FIXTURES FOR SALE

EARLY MORNING FIRE: The Wheeler Fire Department was called to the Wheeler Gin at 6:45 Wednesday morning. A truck loaded with burrs had caught fire. A bulldozer was used to dump part of the burrs and the truck was turned over to empty the remainder of the burrs. The back tires and the hydraulic lift were all that can be salvaged of the 1959 Chevrolet. The truck, belonging to Cleo Gaines, had been parked under the burr hopper all night and the cause of the fire is unknown. At the time the fire was discovered, only the left front tire was still. The garden hose used in an effort to extinguish the fire hose and the Fire department was called.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE IS ANNOUNCED BY JAMISON

Increased rates for all classes of mail except parcel post and international mail will go into effect January 7, Postmaster Virgil Jamison reminded postal customers today.

"Even with the new rates of six cents for first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail, postal service is still a real bargain," Postmaster Jamison declared. "For six cents you can send a letter to any 50 states, to any United States territory or possession, to Canada or Mexico, or to an American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

Postmaster Jamison pointed out that the new rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20% increase compared to a 24 percent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34% hike for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail and other material in the third-class category.

The new rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of ten cents per ounce for air mail applies up to seven ounces.

Under the new rate structure all first class mail over 13 ounces will be merged into a single category.

These heavier pieces of first class air mail subject to the single rate schedule will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For all mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that the postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change to half-pound intervals rather than one pound interval.

Postmaster Jamison said that the new rate structure will mean a reduction of postage on some parcels.

Another rate change that will affect the general public is the increase from four to six cents for the first two ounces of individual pieces of third-class mail. Unsealed greeting cards may be sent at this rate, Postmaster Jamison said.

He emphasized that the new rate on unsealed greeting cards will not go into effect until January 7 and until then they can be mailed at the old rate of four cents.

Postmaster Jamison also noted that effective January 7 special handling will be available on third-class parcels weighing between eight and sixteen ounces. Special handling has not been available on these parcels since 1958, when packages weighing between eight and sixteen ounces were transferred from fourth to third-class mail.

There will be no changes in the charges for special delivery, special handling, registered mail, certified mail, cash on delivery or insurance, Postmaster Jamison said.

"We have an ample supply of one-cent stamps on hand," Postmaster Jamison said, "for those people who have five-cent stamps and need one-cent stamps to make up the postage required under the new rates."

Higher rates also will go into effect January 7 for all categories of second-class mail, bulk-rate third-class mail, controlled circulation mail, and the educational materials category of fourth class mail. Mailers using these classes who need information on the new rates should contact the local Post Office, Postmaster Jamison said.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of Burk Burnett visited from Friday until Sunday with the Burley Manns and the E.E. Wilsfords.

ACROSS THE FENCE

By Max Matter, WCAG

We've got the moisture level wheat pastures were beginning to hurt. Some unseasonal warmer weather might give the pastures the boost they need.

Value of Crop Residue: Gary Maxey, Soil Conservation Technician with the Wheeler County Soil Conservation District, who really understands the value of crop residue, helped us measure the residue on our hybrid Sudan Plots last week. Gary figures that an acre of irrigated hybrid sudan added 5 1/2 tons of crop residue to the acre for us on our demonstration plot.

This added residue is another valuable consideration in helping maintain soil tilth and organic matter. We understand a minimum of a ton to a ton and half or more of residue is needed on cropland to control wind erosion. More water will be allowed to infiltrate the soil as the shredded stalks will protect the soil by absorbing the impact of rainfall.

Soybeans: Most of the commercial acreage of soybeans are grown on the high plains. It's a crop that requires moisture in most stages of its growth. We had ample moisture in Wheeler County this past year. We made some good fields on the little we had planted. E.B. Stevens planted about 15 acres of soybeans across from the Twitty Gin. His average yield was about 17 bushels to the acre. At $2.35 a bushel, this would gross a man about forty dollars an acre.

