WHEELER MUSTANGS CRUSH MCLEAN 64-0

In the biggest mismatch in years, the Wheeler Mustangs ran roughshod over the McLean Tigers last Friday night and crushed their visitors 64-0.

The homecoming victory gave the Mustangs a 3-1 district record and left them in sole possession of second place in District 2-A behind the undefeated Memphis Cyclones.

Eight different Mustangs were credited with scoring touchdowns in the runaway and before it was over, backs were playing as down people and linemen were running with the football.

The Tigers had been plagued with defections in the past weeks and their starting lineup contained seven freshmen who had been moved up to the varsity from the McLean JV squad.

Wheeler fumbled the ball away the first three times they had it and then the scoring parade started with the Mustangs holding a 30-0 lead at halftime and they padded that with 34 more in the last half. Twenty seven of the final half points came in the fourth quarter.

McLean recovered each of the fumbles in Mustang territory but couldn't move at all and the Mustangs scored their first six points on the first down after taking over on their own 26 after putting down McLean's third possession in Wheeler country.

guard and breaking four tackles, Kent Ware was free at the midfield stripe and there was no catching the Mustang tailback as he raced 74 yards to the end zone.

Jim Verden kicked the first of his six extra points and the Mustangs had a 7-0 lead at 6:07 of the first quarter.

So outmanned were the Tigers, they made only three first downs in the game and were held to a grand total of 16 yards on offense.

Bad snaps haunted McLean throughout the game and the first set up the Mustangs on the McLean 9 when Curtis Simpson recovered a fourth down punt attempt that sailed several feet over his head.

Dan Chapman got the honors this time by circling his left end from six yards out. Verden toed the extra point and the rout was definitely on.

An interception and return of 24 yards to the Tiger 18 by Terry Tidwell was used by the Mustangs for their launching pad to the third TD of the first quarter.

On third down from the 12, Dan Helton found a gaping hole at right tackle and went over untouched for the first of his two touchdowns. Once again Verden was good with the placement boot and the quarter ended with the Mustangs up by 21-0.

Simpson was forced to chase another bad snap 22 yards back to his end zone before he could fall on it and the safety made the score 23-0 at 7:35 of the second period.

Tidwell returned McLean's free kick after the safety to the Tiger 35 from the Wheeler 30 and the locals got into the end zone in just five plays and the touchdown closed out the first half point making.

A first down at the 25 was made by David Massick

Walkers Return from Journey

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker, Jr. just returned from a lovely combined business and pleasure Monday evening. They left two weeks ago and traveled to Nashville, Tenn. where they attended the National Country Western Music Convention which lasted a week. Their good friends Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson held a cocktail party in their honor which was attended by many country music artists. The last of the week was spent attending many shows and functions. Saturday evening was one of the most memorable events as they attended the Columbia Records Dinner show at which time 24 of the top recording artists performed. The following Monday they left Nashville with such regret and traveled to Louisville, Ky., where they called on a customer and then on to Evansville, Indiana where they served Indian jewelry merchandizing consultants to a chain of jewelry stores. They report seeing the most magnificent fall foliage ever throughout all of this area.

Mustang, Broncho Game Is Big One For Mustangs

Sitting alone in second place behind the high flying Memphis Cyclones, the Wheeler Mustangs find themselves in a must situation this week when they travel to Clarendon to hill it up with the Bronchos.

The Mustangs MUST win Friday night if they are to retain any hopes in the district championship fight and to do so they MUST stop Kenneth King, the all-state tailback of the Bronchos.

Clarendon was dealt a severe blow several weeks ago when they had to forfeit a victory over Shamrock because of the use of an ineligible player and Memphis put the Bronchos in Worse shape last week with a 35-16 win.

Leading at halftime 16-13 in the Memphis game, Clarendon was no match for the Cyclones after King was injured in the early going in the third quarter and didn't play the remainder of the

DID I VOTE?

(The following composition awarded first place in the Thursday Review Club's essay contest on why every citizen should vote.)

