

AMELIA SETS RECORD IN FLIGHT TO HONOLULU

COMPLETES FIRST PART OF JOURNEY UNDER 16 HOURS

Famed Aviatrix, With Three Men Aides, Pushes 'Flying Laboratory' Over Pacific Ahead Of Clipper

HONOLULU, Mar. 18 (AP)—Amelia Earhart landed her big plane here at 8:29 a. m. Pacific standard time (10:29 CST) today after flying the 2,400 miles from Oakland, Calif., in 15 hours, 51 1-2 minutes. The speedy trip was the first leg of her globe circling flight.

The flight was the fastest ever made in the westerly direction. The record made by the Hawaii Clipper last December was 16 hours, 58 minutes.

Miss Earhart's $80,000 "flying laboratory" arrived over the city at an altitude of 1,500 feet at 8:17 a. m.

The aviatrix, accompanied by three men aides, made the transpacific hop at an average speed of 150 miles an hour.

ON HER WAY

AMELIA EARHART FUTNAM

Passes Clipper Ship

The Earhart plane left Oakland at 4:37-30 p. m. yesterday after the departure of two Pan American planes but passed the slower Clipper ships enroute.

"All's well" was broadcast throughout the night by the woman flier, who had crossed both the Atlantic and Pacific ocean in previous flights.

There was a slight drizzle of rain falling and dark clouds overhung Wheeler Field, the army airport at Schofield Barracks, as the plane came to a graceful landing.

The plane arrived shortly after daylight and several hundred spectators, including some still in evening dress, were at the field.

Miss Earhart had throttled down her twin engines to save them for subsequent stages of her world flight but her speedy transport ship overtook the two slower Clippers over the ocean yesterday evening and easily won an unofficial transpacific air race.

The aviatrix, who had flown most of the night, admitted she was "terribly tired."

She turned the controls over to Paul Mantz, her technical adviser, just before the eight-ton plane landed.

Mantz was the first out of the ship, followed by Miss Earhart. She wore a brown leather jacket and brown slacks.

Then came the other members, Fred J. Noonan and Captain Harry Manning.

Army officers presented flower leis and Miss Earhart then was whisked to the home of Lieut. Colonel John McDonnell, commander at Wheeler Field.

Cheered By Crowd

The speedier monoplane passed both Clippers last night, one bound for New Zealand on a pioneering trip, the other en route here on regular schedule to Manila.

It was the first time in history three such great civilian planes were in the air between the mainland and here at the same time.

Mantz is to leave the plane at Honolulu; Noonan will go as far as Howland Island, the next stop; and Capt. Manning will act as navigator as far as Port Darwin, Australia. From there Miss Earhart will continue alone.

MAY-DECEMBER LOVE AFFAIR AT AN END

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Mar. 18 (AP)—The May-December romance of Burton Tucker, who eloped 14 years ago with Olive Burham Simpson when he was 14 and she was 45, came to a halt today with Tucker's arrest on an abandonment charge.

Tucker spent the night in police headquarters, held, Police Chief Louis Butcher of nearby Essex said, C. Ingram, who reside east of here, was hurt when the car he was driving collided with a moving van at a bridge at the bottom of a steep hill. The youth was caught between the two machines.

Members of the Blue Lodge of the Masonic order plan an outstanding meeting for Friday at 8 p. m. when an Abilene team will put on a musical master in full regalia.

Approximately 20 members of the Abilene lodge will take part in the work, and several others are expected to accompany them here.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE TONIGHT

A free lecture on Christian Science will be given by Richard J. Davis, G. S. of Chicago, at the municipal auditorium this evening. The public is invited to attend the lecture, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. It is under sponsorship of the local Christian Science Society.

FD's Plan Is Urged To Get 'Fair Court'

Present Tribunal Sharply Criticized By Dean Of Law School

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Dean Leon Green of Northwestern university law school urged congress today to pass the Roosevelt court bill in order to get a "fair court."

Green was cross examined sharply by the senate judiciary committee after he had made one of the most severe criticisms of the present supreme court the committee has heard to date.

Before another large crowd, Green read in a loud voice the schooled through the big room a prepared statement asserting a majority of the high court had "assumed an attitude of intolerance and has displayed an intolerance" towards much of recent legislation submitted to it.

"Smoke Screen"

Calling the supreme court "the ark of the covenant, the country's greatest symbol of order, stability and righteous government," Green said it was being used as a "smoke screen" by those opposed to what the Roosevelt administration was trying to do to meet current problems.

Senator Burke (D-Neb) quickly confronted the law school dean with a speech he had made a few years ago by saying the American court system was "safe from legislative and executive interference" and that so long as the courts "exercised their great power with intelligence" they would be "the bulwark of the American system."

Green explained he made those remarks in "an extemporaneous" manner.

WAGES VS. COST OF LIVING-- WHAT WILL THE OUTCOME BE?

NEW YORK, Mar. 18 (AP)—The abundance of American living hinges today, as many analysts see it, on the outcome of the race between wages and living costs.

Economists and statisticians, scanning the latest data on the national standards of living, find that recovery of payrolls since the dark days of extreme depression has far outstripped the inflationary hike of the butcher, baker and landlord.

But the sweeping advances in prices of basic staples, particularly since the turn of the year, they explain, will cut into the latter pay envelopes, to a degree as yet undetermined.

The U. S. bureau of labor statistics' latest index of factory payrolls, for January, showed a gain of nearly 23 per cent over a year previously, while the index of living costs was up only 4.1-2 per cent.

