Local Canning Plant to Start August 9th

Changing Location from Old Jail to Rear of Clay Service Station Building

Workmen started this moring on the job of cleaning up the premises and rear room of the Clay Service station building, at the southeast corner of the square, preparatory to moving the local relief canning kitchen to that location from quarters in the old jail building.

The plant is being moved at the behest of state authorities, who had pronounced the heavy traffic of clients through Administrator Wells' office in the front room of the old jail as constituting an unsanitary condition. Jess Carver will occupy the front room of the Clay building with a service station office.

With work of moving being pushed as rapidly as possible, it is believed the kitchen will be in operation some time next week, probably not later than the 9th.

However, all parties having products which they want canned may list them at any time now at the new location, where an office is maintained for that purpose, states Mrs. C. Bryan Witt, county supervisor of canning plants. If urgent 8 a. m., they will be transported to the Shamrock plant and canned there until the Wheeler plant is in opera-

COUNTY PLANNING BOARD IS NAMED

and products are brought in before Proposals for Improvement First Submitted to Local Group Under WPA Setup

Personnel of the new county planning board has been announced this week by W. O. Puett, county judge, as yet. In the meantime, Mrs. Witt as follows: J. B. Clark, Shamrock, representing that city and its schools; A. B. Crump, Wheeler, representing Wheeler and its schools; O. W. Elliott; Mobeetie, for that community and the schools thereof; Tom supervision, must be taken from re- Britt, Wheeler, representing the county schools, and W. O. Puett, for the commissioner's court.

This arrangement is in compliance with a request of state officials directing the new Works Progress administration, the setup designed work relief organizations.

As explained by Puett, it is not within the province of the planning per cent of the meats go to the pro- board, particularly, to originate or push projects of any kind. However, all projects must be basis to all who wish to have prod-sponsored by some political unit, county, precinct or town.

Approval of a project by the couny planning board does not assure its acceptance; likewise disapproval need not mean defeat of a project if it is presented to the proper authoriies higher up. Yet it is clearly understood that all county projects should first be submitted to the planning board.

In the case of building projects, blue prints prepared by an architect, are required when the proposition is submitted. Road projects call for estimates and plans, to be prepared by an engineer.

As it now appears, from the information available, projects of $25,000 and under are within the scope of the WPA, while those involving outlays in excess of that sum come under a different setup.

Local School Staff Is Nearly Complete

Employment of from Seven to Nine More Teachers Anticipated for this Year

Preparatory to the opening of the 1935-36 school term, Superintendent J. L. Gilmore has been busy selecting, with the approval of the school board, a staff of instructors. In a statement today he asserted that, with the addition of seven new teachers already made, the faculty is practically complete. Gilmore declared, however, that at least one and possibly three more teachers will be employed. The number will depend ipon the increase in scholastics admitted to the Wheeler schools from nearby districts.

The tentative faculty is as follows: J. L. Gilmore, superintendent: C. B. Witt, principal of the high school, and Bob Clark, high school coach and principal of the grammar school. Other high school instructors and their subjects are: Robert Mayne, history; Roscoe Morgan, mathematics; Miss Bernie Addison, English and journalism; Miss Winona Adams, science; Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, Spanish and English; Mrs. Bennie Mae Whitener, home economics, and Miss Frances Alice Clark, music.

Grammar school teachers: Mrs. G. O. McCrohan, Miss Ruth Ewing, Mrs. Allen I. 3mith, Mrs. C. J. Meek, Mrs. John Hood, Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, Mrs. C. C. Crowder, Miss Rose Bowden and Mrs. Roscoe Morgan. Gilmore stated that it was impossible at this time to state just what grades the several grammar school instructors would teach, since that detail has not as yet been de-

According to present plans, the Wheeler schools will start on Monday, Sept. 2, this year, although conlitions may warrant postponement to one week later. Definite date will be announced as soon as a final decision is reached.

Transportation equipment for students in outlying areas was purchased at a meeting of the board Tuesday night. This consists of three International buses. Two are of 2-ton capacity, with 21 foot two inch bodies, to accommodate 60 passengers; the other is a 11/2-ton job with 18 foot seven inch body, for 45 passengers. The bodies are all of the Wayne all-steel type.

It is expected that 12 Masons will take the examination: four from Mobeetie, four from Shamrock and four Wheeler men. Other interested Masons may sit in on the work, Guthrie says. Dinner and supper will be furnished by Wheeler lodge for those taking the examination.

Mobeetie School Head to Collingsworth Job

Carl Chaudoin, Superintendent for Past Three Years, Leaving Wheeler County

When it was learned early this week that Carl Chaudoin, superintendent of the Mobeetie schools for the past three years, had resigned his position to accept a position as head of the consolidated school at Quail in Collingsworth county, genuine regret greeted the news. While patrons of the Mobeetie schools feel a real loss in the departure of Chaudoin, yet because of the advancement and greater remuneration offered in the new position, they do not blame him for accepting the

His going, however, has more than mere local significance. The loss is shared by the educational system of the entire county.

