County Machines At Cost for Terracing

Commissioners Agree to Co-operate With Extension Service in Farm Improvement

Cognizant of the damage done to Wheeler county farms through wind and water erosion, the commissioners in session this week demonstrated their willingness to co-operate with the extension department of the county agent's office in a terracing program. The commissioners agreed to permit the use of county machinery for farm terracing work at actual cost. The rate decided upon is $2.50 per hour for county equipment, with gas, oil and two operators furnished.

Landowners who want such improvements made must agree to pay 50 per cent of the cost when the work is done. The remaining 50 per cent can then be carried as a lien on the land over a period of five years, 20 per cent payable each year without interest, if paid when due. If not so paid, 8 per cent interest will be added after maturity. The whole amount may be paid at any time, of course.

Since House Bill 227, recently adopted, does not permit free use of road machinery for farm terracing, the foregoing plan is considered the best thing and very fair in its provisions. Commenting Tuesday on the matter, Jake Tarter, county agent, voiced appreciation of the policy adopted by the commissioners and expressed the belief that many farmers will take advantage of the plan. "I believe 60,000 acres of Wheeler county land will be terraced this year," asserted Tarter.

All parties desiring such work are requested to list their land at the agent's office as soon as possible. If such listings are made promptly, it is believed that a schedule can be arranged to expedite the work in an economical manner, gradually rotating equipment around the county to avoid having to terrace one farm on the extreme north, then move all the machinery back and terrace one on the extreme south.

ASSISTANT AGENT COMING

J. R. Wennohs has been employed to help with the terracing program and in boys' 4-H club work. Wennohs, who will be assistant to the county agent in extension work, is a graduate of A. & M. college and has been engaged since 1931 in Orange and Gaudalope counties, in the southern part of the state. Under his guidance and with the assistance of several county farmers who have been trained in such work, the terracing program is expected to move along smoothly and rapidly to a successful conclusion.

However, terracing and contour work will progress in accordance with the nature of the land and number of contours to be made, and will vary as to the number of hours required to terrace a farm, along with the number of acres included in the plot.

Many Students from County in W.T.S.T.C.

Gordon Family Leads List With Five Members—Total of 45 from County

Wheeler county can lay claim to some note through its enrollment of students at West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, according to a special communication to The Times. The county has 45 students in the college, which is the largest attendance from any single county except Potter county, containing Amarillo, and Randall county, in which the school is located.

Five members of the Gordon family are among the students. Fannie and Flora Mae of Mobeetie are seniors and their brother, Lee, is a freshman. Freddie and Mary Gordon of Shamrock are sophomores.

John Rankin of Mobeetie is captain of the Buffalo football team, and Stina Cain of Briscoe and Clinton Meek also of this county are members of the team.

Clara Harvey of Shamrock is a prominent worker in the Y. W. C. A. To Helen Gilmore of this city goes the distinction of being a W. T. "grandchild," both of her parents being ex-students of the college.

Corn Valley School to Re-open

Corn Valley school pupils will return to classes Monday, after five weeks vacation for cotton picking. Teachers, trustees and patrons of the Corn Valley school wish to thank all who helped to make the pie supper a success last Friday night, when a total of $31.56 was realized.

DISTRICT COURT NEWS

District court began the November term Monday upon the arrival of Judge W. R. Ewing. The first week, proceeding without a jury, has moved along quietly with little of interest to report although a number of motions and quite a few non-jury cases have been heard by the court. When the grand jury organized Monday, Tom Britt was chosen foreman. It was thought that a report would be turned in late this afternoon, but this was not done. Judge Ewing stated tonight that a report would likely be filed some time tomorrow forenoon, after which court will adjourn until Monday. Next week will be civil case week, with jury.

Red Cross Roll Call Planned for Wheeler

Nicholson Is Roll Call Chairman—Business Women to Help With Solicitation

Field Representative Robert T. Bridge of the American Red Cross was in Wheeler Saturday making preliminary arrangements for the annual roll call of that organization, which is to start immediately. Dr. H. E. Nicholson was prevailed upon to accept the position of acting-chairman of the Red Cross, as well as roll call chairman for this year. Nicholson succeeds County Clerk F. B. Craig, who relinquished the post because his official duties would not permit him giving the necessary amount of time to the work.

Officially, the roll call period is from Nov. 11 to Thanksgiving Day, which falls on Nov. 28 this year. However, a little time will be required here to organize and get the roll call under way. The Business & Professional Women's club of Wheeler has been asked by Nicholson to assist with the solicitation. Although no formal action has been taken by the club in the matter, Miss Clara Finsterwald, treasurer, stated today that individual members of the group—if not the organization as a whole—will plan to assist in the roll call.

There are three forms of membership. One dollar pays for an annual membership; $5 contributing; $10 sustaining, and $25 supporting. Out of every $1 annual membership Wheeler county's Red Cross chapter receives 50 cents and 50 cents goes to the national organization. Those who contribute by purchasing the other kinds of membership help to raise more funds for the local chapter, as all but 50 cents remains at home.

It may be pointed out that funds kept by the local organization will come in handy for home relief purposes. There are families throughout the county in need of rehabilitation, and Red Cross money, if available, may be used for their benefit. The more funds raised during the campaign, the more aid possible to extend to local people.

WHEELER COTTON OIL MILL PRODUCT HAS HIGH PROTEIN CONTENT IN RECENT TEST

According to officers of the Wheeler Cotton Oil Mill company, a home-owned concern manufacturing cotton seed products, a chemical test made on Nov. 9 of meal from the plant showed a 31.70% protein content. This is said to be a high percentage of protein for cotton seed meal. This mill employs the whole pressed method of processing cotton seed.

On the basis of extremely fair exchange rates of its products for raw material, the mill bids for the business of the surrounding territory in its line. Through its operation, work is provided for several local men.

Roy Puckett went to Amarillo Monday to attend to business. He returned Tuesday morning.

HAVE YOU READ "CHINA SEAS?"

In The Times last week appeared the first installment of "China Seas," a serial to be presented in three installments. The second installment will be found on another page of this issue. The story will be completed next week. Special interest attaches to publication of "China Seas" since it is to appear on the screen at the Rogue theatre here shortly. Many movie fans will welcome this opportunity to familiarize themselves with the plot through the medium of a very interesting story.

Committee Will See 4-H Calves Saturday

Advisory Board and Guests Plan Inspection Tour of Boys' Project Livestock

Announcement was made this week of another tour of Wheeler county 4-H club calves, to be made Saturday by the advisory board and other interested parties. The party is to assemble at the court house in Wheeler at 7:30 a. m., prepared to make the trip, which will cover the greater part of the county.

The first stopping place will be at the Zack Miller farm, near Sweetwater schoolhouse, where others who wish to join the travelers may do so. From there calves belonging to the following boys will be visited:

Bob Tatum, A. J. Worley, Travis Bradstreet, James Passons, Hiram Whitener, Roy Lamb, Jas. A. Morgan, Edgar Flynt, Edgar Gordon, Bud McCarroll, Harry Gordon, David Dysart, Jack Robinson, Godfrey and Edward Cadra and Cleve and Herman Parsons.

The official advisory board is composed of County Agent Jake Tarter, Ira Passons, Buck Britt and H. H. Reeves. The last previous official visitation was made on August 12, when 17 men and boys made the tour. R. T. Alexander from Hemphill county was a pinch-hitter for Britt and Reeves, who were unable to go.

Data obtained during that trip will be compared with facts and figures ascertained Saturday and from this will be made up information covering growth and development of the livestock.

"We are holding this meeting on Saturday," declared Tarter, "so the school boys may be able to accompany us."

An invitation to all who care to make the trip has been extended by the county agent. Several other inspection trips of livestock and projects are contemplated in the near future.

LEGION MEETING SET FOR BORGER

Eighteenth District Convention to Be Held Latter Part of This Month

Borger, Texas, has been selected as host city to the eighteenth district American Legion convention, which will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Such is the information received by officers of the local post this week. The Hutchinson county post has been working faithfully in preparation for the convention and has every member detailed to some phase of getting ready to accommodate some 1,500 visitors who are expected to attend. William McCraw, attorney general of Texas, has signified his intentions of attending the convention. He will be the principal speaker on Sunday, Dec. 1. State Commander Ernest S. Goens expects to be present. Gov. James V. Allred has been invited to attend, but declined, saying it would be impossible for him to come on either day.

The offer of a $25.00 award to the post having the largest per cent of its membership quota registered at the convention has aroused keen interest among local Legionnaires. Commander Chester Lewis and Adjutant Jim Risner of the Wheeler post have declared their intentions of making a strenuous effort to win the prize and have high hopes of doing so. At all events, a large delegation will go from Wheeler county to the convention.

Baptists to Conduct School of Missions

Series Starts Monday Evening—To Close Wednesday Night with Missionary Talk

A school of Missions will be conducted at the Baptist church next week, starting at 6 o'clock Monday evening to continue two hours each evening. The series will close Wednesday night when Rev. Chapman of Houston, a returned Baptist missionary from Japan, will bring an interesting message for young and old.

Rev. Chapman will speak in Mobeetie Sunday and expects to meet with the Briscoe Baptist church on Monday night.

Rev. L. T. Fields of Briscoe will be in charge of the adult mission study class; Rev. Taft Holloway will teach the junior and intermediate boys; Mrs. L. T. Fields will instruct the senior girls class, and Mrs. E. W. Carter will have charge of the junior girls class.

All members of the church are urged to attend these meetings and a cordial welcome is extended to the public.

Well-Known Briscoe Man Dies Saturday

T. W. Martin Succumbs at Shamrock Hospital—Funeral Services Held On Sunday

Following a brief illness with appendicitis, T. W. Martin, 47, well-known Wheeler county man living in the Briscoe community, passed away late Saturday night in the Clinic hospital, Shamrock.

Thomas Wesley Martin was born Feb. 29, 1888, in Montague county, Texas, and died Nov. 9, 1935, at Shamrock, Texas, at the age of 47 years, eight months and 10 days. In 1900 he moved with his parents to Oklahoma, where on Nov. 25, 1906, he was united in marriage with Mary M. Burke at Pontotoc, in that state. To this happy union were born six children, the first boy dying in infancy. Another son, little Jack Walton Martin, preceded the father in death on Sept. 21 of this year.

Mr. Martin united with the Missionary Baptist church at Boggy Depot, Okla., and had lived a quiet, consistent Christian life for 18 years. He served as deacon in the church at Boggy and at Mt. Zion, near Mobeetie.