Compared with the depression bottom of 1933, the index of factory payrolls has shot up 120 per cent, while living costs, only 23 per cent. Of course the 120 per cent jump in the factory payrolls index is due not only to higher pay rates, but to the big pickup in the number of workers receiving pay since 1933.

Compared with 1929 peaks, however, pay envelopes still have some ground to make up on living costs. The January statistical measure of living costs was only about 14 per cent under the 1929 top, while the payroll index was nearly 23 per cent under the high level reached eight years ago.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Mrs. Miller Harris was resting as well as could be expected this afternoon at the Bivings hospital after undergoing a major surgery.

LODGE GROUP BACK FROM CONVENTION

Representatives from the local L.O.O.F. lodge to the state meeting of the subordinate lodge at Corsicana returned here Wednesday evening.

In the group were Jones C. Lamar, grand guardian and member of the committee on the constitution and rules of order, and his wife, Mrs. Hazel Lamar, chairman of unwritten work. Both were named for the 1938 convention in Houston.

Others attending from the Big Spring lodge were Mrs. D. C. Lykins, Mr. and Mrs. Powell Martin, Mrs. Mable Glenn, J. Hollis Lloyd, Tom McKinney, Nando Henderson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morrow. Mrs. Jack Glenn accompanied the group.

LA GUARDIA REMARKS AGAIN THE CAUSE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Secretary Hull called today for an end to the international controversy over anti-Nazi remarks of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

The state department lead issued a brief statement after making a second apology to German ambassador Hans Luther, who protested against LaGuardia's designation of Reichsfuehrer Hitler as "a man without honor" at a New York anti-Nazi mass meeting.

"I am personally hopeful," Hull's statement said, "that all who are participating in the present controversy, which is marked by bitter and vituperative utterances in this country and in Germany, may soon reach the conclusion that it would be to the best interests of both countries for them to find other subjects which can be discussed more temperately."

Mayor Hans A. Amsberg in view of the limitations upon the power of this government with respect to freedom of speech, which is universally known, nothing can be profitably added to what already has been said."

LaGuardia said in New York last night after learning of Hull's apology:

"Again I am pleased that Hitler was so quick to recognize himself. The translation by the German government of the term satisfaktionfahig ('man without honor') is absolutely correct."

LIKE WAR DAYS?

BERLIN, Mar. 18 (AP)—Germany's resented press capped its two-week anti-American campaign with a declaration today in Berlin's Lokalanzeiger that "Washington should add to the neutrality bill an edict to protect government leaders and institutions of foreign states."

The paper said "anti-German agitation has reached the point of war days."

United States Ambassador William E. Dodd was reported to have talked over the situation with Foreign Minister Von Neurath while a reiterated protest against New York's mayor Fiorello LaGuardia was being delivered to Secretary Hull in Washington.

COURT APPROVES REORGANIZATION PLAN FOR COSDEN

FORT WORTH, Mar. 18 (AP)—Final approval of the plan for reorganization of the Cosden Oil corporation and subsidiaries, under section 77-B of the federal bankruptcy act, was given by Federal Judge Wilson here Wednesday.

Judge Wilson set March 22 for hearing on approval of transfer of property from the old corporation to the new corporation, and final approval of papers in the reorganization.

POPE HITS AT COMMUNISM IN NEW MESSAGE

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 18 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, striking at communism as "the ruin of family and society," called upon the employers of world labor in a historic encyclical today to meet "the great duties imposed by justice."

"The wage earner is not to receive as alms what is his due in justice," said the pontiff.

"Let no one attempt with trifling charitable donations to exempt himself from the great duties imposed by justice."

"x x x The very dignity of the workman makes him justly and acutely sensitive to the duties of others in his regard."

Thus, "under the eye of God," he sought to rout the "false" doctrine of communism, which, he said, "is founded on pure materialism which rejects all spiritual values."

The holy father, in a vigorous attack on the forces he has fought even throughout his recent illness, declared only the Catholic church could effectively oppose the disintegrating effect of communism.

He devoted several paragraphs to demonstrating how the Catholic religion in the family and the state was the best equipped agent to combat this "decay."

The encyclical, entitled "Divini Redemptoris," accused communists of having played upon the susceptibility of the working classes with promises of alleviation of "many undeniable abuses."

"The holy father called upon Christian employers to combat communism by recognizing "the inalienable rights of the working man."

He urged priests throughout the world to stand in the front lines of the battle against communism and exhorted lukewarm Catholics every where to renew the active practice of their faith.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Secretary Hull called today for an end to the international controversy over anti-Nazi remarks of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

The state department lead issued a brief statement after making a second apology to German ambassador Hans Luther, who protested against LaGuardia's designation of Reichsfuehrer Hitler as "a man without honor" at a New York anti-Nazi mass meeting.

"I am personally hopeful," Hull's statement said, "that all who are participating in the present controversy, which is marked by bitter and vituperative utterances in this country and in Germany, may soon reach the conclusion that it would be to the best interests of both countries for them to find other subjects which can be discussed more temperately."

