

Tyler Woman Dies In Highway Crash Near Big Spring

Banker's Wife Victim; Three Others Injured; Lorin McDowell Named In Negligent Homicide Complaint

Mrs. Mary Lou Greer, 61, wife of a Tyler bank president, was killed and three other members of her party were injured in an automobile collision one mile west of the city limits Wednesday night.

A complaint charging negligent homicide was lodged Thursday afternoon against McDowell. It was signed by Max Westerman, state highway patrolman. McDowell suffered bruises in the mishap.

Injured in the crash were Mrs. E. G. Gables, daughter of Mrs. Greer, who sustained a broken nose and fractured facial bones; her son Gene Gables, 14, who suffered lacerations of the right knee and body bruises; and Mrs. Essie B. Root, Sulphur Springs, friend of Mrs. Greer, who received bruises and head injuries. They were treated at the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital.

According to officers, the Greer car was rounding a long curve at the top of a hill one mile west of town when the McDowell car entered the highway from the left side.

Mrs. Greer and party were en route to Carlsbad, N. M., to view the caverns.

On learning of her death, Mr. Greer, accompanied by J. M. Stephens, vice-president of the Peoples National bank, and Robert Spence, president of the Gulf States Lumber Co., rushed to Big Spring by plane. Marcus Greer, vice-president of the City National bank in Houston, also flew here by private plane.

A native of Winooski, Vt., where she was born Aug. 22, 1877, the accident victim was married to Sam R. Greer, 45 years ago. They made their home in Pittsburg, Tex., until 14 years ago when they moved to Tyler. Mrs. Greer was prominent in East Texas club activities.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gables and Marcus Greer, she is survived by two sons, DeWitt C. Greer, Austin, chief of engineering design and construction for the state highway department, and Robert Greer, assistant resident highway engineer at McKinney.

The body was to be sent by Nalley Funeral home on the 11:30 p. m. train to Tyler where services were to be held at the Marvin Methodist church, in which Mrs. Greer was an active worker, at 4 p. m. Friday. Burial was to be in Rose Hill cemetery at Tyler.

Broadcast Is Dedicated To Miss Dublin

A radio set was connected near her "iron lung" in the Big Spring hospital Thursday morning, so that Dorothy Dublin might hear a special program.

It was one dedicated to her—a Texas State Network broadcast by Blanchard McKee of "Neighbors" program fame, whose cheering philosophy is popular with many listeners. It was the first time, said McKee, he has dedicated a program to any individual, but Miss Dublin's illness from infantile paralysis prompted his helpful gesture after he had heard from the Red Cross chapter of her plight. Miss Dublin has been in the "iron lung" for nearly two weeks.

Word of the broadcast had been spread here, and many local people heard it. General theme of McKee's words was "Keep your chin up and keep fighting when things look dark." He closed his program by quoting the Twenty-third Psalm, and asked all his listeners to join in repeating it.

"I never listened to a sweeter program," said Miss Dublin after the broadcast. "It was most encouraging, and Mr. McKee cannot know how much happiness and encouragement it brought me. May God's richest blessings be on all those who have been so kind to me."

Young Minister Ponders A Chance In The Movies

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (AP)—Fred McClung, handsome young church of Christ minister, who answered the urge to seek a place in the movie firmament by taking a talent search audition here Tuesday, only to balk when his congregation did likewise, was to confer with Jesse L. Lasky, Hollywood producer, today after the producer asked him to visit him.

McClung, tears streaming down his face, told his congregation last night that he had decided to give up plans announced previously to try for a place in the talent contest over the coming weekend.

McClung did not tell Lasky what his decision would be, but promised to talk to the producer, who arrived by plane last night to personally conduct the contest. Advance talent scouts had been high in praise of the 29-year-old minister.

PRIEST ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY ANOTHER

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Critically injured by another priest in a shooting gallery Sunday, the Rev. George W. King clung doggedly to life, winked to a friend and promised "We'll make it all right."

Father King, 35, and the Rev. John J. Murphy, close friends, were alternating shots with 22 pistols. Father Murphy's gun clicked, apparently empty. As he put it down it discharged.

The bullet entered Father King's back only an inch from the spinal cord. It paralyzed his lower legs. Hospital attendants feared his lung was punctured also.

Father Murphy sped him to a hospital.

"Father King is my best friend," he said. "His loss is unthinkable. Pray God I have not mortally wounded him."

STRIKE SETTLEMENT IS BELIEVED NEAR

DETROIT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Prospects for settling the strike of General Motors skilled workers were reported today to be the best they have been since walkout of 7,000 workers in 12 plants began July 5.

"We are getting pretty close together," remarked James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliator endeavoring to compose differences between negotiators for the corporation and the CIO United Automobile Workers, who called the strike.

Dewey said there remained two obstacles to settlement but did not reveal them. The union's demand for a wage increase for tool and die workers, engineers and maintenance men has been reported as being one of the main issues.

5 Wounded In Strike Fights On Govt. Job

Troops Are Sent To Colorado Dam To Quell Violence

GREEN MOUNTAIN DAM, Colo., Aug. 3 (AP)—Gov. Ralph L. Carr, en route here, today said he may take personal charge of efforts to end "a state of insurrection" in which five men were wounded in two gun battles last night.

The governor at Glenwood Springs last night sent national guard troops to the scene after declaring a "state of insurrection" comparable to martial law throughout the strike area and left today for this construction town.

The work, a federal reclamation project, was struck July 12 by members of five unions which demanded that the contractor, Warner Bros., of Chicago, designate them as bargaining agents for the laborers.

A group of men, Wednesday, forced their way through picket lines and returned to work, backed by citizens from neighboring towns. Union supporters from Denver moved in last night and the opposing forces clashed.

Adjutant General Harold H. Richardson, meanwhile, assembled guardsmen at Kremmling, 18 miles north of the dam site, for a concerted move on the same site, machine guns, tear gas guns and two tanks were included in the guard equipment.

Despite sporadic firing last night and this morning, both from within and without the project boundary, no new casualties were reported to Anderson.

Attorney General Byron G. Rogers said in Denver the order declaring "a state of insurrection" directed the adjutant general to move in and take over and bring in law-abiding citizens to aid in restoring order. He said the order did not involve suspension of the courts and other processes of civil government as would occur under a martial law decree.

The dam site lies 150 miles west of Denver on the Blue river, between Dillon and Kremmling, Colo., a mile and a half above sea level.

GAMBLING RAIDERS GET DOUSING

When officers tried to board this gambling shop, Rex, off Santa Monica, Calif., they were met with showers of water from this hose and fled to cover. The defiant owner, Tony Cornero (second from left), later agreed to accept service on a gambling warrant. He contended the officers had not right on his ship, that he was outside the three-mile limit. Three other ships were raided and gambling paraphernalia destroyed.

Gambling Boat Operators Play A Waiting Game With Watchful Cops

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 3 (AP)—The owner and crew of a luxurious gambling boat played a game not on the casino list today—a waiting game with holding back of sheriff's deputies.

In poker-faced patience Tony Cornero Stralla and 200-odd employees lounged about the floating casino, the Rex, and just beyond reach of hoses playing from the ship, equally patient but—in some instances, at least—some what unsettled from the teasing of the waves, waited the deputies with warrants charging conspiracy to violate gambling laws.

Stralla, who openly admits he was a run-around in prohibition days, snarled at the would-be visitors that he had enough food on board to last a year.

Plan Advanced Housing Bill For Oil Assn. Is Defeated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A house coalition of Republicans and Democrats today killed President Roosevelt's $500,000,000 housing bill for this session.

The latest rebuff to the administration topped off Tuesday's stunning defeat of the lending program. Today, as then, the house refused even to consider the legislation.

The vote was 190 to 170. The housing measure thus went the way of the 1,850,000,000 major lending measure—the window at the hands of a militant Democratic-Republican coalition.

On the senate side of the capitol, a fight was brewing over whether to honor an administration request for a $119,000,000 loan fund to continue bolstering farm prices.

The house economy bloc succeeded yesterday in keeping the money out of a $54,191,000 deficiency appropriation bill. Altogether, that measure was cut $161,700,000 below the estimates of the White House budget bureau.

