Kiker Hosts Breakfast

Mrs. Lee Kiker Host's Breakfast for the Wheeler Garden Club. The first meeting of the Wheeler Garden Club for 1974-75 met in the home of Mrs. Lee Kiker north east of Allison on Thursday Sept. 12, 1974 at 9:00 o'clock with co-hostesses being Mrs. Cecil Denson and Mrs. Glen George.

The guests assembled in the living room, and Mrs. Kiker gave the prayer of thanks before everyone went to the dining room to fill their plates with a delicious breakfast consisting of cranberry juice, fruit salad, sausage, scrambled eggs, hot biscuits, jams and jellies.

The table was laid attractively with a centerpiece of a scalloped green watermelon filled with a many colored fruit salad. The table cloth was of white linen edged with wide lace. Each of the rooms had attractively arranged garden flowers, from Mrs. Kiker's flower beds.

After the plates were filled the ladies went to the large den and were seated at card tables laid with white covers and cranberry color and white napkins. Coffee was served after everyone was seated at the tables from silver service. After the meal a brief business session was held presided over by President Mrs. Kiker. Mrs. Denson presented members with the new yearbooks. Mrs. Van Zandt gave the library report stating that many books had been donated the past year and gave the amount of the repair expense of the library. She stated that more shelves were needed for the library for this year.

Mrs. Kiker briefly reviewed the year books, and there were suggestions concerning the project for the club for the year.

The theme for the year, "Plan For A More Beautiful Town". Officers are President - Mrs. Lee Kiker, First Vice - Mrs. Cecil Denson, Second Vice; Mrs. Glen George, Sec. Treas. - Mrs. George Weems, Reporter, Sallie Harris. One new member, Mrs. Ben Westmoreland was reported. Those enjoying the delightful occasion were: Mrs. Tom Dearen, Mrs. Cecil Denson, Mrs. H. C. man of the National Association of Attorneys General Consumer Protection Committee.

CROPS IMPROVE LITTLE - September crop predictions improved slightly over August, Agriculture Commissioner John White reported.

Texas cotton production is estimated at 3,180,000 bales, off almost 1.5 million from 1973. The August predictions were 3,050,000 bales. Sorghum production (off 122 million bushels) and soybeans (off two million bushels) remain little changed. Corn production also remained largely unchanged at 69,750,000 bushels (a nine million bushel decrease). The rice crop looks good with producers expected to harvest 24,772,000 hundred-weight bags, a five per cent increase. Sugarbeets and sugarcane will also improve.

SHORT SNORTS - The Texas National Guard has been requested to take additional steps to increase security of federal arms and ammunition.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale reaffirmed his request for investigation into cost of each step in cattle raising.

All voters in the November 5 general election must be registered by October 5. Registrations are valid for three years.

Secretary of State White refused to place the Socialist Workers Party candidates on the November ballot, holding its petition inadequate.

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has added more support for House Speaker in 1975, claiming well over 100 of the 150 votes.

Attorney General Hill has appealed a federal court order that two major state reform schools be closed.

The State Board of Education meets with legislative committees and governor's office aides to discuss steps needed to strengthen school programs for 700,000 Mexican-American students.

The State Supreme Court, via appeal, will have a chance to rule on whether the Texas Railroad Commission has authority to order natural gas taken away from utilities in North Texas and diverted to Central and South Texas. A district judge here has ruled the commission has that authority, and the Austin Court of Civil Appeals agreed.

New S.P.S. Plant Proposed

Southwestern Public Service Company Wednesday announced the first step in a program which sets the stage for the company to take lead role in the construction of the nation's first power plant to use a gas-cooled breeder reactor.

Roy Tokl, chairman and president of the electric company, said the Gas-Cooled Fast Breeder Reactor (GCFR) plant, would have a generating capability of 300,000 kilowatts and would be located on a site provided by Southwestern, probably at the Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo.

"We have signed a letter of intent with General Atomic Company of San Diego, in which we would contribute $100 million to the project. Substantial additional financial support will be required from the electric utility industry and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission", Tokl said.

"Our long-range projections call for additional generating capability in the mid-1980's; so, this development program fits right into our growth pattern and could very well be our introduction to nuclear power. We will, of course, have a conventional generating unit in service to meet our customer's needs, if that is necessary, but we are enthusiastic about the prospects for the breeder being available", Tokl said.

