The Georgia Strategy

THE Garner boom shows signs of getting out of bounds, and managers of the Garner campaign are taking steps to head off a too-quick ascension of the Speaker's candidacy.

BOY CRAZY by GRACE PERKINS

SYNOPSIS: A runaway marriage at seventeen—is the crest of Hope Ross's whirlwind social seasons. She has been the envy of young ladies of the Westchester boys and girls; now she is married to Dickey Dale, who is still in Harmonth. The suddenness of the wedding is a result of the hostile attitude that Hope's father and mother have held toward Dickey.

Chapter 12
CRACKERS AN A KITTEN
Dickey's face went blank. Then he rose manfully to the practicalities of life.

"All right," he agreed slowly. "If you think you ought. If you really must. Only promise me, Hope—he can't talk you into coming home. We're married now!"

He blue eyes studied him and weighed his words. "It says to leave your mother and father and all kin," he explained magnificently. "Leave all, and follow your husband."

Still another consideration is that the Roosevelt forces in Texas have courteously stepped aside and left the way clear for a Garner delegation.

The embarrassment of the Garner leadership over the Georgia incident is understandable in the light of these elements. It is purely a question of political strategy.

Another consideration is that there is no need for the Garner forces to antagonize the Roosevelt forces. If in a hot convention battle, it might develop that Garner would need the help of Roosevelt

Mr. Candidate
The effectiveness of your campaign is of paramount importance to you, especially per dollar invested. You want to secure the most efficient publicity of the right kind that you can obtain for the money.

Dickey obediently looked, his foot forgetting the gas pedal. The chugging little roadster stalled. And man and wife laughed, thoroughly amused.

"Look," repeated Hope softly, a white gloved finger pointing stubbornly contrary to Minna and Mrs. Post. "It's a kennel, I do declare. And dogs inside. Oh, the cute little things! No, it's cats. Dickey—it's cats!"

"Forever and ever," she said simply. And who would ever have imagined Hope so tractable? Was it possible that Hope had met the man who could manage her?

"Oh, please write a play," Hope pleaded gleefully. "They make lots of money, Dickey."

She shaved again, and Dickey aimed the car with a sudden spurt of activity.

Long Hope waited. Crouched beside the white kiddy, who seemed to understand as they rolled by a shadowed moorland lawn. "Look—what's in there?"

Cozy, ineffectual tears came to Hope's eyes. At the sight of the white furred baby, she forgot completely her long Dickey was being closeted in the big wooden house with the irate woman in curl-papers, and forgot conveniently how necessary it was to phone Papa Ross.

Dick finds a solution tomorrow. But what solution is there for Mr. Ross' wrath?

Mrs. F. F. Gary, who has been visiting in Abilene returned Saturday morning.

SPORTS ON PARADE by CURTIS BISHOP

The Temple Wildcats, who entered the state tournament unheralded and unassuming, rested upon the pedestal of state cage champions as a result of a 30 to 23 victory over San Jacinto High of Houston, the favorites, in the finals. It was the second consecutive time that the Houston team has lost in the last round.

It was a spectacular season, full of dope upssets and eligibility squabbles. One of the strongest teams, the Clasco Lobos, was disqualified when four first string men clashed with the high school authorities.

Radio crooners, saxophone players, and newspaper columnists have been frequently the objects of attacks launched by unappreciative spectators and listeners armed with rotten vegetables and venerable eggs.

The old woman swung open the door once more. Now, one could see her crinkled skirt papers, and even from where Hope stood, one could hear her shrill voice talking wildly about police and people that disturbed others' peace.

UNITED Effort WINS!

WHAT wins in a tug-of-war? What won the World War? Numbers? Partly. Courage? That too. But victory really depends on Generalship. GENERALSHIP INSPIRES CONFIDENCE! And it welds and unites a million straining efforts into the tremendous, sweeping, DISCIPLINED power of an Argonne drive!

There have been other attempts to end this Depression. Sporadic efforts. Unsuccessful because local—uncoordinated. But we're done with sniping and skirmishing. FOR UNCLE SAM HAS TAKEN COMMAND—we are backed, at last, by the full financial might of the United States Government! Under the same super-generalship that put over the Liberty Loans a drive has begun to bring every hoarded dollar out of hiding—to take them out of socks and safe deposit boxes—to invest them sensibly—to spend them for much needed things—TO GIVE WORK TO OUR PEOPLE!

It's nation-wide—simultaneous from coast to coast! YOU can buy and invest with confidence TODAY because your countrymen from Boston to San Diego are buying and investing with you TODAY!

In this drive the UNITED effort of these United States, gigantic and irresistible, confident and disciplined, has at last been brought to bear. AND THAT MEANS VICTORY!