Around the $119,000,000 farm item, to replenish the cash of the Commodity Credit Corporation, centered possibility congress would be carried over into another week.

Congress 'Leadership' Means Nothing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Undeclared and informal in no way eases the task of the leaders. The very informality of its operations has added to troubles of the leaders. They never could know exactly when the coalition would collapse. The best they could do was try to hold enough Democrats in line to put through administration proposals.

Between absentees and a split in the party, this was hard to do. So deep was the split in the Democratic ranks that frequently all the Republicans had to be stood as a unit and well for enough Democrats to march out and close things.

The closing days of the session find the administration forces in disarray, if not complete rout. The lending bill could not even get a hearing in the house. Leaders expected little better results for the housing bill. A deficiency appropriation bill was cut even more sharply than they had anticipated.

Many blame the Democratic defeat, in some measure, on the split between President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner. That Garner has had a hand in some measure the president did not openly like is certain. The vice president pushed the Hatch bill and the corporation tax changes proposed by Senator Harrison (D-Miss.). There were signed into law.

To Reinstate Weather Unit At Airport

New Meteorology Service Due To Start By October 1

Restoration of an airport weather bureau station in Big Spring, abolished during the economy drive six years ago, was seen today in an announcement from H. P. Adams, meteorologist, at Fort Worth.

In a letter to city officials, Adams said that the "chief of the weather bureau has definitely authorized the establishment of an airport at Big Spring."

Information for preparing the lease has been forwarded to Washington and actual operation of the station is expected to be on or soon after October 1.

Installation of the station will in no way affect the services currently rendered by the department of commerce weather bureau, which has been filling the breach by making airways observations since the local station was abandoned in 1933.

The new unit is under the department of agriculture and will be charged with making observations for airways purposes. This will include regular balloon runs, wind, cloud and other similar reports on meteorological conditions.

It was estimated that perhaps four or five new staff members would be required to man the station.

Announcement of the establishment of the service reflected work done by J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and E. V. Spence, city manager, in cooperation with the weather bureau on trips to Washington.

Flood Waters May Force Japs To Lift Blockade

TIENSIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Flood waters of Hope province streams appeared likely today to accomplish what British protests have failed to do—force Japanese to ease the blockade of Tientsin British and French concessions.

The rising Hai river endangered two bridges upstream from the French concession. If they are carried away, Japanese will be forced to direct all trans-iberian traffic in the area over the international bridge, one-end of which is in the concession itself.

Such a routing would require, for example that traffic from the Japanese concession to the French area. Thus it was believed that if the flood waters rise further Japanese may be forced to lift restrictions by which persons entering or leaving the French and British concessions since the blockade was imposed June 14 have been permitted to pass barriers.

BRITAIN WOULD AID IN SETTLEMENT OF SINO-JAP TROUBLE

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared tonight Britain would be prepared to use her good offices "if and when they could usefully be employed" to mediate the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

He made this statement in a foreign affairs debate in the house of lords after he had given Japan an indirect warning anti-British agitation in North China would only worsen relations between Britain and Japan "with all the consequences that that deterioration must inevitably bring."

The foreign secretary said the government intended to protect British interests in China and to carry out its obligations to third powers.

DR. SMITH FACES ARRAIGNMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Appearing less strained than when he left here two days ago, Dr. James Monroe Smith, much-indicted former president of Louisiana State university, was returned to the federal jail today by East Baton Rouge parish officers for arraignment tomorrow on mail fraud charges.

Old Louisiana Case Revived

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Federal agents today dug back four years before the state political machine made peace with the national administration to probe reports of tampering with the jury which freed one of Huey P. Long's chief lieutenants on income tax evasion charges.

O. John Rogge, assistant U. S. attorney general heading the government inquiry into the state's multiplying scandals, revealed the alleged tampering involved the jury which acquitted Abraham L. Shushan Oct. 23, 1935.

Shushan, former president of the levee board, was such a close friend of Long that the political dictator named New Orleans's 400,000 airport after him. Shushan was brought to trial shortly after Long was shot to death in the state capitol.

Following the trial, the government abandoned criminal income tax evasion charges against other Long henchmen.

One of these, Seymour Weiss, who rose from shoe clerk to become a hotel president and one of Huey's most favored political henchmen, subsequently settled with the government, paying approximately $17,000 in penalties.

Weiss is now under federal indictment charging mail fraud in connection with the state university's purchase of equipment from a hotel the government says was already owned by the school.

Shushan was charged with failing to report income totaling $448,218.91 from 1929 through 1935. The government said the tax evasion was $11,152.53.

East Tex. Sheriff And Tavern Owner Killed In Duel

Pistol Fight Occurs As Officer Attempts To Halt Beer-Laden Car; Woman Witness Faces Charge

RUSK, Cherokee Co., Aug. 3 (AP)—A charge of murder was filed against a woman employe of a tavern after Bill Brunt, youthful Cherokee county sheriff, and Isahel Creel, proprietor of the establishment, were slain in a roadside pistol fight before dawn today.

Deputy Sheriff Leon Halbert filed the complaint against Myrtle Stanley, about 35, who was quoted by County Attorney Ellis Lewis as saying the men killed each other in a pistol battle. Lewis said the woman told him the six-foot officer, noted as an expert pistol shot, was slain after attempting several times to halt Creel's automobile on the Rusk-Jacksonville highway.

East Tex. Sheriff And Tavern Owner Killed In Duel

Pistol Fight Occurs As Officer Attempts To Halt Beer-Laden Car; Woman Witness Faces Charge

RUSK, Cherokee Co., Aug. 3 (AP)—A charge of murder was filed against a woman employe of a tavern after Bill Brunt, youthful Cherokee county sheriff, and Isahel Creel, proprietor of the establishment, were slain in a roadside pistol fight before dawn today.

Deputy Sheriff Leon Halbert filed the complaint against Myrtle Stanley, about 35, who was quoted by County Attorney Ellis Lewis as saying the men killed each other in a pistol battle. Lewis said the woman told him the six-foot officer, noted as an expert pistol shot, was slain after attempting several times to halt Creel's automobile on the Rusk-Jacksonville highway.

The Stanley woman, Lewis said, told him she and Creel were returning from Kilgore with a car-load of beer when Brunt stopped them. Creel's tavern, the Rock Inn, is in Cherokee county, where sale of beer is prohibited under local option.

The woman was wounded in the leg, and was taken to a hospital at Jacksonville after the murder charge was filed. Her condition was not regarded as serious. She was the only witness to the shooting, Lewis said, and she gave him this account of the encounter.

She and Creel were driving south toward Rusk with a load of beer, which they had obtained in Kilgore. They met Brunt, who followed their car, then drove past them, blowing his siren.

This happened several times, then Brunt shot a front tire from Creel's car, which nearly overturned as it pulled up to the side of the road, Creel, she told the prosecutor, came out of his car shooting, the first bullet striking the 29-year-old officer in the back.

Brunt fired several times as he fell, one bullet striking the woman in the leg, and another hitting Creel in the chest.

There was little traffic on the highway at the time of the shooting, just before dawn, and the three victims remained by the side of the road until a meat truck driver came by. He brought the woman to town and notified night watchman L. C. Goff of Rusk.

Brunt, one of the youngest sheriffs in the state, was serving his second term. He was former city marshal at Alto, and prior to that had served in the navy.

Brunt's body was brought here and Creel's body was taken to Jacksonville.

Surviving Brunt are his wife, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brunt; two brothers, Roy and Frank of Houston; five sisters, Leona Brunt of Alto, Mrs. Alex Black of Lufkin, Mrs. Bruce Solover of Tyler, Mrs. Tom Sartain of Fort Worth, Miss Louis Brunt of Rusk.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the old Palestine church near Alto.

FUGITIVE BELIEVED IN WESTEX AREA

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 3 (AP)—Belief that Andrew H. Nelson, West Texas desperado who escaped with Leonard Ross Miller Sunday from Eastham prison camp, is in this section was expressed by south plains peace officers after a man answering his description was sighted with a companion here this morning after Vernon's filling station at Meadow had been burglarized.

