Dates to Weigh Show Steers

All steers that are to be shown in the 1976 Wheeler County Junior Livestock Shows as well as in Houston, El Paso, Fort Worth and San Antonio must be weighed and ear tagged Saturday, Sept. 27. County Extension Agent Don King said the steers will be weighed and tagged at Wallace Field Polled Hereford Ranch at Shamrock between 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon. In addition to being weighed and tagged, steers will have their picture taken in compliance with the Texas 4-H & FFA Steer Validation Program. Cost of the 4-H and FFA members will be about $2.50. This will include the cost of the ear tag, a polaroid picture and an injection of tetanus antitoxin.

County Wide Fun Night Oct. 25

Sunflower Field Tour Sept. 23

There will be a sunflower field tour and meeting for the producers of Wheeler County, Tuesday, Sept. 23, according to Don King, County Extension Agent.

The field tour will take place in the Grady Dodd farm northwest of Wheeler beginning at 5:00 p.m. Following the field meeting there will be a dinner at the Grady Dodd farm. This will give producers a chance to visit with Dr. Frank Petr, Area Agronomist, and Dr. Carl Patrick, Area Entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo.

The night meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom on the second floor of the County Courthouse. Dr. Petr will talk about several aspects of sunflower production. Dr. Patrick will cover control of sunflower insects. Since we had such a heavy infestation of greenbugs in some areas of the county this summer in grain sorghum, Dr. Patrick will also cover the control of greenbugs in grain sorghum.

The tour is being sponsored by the Crops-Subcommittee of the Wheeler County Program Building Committee. All producers and other interested people are encouraged to attend.

CANADIAN WILDCATS TO COME TO NICHOLSON FIELD

One of the longest rivalries in eastern Panhandle high school football is continued this Friday night when the Canadian Wildcats of District 1-A visit Nicholson Field for the Wheeler Mustangs home opener.

The 8 PM kickoff will probably come before an overflow crowd of fans from Wheeler and Canadian if past crowds are an indication.

Even though the Wildcats are winless, losing to AA Phillips and Spearman, and the Mustangs are 1 and 0 after shutting out Lefors, the game would have to be rated a toss up.

Coach Jack Hawthorne's Wildcats have changed their offensive set for the '75 season from the wishbone to the veer T and the Wildcats have been mastering this new formation in their first two encounters.

If folks think that the Wildcats are not too tough on the basis of their big loss to Spearman last week, they just have to remember that the Lynx were state finalists last year in Class AA.

Wheeler has had two weeks to prepare for this tilt and fortunately no injuries have been sustained in workouts that will knock any of the Mustangs out of the game.

Defensively, the visitors from Hemphill County will give the Mustangs several different looks as they have been using both a 5 and 6 man front in their first two games.

"We know that you can throw past games out of the window when Wheeler and Canadian square off and we are looking for a real tough, hard hitting game Friday night", Coach Jim Robinson said this week.

"Canadian is about the same size as we but might have a little bit more speed and we expect them to try and use it against us."

"We know that Canadian has been in their new offense so we will have to be at our best to stop them

Administration Building Girlstown In Memory of Marvin Hefley

A new administration building will be dedicated at Girlstown in Borger Sunday in memory of William Marvin Hefley, the late Marvin Hefley of Wheeler. The building was made possible by a donation from the Marvin Hefley estate. The dedication speech will be given by Don Eamey of Lubbock, Texas.

Festivities will begin at 2:00 P.M. Saturday, Sept. 20. Following the dedication, barbecue will be served from 3:00 until 7:00; admission to the barbecue will be $1.00.

The building, a 50'x75' block structure, will house the administrative offices and provide storage for items donated to Girlstown. Construction of the $42,000 structure began in August and will be 70% complete at the time of dedication.

March-a-thon Is Re-Scheduled

The Wheeler Bands Highschool and Junior High will hold their March-a-thon and dunking Saturday, weather permitting. The March-a-thon is being held to raise money for the Band projects during the year.

The groups will gather at the school at 9:00 to begin their march. The bands will travel down main street and turn west for 2 1/2 miles; they will stop on their return and play an open air concert on the square around 10:00 a.m. They will then return to the school after completing the five mile march.

