Ralph Capone Committed To Federal Cell

Brother Of Big Al Just Another Prisoner, Says Warden

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Nov. 7 (AP)—Ralph Capone, Chicago's public enemy No. 3, elder brother of Al Capone, was committed to the federal penitentiary here today to serve three years for income tax evasion. Al is expected to arrive soon to serve ten years on a similar conviction. Ralph joked with newspapermen, guards and other prisoners. He said that the trip had been enjoyable but that it would be more so going back. He declared it was easier to evade income taxes than reporters. Capone will be "just another federal prisoner" to Warden T. B. White.

Please read the article on this page reviewing the state fire insurance commissioner's idea of Big Spring's fire record, the causes of fires here as reported to him and the remedy he prescribes.

With $60,000 in fire losses for 10 months of this year we are liable not to receive any good fire record credit, thus losing thousands of dollars because of added insurance premium payments.

Next to safeguarding life every citizen should watch constantly in helping to safeguard property from fire.

Another article in today's paper, written by Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, is the cause and most reliable newspaper writers of Texas, is worth reading. He uses bald fact to show why Texans should realize business conditions have improved in the past sixty or seventy days and why they should all join in chasing away a booger that becomes more and more imaginary—depression.

Fellow said somebody in Midland piped up and said he had quite a sum of money he was going to take to Big Spring and bet on Sweet water. Another Midland fellow spoke up and asked him why travel, I'll take it all.

That is one time a Midland guy thought Big Spring was going to win something.

A lot of Howard county kids are going to start to school Monday morning. Always did seem to me like boys and girls in rural districts got more joy out of school than those in town; that they got more good out of a five or six months a year than their city brothers and sisters did in nine months.

Not because city schools are not as good. In fact, the larger schools offer a lot more opportunities for learning, but kids in town have as many more things to attract their attention from their books.

Many a guy would be better off if he had been speared up in the country.

And, if you ask us, the women and men, who teach in rural schools form one of the most valuable groups in the country. School teachers is one of our pets. Meaning that we always sort of take up for em. When we hear someone criticizing a teacher we swallow a grain of salt and wonder what their side of the story would be.

Big Spring Fire Record Bad Says Commissioner; Incendiarism Seen In Blazes Here; Remedy Is Offered

This year Big Spring is receiving a 3 per cent good fire record charge on fire insurance, which means that property owners are saving $3,022 in premiums. However, they are paying out during this year approximately $11,635 because Big Spring is not receiving the maximum 15 per cent good fire record charge. J. W. DeWesse, state fire insurance commissioner, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce and The Herald makes the above statement, along with a detailed review of the city's fire record and its effect upon insurance charges. In 1928 Big Spring received a 2 per cent bad fire record charge, which cost the people $14,573 in excess insurance premiums. The following year a 6 per cent bad fire record charge was entered, costing $18,155 in added premiums. In 1930, however, the full 15 per cent good fire record charge was given the city, saving approximately $17,244 for property owners. The total amount paid out in excess premiums in 1928, 1929 and 1930 amounts to approximately $48,493. Had the full 15 per cent good fire record credit been received during those years that sum would have been saved.

The insurance commissioner writes that the answer to the question, "What can be done to reduce our annual fire waste?" the following show that the fires that have been occurring in your city the past several years are the result of three things:

1. Carelessness.
2. Over-insurance.
3. Incendiarism.

This statement was made, the department declares, after an examination of the fire reports made to it by the local fire marshal.

These paragraphs review the three major causes of fires here:

Careless fires are the result of failure to keep down the many fire hazards that are so common in the average home and place of business. As an illustration attention is called to the fact that a great many fires are caused by careless smokers, the misuse of matches, defective chimneys and flues, defective wiring and electrical appliances, improper use of gas, improper use of kerosene and gasoline, tans and rubbish.

Over-insurance as a general rule, results from either of two causes. First, the failure to know property values, and second, it seems that some agents are more interested in the commission they receive than they are in the welfare of their consumers. Over-insurance no doubt can be classed as one of the greatest moral hazards, and where property is over-insured it encourages carelessness on the part of the assured. And, in some instances where the assured is hard-pressed financially

Higher Court Upholds State Truck Statute

WACO, Nov. 7 (AP)—The enforcement of the house bill number 335 requiring that truck operators hold permits from the state railroad commission was upheld in the tenth court of civil appeals here Saturday. The opinion handed down was by the unanimous vote of the judges. The decision dissolved the injunctions issued by Judge H. F. Kirby in the district court at Groesbeck which restrained the peace officers from arresting the violators of the law.

East Texas Storage Increased In Week

Withdrawal from storage in the East Texas field for the past week according to reliable reports. Daily was greater than in the preceding week, according to reliable reports. Daily movement from storage was 38,016 barrels.

Production for the week averaged 418,501 barrels. Daily crude movement was 446,517 barrels.

Governor In Suit Over His Newspaper

Given Injunction; Holds Defendant Refused Note Payment

HOUSTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Allen B. Hanney, presiding civil judge, late yesterday temporarily enjoined sale by J. M. West and associates of stock in the Houston Printing company, publishers of the Houston Post-Dispatch. The stock is held as security to certain notes. Governor R. S. Sterling controls the Post-Dispatch. The suit was brought in behalf of an estate Governor Sterling created which conveyed his Post-Dispatch stock and other properties to the National Bank of Commerce as trustee to secure $800,000 in notes. The governor claims West and his associates bought three of the Sterling notes, secured by 2,317 shares of Post-Dispatch stock and refused to surrender the stock when payment was offered and are now seeking control of the Post-Dispatch. The suit does not affect the recent sale of Sterling's stock in the Houston National bank.

Parents Held For Torturing Child

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Little Edith Riley, who has been virtually a captive in a dark closet in her own home for the past four or five months, was held in court, and her father and stepmother held for grand jury action on a charge of cruelty. The judge increased her parent's bond after Edith's brother, Francis, had described in the preliminary hearing her sufferings from hunger and beating and her confinement in a dirty closet.

Dr. Deter To Preach At 4th Street Today

Rev. S. B. Hughes, pastor of the Fourth Street Baptist church, returning last night from Portales, N. M. where he attended the New Mexico State Baptist convention, announced that Dr. J. B. Deter, for many years a missionary to Brazil, would fill the pulpit at the Fourth Street church today. The public was given an earnest invitation to attend both services.

SOCIETY LEADERS OPEN NEW YORK OPERA SEASON

Here are scenes as society trooped to the opening of New York's opera season. The parade led none of its former brilliance and excitement as the nobles gathered to hear a famous American soprano, Rosa Ponselle, sing Verdi's "La Traviata." The famous "golden horseshoe" in the Metropolitan theater is shown. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr. (left), and Paul D. Cravath (right), new president of the Metropolitan, were among the notables.

Youth Drives To Hospital; Tells of Running Pistol Fight

DALLAS, Nov. 7 (AP)—Ralph Goodwin, 23, Southern Methodist University senior, drove to a hospital here today, with a bullet in his chest. He is in a critical condition. Goodwin told police he was shot by two men who attempted to rob him at White Rock lake. They pursued him from East Dallas to the lake in another automobile, he said. They engaged in a running pistol fight. Goodwin said he was forced to stop his car when he came to the end of a rough road. He leaped out and one robber then shot him in the chest. The men fled and he drove to the hospital. Goodwin's parents live at Eddy, near Waco.

Tiny Runaways!

A desire to see what was west of Abilene led two girls Myrtle Henry, 11, and June Ellis, 9, to leave their homes in Abilene Friday at noon and hit the Bunkhead highway west.

