By SPENCER DAVIS
MANILA, July 23 (AP)—American Sixth infantry division troops, driving eight miles along a highway lined with enemy dead, have captured the Japanese mountain retreat of Banaue in northern Luzon and are within two and one-half miles of a junction with Philippine army forces pushing down from the north-west.

When the two join, Japanese remnants on the island will be divided into three segments, in one of which, according to persistent natives' reports, is Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, once commander of all the Philippines.

A headquarters spokesman disclosed these new gains in the grinding cleanup campaign as a communique announced that during the past week 3,629 Japanese dead had been counted and 403 of the enemy had surrendered, raising their casualties for the entire Philippines to 432,763, including 11,171 captured.

American casualties for the week were 12 killed, two missing and 48 wounded.

Although the Philippines liberation is officially three weeks old, the Sixth division advance northward along highway 4 has been one of the most difficult of the entire campaign.

The highway, which the troops call "Skeleton Row," has been dynamited by the Japanese in three places where it clung to a rock ledge above gorges.

One American jeep was caught between the first two blocks and has remained there, performing a shuttle service along the two and one-half miles from one gap to another. Across the gaps themselves it is necessary to carry everything by hand.

The road is so lined with enemy dead that it is impossible to walk 50 feet without seeing the bare bones—often grotesquely still clad in uniform—of fallen Japanese.

Still among the living, however, according to recurring native reports, is Yamashita. Reports brought to the Sixth division say he is hiding out, hungry, in the mountains with a picked bodyguard of 300 troops.

Yanks Round Up Germans In Raid

FRANKFURT ON THE MAIN, July 23 (AP)—Half a million American troops arrested upwards of 80,000 persons and searched every single house in the American occupation zone of Germany over the weekend, it was disclosed today.

It was perhaps the greatest mass raid in history.

The Americans were seeking weapons, ammunition and loot. Many of those taken into custody were members of the S. S., hunted as war criminals.

The 15,000,000 Germans in the American zone were caught completely by surprise and were bewildered and scared, but offered not the slightest opposition. Only two Germans tried to escape.

Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Sibert, head of the G-2 division of U. S. forces, lifted censorship on the raid today.

Sibert said a considerable number of arms, ammunition and loot such as American uniforms, K-rations, gasoline and vehicles were uncovered, but that there was no sign of an organized German underground.

A list of S. S. men—many posing as discharged Wehrmacht prisoners of war—were rounded up, he said. Details as to the exact number and identification of any leaders among them were not immediately revealed.

The general said some of the persons arrested were in American uniforms. These declared that they had no other clothing. Most of those taken into custody, however, were booked for irregularities in identification papers, he said.

A Cookie For Tokyo, Un Pastelito Or No

CLARK FIELD, Luzon, July 23 (AP)—The Latins are "akin up" an American custom.

Files of the Mexican expeditionary air force painted the following inscription on a 500-pound bomb destined for a Japanese position on Formosa: "Un pastelito, Tokyo." (In short, a cookie for Tokyo).

To Be Questioned

Efforts Made To Force Surrender Of Jap Homeland

Psychological, Military Combine To Head To Immediate Climax

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Efforts to force the unconditional surrender of Japan through psychological as well as military pressure are heading for a climax this week.

Officials here confidently expect some sort of statement from the Big Three meeting at Potsdam to provide the maximum pressure that can be brought to bear on the enemy at this time. The prospect is for a wind-up at Potsdam by Saturday.

Deeply involved in this situation is the possibility of Russian entrance into the war. Although a development which Tokyo long has sought to prevent by all sorts of diplomatic maneuvers, it is one much of the Allied world seems fairly certain of—unless the Japanese surrender before it can occur.

Some United States government agencies have been pressing vigorously a psychological warfare campaign on the point of what unconditional surrender would mean to the Japanese people. Despite this effort, military leaders are forging ahead with plans for a war lasting at least until late next year.

Here are top weekend developments in the psychological warfare campaign—presenting a somewhat muddled and uncertain picture of the effort:

1. In a Japanese language broadcast for the Office of War Information, Navy Capt. Ellis M. Zacharias told the Japanese they must surrender unconditionally to avoid the destruction of their country. He warned that a "dictated peace" must be expected by the Japanese if they refuse to surrender soon.

2. OWI made a general press release of Zacharias' speech for the first time. The agency described Zacharias as an "official spokesman of the United States government."

3. Many hours after publication of the speech Saturday night, OWI Director Elmer Davis announced that there was nothing unusual about it and that it had been made public in response to press requests.

4. The state department's view is that unconditional surrender still means primarily the destruction of enemy militarism and the removal of its stolen territory.

5. Dispatches from Potsdam said the Zacharias broadcast was made with Mr. Truman's full knowledge.

Aussies Pushing On With No Resistance

MANILA, July 23 (AP)—Australian Seventh division troops, in a six-mile amphibious operation, landed in the Mangrove swamps at the head of Balikpapan bay in southeastern Borneo and pushed inland against no resistance, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

The Australians seized the village of Tempadeong and then advanced southeast to the village of Berangoe as they and Dutch colonial troops extended the campaign to secure fullest control of that oil-rich country.

