Rhythm Band Rules Drafted by Committee

Activity to Be Included in Competition Of Interscholastic League.

Tentative rules were announced this week for rhythm band competition in the county interscholastic meet March 26 and 27, according to C. B. Witt, principal of Wheeler high school.

Witt, together with O. C. Evans, Briscoe school principal, and M. D. Blankenship, superintendent at Mobeetie, were selected some time ago by W. C. Perkins, Shamrock, director general of the Wheeler County Interscholastic league, as a committee to suggest rules for rhythm band competition, which has not heretofore been a feature of interscholastic competition.

Rhythm bands now are organized at several schools in the county. Witt said, and he named six communities where this activity is pursued, Mobeetie, Briscoe, Kelton, Shamrock, Center and Kellerville.

Rules suggested by the committee follow:

1. The number of pupils in any band shall not exceed 30, and these pupils shall be selected from grades 1, 2, and 3.
2. The competing bands shall be judged upon the rendition of two numbers, one of which shall be standard and the other may be optional.
3. Eligibility rules as found in the interscholastic league rule book shall apply to rhythm bands.
4. The same general rules which apply to judging choral singing shall apply to the judging of rhythm bands.

Girl From Mobeetie Is Star Basketeer

Katherine Sims Makes Winning Scores In Thriller at Galveston.

MOBEETIE.—Miss Katherine Sims, daughter of D. G. Sims, county commissioner precinct one, and Mrs. Sims, who is employed by a life insurance company at Galveston, has been named as one of the outstanding players on the Moody Red Ramblers basketball team of that city.

Miss Sims will be remembered as a star performer on the Mobeetie team in 1931-32, and with the Canadian Krazy Kats in '33 and '34.

The Galveston Tribune carried the following story of a recent game:

Climaxing the year's outstanding basket ball thriller with a storybook ending, Katherine Sims gave the Moody club Red Ramblers the deciding margin of their 19-18 victory over the Star Dairy last night at Lovensberg gymnasium.

Sims shot two foul goals in the final few seconds of the game to pull the Ramblers in front. The game was exciting from the start and the strengthened Dairy team trailed by a lone point, 12-11, at halftime.

Lillian Melebeck led the Moody Club girl scorers with 11 points, while Sims scored four points including the two "money" shots.

Townsendites Watch Test of Pension Plan

Members of the local Townsend club are watching closely the experiment in Chelan, Wash., with the $200-a-month revolving pension plan, says J. D. Merriman, president of the Wheeler organization.

To test the plan out, $200 was paid to a 63-year-old man in the Washington town, and people there are co-operating to try it and see if it will work. Everybody pays a 2 percent transaction tax into the "kitty" every time a Townsend test dollar passes through his hands. At last report the man was having good success at disposing of the cash.

Merriman says there are 200 members of the Townsend club at Wheeler, and a 100-member club at Allison. The Townsendites, he states, are preparing to circulate a petition in each voting precinct of the county, asking their congressmen to support a Townsend pension bill during this session.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Laflin, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fulfer and Deward Wofford attended a banquet at Borger, given by the Panhandle Power and Light Co. for their employees and their wives.

WPA Workers, Excavating for Underpass Find Fossil of Prehistoric Monster

Lynn Gott Wednesday contributed a nice wharf for exhibition in the Times front window, but as we shiver to press the glass is frosted up until you'll have to come inside if you want a looksee.

It is a fragment of semi-petrified bone from some monster that roamed these parts no telling how long ago. Measuring about 10 by 12 inches and six inches thick, the fossil was found about four feet under ground, Gott says, by WPA workmen on the highway project 13 miles east of town.

Men were excavating for an underpass on the Stiles ranch, and the ground was found to consist of funny looking formations consisting of sand that glistens like isinglass, and layers of lime and blue clay six to eight inches thick. The queer formations indicate that perhaps a jillion years ago the terrain was covered by water.

No other bones were found on this location, Gott said, but the workers were to resume digging to bring the hole to specified depth—and perhaps more bone.

The fossil appears to be the split end of a hip bone or some other part of the monster's chassis, and has a clearly defined section of the socket, but little else to indicate anything more than that the animal's frame must have been something e-e-enormous.

Gott is timekeeper on the road project.

Deputy District Head Lions Club Speaker

Cryer Urges More Activity, Stresses Service Note at Tuesday Meeting Here.

Address by C. A. Cryer of McLean, deputy district governor, featured Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions club, held at noon in basement of the First Baptist church.

Cryer entertained the group with his funny stories at the expense of Dr. H. E. Nicholson, boss Lion, and J. L. Gilmore, superintendent of Wheeler schools. Then swinging into the more serious part of his address, he urged the club to find and engage in more activities. He exhorted them to "remember you are not a commercial organization but a service club."

W. W. Adams of the Wheeler Implement Co. and Adams Cash grocery was a visitor.

New members introduced were Homer Moss, county attorney; Theodore Conner of the Beal cleaning establishment, and M. L. Moody, editor-manager of The Wheeler Times.

Accompanying Cryer on his trip to Wheeler was Boyd Meadow, also of McLean.

W. E. Gaines of the Pleasant Hill community has taken charge of the Superior Service station at southeast corner of the square, and will be moving his family to town as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Miss Arlie Lee spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lee at Mobeetie.

Cheating Our Penitentiaries

Here is a customer who read an article before it was offered for publication in this week's Times, and the urge to write an editorial was not resisted.

To The Editor: Operating penitentiaries has at this time reached the proportions of an occupation. Men are qualifying themselves and taking special training for this work.

Our state and federal governments are seeking men who are experts in handling men, after they have been convicted of crime.

One of our recent governors has given as his excuse for pardoning certain desperate criminals, the overcrowded condition of our state penitentiary, saying he had to make room for new arrivals. The state was not financially able to care for them all, so some were turned out to make room for new comers. We could thus give them all a little of it.

Our government is now building nine new federal penitentiaries to take care of its lawless citizens of today and tomorrow.

Certain sponsors of the Boy Scout movement, and certain welfare workers who have made a check of our prisons make the assertion that they have never found in a penal institution a man who had enrolled with the Boy Scouts at 12 years of age and took an active part in Boy Scout work until he reached his majority.

Personally, we can not vouch for this allegation, but we do know that there is no man, regardless of age, who will not become a better citizen if he will take the Boy Scout handbook, and read it through.

This little book of only 658 pages contains a wealth of information on outdoor life, first aid, moral and bodily cleanliness which we all need more of in our everyday life. If your boy is a Scout, look this book

President's Ball At Canadian on Feb. 4

CANADIAN.—On account of the Canadian invitation basketball tournament which is being held on the date of the national birthday ball for the president, the Hemphill County Young Democratic club has received special permission from the national headquarters to hold this charity ball on Thursday evening, February 4, at the City Hall in Canadian.

Music for the ball, the proceeds of which goes to help in the fight against infantile paralysis, is being furnished by Ernie Palmquist, composer of "The Music Goes Round and Round" and his orchestra. Seldom will such bands play engagements in towns the size of Canadian, it is pointed out, but through the efforts of the local general chairman, the group has been engaged and a large crowd is expected.

Attendance Figures Show Baptists Lead

Jim Risner reports that in this week's tabulation Baptist Sunday school is leading attendance in the Go-to-Sunday school movement with 87 percent or 91 members of the 105 enrolled present Sunday. There were eight visitors, making total attendance of 99.

"WAKES UP FIRE"—SIX DIE

In the early morning a father was struggling to get some heat from the kitchen stove. Exasperated by the balky fire, he said, "I'll wake it up!" and seized a can of kerosene.

Then the sleeping giant did awake. In the explosion and fire that followed, the entire family of six was killed.

Fire accidents are particularly prevalent at this cold season, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters. People become impatient, try to quicken a fire with kerosene or still worse, gasoline. Needless to say, this is a practice that is never safe.

Fatal accidents from dry cleaning with gasoline, benzine and other inflammable liquids are also apt to occur. Housewives who have been attempting their own dry cleaning with these dangerous fluids in their backyards are forced to go inside by the cold weather. Here an explosive mixture of gasoline fumes and air is quickly formed in the confined place and only a tiny flame or spark is required to cause an explosion and fire.

Ten thousand persons lose their lives in fires annually, while an equal number are seriously injured. The property loss from fire averages about $300,000,000 each year.

For the good of all, the national board issues its warning: Take every care to avoid fire and its painful and disastrous consequences.

CO-OPERATION AND SELF-HELP

An authority on the co-operative marketing movement recently warned co-operative managers and members of the dangers of relying upon political bounty. He then added:

"Government-sponsored co-operatives commonly try to meet their problems by calling upon Washington. Their members often fail to appreciate the importance of building reserves. They are often comprised of farmers who are 'in' this year 'out' next year. The member of the government-sponsored cooperative usually thinks of himself as the beneficiary and not as the builder.

"The co-operative movement cannot in a thousand years reach fruition if subjected either to government suzerainty or government paternalism. Both do violence to the foundation stone of co-operation: self-help."

It would be a good thing if those words were pondered and remembered by every farmer in America. The agricultural co-operatives that have gone ahead—and there are many of them—have never leaned on government. They have not fought for places at the political trough. They have maintained their independence, their self-reliance and their own solvency. They have realized that co-operation, if it is to be permanently successful, must be followed on a sound business basis.

U. league this season. Numbered among the "sixty-sixers" are several all-Americans and two members of the 1936 United States Olympic team. Women Specializing Preservation of Food

One Demonstration Club Member Develops Interesting Recipe.

The women of the Panhandle area have accomplished much toward food preservation and laying in a supply of various foods, reports from various county home demonstrations to the A. and M. college extension service indicate.

