

Congressmen Parting With Truman Bills

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Administration leaders who lost two major battles on the senate jobless pay bill expressed confidence today they will win a third contest. It involves paying the way home for stranded war workers.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) set up the fight by proposing to strike from the measure a section granting travel allowances up to $200 to send these workers back home or to a new job.

McClellan told a reporter before the senate gathered for what was expected to be its last day of debate on the emergency measure: "It would permit travel payments without any showing of need, irrespective of the high wages a worker may have been drawing."

Debate so far has shown little opposition to the proposal beyond McClellan's.

There was crushing opposition yesterday to two major recommendations by President Truman:

1. A vote of 51 to 29 rejected his proposal that the federal government supplement state jobless benefits to assure a top of $25 a week in every state.
2. A vote of 56 to 23 favored returning to the states activities of the United States Employment Service. These were taken over by the government early in the war, and Mr. Truman had asked that they be retained in federal hands until July 1, 1947.

Those two votes were the first important defeats on Capitol Hill for the Truman administration.

Major features in the bill as it stands are three:

1. A proposal to extend to 26 weeks the duration of state payments to the jobless. The government would supply extra funds as needed.
2. To grant unemployment compensation, wholly at federal expense, to 2,900,000 federal civil employees and 400,000 maritime workers. They would be paid the rates of the state in which they worked.
3. The travel pay allowances.

The voting lineup yesterday showed that many democrats were ready to leave party ranks on major issues.

Tax-Cutting May Wipe Out Levies For Many

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A compromise tax-cutting plan that would wipe out income levies for some 5,000,000 persons began to take form today.

It also would scale down tax bills for all individuals as well as corporations.

This development came amid mixed congressional reaction to a proposal by the committee on postwar tax policy for an ultimate slash of more than 50 per cent in present tax collections.

The policy committee, a private study group, called for immediate repeal of the three per cent "normal" tax on individual incomes and elimination of the wartime excess profits tax on corporations.

The compromise reported under discussion within the congress's own tax staff would provide:

1. Retention of the "normal" tax but with a 1946 exemption of $500 for the taxpayer and each person dependent on him. The present $500 flat exemption gives the taxpayer no credit for dependents. The new plan would apply the same exemptions for the normal tax as is now used for the surtax and would relieve about 5,000,000 low-income families from further federal income taxes.
2. An "across the board" reduction in all individual taxes, probably by 10 per cent. This would give each person a flat cut—in addition to the new system of exemptions for the normal tax.
3. Reduction, if not repeal, of the corporation excess profits taxes.

CAA Recommends American Airlines Non-Stop Flights

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner recommended today that American Airlines, Inc., be permitted to fly non-stop between Oklahoma City and Tucson and between Oklahoma City and Phoenix.

Examiner James S. Smith said in a report that the operations would save time and mileage for practically all American's trans-continental traffic.

The non-stop operations, if flown over a straight-line course, would save 104 miles for Oklahoma City-Phoenix flights and 27 miles for Oklahoma City-Tucson flights, the examiner said.

American does not plan to fly a straight-line course on either of the non-stop services at the outset. Under its immediate operation plans flights between Oklahoma City and Phoenix will proceed via Amarillo, Tex., Albuquerque, N. M., and Winslow, Ariz.

Point System To Be Abandoned Last Of Winter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—General George C. Marshall told congress today that the point system of demobilization of soldiers can be abandoned by winter.

The army chief of staff advised a joint senate-house meeting that the present discharge score of 80 points could be lowered to 70 points by Oct. 1 and to 60 points by Nov. 1.

"We may reach a point in late winter when the point system will cease and all men with two years service will be released," Marshall said.

Gen. Marshall carefully reviewed the military manpower program since the start of the war. He asserted that the sudden Japanese surrender had nullified extensive plans for a huge invasion of Japan on Nov. 1. That surrender, he explained, had reversed numerous personnel plans for the army.

Marshall assured congress that demobilization was going forward as rapidly as possible. He said there was no relationship between the rate of discharge of men from the army and war department plans for a postwar army.

Any such postwar plan, he told congress, can wait until the middle of next year.

Marshall predicted that 450,000 soldiers would be released during September and 550,000 during October. Thereafter the release will be at a rate from 700,000 to 800,000 a month.

Marshall reported that both General Dwight Eisenhower, commander in the European theater, and General Douglas MacArthur, army head in the Pacific, had vigorously protested when the initial 85 point discharge score was reduced to 80 points. The theater commanders contended that key leadership personnel, such as master sergeants, technical sergeants, and cooks, were among the long service veterans who would be entitled to release first, Marshall said.

"It (the 85 point score) took away the first team, and a point reduction took away the second team," the general said. "Further reduction would take everyone away."

B-29 Flight Out By 50 to 1 Shot

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Beaten by a 50 to 1 shot, Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles believes the Japan to America non-stop run soon will be flown in both directions—and often.

Giles led a flight of three stripped-down B-29s in an unsuccessful attempt to reach Washington from Sapporo, Japan, without a pause.

The big Superfortresses had to sit down at Chicago late yesterday to take on fuel after stubborn headwinds blew away their chances some 6,100 miles and 26 hours after their take-off. "We hit weather you wouldn't hit once in 50 times," Giles said after the planes covered the remaining 600 miles to Washington in just over two hours.

General of the Army H. H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air Forces, said the object was to see what could be expected from the B-29.

The plane commanded by Giles, deputy commander of United States Strategic Air Forces in the Pacific, reached Chicago 26 hours and 25 minutes after leaving Mizutani airport in Japan. It averaged about 231 miles an hour.

THIRD FLEET RETURNING AS OCCUPATION GOES SMOOTHLY

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Several thousand American navy men headed for home aboard 17 Third fleet warships today, while General MacArthur's headquarters reported army occupation forces would increase to 400,000 before dropping to his predicted 200,000 "duration" total—and Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger said he couldn't have asked for an easier occupation.

Speaking of the smoothness of the occupation, he pointed out that: "We've naturally been hardened by years of combat, but we are not so rough that we want to mistreat civilians who obey our every demand with a bow."

The Japanese already have disarmed and demobilized three-fourths of their homeland army although there are only 150,000 Allied troops in Japan thus far to oversee the process, MacArthur's headquarters reported.

Troops will continue to pour into Japan through September, October, November and December until about 400,000 have arrived by the end of the year, they reported.

In Washington, Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson remarked sharply that the United States government, not the occupation forces under MacArthur, is determining American policy toward Japan.

MacArthur's staff officers pointed out that thus far the occupation has been without incident and that elimination of what MacArthur called "the unknown quantity of the initial operation" permitted new planning for the future.

Big Five Take Up Finn Treaty Before Balkans

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Big Five foreign ministers conference discussed the non-controversial issue of a treaty with Finland today before plunging into the complex problem of Balkan peace pacts.

John Foster Dulles, an advisor on the American delegation and specialist on foreign affairs in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign last year, meanwhile was considering a request from Secretary of State Byrnes to make a tour of the continent to gather an independent report for use of the state department in shaping policies.

Britain and Russia, signatories of the armistice with Finland, carried the main burden in today's discussions on that country. Since questions relating to territory and reparations already were defined in the armistice, the drafting of a treaty is primarily a question of procedure.

The council, after deciding last night to refer the problems of the Italian peace draft to deputies for further study, turned its attention to treaties with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

The Balkan problem may be tougher even than the Italian. Both the United States and Britain are on record as determined not to recognize the existing predominantly communist governments in the three states, while Soviet Russia holds that the governments are representative. The crux of the issue is the long-standing question of the Russian unilateral influence in eastern Europe.

A reliable source said the United States delegation was ready to present a memorandum to the session repeating its insistence that the Yalta agreement against unilateral action in the Balkans be carried out.

The council announced last night it had reached substantial agreement on the Italian-Yugoslav boundary dispute, and had turned over to the deputies the problem of drawing an actual boundary line. A communiqué said Trieste, now in Italian hands, would become an international port, with each nation retaining sovereignty over peoples speaking its language.

ENJOYING VACATION

Must Prevent "Mistake"

AMBASSADOR TO US HOPES JAPAN WILL RID HERSELF OF MILITARISTS

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura, ambassador to the United States at the time of Pearl Harbor, declared today that Japan must rid herself of militarists to prevent the "mistake" of another war.

In an exclusive interview, the retired admiral asserted the militarists caught him by surprise with the Pearl Harbor attack at the time he was handing a Japanese note to Secretary of State Hull on that fateful Dec. 7, 1941.

"We made many blunders in the past," Nomura said. "No doubt the military people and the navy went beyond their domain in Japan. They ought to stick to their own service and keep out of politics."

