Allison Bank Bandit Gets 20-yr. Sentence

Trial of W. L. Parrish, Pal of "Son" Jones, Held in District Court Monday and Tuesday

Starting the first week of criminal hearings for the current term of district court on Monday, the case of W. L. Parrish, charged with complicity in a holdup of the First State bank of Allison on Jan. 18, this year, headed the docket.

The trial lasted practically all day Monday, going to the jury late in the afternoon. After deliberating that night and a part of Tuesday, the verdict of guilty and fixing his sentence at 20 years, was returned.

The state claimed Parrish was the partner of "Son" Jones in the crime perpetrated by the two men when the bank was robbed of approximately $200 and Ben Parks, cashier, was abducted and forced to accompany the bandits. The episode occurred at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Parks was released that night in the region southwest of Elk City, Okla., where the hijackers eluded pursuit.

In co-operation with the Wheeler county sheriff's force, officers throughout the southwest kept a sharp lookout for Parrish and Jones, alleged to be the guilty parties. Early in May, while the spring term of district court was in session here, Jones was picked up near Lovington, N. Mex. Sheriff John Porter brought him back on May 9.

On May 22, a jury found Jones guilty and fixed his punishment at 15 years in the penitentiary. His first trial, held the preceding week, resulted in a hung jury after lengthy deliberation. Certain testimony introduced in Jones' behalf aroused the ire of District Attorney Goodrich. After investigating the matter, Goodrich preferred charges of perjury against four Oklahomans who were witnesses for Jones.

One of these, O. A. Jones, father of "Son" Jones, was tried on the perjury charge this week. An instructed verdict found him not guilty. The others have not been tried yet.

Parrish successfully avoided capture until the latter part of September, when he was apprehended at Moore, Okla. The sheriff's force brought him to Wheeler, where he was lodged in jail to await trial.

This case apparently concludes the January robbery of the Allison bank.

That institution was the victim of hijackers a second time, when on July 10, two men held up bank officials and escaped with a small sum of money. During the pursuit by Hemphill county officers, both bandits were slain in a running fight, during which a number of shots were exchanged. The officers were unharmed.

More Boys May Enter CCC Camps

A chance for more Wheeler county boys to be enrolled in CCC camps is seen in the announcement received this week by W. Veale, relief administrator of Wheeler county from Neal Guy, state supervisor of CCC work, asking a check of eligible men.

The number of men eligible in this county must be in by Dec. 10, so that allotments may be made and enrollment started the last of January, Veale is told. Any boys who wish to enroll therefore are asked to see Veale at once.

Eligible youths are those, from the ages of 18 to 24, whose families are now on the relief rolls of the county, or who might become relief clients in the future without the aid the boy might give them. The largest allotment will be given the counties where there is the greatest need, and youths are urged to see the administrator at once in order to have the list from this county as complete as possible.

Wheeler county now has seven men enrolled in CCC camps. They are: Carl Giddens, Allison; Ray Conner and Gardner Vernon, Wheeler; Hogan Gorman, Shamrock; J. D. Vanlandingham and Loren Hanna, Lela; I. J. Miller, McLean Route.

SUPERVISOR ASKS PRODUCTS BE LISTED FOR CANNING

Mrs. C. B. Witt, county supervisor of canning plants, stated Tuesday that all who have products which they wish canned in either the plant at Wheeler or Shamrock are requested to list the material at the earliest possible date. This information will enable the relief cannery officials to make their plans and arrange to handle the work to the best advantage.

Unless supplies for canning are available very soon, it is probable that one or both plants will close, either temporarily or permanently.

MOBEETIE LADY DIED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. M. L. Williams, who lived on a farm three miles southeast of Mobeetie, passed away at her home Tuesday afternoon, following an extended illness. Cancer is given as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Williams, whose maiden name was McCluskey, was married eight years ago to M. L. Williams. Four children of the union survive; an infant born Oct. 19, passing away a few days later.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and had many friends who sympathized with her during the long illness.

Funeral services were held from the Baptist church in Mobeetie Wednesday afternoon, with Rev. G. T. Keever, Methodist pastor, in charge. Interment was made in the Mobeetie cemetery.

Bankhead Cotton Act Referendum Discussed

Special Agent Enumerates Details of Vote to Be Held Some Time in December

"County committees of the Cotton Production Control association will be in charge of the Bankhead Act referendum to determine whether or not the provisions of the Bankhead Act will be continued for the crop year 1935-36," according to A. L. Smith, special agent in cotton for the extension service. "The referendum will be held in December on a day to be announced later.