An unusual recipe was followed by Mrs. R. T. Cope, co-operator of the Midway home demonstration club of Lynn county, who cubed two big cushaws and pressured them until they were soft. After mashing these with a potato masher, she added a gallon of pineapple and five pounds of sugar, cooked in an open kettle until thick and clear. The mixture had the appearance and flavor of pineapple butter and is much relished by the Cope family, both as a fruit butter and as a filling for pie.

A 100-foot row of cucumbers planted by Mrs. H. B. Urban of Ochiltree county supplied all the fresh cucumbers her family could eat, 35 gallons of pickles, and a surplus which her children sold for spending money. Mrs. Urban brined the entire 35 gallons, and made 25 gallons of sweet pickles and relishes and 10 gallons of sour and dill pickles.

Nolan county women canned 16,452 quarts of food and stored 2,280 pounds of dried vegetables, cured meats, beans and peas during the first 10 months of 1936.

Should Cook Pork Well to Save Health

State Health Officer Warns Against Danger of Trichinosis.

AUSTIN.—Trichinosis, a disease caused by eating pork which has not been thoroughly cooked, is far from an uncommon infection in man, is a warning issued by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"During the winter season pork and pork products are more freely used, and a warning against insufficient cooking of them is in order," he said, "as the danger of eating pork that is not thoroughly cooked is indicated by the increasing number of cases of this disease being reported.

"If pork is cooked thoroughly, there is no danger from its use save the danger of eating too much of a meat which is more or less difficult of digestion due to its high fat content. Pork, showing a slight red or pink, is a warning signal that this is dangerous to eat for it may contain trichinae which have escaped destruction by insufficient cooking of the meat and thus give the careless consumer the disease trichinosis.

"No method of meat inspection will invariably discover the presence of these parasites. It is next to impossible to detect infested hog flesh by inspection for the cysts are extremely small, and they are of the same color as muscle tissue in which they are imbedded. These larvae are encysted in the lean portion of the pork ready to develop in the stomach of the person who eats the meat. Heating the meat to 140 degrees Fahrenheit, the temperature used in the pasteurization of milk, will destroy the parasites. But there is often the danger of not maintaining this temperature inside of the meat. Outer portions of the meat may appear well cooked while the inner part is quite raw and will retain the living parasites. Especially is this true if the piece of pork is quite thick.

"To be safe, no pork or pork products should ever be eaten unless it has been thoroughly cooked, and until all color disappears throughout the piece of meat."

"We need self realization, accompanied by great self-control, a genial outward humility accompanied by a sustaining spiritual pride, and a knowledge of the fundamental moral tenets of Christ's religion instead of a mere sentimental respect or romantic adoration for its founder."—Father Xavier in Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse."

"Recorded thought is our chief heritage from the past—the most lasting legacy we can leave to the future—books are the most enduring monument of man's achievements—only through books can civilization become cumulative.—Frederick M. Crunden."

"Progress in society depends on those who possess sedulous self discipline," says Dr. Hugh B. Smith, of Stephenville. "The smallest education which teaches self discipline is better than any other education which neglects it."

Speaking of dictators, how about the "ultimate consumer?"

If you have a farm sale

If you have a farm sale and only one man comes to bid on your offerings, your sale will be a flop.

One bidder would not make your sale successful.

You must have a whole crowd of bidders who will not hesitate to raise a bid for something they want.

In figuring your sale, however, keep this in mind: although one bidder will not make your sale successful, one additional bidder will sometimes do it.

The more people you reach with your advertising, the more bidders you will have at your sale.

Oftentimes a man will go to a sale and make a number of bids, forcing others to pay more, but he buys nothing for himself.

Even if he did buy nothing, he made the seller some money because he was there to bid.

The Wheeler Times has circulation among the men who not only bid but BUY. In planning your farm sale plan on using The Times. You will be money ahead.

THE IMPORTANT THING IS RESULTS

SCOUTING WITH THE SCOUTS

Beginning with this issue, under the above headline, the Boy Scouts of America, are attempting to give you some much needed information as to the kind of work they are doing.

Following, you will find the requirements to become a Tenderfoot Scout, next week read the requirements to become a Second Class Scout.

To become a Tenderfoot Scout, a boy must be 12 years of age, must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the scoutmaster his willingness to respect the scout oath and laws of the organization.

Upon joining, he must memorize the oath, laws and motto; give the signs and salute; explain the significance of the badge and uniform; must know the composition and history of the United States flag and the customary forms of respect due it.

He must be able to take a rope, name and tie at least eight different kinds of knots such as "square, half-hitch, timber hitch, lariat loop, sheep-shank etc.

No equipment, uniform, fees or obligations of any kind are incumbent upon the Scout other than the yearly membership dues of fifty cents.

As long as the boy is passing the Scout tests and living the Scout law, he is a Scout, whether he has a uniform or not.

It will be found, however, that the boys want to be uniformed and equipped as largely as possible. But he should be required to purchase such equipment from his own earnings. These things should not come as a gift, the Scout should work for them.

Scout motto, is "Be Prepared."

Scout oath, "On my honor I will do my best:

1. To do my duty to God and my country and obey the Scout law.
2. To help other people at all times.
3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

The Scout law: "A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent."

Scouting is a national movement. During the year 1911 it had an enrollment of 61,495. On June 15, 1916, by special act of the congress of the United States the Scouts were issued a charter under federal laws. Their uniforms and insignia was given the same protection as is given the uniform and insignia of the United States army and navy.

By 1932 the Scouts had a yearly membership of almost a million, and had touched the lives of over 6,000,000 boys.

Such men as former Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson; and also William G. McAdoo, Gifford Pinchott, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Orville Wright and many other prominent men in our national affairs have been glad to give of their time and money to carry on this work.

As a parent, we ask you to familiarize yourself with the work we are doing, encourage your boy to take up this work. The Scouts want to help him make of himself an honest and useful citizen. Let us tell you next week about the requirements of a Second Class Scout.

BOB CLARK,
District Commissioner and Local Scoutmaster.

'Origin of Missions' Is Sermon Subject

Methodist Pastor Plans Observance Of Monthly Mission Sunday.

"The Origin of Missions" is announced by Rev. E. C. Raney, Methodist pastor, as the subject for his Sunday morning sermon, at 11 o'clock Sunday.

"This is the fourth Sunday," Raney stated, "and a day to be devoted to the whole mission work of the world according to the plans of the church. We urge the membership to look in the Methodist Discipline and see the provisions made by the church for the disposition of the services on the fourth Sunday of each month. We wish to urge that all the thought of the church run in these channels on each Sunday."

Leaguers meet at 6:15 and church at 7. The other meetings of the week are not changed, Raney stated.

This church was well represented at Amarillo Tuesday for the Bishops' Crusade meeting, which was well attended by delegates from all over the conference area, according to the pastor.

Farm Boy Develops Television Principles

Idaho Lad Proves Genius for Research In Most Difficult Field.

Television by Christmas of 1937 is now the prediction, says an article in the current issue of a well known farm paper. Of course many, many engineers, both in the United States and in other countries, have been working at the problems of television. But if we do have television by next Christmas, it will be very largely due to the genius of an Idaho farm lad—Philo T. Farnsworth. Living on a farm 50 miles from a railroad, by the time he was 12 years old he was chief engineer on his father's farm. He evolved a home lighting plant, hay-baling equipment, and converted a hand-powder washing machine into an electrically operated one, even winding an armature for his electric motor, a difficult task as any electrician will tell you.

He was only 19 when he completed his models and blueprints and applied for patents on his television device. That was in 1926. In the intervening years he has been busy building his system, even having to invent his tools as he went along. Finding himself blocked in this country, he went to Europe where he secured recognition. An experimental broadcasting station has been completed in Philadelphia and tests are now being conducted on an extensive scale. It seems likely that the image will be eight by ten inches in size, pictures pretty clear, and a home receiving set will be available for $200 or $300.

rock Saturday night were: Mr. John Calceote, E. P. Joiner and Dick Neeley.

The Kelton Baptist W. M. S. met Monday, January 18, 1937 with nine members present. The lesson was from the Bible, taught by Mrs. Claude Davis in the absence of the teacher, Mrs. V. M. Lollar.

Pond, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ture Whitley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Whitley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. C. Coffee.

Labor Gets 65 Cents Of Each WPA Dollar

SAN ANTONIO.—Project workers have received sixty-five cents out of every dollar expended by the Works Progress Administration in Texas, it has been announced by H. P. Drought, state administrator.

Entering the eighteenth month of operation in December, the WPA had expended $40,661,596 on projects in Texas, Drought reported. Of this total, $30,872,655 was paid directly to the work or on the project, $5,161,949 was spent for materials, supplies and equipment, and $4,626,992 was expended for rentals and services. A considerable proportion of the latter figure was also disbursed in the form of wages for truck and team operators.

"For this expenditure on labor," Drought declared, "we have received 117,007,851 man-hours of honest work. This labor has been performed on 3,704 public improvement projects designed and requested by local agencies in Texas."

Now employing 75,000 persons on 1,600 projects, the WPA program in Texas has declined sharply from the peak of last February when 125,827 men and women depended upon security wage checks for a livelihood.

Farmers Going on Air With Success Stories

KGNC Radio to Broadcast Experiences With Modern Methods.

Texas Panhandle farmers and ranchmen believe in sharing their successful practices with their neighbors, says Texas A. and M. college extension service, and agricultural leaders from six counties will go on the air during the next three months for this purpose.

Farmers, ranchmen and county agricultural agents from Oldham, Gray, Roberts, Hansford, Dallam and Ochiltree counties will broadcast over Station KGNC at Amarillo the details of experiences which will be of constructive help to others in the same lines of endeavor.

Reports from county agricultural agents in the Panhandle indicate that there will be many activities to report.