This morning's Amarillo News, in a special to that paper, had the following to say about the Quail consolidated school, to which Chaudoin is going as superintendent:

IT IS TO WONDER

For months a powerful group of public servants has been stalking the crippled electric industry, trying to strike a death blow as it sought help to rid itself of ills that have beset it.

This disgraceful spectacle, lacking in statesmanship and patently an endeavor on the part of many selfseeking politicians to create an exaggerated picture of alleged abuses in order to secure the favor of an uninformed or misinformed public, was brought to a halt by the courageous action of an overwhelming majority in the house of representatives, which refused to take part in the "kill."

With taxes reaching the confiscation point, with many home owners unable to pay the levies, with surplus earnings of farms and industries swallowed up by tax gatherers, the people are now told by the public utility "stalker" that legislation to further cripple the power industry will be one of the outstanding issues of the next national election. What a farce!

If annual federal government expenditures for the past two years were reduced a mere 10 per cent, it would mean a greater annual saving than the total yearly domestic power bill. If power rates were cut 10, 25 or 50 per cent, it would mean practically nothing in the cost of living of the average family.

The millions of dollars of losses that have been caused the nation through the time taken by paid public servants in discussing this minor issue-plus the countless millions of losses which this destructive campaign has caused innocent investors in every part of the nation-may well exceed the total annual power bill.

The whole power question is of such minor importance compared to the real issues that face this nation, that one begins to wonder if the politicians fool around with it as an excuse for dodging the more weighty and important questions affecting the lives, the income, the property rights, the savings and the well being of our people.

COUNTRY PRESS A SAFEGUARD

It has often been said that the greatest safeguard to liberty and constitutional government in the United States, is the country press. No nation is so well covered with local newspapers.

The thousands of publishers of these local papers generally own and edit their own publications. They are independent and express their own opinions. They are among our highest type of citizens and have a thorough understanding of the principles upon which our government is founded, regardless of their party beliefs. In the great majority they are broadminded enough to put the welfare of the nation and security for life, liberty and property ahead of any party prejudices.

That is why the country press of the United States is the greatest champion of the rights and liberties of all the people, as set forth in the fundamental law of our land.

If anyone doubts this, he has only to read the editorial comment of editors from the four corners of the nation today. To illustrate, the editor of the News, published in the typical country town of Ruskin, Neb., in his issue of June 13, in commenting on the growing tax bills and bureaucratic tendencies in government. savs:

"We say, look out! When you get more than half the people on the federal, state, county, municipal or other public payroll, then you are going to have bureaucracy right, both at home and in Washington. As we have said before, it is not just what we are doing now, but the direction in which we are heading that counts.'

OKLAHOMA'S GOOD START

Official approval has been given WPA projects in Oklahoma involving a total of not quite $5,000,000. It will be possible to put 25,000 heads of families to work within a short time, under this program.

The projects approved include several dams whereby small reservoirs will be created, some sanitation projects, and the like.

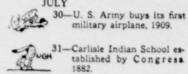

Just how it comes to pass, observes the Wichita Falls Times, that Oklahoma has thus gotten off to a flying start in its WPA program, while Texas has not had a single project aproved as yet is something that Texans would like to have explained. Whatever the answer, it obviously is in order for Texas to promptly complete its WPA set-up and get its program launched without more de-

Undisputed Facts

The people of Texas will be called upon to repeal constitutional prohibition on August 24. Prohibition has been called a failure, and many states have voted in favor of legalized liquor. Facts have been developed in the face of present day conditions which each and every voter should carefully consider.

Arrests for drunkenness after repeal increased 113 per cent in 12 principal Southern cities (compiled from court records).

After repeal deaths from auto wrecks increased 77 per cent (United States Division of Vital Statistics). After trying legalized sale of liquor for four months

21 out of 23 suburban precincts of Chicago voted dry (official returns). Also, it should be considered that repeal has signally failed to reduce unemployment, taxation, public or private drinking, eliminate the bootlegger, save young people or dispel hypocrisy.

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County.

For $6.90 Mrs. Burley Morgan. wardrobe demonstrator in the Bethel Home Demonstration club, constructd a closet 11 feet long and two feet wide, providing ample storage for the family.

The closet is divided into three composed of shelves only. All folded garments, linens and miscellaneous articles are kept there. The closet is painted on the inside with white paint, and the doors and strips that were not papered are painted gray.

"I am especially proud of my closet," said Mrs. O. O. Sandifer, wardrobe demonstrator on the Wheeler Home Demonstration club. because it is a real convenience and has not cost me a penny.'

