Bankhead Vote Date Is Friday, Dec. 14th

Approval by Two-Thirds of Cotton Producers Will Retain Act for Another Year

According to a news story issued by the extension service of Texas A. & M. college, Friday, Dec. 14, has been set as the date for the Bankhead referendum throughout the cotton producing states by the Agricultural Adjustment administration. County Agent Jake Tarter also advises that this is the correct date.

The College Station article fol-

At this time eligible voters will be asked: "Are you in favor of continuing the Bankhead Act for next year (June 1, 1935 to May 31, 1936)?" An eligible voter is defined in the act as a "person who has the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, share-cropper, or otherwise to produce cotton on any cotton farm, or part thereof, in the United States for the crop year 1935-36."

According to that, any person is eligible who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract as well as any person who is or was eligible for tax exemption certificates in 1934. Any other person is eligible who presents proof that he owns and has a present right to produce cotton on a cotton farm, or any person who signs and files a witnessed statement that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 by entering into a lease or share-cropping agreement.

If ownership and the right to produce cotton on a cotton farm are held jointly by two or more persons, all such persons are entitled to vote. The term "cotton farm" means any farm on which cotton has been produced commercially one or more years since 1927. Individuals who are in doubt about their eligibility to vote can obtain information from the community committee which will have a list of eligible voters.

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, defines the impartial attitude of the Adjustment Administration in a statement that will be given each voter with his ballot. This statement urges cotton farmers to "examine carefully all the facts and reach a decision based upon considered judgment as to whether the Bankhead Act is needed to assure attainment of the objectives of the cotton adjustment program."

"Cotton farmers," a portion of the statement reads. "must decide whether, in their opinion, the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency. Will the efforts of a small minority of non-co-operators, the tendency toward more intensive cultivation, and the possibility of new lands coming into cotton production combine to increase total production above the point which seems desirable? That, it ap- Two Gins Turn Out 675 Bales to pears, is the central question involved in a decision on continuing the Bankhead Act for next year.' The secretary emphasizes in his statement that the administration is not seeking to impose its views upon the producers and that "it is for the cotton farmers to choose.'

The referendum is provided for in the Bankhead Act itself. If twothirds of those who have the legal right to produce cotton favor the continuation of the Bankhead Act, and if the president finds and proclaims that the economic emergency in cotton production and marketing exist, the provisions of the act will be extended to cover the period of the crop year 1935-36.

Local Cotton Ginnings Below 1/4 of Last Year

Dec. 1-3,057 to Same Date Year Ago

Inquiry at the two cotton gins in Wheeler on Wednesday revealed that 675 bales of cotton had been ginned up to Dec. 1 of the present season. To the same date last year, 3.057 lales had been turned out.

From estimates made by P. L. Ramsey at the Farmers New Deal Gin, and J. W. Hooker at the Farmers Gin, approximately 150 bales more is expected for 1934. For the season of 1933, a grand total of 3,960 bales were ginned in Wheeler.

Comparison of figures show, therefore, that both at the present time and adding the expected balance yet to come, production in this community will fall below 25 per cent of the 1933 season. What with the cotton reduction program in effect and a decidedly unfavorable season, Wheeler county is exceedingly low on cotton produc-

Winners In Farm Food Supply Contest Named

Mrs. Keiper, Allison, 1st; Mrs. King, Twitty, 2nd; Mrs. Barker of Davis, 3rd Place

Mrs. Maud Keiper of the Allison Home Demonstration club, is announced as first prize winner in the Farm Food Supply contest ending Friday, Nov. 30. Mrs. Glen King of the Twitty Home Demonstration club, wins second place; Mrs. Roxie Barker of the Davis Home Demonstration club, third place, and Mrs. J. C. Tinsley of the Shamrock Demonstration club, and Mrs. Clyde Worley of the Kelton Demonstration club, both have pantries which deserve honorable mention.

In the food preservation contest for the girls, Exie Creekmore of the Wheeler 4-H club, won first place; Ollie Marie Erskine, demonstrator for the Plainview 4-H club, second, Nellie B. Candler of the Briscoe 4-H club, third, and Loraine Brown of the Dixon 4-H club, fourth.

The 4-H and food preservation contest began Sept. 1st. Each contestant began planning her budget, studying food principles, making recipe files, planning menus, and providing means whereby an adequate diet would be available for the year. The object of the contest was not to see who could can the most quarts of food, but the higher quality, wider variety, and the size and number of containers best suited to her family. The stored products are as important as canned foods.

Miss Viola Jones, county home demonstrator, states that she is well pleased with the results that have been accomplished in food preservation work in the county this year, for regardless of the drouth, all demonstrators have good pantries and many co-operators families will e well fed.