Nightfall Friday found them at Coahoma where they secured lodging for the night, they said. An early start Saturday morning and the girls were in Big Spring where they were taken care of by Chie Long, who entertained them in his home, and let them amuse themselves in the city hall, until their parents came for them late yesterday afternoon.

"We were not mad or anything, we just decided to run away and here we are," the girls said yesterday. Neither evidenced any fear of the parental wrath which might befall them upon their return home but appeared to be enjoying to the fullest their first run away experience.

'Little Miss Big Spring' Will Be Selected At Ritz Revue Friday

"Little Miss Big Spring" will be selected Friday evening at the Ritz theatre in a Tiny Tot Beauty Revue, it was announced yesterday. Girls 2 to 6 years of age, representing business firms, will parade before the Ritz audience at 8:30 p. m. and out-of-town judges will decide the winners of four prizes. The girls will not be rehearsed. George L. Scatterwhite, director of the revue, said. Business firms will be allowed to enter girls without paying any fee and have them announced at the theatre as their representatives.

76 Children Given Diphtheria Toxin

Seventy-six children were given the anti-diphtheria immunization at the conference held at the court house yesterday afternoon, according to Mrs. M. R. Showalter, public health nurse. Due to the fact that several interested parties arrived too late for the conference another will be held next Saturday at the same time if those desirous of a conference will get in touch with the county health nurse. It was indicated.

Sam Grant Is Held; Escaped 19 Years Ago

Man Sent From Eastland For Murder Visited Family Here

On information furnished by the Howard county sheriff's department Sam Grant, about 44, who escaped from a state prison farm 19 years ago after being sent up from Eastland county on a life term for murder, was being held last night in Elk City, Okla., while a Texas penitentiary agent was enroute to return him to Huntville. Grant's whereabouts were learned by Sheriff Staughter and his force several nights ago. They informed Elk City officers, who arrested him near there. Andrew Merrick, local deputy, said the department here began hearing of Grant six or eight months ago, when he began coming here to visit his wife and daughters, who reside on East Sixteenth street. He was one single daughter living with her mother, and two married daughters, one residing here, the other near Knott. Sam Grant, among whose aliases was G. W. Franks, was convicted of murder at Eastland May 8, 1912, following a second trial before Thomas L. Blanton, now congressman, then district judge. Court records at Eastland Saturday disclosed that he was charged with murder of a man named Coles, whose first name was not known to the grand jury. The victim was an itinerant, who was shot from ambush in a pasture near Okra, Texas, February 19, 1909. In his first trial Grant was given the death penalty. He won a reversal and the second trial resulted in the life sentence. Judge Blanton pronounced sentence on him May 8, 1912. He was committed to the penitentiary at Huntville June 13, 1912, and escaped October 2, 1912. He was recaptured at Rusk, Texas, the same day but escaped again December 3, 1912, and had not been heard of until recently. The Herald was advised from Eastland that a man named Carter turned state's witness in Grant's trials and was used as the principal witness against him. Grant's family has lived here for some years.

Determined Steers Work Hard, Mustangs Claim Injuries

Flowers Not In Condition As Day Nears

Dennis, Orr Recover From Colds; Bovine Line To Have Edge

With the big game of the year only three days off the Steer men are driving their charges hard in an effort to iron the kinks and send the locals into the Armistice Day battle with every man in the pink of condition and the team functioning with machine-like precision.

The air of grim determination prevailing among the players, gives promise of nothing in the world but a storm which is due to break at 2:30 p. m. in the middle of Newman Field at Sweetwater November 11.

Realizing fully the task that is before them the boys are working doggedly in an effort to perfect every detail of offense and defense in order that the 15-6 score which dedicated Steer stadium last year may be avenged.

Flowers Out
With Capital Flowers still nursing an injured knee the possibility of the full backfield strength of the Steers starting against the Mustangs is slim. While it is possible that Wild Bill may get into the game for a time it is certain that the knee injury will slow him up and that he will not be as effective as he has been in the past.

Hopper is favoring a knee which has been bothering him for the past three or four days but it is not expected that this will hinder him in the game Wednesday.

Dennis and Orr have just recovered from the effects of bad colds and should be able to give their best against the Mustangs.

Closed Gates
Over in the Nolan county corral the Mustangs under the direction of Coach Ed Hennig are working over time behind closed gates trying to perfect a few fancy steps that may puzzle the Bovines.

Using Passes
Using passes which ran the Ablene Eagles dizzy, together with new formations developed after a study of the locals defense, Coach Hennig informs the world that the aerial circus of SMU never hurt the oval aloft with the abandon to be shown by the Ponies.

Steer Line Better
Boasting a forward wall which has so valiantly turned back every scoring threat in eight games the Steer forwards hold a decided edge over their red shirted opponents in the Armistice Day scrap.

The weight advantage, what little there is, goes to the Steers. This coupled with the fact that in Hopper and Dyer the Bovines have the outstanding men in the district at their respective positions, gives the Bovines the edge in the coming scrap.

Strother, diminutive guard of the Ponies is worth his weight in gold to the Mustang line and will wage a merry battle with local linemen during the coming game.

Outstanding in every game played by the Sweetwater crew, Strother will practically cinch an all-district guard berth if he continues his sterling play against the locals.

The fighting guard practically camped in the Badger backfield when the McCamey eleven invaded the Mustang territory. The work of the Steer line is cut out for the afternoon if the little guard is to be kept on his own side of the line.

Mustangs Confident
Exhibiting no unusual anxiety over the coming contest the Ponies are confident in their ability to stop the Steer parade and repeat with a more decisive victory than that with which they dedicated the local stadium last Armistice Day.

The locals with the memory of that defeat still fresh in their minds are going into the game fighting and while they may be stopped the greatest football game ever played in West Texas will have been staged for the benefit of the fans and the vast crowd will leave Newman Field confident that they have seen two great high school teams in action.

Rice Track Coach Wants Working Boys On Olympic Squad
HOUSTON, Nov. 7, (UP)—Ernie Hjertberg, track coach of Rice Institute and former coach of Swedish Olympic teams, has entered a plea that the working boy be given a chance to make the U. S. Olympic squad.

"When the team is composed mainly of working boys and the university or college athlete is an exception, then we will have accomplished what it is our duty to do," he said in a statement.

This And That

By Mark

It would seem that some people cannot stand to be neglected. We have said little concerning the San Angelo contest. Our remarks along this line have been few for several reasons. The Bobcats do not trek northward for some time yet and then again we are not worried in the least as to the outcome of the contest with the Kittens. We will see the hide of the Concho Cats thoroughly stretched and dried before the sun goes down Nov. 26.

The reason for the above remark is that Blondy Cross comes out with the statement that all the noise coming from the direction of Big Spring is concerning the San Angelo-Steer contest, that the locals consider the Mustangs just a breeze to be lightly pushed aside prior to the big game with the Bobcats. Now Blondy is wrong on just several points. We have not been making any noise concerning the Bobcat game. We consider the Mustang affair anything but light.

The Ponies have a rest day and even after the Steers get through drubbing them they will have sufficient power left to maul the Cats.

Despite the publicity given the Concho eleven by its ardent pressman we have considered the Mustangs as the team the Steers would have to stop since the first of the season, and we are more of the opinion since the Building-Angelo game. The Taylormen may have had an off day when the Midlanders were in town but even at that they do not loom so powerful to this department. The Steers following the Sweetwater contest will take the Bobcats just like Grant took Richmond.

Draw nigh friends and we will let you in on a little misery which is coming from the general direction of Sweetwater and from the Pony corral in particular.