A dictatorship is the only way. What could possibly be easier? I was really getting fed up with that hassle of voting, and besides, I usually forgot to register. I had too many other things to keep up with. My social club is always having me sew new dresses, I had to take the kids to dancing lessons, and being pregnant doesn't help any. Besides, I probably wouldn't fit in those darn voting booths now anyway.

I just know Harry is going to love the change. He is such a fine lawyer. I'll just bet they are going to give him a fine placement, maybe even make him an officer.... "Harry....Harry, what are you doing with that silly helmet? A shovel, Harry?... When will you be home for dinner?... Ten o'clock is a little late dear."

Oh No! I forgot to call Helen about the Bridge Party Saturday.... "Do what?... I do?... Helen, I've never worked a day in my life... at the Textile Mill, huh?... In an hour? What time do I get off?... But who will keep the kids?... The army! But they are too young for guns."

I guess the long hours are just a temporary thing, to catch up. We probably got behind on our "Trick Voting Day." That is another good thing about having just one candidate. It cuts voting day in half. No one has to think of a last minute vote. I'll bet he's a good man with pretty heavy ideas. He would have to be for the army to put him up, I guess....

Oh! I guess it is time for the baby. Dam this textile machine. It's right in the way... "No, I promise! It really is time! Yes, please let me go!... Thank goodness. I was afraid I wouldn't make it. "A boy did you say? May I see him now? They took him? They took my baby! But what about my rights, I mean my priviledges, well what about....."

By Marissa Lane Williams

POLL POWER: Thursday Review Club members plan Poll Power Campaign. Planning session includes Mrs. N. D. Ware, Jr., Mrs. Harrison Hall, Mrs. Tommy Hennard, and Mrs. David Britt.

KING'S KOMMENTS

By Joe Don King

County Extension Agent
Animals that graze on pasture or forage that has recently been hit by a frost are subject to prussic acid poisoning.

Among grasses that are especially toxic to animals after a frost are Johnsongrass, Sudan and other sorghum hybrids.

Prussic acid poisoning is a disease which prevents oxygen in the blood from reaching the tissues and thus causes death due to suffocation.

Symptoms of the disease are suffocation and muscular twitching, and the animal may have his head turned toward his flank.

The blood of the animal has a bright red color. Animals usually become affected within 10 to 15 minutes after eating toxic material and rarely survive more than one or two hours.

Livestock should not be allowed access to wilted material after a frost until it has dried completely. Grazing should also be prevented after a rain when new sprouts begin to form on plants.

Wilted material will usually dry out in a day or two of strong sunlight. New growth usually becomes non-toxic within a week to 10 days after a rain and can then be grazed safely by livestock.

If you're not sure about your pasture, have a veterinarian check it with a prussic test or have a sample checked in a lab.

One way to check a pasture is to turn out a less valuable animal that has been without hay or grass for 24 hours. A hungry animal will fill up faster and show toxic symptoms if the plant material is dangerous.

If you think your animal shows sign of prussic acid poisoning, don't hesitate to call a vet immediately.

Cooler weather means that yard and garden insects will begin seeking a warmer place to spend the winter. And what place will likely be man's abode - the home.

Most common among these "household invaders" are earwigs, crickets, pillbugs, spiders, millipeds and certain cockroaches. In addition to their presence, many of these invaders will damage fabrics and feed on food products.

Some are also capable of transmitting diseases-causing organisms from place to place within the home. There are several methods of control for these invaders. Removing plant debris around the foundation of the home permits this area to dry out, particularly around flower beds or other sites which normally remain wet or moist during the year.

Check doors, windows and other portals of entry for loose screening and poorly fitting joints. Performing the needed maintenance will not only keep insects out of the home but will also provide better cooling and heating efficiency.

If insects have been a problem in the past, use a recommended insecticide to treat a foot or two above the soil line on the foundation around the home as well as several inches of soil surface next to the foundation.

A combination of chlordane and diazinon or chlordane and malathion can be used.

