ELECTION DAY IS SATURDAY

Best Editorials

The two editorials printed below were written in Neil Rogers' Freshman English class. Here is an opportunity for the civic-minded citizens to see the young people think and the best two out of seven written.

We hope you, the citizens, will consider this idea. "THANK YOU"

Recreation for Kids

What Wheeler lacks is some kind of recreation for all kids. If we had some kind of recreation in the summer, it would keep more kids off the street.

Our community is in desperate need of a youth center. This community center should contain: area large enough for dances, ping-pong tables, pool tables, jukebox, snack bar, a basketball court which can be converted into a volleyball court, and for the older generation, a card and domino parlor.

This new building would eliminate so many mischievous acts which tend to get the kids of our town into trouble. The new center would give more kids a chance to enjoy the freedom they have as teenagers. Although the center would be fairly expensive, the money will be well spent! A Group of Concerned Teenagers

Briscoe For Governor Of Texas

We have come to a critical period in our state government. Sam Kinch, Jr., the Austin correspondent of the Dallas Morning News, and Dr. Ben Proctor have an authoritative study of the Sharpston scandal just off the press titled, "Texas Under A Cloud". This gives us a clear view of some of the questionable practices which have prevailed in our state government in Austin for, at least, the past three years. Without any implications or assumptions we can safely say that some odd coincidences have occurred in our state affairs over that period, culminating in the trial in Abilene of Mutscher, Shannon and McGinty.

Whether or not any further developments will be forthcoming in the above scandal, we have no way of knowing, but we can assure ourselves of an all out effort for capable, honest government by electing Dolph Briscoe as our next governor. One may disagree with him on some issues - that is our inalienable right-, but no one can question his dedication or sincerity.

Dolph Briscoe's record will bear scrutiny. He is a man of unimpeachable character, beholden to no group, political or financial. He is a respected and successful business man. He is an experienced legislator, having served in the legislature from 1949 to 1957. Among other things, he helped frame our farm to market road system and authored the resolution calling for investigation of the Veteran's Land Scandal of 1955- the latter certainly indicating his concern in honest government. He is married, has three children, ranging in age from 13 to 19 years. He is also a member of the Episcopal church.

Let's remove that "Cloud Over Texas": Vote for Dolph Briscoe and responsible government.

Signed,
Tom Britt

with eggs that don't have cracks and keep the dye warmer than the egg. If a warm egg is left in cool water, the dye may seep through the pores of the shell. Brown shelled eggs color equally as well as white shelled eggs. Brown shells give bright, vivid colors; white shells are best for pastels.

To dye the eggs, wipe the shells thoroughly with a moist cloth, then allow them to dry. Eggs that have limey shells dye with tiny white spots. Eggs dye best when they're hot or warm. Hot water dyes are also faster. Prepare the dye according to the manufacturer's instructions. A statement that the color is harmless may be found on the package containing Easter egg dyes. Immerse the eggs until they become the desired color shade. Let the eggs dry and decorate.

Speaking of eggs, I received several copies (enough for you to have one) of an article by Dr. Robert C. Atkins, a specialist in diet, nutrition, internal medicine and problems related to heart disease. He presents in this article his viewpoint on eggs in the American diet. He says, and supports with statistics, that the consumption of eggs is not the chief cause of high cholesterol level in the blood. He says the cause is too much sugar and carbohydrates. This is an interesting article. Call me if you're interested in reading it.

The world was born anew that lovely morning When Mary, weeping, saw with bated breath His living presence standing in the garden, Who lately passed beyond the veil of death.

The very birds were rapturous in their singing, The grass was cool and green beneath His feet, And trembling with the wonder of that moment, The roses blushed their risen Lord to greet.

He looked with pleasure on this vernal beauty, He who all loveliness to man did give...

Then spoke the words that give to live new meaning, The words that rang with triumph, "See, I live."

You may want to use some of the Easter egg recipes, after the kids have had fun decorating, hiding and finding them. Here's one that's a little different. Remember to use them after a day or two at the most!

DIFFERENT EGG SALAD
 1 No 2 Can baked beans
 4 coarsely chopped, hard-cooked eggs
 1 tbsp. mayonnaise
 1/2 tsp. salt
 3 slices crumbled crisp bacon
 1/2 cup minced onions
 1 tbsp. chili sauce
 1 tsp. prepared mustard
 Dash of pepper
 3 tbsp. snipped parsley
 Drain beans; add eggs and onion. Toss in combined chili sauce, mayonnaise, mustard, salt and pepper. Serve in chilled salad bowl; sprinkle with bacon and parsley. Serves 4.

Beyond Easter eggs and the fun that goes with that, there is a deep, joyful meaning to the Easter season, as expressed in this poem.

Across the Fence

BY: Max Matter, CAA
 We need rain! A lot of ranchers are fidgetin' and putterin' about in anticipation of the heavy calving deal. This time of year our minds wander from one thing to another just like an ole cow rushing over the range in early spring grasping for a green tuft of grass here and yonder.
 If we don't get moisture soon, our farmers and ranchers may be shopping for the new bicycle with no seat and no handlebars that the NFO newsletter was advertising last week. They report that the new bicycle is for farmers who have lost their behinds and don't know which way to turn.

