will be increased with the February 1 billing by Wheeler Gas, Inc. The rate increase was approved at the Dec. 18 meeting of the Wheeler City Council with the increase to go into effect with the reading of the meters for gas used in January.

The request for increased rates was presented Dec. 4. Bill Wiley of Miami, representative of Wheeler Gas, Inc. met with the City Council in a special meeting Mona member of the First Baptist day, December 4 and presented a proposed rate schedule. The council agreed to take action at their reaular December meeting.

On December 18 after reading and studying the proposed rate increase, the council voted to approve the raise. The increase in the cost of gas is the first raise requested by Wheeler Gas, Inc. since 1957. The Wheeler

Gas Co. was established in 1926 and operated at the rates first established until 1957 when an increase was sought by the company. Because the City Council and Wheeler Gas could not agree on the new rates, the matter was taken to District Court. A District Court order established the new rates necessary to provide operating revenues sufficient to meet increased operating costs and increased gas purchase costs. The rate established by the court has been in effect for the past 15 years. Gas for Wheeler was produced southeast of Wheeler. Wheeler Gas owned its own wells for use by Wheeler residents until the depletion of production forced Wheeler Gas to turn to Natural Gas Pipeline Co in 1964. In order to provide adequate volumes and pressure to meet customer requirements. Wheeler Gas, Inc. continued to look for and purchase field gas in order to reduce gas costs. In 1971 a new supply pipeline was constructed to the Basin Well northwest of Wheeler: This well became non productive in the fall of 1971 due to formation flooding. In 1971 a new supply pipeline was constructed to a Gulf well in Oklahoma. By enlarging five miles of pipeline north of Wheeler, three-fourths of Wheeler gas requirements can be supplied. The remaining gas supply for Wheeler must be purchased from Natural Gas Pipeline Company.

In addition to the increased cost of gas, taxes on the system have continued to increase. Total taxes paid in 1965 were $4,240.58 and total taxes paid of 1971 were $8,391.96.

Wheeler Gas, Inc is the successor to the family partnership, Wheeler Gas Co., formed by H.M. Wiley who installed the original natural gas system in Wheeler in 1926.

The following is the ordinance passed by the Wheeler Council.

Here and There BY: Laura Guthrie

Well, I've finally had a showdown with myself. People all over seem to have so much fun with TV football. Up to now I had had no desire to spend the afternoon that way. But for goodness sake! There must be something the matter with me! So, on Sunday afternoon, all shut in by snow and ice, I decided, once and for all to try to do something about the situation. I poured a cup of steaming coffee, perched in my favorite chair, pulled the afgan around my knees and waited for the fantasy to start. But, lo, at this particular time there was no football! What? I thought they went on all the time! What about this basketball game! That didn't fire a spark. Switch channels. A hockey game. That might be good. With little interest I watched it to the end. Now the football game. Oh, no. The Glen Campbell Open Golf. I hung onto that a while. At least this is nice and quiet. And I see a few people | know -- Bob Hope and Dean Martin. Nevertheless, he was found guilty of the charge. In spite of extenuating circumstances, said the court, he had committed precisely the act forbidden by statute. This case illustrates the law's stern attitude toward the hit-and-run driver. Although panic is understandable, it is not forgiveable. If you are involved in an accident, you must stop, identify yourself, and-in most states-give reasonable aid to anyone who is injured. Does it matter if you were not to blame for the accident in the first place? Not at all. It is what happens afterward that counts. Nor is it an excuse that you 'thought it was nothing serious." Once you have hit someone, it is your duty to get the facts before goirg on

On the other hand, you are not guilty if you were truly unaware of the accident. In one case, a nighttime hit-and-run accident was traced to the owner of a station wagon. Telltale bloodstains and threads from the victim's clothing were found on his right front tire.

Yet, the man swore in court that he had known nothing about it until the police came to his house. His driving after the accident had been perfectly normal, with no sign of a guilty con-science. Nor had he made any effort to remove the incriminating evidence from his tire. A court decided that he was indeed telling the truth. Finding him not guilty, the court said: "Knowledge is an essential element of the crime."

Published Every Thursday at Wheeler, Texas,

Russia is now buying all the wheat she can get her hands on. If you could get up in the air high enough, you could see the Santa Fe railroad tracks has demonstrated that he will glutted with boxcars headed for Houston. Eighty percent of the Russian wheat will be loaded at this port.

So, there'll be a good demand for wheat next summer. With the moisture we have in our area, we should make a tremendous wheat crop and receive a good price for it. A lot of folks here will benefit.

When Russia gets in position to make a good wheat crop, watch out! We would like to see a small farmer here in a few years to be in a position to have enough cattle to ride through the resulting low feed grain prices that would result from a good crop in Russia.

As far as government help in carrying out soil and water conservation practices on the land is concerned, I feel that the cost share will be missed. From now on, farmers and ranchers will have to protect the soil and water resources in their stewardship out of their own pocket without resorting to help from the U.S. Treasury. Although this will unlikely make many American taxpayers happy, I wonder how happy they will be in future years.

If the farmers and ranchers boost production for foreign exports, how much of the soil will be left to

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Once upon a time a man tried to collect fire insurance on a box of cigars. Having smoked them all, one at a time, he argued that they had been "destroyed by fire" and were therefore covered by his But the court pointed to a rule which is followed almost everywhere in the field of fire insurance: that damage done by a "friendly" fire is not covered. A friendly fire is one that is burning where it belongs-in an oven, in a fireplace, or at the tip of a cigar. "In common parlance," a court explained, "one has not 'had a fire' so long as it has burned only in the place where it was intended since the furnace fire and the trash fire were friendly-burning where they belonged. Of course, a fire may change its character from friendly to unfriendly.

Suppose that some red hot cinders jump out of a crackling fireplace and set fire to nearby draperies. For this kind of damage, you could indeed collect compensation under the ordinary fire insurance policy.

For, as one court pointed out, most of the fires that eventually do cause damage are fires that were friendly when they began.

We're all reading a lot about "truth-in-labeling". What does this mean to us as consumers? It means that the U.S.D.A. asures you not only that products are wholesome, but also that information on their labels is truthful. Did you know that the label, the container or packaging material, the formula or recipe for the product, a description of the way it's made, and a sample of the product must all be submitted to U.S.D.A.'s Animal and Plant Inspection Service for approval before the label can be used? The label must be accurate. If there is a picture of the product on it, it must truly represent the product inside. When you read the label of a U.S.D.A. product, note that the list of ingredients begins with the item weighing cheese. Makes 6 servings. the most a nd continues to the item weighing the least.

That's a good way to tell how much meat you're actually getting in canned meat products. Or how much of any ingredient you're getting in a product. I guess i'm just a ground beef lover. Different recipes using ground beef always catch my eye. Recently my office received a supply of a recipe pamphlet, "Ground Beef - Passport to Far-Away Eating". The recipes are
