Neighborly Interest in New County Road

Oklahoma Road Boosters Propose Hook-up With New East-West Route

That good roads boosters in Oklahoma are taking cognizance of the new highway now under construction east of this city, as well as the outlet continuing toward the northwest, is evidenced in an article appearing in Tuesday's issue of the Elk City, Okla., News. A marked copy of the paper was received by C. R. Weatherly, secretary of the Board of City Development.

The article follows: "New interest in the proposal to improve and extend the Elk City-Sweetwater road to the Texas line to connect with the Texas state highway east of Wheeler, Tex., was current here today following a visit here by Dr. Webb of Pampa, Tex.

Dr. Webb, past commander of the Pampa American Legion post and former president of the Lions club there, is a leading good roads booster in the Texas Panhandle and has become greatly interested in the proposed route.

"During a visit here today with Ed J. Story, chairman of the chamber of commerce good roads committee, he reported the state already is paving a part of the route east of Wheeler and is graveling the remainder. He said there would be no difficulty in getting support of the plan to improve the route in Texas if Oklahoma will build its portion of the highway.

"He also reported that much work is being done on the diagonal route through the Texas Panhandle toward Boise City. Most of the route has been graveled and paving will come soon, he said. The route offers a new short cut to La Junta, Colo., and if the Elk City-Sweetwater route is constructed it would cut much mileage off the present route."

VANSICKLE-MERRIMAN

Miss Ida Sue Merriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Merriman of Wheeler, and Mr. Herman VanSickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. VanSickle of Wellington, were quietly married Monday evening, June 18, by Rev. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, at Sayre, Okla., at the parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Merriman and daughter, Miss Florence, entertained Monday evening with a wedding supper, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Herman VanSickle, at the Merriman home. Well-Known Wheeler Man Gets Important Post on State Civic Group

R. H. Forrester, Wheeler, director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has received notice of his appointment by James D. Hamlin, president, as a member of the regional chamber's commission on agriculture and livestock for this fiscal year.

The objectives of the commission are set forth by Hamlin as follows: (1) execution of any emergency assignments having to do with the welfare of agricultural and livestock industries; (2) in co-operation with the state agricultural extension service, launch live-at-home campaigns in the various agricultural counties; (3) inaugurate campaign to secure one or more subsistence homesteads for each of the ten West Texas Chamber of Commerce districts; (4) promote maximum competition in cotton buying; (5) organize county allotment committees for the purpose of securing maximum allotments of cotton under the Bankhead bill, and of cotton and wheat under the agricultural adjustment act; (6) continue co-operation on program of making cattle a basic commodity under AAA and to secure tax on imported vegetable oils; (7) determine whether processing tax penalizes the West Texas grade of cotton and if so work to reduce the tax; and (8) co-operate in securing maximum benefits for West Texas from various services of the farm credit administration.

An administrative board of five has been created within the commission of 46 members with power to act for the commission on short notice as follows: Clifford B. Jones, Spurr, chairman; Knox Pittard, Anson; P. B. Ralls, Ralls; W. J. Morton, Dumas, and E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio.

To carry on the entire program of the regional chamber, Hamlin has created four other commissions similarly organized and with definite objectives. They are: commission on public expenditures and taxation, commission on Territorial development, commission on mineral resources and traffic, and commission on publicity and promotion.

Mrs. V. Harvey of Gainesville, grandmother of Rev. F. R. Yeakley of Wheeler, passed away Wednesday, June 13, after several months illness. She was 73 years old. Rev. Yeakley attended her funeral.

IMPROVEMENT OF NO. 152 EXPECTED TO START SOON

Advices reaching this office indicate that work of resurfacing highway 152, between Wheeler and the western county line, may be expected to start in the near future. The contract for this work was let a short time ago.

Contractors have issued assurances that all the county labor possible will be used on the project.

Work on the highway east, which includes grading and drainage, completed with paving, is progressing nicely. It is reported that several more trucks could be used on the job.

Pay Taxes—Save Penalty

In this issue of The Times will be found a notice over the signature of Mrs. Gunter concerning the payment of delinquent taxes.

In this notice is a letter from the state comptroller showing the penalties that are to be assessed on the first day of July on the various years delinquencies.