According to dispatches from the Nolan county center the Mustangs opposing the Steers Armistice Day will resemble a team from the Confederate Home or a squad composed of the inmates of various and sundry hospitals over the state. We say various and sundry for we do not believe one hospital could furnish as many sick and ailing men as the Mustang pressmen would have us believe are on the Mustang roster.

If all this was prior to the Angelo it might be able to realize without any great effort just how come so many sick and injured.

Despite the fact that Baugh, Grimsley, Windham, Hicks and the remaining Ponies are out, we expect nothing more than to see field when the battle starts. Whether or not they will be there when it is all over is an entirely different proposition.

Just cast your peepers on this article found in the Nolan County News yesterday morning. "Don't you see," it says, "it seems that these Howard County Ex-Bulls, headed by Tack (Governor Bill) Dennis, have stacked up something like 2,459,392 points against the Big Spring Campfire Girls, the Womans Sewing Circle and the Old Soldier's Home. How they'll look in a football game remains to be seen."

They cut a terrible caper at ping pong and there's a chance, a bare chance, mister, that they can play a little football."

Just how much football the locals will be able to play when they invade the Mustang domain next Wednesday is going to be one sweet surprise to the Pony fans. The picture of a fiery Mustang in full flight before a herd of stampeding Steers is a beautiful one and we expect to see it brought to life during the four chukkers of play on Nov. 11. There has not been a team on Newman Field with more football packed away, ready to show the fans than the Bovines will have with them—and what's mean, gentle readers, said football is going to come out and be spread all over the turf of Newman Field for the consideration of the Pony fans. We can do nothing in the world about it if such exhibition makes them sick. They have asked for a football game and believe us they are going to get all they can stand before the Steers get through with the once proud Mustangs on Armistice Day.

We could hardly believe our ears when our dear brother walked in yesterday morning and informed us that the score would be 26-13 in favor of the Mustangs. We have never accused him of being a bit barmy of anything like that but we are going around to see a doctor at the earliest possible moment.

He informs us that the Steers will need eyes on all sides of their heads to follow the numerous passes heaved by the Mustangs. According to his belief and that of the many other misguided fans of the Bovines are going to sit down on the field and let the Sweetwater clan run and pass to its heart's delight and do nothing more than cheer while the gentle art of cheating the father is being demonstrated for the benefit of the cash customers.

We have a vague idea that the Steers will have just as many men on the field as the Mustangs will have. Such being the case we can't figure out where the one man who will always be open to snatch the oval from the air as it is speeding on its way with the impetus received from Sam Baugh.

Speaking of Sam Baugh we find this wise crack which we will credit to our friend Millard Cope of the Sweetwater Daily Reporter. Now bear in mind that Millard has never seen the Steers perform and that all he knows about Tack Dennis is what he has read in this column, which we will admit should be enough. In reply to a statement from Jinx Tucker at Waco, Millard says, "SAM BAUGH IS THE BEST PASSER IN TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TODAY. Sam is smart and will no doubt get the all-district berth as quarterback. He is cool as a cucumber, waits to throw until he spots his receiver and then throws that pigskin as fast and as straight as the best of them."

One little statement there interests us no little. Sam waits until he spots his receiver. What a long hard wait he is going to experience next Wednesday. This old idea of waiting brings out another little thought that is worth considering. What are the Steers going to be doing while Sam is standing back there waiting to heave a pass to some of his anxious playmates? There is only one place on the field Sam can heave a pass and be sure that it will not be intercepted, he can turn around and throw it toward his own goal.

We have no doubt as to the passing ability of the Pony field general, and we refuse to be surprised if he passes right out of the picture during the coming matinee on Newman Field.

All in all ladies and gentlemen we are going to have a real ball game on Armistice Day between the Undeclared and uncorralled Steers of Big Spring and the prancing Mustangs of Sweetwater. Let's all be there to see the Mustangs get led.

Regardless—THERE SHALL BE NO REGRETS.

Steer Squad Given Feast
Collins Brothers Hosts To Players, Coaches and School Board

The high school football team, coaches and school members were the guests of Collins Bros. at a barbecue given at the city park in honor of the undefeated Steers, Friday night.

Collins Bros. was assisted in putting on the feed for the boys by the Home Bakery, Snowwhite Creamery, George's Cafe, and the West Texas Food Products Company with donations of bread, ice cream, coffee and potato chips, respectively.

A short but interesting program featuring two minute talks by local fans brought an enjoyable evening to a close, and sent the team home with a firm determination to carry their school colors to victory in the coming battle with the Sweetwater Mustangs.

Dr. E. O. Ellington spoke to the team in behalf of the school board and assured the boys the Board's support.

Superintendent Blankenship thanked the board and the public in general for the splendid support given the boys, declaring that never before had a Big Spring team received the support and cooperation of the public as have the Steers of 1931.

"The high ideals of sportsmanship and clean living as held up before the boys will make better men of them regardless of whether or not they remain an undefeated team throughout the season," Mr. Blankenship said.

Coaches Bristow and Brown in a few remarks paid tribute to the second and third string men who have given their best to make possible such a team as the local high school has this year.

"We appreciate the support given us by the town, and while we do not promise to win next Wednesday we do promise you a fighting team of which you will not be ashamed regardless of which way the games goes," the coaches declared.

Dr. M. H. Bennett closed the program with the announcement that the school board had approved an order for six new sections of seats for the Angelo game, contingent upon the winning of the Sweetwater contest.

"We are behind you win or lose," he told the team, "but we do count on you losing to Sweetwater. We expect to be playing football here in December when we will be engaged in the semi-finals of the state race."

Wink Beaten By Stanton
Bisons Practically Cinch Their Section For Second Year

Featuring Springer, Wilson and Kelley the Stanton Buffs downed the Wink Wildcats in a hard fought battle on the Stanton gridiron Friday afternoon 12-0. The victory practically cinched the sectional title for Stanton.

Springer counted for the first Bison score while Wilson was on the receiving end of a 40-yard pass which netted the Martin county gridironers their second marker.

The defensive feat of the game was the scrap of the Bison line when the boys from Winkles county had the oval on the 2 yard line and four downs to negotiate the distance. The Hydemen held and Wilson, kicking from behind his own goal, sent the ball back down the field for 80 yards.

Grimsley Is New Casualty Says Report

Windham Quits; Hicks Expected To Start; Baugh To Be Ready

As the "game of games" for district 4 draws nigh mournful wails are coming from the Mustang corral at Sweetwater as the Pony stars one by one are reported relegated to the sidelines with injuries or sickness.

Grimsley, star tackle of the Ponies was ordered home Friday by the team physician, with a case of flu. It is doubtful if the husky lineman will be able to get into the Armistice Day game, according to Sweetwater reports.

Mike Hicks, the Roscoe Rambler who has been counted on to provide much of the scoring punch against the invading herd of Steers is almost definitely out of the contest with the injury received in the Snyder game, another report has it.

Red Sheridan is favoring an injured foot but will start the game against the Steers. Sam Baugh, the passing star of the Mustangs, has been in bed with the flu for several days, but is expected to be on the field when the first whistle sounds next Wednesday.

Windham, Grimsley's first string mate at tackle, is out of school for good and his services will be lacking for the big event. Trammell is eligible and will divide time with Rogers at the tackle post. Paul Bledsoe, injured in the McCamey game, is still on the ailing list and will be playing below par against the Bovines.

With the Steers having only two men nursing injuries of any importance local mentors feel that the full strength, with the possible exception of Captain Flowers, will be on the field to battle the Mustangs.