General Atomic has been working on a Gas-Cooled Breeder Reactor for 13 years. Support for the program has come from the Atomic Energy Commission and the GCFR Utility Committee comprised of 57 investor-owned utilities, 55 rural electric cooperatives and three European electric utilities. Included in the cooperatives participating in the program are the Blanca Electric Cooperative, Dalhart; the Bailey County Electric Cooperative, Muleshoe; and the County Electric Cooperative, Hooker, Oklahoma. Breeder reactors have the unique capability of producing more nuclear fuel material than they consume. Because of this potential to stretch nuclear fuel resources, breeders are regarded as an essential component of the long-range success of the nuclear power industry. In operation, the GCFR will produce nearly 1 1/2 times as much fuel material as it consumes.

Artist's rendering of how Southwestern Public Service Company's proposed 300,000 kilowatt GCFR nuclear demonstration plant might look adjacent to a conventional coal or gas-fired generating station. The cylindrical structure on the right houses a prestressed concrete reactor vessel, 84 feet in diameter and 71 feet high, and contains the principal components of the nuclear steam supply system.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Gloomy predictions of increasing natural gas shortages during winter months were made to southern governors at their conference here last week.

Federal Power Commissioner Don S. Smith reported major pipeline operators expect natural gas supplies to fall 9.6 per cent below demand.

Smith forecast gas pipeline curtailments this winter will be 81 per cent greater than last year.

To sustain present levels of gas consumption would require discovery of "a new Alaska every year," the federal agency official told the governors.

FPC, according to Smith, has taken these steps to relieve impact of the shortage:

- Entered an order to allow 2,400 of the 3,900 smaller gas producing companies to sell interstate gas at 63 cents per thousand cubic feet, instead of the 42 cent wellhead rate permitted major producers.

- Reinstated emergency provisions to allow utilities to buy gas through pipelines for 60-day periods at market rates rather than lower, regulated interstate rates.

Texas' Gov. Dolph Briscoe said the action would have little effect in Texas, where demands will keep prices far above the 63 cent rate.

INFORMATION SOUGHT - A Cleveland firm hired to survey tax values in 35 school districts sought tax appraisal and computer contracts with all 1,100 districts in the state.

Legislative Property Tax Committee Chairman Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock said the solicitation seemed "inappropriate" to him.

LPTC staff members expressed some concern that the firm would be reporting to the state on data paid for by the district. The firm is being paid $382,000 by the state for its data on market value of district properties. Some LPTC members also complained about slowness in getting a reclassification of property tax laws as a guide to legislative improvements.

CRIME FIGHT MAPPED - Atty. Gen. John Hill has called for establishment of a statewide grand jury and a central information bank as weapons in the fight on organized crime.

At a law enforcement conference, Hill said state and local law officers must cooperate to combat the increased threat of major crime.

Governor Briscoe, meanwhile, said he plans to propose to the legislature again in 1975 a law to permit wiretapping where ordered by a court to gather evidence of organized crime.

DEPARTMENT SHAKEN - Texas Department of Labor and Standards got its third assistant commissioner in a week's time.

Commissioner Jackie W. St. Clair named Kirby Suggs of the Houston regional office after (1) firing Tommy W. Smith and (2) temporarily elevating Bob Hubbard, son of AFL-CIO State President Harry Hubbard, to the post. Hubbard resumed his position as administrative assistant.

A total of 10 of the department's 40 employees were discharged at the same time by St. Clair, who pronounced their job performances "unsatisfactory."

AG OPINIONS - The secretary of state may use statistical samplings or other reasonable means of determining adequacy of political party petitions for places on the ballot, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, the attorney general concluded:

- Laboratory reports on retail dairy products and ground beef are subject to disclosure.

- An unlicensed person can perform professional nursing acts under direct control or supervision of a physician.

- Child abuse case records revealing the identity of the complainant are exempted from disclosure requirements.

- A Senate sub-committee (consumer affairs) rule permitting executive sessions to get testimony or evidence or confer with counsel conflicts with the open meetings law.

- County commissioners may sell land belonging to the permanent school fund and distribute money to county school districts, but the districts may not pay back to the county funds to create a vocational school.

- Counties may contract for minor children's custodial care.