The water requirement of soybeans is about equal to that of cotton. We feel soybeans could be grown successfully if added water was available through irrigation at critical times. The main value would be as a protein source for our hogs and cattle. The Beans, we understand, can be fed whole to hogs, but it's better to grind them in mixtures with other feeds. If you're looking for a source of protein, look into this soybean project. It may make you a dollar or two if you're prepared to water 'em.

Cattle: We've noticed some increases in purchases of heifers the past few weeks. The price spread between heifers and steers has been unusually wide. We foresee a little better profit on heifers than on steers.

Hogs: With hog prices lower, now may be a good time to get into hogs. A good grain crop this year could minimize feed costs for a while.

FIRST GRAND JURY FOR COUNTY CALLED IN 1880

Eighty-eight years ago next month the first District Grand Jury was impaneled in Wheeler County. The following information was taken from the County records.

The grand jury was impaneled six days. Nine indictments were handed down.

The following is taken from the minutes of County and District Court (pages 334, 335, 336 of Volume 1)

Saturday, January 24th, 1880

To the Honorable H.A. Lewis Special Judge, District Court, Wheeler County, Texas

SIR-

The Grand Jurors empaneled at the January term A.D., 1880 of the District Court Wheeler County, Texas, respectfully report to your Honor that they have closed their labors at the present session of this Court.

That this being the first term of the District Court held in the Panhandle of Texas. A Country heretofore without Civil Law, the Grand Jurors have in their investigations confined themselves to the more serious offenses against the laws of Texas.

But it is not intended to be inferred that lesser offenses have been entirely ignored such for instance as Gambling.

The Grand Jurors are of opinion that it cannot be pected at a Community just settling a new Country that the laws concerning public morals have been as strictly complied with as in the more densely populated districts where the law have been for a long term of years enforced and understood; Nor can it be expected that the mere fact of the Civil organization of a County in a remote and unsettled region will immediately reform and correct abuses of the laws of the State concerning misdemeanors. Such reforms must necessarily be gradual. But while the Grand Jury has found no indictment for such violations of law yet, the public is cautioned that a future Grand Jury may not be so lenient. And as all misdemeanors may be prosecuted upon and information the attention of the County Officers is invited to article 369 to 369 of the Penal Code of the State and further recommend that the County Officers will cause information to be filed in all misdemeanors cases which may be prosecuted in the County and Justice Courts.

The Grand Jurors are of opinion that a great deal of time has been cut off the State School Lands in Wheeler County and adjoining Counties.

But that owing to the fact that the Surveyor of Wheeler County has not yet perfected the transcripts of surveys in Wheeler County and can do no official work until the same is perfected, the Grand Jurors are unable to determine with sufficient exactness the location of said School Lands.

It is recommended to the public that they assist the Surveyor of Wheeler County by pecunior aid to obtain the transcript necessary to

NATURAL GAS FOR IRRIGATION

Nine pipeline projects furnishing natural gas to irrigation farmers from Seminole to Elhart, Kansas and Hollis, Okla. to Hereford, Tex. have been started or are nearly finished, a year-end report from Peoples Natural Gas of Amarillo shows.

Bob Callan, Sales Manager, said three projects will be finished about January 1. They include Balko, Okla., Tyrone, Okla., and Hereford, Texas.

Construction on four projects, all in Oklahoma, will begin about January 1 and include areas around Gates, Guyman, Turpin and Hollis.

"We're still actively signing wells in the Turpin, Okla. area, and as soon as enough are signed, we'll begin work there," Callan said.

Roads and fences are being constructed in the Hollis, Okla. area, and testing of four gas wells has been completed. Callan said the laying of steel pipe should begin shortly.

The Claude system has been completed and gas is moving through the pipeline.

"The West End Gas Co., in Yoakum Co., Texas was purchased by Peoples Natural Gas and we have gas going into a portion of our Bronco system in that area.

"We are about half finished with the project and have completed arrangements with State Line Gas Co. to serve gas to them," Callan added.