"The central question involved is whether farmers feel that the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency or whether they want the mechanism afforded in the Bankhead Act as a supplementary control," Smith said.

Provisions of the act permit its continuance if two-thirds of those who have the legal equitable right to produce cotton favor its continuation, and if the president finds that the emergency in cotton production will continue to exist.

"An eligible voter, as defined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration," Smith said, "is any person who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract, or anyone who is or was eligible to receive tax exemption certificates in 1934. Any other person is eligible who can present proof that he owns and has a right to produce cotton on a cotton farm or that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 by entering into a lease or share cropping agreement."

In case ownership and the right to produce cotton on a cotton farm are held jointly by two or more persons, all such persons are entitled to vote. The term "cotton farm" means any farm on which cotton has been produced commercially one or more years since 1927. Individuals who are in doubt about their eligibility to vote can obtain information from the community committee which will have a list of eligible voters.

H. M. Breedlove, in charge of cotton control work here, stated Wednesday that no information setting a date for the referendum had been received at the county agent's office.

NEWSPAPER WELCOME

Did you ever stop to think that people read newspapers because they want them? The newspaper is not forced on anyone. People pay for it regularly. Whole families await it eagerly and quarrel good-naturedly over it. The newspaper is a definite part of the family. That is why its sales force is immeasurable. Door-to-door handbills are an intrusion upon the privacy of the home, but the newspaper is invited in. Its messages are read avidly and its advertisements are considered a part of these messages. The newspaper is so definitely a part of the people, so much an accepted member of the family, that its pages constitute the finest advertising medium yet devised.

TURNER WINS LETTER IN COAST FOOTBALL

Jack Turner, former Wheeler high school football star, was one of the 27 members of the San Diego State college freshman football team named by Coach Charles Smith as lettermen for the 1934 season. This is according to a special from the college news bureau.

Turner enrolled at San Diego State after the season was under way, but in a short time worked his way up to the first string center position, where he completed the season. Weighing 175 pounds and standing over six feet, he was especially strong in backing up the line and is looked upon as good varsity material for next year.

The Aztec freshmen recently completed the most successful fresh football season in the history of the college. They defeated San Diego high, 13 to 7; Oceanside J. C., 43 to 0; Brawley J. C., 18 to 0 and Yuma, Ariz., high school, 20 to 7, and lost only to the undefeated Black-Foxe Military academy eleven of Los Angeles, 8 to 0.

East Road Extension Practically Assured

Approval of More Hard-Surfacing as Work Relief Project Appears Certain

While up to today, county authorities had not received official notice of approval for the project, it is believed certain that further improvements will be started soon on Highway 152, east from Wheeler, under a work relief set-up.

It is understood that the Texas Relief commission and the state highway department agencies have proposed to grant further aid for additional improvements on this highway, which it is expected will eventually reach the state line, provided the county will furnish the clear right-of-way. The offer has been eagerly accepted and interested parties in Wheeler and throughout the area have been busy obtaining title to the necessary right-of-way. The commissioners court, especially Judge McMurtry and Commissioner Whitener, through whose district the road runs, have been active in behalf of more improved mileage.

Efforts along this line have met with success to the extent that title has been obtained from all affected landowners, except one non-resident, for a four-mile stretch. However, work of securing right-of-way for the entire distance to the state line is being pushed.

Several reasons exist for pushing the project.

Perhaps the most cogent ones are the need for such improvement; the low cost to the county, and the desire for it that residents in the eastern part of the county have shown since completion of the 5.2 mile section, which was opened to traffic on Oct. 17. To supply work for those wanting means to provide for themselves and family is another excellent reason for pushing the project at this particular time. It has been said that a number of men will be able to find work on the highway who might otherwise have to apply for direct relief.

That the money is available for Wheeler county—if it will comply with the modest demands noted above—and might be diverted to other counties if advantage is not taken of the opportunity, is another good reason for early compliance and full co-operation.

If the project goes through as now planned, practically all labor will be supplied through the relief office. That the work may start soon is indicated by the opinion of a county official, who said Tuesday that approval was expected very soon and if given without too much delay, operations on the four-mile section might start before Christmas.

Closed Cotton Pool Wednesday

After an extension of time from Saturday evening, the original closing date for the cotton pool, until Wednesday evening of this week, the national pool for tax exempt cotton certificates is considered definitely closed.

Figures in the county agent's office show that 6,464,886 pounds of lint were pooled by holders of surplus certificates in Wheeler county. Some 2,802 trust agreements were involved.