Calamity Jane - a hidden past and a family name shrouded in mystery - Dutch shared with many another woman in the wild old West of the '70s and '80s.

Life for a woman on the old frontier was raw at best, crammed with hardship and danger; no matter whether she was a strong moral fiber or a weak one.

Heaven knows how Alabama Jane came to be in Deadwood, for she was only about 20 years old, her accent proclaimed her from the South.

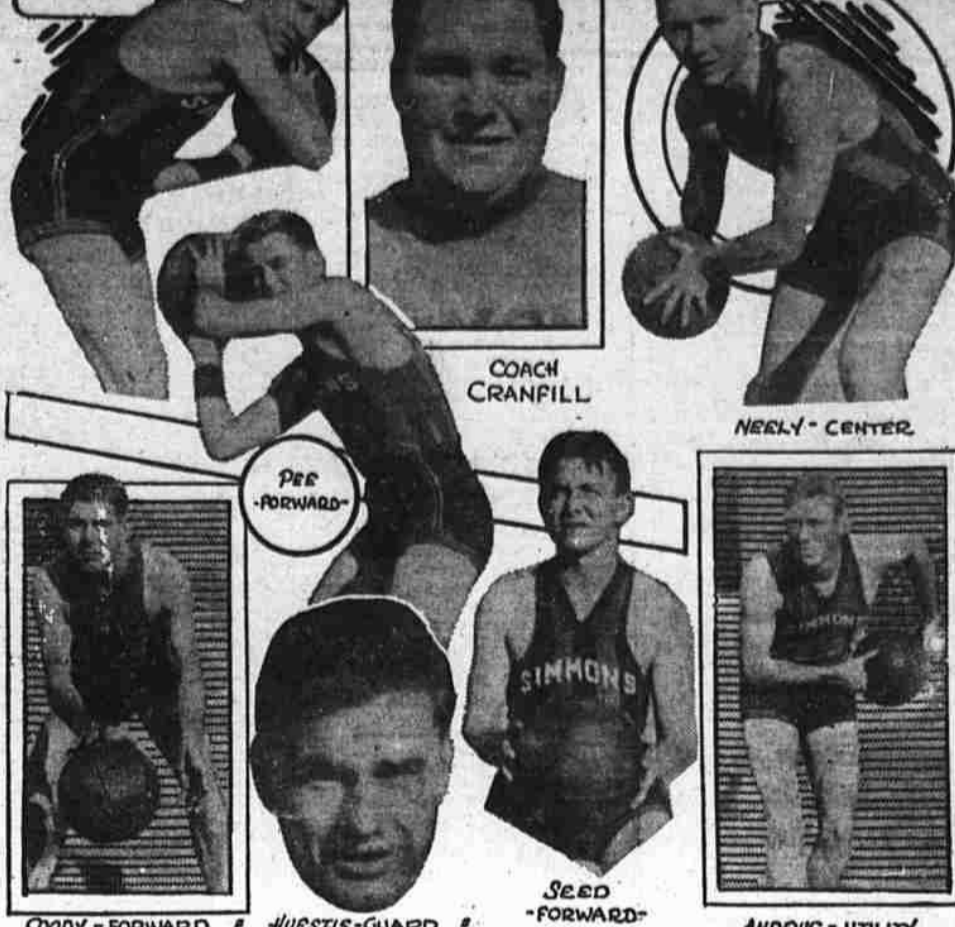

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney announced that, although New Jersey police promised last week to give him a copy of the ransom note left behind by kidnappers of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., they had failed to keep their promise.

Mulrooney told reporters at the usual daily conference that notes "have been withheld from you."

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Henry (Red) Johnson, author of Betty Gow, nurse for the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, still was being held for questioning at the Newark police headquarters this afternoon.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Governor Harry Moore said he was powerless to grant immunity to the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby.

By BILL COLLYNS McCAMEY—One more invitational independent basketball tournament will be staged in West Texas.

The McCamey Lions Club is sponsoring the tournament, which is to be held in the gymnasium of the McCamey High School on Saturday, March 12 beginning at 8:00 a. m.

Invitations were mailed to all of the teams in the surrounding territory early this week, and no less than 15 teams are expected to participate.

A committee, composed of Lions Bill Edwards, C. C. Gering, C. C. Dickenson and Bill Collyns, has been named to make all arrangements, and according to Chairman Edwards nothing will be left undone to make this the most successful meet of the season.

Trophies costing more than $75 have been ordered, and will be presented at the close of the meet. The winning team the runner up, the most valuable player, members of the all-tournament quintet and the team winning the consolation prize will be awarded the beautiful trophies, and they will be well worth the effort put forth in order to win them.

