

Controlling of Livestock On Highways Is Law

The Texas Department of Public Safety reminded Texas cattle owners today that a new law went into effect July 1 aimed at controlling livestock on designated US and state highways.

The new law makes it illegal for a person knowingly to permit his domestic livestock to roam at large and unattended on state and federal highways. It applies regardless of whether or not the highway right-of-way is fenced. Maximum fine for such violation is $200, and each day the violation occurs may be considered a separate offense.

Farm to market roads are excepted from the law. The new law also gives law enforcement officers the authority to have such livestock picked up, when unable to locate the owner, and turned over to the sheriff or constable in the county.

The law does not prohibit the driving or herding of livestock across or along highways. It gives peace officers the authority to enforce provisions of the act with out a warrant.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said state patrolmen will enforce provisions of the law in an effort to reduce the traffic hazard caused by animals on designated state and US highways. He said that during the year 1959 a total of 1406 rural traffic accidents occurred in Texas involving animals of all types. In these accidents 216 persons were injured and 4 persons were killed.

Mrs. Jones Dies Suddenly In Breck Hospital

Mrs. Vallie Bargesley Jones, 68, resident of Ranger since 1941, died at 3:45 p.m. Monday in a Breck Hospital.

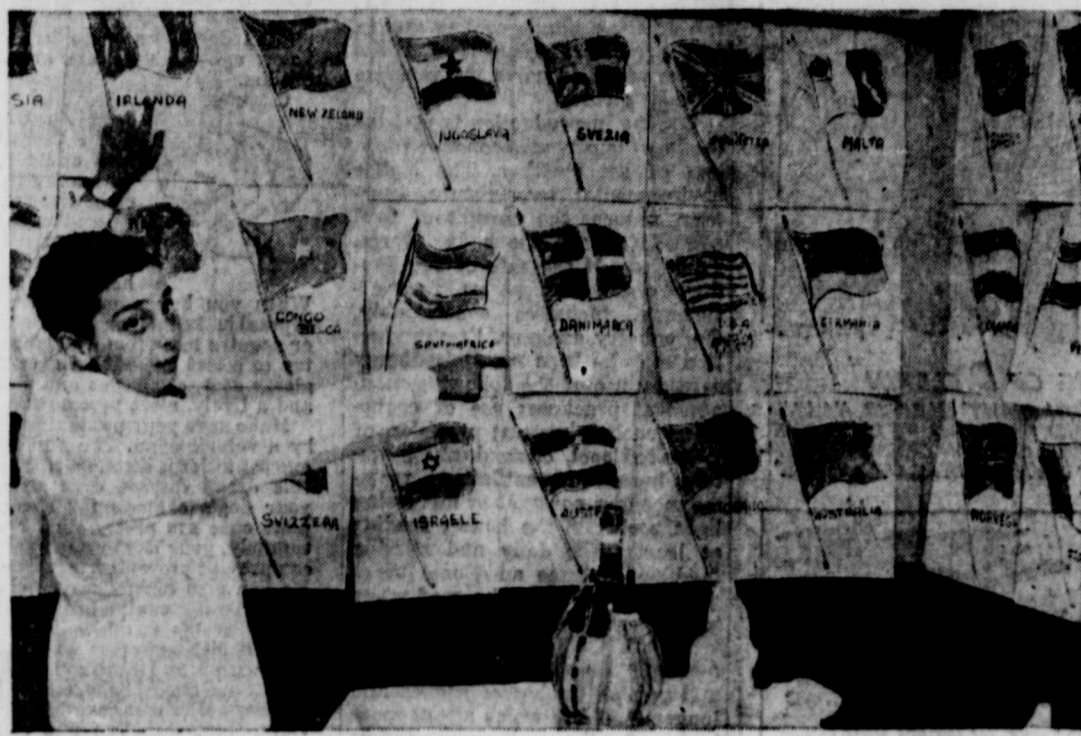

Mrs. Jones had been in the hospital for about two days for treatment, but her death was unexpected.

Born Feb. 29, 1892, in Stephens County, she moved to Abernathy, Texas in 1918, and to Ranger in 1941. She was married to the late Uriah B. Jones Jan. 10, 1916, in Abernathy. He died June 14, 1956.

She was a member of the New Hope Baptist Church No. 3. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church in Ranger, with the Rev. Bill Hogue of Post, Texas, and the Rev. Edgar Jones of Breckenridge, officiating. Burial will be in Veale Cemetery north of Ranger, under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home.