Record Crowd Expected
Newman Field, according to reports from the Nolan county center, will see the largest crowd of the year when the Ponies and Steers line up for the annual battle. A record crowd of more than 5,000 people is expected.

All roads will lead to Sweetwater on Armistice Day, and reports from Sweetwater officials are that work is being rushed on two new sections of seats to help take care of the crowd.

Fans from Dallas on the east and Odessa on the west will invade Sweetwater.

Grimsley Is New Casualty Says Report

Windham Quits; Hicks Expected To Start; Baugh To Be Ready

As the "game of games" for district 4 draws nigh mournful wails are coming from the Mustang corral at Sweetwater as the Pony stars one by one are reported relegated to the sidelines with injuries or sickness.

Grimsley, star tackle of the Ponies was ordered home Friday by the team physician, with a case of flu. It is doubtful if the husky lineman will be able to get into the Armistice Day game, according to Sweetwater reports.

Mike Hicks, the Roscoe Rambler who has been counted on to provide much of the scoring punch against the invading herd of Steers is almost definitely out of the contest with the injury received in the Snyder game, another report has it.

Red Sheridan is favoring an injured foot but will start the game against the Steers. Sam Baugh, the passing star of the Mustangs, has been in bed with the flu for several days, but is expected to be on the field when the first whistle sounds next Wednesday.

Windham, Grimsley's first string mate at tackle, is out of school for good and his services will be lacking for the big event. Trammell is eligible and will divide time with Rogers at the tackle post. Paul Bledsoe, injured in the McCamey game, is still on the ailing list and will be playing below par against the Bovines.

With the Steers having only two men nursing injuries of any importance local mentors feel that the full strength, with the possible exception of Captain Flowers, will be on the field to battle the Mustangs.

Record Crowd Expected
Newman Field, according to reports from the Nolan county center, will see the largest crowd of the year when the Ponies and Steers line up for the annual battle. A record crowd of more than 5,000 people is expected.

All roads will lead to Sweetwater on Armistice Day, and reports from Sweetwater officials are that work is being rushed on two new sections of seats to help take care of the crowd.

Fans from Dallas on the east and Odessa on the west will invade Sweetwater.

Sweetwater Calls City-Wide Pep Rally For Monday Evening; Steer Fans To Be Met By Band, Pep Girls

In addition to the work of the Mustang mentors in trying to get the Ponies into fighting condition for the big game next Wednesday the Sweetwater populace is expected to turn out several thousand strong for a pep rally to be staged there tomorrow night.

Nothing is being left undone to get the prancing Ponies worked up to the point where they will run wild over the invading Steers in the Armistice Day tussle.

According to the Nolan County News, all members of the team will be introduced and Coach Ed Hennig will be heard in a short speech Monday night at a pep rally which will be staged to permit the fans to let off some of their steam before the Sweetwater-Big Spring game on Wednesday. A huge bonfire is to be built, the pep squad will be on hand, and various speakers will be heard at the rally which is to begin at 7:30 p. m.

Plans have been completed for the welcoming of the Steer fans when the special rolls into Sweetwater at 1 o'clock. The high school pep squad and the Sweetwater Municipal Band will meet the train and conduct the Steer fans to their headquarters in the Blue Bonnet Hotel. The game will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The football game will be followed by a bovery dance on the Blue Bonnet roof Wednesday night.

Grid Special To Stop Wednesday At Coahoma

The special train from Big Spring to the Sweetwater-Big Spring football game there Wednesday will make a brief stop at Coahoma. It was announced last night. The train will leave here at 11:30 a. m.

Constance Bennett's Latest Picture Opening At Ritz Today

Star In Role Of Model; Play Is Absorbing

Alluring Young Star Has Joel McCrea As Her Leading Man

The manager of the Ritz theater announces the opening of Constance Bennett's new picture for RKO Pathé, "The Common Law," today for a 2-day run. The picture was adapted from Robert W. Chambers' famous book of the same name, by John Farrow.

Valerie West applies for the position of model at the studio of Louis Neville, who engages her to pose for him. Neville falls in love with Valerie and plans to ask her to marry him. But he learns she has had an affair with a fellow named Carmichael and changes his mind. Valerie admits the truth, and the two separate. They meet again at a ball which she attends with another artist, Querido. Louis, seeing her with another man, leaves, and Valerie follows him to his studio.

The next morning he tells her he will not let her get away this time. She explains to him that he does not have to marry her if he has any doubts about her, but he assures her he has none.

Back in the United States Louis' sister, Clara, has heard reports about him and is determined to get him away from Valerie. She cables him to come home, and he sails with Valerie.

At a yacht club party Clara does everything she can to turn Louis against Valerie. She has evidently heard about Carmichael and Valerie and invited him there. Carmichael, drunk, goes to Valerie's room. As she pushes him out, he stumbles and falls. Clara and Louis come upon the scene, and Clara says some insulting things to Valerie.

Valerie prepares to leave. Louis goes to her room, and offers to escort her to the speedboat. Then he gets in beside her and informs her they are on their way to the nearest Justice of the Peace.

Constance Bennett portrays the model and Joel McCrea the artist with whom she is in love. With them in the cast are Lew Cody, who plays "Carmichael," Robert Williams, Hedda Hopper, Marion Shilling and Paul Ellis.

Miss Bankhead Here 'My Sin'

Tranquil Panama, Hurrying New York Woven Into Story

"My Sin," one of the season's most interesting pictures, will be presented at the theatre, Thursday and Friday next.

This thrilling story of the regeneration of a man and woman, one crushed by bitter circumstances, the other demoralized by wild living, has Tallulah Bankhead and Fredric March in its leading roles.

The story is filled with dramatic incidents. Its vivid scenes reach from the tropical atmosphere of Panama to the noise and hurry of sophisticated New York. A master hand has taken the theme and woven vigorous action into a thrilling drama that intrigues the imagination and grips the emotions. Paramount, realizing the rich possibilities of the story for pictured dramatics, selected the most gifted artists available in making up the cast.

Tallulah Bankhead, vivacious, talented, and charming, with a record of stage successes in both America and England, and Fredric March, rich in stage and cinematic experience, share the stellar honors in this production.

Bankhead sprang into public favor when she appeared in "Tarnished Lady." She is a petite light blond, of magnetic personality and radiant charm. She has a rare gift for character impersonation and a dramatic subtlety. March, puts into all his acting a dramatic vigor that carries audiences along with him. He is versatile and highly sensitive to the dramatic possibilities of his roles.

The balance of the cast is made up of stage favorites. Harry Davis, port portrays an elderly business man. He is one of the oldest actors of the American stage. He recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his stage career. Joy Fassel is a similar type, though younger. He is a finished actor, assuming roles that portray the social gentleman or the business executive.

Constance Bennett and Joel McCrea in "The Common Law" at RKO Pathé production, will be seen at the Ritz today and Monday. Above, a scene from the picture.

Borah Our Best 'Refuser' Will Rogers Declares, Citing Laval Conversation

BY WILL ROGERS

Well all I know is just what I read in the papers. Well the last few weeks there's been a good deal of blathering in the papers. Ever since away back when the Frenchman Laval come over and went back there just don't seem to be anything finding out what he came after, what he got, what was done or anything. About all we do know about him is that his daughter dated with Mayor Walker. Now if that was worth the trip why then everything must have been OK. He and Mr. Hoover issued a kind of a joint statement, but the same fellow wrote it that wrote the Wickert report. We couldn't tell if they had even met or not.

