Hirohito Goes Calling On MacArthur

Moscow May Settle Balkan Peace Issue

Ministers Plan Series Of Talks During Waiting

By FLORA LEWIS
LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and Soviet Russia planned a series of informal talks today amid unconfirmed reports that Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov was waiting word from Moscow which might clear the way toward a solution of the Balkan peace issue.

The full council of Big Five foreign ministers was to take up again French proposals for internationalization of the Ruhr and Rhine-land in the afternoon.

In the interim the foreign secretaries of the Big Three powers were reported reliably to be discussing renewed Soviet demands to exclude France and China from participating in the discussion of Balkan treaties.

There were indications that unless U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Molotov were convinced an absolute deadlock had been reached, they would keep the council in session until this obstacle to the Romanian, Bulgarian and Hungarian treaties was removed.

The fact that sessions would continue at least for a day or two more led informed observers here to believe that some sort of agreement on the problem was on the way.

Bagley Will Return To US, Parents Hear

William R. Bagley will be returning to the United States in the very near future, Mrs. Mary F. Bagley learned Thursday morning through a communication from the Secretary of War.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bagley heard their last from their son, Cpl. William Bagley, before the fall of the Philippines. At that time he was presumably with a coast artillery unit on Corregidor. The Bagleys heard indirectly through the Red Cross that their son was a prisoner of war by a communication dated April 6, 1945. About two weeks ago they received two letters from him dated Oct. 12, 1944, and Jan. 17, 1945. Those two letters were the only word received from him for nearly four years.

The War Department letter advised that Cpl. Bagley would be given an opportunity to communicate with his family on his return to the United States.

Latin - Americans Walk Off Water Crew

Six Latin-Americans of the water crew walked off the job Tuesday after an Anglo-American had been made foreman reported B. J. McDaniel, city manager. So far, no replacements have been made. McDaniel said indications show that paving work will possibly begin within 60 days. The labor problem has been the chief hold back.

ONE AMERICAN OFFICER KILLED, ONE INJURED IN ANNAMENSE RIOT

By VERN HAUGLAND
SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—Lt. Col. A. Peter Dewey of Washington, D. C., was killed and Capt. Joseph Coolidge of New Hampshire was seriously wounded by Annamese in disorders today.

The American officers, defending U. S. headquarters from a siege of three hours, killed at least eight natives. British, French and Japanese also suffered casualties in a series of incidents. As a result of the continued disorders, Field Marshal Count Juchii Terachi, the Japanese commander, was placed under virtual house arrest.

Dewey, about 28, headed the American Office of Strategic Services delegation here. He was a former Chicago Daily News corre-

Opposition Jailed In Argentina Siege

By VAUGHAN BRYANT

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 27 (AP)—Jails swallowed up leaders of every shade of opposition to Argentina's military government today while Argentines from the Atlantic to the Andes waited to see what further steps would be taken to carry out a state of siege imposed yesterday.

Squads of federal police with long lists of wanted persons systematically covered this capital of 2,500,000 as the dragnet tightened here and elsewhere over the country.

The decree which deprives Argentines of their civil rights came unexpectedly as the climax to a period of mounting opposition to the military regime of President Edelmiro Farrell and Col. Juan Peron, vice-president and strong man of Argentina.

Farrell told the nation last night that reimposition of the decree "should be regarded as a transitory measure" brought about by "an unrestrained campaign of disorder and commotion" which had excited the nation. He said in a radio address that the state of siege would be lifted "when the directive groups of the nation have shown they know how to make full use of liberty" and reiterated that general elections would be held as promised.

Recruiting Offices Opened In West Tex.

Maj. Robert G. Gibbons, commanding officer of the West Texas U. S. Army recruiting district, announces the opening of Army recruiting stations throughout the West Texas district.

Plans were to open a sub-station in the basement of the Post Office in Big Spring, but so far, no recruiting officer may be contacted.

Truman Let Down On Jobless Pay, He Tells House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—President Truman told house ways and means committee democrats today that the senate had "let him down" on jobless pay liberalization and that he did not expect the house to do so.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who talked with Mr. Truman after the president pleaded with 12 ways and means committee democrats to reconsider the committee's 14 to 10 vote to shelve the legislation indefinitely, told reporters:

"The president spoke vigorously. He said he stood pat on 26 weeks and $25 (weekly for unemployment compensation).

"He said the senate let him down and he expected the house not to do so.

"He said his views were fully outlined in his message to congress and he stood by them."

Previously, Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the committee refused to tell reporters about the conference, saying the president called it and it was up to him to talk.

Asked whether the committee would have another meeting to reconsider its vote, Doughton replied: "If the committee wants it."

One-Third Meat Supply Reduced To Zero Points

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—One-third of the increasing meat supply will be ration free beginning Sunday.

The OPA formally announced today that from Sunday through October 27 no points will be required for lower grades of beef, veal and lamb.

Also ration-free will be hamburger, lamb and veal patties and all cheaper cuts of all grades of meat. These include such cuts as short ribs and brisket of beef, breast and flank of lamb and shank of veal.

Points are being eliminated, too, on all canned meats, sausage, frankfurters, luncheon meats and all other products made from lower grades of meat. These grades are utility, canner and cutter beef, and utility and cul veal and lamb.

Points on canned fish are being trimmed two to three points a pound.

The usual monthly allotment of 50 red points will become valid next Monday. The new stamps, in ration book four, are R1, S1, T1, U1 and V1. Stamps V2, W2, X2, Y2 and Z2 expire Sunday.

Bishop Guerra Of Mexico To Speak

Bishop Eleazar Guerra of the Methodist Church in Mexico will speak at 8 p. m. today in the First Methodist church.

The Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor, said that Bishop Guerra was unusually well informed and eloquent. Church leaders in the United States have been high in their praise of him.

L. M. Gary Construction Company began work on a $10,000 tile and stucco storage and body shop for Marvin Wood Thursday morning. The lot at 304 Austin is 50'x140' and the building is to be 48'x138'.

Wood stated that the new structure is to be used for a painting and repair shop as well as a new car storage shop.

McDANIEL TRANSFERRED

Lt. Jack McDaniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. McDaniel, has been transferred to Camp Mackall, N. C., with the 97th Infantry Division. He is the company commander of 200 men training for replacement.

DAVIS DISCHARGED

Rudolph Davis, who entered the army as an air corps specialist in September, 1942, arrived home Wednesday after receiving his discharge. He was stationed here until several months ago when he was assigned to a camp in Washington.

Emperor Comes Bowing At Door Of Conquering Ruler Of Japan

By MURLIN SPENCER and MORRIE LANDSBERG
TOKYO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Hat in hand, Emperor Hirohito shattered tradition by going to call on General MacArthur today.

Topics of their secluded 35-minute conversation before the U. S. embassy fireside were not announced, but the mere fact the emperor came bowing to MacArthur's door "was the important thing," one American officer said. Such an event is new in Japan's rigidly dignified imperial history.

The Japanese central liaison office, to which all inquiries were referred, told the Associated Press today that Allied headquarters and the Japanese government "reached an agreement not to disclose" the topics discussed.

Because of the length of the talk, it was assumed they discussed generally mutual problems connected with American occupation of what remains of Hirohito's once great empire.

The emperor's somewhat old, dark automobile, drove up to the main entrance carrying the imperial emblem on the front. The back curtain was drawn. Hirohito was sitting bolt upright in the seat.

An attendant jumped out of the car, opened the door and bowed. The chamberlain, Admiral Fujita, backed out of the car, keeping his face to the emperor, and bowed as Hirohito got out.

The emperor found Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, MacArthur's aide, and Maj. Saubion Bower, an interpreter, awaiting them. Hirohito, in formal diplomatic clothes, took off his silk hat, bowed, and shook hands with Fellers, probably an unprecedented thing.

Still more unprecedented, however, the emperor again extended his hand as Fellers introduced him to Bower.

Fellers ushered the emperor ahead of him to the state reception room where, as he entered the door, Hirohito bowed in MacArthur's direction.

Hirohito found his host wearing army khaki and an open-throated shirt. The supreme Allied commander wore no tie and no medals.

The call was informal. A spokesman acknowledged that the meeting was "fraught with insignificance" but emphasized it was arranged at the request of the emperor's representative.

The two shook hands and Mac-

Arthur greeted him with "good morning." They posed briefly for a picture, then moved to a settee where they began to talk.

There was a quiet dignity about the preliminaries as though MacArthur was trying to make the visit as painless as possible for the emperor.

While the emperor was en route to the embassy, correspondents dashed up a hill after the five-car convoy. American guards started to hustle them off. They had orders not to allow anyone within two blocks of the scene of the precedent-shattering meeting.

As the cars passed through the gate, two sentries from the First Cavalry division briskly presented arms.

The emperor tipped his hat to a couple of soldiers with green helmets and bayonets.

Oil Conference Deadlocked

Further Cutbacks May Result If Strikes Spread

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—With Texas' oil allowable production already cut 400,000 barrels daily effective Oct. 1, the Texas Railroad Commission has said that further cutbacks logically would result if a nation-wide strike of refineries is called.

The railroad commission, Texas' oil regulatory body, put oil fields generally on a 12-day producing month in place of a 21-day month yesterday.

The order brought a complaint from one East Texas refiner that it would be unfair to shut down East Texas refineries just because coastal plants are having trouble.

However, strike trouble involving an estimated 1,900 additional workers in the East Texas oil fields was threatening. Demands of the East Texas workers in general follow the national OWIU wage aims of 52 hours pay for a 40-hour week.

At Kilgore workers of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company, which takes salt water produced with oil in East Texas fields and reinjects it into the ground to the oil formation to maintain pressure, have set midnight tonight for a walkout.

Gulf pipeline workers in East Texas took a strike vote last night but have announced no results.