Officers of the section quickly spread a dragnet covering all highways of the area.

Nelson once participated in a daring jailbreak from Lubbock.

Unionists Driven Away By Officers

DETROIT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Police drove CIO United Automobile Workers union members and sympathizers away from the area surrounding the strikebound General Motors Chevrolet plant today after what they said was a second attempt to stop factory automobile traffic by spreading tacks and broken glass on the streets.

The unionists retreated and booted the several hundred Detroit police.

HE'S WILLING

ROBERT A. TAFT

Taft 'Willing' As Candidate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio expressed a willingness today to become a candidate for the republican presidential nomination in 1940.

The son of the former president and chief justice stated his position in a letter to George F. Eyrich, chairman of the county republican executive committee at Cincinnati, which had endorsed him for the presidential nomination.

"I shall be willing when the time comes," Taft said, "to give my consent to have my name designated as the first choice by candidates for delegates (to the national republican convention) throughout the state."

Taft told Eyrich his work as senator was "extremely interesting" and that he preferred it to any other job. He added, however, that he would not "run away from a harder job."

"Whether I am a candidate for any other office," he wrote, "is entirely up to the republicans of Ohio."

The "unpleasant job" ahead of the next president, he said, is such that "no sensible man could be eager to assume it."

"Unless the government is re-elected, the government is re-directed," he declared, "we cannot long maintain financial autonomy of free enterprise or even individual liberty in the United States, but the leaders of the movement against new deal failures must have the courage to incur the unlimited displeasure of every vested interest whose selfish purposes conflict with a radical policy of reform."

The committee's resolution, adopted late yesterday, urged Taft to let his name be used as the first choice of the Ohio delegates to the 1940 republican convention.

Children Have Opportunity In Movies

Coming to Big Spring with a crew of experienced cameramen and soundmen, William D. Patton will bring an opportunity to all talented and ambitious children to appear in a motion picture which he will produce here at an early date.

There are no doubt in the city many children who feel that they have stage talent and are capable of rivalling Jane Withers, Shirley Temple or Spunky McFarland on the screen. Incidentally, Spunky McFarland, now starring in Hal Roach comedies, was discovered through a home talent movie, as well as a number of others now appearing in pictures.

The two-reel picture will be a kidnap story, and will be filmed in various sections of Big Spring. Some singing, dancing and musical acts will be used, but these talents are not essential for a child to get a good part, as many types will be needed to fill the parts in the story.

After the cast has been selected there will be several rehearsals, teaching the children to act before the sound camera and talk over the microphone. There will be a small charge for this training, however, there will be no charge to register or try-out.

Children between the ages of 8 and 14 years who wish to try-out for parts are requested to register their names at the Ritz theatre box office at once. When the director arrives in town, he will get in touch with those who have registered and arrange for an interview.

Ex-Jurist Claims Wife Broke Him

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Fred P. Branson, former Oklahoma supreme court justice, summoned 11 rebuttal witnesses today to substantiate claims his turbulent love life cost him $140,000 in the last 15 years and left him on the financial rocks.

The 59-year-old ex-jurist is fighting the suit of Madeline Braniff Branson, his one-time stenographer, now 47, who seeks validation of their 1930 marriage in New York and $500 a month separate maintenance. She asserted Branson was worth $250,000.

Acting as his own attorney, Branson contends the marriage was illegal because it took place within six months after his first wife obtained a divorce.

Delivering an autobiography from the witness stand yesterday, Branson asserted a $350,000 fortune made in the Texas oil fields had shrunk to but $700 in bank accounts and land of only potential value.

His wooing of Madeline before and after the marriage was on a lavish scale, Branson testified, and dry wells in Texas added to his financial difficulties.

Canadian-American Air Parley Called

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Air routes linking the United States, Canada and Alaska and improving American defenses in the direction of the Pacific will be outlined at a Canadian-American conference in Ottawa announced today by the state department.

The conference will begin Wednesday. The United States is sending three officials from the state department and four from the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Minister Daniel C. Roper, former secretary of commerce, will head the American delegation.

Outstanding among the plans to be considered is possible institution of plane service between the United States and Alaska, with or without stops in Canada.

Officials view such prospective improvements in air transportation as contributing to national defense.

In the background is the possibility of instituting air service eventually between Great Britain and the United States through Siberia, Alaska and Canada. There are rumors Britain may seek a service to the United States through Scandinavia, over the Polar region and Canada.

ANGELOAN WINS SLOAN AWARD

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—J. B. Carlisle, a state highway patrolman stationed at San Angelo, was announced today as a winner of a $1,200 fellowship for study of accident prevention and traffic control at the traffic institute of Northwestern university.

He is one of 15 state policemen over the nation to win the honor, provided by the Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., safety award.

Carlisle, 32, a member of the public safety department since 1935, is a graduate of East Texas State Teachers college and the University of Texas. At both schools he specialized in government and English and was principal and teacher in Naples high school before he joined the state police force.

He completed high school work at Dublin and attended the air corps training center at Randolph Field, Texas.

The County Budget

On file for public inspection at the county clerk's office in Howard county is the budget for the next fiscal year, on which a public hearing will be held soon by the county commissioners court.

A generalization of the budget figures show that estimated expenditures will be about $14,000 from the current year, and that the tax rate will remain unchanged at 50 cents.

But the citizen who is really interested in seeing efficient operation of his government will study the tabulations in detail, then go before the commissioners court at the hearing and let himself be heard on whatever particular items he wants to praise or condemn.

If taxpayers would organize a league or property owners would take an interest in budget hearings, give their advice and make their protests known, county and city officials likely would be willing to cooperate.

Some will wonder, for instance, about a proposed cut in the general charities fund from $9,800 to $7,400, at a time when the county has not always taken care of the cases it should have taken care of.

There might be some eyebrow-raising at a proposed expenditure of $18,500 on repairs to the courthouse and grounds. The question would be whether it is good business to pour that much money into an old building that is outmoded and must be replaced within a few years, especially in view of the fact that $14,000 is being spent for similar purposes this year.

There could just possibly be some dissatisfaction with the continued transfer of monies to the officers' salary fund—over $10,000 provided for in 1940—on the theory that some adjustments ought to be made on office expenditures to make them fit the income.

And certainly there is some dissenting opinion on the proposed expenditure of $5,600 for tax assessing costs over and above the original cost of the office. That $5,600 is accounted for in the new budget by $2,000 for "tax assessor"—presumably for paying extra help—and by $3,600 for oil valuator's services.

At a time when the oil fields were being developed in Howard county, there could have existed the need for "expert" valuers to set up fair assessable figures. But there's nothing mysterious about the value of the oil field properties now; and so far as we know, the only changes "experts" are making from year to year are on new or abandoned wells, increased or decreased production, etc.

It's something for the taxpayers to think about, along with other details of the budget that will come to light with a study or at the hearing. The people have a right—and a responsibility—over governmental costs. They ought to exercise both.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Some mornings on Broadway just don't make sense, so confusing that you think perhaps the only thing to do is get off the berserk Rialto and get some sleep.

For instance, the other morning in the office of Fred Waring, the leader of the lyrical dance band. It is not only his office, but also his home, the practice room for his musicians and the radio room from which he broadcasts.

This particular morning I happened in with no particular motive other than to beg a cup of coffee out of the Waring kitchen which opens into his modernistic office. Well, I happened into something indeed.

Waring was there chatting with Willie Hoppe, the billiard champion, and Jim Moran, the man who found a needle in a haystack after a week's search on a Washington street corner.

Moran is also the man who sold advertising space on barber shop ceilings in Texas; sold an ice box on an Eskimo in Alaska; brought back some glacier ice and sold it to a Florida man for the cornerstones of an ice skating rink; hired a gang of non-sighted and far-sighted men to storm Bunker Hill to see how far they could go before you could see the whites of their eyes.

Moran recently had another plan, but that was stopped. He wanted to exhibit a live whale in a pool at the World's Fair and sell space for advertisements on the whale's back.

Well, I walked in just in time to hear Waring quoting to Hoppe and Moran a couplet from Gilbert and Sullivan:

"On a cloth untrue With a twisted cue And elliptical billiard balls."