The body will lie in state from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church. Surviving are two sons, James B. and Vinton L., both of Ranger; three grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. W. P. Caraway of Herford; one brother, Frank Bargesley of Ranger; one half brother, Chester L. Hefley of Artesia, N. M., and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers will be Wallace Johnson, Hubert Pockrus, Hobart Caraway, Gaylord McGowen, Zelma Herrington and Wesley Dempsey.

Texas Farm Bureau Policies Are Outlined

J. H. West, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, will present recommendations of the national Farm Bureau to the Democratic Platform Committee July 5 in Los Angeles.

This announcement was made Friday by Charles B. Shuman of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau-Federation. Three other state Farm Bureau presidents from different regions of the nation, will team with West to recommend platform planks as developed by Farm Bureau members in their annual policy-making process.

West is expected to stress Farm Bureau's platform for a "competitive enterprise system in which all property is privately owned, privately managed, and operated for profit and individual satisfaction, and in which supply and demand are ultimate determinants of market price."

Briefly, here are the Farm Bureau policies on national farm programs:

(1) Farm production cannot be balanced with effective demand by legislation as long as increased production is being encouraged by government guarantees. Price-fixing programs of the past have failed to control production and have failed to protect farmers against reduced incomes.

(2) We should move in the direction of eliminating government regulation of the right to produce agricultural commodities. Our experience in this regard clearly indicates that political determination of the right to produce is the road to low—not high—per family farm income.

(3) Our farm plant is over-expanded in relation to current markets—including the extraordinary "markets" made possible by special export aids. Land retirement programs, such as the Conservation Reserve, are not a cure-

all. Nevertheless, a sizeable land retirement program is urgently needed as a temporary measure to help farmers make the adjustments that must be made to correct the adverse results of past programs.

(4) Where price support and production adjustment programs are used, they should be designed to facilitate orderly marketing rather than to fix prices. Price support levels should take account of competitive conditions, supply and demand, and market trends.

(5) With less interference from government, the marketing system will be freer to operate effectively and efficiently. This will encourage the expansion of market outlets and the production of quality products in line with market demands. Thus, we can better meet competition at home and abroad.

(6) Where special export pricing is necessary to gain or maintain foreign markets, we should return to a one-price system as rapidly as possible.

(7) Individual commodity programs must be in harmony with the interests of agriculture generally; however, these programs must also recognize the inherent difference among various farm commodities.

(8) Congress should retain responsibility for determining major provisions of commodity programs as it is the only body which represents all the people affected by such programs. The assumption that producers of a commodity are the only people interested in programs for that commodity is fallacious.

(9) We strongly oppose the establishment of maximums on price support loans, either in total or as applied to individual farmers. A ceiling on individual loans would not remove the basic causes of high program costs. More significantly it would tend to reduce the size of farm units and thus lower production efficiency.

(10) The compensatory or direct production payment approach is unsound and dangerous to our economic and political system.

Regardless of the form in which it is presented, a direct payment program would be fantastically expensive. It would stimulate production, increase unit costs, depress market prices, and make farmers dependent on Congressional appropriations for their net farm income and a part of their production costs as well.

The payment approach carries a "cheap food" philosophy; however, in actual practice it would encourage inefficiency and thereby result in high food and fiber costs. Limitations on payments to individuals are inevitable in payment programs. Such limitations would place a ceiling on opportunity in agriculture and level individual farm incomes downward.

Fishing Is Fun But Can Also Be Dangerous

"Gone Fishin'." Bing Crosby made the song popular years ago. A nation with lots of leisure time on its hands has made the sport—fishing—one of today's more popular summer pastimes.

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 30 million Americans—about 1 out of every 5 persons strong enough to hold a fishing pole or cast a line into the water—will go fishing this year. Fishermen should think of safety so their fun won't be spoiled by an accident. Unfortunately, the unwary do get hurt or, worse, killed.

More than 900 drownings a year involve boats with a capacity of fewer than 1 persons. This would include boats that carry fishermen to their favorite spots. And while the toll of persons injured in fishing accidents is unknown, the Council reports that a "large number of persons are injured each year from careless handling of fishing tackle."

Fom Ralph Kuhl, the Council's director of public safety, come these tips for fishermen:

On the dangers of hooks—

1. Try not to carry fishing lines with hooks attached.
2. Don't fish too near other anglers.
3. Be careful casting your line.
4. Handle with special care bait-casting plugs that contain clusters of double or triple hooks.
5. If a hook gets imbedded in you or one of your fishing companions, see a physician, unless you're sure the wound is extremely minor.
6. Try never to back a hook out of a wound. It's best to push the point of the hook through the skin.