WEST TEXAS COLLEGE EXES IN MEET HERE LAST WEEK

A meeting of the Wheeler county ex-students of West Texas State Teachers college was held at the Legion hall in Wheeler last Thursday night. Miss Viola Jones was in charge of the program.

Included on the social program was a number of lively events. Dancing the Virginia reel proved to be the high spot of the evening. Charades and puzzle games afforded entertainment. Miss Jones and Mrs. C. B. Witt presented a Spanish dance number, and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore gave a reading.

M. W. Graves, chairman of the club, presided during a short business session.

The next meeting will be held in Mobeetie on Thursday evening, Dec. 13. All ex-students of W. T. S. T. C. are invited to attend the meeting and enroll as members of the organization.

Jones, Center, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Witt, Miss Viola Jones and Mrs. Lula Mae Farley, Wheeler.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS

W. A. Davis, state registrar of vital statistics, who has had the lead in the tremendous job of getting Texas birth records sufficiently complete as to have it recognized by the national authorities, declares that public health is purchasable within certain limits. He asks why is it that there are three times as many deaths from typhoid fever in Texas per 100,000 people as there are in any other state, and

"Why is it that the death rate from diphtheria in Texas is three times that in the Union, and the death rate from measles four times the national death rate?"

"Why is it that when 10 children die in the United States from diarrhea and enteritis, there are 31 who die in Texas from that same disease?"

"Why is it that when two women die of childbed fever in the nation, more than five die in Texas from the same condition?"

To which he gives the partial answer: To protect the health of the citizen the state spends $2; to take care of the game, fish and oysters, $3; to protect cattle and agriculture $5; and to prevent crime and protect property, $8.

Until a different set of values is set up the death rate in the state of Texas will continue to show these unfavorable figures, Registrar Davis concludes. His arguments appear reasonable.

WHERE DO JOBS COME FROM?

In a recent newspaper article, Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy and a noted author, pointed out that there are only two sources of jobs and payrolls:

One source is government. The other is industry.

Jobs can be provided by government in but two ways. Either all businesses must be nationalized and operated by a bureaucracy, or government must continually borrow more money, raising taxes all the while, in order to put idle people to work.

Under the first, government will inevitably become communistic in principle. The worker is a tool of the state—he lives solely to advance the interest of the political ruling class. He is regarded as a machine, to be worked as cheaply as possible until he wears out—and then he is thrown into a human scrap heap.

Under the second, all may be merry for a while—until government's source of credit dries up. It becomes impossible to raise more money through taxes—businesses and individuals have already been bled white. Obligations cannot be met—and government goes into bankruptcy.

One of these plans must inevitably be followed if we depend upon government to permanently provide us with work and livelihood. But it seems impossible that the American

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT?

The Advance Press of Springfield, Minnesota, recently asked its readers this question: "What do you expect from your newspaper?"—and answered it as follows:

Well, you expect more from your newspaper than you do from any other person or institution to which you pay the sum of 2 cents per week.

You expect your newspaper to give you all the news for every day in the year—that's why you pay for it; but

You expect your newspaper to take the lead in advocating changes for the betterment of the community.

You expect your newspaper to expose graft in public affairs, to forestall it by publishing itemized accounts of all public moneys spent.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of morality, supporting things that are right and condemning things that are wrong.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of enterprise, devoting column after column of propaganda, supporting the band, the baseball team, community celebrations, Boy Scouts, high school athletics, school programs, home talent plays and dozens of causes and events.

You expect your newspaper to boost for good roads and protect your community's claim for its share of road improvements.

You expect your newspaper to build confidence in your home financial institutions and protect home investors from making unwise investments in surplus funds, warning against fake salesmen and other financial pirates.

You expect your newspaper to give notice of all public meetings; public observances, conventions, etc.

You expect your newspaper to urge support of poor relief benefits, library drives, Red Cross drives, Christmas seal drives, legion and auxiliary drives, poppy sales, forget-me-not sales, have-a-heart drives, etc.

You expect your newspaper to publish church notices, church programs, club news, farm bureau information, demonstration unit news, and cover all doings of the many semi-public organizations.

And you expect all this for 2 cents per week.

No, it can't be done for that. The money you as a subscriber pay for the newspaper covers less than one-eighth the cost of publishing the paper.

Since advertisers pay a large share of the expense of publishing your newspaper, don't you think you owe them the duty to patronize them whenever they offer you equal or better values than non-advertisers?