Now Waring, besides being a top-ranking musician and orchestra conductor, has always been regarded as a very sensible and sane man. But, when he led us into his play room he presented a sight which should have warned he might be getting as slap happy as the waggish Moran.

It was, Waring said, his own invention—a round billiard table. About the size of a kitchen table, it was as round as a silver dollar and there wasn't a pocket in it.

Hoppe, disbelieving Fred when he invited him to come and play a match on a round billiard table, had brought along some square billiard balls made of rubber. They wouldn't roll, but they would bounce when prodded with the cue.

He then played the wacky match, but who won I still don't know. A trifle dazed, I dashed from the room and wandered down Broadway counting my money.

Are You Listening?

Meet Mr. Lochinvar

Chapter 12 WONDERFUL IDEA Laura came in a little later. She found Cecily bent studiously over her account books. "Laura, I have a wonderful idea!" Cecily began without preamble. "We're going to have a party!" "A party?" Laura repeated excitedly. "Yes, a real party, for our customers. We'll make a poster this morning and—no, we'll make three posters. We'll make them in the form of an invitation to a buffet supper on Thursday night and we'll hang them at the inn, at the library and the postoffice. We'll invite everyone. Absolutely everyone!" Her eyes shone like stars. "If you invite everyone, that includes strangers, doesn't it?" "Good heavens, you can't do that, Cecily! It'll cost a fortune and we wouldn't have room for everyone."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—The Senate seems to be on the verge of renegeing "Gone With the Wind" from the Dutch and Japanese. Publishers in Holland and Japan have been printing Margaret Mitchell's best seller for some months now without the benefit of copyright protection.

All of this comes about through failure of the senate to ratify a copyright treaty which has been hanging before it for a decade. Most of the other leading countries of the world have already ratified, including Japan and Holland.

The copyright treaty is worked out on an international cooperative basis. Under its terms any American work copyrighted in the United States automatically enjoys full protection in all other countries that sign the treaty.

Miss Mitchell seems to be the principal sufferer among American authors whose works are being pirated. She is suffering most from the piracy of a Holland publisher. But so far as is known Japan leads the world with mass piracy of about 50 American books.

$100 FOR MISS RAWLINGS Publishers in both countries have seized upon "Gone With the Wind" and Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' novel, "The Yearling." Miss Mitchell has been law-suiting in Holland to establish her rights but the results, she said in a letter to the senate foreign relations committee, are "discouraging."

Miss Rawlings had no better success. She wrote to the Holland company pirating her novel and they expressed regret that the United States was not a treaty signer. They did send her $100 with the stipulation that it was not to set a precedent. Miss Mitchell didn't get even $100.

Years ago, until the early 1890's, the United States was a leading literary pirate. In those days there were more foreign works to be stolen than there were American works for piracy abroad.

The turn of the century brought a turn of the wheel. American literary works increased in demand, and more especially did American motion pictures and songs strike a popular note abroad.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The stars get all the breaks. The picture is "The Roaring Twenties," a dramatic summary of that decade of bathtub gin and gangsters, machine guns and flowery funerals, silent movies and raucous flappers.

But it's the women's fashions that give the stars the breaks. In a speakeasy scene there are several young women dressed, presumably, in the dernier cri of the era. There is Sally Sage, for one, with a low bowl-like hat that flares out of the brim, sits down on her forehead.

The bit-player carries the burden, in clothes of strict adherence to a ridiculous fashion; the star, who must never look ridiculous, wears artfully "modified"—and kinder—versions.

Reproduction of a "roaring Twenties" speakeasy evokes in the on-looker a kind of nostalgia tinged with nausea—nauseas, that is, provided he is among the survivors of that epoch.

The "speak" here is of standard vintage. Tables with check-cloths, blue-and-yellow ornamental streamers festooning the ceiling, a small "stage" for entertainers, and on the floor the inevitable traveling miniature piano.

One very hearty survivor is present on the set in the buxom person of Jane Jones. Jane Jones is a woman baritone, who with two male tenors from her own club on the Sunset Strip contributes to the speakeasy atmosphere a number called "Avalon Town."

Jane Jones is a trouper from 'way back who's been around. She worked in vaudeville, and in clubs up and down the coast—was one of the entertainers in the old Vernon country club which was, in Hollywood's less sedate days, the center of filmland's wild night life.

It was at Vernon Jane sang "Avalon Town" for the first time. She was there when Al Jolson, hearing it, paid $10,000 for half-interest in the song. The lad who pocketed the ten grand was a then practically unknown fellow named Buddy De Sylva, who had written the piece with Vincent Rose. Rose kept his...

Barons Sweep Clovis Series; Meet Lamesa Lobos Tonight

Marek Chalks Up 18th Hill Win Of Year

Plays Important Part With Bat By Driving In Two Tallies

HANK HART
Fresh from a series sweep over the Clovis Pioneers, the Rego's Big Spring Barons set themselves for tonight's invasion of the Lamesa Lobos. The 8:30 game at the West Fifth and Antonio streets ball park will probably see Louis Marek take the mound for the locals.

Some extra nice pitching on the part of Jodie Marek gave the Lamesa their third straight victory over the Pioneers Wednesday evening by a 3-1 count. In chalking up his 18th mound triumph of the season, his first since July 18th, he did a masterful job in scattering 10 enemy blows over the distance to outpitch young Jake Christie.

Christie's slumps kept Baron out-pitches to a minimum and he was receptive after the fourth but Marek's mates contributed exuberant support and he was through in trying situations. Only six hits were recorded for the Pioneers.

Marek gave up his only run in the fifth when Johnny Stone led off with a single and went all the way around on Hack Harrison's line drive.

Winning Run
Since Christie was doing an effective job of handcuffing the Pioneers power hitters, Jodie had to provide a goodly share of the willow as well. He singled in the second and drove in Al Bernhardt in the initial run, then accounted for the third tally in the fourth when Joe Sparitto went to the dish and his ground ball to Dick Adkins' short stop, Adkins muffed the under.

The Baron righthander had only a few of trouble in the initial round when the opposition popped the cushions, but escaped notice by forcing Ratliff to sky. Ratliff was left.

Double play started by Bobby Baker ruined the last Clovis threat in the ninth. After Christie had retired on a ground ball to center, Barney Barnhill singled along the debate, Stone appeared to drive an apparent base blow through second but Robin raced out to snag it and whipped the ball to Loyd in time to nip the runner off first.

Ribe Fights For 7th Slot

The Associated Press
The Oklahoma City Indians have something to work for tonight. If they defeat the Beaumont Exporters they can emerge from the Texas League cellar where they long have dwelt and share the dim light of the seventh place with the Shippers. They took their second game in the last night behind the steady pitching of Bill Prince to down Beaumont, 5-2.

The game run by Byrnes in the fourth broke a scoreless tie and a pace-setting San Antonio Missions went on from there to defeat the Tulsa Oilers, 8-5.

The Houston Buffs, tired of having their heavy artillery silenced to the runs in their previous eight games, rebelled with 17 base hits to rout Fort Worth's Cats, 12-1. Harry Eischen gave the Buffs the six only four hits.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEST
NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—If a certain Southwest conference football coach will look on the wall he can't miss all that handwriting. Dink Templeton hasn't actually resigned yet, but the line already is forming for his job as Stanford track coach. . . . George Gould, assistant coach, is making Bernia Bierman's gray hair grayer by playing polo on the side.

AMERICAN YOUTH DEPT.
Thirteen-year-old Charles A. Comiskey, II, who some day will run the White Sox, says he'd rather develop a good curve ball than be president of the club.

Horace Stoneham, who owns what is left of the Giants, flew to Cincinnati and will furnish the western trip with the club. . . . Bob Ray of the Los Angeles times clears up the mystery why Joe McCarthy is endorsing a "headache cure" it is for the misery of several other American league managers. . . . Don't let 'em kid you that Virginia Military lost all its football players except Paul Shu. The Cadets are set to clean up Virginia from one end to the other.