In north Borneo, where the Australian Ninth division is pressing slowly towards the enemy base of Jesselton, U. S. 13th air force and Royal Australian Air Force planes sank a small Japanese freighter off shore and bombed and strafed Jesselton itself.

DISORDER BREAKS OUT DURING TRIAL OF AGED MARSHAL PETAIN

By LOUIS NEVIN
PARIS, July 23 (AP)—Disorder broke out today in a courtroom where Marshal Petain was making a plea before a special court trying him for his life. French police cleared the court and made arrests among the spectators.

The old marshal, proudly wearing the medals France had given him, made what he said would be his lone statement of defense to capital charges of intelligence with the enemy and plotting against the security of France, both before and after he became chief of state of the Vichy regime.

"While Gen. De Gaulle continued the struggle abroad, I prepared the road to liberation," he argued.

The courtroom disturbance resulted from an altercation between defense attorneys.

The court then ordered the hearing suspended and police started making arrests.

When the disturbances started, Petain himself was hustled from the courtroom by guards.

Russia May Have Aided US Surrender Ultimatum

Broadcast May Be Warning Of Red Entry In War

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
POTSDAM, July 23 (AP)—A broadcast U. S. surrender ultimatum to Japan was viewed by many competent observers here today as a thinly veiled warning to the enemy that Soviet participation—at least to some extent—in the Pacific war is imminent.

It was known here that the Saturday night short-wave broadcast from Washington was authorized by President Truman and was cleared in Potsdam at the Little White House. Significance was attached to the warning to Japanese leaders that they would not be able to deal with the United States alone unless they surrendered promptly.

Meanwhile, as the president met daily with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin, unofficial reports emanating from the conference area indicated that satisfactory progress was being made toward settlement of many issues, such as the feeding of Germany, reparations, boundaries and other problems.

The Big Three held a Sunday session yesterday, their sixth meeting since the opening of the conference, and it was devoted to work on problems of peace, the American delegation announced.

Whether the conference could be concluded this week was anybody's guess. The president is anxious to return to the United States promptly to report to congress.

In London it was expected that Churchill, leader of the conservative party, and Clement Attlee, labor party leader, would return Wednesday night from Potsdam.

It was believed that should the Churchill government get a working majority in the national British elections the prime minister, now head of Britain's caretaker government, would return to Potsdam. Should his party be defeated, an interruption in the work of the conference would seem inevitable.

Dr. T. S. Painter, acting president of the university, said probation does not "invalidate credit for any work done at the university."

Dr. C. O. Terrell, Fort Worth regent, said he did not believe there would be any academic repercussions at the university as a result of the probation.

He declared he does not feel that the rules of tenure have been violated and that the "regents' position has been tenable and justifiable all along."

Register E. J. Matthews of the university said it "is not anticipated that the action x x x will result in invalidation of credits for work done at the university."

The association's action followed the recommendation of a special committee which last January investigated a controversy involving academic freedom and tenure between the university regents and former President Homer P. Rainey. The controversy culminated in Rainey's dismissal last November.

Fleet Still Sails Unopposed By Japs

By MURLIN SPENCER
GUAM, July 23 (AP)—America's mighty Pacific fleet thrust boldly inside the mouth of Tokyo's outer bay today to wreck a four-ship convoy, and Admiral Nimitz said carrier planes sweeping over the same waters Wednesday blew the top off one of Japan's last two seaworthy battleships. In all, the carrier pilots sank or damaged 21 enemy vessels.

It was the 14th consecutive day the fleet prowled unopposed off Japan—14 historic days in which the fleet and far-ranging land-based air power of Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur had sunk or damaged 791 vessels and small craft and destroyed or damaged 596 airplanes.

Significant of the total lack of opposition, the fleet today was operating in at least two widely separated units. While one light force ventured farther into Tokyo's outer bay than ever before in this war, another light force of warships bombarded Chichi Jima 550 miles southeast.

Seventy-five to 100 Superforts added to the clouds of flying debris today with a 450-ton demolition strike on the Ube synthetic oil refinery on southwestern Honshu. Crewmen observed "excellent" results, and all planes returned.

Movements of the combined fleet's heavy units remained hidden by radio silence. There was no indication that typhoons which stalled MacArthur's aerial thrusts from Okinawa for the second consecutive day had shifted into the fleet's zone of action—and Tokyo radio warned that new fleet attacks are expected momentarily.

The enemy radio today placed the China coast high on America's invasion plans—while in Washington Maj. Gen. Allen Turnage, director of marine corps personnel, acknowledged frankly that "the greatest of all amphibious operations now are in the making."

The Domei broadcast said landings on both China and Japan are being planned.

In Manila, more than 5,000 American troops from the German front disembarked yesterday.

Third fleet destroyer force west of Nojima (entrance to Tokyo's outer bay) today sank a medium and a small cargo ship, probably sank another medium cargo vessel, damaged an escort vessel.