Approximately 17 companies would be affected in the area. The strike thus far has shut down 16 refineries or affiliated plants in the Texas gulf coast area, affecting 22,000 workers.

In New Orleans, headquarters of the CIO said yesterday that locals in five plants in that area have voted to strike, if necessary, in support of the OWIU's national program demanding a wage increase. Approximately 500 men would be affected.

The situation remained unchanged along the gulf coast, except for the placing of pickets around three bulk stations in the Houston area.

Idle Army Skyrockets To Two Million Mark

By The Associated Press
Tension mounted over the nation's spreading labor strife today as the army of idle workers over labor disputes skyrocketed to near the two million mark.

The over-all labor picture was the worst in months. The strike list, below the 100,000 mark most of the year preceding V-J day, bulged as hundreds of thousands of workers were forced off their jobs by disputes, some of them fresh outbreaks.

A quick survey along the troubled labor front showed: More than 1,850,000 workers off their jobs, some 370,000 idle by strikes, the others hit indirectly by the stoppages.

For the fourth day New York City struggled in the grip of a single strike which paralyzed business and industrial activity at an estimated loss of millions of dollars in trade and wages, and inconvenienced hundreds of thousands. The strike by about 15,000 AFL elevator operators and building service employees threatened to spread.

Across the country in the Pacific northwest where more than 60,000 AFL lumber workers are striking, a CIO union continued policy meetings but did not issue a strike call to its 40,000 workers.

Additional coal miners left their jobs in West Virginia and Pennsylvania bringing the total miners idle in the two states to more than 35,000. The strike-idle in Pennsylvania alone mounted to around 75,000, including 33,500 at four Westinghouse Electric Company plants. Fifty-eight bituminous pits were closed.

In Detroit, plagued for months by strikes and shutdowns and currently having some 90,000 idle, CIO-United Automobile Workers representatives and Chrysler Corporation spokesmen made no comment as they recessed their conference on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase for the company's 80,000 workers.

Another window peeper was reported to police Wednesday making the second this week. Again the suspect could not be found.

Three girls were arrested for VD checks and investigation after they were found in a local hotel room. Four men were arrested for drunkenness including a Flight Officer who was turned over to military police also for prowling.

A juvenile was reported to have broken a plate glass in the home of Courtney Davies.

Airliner Forced To Land In Field

An American Airlines plane en route from Oklahoma City to Los Angeles made a forced landing in a pasture just north of the airport here at 4:50 this morning when an engine developed trouble.

The plane had just taken off from here with a change of crew, a few minutes before. When the pilot, Capt. C. W. Maris, realized there was trouble, he headed back, but the big plane could not stretch a glide to the field, and an emergency landing was made.

None of the crew of three nor any of the 21 passengers were hurt. Some who were asleep did not know anything had happened, C. F. Hiners, traffic manager for the area, said.

Another plane was brought in for passengers to resume their journey about 9 o'clock.

Warren Invites Delegates To Washington

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The U. S. Conciliation Service's new chief, Edgar L. Warren, personally entered the oil strike conferences today and invited delegates to move their sessions to Washington immediately.

Warren, who made a surprise appearance at the deadlocked meeting of labor and oil industry representatives, said the invitation was issued at the request of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

Warren added "it was felt that perhaps more progress toward settlement could be made in Washington."

Both sides in the 12-day dispute that involves 35,000 CIO unionists at present and threatens to extend to 250,000 workers adjourned until 1:30 p. m. Central War Time when they are to notify Warren whether they will accept the invitation.

Daniel T. Pierce, assistant to the secretary of the Sinclair Refining company, told reporters "industry will go to Washington." Union spokesmen were in conference and declined comment.

The CIO Oil Workers International Union disclosed yesterday that its executive council had authorized a nationwide strike, provided the conciliation meetings fail to settle the issues. Adjournment of last night's meeting automatically withheld strike action.

The overnight recess was suggested by Justice William L. Knous of the Colorado supreme court who is presiding over the three-man conciliation panel so the principals would have more time "to think over the situation and realize its seriousness."

Daniel T. Pierce of Sinclair Refining company, an industry spokesman, said "nothing has been accomplished; the position of both sides is unchanged."

Comment from Union President O. A. Knight was similar: "There is no tangible evidence of any change in the position of industry."

Good News Come From Freed Men

More good news concerning Big Spring men liberated from prison camps came today.

Friends learned that Pvt. Kenneth W. Luton, a prisoner since the fall of Bataan, had been freed. He communicated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luton, Houston, former residents, that he was at a place which looked "like paradise" and "you can't imagine how wonderful it is to be free." Kenneth attended high school here and worked in Big Spring before entering service.

Mrs. Anna Gensberg has received official word from the war department confirming previous reports that her son, Capt. Frank Gensberg, who also was taken prisoner during the last days of Bataan, had been liberated.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Y. Dixon received a cablegram Thursday morning from their son, Floyd Dixon, S-i-c from Honolulu. He said he was "homebound" and would arrive in San Francisco Oct. 2, and sent regards "to all my friends."

PIN-WORM ITCH MAY THREATEN YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH

Don't let your child suffer a single needless minute of distress with Pin-Worms!

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong. So watch out for the warning signs—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it!

A highly effective way to deal with this tiny infection has now been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug known as gentian violet. This special drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So, if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, get a box of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions.

Ask your Druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Paris Style Showings Viewed By US WACs At Opening Of Fall Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—At the first well attended fashion openings here, the salons have played host to many English designers, fashion writers of all nations and groups of WACs who admire the clothes, as well as GIs who discuss the mannequins.

Paquin emphasizes shoulder lines by important use of the yoke in innumerable ways.

In contrast, Lucian Lelong's emphasis is on the draped front hip-line.

Paquin's suits, afternoon and evening dresses have interest concentrated on neck yokes and berthas by use of contrasting material and by outlining wide shoulder lines with metal embroidery. Skirts are full with pleated front and back.

Fur skins decorate dresses and suits. Seal, beaver, silver fox and less costly pelts appear as patch pockets and tiny collars. Velvet is used for collar, belt and pocket trimming.

Nipped-in natural waistlines and suit jackets that fall well below the hipline form the theme. Street dress lengths are just below the knees.

Raglan and dolman sleeves are shown and modified leg of mutton sleeves are used in the afternoon dresses.

A pastel green tweed suit carries sheared beaver cuffs reaching above the elbow and giving the appearance of gauntlets.

Paquin, like Lelong, is lining many coats with fur and putting quilted silk and satin linings of brilliant hue in others. But while Paquin sticks to the slim bodice, wasp waist and flaring skirts in most coats, Lelong is deliberately giving many coats a bulky look.

Spectators are impressed by Paquin's unusual odd color combinations. A rich hostess gown of emerald green bodice has a flowing skirt of red-purple and is caught at the waist by a garnet red belt and a front held by deep red garnet buttons.

Purples and browns dominate his collection, just as black is the primary color in Lelong's.

Women with tiny waists are the only ones who will have an easy time in Molyneux clothes. While his collection is not as dramatic as some, he emphasizes the importance of the silhouette with smooth, sophisticated understanding. Shoulders are square without exaggeration. Bodices are form fitting and pockets of all types are important.

But where only one trend is noticeable in each of the other large collections a wide variety of styles is shown in the Molyneux models.

One interesting note is the use of flat fur such as leopard cat and sheared lamb for full-length coats with sharply contrasting use of bulky fur such as skunk or opossum.

His skirts are shorter, generally, than those of the other collections. Most of them are full with pleats except one slim, straight model similar to a Lelong specialty of the season.

One of the most striking models in the collection is an angora wool housecoat with huge dolman sleeves striped brilliant orange.

And if couturiers have anything to say about hats they are going to be small, even though many of them are high. Feathers are in as well as all other types of trimming and there are just as many brims as pillboxes in the collections.

Forlorn Reds May Have Say-So In Pennant Race

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's forlorn Reds, a seventh-place ball club that never was a factor in the National league race, probably will decide the pennant duel between the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals.

Two games with the Rhinelanders today mean the difference between an early clinching or a last day finish for Charley Grimm's Bruins. Three Saturday and Sunday dates with the pesky Reds hold the key to Billy Southworth's hopes for a fourth straight St. Louis flag.

The punchless Redlegs have been a pushover for the Cubs all season long, dropping 19 of 20 meetings, to rank as one of the main reasons Chicago has been able to stay out front while losing 16 of 22 to the defending world champs.

If the Bruins can maintain their spell and knock off the Reds twice today, they would need only one more victory to be sure of a tie even if St. Louis downs Pittsburgh tonight and sweeps its final three from the Reds.

But if the brow-beaten Cincy should kick over the traces and flatten the Cubs twice while the Cards whip the Buccos, Chicago's 1-2 game lead would melt into an all-even tie.

Grimm has protested yesterday's 11-6 loss to St. Louis on the grounds that one umpire (Babe Pinelli) wasn't looking and another (Butch Henline) said he refused to change his mind despite an official reversal by umpire-in-chief Dusty Boggess, changing a double play into a St. Louis base hit.

After Whitey Kurovski opened the seventh inning with a single, Ray Sanders drove a long fly deep into right field that Bill Nicholson apparently caught as he hit the wall, dropped and caught again on the rebound. Kurovski had waited half way to second, to see whether the ball would be caught and then sped to second, waving Sanders back to first. Nicholson whipped the ball to second base.

An original decision ruled a double play, prompting a Cardinal protest, and a reversal gave Sanders a hit and placed both men on base, resulting in a long argument climaxed by Grimm's official protest.

St. Louis went on from there to cement a 6-5 lead with five more runs as the Cubs fell apart. Ken Burkhardt who replaced Red Barrett in the fourth was the victor over Claude Passeau. Nicholson polished off its home business for the year by splitting a pair with Cleveland, winning 11-0 behind Hal Newhouser, and losing 3-2 to Steve Gromek, an old Detroit boy.