The Bates brothers of Amarillo are contour listing 600 acres of pasture in their Castro county holdings in addition to improvement already accomplished, such as painting and repairing their buildings and setting out orchard and shade trees.

Last spring Asa Willis, manager of the Herring estate, contour furrowed 1,000 acres of land and followed up with contour summer fallow. Willis states that the only prospect for wheat is on the contour furrowed land.

With an expenditure of $350 an acre for terracing and utilizing runoff water on 4½ sections the annual production value of 200 acres on the Pitchfork ranch in King county has increased from $10 to $60 an acre, according to the manager, V. V. Parr.

"Before terracing I could produce $2,000 worth of produce on these 200 acres," Parr told his agricultural agent, "and now it will produce $12,000 worth of alfalfa."

"WAKES UP FIRE"—SIX DIE

In the early morning a father was struggling to get some heat from the kitchen stove. Exasperated by the balky fire, he said, "I'll wake it up!" and seized a can of kerosene.

Then the sleeping giant did awake. In the explosion and fire that followed, the entire family of six was killed.

Fire accidents are particularly prevalent at this cold season, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters. People become impatient, try to quicken a fire with kerosene or still worse, gasoline. Needless to say, this is a practice that is never safe.

Fatal accidents from dry cleaning with gasoline, benzine and other inflammable liquids are also apt to occur. Housewives who have been attempting their own dry cleaning with these dangerous fluids in their backyards are forced to go inside by the cold weather. Here an explosive mixture of gasoline fumes and air is quickly formed in the confined place and only a tiny flame or spark is required to cause an explosion and fire.

Ten thousand persons lose their lives in fires annually, while an equal number are seriously injured. The property loss from fire averages about $300,000,000 each year.

For the good of all, the national board issues its warning: Take every care to avoid fire and its painful and disastrous consequences.

CO-OPERATION AND SELF-HELP

An authority on the co-operative marketing movement recently warned co-operative managers and members of the dangers of relying upon political bounty. He then added:

"Government-sponsored co-operatives commonly try to meet their problems by calling upon Washington. Their members often fail to appreciate the importance of building reserves. They are often comprised of farmers who are 'in this year 'out' next year. The member of the government-sponsored cooperative usually thinks of himself as the beneficiary and not as the builder.

"The co-operative movement cannot in a thousand years reach fruition if subjected either to government suzerainty or government paternalism. Both do violence to the foundation stone of co-operation: self-help."

It would be a good thing if those words were pondered and remembered by every farmer in America. The agricultural co-operatives that have gone ahead—and there are many of them—have never leaned on government. They have not fought for places at the political trough. They have maintained their independence, their self-reliance and their own solvency. They have realized that co-operation, if it is to be permanently successful, must be followed on a sound business basis.

A. U. league this season. Numbered among the "sixty-sixers" are several all-Americans and two members of the 1936 United States Olympic team. Women Specializing Preservation of Food

One Demonstration Club Member Develops Interesting Recipe.

The women of the Panhandle area have accomplished much toward food preservation and laying in a supply of various foods, reports from various county home demonstrations to the A. and M. college extension service indicate.

An unusual recipe was followed by Mrs. R. T. Cope, co-operator of the Midway home demonstration club of Lynn county, who cubed two big cushaws and pressured them until they were soft. After mashing these with a potato masher, she added a gallon of pineapple and five pounds of sugar, cooked in an open kettle until thick and clear. The mixture had the appearance and flavor of pineapple butter and is much relished by the Cope family, both as a fruit butter and as a filling for pie.

A 100-foot row of cucumbers planted by Mrs. H. B. Urban of Ochiltree county supplied all the fresh cucumbers her family could eat, 35 gallons of pickles, and a surplus which her children sold for spending money. Mrs. Urban brined the entire 35 gallons, and made 25 gallons of sweet pickles and relishes and 10 gallons of sour and dill pickles.

Nolan county women canned 16,452 quarts of food and stored 2,280 pounds of dried vegetables, cured meats, beans and peas during the first 10 months of 1936.

Should Cook Pork Well to Save Health

State Health Officer Warns Against Danger of Trichinosis.

AUSTIN.—Trichinosis, a disease caused by eating pork which has not been thoroughly cooked, is far from an uncommon infection in man, is a warning issued by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

"During the winter season pork and pork products are more freely used, and a warning against insufficient cooking of them is in order," he said, "as the danger of eating pork that is not thoroughly cooked is indicated by the increasing number of cases of this disease being reported.

"If pork is cooked thoroughly, there is no danger from its use save the danger of eating too much of a meat which is more or less difficult of digestion due to its high fat content. Pork, showing a slight red or pink, is a warning signal that this is dangerous to eat for it may contain trichinae which have escaped destruction by insufficient cooking of the meat and thus give the careless consumer the disease trichinosis.

"No method of meat inspection will invariably discover the presence of these parasites. It is next to impossible to detect infested hog flesh by inspection for the cysts are extremely small, and they are of the same color as muscle tissue in which they are imbedded. These larvae are encysted in the lean portion of the pork ready to develop in the stomach of the person who eats the meat. Heating the meat to 140 degrees Fahrenheit, the temperature used in the pasteurization of milk, will destroy the parasites. But there is often the danger of not maintaining this temperature inside of the meat. Outer portions of the meat may appear well cooked while the inner part is quite raw and will retain the living parasites. Especially is this true if the piece of pork is quite thick.

"To be safe, no pork or pork products should ever be eaten unless it has been thoroughly cooked, and until all color disappears throughout the piece of meat."

"We need self realization, accompanied by great self-control, a genial outward humility accompanied by a sustaining spiritual pride, and a knowledge of the fundamental moral tenets of Christ's religion instead of a mere sentimental respect or romantic adoration for its founder."—Father Xavier in Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse."

"Recorded thought is our chief heritage from the past—the most lasting legacy we can leave to the future—books are the most enduring monument of man's achievements—only through books can civilization become cumulative.—Frederick M. Crunden."

"Progress in society depends on those who possess sedulous self discipline," says Dr. Hugh B. Smith, of Stephenville. "The smallest education which teaches self discipline is better than any other education which neglects it."

Speaking of dictators, how about the "ultimate consumer?"

"Make the Old Bus Do a While Longer"

Even if the automobile strikes make it impossible to get delivery on a new car for some time to come, there must be an end to everything, and this business of nursing the old family car along past the point of safe operation is no exception. You can't afford to take chances.

If you have a farm sale

If you have a farm sale and only one man comes to bid on your offerings, your sale will be a flop.

One bidder would not make your sale successful.

You must have a whole crowd of bidders who will not hesitate to raise a bid for something they want.

In figuring your sale, however, keep this in mind: although one bidder will not make your sale successful, one additional bidder will sometimes do it.

The more people you reach with your advertising, the more bidders you will have at your sale.

Oftentimes a man will go to a sale and make a number of bids, forcing others to pay more, but he buys nothing for himself.

Even if he did buy nothing, he made the seller some money because he was there to bid.

The Wheeler Times has circulation among the men who not only bid but BUY. In planning your farm sale plan on using The Times. You will be money ahead.

THE IMPORTANT THING IS RESULTS

Ask about our combination price for sale bills and an ad in The Times.

The Paper That the Farmers Read

SCOUTING WITH THE SCOUTS

Beginning with this issue, under the above headline, the Boy Scouts of America, are attempting to give you some much needed information as to the kind of work they are doing.

Following, you will find the requirements to become a Tenderfoot Scout, next week read the requirements to become a Second Class Scout.

To become a Tenderfoot Scout, a boy must be 12 years of age, must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the scoutmaster his willingness to respect the scout oath and laws of the organization.

Upon joining, he must memorize the oath, laws and motto; give the signs and salute; explain the significance of the badge and uniform; must know the composition and history of the United States flag and the customary forms of respect due it.

He must be able to take a rope, name and tie at least eight different kinds of knots such as "square, half-hitch, timber hitch, lariat loop, sheep-shank etc.

No equipment, uniform, fees or obligations of any kind are incumbent upon the Scout other than the yearly membership dues of fifty cents.

As long as the boy is passing the Scout tests and living the Scout law, he is a Scout, whether he has a uniform or not.

It will be found, however, that the boys want to be uniformed and equipped as largely as possible. But he should be required to purchase such equipment from his own earnings. These things should not come as a gift, the Scout should work for them.

Scout motto, is "Be Prepared." Scout oath, "On my honor I will do my best:

- 1. To do my duty to God and my country and obey the Scout law.
- 2. To help other people at all times.
- 3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

The Scout law: "A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent."

Scouting is a national movement. During the year 1911 it had an enrollment of 61,495. On June 15, 1916, by special act of the congress of the United States the Scouts were issued a charter under federal laws. Their uniforms and insignia was given the same protection as is given the uniform and insignia of the United States army and navy.

By 1932 the Scouts had a yearly membership of almost a million, and had touched the lives of over 6,000,000 boys.

Such men as former Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson; and also William G. McArdoo, Gifford Pinchott, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Orville Wright and many other prominent men in our national affairs have been glad to give of their time and money to carry on this work.

As a parent, we ask you to familiarize yourself with the work we are doing, encourage your boy to take up this work. The Scouts want to help him make of himself an honest and useful citizen. Let us tell you next week about the requirements of a Second Class Scout.

BOB CLARK, District Commissioner and Local Scoutmaster.

Labor Gets 65 Cents Of Each WPA Dollar

SAN ANTONIO.—Project workers have received sixty-five cents out of every dollar expended by the Works Progress Administration in Texas, it has been announced by H. P. Drought, state administrator.