Surviving members of the family are the beloved and faithful wife and four children: Ernest of Apache, Okla.; Arthur of Allison; Mrs. Vera Worthington of Mobeetie, and Mrs. Martha Helton of Allison. Other near relatives left to mourn his demise are his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Martin; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Norwood and Mrs. Laura Bell Garrett, two brothers, Will and Charlie; two half-brothers, Solomon and J. B., and two half-sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Beck and Mrs. Ruby Rogers, besides a host of friends and relatives.

PALO DURO PARK PROVES POPULAR

Thousands of People Visit State Recreational Playground Near Canyon

Records reveal that 12,000 cars, containing 60,000 people, visited the Palo Duro Canyon State park during 1935, according to a report just made public by Clyde W. Warwick, chairman of the advisory committee to the Texas State Parks board. Palo Duro park is located 12 miles east of Canyon.

The park, embracing 15,500 acres, was started in July, 1933, with three CCC companies. A fourth company was added in December, making it the largest CCC camp in the nation. Two companies were removed last May, leaving two which will remain until next July, it is said.

Under construction at the present time are El Coronado Lodge, 24 stone tourist cabins, tourist camp sites, 150 picnic units with tables and outdoor stoves, eight miles of scenic drive, 25 miles of bridge trails, six miles of water mains, and other improvements to make it the largest and most attractive recreation and picnic center in this section of the Southwest.

Those who have visited the park understand better why Col. Charles Goodnight followed this trail into the Palo Duro and established his first ranch headquarters there. The park is beautiful during the fall months, with plenty of shelter for picnicking parties even in cool weather.

During the past four months 15 cars have visited the park from Wheeler. Among those making favorable comments regarding the beauties of the Palo Duro were:

Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Joss, Ted Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Lee, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brazil and family, Mildred Newsom, George Lamb, Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. C. J. Meek, Florence Merriman, Irene Hunt, Dorothy Collier, Mrs. O. D. Perryman and C. H. Claude, whose comment was uniformly favorable, declaring it "a beautiful park."

BRISCOE SCHOOLS PLAN HOUSE-WARMING FOR NEW ADDITION ON FRIDAY, NOV. 22

Preparations are being made by the faculty, members of the board and patrons of Briscoe district for a "house-warming" to initiate their new home economics building, which is nearing completion. Friday, Nov. 22, has been chosen as the date for an all-day community get-together, to which people of the entire county are heartily welcome.

Several notables have been invited to be present and appear on the proposed informal program. Among these are "Old Tack" of Amarillo; Freddie Martin of the Stamps Music company and a quartet; Judge W. L.

Educational Notes

Reported by B. T. RUCKER, County Superintendent

Wheeler county now has a total of 32 prospective national youth administration clients, which includes a list of late applicants. The county quota is 36, therefore the goal was nearly completed and probably gives this county as high a percentage as any other in this part of the state.

L. M. Post, representing the Child Development Foundation, has been in the county this week placing curriculum material in the hands of teachers. Approximately a score of teachers have placed orders for the literature and supplies. This is an indication of the progressive spirit which prevails among the educators of Wheeler county and is highly commendable. Names of purchasers will be announced at a later date.

The Missouri Hillbillies, a musical organization broadcasting from KGNC, Amarillo, will appear in a program at the Lela schoolhouse next Tuesday. The following night, Wednesday, Nov. 20, they are scheduled for an appearance at the Kelton school, for a program.

CITY PROJECT NOT REJECTED

That the Wheeler waterworks extension and sewer installation project, presented to the public works administration as a works relief measure, has not been totally rejected is learned from advices received this week by C. R. Weatherly, city secretary.

The following letter, addressed to Senator Morris Sheppard, whose aid had been solicited in obtaining the grant, gives facts that warrant hoping for ultimate realization of the improvements sought. It reads: "Senator Sheppard:

"This will acknowledge your letter of Oct. 22 and confirm telephone conversation concerning application of the city of Wheeler for funds to be used in the construction of waterworks. It is regretted that this project could not have been included in the 200 million dollar P. W. A. grant program recently announced. Failure of inclusion, however, should not be construed to indicate that the project is not desirable and sound, or that it has been rejected.

"Applications involving grants amounting to over 700 millions have been received, whereas only 200 million was available. Further consideration will be given this application when and if additional funds become available."

The letter was signed by a member of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, in Washington.

METHODIST PASTOR LEAVES TUESDAY FOR CONFERENCE

Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, pastor of the Wheeler Methodist church, left Tuesday for Plainview, where he will attend sessions of the annual district Methodist conference for this area. The conference began Wednesday and will continue until Sunday night, at which time appointments for the coming year are to be announced.

Mrs. Kirby and son, Jamie, accompanied Rev. Kirby to Lamesa, where they will visit Mrs. Kirby's sister, Mrs. T. B. Moore, and family during the conference period.

GOOD PROGRAM SUNDAY AT ARMISTICE OBSERVANCE

Despite the norther which swept down on this region during the day and that night, the Armistice Day program, presented at the Baptist church Sunday night, proved interesting for those in attendance. A fair representation of ex-service men were on hand to hear splendid addresses by E. T. Scott, Amarillo, and Lewis M. Goodrich, Shamrock.

Deputy Will Visit State Aid Schools

Beginning Monday, Nov. 18, District Deputy Wilson to Inspect County Schools

Word has been received by B. T. Rucker, county superintendent, from J. D. Wilson, deputy state superintendent for district one, that a visitation of Wheeler county state aid schools will start next week. Wilson's letter reads in part as follows:

"I will be in Wheeler county Monday, Nov. 18, to begin visiting your state aid schools. I hope that all such schools will be in session by that date.

"It is very necessary that the trustees meet us at the schoolhouse when we visit the school which is applying for state aid. I would also like for several of the patrons to meet with us.

"I certainly want to be of great help to all the schools of Wheeler county, and it is therefore necessary that the trustees and school patrons meet us in each community. I want the people of your county to understand the new state aid law, and other important matters pertaining to the public schools.

"The law requires that every teacher in state aid schools have on file in your office their service record, and a copy of their college transcript. This is very important and if the schools receive state aid it is essential that this part of the law be complied with."

Itinerary of the deputy state superintendent is as follows:

Monday, Nov. 18—Wheeler high, 9 a. m.; Corn Valley, 1 p. m.; Mobeetie high, 2 o'clock.

Tuesday, Nov. 19—Rock, 9 a. m.; Kelton high, 10; Davis, 1:15; Center, 2:15.

Wednesday, Nov. 20—Union, 9; Mt. View, 11; Mt. Zion, 1:15; Dixon, 2:30.

Thursday, Nov. 21—Twitty, 9; Lela high, 10:30; Liberty, 1:15; Heald, 2:30.

Friday, Nov. 22—Centerview, 9:10; Bethel, 10:10; Briscoe, 12:20.

COUNTY PIONEERS RETURN AFTER 12 YEARS ABSENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rathjen of Los Angeles, Calif., were guests in the Fred Rathjen and Tobe Frye homes last Thursday. Mr. Rathjen is a brother of Mrs. D. G. Sims, Mobeetie, and Fred Rathjen of near Wheeler. He is a pioneer of Wheeler county, having operated a ranch east of the county seat some years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Rathjen moved to Los Angeles 12 years ago. This was their first visit here since leaving.

Other guests in the Rathjen home Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Sims and family, Mobeetie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rathjen and family, Canadian; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stewart and family, Sweetwater, Okla., and Miss Helen Bailey of Clarendon.

Work Starts Tuesday On Kellerville Road

After compliance with all requirements, it is reported that actual operations of improving the Kellerville-Magic City road, a stretch of 18 miles connecting those towns with Highway 66, got under way Tuesday morning of this week. This is a precinct 3 project to afford relief work for county unemployed.

About 80 unskilled workers have been employed on the project, together with a complement of 25 or 30 concrete form builders. This project only partially solves the relief work problem. It is reported that a considerable number of men around Wheeler and throughout the northern part of the county are in need of work.

If a little pressure is brought to bear in the right quarters it is possible that this part of the county will receive some consideration at the hands of the powers that be.

A wire dated Nov. 13 at Amarillo and signed by Congressman Marvin Jones, addressed to The Times, states that "works administration announces treasury warrant signed covering Wheeler county roads, $11,000."

Just where this sum, when received, will be applied is not known at this time. It will help, of course, as far as it goes, but Wheeler citizens and all the people of northern Wheeler county should not rest until positive assurance is received that our county road east to the state line will be brought up to the proper degree of improvement.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Beginning this week and continuing until Thanksgiving day, is the period designated for the annual American Red Cross roll call. This is the time when those who can, and care to do so, will have an opportunity to contribute to a most worthy cause. There is no more worth-while agency for the relief of mankind than the Red Cross in its manifold ramifications. Solicitation for funds is made without compulsion or undue pressure; folks are given an opportunity to aid in the great humanitarian organization. Those who do so have the consciousness of participation in the relief of unfortunate humanity. Those able to contribute but do not do so, bear no stigma except that imposed by their own conscience.

The Red Cross is a non-sectarian, non-political and non-profit taking organization serving as an agency of relief when misfortune overwhelms, without regard to country, race, creed or color. The following extracts from statements by clergy of widely divergent beliefs illustrates its scope:

"The American Red Cross is the melting-pot where all differences of race, creed and class disappear in the service of mankind. It is one of our national institutions to which no one can object, in which everyone can join, and without which we should lose, as it were, our right arm in meeting human need, especially in emergencies."—Dr. Emerson Fosdick, Pastor Riverside church, New York City.

"The Red Cross is and always will be symbolic of unselfish and unbiased humanitarian service to those in need. Particularly in these times of economic insecurity and social unrest does the Red Cross meet its obligations in a manner to commend unqualified approval and support. The Red Cross favors none and helps all."—Rt. Rev. Monsignor John O'Grady, Dean Catholic University of America.

"The American Red Cross has been the ministering angel of mercy to victims of disease, disaster and untoward circumstances. It has transcended barriers of race, creed, nationality and religion, seeing the God-made resemblance between men and oblivious to the arbitrary, artificial and man-made distinctions that other organizations and institutions permit to divide man from his fellow-man."—Dr. Louis L. Mann, Rabbi Chicago Sinai Jewish congregation.

NO BRAINS NEEDED

It doesn't take brains to push the throttle of your car to the floor-board.

It doesn't take cleverness to weave in and out of traffic at 60 miles an hour to the consternation of the slower moving highway-users.