The results assured the Tigers of a tie for first, even if they lose their final two at St. Louis Saturday and Sunday. Meanwhile, Washington continues to practice for a phantom foe, its only hope a double Brownie victory forcing a playoff Monday or Tuesday.

That was the only business in the American league as rain cancelled a date between Chicago and St. Louis and the other clubs were not scheduled.

National league tilts having nothing to do with the flag race but directly concerned with third place found Brooklyn downing New York, 8-1, and Pittsburgh splitting a pair with Cincinnati. After the Reds had taken the opener, 5-2, behind freshman John Hetski, the Pirates evened matters, 2-1, for Nick Strincevich's 16th victory.

Mourning Doves Plentiful This Fall

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 27 (AP)—Mourning doves are plentiful in the northern Texas zone where the season is now open and R. E. Callender, wildlife specialist for the A. and M. College extension service, predicts even better dove hunting in the southern zone as the season advances with migrations from more northern areas southward.

The season for mourning doves opened in the north zone September 1 and closes October 30, inclusive. Season for the south zone runs from October 20 to December 15, both days included.

The north zone includes Val Verde, Edwards, Real, Bandera, Kendall, Blanco, Burnet, Williams, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Cherokee, Nacogoches and Shelby counties and all counties north and west of these.

There are some county exceptions, but open season for quail in both zones is December 1 to January 16 inclusive. The bag is 12 per day and not more than 36 per week. For mourning doves, the limit is 10 per day, and not more than one day's kill in possession.

The white wing dove season in selected border counties ended September 23.

Tech Names Players Team Co-Captains

LUBBOCK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Breaking a practice of the past two years, the Texas Tech football squad has named fullback Walter Schlinkman and center Otis Turner co-captains for 1945. Previously co-captains have been named for each game.

Schlinkman, Dumas senior, received all-America mention in 1944 and opened the 1945 campaign last Saturday by piling up 145 yards gain from scrimmage, scoring the game's only touchdown, adding the point and doing virtually all the punting as the Red Raiders defeated Southwestern 7-0.

Turner, Wink junior, is a native of Arkansas. He's a tennis player, as well as first-string center. The Red Raiders play Texas A. and M. at San Antonio Saturday night and a squad of 38 players will leave here early tomorrow for that city.

Association To Meet

HOUSTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Gulf Ports association will meet here Friday and Saturday according to an announcement from J. Russell Wait, port director. Officers will be elected at a business meeting Saturday.

Four Districts Plan Conference Games

By The Associated Press
Conference games are scheduled in four districts this week-end in Texas schoolboy football with one of them set for tonight when Woodrow Wilson, leader of the Dallas district race, meets Forest.

Tomorrow night finds three other districts with conference games—Arlington Heights playing Fort Worth Tech in the Fort Worth district, Ennis clashing with Waxahachie and Cleburne meeting Bryan in District 10 and Tyler tangling with Henderson and Texarkana tackling Gladewater in District 11.

More than 60 games will be played over the state this week-end. One was run off last night when Jeff Davis (Houston) defeated St. Thomas (Houston) 13-0.

Laredo Gunnery Range Returned

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Laredo army air field gunnery range has been declared surplus and turned over to the Surplus Property Board, according to an announcement from the war department yesterday.

The range comprises 629,298 acres. Approximately 300,000 acres has been returned to ranch owners in the past five days. Brig. Gen. E. H. Marks, division engineer of the army southwestern division, reported.

Alfalfa is one of the oldest forage plants in the world.

Steers Still Suffer Loss From Illnesses

A roll call at the moment might be damaging to the morale of the Steers in preparing for their game with the Lubbock Westerners at Lubbock Friday evening.

The latest tally by Coach John Dibrell, showed the following out of line:

Webb, Puckett, Hollis, Madison, Hall, Biddison, Coleman, Strahan, Horn, Burns, Abbe, Foster, J. B. Coffee, R. Coffey, Campbell, Hale, Burrus, Rogers. Eighteen—count 'em. The day before it would have been 25. Dibrell and Assistant Coach Conn Isaacs are hoping the total will drop by Friday, but even so it won't leave the squad in too good shape.

The starting line-up, with some of the boys only a few days out of bed due to bouts with a mild form of typhus—likely will stack up like this:

D. D. Douglass and Marvin Wright, ends; Gerald Harris and Jimmy Shaffer, tackles; Ike Robb and Billy Casey, guards; Tommy Clinkscale, center; Jackie Barron, Bobo Hardy, Hugh Cochran, and Robert Miller, backs.

However, there is extreme doubt about Miller. He is suffering from a hip injury and may not be put in the game at all. Hardy, up from a typhus attack, developed a charley horse. Cochran has suffered from a flu with the sinus.

Horace Rankin should break back into the line-up to give relief to Jackie Barron. With Webb out, Dibrell will have to lean on some youngsters without experience. Among them are Paul Shaffer, B. B. Lees, Harold Berry, George Worrell, who, like so many others, has gone through a seige.

If this isn't a sufficiently dark picture, then the starting line can be more closely examined. Gerald Harris, the No. 1 tackle, has been ill. So have Robb and Casey. Bobby Hollis, new find at tackle, is currently absent due to illness.

Add this to the fact that Lubbock weighs in at some 25 pounds per man heavier, plus more experience, plus the at home advantage and you make out a pretty bad case for the Steers.

However, if they should bristle and make a good game of it the stock of the young Bovines would rise here at home, for fans realize they have been bucking a lot of early season trouble. Maybe it will be behind them by the time the season starts.

Cheering GI's From Asiatic Theater End Long Journey Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Cheering GI's from the China-Burma-India war theater arrived here yesterday after a 13,000-mile trip on the U.S.S. General Greely, which carried 3,075 troops and passengers.

Tigers," the 10th air force; the squadrons, Merrill's Marauders, the Mars task force, the army airways communication system, the 352nd army engineers; the 61st railway operating company, the 478th and 21st army quartermaster corps, the Kachin Rangers, members of the Office of Strategic Services, the 48th evacuation hospital, the 20th general hospital and the 151st medical battalion.

Delhi. They had with them their 10-months old daughter, Marian Louise. Capt. Lee West, of Amarillo, Tex., an officer of the Kachin Raiders, said his men were trained to parachute into the jungles and win the favor of the natives. He displayed a three-foot long Burma knife of a type carried by tribal chieftains.

Refinery Manager Protests Proration

GLADEWATER, Sept. 27 (AP)—J. E. G. Craig, manager of the Gladewater Refining company, said that cutting the East Texas field to 11 production days in October would result in shutting down the refinery.

He said a strong protest would be made to the railroad commission. The protest, he said, would claim it is unfair to shut down refineries here just because coastal plants are having trouble.

Highway Commission Holds Public Hearing

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP)—The highway commission cleared a heavy docket yesterday at its regular monthly public hearing, topped off by the appearance of Senators Weaver Moore of Houston and W. E. Stone of Galveston to put in a word for the proposed Houston ship channel and Galveston tunnels.

Chairman John Redditt said it was likely the commission would consider in executive session today the two tunnels contemplated for the Houston ship channel and the Bolivar tunnel to Galveston.

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK By BENNETT CERF

ON July 8, 1914, the Boston Braves wallowed in last place in the National League standings. Then, while the big guns of the Boches were wiping Belgian fortresses off the map, and while Charles Chaplin and Mabel Normand were beginning to be noticed by movie fans, this Boston team began to click.

Under the inspiring leadership of "Miracle Man" George Stallings, three pitchers spearheaded the drive. They were Dick Rudolph, Bill James and George Tyler. Among them they won forty-nine games while losing ten; they galloped through the league like wildfire, ending no fewer than ten and one-half games ahead of the second place Giants!

To complete the miracle, this one-year wonder team tore through the heavily favored Athletics in the World Series for four straight victories. Fans remember Catcher Hank Gowdy and Second Baseman Rabbit Maranville from that team. Ever since 1914, managers have tried to rouse lagging aggregations by pointing to the exploits of the Boston Braves. The players know, however, that in baseball miracles like that happen once in a hundred years.

Not One Sabotage Case In Texas Directed By Enemy -- By Citizens

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff Eighty-five cases of sabotage

were uncovered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Texas during the war—but not one single case was enemy-directed. Suspicions and rumors that wrecks, explosions and fires in war plants and mechanical breakdowns of various sorts were caused by enemy agents were entirely groundless.

In a report prepared in Washington by the FBI for the Texas bureau of the Associated Press, the FBI said it had investigated 694 cases in Texas.

Sabotage was discovered, but all cases were traced to spite, carelessness, greed, prankishness and similar motives.

An instance was explained: A mechanic was cutting electrical wires in a plane, hoping the mechanical failures would lead to the dismissal of the foreman and the promotion of himself to the job.

While bombs were still falling at Pearl Harbor, FBI agents began rounding up alien enemies in Texas. A total of 542 were apprehended. They included 295 Germans, 117 Japanese and 130 Italians.

A major job was the rounding up of escaped prisoners of war. There have been 261 escapes in Texas. Up to Sept. 7, 1945, only four enemy prisoners were still at large.

The FBI handled the selective service cases of enough men in Texas to form a fairly good-sized fighting force. During the fiscal years 1942 to 1945, the four Texas field divisions of the FBI handled 18,425 draft cases. In each instance, these men were made available to the military services or otherwise disposed of according to law.

Almond Sponge with Custard Sauce

Orange-Raisin Muffins
2 cups flour
1-3 cup sugar
3-4 teaspoon soda
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup seedless raisins
1-2 teaspoon orange rind, grated
1-3 cup orange juice, strained
1 egg, well beaten
2-3 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1-2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Sift dry ingredients together three times. Add raisins and orange rind. Add combined liquid ingredients, mixing just enough to moisten. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake at 425 degrees 25 minutes.