A dunking board will be located on main street to give the students or individuals an opportunity to dunk the band director, Larry Tracy, and/or some of the band students.

The march-a-thon was scheduled for last week and had to be postponed because of rain.

The public is invited to be present for an enjoyable concert.

Dr. Robert Akin Rites To Be Fri.

Funeral services for Dr. Robert Akin of Oklahoma City will be Friday morning at 11:00 in the Westminster Presbyterian Church at 4400 N. Shartel in Oklahoma City.

Dr. Akin, who has been retired for the past few years, was at his former office at the time of his death Tuesday, Sept. 15. He suffered a heart attack around 4:00 p.m.

Dr. Akin is survived by three daughters, two of which are residents of Wheeler, Mrs. N. D. Ware, Jr., and Mrs. Bob Roak.

and we know how the Wildcats will hit you", The Mustangs head coach added. The Mustangs don't have to be reminded of the narrow loss they suffered at Canadian last season and will be seeking to keep their record spotless.

Not all of the reserved seats have been sold for the season and these will be on sale on a game basis at the west gate at Nicholson Field for $1.00 per seat plus general admission.

Fans are urged to get to the game early as seats and parking will be at a premium.

Parking will be available in the west lot of the school and attendants will be present to aid people with parking in the lot.

ADMISSION

Increased

Admission to area football games have been increased for the coming season. The District Executive Committee voted to increase game admission for adults from $1.75 to $2.00 and students from 75¢ to $1.00.

There will also be an increase in admission to Junior High and Junior Varsity games. Adult admission will be $1.00 and Students admission will be 50¢.

BEAT CANADIAN

I probably don't have to remind most of you that the Wheeler Mustang Football Team has not defeated the Canadian Wildcats in several years. This does not mean that it cannot be done, or that it will not be done tomorrow night.

There is no rule that says that every football season has to be the same as the one before. There is no rule saying we have to be beaten by the same teams every year.

Remember, a team means everyone working together and doing his part, including the fans! If you won't the Wheeler Mustangs to beat the Canadian Wildcats Friday night, come out to the ballgame and say so. Make it known that you're behind your home team all the way!

Since this is a home game, I expect to see no empty seats in the stands.

One win down 14 to go!

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
(SJR NO 11)
SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary, is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the EDUCATION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976, except Article VII, Section 9, which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the education provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VII, Education, is amended to:

Provide that the Permanent and Available School Funds and the county public school funds are continued for the support of the free public schools. The State Board of Education is retained and the Permanent and Available University Funds are continued for the benefit of The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. If all propositions are adopted, the article will be Article XI. Article XVII, Mode of Amending the Constitution of the State, is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. ## Expanded Role of SCS

Soil Conservation Service employees are increasingly called upon to serve environmental education as school site planners and conservationists, and as resource people-furnishers of information about soil and water resources.

This is the gist of an editorial by SCS Administrator R. M. Davis which appeared in the agency's August issue of Soil Conservation, the official organ of the agency.

"SCS's nationwide conservation education program is leading the way in helping schools plan and use outdoor classrooms," Davis said. "Now, outdoor learning areas, providing such features as animal and plant identification, nature trails, and soil and aquatic studies, are established in almost every soil and water conservation district in the United States. Many are designed with SCS and district help."

"The typical citizen today is confronted with a bewildering lineup of controversies over the environment. He receives conflicting information on practically every resource issue, being assured one minute that all is well and the next told that doom is imminent. On the basis of all the divergent reports the citizen must make informed decisions about the future of our resources.

"We are learning that helping teachers gain an understanding of conservation is an efficient way of reaching a large audience of future leaders and a newsletter from the decisionmakers," Davis said.

Facts relating to the environment and gained from years of actual conservation practice are also passed on by SCS district conservationists to women's clubs, service clubs, and scouts.

"Providing this kind of assistance is where soil and water conservation districts and SCS can be of increasing service to all Americans. We cannot afford to shrink from our responsibilities in environmental education. There's too much at stake," Davis concluded.

Progressive Club Begins New Year

The Progressive Study Club met Thursday evening, Sept. 11 at the home of Amelia Sims, the president, in the first meeting of the new year. Mildred Porter was voted in as a new member.

