SHOW BARN ADVANCES

Joe Don King - CEA
The Wheeler County Livestock Show Barn is coming closer to reality. The primary purpose of the barn is to give Wheeler County 4-H and FFA members a place to exhibit the livestock projects that they work on for several months each year.

The proposed site for the barn is immediately north of the Texas Highway Department barn on Highway 83 North of Wheeler. Mr. David Britt, Chairman of the Finance Committee reported that the financial institutions of Wheeler County have agreed to do their part by purchasing the land for the barn.

In a special meeting Monday, March 25, the Commissioners Court told members of the Wheeler County Livestock Show Association that they wholeheartedly supported this project and they would pledge $40,000 to $50,000 dollars to help finance the barn. The Commissioners Court was told by Mr. Wallace Fields, spokesman for the Association, that the barn would require the cooperation of everyone in the County who is interested in Wheeler County youth and agriculture.

Kelton and Delbert Thomas, Wheeler.

Cancer Society To Make Drive Soon

Community who will handle the memorial gifts for that particular community. We feel that this will be a great help to the Cancer Society and Community.

Each year the President of the United States designates April as "Cancer Control Month." This is the time of year when your unit of the American Cancer Society asks for your support for its program of research, education, and service to cancer patients.

Mr. Tom Landry, Texas Cancer Drive Chairman, has designated the first week in April as Cancer Drive Week. All American Society Units will be preparing to make their drives in accordance with designated times set up.

The North Wheeler County Unit will be making their drive as soon as the plans can be laid. There will be workers in each community to call on you for your support in some way. Please welcome them and help in what ever way you can.

Funds given by Texans are spent for Cancer Research, Professional Education, Fellowships and Services, Public Education, Services to Cancer Patients, and for Program Development. Research is paying off. The most modern, sophisticated research weapons have been mobilized for the war against Cancer. Virtually every branch of medical and biological science is involved. The war is being fought in every direction — for prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation. Today there are more than 1,500,000 Americans alive who have been cured of Cancer. Countless additional thousands are being saved from Cancer through preventive action.

CHATS WITH GLORIA

By Gloria Chambers - Asst. CEA - H.E.
 From last week
 Spring is almost here bringing a new look to the great outdoors. Fashion also brings us a new look and a welcomed one it is. The emphasis is on femininity. Styles, fabrics, and accessories come together to create a totally soft and feminine appeal. The "klunky look" is dead.

 Thought You'd Like To Know:
 We now have a new fiber! The new generic name is "Novoloid" and is currently being manufactured by the Carborundum Company of Niagara Falls, New York, under the trade name "Kynof". Written together, "Kynof novoloid", will appear on labels just as other trade names and generic classifications. Such as Dupont's Dacron polyester.
 Novoloid has ingent properties resistant to heat and flame, is unfusible and non-flammable, unaffected by many acids, and insoluble in organic solvents. Novoloid should contribute significantly to useful and safe textile products for a variety of purpose.

 While our food bill is climbing higher and higher; our dollar is going lower and lower. It's very difficult to explain why we have this situation, and since I'm only a home economist and not a money economist I can only try to help with the food buying end.

 If you are going to make the best use of your food dollars, you're going to really have to work at it. Buy the basic foods first from the four food groups and the luxury items later. Purchase fewer convenience food items, it may take more time, but get back to Grandmothers' good home cooking. You might experiment with some of the great European and Oriental dishes; they were born out of the need to make a little go a long way. Don't waste food - cook and serve less, let your family ask for seconds, and if you do cook too much, save it. Store it carefully and use it the next day or two.
 Plan menus, read labels, and be a comparative shopper. When the total bill is added up, it will make a difference. This year the wise homemaker will can and freeze lots of fresh produce when it's in season.
 Here is an economical and delicious meat recipe; 1-1 pound can mackerel, drained and flaked
 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
 1 tablespoon minced onion
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 cup fine cracker crumbs
 Combine salmon, 2 eggs, bread crumbs, onion, salt and pepper. Chill. Shape into croquettes and dip in 1 egg beaten; roll in cracker crumbs. Fry in hot fat about 1/4 inch deep in heavy skillet over medium heat until brown turning once. Serves 4.
 From Asia we have Syrian Picket bread with our American Sloppy Joe filling. 1 package active dry yeast
 1 1/3 cups warm water (105 to 115) degrees
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon sugar
 1 tablespoon salad oil
 3 to 3 1/2 cups Gold Medal flour
 Commeal
 Dissolve yeast in warm water in bowl. Stir in salt, sugar, oil and 1 1/2 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Mix in enough remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Turn dough onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn greased side up. Cover; let rise in warm place until double, about 1 hour.