The following are sketches from the stories of the winning demon-

"I have 923 containers of 266 varieties of food on my pantry shelves." Mrs. Maud Keiper told her 98 guests when she had her achievement day program, Nov. 13. Mrs. Keiper is farm food supply demonstrator for the Allison Home Demonstration club. Mrs. Keiper continued: "When I was appointed pantry demonstrator for our club, I began at once to plan how I would go about carrying out the work. I had felt, when I saw other demonstrators with their well filled pantries, that it was worthwhile work, but that I had always provided everything possible toward feeding the family. After I really studied the matter over. I realized that I had fallen far short of what I might have done, and that even in times of depression and drouth, the family must still eat. On the housewife rests the responsibility of seeing that such food is furnished as will contribute to our mental and physical well being.

"The first necessity of a farm food supply is an adequate supply of

"To the Citizens of Wheeler and Wheeler County:

"This is to advise the public at large that the recent outbreak of influenza is not accompanied by cerebro spinal meningitis, or what s better known as "spotted fever." The present outbreak has no connection with it at all, since influenza is caused by the Pfeiffer bacillus and cerebro spinal fever is caused in diplococcus meningitidis.

Six Members Baker Family Die In Week

Influenza and Complications Bring Death to Home in Nearby Community

During the past few days, death has made the sixth visit to the A. J. Baker family, living two and a half miles northeast of Wheeler. Influenza, followed by complications which included a form of meningitis, is given as the cause of the deaths. The malady appears to have developed locally from infection spread by illness contracted in Oklahoma by Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Baker, whose year-old daughter died on Nov. 4. Hoyt and the remaining members of his family were brought to the home of his father, A. J. Baker.

The deaths thus far include:

Melton Baker, 14, son of A. J. Baker, died Friday, Nov. 30. Daniel Wayne Baker, 4, son of Hoyt Baker, died Sunday, Dec. 2. Tennie Lee, 25, wife of Hoyt Baker, died Monday, Dec. 3. Corinne Francis. 17, daughter of A. J. Baker, died Tuesday, Dec. 4. Guy Noah Baker, , son of A. J. Baker, died Tuesday, Dec. 4. Teddy Alton, 3, son of Hoyt Baker, died Tuesday, Dec. 4. They were all buried in the Wheeler ceme-

Three other members of the famiy, A. J. Baker, Hoyt and Tholman, have also been ill with the disease, Hoyt is said to be practically recovered, while the others are quite ill yet. Naturally, this number of deaths in so short a time has stirred deepest sympathy throughout the community. Also, due to the gossip and wild rumors that invariably develop in such instances, some apprehension concerning a spread of the disease has been aroused. After consultation with local physicians, The Times believes there is little if any grounds for fear of an epidemic.

The opinion is generally shared by medical practitioners that the later stages of the malady are of a contagious nature. That is, introduction into the system of material containing the germ is necessary to contract the disease. It is pointed out by Wheeler physicians that, to the best of their knowledge, there is not another case of similar kind in the county, outside of the Baker

Numerous persons went to the Baker home and helped nurse and care for the patients. Yet, after sufficient time has elapsed, thus far not another case has been learned of by the medical profession. While the sad decimation of the Baker family is sufficient cause for any thinking person to pause and consider matters, and even to take more than ordinary precautions against exposures, yet at this time there appears to be nothing to justify a lot of unfounded rumors nor to create fear of an epidemic.

DO YOU WANT A GUARDIAN?

"If any part of our people want to be wards, if they want to have guardians put over them, if they want to be taken care of, if they want to be children, patronized by the government, why, I am sorry, because it will sap the manhood of America,' wrote the late President Wilson in his book, The New Freedom. "But I don't believe they do. I believe they want to stand on the firm foundation of law and right and take care of themselves. I, for my part, don't want to belong to a nation. I believe that I do not belong to a nation, that needs to be taken care of by guardians."

In those words, the war president, who had a greater knowledge of world history than almost any man who has held the position of chief executive, accurately caught the true American spirit—the spirit that set this nation off from all others, dedicated to the ideals of freedom and democracy which had been subjugated with force and bloodshed in the old world. It was the spirit that led to the sailing of the Mayflower 300 years ago-to the Revolutionary War-and finally, to the arduous development of the west by men who wanted no wards, and wanted only the right to work and save and make their own destinies. That spirit is our American heritage-and nothing the founders and the pioneers could have sent down to us through time could have equaled it in worth.

It is likewise the spirit that we must keep constantly in mind, as a guide to the future, if we are to endure as a democracy in which liberty is always to be maintained, and in which opportunity is to be offered to all. All paternalistic and socialistic endeavors, no matter how well and honestly meant, are at variance with this spirit-and, long enough pursued, they must inevitably result in the destruction of those institutions which are peculiarly American.

WHO OWES WHO A LIVING?

After it is all said and done, any recovery program depends upon business, industry and agriculture.