Other light Third fleet units today: bombarded Omura town on Chichi Jima, 550 miles south of Tokyo.

Seventh fighter command struck Osaka area's airfields, railroads and factories yesterday with rockets and guns of 109 Iwo-based Mustangs. One Mustang was lost.

Chinese troops tightening the pressure on the former American air base city of Kweilin have severed the main Japanese communication route between Kwangsi and Hunan provinces by reoccupying the rail town of Chiehshou, the high command announced today.

Chinese troops closed within eight miles of Kweilin from the southwest.

Chiehshou is 41 miles north-east of Kweilin and its three former American airfields. The Chinese also overran the road town of Liangfeng, 15 miles south of Kweilin in a drive that threatened to cut off Japanese forces deployed to the south.

American Mustang fighters supported the attacks.

Paishou, once an important Japanese stronghold 25 miles west of Kweilin, and the highway town of Ining, 11 miles west-northwest of the city, were among the places reported captured.

On the China coast, the communists said, Chinese troops following Japanese units heading from Amoy to Swatow have reached the border of Fukien and Kwangtung provinces. This meant that Fukien was cleared except for a handful of Japanese at Amoy, whom the Chinese expected to leave by sea.

Famed Engineer Will Inspect Helicopters

SHEPPARD FIELD, July 23 (AP) Igor Sikorsky, famed aeronautical engineer, was expected here today to inspect helicopter training facilities and helicopter men in the helicopter unit at the field. Maj. John J. Sandusky, director of the helicopter training, announced yesterday.

Sikorsky is on his way back from Mexico where he participated in army tests of the helicopter over Patecutin volcano.

Dr. Rainey said he would have no comment until he had a better opportunity to study the report.

DALLAS, July 23 (AP)—Dr. W. J. McConnell said today the Southern Association of Colleges and secondary schools' action in placing the University of Texas on probation was "a criticism of the relationship between Dr. Rainey and the regents, directed at all involved."

Dr. McConnell, newly elected president of the association, stopped briefly in Dallas enroute to Denton from the Memphis, Tenn., meeting of the association. He is president of North Texas State Teachers college.

"I wish to emphasize that our action has no effect on transfer of credits at the university," Dr. McConnell said in an interview. He answered yes, action of the association's executive committee, which followed an investigation of a controversy between regents and Dr. Homer P. Rainey, former president of the university, might be interpreted as a direct rebuke to the regents.

Dr. Rainey said he would have no comment until he had a better opportunity to study the report.

Rookie Ferriss May Be All-Time Freshman Star

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Dave (Boo) Ferriss may not pitch the Boston Red Sox to their first pennant in 28 years, but he is a definite threat today to become the Major League's all-time freshman winner.

The army air force veteran earned his 17th triumph of the season yesterday against two defeats, to give the Sox a 3-2 first game win and an even split with the St. Louis Browns, who won the nightcap 5-1.

Ferriss now needs only seven more victories to tie the American League rookie record of 24 established by Oren Summers of the 1908 pennant winning Detroit Tigers. With 80 games of the Red Sox schedule still unplayed, the big show's biggest winner can better even Grover Alexander's Major League standard of 28 victories in the latter's first year with

Saturday Deadlock Makes History With Fans Still Talking

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP)—It's just history now that the Philadelphia Athletics and Detroit Tigers battled to a 24-inning 1-1 deadlock Saturday, but it will be a long time before fans stop talking about the marathon.

The game set a new American League endurance record of four hours and 48 minutes, shaving one minute off the mark set on Sept. 1, 1906, when the A's defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, in 24 frames. Saturday's contest tied the 39-year-old record for number of innings played.

Both managers, Connie Mack and Steve O'Neill, said they agreed that umpire Bill Summers was right in calling off the game.

"I couldn't see Dizzy Trout's fast ball any more," Summers said. "I don't think anybody else could."

When O'Neill went to the mound to remove ex-GI Les Mueller from the box, Mueller said, "Hell, Steve. The game ain't over yet, is it?"

It was for Mueller, who had walked two men in the 20th inning. He had pitched one of the most remarkable games on record, allowing 13 hits in 19 2/3 innings. Longest American League pitching assignment since 1906. Dizzy Trout worked the last four and one-third innings for the Bengals.

Russ Christopher gave up after twirling 13 innings for the A's in which he yielded five hits. Jittery Joe Berry took over and tossed six-hit ball over the remaining 11 frames.

Laredo Wins First Junior Legion Game

LAREDO, July 23 (AP)—Laredo was one-up on Austin today in the battle for bi-district honors in the Texas American Legion junior baseball race.

The locals beat Austin 4-3 in 14 innings yesterday in the opening of a three-game series. Laredo goes to Austin tomorrow to finish the series.

Joe In Last Year As Manager Of Yanks

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Joe McCarthy will finish the current season as manager of the New York Yankees but the man who led the Bronx Bombers to eight pennants and seven world series victories probably will be out of baseball in 1946.