These amount to more than 30 per cent in some cases, and should be taken care of during this month. No legislative acts have been provided for dropping these penalties, and they will have to be paid after July 1.

As everyone knows, delinquent taxes are charged as a lien on property and the property may be sold for taxes. What could be more profitable than 30 per cent on one's money?

A big saving can be effected by payment of taxes between now and July 1. A dollar saved is a dollar made.

TWITTY SONGFEST DRAWS LARGE ATTENDANCE SUNDAY

One of the largest crowds in recent months attended the county singing convention at Twitty last Sunday. It is estimated that between 1,200 and 1,500 persons were present for the all-day affair. The morning program began at 11 o'clock at the Church of Christ. A picnic dinner on the grounds was enjoyed at the noon hour. The convention closed at 4:30 in the afternoon.

A feature of the day's program was the election of officers. Returns showed the following were all re-elected: Hester Dodson, president; Joe Cooper, vice president, and Clyde Green, secretary.

Besides Wheeler county singers, several from nearby territory, including Beckham county, Okla., were present.

County Pioneer Passed Away Tuesday Morning

H. A. Whitener, Resident of Kelton Community for Many Years, Died at Shamrock

The many friends of H. A. Whitener throughout Wheeler county, where he had made his home for the past 27 years, learned with deep regret of his death early Tuesday morning at his home in Shamrock. The deceased had lived, until a few months ago when he moved to Shamrock, on a farm one and a half miles east of Kelton.

Whitener was 72 years old at the time of his death. He was the first one of the five original charter members of Kelton Baptist church to go to his reward.

His death was not unexpected, since he had been in failing health for two years or more, and his condition had recently become critical.

He is survived by his wife and nine children, four of whom make their homes in Wheeler county. The children are: Mrs. Raymond Wright and Mrs. Grady Young, Shamrock; Arthur of near Wheeler; Mrs. Claude Davis, Kelton; Wesley of Houston; Lonnie, Tulsa; Preston, Levelland; Mrs. J. O. Wood, Bellevue, N. M.; and Mrs. Luther Norrid, Amarillo.

The many old friends and neighbors in the Kelton community feel that Wheeler county has lost a valuable citizen in the death of H. A. Whitener and extend sympathy to the bereaved in their loss.

Funeral services were held from the Kelton Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. E. T. Smith of Shamrock in charge. Interment was made in the Kelton cemetery.

County to Ballot On Beer Issue Saturday

Much Interest Shown in Question of Legalized Sale of Beverage

As announced in the columns of this paper last week, next Saturday, June 23, is the date of a county-wide election to determine whether the sale of 3.2 beer shall be legalized in Wheeler county. Since the election date was announced by the commissioners court last Monday, interest in the matter has steadily increased.

Opponents of the proposition have marshaled their forces and made a strenuous campaign to defeat the move. Under auspices of the Wheeler County Law and Order League a series of speaking dates, covering the county, were scheduled and filled the latter part of last week and the early part of this. Local pastors and other "dry" workers in the various towns and communities assisted in the campaign. Jameson and Wood addressed a gathering on the streets here Saturday afternoon.

Whatever the outcome of the referendum may be, The Times hopes that in this (as in all other elections) the people will take time to go to the polls and cast their ballots, thereby giving a representative vote on the subject.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found page advertisements in which are set forth arguments pro and con on the proposition. Readers are invited to look them over and then go to the polls and vote their sentiments.

Mrs. Gordon Whitener will be at home in Twitty. Mrs. G. O. McCrohan will remain at home in Wheeler. Miss Winona Adams will attend the omnibus college, which includes an interesting two months' trip.

Lee Guthrie, grade school principal, has resigned and will devote all his time to the picture show business.

R. E. Clark has been chosen to fill the vacancy. It is understood that he will assume the duties of coach and expects to start training about August 20. Clark is now at Birmingham, Ala., where he is completing work on his master's degree at the University of Alabama.

CLINT SMALL TO SPEAK AT AMARILLO MONDAY NIGHT

One of the greatest welcomes ever given a Panhandle citizen will be tendered Senator Clint C. Small when he addresses his "home folks" of the Panhandle at the Amarillo municipal auditorium, Monday night, June 25, at 8:30 p. m.

Six bands from as many Panhandle cities will be on hand to "hall the chief" when Senator Small brings his campaign for governor back home.