It doesn't take any intellectual capacity to hang onto the steering wheel, give her the gun, and see if you can make the speedometer touch 90-odd.

In other words, you don't have to know anything to drive fast.

Drivers who regard streets and highways as the Indianapolis bowl, might be divided into two classes: First, those who are weary of living and don't mind if they take innocent parties along with them into eternity. Second, those who are so stupid as to not realize that several thousand pounds of metal moving at terrific speeds is as lethal a weapon as a machine-gun—both for the occupant and for anyone else who happens to be in the locality.

Speed—and speed alone—is responsible for the great majority of automobile accidents. All other causes pale into insignificance beside it. As even the most mentally deficient driver should be able to realize, an accident occurring at 60 miles per hour is almost invariably more serious than one occurring at 20.

The roads of America are strewn with corpses because a relatively small number of drivers are doing their best to emulate Malcolm Campbell.

DO YOUR TRADING AT HOME

The commercial growth of a community depends largely upon the extent of the stocks kept by its merchants. People do not come to a town to buy what the merchants do not sell. No merchant can enlarge his stocks until there is a demand for the goods. Merchandise bought from peddlers fails to create any demand.

Every local citizen should buy everything at home that is possible. Dollars sent away by money orders, or checks, seldom get back to home circulation. The carpenter who buys his tools by mail seldom thinks that a better business for the hardware merchant might mean more building activity. Every man and woman, working for a living in Wheeler, depends upon the money kept at home for payday prosperity.

Walter S. Britten, 4-H club member from Groom, has been awarded a trip to Chicago during the week Dec. 1 to 7 by the Santa Fe railroad. This award comes for outstanding work in feeding beef calves and is one of 20 such awards made in the state by the railroad. There are about 20,000 club members in the state and to be picked as one of 20 out of this number is a great honor. Starting with one calf, which was fed and exhibited at Amarillo in the spring of 1934 he increased his work to include five calves in 1935 and will have 15 calves in his demonstration this year.—Panhandle Herald.

It is funny how people see and hear things differently. One man will listen to a preacher and he will think he is certainly peeling the fellow he does not like, and another fellow sitting nearby will think the preacher is taking the hide off the other fellow. It's fine that we can feel so comfortable and enjoy the other fellow getting a skinning.—Miami Chief.

The commissioner's court this week launched a county-wide terracing campaign, in co-operation with the extension service department, according to announcements today which stated that county machinery would be idle for several weeks and might be secured at a nominal cost for terracing farms in this county.—Wellington Leader.

A memorial is to be raised to Will Rogers by voluntary gifts, no matter how small. Not a shaft of cold marble, but memorials of charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes. Will Rogers still lives in the hearts of a grateful people. People who want to perpetuate his noble life for oncoming generations that they, too, may follow the example of the man of whom it is said "was brother of all mankind."—Donley County Leader.

From 550 White Leghorns, Mrs. Smith Morehead of Gageby community, was able to market $1,316.70 worth of eggs, which is a record from Nov. 1, 1934 to Oct. 31, 1935. The cost of feed for the year was $683.01, which included feed for baby chicks. There was $18 charged against the flock for rent and $12 for electric lights. This flock is being fed a balanced ration with home grown grain. The grain was charged against the flock at market price, making the net profit for the chickens $633.01. Fifty-two dollars and seventy-five cents profit per month is the average for this flock throughout the year.—Canadian Record.

The Literary Digest has started another national poll on President Roosevelt and the New Deal. 10,000,000 ballots are being distributed over the nation which read: "Do you NOW approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date?" Yes; No. "For whom did you vote for President in 1932?" Hoover, Roosevelt, Thomas. The Digest has conducted several national polls, with every election being indicated.

"Someone wrote in stating that the letter 'e' is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger and in hell all the time. But we would call your attention to the fact 'e' is never in war and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no heat, no life, and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, makes love perfect and conquest to flaunt in Gaskell's face. But she had no heart in the game and on impulse she sought out Gaskell in his cabin. Sir Guy was with him.

"Honestly, Alan," said China Doll, extending her hand. "I wish you all the luck. You'll never be ashamed of that baby. No, sir, she's the real McCoy. She'll make a marvelous wife for you."

"I hope you mean that," said Gaskell quietly. "I want you to."

"That's better!" He gripped her hand with genuine emotion. "Let's quit like good friends—not a pair of alley-cats—what d'you say?"

His touch ran through her like a flame, searing away the last shreds of her reserve. The whiskey she had drunk was pounding at her temples.

"You poor sap!" she cried. "You couldn't quit me any more than I could quit you!" Blinded by sudden tears, she hurried out the door.

A falling barometer left Gaskell no time for tender emotions. The Kin Lung was in for a typhoon, the most destructive trick in all creation's weatherbox. He could run the ship into a sheltering river mouth and leave to until the blow was over—but they imminent disaster, but Gaskell was forming his own conclusions as to her presence in the room.

"I hate to break up such a tender moment," Gaskell rasped, "but I'll have to ask you to continue your tender raptures in the Main Saloon."

He shoved Jamesy roughly toward the door and took China Doll by the arm, and at that instant a terrific wave struck outside the cabin, pouring through the wrecked door and bowling them over like nine-pins. Gaskell picked up the screaming China Doll and carried her over the deck, churned white with raging water. The gale squeezed the breath out of them like a constricting garment. They were in the room. He turned. It was China Doll, her eyes shining proudly.

"I've been waiting for you to come off watch," she greeted him. "Boy, oh boy, did I get a kick out of you today! No fooling, sailor, you looked pretty good in there, hoisting that steam roller, and—"

"Pure vanity, I suppose," replied Gaskell. "I knew my bride-to-be was looking on."

China Doll glanced apprehensively toward the deck.

"I've got a mighty good reason for being here," she began in a low tone.

"Of course you have," Gaskell sneered. The contempt in his voice flecked her to rage as he tossed off his drink scornfully.

"Oh, is that so," flared China Doll. "Well, mister, I don't know and I care less. I only came here for one thing—"

"I'm quite aware of that, Dolly," he said bluntly. "And I want you to know I appreciate it. Indeed, there are times when your solicitude for my physical welfare approaches the beautiful. He raised his glass sardonically. "And here you are now—waiting for the tired mariner to come off watch—ready to comfort him in the soft warm haven of your arms—as only a woman like you can comfort a man—who's too tired, too drunk to care who it is—"

The studied insult of word and manner pierced her like a knife.

"Go on—this is the payoff!" she shrieked, and her voice rose on a wild note of threat. "Just keep it up—you're going to talk yourself out of something in a minute—"

Gaskell ignored her, started toward the door of his bedroom.

Infuriated, she followed him. "You won't be so high and mighty when I set you down a peg or two." The door slammed in her face; she heard the lock click shut. She pounded wildly on the panel, yelling: "Just wait—I'll fix you—you'll be glad to come crawling back to me on your hands and knees—"

There came no answer. Her rage dwindled into sullen purpose. She went out and sought Jamesy McArdle, turning over to him a key she had taken from a hiding place in Gaskell's cabin. It was marked "Arsenal."

CHINA SEAS

ADAPTED FROM THE...
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

What Has Gone Before:
Alan Gaskell, handsome captain of the steamer, Kin Lung, comes aboard just before sailing to find that "China Doll" with whom he has been intimate is a passenger. When Gaskell meets Sybil Barclay whom he hasn't seen in five years, "China Doll" displays her jealousy and Gaskell in anger casts her off. At the dinner table the Captain and Sybil talk of their first meeting.

Chapter Two

"Speaking of meetings, Jamesy," she addressed McArdle, "remember the night in that poo-tang joint in Saigon when you and I met up with a certain party? He had a shiner on his left eye that lit up the whole street after we dragged him out of the battle of the century—"

Sir Guy, with a meaning look at Gaskell, burst into uproarious laughter.

"And a cut in the right leg he'd bled to death of if China Doll hadn't made a tourniquet of her garter or something—" McArdle addressed himself slyly to Gaskell.

Miss Yu-Lan to break the uncomfortable silence, murmured to Sybil:

"I'm sure I saw you in London two years ago."

China Doll broke in with a high affected English accent:

"I was tealh that season—what jolly fun, too—padding my pretty little punt down the cool, crystal Thames."

Sybil's cheeks were flaming. She ventured more social small-talk with Miss Yu-Lan, but China Doll again interrupted:

"Rawly—it was just too amusing for words." Her accent was a deliberate mockery of Sybil's speech. "There I was with a cinder in my eye as large as a paving block—with the Grand Duke on one side of me and the Marquis on the other—"

The group gasped, relaxed into stricken silence. Gaskell, infuriated by the insult to Sybil, said icily:

"Miss Portland is a professional entertainer—"

Sybil smiled faintly and China Doll turned on her with a vicious snarl.

"Think it's funny, eh? What are you laughing at?"

"You must be very fond of him," said Sybil coolly, "to humiliate yourself like this. See you later, Alan."

The quiet dignity of her departure stung China Doll like a lash across the face. She cried after Sybil:

"Don't worry! He knows where the Royal Suite is—so do I. I had it myself the first time I sailed this ship—"

Gaskell's face tightened. He got to his feet with deadly calm.

"You've saved me a lot of trouble," said Gaskell acidly. His eyes flayed her. "You've painted the whole dirty picture for her with a nice, truthful brush. Thanks!"

He turned his back contemptuously and walked on, ignoring her pleading, outstretched hands. Sybil's choked China Doll. Her own brushness had driven away forever the man she loved.

Sybil Barclay stood in the chart house with Captain Alan Gaskell. "I once hoped you would know me very well." He chuckled wryly, without humor. "But not that well." She was silent, and he went on, staring distantly out a window: "I've been thinking about heading for England this spring."

"Oh, Alan—I'm glad—" The note of hope in her voice perturbed him.

"So perhaps—" he leaned back in his chair and avoided her eyes—"I'll be running into you back there."

"Are you going back—alone?"

"Alone?"

"I hate to break up such a tender moment," Gaskell rasped, "but I'll have to ask you to continue your tender raptures in the Main Saloon—"

Alan, let me undo a lie I told. I'm not vacationing, traveling for pleasure. I've followed a memory deep in my heart. Traced you here—found your ship. And now that I've found you—I don't care a snap of my fingers how you've lived. Do you understand? I'll always be in love with you."

The cleansing miracle in her eyes staggered him. The proud, shining gaze humbled him, made her infinitely desirable. His arms reached out for her hungrily and their kiss bridged the years that had separated them from a fragile dream. After awhile, when she pulled away from his demanding arms with a happy sigh, she said softly:

"Will you wait till spring now?"

