THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

Wheeler Cotton Oil Starting Today

Cotton Processing Enterprise Making Preliminary Run—In Production Soon

A preliminary tune-up run of Wheeler's newest industrial enterprise, the cotton seed oil mill, is to be in full production within a few days, according to G. O. McCrohan.

The second press will be installed at the plant a capacity of 14 tons of seed per day. As possible cake samples will be sent to the state color content analysis. This information must be given with the cake at time of sale.

Aspects for a very fair run are being asserted, says McCrohan, in the short cotton crop this year.

He reports that inquiries already have been received from a number of points concerning cake meal. Seed has been stored at nearby towns, subject to the use of the Wheeler mill when it is to be used.

The present anticipated exchange on seed and processed products is a ton of meal or cake for a ton of cotton seed. Of course the mill will also make straight seed cakes; likewise straight products.

Present plans call for a day and crew to operate the mill. The new industry will afford employment for several men throughout the season, and is rated as a disasset to Wheeler from several angles as well as that of providing a modest payroll.

TELL 'EM THE PEACHES ARE ALL GONE

M. L. Clark, farmer and fruit grower living four miles east and half a mile north of Wheeler, requests The Times to say that his supply of peaches for this season are all gone. He is deeply appreciative for the fine patronage accorded him by readers of Wheeler Times wanted. "Your advertising sure does the work," said Clark, Wednesday. "There have been times when they almost mobbed me, wanting to buy peaches."

Commissioners Approve State-County Tax Rolls

County Valuation Fixed at Nearly Nine Million Dollars in New Listing

Mrs. M. L. Gunter, county treasurer, today received the state and county tax rolls as prepared by J. H. Templeton, assessor, after approval by the county commissioners court, in session this afternoon.

Total valuation of real and personal property for the county is fixed at $8,983,730. The state valuation is $7,883,051.

The number of poll taxes assessed was 4,243. This number, on a 25c per head basis, is expected to yield the county the sum of $1,060.75. On the $1.50 state basis the sum will be $6,364.50.

County tax on the foregoing valuation amounts to $103,314.62. State tax is $60,700.12. Common school tax is $40,328.60.

Grand total of all taxes is $204,343.34.

Church of Christ Calls New Pastor

Announcement was made this week by members of the Church of Christ that Rev. H. D. Hendry has been called as new pastor for the congregation. He is expected to arrive today or tomorrow and will be in charge of Sunday's services. He has preached here the past two Sundays and last Sunday definite arrangements were completed to call him to this field.

Rev. Hendry comes highly recommended as a consecrated Christian man, an enthusiastic church leader and all round desirable citizen. He comes to Wheeler from Wellington, where he was pastor for nearly three years.

The family consists of Rev. Hendry and wife and three small children. Rev. Flavil R. Yeakley, who resigned the local charge some weeks ago in order to attend school, was the last regular pastor of the Wheeler church.

Members of the other Wheeler churches will no doubt extend a hearty welcome to Rev. Hendry and family.

SHAMROCK EASTERN STAR HOST TO COUNTY MEMBERS

The Mobeetie chapter of the Eastern Star lodge were guests of the Shamrock chapter Tuesday night. Those attending from Wheeler and Mobeetie were: Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Bowers, O. B. Miller, C. J. Meek and John Collins, Mesdames J. M. Porter, Fred Farmer, D. O. Beene, John Dunn, Willard Godwin, Roscoe Thomas, Garland Key, Ben Barker, A. L. Manis and Misses Marie Orr, Gladys Gunter and Kathryn Bowers.

INSTALLING HOT WATER SYSTEM AT CITY DRUG

Noting Lloyd Lee and D. A. Hunt quite busy with measuring tape, wrenches and pipe at the City Drug store, an inquiring Times reporter learned that a hot water system is being installed this week. Lonnie Lee, manager of the store, stated that he was having this equipment put in to supply plenty of scalding water at the fountain for sterilizing glasses and utensils. This, he says, will afford additional sanitary protection to customers.

Mrs. Roy Puckett is convalescing at her home. Mr. Puckett brought her home Sunday from Sayre, Okla., where she had been staying with his sister, Mrs. Walter Woods, since leaving the Elk City hospital last Tuesday.

Many Certificates In Wheeler County Folk Cotton Growers Pool State Fair Winners

County Producers Offer Million and Half Pounds Under Government Plan

According to figures obtained from H. M. Breedlove, in charge of the set-up, many Wheeler county cotton producers are offering surplus exemption certificates under the government cotton pool plan.

Up to Thursday, certificates representing 1,601,770 pounds of cotton had been offered and accepted. These had been completed and sent in. Approximately 250,000 pounds additional will be ready to go within the next day or two.

No closing date for the pool has been designated as yet. The fact will be announced through the columns of this paper as soon as made known to local authorities.

Breedlove again declared that all producers who have surplus certificates which they wish to sell should present them at his office at the earliest possible time, and thus have the matter settled.

It seems to The Times it would be wise for farmers to proceed promptly to offer their unused certificates. Funds derived from this source will offset to some degree the effects of drought, hail, etc., in this area. After all, three or four cents a pound for cotton not raised isn't such a bad price.

1933 Loan Forms Here

County Agent Jake Tarter announced today that forms are here to get the two-cent loan on 1933 option cotton. All that is necessary to do to obtain the loan is for holders to bring in their form C-5-D to the county agent's office and make out the form to be signed up for the loan.