Indications that Marse Joe had contemplated resignation last winter because of ill health were brought to light for the first time yesterday when President Larry McPhail and McCarthy denied reports he had quit.

Milk Shortage May Become Acute Again

W. J. Sheppard, manager of the local Banner Creamery plant, announced Monday that Big Spring is faced with another impending milk shortage. He urged consumers to cooperate by buying no more milk than is considered absolutely necessary.

"About 75 per cent of the milk we are processing and distributing is being shipped in from Abilene and Brownwood plants," Sheppard stated, "and it appears that within 15 to 20 days that supply will be cut off entirely."

Employees of the Office of Price Administration and the secretary of the department of agriculture have been active in the West Texas area for the past few weeks with surveys, in an attempt to avert the shortage, but no announcements have been made yet as to whether the price of milk will be raised or other measures taken.

The Big Spring Banner Creamery, 709 E. 3rd St., has operated in Big Spring for the past six years, furnishing local families with dairy products.

Banner is the only distributor which delivers retail to the residential section. Operating under ODT restrictions, deliveries have been cut to three times weekly, while wholesale deliveries are made six times each week.

The local office is one of the 32 maintained by the headquarters in Abilene. Though it operated an ice cream business here before 1939, a modern, well-equipped plant was built at that time for the manufacture of ice and for the pasteurization of milk. The local plant distributes its products in Big Spring, Stanton, Coahoma, Colorado City and other smaller towns in this area.

Carole Landis Tells Plans To Remarry

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (AP)—Actress Carole Landis, who obtained a Nevada divorce from her third husband last Thursday, has announced that she will marry Horace Schmidlapp, theatrical producer, in New York next month.

Her last husband was Maj. Thomas C. Wallace. Previous ones were author Irving Wheeler and Willis Hunt, Jr., yachtsman.

The Louisiana Purchase was one of the largest and cheapest real estate deals in the world.

Dateline: Pacific GI's Stand In Line For Ice Cream, Cigarettes, But No Stationery

By ROBBIN COONS
ADVANCED PACIFIC BASE (AP)—GI's are always lining up for something. They line up for inspection, for pay, for mess, for washing dishes after mess, for their beer ration and so on to the end of the line, which for many will be V-J day.

This hot and dusty afternoon, they're lined up, sweating in the heat and swirling dust, for their daily ice cream ration. Ice cream is made on the island (quite an improvement over the early days of American occupation) and dispensed in paper cups from a kiosk built on the PX tent.

It is hot inside, but sheltered from the sun's glare. "Any shampoo today?" is the question you hear as often as any.

"None today, maybe tomorrow," says the manager. He's Pfc. George E. Davis of Walsenburg, Colo. He used to be an assistant cashier at the bank back home, where he'd like to be now with his wife and two children, one of them a boy almost old enough for the navy.

Another clerk on duty today is Pfc. Coleman C. Baker of Perryton, Tex. Baker would like to be teaching school again, which he did for 17 years before army and PX life got him. He taught science, mathematics and other subjects. PX duty fell on him early in his army career and it stuck.

He runs the tobacco department. Smoke-hungry civilians would go dry in the mouth watching him pass out cigarettes by the carton—no limit within reason—or sell as many as 142 boxes of cigars a day, when he has them.

Candy and gum are plentiful enough to sell by the box. Then what are they short on?

"Writing paper," says Davis. "Plain white writing paper to let the folks know we're still alive and kicking. We get about five per cent of what we need."

And playing cards—and usually, dice. The old army game is still the same.

Modern Ready To Refurbish Furs

"Our facilities for fur storage have been completely filled, and we couldn't cram another fur. Hayden Griffith announced re-coat into our vaults if we had to," gretfully Saturday.

The Modern Cleaners at 303 East Third has always had a policy of doing everything their customers demanded, but they can no longer oblige with their well known fur storage.

"However," Griffith added, "we can still clean and reglaze all types of skins even now for a beautiful appearance next winter." To look their best furs must have the gentle treatment which the Modern cleaners know how to give. And to give any skin the lustre and shine which it had when the furriers' box was opened, Griffith urged that owners bring them to him.

Going from winter apparel to the type worn in July, Griffith reminded that white clothing sometimes turns yellow with ordinary dry-cleaning. The Modern Cleaners have a process by which after the garment is cleaned it is carefully and skillfully bleached. Griffith said that the process in itself is very simple, "but it takes care, and knowledge of fabrics and textures, and we have just the girl to do it."

Not only are the Modern Cleaners experts in the cleaning and care of fur coats and white clothing, the quality of their work of all types is of superlative craftsmanship. They understand the different types and textures of materials and the kind of cleaning care which should be given them.

The Modern cleaners also offer their customers the best in hat cleaning and blocking.

Fastidious dressers send their clothing to the Modern Cleaners at 303 East Third street so they can be sure of maintaining a spic and span appearance.