 Punch down dough; divide into 6 equal parts. Shape into balls. Let rise 30 minutes.
 Sprinkle 3 ungreased baking sheets with cornmeal. Roll each ball on lightly floured surface into circle 1/8 inch thick. Place 2 circles in opposite corners of baking sheet. Let rise 30 minutes. Heat oven to 500 degrees. Bake about 10 minutes or until puffed and light brown. Cut and fill each with 1 cup Sloppy Joe Filling; serve immediately or place hot bread plastic bags to keep moist and pliable until ready to serve.
 *Do not use self-rising flour in this recipe.
 Sloppy Joe Filling
 Cook and stir 1 pound beef and 3/4 cup chopped onion until beef is browned. Stir in 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. Simmer covered 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serves 6.

A Message to the High School and College Age Students of Wheeler... (and those who love them)
 From the President of West Texas State University

You are standing on the threshold... perhaps the threshold of greatness, but at least on the threshold of what can be a rewarding career. West Texas State University is also on the threshold... we think it is the threshold of greatness.

There is a new excitement on our campus. Everyone associated with the University tells me they feel it, students, faculty, alumni and our many boosters throughout the Panhandle.

The excitement started ten years ago when we achieved University status. We began getting many new facilities including a new library, science building, research center, classroom and administration buildings and a new Student Activities Center which is second to none in the United States. We have new programs of a dozen different kinds... even one for horsemanship.

Much of the money for these programs and facilities has come from individual citizens, companies and foundations. These benefactors say, in effect, that our area should be the site of a significant university... a university with facilities and programs which attract outstanding faculty and students from all over the nation, even the world.

WTSU is growing but it is not so big but that our teachers can take a personal interest in each student and relate to him as the individual he is. Though we have a higher percentage of Ph.D.'s on our faculty than most universities, (over 50%) our classes average fewer students than most, (under 20).

Our students are very much a part of making things happen at WTSU. They are interested, involved and excited. Their learning experience is bigger than the classroom... it is as big as life itself.

Tell us which of these areas of study interests you and we will tell you more about that program at WTSU. Clip this coupon and mail it to me personally. I'll see that you get the whole exciting story without obligating you in any way.

Lloyd Q. Watkins
 Dr. Lloyd Watkins, President
 West Texas State University
 P.S. Don't let financial considerations keep you from exploring the idea of coming to WTSU this summer or fall. Scholarships and other financial assistance are readily available.

KING'S KOMMENTS

By Joe Don King
County Extension Agent

Spring gardening season is at hand, and many homeowners are already preparing seedbeds and planting their favorite vegetables. Numerous vegetables which are tolerant to cold weather may be planted four or more weeks before the last frost date. These include beets, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions, Irish potatoes and turnips. Those less hardy which should not be planted until about the time of the last frost date include snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, cantaloupes, mustard, squash and tomatoes. Before planting, prepare the seedbed to a depth of 8 to 10 inches so that it is loose and not coarse and lumpy. Apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 12-12-12 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil. Then form the beds for planting. Plant as early as possible depending on the hardness of the particular vegetable crop. Select varieties well adapted to this country. Use transplants where possible to get the crop off to a head start. When planting seed, cover them with soil three to four times, their widest measurement, especially for big-seeded crops such as corn, beans, cucumbers and squash. Cover small seeds as carrots and lettuce with one-half to one-fourth inch of soil. Keep the soil moist to enhance germination but do not overwater. Once the crops are up, water them as needed so that the water penetrates the soil to a depth of at least six inches. Most gardens need about the same amount of moisture as delivered by one inch of rain a week during the growing season. Light sandy soils may require more frequent watering. Always water in the morning or at least not later than mid-afternoon so that plants will dry before night. This helps prevent foliage diseases. Weed control in a garden is important, and a large handled hoe is still the best tool around for this purpose. Remove weeds as they emerge to keep down reinfestations. Adding a mulch of the leaves, grass, bark, sawdust, peatmoss or other organic material around plants helps control weeds and reduces soil temperatures and moisture losses. Black plastic to detect early signs of insects and disease problems. When conditions warrant the use of insecticides, fungicides, apply only those that are recommended and approved. Always read the label on the container before using any chemical materials. Once your vegetable are approaching maturity check them closely. A table's full flavor develops only at full maturity, so invest your vegetables at peak maturity for their maximum flavor and nutritional content. "Never give fire a chance to start." Those should be the watchwords for any fire prevention program at home on the farm and during leisure-time activities and travel. Since people cause most fires, they can prevent most of them. In the house and building on the farm, get rid of possible fire hazards and to change habits that can be dangerous. Tour the house, barn, sheds, and other farm buildings and discard everything no longer needed, especially from storage areas where all sorts of "stuff" tends to accumulate. Keep in mind the fact that, in case of fire, the more fuel there is to feed the flames, the worse the fire will be. Next, check all buildings and see that hazards are corrected. Look for faulty electrical equipment and worn cords, combustible stored too near sources heat, defective cooking equipment, and heating systems that haven't been cleaned or inspected since last used. Finally, indoors and outdoors make a conscious effort correct habits like carelessness with smoking materials. Never smoke where there is hay and straw which handle gasoline. Never leave matches or lighters within the reach of small children. Do your share to help stop the fires which last year claimed some 11,000 lives in the United States and cost the nation an estimated $2.96 billion.