Every government expenditure is financed by money that is taken from the earnings or reserves of business, industry or agriculture. With no earnings to be taxed, government must go bankrupt.

It is useless to blind ourselves to the fact that today industry is afraid of radical legislation, radical labor politics and radical taxation.

Under the guise of "social service" plans a lot of people are being made to think that somebody owes them a living. That's the "grasshopper theory." It works fine until winter

The fad of social service can live on existing "crops" (productive wealth) until it has eaten it all up like the grasshopper did the seasonal crops and then the beneficiaries of the "service" plans die like the grasshoppers unless they rustle some food. It's just the law of nature. Try to beat it and see where you land-out in the cold like the grass-

Conferences are being held in this nation to devise means of promoting social security to lessen fear of unemployment, deprivation and dependence. All men regard that goal as most desirable. The great danger is that overly enthusiastic theorists will allow their hopes to dominate their good judgment and smother the virtue of individual thrift.

At such times they should be guided by the lowly grasshopper who found out that no one owed him a living and that if he wished to share in the stored labor of others he had to fiddle for the food he received.

PERVERTED SPORTSMANSHIP

Sometimes one wonders whether people haven't let their "sporting" attitude toward everything warp their judgment in such serious matters as crime and the pursuit of criminals. The notion that the fugitive from justice or the law violator is entitled to a "sporting chance:" that it is a sort of game between the officers of the law and the criminal, in which everybody is entitled to take the part of either side, accounts in a large measure, in the opinion of this writer, for the maudlin sympathy often exhibited toward offenders.

Boys are taught it is not good sportsmanship to shoot birds except on the wing. But certainly that rule should not apply when the quarry is not "game," but vermin. One is taking no unfair advantage of a skunk to shoot it sitting, or of a rat to entrap or poison it by any means | Deer Review.

that can be devised. Or to kill a The Wheeler Times that can be devised. Or to kill a rattlesnake without giving it a sporting chance" to strike first. The confirmed criminal is no higher in the sporting ranks than these.

> A great deal of good would be accomplished if there was some way to impress upon young folks that flagrant violators of the law-murderers, kianapers and robbers-are not game," but vermin.

> The principle that every criminal entitled to a fair trial has been varped by a sort of perverted 'sportsmanship" into the feeling that every criminal has a right to his liberty as long as he is smart enough to keep out of the clutches of the law, regardless of the means he adopts, even killing, to evade his pursuers.

> Crime will never be well controlled so long as criminals are led to believe that they have any measure of public sympathy back of them; or believe they are taking part in a sporting adventure; or that a considerable number of people feel that it is "smart" to aid criminals in evading capture, or conceal evidence which would bring conviction after capture of lawless individuals.

TAKE A LOOK ABROAD

Critics of the American form of government, who have grown more numerous and vocal than usual during the past five years, might find it easier to convince the American people that revolutionary change is necessary if it were not for the exmples of Europe.

There, since the war, almost very conceivable government "ism" has been tried. With the exceptions of a few countries, democracy has been thrown overboard as being worthless and outmoded. And here re some of the results:

Italy is under the rule of an ironhanded dictator who has abrogated freedom of speech, freedom of action and freedom of the press. Under his direction, it is true, great material progress has been made-at the expense of almost all the individual and corporate liberties for which the great Italian liberators fought.

Germany exists under a similar, out much more ruthless dictatorship. Party government has disappearedwhen election time comes, the Gernan people have the "privilege" of oting either "yes" or "no" on the proposition of whether they like the present Reichleader or not. Those ho vote "no" are very apt to find hemselves dispossessed residents of oncentration camps before another veek rolls around. Newspapers may publish nothing without governmental permission-and the slightest criticism of the existing regime is sufficient to cause the suspension of a publication and imprisonment of its editors.

In Russia, a different "ism" obtains, but conditions are almost precisely like those in Germany. A ruthless secret police has thousands and anyone who expresses disapproval of the Stalin government may soon start as a prisoner on the long trek to Siberian forests. The list could be continued, but these examples will serve to show the 'improvements' on democratic government that have been inaugurated in Europe. One wonders what those who scoff at fundamental Americanism would like to give us in exchange for it.

FOR A SAFE HOLIDAY SEASON

The holiday season is designed to bring joy and happiness-but it likewise brings with it a vast amount of preventable misery, because of the accident toll. The gravity of the problem is magnified by the fact that a large percentage of holiday accidents involve children. Hundreds of them are killed and thousands are needlessly injured every December.

Here are a few rules, issued by the National Safety Council, to help pass safe and happy Christmas season: Don't permit children to play in the streets-the old practice of hitching sleds to automobiles is especially hazardous. Be extremely cautious in the matter of ice-skating-ice must be at least four inches thick before it can be trusted to sustain a large group.