Friends of the Panhandle entry in the governor's race are preparing a gigantic rally in his behalf for his only appearance in this senatorial district during the present campaign.

"Demands on Senator Small's time for public addresses, in other sections of the state, are so great that he is forced to devote as much time as possible where there are heavier populated areas," it was announced at the Small for Governor headquarters.

BAPTIST WORKERS MEETING HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The north zone B. T. S. and Sunday school association meeting will be held at the Wheeler Baptist church next Sunday afternoon, June 24, beginning at 3 o'clock. A program is being prepared. Election of new officers will be held at this meeting.

FLAME OF THE BORDER

By VINGIE E. ROE....

W.N.U. SERVICE

RIGHT DOUBLE DAY, DORAN & Co. Inc.

THE STORY

CHAPTER I— Seeking death by herself from the summit of Mesa, to escape dishonor, hands of a drunken desperado, Savarin allows herself to be by her suddenly sobered and at the girl in a self-defense physician to the Navajo living on an Arizona sheep ranch her brother Serge, his wife, and their small daughter. Babe, near she has been engaged to Blake, wealthy New Yorker, heart is with the friendless and she evades a wedding.

CHAPTER II— Sonya pulls Little Moon and refused the bundle of sheep pelts which Two Fingers offered her, along with the gorgeous finished blanket which the woman laid across her knees.

CHAPTER III— In the desert village, Sonya again meets the man who has chosen the Navajos before the Great Spirit. Let be, it is well.

After a long silence Two Fingers said, "It is well. And we and all the Navajos around here are your little people, under your feet. A soft blanket to keep your heels from the stones."

"It is very well," the girl said gravely and knew he spoke the truth. There was to come a day when she would have ample and tragic proof of that, but it was just as well she could not see ahead.

From Chee wash she rode down along the levels of the sage to where the debouching canyon had given up its pitiful small caravan that day she had seen Mr. Satter from the school taking away the children.

On an impulse she turned and rode into this rugged cut that bisected the rising land. She rounded a far-in turn and came upon a habitation. There was no sign of life about it, though it bore evidence of occupation within the hour—a unattractive damp from the recent mixing of mud, a tiny fire on the sand. For a time she sat her horse and contemplated it—a good hogan set against the canyon's wall. There was little sign of prosperity. No rug bloomed on its hand made loom, the hogan was bare of comforts, the beds on its floor being thin and scant. Evidently these Indians were very poor.

She did not call it a move about, but sat still in her saddle, waiting, and presently her patience was rewarded, for a soft step sounded behind her and she turned to see the wild buck, the squaw, and the littlest child of that pitiful drama in which she had participated.

She smiled at them, and when Sonya Savarin smiled, a window of her soul opened and disclosed a light. The family came carefully up to her.

"I come to see if all is well with you and yours," she told the man in Navajo.

"It is well with this one," he replied, touching the child, "but not with this one," touching the mother. "Her heart runs away in water, and she does not eat."

And looking closer Sonya saw in a finished sorrow that it was so indeed. The woman, who had been plump and hale some weeks back, was now a scarecrow, her old velvet jacket hanging loose on her form, her tragic eyes sunk in hollows. Her brown lips looked dry and hard.

For a moment the girl felt such a revulsion against the whole white race as to give her an actual nausea. Her hands ached to get hold of Satter's fat neck for one good minute.

"So," she said, "I see. Have you told her that the little ones will be coming home soon? Did the agent tell you when to go after them?"

"No," said the man, "and I do not know where to go."

"Oh," said Sonya under her breath, "the dirty beast!"

Aloud she said slowly, "Well, you tell her to look up to the east and before many days she will see her children coming. What is your name, Hosteen?"

The man hesitated, since the naming of one's own name is not good, but this was a desperate matter.

"I am Hosteen Nez," he said presently, "and she is Cactus Flower."

"And I am Sonya—Doctor Sonya—from down on the desert beyond Lone Mesa, and I will see the man who took the children. Maybe four sleeps, maybe five. You tell her eat and get strong."

"I will tell her," said Hosteen Nez, and his eyes looked so deep into Sonya's that the girl's heart hurt with their probing.

"I will come again," she said and, turning Darkness, went back down the great cut of Blue Sand canyon as she had come.