Exultation flamed in him and the words came tumbling:

"Watch me! I'll sign off at Singapore—we'll dig up a magistrate—or a chaplain—"

"Even a Buddhist monk, my dear," said Sybil joyously.

The Kin Lung had become a torture ship to China Doll. Her fellow passengers pointedly avoided her following her impassioned outburst. And to make her dumb misery complete, the rumor spread swiftly about the ship that Sybil and Gaskell were to be married in Singapore. China Doll knew bitterly that it was true. She read it in Gaskell's distant eyes, his mellow moods, the gentler way in which he conducted the ship's affairs.

Jamesy McArdle was the one soul aboard who was not above associating with China Doll, and in a spirit of reckless rebellion she set about his

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS TOUR

Briscoe Club Members Visit Demonstrations on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Are demonstrations valuable to the demonstrator and to other club members? Should these demonstrations be continued? There was no doubt in the minds of members of the Briscoe Home Demonstration Club, Tuesday, when the ladies made a tour of all the demonstrations in their club since the year 1927. 23 demonstrations, including bedroom, yard, living-room, wardrobe and kitchen, were visited, some of the demonstrations being eight years old.

In Mrs. T. A. Treadwell's pantry, shelves were made of orange boxes, which is one way to economize. Mrs. John McCarroll had canned 224 varieties of food, and Mrs. J. L. Smith had 26 varieties of fresh vegetables ready for use on her fresh vegetable shelf. Miss Tamsy Riley had five demonstrations to show to the visitors, livingroom, kitchen, pantry, bedroom and yard, in which many interesting trees and plants were seen. One of the trees was the Chinese date tree, or jujube, and another was the tame Japanese persimmon. She gave each visitor seeds of the cinnamon vine. She has canned 648 quarts of fruit, meat and vegetables for herself and for others. The club members saw Fay Hamner's pantry and wardrobe. In her wardrobe she has adequate storage space, shelves, having been built to the top of the closet. Mary Margaret McCarroll has in her bedroom luffed bedspread, curtains and cushion she and her mother made for her demonstration. Other demonstrations visited in the McCarroll home besides the bedroom were the livingroom, yard and pantry. Mrs. McCarroll has canned 1,142 quarts of fruit, meat and vegetables. She has 224 varieties. Her 15 shelves are six inches by nine feet. In a mouse-proof closet she has an emergency shelf and sick meals prepared. There are 25 fresh vegetables on her fresh vegetable shelf. Mrs. McCarroll has whitewashed almost everything in her pantry, including a barrel for apples and three little crates for sweet and Irish potatoes and onions.

In building her wardrobe, Valoise Evans' main difficulty seemed to be the paste in her hair when hanging the paper.

The club saw Mrs. Clarence Zybach's wardrobe and pantry. Mrs. Zybach has canned 458 quarts of food. She has six shelves, 1x10 feet. At the home of Mrs. Mont Tipps, the club saw her bedroom demonstration. She has a quilt box and window seat that was made by one of the members of the family.

Mrs. J. L. Smith's wardrobe makes quite an attractive piece of furniture, having been built in such a way that it can be rolled without difficulty. Near the bottom of the wardrobe is a long drawer for folded garments. In her pantry she has five shelves 1x10 feet. She has canned 1,352 quarts of 250 varieties of fruit, meat and vegetables.

Geneva McNeill moved her wardrobe from in front of a window to another corner of the room. Fay Wilson's wardrobe was visited.

In her pantry, Mrs. J. H. Greenhouse has about 300 quarts of meat, fruit and vegetables. The club visited Lorene Treadwell's wardrobe and Mrs. T. A. Treadwell's pantry. She has over 600 quarts of food canned. Her 25 shelves are five feet long and one foot wide. Mrs. Cliff Silage made her own davenport she had in her living room demonstration several years ago. Since her demonstration, she has papered her livingroom in a small flower design, in which she carries out the color scheme of the room.

These demonstrators, through their club work, have learned to make a few cents mean many dollars.

extent of his success may be judged from a letter he wrote to his wife from Mexico City on Jan. 26, 1825. This original letter is now in the Bexar Archives of the University of Texas. A translation of it follows:

"Dona Maria Josefa Agustina Becerra.

"Mexico, Jan. 26, 1825.

"My dear Wife:

"This is to inform you that within a week at the most—and I shall not change the date again—I shall set out from here. I had not left sooner because I have been suffering an attack of fever, and because they had not given me any funds for the trip. Now, I am waiting until I can send the officer and troops who are to garrison that province ahead of me.

"Tell my friend Gaspar to plant a crop to make others do the same so that they may have plenty of corn and beans to sell the troops, and so that the soldiers may have something to live on; otherwise they will again leave the province as so many others that have been there before. Tell him that these troops must not fail to receive their salary, and that all vacancies in the companies now stationed there must be filled with men either from Coahuila or from Nuevo Leon. None of these troops can fail to be given supplies.

"Do not plant a crop. Do not make any plans until I get there. I may decide to do something else this year until I devise some system to follow in my farm.

"Give my love to the children. Tell Juan Nepomuceno that I am taking him all the things he wanted except the violin. I don't want to have to carry it all the way from here, when I can take other things that are more valuable. Tell him that as soon as I get to Bexar I will ask Austin to bring him one from New Orleans.

"Give my regards to Juan Angel, to Sosa and his family, and to all our acquaintances, friends and relatives. Tell them that I will soon be there to bore them and to make them laugh.

"Take care of yourself, and don't be afraid of 'beatings' by father Zambrano, for I received the news of his death from Saltillo; he died in a noble manner. May God receive him into His holy kingdom. Good-bye, my beloved wife, goodbye until I see you again.

BITS OF EARLY-DAY HISTORY ABOUT TEXAS

(This is one of a series of articles taken from the Bexar archives at the University of Texas. This collection, considered the greatest single historical treasure of the North American continent, has been catalogued and is now being translated by the university and supplied to the press for publication).

SERIES I, NO. 44

The story of the Anglo-American colonies in Texas under Stephen F. Austin's leadership is a more or less familiar one to native Texans. Less well known though equally important in the fate of Texas is the story of the Mexican habitants of the province of Texas. It was about the time of Austin's coming, with his little band of 300 settlers, that Mexico threw off the yoke of Spain and set up an independent government. The ignorance of statesmanship and political strategy on the part of the Mexican authorities is revealed in the Bexar Archives of the University of Texas library, and through these documents may be traced the underlying reasons for the fall of Mexican independence in the province of Texas.

The year 1822 ushered the new Mexican system of government in its characteristic form. Don Augustin Iturbide, who had proclaimed the independence of Mexico the previous year, had created the empire of Mexico out of the old dominion of New Spain. On May 18, 1822, Iturbide was proclaimed emperor, and a few days later he was crowned. His Imperial Majesty, did not sit on the throne very long. On Oct. 31, of the same year, he dissolved congress because they were opposing him.

In December, Santa Anna—a character well known in Texas history—started a revolution. As the result of this revolution, Iturbide was deposed and commenced his exile in May, 1823. As so many other Mexican revolutions, this one did not settle an argument; it merely initiated a glorious era of strife and misrule. The bitter contest between Federalists and Centralists followed the deposition of Iturbide. Eventually, however, Federalism won out, and late in 1823 a constitution, patterned after one presented by Stephen F. Austin was formulated. On Oct. 4, 1824, the constitution was promulgated.

In the meantime, the province of Texas was still there, but the fact was known only to a few unfortunate people who had to live on Texas soil. The Mexican system invaded Texas in full force in 1822. Early in December, 1822, Governor Antonio Martinez, the last Spanish officer, was replaced by Don Felix Trespalacios, the new Mexican governor. From that date forward Texas experienced many changes in commanders. Rather than improving conditions in Texas, Mexican independence had made them worse. Texas seldom collected any taxes because the people were too poor to contribute anything to the government. The troops were paid with corn and beans, for currency was scarce; and merchants refused to accept the paper money issued by Emperor Iturbide and the subsequent, revolutionary governments. Troops sent to Texas from the interior for protection from the Indians had to be withdrawn for lack of supplies.

In the midst of all this misery a dependable old Spaniard arose to save the day for Texas. Don Erasmo Seguin, a postmaster during Spanish regime, the man who, along with Bastrop, welcomed Moses Austin and his plan for the colonization of Texas, now as the representative of Bexar journeyed to Mexico City. He presented his claim for relief for his beloved province in such eloquent terms that the revolutionary heads of the Mexican government had to listen to his demands. The

China Flat Club Ladies Visit Group of Demonstrations on Friday, Nov. 8.

Five demonstrations were visited by the China Flat Home Demonstration club Friday, Nov. 8. After a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Self, pantry demonstrator, members of the club visited Mrs. Self's pantry. She has canned 619 quarts and 75 No. 2 cans of 43 varieties of fruit, meat and vegetables. She canned 17 quarts for others. The walls of her cellar are papered a light color, giving more light to her pantry. She has 74 feet of shelves 1 foot wide. On her emergency shelf in the kitchen she has three meals planned, consisting of the following: tomato juice, oatmeal, buttered toast, eggs, grape jelly and coffee for breakfast; cornbread, canned chicken, giblet gravy, creamed potatoes, turnip greens, muffins and peaches with cream for lunch; and steak, brown gravy, corn on the cob, carrot relish, green beans, hot biscuits, blackberry pie and milk for dinner.

After the business meeting, the club visited Mrs. Granny Pike's pantry demonstration, where she has between 1,700 and 2,000 quarts of canned foods, some of which is 10 years old. She has three shelves 1x15 feet, fourteen 1x9, four 1x5, and two 1x10, all of which she built herself. They are all full, and a table 2 1/2 x 8 and a large box are full of canned vegetables, meat and fruit, of which there are more than 70 varieties. Her pantry is white-washed. Mrs. Pike had her pantry demonstration two years ago.

In her bedroom Mrs. Pike has built a new closet, which is varnished like the woodwork of the room. Near the top is a door opening into a closet for quilts. Inside the lower door the clothes are hung. Her wardrobe is a three-cornered closet in one corner of the room. Mrs. Pike turned down the covers of her bed, showing each piece, and the mattress cover and spring cover. In another bedroom, she has a wardrobe with glass doors. At one side is a rod for hanging, and at the other side are shelves for folded garments. It extends across one end of the bedroom.

