and Creelman to start the game while Mentor Devan is expected to open with Collins and Hull at forwards, Graham at center and Neel and Reed in the back courts.

The junior boys' teams of the two schools will also clash in a game immediately before the feature game over Stanton, Sterling City and Lomax in succession.

MASONS UNDERDOGS—DUEL OF WEBSTER, KEEL INTERESTING

Temple-Corpus Game Attracts 12,000 Fans

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
Masonic Home's miraculous midgets, the toughest bunch of featherweights in intercollegiate league football annals, battle against what many term insuperable odds tomorrow in the opening game of the Texas schoolboy semi-finals.

In far West Texas the Masons, a 147-pound team that may be beaten but never licked, play Webster, the mighty man of the Panhandle, and his Lubbock Westerners in the game that not only is slated to be a sensational duel of stars but which steals the show with its sentimental interest.

Outweighed around 20 pounds to the man but strangers to any other conditions, the Masons promise a stirring battle for Weldon Chapman's men of the South Plains country. A record crowd was forecast for the kick-off in Texas Tech stadium at 2:30 p. m.

Down at Temple they looked for 12,000 fans to jam the stadium Saturday when the Wildcats, upstart favorites, clash with the mighty Buccaneers from Corpus Christi.

Winners of this week's games play for the 19th annual championship of Intercollegiate league football next weekend.

Lubbock was rated a decided edge over the Masons who barge into Lubbock all decked out in new uniforms given them by their North Texas admirers. The spotlight rested on a promised duel between Webster, who has scored 96 of his team's 225 points, and Gene Keel, the pass-pitching quarterback of Rusty Russell's hardy little crew from Fort Worth.

The Corpus Christi-Temple game was classed as a toss-up by the neutral critics but if there's an edge to be given it will probably go to the Buccaneers, the league's only remaining unbeaten team. Here, too, comes the prospect of a sensational duel between stars.

Vaughn's Five Is Beaten By Coahomans

Playing Without Services Of Smith, BS Team Falls, 28-27

COAHOMA, Dec. 15—The Vaughn Five Shop cagers, one of the prime favorites in the City Major basketball league, were upset by the Coahoma All-Stars here Wednesday evening, 28-27.

The Coahomans maintained the lead all the way but the Big Springers put on a belated rally that just fell short. The Coahomans were out front, 17-11, at half time.

The women were playing without the services of Jack Smith, one forward who paced the Big Springers to a victory over R-Bar Monday. Jake Morgan stood out for Big Spring in the Wednesday fray.

The two teams will meet again in a regular league game in Big Spring Dec. 20.

The world champions drew the assignment to open the American league season at Washington next April 17.

Pittsburgh will play at Cincinnati the same day to inaugurate the National league campaign, with all other clubs in both leagues swinging into action on the 18th.

SPECIAL MESSAGE for you who plan to extend out-of-town Christmas Greetings BY TELEPHONE
The Telephone Company feels that many persons, who have been in the habit of calling out-of-town relatives and friends on Christmas Eve, would really prefer to extend their Christmas greetings on Christmas Day. For this reason, we are glad to call your attention to the fact that, again this year, the low night and Sunday Long Distance rates will be in effect all day Christmas.
To take care of the increased volume of calls, our switchboards will be "manned" to capacity. Even so, there will likely be periods—especially on Christmas Eve—when it will be impossible to put through calls to a few distant cities with normal speed. If you should be one of those inconvenienced by delay, we ask your indulgence in advance.
Thank you—and a very Merry Christmas.
SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
*The low night rates will also be in effect all day Monday, Dec. 20; New Year's Day, and Monday, January 2.

EQUALITY FOR THE FARMERS

Having said at the ballot box that the farm program formulated in Washington is what they approve, there is no more argument to be made against it by farmers—or by others. If the congress decides to amend the law at the coming session it will not affect the next crop, so it is known now what may be expected in respect to that crop.

There are many who do not believe and have never believed that this farm program is for the best interest of ALL farmers. There are just as many who do not believe and have never believed in the so-called domestic allotment plan any more than in the two-price idea for disposing of crops.