That night, talking with Serge and Lila in the twilit patio with Baba asleep on her lap, she protested passionately against the treatment of the Indians by the whites in authority.

Serge smoked in silence, his dark eyes gazing out along the gray sage stretches that were turning purple in the falling shadows.

"Kid," he said presently, "you're the best little scout ever, but I'm afraid that some day you're going to get yourself into a peck of trouble, messing in where you don't belong."

"Messing in where I don't belong!" cried the girl hotly. "Do you call helping that mother get her young ones back for the summer vacation messing in, when she's actually grieving herself to death in her ignorance and fear? Suppose it were Lila and Babe, for instance?"

Serge moved uneasily, knocked out the dottle of his pipe.

"Well, of course—"

"Yes, of course! That's it. That's always it from the white man's viewpoint. Well, old dear, you can just hold yourself in readiness to bail me out of jail, for I may need it. I'm going over to that school and get those youngsters and take them back to that hogan, if it's the last thing I do. School is already out for the season, and that fat Satter hasn't taken the trouble to return them or to even tell the father where to come for them. Can you beat that for sheer downright meanness? If you don't need the car, I'll take it and go over to the school sometime this week—maybe day after tomorrow. O. K., Serge?"

"O. K., honey. I'll begin looking round for bail in the meantime in case you find something you can use as an excuse to hop the school authorities."

Sonya was as good as her word.

EXTEND EMERGENCY WHEAT LOAN TIME TO JULY 15TH

The period for receiving applications for summer fallowing and winter wheat loans from the emergency crop loan office at Dallas has been extended to the close of business July 15, according to announcement made last week by Charles W. Sherrill, regional manager of the region comprising Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Emergency crop loans for the purpose of summer fallowing and the combined purpose of summer fallowing and purchasing winter seed and wheat are available in certain counties of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona where wheat is grown commercially. Regulations provide a maximum allowance for fallowing of $1.00 per acre, and for the purchase of seed wheat not to exceed $1.00 per acre.

The loans are made under the regulations relative to emergency crop loans issued March 1, of the present year, and are received and handled in the same manner through county loan committees and field supervisors. Security for the loan is a first lien on all crops to be grown and harvested on the land described in the mortgage.

The Dallas office is also making emergency feed loans to enable farmers to purchase feed for farm livestock in certain counties of the region.

Supplies have been forwarded to committees in 59 counties of Texas, principally in the Panhandle area. Wheeler county is included in the list. Seven New Mexico and three Arizona counties are in the region.

Zane Grey's Thundering Herd
Zane Grey, the master hand, brings to the Rogue for your entertainment another of his great stories of the outdoors. This time it is really one of his best, "The Thundering Herd." And what a cast! Randolph Scott, Judith Allen, Harry Carey, Buster Crabbe, Noah Beery and Monte Blue. Any one of these stars would be enough for an ordinary picture, but this one is far from ordinary; hence, the long list of favorite stars. Those who appreciate Zane Grey and good western pictures will be more than pleased with this one. Even the most discriminating theatre-goers will find plenty of real value here. It is a classical western of the highest type.

And, "Hot doggie! I got a birdie and you got a froggie," you will be saying when you see Phil Harris in the best three reel comedy of the year entitled, "So this is Harris." That is right, it is ranked as the best comedy of the year. Coming Fri-

Vote NO on the Beer Question at Saturday's Election!

Some Reasons Why

Beer tends to make its drinkers filthy, lazy and shapeless.

Beer deters the functions of the body.

Beer lowers one's efficiency from 10 to 30 per cent. Yes one glass of 3.2 per cent beer.

Beer, yes one glass of 3.2, narrows the eye span and causes one to see less. This causes more traffic accidents.

There is enough alcohol in a glass of 3.2 beer to lessen your normal faculties 10 per cent. Think what this means.

Beer makes one feel less. It acts as a narcotic and is poison.

Alcohol increases the tendency to sex offences. Of patients who seek treatment for venereal disease, from 76 to 90 per cent seem to have contracted it after taking alcohol. It was not drunkenness, but the light edge of weakened self-control from drinking beer and other drinks with small alcoholic content.