- City councils must call, within 60 days of a valid petition, an election under the firemen's and policemen's civil service act. Actual holding of the election must take place within a reasonable time.

TEXAS AHEAD - Texas leads the nation in the percentage increase of new business incorporations.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. reported the number of business incorporations increased dramatically from 1,569 in May, 1973, to 2,513 in May, 1974. This is a 62 per cent increase for Texas, compared with a five per cent increase for the nation as a whole.

Coupled with the increase, however, is a rise in bankruptcies and business failures. There were 680 bankruptcy petitions filed during 1973 in the U.S. District Courts for the Western District of Texas - and 768 so far this year. May recorded an alltime peak of business failures - 925 - nationwide.

APPOINTMENTS - Speaker Price Daniel Jr. named Rep. Herman Lauhoff of Houston to House committees on revenue and taxation, natural resources and elections.

Daniel also named Rep. Chris Semos of Dallas to the House committee on appropriations, Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa to the committee on calendars and Rep. Jon Newton of Beeville to the committee on rules.

Susan Longley of Austin will manage Attorney General John Hill's campaign office.

Hill was reappointed chair-

We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends for the help they gave us when Bud was injured in a fair accident.

Thanks to Dr. Barbour and Mr. Jim Wright for the help they gave in rushing Bud to St. Anthony's Hospital.

A special thanks to all who helped in finishing the wheel cutting, the plowing and cultivating of the crops. The concern everyone has shown about us while we were in Amarillo. Also thanks to those who prepared the wheat land and sowed wheat this fall.

Someone made this remark "You have the best neighbors in the county." We knew that, and your help really proved it. So again thanks.

KING'S KOMMENTS

By Don King - CEA

Many livestock producers are mulling over the question of whether or not to fertilize summer pastures for fall grazing as well as what to do about fertilizing winter pastures. Any decision about fertilization requires a close study of specific conditions involved.

Feed requirements of the class of livestock involved should be the key factor to consider. For example, dry cows, cows giving milk and weaned calves all have different nutritional requirements which can be met by a forage program. However, the quality and amount of forage needed by each group differs and can be controlled by fertilization. Before additional forage is produced by fertilization, the need and ability to utilize it must be established.

For small grains and rye grass planted in a clean seedbed, apply fertilizer at seeding. Base the amount of phosphorus and potassium on a soil test plus apply 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

With present high production costs in relation to cattle prices, fertilizer must be used efficiently. A soil test is important in determining lime, phosphorus and potassium requirements. Apply 20 to 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre per month to maintain high production from winter forages.

The following information on fertilizing small grains comes from C.O. Spence, Area Agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The time has come when we must use fertilizers wisely. Supplies are limited and the price is high. Fortunately, there are ways that we can increase the efficiency of plant nutrients applied for small grains. Research for the last twenty years has shown that the rate, time and method of applying phosphorus and nitrogen affect yield, and profit from fertilization. Potassium generally is not needed and micronutrient problems are rare.

Phosphorus fertilization is very important since the small grain plant has a great need for the nutrient during seedling development. The number of tillers release directly to the number of adventitious roots. Without adequate phosphorus, fewer adventitious roots are produced. In tests, where eighty pounds of phosphorus (P2O5) per acre were broadcast on the surface and harrowed into the soil, the average number of adventitious roots developed by January 15 was five per plant. The same amount of phosphorus applied with the seed at planting produced twelve adventitious roots. Top grain yields require maximum tillering.

Low rates of phosphorus with or near the seed also has increased seedling growth and the amount of winter pasture. On a phosphorus deficient soil, forty pounds of phosphorus placed with the seed produced about twice as much winter pasture as the same amount broadcast or banded between the seed drills. You would expect grain yields to be higher, also, and they have been. The average increase has been eight more bushels of wheat per acre when phosphorus was placed in the furrow with the seed at planting.

Nitrogen is important, too. For top yields, plants should never be allowed to suffer for lack of nitrogen. Excess rates of nitrogen should not be used, since many varieties will lodge when high rates are applied. This presents some problems in nitrogen management. When wheat follows gain sorghum or any other high residue grass-type crop, a fall application of nitrogen is necessary. Nitrogen may be placed in the soil just prior to planting or top dressed after the small grain is up to a stand.