Entering the eighteenth month of operation in December, the WPA had expended $40,661,506 on projects in Texas, Drought reported. Of this total, $30,872,655 was paid directly to the work or on the project, $5,161,949 was spent for materials, supplies and equipment, and $4,626,902 was expended for rentals and services. A considerable proportion of the latter figure was also disbursed in the form of wages for truck and team operators.

"For this expenditure on labor," Drought declared, "we have received 117,007,851 man-hours of honest work. This labor has been performed on 3,704 public improvement projects designed and requested by local agencies in Texas."

Now employing 75,000 persons on 1,600 projects, the WPA program in Texas has declined sharply from the peak of last February when 125,827 men and women depended upon security wage checks for a livelihood.

Farmers Going on Air With Success Stories

KGNC Radio to Broadcast Experiences With Modern Methods.

Texas Panhandle farmers and ranchmen believe in sharing their successful practices with their neighbors, says Texas A. and M. college extension service, and agricultural leaders from six counties will go on the air during the next three months for this purpose.

Farmers, ranchmen and county agricultural agents from Oldham, Gray, Roberts, Hansford, Dallam and Ochiltree counties will broadcast over Station KGNC at Amarillo the details of experiences which will be of constructive help to others in the same lines of endeavor.

Reports from county agricultural agents in the Panhandle indicate that there will be many activities to report.

The Bates brothers of Amarillo are contour listing 600 acres of pasture in their Castro county holdings in addition to improvement already accomplished, such as painting and repairing their buildings and setting out orchard and shade trees.

Last spring Asa Willis, manager of the Herring estate, contour furrowed 1,000 acres of land and followed up with contour summer fallow. Willis states that the only prospect for wheat is on the contour furrowed land.

With an expenditure of $3.50 an acre for terracing and utilizing runoff water on 4 1/2 sections the annual production value of 200 acres on the Pitchfork ranch in King county has increased from $10 to $60 an acre, according to the manager, V. V. Parr.

"Before terracing I could produce $2,000 worth of produce on these 200 acres," Parr told his agricultural agent, "and now it will produce $12,000 worth of alfalfa."

Object of Education

The end of education is power. This object is best obtained by the harmonious development of the physical, mental and moral nature of the student. The perfection of a community's system of education is the measure of that community's system of education. That system is the best which most perfectly accomplishes the design of culture for all concerned. We say for all concerned, because such a plan must not only be adapted to the development of human faculties, but it must teach the students how to make a practical application of what they learn.

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

Prepared by C. C. MERRITT

TWO MIRACLES OF MERCY
Scripture text: John 5:2-9; 6:8-15.

Lesson Helps: Fifth and sixth chapters of John.
Devotional Reading: Colossians 1:9-18.

Approach

Miracles of mercy—but they were far more than that, they were indicative of His ability, willingness and readiness to lift them up and out of all their ills. These "miracles" were only signs of all that He wanted to be unto His people. But if they should be utterly unable to see in these miracles signs of what He would still be and do for them, it would be futile for Him to proceed with the greater and eternal work.

That they were unable to receive it was evidenced when, after eating to their full satisfaction of the five small loaves and two small fishes, they made an attempt to make Him King by force. Jesus came to be King of the Jews. To Pilate Jesus gave testimony, "Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end am I come into the world that I might bear witness unto the truth"—this special truth that He is to be their King. But that was not to be done by force. The Jews must accept Him as their king willingly and gladly. And until that time shall come when they shall say, "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord" (Mt. 24:39), their house shall be left unto them desolate (V. 38).

What a wonderful lesson this is—by force Jesus will do nothing for the people. And herein lies the explanation of the ills of mankind. He will not force His way onto the world to eradicate evil desires. Must we have our own way? Then our own way we may have, and with it all the accompanying evil results of sin and error in us. God's plans for our good will some day be made clear (like it was with Joseph when he was sold into Egypt by his evil hearted brothers, that "God did it for good") and we can then rejoice in His love and long-suffering. The great need now for us is that we may receive Him by faith and rejoice in the hope of the glory of God.

Historical Setting

There are two dates in our lesson; and, likewise, two places. The healing at Bethesda was in Jerusalem about A. D. 28. The feeding of the 5,000 was at Lake Galilee near Bethsaida, about one year later, or, in A. D. 29.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON

Introduction

We should never attempt to snatch, piecemeal, lessons from the Word of God. Do not try to grasp the full significance of these signs which Jesus did without a careful study of the full context—all of these two chapters. Even then you will miss a plenty. Pray God to guide you. You may have full assurance that God will hear you for he has promised that the Holy Spirit will teach and guide—"He will take of mine and declare it unto you."

The Golden Text

"The same (very) works that I do bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me"—John 5:36.

Nicodemus said unto Jesus, "We know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no one can do these signs that thou doest, except God be with him." And indeed, that effect upon the hearts of the people is just what the Father intended when Jesus was doing His will in these miraculous signs. But too many wish only for the physical benefit of the miracles and care little or nothing of their spiritual significance.

When the Water is Troubled

Those "troubled" waters—waters of the pool of Bethesda (vs. 2-9), may have been a big disappointment to many others than this poor man who for 38 years had suffered without their blessings. But there was water, "the water of life" (of which we studied last Sunday) that was not to be a disappointment to him. Jesus was indeed "troubled in spirit," was moved with compassion toward him, and that troubling brought instant healing.

But no sooner was this done than there was another troubling. The Jews were troubled about this work of Jesus, as to what would come of it. He had not come into a "place in the sun" through the recognized route. The theological seminary had had no place in His training. The only time He seems to have spent with those great professors of religion was when He was only 12 years old, and then He seems to have been a pain in their sides. Denounce Him? Sure they would. He did not have a diploma and, furthermore, He has never been ordained. They could easily find a "loophole" for He did that healing "on the Sabbath day." So, that seemed to be their chance, and they were not slow in taking advantage of it. They could not deny His works; nor, could they very easily dispute His words. So, they will not bother about those things. They will just say that He has transgressed the commandment of God in "breaking the Sabbath" and that will disprove His works and words, for He is a transgressor. Much of the present disputings in denominational Christianity is after this sort.

There is No Man

"There is no man," said the sick man, "when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool." How often is this true today when lost sinners souls would be cleansed from all their iniquities and find life and peace in Jesus! There is no (Christian) man to bring them to the water of life! Christian friends, would you refuse to pick a poor sin trodden man up and bring him to the Lord Jesus Christ? How much easier is it to offer substitutes! "You ought to join the church!" Or, "You should quit your meanness and begin to do good." These are miserable physicians who cannot heal. No, do not deal in substitutes. Point him to the "Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world." "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the Waters." Yes, there are a lot of impotent folk who are in despair. These need you.

Only after he had been healed did Jesus say, and could he have obeyed: "Take up thy bed and walk." Works follow faith. There is no place for "works" until faith has brought salvation.

A Great Multitude

Just like that great multitude, gathered on the shore of Galilee, was hungry for bread, so multitudes today are hungering for the Bread of Life. Again, just like that multitude was seeking only for satisfaction of their physical need, so today, multitudes think physical satisfactions to be most important. But those who do not make God's kingdom and God's righteousness first will never be able to see nor enter the kingdom of God.

Little Things

"There is a (little) lad here" (v. 8-11). "Who has five (little) barley loaves, and two (little) fishes." All of this is expressed in the Greek. It is, by way of contrast to the great multitude, implied in the English. "But what are these among so many?" Indeed they were as nothing. But, even so, had Philip had the two hundred shillings (about $34.00), he could never purchase what these consecrated "little" things did for that multitude.

And this is the day of little things. The best you and I can do, as disciples of Christ, we are only occupied about a multitude of little things. But when touched by the power of a loving Saviour, they accomplish far more than any great things man could possibly do. Therefore, let us not despise the day of small things. By the grace of God, they will suffice. Yes, and we could then look about for others upon whom to use "that which remained over," if only we would consecrate ourselves, our gifts and possessions to God.

A Prophet and King

"Signs," to them, made Him nothing more than a "prophet" (Vs. 12-15). He was not to them a Saviour, one who saves them from their sins. They were willing to acclaim Him king, if only He will give them "bread" and deliver them from their oppressors. How like the people now were they! And the Word of God clearly states that some day the world will accept and make a King of one who is to be just such a deliverer. He will be a strategist and proficient in economics. Yet, a "man of sin" and "the antichrist."

But, one day, the faithful Jews though only a remnant—the "brand plucked out of the burning"—will receive Christ their King for all that He desires to be unto them.

THE GALS AIR PET PEEVES

Careless Grooming and Bad English Come In for Panning In Novel Contest.

Human nature being what it is, few things are more entertaining than frank fault-finding, and it is interesting to learn of a recent contest conducted by a prominent agricultural journal in which the ladies spoke their minds about men. Their pet peeves were careless grooming and bad English. But there were also others. Says the contest editor:

"Women simply can't tolerate those two things. Then there are scores of men and women who hate bragging. Nobody is ever impressed by bragging, it appears, except unfavorably. The other things that seemed to come up most often were antipathies both men and women feel toward those who constantly talk about some other girl or boy while dating the complainant, and the violent distaste of both sexes for the girl or boy whose table manners are crude.

"On grooming, everything from the men who go around with the top button of their shirt undone, to dandruff on the collar, got antipathies votes. The back fringe of untrimmed locks is very unpopular and you'd be surprised to learn with what vehemence women hate unpolished shoes. I was beginning to be persuaded that girls of this modern age hardly cared whether a young man wore his coat to a date or to dinner, but I find it was hasty.

"Bad table manners have wrecked many a romance. To wit, Disgusted Annie: 'One day my boy friend took dinner with us. All was pleasant enough until he helped his plate and piled so much on it until everyone noticed it. He took two biscuits and two sausages at a time, as though there wouldn't be enough. And he talked with his mouth full — told about their chickens dying with the sorehead. He had no manners whatsoever. I was disgusted and bored almost to tears. After that evening my love had grown cold.'"