Winter brings special automobile hazards, such as ice and snow, poor visibility and soft hig'away shoulders. Remember the u-and drive accordingly.

Don't use candles on your Christmas tree-don't put it near a stove -don't use inflammable trimmings -don't permit it to dry out in the house after Christmas-don't fail to anchor it firmly-don't use light bulbs of greater strength than one firefly candlepower.

These little hints are simple enough-there's nothing but common sense behind them, and they will cost nothing, in either time or money, to follow. And they may be the means of saving the lives of loved Placing second and third with two car loads of feeder calves at the American Royal Live Stock show has confirmed Clyde McElroy of Randall county in the practice of creep feeding. About $2 worth of cottonseed cake was creep-fed to each of the calves, and they brought $9 a head more than they otherwise would have brought on the market, not to mention the premium money.

A calf being fed by Damon Davis of the Hext 4-H club for boys in Menard county has set a record for that county by gaining 206 pounds in 60 days, an average daily gain of 3.4 pounds.

Basket Ball Girls Enter Tournament

For the first basket ball game of the season, the girls' basket ball Grammar Grades Editor_Mazie Bean team will engage in a tournament at Allison this week end. At this time the team has not been selected from girls who are reporting for work out each morning and evening.

Next Friday, Dec. 14, the girls and boys basket ball teams will go to Lefors to play basket ball with the Lefors teams. This will be the boys' first game. With several experienced players, a good team is expected from the Wheeler boys, according to Coach R. E. Clark.

The Miami coach, M. F. Stephens, has asked for a game with the Wheeler girls some time within the next two weeks. As yet, it is undecided as to whether the girls will

The girls have been working out for the last two weeks but the boys' basket ball practice was not begun until Monday morning. Several more students are expected to report within the next few days.

The girls who have been practicing for basket ball are: Laney Mae Tillman, Delilah Montgomery, Capitola Wilson, Rutha Mae Conner, Maxie Lee Wilson, Clarice Robertson, Mary Belle Johnson, Gladys Warren, Dorothy Tolliver, Janette Hale, Nerine Young, Ferrol Ficke, Bonnie Adams, Morene Clay, Beatrice Miller, Fay Ficke, Helen Gilmore, Lilla Mae Crofford, Dorothy Account Given of Burgess, Lorene Clay, Martha Jane Shipman and Mazie Bean.

Sport Slants By a Mustang

Football is over but here comes basketball. You still have to be passing in three subjects to play, too! Several who intend to play are not passing now. If they expect to engage in this sport they will have to get busy and make up their back work.

There are several seasoned players out for basketball this year. There are some who are inexperienced, also. O. D. Conner should be a good player. That is if he doesn't think he is playing football; if he thinks that he is, well, look out, opponents! O. D. is a son-of-a-gun at playing football. Derwood Lewis and Curtis Weeks are veterans when it comes to playing basketball. Those boys have been playing that game ever since it was invented or discovered, whichever the case may be. Then there's that tall, slim Marvin Montgomery and Jack Tate and Clifford Tillman.

The basketball boys plan to take in about every tournament in this neck of the woods. That is about all we can do as we do not have a gymnasium here to play in.

The girls basketball seems to be progressing nicely. They are working hard and should have a fair team this year. Miss Adams is surely trying to build up a good team this year. We hope she succeeds.

Here it is almost time for Santa Claus and there are still some good football games to be played. Shamrock and Hereford tangle Friday at Shamrock for the bi-district title. That Amarillo-Ranger game is sure to be a good one. Both have fine teams and what a battle that will be! New Year's Day will be the scene of one of the greatest games of the season, the Rose-Bowl game between Stanford and Alabama. Coach Clark is surely an Alabama fan and if we come up here some time about New Year's morning and find him gone to California to see the game, don't be surprised.

Uncle Ted Looks 'Em Over

I were up to the school house the other night watching them seniors practice their play. I swan, they do beat all. Them Arkansawyers gave me spasms, one after the other, by the boners they pull. They get in some of the awfulest fixes.

WE WANT A GYMNASIUM

Why can not the Wheeler schools have a gymnasium? Here we are, the county seat of Wheeler county and without a gymnasium! Shamrock, Mobeetie, Allison and Briscoe have gymnasiums and Kelton will Platter, Geraldine Sparkman, Lewis soon have one. Wheeler and the neighboring schools of Sweetwater, Sandy Basin, Corn Valley and Myrtle and Mansel Womack; sophomores, do not possess a building where outdoor and indoor sports can be played.

Although many days of last winter were so extremely cold that it was almost impossible for the basketball girls to go outside to get the necessary workout, they won second place in the county. What could they do if they could practice in a warm, well-ventilated gymnasium instead of on a rough outdoor court? If the school had a gymnasium, many of the important functions plays and recreational classes could be held in it. WE WANT A GYM!