Industrial booms. "All of us want stability," he said. Most government economists agreed the price climb would continue unless conditions change. They said a gradual rise probably would be beneficial, but sudden upturns out of line with stable economic relations would be harmful. Financial experts emphasized that no definite program has been drawn up, but listed these possible methods of checking price increases: 1. Balancing the budget with increased taxes on incomes and profits "if necessary." 2. Reducing tariffs on those goods which lead the price upswing. 3. Extending federal control of wages, hours and corporate practices to offset "monopolistic practices by certain groups in both industry and organized labor." Discussion of boom signs on the business horizon followed a declaration by Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve board that "inflationary price levels" would have disastrous effects. CANDIDATES ADVOCATE MORE PAVING, ADEQUATE WATER Delinquent Tax Collection, Law Enforcement Also Mentioned By Ogden And Hall Formal statements of their candidacies have been handed The Herald by Jesse F. Hall and Ray W. Ogden who, seeking election to the city commission on April 6, announced together as a "progressive" ticket. The two outlined similar proposals. Each advocated an adequate water supply, more paving, collection of delinquent taxes, encouragement of new industries, law enforcement, consistent economy and a program to effect more a ghtly approaches to the city. Their statements follow: Ogden— In announcing for the office of city commissioner, I am doing so for two primary reasons. First, because I have been vitally interested in the future of Big Spring; second, this is my home and I think Big Spring should be known as the progressive city of West Texas. Because of past experience I realize that several fundamental things are essential to healthy progressive city development. Realizing this, I am very much interested in another candidate announcing for the office of city commissioner. Knowing that he is in favor of consistent development and progress, I hope for an opportunity to cooperate with Jesse F. Hall in the serving of future problems for the city of Big Spring. Encourage Payrolls I think Big Spring should be proud of the industrial institutions operating here. I feel it is the duty of every citizen to encourage and stimulate any enterprise which through its payroll assists in the operating and development of the city in which it operates. I am in favor of offering every reasonable assistance to any new enterprise interested in Big Spring as a local industry. I believe any city interested in progress and growth must be vitally interested in: Adequate water, paving extension, law enforcement, consistent economy, collection of delinquent taxes, and a citizenship endowed with civic pride. I believe it is possible to carry out a plan which will produce an adequate water supply for a city twice our present size. I believe a paving plan can be carried on which will not in any manner be prohibitive for those interested. I believe all laws which are in effect should be enforced. Economic Operation I believe a city should be run as economically as possible consistent with any expansion program. I believe every reasonable effort should be made to collect delinquent taxes and that none should become delinquent to the extent it penalizes the prompt taxpayer. I believe the citizens of Big Spring will evidence the most in civic pride whenever they are assured water at reasonable rates and paved streets for comfortable, economic travel. Believing as I do that a program as suggested above can be carried out, I pledge my best efforts in effecting such a program if elected to the office of city commissioner on April 6th. HALL— In announcing my candidacy for the office of city commissioner, I do so realizing full well the great responsibility of the office and realizing, too, the great amount of work involved and that the only compensation will be the pleasure of knowing that I have helped in a small way the development and progress of a great community. Realizing all this, I have listened to the requests of a number of friends and have permitted my name along with that of my friend, Ray W. Ogden, to be placed upon the ballot for your consideration on April 6th. Law Enforcement That the people may know where I stand and what I shall strive to do, I make the following statement: I shall be in favor of enforcing all ordinances that have proven of value to the people and from time to time may be needed to correct conditions which are hurtful to our citizens. I shall also be in favor of repealing such ordinances which have or may prove impracticable. I do not believe that the citizens of Big Spring who pay their taxes should be penalized by the ones who do not and I shall strive for swift action to the end that delinquent taxes may be collected. I believe that the question of a plentiful water supply for the growing population of our city is one of the most important before us today, and to the end that we have such a supply I shall devote my whole support. If it develops that a surface lake is the only solution, and if a bond issue is the only way to finance it, then I shall advocate just that. We must be able to guarantee to industry a plentiful water supply before they will bring their factories and payrolls here. Street Paving I shall favor a street paving program which can be made to meet the needs and expressed desires of our citizens as rapidly as circumstances will permit, also to the end that the approaches to our city may be made more sightly, at all times striving to keep the cost within bounds. I shall favor the annexation of communities close to the present city limits when such annexations will be to the best interest of all concerned. If elected your city commissioner, I shall always strive to keep our city abreast of the times and will miss no opportunity to further its progress and development, always with consistent economy. On such terms and pledging to you to always strive for the best interest of our city, I offer to you my services as city commissioner.

THIRD YEAR THE WORST FOR DIVORCE SURVEY REVEALS SEATTLE, Mar. 18 (AP)—The third year's the worst, matrimonially speaking, said Divorce Precor Evangeline Starr today as she studied her statistical report on the 2,012 divorces decreed here last year. Sixty-five per cent of the divorces occurred in the first 10 years of married life, and the third year led the rest. Miss Starr said she resumed the reason is that it takes three years to get over the first flush of honeymooning and infatuation and settle down to the humdrum of married life and full recognition of a spouse's shortcomings. The principal shortcomings she said, are "cruelty and personal indignities" which cover a multitude of causes. Intoxication was the principal cruelty alleged by divorce seeking wives. Accused Man Is Found Shot Had Been Sought For The Slaying Of Wife And Daughter SAN ANTONIO, March 18 (AP)—A 56-year-old man identified as J. W. Willeford, who is charged with killing his wife and her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Duffier, at Hallettsville Tuesday night, was found shot twice in the head at a hotel early today. Hospital attendants gave him a chance to recover, but said at least one .32-caliber bullet was lodged in the brain tissue in the front of his head. A. J. Svoboda, proprietor of the hotel, found the man wandering about his room after hearing a shot. Although Willeford was on his feet and mumbling, he was unconscious. Detectives Lee Jones and G. H. Wisman found a .32-caliber pistol containing two exploded cartridges in the room. One, written on a blank piece of paper and hardly legible, said: "This is to let everybody no to notify my sons, Ely Willeford, and Dell Lois Rollins at Yoakum, Texas." It was signed J. W. Willeford. The other note, written on the back of a utility bill, said: "I want the world to know that I killed the one I love because I loved her."