"There have been many soldier statesmen from the time of the Shoguns and youngsters copied them. Now our boys and girls must be educated to be good Japanese but at the same time good cosmopolitans."

New Summer High Seen In Labor Strikes

By The Associated Press.
Disputes along the nation's labor front, which for more than a week have kept the strike idle around the 200,000 mark, spread today, taking new groups of workers away from their jobs.

New work stoppages during the last 24 hours hiked the army of idle to about 210,000 and threats of additional strikes in the oil industry indicated a new high for the summer would be on the national total before the end of the week.

Air Power, Not Atobomb Knocks Japs Out Of War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who directed B-29 Superfortress attacks on Japan, said today that "the atomic bomb had nothing to do with the end of the war at all."

"The war would have been over in two weeks without the Russians coming in and without the atomic bomb," LeMay said at a news conference called to discuss the flight which he and two other generals made from Japan to Washington yesterday in three Superfortresses.

Asked whether Japan could have been beaten solely by air power, the three generals at the conference table—LeMay, Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles, and Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell—said almost in unison "that is what we did."

Giles, who is deputy commander of the United States strategic air forces in the Pacific, estimated that about eight or ten technical air groups, involving about 40,000 personnel and 800 airplanes, would be maintained in Japan.

Asked how long he would occupy Japan, Giles said, "Oh, I'd say a hundred years."

Later on, he recalled that answer and said, "I was serious about that hundred years," adding his belief that if the United States occupational forces moved out of Japan soon there would be trouble.

Old Timers Reunion To Feature Picnic

Old timers of Howard and surrounding counties will have their annual reunion at the city park Friday.

The gathering will get underway in the morning and will feature an old fashioned picnic luncheon. All families are asked to bring a basket luncheon.

Entertainment will consist chiefly of reminiscing, with a few impromptu talks and old fiddling thrown in. If arrangements can be made, there will be some old-time dancing, and how long this continues will determine largely at what hour the reunion breaks up.

All persons who have been in the county 20 years or more will be eligible to participate, or those who were early settlers of Howard county, or Martin, Dawson, Borden, Glasscock and Sterling counties, once attached to this county for judicial purposes.

Two Additional Cases Of Typhus Reported

Two more cases of typhus fever were reported late Wednesday, making a total of 17 in the last three days. Health officials believe that household pets are carrying the infected fleas.

DDT for dusting dogs and cats may be obtained at the city hall by calling for it. All dogs are to be licensed and vaccinated right away.

Two schools, Knott and Elbow, are to be dusted with DDT Friday, city officials said.

Also in the Houston area, Local 367 of the OIUW, which holds contracts with the Shell Oil Corporation, Texas Pipe Line Company, Texas Company's Galena Park refinery and the Texas Company production department, will hold a strike vote tomorrow.

Marine Corps Urges Voluntary Enlisting

Men 17 to 25 may enlist in the Marine Corps regardless of their draft status. If a person is in good physical condition, he may enlist in the Marine Corps for four years, any time prior to actual induction. The Marine Corps will notify the draft board of his enlistment.

Warlord Tojo To Move Into Prison With "Gang" When Wound Heals

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Japan's Warlord Hideki Tojo will be moved into Yokohama prefectural prison with other members of his Pearl Harbor cabinet as soon as he recovers from his self-inflicted bullet wound, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the U.S. Eighth Army, said today.

"My group consists of most of the Tojo Pearl Harbor cabinet, a German colonel of some repute, Jose Laurel, former puppet president of the Philippines, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma of the Bataan 'death march,' ex-Philippines Ambassador Jorge Vargas, and a choice group of sergeants, captains, and colonels who are alleged to have mistreated our lads in prison camps.

"I imagine this is the most interesting jail in the world today," Eichelberger said that all prisoners are given sufficient food and a cell with a cot to sleep on—simple comforts, but I've seen no mob outside begging to get in."

peets, Eichelberger declared, "we did have a hard time at first but then General MacArthur put the problem up to the Japanese government, all we do now is turn them all (32) in the local prefecture jail."

Billy Will Celebrate Birthday, Unaware It Will Be His Last

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20 (AP)—Billy George Miller will celebrate his fifth birthday here this afternoon, and his doctor says it will be his last.

Little Billy will have a birthday party, a cake with candles, and 20 of his playmates will gather to fete him, but neither Billy nor any of his little friends will be aware of the fact that he is the victim of an incurable disease that is expected to take his life within a matter of months.

Hogan Tells Of Continued USO Needs At Home, Occupied Areas, Hospitals

Donald H. Hogan, associate regional executive of the USO from El Paso, and Milton Kulick, representative of the Jewish Welfare Board, were guests at the meeting of the USO council Tuesday night at dinner at the local USO.

Speaking to others attending the meeting, Hogan declared that although the war is now over, the need for the USO has not diminished. He continued that with the cessation of battle, the need for USO clubs has become greater.

More money will be needed to operate the clubs now than during war time since more of them will be needed overseas. The tri-point program of the peace time USO includes camp shows, hospital groups and overseas USO clubs. The latter project will place club-buses in Hawaii, Alaska, Panama Canal Zone, the Philippines and South America.

Hogan explained that contributions to the Community War Chest drive for funds will again include the USO drive. He added that as much money will be required for operation expenses this year, despite the fact that some USO clubs will be closed. He told the council that overseas clubs required three times as much money for operation as those in the United States. He declared that not only did the club have to be set up, but often times it was necessary to completely rebuild an area for the club. He reminded that many of these clubs will be set up in bombed countries.

The executive added that all materials will have to be transported from the United States to their overseas clubs.

There was no information as to how long the clubs in the United States will be in operation, but Hogan declared that there will be clubs as long as they are needed. He also said that many clubs will be open in special parts of the country.

Reports from committee chairmen heard were Roy Reeder, finance; Mrs. Fisher, religion; J. D. Jones, building; Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, program; and William Dawes, public relations. Howard Bell reported on operations at the Negro extension of the USO.

Other guests at the meeting were R. R. McEwen, H. D. Norris and R. V. Dunivan. Council members present were Howard Bell, Mrs. Ann Houser, Mrs. W. F. Groman, William R. Dawes, Helen Duley, Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, Mrs. Bernard Fisher, J. D. Jones, K. H. McGibbon, Victor Mellinger, Roy Reeder, and Fred Skaggs.

The dinner was served by GSO girls Jean Nixon, Elnora Hubbard and Oneta Chapman.

Eastern Star Holds Friendship Night

The Order of the Eastern Star met Tuesday night at the Masonic hall for Friendship Night.

A regular meeting was held, after which a social hour was held. There were visitors at the meeting from Colorado City, Plainville, Goldsmith, Coahoma, Bryan, Levelland, Savannah, Mo., and Long Beach, Calif.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a lace cloth. It was centered by a punchbowl. Hand-shaped bowls representing friendships were filled with arrangements of flowers in the Eastern Star colors of blue, yellow, white, green and red. Chains in the Eastern Star colors were draped around the edges of the table caught with multi-colored nosegays at each corner.

Mrs. Minnie Michael was in charge of the refreshments and was assisted by Mrs. Osa Green, Mrs. Vera Caldwell, Mrs. Vera Gross, Mrs. Eibel Bartlett and Mrs. Vivian Peck.

Look At The Stir Guseppe Caused! Hart Expostulates With The Regulars

By MAX HALL
WASHINGTON—When Giuseppe Torrelli in New York sends money to his mother in Turin, Giuseppe is a factor in international trade. Through he may be surprised to learn it, he is helping Italy pay for goods bought in the United States.

Now that Europe is free, more and more persons in the United States are resuming the practice of sending money to friends and relatives in liberated European countries.

The treasury department recently smoothed the way by relaxing its wartime restrictions on such payments, provided they are made through banking channels. American officials believe this increasing flow of "personal remittances" will be a useful factor in providing Europe with the U. S. dollars it needs to buy American goods.

But officials here caution against over-emphasizing the economic effects of these payments. They say the dollar needs of European countries in the next two or three years are so great that, in comparison, the amount of dollars obtained through personal remittances will be small.

The economic significance of personal remittances—before and after the war—can be illustrated best in the case of Italy.

Italy has long led all other European countries in the amount of personal remittances received from the United States, with Greece, Poland, and Eire following in that order.

For example, in 1935, Italy imported from the United States $72,000,000 worth of goods, according to the commerce department. Italy exported to the United States only $35,000,000 of goods. This left a deficit of $38,000,000 in dollar exchange which had to be obtained somewhere.

Personal remittances from the United States to Italy in that year were estimated at $23,000,000. This surplus alone, therefore, provided more than half of the dollars which Italy needed to make up the trade deficit with the United States.