What many do believe and advocate is that so far as government activities are concerned the farmer be put on a plane of equality with all other producers. If the tariff is what is bearing down on the farmer for the benefit of the manufacturer, then the tariff should be adjusted to give each equal protection.

If that adjustment should reduce the manufacturer's profit, and lessen the wage of manufacturing labor, let it be done, so long as that profit and those wages are not lower in proportion than those of the farmer. A low-paid mechanic is no worse off than a low-paid farmer, and an unemployed factory worker is no more desperate than an idle farm tenant.

Laws should consider all the people of the Nation, without respect to what industry or enterprise engages their attention. The farmers of Texas do not want any advantage over those of any other state, nor over the workmen in any line of business, but they do want and should have equal protection and equal opportunity.

TO SERVE THE WHOLE SOUTH

Well, the federal agricultural research laboratory, as far as Texas is concerned, is by way of being like the little yellow basket. It's missing.

Announcement came from Washington Wednesday that one of the four regional laboratories, that for the southern area, would be located at New Orleans. The Lone Star state had hoped mightily to get that particular unit, and Texas will of course be disappointed that the premier farm state was passed up.

The important thing to remember, though, is that the work of the research institution will be for the good of all southern agriculture and hence for all of the South. The New Orleans site is such that the Plains of Texas can be served while the older parts of the Deep South cotton belt also can have close connection with the laboratory.

The unit will devote its attention to finding new uses for cotton, sweet potatoes and peanuts. The opening of new markets for the commodities through the developing scientifically of new places to put these commodities will be a very significant step toward solving the production problem which this country is facing.

While Texas may be disappointed in not getting the laboratory, Texas should be grateful that such an institution is being established at any point to function for the betterment of the agricultural situation.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON—The ace product of Russia's new mass production automobile industry—a seven-passenger 110-horsepower sedan—is rolling about Washington streets these days, the first of its kind in the country.

It was sent over for use of the embassy and the staff is no end proud of it. In design it is something akin to a Cadillac and frankly follows American streamlining although preserving something of its own personality.

When we went out to the Soviet embassy to see it, Mr. Constantine A. Oumansky gave us the details. Mr. Oumansky is charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Troyanovsky who has been in Russia these several weeks while the usual omnibus Russian rumors gather in his wake.

The new car, model ZIS-101, is in mass production in Russia but not sufficiently in mass to supply the home demand. None is for export and according to Mr. Oumansky none will be exported for quite some time.

Not Enough To Go Around

There is a lively demand at home. Officials need many. A few are able to pay for them. Still more are needed for motorized service. Scientists, engineers and noted figures are likely to get one almost any time—if production keeps up as planned. Plants produced 122,000 trucks and 16,000 automobiles in 1937 compared with 1,702 automobiles and trucks in 1929. Production for this year is scheduled at 250,000 cars and trucks and the 1941 estimate is 500,000.

Washington's ZIS-101 is piloted by an American negro chauffeur named Edward. Edward would be in a fine fix if something went wrong with the car unless he knew instinctively how to repair it. The book of directions is in Russian, of which Edward knows not a word. The car is slightly narrower through the waist than current models of high priced American cars. Contrary to usual European modes, it has a left hand drive.

High Priced Tires

It was made in Russia to the last bolt, said Mr. Oumansky, even the synthetic tires, which cost twice as much as natural rubber. Reputedly they wear longer but have less road-grip.

Incidentally, the top is lofty enough to permit high hats. The Russian envoys here wear them the same as other diplomats. It sort of upsets you to learn that such cars are used in Moscow as taxis.

Mr. Oumansky read from the book that the car rated speed is 130 kilometers an hour; which converts into 75 miles an hour. There was some confusion as to whether that was top speed or merely a recommended safety limit. With its motor rating it seems it ought to do 100 miles or better.

Radio Tuned To Russia

It has a straight-eight motor and gets about 15 miles to the gallon. It has a heater, the usual gauges and a radio which is tuned to Russian stations. American stations are picked up readily but it is a strictly hunt and peck system. The numbers don't fit.