A Letter from Ern

Letter From Ern
It was a real nice day about Thanksgiving time when my son-in-law and my grandson asked me if I wanted to go to El Paso with them. Being I had nothing planned I said I guess I could. Not knowing anything of their affairs they drove around a while in El Paso, finally pretty well in the country, they stopped the rig. I saw a cage going up a mountain, on top was a television tower 300 feet tall. They said people rode that cage up there. I asked if two free? One of them said $1.50 and can stay as long as you please. I said don't like such monkey business. Anyway all 3 of us went as we were suspended between heaven and earth, I counted 8 people in the cage, I said, "seven of you are nearer heaven than you ever were, I am further from hell than I ever was." For another 25 cents you were allowed to gaze at Old Mexico, Texas and Arizona. I looked my eyes full of beautiful scenery. Except a field of golden grain and life sustaining things for man and beast. Bailing wire is scarce but I have seen enough bailing wire go to waste that was as good as new. Probable enough to make a 4 wire fence 500 miles long. People could do without tobacco and liquor but if farmers and ranchers are cut short of fuel for farming will be pitiful, my biggest interest is with farmers. You farmers plant some potatoes this month or next as that is what farmers are for. Super markets are essential for city people that work or people that are of no use like myself. Sometimes they can't help it, they are no good except to consume the surplus which no more exists. Yesterday February 5, was real windy from noon til sundown and dusty. In the spring time tis nothing unusual to farmers out trying to stop field from blowing. I can sympathize with farmers I sorta pretended to farm on a small scale for a period of years but now don't even pretend to. I have been here in Dona Ana Co., New Mexico 13 months. Seems potatoes and a few things are a little higher

EQUAL RIGHTS AMMENDMENT?

MEN AND WOMEN NOW SHARE SNAE JAIL CELL TOILET FACILITIES AND BATHROOMS

This is the result of the Equal Rights Amendment—"Lib Movement's" work. Human beings are being reduced to the level of barnyard animals.

Consider the following consequences and problems of the Equal Rights Amendment Movement. Equal Rights Amendment has

Here and There

By Laura Guthrie

Another patriarch has fallen. Mr. C. A. Whitener was an oak of the sturdiest kind. He was a man of the land and earned his lively-hood by the sweat of his brow. He and his wife reared a family worthy of his name. They grew up to be substantial citizens, adding their abilities and contributions to our community. A salute to pioneer families like the Whiteners.

I think it is a bit early for the swallows, but the Glen Williams are here. They closed their door in Mountainaire, New Mexico for a few months and are in our community. They left home on a warm spring day, but before they were settled the weather was wintry again. But they are here and the weather is warming. We are glad to have the Williams, even on part time terms.

The Methodist opened a short term revival Monday night. It was a treat to attend, and to know where some of our fine townsmen and their families worship. But do you know what I missed. It was a chorus of "Amens" after a wonderful rendition by the choir of "How Great Thou Art." Now you Methodist get on the ball. As a child I attended the Methodist church. I know that it is a trait of that sect to say Amen, and even to shout. I like it.

Lavelle Jake Stevens of Okla. City, visited her parents, the Marl Jacobs last weekend.