Community's No. 1 Problem

Addressing a meeting of the Abilene Real Estate Board, Bill Kearney, manager of Abilene, Inc., a newly formed agency for promoting industrial development of our neighboring city, issued a call for residential building.

Over here, Abilene generally is looked upon as a community with ample residential housing, yet it is interesting to hear Kearney stressing the importance and necessity of having houses for increased population which will follow new industries which citizens of Abilene hope will be attracted there.

He recognized complications would arise in attempting to build anything but said that "if anyone says 'I can't build a house,' send him to me and I'll get his material for him."

Now how he gets his material we do not know, but Kearney makes a promise to get it. Similar promises are being made in other communities and manifestly many are making good on them. They are building houses.

If there is a No. 1 problem in Big Spring today it is housing. Anyone who denies that this is the next big key to progress here simply acknowledges an unawareness of conditions and facts.

Big Spring can never hope to capitalize on the era of good fortune which has just dawned, or to realize the many opportunities which now present themselves unless there is more provision made for housing.

A community grows only as more people are attracted to it, and it is a dead clinch that beyond a certain point people will not come where they have no hope of housing no matter what the inducements.

This is a critical situation. Efforts were exerted last year to secure some additional housing, but at the most they yielded a comparative mouse.

The time is now here when unified action is necessary to go out and demand—and get—relief from the housing shortage. The time is here when local people are going to be obliged to stop waiting for some foreign corporation to show up like a fairy godmother to mushroom houses into being. This is our problem and we had better do something about it—and do it now.

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie AP Foreign News Analyst

That was a blunt but logically phrased warning Washington gave Tokyo at the weekend through the medium of Japanese-speaking Captain E. C. Zacharias, U.S.N.—to surrender unconditionally or take the consequences—and it should clear the atmosphere of any idea that the Allies might weaken in their peace terms.

As a matter of fact, this broadcast was in effect an ultimatum. It acquires special force from the fact that the Big Three are meeting in Potsdam, and that in all probability the question of whether Russia will come into the war against Japan is being discussed—possibly even has been settled. Apropos of this thought, one of the most striking passages in Captain Zacharias' broadcast was:

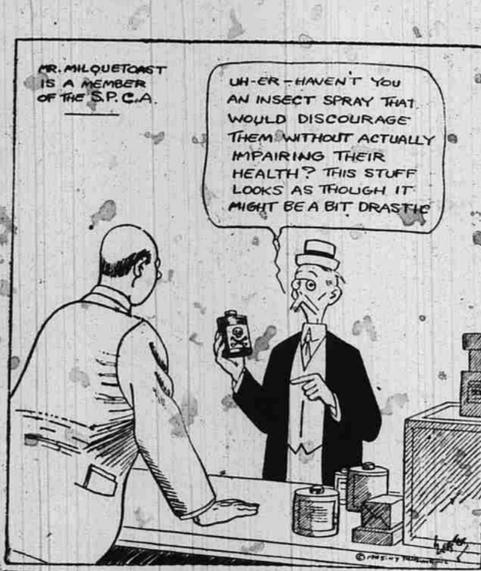

"If Japan should initiate the cessation of hostilities without further delay, it may be assumed that it will be the United States which will enforce the formula and ensure peace. . . . Are the leaders of Japan really so short-sighted that they cannot see the possible complications which they may have to face if they fail to act, and act promptly?"

What "possible complications"? Well, there are quite a number but I dare say the first thing that comes to most minds in the contingency of Russia entering the conflict, Japan knows full well, and long has shown signs of anxiety about the disposition of her powerful neighbor.

Thus far Tokyo hasn't made any direct answer to Captain Zacharias, though an official spokesman would seem to have had it in mind when he said in a radio talk:

"The Japanese are reasonable people who are amenable to fair argument, but they also are a firm people who cannot be intimidated." If that is an answer, it's a soft one which is calculated to turn away wrath. It clearly means that Nippon would like to discuss peace terms, if she got the chance. However, the verdict is that she won't be permitted any argument. It's unconditional surrender—or a knockout by force.

The Timid Soul

With The AEF: Strictly Gentlemen In Third Army In Germany

By HOWARD COWAN (Substituting for Hal Boyle) WITH THE THIRD ARMY IN GERMANY. (AP) — You'd hardly know the Third Army men since they settled down to occupy this corner of Germany.

They are strictly gentlemen soldiers—the GIs, generals and all.

KP is a thing of the past. German soldiers peel the spuds and wash the dishes.

Mess kits and canteen cups have been put away. Meals are served on honest to goodness plates and eaten with knives and forks.

There are usually flowers on the table and the waitresses are not bad to look at.

In most outfits it is compulsory for the men to participate in an afternoon recreation period—play softball or volley ball or go horseback riding or swimming.

By shifting duties around, a work schedule has been arranged so that most of the men are on a five and a half or a six day week.

There are plenty of hired hands to take care of such items as laundry, boot polishing and making beds.

The MPs are trying valiantly, but they are fighting a losing battle. They apply a new coat of varnish to their shiny helmets every day or so and cruise around in jeeps looking stern with their chin thrust forward menacingly. But there is little for them to do.