Virginia Democratic Member Of House To Be On Network Tonight

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, Democrat, of Roanoke, Va., will discuss "Congressional Economy in Independent Establishment of the Government" in the Radio Rostrum program on the Dixie Network of the Columbia Broadcasting System Tuesday, March 8, 8:45 to 9 p. m. EST. He will speak from Washington.

As chairman of the sub-committee on appropriations for independent offices, Mr. Woodrum is in the thick of appropriation-parsing activity of the house and will lead the fight on the floor for adoption of his sub-committee's resolution.

This resolution, according to Representative Woodrum, in one slash would reduce government expense $319,760,000 for the amount last appropriated for the same independent offices, including the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Farm Board and the Veterans' Administration.

The resolution is expected to be voted upon by the house on the same day Mr. Woodrum is to broadcast, thus making it possible for southern listeners to have a first-hand, timely report.

The McCamey Lions Club is sponsoring the tournament, which is to be held in the gymnasium of the McCamey High School on Saturday, March 12 beginning at 8:00 a. m.

Invitations were mailed to all of the teams in the surrounding territory early this week, and no less than 15 teams are expected to participate.

A committee, composed of Lions Bill Edwards, C. C. Gering, C. C. Dickenson and Bill Collyns, has been named to make all arrangements, and according to Chairman Edwards nothing will be left undone to make this the most successful meet of the season.

Trophies costing more than $75 have been ordered, and will be presented at the close of the meet. The winning team the runner up, the most valuable player, members of the all-tournament quintet and the team winning the consolation prize will be awarded the beautiful trophies, and they will be well worth the effort put forth in order to win them.

The Forsan Gusher Drilled By Students Of Forsan High School

STAFF Editors—Ruby White and Aida Alston. Assistant Editor—Leslie Roberts. Sports Editor—Cleo Wilson. Sponsor—Mrs. J. B. Hollis. Reporters: 7th Grade, June Marie Johnson; 8th grade, Thomas Yarbey; 10th and 11th grades, Lillian Thames.

EDITORIAL

Yes, all gushers get prorated sooner or later, so those who think the "Forsan Gusher" had made its last "gush" were entirely mistaken—merely prorated. But now after being "shut down" for two months or more, she is to flow again. The only trouble was that we were unable to direct head driller on the job. Florence Millard, the first one, moved away early in the year. Her successor, Frances Dell Henderson, returned to her former home in McCamey at mid-term. But now we expect to keep the works in good running condition for the remainder of the year. We shall continue with facts concerning our faculty members, as we had planned in the earlier part of the year, and also attempt to carry out the other plans which were made by the staff. Come on, boll weevils, (the oil field kind), let's go!

Choral Club Is Organized

Mrs. Turner, Director, Mrs. Conger Accompanist

The Forsan school has recently organized a Choral Club, with Miss Turner as its director and Mrs. Conger as its accompanist. The club is made up of girls from the fourth to the seventh grade inclusive. Soon they will be ready to entertain in chapel. The girls also expect to enter the choral singing contest in the Inter-scholastic League meet. We are expecting a great deal of these girls.

FACULTY SKETCHES

MRS. BILL CONGER JR. Mrs. Bill Conger Jr., the third and fourth grade teacher, was born at Lafayetteville, Texas, December 25, 18— A. D. 77. When she was quite a lassie—blond hair and blue eyes—she came to Sterling City to "grow up" with the other beautiful things.

She went through the public schools of Sterling City where during her high school days, she was quite a leader. "Shicker," the name by which she was known, because no one could ever tell that "Brauer" was pronounced Briar. Was at one time elected the most popular girl in high school.

After graduating from high school, Mrs. Conger went to John Tarleton college in Stephenville during the session of 1924-25. While there she was active in girls athletics, and lettered as guard on the basketball team. Mrs. Conger began her teaching career the following year and has been on the job ever since. Each summer she attends summer school, dividing her time between the teachers colleges at Denton, Canyon and Alpine.

Mrs. Conger is highly talented in music and is now the accompanist for the Forsan Choral Club. She is ever ready to assist in any way and is a favorite of her students, fellow students and patrons.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

Texas officials whose jobs concern them with the state's steady revenues, are beginning to feel mild shivers of worry over the East Texas oil field.

Its production, after March 15 at 7 a. m. will be limited to 325,000 barrels a day, regardless of the number of its wells. With a limit now of about the same amount, the field, each well under a 75-barrel restriction, is not making quite the allowable given it.

At present it is paying the state about $560 a day in production taxes. That runs into important money in a year. If the field should decline, or its production be deeply curbed below the present level, in the absence of any sharp rise in prices, the state's revenue would reflect a considerable shrinkage.