The Peoples Natural Gas sales manager said that farmers in any of the areas can contact company representatives any time for information concerning the firm's well-side gas and agricultural programs.

"Taps can be made any place along the lines in now," he said.

To assist irrigation farmers, answering services have been established in Canyon, Olton, Dalhart, Dumas, White Deer and Plains, Texas, and in Boise City, Elkhart and Balko.

Peoples personnel and the areas served follow:

Roy Monk, district manager; Bill Rippeete and Roy Black, sales representatives, Guyman; Don Tanner, Local representative; Bill Hancock, sales representative, Dumas and Dalhart; Garland Ruthart, sales representative, Hereford; L.W. (Dutch) Snelleman, sales representative, Amarillo; Doug Maupin, local manager, Seminole; Harold Autry, local manager, Clarendon; and Larry Starnes, local representative.

H. H. Keahey Named Chairman

H. H. Keahey, former president of the Canadian Production Credit Association, has been promoted to chairman of the board. This change in title was announced following a recent meeting of the association's board of directors. Other promotions announced were Wallace N. Hamker to vice chairman of the board; Erbin Crowell to president of the association; and Larry Albin and Lynn Futch to vice presidents of the association.

Mr. Crowell stated that the new titles more accurately reflect the image of a corporation with $10,250,000 in assets.

In his position as president, Mr. Crowell will remain as chief executive officer of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Helton and children of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Beatty and their daughter Linda of Texas Tech in here for the holidays. Others for Sunday dinner were Richard Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. James Colvin and children of Shamrock and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Beauchamp of Amarillo.

Grand Jury

enable him to perform his official labors. As the settlers in the County are extremely anxious of having their lands surveyed.

The Grand Jurors in behalf of the people of the Panhandle acknowledge their sense of gratitude to the members of the Clay Co. Bar who have interested themselves in the welfare of the people of this region to the extent of having traveled a distance of 200 miles across an unsettled Country for the purpose of holding a District Court and the members of this the "First Grand Jury" held in this County in behalf of the people of this County think that special mention should be made of the name of the Honorable William B. Flemons, County Judge of Clay County in whom the Authority lay for the organization of Wheeler County.

His Courtesy in coming to this place for the purpose of organizing the County was an act which should recommend him favorably to the people of the Panhandle. The Grand Jurors also express their thanks to your Honor for the courteous and able manner in which you have discharged the duties imposed upon you.

The Grand Jurors also congratulate Henry Fleming the Sheriff of Wheeler County upon the able and efficient manner in which he has enforced the law in suppressing acts of lawlessness and violence in the County and especially in the County Seat.

And the County officials generally cannot be too highly lauded for the determined and successful manner in which the lawless and outrageous conduct of one Walter Johnson, Deputy U.S. Marshall was opposed. The Grand Jurors further deem it their duty to mention favorably the efficient manner in which the nail contractors have complied with their obligations. They believe that the establishing of mail routes in our new County creates encouragement to settlers and it is to be hoped that the Postal Department will see fit to increase such service to meet the growing demands of a rapidly settling Country. The County Commissioners are earnestly requested to adopt means for the Early Construction of a Courthouse and Jail in Wheeler County. With congratulations to the public at large for past successes and the promise to our new County of a bright future we remain

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Social security beneficiaries who earn over $1500 in 1967 must file an annual report of their earnings with the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1968, according to Travis C. Briggs, District Manager of the Amarillo social security office.

The exempt amount is $1500 and beneficiaries earning this amount or less are not required to file a report. The report is required in order that a proper determination of benefits paid and payable in 1967 can be made.

Reports will be automatically mailed to beneficiaries receiving some payments in 1967. They should be received sometime in February 1968. Beneficiaries not receiving a report by mail because of not having received benefits in 1967 or some other reason should contact the social security office before April 15, 1968.

Briggs said that the annual report should not be confused with a tax return. The annual report must be filed with the Social Security Administration while a tax return is filed with Internal Revenue Service.