Mrs. R. L. Pike has 915 containers of 60 varieties of food, a new variety being; tomatoes—green tomatoes stuffed with red peppers. She has eight shelves 1x14 feet. She grew everything in her cellar excepting 100 pounds of beans, 100 pounds Irish potatoes and a box of prunes. With the other meat on her meat shelf, she has two cans of deer, which are about four years old. She has traded tomatoes for syrup. From last year Mrs. Pike has a five-gallon can of lard, two sides of bacon and three hams. She has a jar of tomatoes in brine. Forty-seven half-gallon jars are yet to be filled.

Mrs. J. T. Reynolds showed the club one of the wardrobes she has made. She had added a shelf for hats at the top and nine pockets on the door. When she had her bedroom demonstration four years ago, she used a color scheme of blue and white. Her curtains were white with a border of blue and white checked gingham. Her dresser scarfs and bedside table scarf were also made this way. On the bed she had a blue and white checked gingham quilt, with a blue border. Quilting was done around each check, giving a pieced effect.

Texas 4-H Livestock Records Lead Nation

National Committee Recognition Given Outstanding Work of State Boys

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(Special to The Times)—Four-H livestock records of two Texas boys filed here with the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work by State Leader L. L. Johnson, College Station, Texas, rank them among the foremost young cattle barons of the country.

In their combined enrollment of 11 years they have won a total of $792.40 in prizes, trips and other awards and realized a gross sales return of $7,217.50, making their total proceeds $8,009.90. The amount is nearly evenly divided between the two. The boys reside in widely separated sections of Texas but have enjoyed the benefits of well organized 4-H programs and capable leadership.

Merrill Brigrance, age 15, of Olton, Lamb county, has fed out 48 baby heaves in four years and won top positions in individual and carlot classes at local and county shows, and at Fort Worth. He is continuing his operations this year with 50 calves. Winning money is not everything, says the boy, who prizes the honor of being made 1934 county champion in the Thos. E. Wilson contest and state victor this year. His record will be judged for southern regional championship which, if he wins, gives him a free educational trip to the 14th National Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 7, in connection with the International Live Stock exposition, and the chance at three valuable cash college scholarships.

James Grote, the other lad, is 17, and in seven years of livestock projects on his parents' 1,500-acre ranch he has fed, fitted and shown 20 individual calves winning a grand championship at San Angelo and other prizes totaling $616.40. This year he has 23 calves on feed. Among his honors are being elected president of his local club two years and once as state president, and state winner of the Armour trip to the Chicago Club congress and Stock show this year.

MRS. TOBE FRYE IS HONOREE AT TUESDAY BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Ed Watson and Mrs. Ernest Lee were co-hostesses at a bridge party given in honor of Mrs. Tobe Frye Tuesday afternoon at the Watson home. The diversion for the afternoon was bridge. Mrs. Buck Britt won the prize for high score and Mrs. Tobe Frye was presented with the guest prize.

A tasteful salad course was served to the following guests: Mesdames Jimmy Mitchener, T. M. Britt, A. B. Crump, Buck Britt, Worth Beal, H. E. Young, Cora Hall, Roy Puckett, R. H. Forrester, Alford Watson and the hostess.

"CAN SOCIAL" AT BAPTIST CHURCH TO HELP ORPHANS

On Wednesday night of next week, Nov. 27, a "can social" will be held at the Wheeler Baptist church. To gain admission to the affair each person is expected to bring a can of fruit or vegetables, which will in turn, be sent to the Buckner Orphans home. In addition to food, a call is also being made for clothing, linens, handkerchiefs and toys. In fact, anything that any child needs is needed by these orphan children.

Since this is Orphans Home Month in the Baptist church, this time has been set for cash donations. So please come prepared to give what you can, request those in charge of the work.

While the social is sponsored by the Baptist organization, others are not barred; all are welcome. Entertainment will be provided and a pleasant and helpful evening is anticipated.

Movie Chatter

By a Rogue

Zane Grey's Wagon Wheels

You have seen westerns and other westerns, but you have not seen anything unless you see Zane Grey's Wagon Wheels, which comes to the Rogue theatre Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, featuring Randolph Scott. This is truly one of the outstanding western stories of all time, and in order to take care of the large crowds expected, the management urges all who can do so to come Friday night. However, the picture will be shown three times or more Saturday night to take care of all who want to see it. Also, two one-reel comedies will be on the program.

Bright Lights

That big-mouthed pelican, Joe E. Brown, will be with us Monday and Tuesday in his latest vehicle, "Bright Lights." You will remember seeing him in Alibi Ike when he had an alibi ready for everything and all comers. We do not know whether he will have as many alibis in Bright Lights or not, but we do know that he will give you plenty of laughs as he, country boy that he is, takes in the bright lights of the city.

College Rhythm

Wanna buy a duck, or something? Joe Penner and Lanny Ross will be here Wednesday and Thursday in College Rhythm and they might have a duck for sale. Better come out and make a bid for a real first class college picture. You are assured of one swell time. There will be plenty of classy dames, lots of good music, and a whole bunch of college chumps. This picture has been acclaimed throughout the nation as the ace-high college picture. You have heard Joe and Lanny on the radio. Now see them in person. Also, a Betty Boop cartoon.

Coming Soon

China Seas, The Rainmakers, Top Hat, O'Shaughnessy's Boy, Smiling Through, Broadway Melody of 1936, Home on the Range, Freckles, Powder Smoke Range, Redheads on Parade, Way Down East, Rocky Mountain Mystery, Belle of the 90's, This is the Life, I Live My Life, and In Old Kentucky. All of these pictures will be shown at the Rogue between now and Christmas. In Old Kentucky is the last Will Rogers Picture and it will come Dec. 25-6.

Don't Feed Cotton Seed

Our WHOLE PRESSED meal and cake is a much better feed. Your ginner will be glad to trade with you, ton for ton, and give you from $5.00 to $7.00 to boot, depending on the market price of cotton seed. It sells $5.00 per ton under the hydraulic product. If your ginner is not in position to make this exchange, bring your seed to Wheeler, we will gladly exchange with you to advantage.

Our latest chemical test, made Nov. 9 by the Fort Worth Laboratories, shows 31.70% PROTEIN

If you will give this feed a fair trial you will find it is a necessity on the farm. A small amount added to the daily ration of any of your livestock will show wonderful results.

It is made at home, by home labor; it is a step forward with our national "LIVE AT HOME" farm program. If part of your cotton seed is not coming to Wheeler, ask your ginner WHY.

Junior High School Phys. Ed. Organized

Girls Are Divided According to Size; Boys Grouped in Sections By Grades

To make their physical education period more interesting and profitable, students of junior high school have organized according to size and weight.

The girls are placed in divisions according to size, with Lombre Brazil and Wanda Hyatt captains of the smaller ones and Lorene Sims of these larger. One group plays volleyball two weeks, while the others play baseball, and then they interchange. Miss Ruth Ewing and Mrs. G. O. McCrohan supervise them in their play.

The junior high boys are divided into two sections, with the fifth and sixth grades in one and the seventh in the other. F. B. Craig, Ides Tate and Billy Cospier are captains of the younger boys, and Malcolm Crowder and Travis Hooker of the larger group.

The fifth and sixth graders play soccer and baseball, the larger ones football. Coach Bob Clark and Roscoe Morgan direct them.

Mrs. Allen I. Smith has charge of students not physically able for such strenuous exercise. Interesting games are usually played by these pupils in front of the building.

JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS MOVE BOOKS TO NEW LIBRARY

Students of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades are making a library in the high school building out of the room previously used to store athletic equipment. Because classes of these grades are held in the high school building, it was very inconvenient for the students to go to the grade school building to get library books.

Coach Bob Clark let several of the boys, who had rather work with their hands than with their heads, clean out the room and help build the shelves. The books will be moved over from the grade school as soon as the room is ready. Work on this new library was started last Monday afternoon.

FOODS II GIRLS SERVE MEALS

For the past week the home ec. II girls have been planning, preparing and serving meals. First they practiced cooking individual dishes and later four girls were responsible for a dinner. The students were required to make a day's menu, with a certain number of calories, before preparing the meals.

The four girls planning the meal also have charge of ordering the food needed.

QUESTION REMAINS WHO SHOULD NAME FOOTBALL FIELD

That the football field should be named has already been decided. The question now is how and by whom it shall be named.

According to Mrs. J. L. Gilmore a good plan would be as follows: First, those who are interested should submit names. Second, a committee should be chosen to select the 12 best names from those submitted. Third, the student body and the patrons of the school should vote on the name they consider most suitable.

Robert Mayne, assistant coach, thinks the field should be called after somebody, perhaps some former player whose name the students wish to keep living. He suggests it be chosen by the alumni.

C. B. Witt suggests that the students and the business men submit titles, then select two members of the faculty, possibly the superintendent and the coach, and two men from town, a board member and a business man, to choose the name from those submitted.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore suggests that every one interested in school affairs have an opportunity to help select the name. First to let those who want to submit a name, then hold an election in which anyone may vote who desires to.

Melvin Howe, one of the business men, suggests that the students be allowed full privilege of naming the field.

Other suggestions may appear later.

4-H Club Girls Make Tour of Inspection

Leaving the school house at 12 o'clock Wednesday of last week, the Wheeler 4-H club girls went to the home of C. R. Flynt, where they looked at the closet which Helen constructed in her wardrobe demonstration two years ago. Later they went to Mrs. F. D. Ferguson's home, where an inspection was made of her pantry. The members saw the products which she had raised and canned or stored away dry. They played games and were served refreshments before going back to the schoolhouse.

Those making the trip were: Elva Willard, Johnnie Faye Templeton, Martha Jane Shipman, Caroline McBee, Viola Lamb, Helen Flynt, Ruth Faust, Lombre Brazil, Silvia Louise Ficke, Juanita Griffin, Willie Dee Lawrence, Norma Dee Robertson, Elsie Newkirk, Otha June Cummings, Leoida Revious, Presley Guynes, Alice Morgan, Winona Red, Willa Mae Browning, Mary Helen Jones, Margie Mary Mullins, Mary Nell Burke, Frances Compary, Joyce Faust and Norma Webb.

DREAMS OF FURNISHED DEPARTMENT ARE REALIZED BY HOME EC. GIRLS

PLANS BEING MADE FOR HILL LECTURE TO BE DEC. 5 OR 6

If arrangements can be completed with the sponsor of the senior class at Shamrock, Joe Hill will probably lecture in Wheeler on Dec. 5 or 6. The seniors are sponsoring his appearance there at a chapel program and the Wheeler journalism class wishes to secure him for an afternoon or an evening appearance.