The meeting was called to order with the singing of the Federation Song and each member answered roll call with "What Federation Means to Me".

Presentation of the Yearbook was given by Novella Vanpool and appreciation to Mildred Porter for becoming a new member was expressed.

A financial report was given by the treasurer, Doreen Owen. She read G. W. F. C. entitled, "Let's Go Shopping" and "What Good is Federation?" A humorous skit on "What is a Grandma?" which was enjoyed by all. The needs of the Wheeler Library and the Senior Citizens was discussed. Ruby Lee Sandifer discussed "Patriotism is Everybody's Job" and the importance of being an informed citizen, exercising our right to vote and the need to alert ourselves to the tune nature and tactics of communism. The meeting closed with the club collect.

Coffee and cake were served to all the members except Zinnie Bailey, Inez Lancaster and Jewel Moore, who were absent.

The next meeting will be Sept. 25 in the home of Ruby Lee Sandifer.

Conservation is a dynamic process, a process that both uses resources and renews them, like life itself. - Kenneth E. Grant

TEXAS TALK
By George Richardson

Full impact of the farmer's ability to continually improve production is not realized by most of us. Demonstrating this point is a comparison of the total acreage planted now to that planted in the past. It's true the 218 million acres now being farmed in the United States is a lot of land... most people assume it's more than ever before. Fact is, it's considerably less than many years since 1900 and far below the record 359 million acres planted in 1929. Washington experts who keep the records say on the average two and one-half million acres of cropland are deleted every year, some to urban development, but most to grassland or forestry. Offsetting this loss is the breaking of half that much new land, one and a quarter million acres. A net loss of over a million acres every year... but technology improves... research continues... methods change... farmers work smarter... production sets new records. Again and again.

LINES FROM LINDA

By Linda Horton, Asst. County Extension Agent

By Linda Horton
Today's tightly stretched budget might make a second hand washer or dryer an appealing choice. But consumers should check the machine's condition before buying.

Appliance dealers often sell reconditioned, "recycled" trade-in washers and dryers. Or consumers can check a classified section of a newspaper for individual ads.

A dealer is most likely to offer a warranty, provide delivery and installation as well as service. Be sure to check this - and whether the appliance has been reconditioned and tested. Also, ask if parts will be available for repairs.

If buying from a private owner, jot down the model and serial numbers of the appliance. Then, write the manufacturer to determine age of the appliance and whether parts will be on hand for the unit's life expectancy.

Other points to consider is buying a used appliance.

- Check for signs of leakage, excessive wear or rust on the frame.

- Try to see the washer in operation to detect possible abnormal sounds which would indicate worn parts.

- See that hoses, cords, and finishes are in good condition.

- Make sure the timer advances through an entire cycle and shuts off the unit when it should.

Compare the features of the appliance with newer models. The machine should be geared to the types of fabric and wash loads to suit the family's needs.

Ask for the instruction manual which accompanies the machine. And if the booklet isn't available, write the manufacturer for one.

Wicker Furniture's "nostalgic" look makes today's home fashion it. Its versatility provides a light, airy look - or a cozy earthy feeling - depending on the design of the furniture, accompanying cushions and other accessories.

Wicker furniture can be rattan, reed, willow and bamboo. Signs of quality are a smooth sturdy frame with no visible loose fibers - and seat framing parts that are at least one inch thick.

Clear, even color and tightly wrapped joints and corners also indicate high quality. Keep in mind that delicate open-work even of the best quality, will not be as durable as closely woven designs.

Although humidity has a positive effect on wicker, using wicker outdoors means consumers should be careful, because rain, direct sunlight are damaging.

On the other hand, dry indoor heat causes this furniture to crack and creak under pressure.

Cleaning wicker furniture with a soft brush, then applying wax keeps it in "good as new" condition.

Mr. Forrest gave a most interesting, amusing, and informative talk. He stated that feeding the world is the challenge of U.S. Agriculture, and that the U.S. must sell agriculture products abroad. Mr. Forrest pointed the need for people familiar with agriculture to help shape the U.S. Agricultural policies and international agreements. He also said that one of the major networks have any personnel familiar with agriculture and that nationwide agricultural reporting is done by people who know very little about it.