Contrast this with the present situation. The U. S. Treasury Department estimates that in the last 12 months, remittances to Italy have totalled about $28,000,000, and the amount is increasing.

But Italy's import requirements now are tremendous, and its exports are negligible. The Foreign Economic Administration in Washington estimates that Italy needs about $2,500,000,000 of goods from all outside sources during the next three years.

Italy must have goods for a bare existence, not to mention the vast needs for industrial machinery and raw materials in order to begin producing important amounts of goods at home.

Personal remittances of $28,000,000 or even $50,000,000 a year can't do much toward meeting such huge requirements. Yet officials in Washington say that it all will help.

The Commerce Department says that in the next two or three years, personal remittances from the United States to Europe will be greater than before the war—but will not approach the volume immediately after World War I.

There are obvious reasons for the latter forecast. People in the United States who might send money abroad are further removed from the old country than they were in 1919. Ties are growing more remote. Many friends and relatives have died. Immigrations have not been heavy during the last 20 years. Between 1930 and 1940 the number of foreign-born residents in the United States decreased from 14,200,000 to 11,800,000.

In 1919, the total to all countries was estimated by the Commerce Department at $732,000,000. To Italy alone went more than $200,000,000; this dropped to $147,000,000 in 1920 and $98,000,000 in 1921.

What happens when a personal remittance is sent to a liberated country?

Under present treasury rules, it must be sent through banking channels. Suppose Giuseppe of New York City wants to send $1,000 to his mother in Turin. Giuseppe goes to his bank, deposits $1,000 and gives his mother's name and address.

The bank transfers the $1,000 deposit to the account of some Italian bank. The Italian bank gives the old lady in Turin 100,000 lire. (Both banks may keep a small percentage as handling charges.)

Thus, Giuseppe's mother receives money she can spend in Italy, and the Italian banking system acquires money that can be spent in America.

Under present Italian exchange controls, the $1,000 deposit must be transferred to the Central Bank of Italy. The Central Bank gives the lesser bank Italian money in exchange for the dollar credit. Though the $1,000 is still on the books of the New York bank and has not physically left the United States, Italy's supply of dollars has been increased.

All because of Giuseppe.

Dear Editor:

I met a friend of mine the other day who said, after reading my last article, that he had decided I only had a one-track mind, that is, I could only write about the Tree of Knowledge or Senator O'Daniel. So in order to convince my friend or anyone else, I am taking for my subject "The Texas Regulars," and I might add this friend is an ex-Regular.

The Regulars should be divided into two classes: 1) Those who were at one time democrats and 2) and those who always have been living in republicanism.

Now in the first class are people who have been led astray by sooth-sayers and hill-billie music. To these we should extend the right hand of fellowship if they will promise they will not again go astray. I do not think we should kill any fatted calves because of their return to the democratic party; but that they should be placed on probation until they prove they will not again be led astray by false prophets.

Now as to the other class who have never been "regenerated" and yet claim they are the only true Jeffersonian democrats, I hardly know how far we should go in meeting out a just punishment. It is customary to try all war criminals, but whether they should be thus dealt with or given a chance to repent, I will let the readers decide. . . There was a meeting of these leaders the other day in Fort Worth. The main speaker was the great sooth-sayer from Washington and he made one remark to the effect that he was glad some of the coat tail riders had no coat tails to ride, meaning, of course, that their leader was dead. By the way, I do not think anyone is now trying to ride the great sooth-sayer's coat tails. I think the last class of regulars should be received only after they bring forth fruit for repentance and bow to the shrine of democracy after much weeping for their past sins.

Respectfully,
W. H. HART.

Two Weeks Too Short To Forget Jap Prison

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Col. Richard Carmichael, leader of the first Superfortress crew to be captured by the Japanese, finds two weeks of freedom entirely inadequate to erase the memory of his year of imprisonment.

"I've been under American care for two weeks and still can't get used to people being gentle and kind," said the handsome Austin, Tex., officer who formerly commanded the China-based 462nd bombardment group. He is under treatment aboard a naval hospital ship in Yokohama harbor.

"I've got into the habit of expecting to be beaten or hit or forced to do degrading work, and I still catch myself waiting for a sudden blow or slap. Being treated like a human being is wonderful."

Carmichael was shot down over Yawata, a steel center on Kyushu and the first target of American B-29s on the Japanese homeland, Aug. 20, 1944. He was imprisoned seven weeks in the Tokyo police headquarters, nearly three months at a questioning station at Ofuna near Tokyo, nearly four months in a federal prison in Tokyo then was

High School Youths May Get Deferment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—From now on most high school boys will not have to enter military service until they have been graduated.

The conditions required for postponement of induction are these:

- 1. A boy must have entered high school or a similar institution before he became 18.
- 2. His course of instruction must be pursued "continuously and satisfactorily."

If he meets these two conditions, he may ask for a draft board postponement until he has been graduated, or until he reaches his 20th birthday, whichever is sooner.

Selective service also announced last night that college or university students who enrolled before reaching 18 may have their induction delayed in order to complete the current school quarter or semester.

Allied Ships Sunk By Coastal Mines Named

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—To defend American shores against enemy submarines in the early days of the war, the navy laid 10,000 mines in coastal and hemisphere waters.

Casualties to friendly ships totaled 15, the navy said today in its latest "now-it-can-be-told" disclosure. Among the American ships sunk by navy mines were the destroyer Sturtevant; the tankers Blum and F. W. Abrams; the ore ship Chilore and the tug Keshena.

Elbert Tipton May Cause Steers Trouble Friday

Elbert Tipton, No. 32, tailback and a 150-pounder, is one gentleman the Steers will have to keep an eye on Friday at 8:30 p. m. when the Cisco Lobos come to town. After annoying the Steers for three quarters last season, although the Lobos were absorbing a 33-6 drubbing, Tipton scooped up a kick-off at the start of the fourth quarter, dodged through a hole right in the middle and streaked 75 yards for his team's only touchdown. He came near getting loose on other occasions.

This year he has taken over the passing chores from Johnson, who finished his career, and gave Cleburne a double headache last week. From all accounts, he has lost none of his shiftness.

Cisco will be about seven pounds per man heavier than the Steers, the bulk of the advantage being on the line. This situation is due to confront the Steers with more of a test than they had in plastering Tahoka 37-0 last week.

Stanley Williams and Charles Pence, ends, weigh in at 165 and 175 respectively. Raymond Penn and Melvin Noble weigh 163 and 180 on tackles. Joy Baum and Harold Hill 160 each on guards. Only light man is 140-pound Alvin King at center.

Mac Harrelson's 165 pounds is about the only left in the backfield of the Lobos besides Tipton.

However, this does not mean the Steers rate as underdogs. Unless the dozen or so gridders now on the ailing list fall to come around by game time, Big Spring is due to get the favorite's nod.

Cisco's 27 points against 34 for Cleburne last week indicates the visitors have a scoring punch as well as the locals. Hence, the game shapes up as an exciting one. Two men definitely will be out of the Steer lineup—Bobo Hardy, a hard blocker and a capable runner, and Horace "Hoss" Rankin, who alternates at quarter with Jackie Barron. This means that Donald Webb, who looked good in the opener, will be in Hardy's spot and that possibly B. B. Lees will see action, for Harold Berry, the second line quarterback, also has been out due to illness.

Besides prospective long runs and a great deal more passing than fans saw last week, there will be an added attraction in the crowning of the band queen Friday evening.

To avoid long lines at the gate for an anticipated big turnout, tickets are on sale at the chamber of commerce, the Big Spring Hardware, Shaw's Jewelry and the school tax office.

We'll be plenty rough again. Utah, Brigham Young U. and Wyoming really are loaded for basketball." . . . That seems like looking pretty far ahead, but at the same time word trickles in that Oklahoma U. has acquired nine players from the recent state high school all-star cage tourney, topped by Dale Bittle and Doug Lynn, a pair of six-foot, eight-inchers. . . . At that, the Sooners will be topped by the Oklahoma Aggies, who have James Moore (6'10 1/2), Joe Halbert (6-7) and Lou Steinmetz (6-6) to go along with seven-foot Bob Kurland.

Borowy "Hexes" Cards, Feller Outtosses Tigers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Prospects of a fourth Detroit-Chicago world series hit a snag today with the Tigers faltering before Bbbby Feller's one-hit shut-out pitching.

The Cubs held up their end of the bargain as Fordham Hank Borowy broke the St. Louis Cardinals' "hex" with a 4-1 decision in 10 innings at Sportsman's Park. It was the ninth victory for the former Yankee whom Larry MacPhail sold to Chicago for a reported $70,000 "because he couldn't win late season-games."