They hide in the bushes along the autobahn and try to bag someone driving faster than 40 miles per hour. Occasionally they catch a fellow without a helmet liner.

There is a 9:30 p. m. curfew for the German population and GIs have to be in by 10. But a lieutenant colonel can stay out all night if he wants.

Ten of thousands of soldiers have visited Berchtesgaden, going up the mountain to see Hitler's Berghof and climbing the peak to the Eagle's nest.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Jesse Gets Trimming From Elliott

By DREW PEARSON WASHINGTON — Congressmen who have sat in the closed-door sessions of the ways and means committee listening to testimony regarding Elliott Roosevelt now have counted up a total of approximately $850,000 which he borrowed over a period of about eight years. Most of this he did not pay back.

During one of these closed sessions, congressmen thought they ran across the clue as to why Jesse Jones was always so confident he would not be fired by Franklin Roosevelt. In his battle with Henry Wallace over the Board of Economic Warfare, and during the anti-Roosevelt operations of his nephew, Jesse always seemed cocksure that his political future was absolutely safe.

What the committee heard was the testimony of Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner Norman Cann to the effect that Jesse Jones apparently had never collected from Elliott Roosevelt for the $4,000 paid to settle the $200,000 loan from John Hartford, head of the A. and P. chain stores. Cann testified that internal revenue agents who interviewed Jesse Jones understood that Jesse had paid the $4,000 out of his own pocket.

At this point in the testimony, one member of the committee remarked: "Good for Elliott! That's the first time I ever heard of Jesse getting trimmed."

A 20-minute argument over a $120 dinner check has crossed the ocean to haunt three U. S. Senators—Russell of Georgia, Maybank of South Carolina, and McClellan of Arkansas—all Democrats. The senators had their misunderstanding in the basement of Grosvenor House, in London, where the U. S. army has installed a mess hall for military personnel.

"In this huge cafeteria, known affectionately as Willow Run because of the assembly-line technique of piling the plate with food, breakfast is 20 cents, lunch 25 cents and dinner 30 cents. Comparable dinners elsewhere in London would be three or five dollars, and Willow Run customers say the dinners served there are as good as two-dollar dinners in Washington or New York.

Senators Russell, Maybank and McClellan were dining one night with a naval officer on the small balcony of the mess hall reserved for high-ranking officers. Prices are the same, but waitress service is provided.

As they finished, the English waitress presented a check for the four meals. Russell refused the check, telling the girl that his party included United States senators dining as guests of the U. S. army.

"But we have no instructions," she replied. "Finally she signaled for her superior. Her superior, another English girl, also had no instructions, finally called the sergeant in charge of the mess hall.

The mess sergeant came up blushing, and insisted that he, too, had no instructions. "I serve so many meals," he said. "That's the only way I can operate."

But Senator Russell, a member of the military affairs committee, was adamant. "We are guests of the United States army," he insisted. "and I'm sure you will find if you look into it that our checks have already been arranged for."

Maybank and McClellan, both outranked by Russell in length of service in the senate, continued to sit in embarrassed silence while the mess sergeant, muttering under his breath, went away to get his superior officer, a first lieutenant. At this point, South Carolina's Maybank started to say something to Russell, but thought better of it when he saw how determined the Georgian was to see the thing through.

Finally the lieutenant, embarrassed at having to argue with members of the senate, came up and informed Russell that no arrangements had been made for the senators' meal. "But," he continued, "since I'm certain some mistake has been made, I'll be glad to pay the check myself and let the army reimburse me later."

Russell backed down at this point, paid the check, and the senatorial party left.

Army-Navy Waste The army-navy procurement policy of continued buying for a two-front war when we are only fighting on one front is being subjected to some quiet and effective scrutiny on Capitol Hill. Senators fear this policy may throw our entire economy out of whack in case of sudden peace with Japan.

What senators have found is that after V-E day, the army refused to make more than a 20 per cent cut in military purchases, though 50 per cent of the war was over. Retiring War Mobilizer Fred Vinson tried to curtail purchases but was only able to force an additional 13 per cent cutback by December 1.

Meanwhile some experts believe we can safely cut back 80 per cent on army-navy buying right now, and by using existing stockpiles and surpluses still provide the Pacific war with every single need.

Inside reason for the terrific stockpiles, vast purchases and tremendous installations, according to senate probes, is that both the army and navy are afraid congress won't give them anything after the war, so they are heaping up a huge post-war program now.

Although our fleet is now more than 14 times the size of the Japanese fleet at the start of the war and more than 40 times the size of the Jap fleet today, the navy is still building ships which will not be completed before 1947 and 1948.

Also the navy's plane program next year calls for an even larger number of aircraft than the army has ordered. Both have well over 100,000 first-line planes now and they are still buying more, although no one can figure out how more than 30,000 first-line planes can be used in the first stages of the war with Japan.

