Wedding Announcement

Dave Gilmer of Briscoe and Mrs. Mary Burks of Wheeler, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Mary Nell to Mr.

Bobby Finsterwald son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Finsterwald of Mobeetie.

Both are Seniors at Briscoe High School.

The wedding is planned for June 20.

A Letter from Er...

All reports now days say the Texas Panhandle is very much in need of moisture to insure a better prospect for a good wheat crop.

I lived in Wheeler Co. for 60 years my experience is pretty safe to count on 50 per cent of the time a short or near failure of a good yield of coarse after commercial fertilizers were used helped. But then the over production was a problem.

Those dry years were as sure to come as 2 and 2 are four.

Now you farmers keep your chin up and plant enough potatoes now. Soon enough for home consumption also you good housewives raise and hatch some frying chickens. My appetite is real good when I see a 3 pounder thoughtfully fried on the table Sunday, or week day makes no difference.

My oldest daughter's husband had an appointment at El Paso, Texas a distance of 45 miles from Los Cruces. Had to go, told me to come along the Rodeo was an 8 day affair commencing at 8:00, tickets $2.00 to $4.00 each. We were there in nice comfortable heated building with thousands of people all comfortably seated and saw 402 contestants perform. People there nearly every state in the Union. Some of the saltiest Broncho I ever saw some of the best riders, a fellow from Warner, Okla. preform also Andy Taylor from Allison. Taylor got the big money one night when we were not there.

When I was here a year ago, pinto beans were 4 lbs. for 60c yesterday 1 lb. were priced $2.50, you see if a fellow is busy easy to realize how it has named.

Some of you might remember I often said that the Lord might punish us for plaining about the overproduction and not let us have enough. God made me a laughing and a heart high knowing what life is bring me by and by. He laughs last laughs best.

DISTRICT 4-H Food Show

4-H'ers from all over the Texas Panhandle gathered at Bonham Junior High School in Amarillo Saturday, April 6 for the District 4-H Food Show. Wheeler County was represented by six of our top winners in our County 4-H Food show. These 4-H'ers were: Zana Collins, Kimberly Hathaway, Teri Collins, Debbie Dyson, Kathleen Selby and Sally Stacy.

The competition was tough and the judges had to be very selective since there were about 150 4-H'ers entered. Five of our 4-H'ers brought home ribbons and Sally Stacy from Shamrock received a blue ribbon.

KING'S KOMMENTS

By Dan King - CEA

Instead of staking and pruning tomatoes this year, use wire cages to support the plants. Caging rather than staking and pruning offers the home vegetable gardener several advantages, including less sun burn of the fruit, fewer disease problems and higher yields, all with much less work. The cages can be constructed from concrete reinforcing wire, hog wire or any other sturdy wire mesh that has openings of at least four to six inches and is three and a-half to five feet wide. Cut and bend the mesh material into cylinders 16 to 20 inches in diameter, fasten the ends together and snip off the bottom rung so the cages can be pushed into the ground about six inches deep for support.

If you can't get PIONEER Brand 8311 here are some excellent alternative hybrids for High Plains farmers.

Pioneer Brand 8311, the "Golden Bronze Yield Leader," has been our most popular hybrid this year - so popular, in fact, that it may be in short supply in some areas. One reason is that the demand has been so great downstate where 8311's disease tolerance is so important. Fortunately, there are several other Pioneer Brand hybrids that are proven top performers on the High Plains. If you can't get 8311, ask your dealer about these.

- PIONEER Brand 8417
This versatile yellow endosperm sorghum is a champion yielder in the medium-late maturity class, for irrigated or non-irrigated land. It has large open heads, uniform head height, strong stalks for easy threshing, good tolerance to smut and anthracnose.
- PIONEER Brand 820
This top-notch full-season hybrid, is a consistently high yielder. Excellent drought resistance and standability plus good roots and stalks make it a good choice for irrigated or non-irrigated farming on the plains.
- PIONEER Brand 828
One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, this full-season hybrid responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. Plains growers like it because it holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze. It produces sturdy stalks with semi-compact heads of dark red grain.
- PIONEER Brand 846
Famous for its versatility and adaptability, this medium maturity hybrid yields along with the full-season varieties. Resistant to smut, rust and MDM, its outstanding hybrid vigor and excellent drought resistance help it turn in consistently high yields even under stress.

CHATS WITH GLORIA

By Gloria Chambers - Asst. CEA - H.E.

Just recently we had our county and district 4-H Food Show. I thought you might like to try some of the winning recipes. This dish was entered by Sally Stacy who is in the Shamrock Stitch'n Striz Club.
Chuck Wagon Loaf
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 lb. pork
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. black pepper
2 whole eggs
1 cup cracker crumbs or bread crumbs
Mix all these ingredients thoroughly. Bake at 400 degrees. Bake 40 minutes.