1-2 package mint gelatin
Custard sauce

Add two cups boiling water to lemon gelatin, stirring until dissolved; then set aside to cool. Add one cup boiling water to mint gelatin, stir until dissolved and set aside to cool. When thick as molasses, whip, separately, lemon and mint gelatin until frothy. Pour thin layer of lemon into box mold, chilled in ice box. Then cover with mint gelatin and pour remaining lemon gelatin on top. Set aside to chill.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 1/2 quarts a day. If the 12 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show the trouble is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 12 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Realize Lime's Versatility In Desserts

LIME SPONGE PIE... Surprise dessert for company...

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor
Most people think of limes as making the best of long, cooling summer drinks, which they do. But few of us realize that limes are a versatile fruit and that they can and should be used for many other things. The peak of the lime season is right now, in the Indian Summer of September and early October. Those great, beautifully green, seedless limes we get from Florida contain an amazing amount of tangy flavor which can add interest to lots of recipes. Dishes made with lime juice require much less sweetening than the same ones with lemon, though limes may always be substituted for lemons in any recipe. Squeeze a bit of lime juice over melons, stewed fruit or avocado pears to bring out flavor. Use lime juice in place of vinegar in French dressing. A wedge of lime to squeeze over seafood or broiled fish gives an interesting taste touch.

And have you used limes in cooking? They make beautiful desserts—like these below.

Lime Sponge Pie
2 tablespoons shortening
1-2 cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
1-2 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons flour
2-3 cup milk
1-3 cup lime juice
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 unbaked 8-inch pie shell
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
Cream shortening, add sugar and cream until fluffy. Add egg yolks; beat well. Add corn syrup and flour. Mix thoroughly. Add milk, salt, lime juice and rind. Mix. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into lime mixture. Pour mixture into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 55 minutes. Cool. Garnish with cream cheese, softened with 2 tablespoons cream.

Florida Lime Custard
1-2 cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons sugar
2 1-2 tablespoons flour
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup heavy cream
2 egg yolks
1-2 cup water
2-3 cup lime juice.
Blend corn syrup, sugar, flour and salt well in top part of double boiler. Add cream and egg yolks, mixing thoroughly. Add water and lime juice. Cook over hot water, stirring frequently until thickened. Remove from heat and cool. This can be used as a dessert in itself, or as a sauce.

And here's a salad which depends for its subtle flavor upon lime juice. It makes a fine main course for luncheon, or can be used in place of dessert at dinner.

Lime Pear Salad
1, No. 2 can pear halves
1-2 cup lime juice
1-2 cup pear syrup
1-4 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon sugar
Shredded young cabbage
Drain pears. Marinate in lime juice for at least 30 minutes. Drain. Combine pear syrup, lime marinade, salad oil, salt, paprika and sugar. Shake in glass jar or beat with rotary beater to mix thoroughly. Arrange shredded cabbage on individual plates and place pear halves on top. Serve lime dressing separately, to be poured over the salad.

WTCC Scheduling Series Of Meetings, One In Big Spring

ABILENE, Sept. 27 (AP)—A series of eight district meetings over the territory of the West Texas chamber of commerce will begin Oct. 2. Abilene headquarters office has announced.

The meetings are called for consideration of a ballot document containing proposed policies and work program for the chamber in 1946.

At the sessions, regional committees' recommendations on policies and activities will be discussed but not voted on. Later, each attending director will send in his decision.

The district tour will open Oct. 2 at Cisco. Other sessions are: Oct. 3, at Brownwood; Oct. 4, Fort Stockton; Oct. 5, Big Spring; Oct. 8, Decatur; Oct. 10, Seymour; Oct. 11, Borger, and Oct. 12, Plainview.

Town meetings will follow the district discussions and will be in progress a month.

All WTCC officers, directors, committees, area chamber of commerce managers and other delegates will meet Nov. 7 for canvass ballots and elect officers for 1946.

Cotton Shippers Plan To Sell Goods Abroad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Representatives of the American Cotton Shippers association have started conferences at the legations here of potential cotton buying powers, advising them of the procedure necessary to obtain the American fiber through the Export Import bank.

Spokesmen for the group, after a conference with Wayne Taylor, president of the bank, quoted him last night as saying that foreign nations now could obtain domestic raw cotton under short term loans.

Members of the cotton group participating in the conferences here include Lt. Col. Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, Tex., and L. T. Murray of Waco, Tex.

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK
By BENNETT CERF

ONE of the most famous hotels in all the world was the original Waldorf-Astoria, which threw open its doors for the first time on March 13, 1893 (the Astoria part of the hotel was not completed until four years later) and was the centre of the New York hotel world until it was torn down to make way for the Empire State Building.

One of the most famous features of the old Waldorf-Astoria was Peacock Alley. It was said that if a person would simply sit there for two days, as at Shepherd's Hotel in Cairo, Egypt, he could see the rest of the world pass by.

Another room that the country folk flocked to see was the grill, which featured an honest-to-goodness trout stream. Young bucks were given a rod and reel and could actually fish for their dinner. Attendants unhooked their catch and bore it off to a sizzling grill near by; the bucks frequently filled in the moments of waiting by pushing each other into the stream. One of the memorable days in the history of the Old Waldorf came when Sergeant York, hero of the First World War, made his first visit to Manhattan. He was majordomo-ed by a Tennessee Congressman not yet very well known, named Cordell Hull.

Airline Expects To Negotiate With Union On Contract

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 27 (AP)—Contract negotiations between Pan American Airways and the Transport Workers Union of America (CIO) are expected to begin shortly after a threatened strike affecting 5,000 maintenance workers of the air line was called off yesterday.

The strike threat was ended soon after Pan American announced here that it had obtained additional work for its Miami employees and the discharge of 500 ground workers Oct. 1 would not be necessary.

The discharge of the workers was one of the principal complaints in the proposed strike.

In a joint statement in New York, PAA officials and the transport union announced contract negotiations would begin as soon as representatives from the west coast and Miami arrive there.

The arrival of several four-engine aircraft for overhaul at the plant here will provide enough work to keep the air line employees busy and the announced discharge of 500 men will not be necessary, PAA said.

The strike would have tied up the line's bases in the United States and her possessions, according to Michael J. Quill and Douglas L. MacMahon, president and secretary-treasurer of the union, respectively.

The union officials' announced last Friday that a layoff in Miami would cause a strike of 400 ground personnel at Brownsville, Tex.

Pull Up A Chair [For Two] At The Curb

AP Newsfeatures PHILADELPHIA — Frank J. Kolbe, a soldier's father, plans to manufacture electric wheel chairs for handicapped veterans, and already has his first one going. The construction of Kolbe's scooter became a neighborhood project when he ran into trouble getting parts. Neighbors sympathetic to the cause promptly contributed gears, batteries, chains, bearings and a tarpaulin. Kolbe's idea was born when Pvt. Frank Kolbe, Jr., home on furlough, was pushing Freddie Engel, crippled since birth, in a wheel chair. "Sure would be nice to have one driven by electricity," said Freddie (who is shown at right in the result; the boy is Raymond Kolbe, the private's brother).

The Nation Today— Two Heroines Of Science Retire, Suffering Diseases They Study

By FRANK CAREY Associated Press Science Writer (Substituting for James Marlow) WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Two heroines of science, whose contributions to medical knowledge are world-famous, are retiring as researchers for the National Institute of Health. They are: 1. Dr. Alice Evans, of Heath, Pa. The U. S. Public Health Service says her retirement was forced by recurrent attacks of undulant fever contracted 22 years ago during her laboratory work on the disease. She continued her researches in the malady despite the attacks. 2. Dr. Ida Bengston, of Harvard, Neb., who was stricken with epidemic typhus fever while inoculating rats for study purposes. She later recovered fully. Ironically, Dr. Evans was a victim of the very disease which she herself first identified for the medical profession. She identified undulant, or Malta fever, in 1923.

Through persistent research, she succeeded in tracing the disease to blooded goats which had been imported to the United States through the Mediterranean. Her findings proved also that undulant fever, and the disease in cattle in the United States known as Bang's disease, are caused by identical germs. Both diseases may be communicated to humans through the use of unpasteurized cow or goat milk. Dr. Bengston prepared, during 1935-36, the standard for gas gangrene toxins and anti-toxins—a standard now used by the League of Nations health committee in Copenhagen.

Learning To Write, By Gum!

AP Newsfeatures
PRINCETON, W. Va.—Twelve-year-old Marvin Kessinger, unable to move his arms or legs since birth, is being educated by the skin of his teeth. He's so engrossed in the job of learning to write with his mouth that he ignores vacation and is keeping school right through the summer.

Marvin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Kessinger, is one of four children, two of whom are in the armed forces. He enrolled last January as a first-grader in the state education department's program for confined children.

His teacher, Edith Tuggle, who visits 13 other handicapped children weekly, says Marvin's mouth writing is legible. He is taking up water colors, holding the brush between his teeth, and also mastering a primer.

Marvin insists on a schoolroom atmosphere in the room at home where he works at his lessons. Every time Miss Tuggle comes she finds a bright red apple on his desk.

Thousands Scream, But Turtles Waddle Onward

By JACK RULEDGE
Associated Press Staff

There was a fanfare from the band. Someone shouted: "They're off!"

Three thousand persons leaped to their feet in a frenzy of excitement, cheering, shouting, screaming.

No horses pounded around a track; no graceful whippets pursued a mechanical rabbit; no humans were straining to break track records.

The crowd was shouting itself hoarse over a couple of hundred turtles calmly, almost with an air of boredom, waddling their way from the center of a large circle to its outer rim.