But, in addition to the many services which the newspaper is able to give you, you have an outstanding buying advantage when you study the NEWSPAPER ads before going on a buying trip. The ads point out money-saving values. Articles and services are naturally outstanding WHEN ADVERTISED. No advertiser cares to invest money in telling you about unattractive buys. His advertising carries the VALUES that will bring you to him, to make pleased and steady customers.

NEWSPAPER readers, NEWSPAPER advertisers and the NEWSPAPER itself are closely linked together in helping one another and in helping the community—and all profit thereby.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

Word has been received by Jett McMurtry, county drouth director, that the government will buy cattle in Roberts county Dec. 13, 14 and 15. Further instructions from headquarters are expected this week and the cattlemen will be informed in ample time of any special arrangements necessary. Already more than 500 head have been offered for sale in this county.—Miami Chief.

The tuberculosis test work for Hemphill county will begin Monday, Nov. 26, with seven veterinarians here to do the work and seven local men assisting, according to H. M. Cantrell, county agent. Hemphill county will be divided into sections and each veterinarian and assistant will work one section. Ten per cent of the mature cows of the ranch herds or beef cattle will be tested and all the bulls. Also all dairy cattle, that is all cows of dairies and all cows being milked by ranchmen or farmers.—Canadian Record.

A. Monroe, supervisor in Donley, Hall and Collingsworth counties in the rural rehabilitation work, was in the city last week working on the plans to rehabilitate Donley relief clients. While here he appointed a committee who will work with him in passing upon the ones to be rehabilitated.—Clarendon News.

Monroe, mentioned above, is a Wheeler county man and was a candidate for county judge in the late election.

We are indeed living in a fast age. Last week A. L. Nowlin and Judge Edward Brown left Wellington at 12:30 in the afternoon, went to Wheeler, where they heard two divorce cases and settled a case for Nowlin. Leaving the court they traded off a farm while in a restaurant, talked with several friends and got back to Wellington by 4 o'clock.—and we never did get in a hurry, either.—the pair stated.—Wellington Leader.

John H. Walker, jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker of Borger, has obtained a position in the AAA department at Washington, D. C. He formerly lived in Panhandle and graduated from Panhandle high school in May, 1929. Last January John accepted a position as a senior clerk with the Texas Railroad commission at Austin, and was advanced until he became the head of the statistical department of the commission. He takes up the duties of his position in Washington this week.—Panhandle Herald.

"Burning Up Boyhood"

By DR. JAMES E. WEST
Chief Scout Executive, Boy Scouts of America

I wish it were possible for every boy in America to read the thought-provoking article entitled "Burning Up Boyhood," by Lawson Robertson, trainer and coach of the University of Pennsylvania and American Olympic teams, as it appeared in the Feb. 24, 1934, issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

Of the nearly 9,500,000 boys in their teen years in our country, nearly 3,000,000 of them, ranging in age from 12 to 17, inclusive, will this fall be face to face with the problem as to what their relationship will be to the physical education and athletic program of the high school or preparatory school of which they are a part. Possibly another 500,000 ranging in age from 17 to 19, will have to face this problem in making up their program for their college work. I wish it were in my power not only to have this article thoroughly read, but also made the subject of discussion with the parents of each of these boys. Yes, even more to the point, the subject of a discussion in the schools and colleges, among the coaches and the directors of physical education.

GRADUATED TRAINING
The article offers opportunity for discussion and some difference of opinion, but its warnings are not amiss.

Coach Robertson says, among other things:

"I am continually getting athletes who have won high honors in scholastic competition who fail to come up to expectations when they get into college. Usually I find they have been burned out by too much competition at an immature age; and the only cure for that is no competition and a graduated system of physical training that will build up the heart action, endurance and vital strength that have been torn down."

Again, he says:
"To attain proper physical condition for any test, be it the test of life or the test of athletic competition, the important thing in any individual case is to determine the dividing line between the amount of exercise that is good for you and the amount that is too much. And in the majority of cases this happens to be an extremely thin line."

The responsibility of determining the dividing line between the amount of exercise that is good for one and the amount that is too much is a personal and individual one. The leadership in our schools and colleges is for the most part of very high grade, but even though everyone connected with the physical education and athletic activities of the school and college do all within their power, it would be impossible to deal with this subject adequately.

From time to time I have advocated the importance, and indeed the necessity of every boy, whether he is a Scout or not, taking steps through a thorough-going health and physical examination, to know exactly about his own physical condition. He should know his limitations and his resources, and he should plan his program of physical exercise so as to build himself up, and not run the risk of burning himself out.

