Home Demonstration Club Women Put On Splendid Exhibits At County Fair

All Kinds Of Good Things To Eat; Clever Community Displays And Handiwork Featured To Show What Dry West Texas Can Raise

The women of Howard county have stolen the 1931 County Fair this year. The booths displaying the work done by the 4-H clubs make a much bigger showing than the livestock department.

Whatever may happen to the rest of the world, it is a safe bet that the families of the women of Howard county who have worked with the demonstration agent are not going to starve this winter.

You never saw so many good things to eat—canned and bottled. There are fifteen varieties of vegetable, what trouble would a woman have with cooking when she could go to her pantry and select from its shelves, the following vegetables: snap beans, field peas, English peas, butter beans, canned tomatoes, carrots, beets, okra, green peas, squash, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, soup mixtures.

Of course she would begin with the meat. She would have chicken in all sorts of ways, stewed, boned, broiled and roasted; beef, ham, chili, roast, steaks and even fried pork chops in cans. It would be an education in itself, to most of the Big Spring women, to read the labels on these cans. There are hundreds in town who didn't know such things could be canned outside of factories.

Relishes. Then there would be relishes—not just plain, ordinary chow-chow and tomato catsup, which constitute the sole repertoire of most cooks—but corn relish, pickles of all varieties, pickled onions, etc. These are the things lacking in these exhibits for the table is fruit. Howard county raised little fruit this summer except plums and pears. But the women added to their preserves supply by making them from watermelon rinds and all varieties of tomatoes.

There are also four blocks of homemade American cheese. The arrangement of the individual booths is strikingly clever and represents hours of work by patient fingers. The women of Vealmoor used tweezers to stick the grains of maize onto a board covered with glue. Above the name of the community, which is done with a back ground of yellow maize and white lettering, there is a maize picture of two chickens. The chickens and the name are bordered with small, even-sized cotton bolls.

The letters of Elbow's name were made from popped popcorn, a creamy white on a purple crepe paper background. Fairview's was of red and white maize grains. Luther's was of small limbs, giving a charming rustic effect. R-Bar used grains of corn.

Big Tomatoes. In the Elbow exhibit Mrs. Shafer displayed tomatoes as big as large apples. In all the booths were shell egg grinders. Mrs. L. C. Hambrick had the only individual farm exhibit shown and it was a full exhibit, showing what an energetic woman can accomplish in this dry country.

Other displays of home-made products were the beautiful cakes and pies; the 11 braided hemp rugs, the cunning children's dresses, with handwork and smocking on them; the bars of home-made soap, the uniform made by the girls, women's wash dresses and some well designed hooked rugs.

Field Products. In addition to these were the field products.

VARIATIONS IN COFFEE FLAVOR LAID TO BULK ROASTING

Hills Bros. Coffee Doesn't Vary In Flavor, Because of Radically Different Process

It is almost impossible to keep bulk-roasted coffee from varying in flavor. For in bulk roasting it is difficult to roast each big batch alike. One lot may be slightly overdone—another a little underdone. Naturally, they each have a different flavor.

Hills Bros. discarded the bulk method for a process they invented and patented. It is called Controlled Roasting, and the roast is positively controlled! Variation is overcome. Every pound of Hills Bros. Coffee has the same rich, full-bodied flavor.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow—a little at a time—so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously, a little at a time. No other process is like it. That's why Hills Bros. Coffee has a flavor no other coffee has.

Hills Bros. pack their coffee in vacuum cans. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Aral trade-mark on the can. Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri. © 1931

Ace-High Members In Annual Picnic Barbecue At Park

The Ace-High Club met for their annual picnic last night at the City Park and made merry over a chicken barbecue.

After the delicious out-door supper the guests adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd and played bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Stripling made high score and received a table lamp as prize.

The guests were all club members and their husbands and consisted of the following: Messrs. and Meses. L. D. Sledge, Joy Stripling, Ed Pritchard, Randall Pickle, Larson Lloyd and Lindsey Marchbank.