On Thursday night of last week he visited the Hedley lodge. Mrs. Nicholson accompanied him on the trip. Friday night, the doctor, accompanied by Mrs. Nicholson and Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby, made a Masonic visitation at Clarendon lodge.

Monday night of this week the deputy attended Alanreed lodge, and Tuesday night he visited the Dodsonville group. Harry Garrison went with him to the latter place.

Tonight, Thursday, marks his last official visit for the current Masonic year when he attends a communication of the Wellington lodge. Several local Masons are planning to accompany Dr. Nicholson to the Collingsworth county town.

A special invitation is extended to the young people of the other churches to attend, the committee will be disappointed if they do not come, declares the reporter for the Y. P. M. C. C.

Exie Creekmore and Mrs. Crowder Take Firsts—County Ranks Third on Firsts

According to information given by Miss Viola Jones, Wheeler county home demonstration agent, a member of the county 4-H clubs and a member of the women's clubs made a most creditable showing for Wheeler county with their entries at the state fair in Dallas.

Exie Creekmore, 4-H club girl, took firsts on history and records and on peach preserves.

Mrs. J. B. Crowder, county club woman, took first place on cherries, pickled onions and cherry preserves. These five firsts gave this county a third place rating from that standpoint, stated Miss Jones. Fannin county was first and Lamar county was second. The home demonstration agent expressed satisfaction with the showing thus far made known. It will probably not be definitely learned what winnings were made on other entries until the products have been returned. It is expected this information will be available by next week.

Twenty-five 1935 Members Already Signed on Post Quota of Forty-five

"Our drive for 1935 members in West Post No. 138, American Legion, is progressing nicely," declared Jim Risner, chairman of the campaign, today. "We have to date 25 new ones," continued Risner, who is post adjutant.

All members of the post are helping with the membership drive, it was learned, and prospects for reaching or even exceeding the quota are very encouraging.

A special effort was put forth to obtain as many signers as possible by Oct. 16, the figures to be included in a report to Legion state headquarters at Austin, where records are being compiled for presentation at the national American Legion convention, which will be held at Miami, Fla., on Oct. 22-25.

The Home Demonstration club met Wednesday afternoon at the club room, with a very interesting program on Home Life. The leader, Mrs. Jim Risner, was assisted by Mesdames O. O. Sandifer, Robt. Bowers, Jim Trout, J. M. Porter, M. L. Gunter and Floyd Pennington.

The North Fork Baptist workers conference met at the Lela church Tuesday for its regular monthly meeting, with a large representation. Miss Lucile Reagan, missionary to Nigeria, Africa, now home on furlough, gave the principal address at the morning hour, "How the Heathen Live." Those in attendance from Wheeler were Rev. and Mrs. Alamo Starkey, Mrs. Lee Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Puett, Mrs. Ernest Dyer and Mrs. Minnie Farmer.

DON'T EXPECT KILLING FROST BEFORE OCT. 24

Readers of The Times are advised to take the above caption at its face value only in proportion to their faith in "signs." However, our good friend, J. E. Burgess of Mobeetie, solemnly declares that according to the date of the first "norther," which he says came on August 24, our first killing frost is not due until Oct. 24. He counts 60 days from the first blustery, cool spell. For the sake of the many farmers who want a little time in which their row crops may mature the grain, it is hoped that frost will hold off until the 24th or even later.

Church of Christ Will Have Bible Conference

Evangelist O. E. Phillips to Lead Prophetic Bible Meet—Starts Thursday

Beginning next Thursday, Oct. 25, and continuing until Nov. 4, a prophetic Bible conference under guidance of Evangelist O. E. Phillips of Abilene, will be conducted at the Church of Christ in this city.

According to local church leaders, the following advance information concerning the conference has been received:

This will not be a revival after the usual fashion, but will simply be a gathering to investigate the Bible on some of the themes given below. Phillips says there is much said on these subjects in the Bible, and inasmuch as there is much speculation regarding them being broadcasted, it behooves all lovers of truth to investigate what the Bible has to say. These services are open to all who care to know more about prophecy. He invites you to bring your Bible and follow him in this investigation. At each service he will give all an opportunity to ask any questions pertaining to the questions he discusses.

This conference is not held to build up any denominational dogma, neither is it held to start anything new, but simply an opportunity offered all who care to know more along the lines he mentions, in these ominous days. He likely will offer a study of the Holy Spirit in some day meetings.

Some of the subjects to be discussed are as follows:

- Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven.
- Rebuilding of the Tabernacle of David.
- The Restoration of all Things.
- The Golden Age.
- The Reign of the Anti-Christ.
- The Great Tribulation.
- The Battle of Armageddon.
- Will Christ Reign on Earth One Thousand Years?
- The Valley of Dry Bones.
- Lord, Wilt Thou at this time Restore the Kingdom to Israel?
- Israel's Confession.
- Come and bring your Bible if you like. You are thrice welcome.

Morgan Starts Sorghum Making

W. T. Morgan, who lives three miles north of town, now has his sorghum mill in operation, starting on Friday of last week. Up to Tuesday of this week, he had produced more than 100 gallons of the sweet affinity of hot biscuits and butter.

Morgan is operating an evaporating system and says he can run a maximum of 100 gallons of finished syrup per day. His product is of high quality and is meeting with a ready sale. It has been learned from him that a considerable acreage of cane exists throughout the community and that he will be able to work up a large quantity of it, extracting a nice lot of syrup if frost holds off for a reasonable length of time.

Morgan placed an order Tuesday with The Times job printing department for a bunch of labels to put on the syrup pails.