1932 Graduates

As an interesting project sponsored by the journalism class, accounts are to be printed of the whereabouts of the Wheeler graduates for the past three years. There were 31 seniors who were graduated in the spring of 1932. L. R. Green was class sponsor and Temple Hooker, president. Mary Lou Mc-Ilhany was valedictorian and her brother, Grainger, salutatorian.

Of all the class the following are around the city of Wheeler: Mary Lou McIlhany, Coleman Farris, Lloyd Bolton, Arthur Burke, Morris Green, Temple Hooker, Evonne Hubbard, Isabelle Hunter, Barbara Miller. Helene Morgan, Virginia Pollard, Avis Tillman and John Wofford. Herman Roper is living at Mobeetie and two of the girls, Lorene Damron and Lucille Grant, reside at Wellington.

Velma Mason is at Amarillo Business college and Kilborn Bowers is attending Baker university in Kansas, Juanita Maloy is in Oklahoma City attending a business school, June McCarroll is at Texas Tech. Marilyn Wiley is at C. I. A. at Denton, while Paul is at A. & M.

Two of the boys, Wendell Meek and Grainger McIlhany, are making names for themselves at College. Wendell is at McMurry playing football. Grainger is a straight A student at John Tarleton.

Showing that Wheeler produces business men, D. B. Weeks has a good job collecting for the L. B. Price Merc. Co. in Amarillo. Another successful graduate is Earnestine Newberry, who is teaching school at Locust in this county.

Those of that class who are now married are: Catherine Scott, Avis Tillman, Helene Morgan, Temple Hooker and Lorene Damron. Catherine Scott Kirby resides at Hollis, Okla.

Of Hollis Smith, Lewis Holland, Maurine Warren, Geneva Cook and Pauline Evans no information could be obtained.

State Convention

The annual Texas State teachers convention, which was held at Galveston last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, went over with great success, report Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, who attended the meeting.

Some of the best speakers of the United States were present. The Texas governor-elect, James. V. Al-Ired, addressed the teachers on Friday night. Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana was the main speaker on that night. The celebrated poet, Douglas Malloch, gave a brief lecture and read some of his famous poems.

On Thanksgiving at the special session the Jewish rabbi addressed the house. The chief meetings were held in the Galveston City coliseum. It is estimated that between 6,000 and 7,000 teachers were present for this convention.

The residents of Galveston showed great hospitality to the visitors by arranging special boats for them to ride in. A reception was given in the Galvez Hotel and a special night club was opened.

Supt. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore were the only teachers of this school who attended the meeting. They went Tuesday and returned Sunday.

ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT VISITED BY SUPERVISOR

Miss Ester Sorenson, district supervisor of homemaking, visited in the Wheeler Home Economics department last Wednesday. She checked the library and the equipment in the department.

Mrs. Gordon Whitener was complimented on her lesson plans, the new ironing board, and the new light which has been installed recently.

Miss Sorenson found that additional reference books should be purchased for the library and that other equipment is needed.

The Wampus Cat (With Apologies to Odd)

There are only a few boys who can participate in basketball due to the fact of low grades . . . and speaking of intellect most of you will recall Edith Brows, a former high school student. During the time of my association with her all she had on her report card was A plus. But there were several more ex-students who were just as intelligent.

A young lady came "fuming and raging" into the library the other day and said, "Miss Addison, I wish you would keep the study hall. Mr. wouldn't let me come down here." We wondered how she got lately.

The freshmen seem to be getting smaller and smaller each year, but as long as they are making passable grades they will probably do. I have heard that class holds the distinction of having the most handsome names, but what difference does a

Exes Names Get In College Print

Many of the ex-students of Wheeler high school are breaking into print at their colleges now. It is mpossible for The Corral to get exchanges from all of the schools that the students attend, but those that are, are kept on the paper rack at the front of the study hall and are carefully scanned for news of Wheeler graduates.

In a recent paper from W. T. S. T. C. appeared mention of several ex-students from Wheeler. Among them were: "After devouring some fruits, a delightful game of football was played by all the boys with Stina Cain winning or sumpin;" 'We wonder what Lelia Cooper thinks of Sugar Cain;" "If Clinton Meek thinks he is a Valentino;" and "Why someone doesn't get a passport for G. In a recent San Diego paper it was seen that "Don Turner (J. C.) school at Yuma this Friday."

From the Lasso, Denton school paper, a clipping was read which and Principal C. B. Witt. said, "Marilyn Wiley spent last Grace Beauchamp's parents, Mr. and line on "Orientation." Mrs. T. A. Beauchamp."

The McMurry Warwhoop, school paper from Abilene, stated that Helen Green, one of the students of the art department, was helping to make posters for a benefit play which was given there.