Also apply the insecticide around sidewalks, patios, driveways and storage areas as well as a four-to-six-inch border around windows and door entries.

Use care when treating flower bed areas to avoid spraying directly on ornaments which might be damaged by the insecticide.

Before using any type of insecticide, be sure to read the label closely and to follow directions.

The use of any chemical should be based on the presence of an insect problem. Do not treat where a problem does not exist or has not existed in prior years.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF ELECT THE MAN WHO WILL REPRESENT YOU

When Mr. Morgan announced his candidacy for Wheeler County Judge, it was stated in 'The Wheeler Times' that he resided in the Lela Community.

(Why was this omitted from 'The Shamrock Texas' announcement? He has lived in Shamrock since becoming the County School Superintendent....)

It was also stated in 'The Wheeler Times' announcement that he was completing his seventh year as County School Superintendent. (Why was it stated during the Primary campaign that he had served in this position for eight years? This was only a little over three months later....)

Can we, as Citizens of Wheeler County, afford to endorse a person for County Judge who advocates a double-standard when dealing with us?? -- Think about it, -- when judgement is weak, the prejudice is strong....

You know, the worse inflation gets the more we need somebody like Briscoe. He's created a lot of good jobs and he knows how to get things started.

In times like these when the economy is so shaky, I'm going to stay with Governor Briscoe.

It's quite refreshing for me to know that we have a man like Dolph Briscoe... a man who puts integrity before all things....

Dolph Briscoe's proved he has the contacts and the know how to bring new business to the State of Texas. We can't afford to lose him at a critical time like this.

We need new jobs and more income in this state and Governor Briscoe is helping us get them.

Briscoe's kept pace without adding new taxes - I voted Republican in 1972, but I'm voting for Briscoe this time.

They all promised no new taxes. Dolph Briscoe kept his promise.

I think Dolph Briscoe is a Governor you can believe in. I'm looking forward to voting for him in November.

Operation Identification

The objective of Operation Identification is to get as many citizens as possible to mark their property to discourage burglary.

A project of the Wheeler County Sheriff's Department Operation Identification initiates an all-out effort in crime prevention for the area. The program involves citizen participation in marking property with the individual's driver's license number.

Suggestions as to where on your property to engrave the driver's license number, is included in the Operation Identification brochure available at all engraving check-out locations and the Wheeler County Sheriff's Department.

The brochure suggests areas of marking which will guard against your property being disfigured or devalued by the marking process. Basically, numbers are engraved on an area that can not be easily dismantled and is benevolently on the bottom, inside or underneath the item being marked.

If a serial number is already affixed to the item, the engraved driver's license number should appear near there.

If a piece of property already has some else's number on it, do not mark the old identification number. The new owner should engrave his identification number underneath the old one.

Most items can be marked with the engraving pen; however, fragile property such as jewelry, silver or china can be protected by taking a photograph of the items and storing it with the property listing form and other important papers for personal record keeping purposes.

Once items are marked and the engraving pen is turned, you will be given a call to put on the front back doors and windows of your office or home. Decals warn burglars that the property inside is protected by Operation Identification and that stolen items in his personal possession would mean almost certain jail sentence - that's how Operation Identification works for you.

Engravers and Operation Identification brochures can be checked out free from your local law enforcement agency.

LINES FROM LINDA

By Linda Horton, Asst. County Extension Agent

Effective discipline doesn't have to mean punishing a child.

Guiding and teaching, not hurting, are the techniques to help a child learn what is acceptable and unacceptable behavior. He learns to manage his feelings and emotions, and to be flexible enough to adjust to change.

Living with reasonable in Dumas hospital Sunday afternoon and will have surgery Monday, 28.

Dean Tipps was working under the combine with torch and piece of steel fell in his eye. He was rushed to Canadian then on to Amarillo. Doctor was unable to get it out so will return home Tuesday until later, will try to get it out.

rules and limits helps the child grow independent and responsible for his actions. Rules should consider the feelings, needs and abilities of all family members.