Says Truths Should Go Beyond Intellect

Pastor Declares One's Conscience Must Be Vitrally Affected.

By C. C. MERRITT

The constant repetition of truth may be the thing that takes the edge off our faith. Truth sometimes becomes impotent to help us because our sense of sin has failed to deepen. The repetition, through habit and custom of formal righteousness and the outward shows of religion, makes stone of our intellect so that truths destroy rather than build faith.

In such cases, truth to be of any interest, must always be something new. At least a modern turn or a modern way of expression must cloak the old before it can become interesting to us. Fundamental truths fail to reach our hearts because our formal "righteousnesses" acts as a sedative rather than a stimulant.

Truths that reach the intellect alone cannot possibly be of any blessing to humanity. Truths must go beyond intellect. Truths must reach the emotional nature. Conscience must be vitally affected if truths are to become a vehicle of good. An "educated fool" and a self-righteous bigot are those in whom truths have gone no deeper than the intellect. Some of our hardened and most cruel criminals are intellectual giants. They know facts, scientific facts, too. Pure science is not calculated to reach the heart and work in that heart a change toward tenderness, meekness, forbearance and love. God's revealed truths (that some foolishly think to be opposed to true science) reach the heart and bring about conditions therein that makes man human and distinguishes him from a mere brute beast. It is not to be marveled that men who deny revelation demand that man is nothing more than a cultivated beast of the trees. What else could they do.

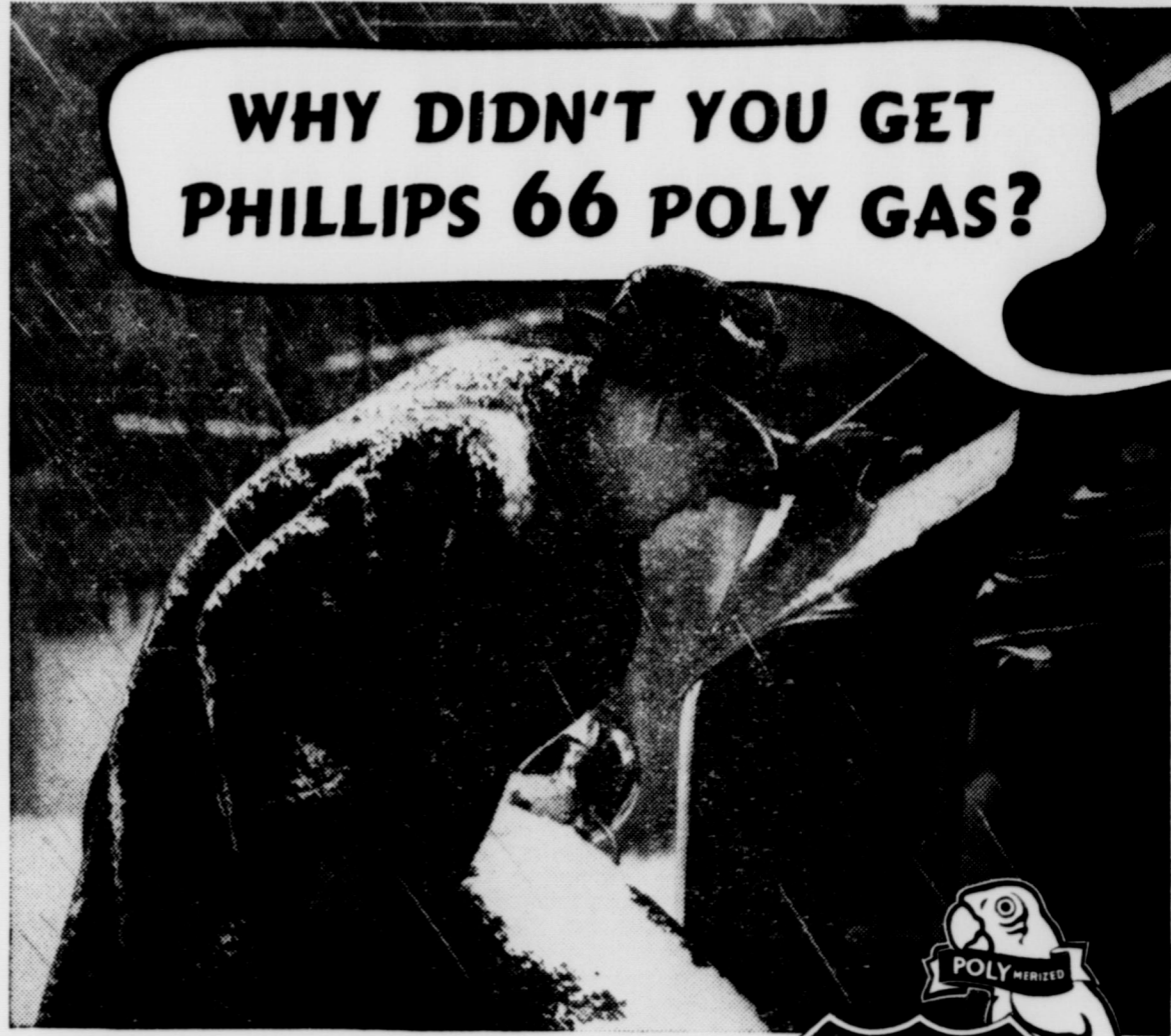

And, what more than the tendency to revert to bestial qualities can we expect, rightfully, of the coming generations when they are being schooled by men and women who are refused the privilege to teach truths that are calculated to reach deeper than the intellect of the children? Vain is the attempt to make good men and women out of our boys and girls with nothing more than common, or "horse sense" cultivation. All appeals to conscience that avoids faith—faith in the living God—is purely sentimental. Such is more detrimental than beneficial.

Yes, the soul must be trained in godlikeness. And that turns us back to God, the living God, maker and ruler of the universe. It turns us back to the divine life in Him and back to the indwelling spirit of God to teach and rule and lead us in the things that make this life worth while.

At the "Church With The Open Bible" we strive to know God's will and to encourage all to give God a chance in the perplexing problems of the people. We cordially invite you to attend our meetings.

And don't forget—go to Sunday School next Sunday.

Lawless Range

For a western thriller see John Wayne in "Lawless Range" when he comes to the Rogue Friday and Saturday, January 22 and 23. The story is laid in the open western country when the range was for those who wished to use it—free and with justice to all. But there were some who tried to take charge of the whole range for their private use, rooting the small cattle owner out. See John Wayne bring law and order to the cow country. Also, Patsy Kelly and Fert Kelton will be there in a two reeler, "At Sea Ashore."

Shirley Temple

The date is Monday and Tuesday, January 25 and 26. The picture is "Dimples." The star is Shirley Temple. The place is the Rogue. We think that is all you need to know to be there.

Pepper

To have Shirley Temple any one week at a theatre is a big treat. But for that same theatre to also have Janie Withers that same week is colossal, gigantic, stupendous, and super-elaborate. But such is the case at the Rogue. Jane will be here for Wednesday and Thursday, January 27 and 28 in her latest picture, "Pepper."

One Variety of Cotton Gets Price Advantage
Believer both in the farm benefits that would come from federal cotton grading and stapling and in the advantages of one-variety cotton communities (and counties), we had never quite realized how closely each may help the other until we were talking cotton with Dr. J. W. Tidmore, agronomist at Auburn. "You know," he said, "I've been trying to sell between forty and fifty bales of station cotton of all grades and staples and I've hardly been able to get a bid." He showed us the grades and staples sheet, and the cotton, coming as it did from experimental plots, quite naturally showed all staples from seven-eighth-inch to well over an inch. "The buyers just didn't want such a mixture," said Tidmore. Reasoning the thing out, we began to see that even with federal classing, a community might be little better off if there was no uniformity in the cotton it produced. The one-variety community, producing in quantity cotton all of uniform staple, is in position through federal classing to secure the maximum premiums for extra length above seven-eighth-inch.—Alexander Nunn in Progressive Farmer.

Reporters Association Meets

"Get the story" was the main theme of the Wheeler County Reporters association which had its first meeting for the year in the district court room Saturday, January 20 from 1 to 2 p. m. under their new chairman, Mrs. Lula Mae Farley.

The association voted to continue the use of the bulletin board that gives a star for every story printed. The old bulletin board showed the complete work of last year.

Joy Bill Riley was elected secretary of the association.

The measuring rod was applied to the stories written and criticisms offered. During the next meeting March 20, a prize will be given the reporter who secures the greatest number of leads from the demonstration given.

Hattie can tell time, so she was sent to the office to get the correct time. When she returned, the gifts were on her desk.

Almost everyone in the second grade is making 100 percent in spelling these days. A few of us still put "d" instead of "b" in some of our words—So "about" is "adout" and a "boy" is a "doy." So far our writing has all been done in manuscript. We are to begin using cursive writing in our classes next week.

Fourth Grade News

This week is a busy one, as we are taking midterm tests. The highest grades in English were made by Jamie Morrow with a grade of 98 and Doyle Ramsey with a grade of 96. The next two highest were Winford Glenn, 86, and Lee Vise, 84. In spelling Jamie and Doyle led again with grades being 100 and 97. Lee made next to the highest with a grade of 86. Nadine Henderson, Alva Lee and Ruth Shackelford led in the grades for the girls.

Margaret Anglin has returned to school for the first time since turning out for cotton harvest. We are glad to have her with us.

In health inspection, row 3 is ahead with a lead of 3 stars over row 2. Our health officers for this week are: Ruth Shackelford, captain; the guards are E. T. Vaughn, Lee Vise, and Iva Marie Finsterwald.

Attention Everyone!