Mrs. Pritchard will entertain the club at her next afternoon session.

Sanitation Stressed In Exhibit At Fair By Health Departments

One of the outstanding exhibits at the County Fair at the Reagan building, 4th and Gregg streets, was the outdoor toilet, prepared by the state health department and displayed under the supervision of Mr. Gosh of Lamesa, district health sanitation agent. This was intended primarily for farms and localities where no sewerage facilities are available.

Behind the orchard are the pastures for horses and cows, also the fenced-in lots for the pigs and chickens. Everything about this farm is fenced, so that the chickens can't eat the flowers in the front yard, and the pigs can't eat the chickens.

Not many realize that Howard county has 23 rural and seven city schools. The foundation of health work is centered in these schools. The flags show cooperation and lack of it. Vealmoor, for instance, has almost as many flags as Big Spring. Center Point, a larger community, has among the fewest.

It is a splendid opportunity for everyone in Howard county to get acquainted with what is being done and to learn of Mrs. Showalter's intensive tonal program for this fall.

Literary Club Gives Two Shows During One Social Session

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha, postponed its regular program for its yesterday meeting to convene at the home of Mrs. Frank Boyle for a social session at which shows for two members were the feature of the evening.

Mrs. Boyle served ice cream and cake to the following: Meses, Fox Stripling, Leslie Dahme, and Misses Clara Cox, Mary McElroy, Marie Faubion, Roberta Gay, Elizabeth Owen, Alice Leeper and Georgia Kirk Davis.

Bird's-Eye View Of Ideal Farm Little Crops Actually Growing On Miniature Farm Show At County Fair How A Diversified Farm Should Be Laid Out

Everybody who has attended the County Fair is saying to everybody else: "Oh, did you see that cute little farm?"

The cute little farm is a miniature farm, 18 by 24 inches, prepared by Mrs. Lawrence Anderson of Luther in a flat cardboard box, to represent an ideal diversified farm.

Everybody—even city people in Texas—have heard the big cry that is being raised over diversified farming. Here is one in a nutshell, so to speak, as a model of one. If you analyze it, you see what it contains. It is well-organized, sounds like a piece of big business.

First, there is a modern home. Next two good barns, and two silos, with plenty of space for implements and also a chicken house with purebred white leghorns pecking about and a swine house with 9 heads of pigs. There is also an orchard.

Near the house is the windmill with an elevated tank to furnish running water and nearby is the family garden, so that it can be irrigated whenever such hot dry summers, as this past one, make irrigation necessary.

Back by the pastures where the miniature livestock are grazing, are the fields planted so that they will also furnish grazing for the stock. Commencing with the back end and coming forward are sudan and maize, wheat, corn and corn.

The biggest surprise about the whole farm is the tiny area devoted to cotton. It is smaller than any other field.

What is fascinating about this picture is that these crops are actually growing—in about three inches of soil. They outgrew Mrs. Anderson's expectations and dwarf all the buildings and do not show the nice rows in which they are planted; but they do more than thousands of words, oral and printed, to give everyone a complete picture of an ideal diversified farm.

Miss Mary Gene Dubberly was hostess to the Idle-Art Bridge club in her home Thursday evening.

White and green were the colors prettily carried out in the refreshments.

Many Lovely Cakes Enter Flour Contest

Cakes of all varieties were arriving at the cooking school today at noon on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel to be judged in the Amory Cake and Pie Contest being sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

There were brown and white cakes, angelfood and devilfood, some with garlands of tiny pink roses for trimming, others with pink roses (testifying to the observant eyes and skilful fingers of Cooking School visitors). The ever popular angelfood did not reap all the honors. A yellow cake and a chocolate as fine-grained as any white angelfood held their own with layers filled with caramel, burnt-sugar filling, and all sorts of other good fillings.

The pies were not so numerous as the cakes but they were good enough to cause a fight between the men; and one of them did.