Parents who maintain patient, fair and consistent relationships with their child help him learn what is expected of him. Methods which help the child feel good about himself are an important part of the discipline process.

A young child needs to be told the consequences of his actions. Explanations should be simple, clear and brief. A child needs some rules and parents need to reinforce the rules if the child doesn't obey. Threats of physical punishment seldom control behavior and don't help the child learn responsibility.

Providing good discipline takes time, patience and lots of love and understanding. The impact of discipline on a child's growth, development and relations with others makes it a most important responsibility for all parents.

Another responsibility parents have is to know their children's teacher. Of all the people to have on your side working for your child, the teacher is a frontrunner.

Like everyone else, teachers differ in the amount of interest they show toward children.

Next to parents, the teacher is most important to the child.

Good parent-teacher relationships involve an understanding of the roles each one plays. Parents are—and will remain—the child's most important teacher. They give their children basic training in self-discipline and prepare the child for responsibilities he will face in a school or small group situation.

The teacher will provide experiences in certain areas of learning that prepare the child to competently face greater responsibilities outside his family.

A parent is a generalist—a teacher is a specialist. Because the education of a child is a heavy responsibility, teachers become equally as important to parents as they are to children.

But getting acquainted with a child's teacher is more than smiling politely at her on Parent's Night. Meet your child's teacher at the beginning of the school year in a positive situation. Too many parents wait for the child to have school problems before meeting the teacher.

Accept conferences set by teachers as a personal invitation to help your child in school. A relaxed conference with a free exchange can be a mutual sharing of information that can help your child adjust to a new school or school year.

Shared concerns between parent and teacher provide an avenue for learning—the teacher better understands the individual child and can provide learning experiences that meet both educational needs and interests of a child.

Concerned parents, a concerned teacher and a happy child make the learning process a fulfilling partnership.

State Trooper Training School

A training school for 110 new State Troopers with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start February 11, 1975 Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander, announced today.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified applicants," Bell said. "For instance, the pay during the training is $651.00 per month. Upon commission this salary is increased to $743.00 per month; after six months of law enforcement duty this is elevated to $768.00 and further advanced to $820.00 upon completion of twelve months law enforcement experience.

"Also our selection methods are more liberal and qualified female applicants are now being accepted for the uniformed services of the DPS. In addition, the Department has been increasingly successful in hiring persons from minority groups."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, an applicant must be between the ages of 20 and 35; good moral character; excellent physical condition; weight proportionate to height; visual acuity of 20/40 correctable to 20/20; a citizen of the United States; and a minimum of sixty semester college hours.

"Among the many benefits that troopers enjoy," Bell pointed out, "are two

Panhandle Is Pheasant Home

Ring-necked pheasants have been slowly expanding their range in the Texas Panhandle over the past few years, but not fast enough to suit personnel at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

On October 16, some 125 of the colorful Asian birds were released in Carson and Gray Counties. The release was part of a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department program of accelerating expansion of pheasant range in the area using the brood stock of wild trapped birds. This is the first time such weeks' annual vacation; all holidays provided for by the Legislature; modern, liberal retirement system; group hospitalization and life insurance plans; traveling expenses; overtime pay; and uniforms with all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of trooper training and benefits, Bell asked that those who are interested contact the DPS trooper or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and employment procedures."

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Wheeler County

I understand that my learned opponent has been condemning me for my membership in The American Legion. He surely doesn't know me very well, or he would have found some other reason to try and degrade me. I personally feel that he is degrading every person who has ever served in the Armed Forces of the United States.

The American Legion has always tried to promote understanding of the principles of democratic government, developing interest in governmental problems, and bringing more citizens to think seriously of the duties of citizenship. It is The American Legions policy to give sound, practical service to their communities; to emphasize religion, encourage its continuation in the life of every citizen; to encourage education in every possible manner, presenting School Awards, conducting Oratorical Contests, cooperating with education and citizenship groups, promoting proper Flag Etiquette and display, and sponsoring many objective youth-developing programs, such as; Baseball, the National High School Oratorical Contest, Boys State, Boys Nation, Boy Scout activities and many other citizenship and objective-training activities. The American Legion is also committed to combat subversion and all un-American groups and activities which have for their aim the downfall of democracy in America.