Since the gymnasium will not be completed until about the middle of December, the lecture will be held in the Rogue theatre if it is given in the afternoon and in the Methodist church if it is at night.

Hill's lecture on his expedition to the South Pole will be illustrated by slides and he will be accompanied by his dog, "Neeka," who was with him. "Joe Boy" gets 60 per cent of the proceeds, 25 per cent of which he sends to Admiral Richard Byrd.

The journalism class plans to use its 40 per cent of the money to defray expenses of delegates to the Interscholastic League Press contest, to be held in Austin next spring.

GIRL SCOUTS DISCUSS PLANS FOR ORGANIZATION

To discuss plans for the organization of a younger Girl Scout troop, Coach Bob Clark met with a group of girls Tuesday night at the Methodist church.

They talked of passing tests and joining the Adobe Walls council at Pampa as well as the National Girl Scout council. At regular intervals a Court of Honor meeting to award pins and proficiency badges is to be held after organization.

Those present were: Louise Genthe, Winona Red, Wilma Derryberry, Emily Lou Ahler, Presley Guynes, Alta Lee Coleman, Sylvia Louise Ficke, Lombre Brazil and Martha Alice Wiley, Beatrice Miller, Augusta Guynes, Fay Ficke and Coach Clark.

THETA EPSILON GAMMAS DRAW UP CONSTITUTION

For the purpose of drawing up by-laws, a meeting of the Theta Epsilon Gamma club was held last Thursday in Miss Winona Adams' room at 3:15.

Only the charter members of this organization for history students were present. They included Naomi Johnson, J. B. Reynolds, Irene Hunt, Aubrey Warren, Dawn Weatherly, Mazie Bean, Johnnie Faye Templeton and Miss Winona Adams, sponsor.

Suites of Furniture for Bedroom, Livingroom, Diningroom Are Ordered

Dreams of a furnished home economics cottage for Wheeler high school are about to be realized.

Mrs. Gordon Whitener, instructor, sent an order Monday of this week for three suites of furniture for the department. Purchase of this new equipment, expected to arrive the latter part of the week, was made possible by the Board of Education.

The Colonial type bedroom suite, consisting of a vanity dresser, a chest of drawers, a small stool and a bedstead are of walnut veneer.

A dining table, six chairs and a buffet make up the dining room suite, and the living room furniture consists of a divan, a floor lamp, a living room chair and an odd chair.

Upholstery for the living room is of tapestry. Wood in both the living room and diningroom is also of walnut veneer. Four small rugs, a lamp for the bedroom and a small table for the hall were included in the order.

The furniture was ordered from an Oklahoma firm through the Ernest Lee Hardware company.

Members of the home economics classes are to make curtains for each room of the department. Natural theatrical gauze will be hung in the clothing room, and green theatrical gauze trimmed with colored yarn in the foods room. Drapes in the combined diningroom and livingroom are to be green and rust, and those in the bedroom, orchid.

Two new cooking stoves have been installed in the kitchen recently and 24 stools for the cabinets are to arrive soon.

Plans are being made to entertain the district home economics meet as soon as the furniture is installed. Sometime soon a dedication service will be given, inviting patrons of the school to inspect the cottage.

"I wish to express my appreciation for the co-operation of the school board in furnishing our department," states Mrs. Whitener. It is a splendid thing that, while the trustees are interested in athletics, at the same time they are making it possible for the girls to develop into real home makers."

TO BROADCAST FOR P.-T. A.

Miss Frances Alice Clark and Robert Mayne will represent Wheeler's Parent-Teachers association in a broadcast over station KGNC at a future date.

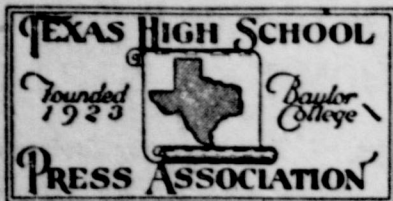

Each school is allowed two numbers. A 30-minute program will be heard at 2:30 p. m. every Thursday from each of the 26 schools in this district.

ORCHIDS, BOUQUETS AND HATS OFF

"Orchids to you, Mobeetie, for your excellent school paper." Congratulatory praise is tendered in varied forms and so the Corral staff offers bouquets for your journalistic ability.

Yours is a newsy and interesting little paper. Publishing the Outlook is now less complicated for the journalism students of Mobeetie because it is being printed in The Wheeler Times instead of mimeographed as formerly.

Newspaper workers agree that their path is not "a bed of roses" as others may believe, and your efforts should be more highly commended because Mobeetie schools have no regular journalism instructor.

It was stated that you wished to enter the Interscholastic League Press conference next spring, in hopes of placing. It is a hard struggle to make the "tops" but the laurel wreath well repays the victor.

Hats off to you, editor and members of the Outlook staff! Wheeler is expecting you to go far!—B. M. M.

KEEP UP WITH THE SCHOOL

This week is American Education Week throughout the United States. One may wonder why seven days are set aside for the observance of something that goes on nine months out of the year. Yet nine persons out of ten do not notice things which they are familiar unless a special day or week is designated to call their attention to it.

This week the patrons are supposed to visit the schools to find out what the students are doing. If a few of them would come they probably would be surprised to learn that the methods of teaching, studying and learning have changed a great deal since they were students themselves. Advances made by educators in the last half century are remarkable.

It is altogether fitting that a week be set aside when the schools will be brought into the public eye so that citizens may become familiar with the happenings of the school they support.—M. A. W.

Six Weeks Tests to Be Next Friday

The second six weeks tests will be held next Friday, Nov. 22. They will be conducted as usual, with only one period for each test.

Good Ship Literature in W. H. S. Library Beckons Adventurers During Book Week

Do you remember when Jo cut her hair in "Little Women," when Patty had a midnight feast in "When Patty Went to College," when Rebecca and her chum sold soap to buy a rose colored parlor lamp in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm?"

During this week, Nov. 17 to 23, the United States is celebrating Book Week, and the Good Ship Literature is waiting once more to take everyone to the land of romance, travel and history.

A well equipped library awaits the inspection of the Wheeler high school students this week or any other week in the school year.

Row upon row of interesting adventures in the form of printed pages bound with backs, beckon the adventurer to but embark with the novel upon the magic ship of make believe for strange and unseen lands never before traversed in imagination. Recapture again the moment of Napoleon's Waterloo, Washington Crossing the Delaware, Kit Carson in the Wilderness or the Capture of the Alamo—all to be found in books on the history shelf. Read the "cream of English literature" in the Harvard Classics.

Or to be modern, daily happenings may be gleaned from the Dallas Morning News. Current issues in politics, in business or social life and the works of living authors may be found in magazines such as Asia, Review of Reviews, Fiction Parade, National Geographics, Time, Nation's Business, Harper's and the Reader's Digest. Anthologies, Encyclopedia, Book of Knowledge and the World Books comprise the reference material.

"As the Earth Turns" by Carroll and "The Old Curiosity Shop" by Dickens are two of the most interesting books on the senior shelf.

The junior selection is: "A Cigarette Maker's Romance;"—Crawford, and Davis' "Ransom's Folly."

"Little Minister" by Barrie and "Cappy Ricks" by Kyne represent good fiction in the sophomore books. "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" written by Wiggins and "Lone Star Ranger" by Grey have proved popular with the freshmen.

Among the most interesting biographies are: The Raven, life of Sam Houston; Coronado's Children, Dobie, Up from Slavery by Washington and The Prairie Years, story of Abraham Lincoln by Sandburg.

The literary world presents a medium through which many great men received their education. It is a field in which one may acquire culture and indulge in entertainment found only in books and the true enjoyment gained in reading them.

FORGETFUL STUDENTS CLIMB 31,680 STEPS

If a student takes journalism, English III, plane geometry and civics, classes all held on the second floor, he would have to go up 88 steps going to classes and 88 coming down every day, provided he didn't forget something.

If he has to write a theme in English class and must go down after his notebook, a test in plane geometry, and has to borrow a pencil from someone in the study hall, an outline to copy in civics, and a story to get from Mr. Gilmore after he has gone to class, that is 352 steps in one day.

A student with a good memory, who had to make only one trip up and down the stairs each class, would take in one week 880 steps; in six weeks, 5,280; in one semester, 15,840, and in one term, 31,680.

A freshman, provided he takes four subjects a year, all on the second floor, would take 126,720 steps at the end of four years. If had to make two trips for each class every day, he would take 1,760 steps a week; in six weeks, 10,560; in one semester, 31,680, and in one term, 63,360.

My goodness! Think how many pairs of shoes a person would wear out at that rate, just traipsing up and down stairs.

Home Ec. Group Receives Linens

Miss Dora Mae Wilson, who is making her home at the W. W. Adams residence, presented the home economics department with two linen tablecloths and 24 napkins last week.

"We appreciate this donation very much as it will be a great help when the girls are serving banquets," states Mrs. Gordon Whitener, instructor.

MRS. MEEK USES OLD BELL

Having used a glass jar as a substitute for a bell until last Saturday, Mrs. C. J. Meek was greatly relieved to come into the possession of a bell first used by her grandmother, at least 50 years ago. Mrs. Meek says the bell was probably used to call the members of the family together at meal time. Mrs. Meek's sister used the bell when she first began teaching school. She had kept it ever since until Mrs. Meek got it from her last week.

School Dismissed for Half Holiday

Everyone was surprised Monday morning (Nov. 11) when Mr. J. L. Gilmore announced to the student body that Armistice Day was to be commemorated with a half holiday from 11:50 for the remainder of the day. Both schools were turned out from classes by order of the school board.

SAGE BLOOMS

My Room at Eleven o'Clock at Night

My room at 11 o'clock is a very cool place in the summer. The faithful little clock ticks on as if it were day. The shiny radium on the hands and numbers gleams brightly through the dark night. A cool breeze waves the dainty pink curtains.

The clothes I took off when I dressed for bed are strewn all over the room. A stocking is hurled under the bed and a shoe rests under the vanity dresser. Magazines and newspapers rattle as the breeze steals through the house. Cars hum as they pass on the nearby highway. Those on the street flash their lights on the wall and weird figures are formed. The leaves on the tree outside of the window rustle as the wind dances through them.

NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS TO DALLAS NEWS LEAD TO PROMPT DELIVERY

As the Dallas Morning News arrives here one day late, Chester Lewis, agent for the paper, wrote to the circulation manager and asked if would be possible to get the News here the day it is printed.

In a letter received by Lewis last week, it was stated that if he could get as many as six subscriptions, the paper would arrive on the day it was published.