Alcohol Is A Poison

Ethyl alcohol is so poisonous that it cannot with safety be taken pure, indeed, the customary drinks contain only a small proportion of it, much less than one-half,—beer 4 per cent, cider 9 per cent, wine 11 to 42 per cent, while the drinks of the higher alcoholic percentages, whisky, rum, gin, brandy, with around 50 per cent alcoholic content are mixed with more water when drunk. These drinking customs are the result of years of experiment, so that people have learned how much alcohol can be taken and the mind and body seemingly recover. The result is like learning how much sand can be sifted into the engine of your automobile without stopping it completely. The degree of intoxication is determined not by the amount of liquor taken into the stomach but by the amount of alcohol which is absorbed into the blood where it comes into direct contact with the nervous system.

Answers to Claims for Drink —these are Scientific Facts

"Beer Is A Food."

No, beer is 4 per cent alcohol, 5 per cent decomposed vegetable matter and 91 per cent water.

"Beer Is A Tonic."

No, a tonic is a substance with no narcotic principle, which strengthens debilitated organs in a durable manner. BEER CONTAINS TWO NARCOTICS, 4 PER CENT OF ALCOHOL, AND A SMALL AMOUNT OF LUPULIN. The two teaspoonfuls of alcohol in a glass of 4 per cent beer is enough to relax the nerve tension and dull the senses, making the patient FEEL LESS weak and therefore think better. BEER DETERS THE FUNCTIONS OF THE BODY. PARTICLES OF WASTE ACCUMULATE IN THE TISSUES OF THE BODY. THEY MAY BE MISTAKEN FOR FAT.

"Beer Never Did Anyone Any Harm"

WRONG! The alcohol in it is harmful enough, but the hops added to give it the bitter taste, is related to hashish, has a hypnotic, brutalizing effect. See an unabridged dictionary or encyclopedia. BEER DRINKERS ARE APT TO BECOME THE MOST HUMAN AND BEAST-LIKE OF DRINK ADDICTS. There are many records of their abuse of women and children, and of their brutality toward those who interfere with them. BEER tends to make its drinkers LAZY, AND SHAPELESS.

Alcohol Lowers Efficiency

Laboratory tests of the effects of SMALL QUANTITIES OF ALCOHOL show definite results of narcotizing the nerve centers and the relation to conditions in every day life. Such tests were made by Prof. H. L. Hollingworth of Columbia University, with beer of 2.75 per cent alcohol by weight, (1 1/2 teaspoonful of alcohol in 1/2 pint) and by Dr. Walter R. Miles at the Carnegie Nutrition Laboratory, Boston. Such tests showed impairment in efficiency which varied with the individuals, but in some cases was over 30 per cent.

Because the automobiles in the United States, in relation to the population, now number about one to four and one-half, and since nearly every adult knows how to drive, the relation of the result of these tests to automobile driving, as here given, is of great importance:

1. Narcotizing the nerve centers causes the drinker to see less:
 - a. A normal driver when looking ahead can see objects approaching from both sides. It was found that as much alcohol as is in a GLASS OR TWO OF BEER NARROWED THE EYE SPAN. HOW DOES THIS EFFECT SAFETY?
 - b. The normal eye can see distinctly about 30 feet ahead. As much alcohol as is in a GLASS OR TWO OF BEER WAS FOUND TO REDUCE DISTANCE AS MUCH AS ONE-THIRD. Have you heard a driver say, "I did not think it was so close."
 - c. Red and green lights are the signals for danger and safety. ALCOHOL EQUAL TO A GLASS OR TWO OF BEER, DIMMED THE PERCEPTION OF COLORS IN MANY SUBJECTS; THE SEEMED LESS RED, THE LESS GREEN. What is the effect of this? These effects were commonly recognized by scientific tests were made, AMERICAN RAILROADS AND GAVE NOTICE THAT QUENTING PLACES WHERE THEY ARE SOLD IS SUFFICIENT CAUSE FOR DISMISSAL."

A Washington traffic official says that "drunken driving has increased 63 per cent in accidents during the first four months of this year." The American Automobile Association says that "recklessness is sweeping the nation's highways," and that it brought about a 34 per cent increase in railway crossing accidents. Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, says: "Unless the record improves, the far distant when it won't be ANYONE to venture on the road after the cocktail hour."

Under normal conditions one fifth of a second "to brake." It was found that EQUAL TO A GLASS OR TWO OF BEER MAY LENGTHEN TIME TO TWO fifths or three fifths of a second. IF A TRAVELING 60 MILES AN HOUR FAR WILL IT RUN FIFTH OF A SECOND? THESE ARE FACTS NOT SES.