The characteristic which distinguishes our form of government from others is the recognition of the truth that the inherent and fundamental rights of men are derived from God and not from governments, dictators or majorities.

These inalienable rights, which are gifts of men from his Creator, are: Freedom of Worship; Freedom of Speech and Press; Freedom of Assemblage; Freedom of Work in such occupations as the experience, training and qualifications of man may enable him to secure and hold; Freedom to enjoy the fruits of his work, which means the protection of property rights; and the Right to pursue his happiness so long as he does not harm others in the pursuit of this happiness. Upon these basic principles, the whole structure of our form of government was established by our forefathers, and have been protected many times, by many thousands of true Americans who were willing to fight and possibly die for them.

I feel sure that this will be construed by the press as a political statement, so Yes - Mr. Morgan, I am a member of the American Legion, and I am proud of it. --- I would be very disappointed if anyone voted against me for this reason.

The meeting was closed with the song "Girl Scouts Together," and the Girl Scout Promise.

Those attending were: Rose Guthrie, Cathy Doherty, Yanny Sangarsivam, Tina Keyling, Rhonda Hague, Elise Christner, Sherry Lewallen, Marilyn Johnson, Angela Atwood, Lisa Dodd, Marla Pond, Melannie Lee, Beth Brown, Kathy Izard, Michelle Cross, and adult leaders: Anita Brown, Glenda Atwood, and Sandra Christner.

O' Texas Cowbelles, recently presented to the Genesis House with a "Beef Certificate" for one beef.

Presenting the certificate were Mrs. Richard Saltzman and Gene Saltzman, President and Immediate Past President of the Genesis House. The presentation was made at the Genesis House on Oct. 29.

The Genesis House is a home for girls in need of Christian love and care who have encountered problems within our society. game. When he had to leave the game, King had rushed for 133 yards and had scored all of the Bronchos points.

The Bronchos offense has been built around the speedy, 190 lb. King but experience has been a big factor in Clarendon's success to date.

The Wheeler Mustangs got primed for this week's important clash with an easy 64-0 romp over the hapless McLean Tigers last week and valuable playing time was obtained by some of the Mustangs back up people.

Led by the running of Kent Ware, the Mustangs have fashioned a 3-1 district mark and a 4-3 overall record.

The Mustangs will be facing a team that uses primarily the Wing T and Power I formations on offense and like the Mustangs, the Bronchos have stayed on the ground most of the time.

Coach Jim Robinson reported this week that he thought his club did a good job in their victory over McLean although it was hard to really tell to much considering how weak McLean was.

"We hated to run the score up like we did but you can't tell a bunch of kids not to score and it didn't seem like it made any difference what combination we used, they all wanted to get into the end zone," Robinson said.

Several of the Mustangs have been slowed this week with sickness but hopefully they will all be in top shape for the Clarendon battle.

Mustangs and Bronchos battles have been real head knockers in the past as this game seems to bring the best out in both clubs and this week's game has all the earmarks of another such clash.

Colts and Jr. Var. Win Thursday

It was a long time coming but the Wheeler Colts finally tasted victory last week and it was a convincing 24-6 win over the McLean Cubs that broke the Colts losing streak.

Once more it was the churning feet of Marvin Grimes that led the Colts to their victory but he had timely help from all his mates and Coach Gaines was able to get all of his players into the fray.

McLean fumbled the opening kickoff and the Colts quickly capitalized on the break. Randy Bond and Kevin Andis were in on the tackle and recovery to put the Colts in business at the 11.

Myron Jolly fumbled for a yard loss on first down but Grimes rammed it over in three trips with the final 2 yards coming at right guard.

The Colts built their margin to 12 with just over a minute to play in the first quarter with a 6 play, 46 yard march. Grimes got the final 24 yards and his second touchdown with a sweep around his left end.