RESEARCH DEPT.
Mr. Nifty Giovanni of Lake Charles, La., has discovered that the only difference between big league ball and the brand dashed out in the Evangeline ligue is: (A) A few people. (B) A few errors. (C) The fans in the stands are not allowed to keep the ball when they catch pop flies in the stand.

L. C. Davis tunes up and sings this one in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch:
When Pastor and Joe Louis scrap
Instead of rounds they count each lap.
And so it seems the Bomber's job
Consists of catching up with Bob.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Loyd C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "If all these Di Maglios were infielders and Yanks, it would take a Gertrude (a rose is a rose) Stein to get a double play in the pater straight."

Recreation News
The City Softball championship playoff games Monday and Tuesday nights brought to a close a very successful season of play. McGee's Super Service playing throughout the season with practically the same lineup replaced Lone Star Chevrolet, last season's champions, as the new city champs.

The city champions are planning to enter the district playoff if arrangements can be made.
Recreation leaders assisted in planning and directing a church social at the city park Tuesday evening. About fifty persons enjoyed the varied activities.

The musical programs conducted Monday through Friday mornings of each week at the city auditorium attract an average attendance of about 30. Marches, drills, singing, simple dramatics, games, rhythm, music (piano and guitar) instructions, and varied programs feature the activities.

Come by Baron park some morning if you like baseball and watch one of the Kiwanis Knot Hole plays games. The boys really take their baseball seriously and enjoy the games.

HENDERSON IS 6-1 VICTOR
By The Associated Press
Two East Texas league players are ready to join the tough luck league.

Luke Winborn, Tyler shortstop, tied the game at 5-all with a homer in the ninth innings last night, then muffed a roller in the 12th to enable Jacksonville to score twice and take the game, 7-6.

Pitcher Dobby walked in the winning run in the last half of the ninth after two were out and Killgore defeated Palestine, 3-2.

Bill Douglas, with great fielding support, pitched Texarkana to a 5-2 victory over Longview and Ed Welland hurled four-hit ball while his Henderson mates pounded two Marshall pitchers for a 6-1 win.

Layden Apparent Cinch For Post
CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ejmer Layden of Notre Dame might just as well start figuring out some plays right now for the college all-stars who meet the New York Giants professional football team in Soldier Field August 30.

The Notre Dame coach was so far ahead of other contenders in the balloting to name the all-star team that only an avalanche of votes could block him out of the job.

With midnight Saturday as the deadline in the poll, Layden held 1,661,025 points, or about double the number of his closest competitor.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

It's being circulated that Josh Billings, the former Clovis pilot now employed as a coach for the Newark Bears, is in "dutch" with Judge William Bramham, czar of minor league baseball.

Billings sold young Jake Christie, Pioneer pitcher, to Pensacola last year but allegedly neglected to inform his club of the amount realized from the sale. That info finally got around to the judge and Christie was returned to Clovis.

If Bramham decides to penalize Billings, the assessment can be steep, may even mean a suspension for the former Texas leaguer.

Mild mannered Joe Sparitto, the youngster of Rockford, Ill., who has been playing some grand baseball for Tony Rego of late, surprised the local fandom Wednesday evening when he almost tangled with Barney Barnhill, Clovis second smcker, in the fourth inning after he had appeared in the show above around on a clean play. The little Italian stormed all over Barnhill, showing his anger to the ground and would probably have started an operation had not Umpire Donald Fritts and a host of players intervened.

What Barney probably didn't realize was that Joe is a former Golden Gloves boxer who won a title or two in his home state. The incident clearly shows that Giuseppe is conceding nothing in his fight for a team berth. He may have been told that he was soon going to have competition for a garden post but he's not surrendering without a scrap.

With the new flinger, Pat Patterson, late of El Paso, on hand and a hard hitting outfielder promised, Tony Rego may further bolster his hurling staff with the readdition of Willard Ramsdell, the Chanute, Kan., righthander who was with the Barons earlier in the campaign but was ruled ineligible for 60 days of play by minor league headquarters.

Ramsdell has been shining brilliantly of late in semi-pro competition around his home town and recently pitched a no-hitter in tournament play.

Local teams have been invited to the district softball tournament which will be unrolled at Sweetwater within the next few days.

The three highest ranking teams in that meeting will be certified to the regional tournament to be held in Abilene beginning August 21 and extending through August 26.

The two top ranking teams in that meeting will be certified to the state tournament. The Sportsman's Club, Abilene, will allow $100 on expenses to the winning team, $50 expense money to the runner-up.

Homer Williams, Sweetwater, is the district commissioner.

Todd Matched With Ex-Titlist
COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 3 (AP)—One or the other must bow out of the 19th annual Broadmore invitation golf tournament today—either a two-time former champion or a red-hot new challenger.

The former titleholder is Harry Stashburg of Coffeyville, Kan., and the highly-regarded bidder is Harry Todd, 22-year-old Western amateur champion from Dallas. They clash in an 18-hole second round tilt.

In another match Rufus King of Wichita Falls, Texas, medalist in the recent Transmississippi tournament, faced Lamar Seelgson of San Antonio.

SURRENDER TO BEGIN TERMS
NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—William J. Graham and James C. McKay, Reno gamblers and convicted confidence game men, surrendered today in federal district court to begin serving nine-year prison sentences imposed upon them.

Their attorney, Moses Polakoff, said for the record he wished to have it noted they had paid $22,000 in fines.

FREE ON BOND
LAREDO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Roe McCreary, accused of the moonlight slaying of Fred Pointer while he played in a field in Dimmit county on July 22, today was freed on $10,000 bond after a habeas corpus hearing before District Judge John A. Valls.

STRONG LEGS AND RECOVERY OF SPEED BALL EXPLAINS NEW SUCCESS, SAYS LYONS

By The AP Feature Service
CHICAGO, Aug. 2—Lou Gehrig's playing days are over, Carl Hubbell is on the downgrade and genial Gabby Hartnett has slowed down, but another old-timer—Ted Lyons of the White Sox—is off on a spurge, enjoying his best season in years.

Just the other day he sidetracked the yipping Yankees for his 10th triumph, against just two defeats. If his luck, and his pitching arm, hold out he's likely to approach the 22 victories he scored back in 1920.

Lyons' comeback has helped the White Sox keep in the American league battle. That is, the battle for second place. Manager Jimmy Dykes hopes to crowd out Boston for runner-up honors.

17-Year-Old
For 17 years Ted has been waving his strong right arm for the Chicagoans. He was one of those unusual rookies who hopped from college campus direct to the big leagues. Without a sojourn in the minors, Ted came from Baylor university in 1923 to pitch winning ball for Comiskey's Sox.

Good strong legs, he says, have kept him in the big show for so many years.

"I never let them get out of shape," he says. "I'm always on the go. In the winter I'm playing golf or hunting."

A sore arm that followed closely upon his great 1930 season almost knocked Lyons out of baseball. It has impaired his effectiveness for years.

"It doesn't bother me any more," he says. "Sometimes my shoulder aches a little on a damp, chilly day."

He won only four games while losing six in 1931. Only three times since then has he been able to win more than 10 games a season. He had won 21 in 1925 and 22 in 1927, leading leagues in victories both years. He has won the booby prize too, for in 1933 he lost more games than any other pitcher, 21.

Lyons' most notable achievement was a no-hit game against Boston in 1926, the year he won 18 games. He attributes his winning streak this year to better condition.

"I went to Pasadena a couple of weeks ahead of the regular squad last spring and every morning I'd get in a lot of running and throwing."

"I shed quite a bit of weight and my arm was good and strong by the time the season opened," he said.

Pitches Knuckle Ball
He finds that he is seldom tired after pitching a game—just like he has always felt good—now like he'd be ready to go again with three days rest.

A knuckle ball is perhaps Lyons' Lyons' most notable achievement was a no-hit game against Boston in 1926, the year he won 18 games. He attributes his winning streak this year to better condition.

Another reason for his success this season is that he's got his fast ball back.

TELEGRAPHER DIES
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP)—James Tumulty, 71, who as chief night operator for The Associated Press in New York flashed the news of the death of President Grant to the world in 1885, died yesterday at his home.