It is college semester break and a lot of the college kids are home. I apologize for not knowing you all. But the Ware girls are here from Texas Tech. Niki and Janice with her husband, Steve Barr. Louinda Verden, Carol Holt and Carla Marshall are also here.

The pastor of the local Baptist church, David Campbell is holding a revival in Wichita Falls this week. Mrs. Campbell and the children accompanied him and will spend the time with her parents at Henrietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Everet (Punk) Childress and children of Pampa visited her parents, the Adrian Risners, over the weekend.

Doreen Owen Club Hostess

The '54 Study Club met at the PCA Building with Mrs. Jake Holcomb as hostess. The business meeting was opened by the club president, Mrs. Pete Burton. The devotional was given by Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, Mrs. Fred Wood introduced the guest, Mrs. Sangaravim and her daughter Yammy. Yammy did three of her dance numbers.

Delicious refreshments were served to three guests Mrs. Jess Moore, Mrs. Sangaravim and Yammy and the following members: Mrs. C. C. Crowder, Mrs. Fre' Wood, Mrs. Pete Burton, Mrs. Betty Cox, Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, Mrs. Floyd Davidson, Mrs. Harvey Davis, and the hostess, Mrs. Jake Holcomb.

The McCraw's daughters, Mrs. H. C. Calhoun of Post, Texas and Mrs. Bea Thurman of Lubback spent from Thursday until Saturday passed in 32 of the 38 states required to make it law, to change the constitution. Read the following carefully.

1. The account was given in Bulletin of Constitution Study Group, Inc., Box 571, Willistown, N. Dak. 58801 of a white woman in Chattanooga, Tenn., who was placed in a jail cell with white and black men. Her case was a civil case between her and her husband. The black Man's case in the "bull pen" was of criminal nature. No sooner had the guards shut the door and the woman began to scream. They rushed back to find the man trying to rape her. Front headlines told of the account. Judge Harris in Chattanooga later gave the man 3 months for attempted rape, but really, whose fault was this?

2. The Ohio Supreme Court has ruled it unconstitutional to have separate bathrooms for men and women. Do you want your sons and daughters to share the same bathroom at school and at work?

3. The Phyllis Schlafly Report told of the Bank of America's long time protection for women who work after dark—giving her a taxi ride home. with the Equal Rights Amendment this had to be removed. Equality of sex removes not only differences physically but also protection.

4. Ohio and Vermont Women School Teachers won a battle in Supreme Court when it was declared unconstitutional for school boards to arbitrarily set the time when women teachers must give up their jobs during pregnancy. Suppose the Equal Rights Amendment is ratified, as it will be unless we get busy, a school board may rule that the woman is equal (men do not get maternity leaves.) She may lose her contract due to the leave, since it is not an illness.

5. The Equal Rights Amendment (Libbist) are demanding that churches remove sex from its ranks of religious order and they will be able to move in and demand women preachers and elders to govern the church of our Lord unless this movement is stopped.

6. There could be no such thing as a Woman's Club or a Girl's Organization with the Equal Rights Amendment. All clubs would be open to both sexes.

7. Women and men would have to share the same barracks equally and totally in peace time and in war.

8. The Equal Rights Amendment section 3, takes away state's rights to legislate in domestic areas, Invalidates all state's protective labor laws for women, Invalidates all state's family support laws, Eliminates all public and private single-sex schools, Destroys tax exemption status of churches unless the church government coincides with Federal Rules, and Will require 18 year old girls to register for the draft.

9. The Equal Rights Amendment will not improve on present equal pay for equal work laws, it will not insure segregation of sexes in public facilities, and it will not improve on laws Arizona passed last year eliminating all sex discrimination in our statutes.

Under the deceptive wording of "freedom according to race, color, creed, or sex not be denied" the Texas law was ratified. All have freedom except the sexes and it passed. The ratification should have read "The provision of this article shall not be construed to impair any rights, benefits or exemptions conferred by law upon persons of the female sex." The Libbist do not want this qualification, but it is our salvation.

Now, how do we fight this urgent battle to protect the decency and honor of the church, the nation, the home and the individual?

Here is what we can do to get the Equal Rights Amendment overturned and restore womanhood to its proper place again. Get every adult you know to write a letter to their representative and senators. Write it in your own handwriting. Sample Letter:

Dear _____
I am writing you, requesting that you use the good influence of your office to overturn the Equal Rights Amendment, so that the women of our nation will not be forced to share all public services and accommodations equally with men and impelled to endure all other degrading situations that the Equal Rights Amendment would force upon us.