When you plant roses, place the bud union slightly below the soil level to protect it from a severe winter. A mound of soil about 6 inches high around the canes will also protect the canes from drying winds and sun until the roots have a chance to grow. When growth is well started, remove this mound.

Time is approaching when Shin Oak (Quercus havardi) poisoning in cattle may become a problem. This particular type of poisoning has been a problem to us during early April in past years. Total annual losses in livestock from Shin Oak has been estimated to be more than $10 million in Texas alone. The shin oak plant is very palatable and toxic when it first buds in spring. The blossoms, buds, leaves and stems are all toxic. The time of budding depends on the temperature and this has been an early spring

Ordinarily it occurs in late March.
 A good supplementary feed will reduce livestock losses due to oak poisoning, but will not always prevent intoxication. A supplementary feed containing calcium hydroxide is more effective. A feed formula that incorporates calcium hydroxide, that is palatable and economically feasible is as follows:
 Ingredients Lbs
 ground alfalfa 600
 cottonseed meal (41%) 1080 vegetable oil 120
 Calcium hydroxide 200
 2000

Calves can be creep fed and cows should be fed at the rate of four pounds of the formula daily.
 This is an open formula and can be mixed by the owner or any commercial feed producer. This feed is available from Godbold Inc., Lubbock, Texas and possibly from other feed producers.

The Voice of Doom?
 The regional planning commission adopted a population projection based on an economic study by West Texas State University last week. In eighteen years, the study says that half the folks in Wheeler County will be gone. Guess we can ride over to Roberts County and see what our county will look like eighteen years from now. A projection like this should ruffle the feathers of people in Briscoe, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hall and Wheeler Counties. Let's hope that this area will not decline as rapidly as the prognosticators say it will. Losing 50% of our population in such a short time could be disastrous to our rural communities and small towns.
 The fact that a university located in our area would voice such a prediction should stir our small towns to actions. If there was ever a built-in challenge for a small county to struggle for greater growth, this is it. I believe the potential is there for many small towns in our county to attach a buoyant new growth. The wood is on the fireplace, but a spark is needed to light a fire. The kind of spark that is ignited might very well determine whether a community is in existence a few years from now. Where are you going to be 18 years from now? Are you going to roll over and play dead or are you going to provide that spark we're talking about?
 Our county rural development meeting meets at 9:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 11th at the A.S.C.S. office in Wheeler. If you have a suggestion on the improvement of rural living in our county, feel free to attend.

Movie Chatter

A man's search for roots in the old West of the United States is the pervasive theme of the Panda production for Universal, "The Hired Hand," which comes this Friday and Saturday to the Rogue Theatre in Wheeler. Peter Fonda, Warren Oates and Verna Bloom co-star in the pastoral drama photographed in Technicolor entirely in New Mexico.

When asked why he decided to follow "Easy Rider" with this type of film, Fonda replied, "Westerns are the way Americans tell our fairy tales and parables; in fact, all American drama and adventure films are westerns."

"The Hired Hand" tells the story of Fonda who, after seven years of wandering, decided to return to his wife and child. His partner, Oates, joins him and at last, it seems, both rootless men have found themselves in working the ranch. Then the past catches up, and climatic events prevent their escape from the environment they had created.

Oates has recently been seen in "Two-Lane Blacktop," "The Wild Bunch," and "The Heat of the Night." Miss Bloom, a Broadway star, won audience and critical acclaim in her motion picture debut recently in "Medium Cool." "The Hired Hand" is rated "GP" - All ages admitted. Parental guidance suggested.

Showing at the Prevue and Sunday is "The Incredible Two-Headed Transplant". Ken (Casey Kasem) is invited to the ranch home of Roger (Bruce Dern) and Linda (Pat Pruitt) where Roger shows Ken experiments he had conducted transplanting heads of snakes and animals by attaching another head to the existing body of his subjects, resulting in a laboratory full of two-headed pets. With his assistant, Max (Berry Kroeger) they attempt to transplant a head on a human being when circumstances make a ready-made subject.

They proceed into the operation and are successful. The monster breaks free and starts a reign of terror through the countryside.

Dear America

The most deadly weapon each of us possess is not a knife or a gun, but the tongue. The tongue can do more to destroy friendships, marriages and homes than any one thing. The gangue of our leaders of the world are teared, knowing that one wrong word could lead to another war or persecution of people.

James 3-5. Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

10. Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

CONSERVATION NEWS: Some cooperators of the Wheeler County Soil and Water Conservation District are preparing to seed weeping lovegrass on shinnery infested rangeland. The deep plow, shown above on the Joe Taylor place east of McLean, is used to control the shinnery and prepare a seedbed for grass seeding. When a good grass cover is established it reduces pollution causing silt and dust. Weeping lovegrass also provides excellent pasture when properly managed. If you would like more information on this practice contact the Soil Conservation Service in Wheeler.