Coach Robertson in his article

very thoroughly establishes that it is not necessary for one in his early years to overdo in order to develop into championship material. He gives many striking illustrations including that of Jim Thorpe, who in 1912 established himself as one of the greatest all-around athletes the world has ever known.

Some boys are unduly alarmed because of this or that physical disability which has been revealed by chance or is the result of a thorough-going health examination. Medical authorities as well as the leaders in the field of physical education and athletics have, happily, abundant evidence to prove that there is rarely any case where a boy cannot be helped in participating in physical exercises of some kind. The important thing is to know what kind of exercise and to what extent it should be followed.

Every boy should have his own individual health program based upon definite knowledge of his own peculiar physical resources and liabilities, as revealed by a thorough physical examination from time to time. To help boys plan and carry through such a program, Dr. C. Ward Crampton contributes a splendid article each month in Boys' Life. Every boy should read and study each article, file it carefully for future reference, and follow through the health rules that Dr. Crampton gives with the co-operation of his family physician and the leadership in physical education in his school whenever available.

Find out the facts in your case. Have a physical check-up once or twice a year and follow the simple rules that will make and keep you physically fit. That is the best possible preparation for athletic distinction and for a life of health, happiness and service.

SAGE BLOOMS

Chicago, Illinois, August 5, 1835

Dear Cousin Sarah,
Sarah, I had a most unusual experience today. I rode on a train, run by steam for the first time. Father and mother were very opposed to it but I went anyway, because John Cooper was my escort. My parents believed that the train would upset, or blowup and that I would be scalded to death, or that some dreadful accident would happen. I will admit I screamed when a cow was standing on the track; however, we didn't run into the cow. Imagine! We were going at the rate of 20 miles an hour. I nearly fainted when I found it out. Just the same I am very glad I had the experience of riding on the train.

The train I rode on was the Salena and Chicago Union Railroad line. This railroad runs from Chicago to the Des Plaines River, a distance of ten miles. The train consisted of a second-hand engine, two second-hand passenger cars and six freight cars. The most disagreeable part of the trip was the bawling of the cows in the freight cars.

The people laughed and hurrahed us all along the track. But I won't forget one amusing incident in a long time. We were riding by a group of people and one man was sitting on the top of his buggy shouting, "Look at the horseless carriage. When are we going to see some fireworks?" As we got nearer to the group of people, the man's horse became frightened and started to run away. The man being up on top of the buggy, lost his balance and rolled off in the dirt as the horse ran on its way. As the man was dusting himself, a man on the train hollered, "Sir, if my eyes don't deceive me, we saw some fireworks." Much to the embarrassment of the man, we all laughed heartily.

I hope you'll try riding on a train soon, because I think you'll enjoy the thrill. I want you to tell me all about it when you do.

Please write to me as often as you can.

Your loving cousin,
BEATRICE MILLER, English II.

SENIOR PICTURES DELAYED

A representative from the Marquette studios at Enid, Okla., was here Friday of last week for the purpose of making the senior pictures. Since there were only a few of the seniors ready to have their pictures made, it was decided to postpone the work until after Christmas. Most of the seniors stated that it would be more convenient for them at that time.

Modernistic sinks, cabinets, gas ranges and electric refrigerators were made of cardboard and placed in the kitchens. The rooms were equipped with curtains that were very skillfully color-schemed with the ornaments in the room.

Successful Football Season Ended for '34

Local Team Wins Second Place In District, Finishing Season With 6 Victories and 4 Defeats

By CARLISLE ROBISON Sports Editor

Well, it is all over but the cheers or the boos, whichever the case may be. The football season for 1934 is history. The boys turned in their suits last week.

The Mustangs had somewhat of a successful season this year. They finished with six victories and four defeats, and won second place in the district.

The team was made up of mostly first year men. Some of them had never seen a football game before. With this material Coach Bob Clark turned out a fine team.

The first game the Mustangs played was a tough one. Not knowing what it was to be in a real game, the Mustangs were a little scared and of course did not play as well as expected. This game they lost by a score of 6 to 0 to the Miami Warriors. They then met two strong teams, Shamrock and Erick, and lost both games. In these games the Mustangs showed a big improvement over their first game.

They then met Mobeettie, whom they defeated 6 to 0 in a hard fought game. Meeting the White Deer bunch on the home field, the Mustangs again proved themselves capable of playing football and won by a score of 13 to 7. The Pampa Gorrillas came next. The Mustangs, thinking they had an easy victory, were defeated 19 to 13. At Canadian, the scene of the next battle, they played their best game of the year and romped over the Wildcats to the tune of 19 to 0.