The rate of phosphorus and nitrogen to use is a difficult decision to make. Research indicates that forty to sixty pounds of P2O5 with the seed will insure an adequate supply of this nutrient. There have been years when an eighty pound rate was profitable. Fertilizers that contain nitrogen should not be placed directly with the seed. A separate fertilizer spout on the drill is necessary to minimize the danger of reduced germination, since it is nearly impossible to obtain straight phosphorus materials to put directly with the seed.

When wheat follows crops such as grain sorghum, a total of 60 to 80 pounds of nitrogen is needed and at least one-half should be applied in the fall. Thirty to forty pounds, per acre may be adequate if wheat follows wheat. Remember, don't let the plants suffer for nitrogen. If, at any time the lower leaves show deficiency symptoms - top dress with nitrogen. It will cost you grazing and grain for each day of delay.

Thurs. Review Begins New Year

The Thursday Review Club held their first meeting of the fall season on Thursday evening, September 12, 1974. The Yearbook committee served as co-hostesses for a dinner held in the home of Jane Rives, President. The Table and room decorations were red, white and blue in keeping with the Patriotic Theme for the year - "I Hear America Singing - Her Varied Carols I Hear".

Bobbie Jennings, chairman

Jane Rives

of the yearbook committee made the presentation of the yearbook dedicated to Paula Britt, president of Top Of Texas District Texas Federation of Clubs. The program concluded with the reading of a poem written by Rita Ware on Ethics Education.

Have a Good Year

We all know what we should do. To make a club year great and successful will remember well the rules I'll relate. Be sure to call the mess if you find you are really not a bum. You have to have a year you know At some time the year it really isn't that bad. So do not live fear.

You have to help the report On your department committee. We've tried to help you all we can. We did take pity. You help with programs projects On a standing committee you serve. It can be lots of fun. It can take much nerve. We each donate our cents. It's included in dues. It helps to pay for cards and gifts. And none can't refuse.

If you've got a beef, you want us to know. Tell us at club. Don't go home and blow. Our problems are private. And should be kept that way. That way we'll all have a happier day. Put a dime in the pot. You'll have a shot at a pot that would be for you. Except you know, it'll always go to Mrs. David Britt.

You must have club dues once a year. Or help the club. And so my dear. If you helped plan the yearbook. Or are president. Jane Your time is over. no more pain. If you can't do your part. Find someone who will. Don't dominate the discussion. For that make us ill. Be courteous and kind. willing to share. We'll have a good year if each member cares. On all of the ethics. Don't touch. But really. ins't All that much. Just open your book. Turn page three. They're written there. For you to see.

LINES FROM LINDA
By Linda Horton, Asst. County Extension Agent
What kind of food shopper are you? Do you fight
your way through the store,
having a miserable time - or do you forward to the shopping trip?
Good planning is the key to making food shopping a pleasant experience
rather than a chore.
The shopper who thinks of it as a chore is usually the one who spends the longest time in the store and the most money on unnecessary items.
The best aid to efficient grocery shopping is to make a list before you go.
Arranging the list in the same order as the foods appear in the store is a real time and money saver.
If you know what you need and where to find it,
you won't spend your shopping time looking on all the aisles for just a few items. You'll arrive home with the goods you need-for the money you expected to spend.
At a time when prices
are high another shopping aid is in selecting proper cuts of meat. Protein is essential to the diet and beef is an excellent means of providing flavor, texture and substance. But housewives are often at a loss when it comes to choosing among beef roast offered at meat counters.
It's hard to decide which would serve the family's needs best.
Each cut may vary in quality and tenderness depending on the particular carcass and location of the cut on the animal.
As a general rule, cuts
of beef from the less

CHUCK ROAST
used muscles along the animals's back-rib and loin section - will always be more tender than cuts
such as the shoulder, flank and round from the active muscles.
Of course since one beef carcass has only a few of the tender cuts, they are in great demand - and generally more expensive.
Turning to specific cuts
the rib and ribeye roasts are both tender, extremely flavorful and easy to prepare and serve.
The rump roast is flavorful, though less tender than the rib and contains a large amount of bone.
The sirloin tip is boneless, but despite its name is not as tender as a si-loin steak.
The eye-of-round roast is lean and meaty with a good flavor. All these roasts take over roasting
well.
Less tender cuts which should be cooked in liquid include the heel of round, chuck roast and brisket.