J. W. Anglin, local Ford salesman, has sold 31 new and used cars, including new V-8 cars in Wheeler and vicinity since Sept. 1.

New Paved Highway Now Open to Traffic

Wednesday Marked First Travel On 5.2 Mile Stretch East from Wheeler

Announcement yesterday that the newly paved 5.2 mile stretch of highway extending eastward from the city limits was open to traffic, brought expressions of delight from those living along the route as well as other travelers over the new road.

Begun several months ago, residents near the roadway experienced some disagreeable conditions during the hot, dry summer days, when dust swept into their homes with every breeze. Of course, no one could be blamed for the unpleasant situation, but a feeling of relief at the road's completion prevails.

No doubt the satisfaction and comfort of using the modern surfaced road will amply compensate for past inconveniences. Completion of the project is expected to result advantageously to Wheeler, since travelers, both local and distant, will enjoy the safety and ease of travel over the new highway.

According to Arthur Whitener, commissioner in that district, and County Judge W. M. McMurry, who have recently discussed the matter with highway authorities, prospects for obtaining further improvements on the road east are exceptionally bright. During a recent conference with P. S. Bailey of Amarillo, assistant division engineer for the Panhandle, it was learned that an extension of the paving to the state line may be looked for in the not far distant future.

"I believe it is practically certain," asserted Whitener today, "that we will soon get some more help on that road."

"It appears to me to be the most logical bit of road improvement now needed in the county," observed Judge McMurry. He expressed the belief that it might be handled as a relief project, but had nothing definite to offer on the subject, other than he felt sure it would be under state supervision.

Local Ginnings Total 308 Bales

Inquiry at the Wheeler gins today disclosed that 308 bales of cotton have been ginned to date. This figure indicates a similar ratio to that given in a report published in this paper Oct. 4, showing the comparison with last year's crop.

Production in this part of the county, according to ginning figures, now equals from 25 to 33 per cent of last year's crop. Gin operators seem to think the best showing for this year is now apparent, with possibility of further disparity as the season advances.

All club women who are interested in rose propagation are invited to come, states Miss Viola Jones, county home demonstration agent.

REAL PUBLIC ENEMIES

In a recent editorial, the Saturday Evening Post observes that American business is much cleaner and better than the politicians, through their investigations, have tried to represent.

The investigations of which the Post speaks have been carried on spasmodically for a number of years, and during the last five years have greatly increased in number. For the most part, they have been used to manufacture political ammunition. The investigators—and members of both major parties have been involved—have been less interested in giving the people a true picture of affairs, than in seeking to enhance their own reputations as enemies of corruption and friends of the people.

The result is that, when evidence was brought forth that in any way indicated that some individual concern was dishonest or unethical, the idea has been subtly disseminated that it was representative of all industry. By this process, public confidence in the character and integrity of our business leaders has been unwarrantedly shaken.

It is as unfair to say that because one banker failed his trust all bankers are crooked, as it would be to point to a public official who accepts a bribe and say that all public officials are of the same stamp. In both business and government there are corrupt men who should be punished, but fortunately they are rare. No one opposes the prosecution of those who have failed their trust—but the ends of justice and decency are certainly not served by making it appear that honorable and honest men, in business and politics, are equally bad citizens.

What this country needs more than anything else now is confidence. Those who seek to destroy confidence to advance their own ends, are the real enemies of the common welfare.

CONTROL THE FIRES

Last week was known throughout the nation as "Fire Prevention Week." The Times called attention to the fact and sounded a word of warning, which is appropriate at this time, when home fires are being lighted after the summer season. Additional observations are offered in a spirit of kindly helpfulness.

A "friendly" fire stays inside the stove or furnace where it belongs and serves to keep man comfortable. When fire escapes from confinement it becomes decidedly unfriendly!

How often fires do become unfriendly is emphasized in a report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. "In 1932," it states, "fires caused by stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, resulted in a property loss of $17,916,783. Another cause of fire, which is closely allied with stoves, is defective chimneys and flues. In 1932 fires originating in this way caused a loss of $24,702,201. A third contributing cause is hot ashes, coals and open fires, which accounted for a loss of $5,002,572. Those three alone, with a total of $47,621,556, resulted in 11 per cent of the nation's entire fire waste that year."

Necessary precautions are simple: Make certain that the stove, furnace and smoke pipes are cleared of soot. Replace worn, broken or rusted-out parts. Keep burnable material away from smoke pipes or any other part that becomes extremely hot.

For those who use natural gas for heating, as many do in this community, a few precautions—some what different from the foregoing—are well to keep in mind. This excellent fuel, when properly controlled, is most convenient and pleasant in operation. But some degree of care is also required in the use of it.

If you are the "fireman" in your house see to it that the stove or furnace does not become overheated—use common sense in operating the equipment and never force it. Use a metal container for ashes. Be sure that all open fires are carefully screened.

Efficient equipment and careful handling make for economy. Fires are a tremendous and needless expense, and everyone must help pay the bill.

JOHNSON COULDN'T "TAKE IT"

According to the press bureaus, Gen. Johnson cried when he was let out of the NRA. He had a wonderful collection of cuss words, and we are going to miss his "crack downs and take its" that he flaunted in the faces of little merchants, clothing cleaners and manicure shops. Big business may miss the general, too, since he let them make their own code and administer it, as well as violate it when it suited their fancy.

Johnson's enforced retirement leaves the alleged job in the hands of a board that is alleged to be coordinating, and which may never agree on the time and place of meeting.