A joyful birdman is the Rev. M. L. Barrett. This minister reared a large family 1 a log hut of an Eastern state. One of his sons grew to be the important financial figure in Texas affairs, A. P. Barrett of Fort Worth, pioneer in commercial aviation, big-scale business man.

The Rev. Barrett is making a super-survey tour of Texas with this son of his in the government anti-boarding campaign, of which A. P. Barrett is state chairman.

"Get your money out of the tin box; deposit it in your bank, use it in your business, or buy good safe securities, or buy the new government bonds. . . It's all the same, so long as you put it to work." This is the net anti-boarding argument for Texas. Mr. Barrett was re-assuring in declaring that it is not desired that people be high-pressed into withdrawing their active bank deposits or using money otherwise required in business transactions, simply for the purchase of the new government bonds.

Many who have seen the fine-looking old gentleman, Robert H. Cousins about the streets of Austin . . . he lived in Austin 62 years . . . commented, "Doesn't he look like Robert E. Lee?" . . . It was not by chance that Mr. Cousins permitted his beard to take the familiar form of Lee's. In his college days, Mr. Cousins sat daily at the dinner table with Robert E. Lee. As a youth, he left school to march under the Stars and Bars with his beloved schoolmaster. And his life was in a sense a memorial to the great friend of his youth . . . And now Mr. Cousins, at 85, has joined that chieftain in the silent bivouac of eternity . . .

East Texas, Gov. Sterling says, is the one place the depression missed.

county schools, candidate for state superintendent, has declared in a statement issued at Austin that he opposes a plan of State Supt. S. M. N. Marra, candidate for re-election, to shift the per capita distribution of the state school fund from the scholastic census to the average daily attendance basis.

"This would be unfair to many schools," Supt. Woods commented, "and I favor apportionment of the state fund upon the scholastic census enumeration as the constitution provides."

He also declared himself opposed to making the state superintendent appointive at the hands of the board of education, and favors the continued nomination and election of this official.

Primary Projects

First Grade Miss Nelson and her first grade pupils are working on a new project for March. The sand table is to be a typical Dutch village. Wheat has been planted in the sand table, and soon they will have the Dutch windmills ready to set up in the wheat field and to mount in the windows. The children have just finished a tulip border for their blackboard. In connection with this work the children will study the Dutch people.

Second Grade Mrs. Hutton's second grade children are working out three interesting problems for the month of March. They are making a study of Dutch homes and customs and reviewing the coming of these people to America. The sand table in this room will carry a Dutch scene, too.

The second problem for these pupils is the making of a map of Texas for a March calendar on which the dates of 2, 17 and 27 will be shown as holidays.

Second graders are getting the Easter spirit early and have begun working on their black board border of rabbits, ducks, chickens, and Easter baskets.

Third and Fourth Grades Perhaps the most exciting event in the third and fourth grade room just now is the sub-junior spelling contest. Mrs. Conger expects to choose the team which will represent the Forsan school in the Inter-scholastic League contest within the next few days. It seems that there will be a rather close score for some of these children and they are anxious to know just who will be the winners.

The third graders are working on a project in connection with the methods and sources of heating homes. These children are compiling some interesting pictures, and stories in connection with the subject. When the work is completed it will be combined with other geography projects to make a complete geography booklet.

Fifth and Sixth Grade Miss Turner's pupils are especially interested in African life and people just now. Miss Turner has many interesting pictures and stories of the life and customs of these people which make the study enjoyable.

Attendance Better After Flu Epidemic

Mr. Bolin reports that within the past week the school attendance has increased considerably. Out of 186 enrolled only 12 are absent. This brings the percentage to 93.5—plus, but for the past three weeks the percentage has fallen much lower with from 35 to 50 absent each day.

The teachers are often able to conduct a class without having to call time out for coughing seizures, too. So we are expecting all flu absentees to return to school soon. Treva Thurman, Minnie Campbell and Anita Huff have returned to school after having recovered from appendicitis operations. When three at a time are in the hospital from the same school, we feel that maybe we had better start courses in nursing—perhaps the boys would even be interested in the course.

FORSAN HONOR ROLL FOR SIXTH WEEK Second Grade Mildred Glass, Gayle Green, Cris Little, Myra Nelle Harris, George Barnett, Floyd Griffith, James Frank Johnson, Eddie Payne. Third and Fourth Grades Blanche Hammer, Rachel Talbot, Thomas Smylie, Pauline Dunlap, Mary Louise Brown, Kenneth Butler, Fred Thomas, Nona Lee Short, Wilma Ruth Hudson.