Pampa, Kelton and Texola were the following foes of the Mustangs. Pampa was defeated by a score of 12 to 7. Kelton fell by a score of 12 to 0. The Mustangs wound up their season by defeating Texola 28 to 0.

Due to the lack of reserve strength, the main string played most of the time. Those who played enough to letter are: Curtis Weeks, Ford Newkirk, Derwood Lewis, Charles Hix, Clifford Tillman, O. D. Conner, Cecil Sherwood, Lowery Deering, Carlisle Robison, Jack Tate, Alton Weeks, H. E. Young and Mack Shirley. If these boys expect to get their sweaters they will have to pass three subjects the first semester. This is a ruling made by the district committee.

Boys lost from the team for next year are Carlisle Robison, Derwood Lewis and Charles Hix. A number of games are being scheduled for the coming year. Wellington is now on the schedule for next year.

Sport Slants

By a Mustang

Volley ball practice has been discontinued for a while so more time can be spent on basketball. Those reporting for practice are, Bonnie Adams, Margie Bowers, Lorene Clay, Beatrice Miller, Mazie Bean, Dorothy Burgess, Morene Clay, Mary Bell Johnson, Martha Jane Shipman, Laney Mae Tillman, Capitola Wilson, Nerine Young, Zinna Mae Holley, Wilma and Julia Lou Tinney.

The Amarillo-Pampa football game Thanksgiving has caused quite a lot of interest among the students. Several plan to attend this game.

Coach Clark says that everyone that expects to play football next year should study and pass so he will be eligible to play. Every boy should try to do this. Coach also wants every boy who can and will, to report for practice next year. It takes plenty of material to make a winning team.

Basketball practice for boys will begin Dec. 3. The first game will be at Lefors, Dec. 14.

Due to the fact that there is no gymnasium in Wheeler, there will not be any basketball games at home this year.

If there is anything that Wheeler needs more than a gymnasium, I don't know what it is. If everyone would pay his school taxes this could be accomplished. Some people wonder why other schools are able to build a gymnasium. It is because the people in that town pay their taxes. The people of Wheeler should try to turn in delinquent taxes so that Wheeler can build a gymnasium.

PLEASE BE ON TIME

"A dollar, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar," seems to fit half of the high school students. Any time after 8:45 in the morning and 1:00 in the afternoon they drift into the study hall or classes, interrupting everyone.

There were 682 tardies marked up against students this six weeks. In a school term of six weeks there would at this rate be 4,092 tardies. There is at this rate 2,046 school days wasted for the whole school.

Besides taking up time of the teachers and other students as he (the tardy student) comes in, he misses valuable classroom instructions and assignments. In short, tardiness is an evil to the school and a bother to teachers.

If you have difficulty in getting to school on time why not get out of bed earlier? Tardiness can be made a habit and like all habits it will gradually dominate you. In later life you should be punctual in keeping business engagements. School is a good place to start.—T.C.

A great improvement in the grades of this six weeks has been made over the grades of last six weeks.

Winter is too slow for the sixth graders. They left Tuesday on a journey to Alaska. Their problem was to answer the question, "Did Seward buy an ice box when he bought Alaska?"

"We are making a scrap book for C. W. May to furnish him amusement and school news until he is able to be with us again," said Miss Ruth Ewing speaking of sixth grade class.

During the past two weeks eleven books and $1.48 has been donated to the fifth grade library by the fifth grade boys and girls. Mrs. G. O. McCrohan is planning on buying more books with the money which has been donated.

The third grade English class is making fables this week. "There has been some real talent shown in composing these short stories," said Mrs. Lloyd Davidson. The stories which they were writing about the Pilgrims are finished.

Charlie: "Old Eagle Eye?"

Uncle Aleck: "Shore. That's what I call that Aunt Fanny woman. I tell ye she's got a mean look in her eyeballs."

That is a part from the senior play to be presented soon. Charlie and Uncle Aleck are fresh from Arkansas and have come to live with Larry Elliot in St. Louis, Mo. Aunt Fanny is the widowed aunt of Larry.

In addition there are seven more characters that make "Here Comes Charlie" a standard entertainment. Since everyone of them has had some experience at acting, the class feels the play will go over.

"Come to this rollicking fun-for-all comedy," urges Miss Winona Adams.

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County

Thursday, Nov. 22, the Bethel Home Demonstration club held its achievement program at the home of Mrs. W. G. Copeland, pantry demonstrator.