The frame is built of 1x4 lumber that was left from remodeling the discarded sign, after the tin had been pulled off. Mrs. Sandifer used two small hinges that she had on hand to Miss Ann Christian of Farwell, is swing the door. The outside and inpaper, making it light and dustproof. There is a shoe rack, hat rack, extension rod and shelf in the top for hats which afford adequate convenience for storing clothing.

> "Let's save the few remaining landmarks of pioneer days in Wheeler county," said Mrs. Jim Porter of each citizen in Texas should begin Wheeler, in speaking to the ladies of the Briscoe Home Demonstration club at Briscoe, July 23. "I would like so much to see the old jail at Mobeetie become public property," continued Mrs. Porter. "Why not have it a supplementary museum to the one at Canyon? It could be made into an ideal one." Many interesting events of Wheeler county early day history were given 24. by Mrs. Porter.

The club voted to put on their encampment stunt at the Briscoe P.-T. A. meeting Aug. 8.

The club was glad to have Mrs. Jim Dyer as a new member.

Others present were Mesdames Jim Porter and Merriman of Wheeler. Perry Riley, Clarence Zybach, Sam. Standlee, Tulia Morris, Weaver Barnett, Queenie Vise, C. H. Candler, and Miss Tamsey Riley.

and drunkeness has doubled since we voted to repeal the 18th amendment. "The wets said vote for repeal and decrease bootlegging. We voted for repeal all right but the treasury department of the U.S. says that bootlegging has increased. A statement was recently given to the press of the nation that more bootleg liquor is being sold in America at this time than legal liquor. More than half of the liquor being drunk in America oday is being illegally sold, according to the report of the federal government. Just to the extent that a state licenses the sale of liquor it increases bootlegging, because where iquor is legally sold it is well nigh mpossible to catch and convict a bootlegger for selling it.

The wets said vote for repeal and save the boys and girls from drink. But in place of saving our boys and girls from drink, repeal has made bar tenders and bar maids out of them. Half of the wine, and beer and liquor that is being sold in America today it is said, is being sold by boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21. Under the regime of repeal, liquor taverns are becoming more damning in their environment than the old old time saloon bar.

"Do not be misled by the pleas of the wets, like that made by C. I. Wakefield, chairman of the Dallas county repeal forces, in the Dallas News of Sunday, July 21. An illustration of this is seen in the states of New York and Kansas. New York collects more liquor tax than any state in the nation and yet it has at this time a $90,000,000 deficit. Kansas, a dry state, the dryest in the union, has balanced its budget and lowered its taxes.

> "Vote against repeal, for repeal has failed to decrease automobile accidents; 5,000 more people are now killed annually in automobile accidents than when we had the 18th amendment," said Maness.

"What's the matter?" "Do what I say," said Kentucky without raising his voice, "and don't ask why. Turn your horse and come back to me." Kentucky Jones turned his own horse so that it was headed back the way Lee Bishop had come. 'Now bring your horse alongside of mine, easy," he said. "Walk your Lee Bishop swung in his saddle to hundred yards away. Kentucky Suddenly Bishop gave a queer gag-

The gun above spoke a second wanted to ride another, had things time, and a third; Bishop's horse broken as they should. It was a started abruptly. The rider, his gun handedly in the dark, that spoiled hands, toppled sidewise and pitched headlong into the snow. Kentucky Jones dropped out of the saddle, lifted Lee Bishop, and got the foreman over his shoulders. Running diagonally to keep the pony between himself and the ambushed rifle, he

A fourth time the rifle in the rocks spoke, and this time Kentucky's horse plunged, jerking free the reins, "Lee," he demanded as they came and went to its knees. Bishop's rifle ed back two paces to snatch it up. The edge of the coulee was ten paces once more from the ledges of the notch, and Kentucky felt Lee Bishop's body jerk. Then he lowered and leaped in after him.

"Lee! Lee, where are you hit?" Lee Bishop's eyes were squinted shut, and he groaned through set teeth as Kentucky tried to straighten him out upon the bottom of the arroyo. "They got me, Kentucky," he managed to get out at last.

"The h-l they have! You going to please that bunch by making a But when he had examined Lee

Bishop he did not know. The first shot Lee Bishop had received had been an angling one, in the back; he could not tell whether the bullet had lodged at the bottom of the lung or some place else.

Catching up Bishop's rifle, Kentucky threw a shot into the general vicinity of the ambush, and instantly drew fire in return. Apparently their attackers were not attempting to close. Kentucky immediately set about the improvisation of bandages. Twice a minute he interrupted his work to sight across the valley floor for sign of approach. Still keeping constant lookout, he prepared for the night. Bishop appeared to be too seriously hurt to be moved without aid. Already the light was uncertain: the molten gold of the last sun still touched the upper peaks of the Maricopas, but the wide reaches of Trap canyon were pooled in blue dark. Dragging Bishop's rifle with him, Kentucky Jones went out to his dead horse and got his saddle blanket, and and used it with the blanket to make Bishop a bed in a snow-drifted angle. Working along the lip of the coulee he collected greasewood and broken drift, and with this built a tiny fire to warm the wounded man's feet, and another fire at Bishop's the saddle itself to prop Lee's head.

side. Lee Bishop opened his eyes long enough to say faintly, "That'll only be a mark for gunfire, Kentuck.'