In last week's paper from the l'oreador Anna Mae Puett's name appeared on the editorial staff. This same paper stated that "Wayland Merriman, a civil engineering student, is helping survey the campus and the college farm."

Under the gossip column of the Warwhoop was seen, "Have you been wondering why those Green "sintwisters" are so popular? Well, I think I know now. I saw 'em reading a book on 'Techniques'. Wonder if it came from this library?" Another wa: "Somebody asked if Meek used to be bashful. Well, the Wendell I know now couldn't ever have been."

Friday, Dec. 14, 1934, has been et for the national plebicite to determine whether or not the national administration wants to risk two more years of bureaucratic control of the cotton industry. If twothirds of the cotton producers of the South signify their willingness to submit to bureaucratic control for another two years, the politicians feel like they can stake their political future on regulating them for another two years. Of course the economic condition of our South does not enter into the calculations of those who want to control the political fortunes of the people. The politicians are not concerned about the loss of foreign commerce; they are not concerned with the thousands of unemployed in our midst because of the curtailed production. The principal thing that concerns the politician is whether or not the producer is under absolute control; all thinking men are convinced by this time that the politicians are more concerned with control of the producer than they are with control of production. Under Washington date line of Aug. 15, Senator Bankhead discussed the cotton situation with the president, and advised him that the price of cotton should be pegged at 13 cent per pound. The drouth had then cut the production of cotton to such an extent that, I suppose, it appeared necessary to peg the price. Five days later on Aug, 20, the president indicated that such would be done, but signified that 12 cents would be enough. That one act should prove to any cotton Mrs. Milton Wilson, and family at farmer that the powers that be do not want him to get any of the 'breaks," so to speak, but that his income be kept down to where he will submit to further regulation and control.

The farmers were hired to not plant anything on the retired acreage that would mature to seed; that Miss Jaunita Maloy returned to if anything was planted on it they must plant six to eight pounds of seed to the acre, to be sure it would not seed. That was the instructions all during the spring planting season, but of course when the "braintrusters" saw they had made a mistake and that the drouth was doing the thing they were claiming to be doing, then they urged all farmers to plant and save every blade so as to provide roughness for winter; but this was after it was too late to age of everything the farmer produces. He is unemployed, he is selling his stock to the government because he has no feed to keep them through the winter. He is on the dole. That is a natural consequence of curtailed production.

Our congressmen have admitted by inference, that curtailed production is a criminal mistake both as to the farmer and to the general ter. Miss Kathryne, Mrs. D. O. public, by now proposing that we Beene and Miss Gladys Gunter atcut production for domestic con- tended Eastern Star lodge at Mobeesumption only, and let the farmer tie Tuesday night.

produce as much as he desires for export. The smart politician realizes that it will take just as much regulation and control of the everyday affairs of the farmer to check his production for export as it does under the existing plan. He feels like he can say to the farmer, "I have given you back your liberty, you can produce all you like." Yet at the same time the bureaucratic control will be there.

By the politician's national blunder of stopping production in time of distress, brought about by his insatiable greed for the power that votes will give him, he has left the South prostrate. He has wrecked its principal industry, the industry upon which more people relied for a sustenance than any other industry in the South; he has bled it white. Say what you will, the drouth could not have worked the destruction that has been done to our cotton communities without the assistance of the designing politicians plans to control the producer.

Trench Mouth

Trench mouth is the common name for a disease which became more active during and after the World War. Vincent's Angina is the original, professional name for this disease. Trench mouth was first described by an American dentist in 1883. It was very common among the French and British soldiers during the World War. It seemed to develop among the boys in the trenches more than elsewhere. Hence the name trench mouth.

Trench mouth is an inflammation of the oral tissues, caused by certain bacteria. Some of the symptoms in acute stages are white patches or ulcers at the gum margins and tissues between the teeth, bleeding easily when touched, gums red, sensitive, sickening odor, excess ropy saliva with a metallic taste, coated to stimulate most any disease but tongue and often swollen glands of the neck. There are many other People who have pyorrhea, filthy symptoms which are unnecessary to

However, it is not a disease to cause undue alarm if properly treated in its early stages. It is very unwise for a patient who is affected with it to believe they can cure themselves. It is too deep-seated and complicated for any superficial treatment to eliminate it.

After trench mouth is treated and cured the patient should follow instructions of his dentist to try and avoid its return. A patient may be dismissed in perfect condition and later be troubled with the same disease. Most all of us have a sufficient amount of the different germs resistance is the line of demarcation. mouths and weakened systems are fit subjects for trench mouth.