McLean cut the halftime margin to a 12-6 count with a 46 yard touchdown run.

The Colts added two touchdowns in the third quarter before liberally substituting in the fourth period.

Myron Jolly passed to Sam Schaffer for 14 yards to put the ball on the five and Jolly scored on a keeper.

It didn't take the Colts long to pad their lead after the score mounted to 18-6 as Schaffer recovered a McLean fumble at the Cub 23.

Kent Vise got three yards at right tackle and Grimes punched 10 more out before Jolly passed to Schaffer who made a twisting catch for the touchdown.

Mobeetie Jail, Markers Visited

A delightfully charming and happy group of men and women from Amarillo were welcomed at the Old Jail, Thursday morning by a group from the Mobeetie Restoration Committee and the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce President, Mrs. Berniece Hall.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Pet Coyote

In their back yard, the Martins kept a pet coyote on a chain. Although they considered him harmless, they warned youngsters in the neighborhood to keep their distance. But one day a boy ventured too close and got bitten.

Sued afterward for damages, the Martins insisted in court that the coyote had never bitten anyone before. Nevertheless, the court held them liable. The court said the law is less interested in the characteristics of the individual animal than in the characteristics of the species.

Most courts agree that the keeper of a wild animal, even if it is seemingly tame, carries a heavy responsibility in case of an injury. (Of course, there may also be a local ordinance forbidding such pets altogether.)

Where is the dividing line between "wild" and "tame"? Generally considered wild are such animals as lions, tigers, bears, and wolves. Generally considered tame are such animals as cattle, sheep, horses, dogs, and cats.

Then there are assorted animals near the borderline, like deer, mules, and monkeys.

To some degree, the law's classification depends on the customs of the community. The elephant, held tame in Burma, was held wild in Ohio. The camel, held tame in Australia, was held wild in California.

Even if the animal is classified as wild, the keeper will usually not be blamed for an injury to someone who was guilty of deliberate provocation or recklessness. In one case a youth disregarded both a barrier and warning signs to approach a leopard in a cage.

Slashed by the leopard, he later demanded damages from the animal's owner. But the court threw out his claim. The court said, in effect, that the victim had gotten what he had asked for.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Previews of developments expected before the legislature next year on the key legislative of revamping public school finance formulas already being offered in Austin.

A legislative sub-committee last week was told state philosophies of education and funding methods must change there is to be real equality learning opportunities.

The same House interim sub-committee on public school finance heard differing opinions on whether the so-called "weighted pupil" will help correct inequities.

Dr. Jose Cardenas of Texas for Education Excellence and former superintendent of Greenwood School District, San Antonio, said the present program must be scrapped and "weighted pupil" plan instituted.

Dr. Lawrence Haskew, University of Texas at Austin education professor, contended the "weighted pupil" approach may be a small step forward, but he said he could see it as correcting all inequities.

The plan would place state aid on the basis of school or various-level programs rather than on average daily attendance. Apparently, it figures in Gov. High Briscoe's proposals for education assistance.

A Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations public finance committee, meanwhile, suggested levying school taxes on a countywide basis as a means of equalizing resources.

Draft of a 35-district survey of school property tax values for the Legislative Property Tax Committee is expected to be available next month for legislative guidance.

GASOLINE USE CUT—Texans used a little less gasoline last summer than they did in 1973 but increased natural gas consumption slightly.

A governor's energy office report indicated gasoline sales were down 1.3 percent in July, but natural gas use was up 2.9 percent. The report concluded the gas consumption rise was due to hotter weather in June-July 1974.

State agencies managed to decrease their use of both gas and gasoline substantially. Wharton County Junior College cut energy consumption by 29.7 percent from December through July.

WELFARE "NOT PENALIZED"—Texas welfare programs have not been penalized regardless of a report from Washington, State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell said.