"I'll take care of that, Lee. It's near dark enough to fire at the flash of the guns."

When these things were done there was nothing more to do but wait, keep watch, and maintain their store of fuel. He built a third fire -a signal fire on the edge of the coulee, a hundred yards from their forlorn bivouac. When Campo Ragland and Harry Wilson returned to the Bar Hook it was reasonable to suppose that they would make some effort to find Bishop, who had gone out looking for trouble with every probability of finding it. If they came to look, the signal fire would be visible a long way off. If they did not come to look. Kentucky Jones had a long wait ahead, a wait perhaps equal to the remainder of Lee Bishop's life.

Slowly the hours passed, cold with a bone-piercing cold, and marked only by the imperceptible turn of the stars. After an hour or two Lee Bishop began to mumble from the depths of a delirious stupor.

SELLING SIGNBOARD SPACE TO FENCE FOOTBALL FIELD

Casting about for a method to aise funds to fence the high school ootball field, athletic enthusiasts it upon a novel plan here this week. E. Young, sr., strong supporter of the schools and particularly athletic activities, worked out a signboard cheme whereby space on the fence will be sold to advertisers at a nominal sum. The enclosure, to be built of wood, will surround the lights. Newly papered and painted field, making it possible to maintain 32tfc and collect admission fees.

With the heavy demand upon the district treasury finances in the proof fencing to be borne by the district itself. Hence this plan was adopted and has met with splendid support. Today. Young reported that nearly enough money had been pledged to purchase the fence material.

Plans, it is reported, are being worked out to install a floodlighting system at the athletic field. Progress on this improvement feature will be announced later.

Agricultural News Notes Briefly Told

A billion-dollar increase in the arm value of agricultural produc tion this year has been forecast on the basis of rising prices paid to farmers, coupled with a comparatively stable cost of living in rural communities, says a New York report by the Associated Press. Predictions are for a gross farm value of $8,860, 000,000 this year, compared with $7,869,000,000 in 1934, an increase

During the July 1, 1934 to June 1, 1935 period of the 1935 fiscal days. year the AAA expended in rental penefit payments, removal and conservation of surplus agricultural commodities, drought relief, administrative expenses and other operaions, a total of $767,195,306 from unds available amounting to $918. 045,135, leaving a balance available of $150,849,829, according to the monthly comptroller's report issued

Plan Tariff Attack

"Declaring that the AAA processing tax is the farmer's tariff and L. Gunter. that agriculture is entitled to proection the same as other industry, President H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, association, announced Tuesday through the Dallas office plans of the association to attack tariffs of industry in court," according to a recent issue of the Dallas Morning News.

"At the same time, E. L. Corbin secretary, announced a meeting of the association for August 1 at the LaSalle hotel, Bryan, at the same ime the farmers' Short Course is in progress at Texas A. & M. college.

"The manufacturing industry has destroyed the processing tax, which s the farmer's tariff, Lucas said. Now the farmers propose to destroy the tariff. If the processing tax is redistribution of wealth, then the tariff is also, and we intend to lay he fight on such redistribution.

"The farmers are plenty mad about the attitude of industry toward them because the processing tax has been one of the main things that kept agriculture going the last two vears." Corbin added.

Corbin declared the Texas Agricultural association, organized in Dallas on Dec. 3, 1933, by 50 independent farmer organizations, now has 1,989 community organizations in 228 counties, with a total membership of 225,000. "The cotton ginners have said they will raise money to fight the Bankhead act." Corbin posed building program, it was said. "With this force of farmers deemed impractical for the expense we'll show 'em how it's done. We expect to ask each member for a contribution of $1 to the war chest to carry on the fight, and plan to raise $100,000 at least. "The suits against the processing tax on the ground that it is not for revenue but for redistribution of wealth are just as applicable to the tariff which the farmers have paid for generations on the commodities they use," Mr. Lucas' statement said. "The protection of 'infant industries' under the tariff is OK in the minds of the processors, but the protection of agriculture under a processing tax is 'all wrong,' these same gentlemen say. We propose to take the matter in our own hands and see that there is equality for agriculture.

"The processing tax is the first opportunity the farmer ever had to enjoy equality with other groups on the finished products of his own raw materials and now through court action he is losing that benefit.

"Farmers have willingly paid the high tariff that business might hrive, and yet the manufacturers object to an 8c processing tax that agriculture might exist."