On wading—

1. Test each step in advance. Many streams and pools have underwater shelves or other dropoffs.
2. Remember that flat, under-water rocks usually are slippery.
3. On boat safety—
4. Check your boat for leaks or other defects before leaving shore.
5. Take along life preservers, an extra oar or paddle and a bail-can.
6. Don't overload the boat.
7. Never stand in a boat or sit on stand on the bow or stern.
8. Be cautious about changing places in a boat while in deep water. Better to come into shallow water first.

If your boat capsizes? "Stick with it," Kuhl said. "Even most small boats will support several persons for hours. Keep calm. Wait for help to arrive rather than try to swim to shore."

Grassland and Barn Are Destroyed by Olden Fire

A grass fire burned out of control for several hours Saturday afternoon between Eastland and Olden and destroyed some 250 acres of grassland, burned down a barn and ruined the birthday party of an eight-year-old youngster.

The fire burned off some 80-100 acres on the Roy Brickman place about 2 1/2 miles northeast of Eastland and destroyed some 140 acres of grassland on the Bill Martin ranch. A barn located near the Martin home was burned down and both the Martin home and the Brickman home were in serious danger at one time.

Mrs. Roy Brickman, describing the fire, said that at one time her house was completely surrounded by the blaze. She had high praise for Eastland and Ranger firemen and for other volunteers who worked to save the two houses.

Probably the most disheartened person of all was eight-year-old Billy Martin. The fire was first discovered at 1:30 p.m., just 30 minutes before his birthday party was scheduled to begin. Billy actually was a fourth of July baby, but who, his mother asked, can get anyone interested in attending a birthday party on the Fourth?

The fire was believed to have started at the Texas and Pacific Railway's right-of-way, which borders one of the ranches and splits the other. It started on the north side of the Brickman's pasture. Actually there were two fires going at one time.

The fire was already raging near the Brickman home by the time it was discovered.

Eastland County Escapes Grim Fatality Lists

Eastland County escaped from the three-day holiday weekend without any violent deaths, although the state and the national figures were nearing a new record high late Monday night.

Late Monday night the traffic death figures for the nation had passed the National Safety Council estimate of 370 deaths and was nearing the 400 mark, and was expected to pass the previous high mark of 407 traffic deaths, set in 1955.

Drownings and boating fatalities reached an all time high with 34 persons dying from boating accidents and 108 from drownings. Miscellaneous deaths were over the 100 mark. Total fatalities early Monday night were well over the 600 mark throughout the nation.

During the early hours of Monday night the highway fatalities were averaging five an hour, as the homeward-bound traffic jammed the nation's highways.

Most of the fatalities occurred singly. Some accidents killed two or three, and one, in Wisconsin, wiped out seven lives.

Grade A Milk Can Now Be Reconstituted

Recent State Board of Health action is expected to be a strong factor in assuring Texas of adequate Grade A milk supplies, despite seasons of short milk production.

The board last week adopted specifications which will permit the reconstitution of Grade A dry milk solids into Grade A fluid milk. The specifications are contained in a supplement to the standard milk ordinance and code which some 150 Texas cities—including all major population centers—have adopted.

When the new specifications are assembled in printed form they will become formal regulations and will have the full weight of the Texas milk grading and labeling law behind them.

In effect, the Board of Health action says to the milk processing industry:

"Now you can dehydrate your surplus Grade A fluid milk as prescribed by these new regulations and store it. Then, in those seasons when milk production is low, you can add fluids to those dried solids and offer it for sale as Grade A fluid milk, provided each container is clearly labeled as being reconstituted."

Excepted from the "reconstituted" label is cultured buttermilk which by definition consists of soured skim or reconstituted milk, and fortified milk which must be labeled with the percentage of solids added to the original fluid product.

Prior to adoption of the specifications, milk processors had to dispose of surplus by turning it into by-products. The practice was unavoidable wasteful, particularly when viewed during last seasons when whole fresh milk production dropped off for one reason or another and supplies had to be shipped in from out-of-state.

Refinements and standardization of the milk drying process now makes dehydration and storage without refrigeration practical.

Three major dry milk processing plants now operate in Texas—at Rusk, La Grange, and Muenster.

