March.. 'The Lamb'

The day of anticipation, March 1... Will it come in like a lion and go out like a lamb or be vice versa or in West Texas, perhaps a mixture of both?

In this immediate locale, it came in like a lamb, moderate near - spring temperatures. From the southwest, a "lamb-like" breeze faintly stirred during a portion of the day, and the remainder was all but dead calm. The dawning of the third month of the Georgian calendar put spring officially 20 days away. The pastures are beginning to show a faint touch of green and winter wheat and alfalfa have reached the pre-spring colorful green, breaking the monotony of the plowed soil of the fields.

Some of the notable occurrences during March, aside from the marking of spring, the first U. S. Congress was established on March 4, St. Patrick's Day on March 17 and the birthdate of Robert Frost on March 26, 1875... then there is the Ides of March, which falls on March 15.

Overtime Provides Thrills In Final Basketball Tourney

Basketball for 1967-68 had an exciting and fitting end on Thursday night at Muleshoe Junior High gym.

With the buzzer sounding the last of play in the final game of the sixth grade intramural basketball tournament, it could not be the end after all. With a score tied 24-24 the game went into two minute overtime. With the Bear Cats mauling and scratching the Golden Hurricanes, trying to come out on top, the Cats ended up swirled beneath the key play by Perry Stockard in the final seconds of the overtime. Young Perry, who not only scored the first two points almost immediately after the game began, but also scored the high points for the game, with 19, and the high pointer for the three-day tournament with 42 points, he also hit the hoop in the final seconds of play to come out ahead of the Cats and win first place for the Hurricanes.

Before a roaring, enthusiastic crowd of parents, friends and just basketball fans, the score was tied 4-4 at the one-quarter mark. By halftime, scoring had advanced to 12-10 with the Hurricanes maintaining a 2 point lead over the Cats. Scoring had diminished somewhat in the third quarter, and with 50 seconds to play, it was again tied, 16-16. A free throw from the foul line by Don Long, broke the 16-16 tie and the Hurricanes led by 1 point, 17-16 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. In the fourth quarter, the score constantly switched back and forth and at several points was tied up. Most of the crowd Cont'd, on Page 2, Col. 1

Roman calendar, the "Ides" fell on the 15th day of March, the day Caesar was murdered.

Caesar was noted as a military genius, a brilliant orator, a remarkable observer-historian, a political genius, a superb writer, called "the noblest Roman of them all," as Shakespeare wrote.

The month of July was named for Julius Caesar who was the creator of the basic calendar we use today.

Despite the warnings of soothsayers to "Beware the Ides of March" and a dream of his wife, Calpurnia, Caesar went to the Senate to give an address on March 15, 44 B.C. As he entered, his murderers fell upon him with their daggers... thus the remembrance of the "Ides of March."

"I am opposed to legalizing gambling on horse racing in Texas, however, I like horses and am not opposed to horse racing within itself. But such a move would bring a segment of people to Texas which would not be considered a good influence on our youth.

"In relation to liquor by the drink, I feel that the wrong approach is being used. If this law is to be changed, it must be done by amendment to the constitution and it should be submitted to the people for a vote, then if the amendment is made, the local option would be the next step."

A number of local people and several from out of town attended the reception for Carr.

Outpatients Covered by Medicare

Starting April 1, all outpatient hospital services will be covered by the supplementary medical insurance part of Medicare, according to John G. Hutton, district manager of Lubbock.

Hutton says payment for diagnostic services received as a hospital outpatient after March 31, 1968, will not be made under Medicare's hospital insurance. In order to keep this benefit, Hutton advises everyone covered by Medicare to keep his medical insurance.

Folks past 65 who never did sign up for medical insurance have until April 1, 1968 to do so during the current open enrollment period.

Hutton said those who wish to enroll in Medicare's medical insurance which will cost $4 a month beginning April 1, 1968, should contact the social security office now for an enrollment card unless they have already received one by mail.

A Salute to Area Clubs and Presidents

Mrs. Haney Poynor

This is another in a series of our salute to clubs and presidents. Mrs. Haney Poynor is featured this week and is president of the Muleshoe Home Demonstration club.

She and her family moved to Muleshoe in 1961. She is the mother of two children, Perri, 10 and Patti, 8. Her husband, Haney, is co-owner of White's Auto Store. Mrs. Poynor is vice president of Richland Hills P-TA and she and her family attend the Northside Church of Christ.

Among her other busy activities, Fay's hobbies are reading and painting.