Very soon now the embassy auto will have some companions in America. Four of its type, including slightly later models, have been unloaded in New York for use of the Russian commission to Grover Whalen's world fair. They have not been unpacked.

Edward said the car took readily to American gasoline.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—From a writer named Twist, a new one on writing: "If you want to write—"

John Twist was a reader in a movie story department. The readers of Hollywood are the forgotten men of the studios. Day after day, eight hours a day, they sit in offices or cubbyholes and read. They read everything; among them they cover practically every piece of fiction that sees print. They plough through novels, short stories, plays, even non-fiction that has screen possibilities.

And then—this is important because it's the rest of John Twist's success story—they write about what they read. They write synopses of each story, pointing out screen ability or lack of it. From these synopses, movie producers select most of the stories you'll be seeing on the screen.

And yet, such being the way of Hollywood, a reader who wants to be a screen writer can even less chance than an outsider.

So John Twist's formula, while it worked for him, isn't to be taken generally. Only two or three other screen writers, besides Twist, come from reading departments. Off-hand I can name only Dalton Trumbo and Marian Dix—and there are scores of readers in Hollywood.

John Twist was a forgotten man, like the rest, for nearly eight years. He'd been wanting to write fiction and plays, and he thought the reading department might be an "in" he soon found out, however. He turned to that other maxim of the writing craft: "If you want to write—write." In spare time he wrote pulp fiction, and plays. Two of his plays had encouraging tryouts, this side of Broadway. But for the movies—he was a reader.

He must have been an exceptional reader, at that. Back in a day when the screen was loud with gang bullets, he suggested that "Little Women" might make a good movie. It did, to put it mildly. Before that, he had recommended a pulp magazine story that turned into RKO's first talkie ("Street Girl") and later served Lily Pons as "The Girl from Paris." (The story rights, incidentally, cost RKO just $500.)

And he kept on trying to make his formal synopses sound like "treatments," working in a situation here or there that wasn't in the original material. Sometimes he caught hell for it—but one day Cliff Reid, a producer who'll gamble on talent, sent for him.

He had just seen one of John's "synopses." Cliff saw the green grass on his own side of the fence. He put John Twist to writing. Twist's best assignment to date is on Reid's "The Great Man Votes." This is an old magazine story (1926) that Reid stumbled on three years ago—his pet discovery. And so it worked out for John Twist. "If you want to write—"

The Klizes are still with us. Twentieth Century-Fox gave 'em all new contracts—and they're going to gag up that old mystery thing "The Gorilla."

NEW YEAR'S LOVE

More than one person turned back for a second glance at the positively dressed girl who stood there, careless of the slushy discolored snow slopping around her trimly encoiled shoes.

No one, certainly, could have guessed at the heavy dread in Noel's heart at the thought of Christmas only a few days away. Nor the painful memories of other lonely Christmases. This year there was not even work to keep her occupied. And when would the next stage party come? Three flops in a row, with only the milk coat and a dwindling savings account to show for the two successful seasons which had preceded them.

Through the crowded shop, Noel went leisurely to the French linen room on an upper floor. And heard with dismay that the gown in the window cost ninety-five dollars.

"That's much more than I wanted to pay," she explained to the attentive saleswoman who suggested instead a domestic copy of the garment in silvery gray crepe. Even the thirty-five dollars was more than she should spend. It would cover a week's rent at the smart hotel where she occupied one of the smallest single rooms.

But Anita influenced her only too well, and this would be a diplomatic investment.

A Lovely Name
 "I'll take it," she decided suddenly and as she gave her name and address to the saleswoman, a friendly voice spoke from the chair beside her:

"This is a coincidence! My name is Marchand, too." Noel turned to the elderly well-groomed woman who had addressed her. The perfunctory smile she offered became warmer as she looked into kindly brown eyes that sparkled under perfectly waved white hair.

"That is amusing," she replied in the deep, throaty voice that had thrilled audiences only too briefly in the play which had died with the Autumn.