It was the Variety Club's sixth annual turtle derby, held in the ice arena at Fair Park, Dallas.

It's a charity event, and all proceeds go to the club's major project—boy's ranch of Copperas Cove, Tex., 42 miles west of Temple, and other of the club's charities. This year the revenue was $97,500. From one day's turtle derby!

Many wonder (like we did) how (1) thousands of sane humans can go nuts over a turtle race, and (2) how nearly $100,000 can be raised on the thing.

To get the answers we went to a derby, and later questioned the man behind the show, James O. Cherry, chief barker of Tent 17, Dallas Variety club.

First, the club gets small boys to round up the turtles around Wolf City, near Greenville. This year, 2,100 turtles were used in the races.

Then, for $10 each a person may buy and enter a turtle in a race. This year, 9,200 turtles were sold to persons all over the U. S., some even in Mexico and Canada. (Some of the turtles had to run in two or three heats under different sponsors.) Sale of turtles alone, if your arithmetic is rusty, amounted to $92,000.

The races are run in heats. There were 30 heats and the grand finale.

to start the turtles on the way. They slide off onto the floor, and usually head away from the shaking cone. First to get completely across the outside circle, about 30 feet away, wins. And the crowd, which has been doing a little betting here and there, goes wild.

Between races, Variety stages entertainment, this year a neat ice show.

Who won? Well, this year the fastest turtle in Texas proved to be one named Regnas, sponsored by Sanger Bros. It copped the $2,000.

Nimitz To Tour Texas On Leave

AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's forthcoming visit to the United States will take him on a quick tour of his old West Texas stomping ground.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal informed Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) today that the commander of the Pacific naval forces would make an automobile tour Oct. 13 of the South Central Texas area where he grew up. He will visit his native town, Fredericksburg, and also Kerrville, from where he was appointed to the naval academy.

Leaving here by plane Thursday night, Oct. 11, Nimitz will spend most of the following day in Dallas, then fly to Austin for the night. In the state capital he will address ex-servicemen and naval reserve officer students of the University of Texas and South-

Circus Unloading In Town Tomorrow

The big top comes to town Friday and early risers will be able to experience again the spectacle of a big railroad circus unloading when Cole Bros. Combined Circus train rolls into town in the wee hours Friday.

The big beehive of activity will involve transporting scores of wagons and trucks from the siding to the circus ground to the Road lot on W. 3rd street where the big fire-proofed tent seating up to 10,000 will be spread.

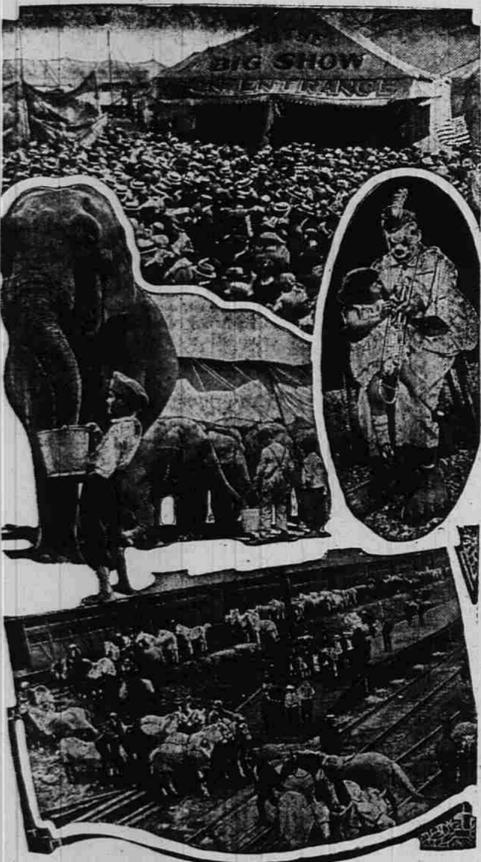

There will be elephants, clowns, sawdust rings and pink lemonade and all the sights and sounds familiar to a major circus.

First performance will be at 3 p. m. and the second at 8 p. m. with the doors opening an hour earlier for each show. The menagerie includes the herds of performing elephants, a trio of Asiatic ponies, over 250 circus horses and ponies, three giant chimpanzees, a block of baby animals and many others.

One of the features is an extravaganza, "The Caliph of Bagdad," a great opening pageant which spotlights Florence Tennyson, Chicago opera star and a ballet.

The show has many new features in its three rings — with something happening all the time in the hippodrome-track, upper rising, etc.

Student tickets will be on sale in front of The Herald from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. Friday. Advance tickets are on sale at Cunningham & Phillips. The show goes from here to Midland.

TYPICAL CIRCUS SCENES—Circus fans will see these familiar scenes reacted Friday when Cole Bros. Circus, one of the largest in the world, comes to town for matinee and evening performances on W. 3rd street.

Tax Collectors Announce Rolls Are Now Ready

Local tax collecting agencies announced Thursday that the 1945 rolls are ready and that payments may be received Monday when the roll becomes current.

Represented in the county, city, Big Spring Independent School district and common school districts of Howard county rolls are combined valuations of $37,257,815, from which a levy of $523,858.68 will become due Oct. 1.

This is not the total ad valorem tax picture, for not included are the Coahoma and Knott independent school districts.

Howard county's valuation stand at $16,699,535, including $5,772,620 on rendered oil property, $487,110 on unrendered oil, $838,110 on the T.&P. railroad, $1,610,100 on utilities, etc., and $102,980 intangibles (buses, trucks, etc.). The state roll, with home-stead exemptions out, is $14,638,885.

The county levy on a 62 cent rate is $103,316.64, the state on its 72 cent rate $105,062.66. Common school districts levy amounts to $60,050.88.

City valuations are fixed at $7,135,100 and the levy on a $1.70 rate at $121,296.70. Increase in valuation is $195,100 over last year; the levy gain $3,317.04.

Valuations for the school stand at $13,423,180, more than two millions over the $11,171,445 last year due to attachment of territory formerly in the Midway district, including Cosden, the TES sub-station and a section of railroad. Levy will be $134,231.80 on the $1 rate.

Statements from the agencies will go in the mail Saturday. The county's poll tax receipts arrived Thursday, removing the last obstacle for receiving payments as of Oct. 1.

"Our Emperor Lowered Himself"

Japs Worry Over Visit, Hope It Will Be Good

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
TOKYO, Sept. 27 (AP)—"Our emperor lowered himself today" by going to call on General MacArthur at the latter's residence, but "their meeting will deepen the understanding between occupation forces and the Japanese," a young university student told me today.

Sitting in the quiet of Hibiya park with his wife, a thin, lovely girl in sweater and slacks, the young pharmacist had thought about the question for several minutes before he replied.

Urged by an interpreter to "say anything you want to; do not be afraid," he decided that:

School Bus Drivers Attend Institute

Rural aid school bus drivers participated in a one-day bus drivers institute at the city hall Wednesday.

The convalesce was in conformance to state department of education requirements to promote safety in operation of school buses.

Walker Bailey, county superintendent, addressed the 10 drivers on the responsibility of bus drivers. Safe and economical operation of buses, plus accident problems and state bus laws, were outlined by John Wood, state highway patrolman.

Otto Peters, representing the Red Cross chapter, highlighted the importance of first aid, and C. Y. Clinkscales talked on the care and service of school bus motors and radios.

Bailey said that the institute will be an annual feature, and that it is anticipated it will be held on a more pretentious basis henceforth.

After the institute, all school buses were given mechanical inspections.

Donaldson's Brother Released In Manchuria After Harrowing Ordeal

C. R. Donaldson, in charge of the Soil Conservation Service work unit here, has received word of the liberation of his brother, Capt. James W. Donaldson, Deming, N. M.

Capt. Donaldson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Donaldson of Cedarvale, N. M., was county agent at Deming before he entered service. In his unit, which fell at Corregidor, was the late Lt. Leonard Skiles, formerly of Big Spring.

In reviewing his experiences after his liberation at Mukden, Manchuria, Capt. Donaldson recalled that of an original 8,000 men in his group, only 2,500 survived.

Senate Sends House Atomic Resolution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The senate unanimously approved and sent to the house today a resolution to set up a joint committee to study the development, control and use of atomic energy.

Without debate, senators passed a resolution by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) establishing a 12-member committee to which all legislation dealing with nuclear energy or the atomic bomb would be channeled.

Six members of the senate and six representatives would be appointed by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), the senate's presiding officer, and by Speaker Rayburn.

In the transfer from camps in the Philippines, hundreds "died of starvation and lack of medical treatment. Most were nude and without identification, left to die in the road." Dogs clawed at corpses and skeletons dotted the route.

At Manila where they boarded a prison ship, "1,600 of us were in the hold of the ship. On the first night more than 30 Americans smothered and the Japs would not remove the bodies.

"Next morning the Japs closed the hatches and refused to give us water—some of the prisoners became so desperate they drank their own urine."

While they were still in Manila, a bomb from an American plane damaged the ship so that the Japs abandoned and left the prisoners in the hold. Three hundred Americans were killed in the blast because the ship was not marked. Herded ashore, prisoners were relieved of their clothing for five days. The daily fare: two table-spoons of rice. In a "hospital," 110 froze to death.

Army Air Force To Maintain Own Separation Units

The army air force has set up 132 points to return men to civilian life, where all air force personnel with the exception of WACs will be released from duty when eligible.

ASF separation centers will continue to accomplish WAC separation. Prior to today's announcement, AAF personnel had separated from both army separation forces and AAF centers.

The announcement, made at headquarters of the AAF Central Flying Training Command today, followed a week of intensive activity, during which the new AAF program stepped into high gear effecting the return of eligible army air force personnel into civilian life.

