TEXAS TALK

By George Richardson

Cattlemen's crossed fingers have been in evidence lately as the market for fed cattle has made a significant recovery. Optimism for continued recovery however, is harder to find than a prime steak. Two factors are most often quoted... one is the tremendous drop in fed cattle inventories (those in the feedlot for more than a snack) was bound to be noticed by those restaurants and consumers used to buying high choice or prime meat and two, is that many consumers who were used to choice, aged beef have had their taste buds converted to grass fed light weights and as a result the demand for top grades will never be as great as earlier. Conclusion, things got a whole lot better for a little while but are beginning to level off. Hopefully the market will settle at a point suiting both the cattlemen and the consumer, plenty of choice and prime cuts for the right price and plenty of grass fed or lightly finished cuts to help save a little.

Patterson - Simmons Vows

In the First Baptist Church of Wheeler, Texas on July the 10th at eight o'clock p.m. Dolores LeOrne Patterson became the bride of Weldon Virgil Simmons. Bro. David Campbell, pastor of the church, officiated the double ring ceremony.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Simmons, both of Wheeler.

"Wedding Song" and "Why" were sung by Cosette Holland of Gaymon, Oklahoma. Mrs. Sylvia Lee played the organ.

The Church was decorated in the brides chosen colors of pink and burgandy. Pink and white carnations placed in a stand with burgandy ribbons were in front of the organ and piano. A candelabra with pink candles, greenery and burgandy ribbons was placed on both sides of the altar. Ribbons of pink and burgandy were attached to the pews in the center aisle.

The father gave the bride away with "Her mother and I" vows. The bride was attired in a formal floor length gown of chantilly lace with a satin under skirt. The fitted bodice made of chantilly lace was accented by a v-shaped waist line in the front with satin ribbons to tie in back. The skirt was tiered with only one tier in back and a chapel length train line with sequins. The two layer waist length veil was trimmed with chantilly lace. The crown of the veil was lined with tiny white beads. She carried a bouquet of baby red roses, white and pink baby carnations, and baby's breath atop a white Bible. The bride carried out the tradition of something old--great grandmothers handkerchief, something new--her dress, something borrowed--white Bible, and something blue--her garter.

Betsy Brickey of Wheeler served as Maid of Honor. Delise Johnson, Contessa Lewis, and Nancy Giddens, all of Amarillo, served as brides maids. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of roses with baby pink and white carnations. The brides maids carried a similar nosegay of the same flowers. Their floor length dresses were of a light pink with dark pink flower design. Mary Lewis of Amarillo and Melissa Edwards of Wheeler lighted the candles. Their dresses were identical to those of the Brides attendants and they wore a wrist corsage.

Amy Lewis of Amarillo was the flower girl. She carried a basket of white carnation petals. She wore a dress identical to those of the attendants, also.

Mrs. Melanie Simmons of Wheeler registered the guests.

James Vise of Wheeler served as Best Man. Jack Johnson of Amarillo, Steve Simmons of Wheeler, and Wesley Bradstreet of Amarillo served as groomsmen.

Walter Simmons and Tim Patterson both of Wheeler ushered the guests to their seats.

Davey Johnson of Amarillo was the ring bearer. He carried a white pillow of satin with the rings attached.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table was covered with a white table cloth. The three tiered cake

Lines From LINDA

Linda Horton - Asst. Co. Too many garden fresh vegetables present a problem to homemakers with limited freezer space or canning equipment, but the homemaker can try drying them.

Fruits and vegetables can be preserved by drying - the oldest method known to mankind. Drying is moving enough moisture from the food to prevent spoilage, because both enzymes and microorganisms require moisture.

Although many different recommendations for types of drying treatments and the "trial and error" approach may be best to find which technique works in certain situations.

Drying methods include sun-drying, oven drying and sun (solar) heaters. Successful drying depends on enough heat to draw out moisture, but not enough to cook the food material. It's also necessary to have dry air absorb released moisture and air circulation to carry off the moisture.

Sun drying was invented at the same time as agriculture. Man dried fish, meat and fruit to preserve them for another day.

In the 13th century, Genghis Khan's nomadic warriors sun-dried more milk to a lightweight powder and put some of it in a water filled saddle bag at the beginning of each day's journey, the joggling of the horse stirred the mixture to make the porridge by nightfall.

Today sun-drying for preservation is especially important to underdeveloped nations. In Turkey eggs made from cow or buffalo milk is sun-dried into a chalky powder that can be stored indefinitely.