Little hash joints of Oklahoma City have asked Johnson to come eat with them to show that they are not angry with the big bozo who "cracked down" on them first of all. He can get his pants pressed with the second class that felt his alleged ghost stick, and then the manicure girls will be glad to polish the old boy up to show him that the victims of his third act still manage to exist despite his autocratic rule.

Johnson began to slip when Darrow opened a verbal barrage on that bunch of foolishness that was designed to help the big financiers and trample the little fellows down farther under foot. Darrow shot it full of holes. He thought it the wild dream of a lad of ten, except for the fact that big business alone benefited for any period of time. Darrow asked the NRA force to "crack down" on monopoly, but Johnson and his squad couldn't "take it."

For more than a year big business and organized labor got along very well since labor wanted to help the president put over the only plan that had been advanced or suggested to get us back to an even keel. Food and rental prices shot up as profiteers took advantage of the situation.

Nope, the general can go back to his carpet factory in Jersey and settle the racket with his employees. He'll need his cuss words, and that is all that we have to show for his share of a lot of experiments that never were designed to work us out of this mess.

As a matter of fact every man, woman and child with the reasoning power of a road lizzard knows that a few men have cornered the finances of the nation. They are gobbling up every penny that is getting into circulation right now. They will continue to do so until stopped. When will that be? When the depression stops.

If Johnson could have had the "guts" to have waded into the bigger boys, and could have had enough support to start a crusade for a square deal to the point it became a bloodless battle cry of the American people, we would all be sitting around home fires contented instead of trying to keep the home fires burning until the family scattered from "hell to breakfast" as members of the "Dole Army" come trekking home.—Donley County Leader.

OFFER SOMETHING BETTER

One of the best ways in the world for any town to keep the young folk from visiting places of dubious character and doing things which are not for the best, is to provide counter attractions in the form of clean amusement. If the older people in most communities would spend more time in helping put over clean attractions instead of always condemning, the younger generation would respond in generous numbers. However, human beings ARE human beings, and many of those lads and lasses of the "flaming 1920's" are pretty worthwhile citizens today—and the "wild" ones of today may turn out to be as good citizens as grandpa thought he was. None of us are perfect, you remember.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

Forty members of the Centennial advisory boards representing sixteen counties were guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and citizens of Pampa at a meeting held Tuesday night at the First Methodist church, a banquet being served to the guests. The meeting was called for the purpose of increasing interest in the Texas Centennial and that it has this effect is attested by the enthusiasm of not only the members of the Centennial boards but others in attendance at the meet. That interest is also good in the Pampa Pre-Centennial in 1935 was evidenced by a resolution which was unanimously passed to "loyally support Pampa's Pre-Centennial next year."—Pampa Advocate.

The rural rehabilitation program for Swisher county is progressing in a very pleasing manner, while there has at the present time no actual construction started, the details of leasing and making estimates of construction and preparing of some dozen or more places are being prepared. With all probability there will be quite a number of places ready for clients to move to before the severe cold weather sets in.—Tulia Herald.

Bob Seeds, Texola, American league outfielder who played at Cleveland this year, will have at least one dog entered in the race meet here Sunday afternoon.—Elk City (Okla.) Journal.

One hundred and eight votes were cast in favor of corn-hog contracts for next year and forty five votes were cast in opposition of the extension, as the result of a poll taken in Floyd county last Friday of the contract signers, County Agent Glen A. Lindsey announced Wednesday afternoon. The poll, which is being taken all over the United States, was taken in each school district in this county, with 153 contract-signers out of the 391 signers voting.—Floyd County Hesperian.

A shipment of 23 buffalo steers was made from the Goodnight ranch last Friday. They were being shipped to the Armstrong Packing company of Dallas. This now leaves about 225 head still on the ranch. Each year the excess must be shipped in order to reduce the herd. Not much trouble was experienced in the loading of the buffalo, as is sometimes the case. Buffalo, as far as known, is the hardest stock to corral and load. When confined to close quarters they sometimes fight among themselves. Clarendon News.

The racing of turtles, frogs and fish is reported to be popular in Baltimore. It is understood that contests between even lower forms of life, including taxpayers and consumers, are in contemplation.—Hartford Courant.

"Sell My Doll"

Did you read the story of the little girl who went with her mother to a second-hand store?

The mother offered some kitchen tableware and was much depressed because a small amount she realized upon them.

Then the little girl said, "Mamma, wait!"

Her mother protested but the child's doll said, "Sell my doll and then I can get some Post Toasties."

"Then I can get some Post Toasties!"

The story behind this incident is of a girl who had died four months before and had not enough life insurance to bury him.

No. That's not quite the whole story. The widow says that often she objected to her husband carrying additional life insurance, saying there were more things for her little girl.

And now the little girl says, "Mamma, sell my doll so I can get some Post Toasties."

THE HOME STRETCH

The home stretch is the most important part of any race. So in high school the last year, senior year, is most important. Before that year is reached, as in a race, the student works only to keep up with the others. During his last year he toils and sweats to make the desired number of credits. He digs in because he knows it is his last chance.

A senior thinks more of his work and wishes he had started working hard before the home stretch rolls around. It is the turning point and should be made the most of. Watch a race horse make use of the home stretch.—T. C.

STUDENTS HEAR TALKS ON MANNERS AT ASSEMBLY

Contrary to the regular program, the girls of the high school met in the auditorium and the boys met in the high school study hall for the regular weekly assembly program Wednesday morning at the physical education period.