Randolph Field and Ellington Field, the two Central Flying Training Command installations designated as AAF separation centers, started operations under the new program on Sept. 17. During the first week those two separated 689 officers and enlisted men, jumping from 5 separations the first day to a combined total of 230 on Sunday, Sept. 23. It is anticipated that the previous minimum daily quota of 100 separates from Randolph and Ellington Fields will be doubled or tripled within the next few weeks, with the separation center machinery, operated on a seven day per week basis, further perfected.

All WAC personnel will be separated at the following five separation centers, previously designated to accomplish WAC separation: Camp Beale, Calif.; Fort Sam Houston, Tex.; Fort Sheridan, Ill.; Fort Dix, N. J.; Fort Bragg, N. C.

Tone From Stone

STONE TONES—Kleeman checks his piano with a pitch-pipe.

AP Features
ELIZABETH, Colo.—At 63, Theodore H. Kleeman's musical career is on the rocks, but don't get alarmed about it.
 Kleeman has been making musical instruments as a hobby for several years—first a xylophone, then a set of chimes, and now his masterpiece, a piano.
 All are made from pieces of petrified wood.
 In place of the taut metal strings that produce the tones of a standard piano, Kleeman's instrument contains three octaves of petrified wood slabs. Each one is eight inches to a foot long, an inch or so wide and carefully hewn to give the right tone.

Kleeman, a gold miner who turned nurseryman, started his hobby after a great flood swept this part of Colorado in 1935. Prowling over the ravaged countryside, he came upon an intriguing piece of petrified wood and took it home. When struck it gave forth a sonorous ring—the note G, as Kleeman later found.

Except for the satisfaction of craftsmanship and from exhibiting his piano to callers, Kleeman gets little good from it. He can't play a note.

Chemist Describes Way To Fly Plane With Atomic Fuel

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27 (AP)—Dr. Gerald Wendt, New York research chemist and science writer, describes a method by which he says an airplane could be powered with atomic energy.

"Atomic fuel could be supplied in the form of a fine wire (of atomic explosive) on a spool which can be fed into the nozzle of a jet engine," he said in addressing a regional conference of the committee for economic development yesterday.

"If it disintegrates at a controlled speed, all that is needed is a blast of compressed air over it," added Dr. Wendt. "Heated to several thousand degrees by atomic energy, this air would thus expand and roar out of the rear nozzle just as the gasoline flame does now."

"Once that is accomplished the same hot air blast could be blown on a turbine wheel to operate propellers of a plane or ship or to propel a locomotive or run any engine."

Flying Gardens Now Bring Flowers Fresh From California Here

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Flowers shipped by air from California fields, 20,000 blossoms at a time, have begun arriving here three times weekly.

The first shipment arrived yesterday. Refrigeration costs are eliminated, for the flight is made at an altitude of 10,000 feet, maintaining the temperature within the air freighter at 50 degrees or lower.

The flowers are sent by the California flower shippers. From the Dallas distribution center they are packaged for transshipment to points throughout Texas and as far away as Norfolk, Tampa, Minneapolis and Cleveland.

Britons Study America At Princeton University

AP Newfeatures
PRINCETON, N. J.—Princeton

University has instituted a special course to give British servicemen and women a better understanding of "the average American."

British attend conference classes and chat with American student naval officers housed in the same dormitory with the Britons during their three-day conference stay.

Forums conducted during these courses are closed to the press so the students may feel at ease in asking their questions. The professors in charge say most questions concern the American political system. The students, they say, want to know how a President can remain in office when many members of Congress disagree with his policies and when he and the majority leader of either House have public differences of opinion.

The students are said to have shown the keenest interest in "the English language in America."

Instituted on the suggestion of a Princeton alumnus who had attended a similar course given for Americans at Oxford, the courses and the curricula were devised by Alexander Leitch, secretary of the university, and Professor Willard Thorpe, chairman of the university's committee of an American civilization program.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Our town has heroes, too

Over at Thistle Ridge they're always boasting about their local heroes—ancestors in the Revolutionary War, congressmen, and an artist with pictures in the Metropolitan Museum.

Well, we've got our local heroes, too... There was old Doc Turner, who fought for years against the intolerance and bigotry that kept children from being vaccinated in our county.

And Deacon Follensby, who fought for free pews in the churches; Jess Hackney, who campaigned for teaching honest history in schools; Wedd Towers, who fought the encroachment of Prohibition in our county and persuaded folks they wanted tolerance and moderation in place of a return to lawlessness.

You won't find monuments to these folks. But from where I sit, they're heroes in a cause that's pretty sacred in our town: the cause of freedom, tolerance, and human dignity.

Immediate Action Must Be Taken To Prevent Excessive Price Boom

(This is the third of a series of six articles in which leading economists offer recommendations for keeping America prosperous. The articles were condensed by their authors for the Associated Press from the forthcoming volume, "Financing American Prosperity."

By HOWARD S. ELLIS, Professor of Economics, University of California, Berkeley (Distributed By The Associated Press)

If we are to bring about an orderly transition to a satisfactory economic level now that the war has ended, immediate action must be taken: To prevent an excessive boom; to shape our tax laws favorably to enterprise capital; to open up international trade and finance to expansion; and, finally, to combat monopoly in all fields. Such measures can make it possible eventually to reduce public spending. But in the short run public works programs will be necessary.

Public works, when properly handled, can strengthen private enterprise. They must be governed by long-term productivity. They should be utilized to restore competition in monopolized fields, or operate in those fields not well covered by private competition. And they should be timed to offset the business cycle.

What we are going to need most are policies aimed to break up monopolistic restriction of output so that we can restore competition and flexibility to our economic system. I would advocate the following policies:

1. Measures to encourage investment of savings in private competitive fields — to ease the way for new firms, innovators, and small enterprises.
  2. Government research and economic education — to reveal monopoly restrictions, to improve industrial processes, to educate consumers.
  3. Removal of government or legal support of monopoly — to reduce tariffs, to reform taxation hindering small competitive businesses, to repeal price-maintenance acts and state trade-barrier laws, to reform the patent system.
  4. Action to strengthen anti-trust agencies, to unify the law of unfair competition, to enact a federal corporation statute, and to supervise corporate mergers, trade associations and interlocking directorships.
  5. Government regulation of "natural monopolies" — where monopoly is the natural tendency it should be regulated.
  6. Government ownership and operation to compete with certain monopolies.
- Government competition with monopolies would represent an intelligent outlet for public investment. By converting war-expanded industries to compete with monopolies we could kill three birds with one stone: (1) over-capacity, (2) monopoly restriction of employment, and (3) the reduced flow of money income generally.

Jessie Allison Written About In Tinian Paper

In a recent issue of a camp paper at Tinian, the name of Jessie Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Allison of Big Spring, appeared in a personality column of "A" company.

The clipping was describing the gang of Americans in Tent No. 6. It said "by their sign they are known as the 'League of Nations' but among their intimates, as 'Buhl and His Four Thieves.' The first, we'll vouch for as appropriate, for the group is composed of K. Buhl, a German from Butte, Montana; Allison, a lad with a lot of good Irish blarney; P. Batis, a Puerto Rican who calls Aiea, Oahu, home, but who manages to keep happily sacked-up here; Jack Lee, whose home is in Honolulu, is Chinese; and A. Barreto, whose home is in Fall River, Mass., has the warm blood of Portugal in his veins."

The grounds around their tent are well cared for and trellised morning glories shade the front porch. Within, one side is devoted to a sturdy sloped top desk decorated with pictures of "many girl friends" and a bit of wire decorations by Lee. The entire place gives evidence that here lives a group of Americans who get along in a grand cooperative spirit.

Allison attended Big Spring schools until he entered the Seabees April 2, 1943. He is now a third class metalsmith with two years overseas. He says he hopes to get home the last of October.

Lt. Col. Ben Lyon To Work In London

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27 (AP)—Lt. Col. Ben Lyon has announced that he will not return to the acting profession when he leaves the army air forces Oct. 9 but will go to London to become head of the 20th Century-Fox Studios talent office there.

The veteran stage and film actor was commissioned a major in the U.S. Army in 1942 and served with the air forces in Europe. During the preceding eight years he had spent most of his time in England. He returned here last June with his wife, Actress Bebe Daniels.

Lyon said Miss Daniels will remain here for film work at the present but that both of them will divide time between England and Hollywood. They plan to have their children, Barbara, 13, and Richard, 10, remain here.

How to Get Your New BENDIX automatic Home Laundry

NO doubt you'll want your new BENDIX soon. Most folks do. So come in and see us quickly. Let's talk it over, and get the details done!

Maybe you'd first like to see what this wash-day wonder does—how it washes, rinses, damp-dries, cleans itself and shuts itself off—all without your lifting a finger. Then it's even more urgent that you come in soon—today if you can!

Because if you want your BENDIX quickly—and chances are you will—we'll both be pleased if you are one of our "first-to-be-served!"

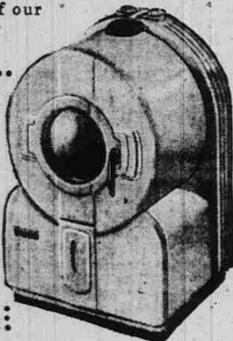

What you do: put in clothes, set a dial, add soap.

What the BENDIX does:

fills itself, tumbles clothes clean, thoroughly tumbles, rinses, dries clothes ready for the line or dryer, cleans and empties itself, and shuts off—all automatically! The Bendix takes only 4 square feet of floor space—fits perfectly in kitchen, bathroom, utility room or laundry.

EXCLUSIVE TUMBLE ACTION: tumbles clothes through suds 60 times a minute, yet so gently that even fine fabrics launder beautifully.

SMART—Film actress Eleanor Parker carries one of the season's smart hats—a large shirred envelope of black wool with dressmaker handles whipped with gold cord.