Don't be Fooled by Talk of Beer "Without the Saloon"

Saloon: A place where intoxicating liquors are sold and drunk. Webster's International Dictionary.

"Give us beer but don't bring back the saloon," is the myth by which thirsty wets avaricious tax dodgers, and brewery stock owners have led many people of the United States into the belief that the return of beer will not only wipe out the speakeasy and the bootlegger, but will float the country back into prosperity on its foamy wave.

But how can it be done?

It wasn't the name on the window (thousands of them were called "sample rooms"), it wasn't the swinging doors, it wasn't the brass rail nor the bar that made a saloon. It was the "intoxicating liquor" sold there, and beer was the greatest volume of business and caused the most drunkenness.

Canada calls them "beer parlors" or "taverns"—but they are saloons nevertheless—and Quebec, notorious for drunkenness, has 620 such places where beer is sold by the glass in unlimited quantities.

Is anybody gullible enough to believe that if ANY KIND of beer selling is legalized that the bootleggers of today will immediately become law abiding and stop the sale of hard liquor?

The liquor traffic never has obeyed and never will obey any regulations and the legal sale of beer will instantly open another avenue through which stronger liquors can be more easily dispensed.

A Duty

During the difficult days of the Civil War an Iowa farmer had to choose between spending one of his few dollars for carfare or walking forty miles to cast his vote in an election. After some deliberation he finally chose to walk the forty miles. It never occurred to him that he might save both the dollar and the walk by not voting. VOTING, TO HIM, WAS A CHRISTIAN DUTY, and there were millions like him in those days.

Saves the Country?

Have too many "crampers," agitators and political sharks? Are the "woods" full of knockers and non-voters? Who helps, the voter or the one who "cusses" and never votes? Who's an asset to the government, the one who goes around telling the people how the government should be run, but who votes, or the one who votes to uphold sincerity in social and political affairs and carries the responsibility? Is the one who preys upon knocking those who really for the good of humanity in possession of authority, a country to a sudden down you, I am speaking of the self-centered knocker. Not who offers constructive criticism to a man who fails to vote, or who shirks his duty, can justly criticize his national government.

When a ship is sinking it is no time to try and prevent and to save those aboard. When a nation is tottering and people are sorely discouraged, it is certainly no time for unduly helpful leaders to be unduly good-fellowship, sympathy and flattery. The leader is infallible, the one who try hard to serve. This is especially true in times of crisis. Co-operation can work. Prejudiced undercurrents lead to conditions worse than save. The people of our nation had the welfare of all the her than the welfare and of their own selfish interest could more swiftly of chaos and into peace. It is, no doubt, proper to be unforgiving in all walks of life. We have such people and governmental representatives. Their works are shining in consecrated service. "THY WORD GIVETH LIGHT"

Mrs. J. M. Porter

Nowadays we are accustomed to making comparisons by means of graphs with their zig-zag lines to show high and low points. We hope all of us will keep two mental graphs before us; one comparing the lives of men during the different generations and eternity as described in God's word, the other the relative values of humanity, business and money.

We older people worked for prohibition for the sake of human souls. Into our efforts went sound arguments, strenuous efforts, prayers, and tears, but very little money. The cause was not won by the monied class nor was the repeal brought about by the victims of the saloon, the poor, the down and outs. They were too glad to escape, but the man with money who must cater to his appetite and has forgotten he is his brother's keeper and the big business concerns that had made money by the liquor traffic, spending their money freely to get their business back. These two forces prevented the enforcement of dry laws and the argument of revenue is but one of the points of their propaganda.

So long as we obeyed our Puritan consciences we were a great nation but when we spurned it we began to decline. The greatest wave of prosperity America has ever known was while we were a dry nation, honestly trying to abide by our laws, but when we grew bold in disregarding them, the greatest known depression has come and repeal and all our co-operative efforts have not yet brought us out of it.

What shall we do? It is wise to ask the question but useless unless we try to answer it rightly. There is only one right answer, one and only one issue for any individual on any question and that is the "Thus saith the Lord." What you think about God's part in the beer question and your vote on the matter will not change His word and it says "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." It also says "Hell hath enlarged herself" because of drunkenness and that no drunkard shall inherit the Kingdom. "Woe to him that putteth his bottle to his neighbor and maketh him drunk."