The Muleshoe Home Demonstration Club organized two and one half years ago with eight members. There are two Home Demonstration clubs in Bailey County. The two clubs have Commissioner's Dinner each year and the Homemakers of the Year is honored and serve Senior Citizens. Also, send package to Vietnam every three months, sponsor girl at Girl's Town, and the club meets once a month, each second Friday.

The Creed of the Home Demonstration club is "We believe in the sanctity of the home, we believe the home is the place where love, faith, trust, and devotion must be lived each day; where obedience and reverence grow; and where God is known. We believe there within it's walls should be taught to work, to play and to have compassion for those less fortunate. We believe sharing responsibilities is necessary and that from the fireside will come the citizens who will uphold the best way of life."

The Prayer is "Grant to us, Dear Lord, Thy divine guidance in our plans today, that our accomplishments of tomorrow may be pleasing to Thee."

The emblem is composed of three concentric circles, which typify the home, the state and the nation. The hearth fire in the center symbolizes the home and expresses the spirit of the finer attributes of the home, such as fellowship, hospitality, and comfort, peace and protection. The oak leaf on the left of the hearth fire symbolizes the strength of the home; above the hearth fire, the lamp of knowledge, the wisdom with which a home and family must be created; on the right, the wheat, productivity and richness of family and community life.

An Added Touch of Beauty

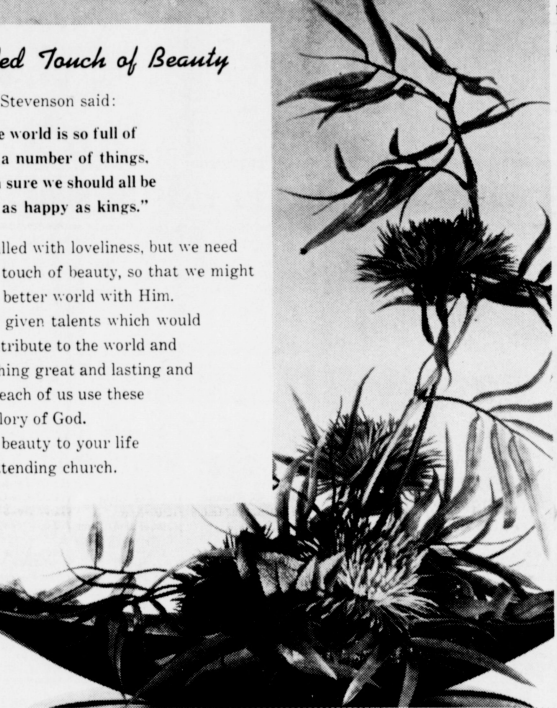

Robert Louis Stevenson said:

"The world is so full of a number of things. I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

God's world is filled with loveliness, but we need to add our own touch of beauty, so that we might be builders of a better world with Him.

Each of us was given talents which would enable us to contribute to the world and mankind something great and lasting and beneficial. May each of us use these talents to the Glory of God.

Add a touch of beauty to your life this week by attending church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

For Passengers Only

Passengers on a trolley or a train, a taxi or a bus, get more than a ride for their money. They also get the benefit of a special legal status. As passengers on a public carrier, they are entitled to an extra measure of care for their safety.

In case of accident, this privileged status may make the difference between collecting a goodly sum as damages and collecting nothing at all. But to qualify, you must indeed be a "passenger"—as that is defined by the law.

At what moment, legally, do you become a passenger, entitled to this special protection? Consider this case:

A bus driver, failing to see a woman coming up the steps of his bus, shut the door on her leg. When she claimed damages for the resulting injury, the bus company protested that she had not acquired the status of a passenger because she had not actually entered the bus.

Nevertheless, the court upheld her claim.

"The law is not so narrow," said the judge, "as to conceive of the relation of carrier and passenger only when a person is actually on board. To the contrary, the law deems that relation to exist when one is properly on the steps entering."

On the other hand, a man waiting at a sidewalk stop was held not yet a passenger as the bus was pulling up to the curb. At that moment he was jostled against the bus and injured. Lacking the status of a passenger, he failed in his efforts to make the bus company pay his doctor bills.

After you are once on board, how long does the passenger status continue? Generally it ends when you disembark—but only if you are left off in a place of comparative safety.

In one case a cab driver discharged two children into a busy street, and a passing car struck them down. The cab company was held liable for the accident because the children, not having been delivered to a safe place, were left passengers in the eyes of the law.

If you are left off at a carrier's depot, you ordinarily remain a passenger until leaving the premises. But not if you linger there too long.

For example, a man who was injured after remaining at a bus depot for almost two hours, waiting to be picked up by a friend, was held to have lost his passenger status.

The court reasoned that, after so much delay, the man had shed his special rank and had become just another member of the public.