The Rague theatre in Wheeler is giving the Briscoe school a benefit show, Tuesday, January 26. The picture will be Shirley Temple in "Dimples."

The admission will be 10c for grade students, 15c for high school students and 25c for adults. The proceeds will go to replace play equipment that was destroyed in the recent fire. The show will start at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, and will only show one time. The school buses will go and carry the students, and school patrons are invited to ride down on the buses.

Senior News

The senior class met this week and decided to present the play, "Where's Grandma?" Thursday night, February 4. They are thrilled over the recent plans for an annual which they are going to make themselves. Don't be surprised if someone takes a "shot" at you any time in the near future. Much interest is shown in a contest for the purpose of selecting the most popular girl and boy in high school.

Goose liver, roast deer and roast bear are included in the unusual products stored on the pantry shelves of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cordell of Magic City. About 1,500 quarts of 42 varieties of vegetables, fruits, pickles, relishes, jelly, jam preserves, and meat will, with the addition of a few staple groceries and fresh fruits give the family an adequate diet during the entire year. To aid in serving attractive meals, the family has recently added a set of cast aluminum cooking vessels. They also have an immense beef hanging in the smoke house ready to be canned as soon as it thaws. It is estimated that this will fill more than 300 tin cans.

"I do not have a closet now. I only have a rod and a curtain," Beulah Brewer, wardrobe demonstrator, for the Mobeetie 4-H club, told the Home Demonstration agent. The 4-H club girls in Wheeler county are learning that it is just as convenient to have "a place for everything and everything in its place" in a clothes closet in the home as it is for instruments in a doctor's office. Beulah plans to build shelves, shoe racks, and have a rod for hanging, so when the family changes from one garment to another, the clothes will not be thrown over backs of chairs. While her plans are in the making, she has not been idle. She has made one dress and canned 38 quarts of beef since Christmas.

Wheeler 4-H Club Meets

"We are to select a team to enter the County Judging Contest of canned articles next spring, so we must start practicing judging," stated Miss Jones Home Demonstration agent, January 3, when the Wheeler 4-H club girls met in the manual training building at 9:35 a. m.

The six main points by which to judge canned articles are: the container, label, pack, color, flavor, texture.

Miss Jones's demonstration was the judging of canned articles.

Those present at the meeting were: Norma Dee Robertson, Martha Jane Shipman, Helen Sims, Elsie Weeks, Elva Willard, Mary Evelyn Wyatt, Winona Red, Pauline Schaub, Willie Dee Lawrence, Aline Buchanan.

Alvern Hampton, Arlie Ruth Waters, Mary Elizabeth Marrs, Melba Barns, Edna Blackman, Ira Joe Derryberry, Helen Ruth Carlton, Ferrol Ficke, Mary Genthe, Anita Hale, Mary Helen Jones, Dorothy Lamb, Viola Lamb, Alice Morgan, Peggy Jo Manny, Doris Manny, Wilma Derryberry, Miss Viola Jones and Mrs. J. H. Watts.

Many Improvements Are Made in Library

Changes Made in Checking Books
In and Out of Library
By Students.

Many improvements have been made in the library during last few days. Robert Mayne installed gates in the library to make it more private. He also straightened the books and put steel book ends to hold the books in place. The magazines were arranged on a separate shelf.

Several regulations have been made in the checking of books. A student may check only one magazine a period. The librarian takes his name and if he does not return it to the librarian he will not be allowed to take another magazine for a week. History books may be checked out for one day. Reference books and magazines can not be taken out of the library.

Each week the faculty will post a list of students' names who will not be allowed to check out books until they raise their grades.

Mr. Mayne's Classes Vacate Gymnasium

Since mid-term, all of the classes under Mr. Robert Mayne that had been meeting in the auditorium-gymnasium are now meeting in the high school building.

The two sections of the sixth grade united into one room. This made an extra room in the high school building.

Mrs. C. J. Meeks's section of the fourth grade moved from the southwest room on the lower floor of the large building to the northwest room upstairs.

The room previously vacated by the fourth grade is now used by Mr. Mayne.

Students Skate From Building to Building

Skating on the frozen snow was a very interesting sport while the snow was on the ground, many students seemed to find. As the students walked from one building to another, if they came to a frozen spot of snow, they skated across it.

When someone was trying his luck at skating and almost fell, it seemed to amuse many students.

Before the snow melted, one could look outside and always see someone skating. Sometimes the student was successful at the task, but many times it was very hard to skate far without falling.

Bobbie Rue Swan, Dena Fae and Rena Mae Whorton spent Sunday afternoon skating on the Alford lake.

Several New Pupils Enrolled In School

Eight Students Started in Various Classes at Mid-term.

At the beginning of the second semester, several new pupils enrolled. There were four to join the senior class, one in the sophomore and three were admitted to the freshmen division.

Those entering and the grades they are in are: Evelyn La Fon, senior; John Compton, sophomore; Junior Jamison, senior; Eric Manney, freshman; Cecil Parker, senior; James Fassons, senior; Arthur Red, freshman; Jack Tate, senior; Erskine Sherwood, freshman.

Family Feuds Result Of Seating Students

The seats in study hall have been arranged according to the alphabet, which causes several of the students to be placed with a brother or sister.

Goble and Hiram Prince have been placed one in front of the other. Alton and Glen Weeks have been put together. When Mr. Gilmore put them together he said that it was so that they could make each other behave.

We have twins Dena Fae and Rena Mae sitting together.

Can't you imagine the swell family feuds that will result, especially with Milton and Cella Beth Moody sitting in the last two seats in one of the rows!

Ruth and Joyce Faust have also been seated together.

Color Combinations Formed By Students

It has been discovered that red and pink are the majority of the high school students' favorite colors. However, many prefer blue. Green ranks next to blue.

Four or five students declare purple to be their favorite color. Gold, orange, brown and gray and preferred by few.

Schedule Rearranged; 20 Meet Requirements

Two New Subjects Offered Last Semester; Classes Change Periods.

In order to make arrangements for the new subjects that were to be offered the second semester, the regular schedule was completely changed.

Some of the classes are still in the same periods, but a majority were changed to other periods.

Commercial law and solid geometry were the new subjects offered the last half-year.

After the schedule was changed, some of the students took up other subjects in place of the ones formerly taken.

School met as usual last Monday, but after the students had made out their schedules, school was dismissed Monday afternoon the teachers worked on the seating arrangements for the students in the study hall.

Students Name Their Favorite Holidays

What holiday season are you most interested in?

After investigating, it was found that the holiday seasons high school students were interested in varied. However, the majority were interested in Christmas. Florene Wright, Clarence Morgan, and Helen June George declare that the Christmas holidays appeal to them more than any other holiday.

Cleo Sewell and Milton Moody made the statements that they enjoyed seeing the summer vacations come. Milton states the reason that he enjoys it so well is because it's longer. He also includes July 4.

Annual Football Banquet Enjoyed By Ardent Group

Girl's Pep Squad and Townspeople
Hosts and Hostesses For Football Team.

The annual high school football banquet was held Thursday night, January 21. More than a hundred attended. Supt. J. L. Gilmore, Robert Mayne and Coach Bob Clark were in charge of the program arrangement. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist church with Mrs. D. A. Hunt and Mrs. H. E. Nicholson in charge.

Only 50 tickets were sold to townspeople. The pep squad raised funds to pay for the football boys' and the pep squad girls' tickets.

Aim: To record accurate accounts of school happenings interestingly.

RULE DOGGING

Rules are made to help everyone do the right thing. Some students seem to think they have more privileges than others.

For example, Tommy wears heavy steel taps on the heels and toes of his shoes. There are only a few in the study hall and no one is on the floor. Tommy goes to sharpen his pencil. Since he is the only one on the floor, he doesn't see any reason for walking lightly and stamps noisily up the aisle. If there were a half dozen on the floor, he probably would have done the same.

Good rules help make a good school. But rules without obedience are worthless. In the incident mentioned above, there are specific rules laid down to govern such happenings. The teacher has nothing left to do but warn the student of the noise and punish him by giving demerits. However, the peace and quiet of that study hall was destroyed.

So why be a rule-dodger? As it is mentioned in the good book, "inasmuch as ye do in the least of things, so shall ye do the great."

DIVING FOR THE MOON

A duck was floating down a stream one day looking for some food. He had been looking all day, but had been unsuccessful. There seemed to be no fish in the stream that day.

When night came, he was still looking. The moon came up and began to shine on the water. The duck saw the moon shining in the water and thought that there were fish down in the water.

He dived down to get the fish and found that there were no fish at all. The other ducks saw this and laughed at the poor, hungry duckling. The duck was ashamed and lost courage. He later died of hunger because he did not try to find any food.

The above fable was written by a great Russian author, Count Tolstoy. The moral of the fable can be expressed by the saying, "If at once you don't succeed—try, try again."

We can learn a few lessons from the story of this poor duck.

—Other ducks were the cause of his death, some of us can be blamed for some of our fellow students because of our unfriendly acts.

—Then those of you who have not

Future Homemakers Of Texas

By IRENE HUNT

"Future Homemakers of Texas" was the name adopted at the Home-making Education rally held in San Angelo in April, 1936, for a state association composed of affiliated local chapters of future homemakers in schools having organized instruction in homemaking.

The officers elected at the organization meeting in San Angelo for 1936-37 are: president, Henrietta Bowlin, Lubbock; vice-president, Rosemary Polk, Belton; secretary, Polly Price, Childress; Future homemakers' sponsor, homemaking division, state department of education, Miss Gladys Short, Austin; club sponsor, Texas Home Economics association, Miss Ruby Lee Seal, Sanger.