Miss Winona Adams led the girls in the song, "Long, Long Ago." Then Rev. J. Edmund Kirby announced the showing of the picture, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," at the high school auditorium Thursday night.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore gave a short on good manners, using "Good Manners for all Occasions" as a base. "Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices," was a quotation from Emerson which he read.

Lois and Ferrol Ficke were in Shamrock Wednesday night.

Inez Shipman visited school Friday afternoon.

Little Mustangs

Miss Katherine Bowers, the first grade teacher, had charge of assembly period Monday morning.

The program consisted of "A Welcome," Junior Ahler; "Dirty Face," Lloyd Johnson; "Pepper Song," members of the first grade; "What Visitors," Elizabeth Schulze; "Little Red Hen," Joy Marie Carter; "Shoemakers Dance," members of the first grade class; "What Makes Trouble," Kenneth Crowder; "School Days," Elizabeth Schulze and W. D. Tolbert; and "Beautiful Texas," by the first grade class.

After Miss Bowers' program was over, Principal Bob Clark asked all the junior football team to come forward. Gerald Robison introduced the boys and each told the position he plays and how much he weighs. They were as follows: Melton Baker, Malcolm Crowder, Billie Burke, C. W. May, R. P. Farris, R. C. Hale, Bobbie Noah, Paul Ford; Theodore Cooper, Norval Cumming, Glynn Weeks, J. B. Crowder and Deu Verne Coleman.

The pep squad girls gave several yells and sang the Junior High school song.

"Some of the sixth and seventh grade pupils were pleased with their examination grades while others experienced a mixed feeling of disappointment and regrets," stated Miss Ewing. "This will not be the case next six weeks, however, because it will be necessary to make these grades before the boys and girls can further participate in any type of athletics. It is not likely that these pupils are really getting into the spirit of school now, and will really put themselves into the work and produce some excellent materials. As a teacher I am 100 per cent for them," she added.

"The fifth grade class has made good grades as a whole and the attendance has been excellent according to the large enrollment. The tardies have been few. All the boys and girls seem to be very interested in their class work and in the library which has been added to the fifth grade class," states Mrs. McCrohan.

Supervisor Visits Wheeler School

Bryan Dickson, state supervisor for District No. 1, visited the Wheeler school Thursday of last week. Accompanying him on his tour of inspection were County Supt. O. B. Miller and Tom Britt, county school board member.

They came during physical education period and visited both buildings, going to some of the classes, talking with the high school and grammar grade teachers, and examining the libraries and laboratories.

At 1:45 the teachers, school trustees, and the county board of trustees met in the high school auditorium, where Dickson made a talk on school problems. Among the things that he advocated were a county circulating library to be started with the $10 fund each school is allowed by the state; a reading program in which a reading certificate is given from the state department; teachers belonging to the N.E.A. and paying their poll taxes; a county wide examination and promotion from the seventh grade to high school; and a concerted effort to fight the tax amendment which, if passed, will limit the power of the legislature to levy taxes, leaving the burden of taxes on local units.

He said in closing: "The training of youth is as important as curing the sick. It is as important to teach people how to live as how to make a living. This is our job."

Short talks were then made by Dr. H. E. Nicholson, president of the Wheeler school board, Judge J. B. Clark, president of the Shamrock board, Tom Britt, and H. M. Wiley, president of the county board.

Officers for interscholastic league work in the county were elected as follows:

Director general W. C. Perkins, Shamrock; director of debate, A. H. Kavanaugh, Plainview; spelling, Miss Clara Anderson, Pagan; essay writing, Mrs. John Lewis; extemporaneous speech, Carl Chaudoin, Mobeetie; arithmetic, O. B. Miller; music memory, Mrs. George Weems, Davis; picture memory, Miss Maude Hix, Kelton; and declamation, Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, Wheeler.

Wheeler Mustangs Beat White Deer on Local Gridiron

Wheeler Line, Plus Two Passes from Weeks to Lewis is too Much for White Deer

Mustangs defeated the strong Deer 11 here to the tune of 7, Friday. According to Coach Clark, the line played the best of the season so far. Tillman, Sherwood and Deering went for the White Deer line and up the plays before they could started. Deering, Sherwood and were green at the beginning of the season but they have improved recently. On offense the Wheeler line blocked and made holes big enough to drive a wagon through. Wheeler left end, went high that White Deer line and made several passes before they could pass the line of scrimmage. The first quarter ended scoreless though Wheeler made four first downs that quarter. Early in the second quarter a pass from Horner Vatt, netting 22 yards, meant a pass for White Deer. The extra point was good. Wheeler received their own 45-yard stripe. Quarterback Weeks called a pass on the first which went to Lewis 30 yards in the field. Lewis took the ball and White Deer's 25 yard line and the remaining distance for a touchdown. Try for extra point failed. The Mustangs kicked off to White Deer who fumbled on their 15 and Tillman recovered for Wheeler. Weeks threw Lewis another pass for the second score. The extra point was good when a pass was caught by Lewis. Score, Wheeler 13; White Deer, 7.

The last half was scoreless, neither team gaining many yards, although White Deer made three first downs to none for the Mustangs.

JUNIOR CLASS HAS FIRST ENTERTAINMENT OF YEAR

Giving the first class party of the year, the junior class was entertained at the American Legion hall Friday night after the first show. The party was to have begun at 7 p. m., but Lee Guthrie, operator of the Rogue, gave the football boys a party and a majority of the junior boys play football. While the boys were at the show, the girls sang songs and played games. When the boys came from the show the party really began.