New subscribers for the paper are H. M. Wiley, R. H. Forrester, Tom Britt, Clarence Robison and Mrs. G. O. McCrohan.

Securing these new subscriptions will be a great help to the journalism class, as students will be able to keep up with the events happening every day, according to Miss Bernie Addison, instructor.

Library Mending Material Is Ordered

Library material for reinforcing books was ordered Tuesday morning from Gaylord Bros., Inc., Syracuse, N. Y. The $5.55 order included book cards, mending cloth, one skein of mending thread and a bookbinding awl.

Miss Adams (in civics): "We have about another minute before the bell rings. Does any one have a question that he would like to ask?"

Herbert: "Yes, what time is it?"

Jack: "What kind of flower do you like the best?"

Nerine: "Light-crust."

Parilee: "What's lawyer in Spanish?"

J. B.: "It's liar in any language."

I heard that Imogene is on an orange diet. Can she keep it up?

The students showed up at school Monday with bruises, skinned knees and elbows and scratches. No, not football. They have only been trying their luck at the new skating rink.

Nerine didn't seem to be in a very gay mood Monday. Surely, it couldn't be because a certain girl from Lefors was visiting school.

Lewis went to sleep in economics class the other day and didn't know the class was over until Ocie woke him up.

Miss Adams: "In what bank does the United States keep her money?"

J. R.: "I keep mine in a snow-bank."

Wonder why Curtis was so anxious to go to the McLean-Lefors game? Could it be because of an acquaintance in Lefors?

Dawn: "Mr. Gilmore, did you attend all of the entertainments of the Homecoming Day at Canyon?"

Mr. Gilmore: "Well, no, not all of them—I went to the barbecue and football game, but I didn't go to the dance—my wife wasn't with me."

Mrs. Whitener is all but dancing this week (you would too). The home ec. furniture is on its way.

Martha Alice: "Oh this journalism is getting me down, I'm 'bout to die."

Dawn: "Goody, now I'll have some place to go."

Martha Alice: "You can't come to my funeral unless you bring some white lillies; Rutha Mae, you see that she does."

Rutha Mae: "O.K. I guess I can bring white roses." (She's collecting them "awful" early).

Parilee: "I have spots before my eyes, but they are on my glasses."

Ocie was singing the other morning before school and Ford asked: "Where is your tune?"

Ocie: "Oh, we sing up at Briscoe without any tune at all."

"Have you voted today? Will you vote for me?" seemed to be questions most everyone is being asked. Don't get excited. It is only the contest going on at the People's store. Several of the students in high school are quite interested.

Prove to Be Among Interesting Subjects

Even though not all of the students might agree this is true, the history courses are among the most interesting subjects taught in the Wheeler schools. Miss Winona Adams and Robert Mayne teach history in high school.

The history classes taught by Miss Adams are having debates. Each student must either make a report from some reference book in the library or be in a debate. One of the recent questions of debate was the Ethiopian-Italian question. There are 60 history I students in her classes.

Miss Adams has the history IV class also. There are only seven students taking this subject. At present they are drawing charts and studying ancient English history.

Robert Mayne teaches the history II and III classes. History II studies modern European history. The class intends to collect clippings from the newspapers of all the social and political happenings during the year and study them at the end of the year.

The history III class studies American history. The four different types of news: local, state, national and international, are clipped and will form a scrap book to be used by the class.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan teaches the sixth and seventh grade histories. Because of the Centennial, the sixth grade Texas history course can be made much more interesting than it has ever been before. The first part of the year Mrs. McCrohan plans for the students to study the text. The last six or eight weeks the class will learn the history of the Panhandle, Wheeler county, and the town of Wheeler. A scrap book is being made of all bits of information that can be obtained from the newspapers either on the Centennial or Texas history. She stated that she intends to have some of the old settlers talk to the class.

The seventh grade studies American history. There are several historical books in the library and Mrs. McCrohan requires that each read at least two books this school term.

MEMORY LANE

(This Time Last Year)

In their first game of the year, the two girls' volleyball teams played at Briscoe Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the seniors losing three games and the juniors two.

Plans are being made by the journalism class to join two press associations this year, the Panhandle Press and the Texas High School Press association.

(This Time Two Years Ago)

Playing the best game displayed by them this year, the Mustangs lost to Lefors 13 to 0 Friday afternoon on the local field.

Two pantomime plays, a reading, and music composed the entertainment presented by the sophomore class in assembly Wednesday morning.

Martha Jane went to Briscoe last Thursday night. Martha Jane, all Briscoe boys stay in Wheeler.

Imagine: Harry Clay and Marvin Montgomery trying to dance the tango.

TEACHER DEMONSTRATES BAD POSTURE TO PUPILS

Did you ever see a dignified history teacher demonstrate to his pupils the way their posture appeared to him? No? Well, then you should have been in the section B of history II last Friday afternoon. For exactly 15 minutes (timed by a student) the teacher, quite patiently, pictured the disgusting positions of the unfortunate students by drawing chalk diagrams and by assuming various postures. But let us hope this unusual lesson is not in vain—perhaps the history-absorbers "will take the hint."

COLTS

Bravely fighting the cold northers, the grammar grade students continue to come to school. Coats were brought from the clothes closets and trunks and stacked high on the coat racks in the school building.

This week was a general clean-up week for the grade school. Blackboards and windows were cleaned and washed.

Five teams of soccer, baseball, volleyball and football are being organized by the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Ages, weight and size were considered in organizing the teams. Miss Ruth Ewing and Mrs. G. O. McCrohan have charge of the girls teams while Roscoe Morgan and Bob Clark have the boys in charge. All pupils who are physically unable to play such strenuous games are under the direction of Mrs. Allen I. Smith.

"The students seem very anxious to get all the teams organized and to find out who are champions," Coach Bob Clark stated in an interview Tuesday afternoon.

The third grade pupils, who are studying about Thanksgiving, are making Indian dresses out of gunny sacks, Indian beads and pottery.

RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE

Jeanette Hale visited school Monday morning.

Beatrice Miller returned to school Tuesday after a week of illness.

Helen Gilmore visited school Monday morning.

Estelle Scott was absent last Thursday and Friday because of illness.

A group of the Wheeler Mustangs attended the football game between McLean and Lefors last Friday night. Those making the trip were: Alton Weeks, Olen Maxwell, Wallace Pendleton, Curtis Weeks, W. J. Ford, J. D. Badley, R. J. Puckett, Guy Robison, Albert Gunter, Troy Shipman, Bob Tillman, O. D. Connor, R. P. Farris, H. E. Young, Junior Jamison, Gerald Robison, Charles Red, Harrison Hall, Assistant Coach Robert Mayne and Coach Bob Clark.

James Passons was in Shamrock Saturday.

Supt. and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore attended the superintendents and principals meeting at Amarillo Saturday.

Fern George visited school Monday morning and Tuesday afternoon.

Sheet Music Bought By Chorus Girls

"Way, Way Down South," and "Neapolitan Nights" were the two new music sheets purchased by the chorus girls last week. Each girl bought two booklets priced at 15 cents each. Both songs are arranged for first and second soprano and alto.

Wheeler High Roster Boasts Famous Names

Boasting a roster of unusual surnames, the students of Wheeler wonder just what's in their name, or in any, for that matter.

The Hall of Fame maintained by Wheeler high has granted admission to such famous people as presidents, poets, and Bible characters. Harrison, Buchanan and Wilson have served presidential terms. Scott, Riley and Rogers recall poets and a beloved humorist. Adam, Cain and Noah are Biblical.

As to soil elements there are: Clay, Cole and Flynt. Under the classification of edibles or suggestive of them rank Cain, Bean, Lamb, Holley and Platter.

Ford, Greenhouse, Sherwood, Nations, Forrest, Havenhill and Hampton are suggestive of geographic locations.

Unusual adjectives as Coward, Jolly, Red, Smart and Tinney appear in the files. The occupations are unlimited: Mason, Miller, Abbot, Page, Porter, Coleman, Landress and Tillman.

Statistics show that the letter "C" appears first, 20 times in the names. "S" and "P" rank next.

Many Weeks had passed and the party on the Hunt for a Young Deering came to a Ford, on either side of which were a Garrison of Jolly Millers. Upon inquiring for shelter, the party Warren-ting the Weather-ly to be Bad-ley, they were instructed to proceed at a Smart Pace through the Cain and the Sherwood until a Greenhouse Barr-ed the view.

A Hale from the Mayne Hick at the house that was decorated with Holley and Red berries, stopped the Forrest hunters.

"Owen to ye be Cummings along, jest Parker Wright here before Passons on. This be the best Bower of two Nations," said the Mayne Hick.

The party being Hale and hardy, they immediately fell upon the meal of Denham, Lamb and Bean set before them, served on a Platter. Feeling mightily refreshed the party retire in Case they wanted to Ris(ner) early.

Lavell Jaco and Irene Hunt visited friends near Canadian Sunday afternoon.

ABANDONED KITTEN SEEKS KNOWLEDGE IN STUDY HALL

"Meow! meow!" cried the small, abandoned kitten as it roamed through the study hall Monday at noon.

Many of the new students were really shocked and began wondering if the school house was going to be a zoo, after all of the efforts to keep dogs, cats and mice away.

Don't let it worry you, for this is a very common occurrence in W. H. S.

LOCAL GRIDSTERS TO MEET LEFORS

Mustangs to Grapple With Pirates in Battle for Third Place in District 3

Rifle-like forward passes and juggled laterals may fill the air Friday night when the Wheeler Mustangs and the Lefors Pirates grapple on the Lefors football field for the third place conference winners of district 3, class B.

Cotton picking Mustangs and buckaneering Pirates will fight a grim battle at 7:30 o'clock to decide the all-important issue.

The Pirate line, cram full of "Go-Haths" and "man mountains," will meet the Mustangs, handicapped by players ill with 'mumps and those picking cotton.

To eliminate sore places that pop out at crucial moments in the Wheeler machine, gruelling practice has been centered around heavy offense work, weighty tackling and hard blocking.

Tentative lineup: Whitener, le; Newkirk, lt; Connor, lg; Tillman, c; Sherwood, rg; Tillman, B., rt; Maxwell, re; Pace, qb; Cain, lh; Tate, fb; Norman, rh.

THIRD STRING TO MEET CANADIAN NEXT TUESDAY

The Wheeler Colts will meet the Canadian third string Tuesday at 3:30 on the Wheeler field in the first game with the young Cats. They will return the game Nov. 25 at Canadian.