This delicious salad prepared by Zana Corse from Mobeetie.
Cowboy Salad
1 can of ranch style beans, drained
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup french dressing
Let this mixture set overnight in refrigerator.
1 cup longhorn cheese
3 oz. corn chips
1 head lettuce chopped
2 tomatoes chopped
Put these things in jar before serving. This dish cost $1.98 to make and will serve about 8 people.

It's a wise consumer who knows the details about product he or she is buying. And, with continuing speculation about the rising cost of bread, the consumer deserves some explanation as to what makes up the cost of a loaf of bread, contends Dr. Carl Shafer, associate professor with the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University.

"First of all, let's look at the actual cost of the wheat going into a standard one-and-a-half pound loaf that sells for about 47c in the supermarket. That loaf contains a little less than a pound of wheat loaf, says Shafer.
The farmer gets about 8.5 cents for the wheat going into this loaf of bread (with a recent market price of wheat at $4.58 a bushel). The miller then adds his costs, which include a profit, and sells the wheat ground into flour to the baker for just over 11 cents.
In the baking process, according to Shafer, ingredients such as shorter non-fat dry milk and sugar are added that add about four cents to the cost of the one-and-a-half pound loaf.
That loaf is then sold to the retailer (the grocery supermarket) for about 47 cents, a spread of more than 24 cents which covers the baker's profit, transportation, advertising, overhead, packaging and the other cost. Add to that eight cents or so for the retailer's cost and profit and you have the 47c loaf.
"Looking back at the price the farmer gets for the wheat going into the one-and-a-half pound loaf and the price of the loaf on the grocery shelf, the retail-farm price spread is about 38.5 cents," notes Shafer.
"In regard to recent speculations that the cost of this standard loaf of bread might climb to about a dollar, we would have to see the price of wheat to the farmer jump to more than 60 cents, or about seven times the current price," calculates the Texas A&M University System economist.
"Based on the straight cost pass-through method of pricing bread described above, the price of wheat would have to approach $30.00 a bushel to push the price of bread to a dollar a loaf," notes Shafer.
In any event, the economist feels that one dollar bread based on wheat prices alone seems remote at present, because wheat futures prices from May through December 1974 are less than $5 per bushel.

The office of the County Superintendent, Wheeler, County, was abolished in an election December 19, 1973. It will be combined with the County Judge Office on January 1, 1975.

Wendell Morgan, who has been our County School Superintendent these past eight years is a candidate for County Judge and Ex-officio County Superintendent. We believe Wendell has the qualities needed to be our next County Judge. He has a proven record of fairness in the office of County Superintendent. He is trained in law and administration and has made himself available to our schools at all times.

With the two offices being combined, Wendell can carry on the work needed for our schools and give a greater amount of time to the office of County Judge. We urge you to vote for a proven man; one who will devote all his knowledge and efforts to the office of County Judge.

THE GAMBLING SIN IS DESTROYING AMERICA

Gambling in our country presents a black, dirty picture which should be exposed to every decent American citizen. It is a sin which enslaves and makes a man unfit for honest toil and normal earning. Every minister, every statesman, every teacher and every parent should speak out against this evil monster. Gambling is sinful in all its facets, from children matching pennies to adults risking thousands of dollars on horse races and card games.
Gambling undermines self-reliance by leading its devotees to depend for success upon luck and fortune instead of upon courage and self-reliant effort.
Gambling, like alcohol or dope, can become an addiction, and the person who is in its clutches is a pathetic thing to watch. Elderly widows have lost their inheritances at the bingo tables, and men with embezzled the boss's money and gone off to prison.
We can see the depths to which the gambling fever may plunge men when we behold the Roman soldiers casting lots at the foot of the cross for the garments of the Son of God. Christ did not gamble when He was on earth and He would not gamble if He were on earth today. I dare say that no reader of this could picture Jesus shooting the dice, playing the horses or selling a chance on a new automobile!
Many people who play games for "small stakes" are starting the gambling habit. But sin is alive and it grows. A "little" temptation yielded to leads to a greater temptation. "Each man is tempted, when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and the sin, when it is full grown, bringeth forth death." (James 1:14-15).
Remember, do not plant the seed of sin for if you do you must reap the harvest. We must teach our children that it is sinful to match for drinks, buy chances, play the pinball machines, and bet. They will respond to our teaching if we love them and demonstrate our own sincerity before them. Let us teach them to labor, working with their hands the things that are good, that they may have whereof to give to them that have need. (Eph 4:28).
Don't become addicted to Gambling, Paul says: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able

Sissy Speaks Out On the Issues!

Save Rural Texas

"I believe our rural areas should no longer suffer from the broken promises of those who put political rhetoric over actual performance.
 "I believe we must save rural Texas from continuing loss of population, profits, and vitality. I believe some public officials made a great mistake in trying to make rural Texas look more and more like urban Texas.

As Governor, Sissy will:

- propose program for complete tax reform which would encourage the use of rural land for agricultural purposes
- turn the attention of researchers in colleges and universities toward finding the answers to questions about how to make farming in Texas a more profitable business
- propose a program so that the Texas farmer or rancher can get the credit he needs to enter and stay in farming or ranching on a profitable basis.