Meanwhile, both the army and the navy have so many pilots, they don't know what to do with them. The army is keeping up a 2,000,000-man air corps at a time when manpower is still short on the home front. Besides wasting billions of the taxpayers' money, the army-navy purchasing program is paralyzing all efforts to set up an orderly reconversion program and so prevent a sudden, brutal de-

Extensive Drilling Is Mapped In Crane Area

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, July 21—Launching of the second large-scale campaign of the year around a discovery by the Atlantic Refining Co.'s staking of locations for six tests around its No. 1-A University, Devonian strike in east central Crane county, highlighted West Texas oil developments this week.

Recovery of 500 feet of clean oil and 650 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud" by Shell and Texaco No. 1 Ratliff & Bedford, southwestern Andrews county four-pay zone prospect on a drillstem test from 11,226 to 11,269 feet, indicated an Ellenburger pay possibly 251 feet thick. The wildcat, C NW NW 4-73-psl, drilled ahead below 11,298 in dolomite.

Atlantic No. 1-A University in Crane county was exploring the Silurian, which had not been called officially but had been picked by some at 8,895 feet, 6-344 feet below sea level. This was said to check 372 feet high to the Devonian in an Ellenburger failure two miles to the northeast. Drilling below 9,125 feet, the Atlantic strike is scheduled to explore the Ellenburger. It is in the C NE SE 33-31-U, 25 miles northwest of the Crossett pool on the line of Crane and Upton counties, first Devonian lime field in Texas.

Northern Ordinance, Inc., No. 1 T. B. Drinkard, three-quarter mile northeast outpost to the Eden (Pennsylvanian lime) gas field in Concho county, showed light gas and no oil after treating the Ellenburger with 10,000 gallons of acid, with total depth 3,567 feet. On the theory the acid went into the top of the Ellenburger, a broken section, a 5 1-2 inch liner was cemented at 3,520 for scheduled acidizing below that point with 10,000 gallons late this week. No. 1 Drinkard is in the northwest quarter of section 81, J. V. Massey survey.

Amerada No. 2-B J. S. Todd estate, ninth Ellenburger producer in the Todd Deep field in western Crockett county, was finalized as the largest, with a daily flowing potential of 2,948 barrels of 40.4 gravity oil. It had acidized a perforated section between 6,120 and 6,200 feet. Location is the C SE SE 26-WX-GC&F. First production in the field was from the crinoidal (Strawn) of the Pennsylvanian.

Skelly plans to start during August a proposed 5,700-foot test for Simpson production between the Abell and Apo-Warner Ordovician fields in Pecos county. The location was unreported but will be on a lease consisting of the east half of section 80 and all section 86, block 10, H&GN By. Co. survey.

The Texas Co. staked No. 53-A Mabae in southwestern Martin county between the main Mabae field and Mabae Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-B J. E. Mabae, 1 1/4 mile northeast extension. The Mabae outpost, C SW SW 14-39-3n-G&MMB & A, was cleaning out following a shot, with total depth 4,712 feet, and will pump 100 to 150 barrels of oil daily, some estimated. Texaco's test will be 1,980 from the south, 3,300 feet from the east line of section 18-39-2n-G&MMB & A.

Anderson-Prichard started No. 1 W. T. Webb in northwestern Dawson county CNW SE 48-M-EL&RR, five-eighths mile southeast of the most southwesterly of three San Andres producers in a line in the north part of the Welch field.

Phillips No. 1 L. S. McDowell, northwest central Glasscock county wildcat in section 31-34-2s T&P, reportedly cored Ellenburger with a sulphur odor from 10,445-460 feet and showed nothing on a drillstem test from 10,407-360. It drilled ahead below 10,510 feet, in Ellenburger which, according to unofficial reports, was topped at 10,400 feet.

Humble No. 1 O. P. Buchanan, Midland county wildcat C SW SW 32-Wm. Baldrige, was drillstem tested to 12,428 feet in lime, reportedly in the Ellenburger.

Hollywood—

Jimmy Durante, Short-Take Cyrano

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Jimmy Durante strode onto the "Two Sisters from Boston" set and greeted the camera crew in a voice that could have been heard in Santa Monica.

"Boys," he rasped, "I wancha to meet a frenna mine! Mr. Keaton. The crew greeted Buster Keaton in a familiar figure around MGM with a chorus of good-natured boos. "Let's get outa here," Jimmy said. "We're in hostile territory."

After Buster departed, Jimmy invited me into his dressing room. He sprawled himself out on a couch and placed a towel across his chest. "Da doctor told me never to lay down widout something coverin' me," he explained.

He picked up some sheets of paper and said, "I gotta learn some lines. Looks dat. Tree whole pages I gotta learn. Brother, it's good dey shoot dese pitches in short takes or I could never learn da lines."

I inquired if that was what prevented him from playing "Cyrano de Bergerac," the famed play of the long-nosed lover.

"Not only could I not remember Bergerac," he said, "I don't ber all da words in 'Cyrano de kate what a lot of 'em mean. Dat's what's holdin' me back."