Aims and purposes of the club are:

1. To develop organized interest in homemaking as a vocation.
2. To foster high ideals of and an appreciation for home life.
3. To learn more of the changes which have taken place in the home and the reasons for organized training.
4. To respond actively to community needs and enter into community activities.
5. To encourage recreational and educational activities for students in homemaking education.
6. To stimulate interest in the wise use of leisure time.
7. To encourage thoroughness in undertakings.
8. To stimulate interest in acquiring broad experiences.
9. To promote mentally and physically healthful girls and women.

A girls' creed was adopted, which reads as follows:

"I believe that the home is a woman's natural environment. I believe that there is as much art in making a laudable house into a listening, comfortable home as there is in painting a picture or in writing a poem.

"I believe that there is dignity and beauty in service, that as a career for women, homemaking offers greater opportunity for leisure, for growth of mind and spirit, for exercise of the body, than any other occupation.

"I believe that one who has the intelligence to keep her own house in order is wise enough to be a force in any community.

"It is my desire to be one of the countless women of the world to make the world a sweeter and better because they live and do their work."

succeeded in the things that you set out to do, remember that the next attempt may be rewarded with success.

Therefore, if you have failed in some of your studies or have not made the basketball team, do not give up. Even if the clouds of failure are hanging very low and you cannot see the way, just try and there will be a path laid out for you to follow.

—The moon in the water you have at least had the satisfaction of a good drink.

The Inquiring Reporter

Question: Do you believe in dreams?

Lois Walker: Yes, I believe in dreams. Some of the most interesting things that are happening to me now, I dreamed years ago. My dreams govern my actions.

Clarice Robertson: No, I think anyone who believes in dreams is superstitious.

Douglas Groves: Naw, I don't believe they will come true.

Martha Jane Shipman: I've dreamed so many that haven't come true I just can't believe in them.

Herbert Green: Nope, I don't believe in dreams. I never knew of one to come true.

DO-RE-MI

Up the Scale

A general uproar engulfed the bus returning from the Mobeetic tournament Saturday afternoon. Everybody wanted someone else to take them back that night to see the final games.

B basketball squads are to be cut down to a traveling squad of 12 this week.

C capturing other girls' boy friends, we've tried to be enjoyed by some of the females around here.

D id you notice Dippy's girl friend Saturday night at Mobeetic.

E eating candy is a terrible blight upon some of the basketball girls' characters around here.

F eeling the coach is something you can't do. Take it from Bonnie and Julia Lou.

G reen is Almie's favorite color (or maybe boy friend).

COLTS

Mrs. Gordon Phillips' first grade is going to start making doll houses. They will make furniture for the houses and also dolls and dolls' clothes.

The Giant Killers of Mrs. John Fiecke's room have two new readers, "We Three" and "Play-Fellows."

The first B moon-mothers had their regular monthly meeting last Wednesday. The mothers decided to raise funds to buy a library for the room. "We may not put on a play or raise money in other ways," said Mrs. Fiecke.

Mrs. Lloyd Davidson's third grade is making an A B C health booklet. They are writing original stories of Eskimos.

The third grade under Mrs. John Hood in its nature study is studying about animals of the far north.

In the study of the northern animals, Junior Ahler brought a baby armadillo that his great grandfather had killed years ago.

Mrs. C. E. Witt was a visitor in the third grade one day last week.

The third grade is practicing on a program to be given for the Parent-Teachers association meeting.

Mrs. Fiecke's first grade sent presents to Bobbie Lowrie, ill at his home at the present.

The combining of the two sections of the sixth grade is working out very nicely, according to Miss Ruth Ewing, the instructor. There are a total of 49 students now since the two sections have united.

"There has been so much improvement," said Miss Ruth Ewing. "I wish we could have seen our examinations every few weeks," states Miss Ewing.

SNUBBING POST

A new group of students is enrolling for the last half of the term. Probably one or two of the boys will become eligible to play football next season. It's doubtful whether the course of public speaking will be offered the last half.

Always enjoy seeing Orcevia with her boots on. . . . For this inclement weather, Parilee has some smooth fitting galoshes. . . . In the foot apparel way, Clella Beth wears riding boots with a dash.

Cross-ups on wires made it possible to overhear telephone conversations on the radio Saturday night. The usual difficulty again in remembering to write the new year instead of the old. . . . Charming blue sweater Wallace has.

The semester exams are over. The results of some of them were not so encouraging, but at least the worry is over. The school buses carried riders home early Monday last week.

One or two of the novel titles of current songs give us: "Oh Say Can You Swing" and "Spick and Spanish." The feud existing between Jack Benny and Fred Allen is more amusing than the one of long standing between Winchell and Bernie.

Unusual and clever is the film "Three Smart Girls" just out. . . . Not very many of the boys in civics, when acquainted with the fact that their average was high enough to take out on department, jumped at the opportunity.

Doug Groves certainly plays basketball equal to twice his height.

More odd hobbies of collecting things: Irene is working on a set of spoons while several others of the student body prefer glasses.

SPARKS FROM THE CAMP FIRE

H e who is slowest in making a promise is the most faithful in the performance of it.

E ducation is a capital to a poor man and an interest to a rich man.

L ack of desire is the greatest riches.

R eal glory springs from the silent conquest of ourselves.

Caught in

The Lasso's Noose

Some of the first string boys decided to turn in their suits and give them to the B team because of the results of the Brawse tournament.

Imagine Jamison is now sporting a Miami basketball sweater.

The music class sounded like a football game the other day when they were reviewing. Such expressions as these made one think of the game: "Sharp that line, sharp that line."

A word to the wise: Always remember that there are at least six "Jacks" in high school. When you talk about one, remember the other five, and always mention the last name.

We wonder who Theodore Cooper was hunting Saturday night? Edna Faye Mason might know.

We wonder why Milton Moody is so interested in the Kelton girls basketball team? Could it be Lorene Clay? Better watch out, Milton! She used to go to school at Wheeler.

Miss Holbert (in English IV class Monday morning) - Put the floor on the chair.

Bob Tillman (in same class shortly after) - I don't see why they don't have rocking chairs in here! - Bob Burns' style!

We are wondering what was the reason that Almie Buchanan wore her thimble all day Monday.

"Dippy" seems to be Wav's latest now. He has been seen wearing her junior wristlet. It must be serious because "Dippy" does not make it a practice of going around much with girls. (Notice the sarcasm!)

Mildred Coward seems to be doing very well. Since her boy friend started working in daytime instead of at night.

Ray said that the reason that he and Amos could not finish their argument at home was because they had other arguments that must be attended to.

We wonder who it was from Miami

RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE

Almie Buchanan, Martha Jane Shipman, Marvella Todd and Troy Shipman were in Shamrock Sunday afternoon.

A large number of the students attended the Brawse tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Bona Mae Whorton and Mary Belle Johnston motored to Miami Sunday. Evelyn Taylor and Ebroene Wright were seen in Pampa Sunday.

Jack Pitcock and Jack Tate were in Shamrock Sunday afternoon.

Chlorene Morgan motored to Albrecht Sunday to visit relatives and friends.

Inset Hunter visited in Kelton Sunday afternoon.

Elva Willard was in Corn Valley Sunday visiting relatives.

A number of the students attended the tournament at Mobeetie.

Several papals took advantage of the white landscape and snapped pictures Sunday afternoon.

Lala Clark, Wheeler ex-student, visited Dawn Weatherly Sunday.

Mildred Coward spent the week-end in Shamrock.

Marvella Todd of Twitty spent the week-end with Louise Veale.

That took several of our Wheeler girls riding Sunday afternoon? It seems that they all had a swell time and that Irene Hunt cut off some of her flirty pink locks for one of these handsome fellows.

It seems that a certain Mobeetie chap drove all the way to Wheeler to see Miss Bonnie Adams and looked all over town before he finally found her.

Bob Tillman was asked to fall so as to take a motion picture of him. Sure enough he took a fall - accidentally.

Amos looking for the journalism class after class was already over.

Ruth Faye describing a perfect school she would like to attend. (Such as: teachers that would give A's, go to classes when you want to, talk in the study hall and never take tests.) Several couples talking.

And was Merle's face red? You see, it was like this: After the bus had stopped at Magic, Thursday evening, very few students were left on the bus. John Compton, the new student was still on the bus but of course Merle didn't know it when she exclaimed, "Say, Elva Bell, be you that new boy that started to school?" That's as far as she got, because about that time John looked around at Merle and was she embarrassed? We think she will have a great deal of explaining to do.

Whether high is noted for its worthy. Students are always in a rush and hurry.

At midterm-exam time the weather was cold.

Most of most of the students seemed very bold.

The next week it was very muddy. But the students came back to study.

The main reason they came to school was to fix that terrible schedule.

Monday morning Coach Bob Clark came into study hall, held up a letter and called "Dippy." He didn't waste much time in getting to Mr. Clark. Wonder who the letter could have been from.

FROM OTHER BRANDING IRONS

It seems to us that a more appropriate title for the Splinter Song - "I've Got You Under My Skin" would be - "You're Getting In My Hair." The Prairie Canyon.

In a want ad column a freshman at the University of Iowa advertised for romance. Out of all the answers that he received he said there were only ten that took him seriously. One co-ed answered that she had considered him, but had decided not to accept after all.

At a recent lecture program at Hardin college the mathematics of marriage was given thus: Cupidity plus stupidity equals matrimony.

A pessimist is a person with a choice between two evils and takes them both.

People better off dead:

1. The fellow who incessantly calls "down in front."
2. The wit who answers "up in back."
3. Grandstand quarterbacks who are never mistaken.
4. Grandstand quarterbacks.
5. Opponents who catch passes and run for touchdowns.
6. Opponents.
7. The drunk who yells: "Come on and cheer watshe matter 'thou guys, cantshe cheer?"
8. The drunk who yells.
9. The drunk - The Prairie, Canyon.