Only Grade A milk can be sold in communities which have adopted the standard milk ordinance and code. The new specifications will permit importation of Grade A dry milk products into these communities after city councils pass them as ordinances.

AFTER COVERING TRAMP SOIL FIRMLY TO AVOID AIR POCKETS (USE BACK OF RAKE OR HOE BLADE), SUCH PRECAUTIONS ARE ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT IN WARM WEATHER.

SEEDS SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO DRY OUT WHILE GERMINATING. CHECK SOIL FREQUENTLY DURING HOT WEATHER. IF IT FEELS DRY, SPRINKLE GENTLY WITH A FINE SPRAY.

Hot Weather

but they can be solved or reduced by an alert poultryman.

In hot weather the bird's ability to absorb and utilize calcium is impaired, resulting in an increased number of cracked and broken eggs. Quisenberry says that the use of improved ventilation, pad and fan or spray nozzle cooling system and increased calcium level in the ration will help solve the problem of shell quality.

Decline in production is perhaps the most important economic problem of hot weather. The higher environmental temperature, however, reduces the amount of feed needed to keep the body warm. Therefore, if the rate of egg production can be kept up, feed efficiency increases considerably, Quisenberry explains. Egg production may be kept up, Quisenberry says, by use of the following management practices: use of economical cooling system; provision of unlimited cool, clean drinking water; increased ventilation; maintenance of a constant or increasing light period in the house; feeding at least twice daily and stirring feed up to three additional times daily; and painting the roof white to increase radiation.

Heat is the worst enemy of egg quality. The following practices will pay off in higher grades and longer shelf life which means more income for the poultryman: gather the eggs at least three, and preferably five times daily; place in coolers immediately; gather the clean eggs from the dirty and spray with a light oil or wax; wash dirty eggs with a sanitizer detergent and cool quickly after drying; if possible, transport eggs in a refrigerated truck; gather a nest store eggs on small end.

All About Dogo

A Longer Dog's Life

Just as the life expectancy of man has risen in the past years—so has the dog's. There were 17 million dogs in the country 11 years ago—today there are 25 million.

Clarence C. Fawcett of the Purina Dog Care Center has come up with a few tips on how you can help give your dog longer life. Start with a healthy puppy.

When you buy a pup (from a reputable kennel or pet shop), or acquire him from a neighbor, try to select one with a smooth, glossy coat, clear eyes and nose, and a lively, alert personality.

Make sure your pet is checked by a veterinarian. The number-one pet killer is distemper. When this dread disease does strike, your dog's chances for a complete cure are pretty slim. Fortunately, your local veterinarian can provide preventative "shots." He can also immunize your pet against other canine infections.

Besides his usual walk, your dog's health improves when you play with him. Most puppies like to retrieve sticks, balls, etc. Such activity builds muscles while providing him with fun and companionship. A piece of rubber hose or a leather strap—perhaps an old towel—will do fine.

This is the first in a series of weekly informational articles on the use of wood in Texas. A different subject of practical interest to the homeowner, hobbyist, or layman will be discussed each week. Wood is a very useful and common material. We all use it every day. What causes wood to swell and shrink? Do you know why paint cracks and peels from wood? Mr. and Mrs. Sam Richey, Christi left Saturday for Tulsa, Okla. to visit her son and family,

What should we do about termites? Why do wooden floors squeak? What do lumber grades mean? The articles will explain these and many things you have always wanted to know about wood.

The series has been prepared in an authoritative fashion by the Texas Forest Service. We feel that they will be of interest to all of our readers—old and young alike. Students may want to clip each article as it appears and save it for school use.

Look for the first of these informative articles next week in this newspaper.

The application of paint or other protective coatings to wood serves several important functions. Paint increases the service life of wood, just as the paint finish does on a car. A house represents a large investment. Regular paint maintenance will protect this investment. Painting also improves the appearance of a house by giving it a new "life."

Although paint is seldom thought of for its insulating properties, light colored paints contribute much to the comfort of home owners in hot weather. They reflect the sun's heat rays away from the wood making the house cooler.

Proper application and adherence to paint manufacturers' instructional paint performance. Recommended coverage and priming and tions are necessary for satisfactory results. Instructions are generally stated on the paint can. Paint applied in too thick a film has a tendency to crack. If applied too thin, it will not provide sufficient protection. The optimum thickness in applying an oil base house paint is about .005 inches, preferably applied in three coats, consisting of one prime coat and two finish coats.