The following had entered cakes by 1 o'clock: Meses, Steve Baker,

W. Clifton, J. C. Lane, Ira H. Rockhoild, E. Gully, R. D. McMillan, J. N. Lane, W. R. Stampf, Frank Sims, Geo. Hall, T. E. Johnson, J. F. Meador, J. L. Stewart, J. C. Miller, W. A. Little, Fannie Hawkins, Jack Nail, Horace Penn and C. A. Brewer.

The following had entered pies by that hour: W. O. Wasson, John D. Woods, E. W. Burleson, Frank Simms, O. L. Hopper and N. R. Smith.

The complete list and the names of the prize-winners will be announced in Sunday's paper.

"PEACE DAY" FOR BELFAST
Belfast, Ireland, has decided to turn Armistice Day into "Peace Day." The decision was made by the Belfast Educational Committee in response to a growing public demand for an annual day on which peace would be extolled, especially in the public elementary schools. Programs given on the anniversary of the end of the World War will consist of praises for peace instead of reminders of war.

Danish Reds Banish Blues From Congresswoman's Home

Representative Ruth Bryan Owens of Florida says she couldn't resist the appeal of the colorful kitchens she saw in Denmark. The result is a red kitchen in her own home. She is shown here with the traveling kitchennette that brought her close to Danish housewives on her tour.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic Owen of Florida, depression talk due at the next session of congress cannot completely down Representative Ruth Bryan she'll have a little red home kitchen.

just brought back from the Hans Christian Anderson country of Denmark.
"Red pots, red pans, red coffee pot, teapot, tea kettle, red egg-beater even, red-and-white checked curtains and a red geranium blooming in the window!" enumerates Mrs. Owen.
"Couldn't Resist Kitchens"
"I simply couldn't resist those colorful Danish kitchens—and I had to furnish anyhow!"
Dismissing beaten paths, Mrs. Owen traveled through Denmark in an ultra-modern auto trailer with a kitchennette convenient for parking alongside cottages for housewifely chats.
No common language was needed, Mrs. Owen says. Pantomime & the school English of the inevitable escort of small boys served for exchanging recipes. Her red kitchennette will be productive of many Danish dishes.
Sampler A Souvenir
Word of Mrs. Owen's fondness for Hans Christian Andersen's stories raced the smooth Danish roads ahead of her caravan and party of young people.
A woman who was friend of Andersen in her youth came with a framed cross-stitch sampler of his thatched cottage, which she herself had made.
"I am old now," she said to Mrs. Owen. "I want it to go to you who came from so far to learn of him."
The sampler, symbol of international neighborliness, will also have a place in the apartment where Mrs. Owen actually "keeps house" on a fifth floor overlooking the capitol dome.

This contest was open to any one that cared to enter with the exception of employees of the associated newspapers and the members of their families.

The idea of the Movie Test was to select the correct title to each of 30 comic cartoons. Under each cartoon there was a list of titles and in the list was the correct title of the movie represented by that particular cartoon. The cartoons that were submitted by the contestants were not judged on neatness but on the correctness of the cartoons.

The many contestants that sent in a coupon to the $2,500.00 Movie Test and were unable to secure the required subscriptions in order to win a prize were offered a chance to win $200.00 in cash. No subscriptions were required in order to win a prize in the $200.00 Movie Test contest. The names of the winners of this contest appear at the left.

The contestants that won two prizes in the $2,500.00 contest sent in two entries, whereas the contestants that sent in only one entry were eligible to win only one prize. This was provided for in the rules of the Movie Test.

"None of my food agreed with me — I would frequently taste what I ate, long after my meals, and I did not see a well day for weeks," says Mr. Peter Seeger, 329 S. Elmwood St., Kansas City, Mo. "I began taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and kept this up for weeks. Gradually the pain left me and I began to feel better. I ceased to be troubled with gas, and could eat what I liked."

Thousands of people have reported that Black-Draught, taken a pinch after meals, helped to relieve a feeling of distress, upset stomach or indigestion. Try it.