SENIOR CLASS REVEALS AFTER GRADUATION PLANS

What are you going to do when you finish high school? Some of this year's seniors will get married while others will continue their education. Wilton is going to marry, but he wants to know if there are any bids. Jack and Theodore are going to Tech and amount to something they declare. Travis is to be an aviator so he can look down on the world. By his attitude he means well.

Ida Belle and Nettie Vee are going to take a business course. What's the idea, girls? Cozette is ready for a beauty course, and Helen is getting set for Austin. I can't blame 'em. Carlisle and La Veau are chesky and are going to A. & M. Puny things! Others in the class either had not decided what they want to do or are too bashful to tell their plans.

Now juniors, don't take this to heart and follow in their tracks but do something.

Club Notes

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County

As the time for achievement grows nearer and the pantries are more complete it is easier to see the real benefit of making a budget card and striving to attain the goals set for a 4-H pantry demonstrator. Mrs. Glen King, pantry demonstrator for the Twitty Home Demonstration club, was like most farm women in that she did not raise a good garden, but despite this fact she has canned over 800 quarts of food this year. It makes the old adage seem very true that "you may have anything in life that you want if you want it badly enough."

Mrs. King began canning when the earliest spring greens were large enough, and she expresses the determination to continue until Jack Frost forbids her to do so.

When Viola Jones, County Home Demonstration agent, made a visit to her pantry the other day the first thing she noticed before entering was squash on racks, drying in the sunshine. Next she saw cabbages quartered and soaking in clear water waiting to be shredded and made into kraut. On entering the cellar, clean, white painted shelves greeted the eyes of the visitor. These shelves are loaded with grapes, berries, peaches, pears, apples, plums, cherries and mixed fruit juices besides plum and grape juice.

In the shelf for other canned vegetables there are canned peppers, canned squash, okra, butter beans, radishes, radish and cabbage kraut and pumpkin. There are sweet pickled pears, apples and peaches. In the stored foods there are brined corn, dried okra, dried squash, green dried peas and beans, pumpkins, citron and Mrs. King plans to store some green tomatoes to ripen later.

For leafy vegetables there are beans, peas, asparagus, turnip greens, Swiss Chard, shelled, snap and mixed peas. For starchy foods there is canned baked sweet potatoes and plain sweet potatoes canned, canned corn, whole grain corn, scraped corn, corn on the cob, and a mixture of corn and peas.

On the shelf for pickles and relish there are cantaloupe pickles, quail pickles, whole cucumbers, cucumber rings, beets, gherkins, beet relish, cucumber relish, bread and butter pickles and different kinds of vegetable sandwich spreads.

In the meat line there is chili, ground meat for sandwiches, roast, stew, steak and raw bacon and ham, and canned vison.

Mrs. King has 30 varieties of preserves. Besides the more common varieties such as peach, pear, plum, cherry and tomato preserves, there is rhubarb marmalade, citron preserves, cantaloupe preserves and watermelon and plum marmalade.

Miss Jones, as well as Mrs. King, seems to think that with all of these foods and in such a variety, that Mrs. King's family of six will be well fed through the winter months and until garden time the next year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crump of Mobeetie, were in Wheeler Monday on business. Mr. Crump is the Ford dealer at Mobeetie.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pennington and son, W. E., came home Friday night from the state fair and other points, where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Ella Powell of Gassville, Ark., came last week to visit her brothers, J. T. and J. W. Anglin, and her sister, Mrs. J. R. Cooper, and families for a few days.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to see each one personally and thank you for the kindness to my family since my son, Cecil Kyle, has been ill and the assistance in taking him to the state tuberculosis sanatorium and especially do I thank the members of the Methodist church and the Dorcas class of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Mattie Collinsworth and family.

Six of a Kind

Boy, what a title. And boy what a picture. "Six of a Kind." is just what the title infers. It is a great big mess of this, that, and the other by six of the looniest, craziest, and funniest people making pictures; namely: Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland, W. C. Fields, Allison Skipworth, Burns and Allen. It is not about a thing in the world that is serious. It has no theme, no story, and no sense at all. It is just one big laugh right after the other. It will cure the blues and drive away your sorrow for the time being. You will come away feeling lighter and happier. Coming to the Rogue Friday-Saturday, Oct. 19-20. Also, a two reeler, "In-laws are Out."

Baby Take a Bow

Listen, folks and friends: Ye Editor of The Times speaking. "There has been any number of good pictures made, but never has there been one that had such universal appeal to the entire population of the world as "Baby Take a Bow," and also "Little Miss Marker," featuring the greatest child find of all times, the incomparable little Shirley Temple.

You will love every inch of this little Miss. Her pictures are family pictures, if ever there was a family picture."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TAKE STANDARDIZING TEST

Tuesday all the high school students were given a surprise in the form of a standardizing test. There were four sheets for each pupil to fill out. These tests pertained to English grammar. It is necessary to take these in order to get affiliation. Everyone believes that he made not less than 99%, so with this high average we should at least get those papers accredited if nothing else. However, some may be disappointed when they get their papers back.

We are planning to celebrate national educational week, which begins Nov. 11, and ends Nov. 16, several nights if possible. Aaron Meek of Pampa, is going to bring his band to entertain us one night. Mrs. Smith has consented to have those who are in the three-act play to learn their parts and we will also present that on Friday night. There will likely be another night or two of entertaining and educational programs.

