Here & There

By Laura Guthrie
I apologize for skipping
this chatter last week.
But after a "stretch" of sitting at the hospital nights and a good part of the days with my sick grandchild, I just didn't know anything anyway.

I'm not much better off this week. I do know that a lot of people are sick with colds and pneumonia. Maybe a good rain or snow would help the situation. companied by her daughter Jo Ann Millett and grand-daughter Georgann attended the funeral of her sister. Mrs. Edgar Parrish in Gatesville last week. Last Thursday Opal Deal, of Hamilton, a cousin of Mrs. Porter, came for a visit of a few days.

We are glad to have Lillie Moon home again after she has been in Midland for a month visiting her daughter.

Virgil and Mae Helton recently spent three weeks with their children, Drs. W. A. and Martha Tacker and their small daughter. Of course the grandchild was the drawing card, but the Heltons helped the Tackers get established in their new home in La-Faette, Indiana. W. A. is associated with the Medical School at Purdue University. Martha spends most of her time in her office editing scientific medical papers for the doctors.

While in Indiana, the Heltons visited with Mae's cousin in Muncy.

Mrs. Buck (Mary) Jones of Saudia Arabia recently came to the states to be with her daughter, Brenda, who underwent surgery at Austin, Texas. She is now visiting in Wheeler with Buck's parents, Owen and Pearl Jones. Tuesday of

These cuts include 45 pounds of beef variety meats (liver, tongue, heart, and kidney), 80 pounds loin cuts, 74 pounds round cuts, 36 pounds rib cuts, 3 pounds flank, 88 pounds

The hide of this steer

The hide of this steer weighs 55 pounds. The hide and hair are used for leather goods (shoes, luggage, upholstery, etc.), camels hair for artists' brushes, drumheads, and violin strings.

The bones and horns are used as handles for carving sets; bone for bone china; gelatin for marshmallows and photographic film; steering for chewing gum and candies; bone charcoal for high grade steel such as ball bearings; special glues for plywood, paper, matches, window shades; and glycerine for explosives.

There are 300 pounds of inedibles from this steer.
They are the source of many by-products which include medicines such as harmones, glandular extracts, insulin, pepsin, epinephrine, and ACTH cortisone; surgical sutures; chemicals for tires to run cooler; binders for the asphalts in roads; fats for soaps; high protein livestock feeds; and high nitrogen fertilizers.

These are some of the things that cattle contribute to our daily lives. We use them every day, right down to the moo!

One major concern for the homemaker is being sure the food she serves is safe to eat.

Preparing larger than usual quantities of food puts a greater demand on a homemaker to keep it free of bacteria that cause food poisoning.

Bacteria only needs the right combination of time, temperature and moisture to grow. Proper refrigeration after you see your doctor ...

bring your prescription to

DHYLAND'S PHARMACY

is a good way to prevent this happening. Keep cold foods cold and hot foods

Perishable foods-such as turkey and dressing. cream peis and custardsshouldn't be left unrefrigerated longer than two

Food borne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or even days. Young children and senior citizens are most susceptible.

When thinking of food safety refreezing food is a concern. Generally, if foods are safe to eat, they may be refrozen without danger.

This guide is especially helpful if your freezer stops and you are wondering what to do with all the food in-

Whether or not thawed foods may be refrozen depends on the length of time they have been held and the holding temperature.

Foods may safely be refrozen if they still have ice crystals present or if they are still cold - about 40 degrees F. - and have been held no longer than one or two days.

As a general rule, a fully-loaded freezer will stay cold enough to keep foods frozen for two days if the door isn't opened. But if it is not full, the food may not stay frozen that long.

One clue to help you decide whether to refreeze is the food's partial thawing and refreezing can change the flavor or texture of these items.

Refrozen foods sho pd be used as soon as possible to save as much of their eating quality as you can.

Card of Thanks

Dear Friends: Thank you for the way you expressed your feelings for my family and I as we departed from our work in Wheeler. We gracefully appreciate the gift you gave

We feel so inadaquate in our ability to express our love and thanks to you. We feel that we have left something of ourselves with you, and we have taken something of you with us. The years we spent together have enriched our lives and made us better servants in the Lord's church.

Your friendship, goodwill, complimentry remarks, and understanding, invitations to fellowship and laboring together have ment much to us. We hope that we have helped you to increase your faith also.

Personally we are seperated by miles, but you have a place in our hearts, our thoughts and our prayers.

Finally, farewell...Be perfect; be comforted; be of the same mind; live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you. Salute one another. And may the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit, be with you all.

Again, Thank You!!! Sincerely, Marlon, Cheryl, Tony and Doug McWilliams