To this is added flour, bits of carrots, beans or pepper. Boiling in water reconstitutes it to produce a stew containing most of the original ingredients, except Vitamin C which sunlight destroys.

Although drying preserves food, it also affects taste - not always for the best.

Two fruits that do have agreeable flavors are prunes and raisins, which are dried plums and grapes. Drying almost always causes some loss of nutritional quality. A few vitamins, particularly, tend to be destroyed or depleted by the light of sun-drying.

Fruits that may be dried include apples, apricots, berries, cherries, dates, figs, grapes, nectarines, peaches, pears and plums.

Vegetables that may be dried include lima beans, green and red chile peppers, corn, onions, peas, pumpkins, Hubbard squash and herbs for seasoning.

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Wheeler County, Texas, at the courthouse thereof, in Wheeler, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of 42 days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 15th day of September, 1975, at Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court on the 1st day of August, 1975, in this cause, numbered 7082 on the docket of said court and styled Getty Oil Company, plaintiff, v. Here & There

By Laura Guthrie
 I apologize to my readers and to those who contribute news items for being so slack in reporting. I have had a lot of pressure, and pressure is one thing that throws me for a loop. Let's hope that things move along more easily now, and I'll try to stay in the groove. Some of this week's items date back a couple of weeks, but I'm sure you will be interested anyway.
 Something over two weeks ago the C. J. VanZandt left their ranch home west of Wheeler, where they had resided for many years, and moved to Clarendon. We hate like everything to lose these people from our community. But time changes things, and the VanZandts decided it was time to make a change. Just before they left Mary Finsterwald invited a few friends to her house for a barbeque hamburger supper. Mary did the hamburgers and the rest of us took salad, ice cream, etc. Those enjoying the occasion were, the honorees, Van and Mary Hazel VanZandt, Harold and Eloise Kenady, Maryland Nash, Grace Porter, Vida Brown, Reba Wofford, Ida Farmer and Laura Guthrie. We had a mighty good time.
 Mrs. C. W. Whiteley has had a grand vacation this summer. She has returned from an extended trip to Hayward, Calif., where she visited her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carr. In Fresno she spent some time with T. W. Whiteley, and in San Francisco she visited her sister, Mrs. Floy Hughes. In Albuquerque she visited another sister, Ruby Elston. Mrs. Whiteley made the trip by air, was gone seven weeks and said she had a great time.
 Recently the descendants of the G. B. Cole family had a reunion in Springfield, Colo. The Coles were early settlers in Wheeler, coming here in 1916. They were very active and instrumental in establishing the Methodist Church, the school, and other community activities. At the reunion, Mr. and Mrs. Bun Cole celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Norma Cole Bramhall, of Seattle, Washington, attended and then came to Wheeler for a visit. Clarence Robison, son-in-law of the Coles attend the affair.
 I know a lot of people attended the Old Settlers Reunion at Mobeetie. But Mrs. Clarence Killingsworth says "It was a great day for me." She continues, "By-gone days were revived with some people we had not seen for fifty years. We very much enjoyed the good singing and fellowship." Of course husband Clarence was in on all this.
 It was a bit sad to see the Clint Starkey house leave the corner where it had been resting so long. But maybe it was tired of just sitting. It has gone to the country, where it will be revived and have people moving about in it. Some of these days the Clarence Killingsworth will be building a new house on this vacated corner at 1100 Main.
 A few weeks ago the Paul Shumate family had a reunion at the Scout Camp. The highlight of that celebration seems to have been Cordie Shumate taking a motorcycle ride.
 Roger Cole of Amarillo, son of Everett and Clara Cole, spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Cole.
 Mary Finsterwald has returned from a two weeks trip with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson. The Wilsons live in Wichita Falls. Mary joined them as they came through Wheeler. They visited a brother, C. J. and Alma Cook at Hurley, N. M. In Tuscon, Arizona and Merced, Calif. they visited the Wilson's daughters.