Hospital To Care For Indigent Sick Found For East Texas Field

LONGVIEW, Oct. 2 (AP)—City governing bodies of Longview, Gladewater and Kilgore and the Gregg county commissioners' court will be asked to provide funds for a temporary county hospital and possibly city substations to care for the indigent sick of Gregg county, it was decided at a mass meeting held here.

Need for immediate action was declared imperative by Longview, Gladewater and Kilgore physicians present who described the plight of many indigent sick within the county as deplorable. Establishment of a hospital tent, if nothing more for the present, was urged as the first step.

Three State Departments Show Speed

Warrant Purchase Measure Followed By Record Action At Austin

BY RAYMOND BROOKS

An unprecedented record for speed was made by four departments of the state government this week, that resulted in saving state employes hundreds of dollars, and permitted the Confederate veterans again to cash their state pension warrants.

That is a record that every one of the departments concerned has a right to be proud of, Representative R. M. Hubbard, author of the warrant-purchase bill, declared. "It is something the like of which I had never seen. There was no official indifference there. That is a record for efficiency that I don't think the state ever before approached."

Mr. Hubbard insisted that taking the Confederate warrants up, rather than forcing their sale at high discount rate, where purchasers could be found at all, was a worthy thing. He said that, too, relief of the state employes from paying a 2 per cent discount to banks on their warrants resulted in substantial savings to the workers.

The scramble for Texas votes to nominate the next president was pushed up to begin in this session of the legislature when Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin offered a resolution calling for a presidential primary next summer. The resolution recited that the democratic party has the power to hold such an election, the expense to be borne by supporters of the various candidates.

Many states have similar elections, it was pointed out. The proposal called for apportioning the Texas national convention delegates among followers of the various candidates in the ratio of the popular vote.

Mr. McGregor said this, removing the "unit system" of casting all the state's 46 votes for a single candidate in the early ballots, would leave the delegates representing minor candidates free to go to whomever they chose during the convention.

The result of having the presidential primary would be that Former Senator James A. Reed, Newton D. Baker or other active candidates for the democratic nomination, would come to Texas to campaign for the state's vote, Representative McGregor said. J. Hamilton Lewis, Melvin A. Traylor and Edward P. Costigan, all possible candidates for democratic honors, already have come to the Texas legislature to make speeches this year; and J. J. Shouse, democratic national executive committee chairman and former Governor Nellie Taylor Ross, campaigner for the national party headquarters, have included Texas in itineraries of campaign speech-making. Mr. Shouse addressed the legislature. Mrs. Ross will speak in San Antonio October 29.

POLITICS IN OLD CASTLE Politics invaded Drum Castle, thought to be the oldest family residence in Deeside, Scotland, when Sir Robert Horne, M.P., recently addressed a Union gathering there. The first owner of the estate of Drum was William de Irvine, who was armour bearer to Robert the Bruce, and for more than six centuries the property has remained in the Irvine family. Some of the old walls still standing are nearly 70 feet high and 14 feet thick.

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) shown in following press dispatch from San Angelo Monday: As the result of voting of $175,000 in road bonds by Road District No. 2 in Coke county, Saturday, the Tom Green county commissioners will be petitioned Oct. 12 to submit a bond issue of $80,000, or whatever amount is required, to pave 13 miles of State Highway No. 70 from a point six miles east of San Angelo on State Highway 30, northward to the Tom Green-Coke county line. Bonds voted Saturday by Road District No. 2 in Coke county by 463 to 172, or 39 more than necessary two-thirds majority, will provide for paving State Highway 70 through the county via Bronie and Tennyson and seven miles on State Highway 188 from Bronie westward toward Robert Lee, the county seat. The issue will absorb $50,000 in bonds voted last spring by the Tennyson precinct south of Bronie. A new bridge will be built over the Colorado river. Voting of the bonds in Coke county met a condition laid down by the State Highway Department for designating State Highway No. 30, paralleling the Santa Fe Railroad (formerly the Orient) through Bronie and Tennyson. Robert Lee sought designation of the route leading south from that town to San Angelo. Voting of bonds by Tom Green county plus the work in Coke county will provide a hard surfaced road between San Angelo and Sweetwater.