I think that is the hardest thing in the world to do is tell the press what you and somebody have been doing, when you have been doing anything at all. Laval run into Borah while here and we had no trouble telling what they talked about. He did not seem to have got far with Borah, but that's no novelty. Neither did anybody else that wanted anything. Borah is the best "Refuser" we got.

They talked about a corridor in Poland. That's an alley in Poland that they wanted to get to the Sea. Mr. Wilson give it to em for he really thought they wanted to see the sea, but a Pole knows no more about the sea than a Cherokee. So Borah says it ought to go back to Germany. Well when you talk to France about giving anything back to Germany, why you haven't got a very sympathetic listener. So you can see how far Borah got with his hospitality.

France aint going to give Germany back even an alley. Well that's their business. They live by em they know what to give em and what not to give em. France didn't send Laval over here to suggest giving oak California to Mexico. We are always handing somebody else's stuff around. Poland is in a mess and always will be, for they just carved the Country out of about three other ones. About a Fourth of the population is Germans that want to get oack under their country. About a fourth is Czechs. Sounds like money, but its folks that belong to Czechoslovakia. Well a fourth are them. Then a fourth are Russians. Now lets see that's three fourth. That only leaves one fourth. But then the Jews have to be subtracted from that fourth so there just aint a few dozen real poles.

But they are an old time country and they want to get along. But you can't get along with somebody else's land. But that aint our business. We got all we can do to capture Sendino. Maybe he is in that "Corridor." We cant find him in Nicaragua, but he finds us.

Well anyhow they say that J. P. Morgan was pleased with this Laval's trip, and after all he is about the only man in America that evaded from the stage where their successful work attracted the attention of Paramount directors.

Everybody seems anxious to please. So the trip bore some fruit. Germany has got some fellow coming over now. We get all excited and to most of us, however, this travel urge, great as it might be, must be satisfied through the experience of others who write their adventures into books and magazines or relate them by word of mouth.

"Transatlantic," newest Fox production featuring Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran, coming next Saturday to the Ritz theater, offers the public a chance to travel the ocean in de luxe style, as a passenger aboard a luxurious liner, and at the same time enjoy a romantic comedy drama, replete with thrills and laughs.

The story, briefly, deals with a group of passengers aboard an ocean greyhound, strangely thrown together during a passage between America and Europe. The principal characters include a Robin Hood of the half-world, played by Edmund Lowe; an old German-American lens grinder, Jean Hersholt, going abroad for his first pleasure trip with his beautiful young daughter, enacted by Lois Moran. Also aboard is a banker, escaping with several millions of his personal fortune before his bank collapses, and his wife, played respectively by John Halliday and Myrna Loy.

A Swedish dancer, Greta Nisae, who is more than a platonic friend of the banker; and a crooked gambler, ready to commit any sort of a crime for money, portrayed by Earle Foxe.

Definite Interest In Religion Reported By 96.5 Per Cent Students

CANYON, Nov. 7. (AP)—College students have definite religious interests if students of the West Texas State Teachers' College are typical, for 96.5 per cent of these young men and women are church members or have definite preferences. There are only 22 men and three women who have made no decisions as to the merits of various churches.

Buck Jones At Queen 2 Days

'Branded' Authentic Portrayal of Frontier Episodes

The people who say, "What are these days coming to with all this awfulness," have evidently forgotten the days gone by. With an order of "Heave Over That Sack," stage coaches would be held up and pilaged of mail—and passengers robbed of their possessions with startling frequency.

Anyone taking any sort of an overland trip had about a ten to one chance of arriving as he had started out. If the highway robbers did not do violence to his person, they would relieve him of some of his worldly goods and a great deal of mental composure. The peril of travel were numerous . . . and outlawry was in full sway.

And it is an exciting stage coach robbery that starts things rolling in "Branded," Columbia's latest western, starring Buck Jones, showing Friday and Saturday at the Ritz theatre. It leads up to a series of events that involve the active Buck in many whirlwind maneuvers. He and his wonder horse, "Silver," are said to be provided with opportunities that call for feats of super-daredevilry.

Supporting Buck Jones in this drama of the outdoors are Ethel Kenyon, Al Smith, Wallace MacDonald, Philo McCollough, John Oscar and Bob Kortman. D. Hoss Gerdman, specialist in the direction of action films, handled this production.

Administration For New Deal
Despite this, administration appears ready now to put its hand to the plow and cut a new, clean furrow across the field of veteran relief.

Excellent Work Done
Excellent work was done in these bureaus and departments, but improvement still was sought in the general problem of administration.

Going Back to Other Wars
The prospect for this winter, when congress gets back, will involve more than merely legislation regarding veterans of the world war. It is likely to touch on legislation for veterans of all wars.

As the veterans' bureau opened the field for veterans of the world war, so the new Veterans' Administration which went into full effect July 1 has cleared away the fences between veterans of different wars and merged the outfits under one man, General Hines.

This last merger eliminated the Veterans' Bureau, Pension Bureau and the Bureau of National Homes, to throw actual administration under the single control of the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, General Hines. To Veterans of all wars he is now Uncle Sam.

Hines Report to President
This even tempered, high-gear, efficient gentleman spends more money than any cabinet officer, except the secretary of the treasury, but he does not sit with the cabinet. He reports, however, direct to the president. So it is taken for granted that he speaks for the sanction of President Hoover when he says the next congress should take up the question of a national policy for veterans of all wars.

The Veterans' Administration, which now is caring for more than a million veterans or dependents of veterans, with disbursements of approximately a billion dollars annually, is studying the whole question carefully, to present it to Congress. What are some of the alleged inequalities which need ironing out?

New Veterans' Relief Legislation To Be Asked Of Congress; Plans Of Administrator Hines Not Divulged

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of Seven American Newspaper Alliance stories discussing what the United States, Great Britain and France have done for their war veterans, and what they contemplate doing. The second article will appear next Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—What is the matter with veteran relief?

What has the government of the United States done to take care of her soldiers of the World War?

What is the Hoover administration going to recommend to Congress in December, particularly regarding inequalities in the treatment of veterans of different wars?

What new demands for relief will bob up?

These are big questions, and they are being carefully considered not only by those in charge of the administration of the law, but many veterans organizations, which present their own programs, their own proposals and panaceas. Their proposals will come up when congress gets back. General Frank T. Hines, administrator of Veterans Affairs, says a new policy is needed. He plans to ask congress to do something. But the details have not been divulged.

Millions Are Concerned
Millions of Americans and their families are directly concerned, for any Veterans' legislation is likely to strike them in the pocket nerve, whether favorably or unfavorably.

With the world depression, a huge deficit in the U. S. Treasury for the fiscal year which ended June 30, and prospects for a rejuggling of international financial obligations growing out of the reopening of any kind of veterans' legislation, with prospects of a change in benefits, even for a leveling of these, it is bound to provoke sharpest scrutiny, and long and lively debate.

Administration For New Deal
Despite this, administration appears ready now to put its hand to the plow and cut a new, clean furrow across the field of veteran relief.

Immediately after the war there were many and varied places where the veteran had to go for relief. Sometimes he would be sent to two or three cities to get what he was after.

There was the Navy Department or War Department from whose service the man had just been discharged. There was the Bureau of War Risk Insurance which handled his insurance and compensation. There was the Public Health Service of the Treasury Department, which examined him for disability. And if he was found sufficiently disabled, he was turned over to still another group, the Federal Board for Vocational Education, to be trained for a career.

So several fences were torn down and finally the veteran could go to the Veterans' Bureau alone for the solution of all problems related to his insurance compensation and allowances.