Basket Ball Suits for Teams Arrive

Twelve new basketball suits for both boys and girls have arrived. The teams will begin to work out as soon as the gymnasium is finished.

"Everyone is anxious to begin practice in the new gym," states Miss Winona Adams, girls coach.

WHEELER COLTS DEFEAT WELLINGTON 19 TO 13

Boasting heavy line attacks, the Wheeler Colts were able to defeat the Roman Candles of Wellington, here last Thursday night with a score of 19 to 13.

Scoring ran high in the first half and several of the touchdowns were tallied during this period. Openings made by the line enabled the backfield to play better.

Starting lineup for the Colts: Havenhill, G., le; Page, lt; Badley, lg; Passons, rg; Flynt, rt; Red, re; Puckett, qb; Havenhill, L., hb; Robison, hb; Young, fb; Tucker, c.

FROM OTHER BRANDING IRONS

The coeds are 'minding their own knitting' on the college campus at Lubbock Tech. Bone needles and yarn have proved very attractive to the young girls.—The Toreador.

The ever-important ex-students of Canyon certainly caused a great amount of excitement. It seems that this is an important event for the college.

From the El Sombrero of Perryton we get this laugh: George: "If Mrs. Woods doesn't take back what she said, I'm going to drop English." Albert: "What did she say?" George: "You failed."—Could ANY of our students feel that way about our English teacher? (If they do—"woe is him").

The Brand is handling Hardin-Simmons contributions to the Will Rogers Memorial fund.

The Whirlwinds added the third conference scalp to their belts last Friday—their victim was Quitaque, with a score of 19-0.

Prospects Good for Girls' Cage Teams

"There are good prospects for a fine basketball team this year," states Miss Winona Adams, coach.

All girls that played last year, with the exception of one, are back ready to start when the gymnasium is completed. Dorothy Burgess, who played guard on the senior team last year, will have the same position again.

Wilma Tinney, a star guard, will play her second year at Wheeler. Before she came here she played with Forrestburg, Texas. Nerine Young has guarded for three years and this is Beatrice Miller's second year to guard. Mazie Bean is playing her third and last year this term.

Julia Lou Tinney, a left-handed forward, will make the main string again. Gladys Warren, a forward, has played one year on the senior team. Laney Mae Tillman, the captain last year, will play her last year with the Wheeler team. She has played three years as center.

Miss Adams is depending on these girls and thinks the senior team is "going places" this year.

Among the others who are planning to come out for basketball this year are: Rutha Mae Conner, Cosette Crofford, Dorothy Tolliver, Ferrol Ficke, Bonnie Adams, Dorothy Lee Burke, Ruth Faye Garrison, Lilla Mae Crofford, Margie Bowers, Florene Wright, Mildred Coward, Eugenia Mae Durham, Martha Alice Wiley and Clarice Robertson.

COLTS DEFEAT PIRATES

Playing there, the Wheeler Colts defeated the Lefors Pirates on Wednesday night of this week by a score of 39-0.

According to Coach Bob Clark, the best tackling and blocking he has witnessed in a long time was done by the future Mustangs in this contest.

Admission Other than Above -- 15c a Session

Two conference games scheduled for the Mustangs are yet to be played. Several games are arranged for the Colts before the season ends.

A game to go down in football is probably the hardest-fought contest will be when the McLean Tigers meet the Shamrock Irishmen. The teams are evenly matched while neither has been defeated so far. The tussle will decide first and second conference winners for the district.

While other line-up changes are being made, plans are to continue the contracts of Dizzy and Daffy Dean with the St. Louis Cardinals.

According to Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois, the saying, "The best defense is in the offense," is only a half truth, for both defense and offense are needed to win.

The Mustangs are to be trotted through rigid practice to get them in shape for the Lefors game. This game will probably decide third place winners in football.

Too bad our bunch of Mustangs can't get opportunities similar to those of the horses of S.M.U. When given a chance, our Texas football team made a showing. It is said that every fan wished that he could have voted on bringing that group of Wild Horses back for the Tournament of Roses. Just watch those Mustangs come back and take all the rest of the competition. Also watch the Wheeler Mustangs take their foes for the rest of the season.

It looks as if the T.C.U.-S.M.U. game is a toss up. The former team is becoming famous for its passing. This will be the game of the year and what is known as a wide-open game. The air will be filled with passes, as S.M.U. has a real aerial circus.

I can't say much about the Pampa-Amarillo fray—too many Pampa fans around here. But rivalry is what makes the games have the old spirit. The underdog always has it all to gain. Look what the fighting Wildcats did to the mighty Nortre Dame men. Just a matter of determination in this football business.

Come on, Mustangs. Let's get Lefors.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS ENTER PEOPLE'S STORE CONTEST

That a contest still attracts much interest is shown by a number of high school girls who have entered the competition at the People's store. Votes are obtained by various ways on different days. The prizes offered are: first, bedroom suite; second, breakfast room suite; third, over-night bag; fourth, two woolen blankets; fifth, choice of size and color of a $6.95 dress, and sixth, a $2.50 merchandise card.

High school girls in the contest are: Gladys Warren, Dorothy Burgess, Helen Sanders, Chlorene Morgan, Dorothy Lee Burke and Laverne Cox. The contest closes Saturday night, Nov. 16.

Herbert Whitener and Wallace Pendleton were in Allison Sunday afternoon.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS TOUR

Wheeler Club Women Inspect Many Demonstrations on Wednesday, Nov. 6.

Probably the greatest advantage of being a demonstrator is that the demonstration is continued and grows better as the years go by. A few demonstrators have learned to improve their work each season, making several of the demonstrations better now than they were their first year. This seems to be the case with several of the demonstrations visited by the Wheeler Home Demonstration club, Wednesday.

First, the club visited Mrs. Jim Porter's wardrobe and learned that she lowered the rod for hanging, made shelves and pockets, and painted the closet a light color. In her pantry she has 500 quarts of 50 varieties of food that she has canned. She has four shelves 1x10 feet, one 6x2 and two 1x6.

In Mrs. A. L. Bean's bedroom, which was visited by the club, were some new closets made of pasteboard boxes. She has crocheted the rug for her bedroom floor. Above her bed is a sampler made in Norway in the year 1887. The lettering is in Norwegian, which Mrs. Bean read to the club. It was a birthday present to Mrs. Bean's grandmother. Mrs. O. Sandifer made a closet three feet square of pasteboard and papered it with wallpaper to match her bedroom. As a pantry demonstrator, Mrs. Edd Jones has canned 280 quarts of food, of which 140 have been eaten. Her six shelves are 16 inches by nine feet.

Three demonstrations were visited at Mrs. Jim Porter's home—pantry, livingroom and yard. In her pantry she has 24 shelves 6 inches by 4 feet, two shelves 8 inches by 4 feet, and five 1x5 feet. She has canned 1016 containers of 67 varieties of food.

When livingroom demonstrator, she closed in one side of her porch and is using it now as the south end of the living room. In this space she has built bookcases and a fireplace. Just recently she hung new tapes and re-upholstered her livingroom suite.

When the club was visiting her yard, Mrs. Porter made this statement, "If you want to have flowers in the spring, you don't want to see the flower beds in the fall. Leave all the trash there and bring some." Of course, these dead leaves and twigs help to fertilize the soil and to keep it from blowing away. Mrs. Porter has a stepping-stone walk and flower gardens at the back of the house. In the front and on the sides, shrubbery makes the foundation planting. A few fruit trees are used in the front yard.

Mrs. C. B. Witt has a closet where the children may reach their own clothes. Their rod for hanging is just below the shelves where the linen and folded garments are kept. Another feature of her bedroom is the study desk her father made for her.

Since Mrs. W. L. Williams was not pantry demonstrator this year, she did not keep a list of the foods she had canned or the varieties. However, she has eight shelves 1x9 feet and they are full.

In her wardrobe demonstration, Helen Flynt remodeled her closet by making more shelves and a rod for hanging, painting and papering. She made the statement that a closet should be papered, if with nothing but a newspaper, since light is very essential in a closet.

Each person present brought a covered dish and ate at the home of Mrs. F. D. Ferguson, pantry demonstrator for last year. She has canned 565 quarts of 55 varieties of food. Five of her shelves are 1x7 and three are 1x6.

After the business meeting, the club visited Mrs. Jess Crowder and Mrs. J. E. Willard, members of the Busy Bee club. Mrs. Crowder has canned 1,506 quarts of foods of 204 varieties. Some of the food has been given to friends. Six of her shelves are 1x12 feet and six are 1x7.

On a table she had peanut brittle candy, salted peanuts and candied watermelon which she enclosed in cellophane sacks. On and near the table she had peanuts, black walnuts, hickory nuts, watermelons, pumpkins, red and green tomatoes, apples, onions, peppers, Irish potatoes, popcorn, sage, beans, eggs, bananas, dried peaches and cushaws.

Mrs. J. E. Willard's bedside table was made of a small square stand-table with the center removed. The springs of her bed are covered, as are also the mattress and pillows. Scarfs for the stands, chest of drawers and dresser were made of sugar sacks, with a crocheted edge of cord string that has been dyed. On one stand is an old oil lamp, which has been made into an electric table lamp. Mrs. Willard has canned over 2,000 quarts of food. She has nine shelves 1x11 and seven 1x15.

Twenty members of the club and guests made the tour of the 14 demonstrations.

In Memory of Uncle Wes Martin

By his niece, MRS. ALVIS BURKE
They tell me life is over for this dear one,
They tell me that his body here is dead;
And yet my Bible tells me that his soul is living,
For I know a Christian's life he led.
Oh, God, who deals with mercy unto all things,
Dry these tears, and ease the hearts of those who cry,
For we know Thy way is best 'though sometimes hardest—
And we know that we can join him by and by.

I feel that if he could return today,
And if we could hear that dear voice so loved by all,
That he would urge us all to bear up bravely
And be ready when the Lord our soul shall call.

His was a noble life: soft words and kind
He spoke to one and all;
But I for one shall never question
Why God saw fit this loved one to call.

He has two children there in heaven—
Perhaps God thought 'twas best that he should be
There with the two to bring them pleasure—
Perhaps some other reason God could see.

Although He blinds our eyes to His just course
We know not why these things should be;
We can find comfort in the Bible—
In sincere prayer upon our bended knee.

God help us find comfort in the knowledge
That a Christian life was what he led.
God knew our feet would falter—I wonder if he called him on to clear the path ahead.

WORKERS CONFERENCE MEET TUESDAY HAD LARGE CROWD