Messrs. Standlee and Graves have been working on the walls of the hall. They have improved the appearance of it by plastering the holes and painting the lower part.

DONATIONS TO LIBRARY

There have been more donations to the library. Mr. Evans has donated a year of the Texas Outlook; Miss Scott donated a year of Asia, and Mr. Montgomery, our ex-teacher, who is now teaching at Meadows high school, has sent us the Meadows school paper.

The school has subscribed for some more magazines; The American Boy, Time, and Popular Mechanics. Mr. Graves has brought us several copies of the Lipscomb school paper, which was published while he taught there. There are also several more papers coming to the library for the students benefit.

P-T. A. MEETING

The P-T. A. was organized about two weeks ago. This Thursday, Oct. 18, will be their first real meeting. One purpose will be to appoint or elect the rest of the officers. They are planning to have a program.

The seventh grade boys and girls are to give a play. The following students will be in it: Ruth Morris, Kenneth Douthit, Harold Graves, Jiggs Standlee, Wilda Dixon, Georgia Cain, Aldo Dickerson and Wayne Morris.

Some of the high school girls will sing "Sweet and Low." Mr. Russ is to give a science demonstration; Mrs. Candler a talk on something about the home and school and Faye Wilson a reading.

CLUB NEWS

The Briscoe 4-H club met Oct. 16, 1934. The president was absent and the vice president, Fay Hammer, acted. The house was called to order and the motto and pledge were repeated. The secretary read the minutes. A letter was written to the sponsor, Mrs. Vise, who is sick.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Jones. She gave a review of the past year's club work and read two poems, What a Real Club Girl Does, and The Golden Key. She also read an article by Dr. Holland entitled, How to Find Happiness. The meeting was adjourned at 11:30.

Those present were: Fay Hammer, Mary Margaret McCarroll, Elaine Harrel, Mabel Barnes, Vera Myrtle McNeil, Nellie Bee Candler, Laverne Treadwell, Gertrude Hudson, Margie Vaughn, Ruth Morris, Alma Waters, Geneva McNeil, Aleta Dickerson, Ora Pearl Cowan, Imogene Hogue, Valoise Evans, Ruby Zell Hefley, Clifferene Sivage, Dorothy Lohberger, Lorene Treadwell, Winifred Barnes, Joy Bill Riley, Dottie Bell Cowan and Miss Jones and Edith Ashley.—JOY BILL RILEY, Reporter.

Grade Notes

Miss Tamsey Riley and Mr. Evans are well pleased with the attendance this week as it has increased. A large percentage of the grade students have been pulling bolls. The teachers hope the attendance will increase more.

Miss Riley also stated that the little crippled boy, Grant Riley, will soon be back in school, as he is now walking on crutches. Grant's classmates are looking forward to his return.

MY TRIP TO THE DALLAS STATE FAIR

Four of the girls from Wheeler county were honored with a wonderful trip to the Dallas fair, from Oct. 8 to 12, and I was one of the lucky four to go.

First, we went to the agriculture building; there we saw the displays from all over Texas. In this building we stayed all Tuesday morning. That afternoon we went to the zoo. We saw in the zoo all kinds of animals and birds. Wednesday morning we went to see the live stock and exhibition hall. We saw some of the largest cattle, hogs and horses that we had ever seen in the livestock exhibit. In the exhibition hall we saw all the new types of furniture.

In the afternoon we went to the stadium and saw eight horse races.

Wednesday night all of the club girls went to the "Show of a Century," which was the most beautiful thing we had ever seen. Thursday morning we went to the automobile building, education and arts building, the Alamo, John Deere machinery and the radio station, WRR.

In the afternoon we went to the Majestic theatre and saw Will Rogers in one of his latest shows, Cab Calloway. That night we had a program in the dining rooms, showing an expedition through Hawaii, which was very interesting. After this we went out to the fair grounds and had a very nice time.

We left the fair grounds at 9:00 o'clock, Friday morning and had a very pleasant trip home with Mr. and Mrs. Willard and daughter, Elva.—MARY M. MCCARROLL.

Good Citizenship

In the old feudal days, when the best interests of the clan were endangered, every member of the clan was expected to give his all, including his life if necessary for the protection of the clan. The member who failed in this duty was branded as a coward, and put to death by the loyal members. The American Indian who failed to do his part, was driven out by the tribe or set to work with the women of the tribe, and never allowed to enter into the tribal councils.

How often have you heard a non-church member say: "I would not live in a community where there are no churches." How often have you heard of a tough man leaving a tough community because it was tough, and frankly saying, "they were too tough for me, so I brought my family back to civilization." This very thing has happened time and again.

NOW, WE ASK YOU CANDIDLY: WHAT ARE YOU doing to make this community a better place to live in? Have you put out any effort whatever to raise the standards of morals in this community, or to even keep it on its present level?

Have you spent a dime of your money, or a moment of your time to influence the action of others in the right direction? If not, you are stealing from this community. You are enjoying the privilege of living in a decent community, and giving nothing in return. If you took merchandise from our stores in this manner, you would soon be arrested as a thief, and punished accordingly.

No matter how insignificant you may think you are, some boy or girl has picked you out as an ideal, and would like to be just like you when they grow up. What kind of example is your life before them? Are you doing your part as you should in this community, or should you be driven out as a slacker?

There was never a time in the history of this community when it was as necessary for men to say what they think and stand up for the right. If we have rotten officers, it is because we have had rotten voters. Our officers are only a reflection of how we have exercised our franchise. When you hire a man to hoe in your field, you see that he does it, or you fire him. An officer is the hired hand of the people. He is going to do what they insist on him doing. If the voter makes no kick, the officer has a right to believe he is satisfied.