Sincerely,
Your name here

FRANCES FARENTHOLD for GOVERNOR

Statement of Frances "Sissy" Farenthold On Public School Finance

In my campaign for Governor in 1972, I recognized the tremendous amount of information about school finance in Texas which was known at that time. The Rodriguez case had served to focus the attention of most Texans on this very important issue, and we were awaiting a decision by the United States Supreme Court on this case. At that time I said I sincerely hoped that all of this research and the citizen interest in school finance would "serve as the springboard for the significant reform of our public school system which we all know Texas needs so desperately."

Obviously, this very serious problem in education is still with us after two long years. I believe the current Governor of Texas remains as the one greatest obstacle any meaningful solution of this problem. In my opinion, nothing of public concern in this state has been as scandalous as the disregard of the school crisis. It is not enough that more money has been appropriated by the Legislature to our public school system, for inflation will nullify much of the intended effect of these additional funds and still nothing has been done which will eliminate the disparities and inequities in our educational system. I believe sufficient information was available last year to enable us to construct a system of school finance which would be equitable and which would guarantee equal educational opportunity to all the children of Texas, but nothing was done. From the beginning of his term in office the current governor has been on the periphery of the efforts by those who would emphasize performance over promises. Texas is now involved in more "study" of the problem, and I say it is time the State government committed itself to a course of "action" which is in the best interests of the people of Texas.

Some of my suggestions for solving the school finance problem are not new. In fact, in 1972 I proposed that we "correct the inequities of the property tax...employ measures of allocation which will recognize the varied needs and backgrounds of the school children and cost differentials among Texas school districts...and that we finance public schools as a function of the State government so that funding of educational programs is done on the basis of the wealth of the State as a whole." I believe a revised financing system for public education should provide for funding on an equitable basis; insure equal educational opportunity for each person; use the wealth of the State as a whole as the basis for funding; recognize the different funding needs of children with handicaps or special talents; recognize the varied costs of education-related expenditures in different parts of the state; and take into account the fact that local governments in Texas differ as to the percentage of the local property tax revenues which are used for education.

I want to lead Texas out of the bottom ranks of the states in terms of the amount we spend on quality educational endeavors. I want Texas to pay its teachers salaries for which we will not be embarrassed when compared to other states. I want every school-age child and every parent in this State to be able to feel confident that Texas offers the best educational opportunities available anywhere. But most importantly, I want to see our problem in this area solved. I am fully confident that a combined effort of Texans at the State and local level can end this crisis and avoid further waste of talents and abilities of our children of Texas.

I believe the time for political rhetoric about "studying the problem must come to an end. Sure, the revision for this complicated system will not be easy. It will require a great amount of energy and dedication on the part of our people. But the fact is, we can succeed if the effort is made.

Bargain Jargon
"Real" bargains aren't always easy to detect, so consumers often fall into "traps". Telling the dif- ference between a good deal and shady one takes certain precautions--and knowing some "bargain jargon".
Mr. C. V. McCraw is doing better.

First, become familiar with what we call 'bargain jargon'--these are merch- ant 'lines' or wording used to explain price reductions. For example, determine how much an item is re- duced. A raincoat marked "Reduced to $9.90" isn't such a bargain if it was $10 originally. Also watch for terms like "as is" "imperfect" or "second." These usu- ally indicate less-than- perfect merchandise. When considering such items, examine each article and decide whether it's acceptable or repairable. Another common "deal" states, "Buy three--get one free" or "Two for the price of one." Although honest mer- chants offer such legiti- mate deals, a scheme raises the item's regular price--eliminating or re- ducing savings on the free item. Beware of stores that have been "going out of business" for years. A shady dealer thrives on such sales by offering sub-standard goods at in- flated prices. Another dishonest mer- chant technique is attract- ing people to the store by advertising tempting spe- cials. Once inside, he tries to sell them a higher-pr- iced item--claiming the advertised one was sold out, unsuitable or no good. However, in Texas it's illegal for stores to adver- tise an item if they don't intend to sell the item. Texas law also requires stores to have a large en- ough supply of an adver- tised item to meet reason- able public demand--unless the ad specifies a limited quantity. Avoid the false adver- tising trap by shopping before buying, patronizing reputable dealers, and knowing some "bargain jargon".