Serving on the first jury were T.S. McCarty, Austin, Henry Frye, Edw. Fletcher, F.N. Patton, Hamburg, Wildon Hoar, Howard Chapman, Perry Lee, N.F. Locke, Thomas R. and L.B. Lockhart.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Reviews that Sting

Tart reviews of movies, plays, books, and works of art have won many a chuckle from the reading public. One reviewer was "underwhelmed" by a movie. Another said he saw a play under bad conditions: "the curtain was up." A third, having called an actor the worst he had ever seen, described his next performance as "not up to his usual standard."

But while readers chuckle, the person on the target end may be seething. If the criticism is really rough, may he collect damages for defamation of character?

He may—if the reviewer steps outside the legitimate bounds of criticism. The law frowns on attacks that are directed not at the work itself but at the character of the person who created it.

For example, an art critic was held liable for saying not only that a certain work of art was bad but also that the artist was a swindler. But within his proper scope, the reviewer has enormous leeway. His honest opinion, however severe, is protected by the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press.

Furthermore, the law recognizes that a critic may have to use pungent language to make his point. As one court put it, the critic may indulge in "all those delightful touches of style which go to make an article readable."

What about adverse comments outside the field of the arts? By and large, if it is a matter of legitimate public concern, the same broad freedom of opinion prevails.

Thus, courts have rejected the complaint of a public contractor, criticized for his workmanship; of a financier, criticized for promoting a new transit system; and of a football coach, criticized for his strategy.

True enough, such brickbats may be hard to bear. But the public is benefitted. Not only is freedom upheld but also taste is fostered—by the encouragement of work that is good and the discouragement of work that is bad.

As for the hapless victim, he himself has invited criticism by submitting his work to the public in the first place.

"He should not be thin-skinned," commented one judge, "if the criticism so invited is not gentle."

KEEPING CHRISTMAS

By Brenda L. Williams, CHDA
 Do you have a let down feeling after Christmas? All the excitement, merriment and anticipation is over. It is just another ordinary day. We plan, decorate, save our pennies, work rush and within a blink of the eye it all suddenly is over. It leaves a sad rather lonely tree and people too. Why does Christmas just have to be over? I would like to share with you "Keeping Christmas" by Henry Van Dyke.
 It is a good thing to observe Christmas Day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agree to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and wholesome custom. It helps one to feel supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his own little watch, now and then, by the great clock of humanity which runs on sun time.

 But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day and that is, keeping Christmas.
 Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow men are just as real as you are, and to try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to know that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life, to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe and to look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness--are you willing to do these things even for a day. Then you can keep Christmas.
 Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children, to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you and ask yourself whether you love them enough; to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear on their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings with the gate open. Are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.
 And if you can keep it for a day, why not always? But you can never keep it alone.
 This poem might help us all plan our New Year's Resolutions. For added flavor to your meat on New Year's Day try this. It is really delicious particularly on a roast beef.
Green Pepper Jelly
 1 1/2 cups chopped bell peppers
 2 1/2 cups vinegar
 2 bottles certo
 1/2 cup jalapinos or small hot peppers (less if you like milder)
 4 cups sugar
 Blend peppers and vinegar in blender until liquid. Put in large pot, add sugar and let come to a rolling boil. Remove from fire, let stand 10 minutes. Add Certo stir thoroughly. Let stand 10 minutes, skim and stir-let stand 10 minutes. Stir and pour into hot jars. Seal with paraffin and lid. The timing is the secret. This takes awhile to set up.
 Happy New Year!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Hush Money

Two policemen, armed with a search warrant, discovered a cache of narcotics in Eddie's basement. Eddie forced a smile. "Tell you what," he said blithely. "I'll give you guys $500 each if you'll get rid of this stuff for me and forget the whole thing." Result: Eddie was arrested not only for a narcotics violation but also for offering a bribe. At the trial, he protested: "I was only joking about the money. I never expected these policemen to take me seriously." Nevertheless, he was found guilty as charged. The court said that, behind his jocular manner, the criminal purpose was all too evident.