If Chicago does hit the pennant grade, much credit must go to Borowy who has lost only two since leaving New York in late July and holds two important decisions over the Redbirds. Counting his American league triumph, Hank now has a total of 10 for the year.

Just when it appeared certain that Billy Southworth's champs were going to cram another shut-out down the throats of the Cubs, needing only one more out in the ninth for a 1-0 verdict, Andy Pafko ruined George Dockins' day with a tying single. The leaders then went on to score three times in the tenth on only one base hit for their 5th success in 19 meetings with the Birds.

It's now three games from Chicago on top to St. Louis in second place with only nine to go, an overwhelming advantage as the two clubs go into the final game of their all-night series at Sportsman's Park.

Things were not so happy in the camp of the Detroit club which saw its advantage over Idle Washington shrink to a single game after the 2-0 shutout by Feller's Cleveland Tribe. Jimmy Outlaw's Texas league single in the fifth inning saved the Tigers from the humiliation of having a no-hitter thrown against them in the thick of the race.

One long clout by Jeff Heath, his 15th homer of the year with one man on, was the difference between Feller's near-perfect job and a combination three-hitter offered up by Les Mueller, George Caster and Tommy Bridges.

Feller, who failed in his lone start against second-place Washington, now has faced the Bengals three times, holding two decisions over them. It is possible he may work one of the three remaining tilts between the two clubs.

While Washington tangles with the Yankees today in the opener of a two-game series preparatory to a final three-game set in Washington, Detroit must meet Cleveland again and then face the St. Louis Browns over the weekend.

If the Senators can sweep all five remaining tilts, the Tigers must take five of seven to tie or six to win. What looked like a sure thing for Steve O'Neill's gang after they had taken three of the first four in Washington, now has become a nerve-wrecking scramble that probably will not be settled until late next week.

Most important of the lesser major league games played yesterday were the two contests in the Yankee stadium where St. Louis sunk the Yanks twice, 6-5 and 4-3, both times in 10 innings. The results left New York three full games out of third place, threatening them with a fourth place finish for the first time in the regime of Manager Joe McCarthy. Boston swept both ends of a double bill from the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-10 and 3-0 and Washington and Chicago were idle.

Brooklyn strengthened its third place margin in the National by nosing out the New York Giants, 5-4, with Cy Buker deciding Ace Adams. Johnny Hutchings pitched his first complete game since July 15, tossing Boston to a 4-0 shut-out of the Phillies. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Port Arthur Champs Face Longview In Headliner Schoolboy Football

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Port Arthur tests the ice tomorrow night to see if the footing is as secure as last fall when the ponderous Yellow Jackets galloped to the Texas schoolboy football championship.

It's a real test, too, because Port Arthur opens the season against Longview's Lobos, who are heralded as powers in East Texas this year.

Tom Dennis lost almost his entire first string and it's a rebuild job that takes the field at Longview against a pack of Lobos thirsting for vengeance. Longview took a pretty severe drubbing last season.

This game headlines a schedule of 62 in which sectional rivalry flames from the tip of the state to the gulf, starting with a battle at Amarillo between highly-rated Abilene and the always-favored Amarillo Sandies.

Feature games of the south bracket of the interscholastic league include the Poly (Fort Worth) - Brownwood clash at Brownwood, the Temple-Thomas Jefferson joust at San Antonio and the Greenville-Corpus Christi melee at Corpus Christi. Other top-rated contests send Sherman to Fort Worth to play North Side and El Paso High to Odessa, while Dallas watches two of its unbeaten elevens—North Dallas and Woodrow Wilson—battle it out in the district's double round-robin.

The schedule by districts:
1—Friday: Abilene at Amarillo, Lamesa at Brownfield, Childress at Plainview.
2—Friday: Crowell at Quanah,

3—Friday: Lake Charles, La., at Lamar (Houston); Saturday: Kilgore at San Jacinto (Houston).
4—Thursday: Milby (Houston) at South Park (Beaumont); Friday: Sam Houston (Houston) at Beaumont, Conroe at Orange, St. Thomas (Houston) at Goose Creek, Austin (Houston) at Galveston.
5—Thursday: Lanier (San Antonio) vs. San Antonio Tech; Friday: Central Catholic (San Antonio) at Laredo, Texas Military Institute (San Antonio) at Kerrville, Temple at Jefferson (San Antonio), Greenville at Corpus Christi, Reagan (Houston) at Austin.
6—Friday: Brownsville at Weslaco, Mission at Edinburg, Raymondville at San Benito, Mercedes at Harlingen, Sinton at Kingsville, Victoria at Robstown, Brackenridge (San Antonio) at McAllen.

Mecca Of Gridsters Lies In Mid-Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP) AP Correspondent Harry Frawley of Honolulu relays a release from the middle Pacific AAF headquarters of the commanding officer, Major James E. Parker. Read on to discover where the mecca of football talent is this season.

"One of the greatest conglomerations of former all America and sectional football stars ever assembled on one squad will represent the army air forces in the Hawaiian grid picture this fall.

"Embracing almost a complete starting eleven of former all America players, the team will be built from a squad of more than 60 ex-college and professional players. They include many who formed the nucleus for the Randolph Field Ramblers who went through last season undefeated to win the AAF championship and place second only to Army among the nation's top teams.

"Of the former Randolph Ramblers on the local squad are Bill Dudley, ex-all America back from Virginia U.; Jack Russell, ex-Baylor all-Southwest conference end; Pete Layden, University of Texas 1941 back; Tackles Martin Ruby, ex-Texas A. and M., and Bill Causey, former Elon college and New York Giant pro; James Davis, Southwest State (Tex) guard; and Backs Clinton White, East Texas State, Elmer Madarik, U. of Detroit, and Walter Park, North Texas State.

Dressed Up Leftovers

- Stuffed Cabbage
  - Diced Beets
  - Fry Rolls
  - Crisp Peach Pudding
- (Recipes serve four)
- Stuffed Cabbage
- 1 head cabbage
  - 1 1/2 cups leftover lamb or other cooked meat, minced
  - 2 onions, chopped
  - 1 cup uncooked rice
  - Salt and pepper
  - 4 tomatoes, sliced
  - 1/2 cup water

Crisp Peach Pudding

- 1 pound ripe peaches
- 2 tablespoons hot water
- 2 cups bran flakes
- 3/4 cup corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons fortified margarine
- Nutmeg

Scald and skin peaches. Halve, remove pits and slice. Heat corn syrup with margarine until margarine is melted. Arrange a layer of sliced peaches in a greased baking dish. Add hot water. Top with bran flakes and pour a little hot syrup over top. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Repeat until all peaches and bran flakes are used making last layer of the bran flakes. Dot top with additional margarine. Bake at 350 degrees 30 minutes.

BANANA ICE BOX PIE... Grand finale...

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Though all our food troubles aren't over, and probably won't be for some time, we can now in all good conscience give dinner parties if we want. It's just a question of making party food out of what's available, and there is really quite a lot. Here's a suggestion:

- Dinner Party Menu
- Smoked Salmon Canape
  - Chicken Hash in Pancake
  - Potato Chips
  - Spinach with Mushrooms
  - Hard Rolls
  - Banana Ice Box Pie

For the smoked salmon canape, remove the crusts from slices of bread and cut them in two to make triangular-shaped pieces.

Vegetarian's Delight Features Easy To Get Egg Plant, Cherry Pie

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

- Vegetable Delight
- Baked Eggplant
  - Julienne Carrots
  - Kale
- Whole Wheat Bread
- Cottage Cheese Cherry Pie
(Recipes serve four)
- Baked Eggplant
- 1 medium size eggplant
  - 1 clove garlic, minced
  - 1 onion, minced
  - 1 can tomatoes
  - Salt and pepper
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 2 tablespoons flour
  - 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
- Bread crumbs
- Pare and dice eggplant. Cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Cook tomatoes, garlic and onion for 15 minutes. Season with salt, pepper and marjoram. Make a paste of the flour, melted butter or margarine. Stir in a little of the hot tomato juice mixture to thin out the paste, then add rest of tomato mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens again. Place diced eggplant in a greased casserole dish. Pour tomato mixture over it. Then cover with bread crumbs and dot with more butter or margarine. Place in 375 degree oven for 15 minutes, or until bread crumbs are nicely browned.
- Cottage Cheese Cherry Pie
- 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1 tablespoon flour
  - 2 cups sour cherries, pitted and drained
  - 1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
  - 4 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
  - 2 egg yolks (unbeaten)
- Combine dry ingredients, sugar, salt and flour. Add to cottage cheese. Add the butter, unbeaten egg yolks and cherries and mix thoroughly. Place mixture in an unbaked pie shell. Place in 400 degree oven 10 minutes, and then reduce oven to 350 degrees. Continue to bake until filling is firm. Test with silver knife. If knife comes out clean after inserting in center of pie, it is done.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Andy Botkin has a hobby

Andy Botkin, tavern keeper at the Garden Cafe, has a hobby. It's writing to all the service men who used to make his place a sort of club.