Vowell said the state agency actually has "saved" taxpayers $1.5 million through highly successful quality control measures. He termed "misleading" a report from Washington that welfare grants to states had been slashed $61.7 million in the last half of the year to crack down on abuse.

The state official said Texas has exceeded federal

Here & There

By Laura Guthrie

Fall is rapidly creeping into winter. The loveliest thing in nature's realm at the moment is the burnished pear trees. They are easy to spot as you drive around the town. Also prominent is a huge yellow tree at 508 Alan Bean, the Harry Wafford home. What kind is it?

I had a tip the other day on one of our careful women drivers. A few days ago Grace Meek was taking home the man who had mowed her lawn. As she returned she noticed a car following her. She drove into her driveway, the car stopped behind her. As she got out of the car, the "shadow" asked if she knew what she was carrying around on the trunk of her car. Of course she didn't. So this story evolves: Mrs. Meek had brought out a glass of water for the man who had mowed her lawn. Being handed back the glass she set it on the car just behind the top. She drove the man home, circled several blocks, even right through town, and that glass was still there.

The shadow was Mrs. Robert Roark, a new neighbor. That was a nice time for the two to become acquainted.

I must correct an error that I made last week (of course that thing seldom happens!) I stated that the Claudie Brothers had observed their 50th wedding anniversary. It was only the 46th.

Ida Farmer had just returned from a ten-day trip to Dallas. Her nephew came for her, and her brother, Julian Caddell and his wife brought her home. She visited with all three of her brothers while away, also an uncle that she seldom sees.

Grace Porter is having a few days stay in the Highland General Hospital in Pampa. Nothing serious we hope. She will probably be at home by the time this paper is out. Mary Finsterwald, Vida Brown and Reba Wafford accompanied her there Sunday. Vida and Reba drove on to Amarillo airport where they met Grace's daughter, Frances Crouch, of Houston. She will stay for a few days.

Also I have been told that Cecil Denson is in Highland General. He seems to be improving. Lottie Eve, his wife, is staying in Pampa with their daughter and family, the Ray Lockcos.

Lucretia Lee was home from WTSU last weekend. She took her sister's place at the piano at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, since Joanie was still confined to hospital.

Ruby Lee Sandifer and her sister Bennie Mae Whitener were co-hostesses for a small party Monday morning. They were giving friends a chance to visit their sister-in-law, Ida Bell Williams who will be returning to her home in Mountaire, New Mexico. Pumpkin pie and coffee was served to Vida Brown, Mary Wafford, Grace Pettit, Zinnie Bailey, Jewel Moore, Florence George, and of course, the honoree and hostesses.

Nellie Horton is spending a few days at her home in Amarillo. She'll be back with her sister, Sally Harris, soon.

Clara Marshall's home could have been a miniature girls dorm on the weekend. Carla Marshall is a student at Texas Tech. On Friday afternoon she loaded her car, and a car of a friend and headed for Wheeler. They arrived in time for the game and attended the football conclave at the Baptist Fellowship Hall afterwards. On Saturday they experienced a day in a small village. They oohed and aahed at our customs, shops and JV had a 20-0 lead. The young Mustangs scored the three quick touchdowns on runs by speedy Mike Izard.

Coach Caspell reported that the score could have been much worse but that the JV weren't being pushed and had a normal offensive letdown in the last half.

The JV defense stood out for the entire game and newcomer Mark Baker, was installed at nose guard and proved to be a thorn in the Patriots offense.

Miami is slated to visit Nicholson Field this Thursday and the JV game kickoff will follow the Colt - Clarendon game.

Donnie and Susan Manning of Amarillo spent the weekend with her parents, Roy and Peggy Ford. Also with the Fords were Cynthia Manning and a friend from Texas Tech.

America was built by men and women seeking independence and security. Our shelter, food and clothing all come from the soil. As the soil is lost so is our security and our freedom.

Brownies Need Adult Leader

Second year Brownies need someone to volunteer to be their leader. The members of this group are third grade students. There is a potential of 11 members of this troop and it is a shame they can not be Brownie Scouts because no one will