UPSET WIN OVER WOODS AND HUNT FOCUSES SPOTLIGHT ON NEW DOUBLES THREAT
SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP)—The National and Davis cup doubles situations were the big talking points at the 49th annual Meadow club invitation tournament today as a result of surprises turned in by a pair of "pick-up" teams which didn't figure to go anywhere.

Gene Mako, who has been at somewhat loose ends as a doubles player since Partner Don Budge turned pro, and Gardner Mulloy, the Miami ace, made up one of the pairs. Norman Bickel, a Chicago University graduate, and Marvin Wachman, a Northwestern alum, were the other duo.

'Hutch To Show Skeptics'—Baker

Expects Tigers To Beat Out Chicago Sox, Cleveland

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Freddie Hutchinson, the high-priced kid from the coast, is about ready now to show the skeptics a thing or two about pitching, says Manager Del Baker of the Detroit Tigers.

Del recently brought his $80,000 beauty back from Toledo, where he had been farmed out since early in May, and Freddie already has shown the Bengals' boss enough to convince him he is going to be a great pitcher.

"He's on his way now," says Del. "All that publicity was what ruined him in the spring. Freddie would not let on it was bothering him, but he was pressing just the same. He's still walking a few, but he's not wild any more."

"No, his fast ball still isn't anything to curl a batter's whisker, but there's something on it and no mistake. The hitters aren't getting hold of him solidly. I'm beginning to understand how he won those 25 games for Seattle last year."

Del is happy about his Tigers in general, even though they're still in fifth place. They're getting over their injuries and beginning to click.

"We'll finish ahead of both Cleveland and Chicago, now that we've started," said Baker, confidently.

Del is another one who thinks Cincinnati will give the Yankees a fit in the world series; maybe beat the three-time champions.

"They've got a fine club with great pitching. We played them several times down south last spring, and they're tough to beat. Still, the Yankees have the best pitching staff in baseball and the best defense. That series will be a dog-fight."

This is Baker's first full year as a big league manager. Asked if he had been offered or promised a contract for next season, he said "No, and I'm not worrying about it."

JUNIOR TENNIS MEET REACHES Q'FINAL ROUND
CULVER, Ind., Aug. 3 (AP)—Sixteen young tennis players—five of them unseeded—moved today into singles quarter-finals of the national junior and boys' tournament at Culver Military academy.

Three days of competition had dropped four of the 10 seeded contestants in the junior division and three of the eight in the boys' division from the running. Heavy favorites remained in the meet.

Ted Olewine of Santa Monica, Calif., top-seeded junior, was a matched today with unseeded Gardner Larned of Chicago.

In boys' singles, first-seeded Budge Patty of Los Angeles went against an unseeded player, Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif.

Other matches include: Boys—E. Blair Hawley of New York City, No. 3, vs. Clarence Mabry of Alice, Tex., unseeded.

FBI ORGANIZES CRIME DRIVE
NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The federal government today organized one of the biggest crime drives in its history—a coordinated campaign to smash a "crime trust" made up of loosely-linked underworld mobs operating over the nation.

U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill, after a conference with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, said a national "clearing house of crime" would be set up here to make the drive effective.

The drive will be set in motion Monday with summoning of a federal grand jury before which Cahill said would be placed a 500,000-word "encyclopedia of crime" compiled by federal agents. It gives names, dates, and complete available information of racketeers and gangsters in every state.

Cahill said federal and state prosecutors, Congress, and local police throughout the nation would cooperate in the campaign. It had as its first objective the capture of Louis (Leopke) Buchalter, fugitive gangster described by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey as the "most dangerous industrial racketeer in the United States."

JACK BENNY SUED FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3 (AP)—Harry W. Conn says he made Jack Benny what he is today and he thinks it's worth $65,500.

Conn, writer of jokes, humorous sketches and assorted whimsies, sued the radio and screen comedian for that amount, charging breach of contract.

He declared he became Benny's principal gag-writer in 1932 and remained with him for four and a half years.

Since leaving Benny's employ in 1936, Conn maintained, the comedian has continued to use the Conn characters, gags and sequences. The writer added that while he had been paid nothing, Benny has earned $1,100,000 from radio, picture and $150,000 from motion pictures.

Two games were released out.

Local Bowlers Are Defeated

Boasting a team of "300" keggers, the Palomar bowling team of San Angelo ran pell-mell over a Big Spring team in an exhibition match at the Casadena Alleys Wednesday evening.

Each member of the invading team has been given credit for at least one perfect game, three of them boast two each. They clearly displayed at the expense of the local marksmen that they were capable of shooting consistently near the top figure.

Fritz of the visiting team was high in individual scoring with a single game mark of 238 while both Talley and Fritz came in with averages of better than 200.

Jake Douglas was the top local man, scoring 219 for individual high and 191 for the top average.

K' Hole Loop Nine Beaten By Lamesans

Enemy outbursts in the first four innings of play cost an all-star team of the Kiwanis Knot Hole baseball league a decision in an encounter with a Lamesa team here Wednesday.

The invaders won, 11-6, scoring nine of their runs during the first four heats.

Ballew, Lamesa twirler, limited the locals to seven blows and was airtight until the seventh round when his defense went to pieces.

Smith's three base hits represented an even third of the hits collected off Teague, Big Spring toser.

In a regular league game the Cubs nosed out the Junior Barons, 3-2, scoring the winning run in the fifth when McMin dashed in on Buckner's two base blow.

No Trace of Ship In 'Distress' As Messages Reported

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 3 (AP)—Ships and aircraft speeding on a rescue mission off the lower Florida coast found no trace today of a mystery ship which sent out a fantastic series of distress messages during the night.

A plane from the Miami coast guard base scanned calm seas for more than three hours in the vicinity of Key West—one of four positions given by the unidentified radio operator who reported his vessel was a fire and sinking.

Various commercial and coast guard radio stations received the name of the ship repeatedly as Dunkwa, but the only vessel registered by that name, a British oil tanker, was reported at Rotterdam.

Lieutenant V. O. Johnson, pilot of the coast guard plane, said he had discovered nothing to indicate whether the frequently incoherent messages were based on fact or fancy. The coast guard, however, decided against further search by air unless new information were received.

BRIDGES DENIES HE'S COMMUNIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Harry Bridges admitted there are communists in the labor union movement but denied he is or ever was one of them.

The West Coast labor leader whom the government is seeking to deport to his native Australia testified at his deportation hearing yesterday.

"I recognize that there are communists in the union movement, and as to how many, I don't know, and would have no way of knowing," asked by Thomas B. Shoemaker, chief of prosecution council, who called Bridges to the stand, if he had ever belonged to any organization in the United States outside the seafaring union which he headed. Bridges replied he had not, although he was an honorary member of other trade unions.

SEEK FUNDS ON SCOUT PLEDGES

Executive committee of the Buffalo Trail council Wednesday evening went on record as favoring an immediate campaign to collect outstanding pledges for the first eight months of the year.

A financial statement showed that laxity in collecting pledges had resulted in draining a reserve fund. Approximately $1,800 is outstanding from this source in the 15 counties of the council.

Here for the meeting were Charles Paxton, Sweetwater, president, Aubrey Legg, Ross Covey, Bob Simmons, Jim Ferguson, and Dr. C. A. Rosebrough of Sweetwater, Claude Crain, Guy Brennan, and John Howe of Midland, Stanley A. Matez of Odessa, W. W. Porter of Colorado, Earl McClure, Dallas, assistant regional executive, C. S. Blomshield, Dr. W. E. Hardy, Jack Penrose, E. Reagan, W. C. Blankenship and Joe Pickle of Big Spring.

McDonald Urges Correct Weights

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald has asked cooperation of Texas cotton ginners in correcting inaccurate weighing of the product, termed by the official as one major disturbing factor in the industry today.

In a letter addressed to all ginners, he said that inaccuracies of from 10 to 20 pounds in the weight of a bale were "common occurrences" in some sections.

He pointed out most ginners had cooperated with the agriculture department in stabilizing weighing practices although conditions were "still far from wholesome."

CAMP POSTPONED

A weekend Boy Scout camp for troops in the Big Spring district, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, has been postponed a week. C. S. Blomshield, district chairman, announced.