And do they appreciate it! One of them sent him a German combat helmet; another, a Jap flag. He's got pictures and coins and souvenirs of all kinds on the wall—mementos with "To Andy" written on them.

And he showed me the letters that he's got back... from homesick privates to reminiscence colonels. Letters about home and

Main Street and the Garden Cafe... from men who remember listening to football scores on Andy's radio, sharing a mild glass of beer with friends...

From where I sit, Andy's doing a one-man job of boosting morale. Andy's spotless tavern, with its decent, homelike surroundings, is doing a job on the home front, too... in promoting moderation and wholesome relaxation.

Tension Rising In Buenos Rires Politics

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 20 (AP)—An atmosphere of rising tension prevailed in Buenos Aires as federal police announced they would "energetically put down" any "alteration of order" resulting from a "march for liberty and the constitution" planned by opposition elements.

Vice President Pefon, Argentina's strong man, warned in a broadcast speech last night that the parade might be marked by disorders.

Peron, who is also minister of war, denounced the sponsors of the parade.

More Soap, Oil, Less Sugar In Fall Months

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—More oils and soap will be available to civilians in the last quarter of 1945, but sugar supplies will be shorter for the next six months.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's estimates: Vegetable oil shortening, cooking and salad oils, up 11 per cent. Household and bar soaps, up 5 1/2 per cent. Sugar, down 28 per cent.

Wildlife Experts Deplore September Season For Doves

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Wildlife specialists are concerned about the perils of the mourning dove.

The dove, a popular game bird in the south, has a tough fight for survival under natural conditions, but early shooting in some states adds much to its woes.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service presents the little dove's case in a new pamphlet prepared by Frederick C. Lincoln, research biologist.

Lincoln says there should be no shooting at all until October 1, particularly in the deep south and southwest, because the birds still are nesting. Many hunters, though, continue to insist that the shooting season begin in September.

Lincoln believes most hunters who want to shoot the dove in September don't know the circumstances.

For every adult dove killed during the nesting period, he explains, it's a good bet that two young will die in the nest from starvation. If that keeps up, eventually there might not be any birds left to shoot. Besides, an examination of bags during September in the south disclosed that a large percentage of the birds killed were immature and too small for table use.

In Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Florida there will be no legal shooting this year before October 1. In other states, including Texas and Oklahoma, the season opened September 1, and in Arkansas, Mississippi and the Carolinas shooting began on Sept. 16.

Weather causes a heavy mortality among mourning doves.

Nagasaki Alternate As Atomb Target: Weather Is Factor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Capt. Kermit K. Beahan, 27, of Houston, Texas, who released the atomic bomb on Nagasaki, disclosed last night the enemy and weather almost prevented it.

Another target selected was abandoned, Beahan said, because weather would not permit dropping the bomb visually. Then flak and enemy fighters trailed Beahan's B-29 to the alternate target.

Beahan was an observer on the first atomic bomb mission against Hiroshima. He was one of the men arriving from Japan last night on the three Superfortresses which attempted to fly nonstop record to Washington.

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK By BENNETT CERF

THE technical term for the transposition of letters or sounds in a word, or series of words, is metathesis, but the more familiar designation is "Sporerism."

The Rev. W. A. Spooner, Warden of New College, Oxford, achieved this dubious claim to fame when he pronounced to his congregation: "Let us now sing the hymn: 'Whispering songs their titles take.'" Another time he caused a mild commotion in church by demanding "Is this pie occupewed?"

A radio announcer treated two classics of his own when he referred to New Guinea jungles, instead of New Guinea jungles, and topped it with stote fiale for fute solo. Emil Wedge of Baltimore's famous Book Press Library quotes a gentleman who declared, "My wife says that I have had see many martoonis, but I am not so much under the afluence of incohol as some pinkle theep. I mean thilside peep."

Max Schuster received a wire reading: "How big an advance on a novel of sixty thousand words?" He wired back: "How big are the words?"

THE FINE Luxurious Flavor IS LOCKED WITHIN EVERY POUND

Look to ADMIRATION for Perfection. Admiration is richer, better-tasting, and more aromatic because it's blended to be that way. Only choice, expensive coffees are used—to begin with. That makes a big difference both in blending and the kind of cup you get when you brew it. Special roasting brings out all the goodness of the blend, and more important still, gives it a lasting freshness. Vacuum processing of course preserves the coffee. ### House Republicans Plan Party Policy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Seven house republicans today began drafting a legislative program they hope will win their party the 1946 congressional elections.

The seven, named as a special policy-planning group by GOP leaders, reported the idea has stirred "enthusiasm and wide interest" in and out of congress.

Chairman Halleck (Ind), told a reporter the group will sift hundreds of proposals.

Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said in an interview that "an avalanche of suggestions has come in from the general public all over the nation."

The committee's job, he said, will be to shape the assorted recommendations into "a well-rounded, positive program of what we republicans in congress stand for."

Senate GOP leaders will be asked to join the project, he added. Asked whether the republicans plan to match or answer President Truman's recent 21-point program of recommended legislative action, Martin replied: "We are not answering any one. We just want to give our views to the country so people can judge what we will do if we are running things."

Who Owns Submerged Tidal Lands, River Beds, To Be Decided Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A dispute between the federal government and the states over ownership of submerged tidal lands and beds of navigable streams was headed towards settlement today in the house.

Scheduled for action is legislation which would permanently and clearly fix the title to such lands in the name of the states.

Involved are properties worth hundreds of millions of dollars, including oil-bearing deposits off the coast of California, Texas and Louisiana, and such installations as docks, piers and waterfront warehouses.

The attorneys general of 46 states have endorsed the pending bill. The two states not represented on a petition backing the bill—Washington and Arizona—did not oppose it during hearings before the house judiciary committee.

Committee Chairman Summers (D-Tex.), who will direct the floor debate in the house for the bill, predicted it would pass both houses of congress and become law before Christmas.

Enactment of the proposal would have the effect of nullifying a suit filed in federal courts in California by former U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle shortly before he left the cabinet. In the suit the federal government challenges the claim of California to submerged lands off the coast of that state.

In 1938 the senate passed a bill which would have almost exact opposite effect of the pending legislation. That measure, which never reached the house floor for a vote, would have given the federal government title to mineral deposits of submerged lands. Under the suit filed in California the federal government seeks title to the land as well as to the mineral deposits.

Commenting on the current bill, Summers said: "It attempts to establish and make certain the ownership and the rights of the states which have been recognized since the organization of the government."

Although the supreme court has on several occasions in the past ruled on such questions in favor of the states, there is no existing law specifically stating that the title is vested in the states, as is provided in the bill Summers added.

Biddle filed suit after Secretary Ickes had raised the question as to whether the oil lands off California did not belong to the government.

Last Prisoners Come Out Of Osaka Camps

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eighty-six allied prisoners-of-war who voluntarily remained in 21 hated Osaka prison camps to help evacuate 7,217 others will come out today—the last men to be cleared from the U. S. Eighth army area.

The volunteers included 56 British, 27 Americans, one Australian, one New Zealander, and one white-out country. They will be greeted and thanked by Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, Eighth army commander.

Eichelberger has prepared a letter for each man and a big dinner with music.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

People don't like to talk about Pin-Worm infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching. And in many cases they have not known of any effective way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W Right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

USS Texas May Berth On San Jacinto Field

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—That glorious old battleship the USS Texas, though marked for retirement, may find permanent berth at the historic San Jacinto battlegrounds in the Lone Star state.

No ignoble scrap heap finish will come to this proud battlewagon which fought the Germans in two wars—not if Texas members of congress can help it.

Under a plan submitted to the navy department the Texas would take her last cruise up the Houston ship channel and find permanent mooring in the shadow of the towering 550-foot monument marking the spot where Texas won her independence from Mexico in 1836.

Rep. Thomas (D-Tex.), following conferences with high navy officials expressed confidence the proposal would be approved. He is a member of the house naval appropriations sub-committee.

"Acting" Or "Actual" Governors Cause Historic Row In Austin

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—An historic row is on in the state capitol.

The question is whether or not two early lieutenant governors, who served as governor in the absence from the state of the duly-elected governors, should now be regarded as "acting" or "actual" governors.

Central figures in the contest are Mrs. John Lee Smith, wife of the present lieutenant governor, who holds they were "actual," and L. W. Kemp, president of the State Historical Association, who holds they were "acting."