"You wancha know something?" One time we assembled pitches of all dem guys which ever played Cyrano. Every single one of 'em had to wear puffy noses. I am de only guy who could play Cyrano wid me own nose."

Jimmy said he had never seen the play performed, but he has read parts of it, "da parts I could understand." He hopes some day to play the role in a modernized version.

dishwashing unit has been set up, eliminating the possibility of sewer burns from scalding water.

Both boys and adult leaders will camp out in tents. Executive H. D. Norris said, explaining that last year's scouts bunked in camp buildings.

Norris said that plans for Midland troops to make the trip at a different time from Big Spring, fell through and that approximately 30 Scouts will leave on July 28 with Big Spring groups. Leslie Pratt and 13 boys from Lamesa have also registered to make the trip.

Charles Watson will act as camp director, and the camping committee will include Jack Roden, Hayes Stripling and Merrill Creighton. Rev. James E. Moore will act as morale director, Roy Reeder will be the business director, and George Melear will serve in the capacity of quartermaster.

Sam McComb will superintend health and safety, Leslie Pratt of Lamesa will direct the programs, and Guy Burrow will oversee dining room and kitchen activities. Helpers will include Dale McComb, V. Strahan, R. E. Lee, John Coffee. Troop leaders for the senior camp will be Stanley Peurifoy and W. D. Berry. Other leaders will be W. D. Willbanks, Arnold Seydler and Leslie Pratt. Norris added that other adult leaders are planning to attend the camp.

SHEAF BROKEN UP

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower bade a formal farewell to the United States-British combined chiefs of staff tonight, thanking the staff for its "stalwartness of support" to the supreme commander of the Allied expeditionary forces.

After more than 12 years of New Dealism, Republicans felt that the constant drip of their criticism had finally worn away the foundations of Democratic strength. They were counting the seats they would gain in the House, in 1946 and already talking about taking over the lower chamber.

They visualized a tired, war-weary Roosevelt moving toward 1948 with no proven political heir in a Democratic party completely confused and befuddled by the loss of his leadership.

When President Truman took office, the Republicans answered the need and the demand to back him with a united front. Our foes had to be shown that the United States was greater than its leaders. The home front had to be held together. And most vital, too, the United States had to retain its leadership in the organization of a lasting peace organization.

Without once wavering, the Republican leaders stepped forward to volunteer their support and the rank and file of the party backed them up.

Just then Jimmy had to get before the camera to do some of There was no danger, though, because the piano he was working on was a beat-up model with no strings.

During the preparation for the scene, an assistant cameraman reeled out a tape measure to ascertain the distance from the lens to Jimmy. I was wondering whether he measured to Jimmy's nose or to his face. It might make a difference in focusing.

Party's Over -- Now For The Party

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — When the Senate approves the United Nations charter (and there's no doubt here that it will), the love feast of the Democrats and Republicans will be over.

The Democrats, being the hosts, don't care how long the feast goes on. No party ever ate its way to power dining at the other party's table. But the Republicans are surfeited.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the untimely death of President Roosevelt, the greatest political foe the Republicans ever had, was a greater blow to the GOP than to the Democrats.

After more than 12 years of New Dealism, Republicans felt that the constant drip of their criticism had finally worn away the foundations of Democratic strength. They were counting the seats they would gain in the House, in 1946 and already talking about taking over the lower chamber.

They visualized a tired, war-weary Roosevelt moving toward 1948 with no proven political heir in a Democratic party completely confused and befuddled by the loss of his leadership.

When President Truman took office, the Republicans answered the need and the demand to back him with a united front. Our foes had to be shown that the United States was greater than its leaders. The home front had to be held together. And most vital, too, the United States had to retain its leadership in the organization of a lasting peace organization.

Without once wavering, the Republican leaders stepped forward to volunteer their support and the rank and file of the party backed them up.

Party's Over -- Now For The Party

But those same leaders know, and the rank and file is beginning to realize, that if the party is going to retain its entity and gain back its strength, it will be time, just as soon as the charter is ratified, to say: "That's all, Brother, that's all."

Some indication of the coming rumpus, is seen in the attacks on OPA, OWI, and the sugar and meat shortages. President Truman's new appointees in the cabinet and other key posts will be watched carefully for any slips. The acts of the President himself will be put under the microscope. Only by finding the points of vulnerability in the administration armor can the Republicans hope to gain strength in 1946 or get back into power in '48.

In other words, our two-party system of democracy soon will start functioning again on almost every store except total destruction of Japan. On that, the parties will continue as one.

Moose has been called the first sanitarian, because he promulgated a cleanliness code for his people which is still observed today.

Pickpocket Culprit; Frat Key On Chain

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP) — Dr. David P. Boder, a psychiatrist, reported to police the loss of a memorial watch he had had 20 years. He noticed it was missing after alighting from a crowded street-car.

Six hours later John Kelly called the doctor at home and said he had found the timepiece, inscribed with Boder's name, hanging to his coat button. A fraternity key on the chain had looped the button, pulling the watch with it.