RELIEF CLIENTS MUST NOT WASTE MONEY AIL

Derelict heads of relief families who spend cash grants for alcoholic liquors or in games of chance hereafter will be paid only in kind and only after they have worked out a weekly budget, it has been announ-

This course of action was adopted for the protection of members of the families of such clients who often have been victimized by failure of the head of the family to provide food and clothing with the money obtained from the county relief organization. Commenting on the new policy, Johnson said:

"In instances where either the county administrator or the case work supervisor has first-hand personal knowledge that the head of Dad, till I am over, and I believe the relief family is expending his you'll be the first to take me by the funds for alcoholic liquors, that hand and help me up the further family thereafter should receive relief in kind only.

"Regardless of the fact that relief is being extended in kind only, it shall and must be work relief.

"The same rule applies to gambling and similar derelictions on the part of relief clients. Conviction in police court or frequent arraignment before any local court immediately brings the client within the scope of these instructions.

SON'S LETTER TO DEAD FATHER

The following letter, the authorship of which is unknown, has been going the rounds of the Masonic press. Every boy should read and after reading not pass it up as the vaporings of some "old fool."

Dear Dad: I am writing this to you though you have been dead 30 years. From your seat in the Place Beyond I hope you can see these lines. I feel I must say some things to you, things I didn't know when I was a boy in your house, and things I was too stupid to say.

KNOWLEDGE

Francis Bacon said: "I have taken all knowledge to be my province." He did not mean that he was the master of all knowledge, but that he aspired after all such learning they had been married for a month, with which he was privileged to come in contact.

Knowledge, then, is something that must be acquired; it is the outgrowth of the questioning mind of man. Knowledge in the abstract is She is a junior in high school and a of very little value unless it is put to practical usage. It then turns ball teams. The great system which we have today for dispensing knowledge is the public schools. Since the Dark Ages education has become more and more pronounced until today in this games were played. The time has arrived when positions which are open to the uneducated are few with the exception, perhaps, of the field of manual labor, in which, it is necessary to add, the chance for advancement is relatively small; therefore, it is necessary to stress the importance to young people as well as to others to grasp every opportunity to secure an adequate training in his or her field of endeavor .- B.T.H.

Honor Roll for Second Six-Weeks

We are glad to announce our second six weeks' honor roll, but due to irregular attendance, are unable to classify everyone. We are expecting more names to appear on this roll next month. It was decided that grade students having as many as three A's were to be classified as honor students.

From Miss Carmack's room are the following: Zane Grey Francis, Thelma Hefley, R. L. Zybach, Doyle Ramsey and Robbie Jo Graves. Mrs. Russ gave the following list from her room: Billie Candler, J. R. Childress, Vernon Sivage, Juanita Mc-Adams, Leah Beth Reeves, Valaree Riley, Delma Lee Satterfield, Modeen Wilson, Dorothy Sanders, Art Ridgeway and Janoise Ridgeway.

The following fifth grade students have three A's: Bud McCarroll, Harley Vise and Alma Waters. These sixth grade students were named by Just imagine! Mr. Dodd: Wilda Dixon, Clifferene Sivage and Oleta Dickinson. The seventh grade has Wayne Morris and Wilbur Roberts for its honor students.

In the high school, the grades are given by subjects rather than cards, however, we hope to give an A and B honor roll in the next report.

High school honor students are: English I-Geraldine Wadsworth, Laverna Evans and Harold Sivage; History I-Geraldine Wadsworth: English II-Bessie Waters; English III-Winifred Barnes, Fay Wilson and Dottie Bell Cowan; American History--Fay Wilson, Joy Bill Riley and Clyde Wadsworth; Spanish I-Fay Wilson, Lois Aderholt; Spanish II-Clyde Wadsworth, Tamsey V. Riley and Bernard Wilson; Geometry -Fay Wilson, Lois Aderholt and Bernard Wilson. Tamsey V. Riley made a straight "A" card-leading the class in sociology, commercial geography and Spanish II. Tamsey V. is a post-graduate, having been graduated as the Valedictorian of the class of '34. Besides being an "A" student, she has been doing some substitute work for some of the teachers, keeps a study hall, and acts as head librarian, having three library periods daily. In fact, some one has classified her as the chief "flunky" for the facutly. We are all proud of Tamsey V.

Chapel Program

Since Briscoe school was not dismissed for Thanksgiving, Mr. Graves changed chapel program to Thursday. Vernon Sivage gave a short reading, and Mr. Evans made a talk on Thanksgiving-not only praising the Pilgrims of long ago but the Pilgrims of today who make our schools possible. THE PASSION PLAY

SHOWN IN PICTURES Last Friday night, Mr. Kirby, pastor of the Methodist church of Wheeler, brought his moving picture machine to Briscoe and put on the Passion Play. We were expecting to see Admiral Byrd's expedition to the South Pole, but under the arrangements he had to substitute and show the Passion Play. The show was not very well advertised, and we did not have a very large crowd. We took in $7.35, of which the school got a per cent. We have not made arrangements for another show, but we, the Briscoe high school, welcome Mr. Kirby back in Allison on Friday night. again in the near future.