When the judge, Mrs. Jimmie Mitchener, viewed this pantry last week, Mrs. Copeland reported that her budget card called for 1,066 quarts of food for her family of seven. However, she has succeeded in canning 1,250 quarts. In telling the story of her accomplishment to the club members she said:

"When I undertook the demonstration in the spring I thought I had a task; but I did not realize what a great task it really was until the dry hot winds parched the tender plants in my garden and vanished the only hopes that I had. But if one tries hard enough he can accomplish something, even if it is not just the goal that he has set.

"By selling cream I was able to buy peaches, apples, pears, 100 pounds of sugar and nine dozen jars. I gathered wild grapes and plums at the river to can. I also helped my neighbors can and they gave me in exchange peas, beans and berries. I was so busy canning that I did not fix my cellar until just the last minute. There were no shelves in my pantry so I stacked my fruit in boxes that took so much room in the cellar that I could hardly get around in there to get what I wanted. It was a very dark place too. I first cleaned out all the dirt and trash that had accumulated. Then my husband built me 160 feet of shelving and I whitewashed this, which makes it much lighter. I have 96 varieties of canned goods on my shelves and I have stored in my pantry, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, pie melons, watermelons, dried peas, corn meal, sorghum syrup, yeast cakes and six kinds of garden seed.

"I have on my emergency shelf enough food to prepare several quick meals. I have salmon, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, lard, eggs, salt, sugar, vinegar and carrots, besides several different varieties of canned goods."

When we see the accomplishment ourselves we can understand why Mrs. Copeland said:

"I can truly say that I am proud of my pantry. When I look at it I feel that my efforts were really worth while after all."

Mary Garner, a member of the Allison 4-H club, has canned altogether 641 quarts of twenty varieties of food this year. She has canned 50 quarts of tomatoes, 28 quarts of beets, 15 quarts cucumber pickles, 25 quarts kraut, 20 quarts turnip greens, 58 quarts plum butter, 20 quarts jelly, 20 quarts plum preserves, 40 quarts peach butter, 13 quarts grape juice, 120 quarts peaches, 34 quarts mince meat, 50 quarts peas, 50 quarts beans, 10 quarts turnip and mustard greens, 10 quarts chicken, 30 quarts steak, 8 quarts sausage, 30 quarts pork roast and 10 quarts ham.

She has made one apron, six kitchen towels, six wash dresses, one child's dress, two dresser scarfs, three quilts, two pair of pillow cases, one lunch cloth and napkins, and renovated one garment.

Mary writes in her club history: "I was awarded the free trip from my club to short course this year. I attended the encampment and have helped seven non-club members. After valuing my sewing and canning I find that by being a club member this year I have saved $179.25."

The Ramsdell Home Demonstration club accomplished several goals at its achievement day, Nov. 15.

The members met at the home of Mrs. M. P. Powell at 10 o'clock in the morning and quilted a quilt until 12, when they were served a covered dish luncheon. Directly after lunch the club held its regular business meeting and several of the members gave the little play, "Not a Man in the House."

Previously the club decided that on each meeting day they would give those members a shower whose birthdays occurred in that month. Mrs. Ben Brown was given a shower at the meeting. She received many useful homemade gifts.

The most important event of the day was the demonstration of her pantry, given by Mrs. Powell. On the shelves were 374 quarts of vegetables, fruits, jelly, preserves, meat, chicken, kraut, corn and relishes. Mrs. Powell states that this will be enough canned foods to furnish her family for one year, even though it seemed at first that there would be no pantry at all.

The Wheeler Home Demonstration club held its achievement day in the home of Mrs. O. B. Miller, pantry demonstrator at Wheeler, Wednesday, Nov. 7.

After the regular business meeting the members listened to Mrs. Miller tell the story of her pantry and then went in groups to see it.

On the shelves, decorated with yellow crepe paper, are over 500 quarts of canned foods. There are cans of roast beef, English peas, Irish potatoes, meat loaf, chicken, chili, tomato butter, tomato pickles, soup stock, pickled watermelon rind, pimentos, bread and butter pickles, pumpkin, hot peppers, mince meat, apricot butter, apple jelly, cherry preserves, pear preserves, apple preserves, apple, grape, berry, cherry and peach juices, tomato relish, green tomato chow-chow, plain tomatoes, beet pickles, tame grapes, peach preserves, tame and wild plums, apples, peaches for pies, peaches, apricots, mustard and turnip greens, string beans, berries and cherries, sweet peach pickle, crowder peas, cream peas, butter beans, cucumber pickles, and Indian peach pickles.