Kemp has entered a formal protest with Gov. Coke Stevenson and the board of control against placing the portraits in governor's row in the rotunda, although he concedes they should be placed in the capitol and due recognition given.

The gentlemen over whom the controversy is raised are Col. A. C. Horton, the state's first lieutenant governor who took over the duties

Control Of Natural Gas Rests In State, Independents Argue

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 20 (AP)—"Regulatory authority for production, storage and handling of natural gas now rests with the states and no federal laws are either justified, demanded or needed," the Independent Petroleum Association of America has informed the Federal Power Commission, at its hearing on the natural gas industry.

A ten-point statement to this effect was inserted in the proceedings yesterday by B. A. Hardy, Shreveport, La., vice president of the association, speaking for the oil and gas production committee of that organization.

The statement declared that "if the FPC persists in its attempted control, directly or indirectly, of phases covered by state regulation, its natural gas functions should be transferred to the Interstate Commerce Commission or redefined by new legislation."

"Adaptation of the utility principle cannot be applied to natural gas and maintain a healthy industry," he continued.

The assertions were challenged by Tom J. McGrath, Washington, D. C., representing rail interests, and were supported by Charles I. Francis, special counsel for the Texas railroad commission.

Argentina At Work After Demonstration

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 20 (AP)—Argentina's capital city returned to work today after virtual suspension of commercial and industrial activities yesterday while a throng of half a million, marched through the streets in a demonstration arranged by opponents of the military government.

The only incident reported was a brush between a group of demonstrators and mounted police as sabre-brandishing officers sought to disperse the group.

Billed as a "march for liberty and the constitution," the parade was marked by frequent shouts of "Down with Peron," "Down with despotism," and "Death to dictatorship" as the crowd roared its defiance of Col. Juan Peron, vice president and strong man of the government.

The Nation Today— Three Reasons Why Threatened Auto Strike May Be Postponed

By JAMES MARLOW
DETROIT, Sept. 20 (AP)—Don't expect big auto strikes—if they occur at all—for at least a month or two months.

Labor people and automakers both say this. Although the unpredictable could happen, here's the reasoning behind what they say.

The problem may be settled without strikes at all.

2. Usually there's a time lapse between strike threats and strikes.

3. The time's not ripe for an auto workers' strike.

Take No. 1—settling the problem without strikes.

The CIO's United Automobile Workers (UAW) want a 30 per cent wage increase—not from one firm only but from the whole industry.

They'll probably settle for less, although they say they won't. It's old stuff for unions to make high demands and take less.

Automakers are not likely to say "Okay, you get the 30 per cent." But they, too, may after discussion settle for some kind of raise.

Take point No. 2—the time lapse between strike threats and strikes.

Under the war labor disputes act—it says in effect until six months after the shooting war has been officially declared ended, which hasn't happened yet—a union wanting to strike must do this: It must file with the National Labor Relations Board notice that it wants to take a strike vote among its members.

Then it must wait 30 days before taking the vote.

The auto workers haven't yet filed a notice with NLRB.

Take point No. 3—the time's not ripe for auto strikes.

The auto industry still is re-converting from war to peace. It's not expected to get rolling in good stride until November.

UAW officials are talking of striking—if a strike is necessary—against one firm at a time instead of the whole industry at once.

If that one firm yielded to the UAW's demands—or some of them—the same strike tactics could be used individually against the other firms to force them in line, too.

That sharp moment—when the whole industry is beginning to roll—will not occur till November, as noted.

Shortages So Bad, It Looks Like A War On!

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

You'd think there was a war on.

Army camps move out, war industries shut down, but the housing shortage goes on and on. In San Angelo, for example, Mildred Deming, manager of the Rio Vista housing project near Goodfellow Field, says "we have plenty of applications on hand." And the apartments are filled.

The situation is so bad in Lubbock that the chamber of commerce has plans to send special emissaries to Washington to appeal to "the highest officials in the nation" for relief.

Local firms are expanding staffs to meet the challenge of peacetime production. But they can't find living accommodations for the new personnel.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram carried this box on page one: "Due to the acute newspaper shortage, the Monday issues of the morning and evening Star-Telegram carry no advertising."

Long distance calls still sometimes bring a warning from the operator that "the lines are crowded and it may be one or two hours before I get your party."

But Mrs. Leo Moore of Pampa got through to England in 20 minutes.

She talked six minutes (cost: $30) to her husband in Cirencester. Next day, she said she had been so excited she couldn't remember what was said.

The Odessa American says it has found the meanest man in town. The American says he poisoned the pet fox terrier belonging to Cpl. Earl Richardson, of Camp Fannin.

The Paris News is publishing free of charge classified ads for returning men and women honorably discharged from the service, and seeking jobs.

Each free ad will appear in three issues. Help in wording will be given by the classified department. The offer includes all service men and women in Northeast Texas and Southeast Oklahoma.

Hereford Show On Big Scale

DALLAS Sept. 20—The finest purebred Herefords from all over America will compete for a $20,000 premium fund in what is expected to be the biggest postwar event of its kind at the state fair grounds Nov. 8-18, Fred F. Florence, chairman of the board of directors, announced. The premium list is the largest offered for any single breed cattle show scheduled in the western hemisphere.

A rodeo with the finest talent available will give 12 performances during the exposition. Contestants from all over the country will go into the arena to ride wild broncos and bulls, rope calves and bulldog steers for prize money of $10,000 in addition to entry fees.

The American Hereford association is offering full co-operation. Lloyd Wheelock of Corsicana, president of the Texas Hereford association, will be superintendent of cattle. Jack Frost, president of the exposition, announced.

In addition to the purebred show, the Junior Cattlemen of Texas will have an exhibition and sale. Jack B. Story and Dr. Howard K. Crutcher, co-chairmen of the junior division, are arranging for at least 4,000 boys and girls of the Texas 4-H clubs and the Future Farmers of America to attend the exposition as guests.

Marshmallows should be kept in a bread box both before and after opening the package.

County Balances Decline Further

Howard county's cash balance stood at $228,803 as of Aug. 31, but it's a case of now you see it, now you don't.

No less than $150,172.50 is in the road bond fund of 1945, pledged for roadway purchases, lateral road construction.

The actual working balance for other funds is about $78,000, which happens to be about $13,000 less than at the end of the previous month. It will dip still more until first taxes come in during October.

Principal expenses during the month were $8,897 to road and bridge, $3,341 for general fund, and $3,150 for permanent improvements. Balances by funds at the end of the month were: Jury $3,686, road and bridge $45,577, officers' salary $18,621, permanent improvement $3,118, road refunding $248, special road bond $982, special road and bridge $5,170, courthouse and jail warrant $20, viaduct $723 and the 1945 road series issue.

Epigram For Dilemmas

The honesty of Major James P. Devereaux, who commanded the gallant Marine battalion on Wake Island for more than two weeks, is quite as refreshing as his courage is laudable.

Maj. Devereaux has flatly denied that he ever sent the celebrated "Send us more Japs" message while Wake still held out. The communications officer for the garrison also denied any such message was sent.

The fact that he did have to give the cease fire order three times argues the point that the Marines do not need press agency to add to their glory.

The Christian Science Monitor has some interesting comment on the subject:

"From Civil War days, Gen. Nathan Forrest has been credited—or discredited—in his way of thinking—with the remark: 'Git thar fustest with the mostest men.' What he said was: 'I took a short cut and got there first with the most men.' The illiterate phrase infuriated him, but Americans liked it the most, and so it stands.

"In World War I, General Pershing was reported to have exclaimed, on arriving in France: 'Lafayette, we are here.' Though denied by Pershing and rightly attributed by him to Colonel Stanton, the supposed author and circumstances appeared more to public fancy, and that still is that.

"Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition," credited to the wrong chaplain, who was supposed to have both praised and passed, almost got both chaplain and the Navy in trouble, for regulations forbid handling of ammunition by chaplains in battles.

"H. W. van Loon has said: 'Somewhere in the world there is an epigram for every dilemma.' Perhaps we should add: 'And a dilemma for every epigram.'

The Truancy Problem

In many quarters it is being urged that more attention be given to the problem of truancy on the grounds that it is the first evidence of delinquency in children.

An occasional bit of "hooky" was understandable in the good old days, but now the chronic truants are not laying out of school in favor of fishing, hiking, etc. but because he has developed a notion that he can defy authority or because he simply doesn't think he fits into the school situation.

Certainly we need more attention to the matter here, and the economy basis on which it is handled now is first of all impractical as well as hit and

by Dewitt Mackenzie, AP Foreign News Analyst

General MacArthur seems to have stirred up a sizeable cloud of conflicting emotions by his announcement that Uncle Sam's occupation forces in Japan may be cut to some 200,000 within six months—a divergence of opinion which isn't strange in view of the numerous issues involved.