 Ida Farmer has returned from an extended trip. She accompanied her brother, Jake Caddell, and family through the Northwestern area of the States. They toured Idaho Springs, Colo Yellowstone National Park, through Montana and Idaho, visiting Lewiston, Ida, and Clarkston, Wash. On the return they visited Ida's son Glen and family in Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, and toured the Black Hills in S. D. "Great", said Ida.
 Well, I got out of town last week. With the grandchildren, Steve and Melinda, I spent two days with my sister, Lena and Charlie Herring who live on a farm near Tulia. It just so happened (?) that I got there as the corn, peas, peppers, watermelons, etc. were in full production. My car was slightly loaded on the return trip. The following Sunday I drove to Barger to visit a brother, Lewis and Anne Mae Wimberly who had recently moved to that city. I also visited with a niece Lois Killingsworth.
 I have been so flattered the last few days. Old friends have gone out of their way to come by to visit with me. On Thursday, Glen and Thelma Hibbits of Arlington came by. A good many years ago the Hibbits were our right hand people at the Rogue Theatre. The lma ran the concession, with the help of son, Nick. Another son George was projectionist. Glen worked at the Lumber Company, but was always handy when we needed extra help. On Friday, Murray and Willene Fuquay of Midwest City, Okla. dropped by. In the early forties Murry resigned his place as pastor of the Baptist church in Wheeler and entered the Military Service as Chaplain. Since his discharge from the Service he has been in Midwest City, first as pastor and presently serving as chaplain and counselor at city hospitals. The Fuquays also visited Irene Dyer and other friends. Another friend, Helen Hollaway had bee here during the week but was called to Monroe, La. on the death of a brother-in-law.
 Maud Chaffin, of Dallas had the misfortune of having to spend most of her time she was visiting with her sister, Grace Pettit, in the hospital. Just as she was released the Pettits were called to Mo. due to the death of Shelby's brother, so she spent the time with Ida Farmer.
 Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Roark, of Allister, Okla., arrived in Wheeler last Fri. their furniture hasn't arrived so they are at present with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roark. In a few days they will be settled at 508 Comanche.
NEW ARRIVAL
 Mr. and Mrs. James Hefley of McLean, Texas are the proud parents of a new daughter, Holly Brooke, born August 15, 1975. She weighed 6 pounds 4 ounces.
 Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Seitz of Mobeetie and Mrs. Frances Hefley of Briscoe. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Meadows of Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Pond of Canyon.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Puryear returned home this week after a three week vacation. They went to El Paso, Tex. the Rio Grand Valley then thru Arizona on to San Diego and Los Angeles, California where they visited Helen, Jeffrey and Julie Puryear. While there they went to Del Mar Park.
 On the way back they spent a week in Las Vegas, Nevada. Then on through Utah and Colorado.

BURCH Family Reunion

The descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Burch held a reunion in the home of Mrs. Wilber Beck last weekend and early this week. Canning News

We have good home canning news for a change! Home canning lids are being distributed through the mail by Goodwill Industries and the Commerce Department. The address is: Goodwill Industries of Minneapolis, 3800 Washington Avenue N., Minneapolis, Minn. 55412.

A check or money order in the amount of $5.00 will cover the cost of nine dozen lids ($4.00) and mailing ($1.00). The Homemakers should order lids only if they need for this year's canning season. The manufacturer are "catching-up" with the need so that next year's supply should be adequate. Two or three homemakers may want to share an order to avoid over-buying.

NEWS OF HEALTH

CARNIVALS TO CONQUER DISEASE

Step right up, folks, and see some of the nicest people you'd ever hope to meet engage in a no-holds-barred attack on a vicious crippling, muscular dystrophy. They're the kids who stage backyard carnivals, the children's TV personalities who inspire the youngsters, and the everyday people in communities across the country whose support puts the Carnivals Against Muscular Dystrophy program over the top.

Expected to be the most successful yet, the 1975 Carnival program will raise funds to support the camp program of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. In addition to its life-giving patient service and research programs, the voluntary health agency maintains 64 summer and winter camps in 35 states attended by both children and adults afflicted by muscular dystrophy and related disorders.

The '75 Carnivals season will have to go some to beat the 1974 record as the most successful in the 14-year history of the project. Last year, 150,000 youngsters participated, organizing more than 42,000 carnivals in towns and cities across the country. With 193 television stations and radio outlets cooperating, 1974 Carnival income was $1,462,735.

Serving again as National Carnivals Chairman is exuberant "Skipper" Chuck Zink, children's TV personality of Miami, Fla. WTUV. "Skipper" says that one of the program's aims of the 1975 program will be to expand its activities throughout the South and Midwest, and to major cities on both coasts.

Among the entertainment and sports backing the Carnival program are Chad Everett, Bob Griese, David Hartman, Florence Henderson, Ann Johnson, Michael Landon, and Karen Valentine.