Suppose we do become rich by voting in liquor, it has never made any nation rich, (but the poorer) the Bible says, "He that getteth rich and not by right shall leave it in the midst of his days and in the end thereof he shall be a fool." Life is so short and eternity stretches out so far beyond the power of our graph to measure. Suppose beer does bring in revenue? When we stand before the judgement seat, and the Bible says we every one will, then suppose some one's son or daughter should say: "Father or mother, it seemed to me that when you voted to legalize liquor that you set your stamp of approval on it and made it easier for me to drink and now I must step to the left side." How is that father or mother going to feel? And if they have voted carelessly or to indulge themselves or for gain will they, too, be asked to step to the left?

This is not a little matter we are going into. Our graph is to compare revenue to human souls and "What will it profit a man if he gain the WHOLE WORLD and lose his own soul?"

The Lord and Satan are always against each other and we are told that by any one's fruits we may know them, so it is not hard for us to tell which of them is the advocate of the whole liquor family. Christ has said, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Voters, which side of the line are you on?

The Question to Be Voted on Saturday

Shall We Have Legal Beer

or

Shall We Have Illegal Beer

There is no Question but that we will have beer. No one doubts that

Gray county has legal beer; Hemphill county has legal beer; Beckman county has legal beer, BUT WE HERE IN WHEELER COUNTY HAVE ILLEGAL BEER. The voters of the surrounding counties have decided to let the sale of beer help to defray the costs of government, while we here in Wheeler county, are yet making our tax payers the goat for the benefit of the bootlegger element.

Hundreds of dollars have gone into the city treasuries of those counties; and thousands of dollars have gone into their county treasuries in taxes for the sale of legal beer; while we here in Wheeler county are yet making a goat out of our tax payers and allowing the bootlegger element to get the extra profits.

It is not the fault of our peace officers that beer is being sold openly in our county. It is our citizenship. The juries refuse to convict for violation of our anti-beer laws. Prohibition of beer is not in accord with the wishes of a large majority of our people. It is unreasonable to prohibit the sale of a thing, as harmless as a bottle, or a half dozen bottles, for that matter, of three-two per cent beer. The voters of Wheeler county had just as well accept the question as it really is, and stop trying to dictate to the public what it should do and what it should not do, in such minor matters as drinking beer.

Shall we bring it from the outskirts of town where it is sold in violation of law, or shall we permit it to be sold in respectable places of business under regulation of law?

Shall We Encourage Violation of Law or shall We Encourage Respect for Law?

Official Ballot

"For the sale of beer containing not more than three and two-tenths per centum (3.2 percent) of alcohol by weight."

"Against the sale of beer containing not more than three and two-tenths per centum (3.2 percent) of alcohol by weight."

NOTE: If you favor legal beer simply mark through sentence starting "Against," etc.

WHY BEER ELECTION WAS SET FOR THE DATE NAMED

Mr. Editor:
I would like to make this statement through the columns of your paper, in defense of our commissioner's court for ordering the beer election on the 23rd of this month instead of ordering it to be held on the 28th of July, along with our general Primary Election.

In the first place, when the commissioner's court is petitioned by at least 10% of the voters, voting in the last general election for governor, to call a local option election, it is mandatory that they call the election, and order notices be posted for an election to be held not less than 10 days nor more than 20 days after the filing of the petition. The only matter left to the court to determine is whether or not those signing the petition are qualified voters under the laws of this state.

Another matter I want to mention is the fact that the general primary election held in July is a Democratic Primary and is not paid for by the county, but is paid for by the different candidates seeking nomination in that primary. While beer elections are paid for, under the law of this state, by the county ordering the election.

If the commissioner's court had ordered the beer election held on the same day with the primary election, it would have been the duty of the court to pay the necessary costs and expenses of holding the beer election out of county funds, anyway, because it would not have been fair to the candidates seeking nomination in that election to tax them an additional sum, necessary to defray the added cost for other help to hold the beer election, when both were held at once.