U. S. Senator Bridges says: "Luckies pass every test for my throat" "A Senator is constantly being called upon to make speeches. So he has to be careful of his throat. I take every possible precaution, and this includes the choice of a cigarette that accommodates itself to my throat—a light smoke. I have found that Luckies successfully pass every test for my throat. That's my main reason for preferring them. Reason Number Two in favor of Luckies, is that I like their taste."

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke. Senator Bridges' statement verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT Kilgore To Be Power In E. T. League Race

BY TOM BEASLEY
BIG SPRING could support a good Class D ball club in the opinion of Tom Estell, manager of the Kilgore Rangers of the East Texas League. Estell stopped here en route to Kilgore from the west coast where he "got the pick of the crop from the Pacific Coast League." All teams in the East Texas league are in good financial condition, according to Estell, and he predicted a hard tussle for the pennant, with his club one of the top-notchers. Most of the players he got from San Diego were Italians.

ESTELL INVADED the San Diego Padres training camp and signed the following players: Catcher Roy Ray, infielders Vance Randolph, Pete Beyer and Ray Rafalovich, and outfielder Bernie Simpson. The San Diego club sent third baseman John Ward and outfielder Ernest Jensen to Kilgore on option.

MAJOR LEAGUE exhibition games got into full swing this week with 76 inter-club and inter-league contests being scheduled between March 18 and 28, exclusive of the games the Philadelphia Athletics will play in Mexico against native teams.

Exhibition schedule for the rest of the week:
Boston Bes vs. Phillies at Winter Haven, Fla.; St. Louis Cardinals vs. New York Giants at Daytona Beach, Fla.; Cincinnati vs. New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Cleveland vs. New Orleans S. A. at New Orleans, La.
March 20—Phillies vs. Brooklyn at Clearwater, Fla.; Boston Bes vs. New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Washington vs. St. Louis Cardinals at Daytona Beach, Fla.; Detroit vs. Cincinnati at Tampa, Fla.; Chicago White Sox vs. Los Angeles P.C.C. at Ontario, Calif.; St. Louis Browns vs. Minneapolis A. A. at New Braunfels, Texas; New York Giants vs. Cleveland at Gulfport, Miss.

THE LAKE Sweetwater Municipal golf course will hold its first annual tourney April 15-18. The 5-hole grass green course has three water hazards.

County Athletic Events Saturday

Senior tennis eliminations and junior playground ball will hold the spotlight here Saturday in the county inter-scholastic league meet. All tennis matches will be played on the park courts, while ball games will be played at the park and the high school.

FELL SIGNS BROWN CONTR'CT

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 18 (AP)—Euse Bell, outfielder for the St. Louis Browns of the American League, who has been listed as a holdout, signed his contract this morning to play with the Browns, according to announcement made here by Donald Barnes, president of the St. Louis club.

Neither Bell nor the Browns' officials would announce the amount called for in the contract, but various observers guessed it was approximately $7,000. Bell hit .244 last season as a "freshman."

Bell drew $3,500 last year. It

DEAN ABDICATION, IF TRUE, DIMS CARD FLAG HOPES

DIZZY SAYS HE'S READY TO RETIRE

BY SCOTTY RESTON
NEW YORK, March 19 (AP).—Depending, of course, on whether the "Dizzy One" makes it stick, the abdication of the great Jerome Herman Dean from the St. Louis Cardinals will just about spell flowers and soft music for the 1937 pennant hopes of the Gas House gang.

With Dizzy fogging 'em in, the Cards stand out as a potential one-two shot in the coming National League race. If he continues his holdout and gets on with his threat to retire this year, the strengthened Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, and New York's defending pennant holders all may pass the Dean-less outfit.

Although you can still get odds that Dizzy would be in there opening day, the situation, if it develops, would be without parallel. Players of other eras, such as the Giants' Edd Roush and the Cubs' Johnny Kling, extended holdouts through entire seasons, but never has any one recalcitrant meant a pennant.

As a potential 25-game winner, Dean would bolster any club. With the Cards, who have none too many first-rate hurlers, his absence would leave Len Warneke, obtained from the Cubs over the winter, as the only seasoned hurler.

Looking at it from another angle: Dean, by winning 24 games last season, just about single-handedly brought the Cards into a second-place tie in the final standings, only five games back of the Giants. Without these games—and it's about as sure as death and taxes that the Cards can't pull another 25-game winner out of the hat now—St. Louis may wind up ten games farther back. This conceivably could leave the Cards at the tail-end of the first division, or even in the second section.

Dean wants $50,000, says he'll quit the game if he doesn't get it. For any player that's a lot of money, for a pitcher it's twice as much. Never in all baseball history has a hurler received even close to that sum.

Most observers believe the Dean thing will be ironed out in the week's wash, and that Dizzy and the Gas House Gang bosses are doing it (1) to hear themselves threaten each other, or (2) to get the headlines the squawk publicity naturally brings.

Scientists have found what are believed to be elephant and dinosaur bones in the Big Bend area in Texas.

It is understood the Browns offered him $5,500 this year, which Bell promptly turned down.

The former Texas League star has been working out with the Minneapolis Millers in New Braunfels and is in tip-top condition.

BASEBALL CLOWNING

MACKSICO CITY—Here are three—pardon us, two—of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics. Left to right: Bookie Outfielder Clarence (Ace) Farker; a friend, who doesn't want to play; First-baseman Gene Hasson.

ORLANDO, Fla.—These lads are merely following orders. Owner Clark Griffith told Washington National Infielder Cecil Travis (left) he would have to be more aggressive. Travis picked a fight with Teammate Shanty Hogan, catcher, biggest guy he could find. Travis will have to learn to pick on boys his own size.