Basis For Real Progress

C. E. Palmer, newspaper publisher of papers in Texas and Arkansas, has set up a foundation with $100,000 of his money to seek to promote ways of contributing to the "true peace for which we as a Nation have been striving."

The foundation, which will be operated by a board, will offer prizes for the best proposals which would answer the question: "How best may we inculcate in young people a consciousness of and a devotion to the principles of morality that are embodied in the Golden Rule—Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Mr. Palmer could not have aimed at a better goal in establishing his peace foundation.

Manifestly, the Golden Rule is the answer to the end of individual and international strife. It is so simple that nations and people have stumbled over it looking for some complex, will-o-wisp formulae. Yet, after all is said and done, every step taken in the right direction has been based upon this rule.

If there are ways in which the spirit of the Golden Rule can be inculcated into the minds of young people, we shall make real progress. Selfishness, the arch enemy of acceptance of the basic doctrine, says that it cannot be done at all unless it is done everywhere.

This is futility itself. There must be some means around it, but not until we put our eyes on humanity.

More Neighborliness

In addressing a local service club, Dr. Garnett Miller, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, expressed the hope for closer relations between the institution and the community. Notice the hope is for closer relations. It's not a case of bad relations, but rather one of too few relations.

And the doctor is correct. Big Spring has been a bit negligent in knowing more about its state hospital and in taking action to make it a part of community life.

No little of this has resulted from the general belief that patients in a hospital should not be subjected to public stares. This much is right. Such a policy would be morbid and would rebound to the disadvantage of many patients.

But there is nothing to keep the community from becoming better acquainted with staff members, from presenting entertainment for patients, and any number of other activities. In other words, we need to be a bit more neighborly.

Too Much For The Ministers

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The London meeting has shown once again that foreign ministers cannot work out specific settlements unless there is agreement on questions which only the heads of their governments can deal with. These are the questions of power—of how far and for what purpose each of the leading nations is to exert influence beyond its own borders.

Specific problems, such as Trieste, and Dardanelles, the Danube, the Dodecanese, the Italian colonies, elections in Bulgaria and Romania, Persia, Okinawa, Korea, Port Arthur, are insoluble by the foreign ministers until the fundamental relationship of their governments is no longer unclear and uncertain.

These fundamental relationships have to do with their post-war military, financial, economic, and political capacities, needs, intentions, and ambitions. We, for example, are interested in Trieste because it raises the question of how far west the Soviet Union is going to extend its power.

The Russians are interested in our interests in Bulgaria and Romanian elections because they believe it raises the question of how close to their own borders the British and Americans are going to extend their power.

Here only Stalin can settle for the Soviet Union. For the United States only the President can settle.

The US Tax On Merchants' Patience

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Manufacturers and distributors of items burdened with wartime's federal excise tax on so-called luxury merchandise are screaming. A portion of the public, they say, is refusing to buy furs, jewelry, toilet preparations, luggage, and several other things in anticipation of immediate reduction or elimination of the tax which now is as high as 20 per cent on many articles.

The non-buyers may be right. If they are, it would be all right with the manufacturers and merchants. The tax is certainly no money in their pockets. What they are screaming for is some definite date for the reduction or elimination, so they can scale production and inventories accordingly.

Some of these days, but not soon, Congress is going to revise the whole federal tax structure. The pressure for that is considerable and growing daily. There are now a dozen or more national tax plans before Congress, laid there by organizations, like the Committee for Economic Development, or by individuals, like Beardley Ruml. It is interesting to note that through nearly all of them runs the thread of abolition of excise taxes entirely—except on liquor, tobacco, and gasoline.

With The News

Emperor Hirohito's descent from his throne to present himself before Supreme Commander MacArthur—in effect an act of submission by a defeated head of state to his conqueror—ranks among the major events which are ushering in the new world era.

This unprecedented development may well serve to break the spell of imperial mysticism and omnipotence under which the Japanese have been ruled for 2,600 years by Mikados to whom they have attributed divinity. It may herald the advent of rule by the people.

Imagine what the disclosure of this meeting will mean to the millions who never have dared even to raise their eyes to gaze directly upon their emperor.

We see the Mikado, silk hat in hand, brought before MacArthur. The general is studiously garbed in ordinary field khaki. He even wears his shirt open at the throat, without a tie. And not one of his many medals is on him.

It's easy to believe that this may do much to shock medieval Japan out of its trance. Certainly it may be expected to spur the current talk of possible abdication by the Mikado, or at least his abandonment of temporal power to make way for the inauguration of a popular form of government. This needn't disturb his position as spiritual head if the people want him.

Along with this dramatic turn, we get other indications of Allied progress in consolidating our victory over Germany and Japan. The simultaneous actions of Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower in tightening up their occupation controls provide significant answers to recent sharp criticism at home and abroad that the aggressor nations are being given too soft a peace.

The developments in both cases are aimed at speeding up attainment of the chief Allied war aims. These were to render the enemy utterly impotent militarily, and at the same time to destroy the militaristic mentality. The moral reform cannot be carried out until the two peoples have been made to understand that their countries have been smashed.

Today And Tomorrow—

Too Much For The Ministers

For he, alone is at once the Chief Executive, Commander-in-Chief, and leader of the majority party. We must not, therefore, jump to the conclusion that we cannot make a world peace settlement merely because it has been demonstrated again, as it was before Tehran, before Yalta, and at San Francisco before the Hopkins mission to Moscow, that the basic issues of power and influence can be dealt with only by the chiefs of states. That is no reflection whatever on the foreign ministers.

The war has ended with the military frontier of the Soviet Union extended to the center of Europe and the suburbs of Berlin. The war has ended with the military frontier of the United States extended to the near approaches by sea and air to all the important regions of eastern Asia. No power exists on earth which could compel either the Soviet Union or the United States to draw back from these new military frontiers. These are structural changes in the world situation within which the world settlement has to be made.

The crucial question is what to develop behind these new military frontiers. Now it is of the utmost importance that we should see this question objectively ourselves if we are to prevail upon the Russians to see it objectively also.

The basic issue in Eastern Europe is whether the small countries in the Russian orbit are to be organized for the defense of Soviet security or for the expansion of the Soviet power. This issue has taken the form of a controversy over elections and guaranties of civil liberty.

If Moscow our interest in free elections appears as British-American protection and encouragement of those east European and Balkan factions which are hostile to the Soviet Union.

Therefore, just as we are seeking to determine whether the Soviet Union has a defensive or aggressive intent in its military orbit, so Moscow is seeking to determine whether our political interest in that orbit is what it professes to be.

Mr. Molotov's way of countering British-American intervention in the Russian orbit has been to make a spectacular gesture of intervention in the British Mediterranean orbit.

We must not imagine, however, that the Soviet Union has forgotten about the United States because at London Mr. Molotov was being twisting the lion's tail. American power and purpose are the paramount considerations in Moscow just as Russian power and purpose are paramount in Washington.

We may think of our Pacific policy as something separate from our European. But the Soviets will think, whatever they find it expedient to say, of our whole policy as indivisible. So we had might as well face the real issue bluntly and brutally. The question in Moscow is whether the United States is drifting, or perhaps deliberately moving, towards becoming the center of an anti-Soviet coalition.

The question in Washington is whether the Soviet Union is moving to disorganize the western world and China, on the principle of divide and rule.

Whether there is to be a long peace or an even more destructive world war depends on whether Moscow and Washington can convince each other that neither needs to fear what each of them does in fact fear.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

With The AEF: Soldier Who Died For Crime He Didn't Commit

By HAL BOYLE
ABOARD NAVY TRANSPORT, Western Pacific, (Delayed) (AP)—Sailors like to spin yarns and trade experiences in the long hours aboard ship between dusk and bunktime. So do correspondents. And both travel in strange lands and see many strange events.

When you get them together they really fan the breeze. It was at one of these sessions that a naval officer told the story of the soldier who died for a crime he never committed.

"It happened on one of those Pacific islands we took as hopping stones months ago," began the naval officer.

"In the hospital was a young nurse who had fallen in love with a young army officer. She managed to slip out for a few hours one night and they were walking along the beach—probably talking over their plans after the war.

"They came to a secluded stretch of sand away from any camp, and they sat down together on the beach and looked out at the sea."

"The couple thought they were alone. But envious eyes watched them from a clump of darkness behind them. Their hands reached out and struck from the darkness and the army officer was dead and still."

"You can imagine what happened to the girl," the naval officer continued. "Then she was killed, too. And both bodies were buried in the sand. But their graves had been scooped hurriedly and were too shallow. In the morning the tide had washed away the sand and left the army officers' hand sticking out. Someone saw it. Both bodies were soon recovered."

"But the big question remained unsolved. Who had done it?" "Finally a shell-shocked soldier in one of the hospital wards told one of the nurses he had done it. She called a doctor and the soldier repeated his story.

"The nurses and doctors didn't believe his story. They checked in every way and found it impossible. They decided he had overheard other nurses talking about the case and that in some strange way the idea of personal guilt had been implanted in his already troubled irrational mind. Their refusal to believe him only made him angrier."

"I did it," he kept repeating. "I will have to pay in some way." "And pay he did."

"One morning they found him strangled," said the naval officer. During the night he had taken his web belt and hanged himself—hanged himself to pay for a crime of which everyone was certain he was innocent."

"Not long afterward they caught the real murderers of the nurse and the officer," he said. "They were soldiers from a camp nearby."

Hollywood—

'And YOU May Quote ME,' She Says

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—Would you like to know what it's like to be a Hollywood interviewer? Being the modest type I decided to interview, not myself, but Rosalind Shaffer, Hollywood feature writer for the Associated Press.