BRISCOE TEAMS TO ATTEND THE ALLISON TOURNAMENT

The senior boys and girls basket ball teams of Briscoe high school, will attend the tournament at Allison next Friday and Saturday. Both teams have been going through some pretty "stiff" workouts during the past few days. Even though they haven't had much practice we believe they will make some of the other teams play their best in order to win. At any rate here's wishing the wearers of the green and gold all the luck in the world.

High School Notes

We will be very glad to welcome C. G. Miller, editor of The Wheeler Times, to talk to our Scribblers club. As there is no regular journalism class, we know he will be a great help to us in our writings.

We only have one period a week to meet; therefore, we do not have much time to give to our writings. We hope after his visit we can make our part of the Times more interesting; this we think we can do.

In order to see what the Freshman English class can really do, Mrs. Smith has offered two prizes for the two best themes in the class next Thursday. The subjects will be: "My Ambition," "The Most Exciting Day of My Life," "I Remember," and "Told to Me."

Civic Body Proposes Declaration of Policy

West Texas C. of C. Asks Consideration of Set of Worth-While Principles

The Wheeler Chamber of Commerce has been requested by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to consider the declaration of principles of the All-State Council of regional chambers of commerce adopted at the Waco meeting of the council in October, with a view to adopting the principles as the local chamber's policy also.

The request was received by R. H. Forrester, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce director for Wheeler and Cliff R. Weatherly, secretary of the local chamber. It was sent by J. A. Rix, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in charge of organizational activities at the direction of president James D. Hamlin.

The principles which the local chamber have been asked to adopt

First: We stand for a championship of private business, industry and ownership of property as the road to recovery, to which end we shall sponsor all federal and state measures, which tend to lend encouragement and confidence to private business and shall oppose all measures and administrative acts which have or will destroy the confidence of business and capital and retard its welfare.

Second: We call for a rapid balancing of the federal budget; for a reduction of the government's extraordinary expense and for a drastic curtailment of existing and proposed government bureaus.

Third: We shall oppose every effort of the federal and state governments to go into business in competition with private and semiprivate business. Although granting to the government the right of regulation of public utilities, we oppose the government destroying private investments by competing with uti-

Fourth: With local and state governmental liens already existing against a great portion of the tangible private property of the state, with local public debts burdening property for many years to come and with greatly decreased property values and earnings, we believe that something must be done to relieve tangible property from a portion of the ad valorem tax-otherwise the private ownership of property will cease to be the cornerstone of American civilization and prosperity. We, therefore, call upon our legislators to study the question of the burdens of the ad valorem tax as imposed by state, school, city and county governments with the view of immediately lifting from property at least one-half of the combined ad

Fifth: We recommend this declaration of policy for the profound consideration of all local chambers of commerce in Texas and indulge in the hope that these local bodies will in turn officially adopt it.

milk, butter, eggs and a garden raised at home. We made concrete tile and subirrigated a small garden. but even that failed to raise tomatoes this year. I watched the roadside and creeks for edible greens and wild plums and grapes and kept on the lookout all the year for varieties for my pantry. My White Leghorns enabled me to trade for things that I did not have. I feel now that at the end of the year that I have a pantry to be proud of and my efforts have helped me to remember that in the future to always try and have a balanced diet. If my pantry could help some other discouraged housewife to forget the depression and drouth enough to make a determined effort to furnish an adequate diet for their families, I will feel doubly repaid for my extra efforts to display my work."

"In checking the list of things I had planned to can, I find 25 varie-ties that I did not get to try, due to the drouth. However, I have 8441/2 quarts of 165 varieties of food," Mrs. Glen King told her Twitty club member guests at her achievement day program Nov. 8. Mrs. King continued: "I have my menus made for a week which can be prepared from my pantry. I have my emergency shelf with breakfast, dinner and school lunches and special foods that I can use for company that comes unexpected. Our year's expense for grocery bill, canning expense and rebuilding the cellar is $136.16. We have sold products valued at $215 .-91. leaving us $79.75 for other expenses. Many times this year as I have worked I have read:

"Our business in life is not to get ahead of other people, but to get ahead of ourselves-break our own record, to outstrip yesterdays by todays; to bear our trials more beautifully than we ever dreamed we could."

"I did not even know how to use a pressure cooker, when I came to live here Sept. 10." Mrs. Roxie Barker told members of the Davis Home Demonstration club when she had her achievement day program Nov.

Mrs. Barker moved in the home as housekeeper and really inherited the pantry her predecessor had begun. After Sept. 10, she learned to use the pressure cooker and canned over 300 quarts, cleaned and whitewashed the shelves and arranged the shelves on which is stored 567 quarts of food besides what the family had eaten before she came. She also has a 50 gallon barrel of brined cucum-