Kansas Flyer Starting On '2nd Career'

Cunningham Runs Class
Columbian Mile In
4:08.7

NEW YORK, Mar. 18 (AP)—A new streamlined model of the Kansas flyer was roaring west today: Glenn Cunningham was starting on a second career.

Just when the boys were ready to sidetrack the old flyer, he changed their mind by running the classic Columbian mile in the Knights of Columbus games last night in 4 minutes, 8.7 seconds, three-tenths of a second slower than his own world indoor record, and the fourth fastest mile ever to win a race, indoors or out.

"Now what do you say to that runner you're going to quit?" a reporter asked.

"Say, I'm just starting all over again," replied Cunningham.

Other features of the K. of C. games, climax of the eastern indoor season, were Don Lash's 9:00.9 victory in the two-mile run, Eddie O'Brien's second straight triumph in the Casey 600 in 1:12.8, Dartmouth Jack Donovan's conquest of Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist in the 60-yard hurdles, and Eulace Peaseck's victory over Ben Johnson, of Columbia, I. C. A. A. A. champion, in the 60-yard dash.

TOMMY HIGGINS

Tommy, with H. C. Burrus, Marvin House and Jimmy Johnson, has been practicing on the asphalt city park tennis courts and Coach Wayne Matthews reports prospects for a winning high school squad this year. A number of inter-school matches are planned.

Kilgore Gets Players From Coast League

Rangers Of Eastex Have
Working Agreement
With San Diego

Tom Estell, manager of the Kilgore team of the East Texas league stopped in Big Spring Wednesday night with 13 players from San Diego and Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League.

Estell said he made a working agreement with San Diego after a break with Oklahoma City last season. The Oklahoma City management failed to leave the club intact and it was purchased by Kilgore businessmen, Estell said.

The team will start spring training Saturday, giving the Rangers a month of conditioning work before the season opens April 21.

Estell said enthusiasm was high in East Texas league cities, and he predicted a good year for the newly organized West Texas-New Mexico circuit.

SLATON IS BEATEN IN 3RD ROUND

By LOUDON KELLY
DENVER, Mar. 18 (AP)—Chances of a major surprise were virtually wiped out today as eight crack teams pounded into the quarter-final stretch of the National A. A. U. tournament.

Hartsville's powerful and polished Ollers, Missouri Valley, A. A. U. league champion and chief favorite for the title, and all their well-backed clubs still are in there for tonight's battles—the pick of the 45 teams that staged the marathon Sunday. All eight advanced opponents in yesterday's third round games.

Three of the eight clubs represent the Rocky Mountain section and two bear California allegiance, compared with one each from the east, midwest and southwest.

Seven quarter-finalists are seeded, only one is a college team—the colorful, long-shooting Long Island university outfit.

The collegians have the chance of recording the only out-and-out upset tonight—if they can beat the powerful Denver Safeways.

In the other games a victory either way hardly could be labeled a major overthrow.

The Kansas City Trails and the Denver K. C. Life, both Missouri Valley league representatives, meet in the second game. Hollywood's aggregation of Olympic stars will play the fast-moving Colorado Springs Antlers, and Bartlesville will tangle with Oakland Golden State in the final battle.

Bartlesville used all of its famed players, led by "Chipper Charley" Hyatt and Joe Fortenberry, and had them hustling hard to subdue the Slaton, Texas, Ollers, a clever passing team, 57 to 39.

Other results yesterday:
Hollywood Stars 40, Denver American Beauty 32.
Kansas City Trails 45, Oklahoma City University 25.
Oakland Golden State 52, Penn Athletic Club 32.
Long Island University 43, New Mexico Normal 38.
Colorado Springs Antlers 74, Walls Falls, Wash. Mitchell 43.
Denver Safeways 64, Lincoln, Neb. Woodmen 31.
Denver K. C. Life 53, Central Missouri Teachers 46.

Mrs. Joan Aldridge Tankersley, 20, was found shot through the right shoulder in a second floor apartment.

Crowds Pour In For Grand Natl. Running

Golden Miller To Go
To Post As The Favorite

AINTREE, Eng., Mar. 18 (AP)—Experts were pretty well agreed today Golden Miller would go to the post as a slight favorite in the betting in tomorrow's 90th running of the Grand National steeplechase.

Although tips on "sure things" were heard, the "Miller" still regarded as the best steeplechaser in the business in spite of the terrific kicking around he has given his backers in the last two years, loomed as the No. 1 choice.

The final choice in the betting probably will be made after the last caller in London tonight, with Ego and Royal Mail, the recent favorite, still getting plenty of attention, but Dorothy Fagot's ten-year-old jumper was getting the heaviest play.

This, despite the fact the track will be heavy from recent storms, and the "Miller" will be carrying 175 pounds over four and a half miles of slippery jumping.

Most of the 33 horses in the field were arriving or en route today as a crowd of half a million or more, including King George and Queen Elizabeth, began gathering for this afternoon's opening of the Aintree meet.

The big race tomorrow was considered more interesting than it seemed a week ago, when Golden Miller, and the recent favorite, V. Smith's Ready Cash, were uncertain starters.

Among the American-owned horses in the race, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Flying Minutes, a son of Flying Ebony, Kentucky Derby winner 12 years ago, and Frank Gould's What Have You were considered possibilities.

Moore Sport Shorts

MOORE, Mar. 18 (Sp.) — Mrs. Edwards, coach of the junior girls' basketball team and manager of the junior boys' team, took their clubs to Center Point this week.

The Moore girls won, 9-7, but the boys were white-washed 19-7.