Under spur of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans and other organizations piecemeal legislation went forward from year to year, adding hospitals, benefits a bonus, higher pay for disability and more lenient treatment.

The prospect for this winter, when congress gets back, will involve more than merely legislation regarding veterans of the world war. It is likely to touch on legislation for veterans of all wars.

Washington, perhaps were as re-

The three men are what one perts on etiquette. Their names are Warren Delano Robbins, ceremonial officer of the White House;

Charles Lee Cooke, master of ceremonies for the state department, and Herbert Fels, economic adviser to the state department.

With the older and more experienced Cooke it was not so bad. He has been at the business of etiquette so long that the strain on such occasions is not so great. But he slept little during Laval's visit and was constantly on the go.

In fact, he worked so hard that when Laval finally arrived Fels was completely out. He was forced to go home and missed seeing the premier entirely.

"Sit down," said Sam. "Please sit down."

"Do you believe what I've been saying? You must!"
"All right! Will you marry me, or won't you?"

"But it doesn't make sense,"
"I know," she smiled. "I know exactly what you mean. When you were down there by the water just now I told myself that I hated you; that I wanted you to go away and never come back."

"Yes, I'm willing to forget, and I don't care. As a matter of fact, I don't care if you smoke opium and rob banks. That's the state I'm in."

"I'm trying to say, Sam, that Freddy's version of my motives in the invention deal is entirely incorrect. It was decent of him to tell you what he thought—but at the same time, he was wrong. I didn't give Fourth the money so that you'd be free to marry Munson. Not at all."

"You didn't?" She was bewildered.
"But then why—"
"I'll tell you why—" He nodded grimly. "I gave Fourth the money for precisely the reason you thought in the beginning. I was trying to buy you."

Mrs. Service Entertains With Bridge

Mr. Service's Birthday Celebrated With Party

Mrs. A. E. Service invited six tables of contract players to a delightful party Friday evening at their home in Washington Place in celebration of Mr. Service's birthday. This is the first of a series which she is planning for the winter season.

Mrs. McNew and Mr. Flewelling were the high scorers of the evening and were presented with a crystal service set and a double deck of cards, respectively. The low scorers were Mrs. Ben Carter who received a book of note paper and Mr. Ford who was given a novelty game.

A dainty two course luncheon was served to the guests. The house was attractively decorated with a profusion of roses and chrysanthemums.

The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Homer McNew, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Flewelling, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yate, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. McCall Gary, Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Hilo Hatch and Mrs. Shine Phillips.

"Kid" Party Given By Losing Team At High School Auditorium

Students of the domestic science department of the high school in the clothing class were entertained at the high school Friday evening with a kid party. The members of the losing team were hostesses to the members of the winning team.

Fay Yates received a horn as a prize for the best kid costume. Refreshments were placed in paper bags and the guests fished for them; they consisted of all-day suckers and apples representing dolls.

After the party the guests went to the Ritz for a theatre party.

Those attending were: Anna Bell Smith, Loree Williams, Alzada Pamplin, Lorhea Witt, Louise Squires, Elizabeth Gouley, Fay Pond, Dorothy Rockhold, Alita Mary Stalcup, Marie Hayes, Dorothy Coleman, Dorris Barrett, La Vern Holden, Laura Bird, Mary Margaret Hinds, Willie Mae Heath, Purnie Mason, Mayme Beck, La Vern Sims, Dorothy Mae Miller, Muriel Donaldson, Barbara Freeman, Juanita Johnson, Arnie Jenkins, Jewel Kelly, Ruth Friddle, Zan Grant, P. A. Pool and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown.

Congenial Contract Club At Jap Party

Mrs. C. C. Carter was the hostess to the members of the Congenial Contract Club at their meeting Friday.

Chrysanthemums were the floral decorations of the rooms and the hostess served chop suey and tea to the guests.

Mrs. Remele made the highest score of the guests.

Those attending were Meses. M. A. Cook, W. H. Remele, Hugh Duncan, T. E. Johnson, Jimmie Mason, Raymond Winn and Miss Grace Lockhart.

Beauty Salon Under New Management

Miss Blanche Morgan of Houston has recently bought the Settles Hotel Beauty Salon, which she plans to operate in an up-to-date manner with the latest equipment for permanent waving.

Miss Morgan has had extensive experience with the Eugene Company, traveling as their representative over the southwestern part of the country and in several foreign countries. Her connection included a trip to Europe.

She has done a considerable amount of work as a representative of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at Austin lobbying for the licensing of beauty operators in this state.

Assisting the new owner are E. A. Boeh, whose specialty is finger waving, permanent waving and ladies' hair cutting, and Miss Ima Smith, who is a good all-round operator, says Miss Morgan. Miss Morgan herself can handle every branch of the work but her specialties are hair dyeing, marcelling and permanent waving.

Hunting Dog's Value Recognized In Court

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 7. A hunting dog has a recognized value in the Ozarks, even in police court.

And so city officials agreed to accept a dog as security for the remainder due on a fine while the owner, a transient, kept his freedom. He left the dog with the understanding he could reclaim it when the remainder of the fine was paid.

San Saba County Mine To Be Opened

SAN SABA, Texas, Nov. 7. (AP)—Contract has been signed for the development of the long lost "Bowie Mine" in the San Saba section.

The contract has been made between B. F. Markey of Wallace Creek and Parr and Moody of Balinger. Parr and Moody agree to develop mining discoveries on the Markey ranch, and have started surveying of the territory to be included in the exploration program.

A number of years ago George Watkins of San Saba county discovered what he believes to be the long lost "Bowie Mine" on the Markey ranch. Excavations brought to light an old metal pot, a "Bowie knife," and other symbols associated in legend with the famous treasure trove of the Spanish Conquistadores. For lack of funds the mine was abandoned at that time. Watkins is an associate of Parr and Moody.

Howard County Honor Roll

LUCILLE REAGAN
Several years after Christina Coffee left for China, Lucille announced her intention (which she had chanced since childhood) of going to Africa, as a missionary.

"Why Africa?" everybody asked. "It has the greatest need," she answered, "and is the least appealing."

In that answer lies the secret of her life. People who pity her, among the black people she serves, have no conception of the happiness of her inner life. She is mother to every little colored child that she can cram into the Baptist Academy of which she is the head.

She does not see their dark skins but their eager minds and childish souls. During her furloughs, she thinks of them constantly, is eager to get back to them and interprets everything she sees into its relationship with her school.

Jack of All Trades
This powerful concentration has enabled her from the very start to complete her work in college and seminary with unusually high grades, in spite of the number of extra she was taking. She had to be equipped to a place like Africa as a jack of all trades. On her last furlough, she adopted new specialties: pottery-making and English cooking. The women of Africa are particularly deficient, mentally and otherwise. She wanted to teach them some of the useful arts. Since their containers are usually gourds they need to begin with kitchen work at the very foundation by making their own pots and pans and then learning what to put in them. She was already teaching them sewing.

Lagos, where the academy is located, is in Nigeria, West Africa, a ruggedly up in the bend which the continent coastline makes toward the west. It is built on an island and is one of the largest cities of West Africa, being about the size of Dallas. Land is scarce and costs as much over there as in a city of the same size here but food is very cheap. Many fruit trees of the country are in the back yard of the house which Lucille occupies with another white girl, who teaches with her.

Teachers All Men
In her school the teachers are all native men. None of the native women are developed to the point of teaching, although she hopes to remedy that. Many of her pupils have queer ideas, such as a belief in the magic of ink, and that you can work a charm and acquire a good knowledge of arithmetic. They regard the white man as the possessor of a different and more cunning form of magic.