"I couldn't help hearing," the older woman explained further. "Noel—I think that's a lovely name for a Marchand."

Noel laughed softly. "I was born on Christmas Eve and my mother heard the carols outside while they showed me to her."

Mrs. Marchand looked keenly at the beautiful girl. Dark wavy hair curled up under a pink and blue turban, incredibly blue eyes bright under their thick, smoky lashes.

"What a heavenly Yule gift for your mother, my dear." Her voice had a wistful note as she added, "I always wanted a daughter. But I've got a very handsome son, a prize and a note Noel couldn't quite fathom taking hold of her words. Her tone had a pleasant mellow ring. "Will you tell your mother I envy her you?"

"I lost my mother several years ago." Even now Noel couldn't bear to say it. What she didn't say was: "She was all I had—and we had nothing else." Deliberately she pushed the blurred picture back among the other hidden thoughts of those impoverished years.

"You're Grace?"
 "I'm sorry." There was awkward sympathy in the other woman's reply. Carefully cared-for hands fingered again the garments laid out before her. "Oh dear, they're so beautiful, I can't choose," she said to the saleswoman. "So I'll take them both!"

While Noel waited for her change, she heard: "Mrs. Allison Marchand, Lancaster Hotel." The saleswoman smiled with them over the incident of the names.

The two customers who might have been mother and daughter started for the elevators together, and then Mrs. Marchand suggested:

"Who knows but we may be related. My husband had many distant cousins around New York."
 Noel never knew quite what it was that gave her the impulse to say:

"I think not. My name's really not Marchand. I was born Noel Martin, but I'm in the theater and my first stage director gave Marchand to me."
 "Oh!" Mrs. Marchand was obviously disappointed but she added politely, "You grace it, my dear."
 "You're sweet to say so," Noel answered gratefully. "I'm glad you don't feel I'm a pilferer."
 They laughed together and talked of the problems of choosing gifts for other people. Only Noel didn't say there were so few she had to buy.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

Chapter 27
ADAM EXPLAINS
 "Shaw," Adam went on "Barney took the part of a girl in Hundreth Night shows—did he sing?"

"Yeah, he was a scream—big as a horse and coy, and a shrill falsetto to voice—" The grin froze on his face. "Great Godfrey," he breathed.

Adam nodded slowly, soberly.

"The song was to lighten the situation—it was enough to mind a monotone. And there had to be a second bullet in case the fatal one did not lodge in the wound."

"You see, he thought she was dead—he meant her to be dead—when he carried her onto the dance floor."

Mary Shaw hid her face against her husband's shoulder and began to sob. He put a perfunctory arm around her, spoke to her impatiently.

"I always told you Barney had ice water in his veins.... But look, Adam, you mean to say he carried her around the floor? Why, man, I had a girl pass out on me once or twice when we were dancing—weighed a ton. I could hardly get her to a chair! They're not like ordinary people—stiffs, I mean. They—they say—"

Adam said, "True. But I doubt if Barney realized that when he made his plans, she's a tiny thing, and Barney—I'm no weakling, but I assure you I was helpless yesterday afternoon in his arms. I think it's possible he underestimated the task he had set himself; but once started, he had to do it—there was no backing down after he'd shot her. He had literally left himself with no alternative, and it's remarkable what you can do when you have to save your skin. But did you notice him afterward—in the dressing room?"

Mrs. Flower's head was nodding violently again. "Trembling all over, he was, like a leaf!"

"With fatigue, not horror," Adam pointed out.
 "But the blood!" expostulated Lou Orpington.

"There was little external bleeding, fortunately for him. Although he was prepared for that. The costumes—I think you all heard Anne say that Barney planned them. The big crimson heart, pierced by an arrow, served a dual purpose. A target of sorts; and a mark for the blood that must spill before he could tamp the beautiful girl's blood wavy hair curled up under a pink and blue turban, incredibly blue eyes bright under their thick, smoky lashes.

"What a heavenly Yule gift for your mother, my dear." Her voice had a wistful note as she added, "I always wanted a daughter.