In a return game Tuesday, the Moore junior boys were victorious, 19-4, and the Moore girls were on the long end of a 12-6 score. Walker Bailey is coach of the Center Point team.

A cement topping has been placed on the high school tennis courts.

Line-ups will be announced Monday, they said.

No workout was held Wednesday.

BROWNS ARE TROUBLED BY POOR PITCHING

By FELIX B. MCKNIGHT
SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 18 (AP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby's complaint for his St. Louis Browns is: He needs winning pitchers.

That, coupled with the defiance of his holdout star, Roy (Beau) Bell, voted the American league's most valuable freshman after a .344 season at the plate, has the aging "Rajah" in a deeply conservative mood.

"At that," he mused, "our club should show improvement over last year. It looks like the Yankees and Detroit at the top with the rest of us about equal and me trying to finish the Browns, seventh last year, as high as possible.

"We need pitching more than anything else—need it badly."

Ten days of training have passed and Bell is no nearer signing a contract. The former Texas A. and M. college youngster muttered he "just wouldn't play for that kind of a salary."

First base will be well protected with Bottomley, lousy hitter, and Harry Davis, a fair hitter up from Toledo, scrapping for the post.

Bill Knickerbocker is a cinch at shortstop and Hazan Clift will have third. Hornsby admits he may slip into a few games.

The veteran Rollie Halmaley will be understated behind the plate with chubby Tommy Heath from Toronto.

There are approximately 20,000 private slaughter-houses in England and Wales.

Embroidered Pictures Simple Even For Needlework Novices

"FRIENDLY NEIGHBORS" Needlework in the home is achieving a new vogue. This charming embroidered picture can be made easily by following directions given here.

By ELIZABETH M. BIONDELL

(Prepared by McCall's Magazine for The Daily Herald)

Perhaps it has something to do with the headlines from the other side, but smart society here certainly has taken to the favorite needlework occupations of the English women. Especially embroidered pictures.

Carefully done, in good materials, this is the kind of work which creates heirlooms. The embroidered picture of "Friendly Neighbors" is a charming example of craft work which will be worth keeping even when it becomes "quaint."

It has a very realistic scene composed in a picture only 8 7/8 by 11 7/8 inches. And to reassure the novice, this painting with needle and thread can be done with the simplest of stitches, such as the outline stitch, the lazy-daisy stitch (Fig. 1) and French knots (Fig. 2).

On a smooth piece of finely woven quality linen, the ready-made pattern is stamped with a hot iron. The colored strand cottons should be carefully selected for realistic effects as well as harmony.

There are two shades of pink and red in the rambler roses; three shades of green in the vine foliage; blues and yellows for the larkspur and campanula in the window box flowers. The Colonial fanlight over the door is worked in blue to give a glass effect.

After the picture is finished, it should be dampened and pressed on the wrong side so that it will be perfectly smooth and ready to mount. It can be framed without a mat, but is, perhaps, more impressive with a light gray mat. For the frame, black is right, but you may prefer dull green or a quieter color.

Reading AND Writing

By John Selby

There is a quiet charm about "Road My Body Goes" which probably comes from the mind of the author, who is Clifford Gessler.

Mr. Gessler has been a Hawaiian newspaper man for a good many years. He has done all sorts of things on newspapers, including the composition of a good deal of poetry, some of which has been published in New York. In fact, he has been called the poet laureate of Hawaii.

Like most newspaper men, Mr. Gessler has had secret ambitions for a long while. One of them was to Get Away From It All. He was tired, and bored—a good many newspaper men are. The telephone rang one day, and he was asked to join in a scientific expedition sponsored by the Bishop museum. It was simply not possible for him to get away—and yet he did. His wife insisted that he deserved a decent rest.

So one day, after an entire afternoon of strained leave-taking, due to delay in sailing, Gessler and the others actually started due south from Honolulu in a remote fishing sampan which looks, in the pictures he furnishes, about as suited to Pacific weather as a varnished speedboat. It sufficed.

From this point on, Mr. Gessler's narrative is a gently poetic, yet simple account of a white man living in sympathetic touch with an idyllic island civilization. Mr. Gessler invaded Polynesia neither to praise nor to blame. He only wanted to observe, and this he did. He must have also kept a pretty careful diary, for his book is stuffed with small detail which obviously was set down while fresh in the author's mind.

For three months Gessler and another chap lived almost a perfect existence on the atoll of Tepeka, where only their own meager supplies and the aid of the natives stood between the visitors and danger on a couple of occasions. Later Gessler sailed to some other of the Dangerous Islands, and at last he landed at Tahiti, too poor to be a tourist, and not quite poor enough to be a beach comber. Finally home.

For once the jacket of the book seems to have hit the proper descriptive phrase for the book. "Road My Body Goes" is written, it points out, not by a professional tramp but by an amateur with an informed approach. It possibly is in this circumstance that accounts for most of the aforementioned charm; Gessler enjoyed himself.

Southwest 'Oldest' Part Of Nation

Section Once Had Lakes—That Was From 13,000 To 25,000 Years Ago

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 18 (AP)—Man's earliest known home in the United States was agreed upon today as the present "deserts" of the southwest.

They were rainy, lake regions then. This dates them at from 13,000 to 25,000 years ago. These earliest Americans were described by several scientists at the symposium on early man held by the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia.

Previous claimant to earliest homers was the skeleton of an Indian girl found under circumstances indicating that she fell off a raft and drowned 30,000 years ago in a Minnesota glacial lake.

Today Dr. Ales Hrdlicka of the United States National Museum said the girl was a Sioux and that the evidence is all against Sioux Indians in Minnesota 30,000 years ago.