Jack Penrose, field scout executive, said that the event has been delayed because of the council program until August 11-12.

Warner Brothers Sued By Diaz Kin

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Porfirio Diaz, son of the late dictator of Mexico, has filed suit against Warner Brothers for allegedly "offensive inexactitude" in the representation of his father in the film "Juarez."

The son demanded a "historical rectification." One point of the suit was that "the actor representing my father jumps like a Tarzan in the presence of (Emperor) Maximilian."

The father, according to the son's petition, was 40 years old at the time represented in the picture and had learned to behave like a "civilized military chief." The son is a civil engineer.

TWO RENO GAMBLERS FACE SENTENCES

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two Reno gamblers—William J. Graham and James C. McKay—began paying the government today what they lost in a game that took them from high finance in a buncio syndicate to nine year sentences as convicted confidence men.

They surrendered in federal district court, then left in custody of their attorney for the U. S. marshal's office for removal to jail. Later they will be removed to a federal penitentiary.

The government charged more than $3,000,000 had been lost by victims of the ring that took men and women to Reno and stripped them of valuables on one pretext or another.

BRIDGE CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES UNDER WAY

ASSBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP)—The largest field in history in the masters' pair event of the National Contract bridge championship tournament.

The first two of the week's seven championships were decided late yesterday afternoon when Oswald Jacoby, New York, playing with John R. Crawford, youthful Philadelphia, walked off with the national title in the men's pair event and another New York-Philadelphia duo, Mrs. A. Sobel and Mrs. R. C. Young, won the women's pair cup for the second successive year.

Large Scale Fighting In Manchoukuo Sector

TOKYO, Aug. 3 (AP)—A Domei (Japanese News agency) dispatch from Hsinking today reported that the Japanese air force had downed 99 enemy planes, presumably Soviet Russian, in four days fighting on the Manchoukuo-Outer Mongolia border.

Domei said its reports indicated large scale fighting again was in progress.

Rate Study May Be Started In The Southwest

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission may begin its nation-wide investigation of class freight rates in the Southwest rate territory, in the opinion of John Wells, member of the Arkansas Corporation commission.

Wells conferred yesterday with federal officials and said "the fact the territory has funds available for immediate collection of rate data makes it highly probable the Southwest will be chosen for the first study by the ICC."

He said funds had been made available by the legislatures of Texas and Arkansas, which with Louisiana and Oklahoma comprise the Southwest rate territory, for financing a case before the ICC before the investigation had been ordered. He added it would not now be necessary for the states to file a complaint, but merely proceed with collection of data to lay before the commission.

ENVOY NAMED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated Ray Atherton of Illinois to be minister to Denmark. Atherton is a career man who served in diplomatic posts at Tokyo, Peking, Athens and London before going to his present post at Bulgaria two years ago as minister.

HATCH WOULD BROADEN HIS 'ANTI-POLITICAL' MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Senator Hatch (D-Ut.), smiling because President Roosevelt signed his bill to curtail political activities of federal employees, said today he would try during next congressional session to extend the law to state workers.

Hatch is studying a suggestion advanced by Mr. Roosevelt yesterday that congress might have the power to prevent "pernicious political activities" by state and local employees who engage actively in federal election campaigns.

The New Mexico senator said congress certainly can enact legislation to forbid political activity by state workers who are paid in part from federal funds. These employees include many working for state road and unemployment compensation departments.

Signature of the Hatch measure yesterday stirred up new talk about a possible third term candidacy for Mr. Roosevelt, with Senator Bridges (R-NE) contending the president's action was "the first definite indication" that he would not run again.

Many Are Seeking Executioner's Job

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 3 (AP)—A score of men, including a 24-year-old fellow with a "bad foot" who can't stand what you call hard work, seek to succeed ailing Robert G. Elliott as Pennsylvania's official executioner.

Among other applicants for the job of throwing the switch on the state's electric chair are:

A discouraged painter, who offers cut rates.

A Pittsburgh electric welder and steel brazer whose last job "required handling of 2,300 volts of electricity."

A would-be "electric cutler" and a 170-pound steel worker and farmer who wants to be "lexicuter."

The job pays $250 per switch thrown, plus $150 for each subsequent execution the same night.

None of the applicants may get the job. "Mr. NK," an understudy to Elliott, is standing by and probably will send to death the next batch of condemned criminals marked for the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte. No executions are scheduled until late next month.

Elliott, reported "getting better" in his New York home last night, has electrocuted 110 men and one woman in Pennsylvania since 1926 and also served other eastern states as executioner.

Applications for Elliott's job began arriving last year, when it was reported he would retire.

Company D's Annual Reunion Postponed

Annual reunion of Company D 117th supply train, 42nd division scheduled for Sunday in Sweetwater has been cancelled with the possibility that it may be held at a later date this year.

Judge James T. Brooks, captain of the company which was recruited largely from Big Spring and territory, said Wednesday that members of the company at Sweetwater were out of town and that arrangements could not be completed for holding the reunion, which is staged annually on the first or second Sunday in August.

With the exception of one year when the company convened at Colorado City, the reunion has been held in Big Spring since most of the buddies still reside in their native town.

Displays From West Texas Form Interesting Part Of Texas Memorial Museum At Austin

Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Aug. 3—Rambling through the Texas Memorial museum in Austin the West Texas visitor is attracted to the many exhibits representing the history, the culture, the resources, and the plant life of his region.

The exhibits range from a diorama of sea life as it existed near Fort Stockton 130,000,000 years ago when all West Texas was covered by the ocean to the story of the livestock country told in a series of more than a hundred action pictures made by Erwin E. Smith of Bonham.

The Smith photographs were taken 20 to 30 years ago throughout West Texas and cover "The Story of the Range" from A through Z. The collection is the greatest of its kind in the world, according to A. Garland Adair, curator of history.

Geologic Exhibits

The geologic exhibits include a wide selection from the West Texas area. The famous Big Lake oil field which brought untold wealth to the University of Texas and other landholders in Reagan county is represented in cross section showing the production of "liquid gold" from the various strata.

Other natural resources on display include rich red cinnabar and mercury from Brewster county; wulfenite from Hudspeth; quartz agate from Brewster; calcite from the Chisos mountains; Jasper from Uvalde; garnet, asbestos rock, gabbroite, marble, and other building stones from Llano; milky quartz, Mexican onyx, iron ore, and granite from Gillespie; and other minerals and stones from San Saba, Brown, and Mason counties.

Minerals not only of this world, but some which have dropped from the heavens on West Texas soil are displayed in the museum. A small iron meteorite found near Odessa is on exhibit. Also a 339-pound stone meteorite which fell in Kimble county. The latter was loaned to the museum by A. S. Parker of Harper.

An item which attracts much attention from visitors to the geologic exhibition is an 82-pound perfect granite sphere cut out of Bear mountain by Nagel Bros. of Fredericksburg.

Anthropology

In the anthropology division, one finds shrunken heads made by the savage Indians of South America, an ancient Roman vase 300 B. C., a Moro knife from the Philippines which was used to behead many a rebel and many an unfaithful wife, and numerous other curious articles from all corners of the globe.

But the West Texan's attention naturally turns to a diorama of the shelter dwellers of West Texas, Indian tribes who inhabited wind-and-water-carved shelters and caves in the limestone canyons and draws of that region. A number of artifacts excavated on the Jess Cox ranch on the Pecos river in Val Verde county are found in the museum. These include cactus fibre sandals, painted pebbles, projectile points, rope and twine, bone awls, woven mats, and other items.

The anthropologists in charge of the museum exhibits are making efforts to obtain evidence of basket maker culture of the West Texas shelter dwellers. Any gifts will be appreciated, they say.

From the Big Bend country beautiful pictures of wild plant life have been gathered. On exhibit in the zoology and biology division is a scene in technicolor of the yellow trumpet creeper and Spanish dagger growing on the Davis mountains between Alpine and Fort Davis. Another technicolor scene shows the Texas Century plant and bush sunflower growing in the Chisos mountains.