For the soldiers who want to get back home, and for their families, such a cut means one thing. It means quite another to the exponents of using the mailed fist on the Japs. To a further group it means something else, and so it goes. But it strikes me that whatever may be the premise from which you argue you always arrive at the same point, which is this:

We must maintain troops in Japan as long as is necessary to achieve the far-reaching objectives of the declaration of Potsdam by the big three—whether it be one year or twenty. We must keep as many soldiers there as are required to enforce this program—whether it be 200,000 or 2,000,000.

The Potsdam edict calls not only for the physical disarmament but for the moral rearmament of Nippon. The very character of the people must be changed to rid them of their medieval ideas, fit them to govern themselves, and so prepare them for a place among the United Nations.

Of one thing we may be sure, and this is that we aren't going to be able to convert to western ways many of the militaristic minded people who have passed their youth. It's an ancient wheeze but true—that you can't teach an old dog new tricks. You have to catch 'em young—and you have to catch them before you are bent on changing their natures. Of course there are some Japanese who are against aggression and who believe in the golden rule, but you probably could get most of them into your back yard at one time if you wanted to make a speech to them.

mostly miss. In what other operation would the administrator be expected to ride herd on missing members? He does well to keep tabs on the staff and handle policy matters.

In line with the truancy problem, we suggest it might also be well constantly to examine our program to see if we cannot adjust matters to encourage attendance rather than truancy.

How To Torture Your Wife

With The AEF: Tea Drinking Custom Shows British Navy Civilized

By HAL BOYLE

ABOARD H.M.S. DUKE OF YORK, Enroute To Hongkong (CP) If the British navy had only one certain custom you would know from this that it was manned by one of the most civilized nations in the world.

That custom is the pre-breakfast cup of tea.

Every morning if you are a guest or officer aboard one of his majesty's vessels you are restored gradually to life by a marine who taps you on the shoulder and does his best to convince you that the world is endurable by putting a steaming cup of tea 'y your bedside.

You drink it lying stretched full length and your head propped up on your pillow. It creeps confidently around your insides, pats your doubtful stomach gently and says "everything is going to be all right and this is going to be one of your better days.

The British have learned to relax better than Americans on long sea tours which threaten to break men down with unchanging monotony and boredom.

The wardrobe aboard this ship is open from noon until 1:30 p. m. and from 6 in the evening until 10:30 p. m. This routine is followed even during wartime when the ship is on combat duty, except when the men are actually at action stations.

Ordinary seamen 20 years of age or over get a traditional tot of rum daily—one eighth of a pint, two full ounces—or they can take it out in added pay if they prefer, three pence (5 cents) daily.

About 60 per cent of the men prefer the rum. The king's regulations provide that rum issued to seamen must be mixed with at least two parts water. They can't drink it neat.

On special occasions, such as a victory over Japan, everyone 20 or over "splices the mainbrace"—he gets an extra tot of rum and the king foots the bill.

The American navy still remains theoretically dry at sea with the exception of carriers, on which plane pilots get one whiskey slug, if they want one, when they return from missions.

There is no set restriction on the consumption of liquor in British warships by officers, but there is generally an understanding that each officer's bill won't exceed five pounds ($20) a month. The average price of Scotch is only six pence a drink—one dime—or less so that it allows an officer 200 drinks a month, or six per day.

Washington—USA—Blackboard To The World

(First of Four Articles) By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Not only has business taken over a government war agency, but with peace, is expanding it into what may well become one of the more important phases of our "good neighbor to the world" policy.

It is the International Training Administration, Inc., a non-profit cooperative organization whose aim is to give the practical "knowhow" of our industry, commerce and agriculture to the qualified young men and women of other lands.

So shy has been I.T.A. in publicizing its accomplishments that few persons know it even exists. But since its inception four years ago it has given practical training in American business methods and techniques to 1,000 young foreigners from all over the globe. It now has approximately 1,400 more going through a two-year process of learning by working as Americans work.

As recently as early in September, 250 Chinese arrived here for assignment to top-ranking producers and distributors all over the country. Their training will be an intimate study of how the United States and its machines do business.

More than four years ago, when Nelson Rockefeller was breaking in as coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, conversations with a group of business men crystallized the idea of giving outstanding young Latin Americans a year or so of learning-by-doing, and incidentally spreading the gospel of U. S. business.

Rockefeller called in serious, energetic Elliott S. Hanson, an official of United States Steel thoroughly familiar with foreign trade and foreign lands, and asked him to head up an office of "Inter-American Trade Scholarships."

Hanson agreed. The results have now spread from Latin America to Turkey on the east and China on the west and soon will girdle the globe if an India project goes through.

The idea is to bring picked groups of bright young foreigners to this country, give them a brief indoctrination course in how to live and get about in American cities, and then in a year or two of concentrated training to take them up the ladder in American factories, offices, laboratories, and fields. The expense was to be borne one-third by government, two-thirds by business. The trainees were to be given an average of approximately $150 a month for living expenses.

So well did the trade scholarship program work through 1942 and 1943 that other government departments and many businesses with practical technical and professional training programs were demanding its services. It became the Inter-American Training Administration.

Industry realized, too, that it had something here that needed more permanence than any war agency would have when peace came and the economy-minded in Congress started whetting their

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Navy Discharge Plan Full Of Jokers

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Tip-off on the navy's original discharge intention was dropped accidentally by retiring chief of personnel Adm. Randall Jacobs.

A smart young reporter for the Washington Star, Miriam Ottenberg, asked navy press relations for an interview with Jacobs. She was told she could have one if he had no objections. Navy press relations promptly phoned Jacobs' office that the interview was not to be given, but somehow this message went haywire.

Miss Ottenberg got the interview. It was a pip. The admiral really expanded. Among other things, he dropped this nugget of truth regarding the navy's discharge system:

"We want the young men in the navy. That's why age was included. The younger ones are the ones the navy of the future has to be built around."

This is the tip-off to the fact that a young man can have been in the navy four long years—since before Pearl Harbor—and if he isn't married, he still may not be able to get out.

Admiral King Forgot

Since then, Admiral Jacobs has been relieved as chief of personnel, not because of this, but because he had finished his tour of duty. Commander of the Fleet Adm. Ernie King balked like a steer at having him go, however, and submitted a three-page memo to Secretary Forrestal giving reasons why Adm. Lou Denfeld, assistant to Jacobs, was not the man to take his place. Forrestal called Denfeld in, showed him the memo.

"What have you got to say about that?" Forrestal asked with a grin. "Nothing," replied Admiral Denfeld.

Whereupon Forrestal immediately appointed Denfeld chief of the bureau of personnel. This, incidentally, is not the first time Forrestal has overridden Admiral King.

Admiral Denfeld, however, will have a hard time changing the navy's discharge system materially as long as Admiral King's and other Annapolis policies prevail.

Inside fact is that the Japanese surrender caught Admiral King with four different discharge plans in his desk. He had done nothing about any of them. One plan would not have discharged any man from the navy until six months after V-J day. It was rejected by Secretary Forrestal as completely inadequate.

In King's much-ballyhooed second report, "U. S. Navy at War," he went on record very clearly regarding discharges.

"For more than a year," he said on page 44, "we have worked on demobilization methods and have completed tentative plans. We are considering priority for severance and intend when the time comes to give due consideration to length of service, service outside the continental limits, combat service and parenthood."

That report was dated March 27, 1945, but apparently King forgot all about it. For demobilization plans were still a jumble of indecision on V-J day. However, the men who fought in the Pacific have not forgotten it, and many of them are blazing mad that his promises, especially regarding combat service and parenthood, have not been kept.

Big Peacetime Navy While the navy's original discharge system has now been modified to give one fourth of a point per month for sea duty, thousands of men still consider it inadequate, still feel it is designed to force men to remain in a big peacetime navy.

They also point out that the revised plan still has plenty of jokers.

For instance, a commander can keep any man for 120 days if he says he needs him, so that six months can easily pass by the time he gets through the separation center. Also combat men generally are aged 17 to 28. And they get no credit for the grueling punishment they took off Iwo Jima and Okinawa. These are the young men Admiral Jacobs accidentally admitted the admirals wanted kept in the navy—apparently regardless of length of combat duty. His excuse for not giving combat credit was that the records were lost.

How the system works was illustrated the other day on a certain battleship, now on the west coast. The navy recently issued an "AllPac" (all Pacific) directive authorizing all ships to reduce their complement by 10 per cent. This was to give shore duty to deserving personnel who had served a long tour of duty on board and were close to a discharge.