Dr. Ernest T. Antevy, who reported new finds in the southwestern "deserts," agreed that the Minnesota girl was doubtful evidence. He could have dated his desert "men" at 35,000 years ago, but chose 13,000, the very latest time when the lakes could have existed.

California, Arizona and New Mexico were the sites.

Ham Is Traditional Meat For The Easter Dinner Of Most Americans

By MARTHA LOGAN
 Yes, of course, we're going to have baked ham for Easter dinner. It wouldn't seem right if we didn't have turkey for Thanksgiving and ham for Easter. They are both old American traditions worthy of preservation.
 Like the good old story of how to make a rabbit pie, our direction for the baked ham served at our Easter dinner is—first, get your ham—a fine, tender, milk-cured ham. The finer brands on the market require no parboiling and this is indeed a great help to the busy housewife who is relieved of the bother of pre-cooking and also all the annoyance of a steam-filled kitchen. The modern hams on the market have been ovenized or partially cooked so that today's perfect delicacy is most easily prepared.
 The meat is the focal point of any menu. So having chosen ham, we next begin to plan what vegetables will compliment the savory goodness of this master roast.
 This year we're going to garnish the meat platter with sprays of succulent watercress because its spicy tang is so good with ham and because this bed of greenness forms an ideal background for our tricky calla lilies. These Easter ponies are made out of turnips. Yes indeed, and don't pass judgment until you actually try to make them—they are so simply shaped, so crunchy and good, and they look gorgeous. Here's the how: Pare medium-sized raw turnips and cut in thin, crosswise slices. Fold outer edges of one slice together at bottom; insert a long strip of raw carrot for center of lily. Wrap a second slice of turnip around first slice and secure with a toothpick.
 Make your lilies early and place them in the refrigerator to crisp. I always did think it spoiled turnips to cook them and now here's a way to serve this vegetable at its crispiest best. Speaking of vegetables, we should mention sweet potatoes. Instead we're using hot buttered carrot and potato balls in green string bean nests. If you don't want to bother with individual shapes, a platter service will do nicely and still remind us of the days of Easter egg hunts.
 Nice hot crusty rolls or French bread give good texture contrast. Then for a salad we'll serve a salad bowl of sections of oranges, cubes of canned pears, and bits of preserved ginger, resting on a bed of shredded lettuce and all marinated with a piquant French dressing. You'll find these fruit flavors blend in nicely with the ham.
 Just in case you aren't up in your ham cookery, here's our never-fail method: Place a large ham with two cups of water in covered roaster and bake in 325 degrees F. oven 21 minutes per pound (25 minutes for smaller or half hams). Skin, score, dot with cloves. Brown 20 minutes uncovered in hot oven (400 degrees F.), basting with juice of one orange, one lemon, and one cup sugar, mixed.
 Of course, if you have controlled heat in your oven, you don't need to add water or use a cover for the first baking. Just keep the heat at 325 degrees F. and the ham is self-basted by the fat that trickles down from the natural protective layer.
 Now, with the main course well in hand, let's think of the appetizers. I'm all for the informal service of fruit cocktails and snacks from a big tray in the living room. This keeps guests busy while the main course is made ready and placed on the table. With that big ham awaiting us, we're planning to serve spiced cider cocktails, an assortment of full-flavored tangy cheese, salt wafers, olives and celery. I think most every one will enjoy the fun of making his own canapés.
 There isn't much more to say about our menu, except, of course, a dessert and coffee. It would never do to have a too heavy pudding or pastry and so we're suggesting a lemon milk sherbet and sunshine cake.
 With all these gay yellow and green foods, jonquils will be our choice for a center piece. Perhaps, too, we can find a few pussy willows and some freesias or narcissus to add their message of spring.
 So it's ham, sugar and spice and everything nice—that's what Easter dinner is made of.

Conservation Is Seen As An Aid To Landscaping

COLLEGE STATION, Mar. 18—Landscaping a farm home should mean more than an arrangement of grass, shrubs, and trees around the house, according to Miss Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening, and should include a pleasing view of the house from every angle and pleasant surroundings in every direction around the house.
 The agricultural conservation program fits in well with long time landscaping plans, Miss Hatfield said. Cultivated row crops which come to the very doors of the house are often a source of mud, dust and glare. Farm pastures under the agricultural conservation program might well replace the row crops around the house, she pointed out, and thus not only provide for convenient pastures, but also for added beauty.

 Terraces, contours, dams and tanks, as well as trees for wind-breaks, all included in the conservation program, also add to the beauty of the landscape, the specialist continued.
 The Texas farm women are becoming increasingly interested in beautification of the surroundings of their homes as indicated in Miss Hatfield's annual report covering the past year, which shows that 11,224 home demonstration club members added more than 1,500 lawns; constructed 1,360 drives and walks; planted 22,500 native and 30,000 nursery shrubs; as well as more than 13,500 trees; set out some 26,000 cuttings which they themselves rooted; and planted more than 25,000 rose bushes. These figures include only those plants which were alive at the end of the year.

E-TEX. POTENTIAL
KILGORE, Tex., Mar. 18 (AP)—The East Texas oil field has 22,215 wells with an hourly potential production of 13,631,147 barrels, according to the engineering department of the state railroad commission. The commission's report indicated a total of 2,184 wells were making salt water.

Geologists In Annual Meet

Exploration Work In Texas And Nearby States Is Discussed

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 15 (AP)—Oil exploration advances in Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Canada were disclosed today to American petroleum geologists in papers either orally presented or filed at their national convention.