Flower Paintings

Flower lovers will be interested in a collection of wild flower paintings prepared by R. H. Cummings, disabled war veteran in the hospital at Legion near Kerrville. Cummings has painted nearly a hundred different flowers he has found growing on the hospital grounds.

Students of Indian lore will find the treasure house of artifacts at the museum. Of note also is a diorama depicting the making of the final lasting peace between the white men and the Comanches. The diorama shows Col. Charles Goodnight, in 1878, making peace with Comanche War Chief Quanah Parker in the Palo Duro canyon.

Plans are now being made to exhibit three buffaloes in the museum. They are to be loaned by Dr. Goodall Wooten of Austin, Miss Eula Whitehouse, curator for the department of zoology, has been in West Texas, at Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, and on the plains to paint the background for the buffalo exhibit.

Meet Mr. Lochinvar

By Marie Blizard

"Grand," Cecily said listlessly. It had been a good party. She had thought her guests would stay to supper and move on. Instead someone had proposed playing "Ghosts" and the game had gone on merrily until well after midnight. If Cecily had had a party at her own home, it wouldn't have come off better. Even Mrs. Brewster had remained until after eleven.

"Mr. Hemingway took me home," Laura said.

"I hope he asked you for a date," Cecily replied, her thoughts far off. And a little sad. Everyone was having fun but her. All she had was work. Get up in the morning, and come to the shop. Leave the shop, and go home. A routine.

The color of Cecily's sky had changed from blue to gray. And all because a shabby stranger had come and gone away again.

But he hadn't gone away. Cecily saw him on Saturday. She had gone to the blacksmith shop at the far end of the village to have a bent fire-long repaired. She came out of the shop and saw a familiar combination. A shabby wagon and a moosehide white horse, the latter placidly chewing the grass beside the road.

She knew Lem Roderson's old Bess and, when she remembered kept a lump of sugar in her smock pocket for rtha aged beast.

"Hello Bess," she said cheerily and patted the nuzzling nose searching vainly for sugar.

And suddenly there he was. His hair as rumpled as she remembered it, his long legs clad in paint stained once-white flannels.

$6,500 Prizes Are Posted In Midland Show

MIDLAND, Aug. 3—A total of $6,500 in purses and prizes, including all entrance fees, will be offered contestants at the fifth annual Midland rodeo to be held at Midland Fair park September 2-3-4, according to the prize list and rule book published recently by the rodeo committee which is composed of Foy Proctor, chairman, Roy Parks, John Dublin, Donald Hutt and Leonard Proctor.

An addition of a cowpony relay race and a free-for-all horse race each afternoon to the regular bill of roping and riding events and special features has been announced, providing thrills of horse-manship not seen at a Midland rodeo in almost 10 years.

Principal rodeo events, in which ropers, riders and steer wrestlers may enter regardless of membership or non-membership in any rodeo organization, will include calf roping, team tying, bronc riding, steer riding, bareback bronc riding and steer wrestling. A Brahma cow milking scramble also has been added to the program.

For the junior cowboys, there will be a boy's calf roping. Calves will be tied, just as in the cowboy contest. The cowgirl sponsors contest will be another colorful feature.

Other novelty acts will be carded for the three afternoon and night performances of the rodeo.

Stock to be used in this year's show will be the "saltiest" ever used here, plenty of thrills and spills being promised. Purchased recently for usage in the team tying and bull dogging, 72 head of Mexican steers are now being grazed on Midland pastures, the stock being described as "rough and tough." Boutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., will furnish the bucking horses and bucking steers, having assembled this year a wicked lot of animals for both riding events.

Double Heart Rodeo Will Open Friday

SWEETWATER, Aug. 3—The ninth annual Double Heart Ranch Rodeo and Cowboy Reunion is to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the ranch headquarters 10 miles south of Sweetwater on Highway 70.

Ollie Cox, owner and manager, has arranged a number of special features to this year's program, including buffalo riding for cowboys courageous enough to tackle one of the herd he recently purchased for the show from an Oklahoma ranchman; a dance Friday and Saturday night, with music furnished by "The Men of the Range," well-known Texas radio orchestra; cowgirl sponsors, in three races daily; and clowning by "Tinhorn Hank" Kennan of Lamar, Colo.

Cox is offering more than $2,500 in prizes, plus an expensive saddle, pair of boots and spurs to the three men with the highest day averages. The show is restricted to cowboys actually employed on West Texas ranges.

BUYS A BARGAIN

ATLANTA, Aug. 3 (AP)—When W. H. Wilson took time off from his lunch stand to attend a railroad auction of unclaimed baggage he took a fancy to a trunk, got it on a $4 bid, contents unseen.

In the trunk Wilson found bonds and securities he said, valued at "over $1,000."

ELECTROCUTED

PANA, Ill., Aug. 3 (AP)—Don Bolton, 29, Boston, Tex., welder working alone on the night shift at the Pana Refining company, was electrocuted shortly after midnight.

Watchman Frank Clemens found Bolton's body, one hand on a machine on contact with a wire carrying 220 volts, at 2 a. m. Authorities said he had been dead 90 minutes.

Bolton is survived by his mother, brother and sister near Beeton.

YOU'D BAWL, TOO—There's no doubt as to the feelings of 16-month-old Rodney Hemenway, who wails that it's not any fun to be homeless, along with some 55 others in a $200,000 fire at Dover, N. H. He's on his sister's lap.

At 79, Frank Norfleet, Nemesis Of Confidence Men, Still Able Chronicler Of His Experiences

FRANK NORFLEET "The Patience of Job"

Frank Norfleet, Hais Center rancher who personally accounted for 93 members of a confidence ring that bilked him of an $80,000 life's accumulator in 1919, is still fit material at 79 for the lecture platform.

His motions and steps less agile than they were two decades ago, Norfleet nevertheless commands a ready audience when he levels down with his sharp eyes and begins adding to his story out of a rich store of gestures.

In an impromptu appearance before the old settlers here last week, he kept his crowd intensely interested and led them through laughter and excitement with wild tales of pioneer days in this section.

Always Adventure

Nothing prosaic happens to Norfleet. He recalled that he arrived in Sweetwater the day the first train arrived and that a quartet of cowboys, engaged for some reason, hauled the engineer out of the cab and inflicted a surface cut across the man's throat. Norfleet, only a lad, "thought I was in the wild West."

He rode on through "big spring" in 1879 and saw only a few tents belonging to buffalo hunters. He out north to the Panhandle and worked for three years "without seeing a woman." Later he married and settled in Hale county, where he prospered until confidence men talked him out of everything he had.

the crowd was noisy enough to make hearing the pioneers over a public address system difficult. But the small, gray haired, mustached man quietly put a stop to that with a neat spell binding act.

They listened with their mouths open until he modestly explained his man-hunting success as being "just an old time cowpuncher with the patience of Job." Evidently, he has a lot more on the ball than patience.

Control Of Water Runoff An Aid To Moisture Supply

LAMESA, Aug. 3—Farming practice that controls runoff water also helps farmers to get the maximum benefit from rainfall during periods when they need moisture most, according to Hoyt Turner, an engineer of the soil conservation service area at Lamesa.

Since a vegetative cover is necessary on land at all times to prevent both wind and water erosion, and much of the rainfall comes in heavy downpours of brief duration, any practice which controls runoff also aids in controlling erosion. This is exactly what the practices being demonstrated in the area are designed to do.

Properly constructed terraces and contour tillage operations prevent runoff on cultivated land, while contour furrows and ridges, diversion structures and water spreading systems serve the same purpose on range land. Each provides a mechanical barrier which slows the flow of water or impounds the rainfall, thereby permitting the moisture to soak into the soil to become available for plant use.

"When water is permitted to run off the land during heavy rains, this moisture is lost for plant use on the land upon which it fell," Turner points out. However, he says, "if this water is controlled by mechanical structures and stored in the soil, the moisture is available to alleviate the damage to crops or grass during periods of extended drought."

"Evidence of the value of conserving moisture may be seen on contour-tilled and terraced farms and on contour-furrowed pastures in this area. Where moisture has been conserved fields usually have an even crop stand, and pastures have a denser growth of grass along the furrows."