The beer election should not have been called on general primary election day, because the men and women of this county seeking nomination in that election should not have their races jeopardized by the injection of any issues not necessarily connected with their race. They are paying for the election on Primary Election day out of their own pockets, and the work of the election officers on that day should not be confused by the holding of two elections at one time, when the beer election would necessarily have to be paid for out of county funds anyway.

It will not or should not cost in excess of $300 to hold the beer election Saturday. That will include distribution of the 23 boxes, posting of the notices, pay for the election officers, and the return of the boxes for canvass by the court.

GIRL SCOUT GROUPS ENJOY PICNIC AND OUTING PARTIES

At a Girl Scout meeting a few weeks ago it was decided that they be divided into two groups because of the large number. The girls who are of high school age meet on Monday night of each week while those in grade school meet on Tuesday nights.

Last Monday night, June 11, the older group met at 8 o'clock with their leader, Miss Florence Merriman, at the Methodist church. The meeting opened with a song, followed by a business session. The girls decided to have a party picnic on Thursday afternoon and also planned a gypsy party for Monday night. After the business the group played a few games before returning home.

Those present were the leader, Miss Merriman, the assistant leader, Miss Helen Houston, Bonnie Adams, Ferrol Ficke, Beatrice Miller, Martha Jane Shipman, Martha Alice Wiley, Ruth Barr, Gladys Warren and Marjorie Bowers.

The next night, Tuesday, the other group met with their leader, Miss Merriman, at 8 o'clock in the basement of the church. The group planned a Mother Goose party for their next meeting.

Present were Miss Merriman, Joyce Faust, Lois Ficke, Johnnie Faye Templeton, Melba Wiley, and Verna Warren.

Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock the Girl Scouts met at the Methodist church for the purpose of having a picnic at the Stanley grove. Because of the rainy weather it was decided to have a party in the church basement instead.

Refreshments consisted of potato chips, sandwiches, pork and beans, cookies and punch. Present were the leader, Miss Merriman, Beatrice Miller, Martha Alice Wiley, Ferrol Ficke, Bonnie Adams, and the guests were Peggy Page, Sue Merriman, and Camille Arden.

Building Campaign Gets Started Here

Brick Business Building
Wheeler—Store Addition
—Service Station

Wheeler's business district augmented by a new brick building, an addition to the store, a new service station now an assured fact. Men began preliminary operations this morning for the erection of a new store building on the southeast corner of the square. C. H. Clay is the structure, which will be wide and 60 feet deep. It is between the Agnes Robertson office and Houston building will be brick and tile construction, with floor. Part of the material obtained from a building owned by Clay, and which was wrecked. Clay received the Wheeler site from Walter Williams of Shamrock.

Other city improvement is the of a 40-foot extension of the People's Store, half of the Citizens State bar on this project is expected Monday.

ing of the matter, Don Fisher of the store, declares that he has been so satisfactory in order to accommodate the increasing trade we must have more room. This will enable us to have a larger stock of merchandise and will in turn, permit us to handle many articles not now handled because of lack of room. We are expecting a continued gain in business to the unusually bright outlook both local and national, at the all building operations are expected to start soon on the new gas service station building at the southeast corner of the square. Four trenches are dug and ready for concrete; some material is on hand, and everything is ready for construction to start. The highway department is leveling the grounds and using the dirt from the old building up the slab on the south highway.

PORTER BUILDING NEW HOME IN WHEELER

is progressing rapidly on the site being built by Nelson Moore just south of the Forrester in the southwest part of town. The structure is approximately 10 feet in size, with a 16x24 basement. It will have a modern and will be strictly modern. Bert Graham is here on the job. The property was obtained the property as the Harry Frye place and owned by M. D. Ware, a few years ago. The old dwelling on the site was torn down to make room for a modern home to be occupied by Porter and family when completed.

Pennington's Moving Store

Pennington & Son, pioneers in the grocery establishment here, is making preparation to move to a new location within the city. It will be remembered that the firm sold its building to Meek, who expects to install a new business in the location. Mr. Pennington will not occupy the room for several weeks, it is understood that considerable overhauling and installation of fixtures will be required.

Pennington store will move to the Moore building, first door south of the Forrester, which is occupied for some time by the Nix Funeral home, and recently Mrs. Ollie Beene maintained an office for the Guarantee & Title company. Mr. Pennington has moved this office to the Moore building until another suitable location can be obtained. The Nix company will retain the space in the rear of the Moore building.