Mr. Forrest stated that the farmer-rancher must be aware and use the many new scientific improvements available and to keep informed of those not yet perfected; to use the best conservation policies to protect the land; to keep better records so as to become better businessmen; and to get the true picture of agriculture to the consumer. He stated that Cowbelles were in a unique position to educate the public because they were familiar with both sides.

Here & There

By Laura Guthrie

Whoops. Winter again. The weekend weather was just a warning. We all know that fall and winter brings about a change of clothing and living habits. But who is ready for it? So the creator of the world, weather and where-with-all was just reminding us to get busy with the change over. But I liked that weather. Didn't you?

The Texas lower valley has attracted some of our people recently. Beta Farmer went with her daughter, Marjorie and Gene Miller, of Amarillo, and spent nine days traveling along the valley as far as Matamoras. Beta enjoyed it immensely. She is like some of the rest of us. She doesn't get out of town much, and when she does she really drinks it in. Also Ola Davis has been on a two-week trip to Corpus Christi and surrounding area. Her sister, Gilne Rogers of Sudan Accompanied her. From Corpus they visited relatives on the road home.

Mrs. Lillie Moon had the news last week that her nephew, Milton George of Stephenville had died from a heart attack.

Mrs. Tommie Cummings of Borger and Mrs. Lillian Gresset of Canyon made a short visit with their sister, Mary Finsterwald last week. They were here for the funeral of Mrs. Ruth Horn. Tommy is the mother of Mrs. Thurman Horn.

Clara Marshall and daughter Laura of Lubbock were in Wheeler over the weekend, attending business and visiting. They were guests of Adrian and Dorothy Risner.

This week Adrian and Dorothy Risner have as their house guests Dorothy's brother, Raymond Casey, Los Angeles, Calif., and his sister, Mrs. Grady Ackard of Stamford, Tex.

All out to the ball game Friday night. Our presence and our spirit can go a long way to bringing victory to our team. Rah! Rah! Mustangs.

FRANK PHILLIPS COLLEGE

He will be the first guest artist of a series of fine arts programs planned to benefit the piano fund of the college music department.

The Borger Federated Music Club awarded his scholarships for three consecutive years enabling him to attend two summer sessions of the Aspen School of Music where he came to the attention of the renowned teacher, Adele Marcus. This led to a scholarship to study with her at the Juilliard School of Music in New York where he is beginning this fall his fourth year of work with Miss Marcus. Last December he was featured soloist with the Amarillo Symphony after winning the 1973 National Artist Auditions and for which he was awarded the Virgean Estes Latson award of $1,000.

Bayless will play a concert of classical, romantic, and early 20th century music composed by Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin, Scriabin, and Rachmaninoff. Everyone who enjoys the classics for the piano is urged to attend and enjoy the performance of this fine young musician.

Tickets, at $5 each, may be purchased at First National Bank or Panhandle Bank & Trust, both of Borger, or at the door the evening of the recital.

Advanced reservations may be made by calling the college Bookstore, telephone 74-5311, extension 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Darville Atherton took Mr. and Mrs. Letcher Edwards to Houston Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Brown visited Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn Edwards over the weekend. Mrs. Brown is their daughter from Amarillo, Texas.

TRAVELING WITH KIDS

The stewardess may not be your babysitter, but she'll be happy to lend a hand with bottles and preparing special food. Simply tell her what you need before she gets tired serving meals.