Lucille has been in Nigeria for ten years and every day of those ten years (except for her furloughs) she has taken a dose of quinine. The country has not affected her health as it has that of so many others, she seems to have thrived on it.

When she first landed she spent three years 150 miles in the interior studying the language of the chief native tribe. After that she went to Lagos and began to teach in the Baptist Academy. It was then regarded as a second-rate school and British school officials turned up their noses at it, not even giving it the privilege of an inspection.

Growth of School
Just before Lucille returned to Africa after her last furlough in 1920, Dr. B. L. Lockett, medical missionary in Nigeria, wrote the following account of the school to his friends in Baylor University: "Miss Lucille Reagan, is principal of a day school with over 400 pu-

Susannah Wesley Members Enjoy Autumn Party

When the Susannah Wesley Church gave its regular social and business meeting Friday evening, a clever Thanksgiving effect was achieved in decorating the parlors of the Methodist Church by a profuse use of autumn flowers in floor baskets and banked on the piano, tables and every available space. Unique turkeys were placed in conspicuous places among tall grasses and grains where bright yellow pumpkins nestled.

Mrs. Bailey gave the devotional which was an appropriate Thanksgiving topic.

Mrs. Chas. Morris had charge of the program which was thoroughly enjoyed. The first number was a reading by Mary Wilmoth Dalton, followed by a reading by May-dell Haley. Mrs. Flewelling, with Mrs. Chas. Morris at the piano, sang, "Lassie 'O Mine." Miss Vastine's readings were enthusiastically received, after which Miss Jeanette Pickle gave two very clever readings. Mrs. Morris presented Mrs. A. C. Yeager, who is leaving town, with a lovely gift from the class.

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses, Mesdames J. B. Dalton, Logan Baker, W. J. Riggs, Chas. Morris, Arthur Pickle and E. S. Dorsett, served delicious refreshments to the following: Mesdames H. F. Williamson, John Chaney, J. L. Hudson, W. A. Miller, W. O. Thompson, H. R. Short, V. H. Flewelling, A. C. Yeager, D. E. Bishop, J. A. Myers, M. W. Paulsen, Tom B. Vastine, J. M. Hayley, W. D. McDonald, J. B. Hodges, Bob Eubanks, J. Alice Stone, W. G. Bailey, P. Wilson, J. M. Manuel, C. M. Watson, J. Luak, C. E. Shive, G. E. Fleeman, J. R. Manion, Felton Smith and Misses Margaret Vastine, Verberna Barnes and Jeanette Pickle.

Mrs. Albert Fisher Scores High At Club

The Friday Bridge Luncheon club met at the Crawford Hotel for a very delightful luncheon this week with Mrs. Albert M. Fisher as hostess. Autumn colors and leaves featured the centerpiece arrangement and were carried out in the tallies.

The members played contract afterward in an upstairs living room. Mrs. V. Van Gieson made high score for visitors and Mrs. Fisher for members.

Mrs. Van Gieson and Mrs. J. B. Young substituted for the absentees. Members present were Meses. Bruce Frazier, R. Homer McNew, Ira Thurman, Seth H. Parsons, J. D. Biles.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA PLANNED

Rehearsals will be started this week by the choir of the Christian Church on the Christmas cantata which will be given at the church the night of December 20. Virgil Smith is director of the choir.

Mrs. J. B. Leonard, of Eastland, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Nat Shick.

and about 20 native teachers, assisted by Miss Elma Elam, Miss Reagan has done a truly great work in Lagos. Last year, a governor present were Meses. Bruce Frazier, R. Homer McNew, Ira Thurman, Seth H. Parsons, J. D. Biles.

FIRST BAPTIST MUSIC
Today marks the anniversary of the Rev. R. E. Day's pastorate. The choir has prepared special music in his honor. In the morning there will be quartet composed of Mrs. W. D. Cornelson, Miss Ruby Bell, A. E. Underwood and Roy Lay, who will sing "Incline Thine Ear." In the evening the choir will sing "Serve the Lord in Youth" Mrs. Bruce Frazier will direct the choir.

It is all written with Miss Meigs' particular charm, her usual fidelity to place and people. Boyd Smith is the fine artist who illustrates the book.

It is thrilling incidents relating to the Indians, the willow whistle, the first buffalo—and many more such will make it unforgettable and popular book.

This is one of the books on display at the West Ward P.T.A. for which the members are taking Christmas orders. Parents can call at the school house and find some one there to show them the book from 2:30 to 3:30 every afternoon. The display will last only until Thursday.

THE BLANKET OF THE DARK

By John Buchan
(Houghton Mifflin Co.)

I recommend this author to all lovers of good historical novels. Following in the steps of Robert Louis Stevenson and Scott, he is another Scotchman who sees the romance and drama lying between the lines of historical events and capitalizes them for the benefit of his readers.

"The Blanket of the Dark" is a story of England during the days of Henry VIII, when there was great dissatisfaction over Henry's relations with the church, and the country seemed to be headed for a decline.

The plot concerns a boy raised in an abbey as a clerk in whose veins runs the blood of kings. His kingly inheritance was kept a secret from him at first but finally it was decided to use him as a rallying force to enlist an army against the king in behalf of the church.

The story is told from the point of view of Peter, the young clerk. It is a splendid psychological study of a young man's mental development.

The author has accomplished well a very difficult feat, that of making the successful voicing of a character more interesting than the outcome of a plot against a king.

THE WILLOW WHISTLE

By Cornelia Meigs
(The Macmillan Co.)

There have been very few books for younger boys and girls that made their own American past vivid to them. Mostly it has been done in fiction for those around twelve and over, and in that field Cornelia Meigs is outstanding as a fine and a popular writer. Now she tells, in a style good for reading aloud to seven and eight year olds good for reading alone if you are nine or ten, a tale of the opening of the West.

It is all written with Miss Meigs' particular charm, her usual fidelity to place and people. Boyd Smith is the fine artist who illustrates the book.

It is thrilling incidents relating to the Indians, the willow whistle, the first buffalo—and many more such will make it unforgettable and popular book.

This is one of the books on display at the West Ward P.T.A. for which the members are taking Christmas orders. Parents can call at the school house and find some one there to show them the book from 2:30 to 3:30 every afternoon. The display will last only until Thursday.

Mrs. Homer Wade Up For Director In National Federation

Dallas News: The name of Mrs. Homer D. Wade, a leader in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for more than twenty years, was presented for the office of Texas director to the General Federation of Women's Clubs Friday by the Shakespeare Followers in a meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Webb, 3400 Princeton avenue. Mrs. C. F. Shipp made the motion to present Mrs. Wade for the place and Mrs. Walter S. Robinson seconded. Mrs. T. M. Cullum, the retiring president; Mrs. A. U. Puckett and others spoke in favor of presenting Mrs. Wade as a candidate.

Mrs. A. S. Lewis, president-elect of the second district, who will be delegate from the Shakespeare Followers to the State convention, which will open Monday in Lubbock, was instructed to present Mrs. Wade's name to the nominating committee.

Mrs. Wade served as State treasurer of the federation in 1910 and was State finance chairman under Mrs. Henry B. Fall in 1913-1915. During the regime of Mrs. W. E. Potter of Bowie when the general federation met at San Antonio, Mrs. Wade served as State finance chairman, and was treasurer for the biennial entertainment fund, and was also a member of the biennial committee chosen by the general federation. At present Mrs. Wade is State chairman of investments.