Echoes still abounded in the recently-developed controversy over the comparative worth of geology and geophysics to the oil industry. L. W. Blau, geophysicist of the Humble Oil company of Texas, brought the issue up to date in an address accusing geologists of overlooking valuable geophysical data, or else perverting such to conform with conventional geologic pictures of oil prospecting data.

Blau's unmincing speech as an exponent of geophysics, the growing new adjunct to oil exploration, created something of a sensation at the convention.

A paper by Herschel H. Cooper reported that during the past few years the Laredo district of Texas has become one of the outstanding shallow oil producing districts in the United States.

Cooper said the oil is recovered chiefly from shore line sands of the Jackson age, occurring at depths ranging from 400 to 3,500 feet.

The convention last night elected unopposed nominees for association officers ahead of schedule as follows: H. S. Fuqua, Fort Worth, Tex., president; C. I. Moody, Shreveport, La., vice-president; Ira Gram, Tulsa, Okla., secretary-treasurer, and Dr. W. A. Ver Wiebe, Wichita, Kas., editor of the association bulletin.

Nation Of Old People Foreseen In 50 Years, With Number Of Children Reduced By A Possible Two-Thirds

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (UP)—Unless the birth rate or immigration increases the United States may reach its maximum population in about 40 years, according to Dr. O. E. Baker of the bureau of agricultural economics.

"The birth rate has declined more than 25 per cent during the last 10 years," Dr. Baker said. "If the birth rate continues to decline at this rate a maximum population will be reached between 1945 and 1950."

Thereafter, Dr. Baker said, the population will decline slowly at first and then at an accelerating rate. By 2000 the population of the United States may be under 100,000,000.

"A declining national population, with rural surplus and urban deficit in birth, will have serious economic and social consequences," Dr. Baker said.

"Fifty years from now," he said, "there may be only a third as many children in the nation as now, and only half as many women of child-bearing age."

"There will be nearly three times as many old people. Many unemployed urban people will seek shelter and sustenance with relatives and friends on farms. Many of these people will start little farms, and never again return to the cities to live."

"Millions of farm youths will migrate to the cities. Many of these migrants will inherit farms, or, through settlement of estates, acquire mortgages on farms. Wealth represented by the ownership of land or the income from it will be transferred to the cities."

Dr. Baker said other millions of farm youth will begin farming, mostly on farms vacated by the death of aged farmers. Unless these farms are acquired by inheritance, he said, there will be an increasing number of tenants.

"These ominous developments can be retarded," Dr. Baker said, "by a rapid decentralization of population, industry and commerce, by the spread of part time farming and by an appreciation by the middle and upper classes of their responsibility for the reproduction of the race and the welfare of the nation."

Wallace Asks Broad Vision On Farm Issue

Changes Likened To 19th Century Industrial Revolution

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (UP)—An agricultural revolution similar to the 19th Century industrial revolution is in progress on American farms, according to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

Technological improvements making possible economical mass production, are similar to those which made possible the industrial revolution in manufacturing a century ago, Wallace said.

Between 1922 and 1926 agricultural production increased 27 per cent, while crop acreage remained stationary and the amount of labor in agriculture actually decreased, Wallace said.

For long-range contrast, he said that in 1787—the year the Constitution was framed—it took 19 persons living on farms to produce enough for themselves and one person in town, while today 19 persons on farms can produce enough for themselves and for 66 persons living in town.

Increase Four-Fold

Thus, he reasoned, a farm which 150 years ago supported 20 persons, now supports 33. This, Wallace said, is a shift of greater magnitude than took place in the 10,000 years previous to 1787.

Both urban and rural dwellers have benefited by the improved technology of farming, Wallace said. A hundred years ago, he said, it required six hours of city labor to buy a bushel of wheat. Now the average city worker can buy a bushel of wheat for an hour and 20 minutes work.

Technology, Wallace said, has placed American farmers in a dilemma, which he described as "shall American agriculture let an uncontrolled technology wipe out the independent family-sized farm or shall American agriculture turn its back on technology, in order to preserve the family-sized farm?"

He compared the dilemma of American farmers to that of English workers at the beginning of the 19th Century industrial revolution. Labor feared for its bargaining power under the factory system, and for economic inde-

The Cadets will play the Beaumont Exporters here Friday and Saturday, March 19-20, and the Houston Buffs here Monday and Tuesday, March 22-23.

$50,000 DAMAGE IN GALVESTON BLAZE

GALVESTON, Mar. 18 (UP)—Damage unofficially estimated at around $50,000 was caused by a spectacular fire in the business district here early this morning.

Starting apparently in the rear of the Columbia cafe on Market street the three-story building housing the cafe was destroyed, while damage was done to adjoining structures.

Pittsburgh Steamship company here, U. S. Steel subsidiary, operating the largest fleet on the Great Lakes, has announced plans for construction of four new vessels, which will be put in service within a year.

Ships Cost $5,000,000

These boats will be the first built on the lakes since 1930. They will cost $5,000,000 and, added to the present fleet, will give the company 79 ships.

Shipping men are unanimous in predicting their busiest season since 1929. Some, even more optimistic, believe ore shipments may set an all-time record.

Brightening skies in the steel industry, where wage increases apparently have removed the menace of a general strike, are given as a reason.

Worldwide rearmament programs, drawing heavily on steel mills, are cited as another. And in addition there is that hardy perennial—the development of new uses for metals.

RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McNallen of Lyons, Kas., C. E. Willmering of Amarillo and Eugene McNallen, student in Southern Methodist university at Dallas, are here to be at the bedside of Mrs. J. L. McNallen who is critically ill of pneumonia.