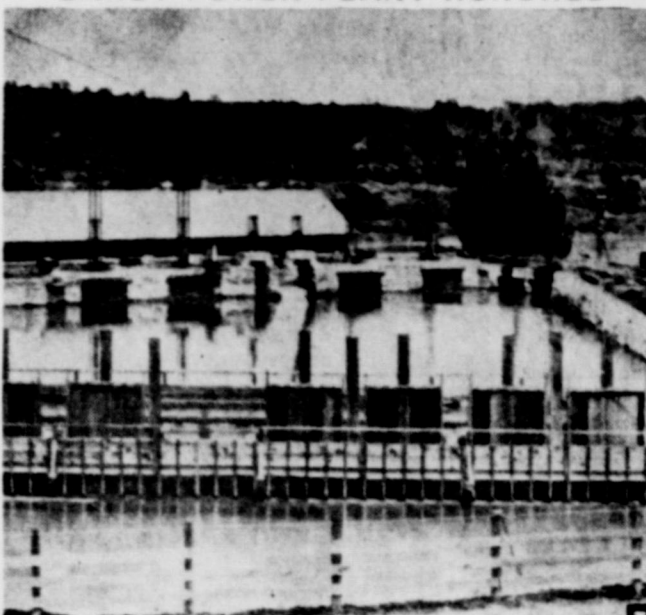

At airports, ground hosts will help you to and from aircraft and see that you are made comfortable while you wait for your flight.

You may not think it possible to take an economical vacation with children, but you can. If you stay at Holiday Inns in the U.S. abroad, children can stay in their parents' room for less than $5 a night. And, at all Holiday Inns, there's free parking - a baby stroller for the adults included.

BUILDING A BETTER WORLD

EARLY POWER PLANT HONORED

LANDMARK POWERHOUSE - Original generating plant of Folsom Hydroelectric Power System, near Sacramento.

Chances are you take electricity for granted, but not too long ago an electrically powered streetcar was a new and miraculous thing. In fact, it was on July 13, 1895 that the Folsom Powerhouse located 20 miles from Sacramento, California started providing that city with high-voltage, three phase alternating current for significant commercial use. That July day the people of Sacramento were the first to celebrate that big step forward in the history of engineering accomplishment.

The Folsom Hydroelectric Power System has been designated a National Historic Civil Engineering Landmark by the American Society of Civil Engineers. The Society identifies various engineering works which are particularly significant in the development of America.

The Folsom Hydroelectric Power System proved that low-cost hydroelectric energy could be efficiently transmitted to distant population centers and became a model for other cities to follow.

In 1856 the town of Folsom was the terminus of the Sacramento Valley Railroad, the first railroad in the West. Recalling the use of water power in his native New England, Horatio Livermore envisioned generating power for neighboring factories and farms and for the city of Sacramento.

He and his two sons started building a dam in a narrow gorge of the American River just above Folsom. Because of capital shortages, lawsuits and political bickering it was 26 years before the dam was completed.

The water was supplied from a canal leading from a masonry dam, through a small powerhouse at the Folsom Penitentiary and then on to the main powerhouse. The running water sped through four 1100 horsepower turbines. These were directly connected to four 750 kilowatt generators, the largest of their type in the world.

The Folsom Powerhouse was discontinued in 1952 but stands today much as it did in 1895 enjoying its deserved national recognition.

TREES IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Charter Oak. Perhaps the most famous tree in American history, this great oak provided a hiding place for the charter of the Connecticut Colony when King James II demanded its surrender in 1687. The tree, which stood near Hartford, Conn., blew down in a gale in 1856.

Indian Trail Tree. To mark a trail for hunting or trading, Indians often bent young trees over and tied their tips to the ground. Frequently, these trees took root a second time, as did this one, now preserved in a park near Evanston, Ill.

Mullian Tree. This western white pine in Coeur d'Alene National Forest, Idaho, is named for Captain John Mullian. It marked a military road built under his direction, and is inscribed "MR JULY 4, 1861." Work on the 624-mile road from Fort Benton, Mont., to Walla Walla, Wash., was begun in 1856, but was postponed 3 years because of Indians on the warpath.

Daniel Boone's "Bar" Tree. This was a beech which stood in northeastern Tennessee until 1917. Boone, probably the first man to explore the forests of the Middle Appalachians, carved this inscription on the tree: "D. Boone called A BAR ON Tree in THE YEAR 1760."

Sailor's Sycamore. As far back as 1800, sailing masters used this tree to locate their anchorage as they came into Santa Barbara, California. These drawings are part of the St. Regis Paper Company exhibit, "Man & Nature." Over half a million people have seen the art in cities where the company has packaging, paper and construction products operations. The company plants about 25 million seedlings a year, some of which may become historic trees of the future.

Dueling Oak. In the early Creole days of New Orleans, honor was delicate, and almost any real or fancied slight was an excuse for a duel "under the oaks." This live oak in New Orleans' City Park is a memento of that era.