Mrs. Wade is well known in various sections of Texas. She has lived in Waco, Stamford, Fort Worth and near Austin. She and her husband who is well known in farm and chamber of commerce circles, have lived in Dallas for several years. At one time they lived in Washington, D. C.

Trial Aimed At Fixing Blame For Fatal Crash Under Way At Austin

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 (UP).—Efforts to fix the blame for the highway collision near Brenham last February in which W. W. Warner, advances agent of Rocky's Radio Entertainers was killed, continued today in federal court here. Joe Wesson, truck driver following the cotton truck with which a Kerrville bus collided, said that after the accident he saw marks of the dual wheel of the bus to the left of the middle of the narrow road. Robert Williams, senior medical student in the University of Texas, was returning from Galveston to Austin in the bus. He said he was looking ahead just before the crash and that the truck was swinging back and forth across the middle of the road. W. C. Dunka, owner of the truck, testified that it measured 63 inches in width and that the cotton bales on it occupied 84 inches. Mrs. Warner rested her suit for $200,000 yesterday by testifying and leaving the stand in a burst of sobbing. ARROWHEAD FACTORY SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 7 (UP).—About sixty years ago, a leading West Texas industry, comparable today to the grading of sheep and the growing of cotton, disappeared. It was the occupation of making arrow heads, tomahawks and other implements of Indian warfare. Just ten miles southwest of the Yates oil field in Pecos county lies a wide mesa, eight by fifteen miles and about 600 feet above the rest of the country. On this mesa lies a four-acre tract which is covered with small piles of flint rock which contain innumerable arrowheads. The piles of rock apparently are refuse from the making of arrow heads, believes H. L. George, surveyor, who discovered them recently. DR. CHAPPA, Mexican doctor, will be at Cap Rock Tourist Camp Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 9th and 10th.—adv.

Lubbock Expects Over 300 Club Delegates

Shine Philips Goes Home From Hospital
Shine Philips, who underwent a major operation at the Big Spring hospital two weeks ago today, was taken to his home yesterday.

Before he would go home, however, he had relatives drive him to a place in front of Cunningham & Phillips No. 1 store and, sitting in a car, was greeted by scores of friends.

One day while in the hospital no less than 105 persons called on him.

will result in a "sale for profit" to the insurance company.

Incendiaries in the burning of property for spite, or for profit, and the incendiary is one of our most dangerous law violators, for the reason that his acts are liable to result in the death of innocent people.

The remedy suggested by the commission is "We recommend that your city council adopt an ordinance creating a Fire Prevention Board." A copy of the standard ordinance prescribed by the department was enclosed.

The letter says that reports from the local fire marshal thus far this year show that fire losses have reached $60,000 here and with two months remaining it appears Big Spring will receive no good fire record credit for the year.

It appears that your city has some vacant house fires this year and a series of fires caused by the incendiaries, and some of the reports read as follows:

"There had been oil thrown on five or six beds and set on fire."
"Coal oil had been poured on top of the ceiling and set on fire."
"Some one threw a paper box full of loose paper which was soaked with gasoline through a window and set it on fire."

"I found the remains of an oil rag.
I think there was gasoline all over the inside of the house as it was on fire all over the inside when we got there."

Here are some of the causes which appear to have been the result of carelessness:

"Furniture close to gas stove."
"Cleaning wool dress in pan of gasoline and friction set it on fire."
"Bad hook fuses."
"Gas stove set fire to window curtain."
"Cleaning clothes in house with gasoline."
"Defective wiring."
"Gasoline explosion."
"Burning trash."

average addition of $40 a person per year, or $200 per family income.

Those who read know when prices were low drastic measures were adopted to save the mineral wealth of the state. The advance in price has placed millions in the pockets of those indirectly or directly connected with the industry, and has added hundreds of millions to the taxable values of the commonwealth.

There was a tiny rivulet of prosperity across the state in dull August.

Now it is a sturdy stream, growing as the days go by.

The mineral product of the earth is being shipped to domestic and foreign markets and will bring the state a large volume of golden coin before the coming of the Christmas holiday season and the New Year.

Cotton is another staple product of Texas. It has played its part in world history from ancient ages to the modern days. Texas produces a greater number of bales of cotton than any other American state.

American bankers have said time and again that Texas is the brightest spot on the American map. It is. May it continue to be the brightest spot on the American map which the world may cover with bright and not a single dark spot—in the year or years to come.

Cotton Farmers Who Borrow Seed May Use T.C.C.A.

Farmers who have made loans through the federal seed loan department may market their cotton through the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, J. V. Bush, county agent, declared Saturday.

There are 73 farmers who have made such loans in this section. They can market their cotton through the cooperative association at a price of eight cents per pound, and as soon as enough cotton has been sold through this medium to equal the amount of the loan the federal loan department will release the farmers from their indebtedness, giving them the benefit of the eight-cent price at which their cotton was placed on the market, Mr. Bush said.

Big Lake Deep Test Drilling

Big Lake Oil Company's No. 6-C University northwest of the city deep production in that Reagan county area, and the sixth deep well drilled by the company, was drilling ahead below 2,390 feet at last reports.

The four deep producers, including three of the Big Lake company and one of Texas, produced 17,744 barrels in the 24 hours ending Wednesday morning. Total production of the pool in that period was 18,612 barrels, including 169 shallow wells.

Texas long ago abandoned the one crop poverty plan. Texas is becoming a commonwealth of diversified crops. There are great wheat ranches and wheat farms in West Texas (think of the revolution in private life, from low to high. In the famous Panhandle and Plains divisions of the state wheat of a superior quality is grown. The people could, if pushed, produce 150,000,000 bushels, perhaps more, as readily as the 36,000,000 bushels of 1931. Wheat prices jumped, in response to world demands for the grain, from 30 to 38 cents a bushel cash or a gain of 32 per cent over the August period.

This is a news story for all the people concerned in advancing price levels of the staples of Texas, a hint of what these price levels have

Negro Indicted After Attack

Jurors Called Secretly; Man Again Rushed Out Of Town

DAINGERFIELD, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Morris county grand jury, secretly recalled, Saturday indicted Jimmie Ross, 23, negro, for criminally attacking a thirty seven year old farmer's wife at the Home Cason community Friday.

Caraway's Death Restores Lead Of G.O.P. In Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—The death last night of Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, restored the Republican plurality of one which was lost by the recent death of Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey. The appointment of a Republican to succeed Morrow is likely before Congress convenes whereas according to the Arkansas law an election to replace Caraway is impossible for sixty days. The law allows an appointment when a vacancy occurs less than a year before the general election. Had Caraway lived two days longer his successor could have been appointed instead of elected.

Eight Schools Of County Will Open

Eight schools will open, over the county, on Monday according to a statement from the county superintendent, Pauline Cantrell Brigham Saturday.

The schools with the faculty members are: Gay Hill, O. V. Fuller, principal, and Mary Ann Moore; Center Point, Lizzie Hamilton, principal, Mrs. Joe B. Wright, Clennie McKinney, and La Deanne Cantrell; Highway, Frank Simmons, principal, Anne Martin, Carrie Ivy, Abbey Nell Rhoton.

Much Ado About Woolens

New Nelly Dons $5.95 to $10

Our first Nelly Don Woolens at these prices were seen, bought and worn with great glee . . . but here's an assortment of brand new styles that is worthy of even greater praise. Be it a matter of the new silhouette, important color contrasts, fitting, tailoring or value, they are truly supreme.

Smart Little Cottons are 1880 in Fashion Details but strictly 1931 in Value. Foulards . . . Broadcloths and Donelin Prints. Long sleeves . . . hi-lo collars and every style a real dress "find."