The Woman Haters' Song

I'm through with women, they're fierce, intrude.
They make you, then break you, and laugh when you're through.
They wreck and degrade you with motives most base -
Then reward all your love with a slap in the face.

I'm done with all women, there's not one alive.
Who's worth all the misery that men must survive

To win their black hearts where a flame seems to dwell.
That is fed by the men that are under their spell.

I'm through with all women, they cheat and they lie.
They prey on us males to the day that they die.

They tease us, torment us, and drive us to sin.
Say, who is it that bored that just came in? - The Prairie, Canyon.

Halls of the building at the college at Mount St. Joseph on the Ohio are now equipped with ink filling stations.
A penny in the slot will release enough ink for a fountain pen filling.

WINNERS IN INTRAMURAL SPORTS TO BE ANNOUNCED

The intramural teams are progressing very nicely. Ping pong tournaments seem to be holding the spotlight. Everyone is becoming interested in this sport. Both the boys and girls have ping pong tournaments started.

The junior basketball girls use their activity period for practicing. Some of the boys use their activity period for ping pong, boxing and basketball.

Coach Bob Clark announced that the ones who have the highest points toward winning the prize he is offering at the end of the school term will be announced soon.

"MAVERICKS"

By VELMA HESTILOW

Once there was a "Farmer" that was as "Green" as the "Germes" in the "Forest."

His house was made of "Clay" with a long "Hell" decorated with "Holey" and spider "Webb."

He lived on a "Smith" farm in "Jones" county and grew "Crowder" peas and "Burham" cattle.

His lunch was served on a "Platter" and consisted of "Lamb," "Veale" and "Turtle" soup.

His clothes were of "Denham" and "Voyles."

He was a "Jolly," "Young" man. But "I'll" "Stean," his "Moody" disposition caused him to become a "Coward."

His occupations were those of a "Taylor," "Tillman," "Tanner," "Miller" and a "Hunter."

He was the owner of a Ford car and also a "Hudson."

In the "Weeks" paper of the "Nations," he turned to "Page" five and found the weather "Cole" and "Raney" and the "Wynn" blowing.

Seems like these school buses will not wait on any one. Last Monday the bus ran off and left Cleo and was she angry?

SPORTS

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

Did you know that John Peoples, coach of the Allison team was fussing (or bragging) about having so many trophies. That he has to build a new case? He had also two other beautiful ones by having both his teams take the Briscoe tournament.

Coach Garrison Rush, of the Shamrock football team, seems to have developed into a basketball coach instead of football. So far this year he has refereed the Wheeler, Briscoe and Kelton tournaments.

The B teams seem to be lucky or is it good playing? The Wheeler B team won second in the Briscoe tournament and the Pampa B team won second in the Miami tournament.

The shuffleboard has created much interest at the gymnasium each week period. This is the game they play on decks of the ocean liners.

N. T. A. C. junior college at Arlington has gone 71 games now without having been beaten. A more matter of three years! There's an idea for Wheeler—anytime she wants to start!

All of the basketball boys are looking forward to the county tournament to be held in the Wheeler gym February 12 and 13. From all accounts the Wheeler boys will probably take a big part.

Here is some gossip found in the Amarillo Daily News:

"Inside dope: Bob Clark, coach of the Wheeler high school football team, played 10 years of football, in high school and college, and was declared ineligible every year.

"His last alma mater was Oklahoma, where he was declared ineligible after football season was over. He stayed there, though, to get his degree."

Mobeetie Five And Mustangs Compete

The two Wheeler basketball teams played the Mobeetie lassies and lads last Tuesday night, January 19. Both the boys and girls teams have developed very much since the beginning of the season and are expected to go far in the county championship.

The boys who made the trip were: Ford, Norman, Jolley, Page, Young, Derryberry, Markham, Green, Weeks, Tillyman, Emler and Stephens.

The girls made a trip this year were: Timmy, Jane, Durham, Adams, Lewis, Hampton, Johnson, Maxwell, Wiley, M. Johnson, Ficke and Whorton.

The Scout

Scout meeting was held last Monday night at the house of Coach Bob Clark. Tests were passed by the scouts and discussion of the trip they plan to make to the Palo Duro canyon on January 29 and 30. The Scouts made a trip to this canyon last year. The trip was such a success that they plan to make another one this year.

Scouts are also looking forward to a court of honor which will be held in the high school gymnasium some time in February. This court of honor will afford some of the scouts another chance to advance a step up the ladder toward the star and life scouts. It will be the first such court to be held here this year.

Kelton Basketball Tourney to Be Held

Eighteen Teams to Be Represented; Garrison Rush Will Referee; Trophies to Be Given.

Annual Kelton invitation will be held Friday and Saturday, January 22 and 23 in the Kelton gymnasium. This is the third straight year that this school has been host to a tournament.

Some eighteen teams have entered this tournament, which is under the supervision of C. C. Brown, coach of the Kelton girls' team. Coach Garrison Rush of Shamrock, will referee throughout the tournament.

With such teams as Allison boys and girls' teams, winners of the Briscoe tournament, and teams from Mobeetie, Shamrock, Wheeler, Sweetwater, Briscoe and Canadian, this tournament should be interesting to basketball fans in the Panhandle.

Many fans are expected to travel to the tournament to witness the Allison girls and Mobeetie lassies, who will probably travel before the tournament is finished. The Kelton, Briscoe and Wheeler girls are also all expected to furnish good games throughout the tournament.

None of the boys' teams have a record like the Allison girls, who have not lost a game this year, but the Allison boys, Wheeler boys and Mobeetie Hornets all have strong teams and should furnish plenty of entertainment.

Trophies valued at $75.00 will be given to the top teams Saturday night. Other medals will be given for sportsmanship in both the boys' and girls' divisions.

Helen Flynt Served Group Friday Night

Helen Flynt was the charming hostess of a group of friends Friday night.

The group spent the evening in playing "42," "Authors" and many other interesting games.

Refreshments were served to: J. B. Crowder, Arlie Cole, Alvern Hampton, T. J. Cole, Dorsie Hutchinson, Joe Forest, Susie Mae Cole, Eva Willard, Lucille Hutchinson, Adell Hampton, Olla Pearl Peugh, Robert Hutchinson, Verna Greenhouse, Dudley Callan, Virgil Greenhouse, Helen June George and the hostess.

Membership of Glee Club Is Increased

According to Mal Wynne, music director, the membership of glee clubs has greatly increased the last semester. Both boys' and girls' clubs have shown a greater attendance over last term.

A boys' trio has been selected, composed of Jack Shipman, Earl Gilmore and Grady Anglin. Mr. Wynne made the statement that he was on the lookout for a bass singer. When he finds someone that will qualify, he said he would finish the quartet.

Allison Teams Wins Briscoe Tournament

Both Teams Take Top Honors in Finals Here.

The Briscoe tournament was held in the high school gymnasium at Wheeler due to fire destroying their gym. Allison lassies and lads both took top honors in their divisions.

The Mobeetie girls took second after losing a game to the Allison team. The game looked as if the Mobeetie girls would emerge victorious, but in the second half the Allison team got to clicking and won their eighth consecutive victory over the Mobeetie lassies this year.

The Wheeler boys' B squad won second place in the boys' division. The Allison boys won a game over Wheeler's A team which advanced them to the finals. Wheeler's B team had won over Lela 22 to 16 later in the day they took one of the most thrilling games of the tournament from Canadian, 23 to 22.

No trophies or medals were awarded due to the fact that they have not yet arrived, but will be mailed to the winners as soon as possible.

New Game Introduced In Gymnasium Monday

A new game was introduced last Monday at the gymnasium, which is known as shuffleboard. The equipment was constructed by H. E. Cole. The game is played with wooden weights which are pushed along the floor with a shufflestick. The object is to place the weights in certain compartments outlined on the floor. Two or four persons may play, the sides taking position at opposite ends.

The players slide the pieces in rotation, each being allowed to shove his opponent's weight off the board or to push his partner's piece into a higher position.

The side first making twenty-one points wins. The players change ends following each round. No scores are counted until the end of each round.

The game is played during activity periods by both grade and high school students.

INTRODUCING—

Amos L. Page was born in Mineral Wells, Texas, July 17, 1920. Amos declares that the "L" in his name stands for Love, but it is rather an unusual name.

Page played the position of tackle on the football team this last season, and forward on the baseball squad for this year. His favorite sports are baseball and marbles.

Black is the color for which our hero has a special weakness. He prefers blond hair and brown eyes in the opposite sex, himself having brown hair and green eyes.

Amos has a good understanding and a firm foundation. He claims a size 9 shoe but everyone declared that it was at least a 10 when they took a good look at his feet.

Wheeler Forfeits Game at Tournament

Due to the lack of transportation, the Wheeler basketball team was compelled to forfeit their second game in the Miami tournament after winning the first game from Canadian 28 to 16.

The Mustangs had entered in both the Miami and Briscoe tournaments, both being played at the same time. Coach Bob Clark stated that he thought the Wheeler boys had a better chance winning the Briscoe tournament than the Miami tournament.

With such strong teams as the Pampa Harvesters, Perryton, Lefors, Miami, Pampa B, Groom and many others, the Miami tournament was considered very successful by many fans of the surrounding territories.

The Perryton Rangers won first place and the strong Pampa B winning second. The Pampa B team beat Groom after the Pampa Harvesters had lost to them.

What Eskimo Children Do

Eskimo children run and play in the snow just like we do. They all wear fur coats and never pull them off when they are outside.

They are not like most boys and girls. They go sleigh riding. The boys shoot bows and arrows for sport. The girls play with their bone dolls and their mothers.

Eskimo children like all kinds of meats and they eat seal blubber.—Billy Jean Anglin, third grade.