There are also stored products in the pantry, such as home grown Irish potatoes, dried peaches, fresh tomatoes, sweet potatoes, dry pinto and butter beans, eggs, dried pepper, pumpkin, fresh beets and radishes, sugar, salt and lard.

On the emergency shelf in her house, Mrs. Miller has canned meats, spaghetti, vinegar, onions, rice, corn meal, spices, salt and other necessities.

Allison Club Notes

The Allison Home Demonstration club met Nov. 13, in the home of Mrs. Maude Keiper for its achievement day program and to inspect the pantry of Mrs. Keiper.

The program was as follows: House called to order, club president; song by club, Nell Ball, leader; club prayer; roll call, by secretary; report on years work, Anabel Abernathy; piano selection, Irene Martin; introductions, Viola Jones; reading, Lee Fern Simpson; pantry history, Maude Keiper.

After the program, guests inspected the pantry.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. W. B. Wileman and Mrs. C. A. Copeland presiding at the tea table. There were approximately 100 guests registered.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. Marion Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Blanch Hopkins, Gem; Sadie Lee Oliver, Mrs. Ralph Freeman and Clara Forrest, Canadian; Agnes V. Johnson, Laura Thomas, Mrs. Sam Standlee, Mrs. C. E. Parker, Mrs. Clarence Zybach, John Zybach and Anna Zybach, Briscoe; Mrs. C. J. CERTAIN ELECTRIC SHOCK VICTIMS MAY BE REVIVED

Three Kinds of Death Enumerated—Only One is Admitted as Irrevocable

Owing to the fact that any kind of electric shock is considered fatal by the general public, the following article is reproduced in the hopes that it may save some unfortunate victim who could be restored by proper methods. I. L. Boaz, manager of the Panhandle Power & Light company office here, called attention to the educational value of the story.

Two treatments promising to bring back from death the majority of persons accidentally electrocuted were recently described by Prof. W. B. Kouwenhoven of Johns Hopkins university before the New York Electrical society.

They are based on experiments revealing three kinds of death from electric shock—only one of which is irrevocable. In the other two types, Dr. Kouwenhoven said, "death is only apparent," and these make the majority of accidental electrocutions.

The two treatments are based upon seven years experiments at Johns Hopkins, jointly by the electrical engineering, the medical and the hygiene departments.

The electrocution for which there is no remedy comes when the current flows directly through the nerves and brain, destroying nerve cells.

The form of shock death, which at first is only apparent, affects the lungs, when, for example, contact is made at two points on the same arm or leg, no current reaches the brain. But the nerves themselves set up a series of stimuli of their own. These reach the brain and block the regular nerve dispatching system.

Then the brain may cease sending its automatic signals to the lungs. Breathing thereupon stops. Upsets of this sort, Dr. Kouwenhoven said, have been clearly demonstrated in experiments.

Artificial respiration, if prompt enough, brings such persons back to life.

The third form of electric death which is only apparent affects the heart, experiments have shown. Dr. Kouwenhoven said, that a usual harmless current of only one-tenth of an ampere, when flowing between hands and feet, may produce this heart death.

In traversing this route the electricity passes through the heart and upsets the rhythmic beating of the left ventricle, the chamber which pumps blood into the arteries.

The technical name for this is fibrillation. The heart is not dead in the least, but the muscle fibres don't work together and the effect is to bring on quick death. Such a heart can be put back into stride by proper medical treatment.

One emergency method of restoring the heart pace described by Dr. Kouwenhoven is the "counter shock." This is use of a large current, carrying a shock so heavy that it completely stops all heart movement, even fibrillation.

After such a shock the heart is likely to resume synchronized beating. This was tried, he said, on animals. Their hearts were thrown into fibrillation by currents of seven to 10 milliamperes. They remained so "for a period of time." Then the countershock brought them back from apparent death.

Mrs. Roy Puckett and Miss Jaunita Maloy made a trip Tuesday to Shamrock.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fisher and Miss Thelma Gill spent the week end in Miami at the A. W. Gill home.

Harry Wofford and sister, Mrs. Inez Garrison, attended a family reunion at Stillwater, Okla., Sunday.

Magic, mystery, superstition and quackery comprised the stock-in-trade of the Indian "medicine man." His cures, if any, were accidents. He knew nothing of the causes of disease, and cared less. His "medicine" was his power over the unlearned minds of his followers.

Today, superstition and quackery has given way to science. The progress that has been made during the past few decades in the science of medicine inspires the whole of mankind to thankfulness and admiration of those devoted men of science whom we call Our Doctors, and whose unceasing labors in the interest of humanity have established exact knowledge of the causes of diseases and of their cure.