"What would you like to know?" Rosalind asked with a laugh, that's the thing I hate—interviewees who start off saying "What would you like to know?"

Despite her ever youthful attitude, Rosalind has been around this town for quite a few years, and I asked her if the stars still held any glamor for her.

"I can still get steamed up over someone who is new and exciting," she said. "Like Elizabeth Scott, whom I think is one of the best finds in a long time. I get sort of a maternal attitude about her. The night he had taken his web belt and hanged himself—hanged himself to pay for a crime of which everyone was certain he was innocent."

"Not long afterward they caught the real murderers of the nurse and the officer," he said. "They were soldiers from a camp nearby."

"And a lot of the ones who have been around for some time—like Clark Gable—can still make my heart go pitty-pat."

"Don't you get tired of interviewing stars?" "Sometimes when I hit five or six clinkers in a row I get tired of it. But then a really engrossing one will come along and revive my interest."

"It can be particularly with those who rise fast in the movies. Like Veronica Lake. She's nice enough, but she doesn't have much to say. I find that those who have been schooled in the stage have more perspective. And I find that stars are usually more cooperative on the way up and the way down. While they're up there they don't seem to care."

Rosalind's only bad experience was when Ina Claire made her enter by the back door and kept her waiting in the kitchen while the maid ironed John Gilbert's shorts. But most stars are friendly and helpful. Among Rosalind's favorites are Robert Montgomery, Cary Grant and George Raft, all of whom she was the first to interview.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Behind The MacArthur-Acheson Row

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside fact about the General MacArthur-Dean Acheson row is that for several weeks the war department had been trying to get MacArthur to work out a reasonable program regarding the number of troops he would require in Japan.

The original tables of organization called for 900,000 men for occupation work in the Pacific and 500,000 men to occupy Germany. These figures, however, were set to cover all emergencies and at a time when no one knew what kind of guerrilla warfare the American army might face inside Germany and Japan.

Since then it has become apparent that no such large armies would be needed. General Eisenhower has been extremely cooperative in answering war department estimates regarding the troops he would need, but Washington sent all kinds of messages to MacArthur as to the number of men he would require, without getting a peep. He simply ignored war department inquiries.

Then suddenly, out of the clear blue, came MacArthur's statement to the press, without consulting anyone, that he would need 200,000 men. Meanwhile he had failed to answer Washington queries not only regarding the size of his army but the length of time he would need an army.

That was why under Secretary Acheson, or direct orders from the White House, issued his statement that it was not MacArthur's job to formulate policy.

Note—What some administration advisers figure is that MacArthur wants to get pushed into a position where he can resign, put up the cry of persecuted martyr and be free to run for president.

Truman and Dewey Men around the White House have been almost breaking their necks to make the public feel the new president is politically non-partisan. But now and then Truman tips his mit to the fact that he does have political enemies.

One such occasion came the other day when Truman received general, politically astute Willkie-Republican Mitt Pollard of Wisconsin.

"Mr. President," Pollard opened up, "you've seen Dewey, Hoover and Landon, but I guess I'm the first Willkie-republican to drop in and pay my respects."

Truman said he was delighted to see Pollard and confided that he had a lot of respect for the late Wendell Willkie.

"I remember just how Willkie always used to refer to Tom Dewey," Pollard continued. "He used to call him that little swine."

"Well, that about describes tached son of a—"

"Well, that about describes him," replied Truman grinning broadly.

Pollard told Truman how he and a few other Willkie-republicans are determined to make a fight for liberalism in GOP ranks.

"We're especially anxious to see that man like Nye and Ham Fish never get back into congress," Pollard said. "We're also after guys like Shipstead's scalps."

"That's swell," replied Truman. "I hope you continue to fight them. They deserve to be licked again and again."

witty things." But Rosalind's favorite was John Barrymore, who not only gave her printable stories, but on a later meeting commented: "I always remember interesting conversations with charming ladies."

"I nearly swooned on the spot," says Rosalind.

Housing Inflation Despite warnings by top-flight economists and historians, the Truman administration is failing to take sufficient steps to prevent disastrous post-war inflation.

Swift relaxation of production controls, with no provisions for the manufacture of low-cost merchandise, and the rapid weakening of price controls are already starting the nation into a higher-price era.

Last week, in the face of repeated warnings from OPA, John Snyder, chief of the Office of War Reconstruction, took the "back to normalcy" advice of his special construction consultant, Hugh Potter, ex-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Without warning, Snyder announced that WPB controls on construction, contained in WPB Order L-41, would end October 15.

This abolished the WPB provision that new houses may not cost more than $8,000 and means not only that prices for houses now on the market will shoot up, but that builders will use the small supply of building materials now available for more expensive houses.

Already houses in southern Florida formerly priced at $5,600 last week have shot up to $6,500—even though WPB Order L-41 does not expire until next month.

In spite of the fact that the OPA rent control division has done a good job as possible under difficult conditions, it is probable that the number of homes for rent already 30 per cent smaller than before the war will become so tight that thousands of returning servicemen will have to postpone their plans to marry and have families because they will have no place to live.

In the midst of this shortage, there is no authority to prevent builder or any seller of a home from taking advantage of the shortage and pushing his price up to double or triple its fair value. Nor is there any protection for the thousands of families living in government housing projects which are to be sold. Unless they pay more rent or buy new homes, they can be turned out on the street the minute the government sells a housing project to a private operator.

Note—The Department of Agriculture is worried because farm prices are now 57 per cent above 1937-39 averages and still going up.

Dr. Butler Calls For A World Moral Code

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, in his last official address as president of Columbia University, yesterday called for a world moral code "to save mankind from suicide." "This is no new appeal," said Dr. Butler, who becomes president emeritus of Columbia on Monday after 44 years as president. "Will it now be acted upon before it is too late to save mankind from suicide?"

Tenth Army To Be Deactivated Soon

TOKYO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The war department has ordered deactivation of the U. S. Tenth army, conqueror of Okinawa, on the recommendation of General MacArthur, Allied headquarters said today.

The army has remained on duty in the Ryukyu Island chain, commanded by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell. He succeeded the late Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., killed in action near the close of the Okinawa battle.

Stilwell and Brig. Gen. Frank W. Merrill, leader of the famed Merrill's Marauders in the Burma Road campaign and former military attaché in Tokyo, visited MacArthur today. Headquarters officers said both would return soon to the United States for assignments not yet announced.

The command formerly occupied by the Tenth army will be passed to the army forces, Western Pacific. Regular army and low-point personnel of the Tenth will be assigned other duties in the Pacific.

The 43rd division, which was active in the Philippines and now is part of the Eighth army, is being reorganized, headquarters said, and with high point personnel from other organizations is scheduled to start home early in October. A total of 442 officers and 3,265 enlisted men are scheduled to return home.

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK
By BENNETT CERF

"GATE-CRASHING" is the intricate art of getting into places without a ticket. The most famous gate-crasher of recent years is a character known as "One-Eyed Connelly."

This evasive gent boasts that he has seen 17 consecutive World Series baseball games and twelve heavyweight championship fights without paying his way in. He once sneaked out of a model jail where he was serving 30 days for gate-crashing. He broke back in the next night just to show he could do it.

History records a gate-crasher back in 1841. He was a dull-witted cockney named Jones who had a passion for sneaking into Buckingham palace, where he was picked up time and again by mortified guards. The last time they found him hiding under Queen Victoria's royal sofa.

A blood-brother of the gate-crasher is the free-pass hound who will spend ten dollars and countless hours to get a free ticket for a fifty-cent movie. Such a free pass is known as an "Annie Oakley." Annie was a famous shot in her day, and could plug an ace of spades full of holes at 100 yards. If you have ever noticed how many holes are punched in a free ticket, you will understand why it is called an "Annie Oakley."

Breaking Full Bottles Is A Different Story

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27 (AP)—When actress Rena Saunders testified in her divorce suit that her husband, William T. Caldwell II, tossed a fully decorated Christmas tree out of their second story window last Yuletide season, Judge Arthur Crum was unimpressed.

But Miss Saunders, who charged cruelty, testified further that Caldwell, a film casting director, smashed "quite a few bottles" of bourbon, the court's ears picked up.

"You mean he broke up f-u-l-l bottles?" exclaimed the judge.

"Yes, he did," she replied.

"Divorce granted."

STRIKE SPREADS

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Manhattan's building service strike spread to 100 additional structures today, a union spokesman said, only a few hours before both sides were due to answer a Regional War Labor Board summons to explain why the walkout should not end.

DETROIT, Sept. 27 (AP)—For the second straight year the American league pennant race was headed right down to the wire today with the Detroit Tigers determined to avoid a collapse similar to that of 1944 when they lost the flag to the St. Louis Browns on the final day of the season.

Detroit, after splitting yesterday's twin bill with Cleveland, needed to win just one of its final two games Saturday and Sunday at St. Louis to edge out Washington for the championship.

"We're a lot better off than the Senators," Tiger Manager Steve O'Neill asserted. "We're sure of nothing worse than a tie now and Washington has to sweat it out hoping we'll lose two games.

"We certainly ought to be able to win one of those two at St. Louis. It wouldn't be right for a club to lose two straight pennants that close."

If St. Louis should knock off the leaders twice, Detroit and Washington would meet in a single game playoff for the pennant Monday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Robert P. Patterson took office today as secretary of war. The former undersecretary, appointed to succeed Henry L. Stimson, was sworn in by Judge Learned Hand of the second circuit court of appeals.

Prison Camps Were Never Like This!

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 27 (AP)—Finally back home after three years and nine months in a Jap prison camp, Clark H. Eldridge didn't get much sleep the first night.

The former state highway department engineer and Mrs. Eldridge spent most of it walking the corridors of a hospital, where a baby boy was born to their daughter, Mrs. Renwick W. Taylor.