But the order did not have that effect. The majority of those transferred were not men who had been overseas, but those who had not been attached to the ship long enough to become "necessary" to its operation. Two of the officers had been on board less than three months, but had accumulated points as a result of college training and recent marriage. They had never been in combat zone on any ship, yet they are receiving discharges ahead of men who made the mistake of becoming "valuable" to the navy and showing interest and efficiency in carrying out their duties.

Thus the very men who should have been kept on board and trained to relieve experienced officers, left the ship.

Note—Navy men say that if the brass hats had taken the time and trouble to accompany their demobilization plans with a frank public explanation of the problem, there would have been less hard feeling. Instead, the brass hats seem to do things backwards. For instance, the latest AINav order about wearing civilian clothes on the beach met with great rejoicing, but was cancelled a few days later when the brass hats had thought out the problem and realized the consequent drain on civilian clothing.

Capital Chaff A vest-pocket edition of the constitution of the Soviet Russian states is being carried around by ultra conservative Senator Bob Taft of Ohio, who quotes from the Russians every chance he gets. The waiters in the senate restaurant are still wearing badges marked USSR, which stand for U. S. Senate Restaurant and "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan received a letter from a young sailor last week which concluded, "I will be watching from now on to see if you work as hard to get me out of the navy as the navy does to keep me in." Ferguson replied: "Although I'll do what I can to help you, you should know that no one man has the energy to put into getting you out of navy that the navy will spend in trying to keep you in."

Representative Bill Stevenson of Wisconsin has offered a bill providing $500,000,000 for federally sponsored research on cancer and polio. U. S. occupation authorities in Germany are organizing a group of technicians to study German attitudes and political trends. Head of the group will be Professor Richard Crutchfield of Swarthmore College. British Broadcasting Corporation monitors were puzzled last Friday when, during Moscow's regular noon broadcast to Japan, the Russians suddenly began broadcasting in Korean. A few minutes later, OWI in Washington received on its teletype a request for aid from its London office, which reported that BBC is anxiously awaiting word from the U. S. monitor in Portland, Ore., regarding the "unrecognizable language" Moscow was using. The British were anxious to know what the Russians were saying. U. S. monitors recognized the language as Korean, but reception was bad at Portland and they couldn't understand it. (Copyright, 1945, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

'No Comment,' Says Kyser, 'But . . .

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—Let's see now, there are certain instructions from Kay Kyser on this interview I had with him after he returned from a USO tour in the Pacific.

For one thing, I am not to repeat the remarks about a certain entertainer, who got into trouble out there, partly because he put on a dirty show. "I don't mind a little spice," said Kyser, "but to do an out-and-out smutty show insults the intelligence of 90 per cent of the G.I's."

I am not supposed to mention that censors induced Kay to read some GI letters which told the folks at home that his was the best show that played out there.

I am instructed to give a big plug to the Armed Forces Radio Service, which he said supplied 24 hours of fine radio entertainment to the remotest sections of the Pacific.

Also deserving of a plitch are Dick Jurgens, Bob Crosby and Claude Thornhill, whose service shows have provided fine entertainment. And Joe E. Brown—"God love him. Whenever I feel like complaining I always think of him and forget about any beef I might have."

I am not supposed to involve Kay in the current bias against the USO and special service officers. "Of course there's a lot of inefficiency when you have people who haven't been in show business trying to handle entertainment. But the way to remedy that is by talking to the Army, not the newspapers."

Lastly, I am supposed to do something about the flag on Mt. Suribachi. You know—the bloody hill where Joe Rosenthal took his historic flag-raising picture. The flag isn't there any more.

"I think it's a scandal," said Kay. "To the American public that is one of the great events of the war—in fact the symbol of the whole war. That's the place where so many B-29's were saved when they couldn't limp back to Saipan. And you should have seen the disappointment of those boys on the B-29's when they flew in and saw no flag on Suribachi."

"Maybe I'm a ham, but they are those B-29 boys for wanting to see that flag up there. I asked those in charge of the Island about it and they said the first flag had been removed and the only way to put up another would be to go through the War Department."

(Actually, the Navy Department is in charge of Iwo, and has refused to comment on the flag situation.)

Kay is a determined Carolinian who would visit every office in the Pentagon to see that another flag was raised on Suribachi. As he thought about it, his eyes lighted on his autographed picture of Harry S. Truman.

"That's what I'll do! I'll write Mr. Truman about it! He'll take care of it!"

So if you hear of a White House edict about a new raising of the flag on Suribachi, you will know that it is the work of the ole professor himself.

Jap Typhoon Destroys American Planes, Cuts Communications

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—American soldiers stationed in areas hit by Japan's latest heavy typhoon escaped serious injury, a check disclosed today, but the Japanese home ministry said incomplete early reports showed at least 48 Japanese killed.

The 10-miles-an-hour winds wrecked numerous American airplanes and barracks on the home island of Kyushu, in the center of the storm which also lashed at Shikoku and Honshu islands in its two-day rampage. Communications with Kyushu and Shikoku still were cut today.

The home ministry also reported that more than 2,000 homes were destroyed and uncounted thousands more were damaged by the storm. Crops were reported badly damaged.

In Tokyo, outside the principal damage zone, winds were strong enough to blow down tents at headquarters of the First cavalry division.

Capt. John Stallings, Corpus Christi, Tex., who was at Kanoya when the storm hit the afternoon of Sept. 17, said that for three hours the Americans sat within a relatively sturdy former Japanese navy barracks while the winds turned airplanes on their backs, tossed four-pound pieces of tiling in the air, and rolled balls of sheet metal like tumbleweeds across the airfield.

Stallings said three former Japanese barracks and a messhall, taken over by American occupation forces, were demolished.

The airfield revetments, he said, were filled with wreckage of Japanese planes, which had been left out on the open field.

"American soldiers tried to moor the planes by tying them to trucks," said Stallings.

"I saw one big transport flipped over on its back and the truck to which it was tied flipped over with it, landing in the plane's middle. One pilot told me he tried to keep a transport headed into the wind by gunning the motor. His wind indicator reached 156 miles per hour when the pilot saw he couldn't win against the wind and jumped out."

"Another pilot was in a plane when it was lifted three feet off the ground."

Stallings said field officers told him that only about two of the wrecked planes were repairable.

Shirley Temple Weds As Fans Crowd Near

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP)—Shirley Temple today began what she considers the greatest role of her life—that of Mrs. John Agar.

She married the army air forces sergeant last night in a wedding marked by one of the biggest mob scenes in Hollywood history. The former film moppet had wanted a quiet church ceremony. But her fans thought differently.

They started gathering at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in front of the Wilshire Methodist church. By the wedding time, 8:30, a crowd estimated by police at 5,000 lined the streets.

'Thanks Of Nation' To Stimson For Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Truman today tendered "the thanks of the nation" to Henry L. Stimson, retiring secretary of war.

Under Stimson, the president said, the United States army "became the best trained and best equipped" in the world.

Mr. Truman expressed his sentiments in a letter accepting Stimson's resignation effective at the close of business tomorrow.

Atobomb Scientists Opening University

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., Sept. 20 (AP)—Scientist-professors at the atomic bomb laboratory are opening a spare-time university next week for hundreds of young military and civilian personnel assigned at Los Alamos.

They emphasized that Los Alamos University is "not an army affair."

Eighteen courses are to be offered in fields of chemistry, mathematics, physics and metallurgy.

Johnston To Replace Hays As Movie Boss

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eric A. Johnston has been elected to succeed Will Hays as president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.

Johnston, 48, president of the U. S. chamber of commerce, took over his new post yesterday as Hays, 65, resigned after 24 years.

It was reported that Johnston's five-year contract called for an annual salary of $150,000.

Johnston will remain as chamber of commerce president.

Plans are to make a map showing owners of vacant lots. These maps will be available at the chamber of commerce office within a month.

Try and Stop Me
DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK
By BENNETT CERF

AL SCHACHT, the inimitable baseball clown, once had a partner named Nick Altrock, but the act broke up because both players suspected each other of deliberately making the rough-and-tumble stuff too realistic.

Schacht explained that it was like a pair of old vaudeville comics who did a wooden shoe number that wound up by their kicking one another in the pants. They began to accuse one another of putting entirely too much behind the kicks, and fought about it so loudly in the dressing room that the acts who followed them complained about the racket.

The vaudeville team was warned that if it created one more disturbance, the act would be canceled. "That very night," says Schacht, "it happened again." They kicked the day-lights out of each other, took their bows, and raced to their dressing rooms. There they carefully closed the door, took off their wooden shoes, and began to beat each other over the head with them. After every wallop, however, each would put a finger to his lips and whisper "sh-sh-sh."