Keeping this community clean is several men's job. You can't delegate this duty to another. We need a thousand good men in and around Wheeler working at this task. We again ask you:

Are You Doing Your Part?

Are you supporting our churches, our schools, our temperance league, or other civic organizations working to uphold decency in our community? If you are unwilling to do your part, you should change your attitude. Failure to co-operate shows where you stand in relation to your community.

Decay

Decay of the teeth is something that comes like a thief at night. It often comes when and where we least expect it. The old theory, "a clean tooth can not decay," is wrong. It sounds good and reasonable but it is not so. I have seen thousands of teeth decayed which have been kept clean. This theory, however, put into practice is worth its extravagance.

No doubt the chief cause of decay is due to neglect. Teeth are different in construction, the same as bodies and parts of bodies are different. Some people have perfect teeth while others have deficient ones. Decay is not unreasonable in its course if found and given attention before it has gone too far. Decay is generally misleading to the patient.

Enamel being the hardest part of the tooth, decay affects it less. But once through it, the dentine beneath is swiftly eaten away. This one thing is the chief cause of teeth being lost by decay. Once through the enamel it spreads fast and undermines the enamel causing it to break away. Then the patient discovers his trouble and more fully realizes the seriousness of it.

The majority of these cases could be nipped in the bud and saved with little expense, if found and taken in hand at the proper time. Regular visits to your dentist for the sole purpose of searching for small defects is the sensible way to avoid serious decay. It is much more reasonable, inexpensive, and satisfactory for the patient to do this than it is to neglect the teeth until it is necessary to remove or restore them by painful and expensive methods. This theory is nothing but common sense and should be practiced to the fullest extent.

The only salvation for the loss of so many teeth is their regular examination, reasonable care and early treatment when decay is found. If the day ever comes when these are practiced most dental troubles will have vanished.

The old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine" is no truer to anything in life than it is to the teeth.

An ounce of prevention to the teeth is worth a pound of cure. All teeth are subject to decay and therefore should be watched closely, cleaned regularly, and repaired immediately upon finding any defects. We are all guilty, but any person who will form the habit of visiting his dentist twice each year, either of his own accord or by a card or call from the dentist, will find beyond a doubt that he will have less expense, pain and annoyance through life.

To carry out this plan every family should patronize a reputable dentist in the same manner as they should patronize a reputable, ethical lawyer, physician or any other scientific specialist. This practice benefits you—no other.

Decay will be discussed in a more detailed manner hereafter in this column.

Next—Wisdom teeth.

MOBEETIE

By F. M. MONTGOMERY

Mobeetie, in an early day. Was settled by our pioneers. They had to arm them for the fray And had many hopes and fears— Here's where the cow-boys had their fun; The only law was the law of the gun.

It was in eighteen and seventy-five, The buffalo hunters were there; And the last great herds were yet alive But wasn't too many to spare. Countless were they till the white man came And spoiled the Indians of their game.

Herds of cattle and the buffalo Were everywhere to be seen. The Sweetwater's unruffled flow And the prairie rich and green, But now all changed—the fields Of wheat and cotton give good yields.

Mobeetie, meaning waters sweet, Teeming with the romance of the past, We old timers stop to greet The pioneers whose lot was cast In the Panhandle—once desert land— To help to conquer and command.

Mrs. Elbert Lesly and children left Sunday for their new home in Merced, Calif. Mr. Lesly has been there for several weeks.

Mrs. S. T. Rodgers was accompanied home Saturday by her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Stovall, and husband of Beaumont. Mrs. Rodgers had spent two weeks there visiting his children. The Stovalls will return home the last of next week.

METHODIST CHURCH
J. EDMUND KIRBY, Pastor
A wild rose was growing just outside the beautiful garden of the King's palace. She could see the gardener as he worked among the beautiful roses of the palace garden. One day the gardener came and dug up very carefully the wild rose. "What could this mean," asked the wild rose to herself. Soon she was to know.

The gardener placed her in the middle of the most beautiful rose bed. The next day the gardener came with a knife and said to the wild rose: "Now this will hurt but it is necessary that I go beneath the surface and place there a bud; if you will endure the pain then you will be transformed into the most beautiful rose in the garden."

It had always been the desire of the little wild rose to have a place in the King's garden, so she was willing to submit herself to change in order that she might have a place there, but there was one question in her mind: "Would she be the most beautiful?"

The next summer the roses began to bloom and to her surprise the wild rose became the most beautiful rose in the garden.

Friend, we invite you to the services of the Methodist church, and also to the Gardener of the souls of men who can take our sinful lives and change them into things of beauty and usefulness.

My Trip to the 4-H Encampment at the Dallas Fair
By DORA GOODNIGHT
While I was at the Dallas Fair I saw many wonderful things, some of which I never dreamed of their being. Four things that I found most interesting were the zoo, opera, agriculture building and the races.

There were monkeys of all kinds; apes, bears, tigers, lions, elephants, large birds and many other things in the zoo.

I cannot even start to describe the beauty of the opera. I am sure it is the most beautiful thing that I have ever seen.

I also enjoyed going through the agricultural building. In this building was the work of the outstanding club boys and girls in Texas, and other things that had been entered.

I spent one afternoon at the races, which was very exciting. But most of all I enjoyed meeting the other girls that had done outstanding work in their counties.
